BRIGHTEST OF FUTURES FACES M'CCULLOCH--BUMPER CROP YEAR

CRUSHED BY CAR IKEY KING DIED SATURDAY MORN

As a thunderbolt from the clear sky came the message last Saturday morning to Mrs. Ed S. Clark of this city that her brother, Ikey King, of Bangs was not expected to survive injuries received in an automobile accident. Less than thirty minutes later came a second message announcing the passing away of the unfortunate young man.

The accident occurred at Salem, five miles from Bangs, where King had gone to carry the Rev. Warner Moore of Bangs to a wedding. The trip was made in King's Overland car. When ready to return home, King sought to crank the car by hand, as the self-starter was not working. The car chanced to be in gear, and as the engine started the car jumped forward, crushing King up against a tree. By superhuman strength King sought to push the car away from him, but not until his cries brought aid, was his body released from the crushing weight of the car.

At the time, it was thought only his leg was broke. He was carried to the Bangs sanitarium, where a doctor summoned from Brownwood, together with local physicians, made a thorough examination. Not a break or a scratch appeared on his body, and his injuries were diagnosed as being confined to the breaking of his left leg just above the knee. Hopes were entertained for his speedy recovery, in which the young man shared. However, Friday at midnight his condition took a sudden turn for the worse. Following two hemorrhages, he weakened rapidly, and the doctors realized that internal injuries had resulted and that he was beyond human aid. His death occurred Saturday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock.

Ikey Edith King was born and raised in Brown county, and at the time of death was 22 years of age. His life was an open book, and no man stood higher among friends and acquaintances. Of highest Christian character, he was a strong church worker, and was one of the most free-hearted of Bangs citizens in the giving for good causes, his name usually heading every list. His character was equaled by his industry, and, although young in years, he had built up a splendid barbering and tailoring business and had just recently completed the purchase of a rock building to house his shops. He was in service during the war, and had returned but about six months ago from overseas service.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. Moore were held Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the Bangs Methodist church. Six overseas soldiers in uniform acted as pall-bearers and escorted the body to its last resting place in Rocky Mountain cemetery, where it was taken in charge by the Odd Fellows and committed to the earth. As tribute to the high esteem in which he was held, friends and mourners attended the last sad rites from all parts of Brown county, and the grave was literally hidden from view by the tribute paid the departed in wreaths and flowers.

His untimely end was all the more sad for his bereaved ones since the mother had been laid to rest only about two weeks before.

Surviving are his father, J. H. King of Bangs; two sisters, Mrs. Ed S. Clark of Brady and Mrs. Lillie Tervooren of Brown county, and three brothers, Jim and Burt of New Mexico, and Joe King of Oklahoma. Jim and Joe King both attended the funeral of their brother, and Ed S. Clark attended from Brady.

SEASONABLE RAINS MAGIC WAND THAT MAKES THIS A PARADISE

MCCULLOCH COUNTY TRANSFORMED INTO GARDEN SPOT OF THE UNIVERSE—ALL-BUMPER CROPS PROBLEM, NOT OF MAKING, BUT SAVING

McCulloch and the McCulloch country is having her big inning in the good year of 1919. From the worst of prospects just twelve months ago, the country has been transformed into a veritable paradise, and the brightest of futures is now before the citizens of this commonwealth. There is a steady influx of citizens, both old and new. The old are now daily returning to the homes and positions they abandoned in the face of adversity, and the new are coming here attracted by the magic of the bountiful harvests.

There is not a crop or a product in which the McCulloch country does not excel. Her oats and wheat crop has made a wonderful turnout, and the marketing of these two commodities is now in full swing. Shipments of wheat and oats from Brady alone already total 60 carloads, and this is estimated as only about one-fifth of the grand total. In addition Melvin, Rochelle, Mercury and points along the railroads are adding their quota to the grand total of shipments.

The fruit crop in McCulloch county was marvelous beyond description. There was a splendid yield of every variety of fruit and berry, and at present the finest Elberta peaches are almost a drug on the market. Almost every orchard of any consequence in the community has yielded from 300 bushels on up. The most select of Elbertas are selling at 50c per bushel at the orchard, and the ground underneath the trees is literally covered with the fallen fruit, which is free for the carrying away, or else is used as feed for hogs.

An idea of the extent of the fruit crop in McCulloch county may be had from the fact that five carloads of preserving jars have already been sold by Brady merchants alone, and as many more are in stock and will be sold before the preserving season is over.

McCulloch's harvest does not stop there. The corn crop is made—unfortunately the acreage is not large, but the yield is nevertheless the largest known. Milo maize, fetterita, cane, sudan grass—every manner of feed crop is par excellence, and the only problem now is the saving of these crops. In fact, much of it is certain to be lost unless help can be secured. Abundant rains and bright, sunny weather following, have done wonders with the cotton, much of which, early in the season, was from 10 to 40 days late. Today the cotton is growing by leaps and bounds, has a wonderful rich, glossy appearance, and is fruiting heavily. Farmers with cotton well advanced are already assured of a half-bale yield, and the cotton crop is estimated as promising all the way from one-half to a bale to the acre.

Help is the great cry of the farmers in the McCulloch country. Any man that can work is in demand. The salvation of the situation appears in the return here of the prodigals, and the location here of newcomers. To these McCulloch county is extending open arms.

Bring food ready prepared for all meals except breakfast. Do not bring your Sunday clothes, it may rain. Bring combs, soap, mirrors, towels, wash cloths, tin plates, cups, etc. Each club is expected to bring a chaperone for both boys and girls. LOTTYE E. SCOTT, Home Demonstration agent, McCulloch County, Coleman county. B. D. BLACK, County Agent, McCulloch county. Aluminumware, a good stock. Broad Mercantile Co.

Death of J. F. Stanton.

Tuesday marked the passing away of J. F. Stanton, one of the prominent and most highly respected citizens of the Nine community. Death occurred at the Brady sanitarium, where deceased had been taken for treatment, resulting from intestinal trouble. The fatal illness covered a period of only three days.

Mr. Stanton at the time of his death was aged 57 years, 1 month and 20 days. For twelve years past he had lived in the Nine community, coming to this county from Milam county. He was engaged in farming, and was rated a successful and substantial citizen, and his death is sincerely mourned by friends and neighbors.

A widow is the only survivor. Deceased had been a member of the Baptist church for the past sixteen years, and was also a member of the Woodmen lodge.

Funeral services were held from the residence of E. B. Ramsay at 4:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. J. H. Taylor of Brady conducting and the body was laid to rest in the Brady cemetery. The funeral services were attended by R. F. Pearson of Eden, brother-in-law of deceased, as well as by friends and neighbors of his home community and various parts of the county.

Fame and Death.

Here is a whole volume written in one short apologue.

One day, Fame, with the tint of blue ice in his imperious eyes, went strolling through a great town. He passed dwellings and at last paused before a dingy one, mounting its garret. There, in a forlorn room, he found a pale old man, toiling over the tenth volume of a wonderful history.

Though he had been expecting Fame for many years, this pale old man, half blind and deaf, neither saw nor heard him now. So weak and numb, too, had he grown, that when one of the laurel wreaths was carelessly tossed upon his poor, bowed, bald head, he did not feel the contact of its fresh and glossy leaves. He simply continued to toil, though his fingers could ill guide the pen.

Fame departed, with infinite irony curling lips. Down at the doorway of the house, however he met Death.

They greeted one another. They were immemorial friends.

