CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO START MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Two Teams to Open Campaign Monday Morning—All Committees for New Year Appointed Tuesday.

The campaign for renewal and new memberships to the Chamber of Commerce will open early next Monday morning and continue until the following Saturday night. Two teams have been selected and are headed by Ben Smith and Walter Saenger.

A big social membership meeting will be held at Lake Side Park Friday evening, May 9, to which all members of the organization together with their ladies are invited.

A penalty will be imposed on the losing team in the membership drive at the meeting. The penalty has not been named as yet due to the absence of Herbert L. Crate from the city. Mr. Crate is to assess the punishment on the losers and it is expected it will thoroughly cover the case.

Mr. Crate will also be in charge of the program for the evening and a most enjoyable occasion is in store. Practically the entire meeting will be of a social nature.

A Board of Directors meeting was held in the offices of the organization last Thursday morning at which E. H. Prescott was re-elected president of the Chamber of Commerce for the new year.

Howard Butt was re-elected first vice-president, A. B. Williamson, second vice-president and Mrs. Amy Wallace was employed as secretary for another year.

Another meeting of the Board was held Tuesday morning at which committees for the year were named. Several other important matters were also taken up for consideration.

The Tourist Park Committee decided to permit camping in the local park for three days without charge, time spent there after the expiration of the three days to be paid for at the rate of 50 cents per day.

A committee was also appointed to work on the proposed paved highway from Kerrville to San Antonio. This project will be the main work of the Chamber of Commerce this year.

The committee in charge of the work will co-operate with Boerne and Comfort in putting the movement across. The matter of connecting with the pavement at Boerne has already been discussed in that section and a move is on foot to accomplish the work.

Sentiment in the lower part of Kerr County seems to be favoring the toward having the highway from Silver Creek to the County line and it is believed that Kendall County will eventually meet Kerr County there.

The matter of oiling the streets of the city was taken up and a decision to repeat the work again this year was reached. The Civic League is co-operating in the project and will solicit the property owners for payment of oiling.

A campaign for eradication of mosquitoes was also decided upon and the work was launched Wednesday along the lines suggested by the Government expert sent here last summer.

The membership drive teams are composed of Ben Smith, captain; Ally Beitel, Milton Pampell, L. W. McCoy and Alois Renschel; Walter Saenger, captain; Howard Butt, A. B. Williamson, Scott Schreiner and Charles L. Mason.

Both captains of this year's team were members of the losing team last year and are determined to win this year's contest. One of them is assured of being the goat again, but the winner will know he has been "through the mill," the leaders declare.

The committees for the year have been announced as follows, the first named member being the chairman:

Finance Committee: Scott Schreiner, A. B. Burton, Ally Beitel, L. W. McCoy and W. A. Fawcett.

Sanitation and City Improvement: Howard Butt, D. H. Compartment, W. B. Brown, Drs. J. E. McDonald, E. E. Palmer, W. L. Secor, A. A. Roberts, J. D. Jackson and S. E. Thompson.

Streets and Sidewalks: W. A. Fawcett, H. Renschel, G. F. Schreiner, A. C. Schreiner, Hal Peterson and J. S. Wheeler.

Trade Extension: Walter Saenger, J. W. Burney, E. Yarbrough, J. M. Dennis and Chas. Rawson.

Retail Trade: Milton Pampell, A. C. Schreiner Jr., C. Wolfmueller, J. R. Burnett, Chas. Johnston and L. A. Rodriguez.

Railways and Transportation: Dick Eastland, Chas. Mason, J. M. Droddy and J. E. Grinstead.

Agriculture and Ranching: Julius Real, R. Holdsworth, L. A. Schreiner, Harvey Mosty, Tom Carr, Herman Schulze, Geo. Dryden and B. L. Wiedenfeld.

Advertising and Publicity: C. E. Salter, J. E. Grinstead and local correspondents of San Antonio Light and San Antonio Express.

Entertainment: A. B. Williamson, J. J. Delaney, R. A. Franklin, H. L. Crute and A. T. Adkins.

General Highway: Chas. Mason, J. L. Pampell, Ally Beitel, Julius Real and E. Yarbrough.

Special Committee on San Antonio and Kerrville Highway Improvement:

Ally Beitel, L. A. Schreiner, Chas. Real, J. E. Grinstead and Hal Peterson.

Tourist Park: N. B. Smith, Oscar Salmons and Chas. Mason.

DR. J. B. GRANVILLE WAXES VERY ENTHUSIASTIC OVER HILL COUNTRY

Admits That Brady and McCulloch Country Might Take Lessons From Kerrville and Kerr County.

Brady Standard, April 15: "Brady is the gateway to the most wonderful scenic section in Texas," is the opinion voiced by Dr. J. B. Granville, president of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, following his return Monday from a trip that included visits at Kerrville and Fredericksburg and upon which he was accompanied by his family. Waxing enthusiastic, the doctor further declared that the section comprised by Brady to the north, Llano to the east, Kerrville to the south and Sonora to the west, in fact the section known as the "Heart of Texas district"—was in every way equal to Yellowstone Park, from the standpoint of attracting tourists, and that while this section might lack somewhat of the awesome grandeur of Yellowstone, yet the scenic beauty, the delightful water courses, the natural park sites and recreational spots, made it a paradise for travelers from all over North America.

The doctor was free to admit that Brady and McCulloch County might take lessons from Kerrville and Kerr County. The Methodist Encampment, just recently located at Kerrville, is situated upon a high elevation, and is proving a most attractive spot. In addition, Kerrville boasts of the Presbyterian Encampment, the Legion Sanatorium, the Schreiner Institute, and various other such attractions that are building Kerrville into a city with a future. Kerrville, too, is alive on the situation of good roads, and puts to shame many other sections of Texas in this respect. Then, along the Old Spanish Trail, which is being boosted far and near, numerous parks have been established, small camp houses being built and other attractions are offered to tourists. The result has been that Kerrville is already crowded with tourists, and is reaping a rich golden harvest for her enterprise and foresight.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CAMP SITES ARE NOW READY FOR THE TOURISTS

Committee of Local Organization Perfects System of Camping Places for Summer Visitors.

One committee of the local Chamber of Commerce that has been working hard without much being said about their endeavors for the past several months is the committee composed of Walter Saenger, Chas. L. Mason and R. L. Schmerbeck who had charge of organizing and logging a system of camp sites for the benefit of the summer tourists.

After many months of work the committee announces the system ready for the tourists. The camp sites are scattered over the entire section of the Hill Country above Kerrville for a radius of 28 miles and with the exception of Midway Station, on the Divide between here and Junction, each camp site is located either on the Guadalupe River or one of its tributaries, where fishing and bathing are easily available to the campers.

Each camp is plainly marked with a sign bearing the inscription "C. of C. Camp," and each has been especially prepared for the convenience and comfort of the summer visitors. Part are free camp sites and the maximum charge on any is 25 cents per day for each car.

The committee has prepared a map of the different camp sites, showing the location and distance from Kerrville, and The Sun job department has just finished printing 5,000 folders containing on one side this map and on the other, a brief description of the advantages Kerrville and the Hill Country has to offer to anyone seeking either a home or investment. These folders will be used in connection with the camps this summer and will prove of great convenience to the tourist public.

The principal camp site, of course, is the Tourist Park, just outside the city limits of Kerrville. Here ample accommodations have been provided for the guests of the city with lights and water, shower baths and paid attendant in charge to look after keeping the camp in a clean and sanitary condition. A committee form the Chamber of Commerce has direct charge of the management of the park for this season and will do all within its power to care for the patrons. This committee is headed by Ben Smith, who has for assistance Oscar Salmons and Chas. L. Mason. The Tourist Park is operated on a free basis for the first three days, after which a fee of 50 cents per day will be charged.

