SECURES SETTLEMENT.

Santa Fe Bonus Committee Sued by Railway Company.

Sheriff J. C. Wall last week received and served a number of citations on the local Santa Fe bonus committee directing them to appear at the next term of district court of Galveston county to be held in Galveston to answer a suit in which the Santa Fe sought to recover judgment in the sum of $11,000, being the amount still due the railway company on the bonus guaranteed by the local committee when the Santa Fe built the Lometa-Eden extension, four years ago.

Twenty-five defendants are named in the citation as signers satisfied with the settlement which they were able to secure, and will take immediate steps to pay off the obligation.

FRANK BAKER KILLED.

Prominent Ranchman Almost Instantly Killed by Falling Horse.

Frank Baker, one of the most popular and well-known ranchmen of the county was almost instantly killed Tuesday morning about 9:00 o'clock at his ranch four miles northeast of Rochelle, when his horse fell with him.

Mr. Baker, in company with several of his ranch hands, was engaged in rounding up a bunch of cattle near the ranch house when the accident occurred. The unfortunate man was riding a young horse and in attempting to head off a steer which broke out of the bunch the animal ran underneath the horse and threw him. Mr. Baker struck the ground on his head, breaking his nose and fracturing the skull across the forehead. He attempted to rise from the ground, but fell back and was dead when the other men reached his side, death being almost instantaneous.

Mr. Baker was 40 years of age, and was a son of the late George Baker, one of the pioneer settlers of San Saba county. He was reared in this and San Saba counties, and was a most lovable character, rugged, big-hearted, honest and a gentleman at all times. He is survived by his 6-year-old son, George, his wife having died last December, three brothers—J. T. Baker of Brownwood, Jas. H. Baker of San Saba, and Eugene of Tucson, Ariz., and four sisters—Mesdames Armor Walters and Pete Sloan of San Saba, Misses Addie and Brownie, the latter of whom makes her home with Mr. Baker, but was on a visit to her brother, Eugene, in Tucson, when the accident occurred.

The remains were taken to San Saba Wednesday afternoon and laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery in the presence of an immense throng of heart-broken relatives and friends.

Fire Yesterday Morning.

A fire alarm was turned in yesterday morning at 8:20 from the residence of C. R. Alexander, in the southern portion of the city, but the blaze was extinguished before arrival of the firemen, with only a slight damage.

The fire originated in the kitchen when Mrs. Alexander lighted a gasoline stove and then went into another portion of the house to look after household duties. Just a few minutes later she discovered that the house was filled with smoke, and on running to the kitchen discovered the room in a mass of flames.

With rare presence of mind she snatched the gasoline tank from the back of the stove and threw it into the yard and then turned in the alarm. The fire department responded in record time, but before their arrival Mrs. Alexander, with the assistance of Lewis Brook, who happened to be passing, extinguished the blaze with a small garden hose.

A line of hose 1000 feet in length was laid by the department from the Henderson corner, but it was found not necessary to turn on the water.

To show his appreciation of the promptness with which the department was on the scene, Mr. Alexander presented the fire boys with a check for $10, accompanied by the statement that while the boys didn't do him any material good, yet they were there in ample time to do so, and he felt that the best way to express his appreciation of their work was in this substantial manner.

Better see Brady Land Co. about that fire insurance policy today.

BRADY'S FIRST BALE.

Raised by Lohn Farmer and Ginned Here Wednesday.

McCulloch county's first bale of cotton of the 1915 crop was received here about 9:00 o'clock Wednesday morning, being brought in by J. A. F. Carroll of Lohn. The cotton was ginned by N. B. Embry and turned out a 530 pound bale.

O. D. Mann & Sons purchased the bale, paying a flat price of $50 for it. A premium list has been started, but will not be completed for a few days, when it is hoped that a substantial premium will be raised for Mr. Carroll.

A second bale was received a few hours after Mr. Carroll arrived. A. C. Johnson of Waldrip bringing it in. This bale was also ginned by Mr. Embry.

Ink in Great Demand.

Dr. R. A. Lindley reports the sale of his chemical marking ink meeting with unprecedented success, the orders coming in now faster than they can be filled, and he is being worked overtime in caring for the business which comes in every mail.

He closed a contract this week with the Perry Gin Co., a corporation owning a string of twenty-four gins in McCulloch, Brown, Mason, Coleman and Menard counties, for a sufficient quantity to run them through the present season, and is negotiating now with a number of other concerns for the sale of his now famous marking ink.

The doctor is quite naturally elated over the success with which his ink is meeting, and will likely reap a rich harvest from the sale of his product.

of the bonus agreement with the road.

A committee representing the local bonus guarantors, composed of Judge F. M. Newman, Messrs. W. D. Crothers, F. M. Richards and G. R. White, accompanied by Local Agent G. M. Bennett of the Santa Fe, left Tuesday afternoon for Galveston to confer with officials of the road in regard to the suit. This committee returned yesterday afternoon and reporting having made a very satisfactory settlement of the claim, and announced that they would pay off the entire obligation in the very near future.

The terms on which the claim was settled is understood to have been an agreement by the local committee to pay the railway company the sum of $5,500, the company agreeing to cancel the obligation for this amount. In turn, the committee will, it is thought, be able to collect enough on the bonus notes which they hold to meet this obligation without bearing the burden individually, which would not be the case should the railway company demand the full amount due.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Miss Roberta Greenwood and a Musical Festival.

Those who went to the opera house a trifle late Saturday last, found the "Black Box" serial had packed every seat and even the early comers found some difficulty, while many were forced into the galleries. This serial seems to be exceedingly popular. Next Thursday night will begin a startling serial, and its a safe bet the house will be full before the curtain rises, for the price, five reels for 5 and 10c, is as popular as the pictures.

Tonight Miss Roberta Greenwood, who has delighted Brownwood audiences within the past ten days, with some of the best local talent in Brady, will render a musical program that will be a festival for lovers of the divine gift—vocal singing. Admission will be 25 and 35c and the proceeds go to aid the ladies of the Catholic church.

The "Black Box" will be the attraction Saturday night. There will be five reels and the admission 5c and 10c. There will be two comedies, "Caught in the Act" and "The First Stone."

