PUBLIC SCHOOLS REOPENED MONDAY FOR 1923-24 TERM

Total of 526 Pupils Enrolled First Day—Greater Than Any Previous Initial Registration.

Formal opening exercises in the auditorium of Tivy High School inaugurated the 1923-24 term of the Kerrville Public Schools Monday morning. The program was well attended by local citizens.

The outlook for the coming term is unusually good, according to Supt. R. A. Franklin. The schools have strong faculties and the enrollment is much greater than on any previous opening day. With the cooperation between teachers, pupils and parents becoming better and better all the time, Mr. Franklin is confident that the 1923-24 term will go down as one of the most successful in the history of the schools.

The enrollment Monday morning alone was 526 pupils for Tivy High School and the grammar and primary departments. More students are expected to register and it is thought that the number will reach the 550 mark before the end of the first month.

The program was opened with the song "America" and was followed by the invocation, given by Rev. G. M. Macdougall. T. C. Johnson, president of the School Board, delivered an address on "Co-operation."

Rev. W. P. Dickey gave a short talk on "The Advantages of a Public School." This was followed by a solo by Miss Hattie Garrett, with Mrs. J. B. Young as accompanist. Mrs. Amy Wallace spoke on "Why You Should Belong to the Parent-Teachers' Club."

The Hon. J. E. Grinstead, founder, and for many years publisher of The Mountain Sun, addressed the audience on the subject, "Public Schools and Democracy."

Supt. Raymond A. Franklin then made a short talk and Rev. F. A. White pronounced the benediction.

Following this program the pupils passed to their class rooms for enrollment.

The substance of Mr. Grinstead's address follows:

Had I been asked when I was a school boy the question, "What is democracy?" I should quite probably have answered: "All the people that voted for Grover Cleveland for President." But I suppose that in these modern days of progress any high school student, or perhaps any grammar school boy or girl, would answer glibly that a democracy is a form of government in which the people rule, and which is known as an aristocracy. They could also quote glibly Mr. Lincoln's statement that a democracy is a government of the people, by the people, for the people, and yet further, from the words of Thomas Jefferson, known as the apostle of democracy, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights, that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Very well. I am glad that our public schools teach these things, and that they keep them continually before the minds of the boys and girls of America. The United States of America is the greatest example of a democratic government in all the history of the world, and the Public

LEGION AND AUXILIARY HEARD DELEGATES' REPORTS THURSDAY

Representatives of Local Organizations at State Convention Report Good Work Being Done.

In spite of the threatening weather, the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary held interesting meetings at Lake Side Park last Thursday night. Many members of both organizations remained away from the meetings because of threatening rain clouds, but those who attended were well repaid for their trouble.

Since their activities and objects are so correlated, the reports of the delegates to the State Conventions were given jointly to both organizations in open meeting. Mrs. Kuhlmann and Mrs. Doyle, the Auxiliary delegates, and Cecil Robinson, the Legion representative, each made a verbal report, bringing back messages of what has been done in the past year for the betterment of the ex-service men and their families and what is contemplated in the future. The Legion Hospital at this place, as well as the Legion Auxiliary Posts here, came in for a share of comment and praise at the Convention.

One of the most important things accomplished at the convention for the immediate realization was the securing of a flag pole to be erected at the Legion Hospital. The flag pole was secured through the efforts of the local Auxiliary Post and the use of former service men. The flag pole will be erected near future, the State Legion Auxiliary Posts here, came in for a share of comment and praise at the Convention.

The business sessions were the two organizations joining and a social hour.

SCHREINER INSTITUTE TO OPEN FOR FIRST TERM NEXT TUESDAY

Opening Enrollment Far Surpasses All Expectations—Prospects Bright for Good Year.

Schreiner Institute, preparatory school for boys, will throw open its doors for students for the first time next Tuesday, September 18, and prospects are bright that the first year in its history will be one long to be remembered as an outstanding success.

The enrollment for the first year has exceeded by far the number expected by the faculty and board of trustees. Seventy-five was the maximum number of students expected on the first year's registration and to date this number has been exceeded with the prospects that additional applications will put the count far above anticipations.

Work is being rushed on the new frame barracks made necessary by the heavy enrollment. It is thought that it will be ready for use shortly after the Institute opens, if not before that time. If it is not completed by the time school opens, the students will be cared for in the cottages at the Campment.

The following constitutes the faculty for the opening term: J. J. Delaney, president and instructor in mathematics; S. V. Carmack, English and history; C. C. Mason, agriculture and science; Andrew McCurdy, Bible and modern languages; James C. Oehler Jr., Latin and mathematics, and J. C. Patterson, history.

C. C. Mason is the commandant and instructor in military science and tactics with J. C. Patterson as assistant. J. C. Oehler Jr. is director of athletics and coach.

CREDIT MEN'S ASSOCIATION TO MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Important That Members Attend As Collector for Organization Is to Be Selected.

The first meeting for September of the Kerrville Retail Merchants' Association will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at its offices in the Chamber of Commerce building. All members are asked to be present as several important matters will come before the meeting.

The Board of Directors held a short meeting last Friday evening at the office on Water Street and appointed a committee to select a collector at the coming meeting. This committee is composed of Henry Noll, chairman, John Burney, John Heimann Jr. and Harvey Mosty.

Several applications have already been received and it is expected that several more will be turned in before tomorrow's meeting. The committee is to select one person from the number who apply and will recommend that person to the members tomorrow. For that reason it is urgent that all members attend.

The collector for the Association is to be employed on the commission basis. All accounts of members of the local organization that are considered bad or could not be collected by the merchants themselves or their collectors will be turned over to the Association's collector and he will receive a commission on them.

Local members of the Retail Merchants' Association have reported excellent results from the organization, according to its officers. Many merchants have reported that their collections have been much improved and are getting better all the time.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE LATEST FORD MODELS

Higher Radiator Gives Room for Improved Body Lines in All Models, Say Local Dealers.

Introduction of a higher radiator, bringing new and improved body lines to all types of Ford cars, is announced by Lee Mason & Son, local dealers.

While the larger radiator has been made standard on all types and while it has made possible other betterments in body design, there is no radical departure in construction, but rather a general improvement which has resulted in more graceful lines.

The new radiator sets an inch and a half higher than the former and has an apron at the bottom which joins a similar apron effect of the fender on either side, giving a highly finished appearance to the front of the car. The larger radiator also increases cooling efficiency.

Most conspicuous among the new types is the Ford Coupe, which is of entirely new body design and construction resulting in a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and a better luggage carrying capacity. From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator, bringing a pleasant effect to the front. The doors are wide and open forward, making access and exit easy. They are heavily framed for rigidity and strength. The compartment at the rear has been enlarged to afford increased carrying capacity. The gasoline tank is under the seat with divided cushions to afford easy filling of the tank from the right side, making it unnecessary for the driver to leave his seat. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add much to the attractiveness of the car. A new rear fender of more sturdy character also is a feature.

Interior fittings are of more choice material and the arrangement of the deeply cushioned seat has been effected, so that at the rear there is a small recess shelf for carrying parcels. The rear vision mirror is much larger and oblong in shape. Door windows have been equipped with revolving type window regulators and door locks are provided. Side windows are equipped with the lever type window lifters.

Marked, too, is the improvement in the Four Door Sedan. Highly popular

LIGHT MOTOR CARAVAN PAYS VISIT TO KERRVILLE SUNDAY

Motorists Given Royal Reception by Kerrville Citizens—Exclaim Over Beauty of Hill Country.

San Antonio Light, Sept. 10th: With a Lincoln sport touring car, furnished by the Morgan-Woodward Auto Company, authorized Lincoln sales and service dealers, leading the way, The San Antonio Light caravan visited Kerrville and the beautiful Hill Country Sunday, on the seventh day of the season. Approximately 150 persons, in 40 cars, followed the Lincoln on this delightful trip. Had not the weather been threatening and had the tour not been so long, it is safe to say several times this number would have gone along.

The caravan got under way at 10:30 Sunday morning, thirty minutes past the scheduled time of departure. It arrived in Kerrville at 1:30, just exactly three hours later. Kerrville is 70 miles northwest of San Antonio.

At the city limits of Kerrville, the caravan was met by a large reception committee composed of prominent citizens of the Kerr County metropolis. On this committee were A. T. Adkins, mayor of Kerrville; Judge J. S. Wheless, E. H. Prescott, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Dr. S. E. Thompson, John Leavell, County Clerk, and Mrs. Amy Wallace, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

This committee assumed the lead and escorted the caravan to Lake Side Park, where refreshments were served and an address of welcome made by Judge J. S. Wheless, in behalf of the citizens of Kerrville.

On their arrival at Lake Side Park, motorists were served with hot coffee by the women of Kerrville. This courtesy was provided by the Chamber of Commerce. The coffee was made by C. E. and W. A. Salter, proprietors of the Kerr Mountain Sun, Kerr County's live newspaper, who showed that they are just as capable chefs as they are newspaper men. Assisting in serving the coffee were prominent Kerrville women, including Mesdames G. M. Doyle, S. E. Thompson, J. E. McCreary, Pearl Granes, Aug. Henke, R. Holdsworth and E. H. Prescott.

Delicious Pie Alamo, made by the Alamo Foods Company of San Antonio, famous throughout the South-west for its dairy products, was served next with the compliments of the Morgan-Woodward Auto Company. This concern also furnished soda water. There was plenty of both and every motorist had all the refreshments he desired.

