Process Tax Is Hit By Circuit Court Decision

Constitutional Issue May Be Raised In The 1936 Campaign If The Higher Court Upholds Circuit Court Ruling.

WASHINGTON—Under attack both in the courts and congress, because of the AAA, the New Deal plainly has indicated its program would be pressed until the supreme court has ruled on more of the fundamentals.

Should that tribunal agree with the Boston circuit court and toss the AAA into the discard alongside NRA, the capital felt that likelihood of the predicted "constitutional" issue in 1936 would be measurably increased.

The Boston blow, announced on Tuesday, second in as many days, prompted an immediate demand in the senate by the democratic Tydings of Maryland for a "return to fundamentals!"

He named these, in response to an inquiry from Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) as a balanced budget and the end of attempts to raise prices and restrict production. Senator Norris (R-Neb.) upheld the AAA.

Most official and congressional quarters were disinclined to comment on the decision against processing taxes, and the one in Cincinnati Tuesday adverse to slum clearance plans, pending study of the opinions.

Coming as these did at a time attack as hostile to the constitution, intensification of that bombardment was expected by many of result. When and how President Roosevelt will undertake to meet it was conjectural.

Importance attached by him to the AAA was to well known for his legislative lieutenants to believe he would surrender the objectives. Immediate word was that present policies would be pursued, collection of the disputed taxes would go on.

Appeal from Tuesday's decision will be taken as soon as possible, it was said at the justice department. Two other challenges of the law's constitutionality already are before the highest court.

By the time these are settled, tests of the Wagner Labor law, the TVA and of the social security, utility holding company and Guffey coal legislation—if finally enacted—are expected to be up to the court or on the way.

Farmers' Week August 19 to 24

Plans are being made for a Farmers' Week to be held at State College the week of August 19. In connection with the Farmers' Week will also be held a 4-H Club encampment. This will not be the regular 4-H club contest, but a limited number of outstanding 4-H club members who completed their work last year and were entitled to a trip to the state contest and are active club members this year will be brought to the encampment by the county agents.

Farmers and their wives from all counties of the state are urged to be present at this Farmers' Week. A nominal charge of $5.00 is being made for meals, etc. This also includes lodging at the dormitories, where beds and mattresses will be furnished, and a ticket to the college swimming pool for those who care to enjoy a swim. Visitors will be expected to bring their own toilet accessories, such as towels, brushes, combs, etc., also any bedding although little will be necessary outside of sheets and pillow cases.

Programs of interest to all visitors are being planned. These programs will deal with agricultural subjects, chiefly dairy, poultry, horticulture, farm crops, home economics, 4-H club work and agricultural adjustment. Talks will be given by prominent speakers, both within and outside the state. Tours of the campus and other nearby places have also been arranged. Special attention is being given to the program for the information and entertainment of the 4-H club members.

All county agents will be in attendance at Farmers' Week and it is hoped that representative farmers from every county in the state will also be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank White left last Friday for Las Vegas where Frank will attend the summer session at the Normal University. He plans to teach this coming season.

SENATE CUTS PART OF PRICE FIXING IN BILL

Senate Reverses Position Price Fixing; Deletion Made Will Not Wreck All of Measure; Defeats Flax Seed Tax.

WASHINGTON—A recalcitrant senate yesterday hacked one phase of the AAA price fixing authority out of the farm adjustment amendments and served notice it would go after the other parts at the earliest opportunity.

By a vote of 44 to 41 the Senate reversed its approval Tuesday of the price fixing provision, considered by some an important part of the AAA machine but termed "not essential" by adjustment officials.

Although only part of the price fixing authority was involved, its deletion was considered as likely to wreck the entire provision.

The action came in the face of direct word from President Roosevelt that he felt it wise to go ahead with enactment of the AAA amendments, regardless of the adverse circuit court ruling in Boston on the processing tax.

He gave assurance that the adjustment program would continue to function at least until a supreme court ruling is handed down on the validity of the processing taxes.

Meanwhile, Chester Davis, the AAA administrator, expressed the belief that farmers will be paid an additional $700,000,000 under existing crop control contracts regardless of court attacks.

He said he considered the contracts legally and morally sound. They involve obligations estimated at $1,600,000,000 of which more than $900,000,000 already has been paid.

He acknowledged, however, that an end to processing taxes would mean the eventual end of major phases of the farm program. As for the senate's price fixing action Davis said "the provisions have been applied in the past only to a limited number of commodities."

