In celebration of the completion of the highway joining the two cities and in expressing a just tribute to the men whose zeal, industry and sacrifices have made possible the fine roadway over the Divide. The celebration was held in a fine pecan grove 14 miles this side of Junction in the Rembold and Moss Pastures. In spite of the rain the night before and during the forenoon, a large crowd, estimated between 2,000 and 2,500 people, was in attendance.

The holiday crowds had a good demonstration of the reason for the celebration as they journeyed to the picnic grounds during the forenoon, for in spite of the showers, which were heavy in spots, the Highway was a source of pleasure to drive over, and the people of the Hill Country could not help but compare it with the old dirt road leading over the Divide in the past which, under similar conditions, would have been well nigh impassable. Then it was a good half day's journey by auto between Kerrville and Junction with the most favorable of road conditions, and now it is an easy trip in two hours.

The utmost harmony and good feeling was manifested by all at the celebration and not a single discordant note marred the happiness of the pleasure seekers. Even the showers during the forenoon could not dampen the spirits of the merry makers. Basket dinners were spread at the noon hour and all participated in a real old fashioned picnic dinner.

The Kelly Field Band furnished music throughout the day and at night played for the dance held on the large platform erected for that purpose. The grounds and dance platform were illuminated at night through the generosity of R. L. Mangum, Kerrville Delco Light dealer, who installed a portable Delco outfit for that purpose.

The speaking began shortly before lunch when Judge W. H. Baker, County Judge of Kimble County, was introduced by County Attorney F. E. Knetsch, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Judge Baker summarized briefly the history of the present Highway and the difficulties met in putting it through. He lauded the people of Kerr County for their co-operation with the people of Kimble County, showing that the former had built a highway from Kerrville to meet the one from Junction at the county line at a much greater expense than the cost of the road in the county on the north.

The speaker praised the Kerr County people for their co-operation and expressed the wish, in behalf of Junction and Kimble County, that this helpful spirit of harmony between the two counties and their leading citizens should never be marred by any disagreement, ill will or anything that would tend to undermine the friendly co-operation between them.

The speaker concluded with a warm welcome to the people of both counties and others who were in attendance.

Judge W. C. Baker, prominent local attorney, responded to the address of Judge Baker of Kimble County in a similar vein and expressed in behalf of the local Chamber of Commerce and the people of the county their desire for the friendliest co-operation and harmony.

After the huge crowd had enjoyed a delicious picnic spread a number of athletic games, a concert by the Kelly Field Band and two addresses filled an interesting program.

J. E. Grinstead, representing the local Chamber of Commerce, showed clearly in his address the benefits Kerrville and Kerr County had received from co-operation with Junction and Kimble County and urged that the spirit of friendliness and harmony be always maintained.

Mr. Grinstead paid a fitting tribute to Capt. Charles Schreiner for the great part he has played in the building of the new highway between Kerrville and Junction and expressed regret that the infirmities of age prevented the distinguished philanthropist and financier from being in attendance at the celebration.

The speaker also paid a glowing tribute to the old pioneers of the Hill Country, many of whom were on the grounds. Mr. Grinstead pictured beautifully the part these pioneers have played in the building of the Hill Country and praised their sturdy spirit that had conquered all obstacles and made of this section one of the greatest parts of the empire of Texas.

Mr. Grinstead was followed by Judge Coke R. Stevenson, who was County Judge of Kimble County at the time the construction of the Highway was begun in that county. Judge Stevenson pointed out briefly the benefits accruing to Junction and Kimble County from the hearty co-operation with Kerrville and Kerr County and reiterated Mr. Grinstead's plea for a continuance of same.

WOOL AND MOHAIR HANDLED THROUGH KERRVILLE TOTALS OVER $1,500,000

Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company Ship Ninety-Three Cars Containing 3,052,696 Pounds of Spring Clip of Wool and Mohair—Fall Clip To Begin Coming In Within Next Few Weeks.

Thursday of last week the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company finished loading out the last shipment of the spring clip of wool, which was consigned to Boston. This shipment was made to clear the large warehouses of the company to make room for the fall clip of wool and mohair, which will begin coming in within the next few weeks. The shipment was consigned, as market conditions were not favorable for a sale at the present time.

A million and a half pounds made up the shipment, which took fifty cars to carry, and required the services of a big force of workmen eight days to load.

The above two paragraphs briefly summarize the results of the activities of the farmers and ranchmen in this branch of industry, the greatest in the Hill Country, and probably of the entire State of Texas.

The Schreiner Company has sold and consigned this year a total of 3,052,696 pounds of wool and mohair, which represents over a million and a half dollars to the farmers and ranchmen of Southwest Texas for their spring clip. In addition to this, the fall clip is yet to come in, which, according to reports, is exceptionally good this year in spite of the dry weather, and which will bring the total received by the sheep and goat men for the year up around two and a half million dollars, as the fall clip on an average does not amount to quite as much as the spring clip.

This spring clip of mohair which was shipped from Kerrville required 27 cars and totaled 990,929 pounds. This was sold outright, as was part of the 12-month clip of wool, amounting to 13 cars totaling 375,552 pounds. The balance of the 12-month wool clip of 20 cars, with a total of 976,833 pounds, was consigned. A total of 33 cars was required to haul the 8-month clip of wool, comprising 1,084,784 pounds, which was also consigned.

This wool and mohair represents a major portion of the spring clip of Kerr, Edwards, Kimble and Real Counties, with a part of the output of Gillespie and Kendall Counties, and a few scattering consignments from other counties in Southwest Texas, besides a few coming as far away as New Mexico. A few ranchmen contract their wool with Eastern buyers, and a little has been purchased and shipped by individual merchants direct, while still another part of the crop is being held by some ranchmen and organizations waiting for prices to increase. However, the above figures represent the large majority of the output, and will give a general idea of the magnitude of this branch of the farming and ranching industry of the Hill Country.

The spring clip of mohair which Texas have been making money for the past several years, and the outlook for the future is indeed promising. They are a live, aggressive bunch and are going more each year into the raising of high grade sheep and goats, and the shipments of wool and mohair, together with the prices, received for same, vindicate the wisdom of this course.

Kerrville and the Hill Country are to be congratulated on having a business industry with such sound financial standing as the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company, who know how to market the wool and mohair consigned to them, as well as the vast quantities they buy outright, for through their efforts the farmers and ranchmen are enabled to secure better prices for their products.

ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM SIREN SOON TO BE IN OPERATION

Hand Warning Siren Also Installed on Hose Truck—Ask Traffic to Clear Way for Apparatus.

The huge electric fire alarm siren, ordered recently by the City Commission, arrived the latter part of last week, and is being installed on top of the Walker building. It will be in operation some time during the latter part of this week.

A small hand warning siren was also received and installed on the hose truck. It was used in the fire practice held last Thursday night and the fire boys state that it got results.

An alarm box will be installed in the telephone office and another will be placed either at the fire station or on the corner of Water and Earl Garrett Streets. Other boxes will be put in where the cost of installation is borne by those wishing same.

The addition of the new alarms puts the local fire department in the city class in that respect and the warnings should be heeded by the citizens. Unless they are obeyed they are of no use.