Introduced by E. H. Prescott, president of the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce, Judge J. S. Wheless bade the motorists welcome, in behalf of the citizens of Kerrville. Declaring the people of Kerrville were glad to see the San Antonians, Mr. Wheless said it was only to be regretted that the visitors' stay was limited. He spoke of the many changes which have taken place in Kerrville in the last few years, mentioning such improvements as the American Legion Memorial Hospital, erected by the State government at a cost of nearly $2,000,000; the Schreiner Institute, made possible by the generous gift of Kerrville's and Southwest Texas' leading citizen, Capt. Charles Schreiner; the Presbyterian Encampment; new golf course and the new highway connecting Kerrville with Junction and points west. He asserted that the Chamber of Commerce and the citizens of the town were united in a determination to develop the Kerrville country as it deserves to be. He promised that, if the San Antonians would return in a year, he would show them even greater development than has taken place in the last three years.

Judge Wheless concluded with the statement that "you San Antonians are a part of us and we Kerrville people are a part of San Antonio," and expressed a wish that these cordial relations be continued.

In response, D. J. Woodward of San Antonio, in his characteristic eloquence, thanked the Kerrville citizens for their hospitality.

"Kerrville is known throughout the length and breadth of the land," said Mr. Woodward. "No matter where you go, you always hear good things since its introduction a year ago, because of its low, graceful lines, the car now presents even much better lines and a sturdier appearance.

This has been brought about by the installation of an entirely new cowl with graceful sweep from the dash, blending into the larger hood and radiator. The change also affords an increase in leg room for occupants of the front seat.

In the touring car and runabout the cowl has been enlarged and flows in a graceful curve to the higher hood.

The result brings a most pleasing effect to the exterior appearance of both types. This improvement in the touring car, which comes with the one man top and slanting windshield, is greatly enhanced by the larger radiator, the car appearing lower and more attractive than ever. The effect on the roadster is likewise most appealing, giving it a more rugged and sturdy appearance.

The new radiator also is extended to the Ford truck chassis, affording improved appearance and better cooling to delivery services.

MEETING OF CIVIC LEAGUE HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Club Rained Out of Park—Meets at St. Charles Hotel—Meeting Hour Is Changed.

The September meeting of the Kerr County Civic League was held last Friday afternoon at the St. Charles Hotel with a good attendance of members. No business of importance was transacted.

The time of meetings was changed from 4 o'clock to 3 o'clock and the next meeting will be held October 5 at the St. Charles Hotel. It was also decided at last Friday's meeting that nothing would be given by the League this month for the purpose of raising funds, but this matter will be taken up at the October session.

The past meeting was to have been held in the City Park, but due to the rains it was thought best to meet at the St. Charles.

QUOTA FOR JAPANESE RELIEF RAISED BY LOCAL RED CROSS

Entire Amount Raised in Less Than Four Working Days—No Private Subscriptions Solicited.

Kerr County's quota of $300 for Japanese relief was raised by the local chapter of the Red Cross in less than four working days and within five days from the time the call for funds was received.

The executive committee held a called meeting last Thursday afternoon, at which Mrs. J. S. Wheless, the vice-chairman, presided in the absence of Chairman Jno. Ward. At this meeting plans were formulated for the raising of the fund.

A committee headed by Mrs. G. M. Doyle with Mrs. Sid Rees and Dr. G. M. Macdougall as members, was appointed to look after the collection of donations and all churches, lodges and other organizations were asked to make contributions. No solicitations were made of private individuals although quite a number voluntarily made donations. The committee was assisted in this work by Mrs. Gus F. Schreiner.

Last Saturday evening the sum of $208 was sent to the Red Cross headquarters and Monday afternoon $98 more was sent. A check for $100 was

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF INGRAM OPENED MONDAY MORNING

Term Opened With Enrollment of 80 and Prospects Are Good for Successful Year.

The Ingram Public Schools opened for the school year of 1923-24 Monday morning with an initial enrollment of 80 pupils. Rev. Earls gave the invocation, after which Miss F. Ruth Maxwell, principal of the schools, made a short address, briefly outlining the work of the year and asking the hearty co-operation of both pupils and patrons. R. V. Nichols, intermediate, and Miss Mildred Saucier, primary, make up the faculty.

The opening exercises were attended by the trustees and a number of the patrons of the schools, and the consensus of opinion of all present was that the Ingram Public Schools have bright prospects for a successful year.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT CLEARS DOCKET IN ONE-DAY SESSION

Makes Appropriations for Balance Due on Highway Construction West of Kerrville.

Kerr County Commissioners' Court convened Monday afternoon for the regular September term. The session was marked by the dispatch with which the business on the docket was moved, but one afternoon being required to clear the blotter.

Following are given the matters which came before the Court at Monday's session and the action taken thereon:

Action was deferred on the petition for abandonment of the old Kerrville-Junction road from Ingram to the Kimble County line.

Monthly estimate No. 7 on Section D of the Highway, amounting to $3,833.51, was ordered paid to Gordon Alvis, bringing the total work done on that section to date to $26,701.85.

The Court ordered the payment to Chas. Schreiner Bank the sum of $9,112.01, covering the loan of $9,015.94, with interest at 6 per cent from July 9, 1923, to date, and that said amount be charged against Highway 27 fund.

Final estimate on Section C of the Highway, amounting to $2,483.03, ordered paid to McCall-Moore Engineering Co. by issuing of scrip against Highway 27 fund.

Miscellaneous claims and accounts against the county were ordered paid. The H. Remschel road account for $130.50 was ordered paid by scrip against the Road and Bridge fund.

The Court ordered that $3,800, formerly transferred to Highway 27 fund, be transferred back to the ad valorem fund.

Settlement was made with Dr. J. L. Fowler relative to irrigation ditches and flumes.

The Court ordered clerk to record deeds conveying right of way to Highway 27 and file statement for same. Application of Leroy Fessenden for deed from the County to the old road was passed until action is taken by the Court on petition filed by Miss Sue Robinson.

SUBSCRIPTION NOTICE

There was a time when little or no attention was paid to subscription accounts, but that day is past. Newspapers are now run on a business basis and each department made to share its part of the expense. For that reason the subscription rates of The Sun will be $2 per year after Jan. 1st, 1924. Full announcement will be found on the last page.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS HERE WITH THREE TEAMS IN FIELD

Kerrville All-Stars Reorganized With Redwine as Manager and Casper Real as Captain.

Old King Baseball's glory and attraction has begun to fade in local sport circles and the fans and athletes are turning their interest to the coming football season.

Three teams loom up on the local gridiron horizon and present indications are that all three will be there with the goods. Schreiner Institute's grid camp opened Monday morning, Tivy High School held a meeting of her warriors in the forenoon and Monday night the Kerrville All-Stars were reorganized at a meeting held at Pampell's.

At the latter meeting Rex Redwine was elected to manage the team for the 1923 season, W. C. Fawcett was made assistant manager, Herman Saenger, secretary-treasurer, and Casper Real elected to lead the eleven on the field.

The first workout was held Wednesday afternoon at the ball park and a good squad of candidates reported. Regular scrimmages will be held at the park every Tuesday and Friday afternoons after working time. It is thought that the team will be ready for games within three weeks.

The following men have reported as candidates: Casper Real, quarterback and halfback; Dick Flack, halfback; Street Hamilton, end; Frank Moore, halfback; Leonard Sikes, guard; Marcus Auld, fullback; Arthur Lochte, guard; Kirk Holdsworth, tackle; Bill Saenger, center; Dick Smith, halfback; Everard Baker, tackle; Milton Gold, end; E. M. Pedrick, quarterback; Dr. McClung, halfback; Louie Wilson, end; and Arthur Saenger, end. Others are expected to report later.

Teams desiring games with the All-Stars should get into communication with Manager Rex Redwine, Kerrville.

MOSES OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTLOOK FOR TIVY HIGH

Coach Guy Moses is very optimistic over the football outlook for Tivy High School the coming season. At first it was thought that material at the school would be somewhat scarce, but twenty candidates reported at the meeting held Monday morning.

Four letter men from last year's squad are back and the Tivy mentor will build his 1923 squad around these veterans. They are: Arthur Saenger, Milton Dieter, Arthur Inscore and Robert Wolfmueller.

Coach Moses intimates that he has a wealth of material to build up his

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Newton Entertains

Tuesday of last week Mrs. Ida Newton entertained the entire membership of the Q. V. Bridge Club. The rivalry in card playing grew very intense when the contestants saw the costly silver utensils that were offered for prizes. Winners proved to be Mrs. John Kolodzey and Mrs. W. G. Carpenter.

After the hostess had served delicious refreshments, the ladies discussed business matters pertaining to their organization and decided to meet again Saturday, September 22, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Robinson.

Announcement Party

Mrs. Scott Schreiner was hostess at a charmingly appointed bridge party in her beautiful home last Saturday evening, at which announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Ellen Mason to Glenn Brooks, the wedding to take place early in October.

The rooms were lovely in their decorations carrying out a color motif of white and green. In the dining room a shower of bride's bouquet was suspended from the chandelier. White jackbooms and green ferns completed the embellishments.

The table decorations were in the Dresden effect with dainty cards bearing the announcements attached to small baskets of candy decorated with hand made candy flowers. Queen's crown, pink roses and pink carnations were used in the decorations of the other rooms.

