CAUSED BY BAD WATER?

Delay in Connecting E. P. and N. E. With Rock Island Due to Water.

It is learned from C. B. Eddy, president of the E. P. & N. E., that the Rock Island has completed its construction to the Pecos river at Santa Rosa, but they still have the bridge over that river to build, the point of juncture between the Rock Island and the E. P. & N. E. being on the west bank of the river. Mr. Eddy's road has 33 miles to construct before they can reach the Rock Island.

Mr. Eddy thinks the bridge and the 33 miles of roadway will be finished by the first of February. The delay has been caused almost entirely by the bad water, which in fact is so bad that four hours of use will cause an engine to die, and it cannot be used again till the engine has been thoroughly cleaned. And this is the character of the water along the entire line of extension from Carrizozo to Santa Rosa. One day, to give an illustration, with the utmost effort but 700 feet of track could be laid, the engines utterly refusing to steam.

However, Mr. Eddy is hopeful that good water will be ultimately secured, nearly all western roads having at first just such experience as the E. P. & N. E. is now suffering from. His company is putting down a well now, near State line, where a ranchman has already secured water fully as good as the G. H. has on the mesa near Ft. Bliss.—El Paso News.

What a story! Did Mr. Eddy say that "four hours of use" of water will cause an engine to die? If he said so, it must be true, as Mr. Eddy is in a position to know. While we have had no experience with such water as that referred to in the above interview, we would suggest the plan of crushing and screening the water before feeding it to the boilers. This plan, while it might not relieve the trouble altogether, would doubtless, improve conditions to some extent.

Another thing suggests itself to us, and that is the possibility that Mr. Eddy has not properly applied to the case the current diagnosis. We have heard of engines expiring on account of bad coal, in a very short space of time, but never before learned of one going dead in four hours, because of the character of the water used. It is, probably, the want of good coal that caused the trouble. As we are always inclined to help out a public enterprise, and especially anxious to assist in securing a better train service through this country, which we are assured will be realized on the completion of the Rock Island road, we will offer a car of coal from the mines here at White Oaks, free of charge, and with a guaranty that no engines will die in four hours, or in four days, after its use is commenced. We also have here an abundance of water, in liquid form, that would

JICARILLA PLACERS.

Ten Square Miles Of Rich Placers Which Have Already Yielded Up Thousands of Dollars In Gold.

The Jicarilla placers are located about 8 miles northeast of White Oaks, and about 6 miles east of the line of the Rock Island road now being constructed. The district took its name from a tribe of Indians which made their home in the Jicarilla mountains at the time of the discovery of gold there, more than 30 years ago.

Following this period attempts were made by different people to obtain artesian water, but without success. The district contains many wells of good pure water, but no flow has been obtained and there are men in the camp washing out gold in the same old way today who began their labors there 15 or 20 years ago.

Placing continued the chief livelihood of the inhabitants of the district down to about Sept. 1891, when lode discoveries began to attract attention. The ore is in many instances a quartzite with oxide of iron and manganese carrying gold, often changing off into gold-bearing quartzites showing free gold. Lode mining is now in the ascendant in the district, and those acquainted with the camp, think it contains many lode mines of great value, which will produce as soon as capital can be obtained to develop them.

The Jicarilla Placer company, three years ago sold out to the American Placer company, this company being backed by a strong eastern syndicate. The American Placer company is operating a Johnston cantilever placer machine, which the builders claim, is capable of sweeping the ground for forty feet on either side of the big dredge. A half-ton cut of the machine is shown on this page.

The capacity of the machine is 1000 cubic feet per hour. The cost of the machine is $10,000. In addition to the incidental costs, such as labor, wells, piping, etc. to put the machinery in operation.

Outside capital is now being put in, and a great number of prospectors have recently been working in the district. Colorado is beginning to invest in the district.

Iron, a tremendous deposit which is located at Jicarilla, in close proximity to the district, must also figure prominently in the future development of the Jicarilla. The EAGLE will have much to say about Jicarilla iron deposits in the future.

be found far superior for use in steam boilers, than that now employed on the E. P. & N. E. extension, which we should be glad to furnish, in any quantity, to relieve our neighboring rail road from its apparent insurmountable difficulty. Mr. Eddy, if you want good coal or a superior quality of water, just call on White Oaks where both may be found. We are not selfish, though we have a monopoly on these two necessities.

GOLD STRIKE AT NOGAL.

A very rich strike is reported at Nogal, and great excitement reigns among the people in that locality. Good for Nogal, may she prosper. The strike was made by a Mr. Duke, former bridge contractor on the N. E. Ry.

In the winters of 1870-71 a party of prospectors began work in a number of gulches, leading down from the Jicarilla mountains, and the results were so phenomenal, notwithstanding the crude methods of extracting the gold, that 1,000 miners flocked to the district from different parts of the country. Among the first who came obtained as high as $1.00 per pan, and the very best of the grounds yielded as high as $1.03 a pan, the gold bringing $18.00 an ounce. It is claimed by early settlers there that Miguel Otero, father of the present governor, Miguel A. Otero, with a large force of peons took out the district one winter at $80,000.00 in gold nuggets. IS IT BOODLE OR IGNORANCE?

