INCREASED ATTENDANCE AT WESTMINSTER ENCAMPMENT

Up to date the registration of delegates and visitors to the Westminster Presbyterian Encampment has been above 1,500, which is considerably more than for the entire season last year, with nearly a month left for additional arrivals for the Encampment, which opened June 10th and does not close until September 15th. The program provides for five weeks of spiritual activities, which began July 12th, and after this program of conferences and church work the Encampment grounds will be occupied by those who have come, or may come, only for a summer outing—for rest and recreation, where the early evenings and mornings are delightfully cool, no matter what the temperature may be when the summer sun is shining brightly, and the nights so restful that one always awakes from a slumber that has been refreshing and revivifying.

The housing accommodations on the grounds have been so amplified by the addition of new cottages and tents that are walled and floored and screened and made comfortable, are now quite ample and well adapted to that sort of light housekeeping which has all the attraction of "camping out," with some recognizable advantages in addition. Besides there are the dormitories, electric lighted and liberally provided with shower baths and toilet facilities and are kept scrupulously sanitary. Most of the cottages on the grounds are privately owned and some of them are occupied practically all summer. Many of these summer homes have fanciful names that are more or less suggestive, as "Sunshine Inn," "Fall Sun," "Tumble Inn," and there are many "lodges," as "The Alamo," "The Cedar," "The Rest More" and the "Sunshine." Some are a bit descriptive, as "Highland View," on a bit of promontory; the "Cozy Nook" and the "Shady Nook," in a cluster of native trees. And then there are such care-free titles as "Camp Idle East; do as you please," and such inviting designations as "Knights Rest," "Bide-a-Wee" and "Many Ha Has." The hotel has been christened "Oak Lodge," and the big dining hall "Lettuce Inn."

Bathing in the limpid stream that flows directly by the camp—the beautiful Guadalupe—is one of the chief pleasures of the denizens of the Encampment city, big and little and old and young. They may be seen wending their way to or coming from the swimming hole, that is conveniently close and spacious enough to accommodate all comers, at all hours of the day from early morn to dewy eve. On one afternoon recently there were probably as many as three hundred men and women and boys and girls of all ages and sizes in the water at the same time, and they made a picture that attracted numerous kodaks from the shore as well as from points of vantage in the body of the stream. There is another favorite bathing spot a little further away where there is a mill dam and a pretty cataract and the bathers sport in the water both above and below the dam and seem to enjoy it immensely.

A little further away is Turtle Creek, which empties into the Guadalupe, and along which there is much attractive scenery. It is here the disciples of Isaac Walton wend their way with fishing tackle and sometimes come back with fine strings of bass, but sometimes they don't, when the fish refuse to bite. Dr. J. O. Reavis of Nashville, Tenn., who has been here for some weeks as a conference leader, however, seems to have been one of the successful fishermen. He walked into the dining room the other evening carrying a banner on which was inscribed in boxcar letters, "Fish Tails," of his prowess and called to all seated at the long tables who wanted to eat fish to hold up their hands, and as evidence that the brain food was there he held up the rod and reel and challenged any doubt, and many feasted though the fish were few.

Another pleasant diversion of the campers is the early morning hike to the picturesque elevations that tower above the surroundings, and from the tops of which landscapes that delight the artistic eye spread out in every direction. Preachers and elders, as well as the young people, and the alfresco breakfast served on the tops of the mountains have an appetizing flavor that is quite different from that of the same foods served on set tables within an enclosure. Not only the bracing atmosphere, but the wholesome exercise in the open air has whetted the appetite.

Baseball as well as lawn tennis has numerous votaries and preachers and elders line up with the boys and girls on the diamond. Femininity is sometimes impartially divided with masculinity in the makeup of the teams, and sometimes it is sex against sex and the contests are quite spirited, for the female of the species demonstrates on such occasions that she knows how to "play ball."

The recreational exercises and pleasurable diversions do not detract in the least from the serious aims and intents of the Encampment, for the officers and directors say that sixteen years of experience has demonstrated the fact that there is more pleasure and benefit in a vacation with some mental and spiritual activity than one of idleness and indulgence and that during a part of the season, therefore, the Encampment provides enough program to stimulate the mind and heart without proving too strenuous or seriously interfering with the rest and recreation which is held to be equally essential. It is just another way of saying that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Saturday night is always "stunt night," when Miss Mary Louise Woodson, recreational leader, and her assistants, stage pleasant diversions in

TRUSTEES PLAN IMPROVEMENTS FOR WESTMINSTER ENCAMPMENT

At a meeting of the trustees of the Westminster Presbyterian Encampment the incumbent officers, Rev. W. P. Dickey, president; Rev. E. H. Storey, vice president; Rev. B. I. Dickey, secretary; A. C. Schreiner, treasurer, were elected. Prof. J. J. Delaney, formerly of Dallas but now of Kerrville, was continued as business manager of the Encampment, and Rev. C. H. Storey of Corsicana as platform manager. The trustees are: Rev. R. E. Vinson, W. P. Dickey, Thomas W. Currie, J. F. Hardie, T. A. Wharton, B. I. Dickey, B. D. D. Greer and W. B. Gray, all of D. D. Reverend W. M. Farley, Gaines, B. Hall and C. H. Storey and Messrs. Garland, John B. Cavitt, A. Beitel, W. A. Ramsey and A. C. Schreiner Jr. These will continue in office until their successors are chosen by the Synod at an election to be held in the coming autumn.

The trustees were highly delighted with the growth and general progress of this, the seventeenth annual assembly of the Westminster Presbyterian Encampment at Kerrville, and after a survey of the gratifying results, determined upon a substantial enlargement of the housing facilities and other accommodations for delegates and visitors for which liberal appropriations were made. It is contemplated to make a 50 per cent addition to the present auditorium and in addition to doubling the capacity of the public dining hall, where regular meals are served to all comers at specific hours to establish a cafe or cafeteria for the convenience of those who may prefer that sort of service. The Encampment, which started 17 years ago with only about a score of tenants, has grown steadily from year to year until it has reached its present dimensions which very considerably overtop any previous accomplishments, with a total registration exceeding 1,500 up to the present date, and still growing. It is a notable fact that was pleasantly commented upon, that the visitors have averaged a very much longer stay in the camp this year than ever before, some of them remaining a month or more, as their vacation period permitted, because of the wholesome atmosphere and pleasant surroundings.

It is contemplated to add about 50 per cent more to the number of rent cottages on the grounds and for this purpose to utilize under lease a strip of the area donated for the Schreiner campment enclosure. Also to establish a school for juniors to be operated during the Encampment season, as there is already a kindergarten school which has been very liberally patronized this summer.

