Carmichael-Anderson

Ben Anderson of this city and Miss Edna Carmichael of Shelbyville, Mo., were married at the home of the bride Tuesday of last week. After a visit with relatives and friends in Springfield and St. Louis, Mo., and Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson arrived here Tuesday morning to make their home in this city.

Mrs. Anderson is well known in Brady, having made her home here for a short time about two years ago, and during her stay here gained a host of admiring friends, all of whom are glad to welcome her return.

The groom is one of Brady's promising young business men, being junior member of the firm of S. W. Hughes & Co., and a popular member of the business and social circles of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are at home to their friends in a cozy little cottage on South Blackburn street.

Two Mexicans came into the store just as Mr. Doell was putting his stock away for the night and asked to be shown some rings. Mr. Doell placed a tray of rings on the showcase and proceeded with his work of putting away his stock. While his back was turned, Mr. Doell heard something which sounded like a ring dropped on the floor, and upon turning around caught one of the men in the act of putting one of the rings in the pocket of his companion. On seeing that they were discovered one of the men made a break for liberty, but Mr. Doell held the other until Sheriff Wall arrived.

He was lodged in the county jail and Wednesday entered a plea of guilty in county court to a charge of theft and was fined $5.00 and costs. His companion made good his escape.

CUTTING AFFRAY

Negro Carves a Companion in Fight Monday Night

In a fight at the old rock house, near the San Saba road, just east of the city Monday night Jimmie Jones, a Fort Worth negro employed as a cotton picker on the Henry Carlson farm, received wounds which may result in his death. His assailant used a knife, inflicting a deep wound in the left side which penetrated to the hollow and entered the lung. Another stroke of the sharp knife across the stomach completely disembowled the negro.

A warrant was issued Tuesday morning for the arrest of John Johnson, a Houston negro, also employed by Mr. Carlson, but officers were unable to locate him. Later in the day the negro was seen making his way east on the Santa Fe tracks, and Deputy Sheriff John Martin left immediately for the locality in which he was reported. At Sautit Deputy Martin captured his man as he was attempting to board the east bound Santa Fe train and brought him to town and lodged him in the county jail.

According to a statement made to Deputy Martin, Johnson, Jones and another negro started out to the Carlson farm, where all are employed, late Monday night. When near the old rock house just east of the city the two negroes renewed a dispute which they had had a few days previous over a debt, the argument resulting in Jones hitting Johnson in the mouth with a rock. Johnson then drew his knife and the cutting resulted.

The wounded negro was brought to the home of friends here, where he is receiving medical attention. Attending physicians state that his chances for recovery are rather slim.

ELECTION RETURNS

Results in Thirteen Boxes Show Very Light Vote

Tuesday's general election brought out the lightest vote in the history of the county in recent years, the total vote of the thirteen boxes reporting up to last night being less than 500. The total voting strength of the county is more than 2,000.

Of the thirteen precincts reporting, two were carried by the Socialists—Pear Valley and Gansel casting a majority for the nominees of that party. Both these boxes would show strong Democratic majorities in case their full voting strength were brought out.

Results in the county are as follows, the candidates' names appearing in the following order: Democratic, Republican Socialist, Socialist-Labor.

For Congress—Slayden, 437; Kingsley, 9; Currie, 112.

For Congressman-at-Large—Davis, 423; McLemore, 453; Diggs, 8; Warnken, 8; Andrews, 111; Hunt, 111.

For Governor — Ferguson, 390; Philip, 9; Meitzen, 113; Choate, 3.

For Lieutenant Governor — Hobby, 447; Hall, 8; Noble, 106; Schmidt, 3.

For Comptroller — Terrell, 448; Callan, 8; Hicks, 110; Wilson 3.

For State Treasurer — Edwards, 448; Gibbons, 8; Bell, 110; Strach, 2.

For Commissioner General Land Office — Robison, 450; Misener, 8; Fitzpatrick, 110; Royal, 3.

For Attorney General—Looney, 444; Goen, 1; Faulk, 101; Elgin, 8.

For Superintendent Public Instruction — Doughty, 451; Crews, 8; Kelsey, 111; Baker, 1.

For Commissioner of Agriculture—Davis, 450; Eason, 8; Smith, 110; Joppich, 3.

For Railroad Commissioner—Mayfield, 446; Conner, 8; Lambreth, 111; Maioranna, 3.

For Associate Justice Supreme Court—Hawkins, 450; Cocke, 8; Bellinger, 111; Socialist-Labor, no nominee.

For Judge Court of Criminal Appeals—Davidson, 449.

For Chief Justice Court Civil Appeals, 3d Supreme Judicial District—Jenkins, 447.

For Representative, 114th District—Cowan, 452; Teague, 110.