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling at something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not bothered with pains any more, and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life. If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions. It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength. Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

ALWAYS BEAR TO THE EAST
 Objects Dropped into "Bottomless Pits" Are Inevitably Attracted in That Direction.

Because the earth whirls so fast, rocks dropped into the very deep shafts of Michigan copper mines disappear on the way down. At some of the shafts, which are nearly a mile deep in a straight drop, it is the general belief that a load of broken stone can be dumped into the hole at the top without causing any injury to a man at the bottom.

On account of the motion of the earth a rock will not fall perfectly straight, but will bear to the east, lodging in the timber lining or perhaps bounding from wall to wall until it is broken up or caught by some projection.

A group of experimenters from the Michigan College of Mines verified this by careful tests with steel balls. One ball was hung by a thread over the hole, about four feet from the east side, and the thread burned. A clay ball had been placed at the bottom of the shaft to catch the ball, but it never appeared. Another ball was then dropped, by the same method, a little farther away from the east edge, and this ball, also, did not get to the bottom. Careful search located the first ball imbedded in the timbers 800 feet down, but the second ball never has been found.

As the earth revolves the surface is moving eastward at a rate which varies with the latitude. Down in the same principle that a point on the tire of a wheel revolves faster than one on a spoke. Consequently, at the distance of a mile below the surface the speed rate is less than at the surface. The falling ball, however, continues to move toward the east at the same velocity it had on the earth's surface.—Saturday Evening Post.

BRADY, TEXAS, Aug. 13, 1915

Brady expects every man to his duty today.

Let McCulloch county and Brady's interests swallow up every interest you have today.

Brown county's first bale of cotton came in Saturday. It sold for 10 cents and premium and was classed strict middling.

Dr. J. F. De Vane of San Mateo, Calif., rubbed mump germs on the handle bars of his bicycle. He's happy now; he caught the thief—the thief caught the mumps!

Think of a little box hidden in the parlor telling dad, who has retired to bed, every word Fae's beau utters! Such is the "resonator." It's low down mean; isn't it?

There is always hope for the scion of the despised if he will remember the family that furnishes scallawags in one community may be furnishing prominent citizens in another, and acts accordingly.

You can tell a dead 'un as far as you can see him. He wouldn't smile for a dollar. He don't step out physically or mentally with a purposeful resolve, and he won't do a thing for his town. He can't, his blood's too cold. If you will notice you can tell him a mile off coming down the street.

The Junction Light, of Kimble county, has passed from the hands of Editor D. J. Motley into those of Messrs. J. R. Bourland and C. H. Pickett; their salutatory is modest, but to the point presaging they will do all possible for Junction and Kimble county, in which The Standard wishes them success.

Commenting on the Temple sensation the Brownwood News says: "We do not understand how God Almighty could make a man in His own image capable of committing a deed as beastly and as atrocious as this, but we do understand how the passions of honorable and worthy men can be aroused to visit the most terrible and callous vengeance upon its miserable perpetrator."

AN ALLEGED FUNNYISM.

Brady, of course, is a prohibition town, but the creek waters down there contain a wonderful analysis of the elements to make them very appropriate for all creative occasions.—Brownwood News.

Not long ago the water of Brownwood, the cleanest city in Texas, was creative of nothing but disgust, a putrescent by-word and a shame to the state. It was Brady enterprise that taught Brownwood how to take a bath without emerging an Indian, for the stuff struck in. It ill becomes Brownwood to whisper the word, lest Dives be made to shudder for fear Lazarus be sent with that cupful of water from Brownwood even now.

LOOKING FOR MILLENIUM.

Turkey's downfall will be the signal for the mobilization of the armies of heaven and the return of Jesus Christ in the clouds of glory, accompanied by the angels, is the belief of the Seventh-Day Adventists. The resurrection of the righteous dead will occur at that time, they say. For this reason they say their 125,000 members are watching with interest the development of affairs in the countries along the Mediterranean and Black Seas.

With all due reverence, and however fell the result to most of us, one cannot help thinking He's needed; for Satan seems loose in the world and his emissaries go to the slaughter with hymns on their lips. Pity 'tis true!

It is said that traveling men who work this territory in autos are complaining about the roads of Brown county. Traveling men have no right to complain of roads. They use them more than any other class of people, but pay less than any other class to their upkeep. If traveling men paid road taxes in proportion to their uses of the roads, the highways would doubtless be kept better.—Brownwood News.

Failing to get his paper, an irate subscriber wrote, "We wish the editor would hit the forehead over the head with a nonpareil shooting stick and see that we get our paper." A week later he received this letter from the editor: "We did; and are just crawling out of bed for it." He now gets the paper regularly. This is no criterion to follow, however!

McCulloch county will be an exceedingly unhealthy place for convicts to "lay-out" their fines. The county commissioners last Tuesday ordered all such to be put to work. And best of all, upon the county roads. Long live McCulloch's commissioners, for if ever any measure met with hearty commendation at the hands of the people, this will.

MEANS OF WASHING THE EYE

Winking is a Process Which Dame Nature Has Instituted for Optic's Preservation.

The unconscious act of winking bears a quite important relation to the welfare of the eye. This being the most delicate and sensitive organ of the body exposed to the air, it is in constant need of the protection given by the eyelids, which not only close quickly at the approach of danger, but are employed in washing the surface of the eye. Moistening is required to offset the drying effect of the air, and cleaning to prevent the injurious effect of dirt.

Every time you wink the eye is washed. Inside the eye is the little tear gland, which, as its name implies, is busy storing up the supply of tears. This gland keeps the inside of the lid moist, and you wink automatically whenever the surface of the eye becomes dry or a particle of dust or anything else strikes it. This work is done as often as necessary, and to realize how often it is necessary try how long you can keep your eyes open without winking.

CRACKS AT THE CROWD

By Claude Callan.

Recently we said that every old bachelor should be forced to adopt a baby, just to convince him that he doesn't know anything about raising children, and this caused Bachelor Jeff McLemore of State Topics to express himself as follows: "If the average old bachelor couldn't raise a child better than some of the fathers, he ought to be shot." Well, we never have contended that the bachelors should not be shot.

We would prefer some more humane method of dealing with them, but if they stubbornly refuse to reform, it may be better to have them shot at sunrise by a firing squad of old maids. However, they should be given a chance.

