PUBLIC LIBRARY NOW OPEN-BOOKS MAY BE HAD FREE

Brady's recently instituted Public Library is now open to the citizens of McCulloch county, and the library committee is anxious that the public avail itself of the opportunity to secure good reading for their spare moments. While the collection of books is comparatively small, yet the committee feels that they have a splendid selection for a start, and confidently hope to build up the number of volumes through donations of additional books by citizens of the county.

Aside from an initial trifling cost for a library card, there is no expense attached to the borrowing of books from the library, unless the book is kept overtime, and citizens of the county are free to secure books on the two days of the week that the library is open to the public, viz: Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. Mrs. S. S. Graham and Mrs. G. V. Gansel, members of the Library executive committee have kindly volunteered to take charge of the books and loan them out during the month of September, upon the two days of the week above mentioned.

The benefit baseball game given on Wednesday afternoon has provided a small fund for operating expenses, and will be used in making the library one of the county's most popular institutions.

Any McCulloch county citizen wishing to borrow books from the library should not hesitate to avail himself of this splendid opportunity.

STATE MARSHAL URGES SCHOOL FIRE PREVENTION

Austin, Sept. 6.—Safeguards against fires should be taken by Texas school authorities in preparation for the opening of schools this month, G. W. Tilley, State fire marshal, advised in a bulletin to school officials in which he said in part:

"Those who are charged with responsibility of the care of school children should be sure that everything has been removed, that the heating plant in each building is properly installed and in correct repair, that approved fire extinguishers have been installed, that installation of the electrical wiring has been thoroughly inspected and that it is in good condition, and that exits and fire escapes are in proper condition.

"Ten per cent of all accidental deaths in this country result from fire. Each year a great many school houses in Texas burn.

"Fire drills are extremely important and should be held at least twice a month, but perfection of drilling is of little value if fire exits are omitted or improperly designed, or if doors are locked or do not open outward.

"The janitor is an important factor in the prevention of fires and should be made thoroughly acquainted with the vital need for careful housekeeping."

G. F. Hurley Dead.
Hon. G. F. Hurley, an ex-confederate veteran and member of the 6th Legislature of Texas, died at his home in this county near Katemey on Wednesday afternoon of last week, following a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Hurley's health is said to have been declining for a number of years and his feeble condition had prevented him from taking an active part in public life as was the characteristic of his younger days. At death he was 74 years, 4 months and 10 days of age.

Mr. George Freeman Hurley was born in Montgomery, North Carolina, on May 14, 1847. At the age of 17 he joined the Confederate army and served until the close of the war. On December 24, 1868 he was married to Miss Nancy Smith, of Davidson, North Carolina, and he and Mrs. Hurley moved to Texas in 1869, locating in Titus county and in 1878 moved to Mason county. He was elected a member of the 26th session of the State Legislature from this district.

Mr. Hurley was a member of the Methodist church, having joined in 1866 and was known by all as a splendid Christian gentleman.

His death occurred on Wednesday evening, August 24, at 7:40 o'clock at his home near Katemey and interment was made Thursday afternoon, August 25, at five o'clock in the Bethel cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Fred Banks and Rev. Roy C. Rader.

Deceased is survived by his wife and ten children: Mrs. Ed Wilhelm of Willis, Texas; Mrs. E. L. Allison of Cherokee, Texas; Tom, Arch, Albert and Leslie Hurley of Minco, Oklahoma; Lee, of Robert Lee, Texas; Mrs. Sam Pirtle and Arthur Hurley of Katemey. Surviving, also, are 32 grand children and 3 great grand children; one sister, Mrs. O. M. Smith of Mason; a half brother, Oscar Hurley of Ardmore, Oklahoma; three half sisters, Mrs. Jim Morris of London, Texas; Mrs. R. M. Stevenson of Telegraph, Texas; and Mrs. N. D. Wood of Oregon.

In the passing away of Mr. Hurley Mason county has lost a valuable, highly esteemed and greatly beloved citizen and one whose influence was far reaching.

We extend sympathy and condolence to his grief-stricken wife, children and other relatives in their bereavement.—Mason News.

THOUGHTS OF A RETURNING SCHOOL BOY.

I used to think my Pa was wrong
When he would say, the years fly by;
I thought the weeks an' months were long
An' when I wait for Christmas, I Am sure the days will never go,
An' weeks seem just like years right then,
But now time does go fast I know,
I've got to go to school again.

It seems a dreadful time between My birthdays, but my Pa says: "wait,
When several more of them you've seen They'll come around at rapid rate."
I don't believe that can be so,
And yet I've got a new suit on
And back to school I've got to go,
Vacation time has been an' gone.

I used to count the weeks, and say
That there were 10 of them that I Could spend all by myself in play
And now the last of them's gone by.
It doesn't seem 10 weeks ago,
Since school let out, they've gone so fast
But Pa just grins and says: "Oho, You've learned that time does fly, at last."