In addition to these ten camp sites are given on the map, as follows: Lakeside Park, inside the city limits of Kerrville; Slim's Log Cabin Camp, on the Guadalupe five miles above the city; Dave Griffin, Hardin Bros. and J. W. Orr, on the Guadalupe near Hunt; Fowler's Camp Site, Webb's Camp Site, Chas. Eddins, and Estes Garage, on the Johnson Fork, and Midway Station, on the Divide between Kerrville and Junction. The Guadalupe Inn and Harris Hardin's, summer boarding houses on the Guadalupe are also located by the map.

All these camp sites are on good roads, easily accessible to tourists and each will be operated under supervision of the Highway Department of the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce this coming season.

Just another indication that the citizens of Kerrville and the Hill Country are a wide awake, progressive bunch.

OVER 6,300 BUDS USED IN TWO-DAY CAMPAIGN ON NATIVE PECAN TREES

Experts Help County Agent With Big Task Friday and Saturday—69 Men Improve Trees.

Sixty-nine progressive men of Kerr County budded more than 6,300 buds on native pecan trees during the big campaign conducted last Friday and Saturday. Four experts on the work assisted County Agent Yeary with the huge task.

Community meetings were held Friday and Saturday mornings at which one of the five men were present to demonstrate how budding is done. Knives, buds, wax, etc., were issued to each man who had signed the petition.

Following this the experts gave demonstrations of how the work was done and each man, after thoroughly understanding the process, did his own budding. The experts made trips to the place of each man during the day to inspect his work and assist where necessary.

The various communities at which the demonstrations were given Friday morning follow: Hunt, Frank Williams of the State Department of Agriculture in charge; Center Point, W. H. Darrow, District Agent; Camp Verde, J. C. Yeary; Cypress Creek, J. A. Oswalt, County Agent Kendall County; Lane Valley, R. S. Miller, County Agent Gillespie County.

Saturday morning: Ingram, Frank Willmann; Sunset, W. H. Darrow; Kerrville and Turtle Creek, J. C. Yeary.

Three men were issued 1,650 buds in Kerrville and Turtle Creek. Other communities used the following: Center Point, eight men used 510 buds; Camp Verde, five men used 300 buds; Cypress Creek, 18 men took 975 buds; Lane Valley, nine men were issued 385 buds; Ingram, seven men used 355 buds; Sunset, eight men took 725 buds; Hunt, 11 men were given 1,325 buds.

The budding campaign is considered one of the biggest steps toward better pecan trees that has been made here in recent years.

ATHLETICS SANDBAG JINX WITH 13-7 VICTORY OVER CHIC CHICS

Pent-up Baseball of First Two Games Finds Outlet Sunday—McCarty Shining Light With Stick.

With every man on the team playing baseball in great style and all of them smashing the ball on the nose, the Athletics knocked the jinx on the head Sunday afternoon and started a winning streak by handing the Chic Chics a 13-7 defeat.

Stevens was on the hill for the home gang and held the visitors at bay. He pitched great ball all the way and with the exception of two innings was never in danger. A trio of blows in the third and fifth frames scored all of the visitors' tallies.

The home bunch showed marked improvement both in fielding and in stickwork. Karger's work of the past week was much in evidence in all the playing by the local lads. Only two errors were made and they did no damage. A fast double play stopped the sixth inning.

McCarty was the leading light of the domestics' offense. Edwin hit four out of four for an even 1,000, getting a pass on his other trip to the pan. Martin was a close second with three out of five. Stevens hit a pair in five tries and Wilson connected twice for safeties out of his six appearances. About everybody else got one blow each.

The lineup was a little different Sunday. Gene Barry cavorted around short stop, with his brother, Bob, camping over in right field after the first half inning. Bill Saenger started in the sun garden, but gave way to Barry in the first frame when two men were on the sacks for the locals.

Wilson got his share of the action during the afternoon. Lefty roped in four sky balls during the entertainment, a couple or three of which were pretty catches after long trots. Karger gave the fans a thrill in the eight, when he made a beautiful catch of a foul in the bleachers.

Outsiders of the visitors put one outtaight over the right field palings in the third with two men on the cushions. Brewer also concocted a triple in the fifth with the pillows loaded.

The home gang started the scoring in their half of the first after two men were out. Wilson grounded to the pitcher and Martin singled cleanly. Henke struck out and Karger drove one to third base, getting to first when Burnett juggled the ball. McCarty connected for two bases, scoring both men ahead of him. E. Barry was safe when the first sacker let the ball slip through him and bounce against the fence, McCarty counting from second on the play. Dugat drew a pass and Bob Barry waved to end the frame.

The Biddies tied the score in the third on a single, a double and Outsider's four-base swat over the right field wall. Stevens struck out a couple of Chicks to end the frame.

In the third Karger doubled and went to third on a passed ball. McCarty stroled and promptly stole second. Snyder went wild and threw over the catcher's head, Karger scoring and McCarty going to third on the miscue. E. Barry and Dugat singled in succession and Dugat swiped the keystone, Barry having made third on the single. Bob Barry was passed. Stevens grounded to second and Wilson hit for two cushions and scored on the shortstop's error that gave Henke life at first. Karger drove a long one

BRANCH OF SAN ANTONIO BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION IN KERRVILLE

George L. Sellers Appointed Local Representative—Now Ready For Business.

A year ago the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce appointed a building and loan committee, consisting of A. B. Williamson, Ally Beitel and H. Renschel, who were instructed to devise some means whereby local people could avail themselves of the opportunities offered by a building and loan association for the erection of homes in Kerrville. Nothing was heard from this committee for a year except the few times that they were asked at Chamber of Commerce meetings for a report, when they reported that they were working.

Now they make their report, in announcing the opening in Kerrville of a branch of the San Antonio Building & Loan Association, with resources of $645,344.35 at their command. Geo. L. Sellers has been appointed local representative of the association, the First State Bank and Chas. Schreiner Bank have been named as depositories and the committee announces their work completed and the association ready to transact business.

The San Antonio Building & Loan Association is one of the largest associations of like nature in the country and has on its board of directors the leading bankers and business men of the Alamo City. According to plans announced, money subscribed in Kerrville to the association will remain here and be used locally, and in addition for every dollar subscribed in Kerrville, ten dollars will be sent in from outside places and used for the construction of homes in the city.

A financial statement of this association is printed on page two of this issue.

FIRE APPARATUS DEMONSTRATED BEFORE LARGE CROWD OF PEOPLE

Pumper More Than Doubles Pressure of Local Mains—City Buys Coats and Helmets for Firemen.

A demonstration of one of the latest types of water pumps for use in fighting fires was given at the corner of Water Streets and Street Streets Tuesday afternoon before a large crowd of onlookers.

With the pumping apparatus, which is mounted on a fire truck, the pressure in the mains was increased from 60 pounds to about 140 pounds, enabling a stream of water to be thrown more than twice as far and with greater force than is possible with the ordinary pressure in the mains.

The hose lines were connected to the plug in the corner of Earl Garrett and Water Streets and streams of water at high pressure were thrown from 150 to 175 feet with the pump in operation, where with ordinary pressure 75 to 100 feet is the maximum distance.

Water was thrown against the old fire bell from the traffic buoy in the center of the street intersection with sufficient force to cause a dull ringing in the bell. A tin roof on an old building nearby was easily ripped off at a distance of more than 100 feet. A stream of water at the high pressure was also thrown over the Chas. Schreiner Co. store from the center of the street at a height sufficient to clear the building.

Five men were kept tugging and fighting the hose to keep it from getting out of control under the high pressure. Two men easily manipulated

MAGAZINE SECTION OF MOUNTAIN SUN MAKES HIT WITH SUBSCRIBERS

"Along the Old Cow Trail" Awakens Memories of Old-Time Cow Punchers.

