NUMBER 6

COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS.

Minutes of the proceedings of the Hon. Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County, New Mexico, at the regular April, 1906, meeting of said Board, begun and held at the court house, in the town of Lincoln, the county seat of said county, on Monday, April 2, 1906.

Present: S. C. Wiener, chairman; Yginio Salazar, member; P. L. Krouse, member; J. W. Owen, sheriff; W. E. Kimbrell, clerk; B. J. Baca, interpreter.

The bond furnished by the Exchange Bank, of White Oaks, New Mexico, as depository for the treasurer of Lincoln county was approved.

The following road supervisors bonds were examined and approved:

Jose Salazar, precinct No. 1
Geo Kimbrell, " " 2
Wm. Booth, " " 9

The following road supervisors were appointed:

Apolonio Lucero, precinct No. 3
at Mebarra, " " 8
Frank Randolph, " " 2
B. F. Brown, " " 11

The appointment of Geo. Sena as deputy assessor was approved, as of October, 1905.

Moved and seconded that the board appoint a commission of four citizens of this county to view the road constructed by contractor Wm. Booth, around the two fords of the Rio Bonito, and after making such view, file their report in writing to this board as to whether or not the work done, and the construction of same complies with the contract and specifications entered into by the contractor.

The board appointed as viewers Messrs. Manuel Aragon, S. T. Gray, Bernardo Salazar and J. W. Pauley.

Petition from citizens of San Patricio, precinct 2, praying for the opening of an old established road in said precinct which has been obstructed for public travel, is filed and approved, and it is ordered that the road supervisor of said precinct be served with a copy of the above; and said road supervisor is ordered to open said road for travel.

It is further ordered that said road supervisor gather all the lumber, belonging to county, in said precinct, and to give Timoteo Analla sufficient lumber therefrom to cover two bridges in said precinct No. 2.

Now comes the road viewers and make the following report: Hon. Board of County Commissioners, Lincoln County, N. M.

The undersigned, your viewers, appointed to view and report upon the construction of a county road around the fords of Rio Bonito, 3 1/2 miles northwest of Lincoln, lately constructed by William Booth, contractor, have the honor to report that they this day viewed said road, and measured same and report the facts to be:

The said road is nowhere less than ten feet in width. There are three pass-ways whereupon loaded wagons can easily pass. There are no grades upon said road to interfere with heavy traffic, and we believe the same to be in all respects a good mountain road.

That in our opinion if the road had been constructed along the survey made by the county surveyor then and in such case the same would have been liable to overflow from the Rio Bonito, and defeat the effect of its construction, and the terms of the contract under which Booth constructed the road. Furthermore, said road, if constructed along the line of said survey, would have caused irreparable injury to the mother acequia known as the "Sedillo Acequia."

In view of these facts we recommend and believe that the contract made by Booth has been complied with, and that the road should be accepted by the board of county commissioners.

Respectfully submitted,

S. T. Gray,
J. W. Pauley,
Manuel Aragon,
Bernardo Salazar.

Upon motion of S. C. Wiener and seconded by Yginio Salazar the following petition of citizens of Carrizozo and vicinity for the creation of a new precinct was laid over until the next regular session, in July, 1906, so as to give all persons in interest a chance to be heard in the premises.

The following is a copy of the petition:

MILLIONS OF TROUT

Streams Stocked by Denver & Rio Grande Railroad.

Fishing is going to be unusually good along the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad in the next two or three years. It is good every summer, because for some years past the streams have been systematically stocked all over the state, but it is bound to be better. More was done in that direction in 1905 than ever before. Maj. S. K. Hooper has been having some figures made showing the number of fish put out. In the year 1904 the road transported and helped place 6,326,000 young trout in the streams. Of these 3,930,000 came from the state hatchery.

Last year the Denver & Rio Grande distributed 7,669,000 young fish in Colorado and Utah. Of these 2,967,000 came from the state hatcheries and 4,702,000 came from the government hatchery at Leadville. The fish are put in when about two inches long and big enough to care for themselves. They were about equally divided as between native, brook and rainbow trout. The distribution in the streams was as follows:

COLORADO.

A BOY'S BREAKFAST

There's a Natural Food That Makes Its Own Way.

There's a boy up in Hoosick Falls, N. Y., who is growing into sturdy manhood on Grape-Nuts breakfasts. It might have been different with him, as his mother explains:

"My 11-year-old boy is large, well developed and active, and has been made so by his fondness for Grape-Nuts food. At five years he was a very nervous child and was subject to frequent attacks of indigestion which used to rob him of his strength and were very troublesome to deal with. He never seemed to care for anything for his breakfast until I tried Grape-Nuts, and I have never had to change from that. He makes his entire breakfast of Grape-Nuts food. It is always relished by him and he says that it satisfies him better than the ordinary kind of a meal. "Better than all he is no longer troubled with indigestion or nervousness, and has got to be a splendidly developed fellow since he began to use Grape-Nuts food." LITTLE WOMAN'S SHREWD TRICK

With It She Had Little Trouble in Collecting Alimony.

"In regard to the usual difficulty experienced in collecting alimony," said the observing man, "I know of an enterprising little New York woman who collects hers all right. She has a scheme that is all her own. I happened to be associated with her husband in business and occupied the same office.

"The first two or three times she appeared he put her off with some cock-and-bull hard luck story which she accepted with fairly good grace, taking her leave afterward.