Ten weeks to Christmas! that seems long.
Ten weeks to school days an' the fall,
An' teachers an' the study gong!
That isn't any time at all.
The fun you want seems far away,
The fun you've got goes whizzin' by,
An' my vacation's done today,
I'll bet the school days, though won't fly.

—EDGAR A. GUEST.

SPLENDID SHOW-ING MADE BY WELL—OFFICIAL TEST

The official test of the new Brady water well was completed Wednesday under the supervision of F. L. Burch of Dallas, representing the Sullivan Machinery Co., and from whom the city's two-stage air compressor and pump was purchased.

Pumping the well with pipe set to a depth of 330 ft., a flow of 346 gallons per minute was had, the test covering a period of 11 hours. An interested group of Brady citizens was on hand the greater part of the day watching operations and expressing gratification over the splendid outcome of the city council's efforts to provide Brady with an abundant water supply.

In pumping the well, the volume of water was lowered 170 ft., from the tank at the top of the pipe and which stands eight feet above the surface. This would indicate a tremendous volume of water in the well, to which the additional 100 ft. of water sand drilled in last week, no doubt contributed.

Arrival of the new motor is confidently expected the latter part of next week, following the installation of which Brady citizens will be furnished well water exclusively.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO INAUGURATE "RAT-KILLING"

At its regular meeting last Thursday night, the Civic league voted to sponsor a "rat-killing" campaign in Brady and McCulloch county. The general success attending the league's recent weed-killing campaign has encouraged that body to hope for like good success in its new undertaking. Plans for the rat-killing campaign are now being formulated, and will follow closely upon the lines adopted in successful campaigns had in neighboring cities. The date for the campaign, together with the methods of operation and general advice upon the subject will be announced following the next meeting of the league.

The regular meeting night of the league was set for the first Friday night in each month, at which time a full attendance of members of the executive committee will be striven for. The league has already accomplished much good, and it is felt that every civic organization should cooperate and lend its hearty support to the league. Where the regularly appointed delegate is unable to attend, each organization will be requested to send a substitute to the meeting.

Music Studio Announcement.

She will also have a studio at her home near High school.

PLAY HOUR SATURDAY AFTERNOON ENJOYED BY NUMBER OF THE LITTLE FOLKS

The children's play hour, recently inaugurated by the ladies of Brady, is growing in interest and attendance. Last Saturday afternoon about fifty little folks assembled on the court house lawn and enjoyed children's stories told by Mesdames S. S. Graham and A. B. Stobaugh, and enjoyed the games and plays. Assisting Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Stobaugh in the entertainment were Mesdames G. R. White, R. E. Williams, F. A. Knox, and Miss Mae Stobaugh.

This children's play hour will be continued on the court house lawn each Saturday afternoon from 5:00 o'clock until 6:00, and all children, not only of the city, but of the entire county, are invited to join.

CITY COUNCIL NAMES COMMITTEE TO SET BRADY TAX RATE—NEW FIRE MARSHAL

The city council in regular session Tuesday night appointed Aldermen C. A. Trigg and C. H. Vincent to assist City Secretary W. G. Joyce in computing the tax rate for Brady for the current year.

The council also named C. H. Vincent and B. Simpson as a committee to draft an ordinance regulating the storing of hides, slaughtering of poultry and similar matters within the city limits.

Resignation of Henry Miller as fire marshal was accepted and M. P. Wegner was named fire marshal in his stead.

STATE TAX RATE FIXED AT 22c—SAME AS 1920-21

Austin, Texas, Sept. 6.—The State tax rate for the fiscal year 1921-1922 was today fixed at 22c on the $100 valuation by the State Automatic Tax Board. This is the same rate as was paid during the last fiscal year.

Fixing of the rate was postponed till every appropriation bill had been passed on by the Governor. This was done, Governor Neff said today, in order that opportunity might be given to use every available means to bring the appropriations within the revenue. "This has been done," the Governor said, "after persistent effort and much figuring." The educational appropriations bill was the last to be passed on by the Governor and it was signed today after it had been printed to the tune of $138,545.

In this connection Governor Neff said he had vetoed a total of $6,257,835 from appropriations made by the Thirty-Seventh Legislature. He added that in leaving the educational appropriations bill till the last he had done so in order that it should bear the least of the cuts. He said he had stricken out nothing in this bill but what he considered absolutely necessary to bring the total appropriations within the revenue which would come without an increase in the present ad valorem tax rate.

State Treasurer Holton estimated the total expected revenue for the next fiscal year at between $20,000,000 and $21,000,000. He said total appropriations made for the year would come slightly under this figure.

The State Automatic Tax Board is composed of the Governor, State Treasurer and State Comptroller. The fixing of the rate this year was the latest for several years on account of the delay of the Legislature in making necessary appropriations.

Dave Booker, colored, led a fast life in more respects than one last Tuesday night. Only the night air was perforated, however. Wednesday in county court, Mrs. Booker was assessed a fine of $25 and costs, totaling $46.40, for her rude manner of correcting her husband, which she paid.

