COMMISSIONERS COURT.

Easy Going Over Tax Renditions—Will require Some Time.

The county commissioners met in regular session Monday, and all members of the court present.

The time of the court until Tuesday noon was taken up with routine matters, after which it was resolved into a court of equalization. This court will require the time of the court and probably all of next Tuesday noon are as follows:

Monthly report of collections Tax Collector S. H. Mayo examined and duly approved by the court.

A. Harlow, a pauper, was ordered the sum of $10 per month on order of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. The quarterly report of McLaughlin & Farquhar, butchers (Melvin), was examined, found correct and approved.

Butcher's bond of J. W. Cole (Luchelle) in the sum of $200 examined and approved by court.

T. Lemons was granted permission to construct a stock pen under the Crutsinger

The report of John Rainbolt, county treasurer, for the quarter ending May 11 was examined, found correct and duly approved.

Tabular statement of receipts and disbursements of county funds by Clerk W. J. Yantis for the past month was examined and approved.

The quarterly report of County Clerk W. J. Yantis, showing amounts received on jury fees was examined and approved by the court.

The court ordered the transfer of $1,500 from the general to the road and bridge fund.

CLUB BANQUET.

Annual Meeting Tuesday Night Well Attended.

Despite the inclement weather, a good attendance of the members of the Brady Commercial club was had at the annual meeting and luncheon in the Syndicate building on Tuesday evening.

Judge F. M. Newman, president of the club, acted as toastmaster, and a number of local citizens responded to call with short impromptu talks, notable among which was that by G. V. Gansel on the subject of good roads and Judge J. E. Shropshire, a member of the board of managing trustees of the city water and light department, in which he gave a lengthy review of what had been accomplished by the board since taking charge of the business. Both these talks were interesting and elicited the hearty applause of those present.

Col. Jack McGaughey, chicken fancier and cotton buyer, who lives in Brady, but calls Brownwood his home, made a short talk in defense of Brownwood's water supply, at which some of the preceding speakers had poked fun, and his remarks were provocative of vociferous laughter and applause.

A committee to select a board of directors was appointed by the chairman, the committee later reporting the following as their choice, and they were unanimously elected to serve for the year: F. M. Newman, Howard Broad, D. F. Savage, W. D. Crothers, J. A. Adkins, C. H. Vincent, H. P. Roddie, Lewis Brook, F. M. Richards, G. V. Gansel, Sam W. Moffatt. These directors will meet on Monday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers.

At the conclusion of the business session a delicious course of refreshments prepared for the occasion by Mine Host H. N. Cook of the Queen hotel was served.

Discontinues Local Branch.

Manager John Armstrong yesterday closed the local produce house conducted by him the past several months under the name of McCulloch County Produce Co., and left today for Menard, where he will spend a few days on business, after which he will go to Fort Worth to again make his home at that place.

Mr. Armstrong established the local branch of the business on November 8th, 1913, and since that time he has built up a lucrative trade, but on account of his advanced age and failing health, he has decided to retire from active business—for the present, at least—and take a well earned rest.

Mr. Armstrong made many friends while here by his honest, straightforward business methods, and while all will regret his decision to leave here he is assured of the best wishes of the people of Brady and McCulloch county. His grandson, C. A. Armstrong, who assisted in the business here, also returned to Fort Worth.

SNAKE BITE FATAL.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gabbert Victim of Rattler.

A letter received this week by Mrs. S. T. Ward from Mrs. C. M. Burger, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joe Gabbert at Riviera tells of the death of Grady, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gabbert on May 1st as a result of being bitten by a rattlesnake. The child only lived a few hours after being bitten, although everything possible was done to save his life. The funeral services and interment took place the following day, the body being laid to rest in the cemetery at Riviera.

The family is well known here, having made their home in Brady up to last winter when they removed to Riviera. Their many Brady and McCulloch friends will deeply sympathize with them in their bereavement.

"STARVING TO DEATH"
Was Mrs. Bell, of Florida, When She Began Taking Peruna.

