COTTON FORECAST IS PLACED AT 14,340,000 BALES IN LATE REPORT

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Cotton production this year as indicated by the condition of the crop September 1 was announced Monday by the department of agriculture to be 14,340,000 bales of 500 pound gross weight, as compared with 14,362,000 bales indicated a month ago, and 14,828,000 bales ginned in the 1929 crop.

The condition of the crop on September 1 was 53.2 per cent of a normal, compared with 62.2 on August 1 this year, 55.4 a year ago and 56.8 the September 1 ten year average, indicated a yield of 153.2 pounds per acre, compared with 155.3 pounds on August 1, 155.0 pounds last year and 155.1 pounds the ten year average.

The total abandonment of acreage after July 1 was placed at 2.2 per cent, leaving 44,791,000 acres for picking, on which acreage the department's estimate of the indicated total production was based. The area in cultivation July 1, was 45,815,000 acres and the average abandonment after that date for the ten years, 1920-29, was 3.5 per cent. The acreage to be picked, based on the average abandonment, used a month ago in computation of the August indicated production was 44,252,000 acres.

The drought apparently had little effect on the cotton crop, which was indicated Monday by the department of agriculture from conditions existing September 1, as being 14,340,000 bales, a reduction of 22,000 bales from the production indicated a month ago.

The indicated crop is 488,000 bales smaller than last year's and 688,000 bales less than the average crop of the last five years.

ROCK CRUSHES LIFE OUT OF POTASH MINER NEAR CARLSBAD SUN.

Andrew Kesti, age 29, was killed in the shaft of the American Potash mine, east of Carlsbad, Sunday afternoon, near 1:30 when hit in the head by a large rock. At the time of the accident it was said that the regular crew was in the shaft, shoveling out the rocks that had been loosened by blasting. Mr. Kesti was assisting and a half an hour before the rock fell had cleared the walls of loose gravel and rock. A huge slab that fell, crushing the life out of the unfortunate miner, was about waist high, but started falling when he was stooping. Had he been standing, the accident probably would not have occurred. The rock, five feet long, two feet wide and ten inches thick, is believed to have struck the miner on the shoulder, pushed him down, crushing his head.

73 BALES HERE

At noon today the two gins at Hagerman had ginned a total of 73 bales of cotton. The Akin Gin turned out 21 of these and the Farmers' Cooperative Gin, 52. Many farmers are now picking a bale of cotton daily.

MAY POOL MINERAL RIGHTS

Representatives of the New Mexico-Osage Cooperative Royalty Co., with headquarters in Roswell, were in conference with about thirty local farmers at the Hagerman theater last night in regard to a proposed oil pool of mineral rights throughout the state.

On last Saturday morning Mr. Baugh brought a stock of his cotton to our office, which carried 204 bolls, squares and blooms, sounds fishy we know, but nevertheless it remains a fact.

MAN ARRESTED UNDER HABITUAL CRIMINAL ACT IN CHAVES COUNTY JAIL

Charlie Chambers, alleged to have nine criminal convictions to his credit Thursday night was brought to the Chaves county jail at Roswell from Roosevelt county for safe keeping. Chambers was recently returned to Portales from the state prison at Santa Fe for re-trial under the habitual criminal act. According to official records Chambers has been arrested twenty-six separate times and has served time in twelve state and federal penitentiaries. Chambers had served a term of two and a half to three years in the state penitentiary on charge of robbery and was returned to Portales from Texas after a flight for his extradition.

Roswell officers say that Chambers has committed at least a dozen crimes for which he has never been apprehended. Information gathered by Roswell officers has Chambers credited with the following crimes:

Highway robbery of a man at Clovis in which $32.50 was secured; Robbery of Joyce-Pruit Company's store at Portales and J. C. Penney Company store; Robbery of Peoples Mercantile Company's store at Lovington and filling station at Elida; Theft of a new Chevrolet coupe at Artesia and robbery of gasoline warehouse in Artesia; Robbery of Santa Fe depot at Hagerman, robbery of a store in Hagerman and theft of a Ford car there which was driven to Roswell and abandoned; Robbery of Peoples Mercantile store at Carlsbad and theft of Chevrolet car; Robbery of J. C. Penney's store at Clovis and Carlsbad and a long list of other offenses.

DISEASE MAY TAKE A GREATER TOLL THAN THE STORM AT SAN DOMINGO

SANTO DOMINGO—Santo Domingo, devastated by a hurricane September 3rd which took more than 4,000 lives, feared that outbreaks of disease would cause a scourge as bad as the storm itself.

Insufficient medical supplies, unclean streets, and the lack of food all contributed to a condition which worried native and visiting physicians. Cremation of the dead continued.

Attitude of the physicians probably was best indicated in that all are taking every prophylactic injection possible. With the hospital survey unfinished, more than 1,000 storm victims already have been found to have gangrene, or other infections.

At one camp yesterday more than 1,300 persons took anti-toxin inoculations for typhoid. The medical supplies are sent here from San Juan and Havana.

The task of cleaning the city's streets of all their debris is proving impossible. There is not an automobile of truck, or wagon in the country which was not damaged.

VALLEY ONE OF SIX WHITE SPOTS ON THE BUSINESS MAP

The Pecos valley was in the center of one of the six remaining white spots left on the map of business conditions shown in the September issue of Nations Business. There were only six spots remaining on the business conditions shown in the September map, and the Pecos valley was one of the six.