Corn Turns Out Well—Small Cotton Crop and Good Price Best.
Voca, Texas, Sept. 8.

Editor Brady Standard:

It has been raining some and good rains at various localities throughout this section of the country the past week or so, but this immediate section still remains dry. Of course it is good for those who are saving their cotton as it makes so much better class where it is picked without any rain, but I sure would like to see it come some good rains.

Most of the corn is gathered. It turned out well. All are well pleased with the corn they made this year.
That means lots of fat hogs this fall.
But the cotton crop is mighty short but it seems so everywhere but the price is getting good and that is better. A little crop and a better price means more money and less work and worry. I like it better.

For a while it looked like the peccan crop was a complete failure but later on they have shown up pretty good while there will not be nothing like a good crop of pecans. But if the price is good like the short cotton crop it will help out wonderfully.

Some folks are already saying,
How are we going to make it thru the next year. To such I always say never look at the dark side of the future. But always the bright side —and if this is done you will likely never see the dark side.

But some folks are like the old lady that prayed for the mountain in front of her house to be removed on riting at night, and the next morning when she looked out the door and saw the mountain still there, said "Just as I expected."

In conversation a few days ago with a neighbor of mine he tells me that on their farm he had found what seemed to him to be a sulphur mine.
He says in breaking the rocks there are large cells full of pure sulphur and that he had tasted it to find it was sulphur. Who knows but what this section might become a health resort a little later on when the merits of our artesian water are found out. There are some parties now who are trying it out and say that after trying it only for a few days they seem to feel a beneficial effect and will continue it for a time to prove its effect.

Now that has been proven to me for some time, not only from a personal standpoint, but I have a friend in Brady who, for the last several years has spent a week or so with me each summer. He has told me that he has come here bothered with kidney trouble and after being here only one week went away perfectly relieved.

Now I am not advertising, but giving what I believe to be facts, and would be glad for others to come and try it out. I have had a number of people to say to me after staying here a few days or a week that they never felt better in their lives, but this was all, without thinking anything about the effects of the water.

A few years ago I had a friend that lived at Hico, Texas, who was so badly run down in health that he could hardly walk by himself. He stayed only about eight or ten days and went home and went to work, feeling fine.
We had no thought that it was the water, and it may not have been. It could have been the change and again it could be the water. All that want to try it out—it's free!

WONDET WORDS.

World's Exposition in 1925—Opportunity to See Oregon.
Wonder, Or., Sept. 1.

Editor Brady Standard:

"I told you so!" Here it is the first of September and no rain yet!
I heard a parody the other day of the song "Baluh Land." It was something like this:

Oh, Oregon, Sweet Oregon,
As on the highest mount I stand,
I look away across the plains,
And wonder why it never rains,
In Oregon, Sweet Oregon my home.

There is much I would like to write about, but time and space forbid.
The most significant of all perhapis the securing of the 1925 World Fair at Portland, Or. Now you will all come, won't you? You will see more grand awe-inspiring scenes of nature than you ever dreamed of.
Especially if you take only a week or two more time and stop off at Medford and see Crater Lake and stop at Grants Pass and go via Wonder and see the Oregon caves and the Mammoth redwood trees. You might come one route and return by another;
see some of the wonderful sights in California and also the Grand Canon of the Colorado in Arizona.
And of course at the exposition you will see the world's most wonderful works of art. The managers are already appointing committees and making preparations for the greatest event in the history of the world. If Gov. Neff and others can keep the Ku Klux Klan from resolving itself into an uncontrollable mob. Let us hope for the best! I have often thought if the American Legion should imitate the Ku Klux ideas and become an unwieldy organization, what difference would there be between it and the bolsheviki of Russia. Of course I know nothing of the motives and aims of either institution. I hope they are naught but pure and holy! But (?)

I saw in the paper not long since President Harding while on a camping excursion actually chopped wood to build the fire! Why, that's nothing! even the Kaiser, we are told, cuts wood for exercise. I think that is more useful than playing golf, don't you?

One of our rear neighbors knew Harding in Ohio when he was a boy.
He said Warren cut and shocked corn for his (my neighbor's) father. He said Warren Harding was so ambitious he would work on Sunday.

Well, here's hoping that you all come to the World's Fair at Portland in 1925.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS TO HOLD 1921 REUNION ON OLD CHICKAMAUGA BATTLEFIELD

*****
Dates Are Fixed.
*****
General K. M. Van Zandt, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, announced Friday morning that the annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans would be held this year in Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 25, 26 and 27.

*****
United Confederate Veterans will hold their 1921 reunion in Chattanooga, Gen. K. M. Van Zandt, commander, announced Friday. The city and county authorities of the famed Chickamauga battlefield Thursday wired General Van Zandt an invitation to have the veterans meet there. For a while it looked as though none of the Southern cities was particularly anxious for the veterans this year. Where there generally is a fight for the annual reunion between a half dozen cities, none entered the list for the 1921 meeting, and it was not until Thursday that the Chattanooga invitation was extended.

