STOCK RUSH NOW ON

A Total of 1401 Cars Have Been Ordered for Spring Shipments, Involving 57,000 Head of Cattle.

Indications are that Brady will maintain her record as the biggest cattle shipping point again this spring. The annual spring rush to Oklahoma pastures began last Friday, and with extra crews and office force the Frisco Brady station is now a busy place. Orders for cars already booked total 1401, with other bookings yet to hear from, and with an average of 33 head of cattle to the car the total shipments already in sight amount to 57,233 head. The largest individual shipper is the firm of Brown & Bowen who have orders placed for 235 cars to transport the Shriner steers bought by them. G. R. White comes second with orders for 225 cars.

The station records show that last spring 1176 cars were handled from this point, and the present bookings therefore indicate a larger movement this year than last. The cattle all show up to be in fine shape and in much better condition than last spring. The shipments so far have been as follows:

Mar. 25—J. Z. Chadwick.....	16 cars
Mar. 26—H. M. Stonebreaker.....	21 cars
Mar. 27—Brown & Bowen.....	59 cars
Mar. 27—Ira L. Wheat.....	48 cars
Mar. 28—Brown & Bowen.....	61 cars
Mar. 29—Brown & Bowen.....	65 cars
Mar. 30—Brown & Bowen.....	50 cars

The rush will continue until

NOT RUNNING FOR OFFICE

BUT if we can get a liberal share of the dry goods trade from the candidates of McCulloch county we certainly feel that we will be elected. We have the merchandise that will make you look good and feel good, and can save you a large per cent of your campaign fund by trading with us. We are the men's furnishers of Brady, see the difference in the style of our straw hats and what competition is showing. "And the stylish dressers have already shown their approval of same by buying at the Grand Leader."

We have a swell line of Trousers, Neckwear, Collars, Sox, Shirts, Underwear and Nettleton Shoes. Hodkins Gloves for men are the BEST on earth and the Grand Leader is sole agents in Brady.

We can save you some money on a nice Spring Suit. "Seeing is believing."

FOR thirty years, Nettleton Shoes have been the Foot-wear Goal for the Young Business Man, the Young Professional Man, the College Man, and the Man who desires the season's correct styles in shoes that will make him feel young

Every effort is concentrated upon maintaining this supremacy, and the styles for Fall surpass previous showings. Devoid of all eccentricities of the commonplace, they are rich in class and distinction; and will mark the wearer as a Man of Good Taste.

Large Sales at Menardville.

Charles Martin, of Menard county, last week sold 700 head of three-year-old steers to H. M. Stonebreaker, of Oklahoma, at $32 around, making a total of $22,400.

Murchison Bros., of Menardville, sold 400 steers 3s and 4s to Eugene Erkle, of Brady at $32.50 around, the deal totaling $13,000.

Meers & Wilkerson, Menard ranchmen, transferred the ownership of 600 three-year-old steers to Tom Baker, of Brady, at $31 per head, making a total of $19,200.—San Angelo Standard.

Dr. Lindley Married.

Word comes from San Saba to the effect that Raymond A. Lindley and Miss Maymie Hagan were married in that city on Sunday last. Dr. Lindley is a Brownwood boy and has hosts of friends here who will be pleased to learn of his happy marriage. The bride is one of San Saba's most charming daughters, the daughter of Editor Hagan of the San Saba Star.—Brownwood Bulletin.

W. J. Joyce is out again after a tussle with the measles. He has two children yet sick with the same trouble.

Lee Morgan is beginning the erection of a new residence on his property out beyond the Crothers & White addition.

Reports from Eden are to the effect that the 12-year-old son of Mr. Adams, who was operated on for appendicitis by Dr. A. S. Holley, of this city, Sunday a week ago, is doing fine and will soon be entirely recovered. The lad was in a very bad shape before the operation was decided upon, and the work of Dr. Holley is therefore a matter of extreme gratification to Mr. Adams and family.

City Election is Warming Up

Two Candidates for Mayor, Three for Marshal and Three for Secretary-Treasurer.

The city election comes off next Tuesday, and while it looked as if there would be no candidates except for marshal for a long time, considerable interest has been manifested during the past week with the result that there is a full complement of good men and true who are ready to do their duty and accept the trust of leadership when it has been shown them that they are needed.

For mayor two good men have offered themselves as candidates on the solicitation of many friends. These men are S. A. Conley and C. A. Trigg, than whom there are no better citizens, and either of whom will make Brady a good mayor.

Two aldermen are to be elected and two names will appear on the ticket—P. J. Martin and Albert Baze. The selection of these two seemed to fill the bill so completely that no others have been solicited to run against them and as The Standard goes to press it seems likely that they will have no opposition.

For city attorney Joe Matthews has consented to accept the trust and his name will be the only one on the ticket for that position.

In the race for city secretary and treasurer considerable interest has been manifested, and three men have offered for the position in the persons of A. R. Crawford (re-election), Lee King and S. M. Richardson. This race promises to be second in interest only to the marshal's race, wherein Paul Sheridan offers for re-election, with Jim Anderson and Lewis Jordan as opposing candidates.

The prospects are that more votes will be polled next Tuesday than ever before in the history of city elections in Brady. The Standard is glad to see this interest manifested in city affairs, as it presages future good to the city.

Meeting of U. C. V.

A meeting of Ben McCulloch Camp U. C. V. is to be held Saturday afternoon, April 2nd, at 1. O. O. F. hall and all members of the camp are urged to be present. Delegates to the annual reunion at Mobiel, Ala., are to be named at this meeting and other matters of importance are to receive attention.

Mr. Savage Improving.

Jack Savage is in receipt of news from Fort Worth to the effect that his brother, D. F. Savage, is improving with as much speed as the attending physician could hope for. Mr. Savage's injury was more serious than at first appeared, and he will probably be confined to his bed another thirty days, and even then will probably not be able to return home. His physician says absolute quiet and rest will be demanded for several months.

Mr. Savage was injured in a polo game at San Antonio on March 1st, concussion of the brain resulting. His many Brady friends will anxiously await his recovery and complete restoration to health.

The world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says:—"I have suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and have used several well known kidney medicines all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley's Kidney Pills I was subjected to severe backache and pains in my kidneys with suppression and oftentimes a cloudy voiding. While upon arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley's Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and once more feel like my own self. All this I owe solely to Foley's Kidney Pills and always recommend them to my fellow sufferers." The Oil Strike at Trickham.

A flowing oil well was brought in at Trickham in Coleman county last week at a depth of 1800 feet. The product is said to be a very fine grade of oil and the well flows about 75 barrels per day. The well is on the W. F. Guthrie farm, and is being financed by the Santa Anna Industrial Co., promoted by H. Benson of San Antonio.

The bringing in of this well is of particular interest to McCulloch county, as it is well known that the oil field extends down into this county, and that the entire northern portion of McCulloch county contains both oil and coal. The Standard predicts that it will only be a few years until this field will be fully developed.

been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unvarnished and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

When the Stomach or Kidney nerves fall, or the Heart or Lungs are affected, Dr. Shoop's Restorative will quickly bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted.

But write me first for an order. This will save delay and disappointment.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Remedy, but authorized to say test, so please—for I ed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community, every where, to issue my "no help, no pay" medicines to the sick.

Will Organize Commercial Club

Brady Has at Last Awakened to a Realization of Her Most Urgent Necessity.

The Standard has consistently preached commercial organization since its first issue more than a year ago, and we are happy to be able to state now that our hopes are about to be realized as preliminary steps were taken Wednesday in the organization of a commercial club for Brady. A meeting was called for the courthouse at 4:00 p. m., and while it was not largely attended the right kind of enthusiasm was manifested by those present, and the organization of a live commercial body seems now to be only a matter of a short time. The meeting Wednesday was the result of active work of Mr. B. F. Bennett, J. F. Montgomery was elected temporary chairman and T. P. Grant temporary secretary. Very little time was wasted in hot air speeches, the need for the organization being so evident that the question of argument in the matter was not considered necessary, and the time of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the best manner in which to proceed in order to secure results that would be permanent. A committee was appointed to take up the preliminary work, lay plans for the organization, and report back to a meeting to be called next Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. This committee is as follows: John E. Cooke, Jim Mann, B. F. Bennett, T. P. Grant, J. F. Montgomery and W. D. Crothers. It was the opinion of every man at the meeting yesterday that Brady should organize a club along progressive lines, with sufficient funds to employ a good secretary for his full time, and revenue enough to give that secretary something to do. The consensus of opinion was that not less than $500 a month be put into the work. A commercial club in Brady, organized along these lines will prove the best piece of work that the city has undertaken. The Standard expects to have great things to report next week.

KIEFER AND KAUF.

A Story of Two Friendly Telegraph Operators

By TOM CARLTON. (Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

Kiefer of telegraph station 12, Butler's survey, was bored. His station was not a busy one, and he longed for some one to talk to. He called up Kaufman of a neighboring station, whose acquaintance he had made over the wire some time before.

"Kauf, are you busy?"

"No. Are you?"

"Yes. I'm busy holding my chair down."

"I'm reading a novel."

"Who's it by?"

"Maria Edgeworth."

"Good gracious! You don't read such stuff as that, do you? I thought Maria Edgeworth wrote for women and children."

After a few moments this came: "I don't read much fiction. When I do I usually read Hardy, Hall Caine and such authors."

"What's your favorite athletic game?"

"Basketball."

"Don't you go in for football?"