"I was just going in," said Death. "And I am just coming out," answered Fame.

They looked at each other and laughed. They had been meeting like for so many centuries that they did not say good-bye as they separated, but only "an revoir."

OIL OPERATIONS PROCEED—TESTS HOLD ATTENTION

As the big drills in McCulloch county's deep test oil wells, bite deeper into the heart of Mother Earth, interest is on the increase, and important developments are anticipated by those watching the various wells.

The Prairie Oil & Gas Co. test on Survey 89 was reported the first of the week as drilling at better than 2700 ft. The new shallow test, west of the deep test was drilling at 210 ft. Smith & Jergins on Survey 42 are anticipating arrival of the spear to remove 250 ft. of lost casing from the hole, and hope to be ready to resume operations within the next week or so.

C. S. Thomas' Salt Gap test, Survey 1351 is at a depth of over 2400 ft. and is underreaming the 8 1-4 inch casing recently set to a depth of 2310 ft. The Thomas Whiteland well, Survey 1237, is reported drilling steadily.

The Douglas Oil Co. Survey 1134, resumed drilling Sunday at midnight, and have been going down with their hole at above 2250 ft.

Cochran & Stewart's test on the Brandenburg tract in Mason county was reported drilling at 475 ft. Tuesday night.

R. W. Morris test on the Moore Bros. tract (Richards ranch), Survey 495, is still underreaming to set 8 1-4 inch casing.

The Texas Eastern Oil Co. test on Survey 302, two miles northeast of Rochelle, has completed the setting of their 6 1-4 inch casing, and is ready to resume drilling.

J. E. Morgan. State School Survey No. 2, is at 1100 ft.

Texas Oil & Refining Co., J. H. Gibson Survey No. 1, is drilling at 500 ft. and making progress slowly on account of being short a crew. Another crew is expected today, and the well should be running tomorrow.

M. B. Jenson, who is drilling the well for R. C. Newton, et al, on Survey 86, reports the drill now in broken formation, sand and lime mixed, and the most favorable indications for oil yet had in the well.

Mr. H. F. Schaefer, Editor Brady Standard, Brady, Texas.

Dear Sir—

I note with interest in the issue of your paper for July 11th, the article "Boil Your Water." Such warning is very necessary at this time for there is much sickness throughout the State, resulting from water contamination. Next to pure air, pure water is the most essential element of life. It was the realization of such that prompted the recent Legislature to adopt the McFarland Water Bill, which requires all towns in the future to furnish a safe supply of water. This will mean an expenditure on the part of Brady or the Brady Water-works company in the building of additional works, so as to give your city a water-treatment plant. Realizing that the newspaper is the vital means of getting information before the people I am writing to commend your article of the 11th, and to urge you to follow this up with suggestions along the lines mentioned above in permanently improving the water supply in Brady and in placing your town in the best sanitary condition possible. If the services of the State Health Department are desired, you have but to command us.

Very truly yours,
W. GODDARD, M. D.,
State Health Officer.

WONDER WORDS.

Standard Correspondence Calls to Mind Many Old Timers.
Wonder, Ore., July 24.

Editor Brady Standard:
And dear readers! I knew it! I knew it! I told you so! One extreme often follows another, and knowing that country so well, I told you you were apt to have a bumper corn and grain crop this year and offered a paper dollar for the largest ear. Didn't I?

Sometimes I am a good guesser, but not as good a one as the old darkey who guessed the weight of the hog exactly to the pound. Someone said, "Ned, you are a good guesser." "Yas, sah, totable," said Ned, but I kin beat dat when I see in practice."

I beg your pardon kind friends for digressing. I promised to write some more upon the subject of agriculture; but I will defer that for a while and comment upon some of the news written by ye correspondents which brings back to my mind events of long ago.

You see I was what would be called a pioneer, going to that country before McCulloch county was organized. I was only a boy then, but I remember those old-timers who are passing away, one by one.

Without any flattery or bouquet throwing, I will say that the Rochelle Rumbings, written by "Amoskeeter" was of much interest to me.

Well, do I remember that venerable old couple, who founded Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. Evans who kept sheep for a long time. Also the Rev. Mr. Land, who was once visited by a cyclone of terrific force, and destructive consequences. Also W. G. S. Hughes whom I helped to elect to the office of County Judge, in later years.

The timely mention of the invincible Mart L. Williams, and his cantelopes suggests the idea that he too, would make a good practical county agricultural agent. We have another Mart L. Williams here, who is just the same kind of progressive farmer as your Mart. Quite a coincidence. "A Citizen" told in his letter of W. W. Henderson only gathering one roasting ear to make a meal for his family. Now I happen to know Walter personally, and know him to be very scrupulous as to truth and veracity. As an example I will mention one incident. Once we had a heavy rain after which a few of the neighbors were expressing their opinion as to the amount of rainfall. Some guessed two inches, some three and some four inches. As it happened there was an empty vessel standing in our yard and I had measured the water raised to it and found that it had only rained one inch. I told them so, whereupon Walter said he knew it had rained six inches at least, for there was an empty one gallon jug standing in their yard and it rained it full. Then I tried to exaggerate by insisting that the water was heaped up on the neck of the jug for at least two inches more. But Walter would not stand for the exaggeration and emphatically declared that it was not heaped up more than an inch at the most.

I like Walter as a brother and am willing to vouch for his having big corn. But I would rather see an ear of it than to hear of it. So, send on the corn and when the collection is received I will give you the aggregate or sum total in pounds and you can figure out the average size of the ears.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, if I care be of use to you in distributing your boosters, I am at your service.

A Tractor That Does More Than Plow

The Cleveland Tractor

Plowing is only the beginning of what a tractor should be able to do.

It should be able to do everything else in the preparation of the seed bed—the discing and harrowing, the planting. And it should do these things in a way that it will not injure the coming crop.

After the ground is broken, The Cleveland Tractor goes over it with the disc and the harrow, then goes over it with the seeder.

The Cleveland rides on top of the seed bed; it does not sink into it and it does not pack the soil.

The Cleveland goes over soft ground because it travels on its own endless track which it picks up and lays down as it goes along.

These tracks have about 600 square inches of traction surface, so the pressure on the ground is only about five pounds to the square inch—therefore there is not enough weight at any one point to inflict damage.

We repeat, The Cleveland Tractor rides on top of the seed bed. It does not sink into it; therefore it does not have to wade or wallow through it. And because it does not sink in, it does not have to push the dirt in front of it and pack it down in order to navigate.

And because it is not obliged to push the earth from in front of it and pack it down, the greatest possible amount of The Cleveland's power is available for accomplishing the work it has to do.

STACY HAPPENINGS.

Lester Cox's Oats Averaged 75 to 100 Bushels—Cotton May Make Bale. (Too Late for Last Week).
Stacy, Texas, July 22.

Editor Brady Standard:
Quite a lot of grain was threshed here during the two weeks' pretty weather. However, there are quite a lot of the farmers yet to thresh their grain, but the rain will cause some delay in getting the other threshed. About 20,000 bushels have been threshed to date. Lester Cox averaged from 75 to 100 bushels per acre. The rains were so fine to the cotton crops, that farmers are assured from one-half to a bale to the acre, with one more rain in August, and McCulloch county will boast the largest cotton crop it has ever known.

"Uh, huh," said the husband, yawning.