A GREAT SCHOOL YEAR FOR DEXTER IS SEEN BY SUPT. GRAHAM

According to Superintendent Graham of the Dexter school, prospects are good for the best year that the school has ever enjoyed, to crown this season's efforts on the part of faculty and students.

At the opening day's chapel program, Superintendent Pope of Roswell delivered the address, which was followed by an excellent program. The devotional was led by the two local ministers, Rev. John Anderson and Rev. Edgar Johnson. Mrs. George Wilcox and Miss Avalee Barnes sang two beautiful vocal numbers.

Mr. Graham says that he is expecting a 15 per cent increase in enrollment over last year's number of students. He bases this expectation upon the fact that the scholastic census shows approximately this number of available pupils. The high school department is much larger than it was last year.

The school faculty this year is composed of: C. M. Graham, superintendent, 2nd year; P. N. Allbright, principal of the high school; Paul McMains of the agriculture and manual training department, J. B. Harwell, athletic director and coach, Miss Edmondson, of the Spanish and English departments; Miss Burum, commercial department; Miss Lucy Thomas, librarian and English; Miss Alma Thompson, music and art; Mrs. Ruth Andrews, home economics department; Mrs. Ethel Durand, 6th grade; Miss Violet Smith, 4th grade; Mrs. Joe Cazier, 3rd grade; Miss Blanche Pollock, 2nd grade and Mrs. Monte Goodin, 1st grade.

Basket ball organization is under way with an entire new team. About twenty boys have turned out for basket ball and athletics.

The agricultural department is making plans for successful work. New equipment has been ordered for the shop and rooms, and a better enrollment has been attained. Mr. McMains desires to make this one of the leading departments of the school because of the school's location in an agricultural country. The boys are showing a keen interest in the work.

Professor Harp organized an orchestra this week, to round out the school's aim of worthy school organizations.

SHEEP HERDER KILLED BY LIGHTNING THURSDAY

Margarito Garcia, cook in a sheep camp, forty-five miles northwest of Roswell, was killed by a stroke of lightning, Thursday, while attempting to do patrol duty during a terrific rain and electric storm. A coroner's jury summoned Friday morning at Roswell to investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Garcia, rendered a verdict that he met his death accidentally.

RECORD ENROLLMENT AT LAKE ARTHUR SCHOOL

The enrollment at the Lake Arthur school has exceeded all expectations according to Superintendent Bernard and is one of the largest in the history of the school. Fifty-eight pupils have been enrolled in the high school and 170 in the grade school. A commercial teacher will be added to the high school faculty.

Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Ramsey left Thursday morning for Glenrose, Texas, where they will make their home.

MASONIC LODGE IS TO SPONSOR BOY SCOUT TROOP OF HAGERMAN

At a recent meeting, the local Masonic Lodge voted to act as a sponsor to the Hagerman Boy Scout Troop. The National Boy Scout officials desire that all troops be sponsored by some organization within the town, and it seems fitting that the Masonic Lodge should have this privilege in Hagerman in view of the fact that these men have shown a decided interest in the local scout work.

The troop is advancing right along. Thirty-one scout tests have been passed by the scouts during the summer. The Raven Patrol emerges winner in a three months test passing contest by one test more than the Eagle Patrol. In accordance with the rules of the contest, the scoutmaster will award a prize to the winning patrol and the losing patrol will furnish the eats for a hike.

Three new boys joined the troop on its last meeting night—Monday.

HAROLD DYE, Managing Editor

SUCH A GOVERNOR

Give us a governor who will fix Hagerman's Main street and we will vote for him. Procure for us a gubernatorial adept who will oil the road from here to Hobbs and we will lend our ready support. Find us a guy for the mansion at Santa Fe who can assure us enough prosperity that we can pay for an automobile, a radio, a washing machine, a phonograph, electric dish washer, automatic shot gun, living room suite, gas range, overcoat for hubby, pair of silk stockings for wife, and rattle for baby, all on installments at the same time, to come out of our salary, and we'll scratch his back, but not his name. Look far and wide over the boundless west, until you locate for us a governmentally inclined buckaroo who is of the hard ridin', straight shootin', rip-roarin', brand who will take it upon himself after he is in office to come down and chase a few of our bootleggers so far we can't smell their breath, and we'll campaign for him. There is just one other requirement that we would mention. Besides having all of these virtues, the said gent must be a democrat.

COMING BACK

The once popular crop of the valley, alfalfa, is coming into favor again because of the price of hay. Several hundred acres that were plowed up and planted in cotton during the past few years will again go back to alfalfa shortly. Perhaps alfalfa hay will be around nine or ten dollars a ton by the time the new crop is ready to harvest another year, who knows?

The point at issue isn't that alfalfa is a better crop for the Pecos valley, even though the farmers can grow some of the best hay in the world here. The main point is that a good many are learning that it does not pay to put all of their eggs in one basket. After all is said and done low price cotton may be a blessing instead of a misfortune.

Before the close of the second August proration period the potential production in the Hobbs field had reached a total of 360,000 barrels daily, coming from approximately 50 wells. The Hobbs area is unquestionably the most active oil field in the United States at the present time.

Carl Panzran, self-confessed slayer of twenty-two persons, has paid the supreme penalty. He was hanged the other day at Leavenworth, Kansas, the first legal execution in Kansas since 1870. Panzran established a record almost equal to Billy the Kid.

