

Bull Town Bulletins

By Bill Ellis

WHEN YE EDITOR was attending elementary school at such places as Lazbuddie and Oklahoma Lane, there was a riddle going around that went something like this: "Can you name a star with a tail?" the question-asker would offer. If you couldn't, the answer would come back "Lassie, stupid!"

A few years later, when Ye Ed was taking science in Miss Hill's eighth grade class at Muleshoe Junior High, he was captivated by a fantastic photograph of Halley's Comet, which was taken in 1910, during the comet's most recent appearance.

I was immediately anxious to see when Halley's Comet would again "visit" the earth, and was sorely disappointed that it would not return until 1986. That was considerably over a quarter of a century that I had to wait. In the meantime, I read about comets in science magazines and encyclopedias.

My grandparents and older uncles and aunts, told me great stories about when Halley's Comet appeared in 1910.

You have to realize that in 1910, there not only was no television—there wasn't even radio. And there weren't any newspapers for folks who lived "way out in the sticks."

Some of the people thought, upon seeing Halley's Comet, that it was heralding the "end of the world."

The tail of Halley's Comet stretched for about one-sixth of the night sky during its brightest point in 1910. Even people in large cities could see the comet, as this was before electric street lights.

These stories intrigued me, and I couldn't wait for 1986 to arrive.

In 1973, scientists discovered a "new" comet, named Kohoutek after its Russian discoverer, and predicted that it would be a great event. It fell flatter than a pancake. On my early-morning forays into the country (to get away from city street lights), I never did positively locate the comet.

When 1986 finally arrived, I was ready for "the big show." But in spite of all of the great advance publicity, Halley's Comet, which had been documented for at least eight trips into our solar system, over a time period of more than 500 years, virtually turned out to be a "no show."

Daughter Laura got to see the comet, from 30,000 feet up, during her American Airlines flight attendant career.

I pitched my comet file into the back of a desk drawer and gave up on ever getting to see a comet "in person."

But this past Monday morning, at around 5:50 a.m., I finally got out of bed with no clouds or fog to ruin the view—and there, right in the Northeast sky, was Comet Hale-Bopp, in all its glory.

Having had previously to scan the sky for hours, wondering if this or that "fuzz ball" might be a comet—I could see Hale-Bopp with my naked eye. And I could even see it from my own driveway, with the street light on 12th and Maple burning bright. With binoculars, it's an even prettier sight.

Sometime soon, Hale-Bopp will circle the sun on its billion-mile orbit, and head back out into space. At this time, the comet will be visible in the evening hours instead of in the pre-dawn morning sky, and will take less of an effort, even for us old comet-chasers to watch.

Hopefully it will grow even brighter at this time. Watch your TV weatherman for details, if you want to watch an historical event. Apparently, Hale-Bopp is the first comet in 87 years (Halley's 1910 visit) to be easily visible in our sky—tail and all!

Thanks, Hale-Bopp. You were truly a sight for my old sore eyes!

Middle School Students Take Part In Quiz Bowl

A team of seven Bovina 7th and 8th grade students participated in the fourth annual Thinking Cap Quiz Bowl.

The competition was held on Thursday, February 27, in the middle school computer lab.

Students from schools across Texas enter the computerized quiz bowl competition.

Entrants receive an official contest disk with 100 thought-provoking multiple-choice questions. Categories include history, spelling, math, science, English, current events, literature, government, sports, geography, general information, and fun trivia.

Participants are rewarded for correct answers by points and encouraging comments and sounds. While a team gets two tries on each question, speed and accuracy on the first attempt build the highest score.

If the correct answer is given the first time, ten or fifteen points are awarded depending on how quickly the correct answer is given. Five points are given for correct answers on the second try.

Since the Bovina team had three seventh graders, they had to compete in the eighth grade category. The computer disk contest was sponsored by computer teacher Gladys Spring. Bovina Middle School finished 22nd in the statewide competition with a score of 972, an 83 per cent rating. The winning team, Cistercian Prep School of Irving scored 99 per cent. They had 30 students on their team.

Bovina's team moved up eight levels from last year in the Quiz Bowl contest. Participants were Chris Shufelberger, Cameron Charles, Yancy Graves, Jonathan Zehner, Christen Stowers, Angela Villarreal, and David Garcia.

