AT CHRISTIAN TABERNACLE

Last Sunday an Interesting Lecture Was Made by C. H. Jenkins.

Judge C. H. Jenkins of Brownwood filled the pulpit at the Christian church Sunday night, with an interesting lecture on "Divinity of Christ." His remarks were greatly appreciated by an attentive audience. The Fifth Sunday meeting was also observed Sunday, and the towns of San Saba and Rochelle besides Brady were well represented. Interesting talks were made by W. A. Smith of San Saba and Mrs. O. E. Rice of Rochelle. Taken all through, the Fifth Sunday meeting was a very profitable one, as well as being greatly enjoyed by all present.

OPERA HOUSE TO RE-OPEN THURS.

Brady's Popular Play House to Throw Open Its Doors Thursday Night, August 2nd.

Manager Julius Levy of the Brady opera house has returned from Dallas, where he has made new contracts and re-arranged for a better class of plays than ever, having secured the contract for such plays as the great Paramount pictures, Triangle features and Pathe's popular plays, and also arranged for the great serial, "The Fate of King."

The opening play for next Thursday night will be the great five-reel society drama "Back of the Man." On Friday night the feature play will be Wm. S. Hart in "The Devil's Double," an exciting five-reel drama. Saturday night the public will be treated to a stirring detective drama of five reels, entitled "Hunting the Hawk." Monday night, August 6th, will be shown the well known photo-play "Sapho."

Manager Levy has always striven to give Brady people the best play house west of Fort Worth and his new arrangements will no doubt meet the approval of all theatre goers. The price of admission will always be 10c and 15c except on Friday, and all children occupying seats must have tickets.

If you want a real society drama, and want to see if there's a woman back of every man in Brady, don't fail to see "Back of the Man," the opening play at opera house, Thursday night.

STATE TAX RATE MADE 35 CENTS

Austin, July 25.—The state automatic tax board this afternoon fixed the state ad valorem tax rate at 35 cents on the $100 of property. This is the constitutional limit and an increase of 15 cents over the present rate of 20 cents. The school tax rate was fixed at 20 cents, which is the same as at present. The Confederate pensions remains at 5 cents. The question as to whether the university appropriation is included or not does not cut any figure as constitutional limit has been reached.

North Side Bible Class No. 1.

The North Side Bible Class No. 1 met last Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock with Mrs. A. W. Tipton. A large crowd was present. The lesson was thoroughly enjoyed by all. We will meet again next Friday at the same hour with Mrs. Bloomfield. Bible lesson: Isaiah 8th to 11th. Sunday school lesson will also be discussed.

We have the same teachers, so let the mothers come and bring their children.