"I never learned the game."

"When we meet some autumn I'll fill you something about it. Nothing pleases me so much as a fine punt. I think you'll like it too."

"No; I don't think so. I'm not much on athletics anyway. Pictures and music suit me better."

"I'm with you there. I'm fond of both. I play the violin. Do you play any instrument?"

"The harp."

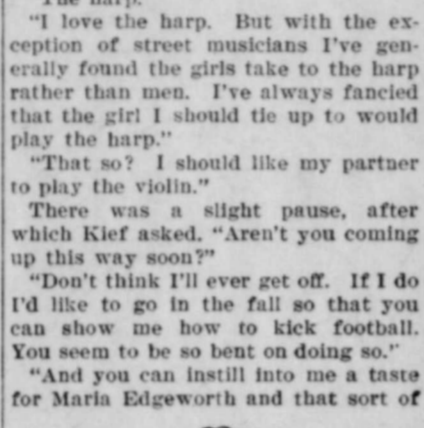

"I love the harp. But with the exception of street musicians I've generally found the girls take to the harp rather than men. I've always fancied that the girl I should tie up to would play the harp."

"That so? I should like my partner to play the violin."

There was a slight pause, after which Kiefer asked, "Aren't you coming up this way soon?"

"Don't think I'll ever get off. If I do I'd like to go in the fall so that you can show me how to kick football. You seem to be so bent on doing so."

"And you can install into me a taste for Maria Edgeworth and that sort of

"Well?" inquired the girl at last.

"Is—is Kauf in? How's Kauf? Well? Tell Kauf I'm out here to see him," answered Kiefer dazedly.

"I'm Kauf—Adalia Kaufman," said the girl. Then the utter blankness in the face before her seemed to restore the girl's equanimity, for she smiled.

"You're Kiefer, I suppose—er—Mr. Kiefer, I mean," she said. "Didn't I wire you?"

"I wouldn't take it," miserably. "I—I thought it was some foolish excusing of a man who wasn't used to visitors. I heard the instrument calling and recognized your touch, but I wouldn't listen. After that first time I kept my back turned and dodged out soon 's the train came in sight." He looked toward the track as though to see if the train were still waiting for him, but all that was visible of it was a dark line trailing into the white horizon.

"Train's gone," he said tentatively, "and it's fifty miles to the nearest house, and there aren't any more trains either way until tomorrow. Now, if I'd brought some food I might walk the fifty miles or start off one way or the other to meet a train, but it's been eight hours since I had breakfast, and fifty miles— You see," deprecatingly, "I felt so sure that Kauf—I beg your pardon, Miss Kauf—Kaufman, I mean—I—I—it doesn't seem possible there isn't any real Kauf after all the talking—wiring—we've done."

"Of course," inquiringly. Then, with an odd note of eagerness coming into his voice, "you mean I can camp right here by the track until a train comes? It won't be presumptuous after—after my density?"

"I control only the station, Mr. Kiefer, and you have a right to camp anywhere you please out of doors. But what I wish to say is that I'll be glad to have you take supper with me and all your meals until the train comes. At home I was considered a very fair cook. We can talk about books and such things."

The next day the down freight was four hours late, and when it began to slacken speed in answer to his signal Kiefer released a hand which he had caught suddenly on the first appearance of the train into the sand's level horizon.

"I'll go and fix up my station some," he said, his voice tremulous with the sweet wonder in it, "and maybe have another room put on. The company will stand that much, I think. Then I'll run back and transplant the flowers and take over your things, and— and the day before my vacation expires I'll wire for a parson to meet us here. You'd better send in your resignation at once, Kauf."

"And announce my promotion, Kiefer."

Then I'm to do the same for you. To bad, though, for I'd thought we might go off together. Odd, isn't it? I feel you're the best friend I've got in the world—about the only one, for that matter—for we've wired no end of personal gossip and ambition, and our tastes run about the same way, and yet I've never seen you and don't know whether you're short or tall, lean or fat, heathen or a Y. M. C. A. or whether your mustache is still to sprout or your white hair is dropping out from old age. Queer world, isn't it, Kauf? But say, I believe I'll run down and spend my vacation with you. There's no other place I can think of, and we can see how each other looks and talk and smoke and—

"There was a quick, protesting click. "Don't you do it, Kiefer. What is your name anyway—the whole of it? Kiefer is so—so unceremonious and blunt. But about the vacation. You mustn't visit me now—mustn't. Why, it's impossible! I—I haven't the accommodations, and—I'm so busy, and—"

There was a call from the home office, and with a hurried explanation to Kaufman he flashed in an acceptance of the proffered leave of absence, took and answered the call, made a few final arrangements, then bent over to continue the conversation, hesitated and swung back from the instrument.

"I won't do it," he chuckled. "Kauf's likely ashamed of his looks, bald-headed or fat or one-eyed or something and don't want me to know. I'm going to visit him on the next train, and I'm not going to give him a chance for any more excuses. Ashamed! Great Scott! Don't we like the same books and music and everything else? What do I care how the old chap looks? He ought to know my regard rises above such petty considerations. And I believe he thinks just as much of me. His personal confidences prove it. I'll just drop in on him so suddenly and affectionately that he can't help taking me in his arms."

So when the through freight slowed at the water tank Kiefer swung himself into the caboose with a generous outfit of tobacco and books and a brand new pack of cards ordered up by the freight conductor. And this same friendly conductor when they reached telegraph station 13 obligingly slowed the train so Kiefer could drop into the white, yielding sand, the familiar, unvarying landscape of his own station.

"Accommodations," he chuckled as he strode eagerly toward the open doorway of the little building. "It's got two rooms like my own, and that's plenty of accommodations for any reasonable man. But perhaps Kauf was used to a big house at home. Hello! Window curtains and flowers at the end of the house, and—Lord!"

For a young woman, pretty and neatly dressed and with lips and eyes that were meant for smiling, but that just now were sober with inquiry and consternation, had suddenly appeared in the doorway. Kiefer had not seen a girl in over three years, and such a girl as this one appeared to him never. His mouth opened and shut without sound.

"Well?" inquired the girl at last.

"Is—is Kauf in? How's Kauf? Well? Tell Kauf I'm out here to see him," answered Kiefer dazedly.

"I'm Kauf—Adalia Kaufman," said the girl. Then the utter blankness in the face before her seemed to restore the girl's equanimity, for she smiled.

"You're Kiefer, I suppose—er—Mr. Kiefer, I mean," she said. "Didn't I wire you?"

"I wouldn't take it," miserably. "I—I thought it was some foolish excusing of a man who wasn't used to visitors. I heard the instrument calling and recognized your touch, but I wouldn't listen. After that first time I kept my back turned and dodged out soon 's the train came in sight." He looked toward the track as though to see if the train were still waiting for him, but all that was visible of it was a dark line trailing into the white horizon.

"Train's gone," he said tentatively, "and it's fifty miles to the nearest house, and there aren't any more trains either way until tomorrow. Now, if I'd brought some food I might walk the fifty miles or start off one way or the other to meet a train, but it's been eight hours since I had breakfast, and fifty miles— You see," deprecatingly, "I felt so sure that Kauf—I beg your pardon, Miss Kauf—Kaufman, I mean—I—I—it doesn't seem possible there isn't any real Kauf after all the talking—wiring—we've done."

"Of course," inquiringly. Then, with an odd note of eagerness coming into his voice, "you mean I can camp right here by the track until a train comes? It won't be presumptuous after—after my density?"

"I control only the station, Mr. Kiefer, and you have a right to camp anywhere you please out of doors. But what I wish to say is that I'll be glad to have you take supper with me and all your meals until the train comes. At home I was considered a very fair cook. We can talk about books and such things."

The next day the down freight was four hours late, and when it began to slacken speed in answer to his signal Kiefer released a hand which he had caught suddenly on the first appearance of the train into the sand's level horizon.

"I'll go and fix up my station some," he said, his voice tremulous with the sweet wonder in it, "and maybe have another room put on. The company will stand that much, I think. Then I'll run back and transplant the flowers and take over your things, and— and the day before my vacation expires I'll wire for a parson to meet us here. You'd better send in your resignation at once, Kauf."

"And announce my promotion, Kiefer."

Much Needed Rain Has Come

The Great Brady Country is Gloriously, Hilariously, Soakingly Wet and Getting Wetter.

It's a grand and glorious rain that is falling as The Standard goes to press this week. A big rain, a fine rain, a ground soaker, worth a million dollars to McCulloch county—and then some. The rain began falling at a very early hour Wednesday morning and has continued slowly and soakingly without interruption since that time, and as we go to press at noon Thursday the ground is as full of water as a sponge and the rain is still falling. Reports received by phone indicate that the rain is general all over the Brady country. Farming operations will now proceed with vim and vigor, there will be good grass and plenty of stock water, and all nature will smile. Farmers, stockmen, merchants, bankers,—everybody—are happy, because the rain insures good crops, good grass, fat cattle, good business. Great is the Brady Country—the best country in the world.

IS LONG PAST CENTURY MARK

Samuel Salyers, Living Near Norton, Va., in Fair Health Although 117 Years Old.

