REAL "PEP" MARKS PLANS FOR GREAT McCULLOCH CO. EXHIBIT OCT. 24-25TH

UNIQUE FEATURES TO MARK BIG TWO-DAYS EVENT—PRIZES RANGE FROM $100 DOWN TO $10.—EVERY COMMUNITY EXHIBITING GETS $10.00.

Real "pep" marks the planning of the McCulloch County Exhibit to be held in Brady October 24 and 25th. With James T. Mann, chairman of the Executive committee, back into the harness, the plans for the big affair are being rapidly formulated, new ideas are being advanced, discussed and adopted if deemed meritorious, and everything points to one of the greatest successes ever staged in the county. Prizes on community exhibits will be the same as two years ago, ranging from $100 down to $10, and every community making an exhibit will not only be eligible to compete for one of these prizes, but as an additional inducement, every community making a display will receive $10 cash.

Mr. Mann is today getting in touch by phone with every school community in the county, and through each school board will request definite information as to whether they intend to take part in the Exhibit, and also if they desire a committee from Brady to come out and assist them in getting their organization completed and exhibit work started. If so, a definite date will be set at which time committees from Brady will visit with such communities.

For an exhibit hall arrangement has been made for the Jordan building, just south off the center of the square, which will provide quarters amply large to house all agricultural, culinary and fine arts exhibits. The live stock and poultry exhibits will be taken care of in the adjoining lot, which will be shedded over. Auto exhibits will, in all likelihood, be staged on the big walk circling the court house lawn.

Every community will be expected to participate in the parade. Many new and novel features will be incorporated in this big spectacle. It is especially requested that each community have a large banner at the head of their section of the parade, so that everyone will know just exactly what school is included in the section. If you have any novel stunts to show, don't hesitate to include them in your part of the parade. The entire Brady municipal family will participate in the parade, each department being represented. The "city dads" are scheduled to appear in silk toppers and frock coats. Three bands will be in the line of march—the Brady Municipal band appearing in two sections, and a clown band being sandwiched in between the exhibits. A night auto parade will also be a distinctive feature.

The Program committee is especially desirous of getting in touch immediately with rural communities which can take part in the night programs, or which may be able to present some part of the night program. If you have a reader, a quartette, a pianist or a soloist, or if you have a clever little play or sketch which your community can present, kindly advise H. F. Schwenker, chairman of the Program committee at once, so place can be arranged for your school on the program. It is planned to make up the entertainment programs entirely with contributions from the various rural schools.

Get your community busy Get to work today! If you are in doubt about anything, phone or advise with the Central committee a Brady. Let's all get in and put the McCulloch County Exhibit over big.

At a meeting of the committees held last night, it was decided to finance the Exhibit by asking each community to contribute on the basis of 50c per scholastic. Accordingly, schools having 25 scholastics, should contribute $12.50; those having 100 scholastics, should kick in $50, and so forth. All Brady business concerns will be asked to contribute as liberally as possible. None will be asked to contribute more than $25, although larger sums will be gladly accepted. The finance committee is today beginning its work of solicitation among the Brady citizenship.

Unightly black patches, which mar the appearance of concrete roads after repair work has been done, will be avoided by the use of a material for the purpose developed by the Department of Agriculture. It has the same color as concrete and consists of 12 parts rosin and one part crude rubber, with sufficient barium sulphate to give the desired color.

ON COUNTRY AMERICA'S DOLLARS

It is estimated Harold McCormick of Harvester Company, sliced fifteen million off fortune to wed opera singer.

Harold F. McCormick, until recently chairman of the Board of Directors of the International Harvester Company, is reported to have sacrificed fifteen million dollars of the fortune made off farm machinery to wed the woman of his choice, Ganna Waska, the widow-divorcee opera singer. McCormick gave up these dollars in a financial arrangement with his first wife, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick; prenuptial settlement upon his present bride and the cost of two divorces, his own, and also his bride's from Alexander Smith Cochran.

STAPLETON GAS STRIKE RESULTS IN NEW DRILLING

As a result of the big gas strike on the W. Z. Stapleton farm, 14 miles north of Brady, several weeks ago, four new wells have been contracted in the vicinity of the gasser. The contract was made by O. L. Billingsley, who for the past several years has been drilling in the Mercury section, and the wells will be located on a 600-acre block, towards which some thirteen farmers have contributed acreage. Those who have acreage included in the block are Dr. J. G. McCall, Lem Holland, W. Z. Stapleton, Paul Jones, J. A. Spencer, E. H. McCluskey, H. H. Knight, Sam Hughes, C. H. Price, L. L. Lay, D. A. Roper, T. B. Baker, W. J. McCartney. All four of the wells are to be drilled to a depth of 500 ft., unless pay oil or gas is struck at a lesser depth, and the first well is to be spudded in at once.

The first well will be located somewhere near the gas well, while the location of subsequent wells will depend upon the showings had.

Speaking of the oil prospects, Mr. Billingsley said he was certain there was oil there, and that with as near a perfect structure as can be found, he believed it the prettiest proposition and the best chance for oil he has yet encountered.

The Stapleton well, originally drilled for water, struck two sands, the first at 369 and the second at 469, with a gas flow that steadily increased, until at present a steam gauge registers a pressure of 85 pounds—making it the strongest gas well this side of Brownwood. Mr. Stapleton has had the gas piped to his house and is using it for light, heat and cooking, the gas being carried thru a two-inch pipe. As a result, the well has proved of greater value to him than if it had been a water well.

—McCulloch County Ginnings.

Official figures on McCulloch county ginnings up to September 25th, have not yet been received. The Standard has it on excellent authority that ginnings in the county up to last night have totaled approximately 12,850 bales. This would indicate nearly 1,000 bales more cotton already ginned than were ginned during the entire season last year, when the total ginnings were 11,903 bales. It is now estimated that McCulloch will gin close around 16,000 bales this season.