INDIFFERENCE

Shortly, we shall hear how the politicians propose to save the country. Frequency of these proposals has made the common herd more or less indifferent. A good percentage of the people now-a-days take little or no interest in a political campaign unless they happen to have a friend in the race. They are willing to let special interests dictate the legislative policies and give no thought to the various political proposals, unless they are directly involved.

Political blunders have followed this indifferent attitude on the part of the average citizen. Most any politician is willing to advocate the thing that will get the vote of a special class, if he knows there will be no opposition to the proposal. It may involve the expenditure of millions of dollars. It may be a proposal to extend further tax exemptions to organizations or individuals. It may advocate the creation of more bureaus. Mr. Average citizen may manifest a passing interest in some pending bill or plan of the legislature, but he isn't interested sufficiently to make an effort to find out what it is all about.

After it is all over he may show enough energy to wonder why the taxes have been raised, but the matter stops with this.

FARM RELIEF WITH THE FARMER

Local farmers do not appear to endorse the idea of the federal farm relief plan, or rather they don't understand it. On the face of the proposition it looks very much like the federal farm board isn't going to be much of a factor in aiding the cotton grower this year. Growers are just a little leary of the plan advanced by the board to sell to the cooperatives; they don't know when or how it is to be sold; they fear that should they agree to turn their cotton over to the coops, which they have to do, the market may go to 20 cents and the cotton be sold at nine cents. It is the uncertainty of the plan that has created more or less dissatisfaction, for it places the grower in a position that he has nothing to say about when his crop shall be sold, unless he accepts the marginal pool, in which there is more or less risk.

Before the federal farm board can hope to accomplish its full purpose, it must work out the details relative to its marketing facilities and be able to explain them in such a way that all can understand, thus removing any distrust that may exist in the minds of the growers.

If a different plan is to be adopted, the sooner the better for the success of the enterprise.

COST OF PROHIBITION

Prohibition enforcement is costing the country approximately six cents per capita, per year, it has been announced in an official statement, says the Roswell Record. The cost in the district of which New Mexico is a part come to ten cents, probably higher because of the sparse population and large areas to be covered. Not a very heavy cost per capita considering the benefits achieved.

TWO MORE WEEKS TO REGISTER

Another joker passed by the 1929 state legislature has apparently been found in the registration law. Instead of closing the period of registration on August 25th, the error in changing the wording of the 1927 law has left a period of two more weeks open in which a voter may register. At least this is the interpretation of the disputed section, which has been made by some leading attorneys.

Citizens of a town not far away have protested the action of a hypnotist in using a waitress as a subject. Strange as it may seem little or nothing was said over the way the Hoover democrats were treated two years ago.

There is one thing for which the democrats must be accorded due credit—at the efficient management of their soup houses, they are past masters. The republicans are poor imitators.—Springer Tribune.

WHAT REPUBLICANS HAVE DONE FOR THE STATE'S WELFARE

Republican State Central Com-

Mrs. and Miss Voter: We are again with a message for you, because you are interested in the welfare of New Mexico. Make your home in this State. Prosperity is your prosperity; its progress is your progress.

Every law passed since we became a state eighteen years ago is a landmark. During that period New Mexico has made great advances in matters that are really worth-let us come to the last three half years during which the Republicans have had the office of Governor—a tremendously important period in the State of New Mexico. For the first time since the Republicans lost control of the government in 1923, we have no deficit. In 1923, we have a healthy surplus. Compare the expenditures during the three and a half years ending June 30th, 1930, with the expenditures during the three and a half years ending June 30th, 1927, and you will find that the Republican administration under Governor Hallett.

Public Schools and Education

The elementary and public high schools have expended $31,500,000 during the period of the Dillon administration. In the corresponding period of a half year of Hinkle administration the expenditure was $23,000,000. The $8,500,000 higher expenditure under the Hinkle administration has gone for better school terms and better salaries for teachers and for more complete and sanitary school buildings. During the three and a half years ending June 30th, 1930, the Dillon administration expended $6,500,000 for the institutions of higher learning aggregated $6,500,000. During the corresponding period under Hinkle and Hallett administration the expenditure was $4,500,000. During the Dillon administration $2,000,000 more was spent by Hinkle and Hallett. The answer is easy.

Institutions were crowded to overflowing. Many taxpayers, who help pay the expenses of the institutions of higher learning, could not get their children to them, because there was not dormitory or room space or enough professors to teach them. Those taxpayers were compelled to send their children out of the State to receive them of the advanced college education. There was a graver injustice to the children of the State?

Ask An Example?

Can you have it at any of the institutions. Let us take the University of New Mexico. When the administration assumed office, the students enrolled numbered 1,000. After buildings costing $1,440,000 had been erected and the institution for maintenance increased the enrollment speedily rose to an increase of almost three per cent.

Other institutions were taxed to capacity. To reasonably and justly house the institutions—penal and charitable—costing $1,440,000 was necessary. All the institutions are now crowded.

Public Highways

With the schools we have the highways. The work of the administration has been securing for New Mexico, the best and highest quality as can be paid for. There are a half years the administration expended for the maintenance of our highways $18,142,222.63. During the three and a half years of Hinkle and Hallett administration, there was expended $11,000,000 for the maintenance of our highways.

There are crying extravaganzas promising reduction of taxes. They don't tell where they mean they will reduce the school year or reduce the salaries of teachers and will reduce the efficiency of the institutions.