REPUBLICANS TO HOLD SENATORIAL CONVENTION HERE, AUGUST 26

San Antonio Express, Aug. 15th: Exercising his authority as chairman of the Republican Executive Committee for the 24th Senatorial District, Capt. John E. Elgin yesterday called a senatorial convention at Kerrville, Saturday, August 26th, the day the Democrats ballot in their run-off, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for State Senator, naming a senatorial district chairman and "transacting any other business that may legally come before the convention." It is Captain Elgin's desire that former State Senator Julius Real run for the Senate again. That is the reason he called the convention to assemble at Kerrville, home of Real, and thereby caused a distinct displeasure to the managers of Congressman Wurzbach, whose friends do not want any other candidate of the Republican persuasion in the district save the Seguin Congressman.

Elgin said last night he expects the convention will name a senatorial candidate, declaring it is worth more to the Republicans in the long run to elect a State Senator than it would be to re-elect a Congressman. If Mr. Real follows the wishes of the Wurzbach leaders, and he is expected to do this, it will be the effort of Captain Elgin and those who agree with him to find some other senatorial candidate. Some of the Republicans who want a man for State Senator in the field are saying Elgin himself would make a vigorous fight in the event he is nominated.

McDowell Outspoken
It developed yesterday that a very serious feud started at the Republican State Convention in Fort Worth last week between former State Chairman C. K. McDowell and the present State Chairman R. B. Creager of Brownsville. How the sensation of the convention escaped the ears of press representatives remains a mystery. Any-

WORLD'S GREATEST VIOLIN A MODERN TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Recently, in the magazine sections of the leading daily newspapers, there has appeared a picture of the world's greatest violin. Literally, that story was doubtless true. Figuratively, there are violins whose copper strings are miles in length. Strings over which all the human emotions, including love, hate, sorrow, joy, and the manifold variations of the mysterious music of human passion vibrate without ceasing. As a household necessity, the telephone has been robbed of its mystery, and even those older men and women, who saw the first telephone after they had become grown, have ceased to regard it as anything more than a box on the wall, a bell that they ring, and a pleasant voice that says, "Number please!"

Few people realize the enormous outlay required in the construction of a modern telephone system. In the equipment of one of these great violins there are many delicate wires, springs, cords, and intricate pieces of mechanism that must be kept in perfect tune, in order for the human music of the community to be transmitted without discord. The Kerrville Telephone Company is rebuilding its plant. This progressive company is building not only for the present needs of the city, but for the future. The new plant provides for at least three times as many telephones as are now connected. This improvement is the result of a sincere belief in the future of the town and community. Glenn A. Sheppard, the electrical engineer in charge of the construction, states that about six miles of lead-covered cable is being used in the underground and aerial systems. This cable is made up of tiny copper wires, encased in a lead sheath. Each wire is insulated from the other wires by having a small strip of specially treated paper wrapped around it. The wires are then twisted in pairs, each pair being used for one telephone circuit. After that, the wires are crimped in layers, and the whole given its overcoat of lead.

A slight idea of the advantage of a modern telephone system, over the old fashioned open wire system, may be had from comparison of the present system now being put in, and what an open wire system of the same capacity would look like. The largest cable in the new construction contains 1,800 wires. If the wires of this cable were placed on poles in the old, open-wire manner, it would require poles 350 feet high, and the lowest cross-arm would be but 20 feet from the ground. The company is installing over 25,000 feet of cable. In these cables are more than 650 miles of copper wire. The wire in the new plant, when completed, would make six metallic circuits between Kerrville and San Antonio with a scrap left over that would make three circuits from Kerrville to Ingram.

So, this great violin is being installed and tuned right before our eyes, and many of us have seen nothing wonderful about it. We have seen men digging trenches on the main thoroughfares, we have seen them put in fibre tubes and refill the ditch. We have seen them building great concrete underground chambers at the intersection of streets, but have not taken the trouble, perhaps, to inquire, "How come?" When a busy man in his store or office calls up his home, and a baby voice answers, "Hello, daddy, mudder's in the garden," he feels the thrill of hearing the lisping voice; he imagines he can see the chubby hand that grasps the receiver, but perhaps he doesn't realize the size of the instrument—doesn't sense that his child has struck a chord, and a pleasing one, on the world's greatest violin.

Work is progressing rapidly on the big plant. For many years Kerrville has had the best telephone service of any small town in the State. When the new plant is completed, no better telephone service can be had in the world. Every modern idea is incorporated in the equipment, except the untried and questionable suggestions that may some day become practical for small towns, but now seem without the pale of human reason.

PLAIN, PRACTICAL RELIGION IS NEEDED TO BRING RELIEF

Rev. Homer W. McMillan of Atlanta Ga., preached an exceptionally able and forceful sermon last Sunday night at the Westminster Encampment. His theme was "Home Missions," but he did not confine his remarks to local conditions or limited to this country, though his plan would bring relief throughout the world.

Rev. McMillan briefly, succinctly and instructively depicted the worldwide chaos and the lack of practical religion being observed. He called attention to the conditions in Europe, which he thought were so far gone toward wreck and ruin that alone those peoples could not reach their former stability and safety, though it was none too secure even before the World War. The only country left to bring about the equilibrium of the nations of the Old World, is the United States. It is no easy task, and without we change our mode of living we could not be equal to the task.

The eloquent speaker pointed out the alarming situation in our own country with its large foreign population that had been permitted to come here without proper restrictions, the large per cent of illiterates and the millions of young Americans out of the church, while the membership in all of the churches were not sufficiently active and consecrated. He said that we must get back to the precepts of Christ and His teachings to His Disciples. There must be less attention paid to side issues and more to the concrete proposition that to save the world and mankind, we must impress the fact that it can only come through His redeeming blood. More of Christ and His teachings must constitute the messages of the ministers to the people.

Dr. McMillan truly stated, that the business world had confessed its inability to meet the emergency of the situation; that the political and financial forces were inadequate to do so, and they each placed the responsibility on religion as being the only power and source of relief.

Then, if this be true, which we grant that it is, the speaker said it involves upon religious forces to go back to their old standards of morality, to the prayer services in the homes—at least of the professed Christians—and to preach Jesus Christ and Him crucified. Let us again have the old-fashioned religion that means the right kind of living, and in that way set an example that will cause those in the throes of unrest to put their minds on the homely, plain and practical precepts of the greatest of all teachers—Jesus Christ.

