Charged with Assault.

A. E. Cook, watchman for the railroad company, was arrested Wednesday and brought before Justice Scoggin on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, Preciliano Moreno being the upon whom the assault was alleged to have been made. Some irregularities, however, in the complaint caused the case to be thrown out of court; but yesterday a new complaint was sworn out and the defendant arraigned, whereupon he waived examination and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $200. The bond, we understand, was readily made.

No evidence, of course, was submitted, and as to the difficulty we can only give what is purported to be the facts. It seems that the complaining witness, Preciliano Moreno was in the depot creating a disturbance, and that Cook was called upon to put him out. This Cook did, but not without a struggle with Moreno, in which it is said Moreno lambasted Cook over the head with a handbag. Cook, in turn, pulled his six-shooter and was attempting to strike Moreno. Constable Adams interfered at this time, and in the melee Cook's pistol was discharged, the bullet passing through Constable Adam's trousers, burning the skin of his right leg near the hip. The shot, avowedly, was accidental, and the witnesses to the near-tragedy bear out the statement. Nevertheless, an innocent person came very near suffering serious injury, as "every bullet has its billet." Therefore, with this affair fresh in our minds, and remembering how near it approached a tragedy, we can easily see how much better it would have been for the watchman to have used more discretion, and if unable to handle his man to have called for assistance; or, if drastic measures became necessary—and we do not say whether they were or were not—to have used a club, a coupling pin or a billy, than to have endangered the lives of others in an endeavor to enforce order with a gun. It was an unfortunate affair, but happening as it did had a fortunate ending.

Knife and Pistol Duel at Corona.

Since the death of Deputy Sheriff W. J. McAdams, who was killed last week by John C. Trapp and his two sons, the pistol totter has been very much in evidence in Corona. One serious fight has already resulted from these conditions.

Cleve Hibler and John Yates indulged in a knife and pistol duel Sunday night. Both men are seriously hurt and are under arrest.

The duel between Hibler and Yates did not grow out of the shooting of McAdams, whose death is deplored by the whole community.

L. E. Everett was arrested last Wednesday night for carrying a pistol and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

J. C. Trapp and two sons, who are accused of the killing of W. J. McAdams, at Corona last week, will have a preliminary hearing at Alamogordo, on January 20, before Judge Cooley.

A Daring Thief.

A burglary occurred about ten o'clock Monday night at the railroad hotel, in which the nifty thief took an even chance with fate of getting his skin punctured. The wire screen on one of the outside windows of the hotel was cut, the window raised, and the clothes of the occupant of the room hooked out by means of a piece of bailing wire while he slept, and a valuable watch and twenty dollars taken from the pockets. The garments were then thrown back in the room, the noise awaking the sleeper, who reached for his gun, but too late to connect with the thief. He gave the alarm, and although the town constable, assisted by others, was on the ground within very few minutes after the occurrence, he failed to get the slightest clue to work on. The guest had come from El Paso that evening, and it is the opinion of the officers that it was someone whom he met on the train, and who had shadowed him until he went to his room, that turned the trick.

MATTER OF CLOTHES.

Dress has a great deal to do with the spirit and sentiment of a person, and he wants his dress to cultivate the right spirit. He can raise or lower himself according to the character of the clothes he wears. One feels the effect of his clothes. If he attends some function in clothes not fitted to the occasion he does not enjoy it. Clothes seem to be a very superficial matter, but they enter very much into character-making. Put a hat on a boy that is banged, upturned, rakish and rowdy-looking, and by some sort of an osmosis these qualities pass into the nature of the boy and control his tendencies, says the Ohio State Journal. There is no better example of the influence of environment than is seen in the effect of clothes. The cost has nothing to do with it. It is in the neatness, the taste, the way it sets and feels that help make up the inclination and disposition of a person. The dignity, the ease, the intelligence of a man can be promoted by his dress, and the opposite qualities just as well. Clothes are really character-formers, and one should see that they are directed to whatever contributes to the grace, order, dignity and beauty of character.

According to an announcement given out about this time last year there were at the beginning of September of 1908, upon various sidetracks, 170,652 idle cars. This was a great decrease from the number that were out of commission at the beginning of last year. A recently published authoritative statement declares that only 68,502 cars are now idle. It is surprising that even this number are out of use, considering the fact that practically all of the big railway systems, and many of the smaller ones, have been placing big rolling stock equipment orders during the past few months. The unmistakable inference to be drawn is that the railroads are already in pressing need of more freight cars of all descriptions.