Can you reduce the gasoline tax together with the automobile tax almost two million dollars? Federal aid provides for the maintenance and improvement of our highways. The splendid system of New Mexico highways not one dollar appears in your property tax statement.

A Progressive People

The people of New Mexico demand schools and roads. These essentials are demanded now by every state in the Union. New Mexico's roads command the admiration of tourists from all sections of the United States. They pay in dollars and cents. The schools are for the training of our girls and boys so that they may become good, self-sustaining citizens.

Democratic Deficits

Hinkle went into office in 1923, promising reduction of taxes. He inherited a surplus of $278,000 from his Republican predecessor. When he went out of office he left a deficit of $210,000, and had not erected a single public building, though many were needed.

When Hallett was retired from office by the will of the voters, the deficit had mounted to $350,000 in the general fund. When Governor Richard C. Dillon took office January 1, 1927, he was faced with deficits in all funds aggregating $814,000, and still nearly nothing done to meet the demand for buildings at the various overcrowded educational, penal and charitable institutions.

Deficits Wiped Out

Under the Republican administration the deficits have been wiped out and a healthy surplus accumulated; $1,440,000 have been expended for the erection of absolutely necessary public buildings; we now have nine months school all over the State, and better teachers than ever before; the buildings, both new and old, of the educational institutions are crowded to capacity with New Mexico's boys and girls. The inmates of the hospital for the insane, for the feeble minded, for the deaf and dumb and the blind were never so efficiently managed. The Reform School has been converted into an industrial school; the Girl's Welfare Home is a real home. Before the new buildings were erected at the Penitentiary there were two prisoners to a cell—the cells are 7 feet by 7 feet by 5 feet, and enough prisoners for three in each cell. With the new buildings there are a third more prisoners than cell space. In the face of these facts there are those who criticize the Governor for paroling prisoners whenever there appears reasonable justification for doing so.

A Policy Of Ruin

Regardless of all the ranting and misrepresentation, these are the facts. If the Democrats mean what they say about reducing expenses, they would bring the State to ruin.

They speak of corruption in the Highway Department and the Comptroller's office. Under the Dillon administration not one dime of public monies has been lost through dishonesty, and when housecleaning has been needed the house has been cleaned efficiently and promptly by Republicans. 39-1tc—ADV.

"HOME OWNERSHIP" NEW POLICY FOR PHILLIPS

Local customers and friends of the Phillips Petroleum Company will be interested in their recent announcement of the adoption of the policy of "Home Ownership" in order to increase the number of its stockholders and customers in the territory where the company operates, thus allowing them to share in the ownership and earnings of the company that serves them. The company distributes motor fuels and liquefied petroleum gases to customers in 33 states through a marketing organization that includes over 950 company owned and operated service stations and more than 8,000 other retail distribution outlets. No new capital will be raised by the offering. Since 1921 the company has paid over $35,000,000 in cash dividends and during the same period has accumulated an earned surplus of over $36,000,000. The company has also, from time to time, given valuable rights to its stockholders. The stock is being sold by over 6,000 Phillips employees in a special campaign between September 2nd and September 15th. Purchasers of stock during the campaign will participate in the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents, payable October 1st.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT FORCES PREPARING FOR THE WINTER SEASON

Highway department forces all over the state are now preparing the roads for winter weather and getting winter equipment furnished up for the coming months.

Culverts are being cleaned out and drainage ditches are being denuded of weeds and debris washed in by the summer rains. The bridge department is replenishing stores in its emergency depots in various parts of the state. Snow plows are being gone over, oiled up and set in efficient running order ready for the first snowfall in the mountain regions.

The service bureau is assembling data ready for the annual fall flood of questions on this topic. Information on improvements of roads heretofore adversely affected by winter weather is being checked ready for dissemination to eastern and pacific coast touring bureaus who make an annual questionnaire on this subject.

New Mexico this year faces winter with better highway conditions than ever before, with a greater mileage of improved roads completed, better alignments in many places insuring less road damage by winter conditions, and many new drainage structures.

STATE MUST PAY FOR RESENTENCING HABITUALS

SANTA FE — The state should stand the expense of returning to the penitentiary a prisoner who has been taken back to the county seat from which he was originally committed to be resented under the habitual criminal act, Attorney General M. A. Otero Jr., advised State Auditor Victor Ulibarri Saturday.

Pending the attorney general's ruling, Mr. Ulibarri had withheld approval of a voucher presented by Sheriff Felipe Sanchez of Guadalupe county to cover his expense in bringing Eufrazio Bustos back to the prison after Bustos had been resented under the habitual criminal law.

PLANNING EXHIBITS FOR THE COUNTY FAIRS

Fall, nature's harvest time, is here and county fairs are being held on all sides. Just what products should be shown and how they are judged or scored is sometimes a question with the exhibitor. Miss Carolyn Wetzell of the New Mexico Agricultural College offers a few timely suggestions.

Usually a definite score card is used, which is made out before the booths or exhibits are put up. This should be studied carefully before any work is collected and every item exhibited should adhere to the requirements. Often certain pieces are disqualified because they do not conform, thus bringing down the total score. Another point to remember is always to exhibit under each item required; the all products may not be up to specifications, something is allowed for the effort.

A good many of the fairs this year are having community booths, showing different products. At the community contest held in Quay county on Labor Day, the groups exhibited under sewing were machine work, hand work and fancy work; under cooking, different kinds of bread, cake and salad dressing. The booths were judged for attractiveness, neatness and arrangement.

