J. A. McCall Dead.

The death of J. A. McCall, an old and highly respected Brady citizen, occurred Tuesday afternoon at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Cottle, at Rochelle. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon in Brady, Rev. Hardison conducting services, and interment was made in Brady cemetery.

Mr. McCall was born in Arkansas March 25, 1855, and had made his home in Brady for the past eighteen or twenty years. He was well known to all the older citizens of Brady, and was held in universal esteem by all. Death resulted from typhoid. Deceased is survived by a wife and four children, who have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

AT MELVIN SATURDAY.

Woodmen Have a Big and Successful Celebration.

The big celebration by the Woodmen at Melvin Saturday is acknowledged the biggest and best affair of the kind that has been held in years. There was not one single thing lacking to make the day an entire success.

As one approached the picnic grounds in a beautiful grove on the banks of the creek, the first thing that greeted one's eyes was an endless array of buggies, wagons, surreys and vehicles of every description, all of which foretold the gathering of an immense crowd. And the crowd was there! They came from Eden and Millersview and from Brady, as well as all other parts of McCulloch and Concho counties, and they came for the purpose of having a good time and of enjoying the hospitality of the Melvin Woodmen and citizens.

How Melvin ever cared for the big crowd and fed them is a mystery, but they did it with ease. The crowd was estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000 people, yet when dinner time came, there was plenty of barbecue and bread, pickles, cakes and pies for everyone, and when all had been fed, there was some left over. That's the way with the Melvin folks.

Of the speaking, there was plenty, and all were good speeches, too. Johnson McDonald had the program in charge and saw that everyone who desired had the opportunity of addressing the gathering. Judge Harvey Walker made the opening address on behalf of the Woodmen, and he was followed by the various candidates of both McCulloch and Concho counties in their own behalf, as well as a number of others who spoke in behalf of their favorite candidates. The Eden band furnished music all during the day, and added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Among the amusements offered was a merry-go-round, a ball game, sack races and cigar races, all of which proved interesting and attracted their share of attention. In the ball game, Melvin and Eden crossed bats, but the game was stopped after only a few innings were played, by reason of the Eden boys having to catch the train, leaving the score slightly in Melvin's favor.

The picnic came to an end, as all good things must, late in the evening, everyone voting it a success beyond their greatest anticipation.

If you will notice most all the old wagons, you will find the Bain, many of them sold twenty years ago, still running, and in a good many instances not even been to the shop. Broad Mercantile Co.

STOCK COMPANY.

Lyric Has Good Attraction for Next Week.

The Lyric has had a splendid bill this week, presenting Dan Russell and company—a clever pair of comedians, who played to good houses every night. For next week they have secured Mr. Truman DeRoame and associate players, who will present the best dramatic and comedy successes of the season at this popular playhouse all next week. Mr. DeRoame has been playing this week at Brownwood, and press reports from that city speak of him and his company in terms of highest praise. Mr. DeRoame presents productions of the highest order, and comes especially recommended to the better class of theatre patrons. He not only possesses superior ability as an actor, and the class of shows presented by him, but his company is composed of ladies and gentlemen of the highest standing; a company of refined, intelligent and cultured artists with whom it is a pleasure to meet. Brady citizens will be glad to welcome Mr. DeRoame and his company to our city.

Leaves for San Gabriel.

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Holley are this week packing their household goods for removal to San Gabriel, for which place they will leave Saturday to make their future home. The news is in the nature of a surprise to the many friends of the doctor and his estimable wife who had come to be regarded as fixtures in Brady. Dr. and Mrs. Holley have been residents here since February of 1907, and have both been popular and highly esteemed by old and young alike. The doctor has built up a nice practice, and his home in South Brady is one of the prettiest and most comfortable in the city, but the doctor has heard the call and can't resist. The Standard, together with their many friends, trusts that every happiness and good fortune may be theirs in their new home.

Some Good Exhibits.

Secretary D. R. Hardison of the Commercial club is calling attention to some samples of McCulloch county products in his office this week. Exhibit No. 1 is that of a sunflower measuring 33 inches in circumference, and as fine a specimen as has ever been grown. The sunflower was raised by Lee Jones from special seed distributed through the Commercial club. Exhibit No. 2 is of broom corn—said to be as fine as has ever been grown in the state, and naturally of interest as a coming McCulloch county crop. J. D. Parker of Voca supplied this specimen, and has quite an acreage of the product. Still another fine example of McCulloch county productiveness is a bundle of oats, and another of rye, grown by G. W. Young of the Rochelle neighborhood, and none could be finer. The exhibits just give an idea of what can be accomplished in McCulloch.

Some Peaches.

Jim Brown, who lives on the Kirkin farm southwest of Voca, reports a fine crop of peaches and expects to gather between 600 and 800 bushels. That's the way we raise good things in McCulloch.

Mart L. Williams is "some punkin'" when it comes to raising watermelons. Just yesterday he came to Brady with the first load of home grown watermelons, and this makes the third consecutive year that Mr. Williams has done this very thing. Mr. Williams is one of the prominent farmers living two and one-half miles south of Voca in the sand, and in his farming he mixes grit and brains with the sand. The result? Well, the result is that Mr. Williams has raised his own bread, making good corn, despite the fact that it didn't rain one drop down his way for 71 days; his cotton, so far, is the best in McCulloch county and his load of 200 canteloupes and 36 watermelons speak for themselves. This all was accomplished without irrigation, and when he is asked how he accomplished it, he answers that he uses the Williams system. Mr. Williams has been farming for over thirty years and during that time has experimented with various methods until he has evolved a system all his own. One thing mentioned by Mr. Williams was that he fertilized his cotton, and he is undoubtedly the first man in McCulloch county to ever attempt this, and to this plan he attributes his fine cotton.

TUCKER BARBECUE.

Citizens Entertain in Great Way Last Thursday.