The bureau of zoology of the state department of agriculture has recently issued an admirable and novel bulletin on the subject of plant pest treatment. In a few pages comparatively are condensed a very comprehensive list of the commoner ill plants are heir to. Then another list gives the appropriate treatment, while a third tells the most effective time to do the work. These three schedules are connected by cross references so that they are made easily available to anyone. In most cases the grower knows only too well what is the matter with his crop. If he does not the bureau invites him to send specimens of affected growth securely packed so no danger of spreading infection or risk of damaging by mail may be incurred.

According to consular reports from Constantinople the New Turks have been seized by the world's fair idea. They believe that a great exposition revealing or suggesting the immense possibilities of their land would give a marked impetus to development in the manufacturing industries and to commerce. In both these lines Turkey lags sadly now, being almost purely an agricultural and pastoral country.

After all, it is natural for aviation to be in the air. It is the natural element for that enterprise.

HAS UNITED 5,000

Bloomington Justice 40 Years Aid of Cupid.

'Squire William B. Hendryx Claims the Record for Number of Couples Married—Is Enemy of Divorce Court.

Bloomington, Ill.—Bloomington is becoming world famous as a Gretna Green, due to the popularity of its clergymen and justices of the peace in tying matrimonial knots. The great magnet for those seeking the altar of love, however, is the marriage parlor of Justice William B. Hendryx, a veritable Cupid's bower, where blushing brides and gallant grooms from all over the United States come to plight their vows.

Justice Hendryx now holds the world's record, having married 5,000 couples, far more, it is said, than any other, be he bishop or judge, parson or justice. He is now marrying the grandchildren of couples whom he united in wedlock 40 years ago and will shortly attend a reunion in Chicago of a family where he performed the ceremony for each member.

Thirty-six years ago he married Chester W. Archer and Mary J. Williamson, now residents of Chicago, their home being near Lincoln park. Four children were born to this couple, two sons and two daughters. All are married, and the ceremony in each case was performed by Justice Hendryx.

The family concluded that a reunion without Judge Hendryx would be like the play of Hamlet with the title role missing. He will accordingly preside over the event and several other Chicagoans who were married by the same 'squire have been invited to attend.

Justice Hendryx's "marriage parlors" are in a class by themselves. Tourists are always advised to visit these parlors, whether matrimonially inclined or otherwise.

Mottos calculated to promote matrimony, such as "Perfect Union," "Wedded for Life," "Cupid's Headquarters," etc., adorn the walls.

A monster mirror, ten feet square, which cost the justice $500, covers one wall, allowing couples to have a full-length view of themselves while the binding words are being uttered. Fresh flowers are provided every day and are placed in cut-glass vases, to be presented to the brides.

An organ for the rendition of a wedding march is an important adjunct and an obliging stenographer in an adjoining office is ready to respond to a call for the strains of Mendelssohn or Lohengrin if the accompaniment is desired.

The justice is also prepared to supply forgetful grooms with full dress suits or brides with veils and orange blossoms if request is made. A barrel of rice and a box of old shoes are also kept on hand.

When the ceremony is ended—and this, too, is in a class by itself, as all who have been married by him will gladly testify—these is a wedding certificate, original with the justice, that brides pronounce a dream. Cupids and hearts predominate in the decoration of the certificate, and there is a guarantee with each, that the knot is indissoluble.

'Squire Hendryx says that he is the greatest enemy of the divorce court in existence. His couples, he asserts, always live happily together. He ascribes this to a peculiar hypnotic spell which he says he throws around the couple while the binding words are being uttered.

Hendryx enlisted in the union army as a boy and fought gallantly for five years. After the war he became deputy sheriff. Forty years ago he was elected justice of the peace and has been re-elected every four years since.

It is not uncommon for him to marry five couples in a single day.

a regulation colonel and entitled to all the honors of the commander of one of the crack regiments of the German army, the Second Hussar Guard, which is stationed at Dantzig. She has been appointed to this place by her father, and was presented to the higher officers of the regiment at the Imperial palace at Potsdam recently.

Col. Princess Louise was mounted and wore the dress uniform of the regiment.

Princess Louise is only 16 years of age, and was recently confirmed in the little Lutheran chapel known as the "Church of Peace," situated near Potsdam. She had prepared the night before a written confession of her faith, to be deposited in the royal archives. This is in accordance with an ancient Hohenzollern custom. The princess is, by her confirmation and appointment, transformed from a flax-haired miss into a young lady and ready to be wooed by some prince who may ask her to share his throne with him.

Platinum Merely By-product.