Fourteen Improvement Team Members Met Here

The Bovina ISD District Improvement Team met on Wednesday, March 5, 1997.

Members present were Chris Cupit, Darla Sealey, John Broeker, Martha Morris, Jan Thieman, Eugenie Brown, Pat Turner, Ron Dyer, Linda Lewis, Sue Nuttall, Jerry Birdsong, Robert Rumph, Dolores Ruiz, and Peggye Arnold.

Previous minutes were approved. Music in the classroom was tabled.

Discussions were held concerning the formation of a Sick Leave Pool for district employees that would be willing to contribute sick days to employees that use all their sick days in circumstances beyond their control.

A discussion was held about the new appraisal system-Professional Appraisal and Development System. The service center will allow a teacher to go through training with each principal, although only the administrator will be allowed to do appraisals. The PDAS is more student centered, tied to campus performance in one indicator and deals with professional development more thoroughly than the TTAS.

Other options for the district would be to add an indicator dealing with campus performance to the TTAS or the district could produce its own appraisal instrument.

Both options would have to be board approved. The committee recommended to Ms. Nuttall to accept the PDAS as the Bovina ISD appraisal instrument for the 1997-98 school year.

Intercession calendars were discussed. Intercession calendars provide for periodic intercessions during the school year geared for enrichment and/or remediation.

Olton and Hart are both on intercession calendars to improve class passing rates. This type calendar would require much planning and educating of parents, community and students.

Comp days for staff development were also considered. Calendar items will remain on future agendas.

The committee tabled dress code discussions. The next meeting was set for Wednesday, March 12, at 3 p.m.

Artie Faye O'Hair has had a busy week. She had cataract surgery on Wednesday, March 5 and became a great-grandmother twice.

Her grandson and his wife, Faron and Jacquelyn Reed of Longview had a baby boy, Cole Daniel, born March 3. On March 5, her granddaughter and her husband, Jana "J.J." and Richard Byford, also of Longview, gave birth to a son, Brandon Reed.

Artie Faye's daughter and husband, Claudia and Morris Reed of Longview are proud grandparents of both baby boys.

By the way, Artie Faye's surgery went very well and she has 20-25 vision, which is great, according to her doctor.

Carlene and Ross Blankenship have returned home after vacationing two months at a resort, for adults, in South Texas. The group had fun swimming, playing shuffleboard, dominoes and cards.

They also made two trips, one to Mexico and one to South Padre Island. They attended church services each week and went to lots of arts and craft shows. They had a wonderful time.

Carlene was also telling me about a new great-grandson, Randall Tyler, who was born February 15. He has an older sister, Melissa. His parents are Randy and Sandra Jones of Amarillo.

Little Randall got a good start as he weighed eight pounds, twelve ounces.

Ginny and Gene Ezell celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary February 22, at the San Francisco Steak House in Austin. The event was hosted by their children, Joan and Dick Horn of Austin; Larry and Irene Ezell of Mullin; and Roger and Judy Ezell of Plano.

The Ezells were married on February 20, 1937 in Clovis and have lived in Bovina sixty years. Our congratulations!

Erra Jamerson was released from the Clovis Hospital after spending a few days there. She suffered injuries to her head and also two fractures on her ankle.

****
This happened a week ago Saturday and Erra was released on Wednesday. She said she is getting along well because of the walking brace they put her foot in. Her daughter, Carol Scott, came and spent a few days with her.

****
Juanda Murphy was in the Clovis Hospital for eight days and then went to Scott and White at Temple. She is having liver problems. I talked with her over the weekend and she said it was possible that she may have surgery this week in Temple. She said she was feeling better.

****
Grady and Dorothy Sorley went to Temple and spent a few days with the Murphys.

****
Bobby and Irma Jo Englant have recently been to Ulysses, Kansas to visit with their daughter, Carissa and her two children.

****
She has a son, Donnie, who is a senior and a daughter, Ja Que who is in the eighth grade. Carissa works at the telephone office there.

****
Evelyn Joyce Vineyard of Glen Rose, Texas, has been in Bovina visiting with her sister, Vi Hutto and her family and with brothers, Eddie Gayle Steelman, Dickie Steelman and their dad, Amos Steelman.