Texans on Old Ground.
It will be a particularly pleasant reunion for General Van Zandt and for other Texas veterans of the old Texas Seventh, who participated in the Battle of Chickamauga, fought fifty-eight years ago this month, for not only were the Texas troops in the fighting at Chickamauga, but they played an important role, and at no less than three places on that battlefield there is a marker bearing General Van Zandt's name.

Chickamauga was a ship that passed in the night for the Confederate army, and though it was a victory for the Confederate army, a misunderstanding of orders caused the Confederates to fail to follow up their successes and properly consolidate their positions.

General Van Zandt Friday recalled some of the stirring events of September of 1863.

"The Seventh Texas had been in Mississippi when we were ordered to Chickamauga," the General said. "We went on the battlefield fighting, for things were under way when we arrived. Longstreet had been transferred from Virginia and was in command of the left wing. Almost as soon as we arrived we were in the fighting in a valley near Chickamauga. The Federals were in possession, and after repeated attacks we dislodged them and drove them out. There was one house in that valley. It was called the Vittitoe house and the Federal lines had extended around and enveloped it. As we attacked and they began a retreat their line swept back of the house and threw it into our possession. I shall never forget two women who suddenly appeared on the porch of that house and screamed a greeting to the advancing gray-clad men. They had been in the house, secreted beneath the floor, for days while the Federals had held it.

Texans Sweep Field.
"On Sunday morning there was vicious fighting on the left wing, which resulted in the death of our commander. Sunday about dusk our regiment was in the thick of it at a place called Snodgrass Ridge. As darkness drew on that evening we broke into a wild retreat. Our orders had been to advance, so advance we did. As night grew we stumbled onward. Finally I called a halt and we rested. So tired were we from our long march from Mississippi and the lively fighting that we had been in for three days that we dropped in our tracks. We knew we were near a Federal hospital, for we could hear the cries of the wounded and the dying.

"As dawn came we found many wounded Federal soldiers among us, lying where they had fallen. We did not then know how far behind we had left our right and left wings. We knew we were out on the edge of a wood by ourselves. The fight was not renewed that day, though that was the commanding officer's plan, and a brilliant victory was never improved upon."

Tells Touching Incident.
General Van Zandt told of a Waco man, Johnny Rogers, he called him, who spent the early morning hours in foraging. Three divisions of the outfit had been made, he said. One to find food, the second to find wood for fires and the third to find water and to make observations. Rogers found some coffee. He needed it badly and so did the others, said General Van Zandt.

"But none of us would ask him for it, knowing he needed it worse than we, so Johnny set about to boil it. He worked with it for half an hour and finally got it ready. Just as he was about to raise it to his lips, he looked to one side and there came a Union soldier, wounded and crawling with arms outstretched. Without a word, Johnny turned and proffered him his steaming cup.
"I can't do it," the Federal soldier said. "You need it worse than we do." And he wouldn't accept it.

Opposed by Kansans.
"It was a Kansas regiment in command of Col. J. L. Abernathy which opposed us at Snodgrass Ridge and whose lines we broke," General Van Zandt said. "At the time, though, I didn't know who it was we were fighting or who was their leader. Some twenty or thirty years ago when the Government marked the Chickamauga battlefield, Union and Confederate veterans went to Chickamauga. Colonel Abernathy was inculcating and someone had told him that it was I who was in command of the men who had broken his lines. He looked me up and together we recalled the fight. I first told him where we were. I pointed out the log house, a paling fence that stood east of it, and an orchard that adjoined that. 'Right in front of us,' I said, 'there was a grove. Now where were you?' 'I was in that grove,' he said. I knew he was there all the time. I had heard of him years before, but I never knew that he was the man I had fought until that day. We had converted the bank from a private institution to a national bank some years previous to that. Some friends in Kansas had bought some stock and had sold other stock and Abernathy was among the purchasers. His name was on the stock books of the bank of which I was the head, but I didn't know who he was then. We became good friends and he later visited me here."

General Van Zandt last visited Chattanooga six years ago for a reunion of the Confederate veterans.
"If I live until the 7th of November, I will be 85 years old," he said. "This reunion will be a sort of birthday celebration for me as well."
It was in that same section, though not at Chickamauga, that General Van Zandt managed to get through the Federal lines after an engagement and bring back a wounded relative. "That was Donelson," he said, but when questioned more closely, he reverted again to Chickamauga.

He doesn't like to talk about this, though it was one incident, it's said, in which he participated most conspicuously.

