

HARRISONS MAKE GOOD

THE BEST SHOW EVER, IS UNANIMOUS OPINION.

"The Love of a Thief" One of the Strongest and Most Pleasing Bills Ever Given.

The Harrison Theatre Co. established its reputation as the best show that has ever visited Brady with its opening performance of "The Love of a Thief" Monday night. Never has a company showed in Brady that has come as strongly and highly recommended as the Harrisons, and never did a show "make good" more easily than did they. They simply carried the audience away.

The play was one of the cleverest seen in many a day. Strictly moral in tone, and teaching a good lesson, it was nevertheless full of life and action, and sparkled throughout with the most original of humor and repartee. Mr. Chas. Harrison as "The Prince" proved a favorite with the audience, and there never was a moment in the play when he triumphed over his difficulties but what the cheers and the applause of the audience were for him. Gertrude Harrison as "Louise", the blind girl, endeared herself to the audience by her unaffected and clever interpretation of the part, and proved herself the brightest star of the cast. Supporting the Harrisons was as clever a cast of actors as has ever been seen before the footlights, each man playing his part in a manner that made the play seem more like a chapter out of real life than a mere dramatic production.

One most noticeable feature was the entire absence of the "blood and thunder", and this feature is said to be entirely missing in all the plays written by Mr. Harrison and produced exclusively by his company. His plays are true to life; the characters are true to life; the plot rings true. There is not one overdrawn feature. Another thing worthy of comment was the fact that there were no tedious waits between acts, and the intermissions were so nicely filled in by the music of the orchestra, that they were nothing more than breathing spells.

Undoubtedly the Harrison Theatre Co. is one of the best appointed, largest and most modernly equipped tent show in the United States. Everything is arranged for the greatest comfort of both the troupe and the audience. Through the courtesy of Mr. Fred Mayfield, the editor had the pleasure of thoroughly inspecting this great moving theatre, and the ingenuity and simplicity of the entire arrangement was a marvel to him.

In the first place, the comfort and safety of the audience has received first consideration. Even the 1000 ten cent seats are equipped with foot rests, a feature that no other tent show can boast. Likewise, the seats are securely fastened to their places by ingenious iron hooks which make them absolutely safe. The center section or parquette, has an elevated floor, which enables every occupant to get a full view of the stage, and further, all parquette seats are provided with the highest backs ever manufactured for a folding theatre seat. Exits are arranged so that a capacity audience could be emptied from the tent in seven minutes.

The tent and stage is lighted with electric lights, but for emergencies a Prest-o-Lite system is ready at a moment's notice. The switch-box on the stage provides every manner of electrical effect, and the scenery carried would do credit to any first-class theater in the largest cities. The dressing rooms are sanitary, comfortable apartments, provided with every modern convenience, and are far above those to be found in the usual theater.

The Harrisons pride themselves upon having the cleanest and best show on the road, and well they may. Every city they have visited gives testimony as to their superiority over every show that has ever visited before, and everywhere they have met with triumphs and welcome returns.

For Thursday night the company will present what they pronounce the strongest dramatic production ever given, "Jim Bailey". This play has been presented to capacity houses every time billed, and the management predicts that it will be greeted next Thursday night with not a vacant seat in the entire immense tent. They place the strongest guarantee upon this play—they back it with their entire reputation. Don't fail to see it.

Investigating Violations.

United States Revenue Officer Harmon was in Brady Monday investigating the alleged violations of the local option law, and will present the matter to the federal court. Mr. Harmon purchased cider at the Gensberg grocery, which will be used as evidence in a case against Mr. Gensberg. The officer also procured a list of all reported or suspected violations for a year back, and will make a thorough investigation.

The local officers Saturday served warrants on W. H. Nabers, Harry Phariss and A. T. Jordan for alleged violations of the law in the selling of cider.

AROUSING ENTHUSIASM

COUNTY EXHIBIT PARADE INTERESTS ALL.

Merchants to Enter Floats and Exhibits—School Children to Participate.