Fire Chief Eugene Butt states that all traffic should make way for the truck so as to enable it to make quick time. In the past other cars have jammed it or slowed it up considerably by trying to get there ahead of the truck or trying to pass it. It is suggested that downtown traffic head in close to the curb and leave street crossings open when the apparatus makes runs over the main business streets.

The purpose of this is to have the way clear and to eliminate a great deal of danger of collision with some other vehicle and the speeding up of the runs. One of the reasons in requesting that other cars do not try to pass that ruck in answering an alarm is to enable it to make better time and not have to be dodging some other vehicles all the way. This also removes a great deal of the chances of having a wreck. If the apparatus were to be wrecked there would be no way of combating the fire and serious damage might result.

Another request is made by the Fire Chief that the practice of running over the hose with vehicles be discontinued. There is a city ordinance that prescribes a heavy fine for an offense of this nature and from now on it is to be enforced to the limit so as to protect the equipment.

Chief Butt and the fire department make the request that the citizens cooperate with them in every way possible that Kerrville may have a more effective fire fighting organization and one that will be a credit to the city.

1923 PRESBYTERIAN ENCAMPMENT ECLIPSES ALL FORMER SEASONS

The seventeenth annual session of the Westminster Presbyterian Encampment closed Wednesday morning of last week after the most successful term in its history. Two thousand people had registered up until noon yesterday, 326 greater than the number at the same period last season and 193 more than the total at the time the grounds closed last October 1st.

The dining room will close Sept. 15th, although the grounds will remain open for vacationists until about November 1st. The Encampment plant will be used in connection with Schreiner Institute this winter.

While there was a general exodus at the close of the program, there are yet approximately 300 people on the grounds, with prospects that the majority of them will be here for several weeks longer.

Many improvements and additions were made for the accommodation of patrons this season. Seven new cottages and four screened tents were built, increasing the capacity by 100 persons. The dining hall was also remodeled and its capacity increased from 250 to 350 people.

Crossing the Divide Now a Joy Ride

A full page in last Sunday's San Antonio Express carried the above heading, with a paneled layout of five views of the Old Spanish Trail between Kerrville and Junction, together with pictures of Judge Lee Wallace and H. Renschel. The introduction also advertised the Kerrville-Junction Joint Basket Picnic. Credit for this excellent publicity is due H. P. Fairman (Podger), and also the following interesting writeup run under the cuts:

The story of a road building begins far back of any visible process. Ordinarily, inconvenience and delay, with consequent loss of time and money, shapes an indefinite purpose that "something ought to be done," leading next to a general voicing of the question "what can be done?" which is but one step from a united resolution of a few, possibly not more than two or three, aggressive spirited men of the "let's do something" class, to do something.

Thus the movement to build a highway between Kerrville and Junction was finally launched. On July 24, 1918, an election was called to vote bonds to the amount of $200,000.

The Election Carries
Even those living adjacent to the proposed highway were staggered by the thought of placing such an enormous debt upon Commissioners Precincts No. 1 and 4 for the purpose of building one single thoroughfare. Certainly it was no small endeavor to convince the voters in other parts of the county of benefits which would accrue from such an investment.

Representative citizens were organized to carry out a plan of promulgation. All the facts available were tabulated and given out at meetings called in every election precinct. Active in this work were Judges Lee Wallace, Geddie, Garrett, Wheelless, Baker, H. Renschel, Gus Schreiner and others.

The election carried, and the bonds were authorized and printed. These securities were issued to bear interest at 5 1/2 per cent, payable semi-annually; $5,000 of the principal to be retired each year, over a period of 40 years. According to this plan of refunding, the coming generation, which will reap the greatest benefit, will be called on to pay a just portion of the indebtedness.

Then came the first difficulty of many that had to be met and overcome. Available capital had suddenly shifted to the manufacture of war materials, and 70c was the best offer made for Kerr County, non-taxable securities, and many advocated accepting the low offer, in order that the road might become an early reality.

From a financial viewpoint the situation stood thus: Two hundred thousand dollars in 5 1/2 per cent bonds were authorized, with the understanding that $35,000 would be given in exchange for an equal amount in bonds of a previous issue held locally, leaving $165,000 to be disposed of. The first offer was 70c. This was later increased to 75c and again, after a stubborn resistance from the County Commissioners, a bid of 85c was secured.

Helped Out for Better Bid
There were advocates for the acceptance of each bid as it was received. The County Commissioners, headed by Judge Lee Wallace, held out against all influence to permit such a sacrifice. They argued that with materials and labor on a war basis, even the full amount of the bond issue would be insufficient to build the highway as planned. A fair estimate of the purposing power of a dollar would have reduced the avail-

PERCY TYRRELL FINDS DELIGHT IN BEAUTIFUL HILL COUNTRY

San Antonio Express: Outlining his favorite section of the State to visit on a motoring trip, Percy Tyrrell, without hesitation selected the beautiful ride to Junction via Boerne, Comfort, Center Point and Kerrville, and return via Kerrville, Medina City and Bandera.

"I like this trip because it is so different from so many of the auto drives one can go on from San Antonio," Mr. Tyrrell said. "It offers a refreshing variety of scenery, wild, rugged hill country, while the picturesque drive from Kerrville to Bandera via Medina City is to my notion one of the most interesting to be found anywhere in this section of Texas. The log cabins, the rushing waters of the Medina River that parallels the road much of the distance and the wonderful scenery all combine to make this a drive refreshing to mind, body and soul."

Another reason perhaps why Mr. Tyrrell picked out this particular route is because it is on the Old Spanish Trail, in which he has always shown deep interest. While the road to Junction is the main route west along the O. S. T., the road from Kerrville, via Medina City and Bandera and back to San Antonio, is what is known as Tourist Loop No. 10 of the O. S. T., so naturally the entire trip is over the Old Spanish Trail.

While perhaps this trip offers a greater variety of scenery than can be found on any other motoring jaunt in the vicinity of San Antonio, yet the mileage, approximately 260 miles, does not place it in the class of one-day trips. It is a delightful drive for the week-end, when one can take plenty of time and drink in the beauties that nature has lavished with generous hand throughout that entire section.

While the road from Kerrville to Bandera via Medina City has not been officially logged, yet the O. S. T. markings, the familiar red, white and yellow, are painted on posts along the entire route all the way to San Antonio, so there is no necessity for one to get off the right road.

Coming from Kerrville to San Antonio via Medina City, the road branches to the right from the main highway just outside Kerrville and is plainly marked. It winds up through the hills, with the stately Schreiner home high up on the right. The road is well marked all the way to Medina City and Bandera and on back to San Antonio. It is needless to say that there are perhaps more camping, hunting and fishing spots along this route than can be found on any other drive around San Antonio.

If there are any of you motorists who have never made a trip over the route as described, do so and then see if you do not think that Percy Tyrrell showed good judgment in his selection of "My Favorite Trip."

Surprise Party

The Baptist ladies gave a delightful surprise party last Thursday evening honoring Mrs. W. H. Rawson at her home, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

After all the guests had been greeted, Mrs. Frank Richards presented the honoree with a basket beautifully decorated in white tissue paper and ferns, in which were a number of dainty gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served to those in attendance.

Q. V. Bridge Club

A full house attended the Card Party given by Mrs. Walter Meyer Sr. Wednesday of last week. In addition to the regular club members, Mrs. Haywood Miller was invited to participate. Mrs. Al Platte won the first prize, and Mrs. Ida Newton cut for consolation award.