In British Columbia platinum is found in many of the alluvial gold workings, where it can be saved as a by-product. The saving of it in a small way is, however, attended with so much trouble that it has been practically neglected and no appreciable production made recently.

It was married man's night at the revival meeting.

"Let all you husbands who have troubles on your minds stand up!" shouted the emotional preacher at the height of his spasm.

Instantly every man in the church rose to his feet except one.

"Ah!" exclaimed the preacher, peering out at this lone sitter, who occupied a chair near the door and apart from the others. "You are one in a million."

"It ain't that," piped back this one helplessly, as the rest of the congregation turned to gaze suspiciously at him. "I can't get up; I'm paralyzed."

FOR OLD PEOPLE.

After reaching the age of forty the human system gradually declines. The accumulated poisons in the blood cause rheumatic pains in the joints, muscles and back. These warnings should be promptly relieved and serious illness avoided by using the following prescription which shows wonderful results even after the first few doses and it will eventually restore physical strength.

"One ounce compound syrup of Sarsaparilla; one ounce Toris compound; half pint of high grade whiskey. This to be mixed and used in tablespoonful doses before each meal and at bedtime. The bottle to be well shaken each time." Any druggist has these ingredients or can get them from his wholesale house.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Usually There Are Other Troubles to Prove It.

Pain in the back is pain in the kidneys, in most cases, and it points to the need of a special remedy to remove and cure the congestion or inflammation of the kidneys that is interfering with their work and causing that pain that makes you say: "Oh, my back."

Thompson Watkins, professional nurse, 420 N. 23rd St., Parsons, Kan., says: "For some time I was annoyed with sharp twinges across the small of my back and irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, I am free from these troubles."

The district attorneys of the territory met at Santa Fe the first of the year, and passed some strong resolutions calling for reform in matters of taxation. They particularly appealed to the Territorial Equalization Board to increase the valuation of railroads. Their efforts were heartily seconded by Governor Curry. A few days later the Equalization Board met, but it was confronted by a different set of attorneys—representatives of the railroads. As has resulted, from time immemorial, the Board turned down the representatives of the people and listened to the representatives of the special interests. Is it any wonder people kick against such conditions? Can there be a lingering doubt that the railroads run the Board of Equalization, or, at least, influence its action? If anyone can suggest a good reason why the railroads should pay on only $10,000,000 valuation when the Federal Bureau of Corporations have found $101,000,000 worth of railroad property in the territory, the fight against such corporations will ease up.

P. C. Baird left Tuesday evening for Corona, where he expects to remain some time. He was called to that point on account of the difficulties that have occurred there and because of a desire on the part of the Corona people to secure an officer who was in no way connected with local affairs. Mr. Baird is an old peace officer, has a cool head, and will no doubt succeed, to a large extent, in allaying the bitterness resulting from the recent disturbances at that place. The Corona people, we understand, have liberally subscribed to a regular salary for Mr. Baird.

Frank Gray returned Wednesday evening from a six week's visit to his old home in Texas.

He was accompanied by his grandmother, the mother of W. D. Gray, who is in her eightieth year. To prove the wonderful vitality and longevity of the average Texan, the aged lady stepped off the mile that separates Frank's home from the depot as a Miss of sixteen. Frank brought back with him an animal peculiar to that part of Texas though rare in other parts, known as the armadillo. It is encased in a suit of armor, and, but for its elongated snout, resembles a vest pocket edition of a rhinoceros. The ugly little creature, however, evidently belongs to the family of ant-eaters of South America, whose habits are quite similar.

Outwit the Horse Sharper

Did you ever find a lemon in a horse's nose? How and why did it get there? Did the last horse you bought go incurably lame the next day? Do you know why? Why were his ears tied together with a fine silken thread? Perhaps you are about to buy a horse because you like his "ginger"? Are you sure it is health and high spirits, or IS it ginger—commercial ginger? Are you sure you could tell the age of a horse by its teeth? Or would your experience be like that other man's, who paid $3500 for a 17-year-old horse, thinking he was buying a 7-year-old? The horse had been "Bishoped."

VACCINATION.

The question of compulsory vaccination is causing considerable comment and confusion in all parts of the territory, and the provisions of the law are, perhaps, as much opposed in Lincoln county as any county in the territory. This opposition comes from three classes of individuals. The first class deny the efficacy of vaccination, and declare that the results from vaccination are about as serious as smallpox itself. The second class denounce it as an abridgement of personal liberty—an interference of the state with domestic affairs. The third and largest class is composed of those who do not understand vaccination and care little about it.