Report on ginnings from the local gins is as follows:

Embry Gin	1574
Planters Gin	1650
Purdy Gin	1295
	4619

CIVIC LEAGUE HOLDS ANNUAL MEET TONIGHT

The annual meeting of the Brady Civic league will be held in the district court room at 7:30 tonight, at which time the past year's work will be reviewed, and plans laid for the work to be done during the ensuing year. Election of officers will be had. The league hopes that every church and every lodge and every organization in Brady will have their representative at the meeting, since their work concerns each and every one, and if all churches and organizations have representatives at the meeting, it will greatly facilitate the handling of all problems the league undertakes.

When Brady Citizens Shows a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Brady citizen says:

B. Strickland, says: "About the only indication of kidney complaint I endured was getting down with my back. This came on often and I suffered badly with it. I found Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me of this trouble. I always keep them on hand and use them if needed."

AFTER FOUR YEARS Mr. Strickland said: "The recommendation I gave in 1915 holds good for I think Doan's Kidney Pills are just the thing for kidney trouble. Occasionally I take a few Doan's with good results."

POLO TO FEATURE SAN ANGELO FAIR—BRADY TO FURNISH TEAM

San Angelo, Oct. 2.—Polo will be an attraction for the first time at a fair in Texas when San Angelo conducts its thirteenth annual exposition Oct. 17th to 21st. Teams representing Brady and San Angelo have been matched for contests Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and on alternate days plays will be open to novices.

Horsemanship is one of the main requirements in this aristocratic sport—heretofore but little played in Texas except at army posts, and many cowboys and goat ropers are expected to learn the usages of the bamboo mallet and ball. The fair association will furnish all equipment and suitable prizes will be awarded. All the games will be in the racetrack enclosure immediately in front of the grandstand.

San Angelo is the center of the polo horse market of Texas, several hundred native ponies being schooled here annually by Richard S. Waring of San Angelo, Fred Roe of Robert Lee and others. Some of these animals have made in international polo matches. Waring was a lieutenant-colonel overseas and in charge of the American remount service on the French front. He is a member of the Rumson (N. J.) Club, played last summer on the Cheyenne Mountain Club at Denver and has been a frequent participant in army-civilian games at San Antonio. He will be No. 4 and back on the San Angelo team. Roe, a member of the Bryn Mawr Club of Philadelphia will be captain and No. 3, Leonard Mertz of this city will be No. 1 and Maj. Alex Jones of the remount service at Fort Reno, Okla., will be No. 2.

The Brady team will be composed of Lee Downs, captain; J. E. White, W. N. White and Ben Strickland. Downs has trained West Texas polo horses for a number of years and plays regularly in big Eastern games. Other features of West Texas' oldest, largest and most representative fair will be horse racing, football, livestock and agricultural exhibits, a radio show with a receiving and broadcasting station and a carnival downtown. A pageant of progress will be held probably Thursday, Oct. 19, San Angelo Day. Railroads throughout the State have offered low rates for this fair.

HIGH OFFICIALS OF WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE VISIT BRADY THURS.

Porter A. Whaley, general manager, and Erwin L. McCarter, manager of the Panhandle division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, were in Brady for a brief visit yesterday, while enroute to Austin on business, and while here were guests of the Brady Luncheon club. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is one of the greatest organizations of its kind in the U. S., and it has been made so chiefly through the efforts of these gentlemen. The object of their visit to Austin was mainly to seek state aid in the eradication of sheep pests, a matter which vitally affects all West Texas. Another big battle which they are preparing to make for West Texas is that of freight rates, in which it is sought to alter the common point territory, which would result in higher freight rates for many Texas points, and very likely for Brady.

Brady has for a number of years been a member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and this year it is hoped to have not less than 30 memberships in Brady.

On Profanity.
I don't believe in profanity. Hints—not as a regular thing. But it has its uses an' its place. For instance, it is essential in some thrades. No man can be a printer without swearin'. 'Tis impossible. I mind want I want to a printin' office where a friend iv mine be th' name iv Donovan held cases' an' I heard th' foreman say, "Are you the printer?" "I am," says the pale gentleman with the black whiskers atin' tobacco in the rear iv the room.

"Thin," says th' foreman, "ye blankety-blank blacksmith, get a move on ye. D'ye think this is an annyooal incylopedjee?" he says.

Iv everybody swore at ivrybody else. Th' little boys runnin' with type prattled innocent profanity an' atther a while th' editor come in an' he swore more thin ivnybody else. But 'twasaisy to see he'd not learned th' thrade iv a printer. He swore with th' enthusiasm an' inaccuracy of an amachoor, though I mus' say he had his good pints. I wish I cud raymimber what it was he called th' Czar iv Rooshya fr' dyin' jist as he was goin' to press. I cud've often used it since, but it's slipped me mind.—Printer's Engineer.

Of Course Not!

The director was peeved, and well might he be. For, as usual, rehearsal wasn't going right a-tall. The heroine was new to the wherefores and howfores of acting and didn't know just what was to be done.

"All you gotta do Geraldine," roared the enraged gentleman who had the megaphone, "is shove the hero away from ye when he tries to kiss ye. There's nothing to it! Great Mike! Ain'tcha never tried to keep a fellow from kissin' ye?"

"Never," said Geraldine unblushingly.—Pennsylvania Punch Bowl.

FAIR EDITION.

The McKinney Courier-Gazette last week came to our desk in special edition form of 32 pages—four sections of eight pages each being required to tell all the glories of the big Collin County Fair, which has just concluded one of its greatest and most successful sessions. A noticeable feature of the edition was the liberal and classy line of advertising carried, each of the merchants demonstrating their faith in the fair and their boosting qualities by incorporating into their ad some fair advertising in pictures or in words. To A. G. Mayse, former Brady boy, and for the past twelve years advertising manager of the McKinney Courier-Gazette, goes credit for the tremendous volume of advertising carried, as well as the splendid fashion in which both the merchants business and the Collin County Fair was jointly featured.

THE CONDEMNERS.

The Denison Shop Crafts, in a long resolution, condemned The Dallas News as being unfair to labor, pledged themselves to boycott it, and ordered a copy of the resolutions sent to every labor organization and every farm labor local in Texas and Oklahoma with a request that they concur in the resolutions. The resolutions appeared in The Dallas News the day following without comment. Boycotting the press is one way not to win favor with it or the public. The spirit of the boycott is not admired by Americans who believe in the right of free speech, the right of every man to his own opinion, and in the freedom of the press. Those who engage in the boycott sooner or later find it a weapon more deadly to the ones using it than the ones against whom it is directed.—Bonham News.

