NEW MACHINERY ARRIVING

The new gasoline engine which is to furnish power for our new printing equipment arrived yesterday, and we have been notified by the manufacturers of the shipment of other machinery, so that we feel confident that our entire new outfit will be installed ready for use by or before the 15th of November.

This outfit was selected with a view to fitting out a thoroughly modern printing establishment for the production of high grade job work. The machinery purchased is of the latest made by the best makers, and the fine magazine press is the only one of its make west of Denver and an entirely new thing in the Southwest.

All the other equipment will be in keeping with this, and is selected especially for economy of operating and high quality of production, which will put us in class by ourselves and give Carrizozo the most complete printing establishment between Hutchinson, Kans., and El Paso, Texas.

In this connection we wish to call the attention of country publishers or those contemplating the establishment of a small weekly paper, that we will have a 7 column Washington press, 8x12 Gordon jobber, paper cutter, several type cases, and as much good new type as any country office will need, which we will sell at a bargain as soon as the new machinery is in operation.

CALUMET COPPER

W. A. McIvers was in town on mining business Wednesday and made a pleasant call at this office. While here Mr. McIvers informed us that the Buster Brown properties controlled by him are being incorporated under the name of the Calumet Copper Company, a number of Chicago and Michigan capitalists having become interested with him in these excellent mines, and the work of developing the properties is being pushed as rapidly as possible. He states that a considerable amount of high grade ore is now being taken out by the development work and that they will begin shipping ore within thirty days.

This mine is situated within six miles of town and will be a great feeder for Carrizozo as soon as the development work reaches a point where the regular production of ore in quantities can begin. When this is done there is no doubt the company will have to build a smelter of its own to treat the product, and this will be one more important institution for Carrizozo.

FEED STORE AND TRANSFER

Edwin R. Kelly and son spent several days in town the latter part of last week and first of this looking over conditions here, with the result that they bought four lots of the Carrizozo Townsite company and have commenced the erection of a large flour and feed store. They intend to transact a wholesale and retail trade in flour and feed and will also operate a transfer line in connection.

These gentlemen are well acquainted with business conditions in the territory, having been here for some twenty years or more. They first settled on the Estancia plains where they engaged in the stock business for several years, moving from there to Albuquerque and later to Socorro county, settling on a ranch near Magdalena. They have been successful in business ventures at all these places and stand high in the estimation of the people wherever known, and we are glad to see them identified with the business circles of our town.

CAPITAN HAPPENINGS

John A. Haley made a business trip to Lincoln last Tuesday.

The young folks of Capitan enjoyed a social dance at the town hall last Saturday night.

Dr. Watson, of Lincoln, was in Capitan and vicinity this week on professional business.

Mr. Scott and family have moved to Glencoe, where Mr. Scott has secured employment.

Chas. Burrell, the new proprietor of the Parsons hotel, was in town this week buying supplies.

Thos. Moore has moved his family to town to make it convenient to send the children to school.

Mr. Able and sister, who were here for sometime for Mr. Able's health, left this week for El Paso.

Juan Romero had the misfortune to have two of his fingers cut off while handling some tin roofing last Monday.

Misses Lucile and Mildred Peters left for El Paso last Wednesday, being called there by a telegram which announced that their mother is much worse.

The Southwestern Hotel has changed management. R. D. Haynie, the new proprietor, took charge the first of this month and the accommodations will be made first class.

Howard and Lewin Perry, sons of J. P. Perry, of Angus, were visiting friends here this week before leaving for the northern part of the county, where their father has an extensive business in the lumber industry.

Mack McKinney and Minnie Pfingston were married at Capitan last Sunday, Justice of the Peace C. C. Hightower officiating. The young couple left on Monday's train for Carrizozo, where they will make their future home.

TO VIEW THE WORKS

Yesterday evening Superintendent Ben Horner, of the Vera Cruz mine, met a party of the directors of the company who arrived on No. 3, and took them out to the mine where they will remain for a few days inspecting and watching the working of the mill which is now running.

This is one of the richest properties in this region and it is believed that under the present management it will prove a continual heavy producer and pay regular dividends, and the directors seem to be keeping close personal watch of the work as it progresses, which is a very good sign in the operation of a mine. The members of the party are: Charles T. Wright, E. S. Wagar, R. B. Ferris, R. P. Moore, John S. Townsenc.

The bridge gang that has been working near Capitan returned yesterday and is now stationed at Coyote for a short time.

TO MOVE TEMPORARILY

A petition is being circulated to remove the postoffice and the building in which it is situated some six rods east of where it now stands in order to make room for the erection of a new building on the ground now occupied by the old building.