The Tucker folks know what a good barbecue and picnic is like, for they have pulled off a number of good ones, but none ever so good as that last Thursday. While the crowd was not quite so large as might have been expected, there was nothing lacking about the picnic insofar as the Tucker citizens were concerned.

H. L. Blasdell presided as master of ceremonies, and he stated that they had gathered on that day to forget all their worries and cares and have a genuine good time, and that on the morrow they could go home and pick them all up again. Everyone took Mr. Blasdell's advice regarding having a good time and no one missed his share.

J. K. Rector made the address of welcome, and both before and after dinner the various candidates did their full share toward making the program a success. The speaking closed with an educational talk along socialistic lines by Maxwell Gordon of San Antonio.

The dinner, though, was the main feature after all, and the finest barbecue that ever was made was served, and along with it were bread, pickles, coffee and everything that goes to make up a successful barbecue dinner, not to mention the pies and cakes that the good wives of Tucker know so well to make.

Tucker folks can well feel proud of their barbecue and picnic for it was a success if there ever was one.

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

PLACID PICKUPS.
Placid, Texas, June 25.
Editor Brady Standard:

I will just step in long enough to tell a few of the happenings around Placid the past week.

Farmers are very busy in their crops. Everything is looking fine since the rain. There is lots of cotton in bloom.

The picnic down on the Jonas place was a howling success. The main feature of the day was the ball game between the Mercury and Placid nines. The Mercury boys came out victorious and that is something they should be proud of, for the Placid boys are hard to beat when it comes to playing ball.

A merry fishing party from the Rochelle community passed through here Saturday afternoon, returning home from a week's outing on the Colorado river. The party was composed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Kid Jeffers, Misses Ethell Waddill, Cora Clayton and Claudie Burk; Messrs. Jesse Burk, Byrd and another gentleman whose name I failed to learn.

E. H. and Willie Beakley spent Sunday at Mercury with their parents who left Sunday night for Mineral Wells.

Mrs. Wyatt went over to Brownwood Monday shopping.

Mr. W. V. Day spent Sunday at Prairieview.

Mrs. Jim Haywood has been on the sick list several days.

Many thanks to Aunt Susan and Blue Eyes for asking me to come again, but Aunt Susan, I really believe you are "pokin'" fun at my memory gem.

Several of the Rochelle people attended the picnic Saturday. Mesdames Heath and Rice said they never enjoyed a picnic better in their lives.

Mrs. Everett West returned home Monday from a week's visit with her parents in Taylor county, accompanied by her sister, Miss Nichol.

Bro. Swinney will begin a protracted meeting here Saturday night before the first Sunday in July. Arrangements are being made to make those comfortable who attend. So everybody come out and enjoy the services. I am sure you will not be disappointed for Bro. Swinney is an able preacher and one who delights in preaching the gospel, as taught by the apostles.

Mrs. Jim Penn and Mrs. Ira Pointer and children of Mercury visited Mrs. E. H. Beakley Tuesday.

A large crowd attended services at the Holiness church Sunday and Sunday night.

Best wishes to all.

GOLDIE.

"I feel sure it is a God-send to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption today if I had not used this great remedy." CALF CREEK WINDIES.
Nine, Texas, June 25.
Editor Brady Standard:

Well sir, I thought I heard somebody say it don't rain in McCulloch county. Now, take that back and don't take any more blues. Let's each one think and see if we don't really get more than we deserve. That was sure a nice rain.

The barbecue at Calf Creek was a grand success. Lots of provisions left. I don't know, but suppose there were somewhere near five hundred persons there. The candidates had their regular service. They certainly made some nice talks. I don't believe in suffrage, but I would be almost tempted to go to the polls for one gentleman, for I know he certainly told one truth. Don't understand me to say that any of the others did not.

Mr. Tom Jones and wife, Messrs. J. W. Attaway and Faught returned from Rock Island, where they spent ten days visiting and prospecting. They report everything looking flush down there, but I think they have decided that McCulloch is good enough for them—like all the other wise men.

Oh, they can't stay away! The report is out that Bangs, Brown county, has lost one of her good citizens. Yes, and as usual, Brady caught him. Yes, it was Mr. Arthur Hanes.

Among the ones who went to the road to work this week were Messrs. R. M. Attaway, Jim Cox, Hoobie Cox and Charlie Williams.

We are glad to report Mrs. Christwell able to be out to the barbecue.

Mr. Alfred Blasdel is spending the week with his cousin, Curtis Benson of Cow Gap.

Miss Thelma Blasdel is spending the week at Nine, a guest at the Harkrider home.

There were nine big wagon loads of wool passed down the London road since noon, each having double teams. That looks like prosperity to me.

Miss Emma Jones returned home Saturday, after a week's visit to her sister at Brady. There was a big wagon load returned home with her to go fishing. I presume, as there were camping outfits and fishing poles plentiful.

Well, adieu until I hear of something new.

Mrs. Maria Guertiz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:

"My husband, children and myself have used your medicine, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my house work alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

We have sure had a fine rain were suffering from the need

IMPORTANT NEWS TO CALOMEL USERS

Dodson's Liver-Tone is a Perfect Substitute for Calomel and is Guaranteed Absolutely Harmless.

If you have trouble with constipation or biliousness, be careful how you take calomel, because calomel is a form of mercury, and if mercury remains in the system very long it will salivate and seriously injure the strongest person that ever lived.

If you need something to start the liver to working take Dodson's Liver-Tone. It is a harmless vegetable liquid which will live up the liver better than calomel does and without the bad after-effects. No restriction of habit or diet is necessary. Dodson's Liver-Tone is as safe for children as it is for grown people and everybody likes its taste.

Buy a fifty cent bottle from Jones Drug Co., and if you do not find that it absolutely takes the place of calomel, this drug store will give you your money back if you ask for it.

A GENUINE HAIR RESTORER.

