BRADY, TEXAS

Died.

The death of Jim Clawson occurred Wednesday night at his home near the school house after an illness of about six weeks with typhoid fever. The funeral was held yesterday and interment was made at Lohn. Mr. Clawson was about 35 years old and was well known over the county. He is survived by a sister and three children, all of whom have the sympathy of the community.

GOV. COLQUITT HERE

MAKES FOUR SPEECHES IN ONE DAY YESTERDAY.

Given Enthusiastic Greeting in Brady by Citizens of McCulloch, Mason and Menard.

Yesterday was gala day in Brady. The streets were thronged from early in the day with visitors from all parts of the county, as well as representative crowds from Mason and Menard counties, all eager to be on hand to welcome the Governor of Texas, O. B. Colquitt.

The Menard delegation came over in a special train of three coaches, and were undoubtedly the most enthusiastic bunch ever gathered here for a similar occasion. Seventy foot streamers bearing such inscriptions as "Menard for Colquitt" and "Menard's Doing It—Doing What? Voting for Colquitt" were hung on the sides of the coaches. The members of the party themselves were adorned with Colquitt buttons and wore badges bearing inscriptions similar to those of the streamers on the coaches. Some of the more enthusiastic had printed the Governor's name on their neckties.

The local entertainment committee had made every preparation for the reception of the Governor. Seats had been arranged in the Dutton grove for the ladies, and after dinner a number of autos, accompanied by the Brady Concert band, drove out from Brady to meet Gov. Colquitt and escort him to Brady. The Governor arrived about 3:45 amid floating banners and the music of the band, and after a brief reception of his supporters in town, proceeded to the Dutton grove where something like 800 or 900 men, women and children were gathered to hear his address. Judge S. C. Rowe of Menard introduced Gov. Colquitt as the man who had earned the honor of being Governor of Texas another term and predicted his election by an overwhelming majority.

The Governor opened his address by referring to his campaign of two years ago in which he advocated political peace and legislative rest, and said that when he was inaugurated with the retiring Governor at his side he asked the co-operation of the legislature, and told them that he stood ready to meet them upon half-way ground in order to compromise their differences, but that the legislature had broken faith with him and had sought to discredit his administration. Touching the prohibition question, he declared that it should not be an issue now, but was being injected into the campaign by politicians to prejudice the voters. He declared that though the submission resolution could have been defeated in the legislature during the absence of men who were committed to submission he had refused to endorse such course and submission followed, notwithstanding the two-thirds majority of pros was absent. Touching the state-wide campaign, the Governor said that Ramsey had clothed himself in his judicial ermine and while Cone Johnson, Poindexter, Thomas and others were waging the battle for prohibition, Ramsey was on the shady banks of a South Texas river fishing.

Speaking of Ramsey he said that he was brought into the race at the instance of Tom

Campbell, and if he should be elected his administration would be a repetition of the Campbell administration.

Displaying a bat such as he asserted was formerly in use in the penitentiary, he said that after he had ordered its use abolished Ramsey made his speech at Gonzales condemning such punishment but that while Ramsey had been connected with the management of the penitentiary the very rules under which it was used were formed. The Governor declared that he had stopped gambling in the pen and that religious services were instituted in lieu of gambling on the Sabbath.

He emphatically denied the truth of Ramsey's statement to the effect that he had placed a third rate saloon-keeper from a fourth rate saloon in charge of the pension bureau, and concluded with the expressed wish that the citizens of Texas might show their endorsement of his administration by giving him an overwhelming majority.

Gov. Colquitt had a strenuous day yesterday. In the morning he spoke at Paint Rock, at noon he addressed about a hundred citizens at Eden and in the afternoon spoke at Brady. From here he went to Richland Springs to fill an appointment for last night. In spite of the strenuousness of his campaign, the Governor was in splendid health and spirits and not hoarse to any perceptible degree.

Eight Inch Mains.

The big eight inch mains ordered by the city for connecting the water mains in town with the filtering plant arrived Tuesday, and are being strung along from the southwest corner of the square to the plant. Work of laying the pipe will probably begin the latter part of this week.

TEXAS

Time Extended.

The active manner in which the citizens of West Texas have been opposing the proposed increase in interstate freight rates is already bearing fruit, and the time for making the change has been extended from June 7th to Sept. 7th. Meanwhile, the Interstate Commerce Commission has taken up the matter and will give both sides a careful hearing before announcing their decision in the matter. Sam H. Cowan, who has been employed to represent the affected district before the Commerce Commission entered a formal protest against the change on last Thursday. The commission will again take up the matter at Kansas City on Thursday of this week.

To Brady falls the honor of having taken the first steps in opposing the proposed increase, and the other cities were not slow to follow our initiative. The citizens are everywhere confident that they will be successful in their opposition to the increase.

Lewis Birk was here from Fredonia yesterday. As a result of his visit we spent just a dollar more than we would have, had he not come.

Jefferson Davis' Birthday.

It is announced that the citizens of West Texas have under contemplation an entertainment and program for Monday, June 3rd, in commemoration of the birthday of Jefferson Davis. These occasions have hitherto been observed each year, and have been of great interest to all.

It is especially desired that the younger generation join with the veterans in observing the occasion. A few more years and these staunch supporters of the Southern Confederacy will have gone to their rest, and during their short stay among us it should be a duty, as well as a pleasure, to assist them in commemorating an event so dear to them all.

Visitors here from Mercury yesterday report everything looking well enough in their community. Early oats are being cut and will run from 40 to 60 bushels to the acre. Late oats are looking good, although they are cut short by dry weather. Like every other community, rain would be welcomed there.

COUNTY

CORRESPONDENCE

WALDRIP WHISPERS.

Waldrip, Texas, May 27.

Editor Brady Standard:

We are still having high winds and some of them are very warm. Rain would surely be appreciated now.