"Then things began to look serious. The fourth time she came there was a certain look of grim determination about her which seemed to indicate that she meant business. Even the office boy noticed it. He spoke of it to me afterward.

Emitted a Yell That Woke the Eclipses

"Again she asked him for the money awarded her by the courts and again he put her off with a hard luck tale.

"The fifth time there was no mistaking her air of determination. She sat in the chair placed for her by her former husband very quietly for awhile then requested him to pony up. He gave her the same old story and thought the matter would end there as usual. It did not.

"Then you can't give me any money to-day," she said in a manner ominously quiet.

"No," he said, "I'm afraid I can't. I am dead broke," he finished mournfully.

"With that she opened her mouth and emitted a yell that woke the echoes. It was the beginning of a spell of hysteria that went ahead of anything in the line I have ever seen before or since.

"We rushed for water and dashed it in her face. The office boy held her head. I held her hands, while her husband, looking the villain he was, went hastily fumbling through pocket after pocket for the alimony. To our surprise, seeing he had declared himself dead broke at the beginning, he succeeded in coughing up a considerable sum of money to meet the emergency. He handed it over to her, whereupon she became sufficiently calm to be conducted to a cab and started off in the direction of home.

"After that it was plain sailing for that little woman, so far as her alimony was concerned. Whenever she became due at the office he went industriously through each and every pocket in his diligent search for the money. He watched her very carefully meanwhile, to see whether or not she was developing symptoms of another yell. He was not the only one in the office who kept a careful eye on her. The office boy and I did, also.

"Her little scheme had a most salutary effect. He not only produced the money at once, for fear of a similar spasm, but it got to be so that he collected bills the day before he expected her and handed them out to her, the moment she entered, with a broad, bland smile, like a little man."

Compensation for Childish Fault.

The school department of Gardiner, Me., has got a conscience fund. Supt. Turner received a letter inclosing $1.25 from a woman who says that years ago, as a little girl, she made a collection in the schools of the city for some purpose. Her temptation came in the form of a yearning for candy, and she embezzled the above amount from the funds in her hands.

ANEMIA CAN BE CURED

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Make New Blood and Strike Straight at the Foot of Disease.

Anæmia is just the doctor's name for bloodlessness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. They cure anæmia just as food cures hunger. They cured Mrs. Thos. J. McGann, of 17 Lincoln Place, Plainfield, N. J., and they can do as much for any other pale, weak, ailing, bloodless person.

"In the spring of 1903 I did my usual house cleaning," says Mrs. McGann, "and soon afterward I began to have the most terrible headaches. My heart would beat so irregularly that it was painful and there came a morning when I could not get up. My doctor said I had anæmia and he was surprised that I had continued to live in the condition I was in. I was confined to my bed for nearly two months, the doctor coming every day for the first few weeks, but I did not improve to amount to anything.

"Altogether I was sick for nearly two years. I was as weak as a rag, had headaches, irregular heart beats, loss of appetite, cramps in the limbs and was unable to get a good night's sleep. My legs and feet were so swollen that I feared they would burst.

"One day, while I was wondering how long I could live, feeling as I did, I received a booklet telling about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I read it and told my husband to get me some of the pills. Before the first box was gone I felt a change for the better. I have taken about twelve boxes and although I was as near the grave as I could be, I now feel as if I had a new lease of life. I have no more headache, the heart beats regularly, my cheeks are pink and I feel ten years younger. I feel that I have been cured very cheaply and I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to lots of my friends."

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any man making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what he is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

JENNY LIND'S GREAT TRIUMPH.

Won Jealous Rival by Sweetness of Simple Song.

A beautiful little incident is told concerning Jenny Lind and Grisi, when they were rivals for popular favor in London. Both were invited to sing the same night at a court concert before the queen. Jenny Lind, being the younger, sang first, and was so disturbed by the fierce, scornful look of Grisi that she was at the point of failure, when suddenly an inspiration came to her. The accompanist was striking his final chords. She asked him to rise and took the vacant seat. Her fingers wandered over the keys in a loving prelude, and then she sang a little prayer which she had loved as a child. She hadn't sung it for years. As she sang she was no longer in the presence of royalty, but singing to loving friends in her fatherland.

Softly at first the plaintive notes floated on the air, swelling louder and richer every moment. The singer seemed to throw her whole soul into that weird, thrilling, plaintive "prayer." Gradually the song died away and ended in a sob. There was silence—the silence of admiring wonder. The audience sat spell-bound. Jenny Lind lifted her sweet eyes to look into the scornful face that had so disconcerted her. There was no fierce expression now; instead, a tear-drop glistened on the long, black lashes, and after a moment, with the impulsiveness of a child of the tropics, Grisi crossed to Jenny Lind's side, placed her arms about her, and kissed her, utterly regardless of the audience. —Exchange.

Familiar.

Six-year-old Marie is a minister's daughter, and Christmas, 1904, found half a dozen dolls under the Christmas tree. There they stood during Christmas week, when, realizing that six or seven dolls in addition to other toys was too much of a good thing, mother, who had the look-ahead temperament, resolved to kidnap one of the family and put it by for the next year.