The reason of this change is that the land where the office is situated has become too valuable to be encumbered with a small frame building, and it is the intention of the Townsite Company to erect a fine brick block 50x90 two stories high. This building is to be used by the postoffice and townsite offices and a large store room below, and will have a large public hall above, thus giving the town accommodations for public gatherings which are not possessed by any other small town in this part of the territory.

A BRICK OR TWO

Mr. G. A. Bush, president and resident manager of the Rock Island Cement & Plaster Co., operating at Ancho, spent a day in town last week and before leaving made a trade with the Carrizozo Townsite Company for 19 lots adjoining the business portion of the town upon which he intends to erect three and four room brick cottages. Mr. Bush is not a man who does things by halves, and it is safe to say that when these 19 cottages are completed they will be a credit to our town and will go a long way toward relieving the difficulty that has always been felt in securing comfortable dwellings.

HOMESEEKERS FOR OSCURO

Yesterday was the regular day for the Rock Island homeseekers excursion, and as usual both trains from the east were very heavily laden with people looking for new locations in the Southwest.

Among those on No. 3 was a party of 17 under the direction of E. C. Raffety and Alpheus McCallum, who are looking, who are looking over the lower part of the valley in the vicinity of Oscuro today, with a view to securing homes in this favored region.

DELEGATE ANDREWS GOING TO MEMPHIS

Washington Oct. 1.—Delegate W. H. Andrews, who reached here yesterday from New Mexico, received a telegraphic dispatch from Congressman Barthold, of St. Louis, and the president and secretary of the Lakes to the Gulf Deep Waterways Association, to join the party that will escort the president from St. Louis to Memphis. Delegate Andrews left last night for St. Louis and will be one of the party tomorrow. He will return to Washington from Memphis as he has much business to attend to before the departments for his New Mexico constituents.

MRS. LEW WALLACE DEAD

Crawfordsville, Indiana, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Susan E. Wallace, widow of General Lew Wallace, author of Ben Hur and once governor of New Mexico, died last night. She had great literary ability and assisted her husband in his works.

MAKES GOOD WINDOW SEAT.
How Old Fashioned Walnut Parlor Chair May Be Utilized.

When you have one of the old fashioned walnut parlor chairs with carved legs you can, with the addition of a kitchen chair, make a neat window seat or couch for a den.

Remove upholstery and springs from the parlor chair. This forms the back, which you saw off, and attach the front legs to a hollow square which makes the frame for seat. Saw off the pair of front legs just where they are joined to side strip, leaving what were the front legs and front of seat intact. Saw off the back piece of the square where it joins the sides and you have the back legs, separated, but each is attached to the side piece which formerly connected them with the front. Attach each side piece with its corresponding back leg to the front so that you have four front legs for your settee, the two middle being the former front legs of the chair, the two end ones being the former back legs. Treat the kitchen chair similarly and you have four back legs; stain to match front if possible. Join front to back by strip of two by four or other strong pieces; nail boards close together for seat. Cover with excelsior or old quilt, over which nail, with brass tacks, a pretty cover. An old portiere, cretonne, or even a pretty piece of old carpet or rug will do. Let the cover fall over in front to hide the rough work.

TO MAKE BAKED CUSTARDS.
Dish That Should Be Prepared Early In the Morning.

Early in the morning make small, individual baked custards, as follows: Bring a quart of milk to a boil to insure sweetness in your custards. Beat five eggs to a froth, white and yolks separately. If you like the custard sweet, allow a scant tablespoon of granulated sugar for each egg and beat this firmly into the yolks. Add to the boiled milk a scant teaspoonful of melted butter and a dash of salt. Pour the hot milk over the yolks of the eggs, beat in the whites lightly, add a teaspoonful of vanilla, pour into custard cups and bake 20 or 30 minutes, set in a pan of boiling water. At dinner time they should be very cold. Run a smooth knife around the inside of each cup and the custard can be turned out in a firm, even shape. Have ready a sweet jelly which you have melted over the fire, or else some fresh fruit juice strained and flavored. Pour this over the custard molds as a sauce and serve cold.

Tomato Sauce for Fish.
Stew half the contents of a can of tomatoes with a half of an onion, sliced thin, three peppercorns and a bay leaf. Rub through a strainer. Then cook one tablespoonful of butter with a heaping tablespoonful of flour in a small saucepan until well blended; then add the strained tomato, little by little. Season with salt and pepper and pour over the fish. This is particularly good when served with codfish balls.

Bean Roll.
Cook lima beans in boiling water until tender. Press through a sieve and add salt, pepper and a tablespoonful of butter to each pint of pulp. Stir in two eggs well beaten, and sufficient bread crumbs to make the mixture thick enough to roll, wrap in buttered paper and at serving time bake 20 minutes in a quick oven. Serve plain or with tomato sauce.