FORMER BRADY BOY, WITH HONORABLE SERVICE RECORD, LISTED AS DRAFT EVADER

The Brownwood Bulletin Tuesday published the list of what was purported to be the draft evaders of Brown county. Twelve names appeared on the list, which was furnished by headquarters of the Eighth Corps Area, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Included in the list was the name of George Newsome Weise, former Brady boy, who was telegraph operator with the local Frisco office prior to the beginning of the war. His brother, Chas. Weise, was agent during the same period. When the Frisco and Santa Fe offices were consolidated, George was transferred to Fort Worth, and Chas. Weise became agent at Menard.

Concerning George Weise's war record, the Brownwood Bulletin has the following to say:
"Definite information which clears George Newsome Weise of the charge of draft desertion, has been received by The Bulletin. Weise is now employed as a telegraph operator for the Frisco railroad at Proctor. His discharge papers show that he volunteered for enlistment in the navy at Dallas on August 31, 1917, and was discharged on February 27, 1919. Meantime he served in various naval camps and at the time of his discharge held the rank of electrician second class. These facts will be placed before the proper military authorities."

Brady friends of young Weise further state that he saw overseas service, and that he received numerous medals for distinguished conduct.

The Bulletin states that the records of several others of the twelve named in the list will undoubtedly be cleared up.

"Well, dad," answered Gwennie, "please don't tell mother, because she's an awful dear, but I don't think she knows much about bringing up children."

"What makes you think that?" asked her father.
"Well," replied Gwennie, "she makes me go to bed when I am wide awake, and she makes me get up when I am awful sleepy."

WILD ANIMALS AND BIRDS PREPARE FOR SEVERE WINTER

New York, Sept. 6.—Various weather experts have been predicting an early and unusually severe winter and their opinions are backed up by the animals in the parks.

Squirrels are storing up unusually large quantities of nuts. The prairie dogs, a full month ahead of time, are carrying food down into their diggings, and plenty of it. Robins and blackbirds are flocking together, presumably preparing for migration a month earlier than usual.

Raymond L. Dittmars, curator at the Bronx Zoo, admits the animals are making preparations for winter much ahead of the usual time, but he inclines to the belief that they have been deceived by the misbehavior of the seasons. Spring came in a month ahead of time this year and now the leaves have about reached the end of their summer life. Dittmars says we may have an unusually long Autumn with a protracted period of Indian Summer, or we may jump headlong into an early and very severe winter.

The animals and birds, however, are taking no chances.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO RECEIVE STATE AID—AID REQUIREMENTS SAME

"If the Governor signs the Rural Aid bill as passed by the legislature, there will be $1,500,000 for the rural schools this year and notice has come from the State Department that he has agreed to approve the bill." This statement was by Miss Carrie Reaves, county Superintendent of Brown county Monday. Continuing, Miss Reaves said: "The requirements for aid will be practically the same as heretofore, except that a provision for a salary schedule was inserted limiting the amounts to $100 per month for teachers with second grade certificates, $150 per month to teachers with first grade certificates, and $175 per month to teachers holding permanent certificates.

"Aid applications will have to be filled out and sent to the State Department of education as soon as the blanks can be secured. These blanks will have to be printed and will not be ready for distribution before the 15th of September. The trustees of all schools will be notified as soon as they arrive.

"The text books this year will be distributed from the office of the County Superintendent. The books ordered by this county have come from all the depositories except one and when they are received the trustees will be notified so that they may have time to get the needs of the schools supplied before the schools open. The number ordered for each school corresponds to the requisitions made out by the teachers this spring which were placed on file in this office. The State Superintendent has adopted this method of distribution of books this year, hoping that it may prove more satisfactory than last year's method."—Brownwood News.

HONEST INJUN.

Monday morning's school bell will sound like a death knell to many a youngster's happy vacation.

CHILDREN'S PLAY HOUR.

Last Saturday afternoon some fifty children joined in making merry on the court house lawn during the children's play hour. This is one of the commendable local enterprises only recently inaugurated in Brady, and from this small beginning The Standard ventures to predict that in less than twelve months time it will have grown to ten times its present proportions. The success attained in neighboring towns fully bears out this prediction. Take Fredericksburg, for instance. The play hour there was inaugurated early in the year, and from a comparatively insignificant start has grown by leaps and bounds until now it is one of that enterprising city's most popular institutions. On last Friday night a band concert was given on the court-house lawn at Fredericksburg by the splendid band of that city, co-incident with the children's play hour, and no less than 500 children took part in the songs, games, marches and general entertainment. Tiny tots of five and six years took part along with children whose ages ranged upward to the near-grown ups. And not the least of the jolly bunch of merry-makers was one gray-haired man, who marched as spiritedly as though he were seven instead of seventy. The crowd that assembled to watch the gaiety could not have fallen far short of two thousand.

It is a great and valuable service to the parents of McCulloch county, which the ladies of Brady have inaugurated. Parents should bring their children and should, themselves, join in the play and entertainment. It will make for better children and for a wiser and better set of grown-ups.

ROAD BUILDING.