To all appearances the scheme was carried through successfully, as no inquiries were made. So, on Christmas, 1905, the last year's baby reappeared under the new tree. Next morning Marie, accompanied by the usual number of grown-ups, was taken to view the tree. Fixing her eyes on the absentee and holding her dimpled chin with a chubby hand, after a period of deep thought she remarked, in a puzzled tone:

"Where the dickens have I seen that face before?"

Bound to Win Yet.
There is a song that no one else has writ,
I know, but can not fashion it—
Not yet—perhaps, some time,
I'll get the rhyme
And quit.

I've started it a hundred times, I think,
Grandly—and then, ere one could wink,
The inspiration's gone—
The song is on
The blink!

How many things start well, but somehow miss
Connections—like a girl's first kiss—
Start with a mighty shout,
Then peter out
Like this!

Ten syllables, a sonnet to begin;
Eight in the next—a metric sin,
Then six—who would have known
It could have grown
So thin?

But, say!
One of these times
I'm going to switch the rhymes
Around, by George, the other way
Start little and end big—I will, some day!

—Cleveland Leader.

Proof Against Everything.
A lad who was visiting at a relative's house was unused to the form of saying grace before meals. He began to eat at the dinner table without waiting or watching to see what the rest did.

"John," ventured his uncle, hesitatingly, "we usually say a little something before we eat."

"Say all you want, say all you want," replied John, cheerfully. "You can't hurt my appetite!"—Weekly Scotsman.

WILD WITH ITCHING HUMOR.

Eruption Broke Out in Spots All Over Body—Cured at Expense of Only $1.25—Thanks Cuticura.

The Cuticura Remedies cured me of my skin disease, and I am very thankful to you. My trouble was eruption of the skin, which broke out in spots all over my body, and caused a continual itching which nearly drove me wild at times. I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your ad, I sent you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. The Awakening of China.

Turning to purely internal evidences of the awakening of China, they may be found on every side, says Thomas F. Millard in the February Scribner's.

In the prevalent western conception of the Chinese there are, Mr. Millard believes, several radical errors. One is that they are adverse to modern improvements; another that they have no military capacity; another that they are incapable of playing a significant part in the political regeneration of the nation, owing to absence of a national spirit. Without pausing to discuss these propositions in detail, he asks if these things could not have been said, with a considerable semblance of truth, about Japan half a century ago? And they were no more true of the Japanese people than they are of the Chinese people to-day, he asserts.

According to the statement of Mrs. Williamson she considers the abolishing of football one of the greatest steps in the interest of civilization that have been taken in many years.

Beats Bellamy's Time.

Utopia seemed a step nearer for automobilists in Chicago, when plans were announced for an apartment building in which every flat will have its own garage. Dwellers in these unique apartments can step directly from their living rooms into their motor cars, be conveyed to the street by a mammoth elevator, and drive away serenely, without having lifted a foot since they entered the automobile. This plan is announced in behalf of Laverne W. Noyes of the Aeromotor company. The structure is to be at Elm street and the Lake Shore drive.

From the bottom to the top of the structure, which is designed to be seven stories high, with each floor devoted to a single suite, will run the elevator, large enough to accommodate the largest of automobiles for private use.

Cecil Rhodes Scholarships.

Bishop Hartzell of the Methodist church of Africa has just returned from Oxford, says a London dispatch, where he addressed the American men who have won Cecil Rhodes scholarships. Questioned, as to his opinion of the experiment provided for in the will of the dead millionaire, and which has resulted in sending a number of men abroad to take courses in the English universities, the bishop said: "I found a general feeling of satisfaction. The type of the men is high and in scholarship and athletics they are making excellent records."

Enabling Act to Pass.

That the bill for the creation of a state out of Oklahoma and Indian Territory and another out of Arizona and New Mexico, which is now in a conference of the two houses of Congress, will become law is conceded by many of its opponents. However, no one contends that the original Hamilton bill will be adopted, but that bill with the Foraker amendment, which grants each territory the right to accept or reject a constitution, separately, will be the outcome of the fight.

The bill will provide for the election of a full set of officials at the time the constitution is submitted, and the number of these offices are almost one thousand for the proposed new state. In other words, there will be at least two thousand candidates, not counting the independent candidates, who will swell the number; for both parties will name a full ticket in each county. It is natural that everyone of these candidates will urge his own election, and his friends will aid him, and in this way the constitution is very likely to be adopted.

A man who presents himself a candidate for office tacitly admits his willingness to serve the state under the constitution, and though he might have been opposed to joint statehood, his candidacy, in reality, makes him an advocate of the measure. It can readily be seen, there, how promising are the chances for each territory to give a majority vote for the constitution. It becomes a matter of selfish interest to every candidate to work for statehood, and though, in some places, it may be done openly, but done it will be, and the friends of the candidate will push it along, thus forming an endless chain whose strength will grow and one that cannot be broken.

Therefore, having these considerations before us, why despair? A chance to vote we'll certainly have, and many are hopeful that a union of our two territories will be consummated. We devoutly hope and believe that such will be the result.

Taxpayers Lose.

The injunction proceedings against the board of county commissioners of Lincoln county, at the instance of the taxpayers association, was dismissed at Alamogordo Tuesday before Judge Edward A. Mann.

The decision was along the lines of the mandamus hearing, given by Judge Mann, over the same controversy, which was, in effect, that the board could exercise, or had, discretionary powers.

SPOILED LAWYER'S FINE PLEA.

Col. Benton Overreached in Eagerness to Make Point.