Did you ever know of any hair preparation which would really grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair?

There are many preparations highly advertised to do the work, but it is probably your experience that none of them will really meet the claims of their manufacturers.

There are many so-called hair restorers which are nothing more than harmful chemical dyes, which do not grow any hair the only result being that they dyed the hair, having no permanency and often causing a streaky appearance.

It has been the aim of the chemists for years to discover a preparation which would really grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair, but heretofore they have met with no success.

Prof. Rembler now claims to have discovered a combination of harmless vegetable composition which is a genuine hair re-storator and will grow hair and does not contain any dye of any kind, but will positively restore the color and brilliancy to gray and faded hair.

This is a very strong statement to make and if any chemist without the recognized ability and national reputation of Prof. Rembler were to make this claim we would be inclined to be skeptical as to its truth. It will be remembered by readers that are familiar with scientific discoveries that Prof.
Rembler was the inventor of the one fire process for gilding glass and also the Rembler wireless Coherer. Any statement made by Prof. Rembler is entitled to consideration as he would not make any statements which were not true and would injure his established reputation.

The Siloron Mfg. Co., of Pueblo, Colo., have purchased the exclusive American rights to manufacture Sagine, as they have named Prof. Rembler's invention, after having made a six months' test of Sagine and thoroughly demonstrating that it would positively do the work. The Siloron Mfg. Co. have authorized us to make the following remarkable offer to all who need
a "Genuine Hair Restorer."

They will send a written agreement with every bottle of Sagine, to the effect that if one bottle of Sagine conscientiously used according to the directions does not give entire satisfaction to the purchaser; if Sagine does not actually grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair, remove dandruff and make the hair glossy and healthy, that they will pay the sum of $5 to any dissatisfied customer.

This is the strongest offer ever made by any manufacturer and one they could not possibly make if they did not know positively from experiment that it would do exactly what they claim for it. No one takes any chance in buying Sagine as it is certainly worth $1 to use a Genuine Hair Restorer that will really grow hair, and if it does not give satisfaction they will pay you the $5 as agreed. Send a $1 bill to the Siloron Mfg. Co., Pueblo, Colo., stating that you wish to purchase a bottle of Sagine with the written agreement to grow hair and restore the color to gray or faded hair or pay you the sum of $5 and it will be sent to you by express in plain wrapper.

The Siloron Mfg. Co., is incorporated under the laws of the state of Colorado and refer you to the mercantile agencies or any Pueblo banks as to their ability to fulfill any agreement they make.

BRADY, TEXAS, June 28, 1912

PRAISE FOR BRADY.

The delegates to the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs convention have come and gone, but their brief stay was made a memorable one by the local lodges of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, assisted by the hospitable and liberal-minded citizens of Brady. On their parts, the delegates were lavish in praise of Brady and her citizens and the cordial welcome they found among us. That is as it should be. No stranger should ever enter our gates without finding a hearty welcome awaiting him; the more so as an accredited delegate to our city.

The good words spoken for Brady and Brady citizens by the delegates upon their return home will be of immeasurable benefit to us, and cannot be overestimated. It is great to live in a good town; it is greater to have folks know you live in a good town.

We trust every delegate will have found his visit here so pleasant that we may look for his speedy return. Brady likes their looks, and Brady has a home for each and everyone.

Get the booster habit.

Boost your own home community.

Since it rained Menard is sure to raise a big crop—of mosquitos.

The man who boosts trades at home; the man who trades at home boosts his own interests.

Peaches are plentiful in Brady. Some come in baskets; some in hobble skirts. All are home-raised.

Don't be disappointed if we refuse to accept a present of a watermelon. We will use every care not to disappoint you.

We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the barbecue and ball to be given by the citizens of San Angelo and Carlsbad on the Fourth of July in honor of the completion of the State Tuberculosis sanitarium. A great celebration is being anticipated, and a general invitation is being extended.

Claude Callan admits that it would never do to present his picture alongside that of ourself, and admits to be better looking than no one except the editor of the Del Rio Herald. As a matter of fact, no one has ever expected Callan to be good looking. Good looks are simply wasted in that abode of freckles and pug noses. Good looks are for folks who live in a refined and cultured city such as Brady.

AFTER DALLAS' SCALP.

San Angelo is up in arms against Dallas; Brady has her war paint on—every city and town in the territory affected by the proposed increase should join in the war on Dallas. The reason? Dallas has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow the proposed change in common point territory to stand, and the line moved east. This would benefit Dallas, and the merchants, and ultimately the consumer, in the affected territory will foot the bill resulting from the increase in freight rates.

Some time ago the Brady Commercial club passed a resolution condemning the action of Dallas and at a recent meeting of the San Angelo Chamber of Commerce like action was taken by that body. The sense of the resolution passed was that every business man write a letter to their wholesale houses in Dallas protesting against their action in the matter, and should Dallas continue her activities to withdraw their patronage from Dallas houses. The cities of this section do not appreciate the interference and are absolutely opposed to Dallas taking a hand in matters of interest to our citizens or to our detriment.

Those Odd Fellows and Rebekahs were a bunch of good looking visitors. Here's to them: May they all live to meet with us again.

McCulloch county's first watermelons are on the market—and with them are canteloupes and tomatoes. Good things just crowd one another in Bully Old Brady.

"Say everything good you can for Brady, and we will swear to it," said W. D. Carroll, president of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs association. Another boost for Brady.

Tom Case sends The Standard to C. H. Goodwin, Stephenville, Texas. Mr. Goodwin sends Tom a couple of bushels of peaches. Standard gets results, no matter where you send it.

If we are to believe Claude Callan, the Republican convention presented more stirring scenes than were ever enacted since Claude held the position of first lieutenant in Coxey's army.

One McCulloch county farmer will alone market some 600 or 800 bushels of peaches this season. But we have always said that McCulloch was a peach of a place, as well as a place for peaches.