TOLERATION.

A reader of the Democrat-Voice submits the following sermon on toleration, which is particularly timely in Texas:

Christians have burnt each other quite persuaded
That all the Apostles would have done as they did.—Byron.

He that saith he is in the light and hateth his brother is in darkness even until now. He that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.—John.

The peace of the world lies in large measure in toleration of opinion, scientific, political, philosophical and religious.

It is but natural for men to differ but difference of opinion does not mean that either is right. Indeed men have fought each other and persecuted each other about certain great questions and then found that they were both wrong. Especially is this true of religion and science.

Might is not argument. Force is not logic.
Persecution never established the truth of the persecutor's contention.

The twist of the thumbscrew never changed any one's opinion.
The agony of the stocks never made a real convert.

The stake and the fiery fagots never convinced any one of the rightness of those who kindled the fires.

On the other hand, these instruments of torture all down the ages have served only to promote the cause for which their victims contended. So true is this that it has given rise in things religious to the proverb, "The bones of the martyrs are the seed of the church." And it is just as applicable in proportion to things scientific and political as to things religious. Self-constituted authority leads to dogmatism, and dogmatism to intolerance, and intolerance to persecution. There are no two material things exactly alike; then why should it be expected that there should be two minds exactly alike?

No two sands on the seashore are exactly alike.
No two leaves of the trees are exactly alike.
No two blades of grass are exactly alike.

The circumstances surrounding the life pre-natal and post-natal of any two persons are never exactly alike with the result that there are no two persons exactly alike, mentally or physically. Then how, in the name of all that is reasonable, can we expect any two minds to be exactly alike, and if no two minds are exactly alike, how can it be that any two opinions are exactly alike on any subject, especially those about which the human mind can not possibly have complete knowledge? And it is just such things about which there is most difference of opinion and therefore most contention, strife and suffering.

Prejudice nor passion ever settled a thing. They are themselves the fruits of ignorance and egotism.

Ignorance is the mother of all this brood of terrors. The really learned are never intolerant. They recognize the varying conditions to which humanity is subject, and therefore know that difference of opinion is to be expected; indeed, that it is a necessity if mankind are to make progress. Preconceived or inherited opinion is not necessarily correct as to any great problem of life.

Censure, condemnation and persecution can never be evidence of correctness of vision.

The tragedy on Calvary was the result of intolerance and bigotry.

It was the work of the Pharisee and not of the publican.

Those persecuting Pharisees never thought deeply enough to understand and know that no truth can be destroyed by killing him who is its champion and advocate.

Thus it is seen that the statement made above is true, to the effect that intolerance, and persecution, its child, never established the correctness of any contention. He who was the central figure in the murder at Golgotha—the great crime of the ages—realizing that persecution always adds to the growth of a righteous cause, said, "Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely for my sake. Rejoice and be exceedingly glad; for great is your reward in heaven; for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you."

All down the centuries people have had to be saved from themselves.

This has necessitated the sacrifice of men and women who had the wisdom and the vision to see the great truths which the people as a whole could not, or would not, for their prejudices and passions are much more powerful in influencing their actions and blinding their vision than are their wisdom and love. Ignorance, passion, prejudice, superstition and bigotry, and the progeny of all these, have always undertaken to thwart the will of Omnipotence. This because they had not wisdom. They have always failed, are failing now, and will continue to fail. Overzeal is easily led into prejudice, prejudice into fanaticism, and persecution is always the product of fanaticism.

The progress of mankind, its every step forward, has been taken in spite of fixed opinions. Copernicus, Watt, Stephenson, Morse, Field, Fulton, Franklin, Edison, Marconi and others of the great pioneers against prejudice and fixed opinions, who have blazed the way for enlightenment in things material, as well as the long list of heroes who have held high the torch of progress and enlightenment in things spiritual, were considered heretics in their respective spheres of usefulness.

Intolerance would drive us back to the Dark Ages. It would displace modern ocean liners with primitive sails and boats rowed by galley slaves. It would swap the automobile for the ox wagon. It would exchange the Twentieth Century Limited for the stage coach. It would supplant the

PLANS FOR NEW BAPTIST CHURCH ARE SUBMITTED BY ARCHITECT THE PAST WEEK

Plans for the proposed new Baptist church building were last week submitted by the architect and excited much favorable comment among the membership of that church, as well as among the citizenship in general. The architect's drawing, together with the floor plan, was on display for part of the week in the C. H. Vincent show window, and showed not only a building most modern and handsome in architecture, but one that will provide accommodations for the church and Sunday school for many years to come.

The building itself is an imposing structure, with basement, and main building providing both a large auditorium and gallery as well. The basement is to provide Sunday school rooms, as well as furnace and storage rooms.

The plans were submitted to the church body last Sunday, and some minor changes were agreed upon, which will necessitate a revision of the plans, which have, accordingly, been returned to the architect for this purpose. Upon their re-submission to the membership, action upon the matter of financing the building of the handsome edifice will be taken.

The sedan sells for $1750, f. o. b. Brady. Of the Light Six touring cars, one Ironized Yeast Gives the Stomach Natural Digestive Power!

There's one organ in the human body that "kicks back" when it gets weak, and that's the stomach. No stomach on earth can operate without vitamins and iron. The same thing is true about the nerves. There is hardly anything that can happen to the nervous system that is not at once reflected to the stomach. Weak nerves! weak stomach! Nature has only one answer: more vitamins ironized. But remember that Ironized Yeast is not a mere mixture of yeast and iron, but is yeast ironized, which is a substance all by itself. This is why Ironized Yeast produces almost immediate results in cases of loss of appetite, aversion to food, belching, gas on the stomach, fermentation, "dump-of-lead" feeling after eating, dyspepsia, indigestion. There is only one Ironized Yeast in the world; it contains yeast + vitamins + with crystals-iron, the very natural food-power which every strong stomach and every strong nervous system possesses. The answer is, ironize! vitaminize! ironize! Ironized Yeast is sold at all drug stores at $1.50 a package. Each package contains 60 tablets, each individually sealed. They never lose their effect by Ironized Yeast. Go. Take Ironized Yeast. You'll enjoy eating, and digesting, everything.

