Greyhound Racing Candidates Must Pay Workers' Security Tax Is Not New Sport

Dates Back to Sixteenth Century, With Similar Rules to Present

Greyhound racing is supposed to be the most modern of all sports, but it had its beginning back in the sixteenth century, according to Edward G. Ash in his article, "How Dogs Were Used in Mediaeval Sport." Tales of greyhounds racing on tracks may be found in a number of ancient volumes on dogs, and the sport is linked to James I (1566-1625), son of the ill-fated Mary Queen of Scots. Mr.

Ash writes: "During the reign of King James I, and probably for some time before, greyhounds were raced along a track, and a purse or plate was given to the winner. The stag was allowed 'law,' and to hurry it on a dog known as a 'leazer' was employed-a dog which could not run very fast but could bark very loudly. The deer ran into a ditch at the far end of the track, and the dog which jumped the ditch

Ruth Chiswick of L C ranch, obsessed by fear of danger to her outspoken fa-ther. Lee, from a band of lawless rus-tiers headed by Sherm Howard, decides to save him by eloping with young Lou Howard, Sherm's son, and comes to the town of Tail Holt to meet him. While in to save him by eloping with young Lou Howard, Sherm's son, and comes to the town of Tail Holt to meet him. While in Yell Sanger's store, a crook-nosed stranger enters, and when a drunken cowboy, Jim Pender, rides in and starts shooting. protects Ruth, while Lou Howard hides. Disgusted with Lou's cowardice, Ruth calls off the elopement, and sends the stranger for her father at the gambling house across the street. There the stranger, calling himself Jeff Gray, meets Morgan Norris, a killer, Curly Connor, Kansas. Mile High, Sid Hunt, and other rustlers, and Sherm Howard. Lee Chiswick enters, with his foreman, Dan Brand, and tells Sherm Howard of his orders to shoot rustlers at sight. Jeff Gray returns to Ruth and coldly reassures her of her father's safety. At supper, Ruth introduces Jeff to her father and Brand. Coming out into the street, they are greeted by sudden gunplay. Lee is wounded, and Jeff Gray appears with a smoking revolver. Two days later, Ruth tells her father of her projected elopement and her disillusionment. Later, Ruth meets Jeff Gray, whom she thinks tried to kill her father. Ruth accidentally wounds Jeff. She takes him to Pat Sorley's camp. Ruth is credulous of Jeff's story of shooting at the assassin rather than at her father, and later pleads with Lee to listen to him. When Lee arrives at Pat Sorley's camp, he finds only a note to Pat from Jeff. Meanwhile, Jeff rides into Tail Holt and sends word to Sherm Howard he wants to see him. He shows Howard a poster with his picture, with the name of Clint Doke, wanted as the leader of a band of outlaws. The rest of the band arrives. Jeff shows the outlaws the poster and asks their confidence. They agree to allow him to stay. Another raid on the L C cattle causes Lee to line up his men in pursuit, and to send his son Frank to town to reconnoiter. Pat Sorley finds Gray's horse's hoofmarks on the trail with the suspected rustlers'. Jeff calls on Frank and warns him Norris and Lou are threatening him. Frank receives a message that his father wants him on Frank and warns him Norris and Lou are threatening him. Frank receives a message that his father wants him at Sanger's, and despite warning, starts out. Shooting starts, and Gray helps Frank hold off the killers until he and Frank can escape. Arriving at L C ranch, Frank tells of the ambush and of the part played by Gray.

Gray said: "Ready to leave town yet? Or am I still too big a liar to believe?' "I don't know what you are,"

Frank answered. "Hadn't been for you they would have got me. But you fired the first shot at me."

"You were walking right into their ambush. I fired to stop you. Lucky for you. It started them up before you were close enough to hit in the darkness." Frank was still suspicious and

"At the Alamo corral." "Then get down there and sad-Hit the trail for the L Cquick as you can."