In planning a booth, choose first an attractive color scheme without elaborate ornamentation; the products will show better against a plain background. Give each article enough space that it will show to best advantage. Products should be grouped as they will be scored.

When showing vegetables and fruits, choose products of uniform size and color. Because a product is large does not mean that it is of the best quality; medium size is best. Eggs should also conform to these rules.

In sewing exhibits, see that all seams are finished, loose threads tied and ends cut. On colored articles watch the color scheme. A clothing exhibit should be planned so there will be a harmony of color.

In any exhibit, study first the requirements of each class, what constitutes perfection, and strive toward attaining perfection in each article exhibited.

... same old-fashioned house

For the owner of an out-of-style, poorly arranged, but structurally sound house the possibilities for a brand new modern home right over the old house on the same lot are almost limitless. Variations of design at the hands of a good modernizer are legion... Range of selection is practically as great as that offered the builder of a new house.

And modern, modernizing is thorough-going, but not expensive. For a third or a half of a new-house cost, you can continue to live in the familiar neighborhood among old friends and surrounded by your loved trees and flowers.

Let us tell you about modernizing... let us show you sketches of how your old house may become a new home. There will be no obligation... and we'll tell you the exact cost. Call today.

Attractive Small Frame Home That Gives Owner Most for His Money

Front porches are all too rare in the houses of today but here, though the house is small, we find a porch which will be a highly attractive place to rest on warm summer evenings.

By W. A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to practical home building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 407 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

After all, there are few homes more attractive than those which have been designed to meet the needs of the home builder of moderate means. Contractors in small towns have evolved designs for their customers. Most of these are of frame and are planned so that the owner will get the most for his money.

In this class comes the home shown in the accompanying illustration. This is a five-room story-and-a-half house. It is 22 feet wide and 26 feet deep, exclusive of the wide semi-enclosed front porch. This porch is one of the good features of this house. Front porches are all too rare in houses of today, but we have here, though the house is small, a porch which will be a highly attractive place to rest on warm summer evenings.

The house contains three rooms on the first floor and two bedrooms and bathroom on the second floor. How these rooms are arranged and the size of each are shown on the floor plans reproduced here.

It will be noted that the living room extends the width of the house, it being 11 feet 6 inches deep and 21 feet wide. This is a larger living room than is ordinarily found in houses of this size. The dining room is connected with the living room with a cased opening and is 11 feet by 13 feet. The wide opening between the living room and the dining room gives an effect of spaciousness and practically combines the two rooms. At one end of the living room is an open fireplace, and at the other is an open stair to the second floor. The kitchen is also a corner room and is 9 feet 6 inches square.

Two large bedrooms on the second floor are made possible by a wide dormer window set in the steep pitched roof at either side. These dormers also take away the plain appearance of the room and add to the appearance of the house.

The house is of frame construction and has a concrete foundation; the basement is of the same size as the dimensions of the house. The lower half of the house to the eaves has clap-board siding, and the gables at either end are shingled, as are the walls of the dormer projections.

This is an unusually good design for the home builder who needs a house of this size, as it is attractive in exterior appearance, its rooms are large and well arranged with the idea of giving the most in light and ventilation, and it can be erected at a comparably low cost.

MARKET SUPPLY OF CATTLE ABOUT SAME AS LAST YEAR-REPORT

Marketing—Reports of agricultural economists of the department of agriculture indicate that market supplies of cattle from August to December will be about the same as last year, but that the supply of fed cattle during the first half of 1931 will probably be smaller. The general disposition is to hold wherever justified by range and feed supplies, but conditions are poor in many of the important cattle states, and where this is the case heavy marketing is expected. Very few cattle or sheep have been contracted, and practically none for New Mexico. While corn is short in the corn belt, the production is better in the principal cattle feeding areas. Rains in late August improved conditions in most of the drouth areas.

In New Mexico range and feed supplies are generally fair, and where this is the case, some cattle will be held.

Demand—The demand for feeders this fall will probably be less than last fall, and will likely result in increased slaughter, but with cooler weather and improved industrial activity the demand may increase.

Prices—prospects favor an advance in prices during the next 12 months. The 6-month average price for 1930 was $9.74; 1929, $11.04; 1928, $10.62 and for 1922 it was $6.82. The price declines this year have carried the market to the lowest level in five years.

Number—the numbers of cattle for 1930 is estimated at 2.7 per cent larger than in 1929 and 4.1 per cent below 1928, the low point of the present production cycle. The numbers this year are 18.6 per cent below the record year of 1918.

Cattle on feed—The number is 1 per cent less than a year ago. East of the Mississippi river it was 8 per cent less and west of the river it was 2 per cent more. Liquidation from the drouth will probably be small.

New Mexico—Stocks of hay and feed grains from the bumper crop of 1929 are considerable higher than usual at this season. The winter wheat crop is estimated at only 1,328,000 bushels, compared with 4,734,000 bushels last year. However, indications are that coarse grains and hay have good prospects in many localities, and with some rains in September, crops above the average should be produced. It would be unwise for New Mexico to ship her crop surplus to the drouth stricken area, especially in view of the fact that the state has for fall marketing about half million head of cattle and calves, and over 600,000 sheep and lambs for which few contracts have yet been made. In the non-irrigated sections of the state the best farmers endeavor to keep surplus feed sufficient to last at least two years. Much of this surplus is coarse hay and fodder that could not be profitable shipped to the drouth stricken areas, even with the reduced rates now being offered by the railroads.

