Work Progressing Quietly, But Activities and Enthusiasm

Greater Than Ever.

While the opinion prevails among many citizens that interest in the Lohn oil fields has about died out, nothing could be farther from the truth, as can readily be ascertained by a conversation with anyone who has kept posted on the happenings or who has made a tour of Today there are somewhere in the neighborhood of a dozen deep wells al ready started or with the machinery on the road.

The following is an outline of what is at present being done in the field, and the facts presented will convince the most skeptical that expert oil men are backing their judgment of and faith in the field with their money, their time and their ef-inspection of the field.

Mann Bros. Ice MELTS SLOWLY

T IS CUT as nearly as possible, in square, even blocks of "Hot Weather Comfort" that present the smallest surface to the atmosphere and melts more slowly than ice that is cut in an irregular lump. Then, too, the square block fits snugly in the ice box and a larger piece can be used.

That is one reason why "Mann Bros. Ice" is more economical than other kinds, and it is better too. Let us send one of our men to show you how good "Mann Bros. Ice" is. JUST PHONE 125.

Advice to the Small Grain Farmers of the State.

It would be practically impossible to overestimate the value to the farmers, individually, and to all the peopl e, collectively, if every farmer would go at once into his wheat, oats and lect in the bundle the choicest yield of the fields, where the grain is the heaviest and freest from weeds, and shock carefully to itself, bundles enough to thresh twice as much seed as will be needed for the coming specially selected bundlles are Many persons, themselves city-bred. and city reared, have fled to the soil and succeeded in winning great happiness. In such cases they have succeeded only by going through a process of savage disillusionment. But with Dede and Daylight it was different. They had both been born on the soil, and they knew its naked simplicities and rawer ways. They were like two persons, after far wandering, who had merely come home again. There was less of the unexpected in their dealings with nature, while theirs was all the delight of reminiscence. What might appear sordid and squalid to the fastidiously reared, was to them eminently wholesome and natural. The commerce of nature was to them no unknown and untried trade. They made fewer mistakes. They already knew, and it was a joy to remember what they had forgotten. And another thing they learned was that it was easier for one who has gorged at the flesh-pots to content himself with the meagreness of a crust, than for one who has known only the crust. Not that their life was meagre. it was that they found keener delights and deeper satisfactions in little things. Daylight, who had played the game in its biggest and most fantastic aspects, found that here, on the slopes of Sonoma Mountain, it was still the same old game. Man had still work to perform, For Justice of the Peace, Pre. 2: forces to combat, obstacles to overcome.