vernacular means the meal. The "chow" call is the first bugle call a rookie learns and "Reveille" is about the last one they learn or rather they don't want to learn it or hear it either for that matter. We have a big mess hall which holds 1000 men at one time. Everyone marches in in order and stands at attention at the various tables until the command "seats!" is given. Then everyone sits down and falls to. Waiters pass up and down the aisle with the different foods in large pans and sees that each man gets his share of "chow." The waiters are only sailor boys like ourselves. Each company takes it week about serving as waiters and so the government is saved the expense of hiring waiters. We have both been rated from apprentice seaman to seaman second class. Our pay is $35.00 per month. We draw $10.00 each pay day, which comes twice per month. The other $15.00 is held back each month until we go to sea. Then it is paid to us and we get a fifteen day furlough home at the end of six months time, then upon our return we are sent to sea. We have been here now nearly three months, and both of us are well pleased with this life. About the only thing we worry about is for them to hurry and send us to sea. But we don't know when we will be sent out, as we hear all kinds of rumors. One day it is the Hawaiian Islands we are going to; the next it is to France on guard duty or maybe to sea. But we have never yet heard an officer say we were going any where. So we have got to where we don't put any faith in reports we hear. It is enough to say that we will be well pleased to get the order to go to sea. We get liberty from Saturday evening at 1:30 until Sunday night at 12:00 o'clock and can go to Chicago or Milwaukee and have ample time to get there and see the sights and have a general good time. The last time we had liberty we went to Chicago and went out to Lincoln Park. There is a famous statue of Lincoln which stands at the entrance of the park. It sure is a fine piece of workmanship. We also visited the famous art institute, which is open and free to either a soldier or sailor. There are sure some grand sights in there. It takes you about two or three hours to take your time and enjoy all the sights which meet your gaze. It surely is a wonderful place and we will never forget the things we saw there. Some people might think we are lonesome here, but we assure them it is not so, for we see so many sights and there are so many boys from Texas here that we haven't time to be lonesome. That is one thing we have on them all, the Lone Star State furnished about three recruits to the other states one, so when we tell them that they don't have anything to say. There is an officers reserve camp at Fort Sheridan, just 5 miles below here and we see a good lot of their work too, for we have been down there twice. We are prouder every day that we enlisted in the navy instead of either of the other branches of the service, the army or marines. We don't get near so much hard drilling as they do, for we will not need it only in case of a landing from the vessel which we may be on. Well, we have endeavored to tell to the best of our ability some of the trials of the life which we lead here. There are numerous other things which time and space forbid, but will try to tell more at some future date. We are both pleased with the navy, and don't regret joining like some of the boys thought we would. As it is almost time for "chow" will close for this time.

Letter From Great Lakes, Ill.

The following letter was received by The Standard from Ben Reed and Delmar Connally. They are located at Great Lakes, Ill., in the U. S. Naval Training Station. Their letter contains much information as well as being an interesting letter through:

"July 15, 1917.
"Editor Brady Standard:
We have decided to write the long put-off letter to The Standard and tell something of the life we lead here while training. This is about the first chance we have had to write it, as we are in different companies, and hardly ever see each other, then only to exchange a word or two. But this Sunday evening we both happen to be at leisure, so will write.
As you see by the paper, we are writing this in the Y. M. C. A.—which is a very beneficial organization, especially for the boys at this station. We can come here and write with free paper, pen and ink at any time. There are also magazines and books in abundance, furnished us free of cost. There is also a Victrola and a piano which furnishes music, besides checkers, dominoes and various other kinds of games.
It surely is nice to come in here after a hard days drilling with either guns or boats, and spend our recreation hours. Of course, as yet we know nothing much of real navy life, but we have had drills in tying knots, lashing our hammocks and washing our clothes—sailor fashion, which is to spread them flat on the floor, get on our hands and knees, rub on plenty of soap, and then with a stiff-haired brush called a "Ki-yi," we go to it and scrub until clean. We must also keep ourselves clean, as the navy's mottoes are "Cleanliness" and "Victory." We are required to take a bath each morning before going to mess. For this purpose there are innumerable shower rooms in the basement of each of the four barracks. It is a pleasure to take a bath here after a night's sleep; one gets up at 5 a. m. feeling rather drowsy but a plunge under the cold shower makes him feel fine to begin the daily routine. After the bath comes "chow" which in navy

Letter From McAllen, Texas.

The Standard gladly reprints an article furnished by Max McAllen, a well known Brady and McCulloch county boy. Max is now stationed at McAllen, Texas in the Texas Field Bakery. His letter follows:

"I am a Brady boy and have been away from there since last October, and I thought I would drop a few lines to let the people know what I am doing. I am in the Texas National Guard. I joined the first of April at Waco, Texas. We left there and went to San Antonio where they drilled us. When we first arrived there we were drilled eight hours a day and if we missed reveille or retreat they would make us walk up and down the Company street for two hours with a large stick of wood on our shoulder. We were there during the Battle of Flowers, and we had to make a parade every evening from seven o'clock until about nine-thirty at night. We left San Antonio May the 25th and came down here on the border to a little town called Sam. Fordyce.