The guest prize was a beautiful hand-painted tray. Prize for high score, a decorated wastebasket, went to Mrs. Al Manny, and the consolation, a pretty novelty bracelet, was cut by Mrs. Carl Allen.

Delicious refreshments were served in two courses to a few young people, the intimate friends of the honoree.

GIFT OF SYMPATHY SURE TO SERVE WORLD PEACE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Ambassador Hanihara presented to Secretary Hughes Monday a message from Count Yamamoto, prime minister of Japan, expressing the deep sense of gratitude of the Japanese sovereign and people, and declaring that "this precious gift of American sympathy" cannot but "serve the peace of the world, in drawing still closer the bond of friendship and trust between the two countries."

"At a time when Japan was making her best endeavors to follow the letter and spirit of the Versailles treaty and the Washington treaties, which, we believe, have laid the foundation of world peace and will greatly promote human welfare," the prime minister said, "the empire was visited by a most appalling disaster, in which all the elements combined."

"In this hour of deep grief and anxiety, felt alike by the Emperor and all his subjects, the President of the United States issued a proclamation urging the American people to come to the aid of the stricken people of Japan and designating the American Red Cross to administer the relief work. Then the commander of the American Asiatic fleet lost no time in dispatching the ships under his command to the scene of the disaster, and offered the services of the entire fleet for the immediate relief of the sufferers. Some of these vessels have already arrived in the harbor of Yokohama. At the same time, the Philippine government sent transports loaded with full cargoes for the relief."

"In the midst of the bewildering devastation, American Ambassador Woods, together with the staff of embassy and Americans resident in Japan, are helping the relief work with a marvelous spirit of self-sacrifice, in spite of the fact that the embassy itself was destroyed by fire."

"The report of these spontaneous and prompt measures taken by the President, the government and people of the United States is creating a

MR. H. WARD HAS FINE PRIZE-WINNING CATTLE

His Red Polls Sweep the Field in Their Class at the Boerne and Hondo Fairs.

Jno. H. Ward returned Wednesday from exhibiting 10 head of his fine Red Poll cattle at the Boerne and Hondo Fairs. He had intended to take in the San Marcos Fair, but the weather the past week was so rainy and bad he decided it best to ship them home and let them rest before exhibiting any further. However, he plans to exhibit them at Seguin, Sept. 25th.

To use John's expression, he "knocked them cold" at Boerne and Hondo, winning two grand championships, two junior championships, ten blue ribbons and one red at the former place, and two grand championships, sixteen blue ribbons, one red and one white at the latter. The most pleasing feature for Mr. Ward in winning at Hondo was the fact that, notwithstanding the keen competition at that place, his stock still swept the field in their class. It is claimed that Medina County has more Red Poll cattle than any other section of the State.

Besides adding to Mr. Ward's fame as a breeder of fine cattle, his prize-winning Red Polls are also placing Kerrville and the Hill Country on the map at the same time.

"Mutt and Jeff of Motor Row"

The above heading appeared over a photo of Bobbie Anderson and his friend, Albert Green, in the San Antonio Light last Sunday, with the following beneath the cut:

"Albert A. (Long) Green and R. G. (Bobbie) Anderson, shown above, have been dubbed by their friends, 'Mutt and Jeff of Motor Row.' Both are employees of the Yantis Motor Company. Green, who is 25, stands six feet one and one-half inches in his stocking feet, while Anderson, who is 26, is only four feet three inches high. The two are great chums."

"Green, who is employed in the commercial car department of the Yantis Motor Company, formerly was with the Quartermaster Corps, Fort Sam Houston. He attended the University of Texas, but left that institution to enter the army, serving eighteen months. He is secretary of the Army Lodge A. F. & A. M., also secretary of the Army Chapter, R. A. M. He is a member of the First Baptist Church. Green will be remembered by many as a star on the Government Hill football team."

"Anderson" was born in St. Louis, Mo. He attended grade and high school there, later enrolling with the Edmonton Technical School at Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. During the war he made application for service with the Canadian forces. Upon rejection he returned to the United States, finally settling in San Antonio. Bobbie is an excellent swimmer and claims he could walk on water if he tried hard enough. At the Yantis Motor Company he dishes out repair parts in the parts department to his many friends over the county and if you ask those who know they'll tell you that he "knows his stuff" about Ford parts."

TRESPASSERS DRAW FINES FOR THEIR VIOLATIONS

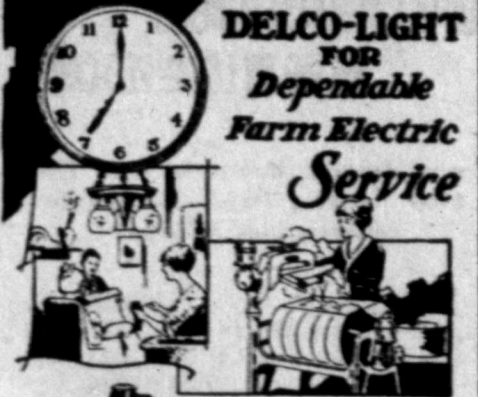

Trespassers and hunters without licenses failed to get by with their violations here during the past week. Heavy fines were meted out in each case.

J. W. Summers was arraigned before Justice of the Peace E. H. Turner Wednesday afternoon charged with trespassing and hunting without a license on the enclosed lands of Robt. Real on the Divide. He plead guilty and was fined $24.40.

Henry Meckel was arrested the early part of last week and tried on three charges: Hunting without a license, killing a wild turkey and trespassing. He was found guilty and fined $21.70 in each case.

35 RECEIVED AT PASTEUR INSTITUTE FOR TREATMENT

Austin, Tex., Sept. 10.—Twenty-six persons from Red Rock and nine from Eagle Pass have been received at the State Pasteur Institute for the preventive treatment against hydrophobia. A total of 75 persons are now at the institute, the largest in many months.

"There were more rabies in Texas during the month of August than during any August since the establishment of the State Pasteur Institute," said Dr. J. T. Wilhite, director of the institute. "August showed 31 per cent rabies," continued Dr. Wilhite, "as against a normal average from 17 to 21 per cent. By that I mean that of the total dog heads sent to the institute for examination 31 per cent has showed the presence of rabies."

The 26 persons from Red Rock were bitten by a fox terrier puppy and its head showed rabies when examined at the institute. The nine from Eagle Pass were also bitten by one dog and its head indicated rabies.

Of the 75 being treated at this time some were bitten by skunks and others by house cats in addition to the many infected by mad dogs. Director Wilhite reports that a dog given the one dose vaccination at Bastrop subsequently developed rabies and he urges that the full treatment of not less than six of the approved inoculations be made. "Even then it is not absolutely safe," commented Dr. Wilhite. "He does not think dogs can be rendered immune by the one-dose treatment, he said, and urges that they be watched at all times."

Beggars Use Auto

Burnet, Tex., Sept. 11.—Beggars of class visit Lampasas. As a Lampasas business man climbed out of his car after returning from lunch he noticed a man whom he took to be a shopper step out of a good looking car parked across the street.

The business man went into his place of business, and was soon confronted by the stranger, who appealed to his charity for assistance, when the business man called his hand and reminded the beggar that he was traveling in a car in ease and comfort, the beggar became indignant and argued that he traveled that way because it was cheaper.

An officer on the trail soon developed that there were two of them and with Third Street as the dividing line, each had his territory to work.

Magnus Johnson, Senator-elect, in an interview, is quoted as saying: "The United States Government must obtain the exact costs of production, and the farmer should be paid accordingly, with a plus profit."

The huge electric fire alarm sired was raised into its place on top of the Walther Building Wednesday afternoon and will be in operation shortly. Advance notice will probably be given of the date it is to be tested out, so that the citizens will know what the strange noise means.

Fredericksburg Standard, Sept. 8: Miss Selma Eckert, who was in the Kerrville Sanitarium under treatment for the past several months, recuperated sufficiently to visit her parents in this city. Miss Eckert has not yet fully recovered, and will go to Kerrville again after a several weeks' stay.

Intermittent showers have been falling in Kerrville during the past week. Last Friday the Government rain gauge recorded .64 inch, Saturday .04 fell and Wednesday morning Observer Davis Horne reported .40 inch. Previous to last Friday a total of .04 inch had fallen, making the total for September up to Wednesday morning's report 1.12 inches.

The largest alligator in captivity is thought to be several hundred years old. It weighs 1,400 pounds and is thirteen and a half feet in length. The age is determined by the width of the nose between the eyeteeth. After the reptile is ten feet long, the nose widens one-quarter of an inch for each fifty years the alligator lives. The average adult, weighing about 1,000 pounds, will yield approximately one and one-half gallons of alligator oil and a valuable hide which, when tanned, weighs from thirty-five to forty pounds.

FOUR CARLOADS OF 3 AND 4-YEAR-OLD STEERS SOLD

Holdsworth & Williams and George and John Duderstadt Sell to Lord & Barfield of Gonzales.

With the advent of good rains over Southwest Texas a demand for cattle has been created and the following sales were made here the latter part of last week:

Holdsworth & Williams sold 50 head of 3 and 4-year-old steers to Lord & Barfield of Gonzales, and George and John Duderstadt sold 55 head of like stuff to the same buyers. The price paid was not given out, but it is understood that the Gonzales men are in the market for more steers.

Two carloads of the steers were shipped out Monday to Poth, where they will be pastured. The remainder will be shipped the latter part of this week.

Deputy Sheriff John Massey, who is also Tick Inspector for this district, was instrumental in bringing the buyers here. He also reports that George Walker of Center Point shipped out 61 cows and calves to the San Antonio market Monday.