For District Attorney, 35th Judicial District—Early, 460.

For County Judge—Brown, 456; Neal, 109.

For County Attorney — House, 457.

For District Clerk—Campbell, 464.

For County Clerk—Yantis, 466.

For Sheriff—Wall 457; Brock, 111.

For Tax Collector — Mayo, 455; Swope, 109.

For Tax Assessor—Hodges, 458; Wilson, 107.

For County Treasurer—Rainbolt, 461.

For County Surveyor—Doty, 461.

For County Superintendent—White, 465.

The voting precincts included in the above count are Brady, Lohn, Stacy, Waldrip, Nine, Fife, Mercury, Gansel, Calf Creek, Mt. Tabor, Pear Valley, Rochelle and Placid.

GOOD NEWS.

Many Brady Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousands of back sufferers in this vicinity are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is had no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

J. Walsh, engineer, 702 Rogan St., Brownwood, Texas, says: "Years ago, I suffered from pain and weakness in the small of my back and a constant feeling of languor. I steadily grew worse until I had to stop work. I had little energy and there was often a complete retention of kidney secretions. I had rheumatic pains in my limbs and continued to run down until I was a wreck. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. After I had taken two boxes, I noticed improvement. I continued using this remedy until my back was strengthened and my kidneys had become normal. I have had no sign of kidney complaint since."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Walsh had. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

PRINTED STATIONERY FOR FARMERS

Every farmer who owns his farm ought to have printed stationery, with his name, the name of his post office properly given, and the printed heading might also give the names of whatever crops he specializes in, or his specialties in stock. Neatly printed stationery gives you a personality and a standing with any person or firm whom you write and insure, the proper reading of your name and address.

If you wish to write to your congressman or member of the legislature, or if you have a request to make of your county superintendent of schools, or if you wish information from any business house, in any case your letter will have increased weight and receive more and quicker attention if you use printed stationery.

TURKEYS FOR PROFIT

Successful McCulloch Co. Farmer Tells of His Method

A McCulloch County farmer who has found considerable profit in turkeys, and who wishes his name withheld, recently discussing the subject, promised The Standard some information, and has furnished the following:

The surroundings of breeders are so different it would be impossible for us to give iron clad rules to follow in raising turkeys. But there is one safe rule, however, for beginners to follow, no matter what the surroundings may be, and that is to start with the very best stock that can possibly be afforded, and let that "best stock" be thoroughbreds if attainable.

A certain advertiser carries at the foot of all his advertisements the words "There's a Reason," and the "reason" in turkey raising is that when strong blood lines are obtained to start with, the stock is 100 per cent more vigorous and profitable than scrubs. The fact is generally understood.

Everybody knows it is just as easy to raise a big turkey as it is a small one and after we have procured the very best we can afford, we can not afford to have them steal their nests out in fence corners or in some target spot for bird or animal to devour their valuable eggs. Have a house built for them. It does not necessarily need to be an elaborate structure, but should be arranged to accommodate them comfortably, and a week or ten days before time for them to hunt nests drive them in every night and leave them confined until one or two o'clock next day; then turn them out. As a rule, turkeys lay very early in the morning and by noon they have all layed and can be turned out on range again for exercise and green foods. If turkeys are brought up and driven into their laying quarters for a week or ten days before they begin to hunt nests they become accustomed to going in, and by the time they begin laying they will come up without being driven.

It is the nature of the turkey hen to seek a dark, secluded spot for her nest. We find barrels as near her desired nest as can possibly be provided and are the very best nests to be had. No matter what sort of nests have been used previously in the turkey house, as soon as barrels are provided they will take to them at once. We turn the barrels down and provide them with plenty of straw or leaves. Nail or stake a narrow board across the end, so as to protect the nesting and prevent it from being scratched out of the barrel. Very often we saw out two or three of the staves about half the length of the barrel, or just below the middle hoops, stand the barred up and cover the open end. This makes in ideal place for a turkey nest.

We prefer to set the first eggs under chicken hens and break up the turkey hen by confining her for a few days when broody, and allow her to lay more eggs. Our experience has been that larger number of poults are brought up to maturity by chicken hens than by the mother turkey. Especially in wet weather as the turkey hen wanders too far and gets the poults drenched. If we were absolutely sure the season would be dry, we would prefer the turkey hen. After the turkey has layed her second clutch, the first being set under the chicken hen, we allow her to brood all the poults, as by this time the wet, cold weather is over, the first poults are strong and they all grow off very rapidly, as bugs of all kinds are in abundance and they need but little feed.