As soon as President Roosevelt found that the charges against Governor Otero had been preferred by personal enemies of the latter and that they were false, he re-appointed him, and a majority of the citizens of the territory will approve his action.—Roswell Register.

We have reason to expect that the editor of a news paper published in a community of intelligent people, would have greater regard for fact than does the editor of the Register. If he will take the trouble to inform himself, he will find that many of the most intelligent and best people of the territory, preferred charges against Otero's administration, and opposed his re-appointment.

The Register has always claimed that Otero's record is all right, and thus endorses all his acts as Governor.

Now let us see how this looks, we refer the editor of the Register to one single act of the Governor, and will ask him to read section of the compiled laws of 1897, that all moneys of the coal oil inspector shall be turned over to the territorial treasury for school purposes.

Now, if the editor of the Register will be honest about this, he will admit that under this law the coal oil inspector was to get $2,000 a year for his services, and that the $5,000 per year was to go to the general public school of the territory.

Now, we turn to page 36, sec. 3 of 1899, where he will find the amendment of sec. 2644 of the compiled laws of 1897, in which that part of the section which provided that all the moneys collected over $2,000, be turned into the general school fund, is repealed. This was done to give to John S. Clark, the chairman of the territorial central committee, all of the inspection moneys.

Now, again, on page 35, acts of the 33rd legislature, laws of 1899, is the title of the act referred to, as repealing that part of the coal oil inspection law which gave the moneys over $2,000, to the general school fund. If the Register will look at the title, it will be seen that this infamous act was approved by Governor Otero, on February 16, 1899. This act by which $6,000 was taken out of the public school fund and given to a private citizen, who is already overpaid, for the services required, was approved by Governor Otero, and that act was in keeping with his whole course as Governor of New Mexico. Does the editor of the Register want the good people of the Pecos Valley to understand that he fully approved this act of Governor Otero; and that he thinks it is perfectly proper to rob the public school children of the territory and give the money to some political favorite, or purchase, a partner or business associate of the Governor. It has been openly charged that the Governor and Mr. Clark were partners in a sheep ranch at the time of the passage of this act, and we have never seen any denial of the charge from them. However, we know this amendment was made simply to give the inspector all the fees, and we know Otero approved the act.

The EAGLE would now like to have the editor of Register tell the people who read his paper, if he approved this act of the Governor. Does he believe in public office for Booodle? If so, we can understand just why he whoops for Otero. If not, then he must plead ignorance, for there can be no other excuse for his supporting a man for Governor with such a record.

"AGIN" THE GOVERNOR.

Washington Times, Mursey's paper, says about the opposition to Otero's confirmation by the U.S. Senate.

Relentless warfare has been declared by a large body of citizens of New Mexico against Governor Otero.

A large delegation has come from the Territory to defeat the confirmation of his reappointment and the members declare that they have received assurance that his nomination will fail.

In the delegation are ex-Governor Prince, Prof. Jordan, President of the New Mexico College of Agriculture; E. A. Fisk, John R. DeMier a prominent capitalist; Major Fritz Muller, who organized several Rough Rider companies in New Mexico; Major W. H. H. Llewellyn, another prominent Rough Rider; Royal Printiss, J. F. Manning, Secretary of the Republican Reform League of New Mexico, and a number of others.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

One of the prettiest weddings that has taken place in White Oaks for a long while was celebrated at the Methodist church News Year's night. The contracting parties, as previously announced by the EAGLE, were Miss May Lee, eldest daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John Lee, and Edward Queen of this city. The church was packed with friends of the popular young people, who were anxious to witness the ceremony. Promptly at the appointed hour, the bride and groom, accompanied by a retinue of attendants, entered the church and marched to the altar, to the music of Mendelsohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Jno. A. Hollars.

The ceremony, Rev. S. E. Allison, Methodist Pastor, officiating, then began. Low music was continued throughout the ceremony and the effect was beautiful and impressive.

The bride's dress was a pearl white China silk, with yoke of over lace, and trimmed with berthas silk, finished with lace. The skirt was walking length, trimmed with tucked ruffle. Her hat was white velvet, trimmed with white China silk, and a cluster of white tips. Shoes and gloves were white to match rest of costume.

The EAGLE is among the well wishers for their future happiness.

The Yellow Jacket Group.

Chris Yaeger has reached the 46 foot in the 200 foot shaft he is sinking on the Yellow Jacket group. Good ore has been in evidence all the way down, and Messrs. They do not intend to stop at a depth of 200 feet, but intend to begin another contract for greater depth as soon as the present contract is ended.

MINING INSTINCT.