One of the most notable instances of longevity in modern times is that of Mr. Samuel Salyers, now residing near Norton, Va., at the advanced age of 117 years, says Leslie's Weekly. He has been living in a little log cabin for 35 years in succession. Mr. Salyers was justice of the peace for 25 years in Wise county, and served in that capacity after he had passed his one hundredth birthday, being, it is believed, the oldest incumbent on record of such an office. He was so competent in his position that there were not two cases in which his decision was reversed. But for the fact that he is afflicted with rheumatism, Mr. Salyers would be quite an active man. He walks around yet very well with the aid of a cane and a crutch. He has several children living that are as gray-headed as he is. Mr. Salyers, although he continues to take an interest in affairs, says he does not understand why he has been kept on the earth so long and that he is pretty tired of staying here. Many people have enjoyed his relation of events of the distant past, and especially his reminiscences of the war of 1812.

TOO MUCH FOR STRONG MAN.

Authors Struggling for Precedence in Curtain Call Wore Out Hercules of the Stage.

Paul Armstrong is the strong man of the drama.

When a babe in his cradle it is told of the author of "Via Wireless" and "Blue Grass" that he fearlessly slew a mad bull with one blow of his nursing bottle, and when only three years old he extinguished the flames that were devouring the old home and bore the shrieking women folk of his family safely forth from the smoke and reek of the conflagration to a place of safety.

Similar deeds have employed him from time to time since then, and he always knocks out several professional boxers before breakfast each morning—besides swimming several miles and reading all Frederic Edward McKay's pieces about the stage.

But the morning that "Wireless" was produced at the Liberty, Mr. Armstrong staggered weakly into the conservatory at Considine's and called for restoratives.

He was, in the language of his clubs, "all hot up and beat out."

"What's eating you?" asked Tom O'Rourke.

"I'm dead to the world," gasped the muscular dramatist. "I've been rehearsing a mob scene on the stage at the Liberty for seven hours."

"A mob for the new piece?" asked Eddie Burke, sympathetically.

"None," said Armstrong, weakly, "it was the bunch that collaborated on 'Via Wireless' rehearsing for the curtain call for the author."—New York Telegraph.

Lewis Jordan.

Lewis Jordan comes before the people as candidate for city marshal and collector, and his name will be found in our announcement column this issue. Mr. Jordan is a young man and has been practically raised in Brady. He is well known and highly respected, both for his ability as a hustling young business man and also for his sterling traits of character. He has ever been found on the right side of every moral question, and if elected to the office of city marshal he will give his duties that careful attention which insures a successful career. He respectfully asks that you consider his candidacy carefully before casting your vote.

SCIENCE MAKING WAR COSTLY

Future Conflicts Will Be Financially Expensive, but Less Deadly to the Participants.

If you are looking for a good concrete example of how science is making war more and more costly, here it is. Torpedoes themselves are each worth a small fortune. But motorite will probably make it cost $25,000 a half hour to run a torpedo boat. It is only to be used at the supreme moment, other fuel being used under ordinary circumstances. At the crucial moment it will give the torpedo boat and the torpedo a speed greater than an express train—at a tremendous cost, writes Arthur B. Reeve in Hampton's Magazine.

But balance against the cost, large as it sounds, the possible, almost certain, less deadly the warfare. The reason is not far to seek. Double the range of your guns, for instance, and you simply double the distance between the fighting lines.

BULLY old Brady continues to grow and expand. Each week sees new homes started in all directions.

THE first dirt was turned this week on Brownwood's North and South railroad. The Standard congratulates our sister city.

A ROAD bond issue is the proper thing for McCulloch county. The Standard heartily favors it and hopes to see such action taken during 1910.

THE Brownwood Bulletin makes the correction asked by The Standard last week, and congratulates Brady on the fact that the Santa Fe will come into this city on its own track.

THE city election next week is important, and every citizen of Brady who has the good of the town at heart should not fail to take an interest in the selection of officers who are to conduct the town's business for the ensuing term.

THE STANDARD has been working all the time for a live commercial club, and we now predict that such an organization will be effected soon. Keep your ear to the ground for the first rumble. Later on Brady will make a noise like prosperity which will be heard from afar.

GET in on the ground floor and buy a home in McCulloch county, the land of opportunity. Do it now, for land values are advancing all the time. It is not a mushroom advance in price, either, but a steady climb from perfectly natural causes. Land that will produce as this land produces is worth many times the values now prevalent, and the time is in sight when present prices will be considered cheap.

The Bulletin believes in exact justice to every man and for this reason thinks it but due Judge Poindexter to state his connection with the Bailey investigation before the legislative committee. Colquitt in a recent speech charged that he was attorney for the prosecution, accepting $1,000 to prosecute Bailey, while pretending to be his friend. Judge Poindexter did not regard himself as employed by the senate committee either to prosecute or to defend Bailey, but rather as a legal adviser to the senate committee to see that the evidence was presented fully and in legal form and that a fair investigation was had within the limits of the powers of the committee. He discharged his duties within the condition of his employment fairly, faithfully and impartially to Senator Bailey and the state, and it is unfair to him to have him charged with duplicity in the matter. Colquitt's charge is therefore groundless and ungenerous.—Brownwood Bulletin.

"Groundless and ungenerous" are hardly vigorous enough terms. Editor Mayes doesn't usually let 'em down that light when he catches 'em telling point-blank stories. However, the above little call-down is as strong in dignity as it is weak in metaphor, and expresses The Standard's opinion exactly.

SOCIETY NOTES

MRS. A. G. WALKER, Editor
PHONE 149

Mrs. Donnell, arrived Friday from Stephenville, to join her husband, Tom Donnell, who came about ten days ago to take charge, as superintendent, of the Bencini oil mill. Mr. Donnell has been in the employ of this company for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Donnell will be located in the cottage formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hughes, near the oil mill. Mr. Donnell is a nephew of Mr. Bencini. We predict for this young couple, who expect to make their home in Brady, the warm hospitality that those who come so highly recommended always receive. Mrs. Donnell was a school friend of Mrs. Paul Willoughby. Her many accomplishments and charming person will make quite an acquisition to the young matron society.

The children of the Presbyterian Sunday School were treated to an Easter hunt on Saturday afternoon near the home of Mrs. Hendson, arranged by the Sunday school teachers, also cake and candies were provided and the children had a merry good time.

Misses Ida May Souther and Gillie Macy were the guests of Tom Baker and family for an auto trip to Ozona. They will be the guests of Will Souther for a week.

The Mother's club spent from 3:30 until 6 at the home of Mrs. John Schaege on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Schaege was assisted by Mrs. C. A. Trigg in receiving the club members. Mrs. James Bevans guest of honor. An art contest was a delightful feature resulting with Mrs. Crawford having displayed the greatest ability was presented a bouquet holder. Also a word contest forming the greatest number of words, in ten minutes, using the words "Mothers Club." Mrs. Wrotan won honors and received a medalion "An Indian Maid." Refreshments of cream, nabiscoes and sweets were served.

The reception of the Home Mission Society by Mrs. A. B. Walker on Saturday afternoon was a delightful affair. For the pleasure of her guests the hostess had arranged a Home Mission contest, Mrs. John Schaege the souvenir, a handsome book by Ralph Conner "Angel and Stars." The beautiful hand painted place cards were the work of Miss Wauldine Tauch. Studies commemorative of the great Easter day, which reflect great credit to her skill and were prized by the guests as mementos of the occasion, and during the refreshment course gave the topic of conversation. A reading by Miss Willie Teague was much appreciated. Guests honored with the Mission Society were Mesdames E. P. Lea and Lyle.

The Club will enjoy a dance at the Klondyke hall on Thursday evening the first in some time on account of so many observing Lent. Special arrangements are being perfected for a delightful evening.

Mrs. Jas. Stone entertained in honor of the third anniversary of her little daughter, Mabel Doty Stone, on Sunday afternoon. The little ladies composing the party, Gertrude Wood, Mildred Yantis, Maggie Henderson Doole, Marguerite Frances McClure, Lois Holley, Eugene Westmoreland and Margie McCall, were received by little Mabel on this occasion and treated to an Easter hunt, games, refreshments of fruit, candies animal cakes including the beautiful birthday cake decorated with three waxen symbols, gracefully cut and served by the little hostess. The birthday remembrances were not forgotten and altogether this was a delightful occasion.

On Saturday evening Miss Lillian Ballou entertained in a charming manner a few of her friends. The features of the evening were games, music, recitations, a mock marriage and guessing at the dimensions of a hat, afforded great amusement. Miss Gladys Wolf was presented a box of sweets for guessing closest. Refreshments of cake cream and nabiscoes were served the following guests: Misses Ruth Schaege, Annie Scott, Veda Stewart, Leslie Bradley, Erine Yantis and Gladys Wolf. Messrs. Marion Hardison, Earl Boyd, Henry King, Blain Sammons, John McKnight and Roy Cobb.

The celebration of the sixth birthday of little Annie Best Crawford on Wednesday afternoon the 23rd was one long to be remembered by the little hostess and her friends. Games had been arranged to pass the hours before refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her mother, of cream, cake and sweets. At the hour of leave taking the guests had expressed the compliments of the day by suitable mementos and wishes for many returns of the anniversary.

Miss Marie Crothers was hostess to a few of her many friends on Tuesday afternoon honoring Miss Bingham, of Chicago, and Miss Eda Gansel. The home was beautiful in Easter decorations, color scheme in dining room, green and white, stately lillie center decoration of appropriately placed dining table. White carnation boutonniere were placed for the following guests, Misses Bingham, Eda Gansel, Addie Conner, Laura White, Francis Tisdale, Beulah and Beatrice Sammons, who enjoyed with their hostess a five course luncheon, grape fruit punch, chicken croquets, squabs, vegetables, mint ice, salad, lilly formed cream, cake and coffee.

