ON THE TRAIL.

Remembrances of Capt. Jack Crawford, the "Poet Scout."

I write this sketch at the Dripping Springs, in the heart of the San Andreas range of mountains in New Mexico, where I have come to enjoy a brief rest from arduous governmental service and recover from injuries received in a recent terrible railway accident near Salem, On.

To-day I left the rude cabin in which I am domiciled with an old frontier companion, and strolled up the canon beneath a great overhanging cliff, from the rocky bosom of which ceaselessly drip the clear, sparkling waters from which the springs derive their name. Near the springs, cut into the bark of a stunted hackberry tree, my eye caught this inscription:

CAPTAIN JACK

AUG. 13, 1880.

Ten years and three months ago I cut the characters with my hunting knife, and as I now gazed upon them, how vividly came back the stirring events of the mission which then brought me into these mountain wilds.

Victorio, chief of the Warm Springs Apaches, with nearly a hundred warriors, was raiding the country, leaving his trail marked with the mutilated bodies of settlers and the ashes of once happy homes. The cause which led to this outbreak may be of interest to the reader.

Those Indians were located on a small reservation at Ojo Caliente, New Mexico, a beautiful spot which had been the home of their people for a period of time far back beyond the limits of the memory of their oldest patriarchs. There they and their children were born, and there reposed the bones of their ancestors. They loved their home, and when the decree went forth that they must abandon it and remove to the San Carlos agency in Arizona they murmured and protested, but in obedience to the official mandate packed up their worldly goods, bade adieu to their homes and all its fond memories and went forth, strangers to a strange land.

When they reached the spot assigned them for their future home they found it located in a sandy desert, almost utterly devoid of vegetation, upon which the semi-tropical sun ever beat down with relentless fury. How their hearts must have sunk within them as they viewed the desolation around them! Finding life in this torrid desert almost unbearable, they abandoned it and retraced their steps to their old home. Not long however, were they permitted to remain. The agent at San Carlos, who seemed to have some sort of a "swing" at Washington, had secured for a near relative the position of trader at the agency, and as an increased number of Indians on the reservation would throw a greater volume of trade into the store (in which the agent was financially interested) he determined to cause the return of Victorio and his people to San Carlos at all hazards. His urgent appeals to the national capital were successful, and again the disconsolate band left their home and journeyed southward to again be driven by the climatic influences to which they were unused back to Ojo Caliente.

In vain was Victorio urged to return to return to San Carlos and remain there. He was threatened with blows from the military arm of the government, but sullenly refused to again leave the home he loved so well, asserting that death at Ojo Caliente was far preferable to life on that hot Arizona desert. Exasperated at the failure of his sordid designs to effect the removal of the Indians to the reservation under his charge, the San Carlos agent visited Ojo Caliente, where a small military post was located, and told the officer in charge, a young lieutenant, that he was vested with authority from Washington to use military force in compelling the Indians to return to San Carlos. The lieutenant was in his cups at the time, and in his drunken irresponsibility conceived the idea that a sudden and unexpected display of power would awe the Indians and cause them to consent to return to San Carlos without recourse to severer measures.

After nightfall, while the Indians were quietly in their camp on a hillside near the post, the officer caused the soldiers of his command to mount their horses and charge through the Indian camp, discharging their firearms and whooping and yelling like demons. The affrighted Indians fled from their camp in terror, nor were their fears allayed until the following day, when the nature of the sally was explained to them and excuses made for the inebriated condition of the officers. They were told, however, that their removal must be accomplished, by force of arms if necessary, and they might as well prepare to face the inevitable.

On the following day Victorio, goaded to desperation, left the reservation with eighty-five warriors and all the women and children, ripe for vengeance against the whites. Within a mile of the reservation they came upon Jim Duncan, a stock man, and brutally murdered and scalped him. Twelve miles from Ojo Caliente, at the base of the San Mateo mountains, they went into camp to resist any force sent against them, and battle to the death.