MOTOR LAWS ARE FAVORED BY SAFETY CONFERENCE

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Resolutions recommending the adoption of stringent anti-glare headlight laws and the passage of a law requiring physical and mental examinations for all persons seeking licenses to drive automobiles were adopted at the meeting of the National Safety Conference here today, which was attended by officials of the automobile license departments of twelve Middle Western States.

The report of the committee named at the last meeting of the conference to investigate the headlight situation reported that only one State in the Middle West, Ohio, had a headlight law with "teeth."

In Ohio, the report said, members of the police departments in various cities examine the headlights to ascertain whether the lenses comply with the law.

If they do not, and the owner of the car refuses to change them, the motorist is liable to arrest and punishment by a fine and possible imprisonment. Charles U. Becker, Missouri Secretary of State, declared that 45 per cent of the automobile accidents at present could be eliminated if the drivers were compelled to obtain a license as to their competency.

THE LURE OF THE WEST

Houston Chronicle: From time immemorial the trend of human minds and human footsteps has been westward. Caesar led his legions from Rome into Gaul. The hardy and barbaric dwellers in the forests of Germany poured into the British Isles. Columbus felt the lure of the west; sailed and discovered a new world. Bold adventurers from England landed on Jamestown, Pemaunc and Plymouth Rock and dared and suffered and achieved to establish a new nation.

In 1849 seekers after gold traversed burning, trackless deserts and endured indescribable suffering to reach California, a land which has been transformed into a realm of well-nigh matchless beauty.

A century ago heroic spirits invaded the then unknown and virgin realm of Texas. They too heard the call of the wild, and felt the lure of the west, and we of today are heirs to the glorious heritage which they bequeathed us.

Unfortunately thousands of those who dwell in North, East and South Texas know nothing of that part of Texas which, beginning at Kerrville, stretches to the far western mountains, and which is as picturesque a realm as ever the creator gave man for habitation.

All that numbers of Texans pay huge sums to see and enjoy in the far east can be found in the territory referred to.

There are mountains clad in vivid green and perpetual verdure, forests of wide spreading shade trees, rushing, foaming, dashing streams, gushing springs almost innumerable and a climate unexcelled on earth.

The South Fork of the Llano is crossed en route to the higher lands beyond ten times in as many miles, and here it rips and rushes and roars and dashes, and yonder it spreads out wide and deep, and as placid as a millpond. Springs gush forth from under its banks and pour in cascades down the sides of the towering cliffs between which it has run since creation's dawn. Nothing more than can be seen in West and Northwest Texas can be seen in the Eastern and Northeastern mountains.

The altitude of Junction is only 200 feet less than that of Asheville, N. C., and points a half day's ride to the west exceed in altitude the average of the Appalachian Range.

Slowly but surely the realization has dawned on the minds of the people of Texas that they need not go beyond the limits of their own State to find beautiful streams, stately mountains and delightful temperature.

June 1st there has been an almost unbroken caravan of cars from Kerrville by Junction to the west. The lure of the west has at last taken hold on the dwellers in other parts of Texas, and its hold will strengthen with each passing year.

The road from Kerrville to Junction is equal to most city streets and there is not a more picturesque ride of 57 miles in the entire South. There is not a moment in which the traveler can not see some landscape scene which charms and thrills.

Texas people should see Texas first. Let them yield to the lure of the west. If they do they will never be able to resist the witchery of its spell.

RESPECT THE FLAG

Col. Alvin M. Owsley, National Commander of the American Legion: When you see the Stars and Stripes displayed, son, stand up and take off your hat. Somebody may titter. It is the blood of some to deride all expression of noble sentiment. You may blaspheme in the street and stagger drunken in public places, and the bystanders will not pay much attention to you, but if you should get down on your knees and pray to Almighty God, or if you should stand bareheaded while a company of old soldiers marches by with flags to the breeze, most people will think you are showing off.

But don't you mind! When Old Glory comes along, salute, and let them think what they please! When the band plays The Star Spangled Banner in a restaurant or hotel dining room, get up, even if you rise alone; stand there, and don't be ashamed of it, either.

Don't be ashamed when your throat chokes and the tears come when you see the flag flying from the masts of our ships on the great seas or floating from every flagstaff of the Republic. You will never have a worthier emotion. For of all the signs there is none so full of meaning as the flag of this country.

Other flags mean a glorious past; this flag means a glorious future. It

Milton Everett had an interesting article in last week's Farm and Ranch on "Bees Profitable in Southwest Texas," which is reproduced in this issue of The Sun. There are a few successful beekeepers in this section and there should be more. Bees do well in the Hill Country in a wild state and more of the citizens should wake up to the fact that they are passing up a good source of income in not keeping a few colonies of bees.

"Good Roads and Fish" is the title of a short article published in this issue of The Sun from the Marshalltown, Iowa, Times-Republican, because it so aptly applies to this section. The Iowa newspaper notes that Minnesota catches many thousands of Iowa dollars because the former State has good fishing and good roads. The past summer the Hill Country has caught many thousands of dollars from other parts of the State for the same reasons and, with the completion of the road work now about finished and the establishment of the proposed fish hatchery, will be in a position next year to harvest a still larger crop of foreign dollars from the disciples of Isaac Walton.

The fine editorial from the Houston Chronicle, "The Lure of the West," reprinted on this page, is one of the best boasts The Hill Country has received and clearly points out to the citizens of this section the part they should play in helping the "See Texas First" movement. See that the tourists are made to feel welcome and that their visit is appreciated. They are going to come in increasing numbers anyway, and those who realize this fact and prepare to cater to their needs will be the winners, and at the same time be doing their duty in helping to make The Hill Country the Playground of Texas.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

NOTRE DAME QUOTA REACHED

Classes resumed with an actual attendance of 86 pupils and a reservation of 14 seats, thus completing an even 100 and making it impossible to accept additional scholars for fear of overcrowding at the expense of efficiency. More than 50 applicants had to be turned away.

A dozen young lady boarders are already located at the convent from the following cities: Sinton, San Antonio, Beaumont, Castroville, Menard, Boerne, Rocksprings, Garwood, Hunt and Kerrville. Besides these, Mrs. Frank Krueger is lodging her niece, Miss Hilda Rosenthal, of Tarpley, and Mrs. Rudolph Staudt is taking care of her grand-daughter, Miss Bernice Brandes, of Yoakum.

We are not equipped with boarding accommodations for boys, hence Mrs. Chas. Reifel is lodging her grandson, Samuel Farrell, of Galveston; Mrs. Chas. Mosel is caring for Curtis Straehlein of Rocksprings, and Mrs. Wm. Parrish is providing for Thomas Lott of Hunt.

Mrs. Judge Noonan came on the opening day from San Antonio to place two of her grandchildren. She is an aunt of Architect Gaenslen, who had charge of all our buildings.

Miss Caroline Bomba of Havana, Cuba, is sending her niece to our convent. Miss Edith Morris returned for her second term. Her parents have meanwhile transferred their residence from Tampico to San Antonio.

Sister Adrian will teach Spanish, her native language, to the High School department, which this year numbers more young men and ladies than we ever had. Sister Hilda is in charge of the Latin classes.

On Labor Day, a legal holiday in every State except Wyoming, the American banner was raised at the Notre Dame flagstaff. The oath of allegiance to "Old Glory" was taken by the pupils on the day that school re-opened.

Mexican Recognition

The Mexicans of Kerrville have distributed a three-colored Spanish dodger, 2x15 inches, throughout the surrounding territory, inviting their fellow countrymen to participate in a two days' patriotic festival the 15th and 16th of September. All American citizens are extended a hearty welcome by the reception committee. This marks the 113th anniversary of the Independence secured through Father Hidalgo, the George Washington of our sister republic. It will also be the occasion to rejoice over President Coolidge's recognition of the Obregon government.

Next Saturday evening, Sotero Hernandez, president of the Fiesta Association, will open the program by raising and eulogizing the American and Mexican flags, while war veterans of the congregation will fire the customary salute. This will be followed by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the Mexican national hymn. Secretary Lee Rodriguez will thereafter read the Act of Independence. One of the smallest of the Guadalupe parochial pupils will recite from memory the "American Creed." Speeches will be delivered by Pedro Varela, Juan Medrano, Gregorio Arredia and Guadalupe Sanchez. Patriotic poems and recitations will be rendered by Esther Herrera, Alfredo Reyes, Serapia Castillo and Manuel Garza. A dialogue representing Mexico and Spain will be delivered by Teresa Castillo and Margarita Reyes. Music by the Guadalupe Orchestra will fill in the interludes.

On Sunday at Mass the men's choir will have charge of the singing. That night the orators will be Emmet Rodriguez, Jose Reyes, Pedro Caleron, Encarnacion Villaseñor, Mrs. Maria Rodriguez and Mrs. Cora Arrelo. Enrique Castillo will eulogize the patriot of the day. Likewise Eva Rodriguez, Juan Medrano will offer a tribute "To

The concluding number will be a tableau in the national colors, staged by the three youngest daughters of Ramon Castillo.

A parade through the Mexican colony will take place Sunday evening. At night there will be a pyrotechnic display and a social reception in the Hidalgo Hall.