"And that the delicate pink of my cheeks had been painted there by the angels, and that he couldn't live without me. O-oh, I think an affinity like that would be—"

"Tisn't an affinity you want," interrupted her husband. "What you seem to want is a plain, old-fashioned liar."—Ex.

SOLDIERS WHO HAVE LET INSURANCE LAPSE PERMITTED TO RENEW POLICIES.

Washington, July 26.—Discharged service men who let their government insurance lapse were given the privilege of reinstating their policies within eighteen months without payment of back premiums, under an order signed by Secretary Glass. The new reinstatement regulation, one of a number under consideration designed to make it possible for every discharged soldier, sailor and marine to continue government insurance after return to civil life, is regarded as the most liberal ever offered by any insurance organization. The only requirements is that the man requesting reinstatement must be in as good health as at the time of discharge and must pay the premium for the one month of grace in which his insurance was continued after he stopped payment and the premium for the month in which he requested reinstatement. Premiums for the intervening months will not be required.

Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. SAN ANGELO BOY TWICE ESCAPES—WINNER OF CROSS AGAIN ARRESTED

Seattle, July 29.—A wearer of Great Britain's most coveted war decoration, the Victoria Cross, D. M. Delmas, late sergeant major of the British Army, is in jail here today, awaiting his second return to the State Penitentiary at Huntsville, Texas, according to local police. There Delmas must serve two years and nine months remaining of a five-year term for having accepted, it was charged, deposits for the International Bank and Trust Company of San Angelo, when the bank was insolvent.

Delmas it was said, escaped from the Huntsville prison in 1912, joined the British Army, fought until wounded and discharged in 1916. Returning to San Francisco to visit friends, he was taken back to Texas in 1917, broke jail again and once more served the Union Jack at the front. In Seattle he was recognized by a police officer from a photograph, arrested and held for the Huntsville authorities.

Houston July 29.—D. M. Delmas is described by the superintendent of Huntsville Penitentiary as "the smartest convict we ever had." He made his first escape March 3, 1916, from the Eastman Farm. He was recaptured at San Francisco, but jumped from a passenger train near San Antonio. He was recaptured at El Paso and returned to the prison January 22, 1917. On December 6, the same year, while a trustee and editor of the convicts magazine on the Eastman Farm, Delmas came to Houston on furlough and escaped again, taking off the convicts' money. Prison authorities learned that he had gone overseas with the British forces, but they deride his story of receiving the Victoria Cross. When arrested in Seattle, July 29, Delmas was wearing a British uniform with a lieutenant colonel's insignia. Delmas was convicted at San Angelo June 5, 1915, of forgery and was given two to five years.

That the defendant on the last named date, without any cause whatever of the plaintiff, abandoned plaintiff and left him and no longer would live with plaintiff as his wife; plaintiff says that it was not by his consent that defendant so left him but when he married defendant she was a widow with some children and that she, the defendant said that she preferred to live with her own people and to have her children to herself and to'd plaintiff that she would no longer live with him as his wife. That fourteen years have elapsed since the defendant without just cause or any cause whatever abandoned plaintiff and ceased to live with him. Wherefore plaintiff prays the Court that he be granted a judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between plaintiff and defendant.

Loss of Appetite.
As a general rule there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite, and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will soon have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should always elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

WONDER WORDS.

Standard Correspondence Calls to Mind Many Old Timers. Wonder, Ore., July 24.

Editor Brady Standard:

And dear readers! I knew it! I knew it! I told you so! One extreme often follows another, and knowing that country so well, I told you you were apt to have a bumper corn and grain crop this year and offered a paper dollar for the largest ear. Didn't I?

Sometimes I am a good guesser, but not as good a one as the old darkey who guessed the weight of the hog exactly to the pound. Someone said, "Ned, you are a good guesser." "Yes, sah, toiable," said Ned, but I kin beat dat when I'se in practice."

I beg your pardon kind friends for digressing. I promised to write some more upon the subject of agriculture; but I will defer that for a while and comment upon some of the news written by ye correspondents which brings back to my mind events of long ago.

You see I was what would be called a pioneer, going to that country before McCulloch county was organized. I was only a boy then, but I remember those old-timers who are passing away, one by one.

Without any flattery or bouquet throwing, I will say that the Rochelle Rumblings, written by "Amoskeeter" was of much interest to me.

Well, do I remember that venerable old couple, who founded Rochelle; Mr. and Mrs. Evans who kept sheep for a long time. Also the Rev. Mr. Land, who was once visited by a cyclone of terrific force, and destructive consequences. Also W. G. S. Hughes whom I helped to elect to the office of County Judge, in later years.

The timely mention of the invincible Mart L. Williams, and his cantelopes suggests the idea that he too, would make a good practical county agricultural agent. We have another Mart L. Williams here, who is just the same kind of progressive farmer as your Mart. Quite a coincidence. "A Citizen" told in his letter of W. W. Henderson only gathering one roasting ear to make a meal for his family. Now I happen to know Walter personally, and know him to be very scrupulous as to truth and veracity.

As an example I will mention one incident. Once we had a heavy rain, after which a few of the neighbors were expressing their opinion as to the amount of rainfall. Some guessed two inches, some three and some four inches. As it happened there was an empty vessel standing in our yard and I had measured the water raised to it and found that it had only rained one inch. I told them so, whereupon Walter said he knew it had rained six inches at least, for there was an empty gallon jug standing in their yard and it rained it full. Then I tried to exaggerate by insinuating that the water was heaped up on the neck of the jug for at least two inches more. But Walter would not stand for the exaggeration and emphatically declared that it was not heaped up more than an inch at the most.

I like Walter as a brother and am willing to vouch for his having big corn. But I would rather see an ear of it than to hear of it. So, send on the corn and when the collection is received I will give you the aggregate or sum total in pounds and you can figure out the average size of the ears.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, if I can be of use to you in distributing your boosters, I am at your service.

A Tractor That Does More Than Plow

The Cleveland Tractor

Plowing is only the beginning of what a tractor should be able to do.

It should be able to do everything else in the preparation of the seed bed—the discing and harrowing, the planting. And it should do these things in a way that it will not injure the coming crop.

After the ground is broken, The Cleveland Tractor goes over it with the disc and the harrow, then goes over it with the seeder.

The Cleveland rides on top of the seed bed; it does not sink into it and it does not pack the soil.

The Cleveland goes over soft ground because it travels on its own endless track which it picks up and lays down as it goes along.

These tracks have about 600 square inches of traction surface, so the pressure on the ground is only about five pounds to the square inch—therefore there is not enough weight at any one point to inflict damage.

We repeat, The Cleveland Tractor rides on top of the seed bed. It does not sink into it; therefore it does not have to wade or wallow through it. And because it does not sink in, it does not have to push the dirt in front of it and pack it down in order to navigate.

And because it is not obliged to push the earth from in front of it and pack it down, the greatest possible amount of The Cleveland's power is available for accomplishing the work it has to do.

STACY HAPPENINGS.

Lester Cox's Oats Averaged 75 to 100 Bushels—Cotton May Make Bale. (Too Late for Last Week).

Stacy, Texas, July 22.

Editor Brady Standard:

Quite a lot of grain was threshed here during the two weeks' pretty weather. However, there are quite a lot of the farmers yet to thresh their grain, but the rain will cause some delay in getting the other threshed. About 20,000 bushels have been threshed to date. Lester Cox averaged from 75 to 100 bushels per acre. The rains were so fine to the cotton crops, that farmers are assured from one-half to a bale to the acre, with one more rain in August, and McCulloch county will boast the largest cotton crop it has ever known.