The magazine section issued for the first time last week as a regular once-a-month feature of The Mountain Sun, met with a hearty greeting from the subscribers of this paper. It is hard to determine what part of the magazine section was most appreciated by the readers, but all reports reaching the editors are of a highly complimentary nature.

The comic or "Funny" page of course was most popular with the children. The woman's page was most heartily received by the members of the fair sex; the men folks all enjoyed the farm news and short news briefs from over the States, while the joke page was enjoyed by all.

However, the part of the supplement that apparently was enjoyed more than any other was the feature stories, especially the one by Austin Gailin, entitled "Along the Old Cow Trail." This story brought out reminiscences among some of the old time cow men and awoke memories long forgotten by some of them.

J. H. White of Brady, in commenting upon the article, declared the account to be quite faithful to facts. Mr. White was personally acquainted with many of the characters mentioned in the story. Clay Mann, from whom the writer originally had the story, was a brother of O. D. Mann of Brady and was one of the virile, enterprising and most prominent of the cattlemen who developed Texas into the great empire of today.

Mr. White, however, declares the story of the infatuation of the Indian girl for the Beau Brummel of the cow camp to be a somewhat far-fetched bit of fiction, although the basis of the story was founded on fact. Mr. White's version of the story, as printed in the Brady Standard, was as follows:

When the cowboys entered the Indian camp, "Panhandle" Jim Murray was fancy struck with a comely Indian maiden. In course of the visit there, a game of monte was proposed by the Indians, in which "Panhandle" Jim was dealer. With every show of affection, the Indian maid lay with her head in "Panhandle's" lap, softly crooning what that individual thought was Indian love-talk to him. The dealer lost steadily and in unaccountable fashion, until finally he was broke. Not until after they had returned to their cow camp, did "Panhandle" realize that he had been played for a sucker, and the love-talk of the Indian maid was nothing but calling off to the Indians the names of the cards as they were dealt from the bottom of the stack by "Panhandle" Jim.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS HOLD BANQUET AT ST. CHARLES

In observance of Maundy Thursday, the Kerr County Scottish Rite Club held a banquet at the St. Charles Hotel last Thursday night, at which 20 local members of the order and 17 visiting Scottish Rite Masons were guests. Before the banquet the mystic ceremonies of the order were exemplified.

J. E. Grinstead acted as toastmaster and Judge Ben H. Kelly of San Antonio delivered the principal address of the evening. Others assisting in the program were Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg, H. E. Carney of Legion and Dr. H. Y. Swayze, Julius Real, E. Galbraith and H. E. Butt of Kerrville.

SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION FOR EASTERN STAR WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Norton B. Wellborn, Worthy Grand Matron, Guest of Honor; Many Delegates Here.

Wednesday was a big day for Kerrville Chapter No. 24, Order of the Eastern Star, for on that day the local Chapter entertained Mrs. Norton B. Wellborn of Summerville, Worthy Grand Matron of the State of Texas, together with other Grand Officers.

In addition to the Grand Worthy Matron, the Grand Officers present consisted of the following: Mrs. Birdie Easterling, Del Rio, District Deputy Grand Matron; Miss Estella McDonald, Sonora, Assistant District Deputy Grand Matron; Mrs. Beulah Rawlings, Leakey, Member Grand Examining Board; Mrs. Stella Vordie, San Antonio, Grand Associate Matron, and Mrs. Daisy Cushing, San Antonio, Assistant District Deputy Grand Matron.

A school of instruction on the work of the order was held by the Grand Officers, participated in by delegates from San Antonio, Center Point, Junction, Fredericksburg, Bandera, Hon-do, Sonora, Rocksprings, Beveline, Marlin and other points, besides the members of the order locally.

The program of the day was as follows:

8 A. M.: March and Opening, Kerrville Chapter; Presentation of Grand Officers; Invocation, E. Galbraith; Welcome Address, H. Y. Swayze; Response to Address of Welcome, Mrs. Leah A. Bruff, Treasurer of Center Point Chapter; Opening of School, Mrs. Wellborn; Exemplification of Secret Work, Signs and Passes, Mrs. Beulah Rawlings; Study of Constitution, Mrs. Wellborn.

12 M.: Dinner. For this occasion the ladies had prepared a delicious dinner consisting of many varieties of good things to eat. It is impossible for a mere man to describe the feast, suffice to say that everything necessary for the satisfaction of the inner man was available. Mrs. A. B. Williamson was chairman of the refreshment committee, and was assisted by 12 members of the local chapter.

2 P. M.: Flag Ceremony, Mrs. Wellborn; Study of Ritual, Mrs. Birdie Easterling; Parliamentary Drill, Miss Estella McDonald.

8 P. M.: Exemplification of Work, Mrs. Wellborn, assisted by visiting delegates; Address, "Thoughts," Worthy Grand Matron; Discussion, "Helps I Have Received From the School," Delegates; Reports of Committees; Closing of the School.

Examinations on the secret work, ritual and constitution of the order were held by Mrs. Beulah Rawlings, member of the Grand Examining Board, and a large number of members of the local Chapter and delegates availed themselves of the opportunity to take the examinations.

Klockmann-Kahliden

Edgar F. Klockmann and Miss Erna Kahliden were united in marriage last Sunday at Harper by Rev. L. Nikolai, pastor of the Lutheran Church there.

The groom is driver for the local office of the American Railway Express Co. and his bride comes from Weimar, his home town. Mr. Klockmann was only recently assigned to the position here.

The Sun joins in extending congratulations to the newlyweds.

Sub-Debs Entertained

Miss Carlette Tarver entertained two tables of forty-two at the home of her brother last Saturday afternoon having the Sub-Deb Club.

After scores were counted up Genevieve Hagena and Carlette Tarver won high place.

Annexed to the Council was voted into the club.

After refreshments were served a business meeting was held.

Schreiners Give Dance

San Antonio Express, April 22: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Albert Schreiner of Kerrville entertained with a charming dinner dance at the Country Club Monday evening their daughter, Miss Mae Louise Schreiner, and her house guest, Miss Laura McNichol of Toledo, Ohio, and Miss Helen Schunway of New York.

The spacious ballroom was a bower of pink blossoms carried out in pink phlox and snap dragons. Large baskets placed at intervals around the room were filled with the pink flowers and ferns. On the mantel and in the wire fireplace were banks of the lovely blossoms. Pink wax tapers were used in the color scheme of pink.

Methodist Missionary Society Meets

Mrs. R. H. Herndon, Mrs. W. B. Powell and Miss Carrie Tuttle entertained the Methodist Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Herndon last Tuesday.

An interesting program on "New Neighbors From Lands Afar" was carried out by Mesdames C. W. Moore, Avera, B. B. Lowrance, H. C. Geddie and Miss Alice Starkey. At the close of the program Mrs. McFarlane favored the guests with a Scotch dialect reading.

Delicious refreshments were served to about 30 guests.

The Society will meet next Tuesday at 3 p. m. with Mrs. R. L. Mangum at 941 Barnett Street. Visitors cordially invited. REPORTER.

Legion Auxiliary With Mrs. Stricker

The Auxiliary to Garrett-Baker Post of the American Legion met Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Phil Stricker at her home on Jefferson Street.

Mrs. A. F. McManus of San Antonio, who is State Welfare Chairman, was present and told of her work in different parts of the State in connection with the rehabilitation of former service men.

Plans for the annual poppy sale to be held on Memorial Day were made. The members also voted to assist the Post at Legion with a May Day program and a suitable program for Memorial Day.

During the social hour the hostess served a delicious ice course to about 15 members and guests.

TIVY HIGH NOTES
By Lucille Taylor

Herma Rees, Senior President, spent Monday and Tuesday in San Antonio attending the Fiesta.

Obie Griffin, Senior, and Harold Osbourne, Junior, were awarded the Underwood typewriting medal for speed and accuracy, having made forty words per minute. These medals were awarded before the typewriting class.

