ALL TEACHERS ARE RE-ELECTED—MUST TAKE WAGE CUT

All of the members of the Hagerman school faculty have been re-elected to serve another year, but all must take a 15% reduction in wages.

The teachers without exception, were very gracious in their acceptance of the wage cut, forced by a slim budget for next year, and were of the opinion that it is better to draw less money and to have school the full nine month period. Although no contracts have been signed by them, it is understood that all will accept their present positions again.

COTTON CLOTHES NOW MOST POPULAR

NEW YORK—Cotton went wild gathering this spring and returned to become the height of style. New cotton looks very much like the new woolen fabrics. Some are ribbed, some are tweeded, some look like serges, others like home-spun.

Cotton laces and cotton meshes of all types are stressed. There are new chain meshes and lacy meshes all of which are smart. Striped or plaid patterns lead, with darker shades, even black, favored. Old fashioned seersucker is one of the popular striped fabrics.

STATE GASOLINE TAX $170,406 IN MARCH

SANTA FE—New Mexico's gasoline tax for March totaled $170,406.44 as opposed to $175,530.77 for March 1931. Mrs. Adolph Hill, gasoline tax collector, said Monday. The net receipts totaled $171,473.04 as compared with $176,457.41.

HAY FREIGHT RATE LIKELY TO REMAIN SAME GROWERS SAY

The inter-state commerce commission will not permit an increase in the freight rate of Pecos valley hay, representatives of valley hay growers who attended a hearing in El Paso, Saturday, believe. Further testimony in the hay rate case will be taken in Seattle, Washington April 9 and at Omaha, Nebraska on April 19. Testimony given by valley hay growers at El Paso showed that under the present conditions growers were losing money. Attorney Wallace of Roswell submitted a proposed level of rates for hay shippers from the valley. The proposed rates would be on a mileage basis, rather than shipments to group points.

Hugh Williams represented the New Mexico corporation commission and O. D. Hudnall the Texas corporation commission, sitting cooperatively with the two I. C. C. examiners.

MRS. N. C. SMITH DIED TUESDAY MORNING AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. N. C. Smith, 75 years of age, died at her home here early Tuesday morning, after an illness of nearly two years. She, with her husband, had been a resident of Hagerman for 24 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married in Falls County, Texas, December 22, 1856. During the World War, they lost one son, and three of their children are still living: W. B. Smith, of San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. Lila McCune of Fort Lewis, Washington and Joseph C. Smith, of Kansas City, who is employed on the Kansas City Star.

Besides these children, Mrs. Smith is survived by her husband, residing here.

Mrs. Smith's funeral was held yesterday afternoon in the Methodist church, with Rev. Bryan Hall in charge of the services. Burial was made in the Hagerman cemetery.

The many Hagerman friends of Grandfather Smith sympathize deeply with him in the loss of his wife.

American officers were told that three men answering descriptions of the slayers left Juarez, Mexico by motor car Sunday after inquiring the best route to Mexico City. Three pistols resembling those used in the massacre of Espinosa's wife and six children, were reported seen in a trunk at the back of the car when the men opened the trunk to store supplies. The car's description fitted that of the sedan seen near the Espinosa dairy ranch several times prior to the shooting.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

One of our readers suggests a practical plan for dealing with politicians who promise one thing and do another after the skunk is in the trap—so to speak.

His plan is to demand a written and signed resignation from each officer as soon as that person is elected—the same to be held in escrow in some public office. Then when the politician fails to measure up to his office, just declare the resignation accepted by popular referendum—Hot Dawg! A'n't dat sump'n'?

MAD DOGS.

A dog which was said by eye witnesses to be rabid, was killed Saturday afternoon near town. With as many dogs on the loose as the town of Hagerman boasts, all residents are warned to exercise the greatest of care over their children, and everyone owning a dog is asked to either keep the animal tied up or in a suitable pen until it can be examined.

Too many stray dogs always constitute a grave menace to the welfare of children, and the time should come when the town would rigidly enforce its dog taxing law.