When the prisoners are marched out at daybreak each old maid should step up to a bachelor and say to him in a kind but firm voice: "I hold in one hand a rifle and in the other a marriage license. Your fate is in your own hands. You must go, either to the altar or to perdition."

There is only one bad feature about this plan. Of course some of the prisoners would go meekly to the parson's home, but when an elderly young woman makes this talk to bachelor after bachelor, only to learn that all of them prefer Satan's realm to life with her, she might lose confidence in her charms and develop a chronic case of blues.

Really, this plan would prove a kindness to bachelors. They may not think so, but they would find their new homes very pleasant.

When a man marries a young woman she may feel that she could have done better, and she always thinks that she could have won almost any man of her acquaintance. This causes her to be more or less independent, and she has no fear of losing her life partner. But, when an old maid wins a husband, after long and weary years of watchful waiting, she works untiringly to make the home so pleasant that he will not try to escape.

If a man is trying to do something useful he may become discouraged, but if he starts in to make a fool of himself no power on earth can stop him.

The only ones of your ancestors that the world is interested in are those who left you enough money to pay your bills.

When a poor boy who wasn't worth killing marries rich, he awakes the next morning to find himself a prominent citizen.

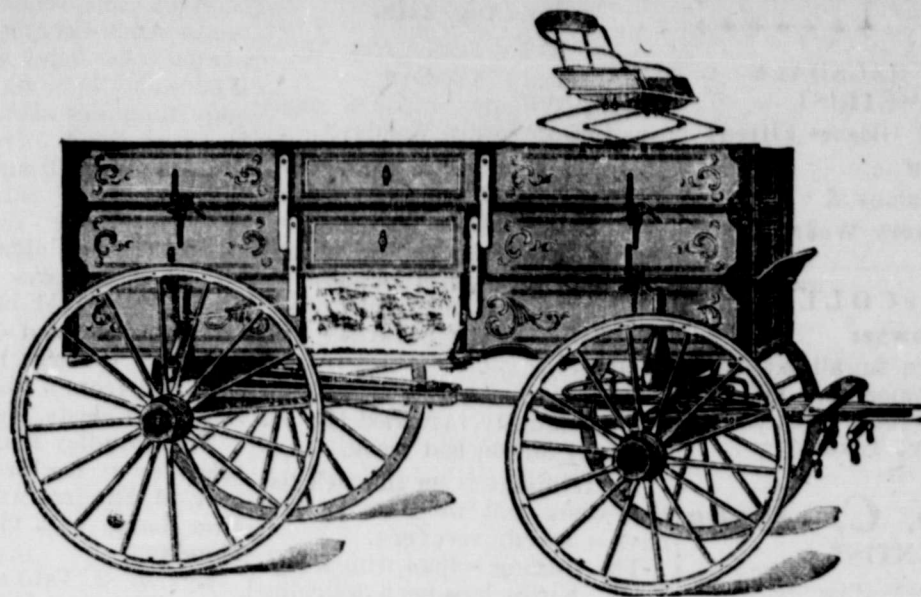

During the course of a lifetime a fellow may have a few friends who really enjoy lending him money, but he never has one who cares to be bored with his hard luck stories.

Speaking of birds of a feather, isn't it comforting to have a talk with a fellow who owes just about as much as you do and who also has nothing to pay with?

A London professor says that first-born children on the average, are inferior to their brothers and sisters. The professor is right, but he doesn't understand the cause. The first child is inferior because of the fact that he doesn't get enough spankings.

If you will get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and observe the directions given therewith faithfully, you will recover in much less time than is usually required. Obtainable everywhere.

Our modern wagon used on the farm is not the product of a generation but of centuries, each year seeing an improvement here, something better added there, until the roller-bearing Schuttler Wagon of today would not be recognized as a wagon by the builders of the first wagons.

The greatest improvement on farm wagons in the past fifty years is the Roller-Bearing feature, and to perfect this has been no little job. All automobiles and other lighter vehicles have this feature, but the farm wagon, on account of the heavy loads it carries and generally rough road it travels, was hard to fit out. The Peter Schuttler people knew though, if the automobile could use Roller-Bearings to an advantage, there must be some way they could be used on Farm Wagons. They got busy and about six years ago they perfected the rollers now used by them. Thousands of enthusiastic users of ROLLER BEARING SCHUTTLER WAGONS now testify to the fact THEY HAVE HIT THE MARK.

It costs a little more, but what of it? It pulls from one-third to one-half lighter, and when you consider the horse flesh saved in the life of a SCHUTTLER WAGON IT IS MANY TIMES CHEAPER.

LET US SHOW YOU ONE OF THESE WAGONS.

CAPTURES REUNION.

Mountain Remnant Brigade Selects Brady for Next Meeting.

Brady captured the 1916 reunion of the Mountain Remnant Brigade at Mason last Friday in the face of very strong opposition, and despite the fact that the organization had already voted to go to Fredericksburg.

At a meeting of the Young Men's Business League here Wednesday night of last week it was decided to make an effort to get the next reunion, and at a meeting of the board of directors of the league held Thursday morning a committee was appointed to secure a representative number of citizens to go to Mason the following day to invite the Veterans to hold their next reunion here.

Ten or twelve automobile owners volunteered to go and take as many as their cars would accommodate, and the party numbering some twenty-five or thirty left early Friday morning for Mason. On arrival, the local boosters were informed that the place of meeting for next year had been voted on, and that Fredericksburg had been chosen. A number of the Veterans, however, stated that they would prefer to come to Brady, as they had not forgotten the entertainment given them here several years ago, and that if it was possible to do so they would bring the matter up for re-consideration and vote to hold the next reunion in Brady. With considerable opposition, this was done and on the final vote Brady was chosen by a large majority.

BUYS PASCHE GIN

N. B. Embry and J. F. Wood Close Deal for Pasche Plant.

A deal was closed here Monday whereby N. B. Embry and John F. Wood of this city purchase the plant of the Pasche Gin Co. at Pasche. The work of remodeling and repairing the plant has already been started and it will be put into first-class condition for the season just opening.

The plant was put in last year and is thoroughly modern and up-to-date in every respect. It was owned by a company of local citizens having farming interests in that section. Mr. Wood will have charge of the plant, and is now engaged in overhauling the machinery and putting everything into shape for a busy season. He is an experienced gin man, having been employed with the Perry Gin here for several seasons and last year with Mr. Embry.