When the little poults are dry and strong enough we remove the old hen and little ones to their future home or cooping yard, they are not allowed to range at first. But before we start with them we give each poult a grain of black pepper to warm them up and stimulate them, then treat the mother with a good dusting of some good insect powder. The cooping yard should be the driest spot to be found and shady. A number of coops are built with no floor, plenty of litter put inside and changed every few days, so we can fight the lice. These coops are moved every few days to a new spot and after every rainstorm. Our first feed is generally bread soaked in sweet milk, pressed as dry as possible, with a liberal amount of ground black pepper sprinkled over it. About twice a week we feed them sweet milk and raw eggs. After turkeys are a week or ten days old we provide them with grass seed and whole wheat alternately until they are old enough to eat oats and corn. Grit is provided for the poults the day they are placed in brood coops.

We find turkeys do best to roost in the open, but we make roosts about two feet from the ground near the coops and the first few real hot night drive them upon these roosts. Turkeys that have free range need but one feed a day and when this is given at night, they come home and roost. About Sept. 1 we begin to feed twice a day and market in November.

Rub a sore throat with Ballard's Snow Liniment. One or two applications will cure it completely. Price 25c, 50 and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Yes, Williams, I'll Tell You Why I Won't Invest in Your Enterprise

YOU'RE located in the wrong town. Closed seventeen saloons last Spring, the first institutions to come across with their taxes. You voted yourselves out of those good funds, and what has it got you? Practically a dead town.

You tried to deprive men of their personal rights. You told 'em they couldn't drink beer, even moderately as they had been doing. Men who couldn't even get beer in respectable beer saloons, got unlimited quantities of cheap, stronger drinks in the countless blind pigs that your blue laws created.

Those orderly saloons were the Liberty Hall of many workmen who sought an hour's relaxation, amusement, fellowship. To them, they were what a club is to you and me. Naturally, denied the privilege of drinking an occasional glass, they skulked to the convenient speak-easies and became law breakers.

There you are, Williams. None of my money for a town that clamps down the lid—not on intemperance, but on business and sobriety.

Hallowe'en Party.

(Contributed.)

A charming little Hallowe'en party was given Saturday evening by Mrs. J. E. Brown, in honor of her little daughter, Nellie Virginia. All the little guests entered into the spirit of Hallowe'en with all its delightful surprises.

After several contests, games much merriment was occasioned when suddenly a little witch appeared at the door. After being ushered into the parlor and telling each little guest's fortune the mask was removed and to the surprise of all it was Catherine Ballou.

The children were then invited into the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served. The table was centered with a basket of apples guarded by a witch doll dangerously near a lovely cake.

The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion. Mrs. Brown was assisted by Mesdames W. P. Yeary, M. P. Wegner, W. H. Ballou, and M. S. Midlemis in entertaining the guests, who were:

Mary Campbell, Cora Snider,

Ella Bumgardner, Nola Meers, Annie and Lila Snavely, Gertrude Trigg, Carmen Anderson, Marjorie McCall, Catherine and Elizabeth Ballou, Gertrude Wood, Orvie and Norma Wegner, Maude Lee Robertson and Belle Brown.

Woman's Missionary Society

Members of the Woman's Missionary society were entertained at the home of Mrs. J. H. White Monday afternoon. Following a short prayer and business meeting the ladies spent a pleasant social hour at the close of which refreshments of sandwiches and hot coffee were served by the hostess.

Monday, Nov. 9th, Mrs. Bloodworth of Ft. Worth, field secretary, will be in Brady and conduct an institute at the Methodist church.

The Eden, Junction, Live Oak and Rochelle societies will unite with the Brady society in this meeting. Ladies will serve lunch at noon at the church. All women are cordially invited to attend.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Your Hair Gets Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this is the best investment you ever made. We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no more dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually, why not now?

NINE NEWS.

Nine, Texas, Nov. 2.
Editor Brady Standard:
Cotton picking will soon be a thing of the past. Everyone will get their cotton out soon if the weather permits.
A very enjoyable occasion was the Hallowe'en party given at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Harkrider, Jr., Saturday night. The guests were met at the gate by the ghost and escorted to a mysterious room where they were masked and led to the room prepared for the occasion. Several games were played en mask. Then the guests were unmasked and invited to partake of refreshments. Various other games were enjoyed until a late hour, when the guests departed wishing the hostess many such pleasant evenings.
Mrs. M. L. Stanton returned last Friday from Thorndale, where she had gone to arrange for her brother's children to come to live with her, since the death of their mother last week.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress. The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Former Brady Citizen Has Close Call Near Burnet

The following account of an incident which occurred last week at the Sheridan mine, near Burnet, clipped from the Burnet Bulletin, in which Paul Sheridan, a former well known Brady citizen and former city marshal, came near losing his life while attempting to rescue one of his employees who had been overcome by gas, will be of interest to readers of The Standard:

John Bailey one day last week came near meeting death from poisonous gases in the Sheridan mine, a few miles west of town. A blast had been set off the day before and Mr. Bailey had gone down in the mine, some 85 feet deep, to clear away the debris accumulated by the blast. Silence followed his descent and after waiting a short time those at the top became convinced that something serious was the matter.