The big parade with which the McCulloch County Exhibit will be formally opened next Saturday is meeting with encouraging response. Numerous merchants have signified their intention of entering the parade with floats or exhibits of some kind, and many citizens will also be in line with decorated autos, buggies and carriages. The school teachers will co-operate in getting the school children to take part in the parade, and the exhibitors themselves will be in line.

Everyone is invited to join in making this a notable feature of the exhibition.

The following will be the order of the parade:

Mayor and aldermen in carriages.

Harrison's band.

Farmers, with farm products.

Children of city and county schools.

Live stock.

Poultry association.

Citizens in buggies, wagons and automobiles.

GROCERY CHANGE.

Abney & Vincent Buy Out Rainbolt & Plummer.

Messrs. Rainbolt & Plummer have closed a deal whereby Abney & Vincent purchase the grocery stock and fixtures of the former. The transfer of the property will be made upon the completion of the new Abney & Vincent building, at which time the stock and fixtures will be moved to the new quarters. In the meantime, the stock will be reduced as much as possible preparatory to the transfer.

The firm of Rainbolt & Plummer is one of the oldest grocery concerns in Brady, having been established something like ten years ago. Both Mr. Rainbolt and Mr. Plummer number as among our leading and most influential citizens, and it is a matter of general regret that they have decided to retire from business. Mr. Rainbolt has not been active in the business for the past several years, devoting his time to the office of County Treasurer to which he was re-elected this year. Mr. Plummer has made no plans for the future, but will devote his time to looking after collections for the present.

A Good Rain.

Rain has been falling slowly and steadily throughout the greater part of the night, and continuing this morning, with every indication for a rainy day. The rain scarcely amounted to more than a slow drizzle, but has been of sufficient duration to already thoroughly wet the ground. The rain is reported quite general over the county.

FIRST RED CROSS SEAL.

For 1912 To Be Sold at Public Sale Saturday.

The local Red Cross society is in receipt of one of the first 100 Red Cross Christmas seals for 1912 issued for Texas. The seal is accompanied by an affidavit to the effect that it is one of the first 100 seals, and also by a reproduction of a letter from the National Red Cross secretary stating that, everything considered, Texas last year led the States of the Union in the sale of seals.

This attractive memento will be offered for sale to the highest bidder at the McCulloch County exhibit next Saturday, and it has been suggested that the merchants and citizens club together, each one donating a quarter, half-dollar or dollar, as he may be inclined, toward making up a fund to buy the stamp and the accompanying affidavit at a record-breaking price. A suitable disposal of the souvenir would be to have it framed and presented to the Brady school as a testimonial to the broad-mindedness of the Brady citizenship.

Everyone knows the object of the Red Cross seals—to provide a fund for the care and maintenance of children afflicted with the great white plague, tuberculosis, and the stamping out of this dread disease. Everyone should do their part toward helping the worthy cause.

It is a source of pride to the local workers to know that last year Brady ranked as one of the 100 leading cities of Texas in the number of seals sold. The showing is a credit to Brady. It puts us in the class with Brownwood, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, Waco, San Antonio and the leading cities of the state. Brady had to her credit 4,798 seals sold—a showing that should be duplicated this year.

Millinery Department Moved.

I have moved my millinery department to the Scharff & Nussbaum store, where I have fitted up very comfortable quarters, and where I will be pleased to meet all my patrons and friends. I have a nice line of hats, and am sure I can please you. The prices are reasonable. Call and let me demonstrate.

Box Supper Friday.

There will be a box supper at the Pence school house next Friday night, and a cordial invitation is extended everyone to be present. There will be an abundance of fried chicken, and plenty of good things to eat, and the proceeds of the supper will go toward the church. The Pence neighborhood has the reputation of having some of the most hospitable folks on earth, and everyone who doubts this statement is given a special invitation to come and try the good people out.

OIL OPERATIONS.

Brandt & Marks Moving Rig to Bradley Ranch.

While interest is not keyed to quite so high a pitch just now as regards the oil fields compared with what it has been, yet operations are being actively pushed and the development of the field is progressing steadily. Those who are most interested, appear confident that it is only a question of time before the much desired big oil well will be brought in, and consequently they are prosecuting the search with unabated vigor and enthusiasm.