Sage Tea Tonic.
Green tea, two ounces; garden sage, two ounces; put in a sancepan which can be covered closely, and pour over the herbs three quarts of boiling water. Let simmer until reduced one-third. Take off the fire and let stand for 24 hours, strain and bottle; apply every night before retiring. Dry well or the tonic will stain the pillow.

Rye Muffins.
Put one quart of water in a granite kettle; when it boils put in one-quarter of a teaspoonful of soda, then sprinkle in (evenly) one cup of rye meal (not flour). Add a heaping tablespoonful of butter, one cup of sugar, and salt. When cool add one-half of a yeast cake and stir in all the flour you can, for it grows thin as it rises. If desired, use two-thirds of a cup of molasses instead of sugar. The rye meal can be increased in quantity if preferred. This is an old and quite famous bread.

Shelled Beans.
Soak and cook as usual kidney or cranberry beans. When tender, pour off the water, add sour cream to thoroughly moisten and simmer half an hour. The alkali in the beans removes the acid taste from the cream and the resulting combination is particularly good.

TEN YEARS OF PAIN.
Unable to Do Even Housework Because of Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. Margaret Emmerich, of Clinton St., Napoleon, O., says: "For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from kidney troubles. My back pained me terribly. Every turn or move caused sharp, shooting pains. My eyesight was poor, dark spots appeared before me, and I had dizzy spells. For ten years I could not do housework, and for two years did not get out of the house. The kidney secretions were irregular, and doctors were not helping me. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me quick relief, and finally cured me. They saved my life."

CAME PRETTY FAST FOR PAT.
At That, He Had Had Only What the Doctor Ordered.

A Philadelphia physician says that not long ago he was called to see an Irishman, and among other directions told him to take an ounce of whisky three times a day. A day or so later he made another visit and found the man, while not so sick, undeniably drunk.

"How did this happen?" the physician demanded of Pat's wife, who was hovering about solicitously.

"Sure, dochter, an' 'tis just what you ordered, an' no more, that he had," she protested.

"I said one ounce of whisky three times a day; that could not make him drunk," the physician said. "He has had much more than that."

"Divil a drop more, dochter, dear," she declared. "Sure an' ol didn't know just how much an ounce was so of wint to the drug store an' asked, an' the lad—he's a broth of a boy, too—told me that an ounce was 16 drams and Pat has had thim regular, an' no more!"—Harper's Weekly.

The Manchester canal was built at a cost of $75,000,000 to reduce freight rates for a distance of 35 miles, and, while it did not prove a good interest bearing investment on such a large expenditure, its indirect and more permanent benefits are said to have warranted it.

Germany has 3,000 miles of canal, carefully maintained, besides 7,000 miles of other waterway. France, with an area less than we would consider a large state, has 3,000 miles of canal; and in the northern part, where the canals are most numerous, the railways are more prosperous. England, Germany, France, Holland and Belgium are all contemplating further extension and improvement of their canal systems.—Century Magazine.

Fresh Fuel.
The scrap between the married couple had died down to a few listless mutterings, and the canary bird in the cage was beginning to think about singing again, when she remarked, as a sort of afterthought:

"At any rate, everybody in my family thinks I am very intelligent."

"Yes, by the side of them you are," he replied with a bitter snort.

After this the scrap was renewed jubilantly.

WHAT'S THE USE?
To Pour in Coffee When It Acts as a Vicious Enemy.

Fasters have gone without food for many days at a time but no one can go without sleep. "For a long time I have not been sleeping well, often lying awake for two or three hours during the night but now I sleep sound every night and wake up refreshed and vigorous," says a Calif. woman.

"Do you know why? It's because I used to drink coffee but I finally cut it out and began using Postum. Twice since then I have drank coffee and both times I passed a sleepless night, and so I am doubly convinced coffee caused the trouble and Postum removed it."

"My brother was in the habit of drinking coffee three times a day. He was troubled with sour stomach and I would often notice him getting soda from the can to relieve the distress in his stomach; lately hardly a day passed without a dose of soda for relief."

"Finally he tried a cup of Postum and liked it so well he gave up coffee and since then has been drinking Postum in its place and says he has not once been troubled with sour stomach."

"Even after this lady's experience with coffee her brother did not suspect for a time that coffee was causing his sour stomach, but easily proved it."

Coffee is not suspected in thousands of cases just like this but it's easily proved. A ten day's trial works wonders. "There's a Reason."

FULLY UP WITH THE TIMES.
Oklahoma City Surprised Narrow-Minded New Yorker.