During the first hearing of the famous Crocker will case in the supreme court, before Judge Lathrop and a jury, there were many interesting and amusing tilts between the eminent counsel engaged in the case—Robert M. Morse for the contestants of the will, and Col. Joseph H. Benton, Jr., for the executors.

Perhaps at no time during the hearing, however, was there any better exhibition of wit than in the summing up of counsel before the jury. At one point Col. Benton was trying to impress upon the jury that the expression "old fool," alleged to have been used by one of the interested parties, might reasonably be construed as a term of endearment.

"For example," explained Col. Benton, "King Lear called his fond daughter, 'my dear pretty fool.'"

Here he waited a moment to let the point sink into the minds of the jury. Judge Lathrop, however, who had been listening with intense interest, leaned forward in his chair and dryly remarked:

"But, Mr. Benton, King Lear was crazy, wasn't he?"

"Well, your honor, that's a mooted question," was all that the confused attorney could reply, and even this was almost smothered by the mirthful outburst in the court room, in which the opposing counsel, Mr. Morse, joined most heartily.

Beyond the Hills.

All the world is still before you, little boy,
You are in the fair, green valley where the sun
Lights the smooth and pleasant paths down which you run;
Out beyond the hills you dimly see is care,
Far beyond those heights are burdens you must bear,
But beyond those uplands also there is joy,
Little boy.

There are heartaches that await you, little boy,
And those roads that in the distance wind away
Lead to labor and contention and dismay;
Stones are waiting there to bruise your weary feet,
Foes are ambushed there whom you will have to meet,
But upon those hard roads also there is joy,
Little boy.

You are innocent and care free, little boy,
And out yonder there is knowledge you must gain
At the price of many efforts and much pain;
You must toil and you must suffer ere you learn,
You may never from beyond those hills return,
But be glad, for yonder love lies, too, and joy,
Little boy.

—S. E. Kiser.

No Sunday Paper That Night.

Mr. Capen, an old resident of a seaport town of Massachusetts, is employed as driver of the coach which conveys travelers from the train to the hotel.

One Saturday evening a short time ago three men arrived on the afternoon train from Boston. Mr. Capen was sitting on the driver's seat, waiting to take them to their destination. They looked about the station and evidently were not favorably impressed with the surroundings, for one was heard to say:

"What a desolate country! We certainly have come to the jumping-off place. I don't believe we can even get a Sunday paper in this place, can we, driver?"

There was silence for a moment, and then Mr. Capen drawled out: "Wa!, not to-night."

Birthday in Doubt.

Tom Pezzi, the genial old fish market man of Green Harbor, and his famous sign on the roof of his market, "Tom Pezzi Forever," are well known to the thousands of visitors to that summer resort, and also to many of the Brant Rock people, as are also his funny sayings.

One day one of his customers asked him how old he was. Removing the clay pipe he habitually uses from his mouth, he thought for a moment, and then said: "Well, I was born in 1702 or 1802, and I'll be d—d if I know which."—Boston Herald.

New England Woman Has Lived in Three Centuries.

Aunt Loric Cox celebrated her 106th birthday on Saturday at her home with her daughter, Mrs. Louisa Ann Shaw, in West Harrington, says a dispatch from Bangor, Maine. It is said that she is the only woman in New England who has lived in three centuries.

In spite of her years she eats three meals a day with relish, and neither pain nor restlessness ever disturb her slumbers.

Mrs. Cox has vivid recollections of all the wars the United States has engaged in since its independence as a nation was acknowledged by England, for she has lived through them all. Her husband, James Cox, died in the civil war, he having enlisted in Company D, Twenty-second Maine Volunteers.

Mrs. Cox is a living witness against the theory that tobacco prevents longevity, for she is an inveterate smoker, having acquired the habit in childhood by lighting her mother's pipe.

Mourns Lost Pet Frog.

After keeping a frog for ten years, simply as a question of ascertaining how long it would live, James Spence of this place has lost it and is inconsolable.

Ten years ago the frog, then a small one, escaped into a cellar through a rat hole, rapidly increased in size and was permitted to make the place its home, being fed and cared for every day.

It became a great favorite with patrons of the restaurant, and at a well known whistle would come to the hole for food or to be seen, but it was unable to leave the place.—West Chester Correspondence of the Philadelphia Record.

Why He Didn't Introduce Her.

A prominent Jewish merchant who lived in Salem, Mass., went away on How Could He?

a pleasure trip with his wife. Arriving at the station in New York, with a valise in each hand, he met a friend from his town and had quite a lengthy conversation with him. After the friend departed his wife, who was standing close by, asked why he had not introduced her.

"How could I, when I had a valise in each hand?" he replied.

Maternal Instinct Strong.

While George R. Howe of Norway, Me., was hunting for aqua marine gems in the Stoneham, same state, a salamander appeared from among the rocks and Mr. Howe promptly threw her some sixty feet away over a ledge. A moment later he found four tiny salamanders in the refuse. After a time he felt something at his feet and looking down saw the salamander which he had thrown away. She had returned in search of her young.

Heifer Ran Amuck.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating, and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.

NUMBER 6

COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS.

Minutes of the proceedings of the Hon. Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County, New Mexico, at the regular April, 1906, meeting of said Board, begun and held at the court house, in the town of Lincoln, the county seat of said county, on Monday, April 2, 1906.