In celebration of his fourth birthday anniversary, Master Billy Cargill entertained with a party to his little friends on last Friday afternoon, quite a number of little folks responding to the invitations sent out.

Upon their arrival, the guests all joined in a number of happy childhood games. Then they were escorted into the dining room, where the birthday cake with its candles formed the centerpiece of the dining table. Surrounding it were the place cards for the little guests, with dainty favors at each place—dolls dressed in bathing suits for the little girls and whistles for the little boys. Ice cream and cake furnished enjoyable refreshment.

The guests assembled at four o'clock and spent an hour or so most enjoyably in outdoor play, following which the dining room claimed their attention. The dining table was adorned with the beautiful birthday cake resplendent with its birthday candles which burned so brightly to denote the eight milestones in the little hostess' life. NEW SPORT MODEL BUICK SHOWN BY BRADY AUTO CO. IS MODERN AUTO MARVEL

The ingenuity of man is, perhaps, no better illustrated than in the beautiful new sport model Buick, driven out from Dallas Wednesday by B. A. Hallum of the Brady Auto Co. It is hard to conceive of any additional conveniences or refinements other than those incorporated into this strikingly beautiful car. With body and wheels of deep maroon, and fenders and mudguards of black, the car is striking in appearance. Then, in addition to the genuine leather upholstery and car lining, there are such innovations as windshield side wings, cigarette lighter, barrel headlights, khaki top, luggage rack complete with dust-proof trunk, and many other new and novel accessories.

Of course, the car is being greatly admired, and the purchaser is certain to be envied by everyone.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION HOLDS FIRST OF THE YEAR'S MEETINGS

The first meeting of the Parent-Teachers association for the year was held on last Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ballou very graciously opening their home to the association for the occasion. Quite a large gathering of the citizenship marked the occasion, and made for a most delightful event. Mrs. Ballou was assisted in greeting the guests by Mesdames N. A. Collier, W. D. Crothers and G. V. Gansel. Mrs. Wm. C. Jones headed the receiving line composed of all the teachers in the Brady schools, there being twenty-two in the line.

Tables and chairs were arranged on the lawn for those who wished to play "42" or dominoes and seats had been improvised with the front porch as a stage, enabling the rendering of a most enjoyable program. The Brady orchestra, composed of Messrs. Carl Sheppard, Matt Moore, Hugo Lehmann, Cecil Striegler and Edwin Sayle furnished music interspersing the various numbers on the program. Miss Neal gave some very clever and greatly appreciated readings; Miss Banister and Miss Jordan favored with several delightful instrumental solos. Another feature of the program was the trio by Miss Banister, Miss Jordan and Miss Katharine Ballou.

At the close of the evening refreshments of cream and cake were served.

Not only did the occasion furnish a splendid opportunity for the citizens to meet the members of the Brady school faculty, but it served to arouse greater interest than ever in the Brady schools and the good work the Parent-Teachers association is doing, with the result that many new members were enrolled.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Claude Grisson of Fort Worth has arrived in Brady and will this year again be in charge of the dressing, grading and packing of the chickens and turkeys annually prepared by the Mayhew Produce Co. for Thanksgiving and holiday markets.

One of the week's unusual occurrences was the flock of hawks which passed over the city Wednesday in a dense cloud. Like the hobo, they were Southward bound in preparation for the coming of cold weather. Either their movement was premature or else a norther must be right upon us, say the folks who know.

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robertson upon the safe arrival of a fine, bouncing, 10-pound boy, who made his appearance at Brady sanitarium Wednesday evening. Mother and babe doing splendidly. Mrs. Robertson has been here from Houston for several months, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vaughn, and relatives, while Mr. Robertson came from Houston a week ago to join her in her visit.

J. W. Anderson is another McCulloch county farmer who has no complaints to offer on this year's crop, since he figures that he has made an average of around $70 to $75 per acre on his cotton land. His seed cotton ran about 1100 pounds to the acre, and in addition to the lint cotton, he had about 20 bushels of seed to sell along with each bale, the seed selling readily at the gin for $1.00 per bushel. Mr. Anderson farmed for a couple years down in Travis county, but it is a safe guess that he is glad to be back in Grand Old McCulloch.

John Mayse Monday received a wire advising of the death of his brother, Thos. A. Mayse, at Santa Rosa, Calif. Tom Mayse was a Brady boy, and some fifteen or twenty years ago was engaged as a printer on the Brady Sentinel. Since leaving Brady he had been employed as advertising manager on the Abilene Times, and with the circulation department of the Fort Worth Record, and for the past several years had engaged in the newspaper business on the Pacific coast. No particulars of his death have so far been had. To his father, J. S. Mayse, and brothers, John and Jim Mayse, and other relatives is extended universal sympathy.

June Coorpender, accompanied by his grandson, June McKee, returned Wednesday morning from Dallas, where they had gone to visit his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. McKee, who were seriously hurt in an auto accident on the Dallas pike three weeks ago. He reports Mr. McKee just getting able to be at work once more, while Mrs. McKee is still in quite serious condition her right arm being partially paralyzed, her neck still suffering from a terrible wrench, and there being burns from scalding water on her limbs which may require months to heal. Mr. McKee says they were knocked off the pike by a big truck which swept past them, and although he suffered bruises and abrasions all over his body, he heroically braced himself and lifted the auto clear of his wife, holding it until other passersby came to his rescue. Mrs. McKee fainted when the crash came, and as she fell, the windshield frame rested squarely across her neck. But for her husband's action, she would have undoubtedly been choked to death. Mrs. Coorpender, who has been attending them since the accident, will continue her stay there for some weeks yet.

His Why.

"Why have I never married?" the old bachelor said, in reply to a leading question.

"Well, once upon a time, in a crowd I stepped on a woman's gown. She turned furiously, beginning, 'You clumsy brute!' Then she smiled sweetly and said: 'Oh, I beg pardon! I thought you were my husband! No; it really doesn't matter in the least.'