School closed last Friday. They decided not to have the entertainment, so quite a good many were sadly disappointed.

Miss Maud Bratton spent last week with Miss Clyde Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Briscoe and Mrs. H. S. Briscoe went to Brady Tuesday.

Mrs. Robert Howling and son, Paulie, and Mrs. Richard Crooks spent last Friday night with their brother, John Martin, while on their way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Briscoe and Mr. John Martin visited friends at Fife Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Ware and family of Mercury attended the funeral here last Tuesday and visited relatives for several days afterward.

Julia Porter Larkin Gattis died at her home Monday, May 20, 1912. Born March 27, 1867. "There is no fireside however so well defended but has one vacant chair." Silently and softly as a child falls to sleep—at perfect peace with her Master and ready to leave our world of pain the consecrated soul of the beloved one was released from its suffering body and carried on high to adorn the great white throne. For years she has been in bad health, but for the past year paralysis has been gradually creeping upon her. Without a murmur she bore her trials always the same sweet smile greeted her friends. To know her was to love her, with her kind, gentle ways and sunny face. She had never united with any church, but her walk from early girlhood was close to God. She leaves a husband bowed down in deepest grief and four heart-broken children. A married daughter and all her people live in Tennessee. May the healing balm of God be poured upon these aching hearts, and may they, in their darkest hour, feel the hand of her God leading them on to brighter ways. Beside her family, she was surrounded by relatives—all of whom have our sympathy.

THE KID.

Escapes An Awful Fate.

A thousand tongues could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate. "Typhoid pneumonia had left me with a dreadful cough," she writes. "Sometimes I had such awful coughing spells I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctor's treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But I owe my life to this wonderful remedy for I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, it's the most reliable of all throat and lung medicines. Every bottle guaranteed. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Jones Drug Co.

ONION GAP ITEMS.

Rochelle, Texas, May 29.

Editor Brady Standard:

Well, you see I am on the list again today. Chopping cotton will soon be the order of the day in this community, if the worms don't get too smart and thin it out too thin. The last report of the grasshoppers they were coming near, so I guess they will have their day next.

Mrs. Will Harris and children of Camp San Saba visited at the Sallee home Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Wingo of Rochelle visited in the Gap Saturday.

Mr. Clint Bell and Miss Hattie Crider took a flying trip to Rochelle Saturday.

Mrs. W. W. Terry and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Crider made a business trip to Rochelle Saturday.

The singing at Mr. O. P. Sallee's Sunday night was enjoyed very much by all.

Mr. J. E. Dobbs and family of Fife visited relatives and friends in the Gap Sunday and Monday.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands. Here is the proof: V. J. Davis, 709 Fisk st., Brownwood, Texas, says: "I was troubled for two years by my kidneys and lameness in my back at times almost drove me frantic. When I took cold it was sure to settle in my kidneys and this caused me to get up several times at night. The kidney secretions were highly colored and often painful in passage. I tried many kinds of medicine, but nothing seemed to have the same effect on me that Doan's Kidney Pills did. Before I had finished the first box I began to feel like a different man, and when I had taken three boxes, I was practically cured. I still keep a supply on hand and would not be without them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

PLAINVIEW NOTES.

Mercury, Texas, May 25.

Editor Brady Standard:

Well, the weeds and grass at this place are showing their greenness again. Most of the farmers are trying to correct them.

The Baptist meeting was a success. The preachers present were Bro. Moran and Bro. Francis of Brady.

The young people of this place have organized a B. Y. P. U. Our Sunday school is progressing nicely under the management of Bro. T. L. Sansom.

Miss Lottie Sansom spent Saturday night with Misses Rosa and Elmas Evans at Mercury.

Misses Floy Dobbs, Ada Hamilton and Lottie Sansom ate dinner with Misses Elmas and Rosa Evans Sunday.

Mr. J. P. Dobbs called on Mr. McBride Sunday evening.

Misses Alice Bennett and Sallie Green visited Misses Grace and Ruth Dobbs Monday.

Little Ruth Dobbs ate dinner with Alice Hamilton.

Miss Lillie Parks visited home folks Sunday.

Grace Dobbs called on Myrtle Sansom Sunday.

Some of the young people went to Holt Friday night to an entertainment.

Mr. Leonard Sansom came home Thursday from Brownwood, where he has been attending school.

Mrs. McBride's father has been visiting her the past week.

Misses Bertie and Ettie Long of Milburn visited their grandmother, Mrs. Long, Sunday.

Mr. Otis Sansom of Cowboy came down Thursday night and stayed until 9 o'clock with his cousin.

Mrs. Evans spent the past week with Mrs. Billie Sansom, but has returned home.

Miss Rosa Evans came home last week. She has been off to school.

Well, I believe this is all the news of this place.

CALF CREEK WINDIES.

Nine, Texas, May 27.

Editor Brady Standard:

Well here I come with a little news, but this lengthy letter you will have to excuse.

Killing grasshopper seems to be the order of the day now. There were thirty-nine hands in Mr. Bridges' field this morning killing everyone they saw. They haven't damaged anything yet, but are said to be very numerous in the mountains, coming this way; hit the first farm yesterday evening. The farmers seem to think they can kill them out in two or three days. The worms are about a thing of the past. The cotton is getting too tough for them.

G. W. Walker is able to be out again. He was on the streets of Brady last week seeing the sights.

Mr. Jess Moore and family were on the river Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Nannie Cottrell of Brady was visiting in this community yesterday.

Grandma Northcott, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cottrell, near Brady the last few weeks, returned to Calf Creek yesterday.

Mr. Arthur McCoy and family of Eden were visiting Calf Creek people Saturday. No, young or old, they can't stay away.

Mesars. Am and C. Wood were in Calf Creek yesterday.

Master Edgar Gressett is on the sick list this week.

Mr. Elden Deland was taking the census last week. Don't know the exact number enrolled.