Brandt & Marks are this week moving their well rig from the W. N. White ranch to the Bradley place near Fife, and will be in shape to commence drilling within a very short time.

The Whiteland well is down about 1000 feet, and the drillers have just finished resetting the casing and think they have succeeded in cutting the water off.

J. F. Egan will commence work on the well on the Harris ranch at Broadmoor next week.

Birds That Are "Birds."

One of the most enthusiastic boosters of the big McCulloch County exhibit next Saturday is Col. Jack McGaughy, doubly famous as a chicken man and cotton buyer. Jack claims the finest Rhode Island Reds in McCulloch county, and the world, barring none, and to prove his assertion he will have fifty of the birds on exhibition here Friday and Saturday. Mr. McGaughy's exhibit last year attracted much attention and favorable comment, and this year's showing is going to do the same.

A. A. Lange is opening up a fruit stand and confectionery business in the building formerly occupied by the Conley Mercantile grocery department. H. C. Samuels will look after the business for Mr. Lange, while the latter will continue as bookkeeper for the Conley Mercantile Co. Mr. Lange is a hustler, and with a splendid location there seems no reason why his venture should not prove highly successful.

SHOOTING AT MASON.

John Ritter Wounded by George Johnson Saturday.

The Mason community was stirred last Saturday evening by the announcement that John Ritter had been shot and seriously wounded at the old Ritter place, two miles east of Mason, by Geo. Johnson. One version of the affair is that Johnson went to the Ritter place to get a rocker that had been loaned by him to a renter on the place. There he encountered John Ritter, who had been drinking, and the latter began to vilify and curse him. Johnson returned to his wagon to drive away, when Ritter started after him with a knife. As Ritter climbed onto the wagon, Johnson shot at him four times, one ball taking effect in his left lung. Ritter was reported doing nicely Sunday morning. Johnson surrendered to the officers and was released under $500 bond, his examining trial having been set for last Monday.

Chicken Sandwiches Saturday.

Chicken sandwiches of homemade bread, and hot coffee served with pure Jersey cream, will be served next Saturday by the Presbyterian Ladies Aid society at Anderson & Moffatt's corner. Get a hot lunch from the ladies any time during the day.

To St. Louis Market.

Goldwasser left the first of the week to inspect all the offerings of the world's greatest market and make extensive purchases for all departments of his store.

Mr. Goldwasser is determined to have the cream of the season's offerings for his customers, and will purchase the very latest in new goods and novelties, and promises upon his return to have many offerings for his patrons that cannot be found anywhere except in the largest city department stores.

Mr. Goldwasser has built up a nice trade by handling the better class of goods, and all the latest novelties are always to be found at his store. If you want some pleasant surprises, ask to be shown the new goods upon his return from market.

BRADY, TEXAS, Oct. 16, 1912

A WELL BEHAVED PEOPLE

We claim that Brady is one of the most orderly and best regulated cities in the state of Texas and cite the city and county court records for proof. The show Monday had an immense attendance in the afternoon. In fact, there was an immense crowd in town all day, yet during all that time there was not a single disturbance of any kind to mar the occasion, not one act of rowdism, not one violation of the law. It may have been that the swearing in of some thirty or forty special officers may have aided materially in the enforcement of law and order. If so, the plan was highly successful, for not a single arrest was put on record.

We doubt if any city in Texas of Brady's size can show as clean a slate.—Brady Standard.