Campbell-Roberts Nuptials

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that on Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Roberts, Sr., when their only daughter, Miss Lillian, was united in marriage with W. E. Campbell, in the presence of some sixty relatives and friends.

The Roberts home was profusely decorated throughout in green and white, the doorway between the dining room and living room being transformed into an archway of green and white under which the bridal party stood during the impressive marriage service. In the spacious dining room pink and white carnations and ferns were used in the decorations.

Promptly at 6:30 Mrs. J. S. Anderson at the piano struck up the majestic strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bride on the arm of her father descended the stairway, preceded by her brother, W. F. Roberts, Jr., of Lohn, and her cousin, Miss Ruth Campbell of this city. They were met underneath the archway by the groom, where Rev. T. P. Grant, pastor of the Presbyterian church, said the impressive Presbyterian ring ceremony which united the popular young couple for life.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white charmeuse and duchess lace en traine, and wore a bridal veil with a spray of orange blossoms caught with a beautiful diamond bar pin, a gift from the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of lilies of the valley and white bride's roses, which was thrown from the stairway and caught by Miss Harriet Cook. The traveling suit of the bride was a handsome midnight blue serve gown with hat and gloves to match.

Miss Campbell wore pink and white crepe de chine.

Immediately following the ceremony delicious pink and white brick cream and cake was served in the dining room by Mesdames J. R. Stone, J. G. McCall and Miss Harriet Cook. The bride is an only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, and one of the most popular and accomplished young ladies of this city. She is a member of the most exclusive clubs of the city and a universal favorite in social circles.

The groom is one of the most prominent young stockmen of this section of the state, and is also interested in a number of local business institutions, being a member of the board of directors of the Commercial National bank, and also a member of the automobile firm of Simpson & Co. He is a universal favorite in both business and social circles of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left at 8:00 o'clock for Brownwood, where they took the California Limited for an eight weeks' trip to the San Francisco exposition and other points of interest in California and other Pacific coast states, after which they will return here to make their future home.

Out-of-town guests who were present included the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Roberts, Jr., of Lohn; J. E. Bell, Luling; Mrs. E. Campbell of San Saba, mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of San Saba; Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fagg of San Saba.

Merry Maids and Matrons.

Miss Minnie Elliot was a charming hostess on Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Merry Maids and Matrons club and a few invited guests.

The ever-popular game of "42" furnished a pleasing diversion for the afternoon, the games being enjoyed at four tables. High score was awarded Miss Nettie Lou Morrow, while consolation went to Mrs. J. B. Whiteman.

Following the games the hostess served delicious pineapple sherbet and cake.

Club members present were: Mesdames George Davis, A. Hennesforf, J. B. Whiteman, V. L. Sessions, Will Kennerly, Will Lyle, W. J. Dawson; Misses Nettie Lou Morrow, Carrie Sessions, Trixie Gay, Fannie Lyle. Guests of the club included Mesdames M. P. Wegner, B. A. Jones; Misses Sarah Johanson, Esther and Allie Mae Anderson, Louise Davis of Temple.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. W. E. Lyle on Wednesday afternoon of next week.

The Story Telling Hour.

Mrs. J. H. White was leader of "The Story Telling Hour" at Ogden Park on Saturday, August 8th. Her stories were: "Sarah Crewe," by Frances H. Bennett; "The Great Stone Face" by Nathaniel Hawthorne, and several of Andersen's fairy tales. After stories she gave each child poppy seed to sow in the park.

Mrs. Dave Camp will be with the children August 4th.

THE VITAL PROBLEM OF AGRICULTURE

By Peter Radford.

There is no escaping the market problem and the highest development of agriculture will not be attained until it is solved, for a market is as necessary for the producer as land on which to grow his crop. Governmental and educational institutions have spent $180,000,000 in the United States during the past ten years for improving soil production and improving seeds and plants, but very little attention and less money has been given to the marketing side of agriculture.

The problem is a monumental one and one which will never be solved until it gets within the grasp of a gigantic organization where master minds can concentrate the combined experience and wisdom of the age upon it. It is a problem which the farmers, merchants, bankers, editors and statesmen must unite in solving.

The Farmers' Union stands for all there is in farming from the most scientific methods of seed selection to the most systematic and profitable plans of marketing, but does not believe in promoting one to the neglect of the other. We consider the work of farm demonstrators valuable and we ask that governmental and commercial agencies seeking to help us, continue to give us their assistance and advice, but we believe that their influence should be extended to the marketing side of our farm problems also.

We cannot hope to develop manufacturing by over-production of the factory; we cannot build up mercantile enterprises by the merchants loading their shelves with surplus goods and no more can we develop agriculture by glutting the market with a surplus of products.

DARIUS

The neigh of a horse made Darius King of Persia, the six contending powers for the throne agreeing among themselves that the one whose horse should neigh first should possess the kingdom. This ancient method of settling disputes among politicians could be revived with profit today. If our partisan factions and petty politicians could only settle their disputes by the neigh of a horse, the bark of a dog or the bray of a donkey, it would be a great blessing and would give our citizens a better opportunity to pursue the vocations of industry free from political strife.

Let those who pick political plums by raising rows and who flash swords dripping in the blood of industry understand that they cannot turn the public forum into a political arena and by a clash of personal aspirations still the hammer and stop the plow and that their quarrels must be settled in the back alleys of civilization.

Sallow complexion comes from bilious impurities in the blood and the fault lies with the liver and bowels—they are torpid. The medicine that gives results in such cases is HERBINE. It is a fine liver stimulant and bowel regulator. Price 50c. Sold by Central Drug Store.

Steve Duke of DeLeon, a former well-known Brady boy, arrived in the city Tuesday morning for a few days' visit with his mother, Mrs. S. A. Duke, and sister, Mrs. H. P. Jordan, and family.

S. J. Howard of Pear Valley was a visitor to the city Wednesday. He reports crops in his community as being the "best ever", cotton holding up well, with a bumper feed crop being harvested.

Mr. and Mrs. Striegler, and son, Cecil, returned this morning from a visit to the Dallas and St. Louis markets, where Mr. Striegler purchased a stock of fall goods and millinery for the Popular Dry Goods Co.

