

Cooking Demonstration.

Miss Neva Colville is conducting a cooking demonstration in the furniture department of O. D. Mann & Sons store this week which is drawing quite large and interested crowds at each session. Miss Colville is a graduate of the domestic science department of one of the largest colleges of the East and is an expert in the preparation and serving of dainty dishes, and her lectures on these subjects are highly interesting to the large crowds in attendance at each session.

The demonstration will continue until tomorrow night, and all citizens are cordially invited to call. Dainty samples of the most delicious cookery are served to the visitors.

How to Keep Books on the Farm

The United States Department of Agriculture has just issued a bulletin entitled "A System of Farm Cost Accounting," which is of interest to every Texas farmer. No previous knowledge of bookkeeping is necessary to understand the system outlined, and if the farmer follows the suggestions, he will find them of value in estimating the profits or losses on his business every year. The system, as described, has been tried for several years in some of the older agricultural states and it has won favor with many farmers. Texas farmers can secure a copy of this report by addressing their congressman or the secretary of agriculture.

MEDICAL SOCIETY.

Holds Regular Monthly Meeting Here Yesterday.

One of the most interesting sessions in the history of the McCulloch County Medical Society was held yesterday in the offices of Drs. McCall & Anderson.

A splendid program had been arranged for the meeting which was carried out in detail. Each number was received with keenest interest by the attending physicians, and altogether the meeting was a pronounced success, both from a social and scientific standpoint.

The following program was carried out:

"The Surgical Aspect of Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Work," Dr. Frank D. Boyd, Fort Worth.

"Eugenics," Dr. T. Richard Sealey, Santa Anna.

"The Business of Medicine," Dr. S. C. Parsons, San Angelo.

"Treatment of Typhoid Fever," Dr. J. B. Granville, Brady.

"Report of Cases," Dr. D. D. Smith, Melvin.

"Goitre," Dr. A. C. Scott, Temple.

In addition to those on the program, the following physicians were in attendance: Dr. Ellis of Lampasas, president of the District Medical Society, Drs. Land of Lohn, Jackson of Voca and McCall, Anderson and Callan of this city.

Little Child Dies.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Will Murphy will be grieved to learn of the death of their 3-months-old daughter, Ida Annie May, which occurred at the home in Alpine at 6:30 Saturday morning, after a short illness of pneumonia.

The first news of the illness of the child was contained in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Ward of this city, parents of Mrs. Murphy, a few days ago, and the news of the death came in a telegram to Mr. Ward Saturday morning.

Funeral services and interment took place at Alpine at 5:30 Saturday afternoon.

We are ready to demonstrate the Fuller & Johnson famous "Farm Pump" engine at any time. This wonderful little engine is truly a giant and is worth many times its price. O. D. Mann & Sons.

Teachers' Examination.

An examination for state certificates was held at the courthouse Friday and Saturday by the county examining board composed of G. H. Jeffreys of Mercury, O. E. Rice of Rochelle and Miss Ruby Payne of Fife.

There were twenty-eight applicants for state teachers' certificates who took the examination, six of whom applied for first grade and twenty-three for second. Included in the number was eleven men and eighteen women.

The papers will be sent to the state examining board to be graded, and the final result will not be known for several days.

Enter The Prize Contest Now.

Those who have not yet entered the Texas Industrial Congress contest for 1914, in which $10,000 in gold will be given away for the greatest net profits obtained in growing field crops and feeding livestock should not be discouraged from sending their names in to the office of the Congress at Dallas, because those who have already entered the contest have obtained little, if any, advantage through earlier planting. The slow, rainy planting season has to a considerable degree placed the disadvantage upon those who entered first and have seeded their ground.

There is absolutely no charge made in any way for entering the contest, in fact, the contestant has everything to gain and nothing to lose in trying to make the greatest possible yields from his land at the least expense. In addition to the large money prizes that the right kind of work is sure to earn, the contestant receives the benefit of the increased earnings from his land. One 19-year-old boy made an acre of cotton yield $105.30 last year, not counting the seed, after all expenses had been paid, and he also learns from getting these results once, how to get them every year.

The A. & M. College has recognized the work of the Congress for this year by voting free scholarships in the Farmers' Short Course to the ten contestants getting the best net profits in their work.

The difference between entering and not entering the contest is the difference between being satisfied with what you are now doing, and trying to do better. Everybody knows that the successes of the world in every line are made up only of those who are trying to make themselves better in their respective lines. The Congress hopes that every farmer in the state, whether man, woman, boy or girl will at once send in his name and help put Texas on the map for big farming results, the best advertising we can have. Application blanks may be had by writing at once to the Texas Industrial Congress.

For County Treasurer.

In the proper column of this issue will be found the name of J. W. Shirley as a candidate for County Treasurer. Mr. Shirley is well and favorably known throughout the county, having been a resident of the Pear Valley community for the past ten years, where he is engaged in farming. He is also acting as pastor of a number of Baptist churches in that section of the county.

Mr. Shirley has reached that age in life when it is impossible for him to do manual labor, and as his financial condition will not permit of a cessation of activity, he feels that his claim for the office should receive due consideration at the hands of the voters. He is a life-long democrat, and has never before sought any public office.