What She Wanted.

Jim Mann was on his way back from Chicago, and couldn't help hearing the conversation of the couple in the section right behind him. They looked like newly-married folks, but were not on their honey-moon, as Mann learned. The woman laid down a newspaper she had been reading and said to her husband:

"Do you know, I wish I had one of these afflictions. Oh, I think it would be just g-r-a-n-d to sit on a rock with somebody and have him rave about the incomparable golden color of my hair, and tell me that my eyes were the most beautiful in the whole world, and—"

"Uh, huh," said the husband, yawning.

"And that the delicate pink of my cheeks had been painted there by the angels, and that he couldn't live without me. O-oh, I think an affinity like that would be—"

"Tien't an affinity you want," interrupted her husband. "What you seem to want is a plain, old-fashioned liar."—Ex.

SOLDIERS WHO HAVE LET INSURANCE LAPSE PERMITTED TO RENEW POLICIES.

Washington, July 26.—Discharged service men who let their government insurance lapse were given the privilege of reinstating their policies within eighteen months without payment of back premiums, under an order signed by Secretary Glass. The new reinstatement regulation, one of a number under consideration designed to make it possible for every discharged soldier, sailor and marine to continue government insurance after return to civil life, is regarded as the most liberal ever offered by any insurance organization. The only requirements is that the man requesting reinstatement must be in as good health as at the time of discharge and must pay the premium for the one month of grace in which his insurance was continued after he stopped payment and the premium for the month in which he requested reinstatement. Premiums for the intervening months will not be required.

"Is there one about whisky?" asked the half-drowned man, quietly.

"Yes."

SAN ANGELO BOY TWICE ESCAPES—WINNER OF CROSS AGAIN ARRESTED

Seattle, July 29.—A wearer of Great Britain's most coveted war decoration, the Victoria Cross, D. M. Delmas, late sergeant major of the British Army, is in jail here today, awaiting his second return to the State Penitentiary at Huntsville, Texas, according to local police. There Delmas must serve two years and nine months remaining of a five-year term for having accepted, it was charged, deposits for the International Bank and Trust Company of San Angelo, when the bank was insolvent.

Delmas it was said, escaped from the Huntsville prison in 1912, joined the British Army, fought until wounded and discharged in 1916. Returning to San Francisco to visit friends, he was taken back to Texas in 1917, broke jail again and once more served the Union Jack at the front. In Seattle he was recognized by a police officer from a photograph, arrested and held for the Huntsville authorities.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
 To the Sheriff or any Constable of McCulloch County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Sallie E. Heffnarn by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 35th Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in the 35th Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest District to said 35th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of McCulloch County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Brady, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in September A. D. 1919, the same being the 15th day of September A. D. 1919, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 14th day of April A. D. 1919 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1712, wherein L. P. Heffnarn is Plaintiff, and Sallie E. Heffnarn is Defendant, and said petition alleging

State of Texas,
 County of McCulloch. In the District Court of McCulloch County, Texas.

To the Hon. J. O. Woodward, Judge presiding:
 Now comes L. P. Heffnarn hereinafter called plaintiff, complaining of Sallie E. Heffnarn hereinafter called defendant, plaintiff represents to the court that he is now and has been for more than 12 months next preceding the filing of this petition an actual bona fide inhabitant of McCulloch County and the State of Texas, that the defendant resides in Bexar County, Texas.

Plaintiff says that he and the defendant were married, April 1, 1903, and lived together as husband and wife until May 1st, 1905. That the defendant on the last named date, without any cause whatever of the plaintiff, abandoned plaintiff and left him and no longer would live with plaintiff as his wife; plaintiff says that it was not by his consent that defendant so left him but when he married defendant she was a widow with some children and that she, the defendant said that she preferred to live with her own people and to have her children to herself and told plaintiff that she would no longer live with him as his wife. That fourteen years have elapsed since the defendant without just cause or any cause whatever abandoned plaintiff and ceased to live with him. Wherefore plaintiff prays the Court that he be granted a judgment dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between plaintiff and defendant.

JOE ADKINS,
 Attorney for Plaintiff.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brady, Texas, this the 17th day of July A. D. 1919.

Houston July 29.—D. M. Delmas is described by the superintendent of Huntsville Penitentiary as "the smartest convict we ever had." He made his first escape March 3, 1916, from the Eastman Farm. He was recaptured at San Francisco, but jumped from a passenger train near San Antonio. He was recaptured at El Paso and returned to the prison January 22, 1917. On December 6, the same year, while a trustee and editor of the convicts magazine on the Eastman Farm, Delmas came to Houston on furlough and escaped again, taking off the convicts' money. Prison authorities learned that he had gone overseas with the British forces, but they deride his story of receiving the Victoria Cross. When arrested in Seattle, July 29, Delmas was wearing a British uniform with a lieutenant colonel's insignia. Delmas was convicted at San Angelo June 5, 1915, of forgery and was given two to five years.

Loss of Appetite.

As a general rule there is nothing serious about a loss of appetite, and if you skip a meal or only eat two meals a day for a few days you will soon have a relish for your meals when meal time comes. Bear in mind that at least five hours should always elapse between meals so as to give the food ample time to digest and the stomach a period of rest before a second meal is taken. Then if you eat no more than you crave and take a reasonable amount of outdoor exercise every day you will not need to worry about your appetite. When the loss of appetite is caused by constipation as is often the case, that should be corrected at once. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will do it.

HONEST INJUN.

If all the brilliant ideas we've thought of when half-awake or half-asleep, were put in our editorial column, this page would be a gem.

THE SUCCESSFUL FARMER.

"Mr. Editor—let's hear from you." That was the closing paragraph of an article written by D. H. Henderson of Lost Creek community on the subject of a "Plan of Co-Operative Marketing of Farm Products," and which appeared in last Friday's issue of The Standard.

We quote from Mr. Henderson's article in part as follows:

"I said the farmers were the worst treated of any class of people. Why? I will try to show you: The merchant buys his goods and they are his. They belong to him. What does he do? He prices them at a profit above cost. The manufacturer, prices his product at a profit above cost; no one steps in to price their goods. The doctors price their work the lawyers price their work—no one to step in to price it for them.

"The farmers—they work, they toil, they produce the foods and material to feed and clothe the peoples of the world. Now, they make this stuff. It belongs to them; have they not a right to price it at a profit above cost? Sure they have. Do they do it? No! Well, who does? The other fellow, O, I see! Why is this?"

Mr. Henderson graphically presents a fact. In the estimation of this editor, farming is one of the most hazardous of occupations. If prices for farm products are good, it naturally is because of the scarcity of such commodity, and, being scarce, quite naturally the farmers receive comparatively small benefit from the good prices because they have but little to sell. On the other hand let a big crop result, and prices drop. There is added expense for the gathering and marketing of the big crop, and less proportionate returns. Obviously, then, the smaller crop pays better. There is less of an investment; less work, less equipment needed, less labor to be paid for the gathering—larger returns.

But, as before stated, the occupation is a hazardous one. At the beginning of the season it is hard, nay, impossible, to forecast the results. Whether to plant thick or thin—these are all left to the individual judgment and that is often sadly at fault.

There is but one sure way that we see of ultimate success in farming, and we are happy to state, this plan has been almost universally adopted by the farmers of this section. That is to diversify. The farmer must raise his living at home. Before he attempts to feed and clothe the world he must feed and clothe himself and his own. Then he must decide what crop to raise for a money crop. If he follows this plan he is sure of ultimate success.