"Yes, I was starving to death," said Mrs. Emma Bell, of Fort Pierce, Florida, Box 204, "when I began to take Peruna. I could not eat anything. If I swallowed anything it soured on my stomach. My stomach was very much swollen. My bowels acted as if I had acute dysentery. I was in great distress and pain. Three doctors had been employed, but gave me no relief. I was continually growing worse."
I Was in Despair.
"In my despair I caught at every straw. Picking up a newspaper I saw some account of Peruna. There was a testimonial from a woman who had been troubled much like myself. I concluded to try Peruna."
I Wrote to Dr. Hartman.
"At the same time I wrote to Dr. Hartman. He pronounced my case catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I soon began taking Peruna. At once I began to improve. After taking half a bottle my stomach was so improved that I could eat some."
I Began to Recover.
Then this good housewife goes on to narrate in detail her rapid improvement and final recovery. She said, "After taking two bottles of Peruna I was strong enough to stand up to wash the dishes." When she began taking Peruna she weighed 102 pounds. After she had taken five bottles of Peruna she weighed 122 pounds. She concludes by saying that she is well.
It Was Twelve Years Ago.
The letter from which the above quotations were made was received January 29, 1901. In a later letter, written September 11, 1904, she says, "I sing the praises of Peruna far and near. It is used a great deal in our vicinity. This seems to be a bad place for catarrh." We have received letters from her since. The last time we heard from her, December 1912, she was still a friend of Peruna.
For other testimonials on catarrh of the stomach, see "Ils of Life," sent free. Address Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.
The stomach and bowels are lined with a mucous membrane. They are therefore subject to catarrh, the same as the nose and throat. Catarrh of the stomach and bowels will damage the functions of these organs. The stomach can no longer digest food. The food lying in the stomach, even for a short time, without digestion, immediately sours. The souring produces gas and irritation.
Food Sours in the Stomach
A portion of the undigested meal is absorbed into the system by the blood vessels of the stomach. This poisons the whole system, producing a condition now known as auto-intoxication; self poisoning. The fermenting, irritating mass, as it passes down into the bowels irritates the bowels, producing sometimes a chronic diarrhea, sometimes producing the very opposite, constipation.
The average dyspepsia medicine helps to artificially digest the food. Even when such medicine does its work it is only temporary. A permanent relief can only be expected when the catarrh is overcome.
Symptoms of Catarrh of the Stomach.
The symptoms of catarrh of the stomach are: First, heartburn. Second, food rises in throat after meals. Third, sour stomach. Fourth, heavy feeling after eating. Fifth, stomach bloated, belching of gas. Sixth, palpitation of heart. Seventh, poor digestion, have dyspepsia. Eighth, tongue coated light brown. Ninth, tenderness over pit of stomach. Tenth, cannot bear tight clothes around waist.
People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

The Bane of Prosperity.
About the time the average family merges into prosperity the older members begin to be troubled with indigestion and constipation. J. W. Spencer, Chittenango, N. The Churches And The University.

Religious instruction is of course not permissible at any state school, but the various denominations, realizing that the University of Texas is a strategic point, have seen to it that their young people are well taken care of.

The Southern Presbyterian Church maintains a theological seminary three blocks north of the University campus, their students taking some of their work at the University while getting their religious training at their denominational school. The Roman Catholic church has just completed a dormitory and club house which adjoins their chapel on the square to the southwest of the campus. The Methodist church, which has by far the largest number of followers among the student body, has a church building just to the north of the University, and is planning to spend one hundred thousand dollars on a dormitory and student headquarters; while the Baptists are considering a similar plan. Through the generosity and loyalty of one Texas woman, the student members of the Christian church are at present perhaps the best provided for.

This woman, Mrs. M. M. Banks of Lockhart, gave forty thousand dollars to build and maintain a double building on a lot adjoining the University campus. Half of this building forms a residence for a trained Bible teacher who gives all of his time to work among the students, while the other half of the building is devoted to library, class room, etc. For many years the Episcopal church has maintained a dormitory for girls.