Two days later Andrew Kelley, formerly a United States soldier, volunteered to go to Victorio's camp and endeavor to persuade the old chief to return. At the peril of his life he went boldly to the camp and made known his mission. Victorio said to him:

"I do not want war. All I ask is that my people be allowed to live peaceably at their home. If we go to war many white people will be killed before we are overpowered, and when we are captured what care we for the result? We prefer to die rather leave our home, and we will resist as long as one of us is left to fire a gun. Go back and find Col. Morrow and say to him that I will wait two full days for him to telegraph the Great Father at Washington, and if he says we can live at Ojo Caliente we will go, and as a evidence that we want peace will give up our arms. If you do not return in two days we will go to war."

Kelly bore this message to Col. Morrow, then on his own way to the scene of conflict, and that officer promptly telegraphed the chief's ultimatum to Washington. In suspense a reply was awaited, but the official red tape had evidently become enlarged and the two days passed by without a word from the seat of government.

True to his word, Victorio broke camp, and as the result a long and bloody conflict ensued. In less than eighteen months the hostile the hostile band murdered over 500 men, women and children in New Mexico, Arizona and Northwestern Texas, burned many of their homes and killed a large number of cattle, skillfully frustrating every effort on the part of the military forces to effect their capture. Bands from other tribes joined their fortunes with Victorio, and the range of mountains from which I now write and the Sacramento mountains to the eastward served as hiding places for several bands of hostiles.

The oldest married couple in the world is to be found at La Quinparte, Minn. Daniel Salisbury completed his 103d year on December 14th, and his wife is seven years older. They were married in January, 1811. Until recently this venerable pair lived by themselves in a log house on the Yellow Bank river, and both are described as being still in good health. On his 100th birthday Mr. Salisbury walked to Bellingham and back, a distance of seven miles each way.

The rain-making experiments at Socorro seem to have been in every way successful. The same may be said of the efforts of the Dyrenfurth party at Midland, Texas, which are shortly to be repeated at El Paso. At Las Vegas a party went through the fields, praying for rain, and abundant showers followed. The preparations at White Oaks were much less elaborate than at other places. A picnic party was sent out Friday and, according to time-honored precedent, came home drenched. The rain continued till Monday afternoon, when the performance closed with a grand clearing up shower. With such a variety of experiments, and in so many different places, it is strange if some way is not hit upon of producing rain at will.

GOOD MEN WILL DIFFER.

In a previous issue of the Bullion the sale of the Old Abe mine of Lincoln County for $600,000 was announced. Our information was derived from one of the most responsible mining men of New Mexico and one with whom we have been intimate for nearly two decades. Both those excellent journals, the Leader and Interpreter, deny that such a sale was effected, but until further information we will back our correspondent whose attention we call to this matter.—Bullion.

The statement already made by the Interpreter that the Old Abe mine has not been sold, is not on the market, and that the owners have not received an offer for $600,000 for it, is authorized by John Y. Hewitt and William Watson who represent a two-thirds interest in the Old Abe. Will the Bullion now give the name of its correspondent?

"AS OTHERS SEE US."

Special Correspondence of the Las Vegas Optic.

The Great Mining Camp.

The mining camp called White Oaks, in Lincoln county, N. M., is prettily located in a picturesque basin, formed by timber-clad hills, which effectually shelter it from severe storms. It is reached from Carthage, on the A. T. & S. F. railroad by Ozanne & Co.'s U. S. mail and stage line, and is situated about eighty miles east of that station. It possesses all the qualifications, save one, of development into a veritable metropolis. That one is the lack of railroad facilities. Could this deficiency be supplied, a future full of brightest promise seems at hand for White Oaks.

A personal investigation of the natural resources of the immediate vicinity of this little town, plainly showed to your correspondent that the advent of the iron horse would remedy the present evils of isolation. Railroad facilities are all that seem necessary to create a large city out of White Oaks.

In the enumeration and description of the resources it commands, prominent places must be given to her coal lands, gold mines, iron deposits, marble quarries and those of granite, sandstone and limestone, she can be supplied with excellent water, at a comparatively small outlay, from springs in the neighboring mountains. These springs, of which there are several so situated that they can all be piped to one reservoir, would afford to a city of many thousand inhabitants a never-failing stream of water, pure and excellent in quality.