After the refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, the ladies voted to meet Tuesday, September 4th, at the home of Mrs. Ida Newton and her accomplished daughter, Miss Elizabeth.

Legion Auxiliary Gives Party

The Woman's Auxiliary to the American Legion gave a benefit card party at Lake Side Park Tuesday evening of last week. A large crowd spent an enjoyable time playing Bridge, Five Hundred and Forty-two. The pavilion was beautifully decorated in moss and Japanese lanterns.

High score winners at the different tables were: Miss Carlette Tarver, Miss Yolande Robinson, J. H. Vichey; Mesdames C. W. Viles, Fishback Wheelers, A. E. Barzzen, J. M. Drodody, E. H. Prescott, A. F. McClellan, J. B. Young, Walter Meyer and R. J. Evans.

Rudolph Coles favored the guests with the songs "Mother o' Mine" and "Praying for You" during the social hour following the games.

Mesdames P. J. Domingues and J. M. Roberts served punch during the evening.

ADVANTAGES OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

Address at Laying of Corner Stone, Schreiner Institute, Kerrville, Texas, August 15th, 1923, by Rev. Arthur G. Jones, D. D.

We love to think it is the inalienable birthright of every American boy and girl to have the opportunity for an education by which they shall be prepared to meet life's grave responsibilities and win life's finest rewards. Yet it is not merely for the personal advantage to the individual that education must be promoted. The future peace and progress and safety of America depends upon the quality of the manhood and womanhood of the American citizenship of tomorrow and that depends upon the training of the American boys and girls of today.

In a democracy like ours, where all problems of the public welfare must ultimately be referred to the intelligence of the people and where the reins of the government and the national destiny are held in the hands of the people, it is imperative that the mind of the people shall be taught and the hands of the people trained for these grave responsibilities. Popular education in our beloved country is indispensable to that wisdom in the conduct of public affairs which will give stability and safety to our free institutions. Not only in our civic life but in the economic life of the Nation, her industrial and agricultural and commercial safety and progress depend upon the education of her people. Ignorance is weakness. Knowledge is power. Ignorance is the path to failure. Knowledge is the path to success. That is true, not only in the small circle of the individual life, but it is equally true in the wider horizon of the Nation's life. The welfare of America demands an educated citizenship. It is for this reason that from the beginning of our national life we have been committed to a policy of popular education promoted by the State and supported at public expense by taxation. There is no public policy about which there is such agreement today in America as that of popular education. Large and still larger drafts are being made upon the public treasury for the promotion and support of schools. And all this is being done not primarily for the benefit of the individual but because an educated citizenship is indispensable to the country's welfare. If this be true, why not leave the whole task of education to the State? If as citizens we are already taxed for the support of State schools, then why should men and women voluntarily take upon themselves the additional burden of founding and supporting schools which are under Christian supervision and control? Let it be said definitely and with emphasis that there is no essential conflict or unfriendly antagonism between Christian education and the system of popular education which is fostered by the State. It is imperative that the State shall provide schools all over the land, in every city, in every town, in every village, in every country community, because for great masses of her citizens this will be their only opportunity for an education. But if the State does this, then why should the church also enter and operate in the field of education? Are there reasons which not only justify the church in promoting schools but which make it imperative for her to do so?

This brings us to the most fundamental question in this whole matter. What is the goal of education? What is the purpose of it? Plainly one thing which education is intended to do is to impart knowledge, to make more skillful workmen in all fields of human activity. But the gaining of knowledge is only one phase of the purpose of education; indeed that is the first and lowest and easiest stage in the educational process. The true and high goal of education is the unfolding of human personality and the development of character which will result in right living. To increase knowledge without character is to create a power without proper control. The more learned and skillful a citizen becomes, the more dangerous he may be to society unless the power of his knowledge is guided and controlled by true moral principles. This is the supreme task of education—not merely the dissemination of knowledge, not merely the making of scholars and more skillful workers—but the making of right thinking and

The attainment of this goal in education is indispensable not only for the personal benefit of the individual, but the safety of this republic, the future peace and progress of our political and industrial and social life as a Nation depend not only upon the intelligence, but still more upon the moral character of our citizenship.

of these learned and public spirited jurists: "Mere intellectual power and scientific achievement without upright character may be more harmful than ignorance. Highly trained intelligence combined with disregard of fundamental virtues is a menace."

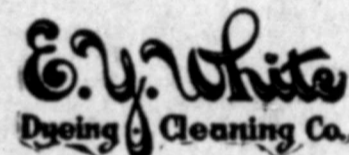

This leads us to the specific place and function of Christian education. For the incorporation of moral and Massachusetts. I am not a lawyer but I think it is true that the decisions of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts have some special significance in the jurisprudence of the country. I ask your special attention to this opinion but also their character and prepare them to live right toward God and man. It would be a civic and social calamity if the church should abandon the field of education and give up her schools.

In this system of educational ideals and policies, the junior college holds an important place, and renders a distinctive service.

1. It is of special value because of its accessibility. The boys completing their high school course do not need to go far from home and are not thrown immediately upon their own responsibility, as would be the case in a great college community. This is a great boon to parents who desire that their sons shall continue their education without interruption, and yet because of the immaturity of the boys would be reluctant to send them far away or have them assume at once the responsibility of self-direction.

2. The junior college is also of special value because it affords to many who, for one reason or another, could not go to a large institution, an opportunity to carry on their educational work a stage further. It is our opinion that there are many who would not be able to project a complete college course, who will find in the junior institution an opportunity to broaden their outlook and find very practical additional preparation for life's work.

3. A feature of very great value in the junior college is the opportunity which it affords of very close personal contact between the individual student and his teachers. The opportunity for such intimate personal influence is not so great in the larger school. Yet this we conceive to be a very important phase of the educational process. In the formative years of youth there is inspiration and creative power in a close personal touch with men of vision, men of character, men of consecration, men of power.

Of all these finer educational ideals which mean so much to our country and to the safety of society, Schreiner Institute, the school whose founding we are here to celebrate, will be a worthy exponent. Called into being by the splendid benefaction of Capt. Charles Schreiner, in fulfillment of a long cherished purpose, by the setting apart of a beautiful tract of land of some one hundred and forty acres and the creation of a trust fund of $250,000 for the founding and equipment of the institution. In the character and wisdom of the men appointed to supervise the school, and in the character of the leaders and teachers selected there is abundant evidence of the direction of a kind Providence.

Schreiner Institute is ready to go. It will begin its work next month and already 71 boys have been enrolled for the opening day. Capt. Charles Schreiner is a nobleman of very modest spirit. Words of praise might cause him some embarrassment. If it be so, he must endure the embarrassment, for this occasion could not be complete and the feeling in our hearts could not be satisfied if we failed to give some expression to the high esteem and honor in which we hold this good man. He is a product of the Hill Country and of the Southwest, and the progress of the Hill Country and of the Southwest is in no small measure the product of his vision and labor. He came into this country in the pioneer days. He had no capital except his own sterling integrity and tireless industry. He began with no assets except the purpose to play the game of life fairly and to work hard. The passing years have brought to him great personal success, and no man could tell the degree in which he has used the power of his success to carry forward and develop and serve this whole region.