Within an hour or two after the president spoke of his press conference, however, the senate had overturned its 40 to 38 price fixing vote of Tuesday and then turned thumbs down on another section of the bill.

By a 49 to 33 count, it defeated a proposed 35 cents a bushel processing tax on flaxseed.

Hay Association Begins Operation

Organization of an informal branch of the El Paso Hay Growers' association was perfected here over the week-end. Two officials of the association, W. D. Wise, sales manager, and T. O. Easterling, assistant treasurer, both of El Paso, Texas, were here last week directing the final organization plans. John T. McIntyre, hay grader for the branch to serve the Pecos valley, assumed his duties last week. He will make his home here. The association has received more than 1,000 tons of hay, it was said Monday, and had leased about eleven barns for hay storage.

Planning Board Protests Proposal To Change the Department of Interior

ALBUQUERQUE—The land use committee of the state planning board last night wired the New Mexico congressional delegation in Washington asking firm opposition to the proposal to change the department of interior to the department of conservation and works and place under it the national forest service.

Signed by former judge C. M. Botts, chairman of the group, the wire was dispatched after adoption of a resolution by the committee giving "unqualified disapproval" to the cabinet change which is embraced in legislation now before congress.

Another resolution adopted by the committee disapproved the Navajo boundary extension bill, which would give northwestern New Mexico members of the tribe an estimated 700,000 acres of land. This action is also contained in a measure pending before the national legislators.

Prospects For Fruit Crop In Mountains Only Fair, Is Report

A poor to good fruit crop is in prospect in the mountain district, reports say. A fair apple and late fruit crop will be harvested in the Hope community, under favorable weather conditions, but there is little or no fruit in prospect between Hope and Elk. The Weed section will likely harvest a partial crop, as well as the High Rolls district on the west of the Sacramento. Farther to the west the crop is better and a good crop is reported at Tularosa.

Prospects for a vegetable crop are much better. The normal acreage in cauliflower and cabbage has been planted and promises abundant returns as well as other truck and garden vegetables.

NEW TEXT TO BE USED FOR NEW MEXICO HISTORY AND CIVICS

C. M. Martin, Chaves county school superintendent, has received a letter from A. Lucero White, assistant state school superintendent, saying that the basic text for the examinations to be given the latter part of August in New Mexico history and civics will be Bloom and Donnelly's "New Mexico History and Civics." Heretofore, Vaughn's "New Mexico History and Civics" has been the basic text for this examination. It is necessary to pass this examination to teach anywhere in New Mexico. The date the examination will be given in Chaves county will be announced later.

The letter from Mr. White also urged that candidates for the examination read as many books as possible on New Mexico and the southwest, and added that special emphasis would be placed on Coronado's expedition, in view of the celebration of the 400th anniversary of this expedition to be held in New Mexico in 1940.

LUNCHEON FOR BANKERS AT CARLSBAD SUNDAY

David Beals of Kansas City, Missouri, who will be president of the newly-organized bank at Carlsbad, was host to a number of bankers of the Pecos valley at a luncheon given at the La Caverna hotel in Carlsbad Sunday. Bankers from Roswell, Hagerman, Carrizozo, Vaughn, Tucumcari, Carlsbad and Pecos, Texas, attended the luncheon in addition to T. H. Flint and Hollis Watson of Artesia.

The new bank at Carlsbad will be opened about August 15th, it was said. The institution will be located in a building formerly occupied by the Piggy Wiggly store. The personnel of the board of directors have been tentatively selected, but will not be announced until later.

DROUTH AREA CATTLE HIDES WILL NOT BE USED IN COMPETITION

WASHINGTON—Senator Hatch (D-NM) was advised by the department of agriculture yesterday that hides from New Mexico drought area cattle would not be used henceforth in competition with the supply from existing markets.

In answer to a complaint Hatch received from Lee E. Evans, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers' association, Rexford G. Tutwell, acting secretary of agriculture, said he was calling attention of New Mexico relief officials to regulations that drouth cattle were to be used only for relief purposes.

JEW TARGET OF CAMPAIGN IN GERMANY

BERLIN—Nazis yesterday continued their anti-semitic campaign despite warnings from higher-ups, and pushed their sterilization program, despite Catholic protests, while the controlled press cried out bitterly against "atrocities" reports abroad.