There was nothing down there at all but some old barracks and two companies of soldiers. It and you hardly ever saw a white person. We would go to the river in the evening to go in bathing and you could see four or five Mexicans patrolling on the other side. We weren't allowed to go over half way in the river and they were not allowed to come over half way on this side.

I was sent from there up here to a little town called McAllen, Texas, on detach service in the Texas Field Bakery. This is much better than being with the company as we never have to drill or stand any formations at all. The only time we handle a gun is when we muster for pay and we have to stand inspection. We have kept our guns pretty close to us the last few nights as we have been expecting a raid at any time. Some Mexicans shot across the river the other night at some Texas soldiers that were on patrol and they began firing back and the Mexicans left.

The Mexicans also shot across last night and they think the Texas soldiers killed seven of them as they saw them fall in the sand and lie there until it became so dark they could no longer see.

Well I guess that is about all I have to say this time. All of you people who wish to write to me will receive a prompt answer and I would be very glad to hear from any of you as letters are the only things in which a soldier finds any happiness in a little place like this.

I will close, hoping to receive an answer from this and the readers soon.

P. S.—I am also sending a bit of poetry which will no doubt be of interest to the readers. It was written by a boy in my squad.

We are not ashamed of the uniform
And if you are a friend
You'll never say a word against it,
Any word that will offend.
It has covered honored bodies,
And by heroes has been worn,
Since the days of the Republic,
When the stars and stripes were born.

And they are of many patterns,
Some are khaki, some are blue,
And the men that choose to wear them
Are of many patterns too.
Some are sons of wealthy parents;
Some are college graduates;
Some have manly virtues;
Some are merely reprobates.

We have many skilled mechanics;
Men of brains and letters, who,
Locally have served their country
That they are credit to.
No, indeed, all are not angels.
Blackguards, yes we have some of them.
When they came into the service
They all wore civilian clothes.

Men of all kinds when they are drinking
Misbehave, get rough and swear;
Drunken soldiers or civilians
And disgusting any where.
Grant us, then, your forbearance;
We'll appreciate it more
Than a lot of noisy cheering.
When we leave for a war,
Please don't berate us.

We have set with you in public
And sneaked your whiskey breath,
And card remarks, insane and silly,
Nearly boring us to death.
Though we offered no objections
When in theatres we have met,
Yet you should exclude us
From that most exclusive set.

If you meet us out in public
On the streets or anywhere,
We don't merit sneering glances,
Or a patronizing stare.
For we have an honored calling
As our garments plainly show,
You may be a thief or parson—
How are we to know?

I don't care for your profession—
Occupation, what you do,
When you're gazing at a soldier,
And he is gazing back at you.
Who is there to judge between you?
As you stand it's man for man,
Only one—the great Almighty,
Name another if you can.

Drop your proud and haughty bearing,
And your egotistic pride;
Get acquainted with the soldier,
And their heart and soul inside.

Test and try to analyze him,
Criticise him through and through
And you will very likely find him
Just as good a man as you.

Legally Speaking.

A friend of the deceased who cut short a trip to hurry back to ing the last rites of his colleague, entered the late lawyer's home some minutes after the beginning of the service.

"What part of the service is of another legal friend standing in the crowded hallway.

"I've just come myself," said the other, "but I believe they have opened for the defense."—

Taught a Lesson.

A German merchant in London had insured his house for four hundred pounds sterling.
The house burned down and the insurance company's representative came to him and said:

"Your house was old and dilapidated; it was not worth four hundred pounds. We will give you three hundred pounds—or build you a bigger and a better house."

The merchant was very angry;
he wanted the four hundred pounds. However, he eventually thought it wise to take the three hundred pounds. Whereupon the insurance man, with the pertinacy of his kind, suggested that, having settled that matter satisfactorily the merchant might do further business with them.
Was his life insured? Yes, it was? Was his wife's? No
Would he insure it? No. Why not?