Harold Osbourne spent the past week end with Obie Griffin at his home at Hunt.

The Juniors went on a picnic Wednesday afternoon of last week at "Grate's Camp" and everyone reported a good time. Ada Nance and Lucille Taylor, Seniors, were guests of Genevieve Hagena and Carlette Tarver. After a swim was enjoyed by all present cats were served. Miss Harriet Garrett and Mrs. Glenn Brooks chaperoned the crowd.

The Seniors held a meeting Tuesday morning at Auditorium period. It was decided to have their Class Day exercises at night and a program will be fixed by the president at an early date.

Last week the Seniors printed big signs of their Senior play, "Out of Court," and distributed them all over town in order to advertise the play very much.

Tuesday afternoon the Freshmen enjoyed a picnic at Point Rock with Mrs. McCreary as chaperone. A good time was reported by all who attended.

Buick Value—The Measure of Automobile Values

People now-a-days measure automobile values on the basis of Buick value. How often you hear such remarks as: "It's not nearly as good as Buick". People make these remarks both consciously and unconsciously. Consciously, because they actually know Buick value either from their own experience or that of their friends; unconsciously, because for twenty years Buick has been the accepted standard of the industry. Good reasons, both, why you should own a Buick.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

Reception for the Macdougalls

A very beautiful reception was tendered Dr. and Mrs. Macdougall Tuesday night in the parish room of the Episcopal Church, given by the Guild and attended by members of the congregation and a few of the intimate friends from other churches of the departing couple.

The reception room was beautifully decorated with white and yellow flowers with green foliage. Rugs, tables and chairs had been so arranged that the room had a very attractive, home-like appearance.

In the receiving line were E. Galbraith, Dr. and Mrs. Macdougall and Mrs. Henry Weiss. Serving punch to the guests were Mrs. J. B. Thompson and Mrs. W. C. Baker.

During the early part of the evening a splendid musical program, which had been arranged for the occasion under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Young was rendered to the delight of all.

Words of appreciation for the work of Rev. Macdougall in this community were spoken by members of the congregation and others who have been associated with him during his ministry in Kerrville.

S. E. Bomar of the U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Legion, assured the Doctor that there would always be a warm spot in the hearts of the veterans at the hospital for their friend. Possibly no man in the State of Texas has done more for the disabled former service men than has Dr. Macdougall. He has held regular services at the hospital; has arranged many entertainments for the benefit of the patients, oftentimes himself donning the ministerial cloth for that of an entertainer. He has assisted in cheering them when they were gloomy, comforting them when they were sad and has spoken words of cheer to those that were left and tributes of respect for the departed when he commended to God the souls of those that have passed to the Beyond.

Rev. J. B. McCall, in a humorous vein, spoke of the good Dr. Macdougall has done in the community, stating that when he himself arrived at Dr. Thompson's Sanatorium two years ago Dr. Macdougall was the first citizen of Kerrville with whom he became acquainted, the Doctor being out there on one of his regular missions of mercy and cheer. Rev. McCall informed Mr. Macdougall that he was bound for a fertile field, illustrating same by a conversation that occurred between himself and a native son during a former visit McCall made to California. The native inquired from whence the visitor came and upon being informed Texas, inquired just where Texas was. Dr. McCall replied: "Texas is the first step this side of Heaven, but it's a long way from California."

Rev. W. F. Dickey, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, spoke many warm words of praise for Dr. Macdougall, speaking from the standpoint of one who has labored side by side with him for the good of the Master's Kingdom.

E. Galbraith, speaking on behalf of the Vestry of the Episcopal Church, assured Rev. Macdougall that the church regretted his departure and were praying for the return of this couple to this field at an early date.

On behalf of the Guild, Mrs. H. Weiss addressed Rev. Macdougall and in a few well chosen words presented him with a handsome fitted traveling bag as a token of the esteem the Guild holds for him.

Rev. Macdougall, in his characteristically happy manner, responded to the many addresses and assured the members of his congregation and friends that he would always have a warm spot in his heart for Kerrville and its citizens and hoped that at some future date he would be permitted to return to the work here. He stated that next Sunday is to be his last day in charge of the work here, he and his family leaving the following day for Los Angeles, Calif.

Punch was served throughout the evening and at the close of the program refreshments consisting of an ice course were served.

Mrs. Wheelless Entertains

Mrs. W. M. Wheelless was hostess to two delightfully appointed bridge parties Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of this week. The parties were given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wheelless, 725 Earl Garrett Street.

The reception room was decorated with silver baskets and vases of brilliant red geraniums and blue corn flowers. The same color scheme was used in the living room, scarlet verbenas and blue bonnets being the chosen flowers.

The guests for both occasions included about 75 ladies.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. S. Wheelless and Miss Thelma McCorquodale, served dainty refreshments consisting of chicken in aspic, Easter salad, cakes, candies and tea to her guests.

Easter Party at Legion

Last Thursday night an Easter party was held at Legion under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary of Kerrville. H. L. Grate had charge of the entertainment features, and this alone assured its success.

Miss Lydia Raaz and Miss Wilkins were chosen leaders, and were blindfolded and chose members of their respective groups. Much merriment ensued from a bowling contest in which ducks and rabbits were used as men. An egg relay race and a rabbit race were next in order, then came a dressmaking contest in which each guest was given a lead pencil, one elastic band and a piece of tissue paper and told to create an Easter gown. As usual, a man won the prize for having fashioned the most attractive dress.

A most unique contest was one in which a couple were chosen, the young

SHEEPMEN — RANGHMEN — FARMERS!

The other day a discussion was overheard which took place between two ranchmen. (For convenience sake we will call them John and Frank).

John—"Hello Frank, do you feel like going out to Chas. Real's ranch, I want to buy a few rams?"

Frank—"Yes, I'll be glad to go with you. I bought a bunch of ewes the other day and will need a ram a little later; don't know much about sheep and would like to ask you a few questions, as you are an old sheep man."

John—"I have bought rams from Chas. Real a good many years and have had splendid success with them."

Frank—"Why do you prefer his rams to others?"

John—"He has a splendid flock of Delaine-Merino ewes and buys the highest priced stud rams on the market, getting the type mostly wanted in this country. Then he devotes his entire time to the breeding of rams for the market. They are never neglected one day from the time the lambs are born until the ram is sold to the customer. Through that he gets better size on them than most others."

Frank—"How are his prices?"

John—"His prices are very reasonable for the kind of rams he breeds; you get splendid values in buying from him."

Frank—"Are his rams heavy shearers?"

John—"By far the majority of his flock are extra heavy shearers; then he has some each year on the market, getting the type mostly wanted in this country. He usually has a few rather wrinkled rams—a fine cross on light shearing ewes."

THE SPIRIT OF PROGRESS

The past year has meant much to Kerrville from a point of progress and development. Just how much it has meant and to whom the city is indebted for these strides along progressive lines, is worthy of a little consideration.

The fiscal year of the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce, just closed, and the annual report of the secretary-treasurer, published in last week's issue of The Sun, give one food for thought. Another important matter bearing on the future development of the city and the Hill Country is the fact that at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce last Thursday morning, every official of the previous year was re-elected from the president on down.

All this augurs well for the future, for it means that the men who have had the city's welfare at heart the past twelve months and who have labored night and day for its development, are ready and anxious to begin another twelve months' labor for the public good. Also they unanimously endorse the leaders in this great movement, which speaks louder than words of the perfect harmony and unity of purpose of the Chamber as a whole.

These men have devoted lots of time and energy to the public welfare during the past year, some of them days, weeks and even months, forgetting their own business cares and troubles and giving their undivided time to furthering the interests of the community. Many of them, unable to leave their places of business for more than a few minutes at a time, have always found time to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors at any time, day or night, when the president of the organization thought it advisable to call one.