Mr. Sheridan, the manager, a 6-footer, with every appearance of the lean, trained athlete, knew that a second's time might mean life or death to Mr. Bailey, and without hesitation he grasped the rope and rapidly descended hand over hand into the depths of the mine. His whole thought was to rescue his friend and employee, without regard to the danger to himself in the undertaking. He found Mr. Bailey unconscious; rapidly placed him in the bucket, secured footing for himself on the sides of same and hand grips on the rope, and gave the signal to be drawn up. When he reached the top with his unconscious burden Mr. Sheridan had lost his breath and was lapsing into unconsciousness; his hands had to be pried loose from the rope, but he soon recovered. Mr. Bailey was unconscious for hours, and it was feared for a time that he would succumb. But heroic work by the people at the mine, aided by physicians who arrived at the earliest possible moment, finally brought him back to consciousness and recovery.

Mr. Sheridan seems to think his efforts in the rescue of Bailey part of the day's work that deserves no undue attention. The editor of this paper heard a man interview Mr. Sheridan about the matter. He replied, in substance: "There is little to tell; Mr. Bailey was overcome by the bad air—yes, I went down after him; that's all there was to it," and he walked on down the street.

The writer has seen only one Carnegie medal. It, with several hundred dollars, was awarded to a young man for rescuing two young ladies in what, without his interference, would have been a disastrous runaway. The horse pulling the buggy containing the ladies was madly plunging directly into a brick wall. The young man saw the danger and without a moment's hesitation made a running jump for the animal's head, securing a hold, turned the horse completely over and we believe killed him. Anyway, the young ladies were saved and the young man given a hero medal. We asked what his thoughts were when he jumped for the horse's head. He said it all happened so rapidly that he didn't have time to think. He was crowned a hero regardless of his feelings, and he deserved it.

When Sheridan went down in the 85-foot hole after John Bailey he knew exactly what he was doing. From the time he took hold of the rope and every inch of the way down he knew what he was going into. He is a practical miner, and knew the deadly effect of the gas that had laid its hold upon John Bailey. He did not know at what depth he would encounter the poisonous air, but that he must go on down and down, regardless of this, until he reached bottom. He knew that then he would have to place the stricken man in the bucket and find a place for himself, and it could have hardly been more insecure.

Mr. Sheridan seems to have forgotten his part in the rescue; the Bulletin believes his act required greater bravery than that of the Carnegie hero cited above. A true test of heroism can come only after a man has had time to weigh the cost.

Copper Found Near Burnet

Burnet, Tex., Oct. 31.—The Sheridan Mining company, operating about eight mile north of here, has recently opened sixteen prospects for a vein of copper sulphide ore, extending along a line nearly one mile in length. The shafts ranging from twenty to ninety feet in depth show ore of excellent quality, assays running as high as 25 per cent pure copper per ton, the average being about 3 1-2 per cent.

While the mining people are working in a very quiet and unpretentious manner, the developments already brought out mean much to this section of the state.

2 Beautiful Dolls To Be Given Away Christmas Day

The Wide-Awake Store will make some two little girls happy by presenting them with a doll on Christmas morning. The Wide-Awake Store which recently opened for business on the North Side of the Square, announces to the little girls of Brady and the country also that on Christmas morning two of them will be presented with a doll each, this to be decided who gets it in a popular voting contest. The contest started Nov. 7, and every little girl whose name is entered by Nov. 15th will receive free 1,000 votes to begin on.

Beginning Nov. 7th every customer trading with us will receive voting tickets for every cent purchased. No doubt you know some little girls who would appreciate receiving one of these dolls for a Christmas present. If so, send in her name on the coupon below and she will be given credit for 1,000 votes provided her name is sent in before Nov. 15th. It is not necessary you spend one cent in order to have your favorite entered in the contest. Just fill in coupon and bring it in and ask your friends to visit the store and get prices and see the quality goods we have which are all new.

If convinced you can get good goods at less cost to you than elsewhere, buy what you need and give your voting coupons to the little girl whom you wish to get the doll. The girl getting the most votes has first choice of dolls. Second best gets the other one. Dolls on exhibit in show window. This is not a drawing or chance proposition, but a fair, square, popular voting contest. Votes to be turned in any time between now and the night of Dec. 24th. Then they will have a final count by disinterested parties. Enter the contest early and thus get the 1,000 additional votes. People are fast learning that the Wide-Awake is the place to trade, and your friends will be glad to save the voting tickets for you.