"I will tell you why not," he replied: "I insure my wife for four hundred pounds. Ven she die you come to me and say, 'Your wife was old and dilapidated, she was not worth four hundred pounds. Ve will give you three hundred pounds—or a bigger and better wife.'—London

PATRIOTIC PLOWING

The St. Paul Garden Bureau Encourages Community Gardening

FIFTY-FIVE Saint Paul families will become soldiers of the soil when as many gardens are planted on the 14-acre tract of land given by a local real estate firm for the use of home gardens. The tract has been divided into lots of 30 by 125 feet, and each family will plant a supply of vegetables.

The land has never before been under cultivation. Children planted the land of which the city bought it.

The land has been made ready for seeding by a Stude-Mak-a-Tractor made by the P. G. Stude Manufacturing Company, Saint Paul, Minnesota.

The tractor attachment is brought into service by removing the back wheels of a Ford automobile and replacing the Ford wheels with the tractor device. While the picture shows three men operating the plow it is generally done by one man.

Flags will be put up on the plot and also placards distributed by the Saint Paul Gardening Bureau, reading, "Honor the flag by protecting this garden as a part of the nation's food supply."

This tract will be one of the largest community gardens in Saint Paul. It is estimated that 500 acres of city property never before cultivated are being offered to the citizenry.

Watch!

For some years, various and sundry concerns have been making beverages which are grouped under the general description of "near-beer." Then came Bevo—a cereal beverage, not a "near-beer," but offered purely for what it is—a delightful, wholesome and nutritious drink. Bevo met with instant and complete success. A whirlwind success.

Owing to Bevo's popularity, some beverages are now being offered in a way to make the appearance of the package look as much like the Bevo bottle as possible. The intention is obvious. But you don't taste the shape of a bottle—it's the flavor of the contents of the bottle that you must depend upon for enjoyment.

Then beware of impersonators—don't be satisfied to try to identify Bevo by the shape of the bottle alone—

Look!!

There are these certain identification marks that are your protection against imitations. Not just imitations of the product, remember—but those more insinuating imitations which try to deceive you by putting an old failure into a bottle similar to a new success. So look for these unmistakable marks of the genuine Bevo—demand that the bottle be opened in front of you, then—

Look for the Seal
See that it is unbroken covering the Crown Top
Look at the Crown Top and see that it bears the Fox
Be sure the Bottle bears this label

Listen!

Bevo is a pure drink. This means more than that it contains pure ingredients—it means that though you might often well be afraid of possible germs in milk or water, Bevo, being a pasteurized product in sterilized bottles, is absolutely free from bacteria.

Bevo is a nutritive beverage—the fine cereals from which it is made give it this quality.

Bevo is a delightful and refreshing soft drink—unlike any you have ever tasted—indeed a Triumph in Soft Drinks.

You can't get these good qualities in anything but Bevo—demand the genuine.

You will find Bevo at linn, cafeterias, restaurants, groceries, department and drug stores, soda fountains, dining cars, steamships, canteens, soldiers' homes, navy, and other places where refreshing beverages are sold. Your grocer will supply you by the case. Bevo is sold in bottles only—and is bottled exclusively by

Bevo—the all-year-round soft drink

Then early one Sunday eve'n the day had begun,
A horse was given each bloomin' one;
To nourish and cherish and take good care,
To see that he always got his share.

So days had passed without a hitch,
Though some of the Johns got "Dobie Itch."
But that was a "skemption" if they but knew,
Their troubles had just begun to brew.
The first day of horse exercise, Their talked-of joys brought mournful sighs.
The old boys laughed and the rookies swore,
When they found that riding made them sore;
All they heard was "Trot-Trot-Trot-Trot,"
And as they trotted 'round and 'round,
Many wished they were home-ward bound.
Already their joys had gone to wreck,
Some had dreams of a broken neck;
'Twas great relief to seek their bunk,
After such a day of useless junk.
But in their bunks not long they waited,
Because a school was instigated,
To teach the boys electricity,
Was good for their efficiency;
So early to school they went,
And thus the afternoon's were spent.