Law is law, notwithstanding these objections, and the responsibility of enforcing the vaccination law is thrown on the county superintendent of schools, the boards of directors and the school teachers. If the law is bad, ask for its repeal; but while it is law assist the authorities in its enforcement, and if coercive measures are necessary to force some to do what the vast majority do willingly the blame, naturally, must fall on those who provoke such measures.

But is it a bad law? Many of the leading nations of the world and a number of the progressive states of our union have compulsory vaccination laws, from which the New Mexico law is drawn. Medical science has determined that vaccination has prevented the death of thousands from smallpox. Is not the research of centuries by that profession worth considering? When you are sick you call on a physician, just as when you are in litigation you call on a disciple of Blackstone to bring you relief. If the knowledge of a physician is necessary and useful to combat disease why may not his services be equally useful and beneficial to the human family when called upon to prevent disease? He has made as serious a study of prevention as he has of cure, and if fitted to act in one capacity certainly he must be in the other.

But let the medical fraternity speak for itself. We quote below from a paper prepared by Dr. W. T. Joyner, of Roswell, and read before the New Mexico Educational Association, which met in that city the latter part of December. Lack of space will not permit an entire reproduction of this most excellent paper and we must content ourselves with a few paragraphs.

Speaking of the indifference of some school officials and teachers with reference to the enforcement of the vaccination law the paper reads: "If this be true I believe it is due to lack of proper information regarding this important subject; in fact opposition to vaccination is evidence a lack of a correct understanding of the principles of hygiene. In my opinion every teacher in the public schools of New Mexico should have a thorough knowledge of the principles of hygiene. New Mexico has an excellent law on the subject of vaccination, making it the duty of the county superintendent to see that no child is permitted to attend the public schools without a certificate of vaccination."

"Since the time of Jenner, we understand — by vaccination a prophylactic measure against variola or smallpox, having for its object the production of immunity to this disease and consisting of inoculation with the contents of the vesicle of vaccina, or cow-pox. Vaccinia, or cow-pox, was originally a peculiar localized eruption resembling that of smallpox, which sometimes appeared on the udders of milch cows. It has been known for a long time that the original cow-pox is contagious and that it is capable of inoculation by means of virus obtained in the pocks. * * * Every correctly performed and successful vaccination, whether the virus be bovin or human, always manifests itself in man and cattle by the production of an immunity to vaccinia, or cow-pox, and variola, or smallpox. * * * Prior to the discovery of vaccination by Jenner towards the close of the 18th century smallpox was one of the principal scourges of the world. It killed on an average nearly half a million of people every year in Europe alone and about once in three years was more than ordinarily severe. More than half the cases of blindness throughout Europe was attributed to this disease and about a third of the population showed in their faces evidence of having had it. * * * The discovery that the inoculation from the small pox postule was more certain and quick in its result led to the widespread practice of inoculation. This was begun in England in 1721 and for half a century was employed very extensively and even after the discovery of vaccination was practiced to a certain extent until 1840 when it was prohibited by law. The practice of vaccination is due to the work of Jenner, who on May 14, 1796, performed his first successful operation. The practice was adopted in America, France, Germany, in fact the entire civilized world and everywhere proved to be of the greatest benefit. The practice was introduced into this country by Dr. Benj. Waterhouse, professor of Harvard University, who, on July 8th., 1800, vaccinated his seven children with six positive results. About the same time it was introduced in Philadelphia by John Redman Coxe, who vaccinated his eldest child and then exposed him to small-pox without result. In 1806 Thomas Jefferson, who was the first to introduce the practice in the south, wrote to Jenner, "You have erased from the calendar of human afflictions one of its greatest. Yours is the comfortable reflection that mankind can never forget that you have lived. Future nations will know by history alone that the loathsome small-pox has existed and by you has been extirpated." The beneficial results of the introduction of vaccination in this country are well shown by a comparison of the conditions obtaining in the early part of the 18th. century and the corresponding period in Boston. In 1721, Boston, with a population of about 11,000, had 5,989 cases of small-pox, with 850 deaths. In 1730, in a population of about 15,000, there were about 4,000 cases, with 509 deaths, but between 1811 and 1830 in a very much larger population, there were but 14 cases of the disease. In London during the third quarter of the 17th. century the average mortality from small-pox per million population was 4,000. A hundred years later, between 1770 and 1780, it was more than 5,000. In the first year of vaccination it it was more than 2,000; by the middle of the 19th. century it fell to 500 and in the last decade of the century to less than 75. In the whole of England during the period of optional vaccination the mortality rate fell from about 2,000 to 417 and after the practice was made compulsory in 1850 it fell to 53. In Sweden, where very accurate records have been kept since 1774, the average mortality per million of population between 1774 and 1801 was 3,045. During the years of optional vaccination, 1802 to 1816, it fell to 480. In 1817, when compulsory vaccination was adopted, the rate began to fall still lower and up to 1893 the average mortality fell to 155. During the last nine years of this period, under more stringent regulations, it was never more than five, and it was as low as two-tenths. In prussia, during the period of optional vaccination, the majority rate fell from more than 2,000 to about 300. During the Franco-Prussian war there were among the million well vaccinated German troops, but 459 deaths from small-pox, while in the smaller, imperfectly vaccinated French army, there were no less than 23,400.