The climate of this locality is simply magnificent. The thermometer ranges to lesser extremes than at Las Vegas, throughout the different seasons, and a more even temperature prevails. The situation of the town being such that it is protected from storms is one essential point in its favor.

The population is about 800, and consists entirely of Americans; the natives being very few in number have no voice in public affairs and the town may be called almost straight American.

The prominent citizens are fully cognizant of the advantageous situation occupied by their town; they all feel that the railroad's advent will supply the one lacking requisite to make her emerge from her present obscurity to the foremost rank among New Mexican cities, and they hope for the hearty cooperation of the Las Vegas delegates at the coming convention at El Paso, to assist them in showing to the public the many resources of this place. Every one here is hopeful of its future prosperity, and your correspondent feels bound to state that the town croakers and kickers are very conspicuous through their complete absence. They are unknown quantities here among the residents, and, to judge from the prevalent feeling, would be a most unwelcome addition to the population; in fact I do not think the climate (?) would agree with their health. In briefly reviewing the resources of White Oaks, there appear all the elements that combined would create a large town. Coal is very abundant, being mined close to town, hauled in by wagon, and sold at $5 per ton. This coal is of very superior quality, as the following analysis, made by the St. Louis sampling and testing works show: "Moisture, 2.35 per cent., volatile matter, 35.53 per cent.; fixed carbon, 50.24 per cent., ash, 21.88 per cent.; total 100 per cent. sulphur, 0.61 per cent.; calorific power, 11,756 British thermal units; is a very good coking coal, with high heating power. Special tests show that it makes an excellent, strong, silvery coke, with a yield of about 63 per cent. of the original coal."

The banks of magnetic and specular iron ore are situated close to the town. That there are immense banks is unquestioned, and that they are valuable, is an undoubted fact, a test having proved that 50 to 65 per cent. of the coal was metallic iron.

Coal and iron, in such vast quantities as can be obtained here, are in themselves sufficient to make this town the Pittsburg of the southwest, and endow it with lasting prosperity.

The gold mines of White Oaks stand, to-day, foremost in New Mexico in point of richness. The "Old Abe" is said to produce gold at the rate of $1000 per diem. There are several other mines which indicate immense quantities of ore, though as yet few of them have been extensively worked. Of these may be excepted the North Homestake which now has 25,000 tons of $15 ore in sight. All of these mines are situated about a mile from the town.

Great bodies of sandstone and limestone are at hand, and only require cheap transportation to cause their development. Their quantity is unlimited, their quality excellent, and the varied colors of the granite would command the attention of the public to any building in which it was used, and become a permanent advertisement for White Oaks.

Marble deposits of both the white and black variety exist in large quantities about three miles from the town. Like the granite quarries, cheap transportation alone is required for their development. The marble is susceptible of high polish, and is of excellent quality.

Fire clay is found over the coal formation, and would prove another unit of the resources of this truly wonderful section of New Mexico. Timber for fuel is abundant on the surrounding hills; cord-wood being sold at $2.50 per cord, stacked at point of delivery.

The foregoing brief resume of White Oaks' resources shows the capabilities of the place; what can be obtained by a railroad in the way of freight business, the absolute need of railroad facilities, and splendid opportunity for traffic afforded by the immensity of the resources. It seems a pity to see such an opportunity waiting, and almost unknown to the outside world, and I hope that advantage will be taken of the situation to afford a speedy relief and prosperity to both parties—a railroad and White Oaks.

Titles to real estate in the town are good. The original title coming directly from the United States affords a clean abstract, for this is, as the surrounding country still is, part of Uncle Sam's public domain, subject to entry under the common land laws. This feature is only another of the many, calculated to tend towards the prosperity of the place.

It is the purpose of your correspondent to visit each source of wealth that this country possesses, and describe as accurately as possible, the several features thereof. By this means the possible amount of freight from the different mines and deposits will be dealt with fully and at greater length than in the foregoing brief description.

MEETING

Meeting of the citizens of White Oaks, at Town Hall, Aug. 29th.

Wm. Watson was appointed Chairman and G. R. Young, Secretary.