Stowers' Opening

The palatial home of Mrs. G. A. Stowers was formally opened Labor Day with a magnificent house-warming in which 41 wealthy San Antonians and military officers participated. The Eubanks Orchestra furnished the music for the ball. Caterers from St. Anthony Hotel served the banquet. After a plunge in the swimming pool, the guests amused themselves at a card party for which many costly prizes were given as incentives. All who attended, however, were given beautiful souvenirs of the occasion, and a pick of the best scenes of the 11,000-acre homestead. What St. Mary's parish in San Antonio has lost by Stowers' transfer will in a measure be the gain of St. Mary's parish in Kerrville, although the local church is not so conveniently located.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablets Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no gripping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs. (Advertisement, 28-40c).

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Walker, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Theford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN'S CLUB

Annual Election of Officers Held at Meeting of Organization Tuesday Night.

At the September meeting of the Presbyterian Men's Club, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Prescott Tuesday night, the following officers were elected to head the club for the coming year:

E. H. Prescott, president; Dr. J. E. McDonald, vice-president; John Leavell, secretary; R. L. Scherbeck, treasurer, and W. A. Salter, assistant secretary and reporter.

Installation of officers will occur at the next regular meeting, two weeks hence, the place of meeting to be announced later. At the coming meeting President Prescott will announce the appointment of new committees for the coming year. However, he announced Tuesday night the appointment of one committee head, that of C. H. Robinson, to head the music committee. Mr. Robinson has held this important position for the past two years and has given universal satisfaction, so much so that the musical part of the program is always looked forward to and greatly appreciated by the entire membership, and Mr. Prescott announced that Mr. Robinson would be continued in office, both as a matter of appreciation for past performances and for the good his efforts will bring in the future.

Several important matters were discussed by the club, chief among which is the revolving student loan fund, sponsored and financed by the club. This fund was started last year, and it was the means of enabling one worthy young man to continue his studies in a higher institution of learning the past winter. The club intends to carry this same young man all the way through his academic schooling, and in addition a committee was appointed to devise ways and means to enable the club, if possible, to take care of at least another young man who desires advanced schooling and is without means for defraying expenses of same. If there were no other objects of this club, this educational loan fund alone would justify the existence of the Presbyterian Men's Club, but this is but one of the many features to be undertaken during the coming year.

Several new members and visitors were in attendance at the meeting, and they were given opportunity to address the club, as were several of the local speakers who have always had something to say at previous meetings. After the business session, delicious refreshments were served to the members by Mrs. Prescott, assisted by Mrs. Amy Wallace.

During the summer months, while the Presbyterian Encampment is in progress, the Presbyterian Men's Club takes a vacation, but now that the Encampment is over, the meetings will be resumed, and the club will meet twice a month throughout the winter. Heretofore the club has been handicapped for want of a regular place of meeting, but as soon as the new church is completed that phase of the work will be rectified, as plans for the new building call for a room especially constructed and furnished for the use of the club.

Great things are expected from the Presbyterian Men's Club the coming year under the guidance of Mr. Prescott and his corps of officers, and all men and young men of the city, whether belonging to the Presbyterian Church or not, are cordially invited to participate.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

W. T. C. Briggs, Pastor

Calendar for the week: Wednesday, Sept. 12th, 7:45 p. m.: Revival meeting began. It is the purpose of the pastor and church to conduct a meeting from this date until Sunday night, Sept. 23rd. No church, either in or out of the city, will be requested to call off any of its regular services for this meeting, but a general invitation is extended to one and all to attend this meeting as much as possible. There will be services at night only during the week days. Our usual Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. services will be held on Sunday at the accustomed hours.

Next Sunday we will be favored with special selections, both morning and evening, by Mrs. J. D. Seamounts, violinist, from San Antonio. She may be with us on Saturday night to assist in the congregational music.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTES

By Member

The Vestry met with Dr. Macdougall Tuesday night of last week. After the business session a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Sunday's service was largely on the subject of the necessity of our securing a permanent and abiding anchor for life instead of being blown about by every wind of doctrine and evanescent pleasure that might be the fashion of the moment. The text: "And now abideth Faith, Hope and Love, but the greatest of these is Love." Why is love the greatest? Because it outlasts all the others and is everlasting. The speaker went on to say that brotherly love shines before all regardless of creed or color; in this spirit America is responding well by rushing aid to our unfortunate brethren in Japan in this, their hour of need, even if personally we are unable to have as much love for individual Japanese as we should.

An offering amounting to $10.00 was taken for the Japanese sufferers.

IT IS SERIOUS

Some Kerrville People Fail to Realize the Seriousness of a Bad Back.

The constant aching of a bad back, the weariness, the tired feeling, the pains and aches of kidney ills may result seriously if neglected. Dangerous urinary troubles often follow.

A Kerrville citizen shows you what to do. T. J. Cumber, farmer, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have helped a lot and I recommend them to anyone in need of a kidney remedy. My kidneys were out of order and I suffered with backache and pains over my kidneys. I felt dull and run down and the action of my kidneys was irregular. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They gave me prompt relief, the backaches left and my kidneys did not trouble me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Cumber had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

Kills Wildcat

Fredericksburg Standard, Sept. 8th: One day this week, Mrs. Chris. Staats, living on the R. Henke Ranch near town, heard a pig squealing. As neither her husband nor the elder son were at home, Mrs. Staats procured a Winchester rifle and followed the sound. She found a giant wildcat killing a pig. With a shot she dispatched the murderer.

For some time turkeys and chickens have disappeared and it had been suspected that some wild animal was roving in the pasture.

BIBLE STUDENTS

Our meetings next week at the Union Church will be as follows: Sunday, Sept. 16th, 3 p. m.: Berean study: "Our Duty Toward the Truth; It's Cost, Value, Profit." This study will include a brief resume of what we have learned and have reason to expect of a personal, intelligent Creator, the attributes of whose character are justice, love, wisdom and power. These attributes, which the Heavenly Father exercises on behalf of man, never conflict, as each one is the embodiment of the other three.

Wednesday, Sept. 19th, 3 p. m.: Praise, prayer and Testimony meeting: "We Have Access by One Spirit Unto the Father." (Eph. 2:18).

Berean study: Ezek., 25th Chapter. All are welcome.

STOCK & POULTRY FEEDS

The Molt

Hens at this time of year are going through the molt. It is the trying time with them, as old feathers are being shed and new ones grown.

There is no time of the year when a good mash is so essential as during the molting period. Feathers themselves are largely protein and the hens MUST HAVE a good protein feed to help them through with it in the quickest possible time. Grains are deficient in protein and a mash should be used if your ration is to be balanced.

Superior Egg Mash is all food. The best quality of Calf Meal, Shorts, Bran, Linseed Oil Meal, Corn Gluten Feed, Cotton Seed Meal, Meat Scraps and Dried Buttermilk are used in its manufacture. You will find it more economical because it will produce better results.

Mrs. C. Z. Canfield and children of George West were the guests Tuesday and Wednesday of P. G. Canfield and family. They were accompanied home by Miss Callie Canfield, who had visited with her brother for the past month.

J. F. Stallings returned last Saturday from a week's visit with his parents at Nacogdoches. He reports the cotton crop exceptionally good down there this year, but that the recent rains are damaging the staple considerably as well as hindering with the picking.

Capt. and Mrs. A. W. McKillip returned Monday from spending the summer at Colorado Springs and are again at home to their many friends here at their place on Town Creek. The Captain reports a very pleasant summer but says he caught a severe cold on the way home, from which he has almost entirely recovered, however.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bratton left Wednesday for their old home at Banks, Ark., where they still own their residence and business property. This is the second time the Brattons have gone back to Arkansas after selling out in Kerr County. Several years ago they disposed of the store at Hunt and this time sold out at Eura to N. B. Estes. Their many friends in this section extend them best wishes until next summer.

Miss Myrtle Dedecker spent the past week end in Boerne visiting relatives.

Charles Horne left last Saturday morning for Waco for a few days visit with friends and relatives. He will return to Austin to enter the State University for the coming term.

J. L. Barlow, representing the San Antonio Express, was a Kerrville visitor last Saturday. He was working up a classified Business Directory of Southwest Texas, which will be run in the Sunday issues of The Express, commencing October 1st, especially for the winter tourists.

Miss Tyler Wilkinson of Junction visited with Mrs. G. M. Doyle and Miss Dorothy Doyle Monday and Tuesday en route to Fort Worth to enter Texas Christian University for her fourth year. Miss Wilkinson and her parents were formerly residents of Kerrville and have a host of friends here.

The Rock Drug Store is making improvements in its show windows this week. The rear part is being enclosed and sliding glass doors are being built in. A partition in one of the window glasses is being removed and a larger glass will be put in. These improvements will add much to the looks of the store and permit a better display of goods.

Erma L. Burke, aged 27, died at the home of his parents at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday after a lingering illness. Funeral services were held at the residence Wednesday morning and the body was taken to San Antonio. Burke came to Kerrville some ten months ago for his health. He had been stricken by influenza twice while in the army during the World War and developed tuberculosis. He was a native of Collin County. He is survived by his parents and several brothers.

Slaying Trial at Junction Near Close

Junction, Tex., Sept. 11.—Testimony for the defense was introduced today in the trial here of Emil A. Loeffler, president and manager of the Junction Hardware Company, accused of killing Buck Gardner in August, 1922. The case probably will go to the jury Wednesday.

The State closed its evidence in chief late yesterday after most of the day had been taken up in selecting a jury.

The prosecution charged Gardner was unarmed at the time of the shooting. Loeffler was in his office in the back of the hardware store and fired a shotgun through a screen door, it was alleged. Gardner was in front of the store, witnesses said.