ANENT TAXES

By Kenneth C. Preston

As one wise philosopher has said, the only two things of which the human race is sure are taxes and death. To the farmers and people owning real estate, it seems that the latter is coming before the former can be paid. In Minnesota a step seems to have been taken in the right direction, as a taxpayers league there has succeeded in reducing the taxes seven million dollars a year. True, the method was somewhat drastic, but the point is that taxes were reduced. New Mexico is no exception to the present over-taxed state and if business is to survive some action must be taken. In place of those statelites who are usually to be found when the legislature meets, demanding bigger and better expenditures and pork barrels, there should be a representative of the people present to tell our august lawmakers that this money should not be spent thusly but for the good of the state. So many people have the impression that they can do nothing about taxes and that they are helpless in the matter. All power comes from the people and the sooner candidates realize that promises are not to climb into office only but to be kept afterwards, the sooner the tax rate of New Mexico will be lowered to conform to the reduced valuations now. In other words, see that candidates stick to their campaign promises or else their usefulness as public servants will no longer be in demand.

HUGE QUAIL RACKET UNCOVERED LATELY

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Uncovering a new bootleg ring selling native bob-white quail, federal investigators are said to have secured names of more than a hundred prominent men, many of them multi-millionaires, who purchased the native bird illegally from the racketeers, according to a bulletin issued by the American Association, exposing a huge racket accredited with gutting southern state of their greatest game bird. The Railway Express Agency has been fined $90,700 for handling a shipment of 907 of the bootleg quail, seized from it at Holly Springs, Mississippi, March 17. The maximum fine of $100 a bird was assessed.

The birds were shipped from Magee, Mississippi, by a man giving the name of "H. H. Johnson, and the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana, as his address. The several crates were consigned to prominent people here to points in North Carolina and Alabama. A strange coincidence is that a ring bootlegging quail was uncovered in Memphis, Tennessee, a year ago almost to the day when 450 native bobwhites crated for shipment were found in a raid on a warehouse there. Warrants were issued for M. E. Bogle in connection with the raid. He fled. Bogle advertises extensively as a shipper of both native and imported quail. He gives the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, La., as his address.

Fred Belk, district attorney of Mississippi, who expects to prosecute the offenders, said: "After the seizure we put in a call for H. H. Johnson at New Orleans and the main operator there got a man by that name on the phone. When we asked if he was the one who shipped the quail from Magee, he replied that he was not and hurriedly hung up the phone. We tried again to find an H. H. Johnson at St. Charles Hotel, but the management reported there was no one there by that name."

U. S. Game Protectors Matt Grantham and C. F. Allen declared their belief that the handwriting on shipping tags was the same as that appearing on crates seized last year at Memphis. Some of the consignees were also the same. The case against Bogle of a year ago in Memphis is still in federal court there.

On the same day that newspapers were carrying stories of the latest game racket, Governor Conner signed the bill creating Mississippi's first game and fish commission, which sportsmen believe will stop such depredations. As birds were being stolen wholesale from the state coverts, plans were already materializing for establishment of a quail raising farm to restore the bobwhite supply. The cost of birds so produced will be much higher than the selling price of the smuggled birds.

Getting Ahead

There is usually nothing mysterious about getting ahead financially. It requires the application of the so-called common sense plus effort and will power. The men or women who want to get ahead never do so by indulging in every fly by night scheme that offers quick profits, such as taking hot tips from the stock market.

The people who are weathering the present times without serious difficulty are the ones who are spending less than they earn. They are staying closer to the ground and will be in a better position to make a quicker comeback when the tide turns. Of course there is no royal road to financial independence. The best of us will make bad bargains occasionally, but the wise man never makes the same mistake twice and for that reason we usually can profit by our mistakes.

We shall be glad to have our customers avail themselves of our services in solving financial problems.

A World's Record

MORE than three thousand births without a single loss of either mother or child! That is the official Piatt County record of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, in fifty years' family practice in Illinois.

No wonder mothers have such entire confidence in giving little ones Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin!

