The "Wooden" Nutmeg

is a time honored joke, yet the way the nutmeg is ordinarily handled it might just as well be wooden.

The nutmeg gets its flavor entirely from its oil. Some have more, some have less of this oil to start with. Then by careless handling and a poor grinding method often much of this oil is lost—the ground nutmeg in such cases might almost as well be made of a wooden nutmeg. Yet it is pure and complies with the law.

White Swan Nutmeg is made only of nutmegs that are richest in oil (flavor). They're packed for shipping to the mill in a way to preserve this oil. They're ground by a process which saves all this oil, and the ground nutmeg is put into air tight tins which keeps the flavoring strength. Absolutely pure, and more than that—better than the law requires. Ask your grocer.

Two Generations Now Using It.

Nation's Most Popular Laxative Keeping Millions of American Families in Good Health.

ELSIE LEWIS.

There must be genuine merit in an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.

In the field of medicine none has had greater success, nor retained that success to a greater degree, than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by two generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative tonic; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtues.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to tiny infants, and yet, in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective in grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation, no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia, no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without it in the house, among them Mrs. Clara Lewis, Beck's Store, Ky., who gave it to her baby, Elsie, while teething, and says: "It is the best medicine in the world for stomach and bowels." She writes that she keeps it in the house for every member of the family, takes it herself, and that her mother recovered her health and gained in flesh by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Editor Brady Standard:

"Life is a leaf of paper white, Whereon each one of us may write His word or two; and then comes night."

Though thou have time, But for a line, be that sublime; Not failure, but low aim is crime."

Thanks to you, Sour Kraut, I didn't think my letters were missed. Let me tell you, we have had some sick folks in our settlement. Some are able to be up and about. There are so many new correspondents, I have decided to take my sign down.

It would be needless for me to mention those who are sick, for that would be too much of a job. But will say all those who are sick are on the road to recovery.

A crowd of Sweden's popular young folks attended the party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Adams last Thursday night. All report a very pleasant time. If you are doubting my report, ask the girls who were there.

Mr. Irvine Hurd attended the sock social at Prairie View last Friday night.

I don't expect to be in the contest, so any way you good correspondents wish to conduct it will be satisfactory with me. Don't get the idea that I am going to leave. No, not that; I see so many good writers I will have to leave space for a better writer.

AUNT SUSAN.

DODGE DOINGS.

Brady, Texas, April 28.

"Yes Sir! Studebaker wagons are made to back up a reputation."

"I know, because wagons of every make come into my shop for repairs, and I have a chance to see how few are Studebakers."

That's the opinion of thousands of blacksmiths who know the quality of Studebaker wagons.

The owners never regretted that they bought Studebakers.

Tested materials, accurate workmanship insure a wagon unequalled for durability, and this careful selection of wood, iron, steel, paint and varnish has been a fixed rule with the Studebaker wagon Company for sixty years. That is why a Studebaker wagon runs easiest and lasts longest. It is built on honor.

Whether you live in town or country, there is a Studebaker vehicle to fill your requirements for business or pleasure—and harness of every description made as carefully as are Studebaker vehicles.

J. O. Beck of Goldthwaite has purchased the Lyric-Airdome from Julius Levy, and will take charge of the theatre Monday, May 5th. Mr. Beck is a very pleasant gentleman, and gives assurance that he will conduct one of the cleanest and best places of amusement and entertainment in the city. He will continue the moving pictures, securing the best that can be procured, and will also have vaudeville and stock companies as opportunity affords. Mr. Beck will be assisted in the management of the show by his wife, who accompanied him here from Goldthwaite Tuesday.

Mr. Levy has not fully decided upon his future plans, but is contemplating a visit to his old home in Montana. Upon his return he will most likely open up in Menard or some place in this immediate section, as he has become so attached to the Brady country during his four or five years residence here that he hardly feels he could leave us entirely.

GIN MEN'S PICNIC.

Bencini Camp Proves Popular. Large Attendance.