Parents are prone to ascribe to vaccination ever disturbance that a child may suffer, particularly if there be any cutaneous eruption. Sometimes a rash may occur to spread from the vaccinated arm to other parts of the body. Sometimes erysipelas and other infections occur at the point of vaccination but these are no more likely to occur as a result of vaccination than of any other interference with the integrity of the skin. Persons of dirty habits and living in unclean surroundings are more likely to suffer from ulceration of the vesicle and from other local disturbances not due to the influence of the virus itself. Surely no one who understands the principles of sanitation would wish to do away with vaccination, the most powerful and effective protection against the most dreadful diseases on account of such rare occurrences as long as nothing worse is proved against it.

Do not fail to take advantage of the great sacrifice Ziegler Bros. are making on all Ladies and Misses coats, as it will pay you to buy now, even if you have to wear it next season. 2t

Women Suffer Agonies from Diseased Kidneys

And Most Women Do This Not Knowing the Real Cause of their Condition

These poor, suffering women have been led to believe that their misery of mind and body is entirely due to "ills of their sex." Usually the kidneys and bladder are responsible—or largely so. And in such cases, the kidneys and bladder are the organs, that need and must have attention.

Those torturing, enervating sick headaches, dragging pains in back, groin and limbs, bloating and swelling of the extremities, extreme nervousness or hysteria, listlessness and constant tired, worn-out feeling—are almost certain symptoms of disordered and diseased kidneys, bladder and liver.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills have, in thousands of cases, been demonstrated as remarkably beneficial in all such conditions of female organism—affording the most prompt relief and permanent benefit.

As an illustration of what these Pills will do, Mrs. P. M. Bray of Columbus, Ga., writes that she was very ill with kidney trouble, and that she is now well—and that these Pills are what cured her.

They are very pleasant to take, and can in no case, produce any deleterious effects upon the system—as syrupy, alcoholic, liquid preparations are apt to do.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail post-paid. Do it to-day.

CAPITAN.

D. M. Cox was down from Ancho this week.

Richmond Hust was down from Nogal Tuesday.

Attorney H. B. Hamilton and family came over Sunday from Capitan.

Geo. A. Titsworth was over from Capitan Wednesday for a short time.

Mrs. Hattie Pons has rented her cottage north of the Bank to Mrs. K. F. Whittingham.

Mrs. Frank Calfee and children of the I-X ranch near Oscuro, are visiting in Roswell.

Brother Pope will preach here Sunday in the old Humphres Jewelry store, morning and evening.

Richard R. Archer, representing the Albuquerque Morning Journal, was in Carrizozo a day or two this week.

H. C. Crary, an old time miner in the White Oaks district, died in the Soldiers' Home in Los Angeles on the 4th. inst.

Scipio Salazar came up Monday from Lincoln and remained until yesterday, meeting and talking over matters with friends.

Leo Young, who made Lincoln county his home for many years, returned to Las Cruces Monday where he is attending school. He expects to graduate next year.

W. C. McDonald and daughter Frances left Monday for Denver, where Miss Frances will re-enter Wolfe Hall seminary.

Quite a number of teachers are in attendance today from all parts of the county at the regular mid-winter teachers' examination.

This marriage item was overlooked last week: Joseph Clavee, a local conductor, was married Wednesday of last week to Miss Bernice Lane, a daughter of Mrs. Will Lane.

The Baptist Sunday school will meet every Sunday morning at ten o'clock in the store recently occupied by the Pioneer jeweler. Preaching on second and fourth Sundays each month.

Tom Sebree came over from Capitan Monday. He was going to Alamogordo on a visit, but was compelled to remain over a day on account of a wreck up the line.