And all this without the least friction or discord. Is it any wonder that Kerrville has made such rapid strides along civic lines the past year? She cannot help but develop with such a class of citizens directing her destinies.

The old parable of the twelve sticks certainly has been demonstrated in Kerrville the past year. And if the city had a band wagon it would go without a passenger, for the business men and citizens would all be too busy rolling it up the hill to take time to ride. It is this spirit that has built cities in the past and it is this spirit that will certainly build one right here in the heart of the Hill Country.

C. C. Wolfe, secretary of the Trade Extension Bureau of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, is a guest at the St. Charles Hotel for a two weeks' vacation. In his official capacity Mr. Wolfe has visited Kerrville several times during the past year and his choice of this place for a vacation period shows that the many fine compliments which he paid Kerrville and the Hill Country in his talks were sincere and not for effect. The Sun joins with the citizenship of Kerrville in extending a hearty welcome to Mr. Wolfe, knowing full well that his sojourn in the leading vacation resort and playground of the Lone Star State will send him back to the Alamo City rested and fit for further boosting not only of the metropolis of Texas and its rapidly increasing trade territory but also of this section.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Texas Commercial News: This is a day of personal responsibility.

In politics as well as in business those who were in a position of responsibility are finding that they are solely responsible for the conduct of the affairs of that business or that department.

The day of bureaus and boards and shifting of responsibilities is passing again, as it has ever passed, for no business or department can weather the storms if responsibility can be shifted.

We have found in business that some one must be placed in charge of a department and held solely responsible for the results that may obtain.

The affairs at Washington are not discouraging to the right thinking man, for he knows that what we see is the dirty suds that always obtain when a washing has been done; and he is glad of the washing for it means that we are returning to that condition which the framers of our National Constitution sought to create and maintain.

It means that we are going to place responsibility on those who can meet it.

This popular election of a president, the popular election of a senator, this initiative and referendum stuff—all is the froth of idealists who begin with an ideal man and from him build an ideal democracy—there can be no pure democracy because no man can act where his mind does not measure the responsibility nor the man.

This pendulum should swing a little farther; our congressmen should be elected by some sort of group and not by the people at large.

There should be four steps in the election of a president. First, the people should be grouped into areas such that the leading men of that area could be known to all the electorates. These groups should elect from among their number presidential delegates, uninstructed, to a state convention; these delegates should then elect from among their number one delegate uninstructed to a national convention for every million people or fraction thereof in their state; these delegates to the national convention should elect from among their number uninstructed men of that area to the Presidential College whose duty it should be to choose the president of the United States.

This would pyramid the intelligence of the people until those who chose the president of the United States would be men who are conversant with the demands of the office and could know the calibre of the man who would fill it.

The voter could know his neighbor; the state delegates could know the personnel of their number; the national delegates could know the personnel of their number; and finally the Presidential College could know the personnel of their number, or the outstanding presidential timber of the nation, and there could be no dark horse business and intelligence could guide in the selection of a president. It would pyramid effort resulting in every citizen performing his duty intelligently and well, and the United States would have a chief executive who would be four degrees removed from popular will—a very unsafe will, for it shifts with the winds of passion even as the weather van.

This should obtain in the election of the Governors, the Representatives, the Senators and the Congressmen.

No man who is not familiar with the duties to be performed can wisely choose the man who must perform those duties—only one familiar with the duties can wisely choose one to perform them.

The ladies of the Civic League have had the City Park along the river banks cleaned up thoroughly, more seats added and extra lights installed, putting the park in fine shape for the coming summer. Like all public enterprises, seemingly the home people as a whole do not appreciate this valuable asset to Kerrville as fully as they should. The citizens of Kerrville and especially the merchants should at all times make it a point to inform visitors of the City Park, stressing the fact that to the energetic and public spirited ladies of the community credit must be given for converting this weed-grown and trash-littered tract of the past into the beautiful and restful vista which greets the eye at present.

KERR COUNTY MEET

The Interscholastic Leaguers: It doesn't take many schools to have a successful county meet. As a general rule, "the more the merrier," but numbers is not an absolutely indispensable condition to success. Away up in Kerr County, the most picturesque county in Texas, four schools held a most successful meet March 29 at Hunt, an enterprising little town of that section. The four schools competing were Hunt, Sunset, Ingram and Reservation and the points made by these schools were as follows: Hunt, 139; Sunset, 107; Ingram, 110, and Reservation, 51.

The people of the respective communities gathered in Hunt on the morning of the 29th and spent the day in witnessing the contests. Besides being a great inspiration to the schools participating, the day served as a great recreational and social event for the spectators. The credit for the success of this meet is due very largely to the efforts of Miss F. Ruth Maxwell of Ingram, director general.

With the departure of Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Macdougall for California next Monday Kerrville and the Hill Country, as well as the members of the Episcopal Parish, suffer a distinct loss. During his sojourn in this section Dr. Macdougall has endeared himself to people in all walks of life by his many and varied acts of service, regardless of whether the recipient was a member of his church, other churches or was associated with no religious denomination. Words fail when attempting to describe the various activities of this pastor, and even if they did not his activities have been so numerous that it would be an almost impossible feat to enumerate any of the many good deeds he has performed. The Sun joins with every citizen of the Hill Country in wishing Dr. and Mrs. Macdougall Godspeed and assuring them there will always be a warm spot in the hearts of the people of this community toward them.

EVERYBODY PAYS TAXES

Farm and Ranch: The man who owns real estate, stocks or bonds does not pay all the taxes. The man who has no visible property to render may flatter himself that he is escaping the tax collector, but he is paying just the same. Every time he buys a loaf of bread he helps pay the miller's and baker's tax. He pays the tax on the hose he rents, on the suit of clothes he buys, and on everything he purchases, from a package of pins to a new dining room suite. He can't escape. Taxes have a great deal to do with the cost of living. The poor man pays his share and frequently more, and for that reason he should be as greatly interested in reducing the cost of government as his neighbor who goes to the office of the assessor and renders property for taxation each year.

The man who advocates Government aid for various projects, such as highways, irrigation dams, education and the like, or the man who says, let the Government buy the products of the farm in order to stabilize prices, has to pay his share of the expense. The Government gets the money it spends out of the pockets of the people, and no man escapes making his regular contribution. A proposition to have the Government pay half of the expense in constructing a highway through the county is attractive, but every taxpayer in that county is contributing to the cost of building highways across the counties in all the other States in the Union. In the end, he is not as well off as he would have been had he paid for his own road and not been forced to pay for roads in other counties.

Government aid is a swindle. It is another way devised to create more fat jobs for office seekers and to fasten upon the States and counties of which they are composed, the power of the Government at Washington. The bait is attractive, but it conceals a barbed hook. However, our politicians generally have swallowed the bait, hook and all, and we have fastened upon us a policy of paternalism which will be hard to shake off. We accept our share of Government aid because we have to pay for the tax for somebody else, and nothing is to be gained and much to be lost by refusing. The only way the people can be relieved of this extra burden is to discontinue the practice altogether.

Deputy Game Warden Gildart reports that the Kerr County Game Protective Association, which is being organized, is meeting with enthusiastic reception, especially by the farmers and ranchmen. Ward also comes from Bandera that Sod Durst, the wide awake deputy warden at that point, is organizing a like association for Bandera County. This is indeed encouraging news, and the Sun hopes the movement will spread to all the surrounding counties to the end that the Hill Country will be unanimous in the matter of conservation and protection of the game and fishing resources.