CAMP RIO VISTA CLOSED LAST FRIDAY FOR SEASON

Camp Rio Vista that was established the past year by Herbert L. Crate on the 180-acre farm he owns between Ingram and Hunt—just this side of the ten-mile post—was closed last Friday for the season. There were about twenty-five boys in attendance from Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas.

The mess hall and cottages, with water works system for irrigating ten or more acres and water for much more land, as the capacity of the pump is 20,000 gallons per hour, make quite a plant for accommodation of boys. The water pool for bathing can't be excelled and diving boards have been provided, as also a float in the middle of the river for the boys to swim to and rest as well as a good place to bathe.

The boys at this camp receive educational instruction, athletic practices and trained so as to put them in fine physical condition. It is expected that with the success of the first year's work more boys will be secured for next year. The season spent at the camp is for only two months.

Mr. Crate has had to assist him, Messrs. Caldwell and Moses at the camp, and Mr. and Mrs. Mellon in the office at Kerrville.

Mayor Adkins and editor of The Sun spent most of Thursday of last week at the camp and had dinner there, which proved a most interesting and enjoyable visit.

There was considerable corn and quite a lot of tomatoes raised on the land this year, much of which was utilized by canning it in tin receptacles for future use.

Camp Rio Vista is ideally located, as it is off the main road of travel though near enough to be reached easily, and is the right distance from town, as it is a short trip by auto, but too far to walk with any relish.

MUZZLE MONEY KINGS OF WALL STREET TO STOP INDUSTRIAL ROWS

Clayton, N. Y., Aug. 11.—"Muzzle the money kings of Wall Street if you would stop industrial disputes."

That is the remedy offered by Henry Ford, Detroit automobile king and potential presidential candidate, in an interview here with a correspondent of the Detroit Times.

Ford, accompanied by his wife and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Thompson of Detroit, are en route to Boston, traveling on the Ford yacht Sialia. At the same time Ford assailed labor unions as being engineered by capitalists and leaders of finance who knew that with their workers organized into units, they can be handled with twice the effectiveness they could be handled were they split into factions, unorganized and working alone.

During his talk with newspaper men, Mr. Ford declared:

"The nations are slowly moving to world peace. Business is now near normal. Harding has done pretty well in his term of office."

"Can the present coal and rail strikes be settled by compromise or will the issue of leadership in industry be fought out to the end this time?" was the first question asked of Mr. Ford.

He replied emphatically:

Says Wall Street Behind Walkouts
"There can be no settlement of these strikes so long as the moneyed interests of Wall Street continue in their efforts to dominate American industry. They are behind these walkouts as they are behind every disturbance in the ranks of labor or capital. Get them and you will succeed in bringing industrial peace."

"What is the remedy for these everlasting battles of supremacy between

KERR COUNTY DISTRICT COURT DISPOSING OF CRIMINAL CASES

Kerr County District Court started on the criminal docket Monday, but about all that resulted has been, dismissals and suspended sentences, so the cost of grand juries, court and other expenses had as well been saved.

Thos. Matthews, charged with theft of a Winchester; case continued because of absence of five witnesses for the defense.

E. B. King, 22, and Frank Phillips, 20, entered plea of guilty to the manufacture of liquor; jury trial and one-year suspended sentence; the only punishment these two get for this confessed violation of the law, and which they prematurely engaged in and doubtless kept up for some time, was a few weeks in jail prior to their trial.

A technicality, or rather a change of the law, set free Jody, Granville and Theodore Blanks, negroes, charged with the illegal sale of whiskey. They were indicted under the old law wherein the purchaser was also guilty, but the last Legislature changed that and made the purchaser a witness without any liability of punishment. Prosecuting Attorney Brooks stated that for lack of corroborative evidence the three cases were dismissed. Some more technicalities and changes in law that make it easy for those charged with crime to escape.

Brook Storms was sentenced to thirty days in jail on a charge of carrying a pistol.

Sam Speaks, a negro, on plea of guilty for stealing a box of cigars; sentenced to jail for ten days and fined $10.00.

Lester Hertzberg and Claude Newton, who were charged with burglary

KERRVILLE OUTBATS COMFORT, WINNING BY A 6 TO 0 SCORE

The Kerrville Athletics, with a large following of fans, motored to Comfort last Sunday and won a game in record time by a score of 6 to 0.

The score would imply that the Comfort team was outclassed, but such is far from the truth. Comfort has a machine worthy of attention on any man's diamond. Davenport was selected to pitch and in the first inning the Athletics were retired on three pitched balls. Garcia fouled to the catcher, Holchak skied to center and Wilson went out on a grounder, pitcher to first. In return, but three men faced Barry. Rees went out, Hol-

FACULTY CHANGES

Sister Charles, who has been with us nearly all summer, went back to San Antonio on Monday. She was accompanied by Sr. Evangelist of the Santa Rosa Infirmary.

On Tuesday of this week the mid-summer spiritual exercises came to a close at the mother-house. Postulants were invested in the habit, and novices were permitted to make their first temporary vows. With the enrollment of these new members the general council arranges the assignment of about seven hundred rooms for the various schools and academies of their southwestern province. This means that we will soon be informed who will constitute the Notre Dame and Guadalupe faculties for the coming school year. It is very complimentary to our Sisters to realize that practically all the young ladies who studied under them this summer to become public school teachers, received their State credentials.

Misses Mary Louise and Helen Ahnert went to San Antonio to witness the investiture of their aunt, Miss Elisa Christ. Madeline Sinn, another Notre Dame boarder, accompanied them. She had a sister named Sr. Dorothy, who died in the order last fall.

Mr. Farrish, our care-taker, also motored to San Antonio with his entire family for a vacation of several days.

Miss Louise Strackbein has finished her Normal School at the Incarnate Word College and came back to Kerrville for a brief rest prior to resuming her profession as public school teacher.

Camp Closes

The free encampment maintained this summer at Notre Dame for the convenience of the Catholic young ladies, anxious to enjoy our delightful climate and scenery, came to an end this week so that our school can be gotten in readiness for the next scholastic session. During the six weeks that the camp was patronized we extended hospitality to twenty-four vacationists at an average of eight days for each guest. As this was our first experiment in this line, we feel well satisfied with the result, and we know that we have sent forth two dozen good boosters for our school and our Hill Country. Many of the parishioners were very generous and helpful in entertaining our summer guests, and trying to make their brief stay as pleasant as possible.

On Friday, Misses Margherite and Katherine Kremer left with Miss Grace Start. On Monday of this week Mrs. R. H. Campbell and her daughter, Elizabeth, were the last to leave the camp. The youngster added six pounds to her weight during the few days.