There are many good roads enthusiasts in Brady and McCulloch county, but none, we believe, whose enthusiasm upon the subject surpasses that of the delegates just returned last week from the Puget Sound to the Gulf highway meeting at Fredericksburg. Ask any one of the bunch and they will declare unequivocally in favor of building highways that shall traverse the county from north to south and from east to west.

When one considers the wear and tear, the breakage, the valuable time lost in negotiating bad roads, then, indeed, does the cost of building good roads, however expensive it may be, appear trivial in comparison.

The Standard believes that the citizenship of McCulloch county could do no more wise or opportune thing than to vote good roads bonds now in a sum sufficient to assure building of highways from one end of the county to the other. Should next year be a dry or unfavorable crop year (as many citizens profess to fear) a road-building campaign would give employment to many hundreds of citizens who might otherwise be forced to leave McCulloch, perhaps never to return. On the other hand, should next year be prosperous, then the road-building campaign could be confined to such portions of the highways as are now scarcely negotiable, and the balance of the bond money allowed to accumulate interest until some future date when the road-building campaign may be carried to ultimate consummation.

Goods roads are no longer to be counted an expense—they are the most valuable asset any country can have. Voting of bonds distributes the cost equitably, enabling the expense to be partly borne by those who follow after us, and to whom will accrue the greater benefits of the efforts of the builders of today.

A CENTURY OF PEACE.

Today a peace portal, commemorating a century of peace between the United States and Great Britain, will be dedicated on the Canadian border near Blaine, Washington. It is a simple monument to the long period of friendly relations existing between these two countries and the gates of this peace portal will remain open so long as the two countries are at peace. They will be closed only in the unhappy event of war.

Writing of the incident President Harding asserts that the 3,000 miles or more of unfortified frontier between the United States and Canada is persuasive and convincing evidence that the world is growing wiser and better. The president expresses the hope that the good relations of the past century between Great Britain and the United States may be extended throughout the world, so that all countries may enjoy the fruits and blessings of peace.

The wish is not fantastic or unreasonable. Great Britain and the United States have enjoyed a century of peace, not because no important controversies have arisen between these two countries during that long period, but because each country has tried zealously and successfully to understand the other. When disputes have arisen the statesmen on both sides of the water have approached the issues frankly and with open and unprejudiced minds. Various questions have come up that might have led to war if either side had been hot-headed or over-sensitive; but neither country has harbored the desire to trample on the other's toes. As a result there has been a thorough understanding—a frank and sincere neighborly spirit.

Such an understanding is all that is necessary to secure permanent peace throughout the world. If all nations could be induced to lay aside all racial prejudices, to abandon all selfish politics and disarm as to suspicion there would be no need for a league of nations to settle arising disputes, and if there were such a league the fact but that it could serve a high and noble purpose. The United States, even, is not as confident in its relations with some other countries as it is in regard to its friendship with Great Britain; for if we do not suspect some of these nations we at least suspect that they suspect us, and that is just about as bad. Somehow or other it has been impossible to reach the ground of common understanding that has been cultivated between this country and the British empire.

This understanding, however, is absolutely essential if permanent world peace is to be established. Perhaps the disarmament conference will prove a long stride in the direction of that desirable goal.—Temple Telegram.

PLAN HOLDING OF McCULLOCH EXHIBIT IN OCT.

At a meeting of business men of Brady held in the court house Tuesday night, it was tentatively agreed to hold the McCulloch County Exhibit the latter part of October. Several suggestions were offered as to the manner and place of holding the exhibit, and as soon as something definite can be decided upon as to these propositions, the whole matter will be laid before the business interests of Brady for final decision.

While many unfavorable circumstances confront the exhibit this year, yet, upon the whole, McCulloch county has made some exceptional crops, considering conditions, and therefore should have an exhibit that will show up to splendid advantage. The further fact that no effort will be made this year to place an exhibit at the Dallas Fair, will enable the holding of the local exhibit at the later date than last year, and therefore will enable more time to prepare for the same.

The holding of an exhibit this year was deemed of vital importance, since it is the plan to make this a permanent institution, and any failure to hold would make doubly difficult the revival of the project next year.

Promoters of this valuable institution believe that the McCulloch county citizenship, as a whole, realizes the tremendous value of the exhibit, and count upon loyal support from all sections of the county.

The Standard hopes to be able to present a complete plan of operation for this year's exhibit to its readers within the next week or so.

Its Wonderful Point

The superb writing quality of the Tempoint Pen is due to the manner in which the generous iridium tip is affixed to the gold point—by having the gold fused about it—not annealed. Then the gold pen itself is hammered into steel-like hardness and durability.

The pen cannot weaken or become "sprung." The hammering process also eliminates porosity, so that the pen is not affected by harmful ink-acids.

Made in both Screw Joint and Self Filling models. Many attractive styles, $2.50 up. Come see the Tempoint Pen and its equally fine writing mate, the Eversharp Pencil—always sharp, never sharpened.

Relief In Vain—Now In Perfect Health.