Notice by Publication in Probate

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Kerr County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published (in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been published continuously and regularly for a period of not less than one year in your county) at least once a week for 20 days previous to the return day hereof, copies of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To all Persons Interested in the Estate of Modesto Garcia, deceased, E. H. Turner, Administrator of the Estate of Modesto Garcia, deceased, has filed an application in the County Court of Kerr County on the 7th day of April, A. D. 1924, for an order to sell the following property of said estate, situated in Kerr County, Texas, to-wit: Being an undivided one-sixth (1-6th) interest in and to the following described tract or parcel of land situated on the Waters of the Guadalupe River about 18 miles west from Kerrville, in Kerr County, Texas, to-wit: Survey No. 1716, Certificate No. 299, Abstract No. 899 Patented to Modesto Garcia, on the 20th day of January 1892, by Patent No. 349 in Vol. No. 24, containing 160 acres of land, which said application will be heard by said Court on the 5th day of May, 1924, at the Court House of said County, in Kerrville, at which time all persons interested in said Estate are required to appear and answer said application, should they desire to do so.

Herein Fail Not, but have you before said Court, on the first day of the next term thereof, this Wit, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness my hand and official seal, at Kerrville, Texas, this 7th day of April, A. D. 1924

Edwin McCarty, popular backstop for the Kerrville Athletics, left Sunday afternoon after the game to attend the opening of the Fiesta San Jacinto in the Alamo City, returning here Tuesday.

People daily passing up and down Water Street little realize improvements that are going on right here in the business section of the city. The Kerrville Bakery is having erected an addition to their building, in the rear and adjoining the present structure, to be used as a store room for flour. The new room is being constructed of brick, is 22x45 feet in size and when completed will be fire and vermin proof. Mr. Wolfmueller says he is not building for the future, but to handle his present business.

Postmaster Gold received official notification of the issuance of a special series of postage stamps commemorating the three hundredth anniversary of the settling in New Netherlands, now the State of New York, of the Walloons in 1624. The stamps will be received by the local office about May 10th and will come in three denominations. The 1-cent stamp, printed in green, will have for its central design a view of the ship, New Netherlands, on which the Walloons sailed; the 2-cent stamp, printed in red, represents the landing at Albany, N. Y.; and the 5-cent stamp represents a marker located at Mayport, Fla., showing the landing place of one colony of Walloons.

D. A. Large of Leakey was a business visitor in the city Tuesday.

Mrs. Percy O. Hill and Mrs. Louie Heimann motored to Center Point and back Tuesday evening.

Miss Daisy Jennings returned Sunday afternoon from a ten day's vacation spent with relatives and friends in Houston.

Mrs. Ben Rozell and little son, Banks Jr., left Monday for Roseborough, Ark., where they will make their home.

Mrs. Thelma Staffel of San Antonio, pianist of the concert given recently at Tivy High School, was the house guest of Mrs. E. E. Dietert while here.

Dr. O. P. Dahlken of San Antonio was a pleasant caller at The Sun office Wednesday, having accompanied Mrs. Dahlken here for the Eastern Star School of Instruction. Dr. Dahlken is Bexar County Forester and spent several weeks here last year rejuvenating pecan trees.

Prof. C. C. Mason, wife and daughter, together with 10 students of the former's agriculture and animal production class at Schreiner Institute, left last Friday afternoon in two automobiles for College Station to attend the State judging contests held there. They were expected to return last night.

After a pleasant visit of three weeks here with his brother, John H. Ward, Lou Ward and daughter, Miss Muriel, of Mount Vernon, Ill., left Tuesday morning on their return trip. Mr. Ward motored to San Antonio with them, returning home the following day. The visitors came only intending to remain one week and the fact it was with reluctance that they terminated their stay at the end of three weeks shows their enjoyment of the beauties of the Hill Country.

San Antonio Lions Club Here

A large delegation of members of the San Antonio Lions Club came up last Saturday evening and put on a brief program at the St. Charles Hotel. The main purpose of the meeting was to start an organization here.

A luncheon was served to the members and a small number of local citizens who were present. Following the refreshments a program of musical numbers and talks setting forth the work and purpose of the Lions Club was rendered.

It was decided that the time is not yet ripe to form a Lions Club here as two of the most important organizations of this city cover practically the same matters as does the Lions organization. The program rendered and the refreshments were greatly appreciated by the entire attendance.

Those who were here from San Antonio included Jevelyn King, W. G. Higgins, W. C. King, Theo. Vann, Robt. M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Moulde, Dr. J. H. Reagan, F. F. Ludolph, Major Parmenter, C. P. Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Burney Phelps, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Latimer, Eileen Henry, J. Gilette, L. Marshall, Professor Dodd, J. J. Janota, Della Janota, Mrs. John Janota, Mrs. Frank Konakovsky, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pearson, L. S. Wood and Margaret Pearson.

Edwards County Echoes

Edwards County Leader, April 18: A big truck load of dynamite arrived Sunday evening and was hauled out to the new Kerrville Highway where it will be used for blasting Monday morning. It was probably the most explosive ever brought to Rocksprings at one time.

Bob Fairbanks, who was shot in the head several weeks ago, and was carried to Kerrville Hospital for treatment, is now so far recovered that he was out in a car this week. He still has some paralysis in his right side but gradually is getting all right.

Little Miss Lessie Shanklin was taken hurriedly to Kerrville Sunday for an operation for appendicitis. The operation was delayed almost too long, and uneasiness was felt for her, but the report that came Monday was to the effect that Lessie was improving as well as could be expected.

The Highway in Real County

Edwards County Leader, April 18: W. E. Simpson of San Antonio, County Engineer, was in Rocksprings this week for the monthly meeting of the Commissioners' Court. Asked about the status of the plans for building that part of the Rocksprings-Kerrville highway in Real County, Mr. Simpson said about three things are causing delay. The plans for this part of the road are not quite ready. And second, this fifteen miles of highway is costing more than at first estimated, and more money must be provided. The Schreiner Company is to bear a large part of the expense, and the State Highway Department must be looked to for more funds, and Mr. Simpson did not know what the Department was going to do about it. And third, some of the land owners whose property is crossed by the road are objecting and asking what is considered excessive damages, etc. Mr. Simpson did not know what would be done about this—it will be land owners vs. Highway Department, it being a State road. The Department might decide to abandon the entire project if it seemed that the people of that community were opposed to a connected good road to Kerrville. If this is done it will work to the injury of Rocksprings and this part of Edwards County, and it is to be hoped this trouble can be amicably settled. Mr. Simpson said the plans were still not quite ready for opening bids on the ten miles of new highway from the Val Verde County line this way.

Last week Chas. Real, breeder of fine Delaine-Merino sheep, received a very fine ram from Ohio for breeding purposes. The animal was shown on the streets and many favorable comments were heard as to size, density and firmness of fleece and smoothness of body. Mr. Real has built up a State-wide reputation as a breeder of fine rams for the market and is going after the business in an up-to-date manner. The Sun job department recently turned out a thousand folders for distribution to his many customers and the sheepmen of the Southwest generally, and elsewhere in this issue will be found an advertisement* (one of a series) setting forth why Mr. Real's rams are the best buy in this section.

History of the Sheep Industry of the Hill Country From 1857 to Present Date

By Chas. Real, Breeder of Delaine-Merino Sheep

IT is my endeavor to give in these columns a little piece of history of the sheep industry of Kerr County from the time the first small flocks were brought into the county, until the present time. It was rather a difficult task to procure exact data on this industry in the early days, but I think these dates are about accurate.

It seems that the first small flock of sheep was brought to this county the fall of 1857 by Casper Real, my father. Same were wintered on the old Real homestead on Turtle Creek and, owing to the wet winter and extremely high sage grass, the flock did so poorly, that father had to take them back to Bexar County and did not venture to return with them until about ten years later.

In the meantime, about 1860 or 1861, Sidney Rees Sr. brought a flock into the county, ranging them, part of the time, on the old Rees place, near the mouth of Turtle Creek, and part of the time five miles above Turtle Creek, where Walter Real now lives.

From then on several flocks were brought in by different ones.

The industry was really in an experimental stage until about 1875.