"And when I came to think it over I decided that maybe I'd just as well let marriage alone."—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Her Plan.

Mrs. A.—"How do you manage to keep your cook so long?"

Mrs. B.—"Oh that's easy enough. I discharge her every Saturday evening and she stays just for spite."—Boston Transcript.

Not to Be Trusted.

Some years ago in a Western state, then a Territory, a popular citizen became involved with an influential and overbearing character and killed him.

Public sentiment leaned toward the defendant, but the law was against him, and when the day of trial came the defendant, his counsel and friends held a consultation, and, fearful of the consequences, they decided that the defendant should plead guilty and beg the court's mercy.

The jury was charged by the court and retired. Presently it returned, and the foreman said:

"We find defendant not guilty."

The Judge viewed the jury in surprise and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, how be it? This defendant pleads guilty, and you find him not guilty?"

The foreman answered:

"Well, your honor, the defendant is such a liar we can't believe him under oath."

A Good Suggestion.

Official—"No, I can't find you a job. I have so many people here after jobs that I can't even remember their names."

Applicant—"Couldn't you give me a job of keeping a record of them?"

From the Book.

Instead of the usual boys' adventure book, Tommy's mother gave him a book of etiquette, and the results were satisfactory until one day his sister, starting to leave the room, found herself violently seized and thrown backwards into the coal scuttle. "You ignorant little beast!" growled Tommy. "Don't you know that you should wait till a gentleman opens the door for you?"

More Difficult.

A new prison chaplain had just been appointed. He had big ideas as to the importance of his office. During his first round of inspection he entered one of the cells, and in a very pompous manner said to the prisoner who occupied it, "Well, my man, do you know who I am?"

"No, and I don't care," came the nonchalant reply.

"Well, I'm your new chaplain."

"Oh, you are?" said the man. "I have heard of you before."

"What did you hear?" inquired the chaplain, forgetting his dignity in his curiosity.

Well, I heard that the last two church you were in you preached them both empty, but I don't think you'll find it such an easy matter to do the same thing here."

When you come to town, bring along that Suit, Dress or Overcoat and have them Ready for the norther that are coming. KIRK, the Tailor, does it right! Nuf Sed.

INDIAN STORIES; EARLY-DAY REMINISCENCES.

(Chapter XI)

Wonder, Ore., Sept. 30.

Editor Brady Standard:

We crossed the San Saba river at the ford on the Camp San Saba and Llano road just above where Voca now is and finished our journey to the Capt. Dan Wills Plantation. There we found Mr. J. B. Rowlett and Sam Armstrong, who also rented land of the Captain and so far as I know they have the honor of planting the first cotton in McCulloch county. They only planted a small patch as an experiment just to see if it would grow out west; and it did; and by way of experiment some one in the Blue-stretch country a few years later planted a small patch and it did so well that Mr. Elebracht proposed to put up a gin if enough farmers would plant cotton to justify him in doing so, which they did and that was in Mason county. I am not sure whether it was John Deans or Mr. Chadwick who built the first gin on the river above where Voca now is. Mr. Chadwick put up the grist mill run by water power and John Deans bought him out and installed an upright rip saw to make "rawhide lumber" and be it to his credit also got the Voca postoffice established there near the mill, which was afterwards moved one mile further down the road by Marine Bourland. Most of the old settlers pronounced it Vokay instead of Voca. Our daughter saw John Lacy at Centralia, Wash., a few years ago and he told her that he used to live in Texas near Vokay. It was called the Lacy ranch and Lacy Spring when Mr. Joe McKnight bought it. About four miles southeast of Voca. It was also known as the "Sterling Ranch." Be it to the credit of Sam Armstrong to rig up a mill to grind sorghum and we made our own sweet "lasses" on the Capt. Dan Wills plantation in those early days.

"O. I. C. U. R. RIGHT."

P. S.—Before the establishment of the Voca postoffice we had to go to Camp San Saba for our mail. Only got it once a week. I think it came from Llano to Mason and from Mason to Camp San Saba. Scott Jones was the postmaster at "Camps" and every time I would call for our mail, he would say "Chadwick?" I asked Will Chadwick if he ever called him Roberson? and he said he always did. There was also a little grocery store at the postoffice, Voca, and one at Camps before Voca was established. John Deans kept the Voca store. "O. I. C."

KIRK PUTS THE "NUF SED" TOUCH ON STORE FIXTURES BY RECENT INSTALLATION

G. C. Kirk has put the finishing touch on his "Quality Store" by the installation the past week of a new set of clothing, cap and hat cabinets, and which match perfectly the fixtures installed a year ago to accommodate the stock of gents furnishings. The new cabinets include a revolving hat rack, enabling all hats to be displayed most effectively and inspected readily; a cap case, in which glass fronted drawers enable a view of the contents of each, and in which the caps are arranged according to sizes, and two double-deck clothing cabinets, which accommodate an immense stock of clothing, and enable inspection without even removing the goods from the racks. Above the cap rack is a mirror with special light, and in between the clothing cabinets is arranged a full-length triple mirror. A light oak finish makes for special attractiveness.

The new fixtures provide a compact, dust-proof display for the hat, cap and clothing stocks, and incidentally give a spacious center aisle the length of the store. In keeping with the greatly improved appearance of the store, Mr. Kirk is laying new floor covering, and otherwise improving the interior appearance, and when all of his contemplated innovations have been made, he avers that everyone will agree that it will be "Nuf Sed."

BURGLARS MAKE BIG HAUL WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT THE MURPHY FILLING STATION

Burglars Wednesday night prized open the back door of the Murphy Filling station and made off with four casings and eight tubes. One of the latter was recovered in the alley, where it had been dropped. Included in the haul were two 33x4 Ajax fabric tires, and two Ajax truck casings, size 32x4 1/2. The tubes stolen included two 34x4, two 32x4 1/2 and three 30x3 1/2. The fact that the burglars grabbed off larger size tubes than the fabric casings indicate haste in obtaining the plunder.

The trail of the burglars was followed down the alley to the first street west of the filling station, where it was evidently loaded onto a truck and hauled away. The total value of the loss is placed by Mr. Murphy at $163.80.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 75c per bottle.