Dr. Fred Burt, a witness for the prosecution, testified there were nine holes from shotgun bullets in Gardner's chest and shoulders.

The wounded man staggered down the street and died without making a statement in regard to the shooting, it was testified.

He was about to enter the store when the fatal shot was fired, it was said.

Loeffler surrendered immediately afterward to the sheriff and was released on bond.

Deputy Game Warden Bogle and J. J. Dent returned last Saturday from Hondo, where they had gone to look after game violations. They report that the heavy rains in that section had put the roads in such a shape as to make travel almost impossible, and so they were able to accomplish very little on the trip.

J. W. Bailey of the Sunset community on the Johnston Fork was a pleasant caller at The Sun office Wednesday forenoon. Mr. Bailey has engaged quite extensively in truck farming this summer and states that he is making arrangements to put in a gravity flow irrigation plant this winter, which will allow him to carry on his work on a larger scale next season.

Friends here regretted to learn of the death of Louis ("Tige") Halpin Wednesday night of last week at the Veterans' Hospital. Halpin recently entered the institution as a patient, but was generally known among the baseball fans, having umpired a number of games during the 1922 season while employed here. He was a former member of the Chicago White Sox, it is said. Burial was made at Austin Sunday under the auspices of the American Legion post of that city. A guard of honor accompanied the body from here.

TAKE THE SHORT CUT

When you were a youngster, you never went to school the long way 'round! You took a short cut.

Every advertisement in this paper is a short cut. Advertisements make it possible to tell you in a few minutes all you want to know about the services or articles you need.

At a glance you can sift out the things that interest you most and in a moment you know just when and where to go for what you want.

Figure how many steps, how much needless walking and talking the advertisements thus save you and your neighbors.

Then you realize the great economy and necessity of advertising in your daily life.

BEES PROFITABLE IN SOUTHWEST TEXAS

NORTH GOOD CUSTOMER—QUEENS AND HONEY MAKERS OF MONEY, SAYS MILTON EVERETT IN FARM AND RANCH.

Economic conditions in the Northern States are bringing to the attention of bee culturists in those States the fact that the climate and the native plants of Southwest Texas offer the greatest and best opportunity to raise bees and carry them with little or no cost through the winter months. So it has come to pass that many Northern beekeepers—and their number is rapidly growing—find it more economical to destroy their bees at the beginning of the winter months and buy fresh stocks from Southwest Texas in the spring when the grasses and plants are in bloom. So rapidly has this idea taken hold of the Northern beekeeper that one Corpus Christi beekeeper who makes a specialty of raising bees and queens, instead of marketing honey, last spring was compelled to turn down orders amounting to over $70,000. This was the result to one of the largest bee culturists in the United States, who owns more than 2,000 colonies.

This striking illustration of the great demand for bees should sink into the brain of the Texas farmers and they should realize that there is money in raising and selling bees. But there is more than that in the business. Even a man who devotes his activities towards producing bees and queen has much honey to sell, and the bee man already referred to sold last year 15,000 pounds of honey in addition to the bees and queens. That would not have happened, of course, to a Northern beekeeper, as he would have been compelled to keep on hand a large part of his surplus honey to feed his bees during the winter months, unless he destroyed them and bought new stocks in the spring. I suppose the Northern beekeeper really gets enough money from his extra honey to pay for new bees, and by selling honey and buying new bees in the spring he saves a lot of work during the winter and begins business when the clover blooms with healthy and strong colonies who have wintered easily in the Southwest and lived on their natural foods.

The Time for Peps

Another reason why there is an additional demand for bees from Northern culturists is this: As before intimated, when the bees come out of their winter storage in the cold States they are lethargic and poor workers just at the time when a bee should be exceedingly busy. Practically all beekeepers in the Northern States and Canada, even when they keep their bees through the winter, buy some Southern bees to put with them. The fact is, since it has become widely known what good, strong bees are reared in Southwest Texas, the demand has become far larger than the supply. One of our largest raisers is preparing to establish branch houses in some Northern cities so that bees may be shipped in carload lots, and re-shipped from near-by points to buyers, thus not only getting the bees to their destinations in better condition, but making a large saving in transportation charges.

Every real farmer who wants to get the most of farm life and farming should have on his place one or more colonies of bees. We would not think much of a farmer that did not keep a cow or a few hogs and chickens, but keeping a few bees is even of more importance to the farmer than keeping hogs or chickens—and as much or more profit is received from the investment and the charge for upkeep.

To begin with, bees perform a valuable service in fertilizing the farm crops which depend on the dispersal of pollen. This is particularly true of fruits and berries, and every farmer who has either on his place should have at least one colony of bees, even if they performed no other service than assisting in the pollination of fruit trees and berry vines. In this connection, this writer wants to suggest what may seem to some to be a foolish suggestion probably, but it will not do any harm to set it forth, and that is: Bees on the farm may help in keeping other insects away—maybe grasshoppers, boll weevils and leaf worms! Who knows? We know that in nature there is an antipathy between various animals, and even plants, I believe. You cannot make deer stay in a pasture where sheep graze, and there are other instances of this natural antipathy. All this, of course, is pure speculation, but as the old preacher said about the Bible, "it can't hurt you none to believe it."

It costs about $10 to buy a colony of bees and a house for them to live in. At the lowest estimates one colony of bees anywhere in Texas will produce a minimum of fifty pounds of honey in a year; as a matter of fact, they average much above that figure in production. We folks in the cities pay 30 cents a pound for it and if the bee man gets 20 cents a pound and the minimum amount of honey, he has made 100 per cent on his investment. Bees are a delight to every student of their marvelous ways. Any boy with a colony of bees and a Webster's dictionary is bound to develop into a sound philosopher, and we may say that to the normal man, a colony of bees on the farm is worth what they cost for the pleasure they give alone.

GOOD ROADS AND FISH

Combination Draws Many Dollars Into Minnesota Annually, Says Iowa Newspaper.

Six men drove a thousand miles and more "for a little fishing," says the Marshalltown, Iowa, Times-Republican. It was in its way a very short trip. It probably would have cost them somewhere around $50 to $75 apiece. Primarily they went fishing. Minnesota catches many thousands of Iowa dollars because the fishing is good and persons who go fishing can catch fish, which with most of us is an important part of fishing. Minnesota is millions better off when the summer is over by reason of the attractiveness of her highways and her fishing places. In Minnesota the fishermen and the fishermen can catch fish. And Minnesota has good roads that the fishers can run a machine over when they go fishing.

If the amounts spent in Minnesota by Iowans were put into plain figures they would be astonishing. So would the amounts that others from outside spend in Iowa as they pass through seeking a State with better roads, and among other things, better fishing.

School is the greatest factor in keeping it so. This is a broad statement, but it is true. This is not said to the disparagement of private and parochial schools. Their work is great, but their scope is comparatively limited.

When the first democratic movement was made in the world is not known, but the first attempt at democratic government was the Republic of Greece, about 300 years before the birth of Christ. The Greek Republic was a failure, but the profound thinkers who originated it, sowed the seeds of democracy in the world, and in recent centuries they have flowered and fruited.

The ancient governments of the world, some of which have been perpetuated throughout the ages and still perform their functions, were based upon a peculiar phenomenon in the human family. A thing that has existed since the dawn of human history, and will exist as long as the world stands, in spite of all our efforts at education and training. That thing is the aristocracy of mind and character. Men of great mental ability banded together in ancient times and selected a leader or king. They started a government under the auspicious idea that all the sons and daughters of these great men must be alike great. They became an aristocracy of power and wealth, but wisdom and character they could not control. To keep the governing class within certain bounds was their purpose, and in doing this they amassed wealth to the favored few, and at the same time kept the masses in ignorance.

As generations passed, these aristocrats, these royal families and noble retainers, degenerated. Then would arise some man of the people. Some real aristocrat of mind and conscience that God had made. About him would gather others, and the original government would be overthrown, and a new dynasty set up. All this you have studied in your histories. Finally, the profound thinkers of the time of Plato and Aristotle realized that God creates only a certain proportion of the genuine aristocrats of the human family. They realized that when only those of a restricted class were permitted a voice in the government of a people, the wisdom and strength of the greater part of God's instruments for good in the world were lost to the people. With this end in view, and for the purpose of lifting the yoke of oppression from the neck of the masses, the Greek Republic was conceived and put into effect. As I said, it was a failure, but its seeds have flowered and borne fruit in the world.

Your history tells you that by the fifteenth century practically all of the nations of the eastern hemisphere were governed by despots, supported by an aristocracy of wealth. That in order to retain their power, these monarchs and their lords and henchmen kept the masses in ignorance and superstition so far as was possible, knowing full well that no shackles they could forge for hand and feet would bind men so helpless before them as would ignorance.

The few lights thrown on the history of the world during the dark ages, which are clouded in doubt and uncertainty, indicate that those 700 years were a continuous struggle of the oppressed. That period began with the fall of the Roman Empire, the greatest and most powerful aristocracy the world had known up to that time. It ended with the revival of literature, and the discovery of the Pandeets, at Amalfi. Think of 700 years, in which no attempt was made at literary advancement in the world. Quite justly this was called the Dark Ages.