Invitations have been received by a party of friends for Wednesday evening with Mrs. Geo. Gansel. Honoring Misses Bingham and Gansel.

Master John Sheridan entertained his play mates on Saturday afternoon with an Easter hunt, after the jolly hunt for the beautiful painted eggs, cream, cake, and sweets were served. The occasion was a delightful one and will linger in the minds of the little folks.

We Want Your Business

Wool Growers' Accumulative Association

Brady, Texas

We beg to state that we have organized the Wool Grower's Accumulative Association of Brownwood and Brady, Texas.

We expect to get several hundred thousand pounds of wool accumulated at each of the above points to offer to our group of buyers who represent the largest woolen mills in America and one large buyer from London, Eng., who we have recently interested in Texas Golden fleeces.

We have begun receiving stock wool clips at Brady already, and when your consignments of wool are received at our warehouse, you then become a member of the Wool Grower's Accumulative Association. One certain day will be set apart for the sale of these large bodies of wool and any member of this association will be permitted to be present if he so desires and make his own sale, do his own figuring and receive his cash before the close of the day. If you are not present at this sale, your neighbor can tell you all the details of that wonderful wool sale day in next June, 1910.

The association charges one cent per pound for selling, storing and furnishing you with free information each month as to the future outlook and the market at that time, and advise you practical ideas as to the caring of wool growers of the world.

Gentlemen the day come that the middle man's profit is destroyed, and the large manufacturers are getting their supplies direct from the producer and that's you.

Last year was the grandest value in wool in the history of our present generation, and all the dealers in Texas realized an immense profit, whereas if we had been in operation last season, all of the wool growers in this section of the Southwest would have some extra cash for the orphans. Now for you to succeed in this life of wool raising just consign all your clips to us and receive free information the year round each month by which you will know exactly how to figure all along and many errors will be avoided in your life-time of wool growing and selling.

The association has wool bags made especially for them, well made and weigh full 3 pounds each, and when you are ready we will furnish them to our members at cost.

Yours very truly,

Wool Growers' Accumulative Association

Women Suffer Agonies from Diseased Kidneys

And Most Women Do This Not Knowing the Real Cause of their Condition

These poor, suffering women have been led to believe that their misery of mind and body is entirely due to "ills of their sex." Usually the kidneys and bladder are responsible—or largely so. And in such cases, the kidneys and bladder are the organs, that need and must have attention.

Those torturing, enervating sick headaches, dragging pains in back, groin and limbs, bloating and swelling of the extremities, extreme nervousness or hysteria, listlessness and constant tired, worn-out feeling—are almost certain symptoms of disordered and diseased kidneys, bladder and liver.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills have, in thousands of cases, been demonstrated as remarkably beneficial in all such conditions of female organism—affording the most prompt relief and permanent benefit.

As an illustration of what these Pills will do, Mrs. P. M. Bray of Columbus, Ga., writes that she was very ill with kidney trouble, and that she is now well—and that these Pills are what cured her.

They are very pleasant to take, and can in no case, produce any deleterious effects upon the system—as syrupy, alcoholic, liquid preparations are apt to do.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail post-paid. Do it to-day.

DR. MOORE IS COMING AGAIN

Will be in Brady April 4th to 9th

Dr. J. Harvey Moore, the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat specialist of San Antonio, has an enormous practice in Brady. On his last visit he was kept busy for a whole week. He has patients scattered all over McCulloch and surrounding counties. His work here is positive proof of his superior ability and skill. He has restored sight to the blind, straightened cross eyes, removed growth from the eyes and treated many cases of sore eyes, catarrh, etc., with success, and people are flocking to him from several counties around. He cures all diseases of the eye, ear nose and throat that are curable and if you are incurable he will tell you and will not take your money.

Waldrup Receives Proposition.

As announced in The Standard last week Promoter Love, representing the Brownwood and Rockwood railroad, made the citizens of Waldrup a proposition Thursday to bring the road on across the river and establish a depot at or near Waldrup for a cash bonus of $85,000. D. C. Randals, one of Waldrup's most prominent citizens, who was in town Saturday, says the citizens informed Mr. Love that they would do the best they could to raise the bonus, and they are to have another conference with him Saturday, April 2nd.

Mr. Randals told Mr. Love that he would personally come through handsomely on the bonus, but that if Love would extend the road on to Brady he would give $1000 additional. He says the people all want a road, but they would much prefer having connection with Brady.

The oil discovery at Trickham will have much bearing on the Love road, and it is announced from Brownwood that no time will be lost in getting the work of construction under way.

Sunday School Association.

The delegates from McCulloch County who attended the recent convention at Dallas returned very much enthused over the great S. S. convention. The result is another revival of the county association. Another result is the taking of the Sunday school census of the city of Brady for the purpose of enlisting more people to attend the various schools of our city.

A call meeting was held at the Methodist church Thursday evening, March 24th, at which time an executive committee was selected. This committee met at the office of E. P. Lea at 9:00 a. m. Friday and elected the following officers: E. P. Lea, Pres., and D. R. Hardison, Sec. and two members from each of the churches as active members.

It was moved and carried that each furnish six enumerators who shall be furnished with tablets with the necessary questions printed on same for the purpose of ascertaining the information wanted by the various churches and especially by the S. S. workers.

It was further decided at this meeting that the city of Brady be divided into four wards and then further sub-divided in two each making eight in all, for the convenience of these enumerators.

The following are the divisions as made by the committee; Ward or section No. 1, all on north side of Brady creek, Sec. A, of No. 1; all on right side of Bridge street to and on right of Crothers Ave. Sec. B, all on left side of Bridge street, to and on left of Crothers Ave. Ward No. 2, all west of High street south of Brady creek. Sec. A, of ward No. 2, all territory west of High street and north of Fourth street. Sec. B, all territory south of Fourth street and west of High. Ward No. 3, all territory between High and Elm street. Sec. A, of ward No. 3, all territory north of Sixth street between High and Elm. Sec. B, all territory south of Sixth street between High and Elm. Ward No. 4, all east of Elm street south of Brady creek. Sec. A, all territory north of Sixth street east of Elm. Sec. B, all territory south of Sixth street east of Elm.

The enumerators with the committee will meet next Friday afternoon at 4:30 in the circuit court room for the purpose of having the territory assigned and further instructions from the committee.

We earnestly trust that the citizens of Brady will give these earnest workers the information asked for and assist them in this important work.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling, teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babies. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. A few days test will tell. Sold by Central Drug Store.

Over the County News Notes of Interest From Our Country Correspondents

"Lohn Locals."

Notwithstanding The Standard's frequent explanations that communications unsigned could not be published, this office still receives occasional contributions of an anonymous source. One received this week is headed "Lohn Locals," and is signed "Hayseed." If "Hayseed" will furnish us his real name we will be glad to publish his letter, and will further supply him with stamps and stationery for future contributions. But we cannot and will not publish any communication unless we know who wrote it.

BROADMOOR BREEZES.

Broadmoor, Texas, Mar. 23.
Editor Standard:
As I never see anything in The Standard from Broadmoor I will try and give you a little news, and if this escapes the waste basket will come again.
The farmers of this section are well up with their work. Corn is up and looking fine, and there is moisture enough in the ground to bring up cotton.
Cotton planting will be started hereabout within the next few days.
Our new public road is worked out at last. We have one among the best road overseers in the county. The road mentioned is the Salt Gap and Lohn road, and it is in fine shape now.
Well, as this is my first, I will close by saying that The Standard is my favorite paper. RED RATTLER.
(Come again, Red, and Rattle more next time. The Standard would like to hear from your section often.—Editor).

VOCA VOICES.

Voca, Texas, Mar. 28.
Editor Brady Standard:
Well as weather is progressing nicely will try and write you. We are needing rain bad.
There was church here Sunday eve and Sunday night. A large crowd was in attendance.
The boy of John Kirkland who was thrown from a wagon and seriously hurt is some better now.
Will Reed has moved back to Voca again.
Well, I am sorry to say our school closed last Friday. Seems like all the school children learned a great deal.
Mr. and Mrs. John Lemons are mourning the loss of their dear little baby. The death angel took the little one to that Heavenly Home last Monday.
Ernest Hopkins is back to Voca again.
As news is scarce I will close for this time, but will write a longer letter next week. WATER LILLY.

To Correspondents:

Of thirty or more correspondents The Standard is only receiving letters from some half a dozen with anything like regularity. This is not as it should be. We want a live correspondent at each place in the county, and this is to ask those who have "laid down" on us to wake up and give us the news. If you are out of stamps and stationery say so and we will send more. Always let us know when you are about out of writing materials and another supply will be sent you immediately.
Correspondents will confer a favor also by omitting anything in the way of a joke or "sell." Generally these jokes are harmless, but our experience is that eventually somebody gets mad, no matter how harmless the joke may appear, and it is better to confine the communications to matters of news purely.
To those of our writers who have been with us the past year we wish to extend our thanks and to express our appreciation of their efforts. The success of the paper has been due in no small degree to these faithful ones, and the editor hereby acknowledges his indebtedness therefor. We thank you and want you to continue with us.

EDEN ECHOES.