MISS BENHAM ORGANIZES CLASS IN INTERPRETIVE DANCING AND PANTOMIME

Miss Lucille Benham returned Sunday from Dallas, where she had been for a number of weeks studying interpretive and classic dancing under Mrs. John Priestly Hart, one of the foremost artists in the South. Miss Benham has organized a class of some twenty little folks for instruction in interpretive dancing and pantomime, and is meeting with great encouragement, and success as well, in her new work. She also expects a little later to organize a class in ball room dancing for the older boys and girls. Miss Benham possesses a natural grace and litheness which makes her peculiarly adapted to her new work, and in her patient and studious efforts to impart grace of movement and poise to her little charges, she is making wonderful headway.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Claude Grisson of Fort Worth has arrived in Brady and will this year again be in charge of the dressing, grading and packing of the chickens and turkeys annually prepared by the Mayhew Produce Co. for Thanksgiving and holiday markets.

One of the week's unusual occurrences was the flock of hawks which passed over the city Wednesday in a dense cloud. Like the hobo, they were Southward bound in preparation for the coming of cold weather. Either their movement was premature or else a norther must be right upon us, say the folks who know.

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robertson upon the safe arrival of a fine, bouncing, 10-pound boy, who made his appearance at Brady sanitarium Wednesday evening. Mother and babe doing splendidly. Mrs. Robertson has been here from Houston for several months, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Vaughn, and relatives, while Mr. Robertson came from Houston a week ago to join her in her visit.

J. W. Anderson is another McCulloch county farmer who has no complaints to offer on this year's crop, since he figures that he has made an average of around $70 to $75 per acre on his cotton land. His seed cotton ran about 1100 pounds to the acre, and in addition to the lint cotton, he had about 20 bushels of seed to sell along with each bale, of seed selling readily at the gin for $1.00 per bushel. Mr. Anderson farmed for a couple years down in Travis county, but it is a safe guess that he is glad to be back in Grand Old McCulloch.

John Mayse Monday received a wire advising of the death of his brother, Thos. A. Mayse, at Santa Rosa, Calif. Tom Mayse was a Brady boy, and some fifteen or twenty years ago was engaged as a printer on the Brady Sentinel. Since leaving Brady he had been employed as advertising manager on the Abilene Times, and with the circulation department of the Fort Worth Record, and for the past several years had engaged in the newspaper business on the Pacific coast. No particulars of his death have so far been had. To his father, J. S. Mayse, and brothers, John and Jim Mayse, and other relatives is extended universal sympathy.

June Coopender, accompanied by his grandson, June McKee, returned Wednesday morning from Dallas, where they had gone to visit his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. McKee, who were seriously hurt in an auto accident on the Dallas pike three weeks ago. He reports Mr. McKee just getting able to be at work once more, while Mrs. McKee is still in quite serious condition her right arm being partially paralyzed, her neck still suffering from a terrible wrench, and there being burns from scalding water on her limbs which may require months to heal. Mr. McKee says they were knocked off the pike by a big truck which swept past them, and although he suffered bruises and abrasions all over his body, he heroically braced himself and lifted the auto clear of his wife, holding it until other passersby came to his rescue. Mrs. McKee fainted when the crash came, and as she fell, the windshield frame rested squarely across her neck. But for her husband's action, she would have undoubtedly been choked to death. Mrs. Coopender, who has been attending them since the accident, will continue her stay there for some weeks yet.

His Why.

"Why have I never married?" the old bachelor said, in reply to a leading question.

"Well, once upon a time, in a crowd I stepped on a woman's gown. She turned furiously, beginning, 'You clumsy brute!' Then she smiled sweetly and said: 'Oh, I beg pardon! I thought you were my husband! No; it really doesn't matter in the least.'

"And when I came to think it over I decided that maybe I'd just as well let marriage alone."—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Her Plan.

Mrs. A.—"How do you manage to keep your cook so long?"

Mrs. B.—"Oh that's easy enough. I discharge her every Saturday evening and she stays just for spite."—Boston Transcript.

Not to Be Trusted.

Some years ago in a Western state, then a Territory, a popular citizen became involved with an influential and overbearing character and killed him. Public sentiment leaned toward the defendant, but the law was against him, and when the day of trial came the defendant, his counsel and friends held a consultation, and, fearful of the consequences, they decided that the defendant should plead guilty and beg the court's mercy.

The jury was charged by the court and retired. Presently it returned, and the foreman said:

"We find defendant not guilty."

The Judge viewed the jury in surprise and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, how be it? This defendant pleads guilty, and you find him not guilty?"

The foreman answered:

"Well, your honor, the defendant is such a liar we can't believe him under oath."

A Good Suggestion.

Official—"No, I can't find you a job. I have so many people here after jobs that I can't even remember their names."

Applicant—"Couldn't you give me a job of keeping a record of them?"

From the Book.

Instead of the usual boys' adventure book, Tommy's mother gave him a book of etiquette, and the results were satisfactory until one day his sister, starting to leave the room, found herself violently seized and thrown backwards into the coal scuttle. "You ignorant little beast!" growled Tommy. "Don't you know that you should wait till a gentleman opens the door for you?"

More Difficult.

A new prison chaplain had just been appointed. He had big ideas as to the importance of his office. During his first round of inspection he entered one of the cells, and in a very pompous manner said to the prisoner, who occupied it, "Well, my man, do you know who I am?"

"No, and I don't care," came the nonchalant reply.

"Well, I'm your new chaplain."

"Oh, you are?" said the man. "I have heard of you before."

"What did you hear?" inquired the chaplain, forgetting his dignity in his curiosity.

Well, I heard that the last two church you were in you preached them both empty, but I don't think you'll find it such an easy matter to do the same thing here."

When you come to town, bring along that Suit, Dress or Overcoat and have them Ready for the northers that are coming. KIRK, the Tailor, does it right! Nuf Sed.

INDIAN STORIES; EARLY DAY REMINISCENCES.