According to the editor of the Menard Messenger (a little sheet published for the good of humanity in pauperville) weddings are coming in vogue in that burg. That's the difference—in Menard getting married is easy; being married, a task; in Brady getting married is the task, while being married is a pleasure.

A Modern Fable.

(BY ROBERT SEAVEG)

Said the Little Puddle Duck
To the Little Red Hen:
I haven't sold an egg
Since I don't know when.
Business for me is a losing game,
But you seem prosperous, just the same.

Said the Little Red Hen
To the Little Puddle Duck:
Business isn't always
A matter of luck.
You work as hard and produce a line
Of eggs that are as really
As good as mine.

Your merchandising methods
You need to revise;
If you want to be successful
You must advertise.
Don't wait for buyers to hunt for you,
But tell your story
The way I do.

When you produce an egg
You just waddle away,
But I spread the news
All the rest of the day.
And that, I believe, is
The reason men,
Prefer my eggs, said the Little Red Hen.

This Nature-faking jingle Conceals a fact
And a wise man seeing,
Will be quick to act.
Why not talk it over with us today?
A word in the 'phone
And we're on the way.

Seriously, why not call No. 163,

McCULLOCH OIL FIELDS

INTERESTING ARTICLE IN OIL AND GAS JOURNAL.

Complete Review of the McCulloch County Fields Brings Out Interesting Facts.

The following article concerning the McCulloch county oil fields appeared in a recent issue of The Oil and Gas Journal, one of the leading trade journals of the U. S.

"There is at present considerable interest being shown by a number of well known operators in the district which has been more or less known for the past eight years as the McCulloch county oil fields. This development at present consists of five shallow wells near the little town of Lohn, 16 miles northwest of Brady, and two wells situated near Trickham in Coleman county some 20 miles north and east of the shallow wells at Lohn.

"McCulloch county, of which Brady is the county seat, is located at the geographical center of the state. The surveys show that the exact center is some seven miles south of Brady. The town is situated about 150 miles southwest of Fort Worth and is the junction point of the Menard division of the Frisco railroad, and the Eden division of the Santa Fe. Until a few years ago the portion of Texas of which McCulloch and the adjoining counties were a part was known throughout the state as the best cattle range of Central Texas, and many of the famous ranches of the state were located in this section. The past eight years has marked the rapid extension of the railroads through this section and the influx of many farmers from the North, with the result that the ranches are being subdivided into farms and the country is becoming known as one of the most prolific portions of the state from an agricultural standpoint.

"The topography of the country is interesting. The long range of limestone hills extending from a point many miles east of Brady, reach an elevation of over 2,000 feet above sea level near Brady, and are known throughout this section as the Brady mountains. To the north of these mountains, the broad valley of the Colorado river encloses some of the most beautiful farms of this section, and in the midst of this area, three miles west of the little settlement of Lohn, some eight years ago a farmer attempted to obtain a good supply of water, and at a depth of 210 feet, a white sand was encountered from which the hole rapidly filled with oil. All reports seem to prove that this farmer was filled with disgust at his find, but the rumor of this strike spread rapidly and within a few days a number of experienced oil producers from Beaumont inspected the new well and within a short time much of the surrounding area had been "tied up" with oil drilling contracts. Unfortunately the land which seemed most favorably situated could not be leased and, after a desultory attempt to develop the territory, the handicap of low priced oil throughout the state, combined with lack of transportation facilities, proved too great for the wildcat, and interest in the district ceased. The farmer, on whose land the first well was drilled, erected a windmill over the well and produced in this manner a considerable quantity of crude, which was used locally as a fuel for a neighboring cotton gin, and was also readily marketed to the stockmen all

Robert Calvert has returned to his duties at Sweetwater after a few days' visit with home-folks in this city.
Mrs. Maude Baker and children of Brady came in yesterday for a visit of a week or two with relatives and friends near Cannon school house, five miles south of town.

A Big Catch.

John Duke had on exhibition the first of the week the catch of the season—a monster yellow cat, weighing forty-two pounds dressed, and which must have tipped the scales at fifty pounds when pulled out of the water. The remarkable part of the catch was that it was made on a hand line with a reel and pole. John reports an exciting fight to land the prize, all the members of the fishing crowd being at camp, and he having the sport and excitement all to himself. The catch was made in the Long hole below Brady. No one doubts John's having caught the monster, but there are extreme doubts expressed as to whereabouts the catch was made. Bates Carrithers says he has failed many a time in the Mays hole and feels sure no such fish ever lived there, and Dr. Holley says many a time has he fished in the Long hole and never even had a bite. Just the same, John's story has the weight of fifty pounds of fish to tip the scales in his favor.

Willie Edmiston.

Wednesday morning before day Willie Edmiston, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Edmiston of Millersview, died at the home of his parents, after a short illness. The boy took sick, but not very ill, Saturday or Sunday. Tuesday night he got worse, and died that night before a doctor could reach him. Dr. France of Paint Rock was called, but did not get all the way to the home before he knew of his death. Death is supposed to have been caused from locked bowels. The Herald extends sympathy to the bereaved family.—Paint Rock Herald.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed. Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance. The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

COMMERCIAL CORNER

By the Secretary.

From the Associated Press News Notes we quote a few of their "City Building Paragraphs" for the benefit of our readers. Here are a few of the notes:

(1) City boosting seldom ends in the poor house.

(2) A good way to keep your business popular is to advertise.

(3) Railroad outlets are prosperity inlets.

(4) You can usually tell the prosperity of a city by the activity of its commercial club.

(5) It stands to reason that business will increase if the population is doubled—join the commercial club.

(6) A display of the products manufactured and raised in your community will do more to advertise and promote the home industry movement than any other means.