So favorably have the University authorities been impressed by the Bible courses offered by the various agencies that students taking regular instruction under certain competent teachers of these denominations are receiving credits toward their degrees, just as if the work were taken in the class rooms of the University. By this method, a goodly per cent of the young men and women students at the University of Texas are having regular instruction in Bible History, religious education, and like subjects that it is impossible for the University itself to offer.

If you are selling cream or making butter, and have no separator, or else an inferior machine, we know if we could put a De Laval on your place we would be doing you a personal favor.

If you haven't a separator don't make the mistake of starting with a "cheap" or inferior machine. When you do buy a separator—as soon or later you surely will—be sure to get the best—the De Laval. Remember, you can't make money by trying to save money in the purchase price of a cream separator. A De Laval costs only a little more than the cheapest and will save you twice as much and last five to ten times as long as other separators.

YOU NEED A NEW DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR NOW

1st: If you are still using some gravity or setting process of creaming----

BECAUSE your cows have likely freshened now and your supply of milk is greatest.
BECAUSE your spring work requires every minute of your time and a good cream separator will be a great time and labor saver.
BECAUSE your young calves will thrive best with warm, sweet separator skim-milk.
BECAUSE with your increased milk flow your greater waste of cream, without a good cream separator, must run into more money than you can afford to lose.

2nd: If you have a very old De Laval or an inferior separator of any other kind whether new or old----

BECAUSE the losses of the poor separator from incomplete skimming, and the tainted product of the hard-to-clean and unsanitary separator mean most when your volume of milk is the greatest.
BECAUSE an improved De Laval Cream Separator is so much simpler and more easily handled and cared for than any other and you can't afford to waste time these busy days fussing with an inferior or half worn-out machine.
BECAUSE the De Laval Separator of today is just as superior to other separators as other separators are to gravity setting.

A Pittsburg doctor says there is no harm in kissing—that is so far as health is concerned. He contends that as a rule only those who are healthy care to kiss. There is some reason in his argument. If a girl is suffering with grippe a boy might catch it by kissing her, but what boy would care to kiss a girl who has grippe? If a boy has mumps he isn't likely to call on his girl until the danger of contagion has passed.

If the young man chews tobacco and his girl dips snuff there is no earthly danger of disease resulting from kissing. The tobacco and snuff will kill all the germs—and most of the sentiment.

Normal at Mason.
The Standard's job department has completed the printing of a neat little 12-page folder for the Mason Summer Normal to be held at Mason beginning June 8th and closing July 10th.

A very strong faculty has been secured for the normal this year, and at the close, examinations for state certificates will be held. The following will constitute the faculty: Prof. R. H. Long, conductor; Miss Mollie Bierschwale, Prof. M. R. Nelson, C. D. Britt, L. Passmore and Miss Sue Buchanan of Fort Worth. These instructors have been selected with a view to their special fitness for teaching the subjects to which they will be assigned, each member of the faculty being a specialist in their different lines.

The Mason Normal includes the counties of Mason, Menard, San Saba, Kimble and a part of McCulloch, and a large number of teachers from these counties are expected to attend.

OAT RAISING PROFITABLE

Action of Angora Species in United States A Success.