Object of meeting was stated by T. W. Heman to be that we make a proper showing at the coming convention held at El Paso, of our great and wonderful resources, showing to the convention why a railroad would pay and the amount of tonnage that would be furnished, when completed to White Oaks.

Prof. J. C. Carrera, of Las Cruces, was introduced, and stated that he was visiting all the mining towns of New Mexico, urging the people to appoint committees for the collection of proper exhibit at the World's Fair, to be held in Chicago in 1892.

The following committees were chosen.

Committee on Gold.—William Watson, B. H. Dye, J. D. Grumbles, Frank Lloyd and Morris B. Parker.

Committee on Coal.—E. W. Parker, T. W. Heman, Ed. R. Bonnell, A. Schinzing and J. P. C. Langston.

Committee on Iron and Marble.—J. Y. Hewitt, T. W. Heman, Geo. L. Ulrick, G. R. Young and B. H. Dye.

Committee on Copper, Lead and Building Material.—John Y. Hewitt, Wm. Watson, B. H. Dye, Leo H. Rudesille and Jones Taliaferro.

It was moved and carried, that the several committees extend to Mr. Ross of the Las Vegas Optic, courtesies, showing him the resources of White Oaks and vicinity, especially our mineral wealth.

Moved and carried, that the Secretary furnish a list of several committees.

Morris B. Parker was appointed by Prof. Carrera, Deputy Mineral Collector.

Adjourned to meet subject to call of chairman.

WM. WATSON.

G. R. YOUNG,
SECRETARY.

Severe frosts occurred in North Dakota and Pembina on Wednesday morning, severely injuring wheat and other crops.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Mr. Paul Mayer made a flying trip to Lincoln this week.

Mrs. Frank Gibbons and children returned to-day from a visit to San Pedro.

William Slane, of Nogal, was in town Monday on his way to the railroad.

Mrs. Johnson and Miss Addie Watson, started for their home in Ohio last Monday.

Mrs. McCourt went with her daughters, last week, to Las Vegas where she has left them at school.

Rumor has it that Dan. Diehl has made a rich strike in mining in Old Mexico.

Miss Annie F. McGrew will be in on to-morrow morning's stage. The public school will open Monday.

Ernest Langston arrived home Saturday. He says Boston baked beans, brown bread and doughnuts do not suit his constitution.

James Young, the stone-mason whose leg was broken a few weeks ago, has returned to his home in Las Vegas, with his family.

An application from a lady in Lawrence, Kansas, for the position of teacher in the Academy, has been received and accepted by the committee.

The Albuquerque Democrat would do well to acknowledge the inroad's made by old Father Time and put on spectacles. The number of plums on a twig of less than a foot in length, from the orchard of Mrs. Southerland, at La Luz, was not seven, as mis-quoted by the Democrat, but fifty-seven. Please buy a telescope and look again.

Last year the New West built a $25,000 Academy building at Albuquerque, and employed five teachers. This year, owing to lack of patronage, a large part of the house is rented, and but two teachers are employed. The Citizen says that the Academy will open Sept. 7th. Prof. G. Byren Smith principal, Miss Abbie Hull, assistant.

From the Optic we learn that William C. McDonald and Mrs. Frances J. McCourt, both of White Oaks, were married in Las Vegas on the morning of Aug. 31st, at the home of Rev. A. A. Layton, Pastor of the 1st Baptist church. They left for Clayton and the East on the morning train.

Mr. Julius Schonfield, from Denver, is in town soliciting subscriptions to the National Library Association, of which he is agent. He has taken the names of a considerable number of the citizens of this place.

The dog fiend is again on the rampage. If only the worthless curs which infest our streets were taken off it would not so much matter, but in almost every case a valuable dog, or a family pet is poisoned.

The citizens of San Pedro have selected Dr. A. G. Lane, Alex. Rogers, N. J. Strumquest, Peter Mackel and Mr. Goodman to represent them as delegates at the railroad convention in Albuquerque, on the 18th of September.

Mr. Detwiler and a gentleman whose name we did not learn, are on their way from El Paso to White Oaks. Their business here is said to have some connection with the proposed railroad from Denver to El Paso.