Eden, Texas, March, 21, '10
Editor Brady Standard:
As I haven't sent in any news for quite a while, you will, no doubt, be surprised to hear from me again. I have moved into a new settlement since my last letter and had to get acquainted with the people before I could write any news of interest.
This part of Concho county is needing rain very badly, although the green grass can be seen in spite of the dry weather.
Most of the farmers are busy preparing their land for another crop.
The singing at the Hill school house was attended by a large crowd Sunday evening as was the one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacoby on Sunday night.
Jim Lively and Frank Ellis have learned a new trick. They pretend to dig a well for water, but as I was passing Jim's Monday I saw them at the well drawing water, as I thought, but in place of the bucket coming up, lo! and behold it was one of their neighbors yearlings. I think they will do to watch, don't you Mr. Editor?
Messrs. J. E. and A. J. Lively and W. A. Jackson and their families, of Live Oak spent Saturday night and Sunday with J. E. Lively, son of J. B. Lively.
Eden and the Hills matched a ball game and played 10 to 12 in favor of the Hills Saturday evening.
Tommy Linam, Tom Edgar and Walter Lively made a flying trip to Eden Saturday.

Mr. Pendleton's brother and wife visited him Sunday.
Will ring off for this time.
AUNT LUCINDY.

Pneumonia follows a cold but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar which stops the cough, heals the lungs and expels the cold. Sold by Jones Drug Co.

WALDRIP WHISPERINGS.

Waldrip, Texas, March 28.
Editor Brady Standard:
We are needing rain badly. Farmers are becoming discouraged at the continued drought.
Dr. J. E. Powell, J. R. Winstead, Sr. and G. A. Rudolph made a very pleasant trip to San Angelo, Ballinger, Paint Rock, and other places of interest.
Miss Mabel Winstead left for Brady Friday evening, where she will attend the Lenten services at the Catholic church Sunday.
Mrs. Willis Wright is improving rapidly from a recent spell of sickness.
Mrs. Emma Hayes died Saturday evening March 19, at the home of her son, J. K. Hayes. She had been very ill for the past two months and although her death was expected at any time, it was hard indeed to give her up, but we have the blessed assurance that she is safe in the arms of Jesus, and we will meet her in the sweet bye and bye.
Miss Mina Trott, of Lohn, spent Friday and Saturday with the Misses Powell.
E. O. Kerr of San Angelo, spent the latter part of the week with W. T. Stacy of this place.
Quite a crowd of young people attended a party at Mr. and Mrs. Cathey's Saturday night. All report a splendid time.
Some of the Fife young people were driving around in our city Sunday evening.
Best wishes to The Standard.

Accept no substitute for Foley's Honey and Tar. It is the best and safest remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. No opiates. Sold by Jones Drug Co.

NEW HOPE NEWS.

New Hope, Texas, Mar. 24.
Editor Brady Standard:
I will try to write a few lines after my long absence.
The farmers are very busy planting corn and cotton. Corn that is up looks very nice.
Health in our community is very good.
The people at New Hope heard a very interesting sermon Sunday night.
Rev. Kind will fill his regular appointment Sunday and Sunday night.
Y. T. Crouch and family of Placid, have been visiting in New Hope community the past week.
Our school is progressing nicely with a large attendance. I hope we will have Prof. Turby with us again next year.
P. R. Crouch, of Richland Springs, is in our midst making pictures.
Wheat and oats are looking nice on the black land since the shower.
Mrs. E. O. Crouch is able to be up again after a spell of pneumonia.
W. C. Roberts made a flying trip to San Saba one day last week.
E. O. and E. L. Crouch paid the city of Richland Springs a visit Tuesday. They report Richland Springs on a boom.
I will ring off with best wishes to The Standard and its many readers.

FIFE FINDINGS.

Fife, Texas, Mar. 28.
Editor Standard:
The high winds of the past few days has dried the ground out a great deal and the planting of crops has ceased.
J. Walker Green is in the community this week representing The Standard and is adding many names to the paper's list. The Standard is the best paper in the county and everyone should take it.
F. Tedder sold his place to his son, S. F. Tedder, this week at $18.75 per acre.
J. L. Jordan and wife, W. W. Jordan and family, of Brady, visited Mr. and Mrs. James Finlay Sunday.
Rev. Kelly, of Lohn, filled his regular appointment here and at Cow Gap Sunday.
Prof. J. K. Baze, of Pear Valley, spoke here Friday night in the interest of his candidacy for the office of Superintendent of Schools.
The ball game between Fife and Rockwood last Saturday resulted in a tie of 2 and 2. The boys will play Santa Anna at that place next Saturday.
John Mitchell and Henry Martin made a business trip to Salt Gap Friday.

PLACID PARAGRAPHS.

Placid, Texas, Mar. 28.
Editor Standard:
It's dry, dusty, and very windy in Placid this week. The farmers are waiting for a few refreshing showers to put a season in the ground so they can plant a crop.
Placid is still in the push.
Earnest Beakley and W. V. Day were out prospecting Friday evening.

Mr. Beakley is intending to purchase a farm near Placid.
Mr. J. H. Vick spent a day or two in Brownwood this week.
Rev. Dillingham took the Friday's train to Comanche to fill his regular appointment at that place.
Jim Jones is reported sick this week.
The ladies of Placid gave the little folks an Easter hunt at the Placid Park Sunday afternoon and all had an enjoyable time.
Prof. and Oscar Gault attended church at Rochelle Sunday.
Henry Haywood returned home on Saturday from quite an extended visit to Winchell, Texas.
J. R. and Nat Gault visited the old stamping ground at Milburn Sunday.

SOME CURRENT COMMENT

BY J. WALKER GREEN

It is good to be with the old boys again, wearing the old harness, and on the old familiar track. Everywhere I get the glad hand, a cordial welcome and sincere congratulations that I have returned to my first love, that model county newspaper--The Brady Standard. Nothing could be more grateful and pleasant than to meet these good people with the full knowledge that every single promise I made to them last year has been redeemed in both letter and spirit, down to the most minute detail. And they appreciate my effort to do the square thing as is evidenced in every strong hand clasp and warm words of confidence and friendship. We have the cleanest list in Texas; it is incomparably superb; men of character and stamina, whose word is as good as their bond, and I am inexpressibly proud of my share in enlisting their support and friendship for the paper. Some of these days I am going to publish these names so that everybody "from Missouri" may be "shown" by giving them an opportunity to count them. Yes! count 'em, and note while the counting is going on the standing and character of the men the names represent. It will amaze some people who have been inclined to consider me a "big windy" when reading the superlatives I have heretofore employed in a feeble attempt to put them wise as to the splendor and reliability of The Standard's circulation.

There is a lull in the work on the farms; some few have planted a little corn, and a little milo-maize and sorghum, but most of the farmers are waiting for a rain. Everything is in perfect readiness, however, and when the rain comes they won't lose a minute in getting seed into the ground. In the meantime they are "lazing around" taking things easy, "going-a-fishing" and talking politics and swapping yarns. I have had two bad spells of fishing fits myself this week; the dog-wood and the elm are in bloom, the world-wide insignnia of fishing "luck" and while the bluebird and the robin were joyously singing along every lane and the breath of spring was wafted to me from every woodland, the fever got into my blood and I just had to go-a-fishing or go crazy. Arthur Penn was plowing down on the river near Milburn and I offered to swap work with him; that is to say, I offered to plow half a day for him "the next day" if he would unhitch and go fishing with me "right now." But Arthur would not trade; he thought I had an ace up my sleeve and might do him up. Anyhow I went down to the house and got his two little boys and we went together to the river and had a big time. They are fine little fellows and we had a barrel of fun.

I am glad to note that the farmers of McCulloch county are going to plant for plenty of feed stuff this season. For instance Arthur Penn will plant: Corn, 20 acres; oats, 5 acres; sorghum, 6 acres; millet, 6 acres; kafir corn, 4 acres; cotton, 40 acres. So that out of a total of 81 acres he will plant 41 acres in feed stuffs, besides his garden and two acres of water-melons.

A more striking illustration of the new departure however is the crop pitched by Ennis Penn. Out of 94 acres he has: Oats, 50 acres; corn, 8 acres; cane, 3 acres; millet, 3 acres; cotton, 30 acres. This makes 64 acres of feed stuff out of 94 acres.

Ernest Penn has 40 acres of feed-stuffs out of a total of seventy. These young men are farming in the Colorado valley near Milburn and are up-to-date hustlers and I wish for them abundant success, not only for their own sakes, but also, that the good example may afford a profitable object lesson to those who still yield allegiance to the unmerciful despotism of King Cotton.

Mr. O. P. Deering, of the Lohn country, will plant 100 acres in cotton but then, cotton is not his king; he is the sovereign of a little principality of his own up on that hill. He is a bully old man, the father of fourteen children, whose mother is still a beautiful woman and a loving companion whose "silver threads among the gold" but add to the splendor of her motherhood. He has a large farm and the family can handle a hundred acres of cotton and play half the time. Slave to nothing! Deering is a free-born American patriarch and King, he is. Bully for Deering.