Mr. and Mrs. McCord Harrison of San Antonio and Miss Elma Collins of Premont will arrive in the city today for a week's visit with Mrs. Harrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schaeg. They are making the trip in the Harrison car.

G. W. Vierling of Junction spent Tuesday and Wednesday in the city shaking hands with his many friends while looking after business interests. He left Wednesday night over the Frisco for a visit to his old home in Haubstadt, Ind., where he will spend several weeks.

Mrs. B. Simpson left Sunday night for the Chicago and St. Louis markets, where she will spend a week or ten days selecting her stock of millinery for the coming fall season. Mrs. Simpson will have her millinery parlors at the Wide Awake store on the north side of the public square this year.

S. W. Hughes arrived Wednesday morning from a trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition. He reports a very pleasant trip and a most enjoyable time at the big show. Mrs. Hughes, who accompanied him on the trip, stopped over in Coleman for a few days' visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Steffins left Wednesday night for Brownwood, where they will spend several days as guests of Mr. Steffins' mother, Mrs. C. L. Steffins. Mr. Steffins has recently resigned his position with the Wells-Fargo Express Co. at Corsicana, and will probably go into business in Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schaeg of this city, and Miss Mildred White of Mason arrived home Monday morning from a tour of California and other Western states as members of a Radnor tour party. They spent several days at the San Francisco exposition and places of interest along the route and report one of the most pleasant trips of their lives.

Dr. J. W. Ragsdale was over Wednesday from Brownwood to look after the optical department of the B. L. Malone & Co. store. The doctor has only recently returned from an extended visit to California and other Pacific coast states, making the trip as a member of the Dallas Shrine band. While in California he took in the sights at the big exposition and also attended the sessions of the World's Optometry Congress as a special representative from Texas.

At the Baptist Church.

The Standard is in receipt of the following communication from Rev. J. M. Reynolds, pastor of the local Baptist church, who is conducting a revival meeting at Eden, which is self-explanatory:

"Please announce in your paper Friday that W. T. Curtis, editor of the Central Messenger, Brownwood, will speak at the Baptist church next Sunday at both morning and evening services. Subject for morning will be 'Safety First.' The service at night will be under control of the B. Y. P. U. We are having a great meeting here. Will come home Monday, the 16th."

THE PRICE IS THE THING

WOMAN'S HOME MISSION SOCIETY.

Last year the enrollment in the Huchow Middle school, at Hochow, China, was one hundred and two, the largest number ever received. This term the enrollment has reached one hundred and twenty-four.

There are 1,342,000 Italians in the United States. More Italians live in New York City than in Rome. One out of every five returns to his native land after a few years' residence in the United States. Evangelize him, and he returns a missionary.

It seems probable that some people can be successful in doing work they do not enjoy. At least the young are occasionally warned by the successful never to undertake the line of work in which they have made their mark. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps several times advised those who aspired to a literary career to scrub floors in preference, but it is probable that after she had earned a week's living by the form of toil she recommended she would have returned to her pen with a strong sense of satisfaction. All work is a "grind" at times. No one ever makes a record without sticking to a task after it has come to seem hard and monotonous. But underneath the superficial reluctance, nine times out of ten, there is enjoyment. The better the worker loves his work, the better his chances. A pretty young woman, so girlish in her appearance that it seemed impossible that she had spent five years on the foreign mission fields, startled some conservative hearers by the statement that she had found it

"real fun" to be a missionary. A few of them were fearful that the statement indicated a failure to appreciate the serious nature of her calling but as a matter of fact she was a better missionary for finding "fun" in her work, just as she would have been a better teacher if she had gone to school with smiling eyes each morning, eager for a new day's work. It is said that the famous editor of the New York Sun, Mr. Dana, was once proffered sympathy because of the "grind" of his profession. His answer was: "You were never more mistaken. I have nothing but fun." The worker is to be congratulated who goes to his daily task not merely because he feels that it is his duty, but quite as much "for the fun of the thing."—Alexander Roberts.

H. A. Metcalf, stationary engineer, Brady, says: "About five years ago I was doing heavy lifting and the drinking water was none too good where I was living at the time. These two conditions brought on kidney complaint. At first I had a dull ache through my back, which gradually got so bad that I couldn't work. My kidneys didn't act regularly and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I used lots of kidney medicines, trying to get relief, but none helped me. I then read of Doan's Kidney Pills and made up my mind to try them. It wasn't long before my back was easier, my kidneys were acting regularly and I felt like a different man. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

POOR BUSINESS IN A LAND OF GOLD (?)

An exchange asks why there should be poor business in a land of gold and quotes the following: Seventy-five tons of gold, conveyed by a flotilla of destroyers as guard arrived in New York from England Wednesday. There were $100,000,000 in the shipment and it was sent to strengthen European credit in America.
There is more gold in the United States than in any other country in the world. The latest figures show that on Aug. 2 there was two billion, six million, three hundred ninety-nine thousand, five hundred thirty-nine dollars in gold cash and bullion—the greatest stock of gold of any country in the world—probably greater than any other two countries in the world.

The supply of gold in the United States is the greatest in her history and she is still accumulating it at the rate of $12,000,000 a month, which was the amount added to the stock of gold in July, or between July 1 and Aug. 2.

No nation in the world, ancient or modern, ever had such a stock of the precious metal. England today has, it is estimated, $800,000,000. She has been hoarding the metal and urging the people to use paper money. The increase in the stock of gold in the United States is attributed to the accretions from the balance of trade which is now so largely in favor of the United States.

It is impossible for England to hold its gold reserve. It is impossible for France. It is impossible for Italy or Russia. As for Belgium, she is bankrupt. This week $100,000,000 in English gold reached New York city from Halifax. The warring nations must have supplies. This will deplete their supply of gold.

Should this war continue for a year or two years then the printing presses will be started by the governments of the warring nations and paper money will be issued to the subjects of those nations. Then will come the real test and it will be a survival of the strongest.

But Uncle Sam has the gold; more of it than he ever had at any one time in the history of this republic. Uncle Sam has a billion bushels of wheat. He has two and a half billion bushels of corn. He has an enormous oat crop.

Here in the South will be produced twelve million bales of cotton and this is a very conservative estimate. Europe is clamoring for food stuffs. Europe is clamoring for munition of war. Europe is clamoring for cotton.