From that time on the number of sheep increased more rapidly and in 1890 the county tax rolls showed there were 58,157 sheep in the county, at a valuation of $174,471.00.

We find from the foregoing figures that from 1888 to 1893 the sheep industry of this county and the State of Texas was at its peak.

From the statistics of the Agricultural Department, the same applies to the whole of the United States, which is shown by figures further on in this story.

Rams for breeding purposes were in those days mostly imported from Vermont and were of the heavy Merino type, making a splendid cross, as the breeding ewes were nearly all of a light type, some even coarse in wool.

From 1895 to 1897 the sheep industry received a severe setback, when wool went below the lowest price in history. This was during Cleveland's second administration, when wool was placed on the free list.

It was several years after a tariff was placed on wool before the sheep industry began to recover from the shock. By 1900 the breeding of sheep became very profitable again and the herds were increased to great numbers. Some small fortunes were made from this industry in this section of the State.

From that time until the present date, we are all more or less familiar with the "ups" and "downs" of the sheep men.

I find from the Assessor's rolls that we had 29,780 sheep in this county in 1923. On the basis of 8 pounds of wool per head, these sheep sheared 238,240 pounds, and the average price per pound was about 40 cents, making a total of $95,296.00. Not such a bad showing for Kerr County, is it?

So we see from the foregoing that the old adage, "Great Oaks from Little Acorns Grow," also applies to the sheep industry of the Hill Country of Texas.

The grade of sheep has improved with the number to such an extent that the wool of this section of Texas as a whole, and of Kerr County in particular, is very favorably known in all the Eastern markets.

The sheep industry is on a sounder basis than it has been for years and there is no good reason why it should not remain so for several years at least.

There is a shortage of wool, not only in the United States, but all over the world, which the figures below will show.

We produce in the United States about 250,000,000 pounds of wool annually. In the last three years, 700,000,000 pounds have been consumed annually. From this we see that from 60 to 70 per cent of the wool consumed in the United States was imported. About 800,000 farmers and stockmen produce wool in this country. Statistics further show that only about 75 per cent as much wool is produced in the United States now as was produced 33 years ago. Does it not seem that there is something radically wrong?

It is estimated that the consumption of wool in all mills during 1923 totaled 688,600,000 pounds; in 1922, 700,269,000 pounds, and 572,499,000 pounds in 1921. The stocks of wool held by dealers and manufacturers were reported at 354,641,000 pounds on December 31, 1923, as against 440,203,000 pounds on December 31, 1922. The imports during the seven months ending January 31, 1924, were 93,557,359 pounds, as compared with 250,306,470 pounds in the same period ending January 31, 1923, and 94,559,567 pounds ending January 31, 1922.

Nearly 1,000,000 sheep and lambs are slaughtered for food per month. In 1919 statistics show there were 3,000,000,000 pounds of wool produced in the world. In 1922 (three years later) the total production was only 2,704,047,000, a decline of 10 per cent. This decline was found mostly in South American wool production.

As the older sheep men will remember, in former years San Antonio was our only wool market; it was virtually the market for the entire State and even parts of New Mexico.

About 1895, Capt. Chas. Schreiner became interested in the wool market at Kerrville, at first buying and storing wool for a few of his customers, and in the course of a few years established a wool and mohair commission firm, which has grown to be the largest in the State, which gives the sheep and goat men of this section a splendid market, and the Chas. Schreiner Commission Company, being in a position financially to make liberal advances on wool and mohair, have done much towards the upbuilding of this great industry.

With the natural advantages and the splendid market for wool at our very door, this and surrounding counties will always be in the limelight as a great sheep and goat raising country.

The goat industry of this section of the State is conducted on a large scale and the mohair raised is the best in the United States.

At present prices of goats and mohair (which are not on an equal basis to one another), it is the most profitable business of any in the Hill Country.

We find in 1923 there were 34,200 goats assessed in this county, at a valuation of about $85,500.00. Another creditable showing for this county.

Prices received for 12-months wool from 1888 to 1918 (this record was kept by Mr. Walter Real and kindly furnished by him):

1888, 17½¢; 1889, 22¢; 1890, 22½¢; 1891, 22½¢; 1892, 19¢; 1893, 17¢; 1895, 12½¢; 1896, 8½¢; 1897, 10¢; 1898, 15½¢; 1899, 16½¢; 1900, 17¢; from 1901 to 1904 the prices were from 14½¢ to 18½¢; 1905, 25¢; 1906, 25¢; 1907, 25½¢; 1909, 26½¢; 1910, 19½¢; 1911, 18¢; 1915, 25¢; 1916, 40¢; 1917, 60¢; 1918, 63¼¢.

A FEW WORDS TO THE FARMERS OF KERR COUNTY

I can not refrain from saying a few words regarding the raising of sheep on the farms.

Some of my farmer friends seem to be slow in taking advantage of a proposition which has made Ohio and several other states in the Union famous and wealthy. The excuse so many offer for not running sheep in connection with their farms is that they know nothing about sheep and, therefore, would make a failure.

The idea is to start with a few good ewes and as your bunch increases in number you will gain in experience.

Those Kerr County farmers who haven't a bunch of sheep are missing a great opportunity of "picking up some easy money." Will be glad to give anyone interested full details, or you can ask our County Agent; he will be glad to give you all necessary information.

More Quail in Fall

Austin, Tex., April 21.—When next fall's hunting season opens the supply of wild quail and pheasants will have been materially increased, according to plans now being formulated by the State Game Department in cooperation with ranchmen and sportsmen interested in wild game in Texas. Wild game, however, will be placed on restricted hunting grounds until the flocks become large enough to be distributed throughout the State.

Carrying out these plans, 500 quail have just been liberated on St. Joe Island, five miles off the mainland at Rockport, by Dr. Frank Kent of San Antonio, who is operating under a permit granted by the State Game Department. Young quail from this flock will be trapped and distributed on the mainland. This 50,000 acre island had been leased by Dr. Kent and others interested in wild game in Texas for propagation purposes.

Game Commissioner Boyd has recently purchased several thousand quail in Mexico and released them on ranches in the State for the purpose of restocking the hunting fields of Texas.

During the coming summer 15,000 pheasants will be brought to the State from northern points and these will be released on ranches for propagation purposes, Commissioner Boyd said.

Bird Protection Receiving Attention

Junction Eagle, April 11th: Following out the plans worked out by Holland's Magazine, under a department known as the "Holland's Southwestern Bird Sanctuary Campaign," Mrs. John B. Wilson of near Telegraph is co-operating with this magazine by enlisting the support of land owners and sportsmen by having them sign a pledge drawn up by Holland's Magazine.

The land owners' pledge is as follows: "Realizing the great value of birds in their relation to agriculture, and their deeper, spiritual meaning, I herewith dedicate the land under my ownership or otherwise under my supervision or control, as a Southwestern Bird Sanctuary, dedication to be for not less than a period of five years from date. I agree not to hunt or to permit hunting on said land; to do my best to protect every species of bird not declared a pest under the game laws of the State; to provide water during time of drouth and such food as accessible during extreme winter weather, to endeavor to preserve patches of breeding and feeding ground; and to post sanctuary notices in conspicuous places."

The sportsmen's pledge reads: "Viewing the disappearance of native animals, birds and fish with alarm, and being sensible of their great economic and spiritual value, I herewith pledge myself, as a sportsman of the Southwest, to observe the game laws of my State and to report infractions of them; to kill no more than I need and never to kill wantonly; to spread the gospel of conservation whenever the opportunity presents itself; to respect the rights of others in the field and refrain from entering posted property, and to bear in mind that future generations are entitled to some of the same sort of sport which I now enjoy."