I am laying over Sunday with my splendid young friend Autie Johnson. It would be impossible for me to visit the Waldrip country without going to see Autie and his "Hell-go-mites." Autie himself is of a friendly and gentle temperament but his friend the "Hell-go-might" is a "vigorous" devil without a single redeeming trait. Arthur Penn says the things "skeer him nearly to death;" and I think from the way his wife laughs and enjoys herself when "Hell-go-mites" are mentioned, that Arthur must have had some experience with them that won't do to tell. Well, when I got to Autie's home the second fishing fit struck me hard and as he is a scientific angler, understanding the habits and nature of fish as a botanist does a flower, I had the time of my life. We caught about twenty pounds of fish in two hours. There were only four of them, but they were whales; two of them were so big that we had to pull in the lines hand over hand to land them. Oh! it was bully fishing. I thought maybe I hooked a brother of the whale they captured off Port Arthur. But Autie is going to sell his farm now, and I already beginning to get lonesome. But he is ambitious and wants to go to college to complete his education. So does Miss Pearl, his young and lovely sister. Mrs. Johnson the good mother is also anxious to get the children into school. So when the railroad comes as now seems certain they are going to sell. It is a beautiful place of 100 acres ideally situated on the bank of the shimmering Colorado, and the soil is as fertile as the Valley of the Nile and the fishing, well it is "plum outer sight." I tell them, I fear they will wish they were back on the river farm before many years.

I spent one night at the home of our good friend W. M. Campbell, also of the Waldrip country. Mr. Campbell and his lovely wife--who is as good as she is beautiful--were my most pleasant hosts last year, and I had kept a warm memory of their kindness to me, ever since, so was glad of the opportunity to revisit this hospitable home. Mr. Campbell is one of the few farmers of McCulloch county who has corn, of his own raising, in his crib; true it was raised in 1908, but that only proves his wisdom in planting a good acreage in 1908, doesn't it? He wouldn't have had it now, if he hadn't, would he?

Stayed all night with the man in the moon Friday night. Heh! Don't believe it? It's a fact, stayed all night with Henry Bradley, the man in the honey-moon. And a fine fellow he is, you bet! His bride of three months,--nee Miss Winnie Walker--is a petite blonde, of scarcely 100 pounds, but she is a rosy-cheeked, bright-eyed, active and busy little housekeeper and keeps her doll house spick and span from cellar to garret. She thinks a lot of old Henry, too, and watches over him with utmost care and tenderness. My last word to her was, "Don't let any old boogers catch Henry," and she answered confidently, "I'll not."

The Canton No. 12 Planter

The only Cotton Planter made where the hitch, retains the same relative position whether plowing deep or shallow, avoiding all neck weight, which is accomplished by the small lever on the end of the tongue. The only planter made which throws the feed mechanism automatically out of gear without separating the gear wheels, avoiding all liability of breaking the teeth in the gears. These and other excellent features, protected by patents, can be found only on the P. & O. Canton Planter.

The bottom always remains at the same angle whether set deep or shallow. This angle can be instantly changed by the lever on the tongue. Has detachable hopper with the plater and agitator moving in opposite directions, preventing the seed from bunching. The finest Cotton and Corn Planter made.

Five Hundred Prime Concho County Fours Bring Record Breaking Price Last Week.

According to H. C. Fletcher, deputy sheriff of Millersview, price records for 1910 cattle in West Texas were again broken this week in the sale of 500 steers, fours and up, to a Fort Worth commission house representative at $39 around, by W. O. Schultz of Concho county. The bunch will be shipped from Brownwood this week. Mr. Schultz had one of the finest herds in West Texas, Mr. Fletcher declares, and the cattle were worth the money. The total consideration was $19,500.

Morgan Wilson, of Wichita Falls, purchased Tuesday from Huey Bros. a bunch of 750 cows, for slightly over $20 per head, a total of $15,000. Mr. Wilson will ship the stock to his home next month.

Sol Thompson and J. E. Boog-Scott, of Coleman, closed a deal Tuesday for 400 head of cows bought from Sol Mayer, at around $20, the deal aggregating $8,000. The bunch is on Mr. Mayer's Schleicher county ranch, to be delivered in April.

A herd of 770 cows was sold by Fletch Treadwell Tuesday for Huey Bros. to J. H. Turbeyville and W. C. Morgan for $15,570, or $20.25 per head.

Noble Fisk, of Glasscock county, disposed of a bunch of 600 cows and heifers this week to McCuningham & Bowen, of Kansas, $21 per head was paid a total of $12,600. Mr. Fisk is a visitor in San Angelo today.

The price of $28 per head was paid by G. W. Connally of Caney, Kansas, for the two year old steers he purchased Tuesday from H. B. Opp, of McKavett, in the deal reported in Tuesday's Standard. The consideration is a record figure for two year olds. —San Angelo Standard.

Construction Engineer Temple Says May be a Month Before Route is Finally Fixed.

"I will know whether or not the Santa Fe will go to Eden in the next month, in fact it may be that the Santa Fe has already decided the matter, but I have never been advised," said M. F. Temple, Construction Engineer of the Santa Fe, who returned Thursday morning from a few days trip to Lometa, Temple and Dallas.

"While I now only have a profile to Brady, it would not surprise me a bit if announcement should come from headquarters pretty soon to build to Eden. The fact is, the contract for considerable grading west of Brady has been let but in a general way. The contract has been let subject to the selection of the location later, and no especial distance is specified. If the Santa Fe goes to Eden it will make the Lometa cut-off 95 miles in length. This office is absolutely devoid of information relative to the plans of the Santa Fe after the track leaves Brady, however it is known that it will pursue the Frisco grade to Melvin."

Work on the Lometa cut-off has begun and is progressing rapidly. The biggest force of graders is now at work on the yards and terminus at Lometa. The yards will consist of five tracks nearly a mile long each. —San Angelo Standard.

Judge S. V. Wood.

In our announcement column this week appears the name of Judge S. V. Wood for county commissioner of the town precinct, No. 1. Judge Wood has been a resident of McCulloch and Mason counties since 1891, and knows the needs of the county as well as any man in it. That he is qualified for the office goes without saying, for he has had plenty of experience, having been county judge of Mason county for four years, and commissioner in the same county two years. Judge Wood says his policy, if elected, will be to so expend the county money that the citizens and tax payers will get the full benefit thereof, and he will advocate progressiveness all along the line. Judge Wood will make the Brady precinct a good commissioner, and your vote at the July primaries is respectfully solicited.

Editor Standard,
Brady, Texas.

Dear Sir:—

Enclosed find post office money order for $1.00 for which please send me The Standard for another year. I was in Brady last April and subscribed for The Standard and have been getting it regularly all the time. It is like getting a letter from home. I see so many names in it that I know and had not thought of for twenty years. I like to think of those old time people. I was raised in that county, and feel as though it is still my home. My father and mother are living in that county near Voca. Good luck to Brady and surrounding country and all those good people.

Respectfully,
J. T. DAVIS.

Receiving Bridge Timbers.

News concerning the work on the Frisco and Santa Fe roads west of the city is hard to get. There seems to be a big element of doubt as to "who is who, and why," in the matter of the construction of the roadway leading west, although it is an admitted fact that the Frisco has sold its grade from Brady to Melvin, to the Santa Fe, leasing the privilege of using the track for a distance of eight miles.

To date there has been received by the Frisco contractors about 60 carloads of bridge timbers, pilings and tilings at the Brady station, and this stuff is being hauled out on the grade west by teams. No cross ties or rails have been received as yet with the exception of a couple of cars which are being unloaded for the construction of the "Y" connecting the two roads.

400 Steers Bring $35 'Round.

Lee Schooler and John Martin, Brady stockmen, are in San Angelo arranging to ship their stock to Oklahoma pastures this spring. Next week they will ship 1400 head of steers to Oklahoma.

Referring to the present high price of cattle over West Texas, Mr. Martin said: "I believe that cattle will continue to bring high prices and that the present price record will be broken. Grass is coming up, and all the country needs a rain to hurry the growth. We had a great deal more rain around Brady, than this section last winter."

They report the sale of four hundred head of three-year-old steers by the Maloy Brothers, of Brady, at $35 per head. Two-year-olds will be bringing above $25 'round soon, they say.—San Angelo Standard.

SANTA FE IMMIGRATION

Immigration Men of Santa Fe System Visit Brady and Confer With Commercial Club.

A move to secure immigration to the Brady Country was set on foot in this city Saturday which will surely bear fruit in due season. A party of Santa Fe men came over from San Angelo by auto and held a conference with the commercial club directors on matters pertaining to the securing of a big immigration movement to this section. In the party were the following gentlemen:

F. L. Vandegrift, Editor of "The Earth," Chicago.
C. L. Seagraves, General Colonization Agent, Chicago.
W. H. Simpson, General Advertising Agent, Chicago.
Garrett A. Dobbins, Industrial and Colonization Agent, Galveston.

"The Earth" is an illustrated monthly magazine published by the Santa Fe, with a circulation of 40,000 copies monthly. It is devoted to the dissemination of information concerning those sections of the country traversed by the Santa Fe railroad. All four of the gentlemen present have as their duties the boosting of Santa Fe territory, and the system is spending large sums of money each month in the work. They are now ready to take up the Brady Country, and the purpose of their visit was to confer with the commercial club, secure such information as might be of value to the work, and induce a spirit of co-operation that will result in new people being brought to the Brady Country.

Mr. Vandegrift as editor of "The Earth," will shortly prepare a descriptive writeup of this country and to supplement this these men desire that Brady shall supply them with much literature, showing the many points of advantage about the country as relates to the farming industry.

The meeting was well attended and a motion prevailed that the commercial club at once take steps to provide the information desired, and the secretary was instructed to immediately get busy in the preparation of an illustrated booklet, containing such data as was desired.

All four of the visitors were deeply impressed with Brady and surrounding country, and say there is no doubt but that many new farmers can be located here from the north and east just as soon as the facts of our splendid climate, our unexcelled agricultural advantages and our cheap lands can be brought to their attention.