Forest Supervisor Kinney of Capitan was among those who had to remain over here Monday on account of a wreck up the line. He was going to Gallinas to look over that portion of the reserve.

The storm of the past week ended with a gentle rain—an almost unprecedented condition at this season of the year. The ground has more moisture than for months, and the new year starts out bright with promise for the tillers of the soil.

A slight wreck occurred at Robsart, the first switch north of Carrizozo, yesterday, in which a box car left the track and turned over. There was no interference with traffic, however, as the side track at that point permitted the passage of all trains.

W. J. McAdams, who was shot near Corona last week, died from his wounds, in the Providence hospital in El Paso, Saturday morning. He leaves a wife and nine children. The remains were taken to Corona and were interred in the local cemetery the following day. Much sympathy is felt for the wife and orphans.

George Hosier, formerly switch engineer in the yards, died last Thursday night. The deceased had been treated at the general hospital of the company last summer at Bisbee, for cancer, later going to Chicago, where he underwent an operation which, although successful from a medical standpoint, failed to cure him of the disease.

A serious freight wreck occurred Monday a short distance this side of Ancho. The engine and eleven cars turned turtle, scattering wreckage and tearing up the track for quite a distance. Fortunately, none of the crew were injured. H. A. Gross was the engineer and D. D. Tiffany conductor. The wreck was caused by the section crew having a rail up and not flagging the on-coming train. Traffic was impeded for about twenty-two hours.

MARRIED—Jesse M. Dawson and Mrs. Nellie McCallick were married at Lincoln Tuesday, the Rev. J. W. Riggle performing the ceremony. The groom is a resident of this town, fills a responsible and lucrative position here, and is highly regarded by a large circle of acquaintances. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kyle of Capitan, and is an estimable lady. Best wishes extended.

The many friends of Ray Hall in this town will regret to learn that while feeding a printing press last week in Wichita, Kan., one of his hands got caught in the press, crushing it so badly that it had to be amputated. He resided in this town with his father, Attorney Hall, for about two years, and was prominent in base ball circles, being captain of the local team last season. He had charge of the Outlook for some time last summer, resigning and going to Albuquerque, later going to Wichita, where he formerly resided.

Mail Steamer, Cut In Half In Collision
Near Singapore, Sinks In Two Minutes—Sixty-one Rescued.

Singapore.—The mail steamer La Seye, of the Messagries maritime service, running between Java and Singapore, and on her way to this port, crashed into the Onda, of the British-India Line, and sank within two minutes.

Seven European passengers, including Baron and Baroness Beniczky, the Captain of La Seye, five European officials and eighty-eight others, comprising native passengers and members of the crew, were drowned.

The rescue of sixty-one persons, practically from the jaws of shoals of sharks, formed a thrilling incident of the wreck.

The accident occurred about 4 o'clock in the morning in a thick mist. The vessels were steaming at good speed and the La Seye was cut almost in half. There was no time for panic nor for any attempt on the part of the officers of the foundering steamer to put out the boats. The majority of those on board were caught in their berths and carried down with the vessel.

The force of the collision brought the Onda to almost a dead stop and her engines were at once slowed and boats lowered. The rescue work proved thrilling, for not only were the rescuing parties impeded by the darkness, but shoals of sharks were already attacking those clinging to pieces of wreckage in the water.

Sixty-one persons from the ill-fated steamer were finally dragged into the boats and brought by the Onda to this port. Many of them had been bitten by sharks and several were severely injured.

ABANDONED AS BABE, WANTS A FOUNDLING

WOMAN WHO WAS LEFT TO FATE
IN 1861 WOULD ADOPT CHILD
SIMILARLY DESERTED.

Pittsburg, Pa.—One bitter cold day in December, 1861, a soldier of the civil war on his way to the south to join his regiment found on abandoned baby girl two weeks old in a chip basket on a seat in old Union Station. The big blue eyes and smiling face of the infant appealed to the soldier, but he was on his way to war, and so turned the child over to the police.

A month later the soldier's wife, learning of the innocent babe's plight through a letter from her husband, adopted the child and took it to her home near Pitcairn. It was reared and cared for with the love of a mother, and, finally growing to womanhood, married.

Several days ago the foundling of '61 walked into the Rosalia Foundling Asylum, on Cliff street, and asked permission to adopt the infant abandoned by its mother in Union Station, under circumstances almost identical to her own case.