IMMIGRATION TO BE RESTRICTED TO AID THE LABOR SITUATION

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Further restrictions upon immigration to prevent increased unemployment will be imposed by the state department at the direction of President Hoover.

The chief executive announced yesterday American consular officers in Europe will examine future applicants for immigration visas with a view to rejecting all who might become public charges and add volume to those already out of work in this country.

In adopting this course Mr. Hoover said it would be similar to restrictions placed upon Mexican and Canadian within the last 15 months.

The state department informed the president it had become apparent in March, 1929, that many seeking entrance from Mexico were laborers who ran a risk of becoming public charges, and consequently, the restrictive policy was adopted. Labor immigration from that country, has now practically ceased, the department added, and similar steps have brought a considerable falling off in Canadian immigration.

Mexican immigration had dropped in July to 324 persons. Last year, 6,280 persons came from that country.

A Daily Cleansing Helps To Keep The Skin Beautiful

WHILE most women cannot go to a beauty salon very often, none of us are too busy to set aside a few minutes each day for beauty care at home. There is nothing difficult or complicated about home beauty treatments, and for every mark that age or worry leaves on the face, there is a simple, but effective treatment you can give yourself with your own two hands. You will be surprised how quickly the skin responds to just a few minutes of regular daily care.

A clean skin, of course, is the only basis for any beauty treatment. Given this, and a pair of willing hands, only three toilet accessories are necessary to provide a refreshingly clear complexion. These are: a cleansing cream, plenty of tissues to remove the cream, and a skin tonic to tone and freshen the face.

For a simple yet effective cleansing spread a generous amount of cleansing cream up over the face and neck with your cushioned finger tips. Then, with cleansing tissues wrapped around both your hands, gently wipe away the cream.

To remove the last bit of cream and gently close the pores again, saturate a bit of cotton with skin tonic and wipe up over your face. This will gently guard against open pores, and will leave your skin feeling cool and refreshed—ready for whatever special treatment it may need.

Things WORTH KNOWING

In the range areas the practice of holding steers over until they are 2 or 3 years old is giving way to the sale of the animals as feeder calves. The demand for lighter and smaller cuts of meat has brought about this change.

Concentrated buttermilk is an excellent poultry feed. This product is usually marketed in barrels or kegs. It may be fed either diluted in 6 or 7 parts of water as a drink, or in concentrated form in troughs. If fed in troughs, allow 3 pounds to 100 laying hens.

More than a quarter of a million bales of raw cotton go into the manufacture of cotton bags each year in the United States. Most of these are used in the wholesale grocery trade. There is a large opportunity, says the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics to substitute cotton bags for jute bags or bagging.

Growing animals not only need an abundant supply of protein, but the protein should be of the right kind. For example, experiments carried on at the U. S. Department of Agriculture farm at Beltsville, Md., show that vegetable or plant proteins are not so valuable in an egg-laying ration for hens as animal proteins such as meat scrap and fish scrap.

The first few weeks in the feed lot is a critical time for feeder steers. Start with limited quantities of concentrated feeds and increase them very gradually during the first 30 days. Roughages of good quality may be fed in any quantity without harm. However, they add bulk to the ration and the more roughage the steers eat the smaller will be the daily gains and the longer the fattening period.

Vetch is less likely to winterkill if seeded early in the fall. Late seedings are injured more because the plants are small and tender, often resulting in poor or thin stands and low yields of hay or seed. Some growers seed heavily, but where the winters are mild a thick stand injures the yield of seed. Winterkilling of vetch may also result from an excessive amount of moisture in the soil due to poor natural drainage.

Most asparagus growers cut the dead tops of the plants in the fall and burn them to destroy any disease germs or insects that may be present, but it is doubtful if this practice is advisable in regions where severe freezes occur. The old tops hold the snow and prevent deep freezing and blowing of the soil. Some growers harrow the bed or throw slight ridges over the rows, in the fall, but where land is inclined to wash, cultivating and ridging are objectionable.

To fatten the farm turkey for November 27 next, begin about the first of October, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. At first feed just enough to keep the bird a little hungry, and gradually increase the feed until it gets all it will clean up three times a day during the week before killing. Some turkey growers feed equal parts of corn, wheat and oats in the first part of the fattening period and gradually change to corn alone as the weather grows cooler. Old corn is a much better feed than new corn. The old corn should not be musty.

Rats are particular about food served to them in traps. Bread or doughnuts should be fresh, as rats will usually ignore them if even a little stale. Raw or cooked meats, bacon, fish, apples, melons, tomatoes, carrots and nut meats also are good baits. Cheese is an excellent bait for mice but is generally not attractive to rats. Use fresh baits and change them daily. A variety of baits used in successive traps gives better results than only one kind of bait. Baits are sometimes made more attractive to rats by sprinkling rolled oats, corn meal, or powdered milk lightly over the trap.