Mrs. Katherine Davidson and her daughter, Hope, of Houston, applied on this day, but they were placed with Mrs. L. W. Laughman, who has been exceptionally kind to all our visiting friends.

"Wimmin"

(Contributed by a Kerrville Young Woman)

Uncle Hiram Green settled himself comfortably in his accustomed cracker box on the front porch of the firm of "Cocklin & Cocklin, Groceries" took off his old straw hat and mopped his perspiring brow vigorously. "Gy gum, but she's some hot," he remarked to the male assembly in general. "Started out to dig my taters this mornin' an' by crackin', by 9 o'clock got so dog-gone hot had to come in and lay in the hammock for a spell. Had a sun-stroke when I wuz a young feller bout twenty an' I ain't been able to stan' much heat since; what with my weak heart 'n all. Like as not I'd drop dead any time, you can't tell. Hanner said she'd try to finish the taters after dinner. I told her she'd orter finish easy by 4 o'clock—only 'bout half an acre—seeing she ain't got nothin' else to do; got all her work done early, milked the six cows, churned, washed the dishes, scrubbed the kitchen floor, ironed and got dinner for the three hired men. She's allus complainin' of not feelin' well. Don't see why, neither; gets plenty to eat 'n lots of fresh air 'n sunshine—I see to that—let her help in the fields every day or so."

Uncle Hiram shifted and spat thoughtfully, "They're funny things anyhow—them wimmin. Allus wantin' somethin'; go somewheres or some sech foolishness. Only yestiddy 'twas, Hanner up and asks me fer a new dress to wear to meetin' Sunday. I told her it ain't been no time since she'd got a new dress with her chicken and butter money. 'n a right sprucey dress 'twas too. Remember she said they cheated her in the trade; made her pay a dollar a yard fer the goods. She said it had been five years last spring. Well, I 'low times does fly, but you couldn't tell that dress from a bran new one, considerin' how she's worked it over ever year or so. Well, I tol' her I ain't goin' to be a party to no sech sinful extravagance." Hiram hit the box emphatically, "You know what the Good Book says 'bout that: 'Be ye not vain-glorious,' er words to that effect."

Hiram bit off a generous chew from a black, wicked-looking plug and leaned back with a sigh. "Most every week she's at me to let her come to town with me. I ain't forgot the last time she come to town. While I took the boys roun' fer a little drink—you got to treat the boys onct in a while—what should she do but let that galavantin', face-paintin', extravagant Missus Rushing—what has jes moved in—coax her into the ice cream parlor an' she spent a whole quarter before she got out. These wimmin, I tell you, got to hof' em down with a firm han'. First thing you know, mebbe, they'll be galavantin' over the country, wantin' a car, goin' to the movies, 'n mebbe flirtin' with the men; a firm han', I sez, wins every time.

"One day I wuz givin' Hanner a little talk on some uv her extravagant ways, 'n she flares up, like wimmin will sometimes, 'n call me mean, cruel an' stingy. 'Hanner, I sez, 'it hurts me to see you so ungrateful. Look all round you at the husbands what drinks 'n swears 'n mebbe beats their wife and chillern, then consider me—how I never get drunk, cept at Xmas 'n Fourth of July 'n mebbe once or twice between times, to stir up a little excitement—an' don't swear cept when things go specially wrong. Then look what a good home I give you, with plenty to eat an' wear an' plenty work to keep yer muscles strong an' supple. 'Hanner, I sez, 'if I'd a knowed when I wuz sparkin' you that you'd turn out to be sech a ungrateful creature, I'd a never done it, even if they wuz sayin' as how mebbe you'd come into yer uncle's property when he died."

"They sure air a queer bunch—them wimmin. 'Tother day I come in fer a little restin' spell 'n there sets Hanner at the center table lookin' at a pitcher of herself when she wuz a girl 'n blubberin' like a 2-year-old. 'Seat my, Hanner, sez I, 'what ever is the matter now?' She went on blubberin' fer a full five minutes 'n all I could get out of her wuz that she wuz hair beginnin' to grey and get thin 'n yer mouth a bit bigger, cept for these few trifles ye look as well as ever—ye wasn't never no ravin' tearin' beauty, ye know, 'n then ye know what the Scripture sez 'bout the vanity of men, which bein' interpreted, means the vanity of wimmin, too.' It sez, thinkin' to comfort her some. An' does she dry her eyes an' think me fer them compliments and Scriptures like a dootifal wife? No, sir! She ups an' sez, spiteful-like: 'If I will be forty my next birthday, I ain't bald on top an' got false teeth like some people I know.'

"O, well, them wimmin, they're queer critters, nohow."

chak to Wilson, Skidmore whiffed and Falton raised a high fly to Whitney.

In the second Davenport allowed McCarty, Whitney and Rowton to hit in succession. Henke hit a slow roller between first and second and the first baseman made the only error of the game. He could not have caught Henke at first but might have nailed one of the men ahead of him. Three runs were over and Henke stole second. Barry hit, putting Henke on third. Renschel poled a sacrifice fly to center, scoring Henke, and Barry came home on Garcia's hit. Garcia was caught at second when Holchak rolled one to short. Wilson hit, putting "Shack" on third and McCarty got a base on his second time up. With the bases clogged, Whitney hit to center for the third out.

Davenport had retired and Burney took his place after four runs had been scored. The scoring of the game ended in the next inning with Henke's home run drive between center and right. After that Burney allowed but four scattered hits, one giving Barry two sacks.

Barry had the Comfort boys at his mercy from start to finish. Only twenty-eight men faced him, and but one solid hit was made. Two other short flies back of second must go as hits owing to the manner of the attempts to handle them. Whitney missed both, and seemingly should have let Rowton come in for them.

The outfielders should be furnished with arm chairs and cigarettes when Barry is going right. The three fielders had but two chances. One Comfort man got to second, but was doubled when Barry speared a line drive. Three others got to first. One was caught at second and one wandered too far from first. The third died in his tracks on a third out.

That the Comfort team can play ball is evidenced by the fact that Bob struck out but four men and Burney but three. The Comfort outfield had eleven chances. A ball has to go high and far to escape them.

Withal the game was a baseball symphony, without a discordant note. Spedes and Apperman umpired with excellent judgment. The actual playing time was one hour and thirty minutes—nine complete innings.

Next Sunday the Athletics will play at home with the Barnstormers of San Antonio, and a good game is expected. PODGER.

