WED IN STEPHENVILLE.

Popular Young Brady People Married Yesterday Morning.

A telegram was received here yesterday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wiley from their son, Burl, stating that he and Miss Annie Lee Keyser were married at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of the bride's parents in Stephenville.

Both Mr. Wiley and his bride are well known and popular young people of this city and have a host of friends and well wishers here. For several years Mr. Wiley was connected with the hardware firm of Noble Bros., and later held a position as traveling salesman with a South Texas hardware concern. He returned to Brady last fall and accepted a position with O. D. Mann & Sons, and has been one of the firm's most valued employees. Mrs. Wiley came to Brady several years ago from Stephenville to accept a position as stenographer in the law office of Judge F. M. Newman, and during her residence in this city has won a host of admiring friends in business and social circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley are spending a few days in Dallas, and will return here the latter part of the week to make their home. The Standard joins with their many friends in extending congratulations and best wishes to the happy young couple.

New Buicks Coming.

Brady Auto Co. last week received the first of the 1916 models of the Buick brought to this section of the state, Manager B. A. Hallum driving the car through from Brownwood the latter part of the week. The new model has attracted more attention and favorable comment from local citizens than any ever shown here, and Mr. Hallum states that sale prospects are better than at any time since his company has been engaged in business here.

In anticipation of an unusually large demand for the new car, Mr. Hallum has placed an order for fourteen cars, the first shipment of which is now en route to Brady. The balance of the order will be shipped as soon as the cars can be turned out by the factory, and are expected to arrive by the 15th of July.

The car received last week was sold to J. H. White of this city.

BONDS ARE APPROVED.

Both Lohn and Pear Valley Issues Passed Upon Favorably.

County Superintendent E. L. White returned last Friday from Austin, and announced that the records in both the Lohn and Pear Valley school district bond elections had been approved by the attorney general's department. An order has been placed for lithographing of the bonds, and it is hoped to have the issues ready for sale within a few days.

The election in the Pear Valley district was held June 5th, and resulted in a vote of 27 to 3 in favor of the $4,200 bond issue for the erection of a new and modern school building. Plans and specifications for the building have not yet been adopted, this having been held up until approval of the record by the attorney general, but a meeting of the board will be held in a few days for this purpose, and the work of actual construction begun in ample time for completion of the building for the opening of the fall term.

The election in the Lohn district was held the 19th inst. and resulted in a vote of 45 to 13 for a $7,500 issue for a new building. The structure will be thoroughly modern in all respects, and patterned after the most approved types of rural school buildings. Actual construction will be begun at the earliest possible time, and the building completed before time for opening of the fall term of school.

The citizens of both these progressive communities are to be congratulated upon their action in providing better school facilities for their respective districts. Superintendent White's work in preparing the records of both elections and securing the approval of the attorney general is also deserving of commendation.

LET'S BE CHARITABLE.

Do you know that an editor or a reporter for a newspaper can in his rounds stop and ask a hundred persons "What is the news?" and ninety out of the hundred will reply, "Nothing special," and yet fifty out of that number know something that, if not found in the next paper, will astonish them greatly and disappoint them more, and perhaps make them madder than hornets. Don't be afraid to let the newspaper man know about it.—Brady Standard.

The trouble is that you did not go after the news in the right way. Those same ninety people who will reply, "Nothing special" to the question, "What do you know?" will open up and tell you what is uppermost in their minds if you will but talk naturally for a few minutes. And therein lies the whole art of getting a "story." When you abruptly ask the person you meet what he knows, his natural inclination is to say, "Nothing special." But ask him how the folks at home are, what he thinks of Bryan's resignation, or whether his cow has ever had the mumps. This will stimulate his mind to thinking in a natural manner, and you may be sure if he has anything lying on it his tongue will soon get it off.—Dallas News.

The Standard has too many important news items to devote its time and space to fill the paper with the various diseases of the neighbor's wild animals and advertising its city as an unhealthy resort, because a few happen to have the headache, two or three the toothache and many others the "Texas fever." And, no doubt, its editor is too much of a gentleman to express his opinion of Bryan or his resignation. Any little spot in the road could fill up a good size daily with such "junk," the most healthy country in the world would be advertised to the contrary, if its editor would publish every item given him concerning those on the sick list and the weeklies and semi-weeklies space is too limited to devote to political pots when the world's set on fire, let 'er boil. The Standard is doing very well it seems; it manages to fill its columns twice a week with well-written interesting news, boosting articles and knocking things that should be knocked, but like all other papers could be greatly improved upon if the people would help by telling what interesting news they know, instead of telling of their cow refusing to sit down to be milked and other worthless "dope", called news, which is the reason so many papers fail to bear the appearance of a newspaper. The writer on the News reminds us of a bachelor writing an article on how to raise children, a millionaire telling how a girl can prosper on four dollars a week, and a cub reporter picking out the bad points in Robert W. Chambers works. No doubt, the editorial writer on the News has his first newspaper yet to manage.—Melvin Rustler.