This reminds the Bulletin to say something that it intended referring to several days ago. There has been a marked improvement in the behavior of the people of Texas in the past ten or twenty years, and especially since the saloons have been voted out of so many places. Brady is a good town, with a fine citizenship, but it is no better than dozens of other towns in the state. The same kind of a report could be made from many other places, and the swearing in of extra deputies was a needless precaution. Brownwood has just had a two days' street fair. There were great crowds thronging the streets for two days and nights. There were monster street parades, the exhibits were all free, and free picture shows were featured. There were no extra policemen, and the two regularly on the force to look after the town of ten thousand people didn't have anything to do, except to ride along with the parades, and that wasn't really necessary. This writer was constantly mixing with the crowds the entire time, and was in all parts of the town during the days and until late at night, and he never saw a man who appeared to be drinking and never heard an oath the entire time. There was no rough conduct of any sort to mar the occasion, and ladies without escorts were as safe from rude behavior of any kind as if they had been at their own homes. Just how much of this is to be attributed to the absence of saloons cannot be said, but one thing is certain—the same kind of a report could not have truthfully been made when Brownwood had a number of saloons.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The Menard Messenger man, Callan, offers to take a full course in economics at some good kindergarten if State Press will pay for his board, clothes and tuition. State Press declines. If S. P. were to go into philanthropy at all he would found and endow some sort of matrimonial institution that would offer free scholarships to amateur crooning men who wish to perfect themselves in the gentlest of all arts. Schwenger of The Brady Standard would probably appreciate something like that more than you would appreciate a school in political economy.—Dallas News.

A man at Waco found a hundred dollar bill on the sidewalk, and in a few minutes met a lady who was coming back leisurely and looking for it smilingly. He handed the money over to her without asking her name or which newspaper man is her husband.—Dallas News.

Several weekly newspapers have been receiving tracts from some fellow with a creed that denies the existence of a future state, asking the editors to publish his stuff for "the good of the cause," but all the dope appears to have gone into the waste basket. The Carrizo Springs Javelin makes this comment:

This hell proposition must be worrying some folks. We have been getting a supply of no-hell literature, a Kansas product, vehemently denying the existence of hell, heaven, deity or devil, and puts forward the comfortable theory that the ultimate end of man is to be eaten by worms. If we thought so ourselves we would be tempted to eat some of these worms first; to kinder get even with the cusses, but our honest opinion is that the gentleman from Kansas has beaten his country editor out of a subscription bill, and is trying to square himself with the hereafter. We'll bet 10 cents—conversational money—that the worms eat him, all right.

Most every country editor thinks if there is no hell there should be one for those who beat their newspaper accounts. An editor stood at the bedside of a delinquent subscriber who was dying. "How does the future look to you?" asked the editor. "Everything looks bright," replied the dying subscriber. "Yes," retorted the editor, "You will see the blaze in a few minutes."

A Real Treat.

The Harrison Stock Co. will present Thursday night a society comedy drama in four acts, "Mr. Jim Bailey." The play affords each actor an opportunity to put forth his best efforts, and in the character of the heartless, cruel mother, who stops at nothing to gain for herself and her daughter wealth, power and social position, even cursing her, when she rebels against the tyranny of her influence and the deadening of the impulse of her better nature, Mattie McDonald scored a tremendous success. She is the embodiment of grace and her dignified, aristocratic bearing fit her admirably for the serious roles.

Gertrude Harrison, as the daughter, is never better and in her struggles between love and hate for the man she has married, harassed by the meddling interest of her ambitious mother, she gave evidence of her unusual ability as an emotional actress and as an interpreter of the happy, light-hearted married woman, optimistic, and of a bright, sunny temperament in which there is just a dash of jealousy enough to make it interesting for her husband. Her gowns are magnificent and she wears them well. Chas. Harrison as "Mr. Jim Bailey" leaves nothing to be desired in his interpretation and wins the sympathy of the audience by his great, big, free, open-hearted, but rough way. As his "Dad" Guy McDonald is incomparable. So don't fail to see this beautiful story of every day home life. It is equal to a sermon.

 We wish to say that if we make our exhibit day a success, and if that kind of work is good for both county and city, we should all be anxious to do our part. If our business men think it worth while to encourage our farmers and the farmers think it is to their interest to exhibit products and study conditions, seed, sowing, culture and every phase of agriculture, they should do their best to make this a success. If it be worthless and of no good, come and tell me and then let the world know that you have made a discovery.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

The State of Texas, County of McCulloch.
 Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the honorable district court of McCulloch county, on the 11th day of October, 1912, by P. A. Campbell, clerk of said court, for the sum of twenty-eight hundred, ninety-four and seventy-six one hundredth dollars and costs of suit, under a judgment in favor of J. B. Lockhart in a certain case in said court, No. 1323 and styled J. B. Lockhart vs. W. S. Matthis et al, placed in my hands for service, I, J. C. Wall, as sheriff of McCulloch county, Texas, did on the 12th day of October, 1912, levy on certain real estate situated in McCulloch county, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