Of the many good things he has done along the track of the years we make no mention. Many of them are unknown to the public. But no benefaction which he has made is more beautiful or benign or far-reaching in its possibilities for good to this section, in which he has lived his life, than the founding of this school.

In the course of nature the day will come when he will be called to his fathers and the places which have known him here will know him no more. With the vision and faith and devotion which have marked his course, he has founded this school to be a perennial fountain of blessing in the Hill Country which has been his home and which he has loved so long. It is more than a monument. By it he being dead will still speak. I seem to see yonder in the coming years a marching column—steadily growing larger and larger—a great company of the Hill Country boys who will in this institution be trained in the finer things of life, and prepared to serve nobly and well their country and their God. Long years after he himself has gone, and after his children have followed him, the boys of the Hill Country and of the Southwest will honor the name and memory of Charles Schreiner.

May the Lord bless this aged man as he now rests in the quiet of the evening of his long and useful life. May a simple and confident faith in the Saviour cheer and strengthen his heart as he nears the border land of the eternal world. May he be able, with a steadfast and radiant hope, to look forward across the divide to that heavenly country, where men do not grow old, but with powers unabated and unwearied continue to labor and achieve finer and still finer things forever.

It is an ancient and venerable custom that buildings of beauty and distinction and destined to high public service shall have placed in their walls a special stone, a corner stone, a symbolic stone, a receptacle of precious data which is passed on to posterity.

It is fitting that we should observe this custom today. It will be of interest to all of us to know the contents which we now place in this corner stone. (The list of contents was read.) We lay this stone today as a symbol of love and faith and devotion. It has a monumental symbolism as an abiding memorial of the good man who has made this day possible. It has a sacramental symbolism in that it is a token of our consecration of this institution to Almighty God. It is also a symbol of our faith in the high and distinguished service which this Institute will render in all the coming years to the boys of Texas. It is with these feelings in our hearts, and with this high purpose, that we now lay this corner stone—in the name of the Father and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

ORGANIZATION OF COUNTY EGG CIRCLES IS COMPLETED

Organization of the Kerr County Egg Circles was completed at a meeting of its members and others interested in the movement last Friday afternoon in the County Agent's office. The constitution and by-laws were submitted by the committee appointed to draw up same and were adopted. The officers had been elected at a previous meeting.

Marketing of the eggs under the circle brand was begun the first of this week and good results have already been reported. Eggs are to be brought to a central distributing point Tuesdays and Fridays for distribution to the sources of demand.

Membership in the organization is open to any who are raising eggs for market and the only requirements are that infertile eggs be furnished bearing the stamp of the circle and marketed twice weekly. The only cost of joining the circles is the price of a stamp and ink pad, which is 55 cents.

C. E. and W. A. Salter and Chas. Wesch of The Sun force attended the Kerrville-Junction Picnic Tuesday.

THE HIGHWAY INDUSTRY

Brady Sentinel: For the past few years the promotion of State and National highways has flourished throughout the country, but it now seems that the citizens of the different towns, who have kicked in on numerous occasions in the way of memberships and fat fees for marking roads, are getting a little backward about coming forward. In the last issue of the Kerrville Mountain Sun we note the following paragraph in a story of a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in that city:

"A motion was made and seconded that the Old Spanish Trail headquarters be notified that Kerrville, at this time, was not in a position to contribute further funds for that organization."

We do not know the inside of the story, but it would appear that there is "a bug under the chip" somewhere. It will be remembered that there was set on foot out of San Antonio a movement during the past spring to change the name of Puget Sound to Gulf Highway No. 9, which runs from San Antonio through Fredericksburg, Mason, Brady, San Angelo, etc., to the Glacier in the Gulf. In fact, Brady citizens were induced to put up $40 for a page ad in a directory advertising this route, but the people here and other nearby towns have been slow to take up the new name, believing that the promoters after having picked the towns for about all they could get under the old name, have sprung a new one to see if picking would not be better.

Brady and McCulloch County people have about come to believe that if good roads are built the tourist will travel them and that a fancy name only will go very far in the bringing of tourist travel, and from this line on will spend their money in actual construction of roads and lay off the "paper highways."

Preparations are now under way to begin construction on the gap between the McCulloch County good road and the recently constructed Mason County highway, and also the north end of the Puget Sound to the Gulf in this county, and with good roads all the way northwest and south to San Antonio and to the Gulf we believe that we will get the travel.

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS "IN"

Farm and Ranch: It is officially predicted that before sufficient funds are accumulated to pay running expenses the State of Texas will owe $5,000,000. This is not a great sum, considering the fact that Texas has an assessed valuation in excess of three billion dollars and numerous other sources of revenue. But with all this wealth, why not get back to a cash basis and stay there? The framers of the constitution never intended that the State Government should be operated otherwise. They left the way open for taxpayers in cities and counties to issue bonds and borrow money for public improvements, and this they have done almost to the limit, but it was believed that the State should finance itself from year to year as revenues were available. To protect the taxpayers, a constitutional tax rate limit was placed in that document, but it seems that in these times, it provides but little of the protection intended.

While the tax rate is limited, our modern Legislators have found ways of cutting around and under this barrier erected to restrain extravagance in public expenditures. They are barred from increasing the direct tax, but find no obstacles in the way of taxing the people indirectly, and so, during the last several special sessions, the State was finecombed to find something new to squeeze money out of in order to pay the bills contracted for in so reckless a manner. Of course every person pays this tax in higher prices on everything he buys. He not only pays the extra tax, but he pays, in many instances, 100 per cent more, because indirect taxation always costs the consumer twice as much as the amount of revenue raised. Even then, members of the Legislature failed to agree on tax measures which would bring into the treasury sufficient money to pay the bills contracted, and as a result, Texas is issuing warrants to employees and to those who have dealings with the State and the warrants are being discounted at the banks.

It is a sad state of affairs when members of the Legislature who secured votes because they advocated economy and business in government, will go to Austin and spend more money than the State possesses or hopes to possess after taxing everything in sight just as high as they dared. Members who got into office on an economy platform and then participated in those money spending orgies, deceive their constituents. They secured their offices on false pretenses and should be retired by the vote of their own constituency.

VALUE OF FARM TERRACING DEMONSTRATED IN NOLAN

Sweetwater Reporter: M. A. Daugherty has 300 acres in cultivation, the main crop being cotton. He has one of the best stands of cotton in the county this season, all the stalks being heavily fruited. The cotton field is on sharply sloping sandy land and Mr. Daugherty practices terracing to retain the moisture and prevent the washing of the soil.

The success of terracing is aptly demonstrated by comparing his cotton field with the cotton field directly across the road. The soil in the two fields is practically the same. But where Mr. Daugherty's cotton field kept all the moisture possible and where the soil was prevented from washing away by rains with terracing, all the rain ran off the adjacent field and carried the soil with it, with the result that there is a sharp contrast between the tall, strong stalks in the Daugherty field and the small, wilted stalks in the adjoining field.

Another important crop on the Daugherty farm is milo maize. He has a large field of excellent maize, planted in the new approved method, in rows six feet apart, and with the blank row perfectly clean. The opinion is that one of these rows will actually weigh out more maize than two of the regular rows where it is planted three feet apart.