The Melvin Rustler hits the nail squarely, but it should be borne in mind that it is wiser not to express public opinion on national matters without comprehensive knowledge of all details, and their bearing and results one upon the other, also that not all are born so clever as it would insure to the people of Brady and surrounding country the proper protection and care for their lots and, to do so, finally worked out and evolved the following plans:

To clear up the grounds, lay out driveways, plot the ground into sections and divide the sections into lots, after setting aside a portion as a public burying ground and a section for the Mexicans and a section for negroes. To charge for all unoccupied space selected and desired by individuals and to give them at the same time a deed not only for the unoccupied space, but to include in the deed the occupied space, making no charge for the space occupied, and charging only for the space unoccupied, thereby treating all the people alike in the matter.

To show the reasonableness of this position, we are all aware that there are graves in the cemetery that are unknown to any one and this space must be allotted to them without charge, and we therefore decided that it would be the only right way to make charge for the occupied space.

there; if they have no interest, why spend all this time in the work, and why give it their personal attention if they were not interested in it? I must say that I have yet to see a committee show more interest and be more devoted to their duty and to act from a more unselfish standpoint than our present cemetery committee and to my way of thinking they are entitled to the endorsement and appreciation of everyone. Will you co-operate with them? If you desire to be a helper in this great work, then go at once and take up your deed and arrange for the payments of the space selected.

I want to assure each and every one that this money will be placed in a fund for the betterment of the cemetery and will be judiciously used and the committee as well as myself will appreciate the co-operation of each and every one in the management of this affair. Let all of us get together and back up this thing and give this committee all the assistance we can in this undertaking. Do not let one wait for another, as well you know what waiting will lead to and all of us know our duty in this matter and at the same time not only civic pride but our devotion to the dead should inspire in each of us a desire to help in this great work so unselfishly looked after and planned by this committee. If you are not now satisfied that the work will be properly looked after and the funds judiciously spent, then I ask that you come to me and together we will take it up with the committee and have them explain to you fully their plans and outline of work. After carefully understanding this if you are not fully satisfied to give your assistance, then I will ask you to do nothing further if you do not say that this committee is doing more and showing that their work and plans are those of unselfish desire to do ones duty, far more possibly than you or I would have done, then I will ask you to do no more for the work and will not ask your co-operation further. Do the people want the cemetery placed where it was? I may do, then neglect this by dilly-dallying along and right there is where it will end. I can't conceive of anything that would be so bad as not to take hold of this opportunity of having the cemetery placed on a permanent basis. Do you know what waiting for others to do will amount to? It will always end in failures. Do you wait in business matters for others to act first, or do you do things yourself?

The people will be informed as to all the monies received and disbursed just as other funds, and a complete record will be kept of all these things at all times. Will you be among those who want to show their appreciation and co-operation in this work? The question is right now up to the people. Get your deed from the city secretary or call on the cemetery committee for it. Let us be up and doing.

Very respectfully yours,
A. C. BAZE, Mayor.

From Mayor Baze.

To the Citizens of Brady and Those Interested:

For the past several years the condition of our cemetery has been the subject of comment and quite a number of people appealed to me to have the city take charge of it and look after it properly. The cemetery was then the property of the county and, acting with the cemetery committee, we appeared before the commissioners' court and asked for a deed conveying it to the city, which request was granted and, after this was done, the committee began to work out a plan of placing it on a systematic basis. Up to this time there had been quite a little time and money spent, spasmodically, that was of only temporary benefit, as there was no way of handling the matter in a systematic manner, and to depend upon donations was out of the question, as that kind of a system usually ended in a complete failure. The question, then, for the committee was to work out a plan by which the cemetery would be put on a systematic basis and care and management of it be placed so that

The committee has had the ground plotted and maps made of same showing each section, driveways, and each and every space as it now appears in the cemetery. They have adopted books in which to keep records of lots or space owned by each and every individual, the location of each and every grave, and a record made of the time of the death, date of burial, together with the age, sex and cause of death, nearest relative, etc., in order to keep a perpetual record of all things necessary in order that information may be kept at all times, and in fact, when properly kept up will be a perfect store house of information concerning the cemetery that can be turned in years to come for the location of the grave of any person, or for information concerning a burial, time, age, and nearest relative. The committee has a proposition to place markers at the corner of each and every lot or space, to be made of concrete; this marker will, however, be placed without any additional charge to the purchaser of lots.

The committee has now got to the point where they must have the active co-operation of all the people; these men have shown an unselfish interest in this matter; some might say that they have had no interest in the cemetery as neither of them had relatives buried