There was quite a delegation of McCulloch county gin men in attendance upon the Bencini camp at Plover Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, and all report the best of times. The Bencini camp is an annual affair, and has come to be a very popular institution with the gin men, who come from all through the central western section of Texas to partake of Mr. Bencini's hospitality. Among those who attended from McCulloch county were Ed and Wm. Bauhof, J. C. Koerth, A. W. Wood, John Hanson, Brady; E. W. Harris, Broadmoor; M. Z. Bates, Lohn; R. K. Finlay, Fife; John Deans, Voca; B. F. Stone, L. A. Williamson, A. Oliver, Rochelle. Quite a number of Mason county giners were also in attendance.

That the Bencini camp is an ideal spot for rest and recreation is attested by the following, reprinted from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram:

"Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bencini proved just how popular the outdoors is just now with the society folk of Fort Worth. Their week-end camp on the Corn ranch near Plover was attended by crowds of people from this city reaching the number of 250 at one time.

"Though the Bencini camp has reached the dignity of an annual affair, it has not been allowed to lose the charm of novelty. This year it was on a more elaborate scheme.

Mr. Bencini selected for the camp a smooth, open grassy space set in a grove of oaks and elms. Nearby a creek with deep pools furnished fishing for those who cared to fish, and the grove was set with swings, hammocks and lounging and loafing devices of all kinds. Eight huge tents were pitched in the clearing and the open air commissary was most complete. A camp house party of fifty guests remained during the entire time, and other guests came and went at intervals.

"Saturday night featured the camp. Before twilight fell, a large crowd went out from Fort Worth in autos, and festivities began with a barbecue supper. A huge bonfire of dried forest wood was then lighted, which took the chill from the cool night air and furnished illumination for the dancing which continued on a stretched tarpaulin until 12 o'clock.

"Sunday was a day of rest and quietude in the camp. Guests motored out for lunch and lounged about under the trees, content to be in the open air and to enjoy the stillness of the country."

DUSTY DOINGS.

Voca, Texas, April 26. Editor Brady Standard: How are you all enjoying this fine rain? It began raining here about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning and rained till about 6; the ground is sure wet. You talk about your million dollar rain—a million dollars would not be a drop in the bucket to this rain.

People of this community are generally well and up with their work, so they sure can enjoy the rain. A large crowd of young people enjoyed themselves at a singing at Mr. J. P. Schaefer's Sunday night.

Well, as news is scarce, will close and give space to a better writer.

Much success to The Standard and its many readers. SAMANTHA.

Decoration Day.

Sunday was decoration day, and appropriate services had been planned by the Confederate veterans and the Daughters of the Confederacy, but through an unfortunate misunderstanding the exercises were not had. According to the plans of the veterans and the Daughters it was intended to have memorial services Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at the court house, Rev. Morris being expected to conduct the same. At the conclusion the veterans and the ladies expected to go to the cemetery and place the wreaths upon the graves of the veterans who have answered the last roll call.

Instead, however, the services were held at the Methodist church in the morning and those who came to the court house in the afternoon were disappointed. However, all went to the cemetery, where the wreaths were placed upon the graves of Confederate and Federal veterans alike—some twenty having been laid away there.

BRADY, TEXAS, MAY 2, 1913

ELECTION TOMORROW.

If the election for school trustees has caused any interest among the citizens of Brady, we have failed to note it. In fact, we hardly believe more than a dozen citizens are aware of the fact that four trustees are to be elected tomorrow. Brady citizens should arouse to the fact that this is one of the most important elections to be held, and the selection of trustees who are to devote their time and interest to the welfare and upbuilding of the Brady schools should be given careful thought and study.

It is no easy task to secure the promise of good men to accept the office, even when tendered, and when good men do allow their names to be presented, the voters should take enough interest to vote their preferences.

Come out tomorrow and name
your choice.

We are looking for you out at the ball game Monday—don't you fail us. Brady wants a good, fat fund for fund for her charity work.