Though order had been reestablished along the Kurfurstendamm. Berlin's White Way, and recurrence of Monday's anti-Jewish riot seemed unlikely, Julius Streicher and fellow Jew baiters had other methods to employ.

NEW MEXICO'S BIRTH RATE HIGHEST IN 1934

WASHINGTON—America's birth rate rose in 1934 for the first time in ten years, census bureau figures revealed today.

Births in the whole nation in that period were 17.1 per thousand of estimated population, compared with 16.6 for 1933, the lowest ever recorded in the United States. The total number of live births was 2,158,919.

New Mexico, with 27.9 births per thousand of estimated population, had the highest birth rate during 1934 and California the lowest with 12.7.

Another Arrest Made In Missing Tourist Case Wed.

SAN ANTONIO—Police Chief Owen Kilday said efforts would be made yesterday to take a man held in the Gonzales county jail to El Paso for questioning in connection with the disappearance of four Illinois tourists.

Chief Kilday said the man, Dudley McGinnis, and bearing the alias H. C. Brown, was wanted in the tourist case by Sheriff Ben Kemp of Socorro, and that he would be questioned by New Mexico officers.

The officers said they would seek to identify the man and determine whether he is one who left a string of travelers checks with the forged name of one of the missing persons on them from New Mexico to Dallas. Several checks were cashed in El Paso.

The missing tourists, last seen in New Mexico several weeks ago, were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lorus of East St. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Herberer of DuQuoin, Illinois.

Officers said Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico was sending them all information he had on the case.

CREWS SURVEYING COTTON CONTRACT LANDS IN COUNTY

In order to secure a quick payment of second half rental fee checks from the government for idle cotton contract lands, crews of two men each were sent out in Chaves county in five areas.

Checks for this rental will be withheld, it was stated, until the survey is completed to determine the cotton free lands of the many Chaves county signers.

Working with this surveying group will be two draftsmen to plot the fields as they are surveyed by the parties.

Crews appointed were: Joe Hawkins and Earl Butler, Howard Conner and Bob Dunlap, working out of Roswell. George Lange and Billy Joe Burke at Hagerman. Clarence and Walter Stone of Dexter, and G. M. Murphy and John Flowers at Lake Arthur.

EIGHT CCC CAMPS TO IMPROVE THE RANGES

ALBUQUERQUE—A broad program to improve ranges of the state and aid the stockmen will be inaugurated with the opening of eight CCC camps in New Mexico by the range management division of the Department of Interior which are now under construction.

A. D. Molohon, deputy grazing supervisor, said.

The camps at Carrizozo, Datil, Mirage, Hot Springs, Las Cruces, Tularosa and Lake Arthur will house some 1,600 workers who will be employed in rodent control in cooperation with the biological survey, in soil erosion control work with the soil conservation service, and in the improvement and development of range waters.

THE BILLS WILL COME DUE

Have you ever noticed how easy it is to establish a charge of temporary account in a department store?

But no matter how easily the credit is obtained, or how small the payments, they come due regularly and if not paid—well, the law just takes its course and the debtor suffers.

The people of the United States are just now waking up to the fact that they have been on a gigantic spending spree. Never did they use their public credit so freely. But the day of reckoning is here. The charge accounts are coming due and the payments will have to be made.

Just as the unwary customer is talked in to spending more than he can afford by the super-selling ability of the expert clerk, so have an unwary people been talked in to spending more than they can well afford to pay, by the silver tongues of the politicians.

In the latter case, however, the people thought they were going to be given something for nothing—that the billions of dollars handed out in the name of "relief" and "recovery" would be taken from somebody else's pocket.

But the dream has ended. The tax-gatherer's hand is going right down into John Jones' pocket to take out the money to pay the charge account, for the "gifts" to Jones.

In the eyes of industry, the federal deficit looms large. Business men, in company with investors, property owners and other taxpayers, have watched the government charge present activities against future income—and are wondering how long it will be before the paying-off process is reflected in exorbitant, perhaps confiscatory taxes.

In the eyes of the politicians, the deficit also occupies a large part of the landscape. During the political war that will be fought next year, the deficit will be an outstanding issue. Republicans will claim that the Roosevelt administration is imperiling the country's credit, is running us into bankruptcy at express train speed. Administration spokesmen will pooh-pooh that, and answer that vast expenditures were essential to fighting depression, and that the country's credit is easily able to stand the bill.