IRRESPONSIBLE AUTO DRIVERS

Farm and Ranch: Fourteen thousand persons in the United States were sent to an untimely grave by automobiles in 1922. That is the record of the modern juggernaut for one year. Probably this number will be duplicated in 1923, and each year thereafter until laws are passed and enforced which will keep incompetent drivers off the road and put careless and reckless drivers in jail. Presumably some of the deaths by automobile in 1922 were caused by the carelessness of pedestrians. Others were the result of defective machinery and still others might be classed as unavoidable accidents. By far the most of these fatal accidents were caused by criminal carelessness and utter disregard for the law and the rights of others.

Reckless driving is not confined to city streets. It is common on all of our public highways and as cars multiply, accidents will become more numerous unless some effective remedy is found. Several months ago Farm and Ranch suggested something in the way of a remedy which might reduce the number of accidents. It is so simple that it is repeated.

Let the State charge a nominal sum for a driver's license after the applicant had satisfied the examining board that he or she possessed proper qualifications to drive a car on a public highway. Assess a heavy fine or both a fine and a jail sentence as a penalty for driving a car on a public highway without a license. In case of accident, cancel the license of any driver found guilty of violating traffic laws or rules of the road, or of careless and reckless driving, the license to be canceled for varying periods from three months to one or two years. Of course many would probably drive without a license, but if caught in an accident, they would be entirely without defense. Such a law would cure many a driver of his desire to make a race track out of every street and public highway and cause him to acknowledge the rights of others to protection of their persons and property.

Farm and Ranch: Indifferent poultry handled in an indifferent way inevitably produces indifferent results. Good poultry—the only kind that pays—cackles loudly for the attention it merits. It demands its place in the general farming scheme along with livestock and crops. As a sideline matter poultry can never be very impressive on the farms of the South-

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

SCHOOL REOPENS SEPT. 4TH
Conformable to the diocesan synod, nearly all Catholic parochial schools begin their scholastic year on the day after Labor Day. Hence, on Tuesday, September 4th, Notre Dame Institute will begin her twelfth year, and Our Lady of Guadalupe School will begin her ninth. Mother Anacletus returned to Kerrville last Saturday to again assume charge of both faculties. She was accompanied by Sr. Constance, who had been granted a reunion festival in which she met her many sisters and cousins in the Incarnate Word Order.
Last Sunday our primary teacher returned, viz., Sr. Rose Terese. Sister Gerard Majella of St. Patrick's Academy is taking the place of Sr. Bridget Mary, who was transferred to Windhorst. Sr. Stanislaus Kostka was sent to Fort Worth. Our music teacher, Sr. Eugene, will be back in a few days, as soon as she can leave Santa Rosa Infirmary.
On account of the discontinuance of Holy Angels' Academy in Boerne, the young lady boarders of that institution had to register elsewhere. Miss Alberta Woodman, a San Antonio girl, enrolled as a boarder at Notre Dame. Miss Decker of Menard will join her in a few days.
Miss Louise Strackbein motored to Kerrville last Sunday to arrange for two of her nieces residing in Rocksprings. Their brother will also come if he can find a suitable boarding place.
The Boudreaux sisters went on a visit to their father in Beaumont, but will return before Labor Day.
Miss Elenora Staudt, one of our recent graduates, was stricken with appendicitis last week in San Antonio and had to be operated on immediately, but is now entirely out of danger.

Funeral of Victor Toffelli
A Venetian by the name of Victor Toffelli came here over eighteen months ago in a dying condition. Through the skill of Dr. Thompson, Dr. Carey and Jas. Materne his life was prolonged until last Saturday when death ended his sufferings. Deceased was about 38 years of age, and left behind him in Houston a wife, but no children. Interment took place in Glen Rest Cemetery.
The infant daughter of Ed. Kaiser received the sacrament of baptism last Sunday. Miss Mae Carpenter stood sponsor at the font, where the youngster was christened Colette Jacqueline. Edna and Willie Mae Kaiser are visiting their sister in Yoakum.
Rev. V. Raska, pastor of El Campo, came here last Saturday for the exclusive purpose of inspecting Notre Dame. He was on his return from the international convention of the Knights of Columbus in Montreal, and was accompanied by his cousin, Victor Mueke, of San Antonio.
Joe Martin resigned his position as resident welfare-worker of the Knights of Columbus at Legion. He was substituted by Leo Henry King of Houston.
To convenience the candidates for the initiation class on September 9th, this day will be set aside for the Comfort engagement, thus permitting an early Mass in Kerrville.

Social Events
St. Mary's Auxiliary will not hold their customary dance this Friday, so as to co-operate with Mr. McClellan, who has engaged the Kelly Field musicians. A large percentage of our congregation took part in the Highway Celebration also.
Joe Martin resigned his position as resident welfare-worker of the Knights of Columbus at Legion. He was substituted by Leo Henry King of Houston.

Local Camp W. O. W. in Charge of Funeral of Jim C. Rees Friday

The funeral of James C. Rees, who dropped dead suddenly of apoplexy while at work at the Veterans' Hospital Wednesday of last week, was held last Friday afternoon from the family residence on the west side of the city.
The burial services were conducted under the auspices of the local Cypress Camp No. 58, Woodmen of the World, of which the deceased was a member. Rev. F. A. White, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was made in Glen Rest Cemetery.
Deceased was the son of Adolphus and Lucy Rees and was born March 18, 1872. He was married to Miss Ida Stieler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stieler of Comfort, Feb. 12, 1902. Six children blessed this union, five of whom are now living. They are Guy, Casper, Herman, Eugene and Emil.
In addition to his wife and children, he is survived by his aged mother, three sisters and four brothers.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.
In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.
Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs. (Advertisement, 28-40c).

Hens at this time of year are going through the molt. It is the trying time with them, as old feathers are being shed and new ones grown.
There is no time of the year when a good mash is so essential as during the molting period. Feathers themselves are largely protein and the hens MUST HAVE a good protein feed to help them through with it in the quickest possible time. Grains are deficient in protein and a mash should be used if your ration is to be balanced.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTES
By Member

Dr. Macdougall preached a most timely and forceful sermon last Sunday, taking for his text Matt. 6:33: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."
Referring to the context; how even in these days people were thinking too much about their clothes and what they should eat and drink, even as they do today; how nowadays especially among the young people they seem to put the pursuit of pleasure above everything else, wearing themselves out attending endless dances and parties, too worn out to give time to their religious duties and the worship of God, taking an absolutely wrong view of life which, if not checked, will most assuredly lead to the downfall of our Nation.
The pursuit of pleasure is most certainly the poorest way to attain real happiness. Instead it generally results in people becoming old, worn out men and women at 50 years, when they should be in the prime of life.
Rev. Macdougall emphasized the fact that, as well as being fervent in spirit, to be diligent in business, but to be sure and put things in their proper place. I trust his words sank deeply into the hearts and consciences of us all and that they will bring forth good fruit in more earnest striving after the better things of life.

Beginning next Sunday the local church will hold their regular services at the Dixie Theater. The preaching services have been held at the Encampment during the summer program at that place, but now that the regular program is completed, the members of the Presbyterian Church are urged to attend their own services at the Dixie. This entertaining the summer visitors at the Encampment is a good deal like having visitors in the home—the visit is enjoyable and we all like to have company, but it sure feels good when they leave and we can have the home to ourselves again.