****
We want to welcome Officer Ryan Hitt and his wife, Patti to Bovina. He is already working on our police force. We hope they will be happy in their new home. He came from Lorenzo but said he had lived most of his life in Lubbock.

****
Virginia Steele entered Methodist Hospital in Lubbock recently for tests. Her daughter, Bonnie Scaff, told me Virginia will be having a pacemaker put on her heart. Monday is when Bonnie told me, so by press time she will probably have already had the surgery done. You may want to check on her.

****

mailed to us with some "unintended humor" found in want ads. Perhaps some of these are new to you.

****
For Sale: Two palomino billy goats, instead of filly colts.

WTRT Offers Scholarships

Senior students and graduates of Friona, Bovina, Farwell and Lazbuddie high schools who have parents or guardians who receive telephone service from West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, or, who are customers themselves, are eligible to apply for a pair of $1,600 scholarships to be awarded by the cooperative this spring.

Time to apply for the scholarships is short. Applications are due at the WTRT offices in Hereford by April 10.

The scholarships, to be disbursed $800 per semester, are funded through unclaimed capital credits from WTRT that previously reverted to the state. Cooperative members approved a 1995 amendment to the by-laws that allows use of unclaimed capital credits for scholarships.

WTRT scholarships may be used at any state or church-sponsored college or university, or at any accredited vocational or technical school.

Scholarship applications aren't limited to high school seniors, but applicants must have graduated from high school or completed their GED.

Applicants must maintain a minimum of 12 credited hours throughout each semester, or have full-time student status at vocational or trade schools.

An application form must be submitted, accompanied by two letters of recommendation, and one of those letters must be from a teacher, principal or counselor at the high school that the applicant is currently attending, or attended.

To be considered for the 1997 scholarship, all applications must be fully completed, have no attachments other than the letters of recommendation, and must be received at the offices of West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., no later than April 10, 1997. Applicants may be asked to attend an interview at the discretion of the WTRT board.

Scholarship application forms are available at high school counselor's offices in Friona, Farwell, Bovina, Lazbuddie, Hereford, Dimmitt, Adrian and Vega, or they may be picked up at the WTRT offices on South Highway 385, Hereford.

By RON CARR

I don't remember exactly when I started shaving. I know it was over forty years ago when I was in my teens in Hillsboro, Texas.

Like most teenage boys of the era, I couldn't wait to start shaving. I remember looking in the mirror pretty often trying to spot those first facial hairs which would signal my passage into manhood. (Little did I know there was a whole lot more to manhood than a few whiskers.)

The grown-ups cautioned that I shouldn't rush into shaving. "Once you start boy," they'd say, "you'll have to shave forever. More you shave the thicker your beard will get."

Of course none of that matters when you have your mind set on stepping up in front of the mirror every morning, putting on that creamy foam, and emerging with skin "as smooth as a baby's bottom."

Trouble was that in the battle between "baby bottom skin" and a Gillette Blue Blade double-edged adjustable razor, the razor won every time.

My first shaving outfit was an old double-edged razor and Gillette blades that came in a small red box. Remember those? They made single edge blades back then, but you mostly kept them in your toolbox to scrape paint and glue off of things.

And there was shaving soap: A cup, a brush, and hot water. Lather up, keep your lips closed tight so you don't accidentally brush some in your mouth, dab it all around and try to finish shaving before it dried. You usually had to re-lather a couple of times before you finished your entire face.

Early razors and blades were not contoured for your face like modern shaving systems. Nope. You had to learn how to use them on your own particular facial contours with the least amount of bloodshed.

Later, along came Gillette Super Blue Blades and an adjustable razor. The razor handle could be adjusted from numbers 1-10 which maneuvered the blade edge to various depths. Overnight, millions of young shavers went from knicks to gouges until they found the number which rendered the smoothest shave.

You learned to shave at night, so the numerous knicks would have longer to heal prior to school the next morning. You sure didn't want to get to school with big hunks of tissue soaking up blood on your face and chin.

Double edged Super Blue Blades were the most dangerous weapon ever invented for an entire generation of young men. The evil blades ruined many a budding relationship when removing a five o'clock shadow turned into a Red Cross project.

"Hello, Rosemary. This is Ronnie. I can't take you to the drive-in tonight. I have this two-inch gash on my right cheek that I, uh, I got during basketball practice....maybe next week we could--hello! ...darn, and she still has my letter jacket."