If you have a baby, you have constant need of this wonderful preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs. A child who gets this gentle stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels is always healthier. It keeps children's delicate systems from clogging. It will overcome the most stubborn condition of constipation. It builds them up, and is nothing like the strong cathartics that sap their strength and energy.

A coated tongue or bad breath is the signal for a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Children take it readily, for it is really delicious in flavor. Taste it! Take Syrup Pepsin yourself, when sluggish or bilious, or you are troubled with sick headaches and no appetite. Take some for several days when run-down, and see how it picks you up.

It is a prescription preparation which every drug store has ready; in big bottles, just ask anywhere for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

FARMERS REQUIRED TO USE MODERN METHODS

The new crop production program, which is a part of the reconstruction act, requires that a farmer to avail himself of this measure must not only be equipped to farm, but must use modern methods, according to G. R. Quenberry of the New Mexico Agricultural College, who is assisting with the work of the seed loan office at Albuquerque.

This was not meant as an agricultural expansion program, but one of safety. Every farmer must agree to raise a garden sufficient for home use, also feed for all his work stock, which is another feature that has not been included in previous measures. In other words, the government attempts to protect its loan by making the farmer produce the necessities of life on his farm. Furthermore, to insure these conditions being fulfilled, field men have been employed to check on borrowers, assist them in any way possible in carrying out a sane and safe program, and keep a complete check on their operations and see that they expend the funds as provided in the regulations set up by the secretary of agriculture. In New Mexico the state has been divided into twelve districts and fourteen men have been employed and located in these districts.

Farmers, in order to get loans, must agree to use practices recommended by the local representative of the department of agriculture, and to plant crops and seeds recommended by them. Briefly, experimenting will not be permitted.

SELECT CHAIRMEN

CHICAGO, Illinois—The democratic arrangements committee for the national convention selected temporary and permanent chairmen Monday for a compromise between militant supporters of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and their opponents on the committee.

Senator A. W. Barkley of Kentucky, backed by the Roosevelt forces, was the committee's recommendation for temporary chairman and keynoter.

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the executive committee and regarded as the keynoter candidate of the anti-Roosevelt faction, was recommended as permanent chairman of the convention.

The announcement of the committee's choices was made in a brief typewritten statement by Mr. Shouse who presided over the gathering while the session lasted all day and apparently there had been spirited debate. Mr. Shouse said that harmony had prevailed and that the actions of the committee were unanimous.

HEALTH COLUMN

Conducted by Dr. J. R. Earp, Director, New Mexico Bureau of Public Health.

CAUSE OF CANCER

Competent authorities at present hold the opinion that cancers are caused, in a practical sense, by various forms of chronic irritations, to which the human body is exposed from the cradle to the grave.

Striking examples of this principle are numerous. A cancer of the tongue or inside of the cheek, for instance, is often found directly opposite a jagged tooth. Cancer of the lip produced by the repeated irritations of a hot pipe stem is another common example. Cancer of the female genital organs is preceded in the majority of cases by some form of chronic inflammation. Tar, pitch, petroleum, soot, arsenic, dye-stuffs, and a long list of similar irritants, are responsible for the production of skin cancers.

On the experimental side, cancer was successfully produced in the laboratory, in 1924, by two Japanese scientists who obtained this result by repeatedly applying coal tar to the skin of rabbits' ears. Many investigators have since confirmed their findings.

Exactly how much irritation, or inflammation, operates to produce cancer or to favor its development, is the great question in cancer research today. For the average person, however, it is sufficient at present to know that some form of chronic irritation or chronic inflammation appears to play a most important part in the causation of all cancers.

While it has not yet been proved that a person can directly inherit cancer, it does occur more frequently in some families than in others; and there is reason, therefore, to believe that members of such families are more likely to have this disease. A few forms of cancer show a distinct hereditary tendency, but others show no apparent hereditary trace whatever.

The relation of heredity to cancer, however, is not sufficiently understood at present to warrant any statement which may be of real practical value.

This is the third of a series of ten articles on cancer prepared for the New Mexico Bureau of Public Health by the American Society for Control of Cancer.