Mrs. D. A. Blood and son of Topeka, are visiting the family of O. L. Gregory. They are en route home from a visit to Mrs. Fred O. Blood, of San Marcial.—Optic.

Rev. T. W. Burke, has returned from the Conference of the Methodist Church South. He has been appointed to remain here another year.

W. R. L. Ross, special correspondent of the Optic, in company with Col. Heman, was visiting the coal mines in Carizo, Wednesday.

Charles Metcalfe and family, of Las Cruces, will move most probably to the state of Washington at no distant date.

Regular meeting of Baxter Lodge No. 9 K. of P. Thursday evening, Sept. 10th, 1891. All Knights invited.

Hereafter there will be preaching at the Methodist church every Sunday.

Dr. Paden has four full blood Dark Leghorn roosters to sell at $1.50 each.

Mr. T. S. Gray, of the Salado, gives us information of a fine coal field in his neighborhood, upon which several claims have been taken and are being worked successfully. Mr. Nugent, of Nogal, has 50 feet of tunnel and a 6-foot vein of coal, which has been pronounced by experts to be anthracite. A quarter of a mile east Mr. Ritter has an 8-foot vein of coal and 40 feet of tunnel. The coal is apparently of the same quality as that found on Mr. Nugent's claim, and grows harder as development proceeds. Messrs. Scott & Gordon, of Fort Stanton, have a 3-foot vein of coking coal and 40 feet of tunnel.

The coal field on which this is found runs, so far as is known, about 2½ miles east and west by 5 miles north and south, and is situated about five miles northeast of Fort Stanton, and 25 miles by road from White Oaks, or 15 miles across the mountains. The claim-holders are much elated over their discoveries.

Professor Carrera, of Las Cruces, who has been appointed by the World's Fair Commission of this Territory, is here, and is looking after the mineral interests of this section of New Mexico. At the meeting last Saturday he spoke at some length of the advantages to be derived from the proposed railroad not only to this county, but to the company building the road as well. He spoke of the bed of gypsum, known as the "white sands," which is thirty miles long and ten wide, also of a "dry lake," the bed of which is covered with an immense deposit of carbonate of soda, of beds of nitre, borax and salt, all lying along the line of the road. He wishes to obtain all the information possible concerning the resources of Lincoln county, all of which he will lay before the railroad convention at El Paso, on the 21st.

A NATURAL CONCLUSION.

It is natural that those who have been deceived by the various nostrums that are continually offered to the public should demand a more substantial testimonial than the simple declaration of those who are interested in the sale of a medicine. Recognizing the justice of this demand, the Swift Specific (S. S. S.) Company, of Atlanta, have embodied in pamphlet form a few of the more noteworthy testimonials that have come to them unsolicited. This pamphlet, together with interesting matter, they will take pleasure in sending to any address. Write to the S. S. S. Company, Drawer 3, Atlanta, Georgia.

Jay Gould is in Colorado, and rumors are thick regarding railroad changes. It is thought that he is trying to secure the Denver & Rio Grande road.—Citizen.

Mrs. Timoney has been appointed agent, by the American Book Co., for the sale of the school books adopted by the Territorial School Board, and she will sell at contract prices. A large consignment is on the road and will be here tomorrow, the 5th.

A move is being made in El Paso to ask the government for a national park in the White mountains. The Times says:

The proposed park is to include the summit of the White mountains where are found the headwaters of the Ruidoso, the Carrizo, Three Rivers and the Rio Bonito. It is high and rough ground but covered with timber and abundantly watered and has some of the most beautiful and picturesque spots in the world.

It is urged that a park of twelve miles square be petitioned for. This proposed ground will have the summit of the White mountains as a center and be bounded on the south by the Cineconada, on the east by the Ruidoso, on the north by the Bonito and on the west by Three Rivers. It is about half way between Fort Stanton and Tularosa and northeast of the latter.

Such a park would be a delightful resort for all the southwestern country and if the White Oaks railroad is built it will be easy of access, being only six or eight miles from the line. It is only one hundred and twenty-five miles from this city and we should be foremost in the endeavor to get the president of the United States to set aside this magnificent reservation.