In my teen years of raging face hair, I sometimes shaved twice a day. That depended on whether I could convince the "Rosemarys of my youth" to go to the drive-in movie.

Whisker burns on a girl's chin could get a guy in real trouble. I think whisker burns are directly responsible for the success of the modern cosmetics industry.

Another characteristic of Gillette Super Blue Blades was their ability to inflict hundreds of invisible, non-bleeding, knicks and cuts on your face.

The way to find every one of them at the same time was by pouring a small puddle of Old Spice in your left hand, bringing your right hand over on top of your left, slapping both hands together and immediately applying to your face and neck.

You never applied Old Spice with a smooth even motion. You slapped it on in spastic movements, discovering the areas of the most serious razor burn in random fashion.

A perfectly normal clean-shaven neck area was transformed instantly into a blotchy red stinging mess with only a minimal application of the alcohol formula in Old Spice.

Many a young man has marched off into the night with his chin held high so the night air would help to dry away the pain of a Gillette Super Blue Blade razor burn.

Another forbidden chemical was sweat. A rule of Shaving 101 was: Do not shave immediately prior to any physical activity which will cause your face and neck to sweat. When mixed together, sweat and razor nicks produce roughly the same violent sensation felt when "monkey blood" is applied to a scraped knee.

With few exceptions, I have shaved every day for the past forty years. Until a week ago.

I have been through the entire history of Gillette shaving products up to and including today's Gillette Sensor Excel shaving system, with which I use the "new and improved" Gillette Foamy shaving cream. Until a week ago.

That is when I decided to quit shaving for a while. It is not that I want a beard, but when you quit shaving, beards happen.

I got tired of the physical activity and time spent shaving my face and decided to take a break. Since I am single now and my kids are older I realized I didn't have to shave to please somebody else like most of us men do.

Yes, I know clean shaven faces are more socially acceptable and probably look better for the most part, but I am in one of those "I don't care" phases.

Since beard color usually matches hair color, mine is coming in gray. In fact my beard looks to be thicker than my hair.

Gray beards don't look so bad. Jim Dixon has one. So does Herman Krauel, who sports a neatly trimmed gray one. I suppose preachers need to be neatly trimmed, even though Father Kieran at the Catholic Church in Bovina sports one of a neat but unruly sort.

Kim Caffey has a great hair and beard combination, thick gray and curly.

After a week, my own attempt is in the "bum" stage. To be honest, it looks like I haven't shaved for a week.

Reactions from others has been interesting. Many people don't seem to like beards. One lady in Bovina said, "You better shave, it makes you look old." Love that honesty.

I am not one to go to a lot of trouble to look young. I believe that "old happens", sooner or later. Being old is a state of mind anyway. I know some younger people that already act old.

A beard is not like life. With a beard you can always go back to the way things used to be.

PRAIRIE ACRES HONORS...Each month an employee and resident at Prairie Acres are recognized. March's employee-of-the-month, Janie Balderaz is shown with resident-of-the-month Opal Hitt. Balderaz has been an employee since July 17, 1992. Mrs. Hitt became a resident on December 11, 1996. (Ron Carr Photo)

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

This is a dramatized version of facts taken from the Book of Genesis intending to show some of the customs of these ancient and traditional times

ABRAM IN EGYPT
 ABRAM HAS ACCEPTED THE GIFTS OF PHARAOH, AND NOW, PHARAOH HAS SENT HIS MESSENGER TO ABRAM, ASKING THAT SARAI, HIS BEAUTIFUL "SISTER", BE BROUGHT TO PHARAOH'S PALACE....

...HAVING ACCEPTED PHARAOH'S GIFTS, ABRAM CAN NOT REFUSE THIS ROYAL REQUEST....

ALL THAT I HAVE FEARED HAS COME TO PASS!

...AND SO, WITH A FORLORN HEART, ABRAM WATCHES HIS WIFE, KNOWN TO PHARAOH AS HIS "SISTER", LEAVE....

...AND GREAT SORROW EXISTS IN THE TENTS OF ABRAM....

BEHOLD, O PHARAOH-LIVE-FOR-EVER, THE BEAUTIFUL WOMAN FROM THE EAST HAS ARRIVED!