The raising of Angora goats in the United States is now a demonstrated success. The industry is indeed so well established here that growers need not be inconvenienced by the action of South Africa in prohibiting the exportation of Angoras, for the quantity of good blood in this country is already sufficient to meet all requirements. In the opinion of experts the best American fleeces now equal any grown in South Africa or Asia Minor, the original home of the Angora. Although nearly every state in the Union now possesses its flocks, the Southwest and the Northwest are especially well adapted to the industry, in particular the large areas recently logged-off in the Northwest. There the Angora not only thrives himself but helps to clear away the brush which, if allowed to grow unchecked, might easily become a dangerous fire trap. Thus it is often said that the Angora works and pays for its board at the same time. It is paying more and more, for the value of the fleece or mohair is increasing steadily. Formerly the use of mohair depended so largely upon the prevailing fashion that its price varied widely from year to year. This condition, however, is rapidly changing as new uses for mohair are continually found, from automobile tops and table covers to dress goods and curled false hair, and today the grower is assured of a reasonably steady market. The price of course varies with the quality, the very best fleeces on an average from 42 to 55 cents a pound. The weight of a fleece has a very wide range, but in 1909 the average for Oregon was found to be 3.7 pounds and for Texas 1.85. On account of the greater heat, however, and the damage of shedding, Angoras in the Southwest are frequently shorn twice a year—a fact which must be taken into consideration in all calculations. This practice of clipping twice a year is in many ways a drawback to the industry since it tends to lower the average grade of American mohair. Mohair as good as any can be grown in this country, but the average quality is not today considered to be as good as the foreign. About 2,000,000 pounds are annually imported. Ordinarily this is blended and spun with the domestic product. Six inches is the shortest length of fleece usually desired and, because of shearing twice a year, much Texas and New Mexico mohair falls below this standard. Where the fleece is allowed to grow for 12 months, the average length is 10 inches and in the best flocks it is not unusual to get 15 to 20 inches. Romeo, the sweepstakes buck at the El Paso show in 1910, is an example of what is possible. His fleece weighed 18 pounds and measured 20 3/4 inches in length and sold for $115. Such fleece is not of course the product of ordinary commercial conditions. It implies a considerable amount of care and personal attention. The birth rate is approximately 65 per cent, but in well-managed flocks this has risen on occasions as high as 120 per cent. Since the kids are not hardy, it is obvious that this means skill and industry during the breeding season. The best methods of caring for the flock at this time are discussed in some detail in a new bulletin. Otherwise the management of Angoras does not differ greatly from that of sheep. While the Angora goat needs attention, it is adaptable, and, as far as temperature is concerned, should flourish in any part of the United States. In Montana the flocks face the heavy snowfalls with equanimity as long as a dry place is provided for them at night, and, though the heat in the southwest frequently makes it necessary to shear twice a year in order to prevent shedding, it does not otherwise effect the health of the flocks. Dampness, however, is more injurious than either cold or heat. High land is the native home of all goats, and they invariably seek it when left to themselves. Pure water is also an essential.

Otherwise the Angora is not particular. It will feed with cattle and sheep, and, though in some danger of being kicked, with horses also. As a matter of fact, however, the goat prefers a certain amount of rough pasture, and is particularly happy when cleaning up brush land. There is one instance of a flock of 600 being allowed free grazing in a California forest reserve in order to keep the strips of cleared land, known as fire breaks, free from weeds and vegetation. Settlers in the Northwest find the Angora most serviceable in browsing off the brush on their new lands, and one interurban railway company purchased a flock to keep its right of way clear and attractive. On very rough land the danger of injury to the fleece must, however, be kept in mind.

As has already been said, the Angora can be bred sufficiently pure for practical purposes from the stock already in this country, and there is no need of further importations for breeding purposes. Some years ago, however, this was not believed to be the case, and in 1881 the Sultan of Turkey endeavored to preserve for his dominions the monopoly of the mohair trade by prohibiting the exportation of the live animal. His example was followed by South Africa, but it was too late. Some of the best blood was already in America, and today other countries are buying of us, flocks having been shipped recently to Brazil and the Argentine.

Various associations have already been formed for the development of the industry in this country, and the quantity of the annual product is increasing rapidly. In 1913 it is estimated that 5,000,000 pounds of mohair were grown in the United States.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY.

Dramatic Club to Present Military Drama Tomorrow Night.

At the Lyric airdome tomorrow night students of the Brady High school will present "On The Picket Line," a military drama of the Civil war in five acts, under the able direction of Mrs. W. E. Anderson.