The teacher taught the Volt and Mho,
And lots of things they didn't know,
He said he'd prove electricity,
Was nothing but simplicity.
But 'ere he'd proved his words were true,
The teacher to a captain grew,
And though they wished he might stay,
He took a ship and sailed away.
And thus as all good things must close,
So did the school to the great relief,
Of all concerned, for, said they,
In the afternoons, we shall hit the hay.
But the kindly skipper looked around
And had the students all turned out,
Says he "'Tis now in time of war
This is no place to snore,
Fence off a little grassy plot,
'Twill make a dandy garden spot,
Dig out the stones, hoe down the shrubs,
And plant therein some beans and spuds."
So some fell out with spades and tools,
While some fell out and got the mules,
And now the students drill and toil,
From day to day they till the soil.
They drill and work the whole day through
And smile while eating beans and stew.
They've learned to ride—they've learned to plow,
The rookies that were—are soldiers now!

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work. I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head. I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties. I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui. . . . Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me." "Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134"

WONDERFUL STUFF! LIFT OUT YOUR CORNS

Apply a Few Drops Then Lift Corns or Calluses Off With Fingers—No Pain.
No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses, but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

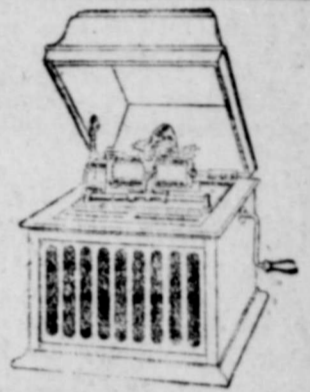

Receives Two New Autos.
Two new autos arrived in Brady yesterday, and to say the least, they are a most novel piece of mechanism that has ever been demonstrated in this city. In all respects they represent—not a Tin Henry but a real toy wagon, and are creating much admiration among the lads of the city as well as the older ones.

The "Smith Speedster" as it is named, all in all will weigh about 100 pounds, and a speed of something like 30 miles is obtainable in this little machine. One of the machines is owned by the Central Drug Store and the other by the Popular Dry Goods Company, and in the near future these two firms will issue coupons to customers and the autos will be given away as prizes.

TO AUTOISTS.
Have secured the services of a first class vulcanizer and rubber man. Don't throw your castings away—bring them in and have them vulcanized and get additional miles out of your tires.

From Carazal Canal Zone.
The Standard is in receipt of a letter from C. L. Bridge, who is a McCulloch county boy, and at present is stationed at Carazal Canal Zone. We are pleased to print the following contribution:

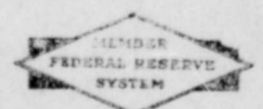

July 15, 1917.
"Editor Brady Standard:
Upon request of some of my friends and home folks to write something about the army, I will send you "The Evolution of a Field Company."
The New Field Radio Co. A. Arrived on the Zone on the fourth of May;
They were brought by rail to Carazal Station,
Which was of course their destination.
Happily to bed they went,
Most restfully the night was spent,
The morning dawned most clear and bright,
As the boys arose up from a peaceful night;
The transport trip had been a fright,
And all were glad she was out of sight.
The next day passed without a sign,
To disturb their restive peace of mind.
For there was naught for them to do,
But lie on their bunks the whole day through.
Thus did a week slide smoothly by,
Nor none had cause to breathe a sigh.
Some Johns were heard to contemplate
"That to them the life was great."
They looked ahead with joyful eyes,
To the day they'd have horse exercise.
Old timers knew it would be a sight,
To see these rookies take a hike.
With silent mirth the old boys waited
For the dawning of the day just stated.

Currency for Pay Rolls

Our Federal Reserve bank always keeps on hand an immense supply of currency and we can always get what we need for our depositors by turning over to it, if necessary, the notes on which the merchants, farmers and business customers have borrowed money from us.

Every business man with payrolls to meet will understand what this means.

You can assure yourself of this important safeguard by becoming one of our depositors.