Present: S. C. Wiener, chairman; Yginio Salazar, member; P. L. Krouse, member; J. W. Owen, sheriff; W. E. Kimbrell, clerk; B. J. Baca, interpreter.

The bond furnished by the Exchange Bank, of White Oaks, New Mexico, as depository for the treasurer of Lincoln county was approved.

The following road supervisors bonds were examined and approved:

Jose Salazar, precinct No. 1
Geo Kimbrell, " " 2
Wm. Booth, " " 9

The following road supervisors were appointed:

Apolonio Lucero, precinct No. 3
Felix Guebarra, " " 8
Frank Randolph, " " 2
B. F. Brown, " " 11

The appointment of Geo. Sena as deputy assessor was approved, as of October, 1905.

Moved and seconded that the board appoint a commission of four citizens of this county to view the road constructed by contractor Wm. Booth, around the two fords of the Rio Bonito, and after making such view, file their report in writing to this board as to whether or not the work done, and the construction of same complies with the contract and specifications entered into by the contractor.

The board appointed as viewers Messrs. Manuel Aragon, S. T. Gray, Bernardo Salazar and J. W. Pauley.

Petition from citizens of San Patricio, precinct 2, praying for the opening of an old established road in said precinct which has been obstructed for public travel, is filed and approved, and it is ordered that the road supervisor of said precinct be served with a copy of the above; and said road supervisor is ordered to open said road for travel.

It is further ordered that said road supervisor gather all the lumber, belonging to county, in said precinct, and to give Timoteo Analla sufficient lumber therefrom to cover two bridges in said precinct No. 2.

Now comes the road viewers and make the following report: Hon. Board of County Commissioners, Lincoln County, N. M.

The undersigned, your viewers, appointed to view and report upon the construction of a county road around the fords of Rio Bonito, 3 1/2 miles northwest of Lincoln, lately constructed by William Booth, contractor, have the honor to report that they this day viewed said road, and measured same and report the facts to be:

The said road is nowhere less than ten feet in width. There are three pass-ways whereupon loaded wagons can easily pass. There are no grades upon said road to interfere with heavy traffic, and we believe the same to be in all respects a good mountain road.

That in our opinion if the road had been constructed along the survey made by the county surveyor then and in such case the same would have been liable to overflow from the Rio Bonito, and defeat the effect of its construction, and the terms of the contract under which Booth constructed the road. Furthermore, said road, if constructed along the line of said survey, would have caused irreparable injury to the mother acequia known as the "Sedillo Acequia."

In view of these facts we recommend and believe that the contract made by Booth has been complied with, and that the road should be accepted by the board of county commissioners.

Respectfully submitted,
S. T. Gray,
J. W. Pauley,
Manuel Aragon,
Bernardo Salazar.

Upon motion of S. C. Wiener and seconded by Yginio Salazar the following petition of citizens of Carrizozo and vicinity for the creation of a new precinct was laid over until the next regular session, in July, 1906, so as to give all persons in interest a chance to be heard in the premises.

The following is a copy of the petition:

Lincoln County, N. M.

The New York Sun has been carrying on an important discussion as to which leg a man should put into his trousers first while dressing, and the outcome seems to be that he ought to put in the left leg first and the leg left next.

Mrs. E. T. Gould, 914 W. Lake Street, Chicago, Ill., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are all that saved me from death of Bright's Disease, that

I know. I had eye trouble, backache, catches when lying abed or when bending over, was languid and often dizzy and had sick headaches and bearing down pains. The kidney secretions were to copious and frequent, and very bad in appearance. MILLIONS OF TROUT

Streams Stocked by Denver & Rio Grande Railroad.

Fishing is going to be unusually good along the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad in the next two or three years. It is good every summer, because for some years past the streams have been systematically stocked all over the state, but it is bound to be better. More was done in that direction in 1905 than ever before. Maj. S. K. Hooper has been having some figures made showing the number of fish put out. In the year 1904 the road transported and helped place 6,326,000 young trout in the streams. Of these 3,930,000 came from the state hatchery.

Last year the Denver & Rio Grande distributed 7,669,000 young fish in Colorado and Utah. Of these 2,967,000 came from the state hatcheries and 4,702,000 came from the government hatchery at Leadville. The fish are put in when about two inches long and big enough to care for themselves. They were about equally divided as between native, brook and rainbow trout. The distribution in the streams was as follows:

COLORADO.

A BOY'S BREAKFAST

There's a Natural Food That Makes Its Own Way.

There's a boy up in Hoosick Falls, N. Y., who is growing into sturdy manhood on Grape-Nuts breakfasts. It might have been different with him, as his mother explains:

"My 11-year-old boy is large, well developed and active, and has been made so by his fondness for Grape-Nuts food. At five years he was a very nervous child and was subject to frequent attacks of indigestion which used to rob him of his strength and were very troublesome to deal with. He never seemed to care for anything for his breakfast until I tried Grape-Nuts, and I have never had to change from that. He makes his entire breakfast of Grape-Nuts food. It is always relished by him and he says that it satisfies him better than the ordinary kind of a meal.

"Better than all he is no longer troubled with indigestion or nervousness, and has got to be a splendidly developed fellow since he began to use Grape-Nuts food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

LITTLE WOMAN'S SHREWD TRICK

With It She Had Little Trouble in Collecting Alimony.