Irrespective of which side is right, federal finance presents a depressing picture, and has done so ever since 1930, when the last surplus was recorded on the treasury's ledgers. That year's surplus amounted to $738,000,000, and in the ten preceding years the government's receipts had exceeded expenses by the handsome sum of $10,000,000,000.

In 1931, the red ink period began, when the federal government spent $463,000,000 more than it received. Then, in 1932, the era of really large deficits set in, with a total of $2,741,000,000. For the next two years the deficits were $2,607,000,000 and $3,606,000,000 respectively. And for the fiscal year which ended on June 30, 1935, it is estimated that the deficit came to $3,965,000,000.

At any rate, more money is being spent than is being collected. It is forecast that next year the American people will be deluged with more and bigger figures than ever heard before, during the conduct of the national election. The people will be confused by so-called experts contradicting each other. The solution to the deficit problem will not be solved by political speeches from either side. But until it is solved, American business will remain unconvinced that natural, sound recovery can be achieved.

Trench Mouth

Vincent's angina, or trench mouth, is a recent bacteriological discovery, the bacteriology trench mouth having been out at about the same time as the discovery of the cause of diphtheria and proved more than ago. The widespread of the disease as well as trench mouth, are due to such a large percentage of these boys at the dental armed forces camps to all parts of the country. Another factor in the prevalence of the disease is the increased exposure to using improperly cleaned utensils at hotels, restaurants, especially road side eating and drinking many public places, in contact and our mouths contaminated with salivary secretions of trons of the road side restaurant.

Each of us should be intelligent in the selection of our restaurants and to the high by inquiring of the dishes. Such a campaign of the public, showing the nurses and physicians, will do more to prevent trench mouth and throat diseases than laws and inspections of a political institution.

Electricity Has Made Possible Countless Conveniences In even the modest homes of today, it has brought illumination at the touch of a switch and put the old coal oil lamp out of general use. Years ago, electric lights were considered a miracle. Today we accept it as calmly as we do buying of groceries. It is electricity that has made possible your electric refrigerator that gives you positive food protection, plenty of ice cubes, frozen desserts. It is electricity that makes your vacuum cleaner run, your toaster work, your electric fan circulate cooling air. And yet, all of this electrical convenience is one of the cheapest items in your monthly budget. Use it generously to bring household comforts to your home. Health Column

Wisdom Teeth The third molars, or wisdom teeth, are particularly liable to cause serious illness and even death because of the frequency with which we have trouble in "cutting" them. The complications most often arise between the ages of twenty and thirty but may occur at any time after adolescence even into advanced old age. Men and women suffer equally but in both sexes the trouble is more often in the lower than in the upper jaw. The most common mistake is that only the front half of the wisdom tooth comes through and the gum forms a hood over the back half of the crown. Infection creeps under this hood and dangerous germs thrive in this little cavern. Attempts to remove a wisdom tooth while the gum around it is infected may result in a fatal spread of the infection. Extraction of wisdom teeth is, however, an easy matter if taken in time. Abnormalities in the development of the third molars can be recognized by X-ray examination by the age of eleven years; that is to say several years before they are likely to cause any trouble. The time will probably come when careful parents seek a dental X-ray of their children at this age to be sure that all is well and in order to forestall dangerous maldevelopment. The dental surgeon who recognizes abnormality at the age of eleven will continue to make X-ray observations of the tooth until its growth reaches a stage when preventive surgery can be undertaken with safety and a minimum of inconvenience to the patient.

The peach crop is forecast at 129,000 bushels, while the 1934 crop was 123,000 bushels and the 5-year average was 78,000 bushels. The pear crop is estimated at 43,000 bushels, the same as the 5-year average. The grape production is forecast at 1,496 tons. United States Crops are off to about an average start on an acreage that is well above the acreage standing at this time last year but below the acreages of other recent years. However, as less of the country has been suffering from lack of rain than in any summer since 1927 the acreage of spring crops abandoned is expected to be much less than in recent drought seasons. Since the breaking of the drought in April and May, there has been a great improvement in general conditions in the drought areas and a widespread and substantial improvement in pastures, ranges and hay crops. Livestock that was on short rations is again feeding on green pastures. Milk production per cow on July 1 was about 12 percent above production at that time last year, this increase much more than offsetting the decrease in cows and giving the highest total milk production for that date on record. Egg production, while still low owing to the downward trend in the number of hens, was above production on July 1 in either of the last two years, the decreases in the number of hens being more than offset by the highest July production per hen that has been reported during the ten years of record.