Oklahoma amazes an easterner. The wide, asphalted streets, the plate glass fronts of department stores, the clean sidewalks, the well-dressed, unhurried shoppers, the finish, the metropolitan air you find in Oklahoma City, for example, seem marvels to find in a territory only 17 years old. But do not say so.

A New Yorker who went there on business complained that fate was thrusting him into a wilderness, and his Oklahoma associates could not reassure him. But coming down to breakfast the first morning, at his hotel in Oklahoma City, he stared around in wonder as he entered the dining-room.

"This," he exclaimed, "this is Oklahoma! Why, do you know?" confidentially, "I even found a porcelain bathtub in my room."

"Well," said an Oklahoman, drily, "don't you have those in New York?"

BABY TORTURED BY ITCHING.
Rash Covered Face and Feet—Would Cry Until Tired Out—Speedy Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby was about nine months old when she had rash on her face and feet. Her feet seemed to irritate her most, especially nights. They would cause her to be broken in her rest, and sometimes she would cry until she was tired out. I had heard of so many cures by the Cuticura Remedies that I thought I would give them a trial. The improvement was noticeable in a few hours, and before I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment her feet were well and have never troubled her since. I also used it to remove what is known as 'cradle cap' from her head, and it worked like a charm, as it cleansed and healed the scalp at the same time. Mrs. Hattie Currier, Thomaston, Me., June 9, 1906."

Never Touched Him.
"I have brought back the lawn mower I bought of you last week," said the man with the side whiskers. "You said you would return my money if it wasn't satisfactory."

"Yes, that's what I said," replied the dealer, "but I assure you the money was perfectly satisfactory in every respect."

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starch, you can launder your shirt-waist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starch that does not stick to the iron.

It is worth while to do even the smallest kindness as we go along the way. Nothing is lost. No dewdrop perishes, but, sinking into the flower, makes it sweeter.—Richer.

Sheer white goods, in fact, any fine wash goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, the first essential being good Starch, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Defiance Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.

Sunday Am
My dear Fanny
Of course you know I am doing my own work. You and getting on fine too. The first time I had a dicker of a time with my starched ironing, and by the way must tell you, I had such a time with iron sticking, declared would never attempt it again. Was telling my next-door neighbor & she asked if I was using Defiance Starch. I said No. So she gave me enough for the following week. It is just lovely with this starch I can do my ironing in one half the time. It is actually fun to use it. The way the iron slips over the clothes never sticks. Am finished before I know it. Sometimes wish I had a few more pieces.
You must try it. Defiance Starch comes in 16 oz packages some price as the other 12 oz packages. And truly it's no effort to iron with it. Defiance - Lovingly your sister

THE ROAST OF VEAL

HOW IT MAY BE DISPOSED OF ECONOMICALLY.

Presents Fewer Problems Than the Leg of Mutton—Chops and Cutlets Make Excellent Second Day Dishes.

To the capable housewife, the easy disposal of a roast of veal should be a less serious problem than the economical disposition of a leg of mutton. Even when there are but two mouths to feed, the matter is not one that should tax her ingenuity to any great extent. All that is required is judgment in the selection of the recipes that are to give the appearance of variety to her daily menu, and when it is veal that is the foundation upon which she has to build the choice of tasty and attractive dishes is by no means a narrow one.

The first point to which she must give her attention is the selection of the veal itself, and this is a matter about which she cannot be too careful, as the immature, or so-called "bob" veal is frequently the cause of many internal disorders. In spite of the vigilance of the boards of health, a great deal of this unwholesome meat escapes detection and is sold as good veal by unscrupulous marketmen. As such meats may be detected without much trouble, however, there is no reason why an ordinarily intelligent buyer need be imposed upon. Wholesome veal has a pinkish tint, is firm to the touch, and has hard bones. "Bob" veal is of a bluish hue, and seems flabby and sticky when pressed by the finger.

As veal is a meat that does not spoil easily after it has once been cooked, the economical way to purchase a roast is for the housewife to order two or three times as much as she can possibly eat at a single meal. Bought in such quantity the price will be lower, and there is no reason why any of the meat should be wasted. If it is the loin that has been selected, let it be weighed, and then request the butcher to cut off as many chops as may be required for a second meal. If it is the leg that you prefer, have him cut off enough slices of the meat to assure you a few cutlets. In this way the meat for the second meal may be procured at a much smaller cost than would have been possible had the chops or cutlets been ordered separately.

Roast your veal, therefore, and enjoy it just as much as you would if the problem of its disposal did not confront you. Then, when you have eaten enough, put the remains of the roast into the ice-box, and at the next meal serve the chops or cutlets. If you like, you may smother them a la Creole.—Jean Marie Devaux in The Delineator.