The younger man agreed. "I'm much obliged," he added gruffly. "I won't forget it."

Gray watched him go, then cut across to the main street and joined those who were hurrying to the fire. He saw the roof of the barn crash in as he climbed over the wall.

The eyes of Norris were slits of shining light. This business tonight had got out of hand, and he had to watch his step. He had started out to kill one man, not three. Now there would be war to a finish with the L C outfit. Lee Chiswick would not rest until he had avenged the death of his son and the other two riders.

"Thought I heard some shooting," Gray said guilelessly. "I was down at Ma Presnall's fixing to turn in when things began to pop."

Lesson for July 10 CALEB: LIFE-TIME DEVOTION

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 14:6-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let us go up at once, and possess it: for we are well able to overcome it. Numbers 13:30.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Erave Caleb.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Caleb the Brave.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR
TOPIC—A Hero's Reward.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT
TOPIC—Courage for Difficult Tasks.

"We need to know more about good men who are occasionally great, and less about great men who are occasionally good," says the Lesson Commentary, in pointing out that Caleb is one of the characters about whom the Bible does not say much, but in every case the word is one revealing high and noble character. Consider such passages as Numbers 13:6, 30; 14:7-9, 24, 30; 26: 65, as well as our lesson for today.

The background for our study of today, and in fact an integral part of the lesson itself, is the story of Caleb's courageous stand with Joshua when the spies returned from their visit to Canaan, which is related in Numbers 13. He was then a comparatively young man, but demonstrated by his every word and deed that he had from his youth learned to know and obey God. Note first of all Caleb's SOONER had President No sooner had the pump priming measure than the flood of federal money was released. The Public Works administration, of which Secretary ickes is the head, made public two ists of grants and loans covering 590 projects in every state in the union with a total estimatd cost of $148,795,-

Four more lists Secretary lokes were ready, and these, PWA officials said, would complete the "first push" toward a $2,000,000,000 construction program to provide work and stimulate industry. Officials further estimated that these initial groups of projects may run as high as 1,500 or 2,000 with a cost of $600,000,000. Federal grants under the PWA procedure cover 45 per cent of the cost and, when a PWA loan is made, 55 per cent. The difference between the estimated over-all cost of the projects and the sum of loans and grants made by PWA is supplied by the various applicants. The 291 projects in the first group to cost $92,520,374 will be financed by the PWA to the extent of $41.632 .. 715 in grants and $9,021,000 in loans while the second list of 299 projects to cost $56,275,521 will receive federal grants of $5,260,413 and loans of $1,900,500. Thus the amount of government assistance to 590 projects estimated to cost $148,955,895 will amount to $75,814,623.

The President, when he signed the act, told the press that business conditions were not as bad as popularly believed, and said he looked for a definite pickup in the near

Roper Is Optimistic

THAT there will be a business up-turn, certainly by autumn and possibly earlier, is the prediction of Secretary of Commerce Roper. "Natural economic factors," he said in a prepared statement, "coupled with the influence of constructive legislation, point the way to an early favorable trend in the business cycle for which business should immediately make adequate preparation."

The railroad situation, Roper said, is the most disturbing factor in the present economic picture, and it may make necessary a special session of congress. He declared the condition of the roads is getting progressively worse and is very serious. He saw hope, however, in prospect of bumper crops in the Midwest which would increase the demand for transporta-

Group for Labor Survey

NINE men and women were appointed by the President as members of a special commission that will study the workings of the British labor disputes law and Swedish labor relations. Most of them already are in Europe ready to begin their work.

The group is composed of Lloyd K. Garrison, dean of the University of Wisconsin law school; Robert Watt, American Federation of Labor representative; Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company; Henry I. Harriman, former president of the Chamber of merce of the United States; William H. Davis, chairman of the New York labor mediation board; Mrs. Anna M. The United States gunboat Asheville stood by to protect the 69 Americans in the consular district. It was believed this was the start of a great offensive designed to cut off anton from the central battlefront. Referring to Hankow reports of possible mediation by a third power, Japanese spokesman in Shanghai said: "Japan will continue to fight until Generalissimo Chiang Kaishek is overthrown. If Chiang would only jump in the Yangtze river or otherwise dispose of himself, Japan would be highly satisfied."