LIKE HOME-MADE AXE
HANDLES.

When the women take charge of the government in the next year or two, we hope they will remember that for years we have championed their cause, and in return for this, show us the consideration of being allowed to retain our trousers until we can learn to sew. We have no objection to wearing hobble skirts, but we want to make them look attractive.
Really, we are anxious for the time to come. There is something fascinating about the thought of having the ladies watch us as we cross the street with a handbag in one hand and our skirt in the other on a rainy day.—Menard Messenger.

Huh, don't imagine that a change in the political status of woman is going to put you in hobble skirts or make you beautiful. Even when the ladies begin collecting the taxes, presiding in the courts, running the political parties and dispensing the public patronage you will not be deprived of your dearly beloved pants. You will still dress in the habiliments that now signify masculinity. Women do not want to wear men's clothes. No woman looks good in male attire and every woman knows it. Nor will there be any necessity for your carrying a handbag and mincing along with inch steps. You will still have pockets and no impediment in your stride. And, as for anybody watching you cross the street on a wet day—why, man, who do you think would turn half around to glimpse at a pair of ankles that look like homemade ax handles?—Dallas News

The Standard's classy little classified ad column threatened to overdo our claims for efficiency last week. Ernest Noble advertised for a lost pair of glasses, and had two pair returned to him. He identified the first pair as his property, although the glasses were broken out, and after he had sent them in for repairs a second pair was returned to him, the latter fitting his eyes to a nicety and convincing him that the first pair might not have found their true owner. He says Standard ads pay; we say they pay. What are you going to do the next time you lose, find or want something?

"TAILING UP" A DEAD TOWN.

Wanted—A doctor to diagnose the case of Colorado; to tell us what's the matter with the town that those who have at heart its interests—who have what little they do own invested here—may do something to keep the town on the move. If the citizens of the community can't do better team work than has been the rule the past two years the undertaker might as well be sent for now and save the nurse hire.—Colorado Record.

For the world like an old cow we once owned. The old cow got down with her "head under her." We straightened her head and neck, fed and watered her, and "tailed her up," but she wouldn't stand for a minute.
We rigged a derrick and hoisted her up with a block and tackle, but still she wouldn't stand—or even try to stand on her feet.
Then we got mad and called her names that would be resented by the self-respecting. We kicked and spurred her, and then she wouldn't stand. Finally, in our anger, we sicked old Nero and Watch on her. At first she paid no attention to the dogs; but when old Nero bit her on the heel and Watch laid hold of her nose, that old cow let out a snort, got up from there and made those dogs hard to catch, and when we tried to interfere she made us climb a tree. In three months from that time that old cow was sleek and fat and enjoying good health.

Colorado is just like that old cow—down with her head under her. She thinks she's going to die, and has given up; so what's the use? The Record has straightened out her head and neck. It has given her fodder of wisdom and water of life, but she won't stand up. The Record has strained its back "tailing her up," but she won't stay up.
It has hoisted the old hussy with the block and tackle of its brain, but nothing doing. The Record is getting mad—anybody can see that—and is putting the spurs in the flank of the old town. One of these days the Record man is going to sick the dogs on the aggravating old thing, and then look out! She will spring to her feet and may make the editor take to the tail amber; but when she gets her tanger cooled, she will come back to her feed and forget that she once gave up to die.

Colorado has the making of a bully town in her, but she is down with her head under her, and she thinks she is going to die, but the Record is not going to let her. Put the spurs to her, brother, and she'll come alive.
She may make you hunt a tree,
but it's the last resort.—Sterling City News-Record.

CALLS PASTOR.
Rev. W. G. Caperton Accepts Pastorate of Baptist Church.

At a meeting of the members of the Baptist church Wednesday night a unanimous call was extended Rev. W. G. Caperton to the pastorate of the church.
Rev. Caperton accepted the call with the understanding that he will fill his contract with the church at Lohn, and the acceptance was approved by the members. This will enable Rev. Caperton to give three Sundays to the Brady church, while continuing to fill his regular appointment at Lohn on the first Sundays in each month. Bro. Caperton is one of the most respected and highly esteemed pastors in the Baptist pulpit today, and the members of the church are to be congratulated upon securing his services.