Copyright, 1907, The Delineator, New York.

Picnic Sandwiches.

Minced ham is the best for sandwiches. The meat should be finely chopped, and can be mixed with finely chopped sweet pickles and olives. All can be run through a meat chopper and mixed with mayonnaise. Ham mixed with chopped hard-boiled eggs and catsup is tempting for a filling. For home use sandwiches are dainty when mixture is placed between lettuce leaves, then buttered white bread. Chicken sandwiches must be highly flavored, as the meat is tasteless in sandwiches. Chicken is better if mixed with highly seasoned condiments and grated cheese.

Stuffed Red Peppers.

Cut some large red peppers into half lengthwise, and take out the seeds; make two cupfuls of fine, soft bread crumbs, moisten with half a cup of cream, season with salt and pepper, and add two chopped fresh mushrooms or more. Put into a shallow pan, drop a bit of butter on each, and bake till light brown.—Harper's Bazar.

Fried Green Tomatoes.

Slice them thin, place in salt water for a short time, put on the frying pan, have equal parts of lard and butter. Roll the tomatoes in flour, put them to fry, pepper them well, turn them over and brown both sides.

Mending Silk Gloves.

Select silk to match the shade of glove. Buttonhole stitch the edges of the rent around once or twice, as the size of the hole may require. Then join the edges together with a close buttonhole stitch.

Sour Meat.

Soak three pounds of rump roast in vinegar over night or longer, with a few mixed spices. When ready to cook, let kettle get hot; add a large tablespoon of lard; then the meat, salt and pepper; let brown on both sides. Add a large sliced onion, and the vinegar the meat was soaked in. Add a little more spice and water to finish covering meat, boil until tender, and thicken the gravy.

Other people are the best judge of one's importance.

Many places in the territory are having fairs this fall, and many of them so arranged as to enable the managers to take the best of the exhibits to the Territorial Fair as a grand exhibit from the region. Even old Socorro, which has been almost forgotten for a score of years, has roused from her slumber and is getting into the procession, while many of the newer towns are making things lively in this line. There is no reason why Carrizozo should not have had as good a fair as any place in the territory if our citizens would have made the effort in time, but it is now too late for this year and we must wait another year and let our opportunity to show the world our wonderful resources pass unimproved.

There are now in process of construction in our town six business and seventeen residence buildings, while there are three business and more than twenty residence buildings projected. For these latter the contract has been let in several instances, and in others the material is being placed on the ground. If any one doubts the future of Carrizozo let him get to a safe place where the falling material from the hands of the builders will not strike him and watch the growth of the town with a telescope.

The Chicago & Rock Island railroad company is spending a large amount of money in advertising this portion of New Mexico, and the results are to be seen. Letters of inquiry are being received nearly every day from people who have heard of the Carrizozo Valley through the printed matter sent out by the company, these should be supplemented by good bright matter sent out by the people of the valley, and a thousand dollars spent in this manner would bring many thousands to the valley in return.

Notwithstanding the fact of a slight flutter in the market of copper stocks, it is well to remember that copper is a staple product, and that the demand for it in various mechanical trades is growing rapidly. There is no doubt of the stability of the copper mining industry and there are a number of good mines being opened up which will give Carrizozo their support and will furnish us with business patronage equal to Bisbee within the next few years.

There are very few newspapers in the territory that have not come out in favor of the effort that is being made to secure statehood for New Mexico. The question of jointure with Arizona is dead, and justly so by the act of the people of that territory, so we need pay no attention to that matter, but go to work in earnest to get our rights on our own merits. And this is what the press of the territory is advocating almost without exceptions.

"Local prosperity amazes a visitor," says a headline in the Phoenix Democrat. The visitor was from Colorado, but he had never seen anything to equal the Arizona layout. He expressed regret that his property was in Colorado Springs, which had nothing to look forward to future development. "Colorado mining men are looking to Arizona now for the big strikes," said he.

That is all right, but they had better not overlook New Mexico or they may miss something good

People are coming to realize more and more the great opportunities our town offers for business and investment, and are taking advantage of them. Today's paper tells of improvements amounting to many thousand of dollars which are being made in the town, while the new business firms which are to begin operation as soon as their building can be completed, will represent several thousand more.

Now that the government is in the business of investigating trusts, it would be a good plan to give the paper trust a turn. The price of all grades of paper is from 25 to 75 per cent higher than it was three years ago, and nearly every shipment comes stamped with the very interesting statement "price has advanced."

If President Roosevelt says "yea" after consultation with Governor Curry on the proposition of speedy statehood for New Mexico, much of the fight will be gained, and victory is very probable. A few more days will tell the tale.