Thousands of bales of cotton go up every week in the smoke of battle. This cotton is not consumed by the spinners of the world. It is consumed by the powder makers of the world. Then why point to the great number of spindles in the allied nations in comparison with the number in the Teutonic countries and Turkey?

But the gold is pouring in. There is a demand for the grain of the North and the foreign buyers are paying the price. There is a demand for the cotton of the South, but the foreign grain buyers object to the sale of cotton to the people of neutral countries.

Farmers should hold their cotton. They should market the products sparingly. They should stand pat and protect their own.

When baby suffers with eczema or some itching skin trouble, use Doan's Ointment. A little of it goes a long way and it is safe for children. 50c a box at all stores.

WITH ILLUSTRATIONS FROM PHOTOGRAPHS OF SCENES IN THE PLAY

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—On Misery Creek, at the foot of a rock from which he has fallen, Sally Miller finds George Lescott, a landscape painter, unconscious, and after reviving him, goes for assistance.

CHAPTER II—Samson South and Sally, taking Lescott to Samson's home, are met by Spicer South, head of the family, who tells them that Jesse Purvey has been shot, and that Samson is suspected of the crime. Samson denies it.

CHAPTER III—The shooting of Jesse Purvey breaks the truce of Hollman-South feud.

CHAPTER IV—Samson reproves Tamarack Spicer for telling Sally that Jim Hollman is on the trail with bloodhounds hunting the man who shot Purvey.

CHAPTER V—The bloodhounds lose the trail at Spicer South's door. Lescott discovers artistic ability in Samson. While sketching with Lescott on the mountain, Tamarack discovers Samson to be a jeering crowd of mountaineers. Samson thrashes him and denounces him as the "truce-buster" who shot Purvey.

CHAPTER VI—Lescott tries to persuade Samson to go to New York with him and develop his talent. Sally, loyal but heartbroken, furthers Lescott's efforts. The dance at Wile McCager's threatens trouble to Samson and Lescott.

CHAPTER VII—At the dance Samson tells the South clan he is going to leave the mountains. Lescott goes home to New York. Samson bids Spicer and Sally farewell and follows.

CHAPTER VIII—In New York Samson studies art and learns much of city ways. Drennie Lescott persuades Wilfred Horton, her dilettante lover, to do a man's work in the world.

CHAPTER IX—Prompted by her love, Sally teaches herself to write. Horton throws himself into the business world and becomes well hated by predatory financiers and politicians. At a Bohemian resort Samson meets William Farbish, sporty social parasite, and Horton's enemy.

CHAPTER X—Farbish sees Samson and Drennie dining together unchaperoned at the Wigwam roadhouse. He conspires with others to make Horton jealous and succeeds.

CHAPTER XI—Farbish brings Norton and Samson together at the Kenmore club's shooting lodge, and forces an open rupture, expecting Samson to kill Horton and so rid the political and financial thugs of the crusader. Samson exposes the plot and thrashes the conspirators.

CHAPTER XII—Samson is advised by his teachers to turn to portrait painting. Drennie commissions him to paint her portrait. Sally goes to Paris to study. Drennie finds in his studio pictured evidence of his loyalty to Sally.

CHAPTER XIII—Samson goes home, catches Aaron Hollis in the act of murdering Jesse Purvey and kills him. He goes to Sally. Captain Callomb hears of the killings.

CHAPTER XIV—Judge Hollman shows how justice works—and is worked—in the Kentucky mountains. He suppresses Samson's letter to the court. Captain Callomb goes over to Misery to get information, gets it, and begins to fight the devil with fire. Samson is indicted and arrested, while calling on the governor.

"I don't know yet what I can do, but I can tell you I'm going to do something," said the governor. "You can just begin watching me. In the meantime, I believe I am commander-in-chief of the state troops."

"And I am captain of 'F' company, but all I can do is to obey the orders of a bunch of Borgias."

"As your superior officer," smiled the governor, "I can give you orders. I'm going to give you one now. Mr. South has applied to me for a pardon in advance of trial. Technically, I have the power to grant that request. Morally, I doubt my right. Certainly, I shall not do it without a very thorough sifting of evidence and grave consideration of the necessities of the case—as well as the danger of the precedent. However, I am considering it, and for the present you will parole your prisoner in my custody. Mr. South, you will not leave Frankfort without my permission. You will take every precaution to conceal your actual identity. You will treat as utterly confidential all that has transpired here—and, above all, you will not let newspaper men discover you. Those are my orders. Report here tomorrow afternoon, and remember that you are my prisoner."

Samson bowed and left the two cousins together, where shortly they were joined by the attorney general. That evening, the three dined at the executive mansion, and sat until midnight in the governor's private office, still deep in discussion. During the long session, Callomb opened the bulky volume of the Kentucky statutes, and laid his finger on section 2673.

"There's the rub," he protested, reading aloud: "The military shall be at all times, and in all cases, in strict subordination to the civil power."

The governor glanced down to the next paragraph and read in part: "The governor may direct the commanding officer of the military force to report to any one of the following-named officers of the district in which the said force is employed: Mayor of a city, sheriff, jailer or marshal."

"Which list," stormed Callomb, "is the honor roll of the assassins."

"At all events"—the governor had derived from Callomb much information as to Samson South which the mountaineer himself had modestly withheld—"South gets his pardon. That is only a step. I wish I could make him satrap over his province, and provide him with troops to rule it. Unfortunately, our form of government has its drawbacks."

"It might be possible," ventured the attorney general, "to impeach the sheriff, and appoint this or some other suitable man to fill the vacancy until the next election."

"The legislature doesn't meet until next winter," objected Callomb. "There is one chance. The sheriff down there is a sick man. Let us hope he may die."

One day, the Hixon conclave met in the room over Hollman's Mammoth Department store, and with much profanity read a communication from Frankfort, announcing the pardon of Samson South. In that episode, they foresaw the beginning of the end for their dynasty. The outside world was looking on, and their regime could not survive the spotlight of law-loving scrutiny.

"The fust thing," declared Judge Hollman, curtly, "is to get rid of these damned soldiers. We'll attend to our own business later, and we don't want them watchin' us. Just now, we want to lie mighty quiet for a spell—tee-totally quiet until I pass the word."