Naturally, the world could not recover at once from so long a period of stagnation. The 300 years from the end of the Dark Ages until the discovery of America was another period of struggle, in which the aristocrats won, and in which the greatest crimes of history were committed. Practically every nation of Europe had adopted Christianity, but intolerance was rampant in the world. The masses were ignorant and superstitious. The aristocracy was arrogant and overbearing. The religion of the king must be the religion of his subjects, and the penalty for disobedience of the royal mandate was most extreme. The crimes committed under the banner of the cross in Europe, from the end of the Dark Ages up to about the year 1600 were the most revolting of all history. A trail of blood, culminating with the massacre of Saint Bartholomew, on the night of August 24, 1572.

All these crimes were not committed purely in the name of Christ, as some historians would have you believe. They were committed by tyrants and the aristocracy of wealth and power, who turned the ignorance, superstition and religious fanaticism of the masses to their own purpose of aggression, of winning new kingdoms, and punishing their enemies. The loss of life at the massacre of Saint Bartholomew is estimated at 100,000.

Throughout all the ages of the world, the dominating characteristic of the aristocracy, that is the governing aristocracy of wealth and power, has been fear. Their small number in proportion to the population of their respective countries; the guilty knowledge that they were usurping the rights and privileges of the masses, made them afraid. Fear is the basic principle of hatred. The aristocracy hated the masses, because they feared them. From time to time, as there arose among the masses one of God's aristocrats of wisdom, and having the capabilities of leadership, he was seized and murdered as an heretic. Ostensibly as an heretic toward the king's religion, but really the king and the aristocracy hated and feared the flickering candle of democracy, which had never been entirely extinguished since the Greeks first lit it.

And now comes the period of the world in which was born the great movement for democracy, for independence, individual thinking, and for sowing the first seeds of public free school education, the two of which have gone hand in hand for the last four centuries, until we have in the United States today the most effective and essentially democratic government in the world, and the most complete system of public free schools in the world.

This has not been achieved without struggle; indeed the battle is still being waged. It will never end, so long as greed of power is in the world, but the long battle has taught the world much. It is a far cry from those old schoolmasters in New England, who were paid by a levy of a few shillings laid on the village by the governor of the colony, to the superintendents of your public schools and the presidents of your state institutions. Even today, after public free school education has emancipated the masses to their present standard of intelligence, you can see men wag their heads and hear them say, "Our schools are not what they ought to be." Investigate, and you'll find a hidden reason for the remark nine times out of ten.

Our public schools are not what they ought to be. I know it, and you know it. But their shortcoming is not along the lines generally suggested. They ought to have more power to impart to the youth of the land all the knowledge that their mental capacity will accept. There is no more noble work in all the world than that of bettering and extending the usefulness of the public free schools. There is no greater safeguard to the nation as a nation and as the leading exponent of democracy in the world.

I thank God for that order of the general court of the State of Massachusetts, in the year 1642, that enjoined upon town authorities the duty of seeing that all children received at least the rudiments of an education. I thank God that those old Pilgrim Fathers, who had themselves suffered the yoke of oppression, and who knew that the shackles of ignorance were more disgraceful than the chains of any other sort of slavery, instituted the beginnings in this country of public free schools.

Public free school education was not really perfected to anything like its present status until the latter part of the last century. In my youth, it was not the magnificent thing it is today. It was still struggling. The masses were unable to secure the privileges of an education. There was still an aristocracy, even in democratic America, who insisted that it was not necessary to educate a farmer or a craftsman. I was both, and poor besides. I know what the struggle is in life without an education, and I adjure you students to take every advantage offered you, and to apply yourselves with the most earnest effort to the task that is before you.

There is a democracy that is not of government. I believe the word democracy is taken from two Greek words and means the power of the people. An athlete becomes powerful by developing his muscles. In like manner, a thinker becomes powerful by developing his brain. Neither can be fully developed without the development of the other. A nation becomes powerful by developing all that is best in all its people. That end can only be reached by the liberal education of all the people, to the end that there may be none fettered by the shackles of ignorance. That is the task that confronts the public schools of America today.

There are public schools in other countries, and look what broad and popular education have eventually done to the aristocracy of power. In the last few years thrones have toppled, intolerance has been struck a lasting blow, and the people, the world's democracy, is coming into its own.

There is such a thing as an aristocrat everywhere in the world, but place, power, social standing, a Rolls Royce car and a diamond pin don't make them. God makes them. He makes them in every walk of life. In the palace of the prince, and in the hut of the peasant. Heretofore, only those of the alleged higher classes have been cultivated and finished as God intended them to be. I thank God that my grandchildren, humble though they may be, will have an equal opportunity for securing an education with the children of the most favored in the land.

There are aristocrats right here among this great gathering of boys and girls. There are those upon whom God in His wisdom has set the seal of His favor by endowing them with unusual powers of comprehension and exceptional aptitude for the work that is before them. It is not the kind of aristocracy that should develop pride and arrogance, but that which should develop rather a spirit of humility, and of thankfulness to God for the gift. A determination to cultivate that gift to the utmost, and give the world the advantage of it. A disposition to help and encourage those of your fellow students who are less gifted, and to aid them and your instructors in every possible manner to make this the most successful year in the history of your school.

And finally, I would say to you, Professor Franklin, and to your faculty, there is no more serious obligation that rests upon the greatest statesmen and jurists in America than rests upon you. Yours is not merely a job, at so much per month or year. Not a position in which the mere watching of the clock and the calendar, and the drawing of a fixed stipend, is the end of all things. It is a position of the greatest responsibility in all our wonderful country. The moulding, not only of the minds, but of the character of the future men and women of this country.

I commend you to the courageous and unflinching performance of that duty, and above all things to keep constantly before your charges the inseparable relation that exists between the public schools and the great, unconquerable democracy of America.

MAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF KIDNAPING IS RELEASED

Lee Euling was arrested here last Thursday by Deputy Sheriff John Massey upon a charge of kidnaping, filed against him by C. F. Miller in a San Antonio court. Euling, it was alleged in the charge, lured Miller's son, a 16-year-old youth, together with another boy whose name is unknown, away from home.

Deputy Sheriff J. T. Holloway of Bexar County came up in response to a telephone message from Sheriff Jack Moore to take Euling back to the Alamo City, but upon his arrival here it was learned that one of the boys had permission to come and statements by the Miller youth, it is said, resulted in the kidnaping charge being withdrawn and Euling released. He went on west, accompanied by the other boy, while young Miller returned to San Antonio with his father.

Ducks on the Coast

Port Arthur, Tex., Sept. 8.—Green-head Mallards and other winter ducks have been sighted at Gum Island and Dutch Joe's marsh, according to word brought here Saturday night by H. Y. P. Broussard, trapper of Colonial Station, near here.

Broussard, who is expecting an early winter because of the appearance of the birds, says the wild winter game has been in evidence around the marshes near Port Arthur since August 20, and has been increasing in covets considerably. It is the first time in 20 years winter ducks have been found here in August and September.

Better Grain Yields from the Same Fields

No seed is wasted; no ground left unseeded; seed furrows are made, seed dropped and covered all in one operation—you can increase your yield per acre and save labor by using a

JOHN DEERE VAN BRUNT GRAIN DRILL

(Does especially good work in spring-wheat seeding)

This drill has a patented adjustable gate, force-feed that successfully handles any size seed from alfalfa to bearded oats without choking.

The force-feed compels the seed to leave the grain box in even, continuous streams, and the metal seed tubes and closed delivery protect seed until it reaches the bottom of the furrows. Adjustable pressure springs enable you to force all discs to cut furrows of equal depth.

These are reasons why a field planted with a Van Brunt Drill makes such a pleasing appearance to the eye—and why it adds extra money to your bank account. All of the grain is ready for harvest at one time. There are no bare spots in the field, and you can feel absolutely sure that no seed is wasted in planting.

Come in and let us show you how easy it is to regulate the flow of seed—simply moving a lever regulates the quantity sown, and an equal amount is placed in each furrow.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Sept. 11.—The Corpus Christi Caller has just concluded a contest in which a $10 cash prize was offered for the best definition of a jellybean.

The prize winning answer was as follows: "A jellybean is a close-reefed, pompadoured, irresponsible nincompoop with nothing in his pocket and even less in his head."

"Erroneously he is referred to as of the masculine gender, but this is indignantly disputed by men."

"The jellybean has been aptly termed a cross between a marshmallow and a Pomeranian poodle."

"He drinks malted milk, coca cola and hair tonic; smokes cigarettes (when he can touch mama for a dime), carries his handkerchief in his sleeve, paints his lips, pencils his eyebrows, has pink ribbons in his B. V. D.'s, and sometimes wears pants (most wear Valentino trousers)."

"He is a predatory animal (with apologies to the coyote), who preys on 'chickens,' and those he doesn't kill he cripples."

"His haunts are domino parlors, soft drink stands, dance halls and windy corners."

"His favorite sport is 'necking.'"

"He has none of the fundamental characteristics of the human race, but he is altogether irresistible when he climbs into his Ford playboy, steps on 'er and disappears toward North Beach, leaving his wake a combined odor of burnt gasoline, cheap cigarettes, violet toilet water and rose pomade."

The winning answer was submitted by S. A. Lunn of this city.

70,000 JAPANESE DEAD ARE RECOVERED IS REPORT

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—The dead counted by Japanese authorities up to September 7 numbered 47,000 in Tokio and 23,000 in Yokohama, the foreign office in Tokio reported Monday to the Japanese embassy here.

The message said 150 foreigners have been killed "so far as has been ascertained."