These expressions from experienced city builders are worthy of our consideration; especially do we call the attention of our farmer friends to the last item. In many of our western and in almost all of our eastern cities there is a constant exhibition of farm products in the rooms of the commercial clubs. The farmers are constantly sending and bringing with them samples of farm products to be placed on exhibition. This shows what can be raised on our farms. It acts in way of raising farm values and creates markets for these products.

The rainmakers in our neighboring cities are still claiming credit for our last rain and say that they "order" another one in the next day or so. I am of the opinion that they had but little to do with the matter. The rain did much good throughout the state. In some places the precipitation was very light. Brady seems to have had the biggest end of it in the whole state. Our government gauge registered four inches. This has done a great deal of good.

S. C. Findley was here from Comanche yesterday in attendance upon the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs convention, and incidentally interesting Brady citizens in his candidacy for the State Senate. Mr. Findley is a most pleasant and agreeable gentleman and made a very favorable impression upon our citizens. Attention is directed to the platform upon which he is making his race and which appears in another column of this paper. Mr. Findley is a progressive and broad-minded citizen, as well as conservative, and is strongly endorsed by his home people, as well as his friends in the district.

R. S. Russell and Miss Mabel Taylor were quietly married last Thursday evening at the Christian parsonage, Rev. D. R. Hardison saying the words that made the twain one. Both are popular Brady young people and start out upon the sea of matrimony amidst the best wishes of their many friends.

Hugh Wheat and J. H. Ferguson were here from Gouldbusk, Coleman county, on business Wednesday. Mr. Wheat recently tried a Standard want ad and has joined the "it pays" bunch. Both gentlemen state that the rain over their way was as fine as could be wished and will accomplish all sorts of good.

Daylight had made no assertion of total abstinence, though he had not taken a drink for months after the day he resolved to let his business go to smash. Soon he proved himself strong enough to dare to take a drink without taking a second. On the other hand, with his coming to live in the country, had passed all desire and need for drink. He felt no yearning for it, and even forgot that it existed. Yet he refused to be afraid of it, and in town, on occasion, when invited by the storekeeper, would reply: "All right, son, if my taking a drink will make you happy, here goes. Whisky for mine."

"Dear Elam," She whispered, "Dear Elam."

But such a drink begat no desire for a second. It made no impression. He was too profoundly strong to be affected by a thimbleful. As he had prophesied to Dede, Burning Daylight, the city financier, had died a quick death on the ranch, and his younger brother, the Daylight from Alaska, had taken his place. The threatened inundation of fat had subsided, and all his old-time Indian leanness and likewise, did the old slight hollows in his cheeks come back. For him they indicated the pink of physical condition. He became the acknowledged strong man of Sonoma Valley, the heaviest lifter and hardest winded among a husky race of farmer folk.

At first, when in need of ready cash, he had followed Ferguson's example of working at day's labor; but he was not long in gravitating to a form of work that was more stimulating and more satisfying, and that allowed him even more time for Dede and the ranch and the perpetual riding through the hills. Having been challenged by the blacksmith, in a spirit of banter, to attempt the breaking of a certain incorrigible colt, he succeeded so signally as to earn quite a reputation as a horse-breaker. And soon he was able to earn whatever money he desired at this, to him, agreeable work. His life was eminently wholesome and natural. Early to bed, he slept like an infant and was up with the dawn. Always with something to do, and with a thousand little things that enticed but did not clamor, he was himself never overdone. Nevertheless, there were times when both he and Dede was not above confessing tiredness at bedtime after seventy or eighty miles in the saddle. Sometimes, when he had accumulated a little money, and when the season favored, they would mount their horses, with saddle-bags behind, and ride away over the wall of the valley and down into the other valleys.

One day, stopping to mail a letter at the Glen Ellen postoffice, they were hailed by the blacksmith.

"Say, Daylight," he said, "a young fellow named Slosson sends you his regards. He came through in an auto on the way to Santa Rosa. He wanted to know if you didn't live hereabouts, but the crowd with him was in a hurry. So he sent you his regards and said to tell you he'd taken your advice and was still going on breaking his own record."

Daylight had long since told Dede of the incident.

"Slosson?" he meditated. "Slosson? That must be the hammer-thrower. He put my hand down twice, the young scamp." He turned suddenly to Dede. "Say, it's only twelve miles to Santa Rosa, and the horses are fresh."

She divined what was in his mind, of which his twinkling eyes and sheepish grin gave sufficient advertisement, and she smiled and nodded acquiescence.

"We'll cut across by Bennett Valley," he said. "It's nearer that way."

There was little difficulty, once in Santa Rosa, of finding Slosson. He and his party had registered at the Oberlin Hotel, and Daylight encountered the young hammer-thrower himself in the office.

"Look here, son," Daylight announced, as soon as he had introduced Dede, "I've come to go you another flutter at that hand game. Here's a likely place."

Slosson smiled and accepted. The two men faced each other, the elbows of their right arms on the counter, the hands clasped. Slosson's hand quickly forced backward and down.

"You're the first man that ever succeeded in doing it," he said. "Let's try it again."

"Sure," Daylight answered. "And don't forget, son, that you're the first man that put mine down. That's why I lit out after you today."

Again they clasped hands, and again Slosson's hand went down. He was a broad-shouldered, heavy-muscled young giant, at least half a head taller than Daylight, and he frankly expressed his chagrin and asked for a third trial. This time he steeled himself to the effort, and for a moment the issue was in doubt. With flushed face and set teeth he met the other's strength till his crackling muscles failed him. The air exploded sharply from his tensed lungs, as he relaxed in surrender, and the hand dropped limply down.

"You're too many for me," he confessed. "I only hope you'll keep out of the hammer-throwing game."

Daylight laughed and shook his head.

"We might compromise, and each stay in his own class. You stick to hammer-throwing, and I'll go on turning down hands."

But Slosson refused to accept defeat.

"Say," he called out, as Daylight and Dede, astride their horses, were preparing to depart. "Say—do you mind if I look you up next year? I'd like to tackle you again."