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

> "Vanishing Corpses". By FLOYD GIBBONS Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO EVERYBODY:
You know, boys and girls, I've often noticed, in these adventure stories, how in a good many cases, one mishap leads to another. That's probably because the first thing that goes wrong so upsets the fellow it happens to, thatwell-he just loses his head and plunges right smack into another danger.

It's bad business when a man loses his head in the face of danger. But at the same time it has produced a lot of red-hot double-barreled and triple-barreled adventures, and the story I'm going to tell you today is a mighty good example.

Paul Moore of Chicago is today's distinguished adventurer. The events this yarn deals with happened to him and two other lads, in September, 1923.

At that time Paul was just a kid of twelve, living in Grand Rapids, Mich. Paul had just been given a .22 caliber rifle for selling perfume, and one Saturday he and his two friends, Art Kohles and Archie Eastman, started out on a hunting trip.

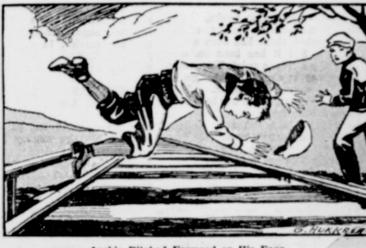

Art and Archie had air rifles. Paul had no cartridges for his .22, but Art said he knew where he could get some. They started out early, taking their lunches with them, and after walking a couple hours, came to a patch of woods four miles from the outskirts of town.

Art Pounded the Cartridge.

There didn't seem to be any game in sight, so they sat down on the bank of a small creek to eat their lunches. Paul had put down his gun and was just starting to untie the package that contained his grub when Art spoke up, saying there was a wild canary on the other side of the creek.

"Let's have your gun," whispered Art. "I can't get it with mine." Paul passed over his rifle. Art had the cartridges in his own pocket. took one out and tried to put it in the chamber. It wouldn't fit.

Young Art didn't know that the cartridges he had brought from nome were the wrong caliber. He thought this one wouldn't go into the chamber because the gun was new. He tried to force it in with his fingers and then, in his haste to get a shot at the bird before it flew away, he picked up a stone that happened to be lying at his feet.

Art hit the bullet two or three times with that stone. And then, suddenly, there was a loud crack. The bullet exploded. Art dropped the gun, crying, "I'm shot!" Then he fell to the ground and lay still.

The other two kids stood speechless. Art had killed himself! Paul had an uncle who lived about a mile away on the other side of the woods, and the first thought that popped into his mind was to run there and

He told Archie to stay behind with Art, but Archie insisted on going along with him. They started off on a short cut through the woods, running as fast as their legs would carry them.

On the other side of the woods they came to the tracks of the interurban line that runs out of Grand Rapids. There was a third rail along the right of way, set up a foot or so above the ground.

Paul knew about it. He was well up ahead of Archie, and he went over it with a flying leap. But he didn't think to warn Archie about that electrified rail. His mind was too full of the thought of Art lying back there by the creek bank.

Archie Stepped on Third Rail.

The next thing Paul knew, Archie was stepping on that rail. He just lit on it for an instant. Then he pitched forward on his face. And he, too, lay still! Archie's body was lying between the two tracks. "I took one look at him," says Paul, "and decided he was dead. Then I turned and ran as if the devil was after me."

It was a long way to his uncle's house, and by that time Paul was all but out of breath. But he didn't dare stop running. He stumbled on. At last he reached the house and burst in, panting, "Uncle Abe! Quick! Art's killed himself with my gun and Archie's been electrocuted!'