Calendar for the week:
Wednesday, 7:45 p. m.—Prayer meeting.
Friday evening the choir will not meet on account of the meeting of the Thirty-sixth Annual Session of the Medina River Baptist Association, which convenes at Ingram with the Baptist Church there on the evening of Thursday, August 30th, extending through Sunday. It is hoped that Kerrville will be largely represented at this association.
Sunday, 9:45 a. m.—Sunday School. There will be no preaching service in the morning on account of the association at Ingram.
6:45 p. m.—Meeting of Baptist Young People's Unions.
7:45 p. m.—Song service. This is an important part of the worship.
8 p. m.—Sermon. Subject, "Ten Characteristics of the Strangest Animal Created."
Last Sunday was a great day with us. Both morning and evening services were splendidly attended and the interest was great. There were nine additions to the church, six by letter and three by baptism.

We extend our usual welcome to both old and new comers to be with us and make themselves known and at home.
The pastor and his family wish to extend their heartfelt thanks for the warm welcome and many acts of kindness which have been extended to them since arriving at Kerrville.

Weak Back

Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of R. F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed. I read of CARDUI the Woman's Tonic and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen me; build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."
If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui may be just what you need. Take Cardui. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you.

ECLIPSE PICTURES TO BE TAKEN 20,000 FEET IN AIR

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—In order that photographs of the solar eclipse next month may be assured to science, regardless of atmospheric conditions prevailing at the time, the War Department has decided to use its air service and personnel in a way that is regarded as certain of success in picturing the phenomenon and obtaining valuable data for use by scientific organizations.

The project, as suggested by Maj. Gen. Patrick, chief of the army air service, provides for the sending of Lieut. John A. MacReady, holder of the world's altitude record, and Lieut. A. W. Stevens, an expert aerial photographer, to a height of 20,000 feet to make the photographs during the eclipse.

The flight will take place at Rockwall Field, San Diego, Cal. September 10, in the area of the total eclipse.

From this altitude on a clear day, it will be possible to obtain photographs of the earth, surface features and shadows for a considerable part of the interval between the beginning of the eclipse and the totality.

The moon's shadow will pass over the surface of the earth at a speed of more than 1,000 miles an hour. From an elevation of 20,000 feet, Lieut. Stevens should see the shadow for more than a minute and be able to secure photographs of it in its stages of approach. Should there be clouds between the airplane and the ground, it is expected that photographs of the moon's shadow thrown on the intervening clouds will be obtained.

During the translation, after the shadow has passed, a filter will be used and photographs made of the sun itself in an effort to get effects of the photospheric, protuberances, cromopere and corona.

Mrs. M. L. Allen returned to her home at Fort Arthur last Saturday after a short visit with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Baker.

The Edward Dietert family and their guests, Mrs. E. J. Koenig and daughter, were visitors at Fredericksburg during the fair.

Miss Helen Ritchie, who has been attending the Normal at San Marcos, returned to her home in this city Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Jack C. Allen left last Friday for Sanatorium, where she will enter the institution there. Mr. Allen accompanied her as far as San Antonio.

Mesdames L. B. Fatheree and T. W. Grissom returned Monday to their homes in Wilson County after spending ten days here with the L. B. White family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McCleery of Beeville arrived in Kerrville last week and like this city so well they are planning on making it their permanent home.

After attending the summer session of the Normal at San Marcos, Misses Margaret and Lillian Sutton returned to their home in Kerrville Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hunt of Austin, accompanied by Mrs. Jesse Smith and daughter, Miss Pearl, of Stockdale, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. White Monday.

The old wooden fence that surrounded the public school grounds has been torn down and the looks of the grounds and buildings has been greatly improved by its removal.

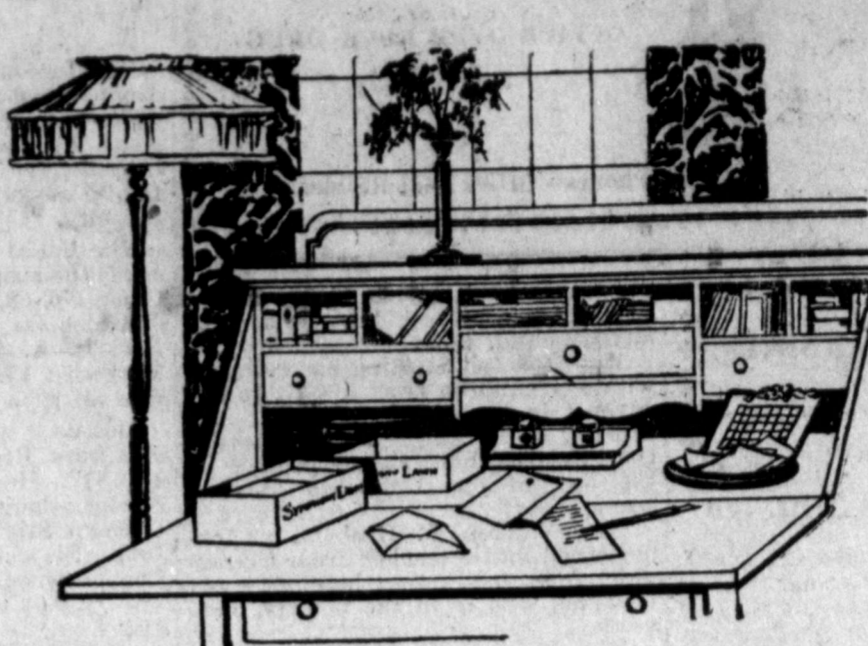

The Kerrville Athletics will close their 1923 season with two games with the Kelly Field Flyers next Sunday and Monday. The final games will be played at the ball park. The Kelly Field Band will furnish music both days.

Registered at Mountain View Inn during the past week were: Mrs. Paul Hendrickson, Kerrville; Mrs. P. S. Peavy, Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kelly, Corpus Christi; J. H. Magee and family, Lockhart, and Miss Josie Bohart, Weimar.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wachter and daughters, Miss Inez and Lola, were guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hatch.

Mrs. T. P. Maloney, Misses Inez Leinweber and Edna Graff visited the Leinweber brothers at the Dietert Ranch Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Colbath and grand daughter, Miss Louise, of Kerrville, visited the latter's father, R. H. Colbath, last Sunday.

J. H. Vanham visited his mother, Mrs. Reeves, at Gonzales from Tuesday until Thursday, and she returned with him for a several days' visit.

Messrs. Brown, Freeman, Ernest Leinweber, Gatlin Merritt and Bryce and Volney Snodgrass attended the picnic and dance at Vanderpool Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Secrest entertained last Friday night with a dance for both old and young. About seventy-five guests enjoyed their hospitality, and all report a fine time.

Sunday of last week, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Hatch had as their guests Misses Zola and Frances Secrest, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Merritt and Mrs. Geo. Anderson and son, Ted.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Leinweber had as their guests last Thursday afternoon Mesdames Chas. and E. H. Leinweber, T. P. Maloney, and Misses Inez Leinweber and Edna Graff.

D. H. Hughes was called back to Kerrville to court Wednesday of last week and Mrs. Hughes and daughters, Misses Fortia and Dorothy, visited Mrs. J. H. Vanham. They all returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Maloney of El Paso arrived last Saturday to visit their uncle, E. H. Leinweber, and family. The former left Monday for home, but Mrs. Maloney remained for a visit of several weeks.