"My heart aches for that infant, because I was abandoned by my real mother and was found in a basket, hungry and sick. A good family adopted me and I was reared and educated and made happy. I want to make this poor little one's life just as happy as mine has been. Won't you please help me to get this baby," sobbed the woman to the matron at Union Station yesterday. The matron referred her to St. Rosalia's Foundling Asylum on Cliff street, and there she begged the sisters for nearly two hours to allow her to take charge of the infant.

The good sisters of the institution were impressed with the woman's story, but informed her that it was the custom to keep an abandoned child for at least two months, as the mother might in the future claim the baby. With the assurance that at the expiration of that period her request would be considered, the woman left for her home, but promised to return frequently to visit the babe.

When she was shown the abandoned babe she lifted it into her arms and caressed it. When asked her name the woman, with tears in her eyes, said:

"There are few who know the story of my life, and I wish to keep it secret. Nobody, but a very few, knows that the woman who reared me from infancy is not my mother. I think I am much entitled to take this babe in charge, because my case was so similar, and therefore I would appreciate the poor little one's predicament and care for it with motherly love."

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Prest., Buffalo, N. Y.

IN CREPE DE CHINE

THE ONE THING OF ALL THE SEASON'S NECESSARIES.

Most Satisfactory Material That Has Been Afforded Votaries of Fashion for a Long Time—Furnished in All Colors.

So disconcerting to the average buyer are the splendid garments which crowd shops and windows, that it is with positive relief one looks upon the raiment that makes no pretension to splendor of any sort, but rather reflects the dear, every-day homeliness that you are looking for.

The bodice that is required to make a coat suit whole is as much a problem to the woman of light means as if she had never seen one in all her life. The shops show waists in plenty, so many, in fact, that your wits are often completely scattered by the sight of them. But the pretty crepe de chine thing you would choose bears a price for royalty, and it does not

ARRANGING A LETTER RACK

Model Here Given May Be Copied and Duplicate of Same Easily Made.

By means of a few scraps of silk and some cord, and taking our sketch as a model, skillful fingers may construct a very dainty specimen of that very useful article, the letter rack. Cut out two pieces of cardboard about eight inches wide and five high, shaping the edge of the one intended for the front portion as depicted, namely, semi-circular in the center, with points at the end, which, after being covered, are turned back in the form of flaps. The cardboard must be covered on both sides with silk, using preferably a plain one for the inside and a flowered for the outside, embroidering on the latter the words "Letters" in gold thread or silk of a contrasting shade.

take much scrutiny for you to see that, despite its seeming simplicity, it is too fine anyway for your modest needs.

Nevertheless, these crepe de chine bodices, and others of silk and satin so soft that the materials almost seem gauze, show in point of material the thing needed for stylish coat suits, and where one can afford the time to make them up they are the most satisfactory of all species of odd waists. The delicate textures used are often in somber colors—smoke grays, purples which are almost black, dull greens, etc.

But these dark colorings will often be enlivened by touches of a richer color, this showing on the stock and cuffs and on the frill which frequently runs down the button hem. One beautiful waist of smoke gray crepe de chine, combined with chiffon in the same color, showed a treatment at these points with royal blue, the chiffon being used as a casing to soften this dazzling color.

All such fine waists are made to fit "like the paper on the wall," as you might say, for the outside textures are rolled and plastered closely over the fitted linings, and the whole garment is adjusted to give the look of having been molded upon the form.

High belt effects are features with many of these finer waists, and as they are sometimes of the oddest materials, it is possible to use any bit of appropriate material for them—a length of gay plaid ribbon or silk, for instance, satin or velvet, or tissue of any sort. Our model shows a crepe de chine bodice for any occasion that requires a degree of smart dressing, but it is so simple it may be worn at almost any time without an effect of overdress. It is made upon a fitted lining of thin silk and has a yoke of all-over lace and a bias edge, buttons and button loops of silk in the same color as the material.

A stylish point with the sleeves is the outside puff, running from the shoulder to the wrist. Though for useful wear this puff would be of the waist material, a very fine bodice could have it of the same lace that makes the stock. Again, the stock and sleeve puff could be of chiffon, in which event a high girdle of the crepe, mixed with folds of the chiffon, could be added. Of course, the waist could be copied in simple material for ordinary wear, but as the design is somewhat fixy it had best be kept for the dress-up occasions.

This must be done, of course, before making up. A triangular-shaped piece of silk must be affixed on each side to keep the two portions in place. After sewing all the parts neatly together, finish with an edging of gold or fancy cord.

New York city has an extremely sweet tooth, for its people consumed 280,000,000 pounds of sugar during the last year.

CUTLETS WITH BOILED ONIONS

Recommended as One of the Best of Luncheon Dishes for Family or Guests.