"In regard to the usual difficulty experienced in collecting alimony," said the observing man, "I know of an enterprising little New York woman who collects hers all right. She has a scheme that is all her own. I happened to be associated with her husband in business and occupied the same office.

"The first two or three times she appeared he put her off with some cock-and-bull hard luck story which she accepted with fairly good grace, taking her leave afterward.

"Then things began to look serious. The fourth time she came there was a certain look of grim determination about her which seemed to indicate emitted a yell that woke the echoes

that she meant business. Even the office boy noticed it. He spoke of it to me afterward.

"Again she asked him for the money awarded her by the courts and again he put her off with a hard luck tale.

"The fifth time there was no mistaking her air of determination. She sat in the chair placed for her by her former husband very quietly for awhile then requested him to pony up. He gave her the same old story and thought the matter would end there as usual. It did not.

"Then you can't give me any money to-day," she said in a manner ominously quiet.

"No," he said, "I'm afraid I can't. I am dead broke," he finished mournfully.

"With that she opened her mouth and emitted a yell that woke the echoes. It was the beginning of a spell of hysteria that went ahead of anything in the line I have ever seen before or since.

"We rushed for water and dashed it in her face. The office boy held her head. I held her hands, while her husband, looking the villain he was, went hastily fumbling through pocket after pocket for the alimony. To our surprise, seeing he had declared himself dead broke at the beginning, he succeeded in coughing up a considerable sum of money to meet the emergency. He handed it over to her, whereupon she became sufficiently calm to be conducted to a cab and started off in the direction of home.

"After that it was plain sailing for that little woman, so far as her alimony was concerned. Whenever she became due at the office he went industriously through each and every pocket in his diligent search for the money. He watched her very carefully meanwhile, to see whether or not she was developing symptoms of another yell. He was not the only one in the office who kept a careful eye on her. The office boy and I did, also.

"Her little scheme had a most salutary effect. He not only produced the money at once, for fear of a similar spasm, but it got to be so that he collected bills the day before he expected her and handed them out to her, the moment she entered, with a broad, bland smile, like a little man."

Compensation for Childish Fault.

The school department of Gardiner, Me., has got a conscience fund. Supt. Turner received a letter inclosing $1.25 from a woman who says that years ago, as a little girl, she made a collection in the schools of the city for some purpose. Her temptation came in the form of a yearning for candy, and she embezzled the above amount from the funds in her hands.

ANEMIA CAN BE CURED

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Make New Blood and Strike Straight at the Root of Disease.

Anemia is just the doctor's name for bloodlessness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood. They cure anemia just as food cures hunger. They cured Mrs. Thos. J. McGann, of 17 Lincoln Place, Plainfield, N. J., and they can do as much for any other pale, weak, ailing, bloodless person.

"In the spring of 1903 I did my usual house cleaning," says Mrs. McGann, "and soon afterward I began to have the most terrible headaches. My heart would beat so irregularly that it was painful and there came a morning when I could not get up. My doctor said I had anemia and he was surprised that I had continued to live in the condition I was in. I was confined to my bed for nearly two months, the doctor coming every day for the first few weeks, but I did not improve to amount to anything.

"Altogether I was sick for nearly two years. I was as weak as a rag, had headaches, irregular heart beats, loss of appetite, cramps in the limbs and was unable to get a good night's sleep. My legs and feet were so swollen that I feared they would burst.

"One day, while I was wondering how long I could live, feeling as I did, I received a booklet telling about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I read it and told my husband to get me some of the pills. Before the first box was gone I felt a change for the better. I have taken about twelve boxes and although I was as near the grave as I could be, I now feel as if I had a new lease of life. I have no more headache, the heart beats regularly, my cheeks are pink and I feel ten years younger. I feel that I have been cured very cheaply and I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to lots of my friends."

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

JENNY LIND'S GREAT TRIUMPH.

Won Jealous Rival by Sweetness of Simple Song.

A beautiful little-incident is told concerning Jenny Lind and Grisi, when they were rivals for popular favor in London. Both were invited to sing the same night at a court concert before the queen. Jenny Lind, being the younger, sang first, and was so disturbed by the fierce, scornful look of Grisi that she was at the point of failure, when suddenly an inspiration came to her. The accompanist was striking his final chords. She asked him to rise and took the vacant seat. Her fingers wandered over the keys in a loving prelude, and then she sang a little prayer which she had loved as a child. She hadn't sung it for years. As she sang she was no longer in the presence of royalty, but singing to loving friends in her fatherland.

Softly at first the plaintive notes floated on the air, swelling louder and richer every moment. The singer seemed to throw her whole soul into that weird, thrilling, plaintive "prayer." Gradually the song died away and ended in a sob. There was silence—the silence of admiring wonder. The audience sat spell-bound. Jenny Lind lifted her sweet eyes to look into the scornful face that had so disconcerted her. There was no fierce expression now; instead, a tear-drop glistened on the long, black lashes, and after a moment, with the impulsiveness of a child of the tropics, Grisi crossed to Jenny Lind's side, placed her arms about her, and kissed her, utterly regardless of the audience.—Exchange.

Familiar.

Six-year-old Marie is a minister's daughter, and Christmas, 1904, found half a dozen dolls under the Christmas tree. There they stood during Christmas week, when, realizing that six or seven dolls in addition to other toys was too much of a good thing, mother, who had the look-ahead temperament, resolved to kidnap one of the family and put it by for the next year.