GRAPE CREEK RIPPLES

Farmers are busy gathering their crops and getting ready to reap the mohair.

Mack Henderson and Mr. Conn left here last week to go to McAllen, where they expect to make their home.

John Smith, who lives in the eastern portion of the Panhandle near Oklahoma, is sojourning here in his quondam haunts; Mr. Park is with him.

W. M. Yett is moving from Bear Creek to his lease where Mr. Buxton has lived this year. V. O. Cople is taking over Mr. Yett's place. Grape Creek is fortunate in not losing either of them.

Mr. Editor, I failed to get my report in last week because the mail carrier disregarded the signal to collect the mail from my box. We are going to have better service or know the reason why.

On the last two Sundays Elder Hardin has preached at Grape Creek; dinner on the ground and willing appetites to honor it on both days, also Bible study by the classes. The cool arbor is inviting, the people are friendly and sociable, and it is hoped that the interest will continue to grow and the study become more intensive.

Those of us who know the monotonous plains do not marvel that they love to return to and loiter amidst these sylvan variegated hills and the pellucid Guadalupe and its tributaries, than which the vales of Tempe and of Kashmir are not more inviting to him who has an eye for beauty and the faculty of appreciating their various attractions. Tom Moore has immortalized Kashmir and Grinstead has—but you all know Grinstead. I forbear to do my very best in expatiating on this picturesque landscape lest I should depreciate him by contrast, and it is not becoming that a callow chit like me should write aught that might possibly hurt the old man's feelings—a base thing for us young parnasians to do wantonly. But if you want unimpeachable testimony to buttress what I say, pray ask the following competent witnesses, who have just arrived at "Sojourn," namely: Mrs. A. C. Schreiner and her sister, Mrs. A. W. Irving, and her nephew, Alvis Irving, of Fort Smith, Ark.; Mrs. Gene Prescott, Mrs. Amy Wallace and Mrs. G. M. Doyle. They will presently be joined by Mr. Schreiner and several friends.

Comfort Chat

News, Aug. 23rd: Chas. Heinen of Kerrville visited relatives here last Wednesday.

CHAS. SCHREINER BAND INSTALLS CHIMES CLOCK ON THEIR BUILDING

handsome clock combined with a set of the softest and most beautiful chimes ever heard in any city of the old or new world.

THE CHIMES "Lord, through this hour Be Thou our guide So by Thy power No foot shall slide.

"Everyone who has lived within sound of Westminster is familiar with the verse given above. The origin of the carillon has never been positively established. Some writers accredited it to a Mr. Crouch, who was a pupil of Dr. Randall, Regius professor of music. This, however, is disputed by other writers, who accredited it to Dr. Randall's conception of the idea taken from a movement in the fifth part of the opening of Haendel's Symphony, 'I know my Redeemer liveth.' The Chimes were first fitted to the clock of the University Church, St. Mary's the Great, in Cambridge, but were not copied until they were reproduced on a very large scale in the Victoria clock tower of the House of Parliament.

"At the quarter, half and three-quarter hour, these chimes will ring out in various musical combinations. At a quarter past the hour, four strokes—Westminster; at half past the hour, eight strokes—Reveille; at the three quarters past the hour,

KELLY FIELD BAND IS FINE MUSICAL ORGANIZATION

Citizens of Kerrville and the Hill Country are enjoying a treat this week in the visit of the Kelly Field Band, who are spending a ten-day vacation in Kerrville as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

The band played for the highway celebration Tuesday, besides rendering a concert each evening at Lakeside Park, and members of the organization forming a dance orchestra for dances at that place following the concerts.

Last Sunday the organization played a concert in the forenoon at the Presbyterian Encampment and also rendered a musical program at the Legion Hospital that evening. They are scheduled to remain over this coming Sunday, and anyone who has not heard them should do so, for it sure is a treat.

The band plays a varied selection of music, ranging from the most classical to the latest popular airs. Mr. Witt and his men are all perfect gentlemen and it has been a pleasure to the citizens to Kerrville to mingle with them.

The personnel of the band is as follows: Band Leader, Mr. Witt; Assistant Band Leader, Sgt. L. A. Larsen; 1st Sgt. D. J. Homan; Sgt. C. L. Colbert; Cpls. J. R. Deagan, E. M. Barton, J. D. Day, J. C. Douglas; Pvt. L. L. Hill, S. Bunick, A. Bernick, J. Curtis, H. P. Verder, W. Hartmann, W. E. Sumerall, E. J. Ginder, C. L. Jenkins, W. H. East, N. F. Hebel, W. W. Johnson, G. M. Crist, E. B. Adair, M. R. Reid, E. E. Marshall, C. H. Brazleton, J. Henri, G. Brown and S. L. Reynolds.

TOWNES PRAISES RECORD OF AMERICAN LEGION

Texas Proud of Kerrville Hospital and Rejoices Over Growth in Legion Membership.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 28.—Reviewing the work of the past year, Maj. Townes, in his annual report as State Commander of the American Legion, declared that "remarkable progress" had been made in improving the financial affairs of the Texas department. The report declared that, while the burdens imposed during the unfortunate occurrences in the Texas department in 1921 had been considerably improved during the administration of Past State Commander Wayne Davis, there was less than $100 in the special fund of the Treasury when the present administration took charge; the Legion owed a note of $8,000 and there was a debt on the bonds issued by a previous administration. The close of the present year, the report stated, finds the note for $8,000 reduced to $2,000 all assessments to the National organization paid, and a balance in the treasury of $8,892.34. Current expenses of the State department were cut from approximately $19,000 last year to $10,326.65 this year. The report embodied praise for the work of G. L. Folbre, State Adjutant.

"I point with special pride," Maj. Townes declared, "to the completion of the American Legion Hospital near Kerrville for the treatment of tubercular former service men. Arrangements were completed during the year with Gen. Hines of the Veterans' Bureau for the Federal Government to take over this hospital and place our tubercular patients therein. I was told by representatives of the bureau that our hospital is one of the finest, most modern, most complete and best located hospitals for tuberculosis, not only in the United States, but in the world.

Beneficial legislation obtained in Texas this year, the report stated, included an appropriation to assist the disabled former service men in prosecuting their claims, a law providing for the education of former service men in State educational institutions without the payment of tuition, and others. All were obtained, the report stated, without expenditure of funds by the Legion.

The report embodied recommendations that the convention go on record favoring closer co-operation between the American Legion and the Boy Scout movement and support by local posts of public health campaigns. The suggestion was made that local posts sponsor movements in their communities in behalf of sanitation and encourage the teaching in the schools of the importance of personal hygiene and the importance of proper physical development.

The present paid-up membership in the Legion is 13,358 members, the report stated, with the prospect of reaching 20,000 by the end of the year.

ATHLETICS NOSE OUT GIANTS IN DECIDING GAME FRIDAY, 2 TO 1

Losers Two Out of Three to Aztecs in San Antonio—Season to End With Kelly Field Games.

Following the law of averages, the Athletics went over to the Gillespie County Fair at Fredericksburg last Friday afternoon and took the Giants into camp for the deciding game of the five-game series, 2 to 1.

It was an unusual game in many ways, mostly in the small number of runs and hits, as these teams usually clout the ball when they meet each other. Both hurlers worked nicely, but Barry had the edge on Hollmig and nosed him out in the best game of the season between these clubs.