"Sure, son. You're welcome to a flutter any time. Though I give you fair warning that you'll have to go some. You'll have to train up, for I'm plowing and chopping wood and breaking colts these days."

Now and again, on the way home, Dede could hear her big boy-husband chuckling gleefully. As they halted their horses on the top of the divide out of Bennett Valley in order to watch the sunset, he ranged alongside and slipped his arm around her waist.

"Little woman," he said, "you're sure responsible for it all. And I leave it to you, if all the money in creation is worth as much as one arm like that when it's got a sweet little woman like this to go around."

"Say," He called out, "I'd Like to Tackle You Again."

Daylight's steadfast contention was that his wife should not become cook, waitress, and chambermaid because she did not happen to possess a household of servants. On the other hand, chafing-dish suppers in the big living-room for their camping guests were a common happening at which times Daylight allotted them their chores and saw that they were performed. For one who stopped only for the night it was different. Likewise it was different with her brother, back from Germany, and again able to sit a horse. On his vacations he became the third in the family, and to him was given the building of the fire, the sweeping, and the washing of the dishes.

SUCCESSFUL ASSEMBLY

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS MEET IN BRADY.

Seventh Annual Convention of I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Association.

The seventh annual convention of the Central West Texas I. O. O. F. and Rebekah association is a thing of the past. The delegates and visitors have come and gone, but they leave with the citizens of Brady the recollection of many kind words of praise and appreciation for the treatment and favors accorded them by the local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, as well as the citizens of Brady.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the Brady Odd Fellows and Rebekahs for their efforts at caring for the visitors and in providing entertainment for them. Their efforts fell not one whit short of the greatest expectations. The good citizens of Brady threw open their homes to the visitors, and not only was every one taken care of, but numbers of others could have been accommodated.

The majority of the delegates arrived Wednesday morning and were welcomed to our city by Rev. D. R. Hardison. Geo. Sullivan of Comanche responded to the welcome address on behalf of the delegates and the visitors. Following this, dinner was spread at the tabernacle. Nothing was lacking to make the dinner a complete success. There was an abundance of good things to eat, and everyone was loud in their praise of the excellence of the affair.

The afternoon was marked by a number of addresses—some of the best ever heard in our city, and every one of them received the closest attention of all present. Among those on the program were A. G. Walker of Brady who made the address of welcome on behalf of the Odd Fellows; Thos. Leach of Brownwood, who responded; J. E. Shropshire of Brady, who welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Rebekahs, and Mrs. J. D. Alexander of Cisco responding. Throughout the day there was music by the Brownwood string orchestra.

At 8:30 Wednesday night a rousing "Get Acquainted" meeting was held at the Christian tabernacle. The time was most enjoyably spent in meeting one another and in having a general good time. Special music was had, and Miss Helen Walker and Mr. Claud McClellan favored the audience with several vocal solos, much to the enjoyment of everyone. The conclusion of the evening's pleasure was marked by the serving of ice cream and cake by the local members.

Thursday was a repetition of the enjoyable time of the previous day. There were more good addresses by Mrs. J. D. Alexander of Cisco, E. J. Miller of Brownwood, Jas. Finlay of Fife and Mrs. Nora Lancaster of Zephyr. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of every member holding office, as follows: W. D. Carroll, Comanche, president; Tom Leach, Brownwood, first vice president; Mrs. J. E. Shropshire, Brady, second vice president; Miss Dora Palmer, Comanche, secretary; Miss Rouble Ellis, Comanche, treasurer.

Brownwood was selected as the next meeting place of the association.

The closing of the association was had in the contest between the degree teams at the Odd Fellows hall. Four candidates were initiated by the Comanche degree team, who were awarded an average of 90 by the judges. The degree team from Brownwood failed to come. This makes the second time that the Brady, Texas, June 26 1912. About July 5th, 1909, the Farmers' Union warehouse was chartered under the laws of the state of Texas, and on October 3rd of the same year bond in the sum of $5,000 was filed with the county clerk of McCulloch county, as directed by law, so Brady has had the benefit of a bonded warehouse for some six years.

Birthday Anniversary.

Little Miss Zola Ann Spiller was the delightful young hostess last Friday to a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spiller, it being her sixth birthday.

The young guests arrived at 3:30 o'clock and immediately the usual good time began. The games best liked by the little folks were played until everyone had grown weary and the various feasts lost their charm. It was then that the little entertainer led the party to the beautiful dining room. The shades had been drawn and the bright glow of numbers of wax tapers flooded the room. In the center of the table stood the snowy birthday cake, on which burned six tiny candles. Delicious fruit ice cream, cake and candy were served.

It was a happy group that bade their little friend good-bye and took their leave for home at 6:30 o'clock.

A number of pretty and useful gifts were received as tokens of friendship.

Those included in this afternoon's pleasure were little Misses Edna Fahrenthold, Mabel Strickland, Mary Campbell, Mary Josephine Adkins, Nell Sheridan, Gertrude Wood, Ora Ewing and Masters Milburn Carothers and Hemma Fahrenthold.

Eleventh Birthday.

"Come to my party," the invitation said, and there were very few who failed to go. The occasion was little Irene Lowrey's eleventh birthday, and she wished her little friends to help her celebrate. On the arrival of the guests each presented his or her compliments with some love token much to the pleasure of their young hostess. One childhood game followed another until late in the afternoon, when fruit punch, cake and candy were passed.

The children present were Willie Florence Yantis, Beryl Bradley, Sigma Ford, Dela Hendrickson, Margaret Wroten, Aphela and Opal Tippy, Catherine Ballou, Marguerite Embry Countess Callan, Arvie and Norma Wegner, Gertrude Trigg, Frances Lou McClellan, May Alexander and Ray Willoughby, Duke Jones, Ellis Bradley, Vernon Jordan, Howard Broad, Wiley Wroten, Ernest Lowrey and Robert Lowrey.