First Tract: Being 178.2 acres out of the Jacob Kahnd survey No. 564, Abstract No. 892, Certificate 759, Patent No. 184, Vol. 17.
 Second Tract: Being out of H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey No. 163, Abstract No. 685, Cert. 33-3280, patented to H. & T. C. Ry. Co. by Patent No. 208, Vol. 44, the part of said survey here described begins at a rock mound set for S. W. corner of said survey 163; thence N. 13 1/4 W. 978 vrs.; thence N. 88 3/4 East 306 vrs. to N. W. corner of land sold to C. D. Pennington; thence S. 976 vrs.; thence south 88 deg. 25 min. W. 289 vrs. to the place of beginning, containing 51 acres, more or less, and levied upon as the property of Joe H. Hambrick and C. C. Russell. And that on the first Tuesday in November, 1912, the same being the 5th day of said month, at the court house door of McCulloch county, in the city of Prady, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale, I will sell the above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of said Joe H. Hambrick and C. C. Russell.
 And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in The Brady Standard, a newspaper published in McCulloch county.
 Witness my hand, this 12th day of October, 1912.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I.—Lieut. Harry Mallory is ordered to the Philippines. He and Marjorie Newton decide to elope, but wreck of taxicab prevents their seeing minister on the way to the train.
 CHAPTER II.—Transcontinental train is taking on passengers. Porter has a lively time with an Englishman and Ira Lathrop, a Yankee business man.
 CHAPTER III.—The elopers have an exciting time getting to the train.
 CHAPTER IV.—"Little Jimmie" Wellington, bound for Reno to get a divorce, boards train in excellent condition. Later Mrs. Jimmie appears.
 CHAPTER V.—She is also bound for Reno with same object. Likewise Mrs. Sammy Whitcomb.
 CHAPTER VI.—Latter blames Mrs. Jimmie for her marital troubles. Classmates of Mallory decorate bridal berth.
 CHAPTER VII.—Rev. and Mrs. Temple start on a vacation. They decide to cut loose and Temple removes evidence of his calling.
 CHAPTER VIII.—Marjorie decides to let Mallory proceed alone, but train starts while they are lost in farewell.
 CHAPTER IX.—Passengers John Mallory's classmates in giving couple wedding bazing.
 CHAPTER X.—Marjorie is distracted over their situation.
 CHAPTER XI.—Ira Lathrop, woman-hating bachelor, discovers an old sweetheart, Anne Gattie, a fellow passenger.
 CHAPTER XII.—Mallory vainly hunts for a preacher among the passengers.
 CHAPTER XIII.—Mrs. Wellington hears Little Jimmie's voice. Later she meets Mrs. Whitcomb.
 CHAPTER XIV.—Mallory reports to Marjorie his failure to find a preacher.
 CHAPTER XV.—They decide to pretend a quarrel and Mallory finds a vacant berth.
 CHAPTER XVI.—Mrs. Jimmie discovers Wellington on the train.
 Mallory's eyes were caught from this picture of beatitude by the entrance, at the other door, of a man who had evidently swung aboard at the most recent stop—for Mallory had not seen him. His gray hair was crowned with a soft black hat, and his spare frame was swathed in a frock coat that had seen better days. His soft gray eyes seemed to search timidly the smoke-clouded atmosphere, and he had a bashful air which Mallory translated as one of diffidence in a place where liquors and cigars were dispensed.
 With equal diffidence Mallory advanced and in a low tone accosted the newcomer cautiously:
 "Excuse me—you look like a clergyman."
 "The hell you say!"
 Mallory pursued the question no further.