The young people have been rehearsing for the past several weeks, and those who are able to attend the performance tomorrow night are assured a first-class presentation of this strong play. The High school possesses dramatic talent of considerable ability, and previous performances by the students have been up to the average work of many professional actors and actresses seen here in the past.

Following is the cast of characters:

- Caleb Holmes, a wayward son
- Oscar J. Bradley
- Albert Cherrington, a hero of the rebellion

High School Wins.

In the ball game at the cottonyard Wednesday afternoon the Brady High school team romped on the team of heavyweights to the tune of 'steen to one. The fats were clearly outclassed in the game, and errors were as plentiful as were hits by the High school boys. After the score had reached 12 to 1, the official score keeper lost his pencil, and the final result of the game is unknown.

On account of the threatening weather, only a small crowd attended the game.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE.

Three Members of Temple Ball Team Injured.

The following account of an auto accident near Belton Tuesday afternoon is taken from the Temple Daily Telegram, and will be of interest to Brady citizens inasmuch as one of the occupants of the car was Laurence Fuller, a Brady boy who is now playing third base for the Temple team in the middle Texas league. His many friends here will be pleased to learn that he escaped injury of any consequence.

"Five members of the Temple baseball team and Vice President Dr. C. L. Power were injured Tuesday afternoon when a car in which the party was riding turned over near Belton.

"The party was returning from Belton, and had proceeded about a mile from that city when it ran into a ditch breaking the wheels on the right side of the machine. As it turned over all the occupants of the car except Dr. Power were thrown several feet. Dr. Power was pinned under the car and was removed after the machine had been lifted from his body. He was not seriously injured and escaped with a few bruises.

"Bogges, centerfielder of the local nine sustained a severe cut on his left leg above the ankle and several bruises about his hips. It will be several days before he can return to the game.

"B. Allison received a bad bruise on his right ankle when the car turned over. His left arm was also severely cut.

"The other members of the party fared better. Fuller escaped with minor bruises, F. Allison with a few scratches and Brown with a bad sprain in his hip.

"Bogges and B. Allison were not in yesterday's game but watched the struggle from the bench."

PUBLIC SCHOOL CLOSES.

Term of 1914 Brought to Successful Close Yesterday.

One of the most successful schools in the history of this city was brought to a close yesterday, with appropriate exhibits and exercises at the central building by the pupils of the primary and grammar school grades, with the commencement exercises of the high school at the Christian tabernacle last night.

A large number of patrons attended the exercises and viewed the exhibits of the work of the primary and grammar school yesterday afternoon, and all are enthusiastic in their praise of the most excellent showing of the year's work.

The commencement exercises at the tabernacle drew an immense concourse of people, the big building proving inadequate to accommodate the crowd, and many were forced to stand on the outside throughout the evening.

An unusually pleasing program was rendered, consisting of a number of piano selections and addresses by local citizens. For the class of 1914 Hubert Adkins made an address which was well received.

In his address to the class Dr. J. M. Carroll, president of Howard Payne college at Brownwood, made a forceful plea for education of the higher order, and endeavored to instill in the hearts of the young ladies and gentlemen of the class a desire for higher education in order to the better equip themselves for the duties and responsibilities of the life, just opening out before them. His talk sparkled with wit and humor throughout, and the big audience was frequently convulsed with laughter by the humorous anecdotes related by the speaker.

Judge Harvey Walker for the school board made a short talk, his remarks also being of a humorous nature, and Judge Joe A. Adkins for the patrons expressed his appreciation of the excellent results of the year's work by the efficient faculty of the schools.

In a neat ten-minute speech D. Doole, Jr., presented the diplomas to the graduates and commended their efforts in attaining the honor for which they had striven so long and faithfully.

Supt. W. L. Hughes awarded the scholarships and certificates of merit, after a short talk in which he expressed his thanks for the hearty co-operation and support of the patrons during the year, attributing much of the success of the schools to the assistance given by the patrons. Scholarships in Texas University were awarded to Miss Edith Morris and Leon Fahrenthold, the young lady and young gentleman making the highest general average during the year. More than sixty certificates of merit were awarded by Mr. Hughes to the students who had not missed a day or been tardy during the entire term. He stated that it was gratifying to note that the number this year was more than double that of 1913, and shows a greater interest in school work by the students.