Samson had won back the confidence of his tribe, and enlisted the faith of the state administration. He had been authorized to organize a local militia company, and to drill them, provided he could stand answerable for their conduct. The younger Souths took gleefully to that idea. The mountain boy makes a good soldier, once he has grasped the idea of discipline. For ten weeks, they drilled daily in squads and weekly in platoons. Then, the fortuitous came to pass. Sheriff Forbin died, leaving behind him an unexpired term of two years, and Samson was summoned hastily to Frankfort. He returned, bearing his commission as high sheriff, though, when the news reached Hixon, there were few men who envied him his post, and none who cared to bet that he would live to take his oath of office.

That August court day was a memorable one in Hixon. Samson South was coming to town to take up his duties. Every one recognized it as the day of final issue, and one that could hardly pass without bloodshed. The Hollmans, standing in their last trench, saw only the blunt question of Hollman-South supremacy. For years, the feud had flared and sputtered and broken again into eruptions, but never before had a South sought to throw his outposts of power across the waters of Crippleshin, and into the county seat. That the present South came bearing commission as an officer of the law only made his effrontery the more unendurable.

Samson had not called for outside troops. The drilling and disciplining of his own company had progressed in silence along the waters of Misery. They were a slouching, unmilitary band of uniformed vagabonds, but they were longing to fight, and Callomb had been with them, tirelessly whipping them into rudimentary shape. After all, they were as much partisans as they had been before they were issued state rifles. The battle, if it came, would be as factional as the fight of 25 years ago, when the Hollmans held the store and the Souths the courthouse. But back of all that lay one essential difference, and it was this difference that had urged the governor to stretch the forms of law and put each dangerous power into the hands of one man. That difference was the man himself. He was to take drastic steps, but he was to take them under the forms of law, and the state executive believed that, having gone through worse to better, he would maintain the improved condition.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

Busy Term Adjourned Yesterday—Tax Levy Made for 1915.

The August term of commissioners' court convened Monday with all members of the body in attendance.

It being represented to the court that Mrs. Belle Frazier and her children were likely to become a public charge, and that she could be taken care of by relatives at Emory, Texas, the clerk was authorized to issue a warrant for $15 to defray her expenses to that place.

An order which was made by the court at a previous term defining the boundaries of Fife Common School District No. 14 out of the western portion of the old Fife district was rescinded.

The trustees of Ward school district were authorized to sell the old building at either public or private sale, and apply the proceeds to the new building fund.

Road Overseer J. F. Moore was authorized to expend the sum of $75 on the road running six miles east of Lohn, and the clerk was authorized to pay accounts for labor and material used in the work when approved by Commissioner J. M. Carroll.

Returns of a bond election held in Fairview School District No. 3 on the issuance of $2,500 in bonds for the construction of new buildings were opened and canvassed by the court, and the result declared as follows: For the issuance of bonds, 11; against the issuance of bonds, 3. The bonds were ordered issued in the sum of $2,500, to bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, and to run for a period of twenty years. A tax sufficient to create an interest and sinking fund for the issue was levied on all real and personal property within the district for 1915.

Returns of a bond election held in the Carroll Colony school district on July 31st were canvassed by the court, and results declared as follows: For the issuance of bonds, 9; against the issuance of bonds in the sum of $800, bearing 5 per cent interest and running a period of twenty years was authorized by the court, and a tax levy on all real and personal property within the district was made for the year 1915.

Returns of an election held in Harkrider Common School District No. 20, on an additional tax levy of 20 cents for school purposes were canvassed and the result declared as follows: For the tax, 7; against the tax, 1.

An order was passed by the court providing for the working of county convicts on the public roads, and Sheriff J. C. Wall was authorized to employ a guard for such work, when as many as two convicts are confined in the county jail.

The following tax levy for 1915 was made by the court: Ad valorem.....$.20
Road and Bridge......14
Old Bridge Bonds......01
New Bridge Bonds......04
Court House Bonds......02½
Jury Fund......02
County Poll......25

Occupation taxes were levied at one-half that assessed by the state.

A tax levy of 20c on the $100 valuation was made in each of the following common school districts of the county: 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 22, 24, 26, 27, 30, 32, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 41, 43. A levy of 10c was made in districts 21 and 40; 25c in Nos. 7, 18, 42 and 44; 30c in Nos. 4, 11, 17, 20, 25 and 28; 7 1-2c in No. 29; 50c in No. 31; 20c in Nos. 3, 11, 17, 18 and 20; 15c in Nos. 37 and 42.

Levies to create interest and sinking funds for bond issues were made as follows: 25c in Nos. 7, 15, 36, 41 and 44, 30c in No. 13 12 1-2c in No. 29; 10c in No. 10.

A levy of 15c was made in Camp See Saba Road District No. 1 for the current year.

Quarterly reports of Justices of the Peace T. J. King of Precinct No. 1 and W. F. Roberts, Jr., of Precinct No. 4 were examined, found correct and approved, as was also the report of M. F. Fuller, constable of Precinct No. 1.

The quarterly report of County Treasurer John Rainbolt was examined and approved.

Tabular statement of County Clerk W. J. Yantis showing receipts and disbursements of county funds for the quarter ending August 9, 1915, was examined and approved by the court.

The clerk was authorized to issue warrant for $333.95 on the Road and Bridge fund in favor of Austin Bros. in payment for a bridge across the dry prong of Deep Creek.

Warrants were also ordered issued to A. L. Greenberg Iron Co. in payment for three bridges—one across Brady creek at Melvin, one across Lost Creek and another across Deep Creek.

The quarterly report of Sheriff J. C. Wall and the monthly report of Tax Collector S. H. Mayo were examined and approved.

It being represented to the court that J. M. Jonas has erected a dam across Corn creek on the Brady-Brownwood road, thus diverting water from its natural course, with resultant damage to said road, he is ordered to remove said dam at once, and if he fails to do so, then the road overseer of the district is authorized to remove same.

Court adjourned yesterday for the term.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts Like Dynamite on a Sluggish Liver and You Lose a Day's Work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a sponful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

Just received, a shipment of wall paper. New, pretty designs, and the prices are low. E. B. Ramsay's Planing Mill.

Equip your car with a set of the celebrated Republic Tires and ride in peace. E. J. BROAD.