D. M. Handsard was visiting J. W. Attaway and family Sunday.

H. L. Blasdell went to church yesterday to hear Bro. Wren preach one of his good old sermons.

Singing Sunday night at H. L. Blasdell's was well attended, and the singing was carried out in the way the Lord would have it, and at the close Bro. Wren prayed a touching prayer for the young people.

Bruce Wren is visiting in Mason this week.

There were lots of Calf Creek people shopping in Brady last week.

J. T. Gressett is working on the public road this week.

Everybody prepare for the big camp meeting. Maybe things won't be so much like Pharaoh's time.

Well, if it don't rain here pretty soon we will have to go to Milburn or some of those other good places to get something to eat.

Come on, you good writers; keep The Standard and McCulloch county booming.

A GENUINE HAIR RESTORER.

Did you ever know of any hair preparation which would really grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair?

There are many preparations highly advertised to do the work, but it is probably your experience that none of them will really meet the claims of their manufacturers.

The Siloron Mfg. Co., of Pueblo, Colo., have purchased the exclusive American rights to manufacture Sagine.

They will send a written agreement with every bottle of Sagine, to the effect that if one bottle of Sagine conscientiously used according to the directions does not give entire satisfaction to the purchaser;

This is the strongest offer ever made by any manufacturer and one they could not possibly make if they did not know positively from experiment that it would do exactly what they claim for it.

The Siloron Mfg. Co., is incorporated under the laws of the state of Colorado and refer you to the mercantile agencies or any Pueblo banks as to their ability to fulfill any agreement they make.

A GOOD PROPOSITION. The Common Sense silo, ten feet in diameter, twenty feet high, holds thirty tons; requires three acres to fill it; feeds eight head of cattle for one hundred and eighty days.

Bilious? Feel heavy after dinner? Tongue coated? Bitter taste? Complexion sallow? Liver needs waking up.

Judge Joe A. Adkins of Brady was here for commencement exercises at Howard Payne today.

Prof. Rembler now claims to have discovered a combination of harmless vegetable composition which is a genuine hair restorer and will grow hair and does not contain any dye of any kind.

LAND VALUATIONS.

McCulloch county folks who have complained about the high valuation placed upon their lands will find little justification for the complaint upon carefully studying the map shown in another column. A comparison of the valuation of land per acre, as shown by the census enumerators' figures compared with the figures submitted by the tax assessors, shows that in McCulloch county the former is about 500 per cent higher than the latter. In none of the adjoining counties is there so great a percentage of difference. Likewise, with the exception of Mason, Menard and Concho counties, the adjoining counties show greater assessed values than does McCulloch.

In this connection it will be well to note that the members of the Commissioners court, in session last week as a board of equalization, stated that they found a considerable number of renditions for this year that had been voluntarily raised by the people, and in many instances the court had made reductions. Some were rendered too low last year and were allowed to remain as rendered, while a considerable number were raised. The majority of the renditions, however, conformed to last year, and were not changed. The total valuations will remain about the same as last year, unless possibly the increased mileage of the railroads should more than offset the decrease in personal property rendered. Last year there were something like 1425 renditions raised, while this year the total number of renditions both raised and lowered was 325.

Brady will soon have filtered water "to burn."

The man who sees the country going to the bow-wows is the one who never turns a hand to keep it from going there.

Just think of those great big juicy watermelons that are smiling in the sunshine. Nothing too good for the McCulloch county folks.

If you don't think McCulloch county the best yet, take a trip to neighboring counties and neighboring cities. You'll be glad to return.

Claude Callan was over from Menard with the Colquitt boosters yesterday for the obvious purpose of borrowing a quarter from spendthrift us. However, we treated him with such aloofness and perfect disdain that he never once plucked up courage to make the request.

TARE ON COTTON.

The Standard is in receipt of a report on cotton tare, compliments of Hon. Jas. L. Slayden. The cotton growers of the South have long complained about the excessive tare charged against American cotton delivered to foreign ports, and at the suggestion of Congressman Brantley of Georgia an exhaustive investigation of this question was made by the State Department through our consular agents. The report shows that the tare is charged against our cotton mainly because of improper baling.

Illustrating the different methods of baling cotton by the various countries are a number of reproduction of photographs taken at Manchester, England, after the cotton has been placed on the quay. In every instance the American baled cotton shows up in bad form as compared with that of other countries.

Concerted action upon the part of the cotton growers is the only means to bring a change in the existing cotton tare system. The report is worthy of careful study, and should be the means of starting a movement to standardize and perfect our methods of baling to the end that the present loss to our farmers resulting from the baling may be removed.

HONEST CONFESSION.

Asked yesterday what was happening in Menard, Claude Callan replied there was "nothing doing." This statement he later qualified by remarking that all the Menard folks were in Brady. The remark stands, however.

Brady is the bulliest burg of them all.

No man wants to be tied up with or do business with a failure. Quit yer kicking and see if prospects don't look brighter than ever.

McCulloch county's harvesters are working overtime to garner our immense oat crop. And it's a long time off till cotton picking time. Get the smile that won't come off.

No, dear reader, the banks did not close yesterday in observance of the coming of Gov. Colquitt to Brady as much as to avoid the embarrassment of importunities for loans from the impecunious (whatever that means) folks from Menard.

Being permitted to come to Brady for a few hours was the glorious privilege of some one hundred of the sufferers from the village known as the jumping off place. There was but one discordant note in their flute and that was that Gov. Colquitt did not meet them at the station welcoming them with a glad hand and a brass band.

Don't you dislike to talk with the man with a long face and a blue complexion? Don't you wish he was in Timbuctoo or Menard or thereabouts? And on the other hand, did you ever see the time you didn't feel bigger and better for having talked with a man who wears a glad smile and gives you a hearty handshake, no matter what woes and ills may betide him? Just because it is dry is a good reason why you should reflect a lot of sunshine. It's easy. Try it once.