The program was concluded by the benediction by Rev. W. G. Caperton.

HORRIBLE TREATMENT.

Chiapas Refugees Bring Fearful Tales of Experiences.

Galveston, May 14.—Bringing horrible stories of the treatment they had received at the hands of Mexican mobs and bandits, the first American refugees from the state of Chiapas arrived here today. They have been twenty-two days on the road, having had to come through Guatemala to get a steamer for an American port. They say others have sailed for New Orleans and should arrive there tonight or tomorrow. Eleven were in the party arriving today.

Most of them have come from St. Paul Tropical Department company near Lapastepec. The party from that place was headed by J. E. McFadden, who had lived there six years. McFadden says he never before has that been disturbed by the mobs and uprisings.

Why for "Gringos" Blood.

"I have always been loyal and loyal in Chiapas," said one of the Americans. "But since the American taken Vera Cruz they have come thirsty for the blood of the 'gringos.' We had a warning that there was trouble and we were chased by American soldiers to get out of the country. We just found out it was safe any longer when the greasers tried to plant a railway station at our plantation. There were 200 Mexicans and Americans working on the plantation. Our Mexicans were loyal to the last and had not been for them we would never have gotten out of the country.

The afternoon of April 21st we got to Lapastepec to see some minor matters for our plantation. The station agent had heard over the wire of the capture of Vera Cruz and, with about a dozen drunken Mexicans, were talking about it.

Threaten a Hanging.

"I got there they began and said they would hang me and the Mexicans protested back to the matters. I decided to charter a steamer, as that was the only way we could possibly get away from the place. There were four men and one woman in our party. Our train went along all right, passing up two or three of the little stations, but when we came to Tapachula there was a great mob of excited Mexicans gathered.

"They took us off the train, and were going to murder the party immediately, but some police officers interceded and arrested us, to calm them a little.

Kept In Jail Four Days.

"Then some federal officers came. They took the four men under arrest and placed us in jail. The woman was taken to the British consulate and protected. We were in jail four and one-half days, and then taken out by the soldiers. The soldiers took us to the train and went with us as guards until we were in Guatemala, and we went on to San Jose safely. From there we went to Guatemala City, and after a short wait reached Port Barrios, where we caught the steamer for Galveston.

"At Tapachula American Consul Lescher had fled. His flag had been torn down and trampled on, and his shield was missing, but some of the soldiers found the shield and replaced it. The flag was tattered.

"I heard just before we left that Mexicans had raided the home of an Englishman named Neis, near us, taking him a prisoner and leaving his wife in the hands of some of their band, who outraged her. Later Neis escaped, joined his wife, and they are now en route to New Orleans on some steamer."

Others of the party tell about the same stories as does McFadden. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Burns and four children, of the same boat, came from Salina Cruz, having gone to San Jose and then through Guatemala to catch the steamer. They say the Mexicans were friendly with them to the last, but that they left the country because they were advised to do so by American, British and Mexican authorities, who deemed it unsafe for foreigners to remain there after the capture of Vera Cruz.

Fears Intervention.

J. T. Williams and wife, others among the refugees today, also came from Salina Cruz. They said that there was a distinct feeling of unrest there before they left, but that no violence had been offered Americans. They left four American women and two men at the foreign hotel at Salina Cruz, these refusing to leave the place and believing that there is no real danger for them if they stayed in one place, all together. Mr. Williams does not believe there is any danger for them yet, but should intervention occur he feels sure they would not be spared.

All of the refugees agree that Huerta is doomed, one way or the other. They say that he could not rule if Villa and Carranza laid down their arms now, as the general feeling of unrest would cause another rebellion in a short time and they believe America will have to stop the trouble in that country if it is to ever be stopped.