Everyone in the house, including two old ladies who were visiting Paul's aunt, dropped whatever they were doing and started for the tracks. They hurried through brush and corn fields to the spot where Archie had fallen-and when they arrived, there was no sign of Archie.

Uncle Abe turned on Paul. "Young man." he said sternly, "are you sure this isn't a joke of some kind?" But it was no joke to Paul. He thought maybe a passing interurban had stopped to pick Archie up. He crossed the track and started through the woods toward the stream where they had left Art.

Both Bodies Had Disappeared.

The women turned back, but Uncle Abe followed along after him. They ran through the woods in breathless haste—tore up to the spot where Art had shot himself-and then Paul stopped dead in his tracks. Art was gone, too!

It was too much for Paul. His uncle was looking at him suspiciously. and he hardly knew what to say.

How could Paul ask him to believe that two dead boys had both disappeared, one right after the other? He stood there silent a minute, and then he heard sounds of splashing water, and of voices coming from some point down the stream. Together they walked toward those voices and there they found—Art and Archie.

It was all explained easily enough. Archie had been knocked out by the shock from the third rail. He had a big bump on his head, but that was all the damage that had been done to him.

When he came to, he went back to where Art had fallen and found him bathing his leg, which had been grazed on the calf by a bit of the exploding shell. Together they had moved down stream a ways, and

CURRENT WAR NEWS

"Twenty years after the war 'to make the world safe for democracy'," wrote Leland Stowe, a New York Herald foreign correspondent, recently, "354,000,000 out of Europe's 550,000,000 people are living under dictatorships in 12 European countries, and democracy is banished from four-fifths of continental Europe.

Sir Phillip Gibbs, the well known English novelist and journalist, has Middleton, director. "The nations are arming again. Men who remember the last war seem to be preparing for the next. Nothing was learned, nothing was settled, by that monstrous struggle."

For the past few weeks, since the German-Czech border crisis was averted, there has been quiet abroad. But it has been an exceedingly ominous quiet. The problems that confront Europe grow steadily worse, not better. The armament race, which has been going on for a year or two, has been speeded up. And while the mobilization is underway by several European powers, that almost all of the powers have perfected plans which make it possible to put the countries on a war basis in a few hours, and that there are more men and more munitions at the various frontiers in Central Europe than at any other time in the past. Czechoslovakia is having her griefs in Sudeten. A report is that residents of that territory have received notice that in event of war they'll either become citizens of Germany-meaning they must desert the Szech army-or be shot as traitors if captured.

Nice cheerful outlook, isn't it? For about a month the German papers said little about Czechoslovakia, and what little they said was relatively conciliatory. Now they have opened a new campaign against Czechoslovakia-bitter edtorials designed to German people are all the product of one idea: that Der Vaterland's promptly at 10 o'clock with each patience is becoming exhausted, division meeting separately for the and that either the Czech govern- opening services. ment must accede to demands cussions are held by competent which would virtually make it a teachers. ## "COMMUNITY SPIRIT"

In every community there are latent possibilities that can be intensely developed. Whose duty is it to develop these possibilities? It is the duty of every good citizen in the community to support and sustain any and every movement that will be for the betterment and upbuilding of the community.

A good citizen will familiarize him or herself with these possibilities and help in every way possible to develope them.

One of the major possibilities bur Coe. for Hagerman and community at this time is that of a City Hospital and Arthritis Clinic.

Some people have the idea that by pushing a proposition of this kind they are helping some individual feather his own nest and therefore are not in favor of supporting such an enterprise.

Can't we cultivate the idea that more money our neighbors bring mer. into the community the more apt another man's business; let him advertise his own business all of us take this attitude our town and community will never progress.

One of our biggest obstacles in Hagerman is that we do not appreciate each other enough. I hear more complaints about our different business houses than I do compliments. Why is this? Some will say that it is because our business men are self-centered, nonco-operative. That may be so to a certain extent, but don't you think that as a whole our business men are a pretty progressive bunch, and don't you think they would be more so if we would keep our praise and our money at Let's all boost our town and community, especially to the outside world. Let's all push together for a City Hospital and Arthritis Clinic.