R. D. Draper and son were here from Lohn Wednesday and left with us a sample bundle of their oats. The oats stand waist high and has a heavily loaded head, and has attracted the attention of every visitor here.

Mr. Draper has about forty acres of oats, uniformly good, and states that this is the third cutting from the 'one planting. New two-piece suits and odd trousers are here in a big majority. Wm. Connolly & Co.

R. R. WORK TO START.
Contract Has Been Let—Work Will Begin in July.
Some of our people are becoming discouraged about the railroad, while others have never lost faith in the good intentions of the Frisco officials. While we are not at liberty to give the source of our information, it comes from one who is in a position to know, and he is of the positive opinion that actual work will begin within the next few months and the road completed to Mason within the time called for by the contract.

O. D. Mann & Sons
BRADY, TEXAS

Why don't they begin work now, is the wonder of our people. A business year with the railroad companies ends June 30th, and a new year begins July 1st, and it seems to be their rule, when possible, to begin and complete any undertaking of an extension or improvement with a one-year's business period. If they should begin on the Mason extension now even if they were ready, the item would have to be carried over to next year's accounts. It will not cost the Frisco any more to construct the line in six months than it would if the constructing company were 18 months on the job, for they let it out by contract and require the constructors to complete the work within a given time. This gentleman said that the Collins Construction Co., whose departure from Brady a few months ago cast such a gloom over the Mason people, had nothing to do with the work on the Mason extension, (San Antonio extension, he called it), and that they had never done as much as five cents' worth of work for the Frisco system. They went to Illinois to do some interurban grading there. One who is in a position to know says the grading contract from Brady to Mason has been let to a strong company who will submit to small graders. While the official announcement has not been made, everything points to a beginning of activities soon after the first of July, and we may expect any day to hear definite announcement.—Mason Herald.

It's really a crime for any person to go on suffering from an out of order stomach, because such a condition leads to blood poison, causes dull eyes, sallow skin, pimples, blotches and unsightly blemishes. Why not get rid of indigestion, sourness, gas, nervousness, biliousness? It's easy enough. MI-O-NA stomach tablets banish all stomach misery, or money back. Large metal box for only 50 cents at Central Drug store, and druggists everywhere. It is peculiar why some men will buy a mower of some off brand, taking chances on getting extras when they want them, taking chances on whether or not they will work satisfactorily, possibly working well the first year, but going down every year after, buying it because some slick-tongued fellow possibly your friend, talks you into it. Why will you do this when you can buy a McCormick when you are absolutely guaranteed of satisfaction, and your neighbor has one that he has possibly been running for ten years. If you want quality, buy a McCormick. Broad Mercantile Co. A new line of Panama hats just received. Wm. Connolly & Co. Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment, 50 cents at any drug store. A. D. Wright orders The Standard to the address of C. Wilson, Lancaster, England. Mr. Wilson made his home in Brady for about a year and is naturally much interested in the happenings here. The Lancaster papers received by Mr. Wright from Mr. Wilson prove interesting, and are enjoyed by him no less than the Brady news is by Mr. Wilson.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
COUNTY OF McCULLOCH.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the honorable district court of McCulloch county on the 30th day of April, 1912, by P. A. Campbell district clerk of said McCulloch county, Texas, for the sum of $5,274.00 and costs of suit, under a judgment in favor of John McCleary and R. V. Stearns in a certain cause in said court, No. 1322 and styled John McCleary and R. V. Stearns vs. J. L. Flanagan, et al, and placed in my hands for service, I, J. C. Wall as sheriff of McCulloch county, Texas, did on the 8th day of May, 1912, levy on certain real estate situated in McCulloch county, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

The Perfect Laxative For Elderly People

Age has its attractions no less than youth in a more serene and quieter life. But it is this very life of rest without sufficient exercise that brings with it those disorders that arise from inactivity. Chief of these are a chronic, persistent constipation. Most elderly people are troubled in this way, with accompanying symptoms of belching, drowsiness after eating, headaches and general lassitude. Frequently there is difficulty of digesting even light food. Much mental trouble ensues, as it is hard to find a suitable remedy. First of all the advice may be given that elderly people should not use salts, cathartic pills or powders, waters or any of the more violent purgatives. What they need, women as well as men, is a mild laxative tonic, one that is pleasant to take and, yet acts, without gripping. The remedy that fills all these requirements, and has in addition, tonic

Next Monday the special good roads train will be in Brady from 2:00 p. m. until 5:00 p. m. in the yard near the union passenger depot. The Frisco, in conjunction with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has equipped a special train which is now touring their entire system in the interest of good roads. The train will be equipped with models illustrating all types of modern highway construction and models of road machinery. Also, there will be a lecture car where there will be given free illustrated lectures on road building. There will be experts from the U. S. Office of Good Roads, the American Association of Highway Improvement and men in the employ of the Frisco system. This is all very important to us, especially at this time, as we are building roads, and all the information we can get will be good for us. Remember that you should be there. Do not forget the time—2:00 to 5:00 p. m. Remember, also, that this exhibition of modern machinery, tools, soils, lectures are free and will be one of the greatest displays of its kind that you have seen. So you see you cannot afford to miss seeing it.

The special committee named at San Angelo two weeks ago who have in hand the settling of the common point territory through their attorney, Hon. Sam H. Cowan, report everything in satisfactory condition. However, we have been informed that the Dallas Chamber of Commerce is assisting the railroads in this fight to raise the freight rates in this section of the state. If this be true, our business men should remember in a very substantial way this very serious injury. It is very surprising to us that a business center like Dallas would take any sort of stock in a battle between the railroads and the common people. We can readily see the benefits that might be gained by the pushing of the common point one hundred miles further east, but for the sake of thousands who are already sufferers, it would be no more than common justice to take sides with the people. Again, if the report be true, it may be that Dallas thinks that she has grown into such magnitude as to believe that the trade from this territory would be of minor importance to her interests. We so firmly believe that this fight will soon be over and the same conditions hold as we have them now.