To all appearances the scheme was carried through successfully, as no inquiries were made. So, on Christmas, 1905, the last year's baby reappeared under the new tree. Next morning Marie, accompanied by the usual number of grown-ups, was taken to view the tree. Fixing her eyes on the absentee and holding her dimpled chin with a chubby hand, after a period of deep thought she remarked, in a puzzled tone:

"Where the dickens have I seen that face before?"

Bound to Win Yet.

There is a song that no one else has writ,
I know, but can not fashion it—
Not yet—perhaps, some time,
I'll get the rhyme
And quit.

I've started it a hundred times, I think,
Grandly—and then, ere one could wink,
The inspiration's gone—
The song is on
The blink!

How many things start well, but somehow miss
Connections—like a girl's first kiss—
Start with a mighty shout,
Then peter out
Like this!

Ten syllables, a sonnet to begin;
Eight in the next—a metric sin,
Then six—who would have known
It could have grown
So thin?

But, say!
One of these times
I'm going to switch the rhymes
Around, by George, the other way
Start little and end big—I will, some day!

—Cleveland Leader.

Proof Against Everything.

A lad who was visiting at a relative's house was unused to the form of saying grace before meals. He began to eat at the dinner table without waiting or watching to see what the rest did.

"John," ventured his uncle, hesitatingly, "we usually say a little something before we eat."

"Say all you want, say all you want," replied John, cheerfully. "You can't hurt my appetite!"—Weekly Scotsman.

WILD WITH ITCHING HUMOR.

Eruption Broke Out in Spots All Over Body—Cured at Expense of Only $1.25—Thanks Cuticura.

The Cuticura Remedies cured me of my skin disease, and I am very thankful to you. My trouble was eruption of the skin, which broke out in spots all over my body, and caused a continual itching which nearly drove me wild at times. I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your ad, I sent to you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. The Awakening of China.

Turning to purely internal evidences of the awakening of China, they may be found on every side, says Thomas F. Millard in the February Scribner's.

In the prevalent western conception of the Chinese there are, Mr. Millard believes, several radical errors. One is that they are adverse to modern improvements; another that they have no military capacity; another that they are incapable of playing a significant part in the political regeneration of the nation, owing to absence of a national spirit. Without pausing to discuss these propositions in detail, he asks if these things could not have been said, with a considerable semblance of truth, about Japan half a century ago? And they were no more true of the Japanese people than they are of the Chinese people to-day, he asserts.

According to the statement of Mrs. Williamson she considers the abolishing of football one of the greatest steps in the interest of civilization that have been taken in many years.

Beats Bellamy's Time.

Utopia seemed a step nearer for automobilists in Chicago, when plans were announced for an apartment building in which every flat will have its own garage. Dwellers in these unique apartments can step directly from their living rooms into their motor cars, be conveyed to the street by a mammoth elevator, and drive away serenely, without having lifted a foot since they entered the automobile. This plan is announced in behalf of Laverne W. Noyes of the Aeromoter company. The structure is to be at Elm street and the Lake Shore drive. From the bottom to the top of the structure, which is designed to be seven stories high, with each floor devoted to a single suite, will run the elevator, large enough to accommodate the largest of automobiles for private use.

Cecil Rhodes Scholarships.

Bishop Hartzell of the Methodist church of Africa has just returned from Oxford, says a London dispatch, where he addressed the American men who have won Cecil Rhodes scholarships. Questioned, as to his opinion of the experiment provided for in the will of the dead millionaire, and which has resulted in sending a number of men abroad to take courses in the English universities, the bishop said: "I found a general feeling of satisfaction. The type of the men is high and in scholarship and athletics they are making excellent records."

Enabling Act to Pass.

That the bill for the creation of a state out of Oklahoma and Indian Territory and another out of Arizona and New Mexico, which is now in a conference of the two houses of Congress, will become law is conceded by many of its opponents. However, no one contends that the original Hamilton bill will be adopted, but that bill with the Foraker amendment, which grants each territory the right to accept or reject a constitution, separately, will be the outcome of the fight.

The bill will provide for the election of a full set of officials at the time the constitution is submitted, and the number of these offices are almost one thousand for the proposed new state. In other words, there will be at least two thousand candidates, not counting the independent candidates, who will swell the number; for both parties will name a full ticket in each county. It is natural that everyone of these candidates will urge his own election, and his friends will aid him, and in this way the constitution is very likely to be adopted.

A man who presents himself a candidate for office tacitly admits his willingness to serve the state under the constitution, and though he might have been opposed to joint statehood, his candidacy, in reality, makes him an advocate of the measure. It can readily be seen, there, how promising are the chances for each territory to give a majority vote for the constitution. It becomes a matter of selfish interest to every candidate to work for statehood, and though, in some places, it may be done openly, but done it will be, and the friends of the candidate will push it along, thus forming an endless chain whose strength will grow and one that cannot be broken.

Therefore, having these considerations before us, why despair? A chance to vote we'll certainly have, and many are hopeful that a union of our two territories will be consummated. We devoutly hope and believe that such will be the result.

Taxpayers Lose.

The injunction proceedings against the board of county commissioners of Lincoln county, at the instance of the taxpayers association, was dismissed at Alamogordo Tuesday before Judge Edward A. Mann.