About 316,000 houses, or 71 per cent of all, were destroyed in Tokio, while 70,000 of the 85,000 houses in Yokohama met a similar fate. Police of Tokio, according to the message, estimated 1,356,000 persons homeless there, constituting 67 per cent of the total population.

The deaths of the British assistant commercial attache, Horne, and David Waddell, assistant to the British commercial attache in Yokohama, were reported.

Five of the leading banks opened for business on September 8, including the Mitsui Bank, the Kwangyo Bank, the Bank of Taiwan, the Kogyo Bank and the Yokohama Specie Bank, the dispatch said, while the ministry of finance and the Bank of Japan were striving to re-establish the financial affairs of Tokio.

The foreign office building was reported only partially destroyed, but owing to the dislocation of communication, not more than half of the staff was able to reach the office.

"Better efficiency in foreign communications will be attained within a few days," the message predicted.

The Lost Needle There's an old English play known as "Gammer Garton's Needle." Its plot is woven around the loss of the family needle--no trifling misfortune in the days of old. Today, in this era of ours, life is so rich in comforts that we seldom wonder how folks got along in the ancient world. And we sometimes forget what an important role advertising has played in making life pleasant and altogether livable. Advertising has one of the leading parts in the eternal drama of dollars. To it is directly due much of the multiplication of products and services which has come about during the last half century. It has smoothed the mechanics of existence--made life easier and more pleasant by bringing countless necessities--once considered luxuries--within our easy reach and into continuous use. Think of this when you read these columns. You owe much to advertising. And You Miss Much When You Fail to Read It!

LIGHT MOTOR CARAVAN PAYS VISIT TO KERRVILLE

said of this town. You have an enviable reputation, indeed."

Mr. Woodward said it gave him great pleasure to visit a city where there are so many evidences of progress.

He paid a tribute to Capt. Charles Schreiner, who he said deserved all the praise and credit which has been given him. Speaking of highway work in Kerr County, Mr. Woodward said these good roads will be just as much appreciated in San Antonio as in Kerrville. He added that San Antonio always stands ready to offer a helping hand to Kerrville.

"We want you Kerrville people to come to San Antonio real often," he concluded, "and call it your home."

Mr. Woodward made a decided hit with his definition of a knocker. He received numerous requests for copies of it.

On the return to San Antonio the official caravan party, which included representatives of the Morgan-Woodward Company and The Light, visited the palatial Gus Schreiner home, where they were entertained by Mrs. Schreiner in her typical hospitable fashion. Occupying a beautiful site, on a hilltop which commands an excellent view of Kerrville and the entire surrounding country, the Schreiner home probably compares in architecture and appointment with any in the Southwest. Just a short distance away is the magnificent Louis Schreiner home, which is one of the show places of the Southwest.

At Boerne, the official caravan party were guests of D. J. Woodward at a delightful dinner at the Hill Top Inn.

Two Lincoln cars were in the caravan Sunday, one of which was used as a pathfinder car. In this car rode Capt. Raymond C. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Nicholson and little son, Tommy, and The Light automobile editor. Occupying the second Lincoln were D. J. Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Manlove, Mrs. A. E. Staacke and Edwin Staacke.

Refreshments were carried to Kerrville in a Morgan-Woodward car in charge of Charles Schero and Earl Post of The Light.

The performance of the Lincoln car, which went over the right part of the road as though it were paved, was the subject of much admiration on the part of motorists. It was generally agreed that the Lincoln car is all, if not more, than its makers claim.

Motorists pronounced the Kerrville scenery the most beautiful they have ever seen in Southwest Texas. Especially were there many exclamations over the beauty of the country at dusk when the last rays of the setting sun transformed the landscape into a riot of colors, presenting a picture which it is certain not even the best of artists could rival on his canvas.

The editors of The Sun wish to thank L. P. Scott, automobile editor of The Light, for the above splendid story of the caravan's visit to Kerrville. However, the history of the refreshments served last Sunday would not be complete without mention of the fact that the soda water furnished came from Pampell's, and that the American Creamery Company of this city furnished cream to go with the coffee, and also a huge quantity of butter, which was highly praised by the picnic party. The coffee was furnished at cost by the Collins Company of this city and was the Maxwell House brand.

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Sept. 12.—The next Congress will pass the soldiers' bonus bill, Hanford MacNider, formerly National commander of the American Legion, declared in an address at the annual convention of the Missouri Department of the Legion here Monday.

MacNider said "the battle for adjusted compensation has been fought and won."

All bottles found along highways running through national forests of the West must be gathered up and buried or placed on the north or shady side of some mountain. Glass bottles absorb the sun's rays to a heated focus and start fires when conditions are just right, according to Federal forestry officials.

Heavy Clouds Interfere With Clear View of Eclipse

A heavy bank of clouds Monday afternoon hid the partial eclipse of the sun from local observers for the greater part of the time. However, broken places in the clouds allowed intermittent observation through smoked glasses. At the time of the greatest obscuration, about 3:35 o'clock, a little more than one-tenth of the sun was visible, the moon having passed entirely between the earth and the lower part, leaving just a fringe of the upper edge visible.

While the eclipse was not as spectacular as many had hoped to see, the close observers noted many beautiful features of the phenomena overlooked by a great many. A ghostly yellow twilight was apparent and at times the clouds were tinted with the same hue. The sky, behind its setting of clouds, was deep blue. Shadows were dim and poorly defined. The spots of sunlight under the trees, which would have ordinarily been round, were crescent-shaped, like the sun.

An article from the Associated Press under a San Diego, Cal., date line, where the eclipse was total, follows:

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 11.—Disappointing to science, but a thing of wonder to ordinary folks; darkness at midday, a colorful, magnificent, but almost uncanny spectacle—this, in brief, described the total eclipse of the sun, witnessed in San Diego and its vicinity yesterday.

However, many of the scientists found consolation in the results attained by means of photographs from the airplanes that climbed above the heavy bank of clouds that covered the city.

Navy airmen, scattered over a wide area and flying at altitudes varying from 7,000 to 16,000 feet, succeeded in getting excellent moving pictures not only of the corona, but also faint photographs of the fleeting shadow that swept down at the moment of totality.

A great ball of fire atop the sun was sighted by Lieut. Leland Webb from an altitude of 16,000 feet over Point Huemene. He reported that at 12:52 o'clock the brilliant shafts of light from the corona, stretching into the heavens for millions of miles, were suffused in a soft glow that resembled pale moonlight etched with marvelous colors.

The only successful photographs made from the earth are believed to be ones made by Professor James Worthington of London and Dr. Alfred Burton, professor emeritus of astronomy in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Professor Worthington stated last night that four of the negatives developed by him were almost perfect and would rank with the best ever made during a solar eclipse.

Professor Worthington and Dr. Burton headed an expedition at an observation station established north of Santa Barbara. Weather conditions there were more favorable than at any other spot on the Pacific Coast, according to the scientists. The equipment used was an especially constructed ceostat.

August 22, when his suit cases and a portfolio containing his papers were found on the banks of the San Antonio River, now is in Washington, D. C., where he is being attended by emissaries of the Texas Rangers, according to a telegram received by Universal Service Tuesday night.

The message said that Renfro was alive and getting better but was in a highly nervous state, which precluded his returning to Texas immediately. However, he would return to Texas in about two weeks, the message said.

Universal Service, which claimed to have seen the message, said that the one pledge exacted by Captain Baldwin was that the name of the person signing it, presumably a ranger emissary in the National Capital, should not be repeated nor published.

According to the information given out in connection with the telegram, Rev. Mr. Renfro was greatly worried over financial obligations which he had found it impossible to meet promptly, although he had money due him from his church and from private sources. This worry is believed to have unbalanced his mind temporarily.

His accounts as solicitor for the Fred Roberts Memorial Hospital at Corpus Christi were said to balance to a penny, after that phase of the matter had been investigated extensively.

Rev. Mr. Renfro was said by Universal Service to have gone directly from San Antonio to Philadelphia, where he remained for some time until discovered by men sent to the Quaker City by the Texas Rangers. From Philadelphia he was taken to Washington, where he now is, the Universal Service said.

Universal Service communicated with Earl Renfro, brother of the missing Klan lecturer, at Corpus Christi, and with Mrs. J. T. Renfro, wife of the missing man, who is staying in the Naples of the Gulf. When they were informed that Captain Baldwin had received a message stating that the minister had been located and told that Baldwin said he believed the message, both expressed gladness and expressed the opinion that her husband was dead, she declared, Universal Service said, that she now believed he was alive and well. Both Mrs. Renfro and her brother-in-law know Captain Baldwin personally, he having formerly been a peace officer in Corpus Christi, and expressed every confidence in him.

"If Baldwin says it's true, it's so," Earl Renfro was quoted by Universal Service as saying when informed that his brother was in Washington.

Efforts made Tuesday night by The Express to get in touch with Captain Baldwin proved fruitless. Ranger headquarters said that the captain was not there and would not return to headquarters until Wednesday morning, and in the meantime was not available.

Rockdale, Tex., Sept. 10.—Getting under the bed for protection against the householder is a trick not often performed by a rattlesnake, but that is what one big fellow did.

D. W. Hogwood of near Bolton found the diamond back reptile in his front yard and went in the house to get a shotgun with which the dispatch rattler. When Hogwood returned to the porch the snake was not in sight, but Hogwood trailed him in the house, where he found the "varmint" coiled and giving out his danger signals. Hogwood poked his gun under the bed and used both barrels.