"Look at it," said Daylight, extending his arm in a sweeping gesture. "A hundred thousand people there, and no reason there shouldn't be half a million. There's the chance to make five people grow where one grows now. Here's the scheme in a nutshell. Why don't more people live in Oakland? No good service with San Francisco, and, besides, Oakland is asleep. It's a whole lot better place to live in than San Francisco. Now, suppose I buy in all the street railways of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Leandro, and the rest—bring them under one head with a competent management? Suppose I cut the time to San Francisco one-half by building a big pier out there almost to Goat Island and establishing a ferry system with modern up-to-date boats? Why, folks will want to live over on this side. Very good. They'll need land on which to build. So, first I buy up the land. But the land's cheap now. Why? Because it's in the country, no electric roads, no quick communication, nobody guessing that the electric roads are coming. I'll build the roads. That will make the land jump up. Then I'll sell the land as fast as the folks will want to buy because of the improved ferry system and transportation facilities.

"You see, I give the value to the land by building the roads. Then I sell the land and get that value back, and after that, there's the roads, all carrying folks back and forth and earning big money. Can't lose. And there's all sorts of millions in it. I'm going to get my hands on some of that water front and the tide-lands. Take between where I'm going to build my pier and the old pier. It's shallow water. I can fill and dredge and put in a system of docks that will handle hundreds of ships. San Francisco's water front is congested. No more room for ships. With hundreds of ships loading and unloading on this side right into the freight cars of three big railroads, factories will start up over here instead of crossing to San Francisco. That means factory sites. That means the buying in the factory sites before anybody guesses the cat is going to jump. Much less, which way. Factories mean tens of thousands of workmen and their families. That means more houses and more land, and that means me, for I'll be there to sell them the land. Then there's the water. I'll come pretty close to owning the watershed. Why not the waterworks too? There's two water companies in Oakland now, fighting like cats and dogs and both about broke. What a metropolis needs is a good water system. They can't give it. They're stuck-in-the-mud. I'll juggle them up and deliver the right article to the city. There's money there, too—money everywhere. Everything works in with everything else. Each improvement makes the value of everything else jump up. It's people that are behind the value. The bigger the crowd that herds in one place, the more valuable is the real estate. And this is the very place for a crowd to herd. Look at it. Just look at it! You could never find a finer site for a great city. All it needs is the herd, and I'll stampede a couple of hundred thousand people in here inside two years. And what's more, it won't be one of these wildcat land booms. It will be legitimate. Twenty years from now there'll be a million people on this side the bay. Another thing is hotels. There isn't a decent one in the town. I'll build a couple of up-to-date ones that'll make them sit up and take notice. I won't care if they don't pay for years. Their effect will more than give me my money back out of the other holdings. And, oh, yes, I'm going to plant eucalyptus, millions of them, on these hills."

"But how are you going to do it?" Dede asked. "You haven't enough money for all that you've planned."

"I've thirty million, and if I need more I can borrow on the land and other things. Interest on mortgages won't anywhere near eat up the increase in land values, and I'll be selling land right along."

In the weeks that followed, Daylight was a busy man. It meant quick work on a colossal scale, for Oakland and the adjacent country was not slow to feel the tremendous buying. But Daylight had the ready cash and it had always been his policy to strike quickly. Before the others could get the warning of the boom, he quietly accomplished many things. At the same time that his agents were purchasing corner lots and entire blocks in the heart of the business section and the waste lands for factory sites, Daylight was rushing franchises through the city council, capturing the two exhausted water companies and the eight or nine independent street railways, and getting his grip on the Oakland Creek and the bay tide-lands for his dock system. The tide-lands had been in litigation for years, and he took the bull by the horns—buying out the private owners and at the same time leasing from the city fathers. By the time that Oakland was aroused by the unprecedented activity in every direction and was questioning excitedly the meaning of it, Daylight secretly bought the chief Republican newspaper and the chief Democratic organ, and moved boldly into his new offices. Of necessity, they were on a large scale, occupying four floors of the only modern office building in the town—the only building that wouldn't be torn down later on, as Daylight put it. There was department after department, a score of them, and hundreds of clerks and stenographers. As he told Dede:—

"I've got more companies than you can shake a stick at. There's the Alameda & Contra Costa Land Syndicate, the Consolidated Street Railways, the Yerba Buena Ferry Company, the United Water Company, the Piedmont Realty Company, the Fairview and Portola Hotel Company, and half a dozen more that I've got to refer to a notebook to remember. There's the Piedmont Laundry Farm and Redwood Consolidated Quarries. Starting in with our quarry, I just kept a-going till I got them all. And there's the ship-building company I ain't got a name for yet. Seeing as I had to have ferry-boats, I decided to build them myself. They'll be done by the time the pier is ready for them."

For months Daylight was buried in work. The outlay was terrific, and there was nothing coming in. Beyond a general rise in land values, Oakland had not acknowledged his intrusion on the financial scene. The city was waiting for him to show what he was going to do, and he lost no time about it. The best skilled brains on the market were hired by him for the different branches of the work. Initial mistakes he had no patience with, and he was determined to start right, as when he engaged Wilkinson, brought him out from Chicago to take charge of the street railway organization. Night and day the road gangs toiled on the streets. And night and day pile-drivers hammered the big piles down into the mud of San Francisco Bay. The pier was to be three miles long, and the Berkeley hills were denuded of whole groves of mature eucalyptus for the piling.

At the same time that his electric roads were building out through the hills, the hay-fields were being surveyed and broken up into city squares, with here and there, according to best modern methods, winding boulevards and strips of park. Broad streets, well graded, were made, with sewers and water-pipes ready laid, and macadamized from his own quarries. Cement sidewalks were also laid, so that all the purchase had to do was to select his lot and architect and start building. The quick service of Daylight's new electric roads into Oakland made this big district immediately accessible, and long before the ferry system was in operation hundreds of residences were going up. The profit on this land was enormous. In a day, his on-slaught of wealth had turned open farming country into one of the best residential districts of the city.