AMBITION TALKS

(By Harlan Road)

Dirt is Sometimes Disgraceful and and Sometimes it is Honorable.

When John Wanamaker, America's most successful merchant, began business, it was no unusual thing for him to be seen in the street pushing a truck containing his goods.

Jay Gould, whose reputation in later years was considerably more unsavory than in the beginning, began as a peddler, walking the dusty roads with a pack on his back; and Thomas A. Edison, the world's greatest inventor, has always been as little ashamed of a pair of dirty hands as a white man can reasonably be.

These men recognized the VALUE OF CLEANLINESS AND NEAT personal APPEARANCE but NEVER of OVER-DAINTINESS.

The young man who keeps himself clean and well groomed does wisely; but when anxiety over his personal appearance prompts him to LEAVE USEFUL WORK UNDONE, his carefulness becomes DANDYISM. There is scarcely any business in which one is not required occasionally to get a speck of dust on his cuffs or wilt the edge of his collar. When such occasions arise, blessed is the man who is not ashamed of dirt.

mate success, PROVIDED—

This is where Mr. Henderson's argument fits in!

Having made his living at home, the farmer is virtually independent of the speculators. He can market his surplus when he pleases—and naturally that would be at a time when the price best appeals to him. At the early part of the season the market is glutted, or at least has a tendency to be glutted, and good prices can best be had by slowly feeding the product to the market as the market demands it. This plan can positively not be accomplished through individual effort. It takes co-operative effort and the best sort of co-operation.

A co-operative marketing bureau should not confine its membership to the farmers alone. The citizens, bankers and business men of every community are equally interested. Eliminate the middle man and the expense of individual marketing; give the farmers better prices for their products, and not only do the farmers profit, but as well the town or community that is dependent upon the prosperity of its rural citizens for its welfare. At the same time, this plan will in no wise increase the price of the finished product—it merely simplifies the marketing of a community's products and gives the benefit of the saving to the man who deserves it, viz: the producer.

The success of co-operative marketing has been demonstrated in Brady upon more than one occasion. The day of cut-throat methods in business and in marketing as well has passed. "He profits most, who serves best."

And that applies to the farmer as well as the business man.

As long as we buy or sell our products one bushel, one basket, one load, one bale at a time, someone has to pay the freight. "Jones pays the freight," and Jones is both the buyer and the seller in this expensive game.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING.

The Rockdale Reporter has a new editor—beg pardon, editress, we intended to say. Miss Agnes Cooke is at the helm of that excellent paper, and Miss Agnes is making her presence apparent by giving the people of Rockdale and Milam county the best paper they ever had, the able efforts of her father, Editor John E. Cooke, along this line, notwithstanding.

Since Editor Cooke was carried away to Cameron sanitarium on a stretcher just a month ago, the Reporter has been better than ever—so much so, in fact, as to excite notice and comment from neighboring papers. Cooke must have left a mighty capable man in charge was the only way we could figure it—but we have it from Editor Cooke's own mouth that none other than Miss Agnes is to "blame" for the improvement.

Brady citizens will recall Agnes Cooke as a school girl—but she's a grown young lady now—and as talented as she is sweet and lovely. Editor Cooke is proud of his accomplished young daughter; the citizens of Rockdale and community are proud of Miss Agnes—and The Standard, claiming her as a Brady product, is proud of her too!

WEEDING OUT THE WEEDS.

Here's to the commendable example set by the enterprising citizens of San Angelo. That city has just concluded the purchase of a mower with which to cut the weeds on her vacant lots. You see, other cities besides Brady have weeds—but San Angelo is the original so far as undertaking in organized weed-cutting campaign is concerned. The Standard commends this weed-cutting idea, both from the standpoint of civic improvement and from the standpoint of a necessary and commendable health measure. Weeds are of no good, unless it is to serve as food for a bon fire.

To make the most of her idea, we would suggest that San Angelo, when, or as soon as, she completes the obliteration of the weeds from her landscape, rent, hire or lease out her mower to neighboring and needy cities.

Without waiting for a vote on the question, we hereby make application in the name of the city of Brady for first use of the mower when Angelo has harvested her weed crop.

A NEW DEFINITION.

The Parson of Brownwood, in addition to being a perfectly good pulpiter, has leanings towards the literary. His latest effort in literary field is an attempt to outclass old Noah Webster and his more modern successors, in the compiling of a dictionary which shall not only define, but shall graphically illustrate the word as well. In other words, The Parson intends to give a word-picture of his definitions. Here's one of his examples—a definition of that most common of words—vulgar:

The Parson culls the following from a newspaper: "Tommy Blank—of course that is not the name—won the prize which was given to the one of four boys who could eat three dry crackers the quickest." That event happened in a place and among people to whom a game at cards would be anathema, a decorous dance a step on the way to hell, and attending a play mortal sin. In the Parson's opinion any one of the three is preferable to such an exhibition, which seems to him unutterably vulgar.

THANK YOU.

"The first number of your Industrial Campaign series was a splendid one" complimented Dr. J. B. Granville the first of the week. "It was well gotten up, did full justice to the facts without overstatement, and should result in much interest and ultimate good to the county and community."

Our best thanks! But read this issue of The Standard—we are especially proud of it, for we believe we have presented two forcible arguments why McCulloch county should be the goal for the homeseeker. First, the wonderful crops this year offer employment, wonderful business opportunities and the greatest of attractions. Second, McCulloch county has the best of that most essential requirements towards the making of an ideal place of residence, viz: Schools that are unsurpassed by any in Texas.

Of that most essential of requirements that make a town or community appeal to the progressive citizen—McCulloch county meets them all. Read our succeeding articles, and you will agree with us that Brady and McCulloch county offer the ideal location for citizens of character, enterprise and ability.

RELATING TO CONFEDERATE PENSIONS AND INCREASING TAX RATES FOR PAYMENT OF SAME.

House Joint Resolution No. 35. Proposing an amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas to provide that the Legislature may grant pensions to Confederate Soldiers, sailors and their widows, who have been citizens of Texas prior to Jan. 1, 1910, providing that all soldiers, sailors and their widows eligible under the provisions hereof shall be entitled to be placed upon the rolls and participate in the pension fund created hereunder; levying a tax of seven ($0.07) cents on the $100.00 valuation of property in this State for the payment of such pension, providing that the Legislature may reduce the rate of pension for such purpose, fixing a time for the election to be held on such amendment, and making appropriation to pay the expenses thereof;

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas: Section 1. That Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas shall be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Sec. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make and grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, association or individuals, municipalities or other corporations whatsoever, provided however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent or disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors, who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1910, and to their widows in indigent circumstances and who have been bona fide residents of this State since January 1, 1910, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors prior to January 1, 1910, and to indigent and disabled soldiers who under special laws of the State of Texas during the war between the States served in organizations for the protection of the Frontier against Indian raiders or Mexican marauders and to indigent and disabled soldiers of the militia of the State of Texas who were in active service during the war between the States and to the widows of such soldiers who are in indigent circumstances and who were married to such soldiers prior to January 1, 1910, provided that the word "widow" in the preceding lines of this section shall not apply to women born since the year 1865, and all soldiers and sailors and widows of soldiers and sailors eligible under the above conditions shall be entitled to be placed upon the pension rolls and participate in the distribution of the pension fund of this State under any existing law or laws hereafter passed by the Legislature, and also to grant aid for the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the confederacy under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law, provided the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home. There is hereby levied in addition to all their taxes heretofore permitted by the Constitution of Texas a State ad valorem tax on property of seven ($0.07) cents on the $100 valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate levied. And provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent the grant of aid in cases of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a veto of the qualified voters of this State at an election to be held on Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1919, at which all voters shall have printed or written on their ballots: "Against the amendment to Article 3 of the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have been residents of this State since January 1, 1912," and "Against amendment to Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the constitution and laws of this State, and the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of this State not otherwise appropriated for expenses of publications and elections thereunder. Mrs. J. F. Biggs returned Wednesday from a ten days' visit to Houston and Galveston. Accompanying her on the trip was her sister, Miss Zella Roark, of Ballinger, who had been her house guest in Brady.