"I spent enough money in twenty years trying to get relief to buy a fine home and just to think of it—a few bottles of Tanlac have done for me what everything else failed to do," said John W. Haney, 808 Kentucky St., Dallas, Texas.

"Before I had stomach trouble I weighed two hundred and ten pounds and was the picture of health and as good a man physically as could have been found in Dallas. I ran down until I weighed only a hundred and fifty-five pounds and was a mere shadow of my former self and got so weak I could hardly stand on my feet.

"I was just about as miserable as a man could be when I started on Tanlac and I can hardly realize it, although it is true, that I'm at last a well man. I enjoy eating now like I did when I was a boy and my digestion is perfect. I have gained back twenty pounds of what I lost and am gaining every day. There is no doubt in my mind that Tanlac saved my life and I feel I would be showing a spirit of ingratitude not to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Brady by Trigg Drug Co., in Rochelle by C. W. Carr, in Mercury by J. T. Matlock, and by leading druggists everywhere.

NEGRO TELLS WEIRD TALE OF WHITECAPS

Waco, Sept. 4.—Owen Stephens, negro, his wife and thirteen children, today were taken to a McLennan county farm near Waco to pick cotton. Stephens tells a weird story of how he and his family came to be picking the fleecy staple in McLennan county.

According to the negro he has 130 acres of perfectly good cotton in Runnels county that needs picking.

A short time ago he came to Waco and appeared at the city hall in a serious physical condition.

He told the chief of police that he had been beaten by a mob in Runnels county and forced to leave his family.

Stephens was taken to a train at Abilene, given $7 in money and told to ride as far as that amount would take him, but never to return to Runnels county.

His ticket read to Denison, but at Fort Worth he changed trains and came to Waco.

The Waco chief of police sent Stephens to the Federal authorities and an investigation is in progress. The negro was uneasy about the fate of his family he was forced to leave expressing a desire to have them come to Waco.

The officers agreed to help the negro bring them here, and Policeman J. W. Tanner was assigned the task of going to Runnels county bringing the family to Waco. The wife and thirteen children had not been molested during Stephens' absence.

According to Stephens, his troubles began when he removed from a farm where he had been working for eight years. The landlord objected to his removal and the negro appealed to the law to protect him.

After he had made a crop at the new place he was decoyed from his home and beaten severely, he says. Before he had fully recovered some one told him a mob was forming and he had better leave.

He took the advice—which accounts for McLennan county's population being increased by fifteen.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Duke and two children, who have been visiting his mother, Mrs. J. M. Duke, and relatives here the past three weeks, returned Wednesday night to their home at Shattuck, Okla.

Fire in a wood pile at the C. D. Allen residence late yesterday afternoon resulted in a call for the fire department. The incipient blaze was extinguished with little trouble and comparatively small damage.

The condition of Harry Hill, who was so seriously injured Monday afternoon when he accidentally shot himself, is considered very satisfactory. No complications have so far arisen, and with his present progress it is thought he will make a rapid recovery.

The epidemic of charbon which had apparently broken out in McCulloch county a week or two ago has about subsided according to reports received here by Dr. W. R. Sanderson, veterinarian. Dr. Thaxton of the state veterinary department went to the locality infested and remained there until the malady had been entirely eliminated.—Brownwood Bulletin.

J. W. Ince, who lives about six miles northwest of Rochelle on the Brownwood road, reports not having had rain enough out his way since May 8th to make the water run on the ground. Even the good June rains missed him. Mr. Ince kept plowing his cotton during the dry weather in hopes of getting some moisture, and as a result his cotton has turned out particularly bad. However, he made some splendid corn, having planted early and getting a good crop.

John R. Winstead is here this week for a visit of several days with relatives and friends. John R., with one of his boys, located at Eliasville, Texas, early in the summer, where they are engaged in the mercantile business. John R. says that the slump in crude oil prices has quieted the oil field activities greatly, but that nevertheless he has been enjoying a very nice business. Coming to Brady he passed within sight of the Humble Oil and Refining Co.'s wonderful new 50,000,000-foot gasser at Breckenridge, which he describes as sending up a column of gas through the derrick as high as the McCulloch county court house, and the force of the flow being so great that the wind is unable to cut the column before it reaches that height.

Our old friend, Mart L. Williams, was in Brady from the Voca community Wednesday, and when we inquired his reasons for not coming to town more often, he explained that it was because he had comparatively little to market this year. By actual measurement, Mr. Williams says that only 4 1/4 inches of rain fell in his yard since October 1st of last year, and that his garden products just simply failed to grow and produce. At that, Mr. Williams has made his living at home, flour and sugar being about all his necessary purchases, and he says times are not hard, compared with what he has seen. He tells of experiences back in the 70's when he cut his own shoe pegs from wood and pegged his own shoes, not having the price of shoe tacks in those days. There are the days of plenty, says Mart.