Some poultrymen think that poultry lice are a necessary evil, but there is no reason, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, why a flock can not be freed from lice and kept free. Late summer or early fall is a good time of year to treat the flock. It is probably better to do it before the molt. Sodium fluoride will kill all species of poultry lice. The Department of Agriculture recommends the "pinch method" of application. Put small pinches of the material among the feathers next to the skin; one pinch on the head, neck, breast, below the vent, on the tail, on each thigh, and on the underside of each wing when spread, and two pinches on the back. One application will destroy all the lice. Reinfestation occurs usually from stray fowls coming into the poultry yard and from stock added to the flock.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO DRAFT PLATFORM FOR STATE DEMOCRATS

SANTA FE—The reports emanating from Washington, D. C., that two million dollars of federal aid highway funds would be immediately available for New Mexico's use to help the unemployment situation have not been interpreted correctly, a highway bulletin released recently states.

Advices from the bureau of public roads to the highway department state that the 1932 fiscal year funds which are the funds supposed to be made available at once will not be paid until July 1, 1931, or at the beginning of the 1932 fiscal year. This means that New Mexico has in reality no more funds now than previous to the order advancing the 1932 funds but that the state can enter into an agreement with the bureau of public roads for the construction of projects and actual work started before July 1, 1931 if the state has enough cash available to finance itself ahead.

New Mexico's share for the fiscal year 1932 will be $1,984,363 or roughly two million dollars. If the state matches this allotment $1,125,000 would be required, or if all these funds were used, New Mexico would have to make available over three million dollars.

HOBBS SCHOOL ROW SETTLED

LOVINGTON—Judge G. A. Richardson denied the injunction sought by A. C. Chester of New Hobbs against the issuance of $250,000 in certificates of indebtedness authorized by the state for raising school building funds at Hobbs. The controversy was then settled out of court late Monday to the satisfaction of both parties. J. A. Chapman of Santa Fe, attorney for the defendants, announced the settlement was made on the basis of New Hobbs receiving $75,000 of the $250,000. Hobbs will receive the remainder.

The other members named by the state chairman in accordance with the authority vested in him at the recent meeting of the joint state advisory and executive committees, were as follows: Wm. B. Walton, Silver City; C. E. McGinness, Roy; T. E. Mears, Portales; Henry Coors and Pat H. McGaffrey, Albuquerque; Mrs. L. K. McGaffrey, Roswell; Miss Isabel Eckles and David Chavez, Jr., Santa Fe.

Chairman Brice is expected to call the committee together within the next three or four days to hold a preliminary conference and it will meet again later to complete its work, it was said Monday night.

Paint and varnish spatters on glass may be dissolved with turpentine or alcohol, or rubbed off with a dull knife.

Chocolate that appears white on the outside has been kept in an overwarm place, so that some of the fat has melted and has come to the surface. This does not injure it for use.

An imperfect seal, or lack of sterilization will cause catsup to spoil. Bottles should be sterilized, and filled while they are boiling hot with boiling catsup, and then processed in the water-bath canner for 30 minutes.

SANTA FE—The reports emanating from Washington, D. C., that two million dollars of federal aid highway funds would be immediately available for New Mexico's use to help the unemployment situation have not been interpreted correctly, a highway bulletin released recently states.

Advices from the bureau of public roads to the highway department state that the 1932 fiscal year funds which are the funds supposed to be made available at once will not be paid until July 1, 1931, or at the beginning of the 1932 fiscal year. This means that New Mexico has in reality no more funds now than previous to the order advancing the 1932 funds but that the state can enter into an agreement with the bureau of public roads for the construction of projects and actual work started before July 1, 1931 if the state has enough cash available to finance itself ahead.

New Mexico's share for the fiscal year 1932 will be $1,984,363 or roughly two million dollars. If the state matches this allotment $1,125,000 would be required, or if all these funds were used, New Mexico would have to make available over three million dollars.

HOBBS SCHOOL ROW SETTLED

LOVINGTON—Judge G. A. Richardson denied the injunction sought by A. C. Chester of New Hobbs against the issuance of $250,000 in certificates of indebtedness authorized by the state for raising school building funds at Hobbs. The controversy was then settled out of court late Monday to the satisfaction of both parties. J. A. Chapman of Santa Fe, attorney for the defendants, announced the settlement was made on the basis of New Hobbs receiving $75,000 of the $250,000. Hobbs will receive the remainder.

Gildkote (COPPER PLATED SHOT)

Peters High Velocity Shells have long been known for their extremely long range and hard hitting ability. And now you can get High Velocity in GILDKOTE (Copper Plated) Shot—Every shot is given a uniform coating of copper. This results in much more uniform patterns.

Ordinary lead pellets are quite likely to become deformed when leaving the muzzle of a gun, at high speed. This deformity frequently results in imperfect patterns. But with GILDKOTE Shot, this danger is reduced to the absolute minimum.

DYED TOPICS

By Harold Dye

E. L. Love of the Triangle Lumber Company at Dexter called our attention to the fact that he had advertised paint every week since we had been with the paper. That's right. He sure has. He says that the people come into his lumber store quoting the words, "It will pay you to figure with the Triangle Lumber Co., lumber, hardware, paint and cement." This shows that his advertising is being read, and after all, the fundamental aim in advertising is to get people to read the ads. This is sometimes accomplished by using the same wording every week, or by changing it suitably. Sometimes catchy phrases and pictures are employed, and other times, just logical reasoning. However, the easiest way to have your advertisements read is to put them in a paper that is read, and The Messenger is. You, yourself read it, or you would not know what we are saying here.

A Roswell business man said to us the other day, and his name will be supplied upon request, that he was more pleased with his ad in The Messenger than he has been with his ad in any paper in which he has advertised in twenty years, and he is a steady advertiser in newspapers.