Messrs. Bill and Maurice Cohen who were guests of friends here while attending the dance given Tuesday night by the Brady club, returned to San Antonio Wednesday.

Miss Catherine Dowty of San Angelo, and Messrs. Geo. Mayes and Berney Echeffield of Brownwood, were guests of Miss Minnie J. Crothers Tuesday, coming here for the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Deans have returned from a several weeks' visit with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bradley, at Sherman. Their son, Earl, who had been spending the summer in Sherman, returned with them.

Misses Minnie J. Crothers, accompanied by her guest, Miss Catherine Dowty of San Angelo, drove to Brownwood Wednesday morning, where they enjoyed a dance given by the Brownwood club.

LOCAL BRIEFS

A bright-eyed little Miss is now making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Marsden, her arrival having been chronicled on Tuesday, July 29th.

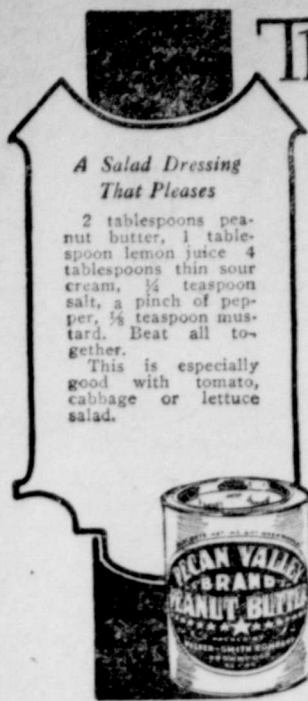

W. R. Davidson is thanking his lucky stars that it is only a temporary patch which is adorning his right eye. A cartridge, in being ejected from a gun, flew up and struck the ball of the eye, temporarily blinding him. However, no serious results from the injury are anticipated, and Bill hopes soon to have regained full use of his good right eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Elliott returned Tuesday from Ranger, where they had been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Claud Baker. Mrs. Baker and children returned with them for a visit; also Louis & John Franklin, sons of Louie Baker, who will visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Fuller. Claud Baker is moving to Eastland where he will have charge of the Perry Garage.

H. C. Samuel returned yesterday morning from a marketing trip to St. Louis and other points. Mr. Samuel reports a great rush on in the wholesale districts, but was nevertheless enabled to purchase a select stock of fall and winter goods for his store, and expects to have one of the most attractive stocks of merchandise he has ever carried ready for his patrons during the coming season.

I. G. Abney is rearranging the interior of his store, and is having new shelving and counters added to enable him to properly display his new dry goods. Mr. Abney will this year greatly extend his showing and stock of dry goods, and will have one of the most complete stores in the city. He is discontinuing his line of groceries and expects to confine his entire efforts to the dry goods line.

The Popular Dry Goods store is now undergoing a thorough renovating of the interior of the store building. The wood work is being painted in neat and harmonizing colors; new paper is to adorn the walls and ceiling and a handsome new show window are on the program of improvements. Manager S. J. Seriegler sees a big year's business ahead and, with characteristic enterprise, is preparing to meet

Mrs. B. Simpson left Tuesday night on her annual fall marketing trip. Mrs. Simpson will visit the St. Louis markets, where she has assurance of securing a complete stock of the very latest and most attractive millinery, and will personally make the selections, choosing with her usual care those styles, colors and combinations which she knows will please her patrons. She expects to spend two weeks at market.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wegner and family arrived Tuesday from Kingsville, where Will has been employed with a market the past year. Will was well enough pleased with his location on the coast, but, after all, there is no place like home, and, of course, Brady is always home to them. Consequently there was nothing else for them to do but return. Bill is not fully decided as to what he will do, but expects to engage in business, settle down, and leave Brady and McCulloch county friends never more.

Henry Miller returned the end of last week from a visit to his birthplace at Victoria, incident upon a visit through that section of Texas. Enroute he stopped at Lockhart for a visit with the family of R. A. Rutherford, Jr. Mr. Miller says that on account of the excessive rains in the Victoria section, cotton has grown up like young trees, but the boll worms eat the squares off as fast as they put on. Mexican boys are employed by the farmers to top the cotton, and ride through the patch on Shetland ponies in order to be able to do the topping. By this plan it is hoped to get enough sunshine to the cotton plant to enable it to put on fruit. However, their corn and feed crop is already made, and is the most wonderful he has ever seen, says Mr. Miller.

Editor John E. Cooke of the Rockdale Reporter, accompanied by Mrs. Cooke and son, William Henderson, arrived Wednesday afternoon from Rockdale for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Schwenker and family. Mr. Cooke is just out of the sanitarium at Cameron, where he spent four weeks following an operation for appendicitis, and, quite naturally, no point appealed to him more than Brady as the proper place to spend a vacation while recuperating. Their many Brady and McCulloch county friends are pleased to greet Mr. Cooke and family upon the occasion of their visit here, and all recall the splendid work of Mr. Cooke as a booster and live-wire citizen while editor and owner of The Brady Standard, which paper he has the honor of establishing. Needless to state, Mr. Cooke has earned the same reputation at Rockdale in his newspaper work in that city, and he and his estimable family are among the most highly esteemed of the citizens of that thriving city.

INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS OF THE BRADY COUNTRY

SCHOOL AND SCHOOL FACILITIES

One of the first things usually taken into consideration by a man of family, who is anticipating moving to a new locality to make his home, is the opportunities for the education of his children. If the school systems of that county are up to standard and all that could be desired from an educational standpoint then he is that much more convinced that he would be satisfied with the location. In this respect Brady and McCulloch county are exceptionally fortunate. There is not a city or county in the state the size of Brady and McCulloch county that has any superior institutions of learning. Everything is done by those in charge of school work to bring the equipment and the class of instructors up to standard. In every instance a things which will be of most value to them in after life are shown to them from the practical standpoint, and the graduates from the rural schools of this county are equipped to enter the life work, or, if they desire a higher education, can enter the high school which is maintained in Brady. W. M. Deans is county superintendent of education, and is rated one of the foremost of the educators of Texas. Mr. Deans has taught school in the McCulloch county schools for many years. He has chosen with care the recommendations to be made for teachers to the rural schools. He makes frequent visits to the schools and inspects the work being done and the maintenance of the school buildings.

BRADY HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

Light standing of efficiency. The city schools employ from 19 to no outbreaks of epidemics among the pupils. For the out-of-town pupils who wish to attend the high school work, board and room can be secured with the city's representative families and the general moral tone of the city is conducive to right living. In fact, there are hundreds of reasons why Brady and McCulloch county excel in school work.