Rev. Caperton announces services at the Brady Baptist church as follows: Services on

Notice to Parents and Guardians
The prevalence of whooping cough necessitates taking precautions to prevent its spread.
The disease is not a quarantinable one in the accepted sense, yet it may be necessary to enforce strictest measures in certain instances brought to the notice of this department where parents or guardians have no regard for the welfare of others and are permitting children afflicted with the disease to come in contact with other children by visiting and frequenting public meeting places. Let the un-thoughtful take warning.

HUGE BASE BALL GAME

MONDAY, MAY 5—BENEFIT UNITED CHARITIES.

Business Men to Play Brady High School Team—Stores to Close for the Game.

The biggest event of the season is scheduled for Monday afternoon at the ball park, when a picked team of sedate business men and former champs of the diamond, will cross bats with the Brady high school team.

The ex-Vets have been assiduously devoting themselves to renewing acquaintance with the "ins" and "outs" of base ball and by Monday the ugliest spit ball will have no terrors for any of the bunch. During the past few days they have had several try-outs on the local diamond, and despite their long retirement show surprisingly good form, and threatens to run a ring around the school boys that much resembles a goose egg. However, the latter may just be fooling the Vets and to make the doubt a certainty you had best come out Monday and take in the sights.

Of course it is hardly expected that any business man would risk getting a split thumb or be willing to run his feet off around 360 feet of bases without some object or purpose—and the object this time, dear reader, is for sweet charity's sake. Nearly every city maintains a fund for the very poor, the unfortunate and the helpless, and as there has been no collection taken for this purpose in Brady in many months, the treasury has become sadly depleted. Consequently it is indeed kind and charitable for the above teams to offer to play a benefit game and it is hoped that the citizens of Brady will attend and assist the very worthy cause. It has been planned to have the merchants close their stores during the afternoon and the occasion will be made a holiday affair, which no one can afford to miss.

If you have any doubts as to the game possessing merits just glance over the following list of business men and citizens who have offered themselves as sacrifices, so to speak, upon the altar of charity. Imagine the fat ones running bases and the long, lengthy ones trying to stop a hot liner or get under a high one. You can't imagine it; you must come out and see.

Here are the Vets: J. M. Fuller, W. R. Davidson, G. M. Bennett, Laurence Fuller, W. N. White, Max Scharif, Will Ballou, F. B. Adams, W. F. Crothers, Buzz Ogden, Karl Steffins, Dr. H. W. Lindley.

The high school lineup: Snider, c.; Hardison, p.; Jackson, ss.; Adkins, 1b.; Boyd, 2b.; Fahrenthold, 3b.; Fuller, cf.; McKnight, rf.; Morris, lf.

Sessions-Jones.

Wednesday, April 30th, marked a most beautiful nuptial ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. King, when Mr. Virgil Lee Sessions and Miss Emma Jones linked their lives in the holy bonds of matrimony.

The exquisitely tender ceremony and nuptial blessing were celebrated and imparted by the Rev. Thomas P. Grant, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The bridal pair entered the parlor with much grace and ease, to appropriate music enunciated by Miss Lucile Yantis and stood beneath a bower of green and white. A large heart bearing the initials "S" and "J" formed a background for the charming wedding picture.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Helen Walker sang "Because" in her characteristically effective style. Immediately following, the happy couple received congratulations from the numerous guests present.

In the dining room where the wedding colors of pink and white prevailed, a delicious course of pink and white brick ice cream and pink and white nut cake was served. The hall was beautifully decorated in blooming tiger lilies, profusions of red roses and potted ferns. Fruit punch was served throughout the evening.