And to the business men: Come to the meetings of the Hagerman Community Men's Club and lend your support to the organization that is interested in your welfare! R. W. CUMPSTEN

Deep Sea Fishing Best in Waters Closest This Section, Says Write

Citizens of the Southwest, who trek off to the far-away places seeking the fascinating thrill that seeking the far-away places it can justly boast some in fish bite every day. comes only through the tug of fishing line are only wasting their time and money, advises Flem Hall, sports writer in the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

No more abundant exciting fishng is to be found in the world than right here at home; on the Texas Coast, 6 to 12 hours by automobile from Fort Worth.

That's the testimony of some of the world's most fanatic fishermen, Hall says, and it's little farther from Eddy County, which makes the story all the more interesting.

Take for example the case of Dr. R. L. Sutton, internationally famous dermatologist, who literally circles the globe in pursuit of big game fish, Hall continues. Which makes the story even more interesting to The Advocate editor, an old friend of the Kansas City doctor, who is equally as internationally famous as a big game hunter and fisherman, and about whom it has been the editor's pleasure to write several feature stories in the past.

The sports writer continues: Dr. Sutton, the big, bronzed 60-yearold exploring scientist, makes two trips to the blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico each year and spends weeks enjoying the pleasures that only those waters give him year after year. Port Aransas is his special delight, the spot he makes his headquarters.

"Port Aransas is the tarpon capital of the world," he says.

She might have been hypnotized, but slot machines don't actually hypnotize people.

The girl with the little red hat tossed quarter after quarter into a mechanical pickpocket, drunk with her desire to win. If she had paused for a moment, if someone had taken pencil and paper to show her how slot machines work, how 80 cents out of every dollar goes to line somebody else's pocket-

New York is infested with that "small money is sucker money" in the gambler's parlance. Big winners in the betting racket are those who start with big stakes and can afford to lose.

Big Business in Bookies.

A two-minute tour around the country shows that bookmaking on horse races is thriving despite its illegal status. Chicago's city council set a precedent last winter by legalizing bookies to operate outside the race tracks provided they pay an annual license fee. But the state of Illinois clamped down on this scheme to fill Chicago's coffers, just as Ohio, Maryland, California and Michigan have rejected similar proposals in the past.

Several southern California cities recently decided to license bookies at fees ranging from $2,500 to $5,000. Then the appellate court stepped in and ruled the ordinances violated California's racing act. New Orleans is a bookmaker's paradise even though they operate illegally. In Louisville between 250 and 500 bookmakers work openly and in Miami, Fla., they operate at ease despite threats by the state.

But this is a story about gambling in general and women in particular. The story is more interesting because a few years ago there were social and moral taboos against gambling, while today Mother leaves Junior's buggy on the sidewalk while she walks into the corner bookie and places a bet on the fifth race at Suffolk Downs. Fortunately this situation isn't commonplace throughout the country. It's confined mostly to large cities and for laboratory purposes let's put New York under our microscope

OR a dozen days and nights the continuous roll of the tom-toms and the weird, blood-chilling shrieking of the Salteaux Indians had echoed and re-echoed over the Athabaskan plains. Meanwhile, in the tents and tepees, babies died in the arms of mothers too starved to suckle them, while others, including the aged and ill, were slowly dying from hunger and the 30-below-zero weather that had been gripping the region for weeks. And, as the Salteaux suffered and died, the warriors and braves, with the help of some smuggled rotgut whisky were dancing themselves into an ugly, fighting, bloodthirsty mood. The oldest human skull found in Sweden dates from somewhere between 6000 and 8000 B. C., and is of the long and narrow shape characteristic of the Nordic. A few broad-headed people of the physical type characteristic of central Euopean countries did migrate into Stone age Sweden, but the land remained predominantly Nordic in population, Doctor Rydh explains.