But this money that flowed in upon him was immediately poured back into his other investments. The need for electric cars was so great that he installed his own shops for building them. But no matter what pressure was on Daylight, his Sundays he reserved for his riding in the hills. It was not the rainy winter weather, however, that brought these rides with Dede to an end. One Saturday afternoon in the office she told him not to expect to meet her next day, and, when he pressed for an explanation—

"I've sold Mab."

Daylight was speechless for the moment. Her act meant one of so many serious things that he couldn't classify it. It smacked almost of treachery. She might have met with financial disaster. It might be her way of letting him know she had seen enough of him. Or—

"What's the matter?" he managed to ask.

"I couldn't afford to keep her with hay forty-five dollars a ton," Dede answered. "My brother's expenses have been higher, as well, and I was driven to the conclusion that since I could not afford both, I'd better let the mare go and keep the brother."

"Who bought her?" he asked.

Dede's eyes flashed in the way long since familiar to him when she was angry.

"Don't you dare buy her back for me," she cried. "And don't deny that that was what you had in mind."

"I wish you would reconsider, Miss Mason," he said softly. "Not alone for the mare's sake, but for my sake. Money don't cut any ice in this. For me to buy that mare wouldn't mean as much as it does to most men to send a bouquet of flowers or a box of candy to a young lady. There's nobody I feel chummy with except you, and you know how little we've chummed—once a week. If it didn't rain, on Sunday, I've grown kind of to depend on you. If you'd just let me buy her back—" localities having long growing seasons it may be desirable to plant so that the crop will be ready for harvesting at the season when dry weather is most likely to prevail. Where the acreage is extensive it is best to plant various fields at intervals of a week or ten days, so that all the fields will not blossom at the same time and all can be harvested when in the proper condition.

The late planting of which this crop permits sometimes makes it desirable for replacing wheat, corn, oats or other crops that for some reason or other have failed to start sufficiently well.

Method of Planting.

There are two methods of planting which may be followed, namely: Surface planting and listing. Either of these methods if carefully followed, will give good results. In sections where listing is practiced the soil should receive some previous preparation, and the listed rows need not be more than three or four inches deep. This is plenty deep enough to secure all the advantages of this system, and there will be little danger of covering the young plants at the time of the first cultivation. The broom corn seed can be planted with an ordinary corn planter which is provided with Kafir corn plates, or it may be put in with an ordinary grain drill by blocking the proper number of feed holes so that the rows may be given correct spacing. The seed of dwarf varieties is usually planted in rows of 36 inches apart, and enough seed is used to secure a stand of one plant every three to five inches in the row. The standard variety is planted in the same manner except the rows should be spaced forty-two inches apart. On heavy clay soil the seed should be planted one-half inch deep, but on very sandy or light soils an inch will not be too deep. No pains should be spared to get an even stand of plants, for otherwise the crop will not be of uniform quality.

We want your business and we guarantee to give you the very best in quality for the price. We look after your interests, and back what we sell by an unqualified guarantee; we call that looking after your interests. Broad Mercantile Co.

BROOM CORN CULTURE

The following article on broom corn culture has been compiled from bulletins issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Departments of Agriculture, condensed in as short form as possible and respectfully submitted to the growers to encourage and assist them in the production of broom corn by the American Warehouse Co., Wichita, Kan.

Broom corn belongs to the same species of plant as do common sorghums used for making syrup, Kafir and Jerusalem corn and cane, grown for forage and grain. It differs from all other plants of the same species in having panicles or seed heads with much longer, straighter and stronger branches or straws. This difference, wherein lies the value of the plant, has been produced by the selection of seed from plants possessing these characters to a great degree. It is for the seed heads, or "brush" as they are called, which are used in the manufacture of brooms, that the plant is cultivated.

Groups.

Broom corn is divided into two groups, known as standard and dwarf. The standard type grows to 10 to 15 feet high, while the dwarf variety grows from 4 to 6 feet high. There are many varietal names used by sellers of broom corn seed, but many of these are simply new names applied to old strains of broom corn and really do not represent new varieties that have been sufficiently improved to deserve special designation. Such names are of no assistance and manufacturers in buying brush disregard varietal names and specify whether standard or dwarf is wanted and the desired length, color and quality of the brush required for making the desired grade of broom.

Climate and Soil.

The plant is sub-tropical and does best in a warm, sunny climate where there is sufficient rain during the early part of the growing season to produce a strong, rapid growth. However, in order that the crop may be harvested at the proper time and in good condition and the brush dried rapidly so that it will retain its fresh, green color, it is necessary that warm, dry weather prevail at harvest time.

From two to three months of good growing weather is all that is needed to produce a crop. Experience of broom corn growers in Oklahoma and Kansas, both on sod and old ground, has proven that this crop will stand a greater degree of drought and dry weather than any other they ever tried. Many localities in Oklahoma have produced a crop of broom corn in dry years when practically all other crops were burned up. Any soil that will produce corn or cotton is sufficiently fertile for broom corn.

For the best grades of fine, tough, dwarf broom corn, light, sandy soils have been found preferable, while the heavier black soils are more suitable to standard broom corn.

It has been a common practice with many in Oklahoma to grow broom corn with a very limited amount of culture. Frequently the seed is planted on freshly turned sod, and the crop allowed to mature without receiving even a single cultivation. Although broom corn will make a fair record, even in the face of unfavorable conditions, and it is therefore able to bring returns where many crops fail, at the same time the yield could be raised very much per acre by better cultivation.