From time to time, especially across the water, discussions will be started as to who is a mining engineer and who is not, how you can tell an engineer when you see one, and so forth and so on. There is no rule, and we doubt very much whether one can be drawn up. How often is it seen that a man with no education, with no pretenses of being an "engineer," will make a commercial success of a mine that an engineer with all kinds of degrees, etc., has most miserably failed in. How often will a leaser take hold of a mine after an engineer has gotten through with it and make a big mine of an abandoned property. In addition to education, which we would be the last to decry, a man must have "faculty," to use a New England expression, in order to be a mining engineer. To be an ornament to his profession he must have, in addition to education and faculty, gumption and the power to work hard. Of these four qualities a man can get along very well with only three, and the non-essential quality is not either faculty, gumption or the power of working hard. The mining schools are turning out year year by year many men who lack at least one of the essentials required to make a mining engineer, and these men are bound to be failures, or, at the best, only indifferently successful.

It is frequently marvelous to see how unerringly a man, with a well developed mining instinct, will go straight for a body of ore. This holds true whether the man is educated or not, and indeed education seems to fail at developing this instinct.

In view of all this we may say that there is no rule to measure mining engineers by, or even to tell them when one sees them. We know, however, a most excellent rule to detect a spurious engineer: When a man parades around in high boots, flannel shirt, corduroy suit, etc., and uses long words when short ones will do, or who generally tries to lead one to believe that he is the only man who knows anything about mining, and that all others are mere uneducated asses, then you may know that the man is not an engineer, never will be an engineer, and is a fraud.—Ex.

[Bonito Valley Items.]

Correspondence.

A New gold camp has just been found. This time on the South Fork of Bonito, commencing about two miles up and running south; is on the east side of the creek. If we are not very much mistaken it is the most important find that has ever been made in New Mexico, if not on the continent. Have seen sample surface rock which looks like it will run $2,000 to the ton. The vein is 15 feet wide and is filigreed with groups of quartz crystals, carrying small nuggets of free gold.

[Hurrah for the Bonito! Ed.]

ESTEY CITY LIVELY.

The Leaching Plant About Ready For Business.

WATER IN ABUNDANCE

Work Going On All Over The Camp And District The Outlook For The Year Very Flattering--New Discoveries, Etc.

News! Yes, there is plenty of it.

G. Pray Smith has returned to Boston after a business visit of several weeks duration.

Mrs. Andrew Jackson spent Christmas week with her daughter, Miss Georgiana, returning home this week. Mrs. D. W. Roberts also returned this week from an extended visit to Lincoln and Roswell. We are glad to have them return, for we have not a lady too many in our city.

Capt. D. W. Roberts has made a strike sure, for he bought two mining claims, and has broken into thirty-eight feet of copper ore the first thing; not in inches or spots, but acres. We are very glad to congratulate the Captain, for he is true blue, and wish him wealth and happiness in his declining years.

Honest Capt. Cox is pushing the mining business and is striking it well and is going to build him a home in our city. We are pleased that Mr. Cox and family are going to locate here. We hope Capt. Cox will win out and it looks as though he would.

J. M. Bryson has fifteen men at work on one set of mines and four men on another, and three men on another group and all of them are making progress. He has just sold an interest in a group of claims to wealthy New England men. He has some very promising property, is quite a hustler and always busy.

Capt. Doherty has his eagle eye out all the time—he is fishing with good bait, and his bob will go down one of these days, and he may get a whale; it will be something good, on that you may depend.

The Boston buyers of some of Bryson's claims are spending lots of money, and they have let two contracts. Superintendent Sherin says he can supply the big Estey mill form one of these claims where the ore shows up on it over a hundred feet wide, and the last assay showing a value of over sixty dollars to the ton. Where is the man that says this camp is not strictly in it. I saw an assay the other day from the Mark Hanna claim that ran $106 per ton. The E. M. & M. Co., are contracting with the miners for the ore on the dump on the basis from $2 to $2.50 per ton. Working miners can make money. The Estey company are pushing work on the mill; the engines and machinery are all set and will soon be ready for the belts; the elevators will soon be completed.

Foreman A. D. Wilson is on the fly and Mr. De Rosear is now with us from White Oaks and others are on the way to help push the work.

E. L. Sharpneck of Chicaco, the inventor of the lightning process for extracting copper is here shaping up things as he wants them. He is much pleased with the mill and says he will soon satisfy the most skeptical of the true merits of his process that is sure to revolutionize the world's methods of treating low grade carbonate-ores. He is inventor of the novelty lightning steam stamp and tables for the treatment of free milling gold ores. He has just been installing a plant near Phoenix, Arizona, and it will do many times more work than the gravity stamp and can be set much cheaper, they claim.

Well, best of all, the company has struck water near the mill. It is a great hit for them, and the whole camp feels like hurrahing, good and hard. Estey has said all the time, that with Cray's help that he would have it and in abundance, before he stopped, and he is certainly crowned with success. Your correspondent hopes to tell you in our next communication, that the company's leaching plant is in operation.

J. O. Nabours has received a payment on his ranch deal. He is away at this writing after a number of short horns. He is determined to have the finest grade of cattle in the Rockies, and understanding the business as he does, he will certainly accomplish his purpose.