Relationship

Two men who marry sisters are commonly called brothers-in-law, though Webster's dictionary defines a brother-in-law as "the brother of one's husband or wife" or "the husband of one's sister;" the dictionary states that the term is sometimes inaccurately applied to "the husband of one's wife's or husband's sister," and that the relationship between brothers-in-law is called "affinity."

Most Dangerous Hour

The most dangerous hour for those who drive automobiles is between five and six in the afternoon. More accidents occur then than at any other time of the day. "About five in the evening the driver is tired out by the day's activities," explains the head of the National Safety Council in Country Home. "His mind and muscles are not well co-ordinated and he is slow-minded."

Keeping Kissable

The country boy was asked why he broke off his engagement to the city girl. "Because," said he, "she wanted to always be playing kissin' games. One night she started countin' the stars and I had tuh kiss her every time a star twinkled. I didn't mind that so much, but I figured I'd had 'bout enough when she started to ring in lightning bugs!"

Benjamin Franklin Has High Place in History

The passing of generations has not dwarfed Benjamin Franklin. He seems to tower more and more over his contemporaries as the perspective of history lengthens.

This is hardly because Franklin brought the lightning down from the sky, or because he collected data on waterpots and earthquakes, or devised a remedy for smoking chimneys, or made a clock, or had more than an average knowledge of medicine.

Nor is it due to his political services, great as they were; nor to his publishing and printing activities; nor to his having signed the Declaration of Independence.

He was the first "civilized" public man in America. That accounts for his ever-growing fame.

It was the many-sidedness of Franklin, along with his humanity and his magnetism, that has projected the greatness of him down to the present time. In his era the man was a modernist. There was nothing reactionary in his make-up and yet he was never a radical.

Benjamin Franklin's enduring fame rests upon the fact that he was far in advance of his day and generation. He would not be lost in this modern world nor be bewildered by it. It is in the many ways in which he differed from his contemporaries rather than in his kinship with them that he stands out from his time.—Asbury Park (N. J.) Evening Press.

Changes in Viewpoint Brought About by Time

In Horace Greeley's time, youth was right and age was wrong, just as it is today, if one is to believe the story about the bright young reporter who thought the paper, as edited by Greeley, was old-fashioned.

Greeley heard about it and asked the young man into his office. He invited suggestions and listened while the mere lad told him what he would do if he were editor of the paper. His ideas were extremely radical for that day and unorthodox. Greeley listened patiently to the end and then said:

"Young man, you're a very good reporter. Now, I want you to come back to me when you're forty-five; after you have a wife and children and have become a property owner. Then we'll see if you still think the rest of us are wrong."

"Holiness Church"

About 1880 three clergymen, Rev. Hardin Wallace, Rev. James Singer, both of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Henry Ashcroft of the Free Methodist church, conducted a tour of the southern part of California, preaching repentance and remission of sin or justification by faith of the sinner, and for believers sanctification or heart purity, which also might be received by faith, subsequent to regeneration or justification, and which could be advanced into personal holiness. Numerous bands of adherents were formed under the name of Holiness Band, the members of which, however, retained their membership with the churches of which they were already members. There were also many new converts. By 1890 the movement had grown large and property had been acquired, so that incorporation was necessary and was effected under the laws of California.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will Lindhorst

DROP OF WATER MAKES COIN FALL INTO BOTTLE

PARTIALLY BREAK MATCH
MATCH WILL SPREAD APART AND COIN WILL FALL INTO BOTTLE.

An ink bottle or other small bottle, a match and a dime or penny are required for this trick. Crack the match so that it will be bent and set hold together. Place the match on top of the bottle with its broken center on one side and the head and tail on the other. Lay the coin on the match and spread the match apart under the coin, so that the slightest movement of the match will cause the coin to fall. Then tell your audience that you will drop water on the broken ends of the match, which will cause them to draw together, and in doing so will pull the head and tail of the match further apart, thereby taking the support of the match from under the coin, and causing the coin to fall.