Chicken Fry.

The Jordan summer house had been decided on as the most suited place for an evening's good time, and it was here that a jolly party gathered.

Tuesday evening with numbers of well filled baskets. Several chickens had been prepared and no time was wasted in the frying. The spread, which included bread and butter sandwiches, fruit salad, ice cream and cake, was an ideal arrangement. Those attending this splendid outing were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Benham, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jordan, Misses Maude and Nora Sheridan, Pearl Newman, Mary Schaeg, Pearl Coopender, Ruth and Ruby Wood, Bernice Wolf and Lucile Benham; Messrs. Oscar Lang, Elmer Baze, Una Hardison, Billie Petree, Steve Duke, H. F. Schwenker, Wilbur Hoyt of San Saba and Porter Cooke.

League Party.

Complimenting the members of the Methodist League, Mrs. A. D. Wright gave a lawn fete last Tuesday night at her home. The guests were received in the house, and were served to fruit punch at the flower laden punch bowl. The parlors were effectively decorated in green and white with pot plants and ferns.

Outside, the moon furnished its silvery light for games and contests. At the appointed hour a delightful lunch was served in tiny baskets.

The picture presented to one passing by was a very happy one. Gay crowds sat on the grass and laughed gleefully, while groups of light hearted boys and girls wandered to and fro in the moonlight humming some familiar tune or telling of the gayest times in their lifetime.

At midnight the crowd dispersed reluctantly, after declaring the occasion to be the most enjoyable of the summer, and thanking the hostess for so rare a treat.

Dance.

One of the largest and most interesting of the summer dances was one given Tuesday evening at the Klondike hall. A colored orchestra from Fort Worth furnished the music. The dancers were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hundley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steffens, Misses Helen Walker, Maude Sheridan, Hadye Willoughby, Rosa Stallings, Harriet Cook, Carlita Matthews, Alice Ballou, Mame Spiller, Ruby Maier of Fredericksburg and Messrs. George Vierling, Beryl Wiley, Herbert Wood, Lee Goodson, William Crothers, James Walker, Jamie Brook, Fred Spiller, Oscar Lang, Max Scharif, Steve Ballou, Oscar Thompson and Lindley.

Picnic at Dam.

After being housed all these warm days, nothing is more natural than that one should seek to hie themselves to some cool place for an evening's pleasure. So was the thought of the younger set on last Saturday evening, when with filled baskets, they boarded a large dray wagon and went to the dam, where the usual frolic and fun was held. A tempting spread on the grass being the most prominent feature, with a drive back to town and a visit to the Lyric airdome later on. Mrs. Dave Camp and Misses Nell Jackson and Olga Schaeg acted as chaperones.

These are glorious days for fishing and camping and diving, and with the beautiful San Saba river so near us it is indeed a great temptation for one to overcome if he does not steal off for a few days for the treat. Numbers of parties have gone the past two months, and the numbers have been steadily increasing with the warm days. Those who enjoyed this pleasure the past week were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. King and family, Mesdames V. B. Deaton, Harris of Lampasas, Misses Emma Jones, Balla Greenwood, Marguerite and Elizabeth Buchanan of Fort Worth and Messrs. Virgil Lee Sessions, Wm. Crothers, Oscar Lang, Burette Tipton, John Henry Ogden. Another party included Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Williams, Misses Lucile Yantis and Catherine Chilton of Comanche, Messrs. Ben Anderson, Sam Moffatt, Mac Martin and Ellie Williams.

The pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brook was converted into a palace of pleasure on Thursday evening, when Miss Mary Brook entertained her friends with a delightful party. Music, games and gay conversation were indulged in to the heart's content, at the end of which dainty sherbet, cake and candy were served. The guests were Misses Lucile Benham, Fay Wall, Minnie Jarvis Crothers, Leslie Bradley, Sarah Johanson, Gladys Wolf, Leslie Samuels, Annie Scott, Virginia Miller, Wilbur Ford, Sallie Miller, Nora Samuels and Flora Schaeg and Messrs. Leon Fahrenthold, R. H. Long, Erve Boyd, Orval Jackson, Marion Hardison.

Mrs. G. R. White entertained the Ladies' Social club very pleasantly on Monday afternoon from 3:30 to 6:30 o'clock with progressive "42". Some twenty members were present. Dainty refreshments consisted of a salad course and steaming coffee were enjoyed. The next meeting of the club will be the closing party for the summer.

Sunrise Special.

The Sunrise Special is the way the new early morning train has been christened by Agent W. M. Hundley, and to him belongs the credit for the inauguration of the new schedule. Mr. Hundley several weeks ago got his thinking cap on and the result was that he figured out that the Frisco's morning train could beat its old schedule all hollow and make some splendid good connections by leaving Brady at 6:30 a. m. instead of 8:45, as heretofore. He forwarded his suggestion to the head office with the result that they adopted it without hesitation and placed the new schedule in effect beginning with last Sunday. A study of the schedule as set forth in the Frisco ad in another column will convince anyone that the change should prove advantageous to the Frisco as well as to patrons of the road.

Another innovation brought about through the efforts of Mr. Hundley is the making of a short line rate to South Texas points, effective July 1st. This will enable passengers to make the trip to Houston and other South Texas points by way of Fort Worth at the same rate that is made for the direct route.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Brady people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Brady reader, of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

C. V. Glover, Brady, Texas, says: "For many years I have been troubled with a dull ache in my back and across my kidneys. I consulted a doctor and he pronounced my complaint lumbago. He gave me a prescription, but it gave me no relief, and I tried other remedies. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and procured a box. Before long I noticed that my trouble was beginning to disappear, and I have not lost a day from work since. After taking two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills I was cured. I think this remedy is well worthy of recommendation."

Business is Good.