Muscles Keep Working Madison, Wis.—Sleep is not always accompanied by complete relaxation, Dr. Edmund Jacobson, of the Laboratory for Clinical Physiology, Chicago, told psychologists at the meeting of the Midwestern Psychological association here. Although the moment of falling asleep may be marked by sudden or by more or less prolonged progressive relaxation in the muscles or arms and legs, muscular tension in the lips or jaw muscles may continue as shown by marked action currents from these muscles, Dr. acobson reported.

Describes How to Construct a Balanced Diet, So Essential to Maintain Optimal

Health By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

O SOME families, a summons to the dinner table means nothing more than a chance to satisfy hunger. To others, it represents an opportunity to gratify the palate, sometimes to the extent of overtaxing the digestive system.

Neither of these extremes julfills the true function of food, The Washington Field museum, as which is to provide adequately but not to excess, for growth, maintenance and repair of the body.

> Danger in Omitting One Food Substance

The homemaker who fails to take every one of these factors into consideration is depriving her husband of the opportunity to develop his greatest efficiency. Moreover, she may be robbing her children of their birthright. During every day of childhood, the body is being built, and defects in body structure are likely to arise if the child is improperly nourished. It is then that disease and disability make their appearance as a result of faulty nutrition. How tragic to deprive the young body of substances so necessary to its

for Checking Nutritional Balance

PLANNING a balanced diet will cease to be a puzzle if you send for the Homemaker's Chart for Checking Nutritional Balance, offered free, by C. Houston Goudiss.

It lists the foods and the standard amounts that should be included in the daily diet, and includes skeleton menus for breakfast, dinner and lunch or supper, to guide you in selecting the proper foods

A postcard is sufficent to bring you this valuable aid to good menu planning. Just ask for the Nutrition Chart. Address C. Houston Goudiss, 6 East 39th St., New York City Cellulose or bulk is obtaine from fruits, vegetables and whole grain cereals. Water comes from uicy fruits, succulent vegetables, milk and other beverages, as well as the water that is consumed as a beverage.

To provide adequate amounts of the seven food essentials at every meal-to avoid the mistake of serving too much of one type of food and too little of anothershould be the worthy aim of every homemaker. You will find the task considerably easier if you send for the Homemaker's Chart. Tack it up in your kitchen or in the room where you plan your menus, and use it to check the nutritional balance of every meal you prepare.

If you faithfully follow the food stow upon them. For nutrition is the architect that draws the plans of human destiny. In providing the right foods, you lay a firm foundation for health on which to rear a life of happiness and suc-

For Tea and For Tennis

Two of the most important things for midsummer are: a sleeveless dress of the most casual sort for sports and daytime, and a cool dress with cape or jacket, to wear on the street and for afternoons. The two here sug-gested represent the very best of these types. Make them yourself, in fabrics and colors of your own choosing, and rejoice in the knowledge that you have some very individual new clothes, and got them very economically! Each pattern includes a detailed sew linen, seersucker or gingham, it will look and feel so cool and fresh! Perfectly straight and plain, it has darts at the waistline to make it fit with becoming slimness. This is a diagram pattern -practically nothing to make! In just a few hours you'll have it all ready to button on at your shoulders.

Afternoon Cape Ensemble.

With or without the cape, this dress with lifted waistline to flatten the midriff, is a charming, slenderizing style. The cape is a darling-puffed high at the shoulders, and made with arm slits so that it won't be always slipping off your shoulders. Make this design in georgette, chiffon, linen, or in a pretty combination of plain or printed silk, and you'll have a very distinguished, expensivelooking ensemble.

The Patterns.

Pattern No. 1544 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 35% yards of 39 inch material for the dress; 21/4 for the cape; to line cape, 21/4 yards.

Pattern No. 1546 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Size 14 requires 3 yards of 35 inch material. 31/2 yards bias binding to trim as pictured.