Mrs. Wilson has already sent in a number of pledges and is securing others as she finds the time. This is a very commendable public service on the part of this great magazine of the Southwest and those who are co-operating with it. This country should be especially interested in this work. We are, or should all be, in favor of game and fish protection and the birds that are among our best friends should not be overlooked.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Browning and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Griffin spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Griffin.

The picnic given at the Pebble School House Sunday was very much enjoyed. They also enjoyed the sermon by Rev. J. W. Orr.

School will close here Friday, the 25th after a very successful year. A nice program will be rendered both Friday and Saturday nights. The Friday night program consists of short plays, while the Saturday night program consists of "Aaron Slick from Punkin Crick," and one short play. Everyone is cordially invited.

MOUNTAIN HOME ECHOES

Mrs. A. C. Kimble went to San Antonio Tuesday to attend the Battle of Flowers.

Little Loy Estes is quite sick with acute tonsillitis, but is better at this writing.

The tourists are beginning to travel now and all are loud in their praise of this beautiful country.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hill spent the week end with Mrs. S. J. Kendall on the McCullough Ranch.

Mrs. Oehler gave a party for the young folks Monday night, in honor of her son, Herbert.

Mrs. Roy Kemp spent Tuesday afternoon at Mountain Home. She was having her car repaired.

Boyd-Jetton, our mail driver, is on the sick list and Elmo Staudt has been taking his place for several days.

Mrs. J. M. Hatch and children of Kerrville spent the week end with Mr. Hatch at their ranch on the Divide.

There was a good sized crowd at Sunday School Easter morning. We had no preaching but a short program consisting of readings by Miss Lilla Zachry, Miss Ruth Duderstadt and Louis Nelson, were very much appreciated. The ladies spread a wonderful dinner on the table in the shade of the trees, which everyone enjoyed. After dinner the children were engaged in hunting Easter eggs and the grass all around the trees seemed full

LOCAL HACK AND BUGGY MARKET ALMOST NIL DURING PAST DECADE

No New Vehicles Stocked Since 1916, Survey Shows—Three Cars Sold Annually Twenty Years Ago.

During the past decade the bottom has dropped completely out of the local hack and buggy market, a recent survey shows. A score of years ago two and three car loads of horsedrawn passenger vehicles were sold every year.

Today the automobile has the market almost to itself. Nearly every family has a motor driven vehicle, but few buggies or hacks being seen. Back in 1909 2,000,000 horse-drawn vehicles were sold as against 80,000 automobiles, a report on the National survey states. Figures for last year show the sale of approximately 4,000,000 motor cars during 1923 as contrasted with 100,000 horse-drawn vehicles.

No new buggies or hacks have been carried in stock by local concerns, so far as could be learned, since 1916. Chas. Schreiner Co. purchased several carloads just about the time of the outbreak of the World War, finally closing them out at a loss two years later.

One or two firms have several second hand passenger vehicles, it was learned, but the demand for any sort of horse-drawn vehicle of that type has about become extinct. Small stocks of harness, mostly for wagon and plow, can be found in a few local stores, but buggy harness is almost as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth.

This is not to be taken as meaning that motor cars have replaced the horse. Far from it. Small stocks of farm wagons are carried today, as well as other farm transportation vehicles drawn by horses. Government figures show that last year there were more than 18,200,000 horses in the United States, only three million less than in 1918. The number of horses in use on farms has decreased, but the quality has become better. "Plugs" have been discarded for the better bred horses which are worth more to the country and do not consume any more feed than the "scrub" variety.

The work horse has a place in agriculture that the tractor and motor trucks have not yet filled and possibly never will. That cannot be said, however, of the passenger motor car and the horse-drawn vehicle. When the market for buggies and hacks drops from 75 to 100 annually to none in a period of ten short years, it is eloquent indication that the passenger automobile has displaced the horse-drawn carriage and has come to stay.

ENGINEERS ARE INDICATING GUADALUPE POWER PLAN

Austin, Tex., April 22.—H. S. Hunt, vice president of the Fargo Engineering Company of Jackson, Mich., was in Austin Tuesday gathering additional data from the State Board of Water Engineers regarding the water possibilities of the Guadalupe River. An engineer is on the Guadalupe continuing the study of that stream and 13 damsites owned by W. B. Dunlap and Brown estate of Orange. If the engineer's report is favorable, financiers will put up the money for the development of this gigantic power system. Hunt merely intimated while here that the proposition looked good. He did not divulge any details of his opinion.

By using 13 dams it is proposed to develop between 75,000 and 100,000 horsepower to be used as power in cotton mills and for consumption in near-by cities and towns like San Antonio, San Marcos, New Braunfels and Seguin; also for a possible Austin-San Antonio interurban.

While in Austin, Hunt was taken for an inspection of the Colorado River by John A. Norris, chairman of the water board, and given a description of the water power possibilities in the canyon section of dams in the Colorado to supplement the Guadalupe power with which to sell power in Austin, Waco, Taylor, Temple and other places.

War on Mosquitoes

Mayor Adkins announced Tuesday that the annual war on mosquitoes in Kerrville was now under way and would be continued from now until late fall in order to keep the city free from these disease-carrying pests.

The campaign, Mr. Adkins said, will be waged along the lines laid out by the Government expert last year, and stagnant water holes, water barrels, weeds and other places where mosquitoes ordinarily breed will be checked up each week. The Mayor believes that by starting this early and keeping up the campaign regularly, the city can be kept free from mosquitoes for the tire summer.

to deep center that the fielder finally got under after a long run.

The visitors rallied in the fifth and put over four runs with the aid of three hits, one of which was a triple with two on base, and a walk. The Athletics came back in their half of the same frame and scored three times on two doubles and a pair of singles. The thirteenth tally was scored by Karger in the seventh after two men were out. An error gave him first and second and he scored on McCarty's single.

The score: R. H. E.
Chic Chics 003 040 000—7 10 5
Athletics 306 030 10*—13 15 2
Batteries: Snyder, George and Austin; Stevens and McCarty. Umpires: Flory and Fawcett.

FIRE APPARATUS IS DEMONSTRATED BEFORE LARGE CROWD OF PEOPLE

Just about the time the demonstration came to an end a dense smoke was discovered issuing from the rear of the Chas. Schreiner Co. oil and explosive house on the bank of the river. The truck promptly went to the scene with the hose connected to the pumping plant and a single sweep of the water completely extinguished the fire where brush and trash were being burned in cleaning up the park. After the little excitement subsided the apparatus was taken to the Thompson river crossing, where water was pumped direct from the river at the same high pressure.

Mr. Barbee, representing the Watrous Fire Apparatus Co., put on the demonstration Tuesday afternoon with equipment made by that concern. He was en route to San Antonio from Fredericksburg, where he sold that city a complete triple combination outfit and a huge electric siren Monday.

No negotiations were entered into by the City Commission for the purchase of apparatus for Kerrville, but the demonstration forcibly showed what could be done with the proper equipment and it is hoped that arrangements can be made soon to buy an outfit to furnish adequate fire protection to the city.

An order was placed by the Commission the first of the week for the purchase of ten helmets and waterproof coats for the use of the members of the fire Department.

ELDRIDGE ERECTING WARE HOUSE ON SCHREINER STREET

Workmen began Monday morning on the erection of an office and ware house building on Schreiner Street for L. W. Eldridge, and when completed will be used by Mr. Eldridge in connection with his freight line between here and San Antonio.

The building, 30x40 feet in size is being erected by J. W. Floyd, and judging from the progress being made the ware house will be ready for occupancy by the first of next week. The building will be of the latest style of construction for buildings of this kind, with ventilated roof that will enable Mr. Eldridge to handle all kind of produce in the warmest of weather without danger of spoilage.

Since purchasing the truck line from J. G. Ayala recently, Mr. Eldridge has continued his office with Mr. Ayala pending the construction of his own quarters and with the completion of same this firm will be in position to better handle their rapidly increasing business.