Black Athletics Win Another

In a swift game last Sunday at the Fair Grounds, between the Black Athletics of Kerrville and the Black Sox of San Antonio, the score resulted in 11 to 6 in favor of the home boys. Butler got a home run with the bases full.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tire is built with genuine high-grade long-staple cotton as a foundation. It is liberally oversize—the 4½-inch tire, for example, measuring nearly 5 inches. The deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern of its tread affords excellent traction even in snow and mud, engaging the road like a cogwheel. The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear. This new tire is a genuine Goodyear through and through—in design, in material, in construction. It costs less to buy than the net price you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value. Why be satisfied with less than this efficient tire can give—why take a chance on an unknown make?

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

MONSIGNOR WACK'S VISIT

On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week we had the agreeable surprise of entertaining Rt. Rev. J. M. J. Wack of New Braunfels and the Very Rev. Dean Peter J. Kieffer of Yoakum.

Shortly before the Monsignor's visit we had with us the Reverend Leo Goertz of Fredericksburg and Sidney Metzger, a near relative of Mrs. Arthur Mosel.

On Friday Father Kemper held his semi-monthly engagement at Comfort for the benefit of the numerous Catholic vacationists who alone almost fill the seating capacity.

At last Friday's dance our old orchestra was missed, but the young folk had no time to brood over the loss because the substitute musician played from 8:30 to 11:00 p. m., with scarcely an intermission.

Summer Guests

Miss Mary Travis, whom Dr. Thompson cured at Carlsbad, is now a member of his nursing staff.

L. J. Brooks, District Attorney of Hondo, is with us during the semi-annual court session.

Mrs. W. G. Carpenter is entertaining four nieces, daughters of Henry Kane of San Antonio.

A sister of Mrs. Bruno Schott, Miss Katie Winkler, is visiting her from Cuero.

Mrs. Henry Brandes of Yoakum and Mrs. Max Vogt of Boerne spent the past week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Staudt.

At Bohl's camp, near Dietert's bridge, Mrs. Leo Bohl is hostess to E. J. Jungman of Devine.

John Boyle, an attorney for the Sap Railway, was with us last week on legal matters.

From Houston we have in our community Mrs. F. J. Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Alston of the Alamo City are summering in Center Point, but drove to our church for Sunday service.

Mrs. B. A. Ducote has with her at Schofner's Hotel her nieces, Mrs. John D. Maddox of Alexandria and

EXTRA SERVICE ON JUNCTION-KERRVILLE PASSENGER LINE

Junction Eagle, Aug. 11th: The Junction-Kerrville Mail and Passenger Line, operated by J. G. Ayala, is now running a big Buick Six daily between here and Kerrville, with Burt Braley as driver.

From the standpoint of daily papers we have rather satisfactory arrangements. The Fort Worth and Dallas dailies are in the hands of readers, ordinarily, by 8 p. m. of the day they are dated, and the San Antonio dailies by 6 p. m. of the day dated.

MR. AND MRS. G. F. SCHREINER ENTERTAIN AT DANCING

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Schreiner entertained with a dance Thursday night of last week, in honor of their visitors, Miss Telka Holz and Mrs. J. F. McDonald, of Houston.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

J. B. HOLT, Pastor

The pastor returned from Brownwood in time to preach Sunday morning. While in Brownwood the pastor spoke to the Rotary Club at their noon luncheon on "The Value of Christian Colleges to a Community," and also delivered the Commencement address at the close of the Summer Session of Howard Payne College, and was honored by being given the D. D. degree.

The Prayer Meeting was well attended last week. All those who attended the Alto Frio Encampment gave glowing accounts of their stay there. This is destined to be one of the very largest and best encampments in the State.

Missionary Meeting

The Baptist W. M. U. will hold their regular missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. L. W. McCoy, Tuesday, August 22nd, as follows:

Leader, Mrs. P. G. Canfield; subject, "Industrial Foreign Missions"; prayer, Mrs. Deering; "Personal Service Period," Mrs. Rawson; hymn, "Sowing in the Morning"; "Seeing Sermons" (Par. 1 and 2), Miss Mabel Deering; "Come Over and Help Us" (Par. 3 and 4), Mrs. R. S. Newman; hymn, "Work for the Night Is Coming"; "Missionary in Overalls in Africa" (Par. 5), Mrs. A. B. Burton; "Christian Industry in China" (Par. 6), Mrs. J. T. Moore; "Items of Industry" (Par. 7, 8 and 9), Mrs. Tullis; prayer, Mrs. Garrett.

W. M. U. Meeting

The W. M. U. of the Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon at the church. Mrs. J. T. Moore, the president, read Psalm 112; prayer by Mrs. F. E. Garrett. Mrs. Ola B. Gammon gave an interesting talk on the "American Relief Work."

The Secret of Power-Prayer

Spiritual power that comes from prayer is one of the silent forces of God's grace and nature. Powerful praying is not to be found in the praying of the flesh but rather in the regnancy of the Spirit.

The greatest example of this is to be found in the way that Jesus prayed. Always Jesus said "Father," "Holy Father," "Our Father," but never did he say, "Eternal God," nor any such expressions.

Refreshments of iced tea sandwiches and wafers were served by Mrs. J. L. Tullis and Mrs. C. H. Richardson and Miss Faye Turley as a committee.

Birth Party

Tuesday of last week, Mrs. Joe Gardner entertained the children, the occasion being the birthday of her daughter, Mary Louise.

Guessing games were played, the inclemency of the weather necessitating their being played indoors. Bobbie Scherbeck and Charlie Ray Newman won the same number of answers, and Bobbie received a big stick of candy, while Charlie Ray received a box of candy.

than any other on earth. With this approach we can climb upon the Father's knee and whisper our needs into His ear in such a way that we shall be heard.

The place of prayer has something to do with the power that comes in response. Jesus found, perhaps, that it was easier to pray in certain places than in others.

A leading business man in a large Texas city told some cold blooded business men one day, who came in to talk over a certain business venture with him, that he would go home and talk to God about it that night and answer them on the morning.

How to Help

One of the most difficult things in the world is to help men. How to do it, in the most effective sense has been the burden of human philosophy since ancient days and is the purpose of all modern philanthropy.

The business world believes that men are really helped only when they are aided and encouraged to help themselves.

PLACE WITHOUT A CONSCIENCE

Greenville, Texas, is a place without a conscience. With in the past year some one in that city—either a charity organization, hospital or some one in legal authority—have sent to Kerrville three families, most of whom have been on the charity of the people of Kerrville. One of these families cost the Red Cross nearly $200.00 and since then, some member of these families has been a constant source of annoyance and burden on the people here.