CHAPTER XVIII.
 In the Composite Car.
 It was the gentle stranger's turn to miss his guess. He bent over the chair into which Mallory had fopped, and said in a tense, low tone: "You look like a thoroughbred sport. I'm trying to make up a game of stud poker. Will you join me?"
 Mallory shook his heavy head in refusal, and with dull eyes watched the man, whose profession he no longer misunderstood, saunter up to the blissful Doctor from Ypsilanti, and murmur again:
 "Will you join me?"
 "Join you in what, sir?" said Dr. Temple, with alert courtesy.
 "A little game."
 "I don't mind," the doctor smiled, rising with amiable readiness. "The checkers are in the next room."
 "Quit your kiddin'," the stranger coughed. "How about a little freeze-out?"
 "Freeze-out?" said Dr. Temple. "It sounds interesting. Is it something like authors?"
 The newcomer shot a quick glance at this man, whose innocent air he suspected. But he merely drawled: "Well, you play it with cards."
 "Would you mind teaching me the rules?" said the old sport from Ypsilanti.
 The gambler was growing suspicious of this too, too childlike innocence. He whined: "Say, what's your little game, eh?" but decided to risk the venture. He sat down at a table, and Dr. Temple, bringing along his glass, drew up a chair. The gambler took a pack of cards from his pocket, and shuffled them with a snap that startled Dr. Temple and a dexterity that delighted him.
 "Go on, it's beautiful to see," he explained. The gambler set the pack down with the one word "Cut!" but since the old man made no effort to comply, the gambler did not insist. He took up the pack again and ran off five cards to each place with a grace that staggered the doctor.
 Mallory was about to intervene for the protection of the gulleible physician when the conductor chanced to saunter in.
 The gambler, seeing him, snatched Dr. Temple's cards from his hand and Callan Sees the Show.

Monday morning we arose at 4 o'clock, hurriedly climbed into our fancy clothes, which were practically free from the odor of moth balls, after a night of fluttering on the clothes-line, grabbed our crushible drinking cup, and hurried to the depot.

At 9 o'clock the train rolled out, carrying some seventy-five of Menard's wealthy men and beautiful women from this land of abundant water, perpetual prosperity and happy homes, to the ruins of the town that once stood on the south bank of the Brady draw.

We dislike to go to Brady, of course, but how could we help it?

The "greatest show on earth for seventy years" combined with "Texas Bill" was there, and we'd go through a forest fire to see even Mollie Bailey's. But the fact is this show is entirely too modest—we are prepared to believe it the greatest show on earth since the "morning stars sang together." In fact, it was three shows in one—the show they advertised, the show they had, and "Texas Bill." Somehow we can't help wishing we'd sold our home and bought tickets to see the "Texas Bill" show when it was traveling "alone and entirely by itself." It is simply great.

The several herds of elephants, the show actually had, but by a skillful arrangement, evidently the work of someone perfectly familiar with elephants, they were, as we saw it, divided up one to the herd.

The giraffe was ill and positively refused to be "at home" to the spectators who had called. In fact many of the animals had struck and stubbornly refused to put in their appearance. But this made little difference, because it was enough to watch the vast herds of camels as she switched her tail in what appeared to be a perfectly contented manner, although she had her back up about something—probably because so many of the animals were off at summer resorts taking a vacation.

To those who had never seen them before the pool of lazy seals was a treat, and the artist who painted them on the side of the wagon had evidently been to a show somewhere that had real live seals.

The show had an abundance of fun makers, but we could not tell just how many, as it was impossible to distinguish the clowns from the average of Brady's dashing young men.

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night.
 The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardui.
 Now, I am entirely well.
 I am sure Cardui saved my life. I will never be without Cardui in my home. I recommend it to my friends."
 "For fifty years, Cardui has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly troubles. It surely helps you.
 It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.
 If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui.
 Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today."

GALLAN CONCOCTIONS FOR MAGNIFICENT MENARD

From the Messenger.
 Lee R. Murchison was in Saturday complaining because it did not rain in time. We put the price of cattle up, thinking it would satisfy the stockmen, but now they insist on a rain every few minutes. It's hard to please people.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. McCully were over from Brady last of the week.

Just as soon as the cattle rush is over, we will commence shipping our pecans. The many crops raised in Menard make it impossible for hard times to get a foothold here.