Applies for Pardon.

Sheriff T. L. Sansom returned Thursday from Austin where he went before the Board of Pardons in behalf of the boy, John Pinkard, who was convicted at the May, 1909, term of district court and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for forging a check on the Brady National Bank. The petition for the boy's pardon was signed by all the county officers, the officials of the bank and many other people, and Sheriff Sansom thinks the pardon will be granted within a week or two and the boy given his freedom.

Miss Melba Palmer and her splendid company have been drawing big crowds at the Vendome the past week, and have decided to remain over for this week, changing the bill each night and presenting new specialties. Miss Palmer is a splendid actress and has chosen only the better class of talent in support. There is not a weak spot in the entire company, and the continued crowded houses at each performance indicates the esteem in which the show is held by the theater going public. The specialties are a feature, especially the singing of Mr. Dick Lester who gets the glad hand every time he appears before the curtain.

THAT farmer who bought Mc-Culloch county land last week for an alfalfa farm is building wisely to the future. The first cutting of alfalfa from the Pecos Valley country of West Texas sold at Pecos City at $22.50 per ton. At this price alfalfa farming is as good as a gold mine, but even at lower prices there is good money for the alfalfa farmer. The crop of West Texas is equal, if not superior, to that of any section of Texas, and with from three to six cuttings per year this industry is destined to prove one of the big successes of West Texas farming. McCulloch county has plenty of good alfalfa land, and properly handled alfalfa will beat cotton year in and year out as a money crop.

Arthur W. Jones' Speech.

Arthur W. Jones, of Dallas, spoke at the courthouse Saturday afternoon in the interest of the candidacy of Cone Johnson for governor. Mr. Jones was in good voice, and made a splendid prohibition speech, showing he had studied the subject long and carefully.

He scored Mr. Johnson's opponents heavily, landing especially hard upon O. B. Colquitt. He reviewed the past records of each of the four candidates as regards their former records on the subject of prohibition, and drew the conclusions that his candidate was the only prohibi-tionist in the race whom it would be safe to trust. He devoted some time to argument favoring statutory statewide prohibition.
Mr. Jones' speech was well received, and a considerable propo-tion of his audience were evidently in sympathy with the speaker's views.

At the conclusion of the speech
a Cone Johnson club was organized with 75 members, the following officers being elected; F. M.

FEDERAL AID FOR ROADS.

Senate Reports Favorably on Highway Bill Appropriating $500,000.

Aid from the federal government is possible for roadmaking. A bill has been favorably reported from the senate committee on agriculture providing for an appropriation of $500,000 to be expended in co-operative road building. States or counties receiving the benefit of this aid would be required by the bill to duplicate the sums used in their territory.

The fundamental object of the bill is to disseminate scientific knowledge of road construction and maintenance so as to increase the interest in good roads and in the means of securing them economically. The appropriation would amount to only about 1 per cent of the total appropriation for rural delivery, and it is estimated that the resultant improvement of roads would so facilitate the travel of rural carriers as to save this amount in the long run.
The annual expenditure for country roads in the United States from all sources at the present time probably exceeds $90,000,000, and it is estimated that half of this is wasted through unwise administration and faulty methods of construction and maintenance.

The expert advice and supervision of work that would be possible with federal co-operation and the strips of good roads which their work would place for the inspection and use of the people would hasten the time of universally improved highways in this country.

DRAG HIGHWAYS NOW.

Earth Road Troubles Will Be Obviated if Work Starts in Spring.

Three-fourths of the troubles incident to the care of earth roads would be obviated if with the opening of spring the roads were dragged regularly, so that the water would run off and the surface dry out rapidly.
When the frost is going out of the ground there must necessarily be a few days of bad roads.

If farmers would keep off the roads as much as possible during these few days, then just as soon as the soil settles go over the road with a drag or a harrow, fill up the ruts and chuck holes so that the surface water would run off, the earth roads would be in condition months ahead of the usual good period and a great deal of the annoyance of the long mouthed hard road advocate would be destroyed.

Stone roads are too costly for the majority of localities in the Mississippi valley. Misguided enthusiasts and tireless promoters will not admit this,
but the taxpaying farmer and the experienced road engineer know that by properly draining, carefully grading and conscientiously repairing earth roads highways of superior excellence may be obtained during those portions of the year when the transporting of heavy loads is necessary. Look after your roads, and do it now.

Consider the Children.

Look well to the sort of road that goes by a farm before you determine to buy and make your home there.
Consider the young folks. "What is land worth at the other end of this road as compared with that which lies six miles away in the other direction along a smooth road? Every grown farm boy should have a good horse and a good road upon which to drive if he is worthy of so noble an animal as the horse. When the young farmer starts himself he will do well to locate on a good road. There are always enough persons who are not thankful for advice, especially if it be in print, and who want the cheap land at the end of the hilly road."

Improving Old Highways.

Frequently old roads can be greatly improved at a very little added cost.
Thoroughly drain by using tile and render more efficient the open ditches along the sides. Careful attention to the road surface, keeping it smooth and free from hollows, will result in very marked improvement. Sand and gravel added to a clay road will often make it much better, and clay added to a sand road frequently is of great benefit. Filling hollows is one of the most effective methods of improving roads in a rough country. The soil is easily dragged into the hollows, and the grade is thus materially reduced.

Auto Chains Ruinous to Roads.

Anti-skidding chains on automobiles are tearing county roads to pieces, according to a county road supervisor in New Jersey, who threatens to invoke the law to cause the arrest of the users of the chains. According to the supervisor, use of the chains was condoned during the winter, when frozen road were dangerous at turns, but he claims that the practice has been continued into the spring until drastic measures must be taken to save the roads from destruction.

Get Busy on the Roads Now.

A considerable amount of money is annually expended on roads for which adequate return is not received by reason that the work is not done at the proper season. There is a proper time for building new or rebuilding old earth roads just as much as there is a proper time for doing farm work, and that time is in the spring, as the ground settles after the frost has left it.

Improved Roads Improve Schools.

Good roads are greater incentives for progress in the rural community than any other factor. Without good roads it is impossible to erect churches and public schools, to erect churches and to build up the farm by rotation, diversified and improved farming.

BUZZARDS' NESTS.

The Same Ones Are Rarely Used Two Consecutive Seasons.

The flight of the buzzard is as well nigh perfection as is possible to find. In fact, he might be called the most perfect aeroplane in existence. To see him soaring between the bare hills, with a vast green fertile valley below him and with the spring sun lighting up his brown plumage as he slowly sails around with outspread pinions, is a sight never to be forgotten.

The buzzard usually chooses a ledge on a cliff for an eyrie, but in certain parts of Wales there are a few well used nests in trees, and as they are generally used by some bird of prey each season they grow to an enormous size. The buzzard does not, as a rule, use the same nest two consecutive seasons, but returns to it the third, and after that allows another season to elapse before occupying it again.

Two nests are often constructed in one dingle, and an amusing incident happened a few years ago in one of these places. The hen laid one egg in each nest, and as it was quite impossible for her to sit on both at once, we did her a good turn by placing one of these eggs in the nest with its companion. The result of our kindness was that a collector passed by about two hours afterward and put both eggs in his collecting box.

When I thought the matter over I came to the conclusion that that old buzzard was not half such a fool as we took her to be, and if we had left the eggs as we found them the bird might have had a chance of rearing one youngster.—Country Life.

A STRANGE REVERSAL.

Napoleon and Wellington and an Exchange of Residences.

In the days before the Suez canal was opened to the world St. Helena was a frequent port of call for British vessels bound to and from India and the far east. This custom, explains Harper's Weekly, was caused by the need of obtaining supplies for the long voyage, and it was therefore for this reason that the ship which on one occasion bore the Duke of Wellington, then Sir Arthur Wellesley, returning to England from India, touched at the island. The great commander spent one night at Jamestown at the house of a Mr. Balcom.

Ten years later Napoleon Bonaparte landed to begin his six years of exile and was assigned to the same room that his conqueror at Waterloo had occupied. This coincidence came to the knowledge of the duke at Paris during its occupation by the allied forces, and he dispatched the following letter to the British officer then in command at St. Helena:

"I am very much obliged to you for Mr. Simpson's book, which I will read when I have a moment's leisure. I am glad you have taken the command at St. Helena, upon which I congratulate you. You may tell 'Bony' that I find his apartments at the Elysee Bourbon very convenient and that I hope he likes mine at Mr. Balcom's. It is a droll enough sequel to the affairs of Europe that we should change places of residence."

His Quick Wit Saved Him.

An ancestor of the great Tolstoy was an officer in the Russian army and a great mimic. One day he was impersonating the Emperor Paul to a group of his friends when Paul himself entered and for some moments looked on unperceived at the antics of the young man. Tolstoy finally turned and, beholding the emperor, bowed his head and was silent.

"Go on, sir," said Paul. "Continue the performance."

The young man hesitated a moment, and then, folding his arms and imitating every gesture and intonation of his sovereign, he said:

"Tolstoy, you deserve to be degraded, but I remember the thoughtlessness of youth, and you are pardoned."

The czar smiled slightly at this speech.

"Well, as it is," he said.

Willing to Pay.

When the British square at the battle of Abu Klea, in the Nubian desert, was penetrated by the dervishes one of them attempted to spear a gunner who was in the act of ramming home a charge. The Briton brained the Sudanese, but the rammer head split on the man's hard skull. Next day the gunner was sent for. Mistaking the reason and knowing from experience that soldiers are charged for government property which they break, he led off: "Please, sir, I'm very sorry I broke the rammer, but I never thought the fellow's head could be so hard. I'll pay for the rammer so as to hear no more of the case."