Then, this week, Harry Robinson, who claims he was sent here by Beeton's Hospital of that city, has been soliciting aid from the people of Kerrville, and when referred to the Associated Charities became indignant and insulting. He finally went to the headquarters of Associated Charities and there became insulting. He is not worthy the aid of the people of this community and the chairman of Associated Charities has written Beeton's Hospital to send and get its charge who was imposed upon this community.

The editor of the leading paper at Greenville has also been written in reference to the practice of that city in sending its indigent people here for Kerrville to take care of, and a protest is made against it.

We cannot imagine what kind of people compose that community when such practices are permitted. They are not in ignorance, because the cases of the first indigents sent were taken up with the Red Cross at Greenville, and also with the mayor, and they ignore all protests, so we will begin to give them the benefit of publicity, so that the remainder of the people of Texas may know what Greenville does with its indigents.

The main cause of the railroad unions striking has been finally admitted by one of their spokesmen—they want the Government to take over the railroads and operate them. Oh, yes, they would be delighted at that, if the Government was as complaisant as it was when Wilson, McAdoo & Company were at the helm. McAdoo let the railroad unions run the railroads instead of the Government doing so, and the people are reaping the results of that assinine policy. No sir, rather than have any more Government operation of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, or anything else of an industrial class, had better stop the whole business. Let there be a show-down now and see if it is the unions or the Government that the people must look to for control of public utilities of the country. There is no reason to have this bugaboo hanging over the people all the time—let it be settled once for all. Unions are useful when properly managed, but during the war the radical element got in charge of them and the attempt is now being made to make the country's interests subsidiary to that of the unions. The people have enough of it, and if the Republican party can't handle the situation any better than the Democrats did, there will be a political party come into existence that will do so.

The road sample shown last week in The Sun, as a part of the highway from the Kimble County line to Kerrville, was one of the best advertisements this country could have. Those concrete bridges, two of which are reproduced this week, also enlighten the people to the fact that we are soon to have an easy and comfortable way to reach the country west of us. The stretch of road over the Divide was the worst in any State, and cost Kerr County many thousands of dollars, if not a million. No man ever made a trip over it and had any pleasant thoughts of this country, or much respect for people who would supinely submit to such a condition. However, we can soon overcome that bad impression with those who will go over the same route when the highway is completed. It will mean a great deal to this whole section, and result in investments all along the line. There will also be thousands of tourists, who have been dodging this route, to include it in their itinerary.

It appears to be a hard matter to get the people of Kerrville weaned away from the habit of subscribing and paying out money to the personal solicitor for their alms. We have a regularly organized society to look after the indigent, and this work is being intelligently carried out by a faithful band of noble women in this city. If you will refer all solicitors to the Associated Charities, their cases will be promptly attended to, if worthy. It is to be trusted that the people of Kerrville will quit subscribing to any appeals and refer them to the chairman or secretary of the Associated Charities. By doing so, you will doubtless stop the appeals of a fraud.

Morning Bridge Party

A charming hospitality of the week was the 6-table Bridge Party with which Mrs. Dick Eastland entertained Wednesday morning, complimenting Mrs. Chas. Armstrong of Armstrong, Tex., and Mrs. Warren Colvert of San Antonio, both of whom are visiting their sister, Mrs. Scott Schreiner. The living rooms were very effectively decorated in wreathed blossoms of queen's crown and clematis, together with big bowls of stately zinnias and jackbean in blended colorings of pink and white.

The prize for high score, hand-made and embroidered handkerchiefs, was awarded Mrs. Ally Beitel. Mrs. W. M. Wheelcut the consolation, which like the winner's was a box of hand-made handkerchiefs. Also the honorees were given a box each containing two handkerchiefs of lovely color and design, made by the donor. A beautifully arranged plate, containing delicious sandwiches, salad, stuffed pimientos, potato chips, paprika wafers, iced tea and cake, was served to about thirty guests.

Splash Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schreiner Jr. entertained with a "Splash Party" Monday evening, complimenting Misses Barnes, Mary Louise Barnes, Helen Merrill and May Louise Schreiner and Mrs. Frank Hart.

All of the party met at Lake Side Park at 7 o'clock, and after the plunge went to the Schreiner home, where a most delicious buffet supper was served to seventy-five guests. The dining room table was a bower of pink and white—queen's crown and clematis vied with each other in beautifying. The living room was made festive with clematis and zennias, and blended perfectly with the dining room, which two were opened into one big room. The evening was spent in a most enjoyable way, dancing on the porch. Several numbers given by the male quartette, composed of Messrs. Touchstone, Storey, Lucien Touchstone and E. Wright, were especially enjoyed, as was the entire entertainment furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Schreiner.

Costume Party

The little folk of Kerrville gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Schreiner last Saturday afternoon to compliment the cousins of little Miss Josephine, Catherine and Warren Colvert, Cynthia Rote, John Armstrong and Nellie Gantner Schreiner. The maypole was set up on the lawn, which was a delightful setting for the dance and games indulged in by the little guests, and accentuated the brilliant costumes worn.

Queen Dodo, attended by her Prime Minister Warren, and her ladies-in-waiting, Catherine and Nellie Gantner, and her black cat, John, watched from her dais the beautiful winding of the maypole. After the games had been played the guests received their favors of locust "poppers," whistles and horns when the ice cream and cake was being eaten. Ladies of high degree vied with clowns, cats and other animals, various flowers, night, and dancers in having a good time on this shady lawn.

The little guests were: Julia Ann and Irene Jackson, Ruth Prescott, Junior Herzog, Cecil Rawson, Margaret, Martha and Franklin Harwood, Annie Laurie and Mary Jane Garrett, Earl Garrett, Elizabeth, Francis and Seaborn Eastland, Aimee Louise and Garrett Schmerbeck, Dorothy Rawson and little brother, Florence and Marie Speckels, James Baker, Evelyn Fisk, Fordran Johnston, Mary Nell Adkins, Junior Johnston, Gertrude and Jerry Beitel, Mary Louise Gardner, Henry and Elinor Allen, Charles Ray Newman, Bobby Schmerbeck and Kate Knox.

L. Beasley and daughter of Junction spent a few days in Kerrville this past week.

Special Sale on all kinds of shirts at John W. Burney's. (Advertisement 35-1c).

Mr. and Mrs. McKelvy, who have been here for several weeks past, left last Saturday for their home in Houston.

Mrs. Emil Dietert, who has been spending the summer on the ranch with her two sons, Will and Milton, returned to her home last Sunday.

Miss Mabel Thorburn, who will teach the Science of Domestic Arts in our City Schools this next year, has returned from a several weeks' stay with friends in San Antonio.