LET JOY AND SONG REIGN IN MY HOUSE, FOR THIS IS A HAPPY DAY!

...WHILE THERE IS MUCH REJOICING IN PHARAOH'S ROYAL COURT....

Local Youth Has Winning F.W. Entry

Moriah Jennings, a Parmer County 4-H Club member, exhibited a reserve champion ram, a reserve champion ewe and a first place ewe in the Junior Southdown Breeding Sheep Division at the 101st edition of the Southwestern Exposition and Livestock Show. The show was judged by Jerry Swift of Eldorado, Texas.

The stock show's junior division hosted some 8,000 entries by the youth of Texas as the culmination of year-long agricultural educational projects in various areas of livestock production. Junior show premiums exceeded $61,896.

The junior entry list is part of the overall count of more than 20,000 head of cattle, sheep, swine, horses, mules, donkeys, llamas, goats, poultry, pigeons and rabbits.

CRP Information Is Available In Farwell

Suggestions which will help Parmer County landowners make decisions about the new Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) are available at the county office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Landowners must consider many factors as they decide whether to enter the new program, what to bid, or what other use to make of their land," said Cody G. Hill, County Extension Agent. "To help make these important choices, Extension Service economists and crop and livestock production specialists have put together some guidelines," Hill said.

- The publications are:
- *Conservation Reserve Program (CRP): Final Rules-Questions and Answers
  - *Background on the CRP Program as of January 1996
  - *The CRP Decision Process
  - *Cattle Grazing on Land Formerly Enrolled in the CRP Program
  - *Returning CRP Land to Crop Production
  - *Wildlife Habitat Management on Former CRP Lands

These are available on the Worldwide Web at <http://AFPCI.TAMU.EDU> or can be studied at the County Extension office.

An optional computer software program also is being offered. The "CRP Computer Program" will run on any IBM compatible computer with one megabyte of RAM, DOS 3.3 or higher, Windows 3.1 or Windows 95.

The program costs $25 and may be ordered by sending a check or money order payable to "TAEX 222100" to Regina Linder, Texas A&M Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West, Amarillo, Texas, 79106.

Disaster Loans Are Available

Parmer County was declared eligible for Farm Service Agency (FSA) disaster emergency loans on January 3, 1997. Generally that means that farmers who have lost at least 30 per cent of their production due to drought, high winds and/or sand storms are eligible for FSA loans. Proceeds from crop insurance are taken into account when determining eligibility.

FSA Ag Credit Manager Thomas S. Taylor is urging farmers who are interested in receiving an emergency loan to get their applications into FSA as soon as possible.

"We hope farmers will get their applications in early rather than waiting until near the deadline which is September 3, 1997. The longer they wait, the more chance there is for long delays. If the applications come in early, we can avoid backlogs and speed up the process," Taylor said.

The FSA office is located at 109 Third Street in Farwell, Texas. The phone number is (806) 481-3349.

What-No Sugar?

By Pam Messer, Dietitian Intern

This may be a person's initial reaction when he or she is diagnosed with diabetes. This would have been a justifiable reaction not too many years ago as nutrition experts thought "sugars" such as candy or other sweets were off limits for people with diabetes. It was believed that such foods raised blood glucose (sugar) too quickly.

However, these old beliefs don't stand up to new research which shows that sugars and sweets, or "simple sugars", don't raise blood glucose any quicker than starches, or "complex carbohydrates." Sugars and sweets aren't off limits, but it's important to eat them in moderation and have them worked into your diabetic meal plan.

Even though there are general guidelines to follow, there's no one diet for diabetes. Your diabetes meal plan must be based on your individual needs and developed by a registered dietitian. With this kind of expert assistance, a meal plan can be "customized" to fit your eating habits and needs.

A diabetic diet is really just a healthy way of eating that the majority of Americans would benefit from. Here are some guidelines most everyone should adapt into their eating lifestyle:

- Eat more starches, such as bread, cereal and starchy vegetables, six or more servings daily.
- Eat more fruits and vegetables, five servings daily.
- Eat less total fat.
- Eat less saturated fat.

So, if you have been diagnosed with diabetes for twenty years or two days, don't despair. Sugar doesn't have to be history. With the proper expertise, a meal plan can be "customized" just for you to make sure that "all foods can fit".