The guests' register was in the living room, where festoons of blue and white lent beauty to the arrangement of blossoming white geraniums and maiden hair ferns. The multitude of presents were on display in the adjoining apartment of pink, tall vases of pink carnations being everywhere.

The fair face and pleasing form of the bride were quite striking in a gown of white meteor draped over white charmeuse, with trimmings of crystal beads. She wore a hair ornament of brilliants and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and white sweet peas.

Those assisting in the entertaining and serving were as follows:

Mrs. R. A. King, sister of the bride, clad in cream voile, with trimmings of shadow lace.

Mrs. Bert Page, sister of the bride, wearing tan silk, with touches of nell rose.

Mrs. Clara Milligan, charmingly gowned in yellow brocaded satin caught in place by buckles of pink rose buds.

Mrs. V. B. Deaton, in corn colored taffeta, with edges of green.

Mrs. Carl Steffins, wearing red crepe de chine, with trimmings of ecru lace.

Mrs. John I. Jones, mother of the bride, clad in black and white taffeta.

Miss Lucile Yantis wore a charming frock of pink messaline, draped in shadow lace, with a tunic of blue taffeta and finished with pink chiffon rose buds and hand embroidery.

Miss Helen Walker, wearing a dainty lingerie gown over pink satin.

Miss Vera King was becomingly dressed in white voile, hand embroidered in pink, with pink accessories.

Miss Balla Greenwood wore white embroidered voile, held in folds by pink rose buds.

Mrs. Cleve Jones, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a becoming gown of tan silk, with touches of blue and gold.

Mrs. Tom Jones, sister-in-law of the bride, wearing a dainty dress of white batiste, trimmed with tiny rose buds of pink satin.

Mr. and Mrs. Sessions will be at home to their many friends, after May 5th, at their pretty bungalow home in Crothers addition.

Complimentary Event.

(Contributed.)

Miss Stella Bradley entertained on last Thursday evening at her home complimentary to the bride and groom elect, Miss Emma Jones and Mr. Virgil Lee Sessions. The guests were met at the door by Miss Bradley, whom they all knew to be a charming hostess.

The living room, parlor and dining room were decorated in red and white wedding bells; beautiful ferns and cut flowers were artistically placed here and there. Profusions of blossoming honeysuckle were in each room, which lent their fragrance to the scene.

Hand-painted tally cards were given the guests for "42", which game was played until a late hour, when refreshments of fruit salad, olives, sandwiches and iced tea were served to the following: Misses Emma Jones, Mary Johanson, Esther Anderson, Minnie Elliot, Clara Webster, Marie Cornils, Louise Hardison, Ruby Wood, Carrie Berry, Ruth Campbell, Mamie Spiller, Ruth Wood, Ferol Ford, Olga Schaege, Lucile Yantis, Mozelle Glenn, Vera King, Gertrude Stewart; Messrs. Virgil Lee Sessions, Ernest Noble, Curt Coleman, Clarence Snider, Firman Jackson, Paul Calvert, Silas Mayo, John Moffatt, Ben Anderson, N. G. Lyle, Porter Cooke, Harry Schwenker, Kent Hallum, John Ramey, Sam McCollum, Ben Moffatt, Gordon Stewart and Top Jones.

The complimented guests were presented with a box of stationery and a hand embroidered glove case.

After the refreshments the guests registered in a hand-painted guests' book of red and gold, which was later presented to Miss Jones.

Miss Bradley was most graciously assisted in serving by Miss Ferol Ford, each being clad in dainty gowns of red silk. Miss Jones wore an exquisite gown of red crepe de chine, with a red spangled aigrette as a hair ornament.

Kitchen Shower.

At the pretty home of Mrs. S. J. Striegler on Friday Mesdames Carl Steffins and Striegler delightfully entertained with a kitchen shower, honoring the bride-to-be, Miss Emma Jones.