Liberal tillage brings the soil into good physical form; it facilitates the storage and conservation of moisture; it admits air to the soil and thus gives encouragement to the life processes which are so essential to the liberation of plant food. Proper plowing, harrowing and pulverizing the surface of the ground in preparation for seeding will give better results in raising a crop of broom corn, the same as it would for any other kind of crop.

Time of Planting.

Broom corn, like other plants in the same group, makes its most rapid growth in warm weather. Seeding should not be started until the soil has become quite warm, as the plant makes rather slow progress the first two or three weeks after which time it grows rapidly. In

THIS LADY'S GOOD APPETITE

Mrs. Hansen, in a Letter From Mobile, Tells How She Gained It.

Mobile, Ala.—"I suffered for seven years, with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. Sigurd Hansen in a letter from this city. "I felt weak and always had a headache and was always going to the doctor. At last I was operated on, and felt better, but soon I had the same trouble. My husband asked me to try Cardui. I felt better after the first bottle, and now, I have a good appetite and sleep well. I feel fine, and the doctor tells me I am looking better than he ever saw me." If you are sick and miserable, and suffer from any of the pains due to womanly trouble—try Cardui. Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients that have been found to act curatively on the womanly constitution. For more than fifty years, it has been used by women of all ages, with great success. Try it. Your druggist sells it. N. Mrs. Johanson Entertains.
(Overlooked Last Week.)

Mrs. Johanson entertained the Presbyterian Aid society, together with a number of friends, on Thursday afternoon from 2:00 until 6:00 at her home in East Sweden, six miles from the city.

The numerous guests were handled splendidly by the hostess, who is a skilled entertainer. Music, games and conversation were the features of the pastime.

Dainty refreshments of a salad course with coffee, followed by ice cream and cake were served. Those who accepted this little lady's hospitality were Mesdames. Anderson, McCall, Long, Wade, Sheridan, Anderson, Draper, Snider, Yeager, Ewing, Bennett, Dyer, Graham, Tulk, Broad, Anderson, Steffins, Hennersdorf, Elliot, Keller, Ballou, Moffatt, Henderson, Gavit, Striegler, Grant, Millerkin, Deaton, Stone, Middlemiss, Misses Long, Anderson, Greenwood, Johanson, Anderson and Mabel Doty Stone, Marjory McCall, Kathryn Ballou, Elizabeth Ballou, Jack Deaton and Cecil Striegler.

Camping Party.

A jolly party of young people enjoyed a camping trip on the San Saba river, some fifteen miles from our city, Saturday and Sunday. An abundance of good things to eat, with plenty of fish, added to the delightful pleasures of hunting, fishing, kodaking and swimming went to make it one of the most enjoyable trips of the season. Those included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bradley and Mrs. C. T. Middlebrook of Thomaston, and Misses Clara Webster, Carrie Berry, Stella Sayle, Estella Bradley, Mozelle Glenn, Annie Laura Cook of Berclair and Mesrs. Harry Schwenker, Jesse Glenn, Ben Moffatt, Lee Goodson, Paul Calvert, Firman Jackson, Steve Ballou, John Moffatt, Oscar Bradley and Boyd Goodson.

Christian Endeavor Party.

On Tuesday evening the members of the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor were most pleasantly entertained with a porch party at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Henderson.

The large porch was comfortably arranged in chairs and lighted with numbers of electric lights. Gay conversation, games and contests were held until a late hour, when delicious refreshments of ice cream and nut cake were served to Misses Virgie Yeager, Esther Anderson, Mary Johanson, Annie Lee Keyser, Elva Yeager, Pearl Newman, Grace Turman, Myrtle Ewing, Hazel Page, Sarah Johanson, Clara Webster, Alma Christianus, Ferole Ford, Mamie Spiller and Messrs. Geo. Vierling, Clarence Snider, Ike Rainbolt, Curt Coleman, Erv Boyd, Judge McShan, Firman Jackson, Ed Darley, Oscar Lang, Dawson and Walker.

Dance.

The merry young set gave a dance on Saturday evening at the W. O. W. hall in honor of a party of visitors from Eden.

Some twenty couples were present, the music being furnished by the stringed orchestra.

W. O. W. Social.

Valley Camp No. 452, W. O. W. gave one of the most successful entertainments ever given in our city on last Thursday evening at the W. O. W. club rooms.

A splendid musical program was rendered at the first of the evening, after which came an address by Gov. Joe A. Adkins and a number of selections by the orchestra.

Following this, a delightful dance was held in an adjoining apartment, the music being furnished by the Brady Concert band. Delicious fruit punch was served in the dance hall, while ice cream, cake, dewberries and whipped cream were enjoyed in the banquet hall.

The entire suite of rooms was appropriately decorated in festoons of red, white and blue with masses of vines and ferns.

Some three hundred guests attended this excellently planned affair, and it is the desire of all who were present that they will soon have the opportunity of attending just such another feature.

Complimentary Affair.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luhn, Mrs. James Mann entertained on Tuesday with a six o'clock dinner. The centerpiece for the dining table was a pretty vase of sweet peas and nasturtiums.

Six delicious courses were served to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luhn, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilberson, Mrs. A. H. Sloan of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. James Mann, Miss Buna Carlisle, and Messrs. Herbert Adkins, Duke Mann and Ryan Adkins.

Mrs. Alice Turner was hostess last Wednesday afternoon to a "42" party for the members of the Ladies' Social club at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Gansel. The out-of-town guests present were Miss Buna Carlisle of Dallas, Miss Cathrine Chilton of Comanche and Mrs. A. H. Sloan of Dallas. Dainty refreshments of cream and cake were served. Mrs. John Wall will entertain on the next club day, in the evening.

A merry crowd of young folks enjoyed a picnic supper at the Henderson Table last Monday evening. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kirk, Misses Rose Stallings, Hayde Wiloughby, Harriet Cook, Chase Crothers, Helen Walker; Messrs. Forest Adams, Herbert Wood, Burl Wiley, Max Schaff, Howard Ogden.