Just as an index to the prosperity that is already becoming apparent since the rain, it might be stated that Brady Auto Co. has, in the past ten days already sold four cars, with some more sales in sight. The first sale was to H. H. Sessions; then last Monday a 49-horsepower Buick was sold and delivered to Steve Jennings at Pontotoc; Dr. McGarrity of Rochelle purchased a 5-passenger Overland, and a 37-horsepower Buick is now on the road for Will Bevans of Menard. If auto sales are an index to general prosperity, and most everyone will agree they are, it looks like the prosperity band wagon is about to run over Brady.

through the district as a "dip" for tick infested cattle. It is stated that until recently, when the well caved in, it was still capable of yielding 2 bbls. of oil per day.

"Some 20 miles north and east of these wells a well was drilled by a San Antonio company, near a settlement known as Trickham. This development was completed in 1906 and resulted in finding a shallow show of oil at about 250 feet, with a better showing in sandstone at 700 feet, and at 950 feet a sand was penetrated nearly 80 feet in thickness, in which an excellent well could, no doubt, have been completed had the owners so desired. There was a considerable amount of gas with the oil, but at the bottom of the sand salt water was encountered, which, combined with that already obtained in an upper sand, effectually held down the production of oil. At a lower depth the casing was inserted and the well was carried to a reported depth of over 1,500 feet. It is stated that at a depth of 1,120 feet, and again at 1,380 feet, sands were found in which good indications of both oil and gas were encountered of sufficient size to cause the well to flow oil, gas and water over the derrick at frequent intervals. An effort was made to pack off the water above the sands in which the best showing was obtained and, by plugging off the water below, it was expected that a producer would result. After repeated efforts, the well was abandoned, but not until it had demonstrated to some extent the presence and value of the lower sands.

"More recently, at a point about one mile northwest of this original test, a second well had been drilled, and at 938 feet, a sand was found which corresponded to that in the original well at a similar depth, and at two feet in the pay sand this last well has resulted in a gas-er good for at least 3,000,000 feet of dry gas per day. The rock pressure is 325 pounds and the well seems to possess excellent staying qualities.

"The foregoing statement as to the developments to date would be much less interesting were it not for the fact that this area has been the subject of the most careful geological investigation by men whose names are well known throughout Texas in petroleum producing circles. The portion of Texas commencing a few miles south of Brady and extending north through McCulloch county, across the Colorado river and well into Coleman county, which adjoins on the north, is known to the geologists of the state as the "Colorado river coal field." Prof. E. T. Dumble, assisted by Prof. Cummings, made a careful investigation of this section some twenty years ago with a view to opening up certain coal measures, which were known to outcrop at several points in the area mentioned.

The investigations which were conducted at the time were very thorough and had not progressed far before the presence of oil and gas indications were discovered to be of great prominence, and in the report which was issued by the state reference is made to the several points at which shallow wells contained sufficient oil and gas as to become important as indications of deeper deposits. From a geological standpoint, the area is especially interesting, due to the fact that within the valley of the Colorado river at this point, the Pennsylvanian measures are exposed over a large scope of territory, and in these formations can be traced certain coal beds which are easily recognized wherever they outcrop, and as a result, make possible a simple means of obtaining information regarding lines of deformation along which the oil operator would prefer to conduct his operations.

"The higher elevations in this area, such as the Brady and Santa Anna mountains are shown to be areas of Cretaceous limes which have withstood the weathering to such an extent as to leave them as uneroded portions of an enormous blanket of limes and shells which, at one time, covered all of the Pennsylvanian measures. At a point some fifty miles west of the Permian or "Red Bed" formations overlies the Carboniferous, and the Permian is, in turn, overlain by the Cretaceous. It will thus be seen that in the territory in which the present excitement centers, the drilling conditions are likely to be similar to those found in the well known developments of Oklahoma, Eastern Ohio and Pennsylvania, and the development, so far as it has progressed, indicates that the operator will have none of the difficulties which are incident to operations in the "Red Bed" sections of the state, as are found near Electra and Petrolia.

"A survey of the new district indicates a general northwest dip in the general stratification, which, in the area having the oil and gas indications, has flattened out, and in some cases reversed the direction of dip. At Lohn, the formation which is, at present, producing oil is found in the various wells at from 200 to 220 feet from the surface. It consists of a light colored close grained sandstone, and has been found to be as much as 25 feet in thickness. The wells, when completed, are good for from three to eight barrels per day in their natural condition, none of them having been shot up to the present time nor has there been a test well drilled in the vicinity of the shallow wells to a greater depth than 300 feet. In view of the deeper sands which were obtained in practically the identical stratification near Trickham, it is reasonable to suppose that deeper wells in the vicinity of Lohn will find similar formations.

"The oil produced from the shallow wells is of light green color when viewed from reflected light, and of a dark amber color with diffused light. The gravity, when fresh, is 40 to 60 degrees temperature when measured with the usual Baume hydrometer. Refinery tests prove it to be quite similar to that obtained near Muskogee, Okla., and in the principal fields of Pennsylvania, and on this account there seems to be no question but that a good market will always be obtained for such oil as may be produced.

"Preparations have been made for development in the new district on a rather extensive scale, the principal operators being a group of extensive land owners known as the "McCulloch County Syndicate," of which W. D. Crothers, cashier of the Commercial National bank of Brady is the active head. It is stated that this group controls over 100,000 acres lying along a line between the wells near Trickham, in Coleman county, and the area in McCulloch county which seems promising. A rather unique method of obtaining the co-operation of responsible operators is being put into effect by these parties. The plan consists of assigning a fair sized block of leases to the operator who is willing to drill a well 1,200 feet deep, the principal block to surround the well to be drilled, and, in addition, a number of smaller tracts situated near wells which are to be drilled by other parties. In this manner the operator not only obtains a good sized lease around his test, but is also given an opportunity to share in any favorable results obtained by other operators. It is understood that eight wells are to be drilled in this manner."