The Central school teaches up to and including eighth grade work. The high school teaches from the eighth up to and including the eleventh grade work. Like the rural schools, special courses have been added to the city schools which include domes-sufficient salary is paid instructors to warrant the securing of most competent along this line. The buildings throughout the county are all substantial structures and well equipped, many of the districts securing state aid in their school work because of the fact that they come up to the state building requirements providing for assistance from the state financially.

MONTGOMERY CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL BUILDING

The above picture shows not only a type of the substantial rural school buildings in McCulloch county, but it graphically illustrates the improvement of the schools and school facilities in recent years. The two small buildings at the top of the picture represent the Liberty and Voca school buildings, which were discontinued upon the completion of the handsome Montgomery school building at Voca, erected four years ago at a cost of $7,000. These modern rural schools offer the greatest opportunity for the boy and girl living in the country to procure an education at home.

One attractive feature of the McCulloch county schools is the fact that they are based more on the practical than the average public school system. For instance, in many of the county schools the practical side of farming is taken up and taught by competent instructors. Agriculture is made a study as well as animal

The High school of Brady is one of the most efficient and best equipped high schools to be found anywhere in the state. This school is under the superintendency of W. L. Hughes, who spent eight years in the city schools of San Angelo, as well as superintending the schools of Tom Green county, and has been identified with the local school work for eight years. Mr. Hughes this year is instructor in a special course in the A. and M. college, his selection for this work being a tribute to his ability as a leader and instructor. His work this summer is along agricultural lines and will be of material aid in the instruction this coming school year in agriculture, practical cotton raising, etc.

ant position and is handled as such. The equipment of the buildings is looked after carefully to see that it is the very best obtainable. The buildings are all substantial structures, well ventilated, and sanitary measures are looked after carefully to assure husbandry. These two studies were never formerly taught in the public schools and it was usually necessary for the student to attend the state A. and M. college to get the instruction along this line; but in the scheme of things to develop the McCulloch county schools to a maximum degree of efficiency these studies, coupled with others such as the study of silos, farm arithmetic, sewing, cooking, home-making, etc., have been taken up. In fact, the course of study includes practical physiology, observation of health, home planning and community co-operation are some of the things which are taught by competent instructors in the rural school districts. No longer do the students attending the McCulloch county schools have to confine their education to the "three R's," but the practical the Brady high school it then maintained only twelve units credit with the state university. The school now has twenty and a half units credit with the state university and affiliation with all southern colleges, this efficiency being brought about by the careful and advanced work of Superintendent Hughes.

Mrs. W. B. Anderson, who has spent her entire lifetime in the school room, is principal of the High school. She is considered exceptionally proficient and has accomplished a great and valuable work in the schools of Brady.

Miss Elzora Cunningham, who has spent five years work in the Brady schools is superintendent of the Central school which is the ward school of the city. Miss Cunningham has worked faithfully for the upbuilding of the Central school to its present

FARM HINTS By B. D. Black

On returning home from the Short Course at the A. & M. college, I have been asked a great deal about the kind of work done at this time so I thought I would tell all who wanted to know some of the good things we enjoyed. I left Brady Saturday evening on the Frisco and arrived in College Station Sunday afternoon. We were met by a large number of residents who offered their cars for our transportation. This was very much appreciated too, for we were tired of the trip. We were taken to our rooms and then showed about the campus in good, old fashioned style.

Monday morning the work began in dead earnest. The program started at nine o'clock in the air dome. President W. B. Bizzell made the welcome address. This was one of the greatest addresses I had ever listened to on the subject of farm progress. All the time he was speaking the rain came in a downpour but no one gave much thought to what was going on outside. All were following the speaker. Following this address, T. O. Walton, Director, made a very fine talk in which he stressed the importance of cooperation, or team work. He also outlined the weeks' work which we were to do. Several speakers made short talks and we adjourned for dinner.

After dinner the boys and girls were organized for their work. I must say a word here about what was done for the boys and girls. Mr. Cook, who was a lieutenant in the service, had charge of the boys and he was a master when it came to handling them, too. He was a strong believer in boys and he loved them and their work. I do not know all he did with them for I was busy in another section, but I did see a great many things he did for and with them. The boys were all placed in Milner Hall and Cook stayed with them. They were called at six each morning and were marched to the Y. M. C. A. where they took breakfast. After a short rest they were given splendid courses in stock judging, plant production, and various other things. In fact they were kept busy from morning till night, and it was all entertaining to them, as well as instructive. The girls were in the charge of Miss Abby Graham Field secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who gave the girls a good course in the things they were interested in. At the close of the course the girls winning in the contests of canning were awarded four prizes: A loving cup for the best team; a canner to the individual winner of first prize; a trio of white leghorns to the second; and a pair of squab pigeons to the third. Also three scholarships were awarded—C. I. A. of Denton, Grubbs Vocational School, and John Tarlton. The prizes for the boys were four registered calves and a registered pig. The first winner had first choice, the second had second choice and so on. I could tell more of the work of the boys and girls but time and space will not permit.

J. P. SHERIDAN SELLS HOME - TO REMAIN CITIZEN

J. P. Sheridan has sold his residence on South Bridge street to Mrs. Ollie Johnson of Melvin, the consideration being $3200.00. Mrs. Johnson is expected to move here and take possession of the property by the 15th of the month, and will become a permanent resident of Brady in order to enable her children to have the benefit of Brady's excellent schools. The home is one of the neatest and most attractive in the city and its splendid location makes it one of the most desirable pieces of property in Brady. Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan have not decided upon their future plans, but expect to continue to make their home here, and most likely will invest in other Brady property. Their many friends hope to see them soon re-established here in their own home, and in the meantime will extend to Mrs. Johnson and family a most cordial welcome to our city.

I see that I cannot tell all I intended to tell, but I must say that we were very fortunate in having with us some very fine speakers every day, and they brought us messages that are calculated to put pep and activity to people who have a vision. Mr. Clarence Ousley, who has been Assistant Secretary of Agriculture since the war, was there and made two great addresses. Mr. Alvord, from the Washington office, and others of note helped to make the work a great success. The most sensational speaker of the week was W. R. Henderson, pastor of a Houston church who made us feel that life was worth while and that everything is not on the downward road. He is the kind that makes the world set up and take note.

Each evening we went to the air dome and listened to sing-songs, and saw the picture show—without charge. We had to get there early if we got a seat too.

The same care that brought us from the train to the college took us back to the trains. We were all well paid for the trip. The boys who went with me say that we are going to take a big bunch back next year.

QUEEN HOTEL

The hotels are the mediums through which the transient visitor to a city gets his first impression of that city. If he is greeted in a pleasing manner and accorded the services of the hotel, he then is pleased with his first impression and will go out into the city attending to his business with a feeling that the city is progressive and up-to-date. A live hotel, operated from the standpoint of giving the best of service possible, is one of the best assets that a city can have—and in the Queen Hotel, Brady has an institution that is far superior to the average hotel in a city this size.

The Queen is operated in Brady by Mrs. Katie Roberts who has had a wide experience in the hotel business. She formerly operated the Commercial hotel in Coleman, Texas, and came here with a reputation of conducting a house where everyone is accorded all the service at her disposal and is made to feel that he is welcome, and is given every attention possible.

The building in which the Queen Hotel is located is one of the pioneer buildings of the city, and is located in the heart of the business section. It is large and commodious and equipped as thoroughly as it is possible to do. The rooms are clean and well cared for by Mrs. Roberts, and those rooms which are not open to the entire ventilation of the building, are equipped with electric fans. The hotel is amply large for the city, although not infrequently the rooms are filled to overflowing.