FOREST ROAD WORK Five caterpillars arrived for the local Forest Service Monday and were unloaded. They are designated for the several CCC camps in this section and will be used mostly for road work. Last week thirty stake-body trucks and five pick-up trucks were received for the local CCC camps. This new equipment is needed for the enlarged program in prospect. Some of the equipment, however, was needed for replacement.—Alamogordo News.

Revolt Threatened In Cotton Confab

Revolt threatened late Monday in the Southern Cotton Conference at New Orleans, Louisiana, over the refusal of Joseph Haspel, chairman of the conference, to accept a resolution indorsing the present cotton control program of the government in full. Haspel explained that the New Orleans Association of Commerce which is sponsoring the meeting had decided that no resolution should be accepted from the floor. Immediately several cotton farmers jumped to their feet and demanded that the resolution be acted upon. During the controversy Walter Randolph, a cotton farmer of Orrville, Alabama, moved that the meeting be adjourned. The chair refused to recognize him. Earlier in the day farmers, bankers and industrialists attending the convention thundered applause when Henry W. Robertson of Loachapoka, Alabama, declared the government's intervention in 1933 with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program had accomplished great good for the cotton farmer and said that the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt as president was a "divine act." Other speakers urged AAA modification by amendments to prevent "harmful effects."

PRESBYTERIAN GARDENS AT DEXTER ARE ARTISTIC

A visit to the gardens surrounding the little grey Presbyterian church and manse at Dexter is convincing as to its beauty and artistic arrangement. Tall lombardy poplars and a rose hedge form a background, great beds of gorgeous flowers form symmetrical designs, interspersed with trees, some of which are akin to those of more southern climes. Comfortable seats here and there on the velvety lawn makes one want to linger on.

This has all been the original idea and work of the pastor of the church, the Rev. John G. Anderson, with the assistance of his charming wife. They have made this little corner one of the most attractive and inviting spots in Dexter.

GOP Lambast New Deal in State Meeting At Santa Fe On Monday

SANTA FE—The New Mexico Republican Central committee called to Santa Fe to draft rules and regulations for party conduct, adjourned late Monday afternoon after hearing the New Deal denounced by Fred Nicholas, district attorney of Valencia county and keynote speaker of the meeting, as a "black widow spider of despotism."

Nicholas referred to one of the last speeches of the late Senator Bronson M. Cutting, wherein he warned that honesty and sincerity should be the attitude toward every question raised by the Roosevelt New Deal.

Jaffa Miller, Santa Fe, and M. F. Miera, Magdalena, delivered short addresses during a wait for the report of the rules committee at the afternoon session, each assailing the present administration.

Need of a program also was expressed by Miera. "The republican party has no quarrel," he said, "except with the democratic corrupt administration in the nation and in the state of New Mexico. We must have a program and a set of principles by which we will return this government from its present autocratic form back to the people in the precincts and in the counties."

A message from State Chairman P. L. Rapkoch, in a hospital in El Paso recuperating from an appendix operation, was read at the morning session by George Craig of Albuquerque, former state chairman.

Carolyn Pyle of Albuquerque served as chairman early in the meeting, being relieved later by Nicholas. A committee of nine, one from each judicial district, was named to draft rules and regulations. Of 191 committee members, 135 were registered with 28 of the total represented by proxy.

A resolution of condolence on the death of United States Senator

Bronson M. Cutting was adopted unanimously by the delegates. The report of the rules committee, read by Judge Reed Holloman of Santa Fe, chairman of the committee, also was adopted without dissent and after only a little discussion.

The major change in the new rules, it was explained, is in the apportionment of members of the state central committee. Each county, under the new rules, will have two members-at-large, a county chairman who also will serve as a member, and one member for each 1,000 republican votes cast at the last election, or for each major fraction of 1,000 such votes.

Formerly one member was allowed for each 500 votes. The change will decrease the membership by between 20 and 25 members, where an increase of between 50 and 60 would have resulted if it had been left as formerly, Chairman Holloman explained. It also was added that under the new rule, state committee membership will be reduced more in the larger counties than in the smaller populated counties.

OTERO ROAD PROJECT STARTED

Substantial progress has been made on the Otero county road project, west of the Reeves hill on Highway 83. Contractors Armstrong and Armstrong moved in equipment last week and started construction on about three miles of road. Approximately forty men will be employed on the project, which will be completed within the next sixty days.