Those twelve conventions to be held during the Territorial Fair at Albuquerque, will take a crowd to that town, even without the ordinary visitors, who merely go for a good time.

It seems a safe bet, from the reports we have had from Albuquerque, that the man who misses this year's Territorial Fair is going to miss the show of his life.

Now that an Italian chemist discovered a fluid that will turn an animal to a stone, let him discover something really needed, say that he will turn a stone to ward a cat.

Socorro has just closed her first fair. Carrizozo has not held such an exhibition yet, but then, Carrizozo has some forty years yet to live before she is as old as Socorro.

In connection with that Standard Oil fine, says the Washington Star, John D. Rockefeller does not even seem inclined to invite offers of a discount for cash.

The president will complete his speechmaking tour just in time to get to work on a good breezy Thanksgiving proclamation.

Not in any other line has New Mexico made so great strides during the last ten years as in public education.

CORONA CHRONICLES

Our postmaster, H. K. Rountree, visited El Paso last Sunday.

Jeff Rountree is taking in the sights at the Estancia fair this week.

H. G. Beason, the popular hotel man, made a business trip to Carrizozo the first of the week.

A number of our citizens are planning to visit Albuquerque next week and take in the Big Fair.

Carl Doffronge, of Santa Rosa, who recently filed on a claim near here, came down the first of the week to look after his property interests.

Homeseekers continue to come in from the east and north, and the fine land near Corona will soon all be taken and we will be the center of a thriving farming community.

Mr. Slack, of the firm of Slack & Perry, was in from the mills in the Gallina mountains one day the first of the week and reports business progressing nicely out that way.

Where Credit is Due

With each recurring session of the district court, the people of Grant county are given additional evidence of the absolute impartiality, the splendid ability and the delicately balanced sense of justice of the presiding judge, Hon. Frank W. Parker. We doubt if the bench ever had an occupant who commanded more fully the universal respect of the people and the bar, and it is a matter of never ending satisfaction to know that if we must go to law, we are at least sure of fair and just treatment at the hands of a sound, sensible judge, who is impartial, unbiased and unprejudiced.—Silver City Enterprise.

The Joys of Deming

Oscar Roberts was in the city Saturday enroute to Deming to meet his wife and daughter, who were returning from a trip to Europe. Mr. Roberts expected to meet them in Paris, and escort them home, but found there was so much travel that he could not get passage on the boat on which they intended to return, and so concluded to meet them in the Paris of New Mexico, the place where the Santa Fe meets the Southern Pacific, and there is a Fred Harvey eating house. Mr. Roberts has traveled extensively, and he told the Liberal there was no place that he knew of where he would rather meet his wife, after a few months separation than Deming. The pleasure of meeting her would make him forget the town.—Lordsburg Liberal.

Of Course

A Milwaukee dispatch says that after seeing the photograph of a girl who lives there a Mexican died and left her $400,000.—New York Herald.

He was a New Mexican and he recognized the fact that any good looking girl who would stay in Milwaukee when the doors of New Mexico were wide open, deserved to be handsomely rewarded for her self-denial.—Ex.

CORONA, NEW MEXICO

At the Big Fair

"Fighting the Flames," the world's greatest fire show, that has been engaged at a large expense by the management of the New Mexico Territorial Fair Association, is a sensational and realistic exhibition of fire fighting and is educational in that it gives the people an idea of a great city conflagration. It is no moving show, but is an exact reproduction of a city fire.

Two blocks of buildings are erected, fronting on a main street, the tallest building being five stories high, and the buildings burned at every performance are so constructed that when the climax of the fire is reached, these buildings are an actual seething and burning mass.

A woman makes a thrilling leap from the third story of the burning hotel into a life net held by firemen; other women are rescued from the roof of this same building, and from the third, fourth and fifth stories. Firemen slid down roofs with hysterical and fainting women in their arms; walls are scaled by firemen, and amid exciting and harrowing scenes, great sheets of flame shoot up from the building and from the roof, while clouds of black flame roll skyward.

These thrilling scenes are viewed from a grand stand far enough removed to insure the safety of the spectators.

The show carries two regulation steam fire engines; two hose wagons; a sixty-five foot aerial truck; fire chief's buggy and a patrol wagon. All of this apparatus is brought into use during the fire scene.

When the curtain is raised on the opening scene of the show, the appearance is one of a busy corner in a large city, automobiles, wagons, cabs and other vehicles are seen passing to and fro on the streets; people are apparently pursuing their regular pursuits in life.

In the attempt to arrest a drunken man, a policeman is shot down in the street. His murderer is captured after an exciting chase in which he, too, is shot. A sensational murder, also, takes place in a wine room over a saloon, and two drunken men engage in a street fight that is so realistic that oftentimes the spectators think they are in earnest.