Quit knocking your town or get out of it. We need more boosters. Quit criticizing the men of Hagerman who are trying to work for the best interests of the community. Would you do any better than they? A town is whipped in the first round of the battle for life, if its citizens are fighting each other. This may be illustrated thus—Tuesday afternoon we were driving along when we heard a squealing sound as though a pig were caught in a fence and couldn't get loose. We stopped and began to look around. Finally we spied two large badgers in a terrific fight. They were rolling over and over, clawing and biting. We took up a shot gun and approached to within thirty feet without their noticing our presence and killed them. Had they been less intent upon snapping each other, they would certainly have noticed their common enemy, and escaped to eat some more of the farmers' chickens.

It is thus with our town. As long as we fight each other, we must be ready to allow alien interests to swallow us up.

Poly's ticks will soon be again parading in public. They make their appearance every two years with an added supply every four years. However no insecticide can rid us

TURNING ON THE GAS

The Groom News of Groom, Carson County, Texas, carries an ad by a local car dealer who says that he has five used cars which he will sell for eighty dollars each and take it out in wheat at 80 cents a bushel. Now it is in order for Bay Curry to announce that he has some good used Chevrolets which he will sell for about twenty-five dollars and take it out in cotton at ten cents a pound.

Another good plan in regard to automobiles would be for Curry to sell me a new Chevrolet Six and take it out in a subscription to The Messenger for 355 years.

A bunch of Baptists got sprinkled here Sunday night—On the way home from church.

Our kid chewed up an electric light bulb the other day and we thought that she was entirely too young to get all "lit up."

Pete Losey will swear that I can shoot doves' heads off with my twenty-two while they are on the wing.

Where have I heard this before? Wife—"I'm ready now, dear." Hubby—"Well, you'll have to wait now till I shave again." Don't all you men speak at once, please.

My boss wants to know where in blazes my brains are, but he's getting off lucky. He's only known me a year and I've been asking myself that question all my life.

Two transient cotton pickers reported at the Farmer's Gin this morning that they had been picking cotton near Lubbock, Texas, and that they had picked 205 pounds of snaps from one and a half acres. They said that this cleaned the field. Another time when we should be thankful for our local crops.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT IT RAINS FISH IN LEA COUNTY SAYS RANCHER

Between five and six hundred pounds of catfish fell recently on the Joe Lane ranch, 55 miles east of Roswell during a terrific downpour which swept across this particular area of Lea county.

The catfish fell on an acre of ground and six miles away from nearest tank, preventing possibility of coming from an overflow. There are no lakes or streams in this part of Lea county, the only water supply being windmills flowing into surface tanks.

Mr. Lane said that he gathered about 100 pounds of the fish and placed them in tanks on his ranch. Many of the fish died, he said, approximately 100 of them surviving. Many of the fish were broken open when they hit the ground, others being driven head first into the mud. The fish were from 8 to 10 inches in length and were of the "blue channel" species.

Mr. Lane, aside from his wife and children, was displaying photographs of the spot where the fish fell, and pictures of the fish as proof of this strange occurrence. Joe Lane is one of the most prominent stockmen on the east side of the state and those who know him need no further proof of the facts in this case than his word.

While scientific explanations of such freaks have been offered for many years they are for the most part inadequate, it is believed. The most plausible theory offered in explanation is that the fish are sucked out of tanks, or streams by a terrific wind and then carried perhaps for a hundred miles or more and then turned loose.—Roswell Record Monday.

REVENGE

The young bride was standing on the tiled porch using a new pair of field glasses.

"Darning," she cried, "the real estate agent who told you that our house was only a stone's throw from the station is getting out of the train now."

"Oh, is he?" returned her husband grimly. "Well, give me a brick out of the garden and I'll do my best."

Alimony for Him

"I guess I'll have to give him up as hopeless," she sighed.

"Is he as bad as ever?" asked her dearest friend.

"Yes," she replied. "I've bought him the right shaving cream, the right tooth paste, made him use the proper tobacco; in fact, I haven't overlooked a single ad, and still he is impossible."

CHAPEL NOTES

The school orchestra played "America," while the students stood to sing our national hymn. "Love's Old Sweet Song," was also sung by the student body, after which Supt. White delivered the address of the afternoon.

As a preliminary to his talk, Mr. White requested that all pupils who know of children who should be in school, and who are not, to give him their names, and ask those children to come and join us every day at our studies. He asked that we tell them about the attractive courses of study offered here, and the beautiful grounds about the building, the modern conveniences, good heating, etc., which we enjoy, the excellent teachers and all the other things which might entice them to attend.

Mr. White began his talk by saying that some people think the American Desert is in New Mexico and Arizona. But they are mistaken. It is under the American hat. Of course this astonished us all very much, and after that we didn't feel quite so sure of ourselves. Then Mr. White told us that we should learn to control our minds, our thoughts, Concentrate. When studying in a noisy room, along with all the rest of the family—concentrate. Learn to allow their chatter not to annoy you. When you start a thing finish it. Concentrate until you have attained skill at that one thing. For instance, if you wish to major in history all during your life, study it, and widen your knowledge along that line constantly and persistently. That is the only way to become adept at it. Do not let other attractions side-track your mind.

Following this short talk by the superintendent, Prof. Harp made the announcement that lessons in elocution are being offered now, at the moderate price of one dollar a month. The orchestra played a march as the students passed to their classes.