In the whole field of medicine there is not a healthy remedy that will repair damage done to the flesh more quickly than Ballard's Snow Linctament. Doing Her Work.

Two suffragists were talking one evening at the club over a game of billiards.

"How is your husband?" the first asked.

"Slowly mending," replied the other.

"Oh, I didn't know he was ill!" said the first.

"He isn't ill," the other suffragist explained, laughing heartily. "He's slowly mending my khaki breeches."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

A True Test of Art.

"Oh, yes, Martha sings in the choir and has about the best voice of any one in it," boasted Martha's aunt, who may not have known much about music, but who certainly knew all about choirs.

"Isn't that boasting just a little?" gently inquired her husband.

"No, it ain't," retorted Martha's aunt. "I know she's the best singer in the lot because no one else in the choir will speak to her!"—Lippincott's.

Cured of Indigestion.

Mrs. Sadie P. Clawson, Indiana, Pa., was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes. "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlain's Tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted on my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

SLUGGISH LIVERS STARTED PLEASANTLY.

No Need to Risk Disagreeable, Dangerous Calomel Now That Dodson's Liver Tone Takes Its Place.

Plenty of people—thousands of them—have found that it is no longer necessary to risk being "all knocked out" by taking calomel when constipated or suffering from a sluggish liver.

Nowadays Dodson's Liver Tone takes the place of calomel.

What calomel does unpleasantly and often with danger, Dodson's Liver Tone does for you safely and pleasantly, with no pain and no gripe. It does not interfere in any way with your regular business, habits or diet.

Calomel is a poison, a form of mercury, a mineral. Dodson's Liver Tone is an all-vegetable liquid.

Of course, this reliable remedy has its imitators. But Dodson's Liver Tone has been made to take the place of calomel right from the start. The label on the bottle always has said so, beginning with the first bottle sold. And it is widely known today how good Dodson's Liver Tone is as a remedy and that Dodson never makes extravagant statements. He says that it "liven's the liver," overcomes constipation agreeably and makes you feel good, and if you are not satisfied completely with it Jones Drug Co. will hand back the purchase price (50c) to you with a smile.

Such statements could not be made without true merit to back them up and it is easy for you to prove them for yourself at no cost if not satisfied and convinced.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework.

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

An Elephant's View of Life.

The elephant flapped his ears and sighed so impressively that the yellow dust in the alleyway was considerably agitated.

"To think," he confidently remarked to the toothless tiger, "that my ancestors fought with Hannibal and graced a Roman holiday!"

"What's the answer?" snarled the tiger.

"Dust and desolation!" snorted the elephant. "I have in my veins the blood of the white mammoths of Upsula, and yet am forced, forsooth, to pose with a lot of mangy and moth-eaten quadrupeds in a hand-made jungle, in front of a moving picture coffee mill. Woolf, but I'm sorely tempted to throttle myself with my own trunk and so make an end on't!"

Two Brady Boys Sign to Play With Middle Texas Teams.

The following from the Brownwood Bulletin will be of interest locally:

"A number of former Brownwood college players have signed themselves with the various teams of the Middle Texas league during the past few days. In addition to Fagan and Harper with the Temple team, and Station and Low with the Lampasas team, the Bulletin is informed today that Fuller has joined the Temple team; Dozier is with Lampasas and Tipton and Madden have gone to Belton. All these men have made good with the college teams here, and their friends are not surprised that they have been called upon by the professional teams. The Middle Texas league is in Class D of organized baseball.

"Another change that will be no surprise to Brownwood fans is the announcement that Willard Wooden has been taken up by the professional teams. He will leave May 18th for Fort Smith, Ark., to join that team of the Western Association. Wooden has made such a record here as a pitcher and all round ball player that his friends confidently expect him to work his way into the big leagues within a short time."

Both Fuller and Tipton are well known here, and are excellent ball players, and their many friends are confident that they will have no difficulty in making good in faster company.