These and many other exciting and funny scenes take place during the earlier part of the performance, and in the midst of it all, fire is started in a paint shop adjoining the hotel.

In an instant everything is confusion. The fire alarm is sounded, and soon the apparatus is on the scene; an explosion blows out the front of the paint shop, and while great tongues of flame shoot up through the building, terrified women appear at the windows and call loudly for help. This is a scene once witnessed is never forgotten.

While the occupants of the hotel are waving frantically for help, firemen are scaling walls, carrying ropes with which to rescue the women; crowds form in the street; and in the midst of wild confusion, the work of rescue begins.

It is the most daring spectacle ever attempted in the amusement line and probably never will be seen again in Albuquerque in this generation.

The show is educational and no one can afford to miss.

THE OUTLOOK

CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO.

Theodore Shonts reaches up into some mysterious store of universal information and, having grabbed off a handful of more or less canned wisdom, lays down a few qualities that a man should have before a girl should think of marrying him, says Chicago News. Briefly, the description of the only man fitted for wedlock is this: He should be perfect mentally, morally and physically and also be some pumpkin financially. Mr. Shonts may be right, but as there are only a few for that kind of man would first take nial bargain counter, the great majority of the girls will have to accept husbands with a few flaws or go single. Of course the girl who was waiting for that kind of man would first take the trouble to be perfect herself, but that might be a simple matter for her. Even then she might be happy with a man having imperfections provided she was too polite to notice them. The sensible girl figures it out that the best she can get is the average man and makes up her mind to be happy with him if he will let her.

The Simple Life.

Wellington was one of the earliest exponents of the simple life. His sleeping chamber was plainness and simplicity itself. He always slept on a small camp-bed, was ever temperate and careless in his diet, and frequently stated that he believed his good health was due to the three years he spent under canvas in India, when he ate little but rice and drank scarcely any wine, says the New York Weekly. He continued to eat rice to the day of his death. He ate it with meat and almost with everything, and his intimate friends took care always to place a dish of rice on the table when he dined with them. He scarcely knew one wine from another, and could not discern had butter from good. His indifference in the matter of food was proverbial, a contrast to the present day, when diet forms one of the principal subjects of conversations.

Shipping men of both sides of the Atlantic have been much gratified by the announcement that the treasury department is asking for bids for the derelict destroyer which was authorized by the latest congress. This vessel, which is to be stationed on the North Atlantic, will embody the latest improvements in craft of her kind, and will be capable of cruising for 5,000 miles without replenishing her bunkers. She will be furnished, the Scientific American says, with powerful searchlights and a wireless telegraph equipment, the latter to enable her to receive and give information as to the location of derelicts.

A 54-foot residence lot in New York is described by a local paper as "tremendously large." That may be a good sized frontage for little old New York, but it would be cramped quarters in the west, where people really live.

An accommodating scientist has evolved a tablet which will enable every one to be his own brewer. But there is one serious trouble with this tabloid beer. It has to be kept on ice, and few people are able to take their ice wagon around with them.

Since it has been discovered that a lady burglar was doing a very active line of business until she was halted by the police will timid bachelors feel obliged to look under the bed every night before turning in?

A rich man of New York committed suicide on the evening before his wife and daughter were to take him to a fashionable seaside resort. Perhaps he had reason to believe he was going to be the only man there.

When Japan takes a screw driver and removes the hinges and casts them into the Yellow sea we shall begin to believe that it has serious intentions with respect to the open door in Manchuria.

It must be an aggravation to Mars to see all our patent medicine signs floating in the sky and not be able to go to a corner drug store and get a bottle.

The women in Japan have not changed the style of their clothes for 2,500 years. Let well enough alone, it seems.

There's a lot of difference between forgetting what we ought to know and knowing what we ought to forget.

SCIENCE AND INVENTION.

HANDY BOOT CLEANER.

Up-to-Date Contrivance for Removing Mud from Soles of Shoes.

One of the most interesting of recent inventions is a boot cleaner which is designed to take the place of the old-fashioned shoe scrapers, usually placed alongside of the steps.

As shown in the illustration, it consists of a metal casing constructed to support two brushes. The latter are journaled in open bearings at each end, there being but little open space between the brushes and the casing. The front and back upper edges of the casing are sharpened to provide scrapers for removing mud.

As the foot is forced against the brushes, explains the Detroit Free Press, the latter revolve, removing the dirt from the shoes and forcing it down into the interior of the casing. The device is easily cleaned, the brushes being readily removed.

SIMPLE SLOPE INDICATOR.