(Chapter XI)
Wonder, Ore., Sept. 30.
Editor Brady Standard:

We crossed the San Saba river at the ford on the Camp San Saba and Llano road just above where Voca now is and finished our journey to the Capt. Dan Wills Plantation. There we found Mr. J. B. Rowlett and Sam Armstrong, who also rented land of the Captain and so far as I know they have the honor of planting the first cotton in McCulloch county. They only planted a small patch as an experiment just to see if it would grow out west; and it did; and by way of experiment some one in the Blue-stretch country a few years later planted a small patch and it did so well that Mr. Elebracht proposed to put up a gin if enough farmers would plant cotton to justify him in doing so, which they did and that was in Mason county. I am not sure whether it was John Deans or Mr. Chadwick who built the first gin on the river above where Voca now is. Mr. Chadwick put up the grist mill run by water power and John Deans bought him out and installed an upright rip saw to make "rawhide lumber" and be it to his credit also got the Voca postoffice established there near the mill, which was afterwards moved one mile further down the road by Marine Bourland. Most of the old settlers pronounced it Vokay instead of Voca. Our daughter saw John Lacy at Centralia, Wash., a few years ago and he told her that he used to live in Texas near Vokay. It was called the Lacy ranch and Lacy Spring when Mr. Joe McKnight bought it. About four miles southeast of Voca. It was also known as the "Sterling Ranch." Be it to the credit of Sam Armstrong to rig up a mill to grind sorghum and we made our own sweet "lasses" on the Capt. Dan Wills plantation in those early days.

"O. I. C. U. R. RIGHT."

P. S.—Before the establishment of the Voca postoffice we had to go to Camp San Saba for our mail. Only got it once a week. I think it came from Llano to Mason and from Mason to Camp San Saba. Scott Jones was the postmaster at "Camps," and every time I would call for our mail, he would say "Chadwick?" I asked Will Chadwick if he ever called him Roberson? and he said he always did. There was also a little grocery store at the postoffice, Voca, and one at Camps before Voca was established. John Deans kept the Voca store.

KIRK PUTS THE "NUF SED" TOUCH ON STORE FIXTURES BY RECENT INSTALLATION

G. C. Kirk has put the finishing touch on his "Quality Store" by the installation the past week of a new set of clothing, cap and hat cabinets, and which match perfectly the fixtures installed a year ago to accommodate the stock of gents furnishings. The new cabinets include a revolving hat rack, enabling all hats to be displayed most effectively and inspected readily; a cap case, in which glass fronted drawers enable a view of the contents of each, and in which the caps are arranged according to sizes, and two double-deck clothing cabinets, which accommodate an immense stock of clothing, and enable inspection without even removing the goods from the racks. Above the cap rack is a mirror with special light, and in between the clothing cabinets is arranged a full-length triple mirror. A light oak finish makes for special attractiveness.

The new fixtures provide a compact, dust-proof display for the hat, cap and clothing stocks, and incidentally give a spacious center aisle the length of the store. In keeping with the greatly improved appearance of the store, Mr. Kirk is laying new floor covering, and otherwise improving the interior appearance, and when all of his contemplated innovations have been made, he avers that everyone will agree that it will be "Nuf Sed."

BURGLARS MAKE BIG HAUL WEDNESDAY NIGHT AT THE MURPHY FILLING STATION

Burglars Wednesday night prized open the back door of the Murphy Filling station and made off with four casings and eight tubes. One of the latter was recovered in the alley, where it had been dropped. Included in the haul were two 33x4 Ajax fabric tires, and two Ajax truck casings, size 32x4 1/2. The tubes stolen included two 34x4, two 32x4 1/2 and three 30x3 1/2. The fact that the burglars grabbed off larger size tubes than the fabric casings indicate haste in obtaining the plunder.

The trail of the burglars was followed down the alley to the first street west of the filling station, where it was evidently loaded onto a truck and hauled away. The total value of the loss is placed by Mr. Murphy at $163.80.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILI TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

MISS BENHAM ORGANIZES CLASS IN INTERPRETIVE DANCING AND PANTOMIME

Miss Lucille Benham returned Sunday from Dallas, where she had been for a number of weeks studying interpretive and classic dancing under Mrs. John Priestly Hart, one of the foremost artists in the South. Miss Benham has organized a class of some twenty little folks for instruction in interpretive dancing and pantomime, and is meeting with great encouragement, and success as well, in her new work. She also expects a little later to organize a class in ball room dancing for the older boys and girls. Miss Benham possesses a natural grace and litheness which makes her peculiarly adapted to her new work, and in her patient and studious efforts to impart grace of movement and poise to her little charges, she is making wonderful headway.

UNION BUS CO. TO DEVELOP TERMINAL AT BRADY

By the appointment of Dick Hayes as superintendent in charge of terminal facilities and all operations of the company's bus lines out of Brady, the Union Bus Co. of San Antonio has taken the first step in an elaborate program of development of Brady as a operating base, through which they hope to develop depot and shipping facilities which will take rank with those of San Antonio. It is the plan of the company to make Brady the terminal of passenger and freight lines which shall radiate in every direction from here. Careful investigation of this territory has proven to the officials of the company that no other point is so fortunately situated in this respect as is Brady, and within the next six months they expect to have daily bus service established from Brady thru San Saba, Lometa and on to Temple. This will be followed by the establishment of a bus line operating from Brady through Coleman to Abilene, in addition to the line now operating from Brady thru Melvin, Eden, Paint Rock to San Angelo. The Brady-Rochelle-Mercury to Brownwood line, now being operated by Bud Kiser, will also be a feeder to the main line operating between Brady and San Antonio.

Mr. Hayes is given complete charge of all operations out of Brady, and in addition to establishing a depot here, will assume full authority over all employes and all operations of the company's busses and freight trucks from this point. This appointment comes as a distinct compliment to Mr. Hayes, since it follows a service of but two months with the company, and demonstrates their complete confidence in his integrity, business ability and sound judgment.

The Union Bus Co. began operations out of San Antonio about a year ago, with modest quarters. Gradually they have expanded until their freight and passenger lines cover practically all the territory in every direction out of San Antonio, and an immense depot has been acquired to handle their business at the San Antonio terminal. Their ambition is to develop business in the same manner at the Brady terminal. In addition to the daily passenger service operated between Brady and San Antonio, daily round trip service is also maintained between San Angelo and Brady. Morgan Cranford of Mason, who succeeds Mr. Hayes, and W. A. Baker of Brady, drive the speed wagons between Brady and San Antonio. Jap Embry and Sam Amberson are regular drivers of the bus line, with Roy Walker utility man and mechanic, while John Elliott drives the bus on the San Angelo-Brady end of the line. Daily fast freight between San Antonio and Brady is being maintained in addition to the passenger service.