The table set by Mrs. Roberts is family style and includes all the palatable products that an extensive market affords. One of the best cooks available is employed and so popular is the dining room of the Queen that many of the merchants and their wives of the city take their meals with Mrs. Roberts. The dining room is a large, roomy and airy one and affords room for dozens of patrons. Mrs. Roberts takes delight in setting her table to appeal to the appetite of the most fastidious; wholesome dishes are served in a variety of style, and those who enjoy a good meal are always high in their praise of the method of operating the dining room.

Since the oil operations in McCulloch county, many of the oil men who have come to this section to transact business, have taken up their residence at the hotel. They are made to feel at home and the entire house is at their disposal. There are no set rules to be followed but the utmost freedom consistent with good business management, is permitted, and if there is a single convenience available, the patrons of this hotel get it. This is one of the attractive features of the management of the Queen, and this is one of the reasons why the city is fortunate in having its hotel in the hands of so experienced and popular a hotel manager, and one who takes an interest in making the stay of her guests so pleasant that they will be certain to give a favorable report on Brady and her hospitality when visiting in other sections.

Mrs. Roberts is deserving of all the patronage her hotel gets. She is the main support of a family and works persistently to keep her house in an up-to-date condition. Considering her building and environment, there is not a hotel in this section of Texas that is operated more conservatively or satisfactorily than the Queen. The building is electric lighted throughout. Its location on one of the principle corners of the square and in the heart of the business district, properly terms it the oil and traveling men's headquarters, and those who contemplate coming to Brady for any business whatsoever, should visit the Queen hotel, where they are assured of being received in a hospitable manner and of getting full value for the money they spend.

RUSSELL HUNT LOSES FINGERS AT DOUGLAS WELL

A thumb and three fingers was the toll exacted from the right hand of Russell Hunt, local manager for the Douglas Oil Co., when he came in contact with the cogs of the engine on the water pump. The accident happened Monday afternoon, presumably while Hunt was engaged in oiling up the engine. The injured man was carried to the local sanitarium where his wounds were dressed, and he had recovered from the injury sufficiently to return to his hotel yesterday.

Mr. Hunt has been in the local field for the past couple months, coming here from Nebraska. He has made many friends during his stay here, all of whom will sympathize with him in his misfortune.

RED CROSS COLUMN.

Training as Community Workers.

The McCulloch county chapter of the Red Cross recently has been requested by the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross, to select women candidates to undergo a course of training in Red Cross Home Service Institutes for the purpose of becoming trained community workers.

Two institutions have been established recently, one at the university of Oklahoma, which has been in operation several weeks and another at the university of Texas, which was scheduled to open July 22. In addition, the state universities of Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas are to be asked by the Red Cross to include such courses in their curriculums for the forthcoming term, beginning in September.

Present plans include the continuation and expansion of work done during the war in training Home Service workers. Six Home Service institutions previous to the armistice maintained an emergency course six weeks in length in addition to briefer chapter courses.

The volume of Home Service work has not decreased. On the contrary, statistics showed that April was the peak month so far as the number of cases handled was concerned.

"The war," said Dr. C. E. Gehlke, of the Bureau of Education and Research, of the Southwestern Division, who handles these activities, "may be over for the soldiers, but not for the Red Cross. Just because a man is discharged doesn't mean his case is settled so far as the Red Cross is concerned. While he is finding his bearings and getting adjusted both he and his family, if he has any, need to be taken care of."

"The Red Cross has taken on a peace time program with a determination not to duplicate any work done by charitable agencies. In the cities the need for community workers has been taken care of pretty well by other organizations. The big field for such experts in the future is going to be the little country town.

"Existing schools train for the problems of city environment. The need now is to so change the curriculum that it will apply to country problems and activities. We are trying to establish longer courses. Instead of six weeks we want to make them a year or two years in length.

"Such courses will turn out trained workers able to estimate the resources of a community; to organize and co-ordinate the organized agencies and make that town or village or whatever it is a better place in which to live.

"Women who graduate from training like this will go back to their home towns and cast an appraising eye over the good and evil influences; the churches, the schools, the lodges, the clubs and the pool rooms and dance halls as well, to find out if that community measures up to the standard. She will work oftentimes with the feeble-minded, the insane, the poor and the delinquent, but if she is on to her job that community is going to be a better place to live in thereafter.

"It is her job to make such a reputation that when anything comes up people will say, 'Well let's ask Miss Smith or Miss Jones—she knows.' That's the job ahead of the Red Cross Home Service workers. We want all the women we can get to volunteer for these courses."

PROVIDING FOR AN ISSUE OF BONDS BY THE STATE FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAYS.

House Joint Resolution No. 13.
A Joint Resolution proposing to amend Section 49, Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas relating to the power to create debts by or on behalf of the State so as hereafter to authorize the Legislature to enact such laws as may be necessary directing the Governor of the State to issue bonds in a sum not to exceed $75,000,000; providing for the levy of a tax to create the necessary interest and sinking fund therefor; and providing that the proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be used in the construction of durable, hard surfaced roads upon the public highways of the State.

Section 1. Amend said Section so as to read after its adoption as follows:

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Article 3. Section 49. No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies of revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in the revenue shall never exceed in the aggregate at any one time, two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000); provided however, that the Legislature may enact such legislation as may be necessary to authorize and direct the Governor to issue bonds of the State in a sum not to exceed Seventy-five million ($75,000,000) dollars, the proceeds to be used in the construction of durable, hard-surfaced roads upon the public highways of the State; provided that such proceeds shall be apportioned to the different counties of the State according to the needs of the State Highways in such counties; and, provided further that under Legislative authority a tax not to exceed twenty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property in the State may be levied, assessed and collected to provide the necessary interest and sinking fund therefor, and said taxes shall be in addition to the taxes authorized by Article 8, Section 9 of the Constitution.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors for members of the Legislature at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Tuesday in November, the same being the fourth day of November, A. D. 1919, and the Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. Those favoring the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "For amendment to Section 49, Article 3 of the Constitution proposing to amend Section 49, of Article 3, relating to the power to create debts by or on behalf of the State, so as hereafter to authorize the Legislature to enact a law directing the issuance of bonds by the Governor of the State in a sum not to exceed Seventy-five Million ($75,000,000) dollars, the proceeds of said bonds to be used in the construction of durable, hard-surfaced roads upon public highways of the State; and providing for the levy of a tax not to exceed 20 cents on the one Hundred Dollars valuation, on taxable property in the State." Those opposing the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "Against the amendment to Section 49, Article 3, of the Constitution proposing to amend Section 49 of Article 3 relating to the power to create debts by or on behalf of the State, so as hereafter to authorize the Legislature to enact a law directing the issuance of bonds by the Governor of the State in a sum not to exceed Seventy-five Million ($75,000,000) dollars, the proceeds of said bonds to be used in the construction of durable, hard-surfaced roads upon public highways of the State, and providing for the levy of a tax, not to exceed 20 cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation, on taxable property in the State."

Sec. 3. The sum of Five thousand dollars ($5,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of such proclamation publication and election.

Sec. 4. The fact that the Legislature is restricted by the provisions of Section 49, Article 3 of the State Constitution from enacting needed Highway Legislation creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity exists, demanding the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read upon three several days, and such rule is hereby suspended.