Device Which Shows Grade of Road Over Which Auto is Traveling.

A knowledge of the actual slope of a road is often of considerable importance to automobilists, because it affords an explanation of the varying action of the motor, and a means of quickly adjusting the mechanism. One of the simplest slope indicators recently invented in France has a vertical tube fixed on the front of a graduated scale like a thermometer, and containing a column of liquid, which is so adjusted as to stand at zero, in the middle of the tube, when the road is level, and to indicate either an upward or downward slope by its rise or fall along the scale. The liquid in the tube is connected with a reservoir placed behind the scale, and rises or falls as the automobile ascends or descends a slope, showing both the fact and the degree of inclination.

To Simplify Terms.

"The Medical Society of Athens," says the Medical Record, "in the endeavor to assist in the formation of a system of classical Greek medical nomenclature, . . . has appointed a committee, of which Prof. S. Manginas is chairman, entrusting this committee with the collection of the classical Greek definitions to be proposed as substitutes for irregular terms newly introduced into medical literature and in use both in Greece and in foreign lands. Dr. Achilles Rose of this city has been unanimously elected a member of this committee."

Caution in Electric Traction.

Attention is called in the Electrical Review to certain sources of danger in electric traction which may easily be avoided by experienced drivers. One of the most insidious of these is the high rate of acceleration possessed by the electric motor. Engineers accustomed to steam locomotives have to learn to allow for this. For instance, in rounding a curve it is often necessary to throw on power to overcome the increased resistance. An engineer trained to use steam may be unconscious of the rapid gathering of speed by the electric motor, and throw on the power too soon or too strongly. A peculiarity of the electric engine is that the lower the speed the greater the power that can be delivered to the motors, and consequently the greater the effect that they develop.

Paris Telephone Service.

About $80 a year is charged for unlimited telephone service in Paris, but in addition to this the subscriber must purchase his own instrument, which may be any one of a number of different kinds.

WATER-WALKING SHOES.

Novel Footgear by Aid of Which One Can Skim the Water.

Frederick A. Oldfield, of Memphis, Tenn., has invented a pair of water-walking shoes with which he hopes to cross the English channel some time during the present summer. Each shoe consists of a beechwood box four feet in length, 18 inches in depth, and one foot in width. In order that the shoes may skim easily over the surface, five planes are secured to the bottom of each shoe. The shoes are fastened to the foot by means of clamps such as those used on roller skates, the foot being inserted through a hole in the top of the shoe, and the ordinary leather boot being clamped in place. A covering of rubber around the opening protects the wearer of the shoe from splashing of water. The shoes weigh five pounds each.

Mr. Oldfield has just completed a trip from Cincinnati to New Orleans, which consumed 41 days, 24 more than the time in which he expected to fulfill the task. In the photographs here presented, Mr. Oldfield is pictured in the Mississippi river off Memphis. He has just completed the feat of turning a circle.

Egg-Shell as Mantle.

An egg-shell is used as an incandescent mantle with the acetylene flame by Emile Louis Andre, who has patented his idea in France, says The Illuminating Engineer (New York). "He uses an egg-shell, literally an egg-shell, as an incandescent mantle for acetylene flames. It does not shatter or break, he says, and it gives a pleasant soft light. All the preparations that is needful is to make a hole at each end of the shell, and to put the shell in position with the burner inside. The burner head throws out lateral flames which impinge on the interior of the egg-shell."

Japanese Eat Beans.

Hunter Sharp, consul at Kobe, writes that the Japanese use a great quantity of beans for food, which they cultivate extensively, particularly the so-called "soja." They imported $4,900,000 worth in 1905, Kobe taking of these $1,689,000 worth.

Motor Car Building.

A French statistician estimates that about 550,000 motor cars have been manufactured in the nine years since the experiments of self-propelled road vehicles first succeeded.

Polishing Small Articles.

It is said that a high polish may be obtained after nickel plating on small steel articles, such as screws, by tumbling them with leather and dry rouge. The articles are placed in a tumbling barrel with leather scraps. Some dry rouge is put into the barrel along with the screws and leather and the whole is tumbled for some time. The rouge coats the surface of the leather, and causes it to act like a polishing wheel. Canvas scraps may be used in place of leather.

Submarine Electric Light.

To test the qualities of a submarine electric light a diver at Aberdeen, Scotland, descended 20 feet in muddy water, taking a newspaper and the light down with him. While seated on an anchor at the bottom of the harbor he read aloud for ten minutes to the men above, the words being conveyed through the telephone in his helmet. The paper was held 18 inches from the lamp.

It is calculated that there are 50 tons of soot suspended over the city of London in the shape of smoke.