RAMS FOR SALE—I have several choice Delaine-Merino Rams, which I will sell at fair price; also a few billie goats. Come and see me before you buy. M. Holekamp, Kerrville. (Advertisement 34-2c).

W. A. Fawcett and his son, W. C., went to Junction the latter part of last week. Mr. Fawcett bought the interest of J. D. Motley in the furniture stock there, and thinks he has sold it to another party.

Miss Evelyn Seffel came up from San Antonio last Saturday for a little visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dietert. Monday she accompanied Miss Helen Dietert to the Dietert Ranch for a longer visit with her cousins, Will, Myrtle, Rose, Milton and Arthur.

W. S. Mosher of Dallas, one of the most prominent steel men of Texas, is at the Presbyterian Encampment for some time. Wednesday of last week he visited Camp Rio Vista, where he was made to feel an honored guest, since he so ably assisted in the establishment of the camp.

Elsie and Georgine Rawson left Kerrville Monday to go for a visit to New Orleans, La., with their aunt, Mrs. Stoner, whom Kerrville people know as Miss Ella Koester. They were accompanied to San Antonio by Mrs. W. H. Rawson, Miss Stinson and William Henry Rawson.

Miss Helen Dietert left Monday for the Dietert Ranch on the Divide, where she will spend two weeks with her cousins. She attended the College of Industrial Arts this past year and, with 200 more of the girls, remained for the Summer Normal conducted there. Miss Dietert will be one of the teachers at Tivy High School this year, we are glad to say.

Twenty-four hour air and water service at Richard's Garage. (Advertisement 34-1c).

Dr. L. Kaffie and family have come from Corpus Christi to spend a short time in the Hill Country, and for a little fishing.

Mrs. H. Bitterman of Alice passed through Kerrville the first of the week, on her way to visit relatives in the country near here.

Otto Hein, who had been operated on for appendicitis at the Secor Hospital, was taken home the latter part of last week and is doing well.

Mrs. Hines, wife of Major General Hines of Fort Sam Houston, brought a party from San Antonio for a short stay in our little city. They arrived Monday.

Miss Clara McDoniel returned to Kerrville Thursday of last week from Houston and other points, where she spent her vacation visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Alexander, from Cuba, is at the Presbyterian Encampment, and will speak to the women at the Presbyterian Church this Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Lydia Raaz has accepted a position with the Chas. Schreiner Company, in the dry goods department. She will be pleased to have her friends call and see her there.

Mrs. J. E. Gutierrez and party of three, from Mexico, are at the St. Charles Hotel for several weeks. They spent some time in San Antonio, but seem well pleased with Kerrville and the Hill Country.

Miss Mabel Materne, a 1920 graduate of Tivy High School, was married July 31st to V. L. Angier. The ceremony was performed at Shreveport, La. The happy couple are residing in Hasston, La.

U. C. Skinner and family of Galveston spent several days in Kerrville the first of the week. They are tourists and speak well of Kerrville as a town, in comparison with other towns at which they have stopped.

Dr. A. G. Jones and wife of Austin are at the Presbyterian Encampment. Many of the Kerrville people will remember Dr. Jones, who was at the First Presbyterian Church in San Antonio until a short time past.

Mrs. Ball, wife of the Professor of Botany at the A. & M. College, and daughter, Miss Julia, of College Station, are at the St. Charles Hotel. Miss Ball has been taking an active part in the festivities of the town this past week.

Miss Eneanor Brackenridge of San Antonio, who is so well known as a worker in all interests of women, was at the St. Charles Hotel for a short stay this past week. In her party were Mrs. Stephenson, Dr. Mary Harper and Mrs. Harper.

We are glad to announce that Mr. and Mrs. Evans will come back to Kerrville next week from Corpus Christi. Mr. and Mrs. Evans have been here for several months at different times in the past two years. They will live in the house now occupied by Mrs. Daisie Kent, and Mrs. Kent will occupy the Newman residence.

Louis Domingues returned Tuesday from Dallas, where he has been doing wonderful things in the swimming line with the team of that city, as shown by the following clipping from the San Antonio Express of last Sunday morning, under a Dallas date line: "The Dallas team won the annual swimming meet of the Southern Amateur Athletic Union here Saturday after coming from behind a strong lead piled up by the New Orleans team. The locals finished 17 points ahead of New Orleans through their capture of the high diving event by High Crow, and the relay race. One old Southern record was broken when Louis Domingues made his fur-long in 2 minutes and 38 1-5 seconds."

W. W. Wilson of Medina was a pleasant caller at The Sun office Wednesday.

Wm. Brice and S. H. Huntington went to San Antonio Wednesday on a short business trip.

The County Board was in session Monday and Tuesday, transacting routine business.

A marriage license was issued August 12th to Rollie Earl Howard and Miss Lou Ellen Ward.

Remember the West Texas Fair is Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 29th, 30th and 31st.

Miss Blanche Moore has returned from Belton, where she attended the Summer Normal at Baylor College.

Mrs. F. E. Bearden is with the H. Noll Stock Company, and will be glad to have her friends call on her there.

W. A. Fawcett, accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Fawcett, went to Johnson City Wednesday, where the former has furniture interests.

F. S. Anderson, City Attorney of Galveston, is again visiting in Kerrville. Mrs. Anderson is spending the summer at the St. Charles Hotel.

Mrs. J. B. Young and son and little niece, Jane Harrison, have returned home after a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends in San Antonio.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church will hold its regular meeting at the church this Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Vela Burney returned to San Antonio Monday to make some arrangements regarding her art work, after a visit with her father, Judge R. H. Burney.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. McDonald are receiving the congratulations of their many friends over the arrival Tuesday forenoon of a fine nine and a half pound boy. Mother and babe doing well, while the Doctor is beginning to hit the earth occasionally.

E. L. Sublett, real estate and live stock dealer, has secured the room upstairs over the Chas. Schreiner Bank formerly occupied by the late Judge Martin Dies. Mr. Sublett has some bargains in farms and ranches, small and large. See his advertisement in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nowlin and children left this Thursday for Houston, where they formerly lived several years ago, and will again make it their home. Many friends regret their departure and wish them the best of success there. Mr. Nowlin has established a cleaning and pressing business in that city.

A Mission of Christian Healing will be held at St. Peter's Episcopal Church for ten days, beginning Thursday, Aug. 31st, at 8 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Dr. Gayner Banks of Eagle Pass. Two services daily, at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Come and hear the full Gospel of Health and Healing.—G. M. MAUDOGALL, Rector.

Parent-Teachers' Club

Wednesday afternoon of last week at 4 o'clock, a well attended meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Club was held at the Tivy High School.