Obedient.

"Well, my little man," queried the minister who was making a call, "do you always do as your mamma tells you?"

"You bet I do," answered the precocious five-year-old, "and so does papa."

Papa Was Seen.

She—You will ask papa, will you not, or must I? He—Oh, I have seen him. Fact is, he made the suggestion that it was about time for me to propose.

Concoited.

June Is the Happiest Month of the Year

FOR CENTURIES June has been celebrated as the month when summer is fresh and young.

June is the month of good omen.

From the entire year, June is chosen throughout the world as the favorite mating time—when new "nests" are being prepared by thousands of undaunted young folks "for better or for worse."

To those of you young people with the "light of courage sparkling from your eyes," there is a message from this store which concerns your happiness.

Begin your housekeeping with a high ideal of home, and life will be sweeter all the way. In the words of an old man "it will be for better and for better."

You are puzzled perhaps, over the problem of your early housekeeping.

The comforts, such as you have enjoyed in your own homes, are beyond your purse maybe, for even if you have a good sum saved now, it isn't sound sense to spend it all in gratifying your ideal of a happy home. The solution is here.

In few of the larger cities, is there a more comprehensive display of furniture and furnishings of the right sort than you will find in this spacious store.

You select the outfit you need—good, substantial furniture that will wear, and grace your home all through your happy married life.

We will figure with you on the small amount you can spare each week. Your bank account will be undisturbed, and in a little while your cozy, cheerful home furnishings will be all your own. That's the easy way—our way—which you are cordially invited to enjoy.

WHERE WOMEN ARE SUPREME.

Down in the Great Painted desert of Arizona the Hopi women do not vote, but they build the houses and they own them, too, and the children take the mother's and not the father's name. When a girl wants to get married she does not ask the man nor wait for him to ask her. She asks his mother, and were before the young man who dares to refuse if his mother bids him marry. She builds a house for her husband and takes him in, ordering him to till the garden. Then anything that he raises that is stored in her house is hers. The men do all the religion and pass about half the month in ceremonies.

A BLUE ROSE POSSIBLE.

It is by no means improbable that some day an enterprising rose grower may succeed in presenting the world with a blue rose. Not many years ago the idea of a green rose would have been ridiculed, yet to-day there is such a rose to offset the ancient blue, which we have not—as yet. That will come in time, we may be sure. For more than half a century flower growers have been seeking to create a black rose. In this there has thus far been only partial success, one foreign florist having obtained a rose of so deep a crimson as to appear black in ordinary lights, but revealing the crimson heart when closely examined. This result the florist obtained, first, by selecting the darkest roses as breeders, and, second, by the use of iron filings in the soil.—Suburban Life.

COMING TO BRADY AGAIN

Dr. J. Harvey Moore, the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist, June 1st to 4th.

Dr. Moore has been making regular monthly visits to Brady for the last six months. He cured some of our most prominent people of blindness, sore eyes and other afflictions and his fame has spread to the surrounding counties, until now he has an enormous practice. He has all the work he can possibly do every time he comes to Brady. He is now arranging to spend more time here after his next visit. He expects to arrive Tuesday, May 31, and remain until Sunday, June 5.

He cures all diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat that are curable, such as Granulated Sore Eyes, Weak or Watery Eyes, Cross Eyes, Cataracts, Ingrown Lashes, Etc. He treats all diseases of the Nose, Throat and Ear according to the latest and most scientific methods. He has patients scattered all over McCulloch county and several of the adjoining counties and can give numerous references of cures he has made. He makes a free examination and if you are incurable he will tell you so and will not take your money.

Neal-McCarty.

The many friends of Mr. Alvin Neal and Miss Ada McCarty were surprised to learn that they had been married in Brownwood. It was generally understood that they were to marry in the near future but no one thought of the time being so near at hand.

The bride is the daughter of R. B. McCarty, one of Mercury's most prominent citizens, and has a large circle of friends who wish her much happiness. The groom is one of our most prominent young ranchmen and enjoys the esteem of a large number of friends.

The Record joins the entire community in wishing the happy young couple a long and prosperous life.—Rochelle Record.

Some New Definitions.

Girls in a fashionable seminary not a hundred miles from town, in examination papers, recently turned out a new batch of delightful definitions. It is evident from their answers that several of them, while they may not be trained thinkers, have more or less logical processes of thought. One defined "red tape" as "the inability of any one holding a political position to do anything necessary without special orders," showing she had read her "Little Dorrit" to advantage, to say nothing of "Bleak House." Another girl, asked "Why does a ship float the right way up?" replied, "Because if it did not the people in it would tumble out." One ingenious girl suggested, "foxtrot" as a noun for a young fox, which certainly is more specific than puppets. And a young person, evidently determined not to let herself be humbugged, said "B.Sc." meant "Bad science."—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph

Rooks' Hatred of Crows.

A curious incident in the recent history of the Gray's Inn settlement of rooks is mentioned by a London correspondent.

It appears that a couple of carrion crows settled in the gardens and one day it was discovered that the rookery was deserted. The benches, who are particularly proud of their rooks, gave orders for the carrion crows to be destroyed and the gardener prepared pigeons' eggs with good doses of arsenic. The crows swallowed them and seemed to grow fatter and healthier. At last strychnine was used and the pair was seen picking at the egg. One of them fell as it flew up to the net, the other reached the branch, rzeled and dropped.

Then a curious thing happened. Not a rook had been seen for weeks at Gray's Inn, but the next day they were all back as though advised by telegram.—Manchester Guardian.

Base Ball Games Scheduled.

Next week the fast Fort Worth Athletics will be here to engage Manager Hucks Hall's "Bucaneers" in a series of four games, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This promises to be an interesting series, as the local team has been considerably strengthened this week by the addition of Early Jackson of San Angelo, and Roy Station of Brownwood.

The Comanche team will be here for three games this week—Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Manager Hall is doing his best to give the patrons of the game something good in baseball, and The Standard trusts that both the above series will be well attended.

A HARD OUTLOOK.

A tailor who was defendant in a case at the assizes seemed much cast down when brought up for trial.

"What's the trouble?" whispered his counsel, observing his client's distress as he surveyed the jurymen. "It looks pretty bad for me," said the defendant, "unless some steps are taken to dismiss that jury and get a new lot. There ain't a man among 'em, but what owes me money for clothes."—Tit-Bits.

A LARGE, SHADY PLACE.

They were arranging their plans for the summer:

UPS AND DOWNS.

"Matrimony has its ups and downs," remarked the scanty-haired benedict.

"What's the answer?" queried the confirmed bachelor.

"It keeps the wife busy trying to keep up appearances, and the husband busy trying to keep down expenses," replied the other, with a large, open-face sigh.

RACE MEET A SUCCESS

Spring Race Meet of Brady Fair Association Well Attended and Some Good Races Had.

There was quite a good crowd of visitors in town last week to attend the spring race meet of the Brady Fair Association. The home people also turned out well and the crowd at the fair grounds was good on both days.

Some good horses had been attracted by the nice purses hung up and those attending say that the races were above the ordinary in every respect. Following is the result of both days:

FIRST DAY

Free for all pace—Organ Wood first, Major and Joe Bailey divided second and third money. Purse $100. Best time 1:09 3-4.

1-2 mile Run—Purse $80.00. Del Bar first, Sandow second, Frank Clancy third. Time 51 seconds. Frank Clancy acted bad and delayed start for about twenty minutes and finally left at post.

1-4 mile Run—Purse $40.00. Dutch first, Claude Simpson second, Budweiser third. Buck Shot also started. Time 24 2-5.

3-8 mile run for 3 year olds—Purse $60. Cassius first, Happy Jack second, Prince third. Time 37 2-5.

1-2 mile Run—Purse $70.00. Harry Belton first, Hot Box second, Arch Oldham third. Time 51 1-4. Harry Belton got bad start, but made good run the last 1-8 and finished first.

3-8 mile Run—Purse $60. Bald Edmonson first, Speed Boy second, Frank Clancy third. Time 37 1-4.

SECOND DAY

Free for all pace—Purse $75. Orange Wood first, Joe Bailey and Major divided second and third money.

3-8 mile run for two year olds—Ward Holman first, Traveler second and Trilby third. Ward Holman and Traveler ran a dead heat, but Ward Holman was given first to keep from running tie off. Time 39 2-5.

1-2 mile Run—Purse $70. Del Bar first, Harry Belton second, Speed third. Time 51 seconds.

1-4 mile Run—Purse $40. Cassius first, Bald Edmonson second, Prince was left at the post. Time 24 2-5.

Saddle horse race—Purse $40. Dutch first, Londo second, Budweiser third. Starline also ran. Time 25 seconds.

5-8 mile Novelty race, $12 paid to horse finishing first at each eighth. Claud Simpson first at the first two eighths and Frank Clancy first at the last three eighths. Hot Box ran but did not get any money.

Relay race—Purse $20. Thos. Wood first, Ed Holmig second.

Brady, Texas.

WHY PAY RENT?

On June 1st, we will place a group of lots on the market at a bargain. These lots are well located and we are going to sell them at a price that any one can own one or more. We have a building plan, by which we can build you a home and you pay for it on easy terms. We are limited on our building proposition and if you are interested it will pay you to see us at once.