Required: Nicely trimmed cutlets, two or three Spanish onions, half a pint good thickened gravy, one carrot, pepper and salt, one ounce of butter.

After having trimmed the cutlets and taken off all the superfluous fat, arrange them in a copper frying pan, previously heated. Season well with pepper and salt, add some butter. Cook the cutlets till they are a nice brown on both sides, turning them with a knife.

Have some well boiled Spanish onions ready sliced.

Arrange the onion on the center of an entree dish in a pile, and the cutlets round it.

Prepare a little good gravy, nicely thickened, pass it through a sieve, make it very hot, add pepper and salt, and pour it round the edges of the dish.

To garnish, scatter a very little grated red carrot over the onion.

Rolled Veal.

Required: One pound and a half of veal cutlet (from the fillet), quarter of a pound of ham or lean bacon, two hard boiled eggs, quarter of a pound of veal stuffing, lemon rind.

Lay the veal on a board, remove the bone, and just draw the hole together. Cover with slices of ham, then with a layer of veal stuffing, season with pepper and salt and grated lemon rind. Peel the eggs, lay them end to end of the veal, roll the veal neatly and sew the flap. Wrap in buttered paper and bake for an hour, basting frequently. Then take off the paper and roast for an hour longer; dredge the roll with flour to make it brown, basting freely. Serve with gravy poured round and garnish with slices of lemon. Hand potatoes and French beans with it.

Pea Patties.

Make a rich pie crust, working the dough but little. Cut with biscuit cutter after rolling the dough out as for pies. Fit the circular pieces into patty pans and bake until light brown. Pour the liquid from a can of peas, wash them slightly, and put them over the fire with only enough water to keep them from burning. Cook until dry. Prepare white sauce as follows: Three tablespoonfuls of butter and one heaping tablespoonful of flour. Mix well together and add one pint of hot milk and boil until thick. Place each crust on a small plate and fill with peas. Pour over the white sauce and serve hot. These are appetizing and delicious and will be sure to please all who like peas.

Fairy Gingerbread Cookies.

One-half cupful of butter, one-half cupful of milk, one cupful of light brown sugar, two teaspoons baking powder sifted with one and seven-eighths cupfuls of bread flour, two teaspoonfuls of ginger. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, then add milk gradually. Mix and sift flour and ginger, then combine mixtures. Spread very thin, with long, broad-bladed knife on inverted pan. Bake about five or six minutes in moderate oven. Watch carefully and turn pan frequently so that all may be evenly cooked. If mixture about edges should cook first cut off and return to oven to finish center part. Cut in squares.

Good Rice Pudding.

The secret of creamy and tasty poor man's rice pudding, which at its best is worthy of a higher sounding title is a minimum of rice, plenty of creamy milk, slow baking and frequent stirring. A woman who is an adept at the pudding uses a tablespoonful of rice to a quart of milk, four tablespoonfuls of sugar and a little salt. The pudding is baked slowly for fully three hours, and every time a brown scale forms on the top it is stirred in. This brown substance is what gives the distinctive color and taste to the dish.

An Ever Ready Opening.
The editor suddenly became conscious that some one was standing behind him. Looking round, his glance fell upon a seedy looking individual with the eyes of a crank.

"I beg your pardon," said the newcomer, "but is there an opening here for a first-class intellectual writer?"

"Yes," grimly responded the editor. "An ingenious carpenter, foreseeing your visit, has provided an excellent opening. Turn the knob to the right, and do not slam the door as you go out."—The Sunday Magazine.

Wanted More.

Francis, aged 2½, was given a bunch of grapes on his solemn promise not to "swallow the seeds." Very carefully he removed them all, and enjoyed the fruit as a child always does enjoy a new goody. When he had removed the last grape from its clinging place, he handed the empty stalk to his father.

"Daddy," he said, "will you send this back to the store and have the man put some more grapes on it?"

A Good Thing for Oscuro.

W. R. Beaty, ex-county surveyor, was a visitor from Oscuro Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Beaty has a number of mineral claims in that district, the real character of which he was ignorant. Recently a man named J. S. Hayes, a minerologist from New York, happened to stop there, and being interested in the strange character of the stuff had some of it analysed. The analysis proved it to be a combination of fire clay and aluminum, and is considered a valuable deposit. Beaty being interested in the early opening of the mineral resources of the Oscuro district, bonded and leased seven of the claims at $1,000 each, retaining the eighth claim, which will be sufficient for him if the others pan out right. The work of developing them will be commenced in a week or two.