As there was so much business to be attended to, a motion was made and carried that the program be dispensed with and the meeting given over to the business of the day.

A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Jas. Rees and committee for the success of the ice cream social given on the 22nd of July. A motion was made that the treasurer give a report each month of the money received and paid out. Motion carried.

The president gave a talk, outlining the plans for the work to be carried on by the organization. She will appoint a committee to work with the headquarters of the Associated Charities, and carry on the charity work that is needed in the school.

Justice Turner's Court

Justice of Peace Turner has disposed of the following cases this past week:

Jim Tribble and U. G. Griffin, two white men, and a negro woman, were each fined $23.20 on a charge of disturbing the peace. It appears, from information gained, that these two white men and a negro man and the negro woman were in a car early last Sunday morning making a lot of noise near the house of Clarence Sing on the upper Guadalupe. H. I. Hardin, who is a deputy sheriff, was called and he informed Sheriff Moore, who left at once and joined Deputy Hardin and arrested the four. Some whiskey was found in possession of the party, who were evidently out for a good time. The negro man who was arrested has not been tried.

Sheriff Moore arrested Ed. Nicoll on the streets here Tuesday while drunk, and he was fined $14.20.

Subscription Honor Roll

The following have either subscribed or renewed the past week to The Kerrville Mountain Sun:

E. W. Schmidt and Mrs. Al Young, Kerrville; Mrs. Fred Morris, Star Route; C. H. Webb, Ingram; Mrs. W. C. Wharton, Junction, and Lewie Moore, Galveston, Texas.

The West Texas Fair management desires to assure the public that the grand stand has recently been overhauled, strengthened and made as new, so that as many people as can get in or on it will be perfectly safe.

PAMPELL'S ICE CREAM PRODUCTS

PURE AND WHOLESOME

THE PURE FOOD LAWS OF TEXAS ARE RIGID

In order that our friends and customers may know that they are being served with absolutely pure Ice Cream and Soda Waters, we take this means of giving publicity to the fact that our plant and products are inspected by traveling representatives of the Pure Food Department of Texas.

We are proud to say a recent analysis of our Ice Cream proved it far superior to the average ice cream now on the market, as to purity and percentage of butter fat.

When better or purer Ice Cream, Ices, Soda Water and Candies can be made, Pampell's will make them. We are proud of our record. Over a quarter of a century of making Pure Food Products and since the Pure Food Laws have been in effect, never a complaint from the department.

the auditorium, and Mr. Matthews of the A. & M. College at Bryan, the song leader, and Mrs. Wilgus of San Antonio at the piano and Miss Katherine Wharton of Sherman, with the violin, furnish the music, or at least a good part of it, with the aid of a popular chorus. Will Barber of San Antonio also adds his trombone to the orchestral effects on occasion. Altogether it is quite a happy family that is tenanted the tented field below Kerrville and getting all the joy of life from pleasant associations, though it keeps Prof. J. J. Delaney, business manager, and Mr. Walker, his assistant, and Miss Tommie Walker, who has charge of the refractory, very busy looking after the material welfare of the guests, as is Rev. C. H. Storey of Corsicana, platform manager, in providing for their spiritual needs.

REPUBLICANS TO HOLD SENATORIAL CONVENTION

way, McDowell said, in a bitter speech, that Cecil A. Lyon used to be "a dictator, but it remained for Creager to be the czar."

Judge McDowell confirmed reports of the "outbreak" he staged at Fort Worth and said he not only called Creager a czar, but that he meant every word of it, and can prove it. "Lyon, now dead and gone, was a boss in fact," said Judge McDowell. "But he was an easy one compared with Mr. Creager. It's Creager's belief that all he has to do is pop the whip while the rest of the Republican party in Texas dances for him. I am one Republican who got tired of it and did not hesitate to say so in the most conspicuously public place I could pick—a State Convention bossed by the man about whom and to whom I talked."

Judge McDowell's speech created a sensation at Fort Worth and is creating one here. He is considered close to Congressman Wurzbach, has entertained him at his home and recently was appointed to a responsible place in Washington. This appointment was given up by him 11 days after he took the oath of office.

"I took the place just to show some folk I could be recognized," said Judge McDowell. "I got the recognition and left the payroll in less than two weeks thereafter. I am one Republican who is not afraid to either resign an office or to tell the party boss what I think."

MUZZLE THE MONEY KINGS OF WALL STREET TO STOP INDUSTRIAL ROWS

labor and capital, Mr. Ford was the next question.

"Well," he replied, quizzically, "I told you one fairly effective means of dealing with the situation, but I think there is another which might prove just as efficacious. Let the manufacturers and the owners treat their men like men, let them pay them a living wage and give them working conditions conducive to real self-expression and you will have gone far toward culminating strife. Too many manufacturers are not following this policy now and you can see the result."

Then came, perhaps, the most startling statement of the entire interview. It expressed perfectly Henry Ford's ideas of the powers behind labor unions and his notions as to their effectiveness.

Claims Capitalists Engineer Unions.

"Labor unions?" he demanded. "Do you realize how these unions are formulated and for what reason? There isn't a union in the country formed primarily by the men themselves, or run for their benefit. They are all engineered by capitalists and leaders of finance, who know that with their workers organized into units, they can be handled with twice the effectiveness they could be handled were the men split into factions, unorganized and working alone. The great principle in business is organization and nobody knows this any better than the high lights of business. What have they done? In their desire to control more intimately the working man, they have encouraged this organization into unions and with him and his fellows together they can force them more readily to their will."

"The nations of the world are surely, if slowly, on the way to world peace," he said. "Perhaps it will take years for the hope to come true, but it will come. Destroy the power of men to whom war is a means for gain; break down the influence of those who bring on war for their own mercenary gain and the result will be easy of accomplishment, for peace is the normal existence—an existence held off only because a few men want war with its attendant profits."

Business Better Than Normal Now

"How do you regard the business outlook?" he was asked. "We hear much talk about the United States being on the way back toward normal times," was his reply. "I believe that normal times in business and industry are already here. In fact, business today is better than normal and the prospects for continued stability are marvelous. This is true of practically every line of activity."

"What effect do you believe the Washington, Genoa and The Hague conferences had toward this world peace that we all seek?"

"Well," replied Mr. Ford slowly, "these conferences were not without value. I think they are definite steps in the right direction."

An attempt was made to encourage some remarks by the manufacturer on current politics, especially with reference to his opinion of the Harding Administration, but here he became wary and edged toward his yacht.

"Harding, I believe, has done pretty well in his term of office, don't you? Things seem to be running about as well in Washington as they can and that's well enough."