A double, a triple and a single scored the tallies for the locals, while the Giants put over their counter on two hits, a fielder's choice and a passed ball.

The score by innings: R. H. E.
Athletics 200 000 000-2 7 3
Giants 000 000 040-1 4 3

Batteries: Barry and Jack Forgason; Hollmig and U. Henke.

The series with the Aztecs last Saturday and Sunday resulted almost disastrously for the domestics. With a crippled team in the field Saturday afternoon and the umpire decidedly in sympathy with the Spik team, it was no surprise that the score was 6 to 1 against the Hill Country gang.

Probably the greatest feature of the entire series was the said umpire. He seemed to know very well what to do to hold his job, and that was the one thing he didn't do nothing else but.

Holchak's heavy hitting for the home bunch was next to the umpiring, the feature of the Athletics' playing. Herbert hit nine out of fourteen for an average of .643 for the series. Jim Forgason gave 'em a thrill with a pretty running backhand catch in Saturday's game.

Holchak and Jack Forgason connected for a home run apiece in Sunday's games. Baker and Cox each poled out a triple during the series. Bunger pitched steady ball Sunday morning, allowing but four hits. His support wobbled in the afternoon game and Barry was sent in when he gave up four hits and one run.

Score of Saturday's game: R. H. E.
Athletics 000 001 000-1 9 4
Aztecs 010 030 02*-6 7 2

Batteries—Brown and Jack Forgason; Tunchez and Conoly.

Sunday morning game: R. H. E.
Athletics 210 201 211-10 17 3
Aztecs 010 001 000-2 4 7

Batteries—Bunger and Jack Forgason; Perez, Davis and Davis, Conoly.

Sunday afternoon game: R. H. E.
Athletics 220 000 000-4 9 8
Aztecs 131 200 02*-10 15 1

Batteries—Bunger, Barry and Jack Forgason, Cox; Gudat and Conoly.

WHAT ABOUT "UNSEEN" PLUMBING?

It's unseen, but it's there—between walls, under floors, buried in the ground. One-third of the cost of any good plumbing job is for that unseen work.

We believe that no part of a plumbing job is more important than the "unseen" plumbing. We know that unless the "unseen" work is done right the first time, using the proper material and workmanship, there is sure to be costly trouble later.

Our "unseen" plumbing stands the test of time and constant use. Our customers will tell you so. It will be to your advantage to consult us about any new installation or remodeling job.

tom, far below the high water mark and through the winding valleys between apparently unsurmountable hills. In other words, there was no other place to build a road.

State and Government engineers, assisted by County Engineer Simpson, made a survey, located the road, made specifications, secured bids, and the contracts were awarded.

For various reasons the road was divided into sections A, B, C and D, and let under separate contracts. Before work could be started other difficulties arose.

It is seemingly easy for an engineer to say the road must go here and yonder. He gives very little consideration as to the difficulties which may have to be contended with in securing title to the land required for the purpose. That is beyond his department. His is a work of designation; others must attend to the requirements.

At the beginning the County Commissioners selected three representative men familiar with the situation to serve as Road Commissioners, oversee the work and attend to the innumerable small details necessary to clear the way for the contractors when actual work was started.

Had Many Problems
Upon these Commissioners, H. Renschel, Tom Duderstadt and Gus Schreiner, developed the burden of securing the right-of-way along the proposed line of the road. Disputes and contentions arose continually. They were called upon to adjust differences; pacify the belligerent; cajole the dissatisfied, and persuade the obstinate, for all these classes and many others had to be dealt with. Circumstances did not permit the treatment of everyone alike. That which would serve for one mile would not apply to the next.

Generally speaking, those whose land was encroached upon or who suffered direct effects from the proposed changes took a personal view of the situation, while the Commissioners must maintain a broader and more general attitude of consideration. Assuredly the Commissioners could not deal with any two by a fixed or established rule, but they could and did deal with all, in impartial justice, relative to the whole undertaking.

It was through the efforts of Judge Lee Wallace that when the bonds were finally disposed of, the details necessary to securing State and Federal aid had been worked out and bids for the work were immediately called for.

The contract for Section A, extending from Mountain Home to the county line, an approximate distance of 14 miles, was awarded to McCall-Moore & Co. The original contract specified crushed rock for surfacing.

Through the County Board a modification was brought about and gravel and sand substituted at a saving of $15,000. The work on this section was completed and accepted before any rain had put the road to a test.

When tested under adverse conditions it proved to be of a quality which contained too large a percentage of clay. Judge Wallace went before the State Commission and secured a guarantee of $5,000, and later $2,500 was added for resurfacing the defective section.

Section B, from Mountain Home to Ingram, cost $15,000 above the estimate because of rock excavation necessary. The county advanced this amount, but Judge Wallace so placed the facts before the Highway Commission that $7,500 additional aid was granted.

Schreiner a Benefactor
The right-of-way changes in this section were numerous and difficult. The work of the road supervisors, Renschel, Duderstadt and Schreiner, cannot be over-appreciated. Engineer Simpson secured several modifications in the regulations of Federal and State authorities. The Federal authorities attempt to adhere to general rules as nearly applicable to the whole country as possible. The State Commission has rules generally applicable to all parts of the State, therefore any modification sought by local authority becomes a three-way proposition. All the points which came up were amicably settled, and the work was never delayed, nor did Kerr County representatives fail in any instance to prove the reasonableness of their claims.

Section C, from Ingram to the Town Creek bridge, was completed and accepted without difficulty worthy of note.

Section D, from Town Creek bridge to Center Point Precinct line, was well under construction when Capt. Charles Schreiner made a gift to the county sufficient, with a like amount from State and Federal sources, to complete this section.

Through a committee, headed by Judge Lee Wallace, this proposition was carried out. Two important modifications were brought about through the efforts of the committee. To complete the road for hard surfacing, the necessity for screening the gravel was dispensed with, saving $2,000.

An overhead crossing over the S. A. & A. P. Railway was specified because of the Federal regulation to that effect. Judge Wallace explained the uselessness of this added expense of $10,000 so clearly that an exception to the rule was granted.

While a majority of voters were originally back of the proposition, the actual execution of the work should be credited to fewer than a dozen men who gave their best influence and effort to the undertaking. Only those closely familiar with the work during its accomplishment can appreciate the untiring efforts of Engineer Simpson.

A resume of this enterprise is not complete without mention of the patriotic generosity of Capt. Charles Schreiner. For several years a fund of $175,000 has been invested by his direction, the income of which is devoted to maintaining this highway. And this is but one of many road-building projects due partly or entirely to Mr. Schreiner's expression of interest in the welfare of the county.

"HELPING TO LOWER THE COST OF LIVING"

With This in Mind We Selected the New Fall and Winter Merchandise for Your Choosing

Price means little or nothing unless accompanied by quality. One does not "lower the cost of living" by buying a "cheap" commodity only to be replaced before full value is received. To successfully "lower the cost of living," as we see it, is to buy STANDARD, DEPENDABLE QUALITY MERCHANDISE AT THE LOWEST PRICE LEVELS.

This store is prepared with ample stocks of Fall and Winter Merchandise of qualities which are thoroughly dependable—and prepared to sell this merchandise at the lowest levels possible. We believe that quality-for-quality and value-for-value this store offers the utmost.