In every home where there is a baby there should also be a bottle of McGEE'S BABY ELIXIR. It may be needed at any time to correct sour stomach, wind colic, diarrhoea or summer complaint. It is a wholesome remedy, contains no opium, morphine or injurious drug of any kind. Price 25c and 50c per bottle. Sold by Central Drug Store.

OPENS SEPTEMBER 6TH.

Everything in Readiness for Beginning of Year's Work.

Superintendent W. L. Hughes of the city schools announces that everything is now in readiness for the opening of the 1915-'16 term of school Monday, September 6th, and with one of the strongest faculties in the history of Brady, he is looking forward to a most successful year's work.

During the vacation months just closing considerable improvements have been made at the Central building, the building being renovated throughout and made clean and sanitary. A stage has been built in the auditorium on the third floor, where the pupils and patrons may have gatherings of all kinds. Two fire escapes are to be placed on the building, with exits on the second and third floors. The high school building, located on the north side, was finished last summer and is now thoroughly modern and up-to-date in all respects. It contains a large study hall, large and well ventilated class rooms and reasonably well-equipped laboratories.

Several changes have been made this year in the personnel of both the high and grammar school departments, and Brady may boast one of the strongest corps of instructors in this section of the state. The High school faculty will be as follows:

W. L. Hughes, superintendent, Mathematics.

C. J. Niisse, Science.

R. M. Donnell, Latin-Spanish.

Miss Florence Ryan, English.

Mrs. W. B. Anderson, History.

A few minor changes have been made in the High school course of study, among which is the addition of another year of science. This course will be given in the second year of High school and will be a study of vegetable and animal life particularly in this part of the state. The full four-year course is as follows:

Required—First Year: English, Algebra, Ancient History; Second year: English, Algebra; Third Year: English, Plane Geometry; Fourth year: English, American History. Elective: First year: Latin, Science; Second year: History, Latin, Science; Third year: History, Latin, Science, Spanish; Fourth year: Latin, Science, Mathematics, Spanish.

This course gives the student opportunity to select studies suited to his individual tastes. English, being the most important of the studies, is required each year. Sixteen credits are required for graduation. An extra bright and industrious student may finish enough work to graduate in three years. A yearly general average of 75 is required for full credit on any subject.

The course of study in the grammar school will remain practically the same as last year.

The following faculty has been chosen for the Central school:

W. H. P. Marsden, principal; 6th grade.

Miss Euna White, 5th grade.

Miss Lena Carroll, 4th grade.

Mrs. W. E. Adkins, sections of 3rd and 4th grades.

Miss Jewel Caperton, 3rd grade.

Mrs. F. A. Knox, 2nd grade.

Miss Emma Young, High 1st grade.

Miss Inez Butler, Low 1st grade.

In order to secure promotion in the grades a student must make a yearly average of 75, with no subject average below 60.

The high school faculty this year is one of the strongest to be found anywhere, all being graduates of colleges of the first class, and one of the most capable corps of instructors ever brought to Brady. The Central school faculty is composed of teachers of long and successful experience, most of them being graduates of normal schools of the state.

The high school now has a total of 16 1-2 credits with the state university, and is rated by that institution as a high school of the first class.

The present board of education is composed of the following:

E. L. Jones, president.

O. L. McShan, vice president.

H. C. Samuel, secretary.

Ed. Broad.

A. A. Lange.

J. F. Davis.

R. B. McClure.

FACT AND FANCY
By MAUDE BREWSTER.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Marie was a street singer, but Marie had dreams. While she sang for pennies and dimes that were tossed to her from the windows of apartment houses she fancied herself a grand opera singer bowing gracefully before a great audience of music lovers. As she glanced from time to time at Lecco, the young Greek who was her accompanist, and who turned the hand organ mechanically, Marie fancied him to be a great and wonderful conductor waving his baton and carrying her rhythmically through her operatic arias.

The afternoon upon which Marie and Lecco stopped before the studio apartments on West Fifty-seventh street was fraught with much excitement and interest for both the Greek and the little singer from Italy.

John Orth, artist and philanthropist, was giving a tea in his sumptuous studio when Marie's voice arose from the streets and startled his guests with its sympathetic timbre and clarity of tone.

"What do you say to asking them up here for a song?" he asked.

"Great! Here's a chance for Orth to take another protégé under his wide wing," Billy Craven made answer.

The idea was no sooner suggested than carried out, and a moment later Marie and Lecco, together with the old hand organ, were up in John Orth's studio and facing a company of Bohemians who eagerly pressed forward and encircled them.

Marie had always fancied herself singing before a critical audience. It was no doubt that long, half-conscious training in the world of dreams that carried her successfully through the ordeal.

Before leaving, Marie had promised John Orth to return the following day to receive instructions preparatory to beginning a course of study in vocal and instrumental music. Also they had been taken into the dining-room, where Orth's servants offered them tea and cakes such as would make the mouths of less hungry people water.

When they had finally left the studio John Orth sat in deep study. His guests, now that the tense moments were slipping into the past, began to chide him.

"I am hard hit," he admitted slowly. "If that girl takes advantage of her studies and makes a name for herself I—"

"You'll marry the girl," laughed Jimmy Craven.

"Yes, I think I will," John Orth said. Days slipped into weeks and Marie progressed slowly, but with great intelligence. She found study tedious and the demands put upon her time wearisome. Her brain, unaccustomed to training, rebelled at the long hours of application to technique, sight reading and endless scales, both vocal and instrumental. She felt much like a bird that had been caged, and Marie longed passionately for her freedom.

Her fancies had never embodied this constant toil. The fact was less attractive to her than her wonderful dreams and castles in the air.

Lecco, too, seemed unconsciously to add to her troubles. That he was occupying himself with business was evident in the enlarged store and increased trade. Marie wondered at the loneliness and sudden strangeness of the world, and it was to Lecco she went with her woes.

"Meestair Orth—he would marry me," she said finally. "He say he loves me."

Lecco's face went white. "I love you, too, Marie," he cried swiftly, and would have stopped the rush of words to his lips had not Marie crept happily into his arms.

"You never say so to me; never told me you love me," she whispered in the wonderful tones that would have made her famous had she loved happiness less. "I have loved you forever, Lecco."

A flame leaped into Lecco's black eyes and he bent his head over the lips that were to him red poppies flung on an oval of alabaster.