The program of business expansion of the Union Bus Co. is certain to mean much to Brady in the development of Brady as a junction for all Central and West Texas, and the past performance of the company virtually assures that the plans will be

WHAT A WANT AD DID

A column story in the Santa Barbara (Calif.) Daily News tells how J. L. Mead, the millionaire Chicago bicycle dealer, got his first start through a want ad. The closing paragraphs of that story are as follows:

"The history of Mead's career reads like a romance. During the boom days of Wichita, Kans., he first made and then lost a fortune. He went to Chicago and got clerical employment, but his eyes gave way and he had to try to make a living for himself and family outside an office. His chief asset was an old-fashioned ordinary bicycle. He put a want ad in a daily and sold this very readily. A friend asked him to help sell another bicycle. He did this and made a small commission. That gave him an idea. He began to sell bicycles on commission, advertising both to buy and to sell bicycles. From the first he made money and soon he was making more than an ordinary clerical salary. Then he began repairing bicycles. From that he began to manufacture them and quickly made a fortune.

"Then he went back to Wichita and bought up some of the busted real estate. Last year this was taxed for more than a million dollars and he paid the taxes. He now has a winter home in Pasadena and is on his way there now to spend the winter with his wife and family. He is the founder, president and principal owner of the Mead Cycle company of Chicago."

carried out in fullest extent. The company has never asked a bonus, nor offered stock for sale to the citizens in return for routing their lines here, but merely ask the support and encouragement of the citizens in their plans. As it is, the bus line furnishes Brady its only really serviceable outlet to South Texas and the Gulf coast, and for that reason the citizenship has every reason to encourage and patronize the line in every manner possible.

FOOTBALL HERE SATURDAY—BRADY VS. BROWNWOOD

Undaunted by the defeat met with in their first game last Saturday, the Brady high school eleven plans tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon to get revenge on the visiting Brownwood high school team. The game will be played on the gridiron at Dutton City park, and it is hoped that a big crowd of Brady rooters will be out to boost for the home team.

The financing of the local team, which is being sought solely through the sale of season tickets, has been sponsored by the Brady Luncheon club, whose members have actively assisted in pushing the sale of the tickets and in encouraging hearty co-operation with the high school team upon the part of the business men and citizens. The season tickets assure a series of six games on the home grounds, and sell for $2.00. The first of the season's games will be the Brownwood-Brady game here tomorrow, and single admission will be 50c.

Game at Mason.

Last Saturday at Mason the Mason high school eleven took Brady high school team into camp to the tune of 23 to 0. Some 25 or 30 Bradyites accompanied the local team to Mason and witnessed the game. The locals have no alibi to offer, but cheerfully admit the Mason boys had it on them. Not only did the Mason team outweigh the Brady aggregation, but the team was composed almost entirely of seasoned players. They were attired in their new sweaters, which both made for appearance and injected spirit into the team. Compared with the natty appearance of the Mason team, the Brady bunch, in their sadly worn last-year's suits, appeared in contrast that was anything but flattering to Brady. However, the boys are hoping to receive their new sweaters this week, which will go a long way towards pepping them up. Mason's big gains were made on criss-cross playing, and it is needless to say, the locals are putting in some hard practice this week to enable them to cope with any future tactics by opposing teams along this line.

HAVE YOU PAID YOUR BILLS?

This is BILL-PAYING TIME.

The merchant who intrusted you with his goods, the banker who loaned you the funds of his institution, the professional man who rendered you a service, EXPECT A SETTLEMENT NOW.

If you are "in bad"—lay your plans—grit your teeth and get down to PAYING YOUR HONEST OBLIGATIONS.

Don't put it off. DEBTS GROW LIKE BAD HABITS.

SEE YOUR CREDITORS—

The merchants, bankers, and professional men of this town and county are lenient almost to a fault. They have been imposed upon time and time again—yet with unflinching FAITH in the majority of mankind they continue extending credit.

THE MAJORITY IS HONEST. DEBT DODGERS are in the minority.

Your creditors also realize that misfortune can cross an individual's path. They fully realize that some unforeseen things can arise over which the individual has no control and as a consequence make PROMPT PAYING OF OBLIGATIONS almost impossible. To such they extend a most lenient hand. If you have a real bona fide "hard luck" story—if you are placed in the embarrassing position of not being able to promptly meet your bills, YOU SHOULD SEE YOUR CREDITORS. Tell them what you can do and when. They'll meet you half way—yes, more—they'll go the limit for you—BECAUSE THEY BELIEVE YOU HONEST.

Don't ruin your credit by neglecting notices. Your credit—good today—can become bad tomorrow. Your credit—bad today—by prompt paying and a disposition to do the right thing will make it good tomorrow.

THERE IS HOPE.

SETTLE!

PACKAGE CONTAINING MATERIAL FOR MRS. GREEN CRISP LOST TUES. NIGHT

A package containing dry goods and material, totaling in value $15.00, and intended for Mrs. Green Crisp at Doole, was lost Tuesday evening somewhere on the road between Brady and the Eden lane. The package represented a gift to Mrs. Crisp, whose husband met tragic death some two weeks ago in his attempted rescue of L. J. Shugart from asphyxiation at the bottom of a well, and whose untimely end left his family in destitute circumstances. The ladies aid societies of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist churches each contributed $5.00 towards the purchase of the articles which were intended as a surprise donation to Mrs. Crisp, who is at present making her home with her mother, Mrs. Deen, at Doole. The bundle was taken in charge by Logan Deen, who was trucking out of Brady, and who left here late Tuesday evening enroute to Doole. The bundle was missed at the Eden lane, but the growing darkness prevented his turning back to look for it.

Under the circumstances, it is felt that the finder will be glad to return the bundle, in order that it may be restored to Mrs. Crisp.