Owing to the depression in the iron trade operations at many of the principal iron works in the Cumberland district have been suspended for some time and the inability of the workmen to procure employment is causing the most acute distress. About 6,000 men have been thrown out of employment, a large number of them having earned nothing for a year.

The World Enriched.
The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

$300 REWARD

FOR ORE THIEVES!

The common experience of this camp shows that much is lost by the mine operators by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in amalgam and bullion. Therefore the "Old Abe" Co. offers a standing reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction, or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of ore. The rule of this company is to mill all specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holders of Old Abe specimens.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE.

In the District Court of the Fifth Judicial District, Territory of New Mexico, for the County of Lincoln.

William H. Weed, Plff.,
vs.
Jicarilla Mining & Water Company (a corporation) } Attachment.
Defendant, }

Whereas, the above entitled action is an action at law for goods sold and delivered, and on the common counts, and said Court, on the 8th day of April, 1891, rendered judgment therein in favor of said plaintiff and against the said defendant, for the sum of $2,078.45, including $55.85 costs, which said judgment with interest thereon to the day of sale hereinafter mentioned will amount to the sum of $2,131.01, and the same still remains wholly unpaid:

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of an execution issued out of said Court on said judgment, dated the 18th day of July, 1891, to me directed and delivered, commanding me to make the judgment aforesaid, and the costs that may accrue thereafter out of the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of the said defendant. I have levied upon as the property of said defendant, and will on the 21st day of September, A. D., 1891, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Well and House of said company, offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash, the following described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said writ of execution, to-wit: 2 water tanks; 1 washstand; 1 dressing case; 1 wardrobe; 2 single bedsteads; 1 double bedstead; six hundred feet of 2-inch pipe; 2 steel bedsprings; 2 center tables; 2 easy chairs; 6 common chairs; 1 clock; 1 picture and rack; 1 table; 1 cooking stove and utensils; 1 set of dishes; 1 hanging lamp; 1 carpet; 1 baby crib; 1 small lamp and stand; 1 child's bedstead; 1 window shade and 1 bath tub. Also, 1 engine and boiler and engine house, with all articles, tools, implements, materials etc., connected therewith or pertaining thereto, including to-wit: 2 sand pumps; 1 ratchet bar; 1 crow bar; 2 auger stems; 1 derrick and building for same; 2 joints 1/2 inch pipe; 1 set platform scales and weights; 1 glue pot; 1 cross-cut saw; 1 log-chain; 1 log-wagon; 1 set well-drilling tools; 8 bits; 1,500 feet cable rope; 1,500 feet other rope; 1 jack-screw, etc., 1 set of blacksmith tools; 1 step-ladder; 6 water barrels, also, 2 1/2 miles wire fence and posts.

Also, each and every of the following placer mining claims and locations, located in the Jicarilla Mountains, so called, upon unsurveyed public land in said county of Lincoln, by the several names and designations following, to-wit: The Baron; The Don; The Earl; The Hoosier; The Ferdinand; The Isabella; The Duchess; The Granger;

The Marquis; The Countess; The Duke; The Sun Placer; The La Pata; The La Belle; The Adjutant; The Hartford; The Naomi; The George; The Rosita; The Miguel; The Antonio; The Otero; The William; The Vincent; The Miles; The Roscius; The Holmes; The Cavalier; The Winters; and the Ancho; as the same and each and every of them have been marked and surveyed, and appear of record in the mining records of said County; and all right, title, interest and estate of the said Jicarilla Mining and Water Company in and to the lands embraced in said placer mining claims, and in each and every of them as so located by whatever name the same may have been located or is now known or called, including all the right of said Company to occupy, possess, improve and work said claims, and to enter, and obtain a patent or patents therefor under the laws of Congress, subject, however, to the statutory right of redemption. Each of said claims and locations embraces one hundred and sixty acres, except the Sun and the Adjutant which contain only eighty acres each, and the Isabella, containing one hundred and twenty acres more or less.

MR. LEE. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

MRS. LEE. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

MR. LEE. "What is that?"

MRS. LEE. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation; but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamie goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

MR. LEE. "Well, perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

MRS. LEE. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size—which alone makes each copy worth 30 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."