Win and Lose.

The Brady basket ball team played an exciting game of basket ball with the Eden team last Friday afternoon, losing by a score of 25 to 12. The local girls put up a game fight, but were outclassed by their opponents.

Saturday afternoon the Brady boys and Eden ball team crossed bats on the local diamonds, the Brady boys winning handily by a score of 6 to 1. The Brady boys showed up in splendid form, and contrary to the game the day previous, they outclassed the Eden team at every point.

More Women Are Bald Than Men, Says Authority.

This is a startling statement, but it's true according to an article published in a standard magazine this year.

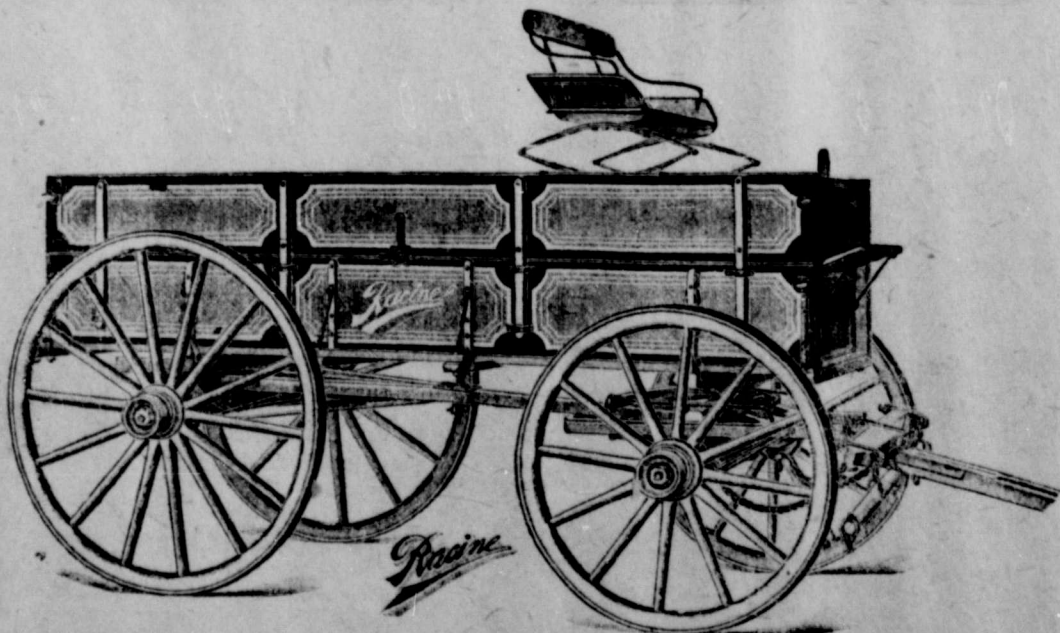

One thing is certain PARISIAN SAGE will surely prevent baldness by stopping the hair from falling, but it won't grow hair after the head is bald.

Ladies, look after your hair, destroy the dandruff germs with PARISIAN SAGE and dandruff will disappear. It stops scalp itch over night and is guaranteed to be the most refreshing refined and agreeable hair dressing that can be obtained. Sold by Central Drug store and druggists all over America for 50c.

CALLAN CONCOCTIONS FOR MAGNIFICENT MENARD

From the Messenger.

We dislike very much to give McCulloch county credit for anything, but we are proud to note that in spite of Schwenker's personal and political friendship for Cyclone Davis, the county went overwhelmingly for Harmon, endorsed Joe Bailey, Jake Wolters and Oscar Colquitt. We understand, however, that there was a dissenting voice in the convention.

The Del Rio Herald has an article headed "Moving Pictures Made of Cattle." That's all those starved Del Rio cattle are good for. The Menard cattle are used for making beef.

If the contemptible one-horse railroad known as the Frisco fails and refuses to send us a pass before the Causeway celebration at Galveston we shall attend the affair by way of the Santa Fe from Brady. It will be punishment to stay all night in Brady, but we will do it just to break the Frisco. To 'ell with a road that can't issue passes when abody wants one.

Beefsteaks are high enough, but thank goodness willow plumes are a great deal cheaper, reducing to a considerable extent the cost of living.

Born, Wednesday, May 8th, to Richard Marshall and wife, a nigger baby.

"This is no time for the Democratic party to play the fool," says the New York Herald. Having a patent on it, the party has a perfect right to play the fool in season and out of season, and our grand old party never fails to insist on its rights.

"Brady's Needs" is a touching editorial in the Brady Standard. We always try to contribute our widow's mite to the needy, but in this case it would only serve to prolong suffering Brady is doomed to starve and the sooner it is out of its misery, the better.

We now almost favor Bryan the nominee. It begins to look as if our candidate is to be beaten to death anyhow, and it won't hurt Bryan—he's used to it.

Don't cuss the Messenger too much. What if you had to read the Congressional record or the Del Rio Herald?

Has all the good points of other binders in addition to the following:

1. Light draft, making it possible to use one horse less and at the same time the machine lasts longer.
2. Ties bundles laying down, making it possible to tie any length grain.
3. Cuts with ease any height grain, which sometimes means you can save enough grain to nearly pay for the machine.

Parts Prices are Taxes— Get Them Low

Studebaker-Flanders "20" Touring Car
Price, Standard Equipped, $300

Now—before you buy a car—find out what repair parts will cost you.

Parts prices are your taxes. They come to every owner and they will come to you. But you can get them low, if you will.

Most manufacturers take for granted you won't think of this before you buy a car. Then they've got you. But Studebaker says, "Find out now." Because the Studebaker maxim is—a square deal for every owner.

We guarantee E-M-F "30" and Flanders "20" cars four times as long as most manufacturers, and then sell you parts at prices lower proportionately than any other manufacturer in the world.

65,000 Owners Know It's True. Send for Our New Catalogue.