Last week A. H. Murchison sold his entire stock of steer and heifer calves—451 head—to T. B. Sanders & Co. of Fort Worth at $20, which may be considered at least a fairly good price. Mr. Murchison's Herefords are one of the finest herds in the state, as the above price bears out. The calves were shipped to Oklahoma.

Our watermelons are gone, but the pecans are coming in and they are as large as the melons raised in Del Rio.

Everything comes too late. Three months ago we would have welcomed one of those northerners with open arms, but our affections have had "cooling time."

As the price of beef advances we call for our cuts nearer the animal's horns.

It is not the shortage of boys in Texas that hurts so much as the clock like regularity with which they utterly fail and refuse to marry.

Turkeys are so abundant in Menard that we almost stumbled into the notion of sending Schwenker a few, but happened to think that he is a miserable, miserly, raw-boned old bachelor who deserves nothing better than a boarding house rooster.

The Ulster Irishmen are the same stock from which the Del Rio Herald man came. They are about as much Irish as the Scots are spendthrifts.

W. C. Preston was down from Fort Worth recently campaigning for Wilson, but he couldn't change a vote here. The three Roosevelt men and Taft's two followers are firm in their convictions.

Miss Nora Polk left last week for Rochelle, where she has a music class.

G. R. White was over from where Brady was Thursday.

Joe Callan was here last week with his bale of cotton, cussing because he couldn't find a buyer he didn't owe.

Dave Doole read our statement that we were to put in charge of the Brady office a pretty girl who was determined to remain single forever and forever, because we were married, and was mean enough to state in a crowd that he didn't think the people there would stand for a negro postmistress. We knew Dave was anxious to find out his successor would be, but we did not tell it. Dad gum his hide, he must have gotten that information through Schwenker.

SAN SABA SAYINGS.

From the Star.
 The city council last week contracted with the water company to put in nine fire plugs in the business district. The company has twelve months to complete the contract, but San Saba will have fire protection long before that time as Manager Hudson informs us he will soon go to Dallas and get the material and he thinks that within sixty days the system will be in working order.

Judge Harvey Walker of Brady was here last week on business.

Mrs. Geo. Markley, who had been visiting at Brady, passed through Friday on her return to her home at Cherokee.

From the News.
 Charlie Williams is in Brady this week on business.

Henry Ruffner and wife and Wiley Kuykendall went to Brady Sunday.

Miss Ruth Russell is visiting in Brady.

Joe T. Williams of Brady and a Mr. Capps of Pontotoc are here in the cattle business this week.

All you who have torpid liver, weak digestion or constipated bowels look out for chills. The season is here and the air is full of the disease germs. The best thing to do is to get your liver in good condition and purify the stomach and bowels. HERBINE is the right remedy, it answers the purpose completely. Price 50c. Sold by Palace Drug store.

EDEN ECHOES.

From the Echo.
 Miss Mary Mahon paid Brady a visit last week.

Mr. Jas. Wade and mother of Brady came through Eden Tuesday enroute to Paint Rock in his new touring car.

Miss Sallie J. Shuler passed through Eden on her way to Paint Rock from Brady, where she has been visiting.

Sloan Kirk of San Angelo passed through Eden Wednesday enroute to San Saba, where he has recently purchased a tailor shop.

Gann & Molloy shipped fourteen head of cattle to the Fort Worth market Sunday, which was the largest shipment at any time for the season.

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN

XXXIII. PATRIOTISM.

URING a famine the Roman government commissioned Pompey to procure food from foreign countries and when the expedition was confronted by an angry sea and he was urged to delay in order to avoid danger, he replied, "It is not necessary that I live, but it is necessary that I go," and he went. The human race moves forward only when it has great men to meet the emergencies of civilization and a citizenship that applauds self-sacrifice in leadership.

THE PATRIOTISM OF POMPEY.

Let those who would make their names ring across continents and reverberate through the corridors of time, brave the perils of civilization and sacrifice their lives to succor humanity and preserve the resources of their country.

It is better to wear a diadem of good deeds than to don the purple of authority, and more noble to contribute a life toward the prosperity of one's country than to spill blood on the field of battle. Texas Needs Great Men.