The guests had been asked to arrange their gifts into hats and hand to the hostesses before the party. At an appropriate time Miss Jones was invited into the living room, which had been converted into an artistic millinery shop. Inverted stew-pans, draped in harmonizing colors of crepe paper, furnished bewitching little models so fashionable this season. And, too, the shallow sauce pans, covered with fluted ruffles made one of the large shapes that are to be worn. Much merriment was derived from trying on the various styles. Plants and flowers completed the decorations.

In the dining room a pleasing salad course, with coffee and white cake, was served in tin plates and cups, the entire table being laid in tin, with a large pail filled with pink and white carnations, as a centerpiece. The room was aglow with light from wax tapers stationed in tin cups. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Steffins from a large tin coffee pot. Quite appropriate favors, suggestive of the event, were a miniature kitchen table with a rolling pin attached.

During the afternoon Miss Helen Walker rendered several of her choice vocal selections. Music was had on the piano by Misses Ruth Wood and Lucile Yantis. Pretty corsage bouquets of pink and white sweet peas were presented the guests in the parlor, which was beautifully decorated with banks of green and bowls of pink and white sweet peas.

Those included in this afternoon's pleasures were Misses Ruby Wood, Sarah Johanson, Helen Walker, Ferol Ford, Estella Bradley, Mozelle Glenn, Olga Schaege, Ruth Wood, Esther Anderson, Nora Sheridan, Lucile Yantis, Mary Johanson, Maud Sheridan, Minnie Elliot; Mesdames R. A. King, Bert Page, Cleve Jones and Tom Jones, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. John Jones, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Clara Millerkin. The honoree wore a becoming afternoon dress of tan, with trimming of Bulgarian silk.

Miss Johanson Hostess.

Miss Mary Johanson entertained very pleasantly for Miss Jones on Saturday afternoon at her home in Crothers addition.

Five tables were placed among decorations of ferns and red lilies, for "Bunco." At the end of a routine of interesting games the first prize, a hand-crocheted collar, fell to Miss Lucile Yantis, and the honor guest received an elaborately crocheted centerpiece.

Dainty refreshments of pineapple ice and nut cake and candy were served to Misses Clara Webster, Vera King, Mozelle Glenn, Olga Schaege, Carrie Berry, Nora and Maud Sheridan, Ruby Wood, Gertrude Stewart, Louise Hardison, Minnie Elliot, Ruth Wood, Esther Anderson, Ferol Ford, Estella Bradley, Carrie Sessions, Sarah Johanson and the bride-to-be.

Throughout the evening grape punch was served in the dining room.

The hostess wore a girlish frock of pink bordered ratine, and Miss Jones wore red crepe, with ecru lace.

Complimentary Farewell.

The members of the Beauties club enjoyed a theatre party on Friday evening at the Lyric theatre as a farewell compliment to one of the members, Miss Mamie Spiller, who left on Saturday to make her home in Corpus Christi.

The bevy of daintily dressed girls had arranged a meeting place at the Jones Drug store, from which place they proceeded to the Lyric, remaining during the first performance. Upon returning to the drug store, a delicious ice course was served to the following: Misses Ruth Campbell, Ruth Wood, Esther Anderson, Louise Hardison, Olga Schaege, Carrie Berry, Ferol

Stitch and Chatter Club.

Miss Sibyl Shropshire asked the Stitch and Chatter club to meet with her Wednesday, April 30th, from 3:30 to 6:00. Delicious cream and cake, with candy, was served during the afternoon.

The members present were: Misses Mattie Huey and Bernice Bell.

Miss Fannie Embry entertains next club day.

Curtain Shower.

On Tuesday Miss Emma Jones was honor guest to a delightfully planned shower in connection with a six course breakfast at the home of Miss Lucile Yantis from 10:00 to 11:30 a. m.

On answering the door bell Miss Yantis received a large express package, which was presented to Miss Jones, who immediately opened the box, revealing a quantity of dainty schrem curtains sufficient to curtain the entire bungalow to be occupied by the prospective bride.

Forty-Two Club.

Miss Laura Lee White was the charming hostess to a "42" party on Wednesday afternoon from 3:00 until 6:00.