The decision was along the lines of the mandamus hearing, given by Judge Mann, over the same controversy, which was, in effect, that the board could exercise, or had, discretionary powers.

SPOILED LAWYER'S FINE PLEA.

Col. Benton Overreached in Eagerness to Make Point.

During the first hearing of the famous Crocker will case in the supreme court, before Judge Lathrop and a jury, there were many interesting and amusing tilts between the eminent counsel engaged in the case—Robert M. Morse for the contestants of the will, and Col. Joseph H. Benton, Jr., for the executors.

Perhaps at no time during the hearing, however, was there any better exhibition of wit than in the summing up of counsel before the jury. At one point Col. Benton was trying to impress upon the jury that the expression "old fool," alleged to have been used by one of the interested parties, might reasonably be construed as a term of endearment.

"For example," explained Col. Benton, "King Lear called his fond daughter, 'my dear pretty fool.'"

Here he waited a moment to let the point sink into the minds of the jury. Judge Lathrop, however, who had been listening with intense interest, leaned forward in his chair and dryly remarked:

"But, Mr. Benton, King Lear was crazy, wasn't he?"

"Well, your honor, that's a mooted question," was all that the confused attorney could reply, and even this was almost smothered by the mirthful outburst in the court room, in which the opposing counsel, Mr. Morse, joined most heartily.

Beyond the Hills.

All the world is still before you, little boy,
You are in the fair, green valley where the sun
Lights the smooth and pleasant paths down which you run;
Out beyond the hills you dimly see its care,
Far beyond those heights are burdens you must bear,
But beyond those uplands also there is joy,
Little boy.

There are heartaches that await you, little boy,
And those roads that in the distance wind away
Lead to labor and contention and dismay;
Stones are waiting there to bruise your weary feet,
Foes are ambushed there whom you will have to meet,
But upon those hard roads also there is joy,
Little boy.

You are innocent and care free, little boy,
And out yonder there is knowledge you must gain
At the price of many efforts and much pain;
You must toil and you must suffer ere you learn,
You may never from beyond those hills return,
But be glad, for yonder love lies, too, and joy,
Little boy.

—S. E. Kiser.

No Sunday Paper That Night.

Mr. Capen, an old resident of a seaport town of Massachusetts, is employed as driver of the coach which conveys travelers from the train to the hotel.

One Saturday evening a short time ago three men arrived on the afternoon train from Boston. Mr. Capen was sitting on the driver's seat, waiting to take them to their destination. They looked about the station and evidently were not favorably impressed with the surroundings, for one was heard to say:

"What a desolate country! We certainly have come to the jumping-off place. I don't believe we can even get a Sunday paper in this place, can we, driver?"

There was silence for a moment, and then Mr. Capen drawled out: "Wa!, not to-night."

Birthday in Doubt.

Tom Pezzi, the genial old fish market man of Green Harbor, and his famous sign on the roof of his market, "Tom Pezzi Forever," are well known to the thousands of visitors to that summer resort, and also to many of the Brant Rock people, as are also his funny sayings.

One day one of his customers asked him how old he was. Removing the clay pipe he habitually uses from his mouth, he thought for a moment, and then said: "Well, I was born in 1702 or 1802, and I'll be d—d if I know which."—Boston Herald.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. KEEPS IN GOOD HEALTH AT 105.

New England Woman Has Lived in Three Centuries.

Aunt Lorica Cox celebrated her 106th birthday on Saturday at her home with her daughter, Mrs. Louisa Ann Shaw, in West Harrington, says a dispatch from Bangor, Maine. It is said that she is the only woman in New England who has lived in three centuries.

In spite of her years she eats three meals a day with relish, and neither pain nor restlessness ever disturb her slumbers.

Mrs. Cox has vivid recollections of all the wars the United States has engaged in since its independence as a nation was acknowledged by England, for she has lived through them all. Her husband, James Cox, died in the civil war, he having enlisted in Company D, Twenty-second Maine Volunteers.

Mrs. Cox is a living witness against the theory that tobacco prevents longevity, for she is an inveterate smoker, having acquired the habit in childhood by lighting her mother's pipe.

Mourns Lost Pet Frog.

After keeping a frog for ten years, simply as a question of ascertaining how long it would live, James Spence of this place has lost it and is inconsolable.

Ten years ago the frog, then a small one, escaped into a cellar through a rat hole, rapidly increased in size and was permitted to make the place its home, being fed and cared for every day.

It became a great favorite with patrons of the restaurant, and at a well known whistle would come to the hole for food or to be seen, but it was unable to leave the place.—West Chester Correspondence of the Philadelphia Record.

Why He Didn't Introduce Her.

a pleasure trip with his wife. Arriving at the station in New York, with a valise in each hand, he met a friend from his town and had quite a lengthy conversation with him. After the friend departed his wife, who was standing close by, asked why he had not introduced her.

"How could I, when I had a valise in each hand?" he replied.

Maternal Instinct Strong.

While George R. Howe of Norway, Me., was hunting for aqua marine gems in the Stoneham, same state, a salamander appeared from among the rocks and Mr. Howe promptly threw her some sixty feet away over a ledge. A moment later he found four tiny salamanders in the refuse. After a time he felt something at his feet and looking down saw the salamander which he had thrown away. She had returned in search of her young.

A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use."

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizziness. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would blot after eating, and frequently become nauseated. I had pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant for many years before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is strictly confidential.