Steve Jennings, accompanied by his son, Charles, and sister, Miss Mary Jennings, was a business visitor in Brady Wednesday. Mr. Jennings has just recently moved his family from the Sorrell place in the Fredonia community to the S. L. Jeffers ranch in Mason county, and which lies between the James and Devils rivers. Mr. Jennings will have charge of the ranch for Mr. Jeffers. He says he has a wonderful body of land there, comprising 42,000 acres, and on which he has some 2,000 head of cattle, 5,000 head of sheep, 200 head of mules, 100 head of horses, besides goats and other livestock. Then, in addition, he has some live stock of his own on the place. Mr. Jennings says that he recently lost a 1,000 acre tract and another 3,000 acre tract of grass by fire, but fortunately they lay on the outer edge of the ranch and farthest from water; consequently were not being grazed. He is highly pleased with his new location, and says the valley there is one of the most beautiful spots he has seen.

THICKS AND THINS PLAY BENEFIT BASEBALL—LANKY LEANS DEFEAT FRISKY FATS

The battle of the Marne had nothing on the fierce affray that was staged at the Dutton City park Wednesday afternoon, when the Fats and the Leans clashed for the season's honors in base ball, the latter winning by a scratch—11 to 9.—The thicks boasted every advantage, more especially that of avoidupois, and with their team weight of approximately a ton and a half, endeavored to steam-roller their thin opponents, whose net weight, per individual, would hardly range beyond 130 pounds. Each side as it came to the bat, made fierce onslaughts upon the sphere, and executed fancy stunts in base-running, much to the delight of a cheering and enthusiastic audience. No doubt this enthusiasm upon the part of the large audience added to the peppiness of the players.

To Dick Dyer goes credit for the best-costumed player, his uniform of bright Turkey red, with green socks and plaid cap to match, being both shapely and attractive to say the least. Incidentally, Dick proved a willing and adept ball player, and a base runner par excellence. Getting a base on balls in the third inning, Dick stole second and captured third without stopping for breath. Then he heaped indignity upon his lean opponents by bringing in one of the fats' scores.

W. K. Gay was one of the game Fats to appear on the diamond at the opening of the game, but after getting hit by a pitched ball, he first tried to "get" the pitcher, and then decided to warm the bench, promising to come to the aid of his comrades anytime they should appear overwhelmed.

Preachers Reaves and Dunn gave rise to suspicion of their being professionals in disguise, since they not only froze to the ball when fielding, but developed a slugging habit that was disconcerting to the opposing nines. The former in some manner qualified as a "fat," while the latter was elongated into a lean. Reaves got two two-baggers out of three times at the bat.

For pure class, none had anything on Sam Woods and Chauncey Trigg, each of whom appeared decked out in uniform, and which not only accentuated their physical proportions, but which made of them close rivals to the proverbial bean pole. In the matter of scoring, the former tallied once out of three times at the bat, while the latter "came across" the only time up. Not being able to hit the ball, Trigg let the ball hit him—which served the same purpose in the long run.

Although the Fats suffered defeat, to them goes credit for the only double play of the game—Sellers' short stop, to Snearly at second, to Reaves at first. Holton for the Leans evaded matters up by getting the only three-bagger in the game.

Worthy of special mention was the absolutely fair and impartial umpiring of none other than his Honor, W. D. Crothers. This fact was attested by not over half of his decisions being protested, and also by the absence of any attempt to mob him. Soda water was tabooed from the grounds, which caused a great scarcity of missiles.

After four innings of warfare, during the latter part of which the Leans annexed six runs, bringing their total up to 11, the Fats lost the game in the fifth by failing to get two base runners in home. With two outs, they put up a gallant fight and with Preacher Reaves at the bat and with a glint in his eye that spelt "home run," Snearly went to sleep off third and was tagged an easy out.

The line-up at the outset of the game (to which there were many substitutions and changes) was as follows:

FATS	LEANS
W. K. Gay, c	J. B. Whiteman, c
Bailey Jones, p	Marion Deans, p
G. T. Reaves, 1b	Karl Steffins, 1b
Virgil Jones, 2b	Sam Wood, 2b

The score by innings:

Fats	0	1	5	1	2	—	9
Leans	3	0	2	6	x	—	11

Saving the best feature to the last, the financial end of the game was most satisfactory. With an admission price of only 25c, grandstand included, total receipts were $57.50. Expenses of the game were approximately $10, which leaves a nice balance to start the Public Library fund.

Considerable argument has developed about town concerning the exact date of the terrible Galveston flood which inundated that country and drowned nearly 10,000 people. L. Ballou, by referring to his records, states authoritatively that the flood occurred on September 8, 1900, or 21 years ago. Mr. Ballou's first wife, who died four months after their marriage from Asiatic cholera, is buried at Galveston, and Mr. Ballou went there following the storm to ascertain the condition of her grave. He found that it had been covered by possibly six foot of water, but was otherwise in good shape. Many bodies had been washed from the cemetery, however, by the flood waters.