He asks a careful consideration of his candidacy at the hands of the voters in the July primary.

Visits Confederate Home.

The following item appeared in the Fort Worth Record a few days ago concerning W. R. Pence of this city, who is visiting at several different points in the southern portion of the state. The item is taken from "Tales Told By a Johnny Reb," a weekly communication from the pen of Taylor Thompson, an inmate of the Confederate Home at Austin:

"I had a pleasant call a few days since from Mr. W. R. Pence of Brady, Texas, a grizzled old Yankee veteran, who served throughout the civil war in the One Hundredth Pennsylvania regulars. Mr. Pence was much pleased with what he saw in the home, and I told him that if he had come fooling around our camp fifty years ago some of us would have filled him full of lead. But things have changed now, and we were glad to meet him."

Forty-Nine New Gins.

During the ginning season of 1913-14 there were 49 new gins established in Texas. The total number of gins employed in ginning the 1913 Texas cotton crop was 4,349 and each plant turned out 906 bales. Owing to the short crop, the average run per gin was 229 bales less than in 1912, when Texas produced her bumper crop of 4,880,210 bales of 500 pounds each. The 1913 crop, according to preliminary estimates of the census bureau, is 3,943,133, or 937,037 bales less than the crop of 1912.

The cost of ginning last year's cotton crop was approximately $8,000,000 and was paid by the farmers of Texas.

Feeling that the time of the farmers of this county is too valuable at the present to force them to leave their work to do jury duty, County Judge Harvey Walker has ordered all cases on the docket for the April term of county court continued, and announces that no spring term of his court will be held.
 There is practically nothing on the criminal docket of the court, and the civil cases set for the term are of such minor importance that neither side will suffer from a continuance. This action of Judge Walker is most commendable, and, we believe, meets with the approval of the citizenship in general.

A county-wide election for the prohibition of pool halls in Milam county is to be held this week, and last Friday's issue of the Rockdale Reporter contained a full page ad from the anti-pool hall folks calling attention of the voters to the importance of exercising their rights of suffrage on the question, setting forth a number of reasons why the pool halls should go.
 Evidently the Milam county citizens are deeply in earnest in their efforts to get rid of these places, and believe that publicity is the best means of accomplishing the end. Their example might be followed with profit by other communities.

 contains information which

Our Fire Losses.

The state fire marshal's recent report conveys the startling information that we have a fire on an average of every forty minutes, and the statistical classification is a ghostly indictment against our citizenship for unpardonable, if not criminal carelessness, for it shows that 9,600 fires per annum are preventable. Among all the elements of destruction, fire is the most complete destroyer and perhaps the most loosely controlled.

Most every village maintains a fire department, and we spend millions of dollars in labor and equipment in fighting fires and we are told in a most convincing manner that 80 per cent is preventable. We spend millions in fighting fires where we spend a dollar in preventing them.

"CRACKS AT THE CROWD"

From Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

When some revolutionary leader captures and holds us for a $500,000 ransom we shall plead with him eloquently to reduce the demand. Right now we can't place our hand on anybody who would give up that amount to save us.

John Rockefeller attends church regularly, and we imagine it is best for him. If we had done all the things that have been charged up against John, we'd go to both services every Sunday. A man should be religious at any age, but especially should a fellow who is too old to do any more devilment, repent of his sins and travel the straight and narrow path that he is too feeble to leave.

The Austin Statesman inquires: "Is it hygienic for a candidate to kiss the babies?"
 It is not, and any candidate who does it should be defeated. There is absolutely no sense in such a practice. Telling the father that the child looks like him and seems to be an unusually bright chap will secure the vote just the same, and is not attended with any danger, so far as health is concerned. Of course a fellow may have to answer in the next world for such a brutal disregard for the truth.

It takes a mighty smart person to call offhand the name of the individual who was married some weeks ago to Miss Jessie Wilson. And as for the chap who induced Miss Alice Roosevelt to change her name, none of us could place him were we to hear his name spoken from the megaphone.—Waco Times-Herald.

You flatter us—we knew the names of both. Miss Wilson married a newspaper man by the name of Moore, and Alice Roosevelt—we've forgotten just now, but it was a bald-headed fellow, and wasn't Judd Lewis of the Houston Post.

The Anahuac Progress says
 the thing that makes an editor most angry is to see an item from his pen copied and credited to another paper. That is annoying, to be sure. And we have often wondered if other people felt about another thing as we do. When we see a paper that has a line and a half copied from us, that issue of the paper is a success. We read the ads even, and feel that the editor is a broad-minded, appreciative gentleman that really ought to be in congress. And he'd get our vote, too. One Republican sometimes copies items from us, and plagued if we don't believe we'd let him in the house on a bitter cold night—if he'd promise to reform.

A Parisian designer, says clothes, both as to design and material, should fit the particular woman wearing them. This is a sensible view, and will some day be the established rule.
 Suppose that large checks are all the rage, under the present system—the stout woman must wear them, even if they make her look like a plum pudding, and the slender woman must wear stripes, when stripes prevail, even if they make her appear as if she could wade the Atlantic ocean. But the worst possible combination is when the tall woman has to wear stripes and her sawed-off husband is forced by the monster custom into checks. He is a magnificent representation of the head of the house, indeed he is. It gives one the idea that she has to pick him up every time she goes to tell him anything, and sit him on her shoulder so he can get close enough to her ear to be heard. There ought at least to be a double standard in fashions—one for the fats and another for the leans.

Was Far Behind.

An old farmer and his wife drove to market one day. It had been a very wet day, and large pools of water had formed in the roadway between the farm and town.

On the return journey an old friend was met.

"And how are you today?"
 was the friendly greeting.

"Oh, very well, thank you," answered the farmer.

"How is the missis?" continued the friend.

"She's fine, fine!" answered the farmer. "She's behind there," jerking his thumb toward the back seat.

"She's not there!" said the astonished friend. The old farmer slowly turned and looked over his shoulder then coolly replied:

"Hump! that would be the splash, then!"—London Tele-

SAN SABA SAYINGS

From the News.

The commissioners' court of Mills county has ordered an election for April 8th to determine whether or not pool halls shall be permitted in the city of Goldthwaite.

R. T. Quick of Kansas City has been here this week and bought 600 head of mutton from Evans and Holcomb.

Miss Balla Greenwood went to Richland Springs Sunday. She will visit in Brady before returning.

W. O. McCully made a business trip to Brady the first of the week.

News comes just as we go to press that Berry Ketchum died Tuesday in San Angelo.

A. N. Bryson of Brady was here a couple of days last week buying San Saba cedar.

C. C. Russell was down from Brady last week.

C. W. Strain, general passenger agent of the Frisco railroad, with headquarters in Houston, and C. E. Wynne, division freight agent, with headquarters at Fort Worth, spent between trains in San Saba Saturday.

Miss Fannie Kirkpatrick spent last week at home, the Rochelle school being suspended on account of the smallpox scare. She was called back to resume her school Monday.

W. O. McCully left Tuesday for Navasota, where he goes for a week end social function.

From the Star.

There will be a meeting of the business men tomorrow (Friday) night at the court house for the purpose of organizing a business league or club. Every business man and citizen of San Saba should be at the meeting and help boost the matter into a real live organization. If San Saba had an organization of this kind, we mean a real live one, we have a real dead one—much could be accomplished in putting San Saba on the map. If you want San Saba to grow, if you want your business to grow, if you want your property to increase in value, come out tomorrow night and help organize and go at the work in a systematic manner.

Charlie Williams spent Sunday in Brady and lingered a few days the first of the week attending to "unfinished business."

Find of Skulls.

While exploring in a cave near O. F. Wyrick's on Devil's river last Saturday, Lister Orr found nine or ten human skeletons. Six of the skulls are entire, while there are fragments of three others. They were in a cave above the high water mark. On account of the extreme dryness of the cave they might have been there for centuries.

One of the skulls contains a round hole and it is probably that the owner met with violence.

The University of Texas will be asked to examine the skulls to determine the age and what race they belonged to.—Del Rio Herald.

Our line of spring samples is complete. Can make you a suit at any price you want to pay. P. W. Williams, Your Tailor.

Had His Nerve.

This story is being told by a well known London doctor. A friend came to consult him professionally, and after the consultation was finished the doctor wrote out a prescription.

"You had better have this made up at the chemist's," he said. "It will probably cost you half a crown."

"Half a crown?" the patient exclaimed. "All right I'll get it made up." Then, as he turned to go, he added: "I say, could you lend me half a crown to pay it with?"

The doctor gasped. He recovered in a second, however, and asked for the prescription. The patient handed it back, and after the doctor had scratched out one item in it he returned it again, together with a sixpence.

"You can get what is left made up for sixpence," he remarked dryly. "What I scratched out was for your nerves."

GENT'S FURNISHINGS :: FINE TAILORING

Forgot Former Fiancee.

A man from Amsterdam, N. Y., walked over to the manager at the Biltmore yesterday at lunch time and said:

"Great place this lobby for meeting people."

"You are quite right," returned the manager a shade of pride in his tone.

"Remarkable," went on the man. "Do you know, as I crossed the lobby just now a woman rushed up to me and called me by my first name. 'Hello, Sackett,' said she. I could have sworn I had never seen her in my life before."

The manager looked a little concerned. "That is unusual," he said. "I must—"

"Oh, it's all right," said the other. "After I had been talking with her for a moment or two I remembered. I used to be engaged to her eight years ago in Boston. But, I assure you, when she first spoke I had not the faintest idea who she was." —New York Times.

James' Economy.

"Papa," asked little James, "Wouldn't you be glad if I saved a dollar for you?"

"Certainly, my son," said papa, so delighted at this evidence of budding business ability that he handed the youth a dime.

"Well, I saved it, all right," said James, disappearing. "You said if I brought a good report from my teacher you would give me a dollar; but I didn't." —Exchange.

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess," says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good."

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.
