SANTA FE STOCK TRAIN IN BRADY FRIDAY MORNING

All preparations had been completed Saturday for the cow, sow and hen demonstration train, which is to be operated through the Southwest and Northwest part of the State during the next three weeks by the Santa Fe railroad, in co-operation with the Texas A. & M. college. It will make a start Sunday.

Stops will be made in eighty-one towns and officials of the railroad and A. & M. college expect to take an important message in dairy farming and home economics to many hundreds of farmers along the route of the special.

Three carloads of carefully selected dairy cattle, hogs and poultry, which have been on exhibition at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, will be placed on the train for demonstration purposes. In addition to these cars, the train will consist of a flat car for the lecturers to use in good weather, a large coach for use by the lecturers during rainy weather and a living car. As several night meetings are scheduled, the train has been equipped with a lighting plant.

A. & M. Sending Best Men.

The A. & M. college is sending its best men with the train. J. D. Tinsley, agricultural agent of the Santa Fe, will be in command of the expedition to Sweetwater, where T. B. Gallaher, general freight and passenger agent at Amarillo, will take charge for the rest of the trip.

J. F. Jarrell of Topeka, editor of Earth, the Santa Fe's agricultural and industrial paper, arrived in Fort Worth Saturday to join the party.

Among the college men in the party will be C. M. Evans, A. L. Ward and E. O. Edson.

FRISCO MERGER BILL PASSED BY SENATE THIS A.M.

A message received here this morning from Representative Jas. Finlay stated that the Frisco Merger bill without amendment had been passed at 9:15 this morning by the senate, the vote being 27 to 1.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 6.—Favorable report on the Frisco merger bill but with an amendment making specific provision that Palestine is to retain rights to shops and offices now operated there by the International-Great Northern, was adopted by the House committee in executive session tonight following joint House and Senate committee hearing on the bill. The consolidation bill was passed 115 to 1, under a suspension of the constitutional rule, within 15 minutes after the measure was called up for consideration late Friday. The Senate committee, also in executive session after the open hearing, named a subcommittee, of which Stuart is chairman, with Darwin and Pollard as other members, to confer with representatives of the city of Palestine on the exact form of amendment to be drawn up to cover request of the city for protection as to retention of shops and offices there. Sentiment of the Senate committee toward the bill is favorable, the only question unsettled being the exact status of the amendment as requested by Palestine.

JUDGE JOE MATTHEWS BUYS INSURANCE BUSINESS, LATE JUDGE SCRUGGS IN MENARD

From the Menard Messenger we note that Judge Joe Matthews, who was recently appointed county judge by the Menard county commissioners, as successor to the late Judge J. D. Scruggs, has now acquired by purchase the insurance business formerly conducted by Judge Scruggs. The business will henceforth be operated under the firm name of J. W. Matthews & Co.

Judge Matthews was for eleven years engaged in the insurance business in Brady, reforming in order to become an honest tiller of the soil. It can readily be seen, however, that Judge Matthews has refused to remain reformed, but has felt the old-time urge of "keeping busy" in his otherwise leisure moments. Every Bradyite will vouch for the fact that Judge Matthews in the insurance business is a "good 'un," and will wish him abundant and deserved success, providing he does not confine himself in Menard so closely as to neglect his social duties and hospitalities at Peg Leg ranch.

Unearthing $15,000,000 Treasure

World wide interest is focused on the valley of the kings along the Nile in Egypt—where Howard Carter, an American, discovered the tomb of King Tutankhamen for Lord Carnarvon of England. This is last of the tombs of Egyptian kings who ruled four thousand years ago. The treasure is valued at $15,000,000. Native troops are on guard night and day. Upper photo shows natives emerging from the outer tomb with a large blue cabinet containing valuable fabrics. On it were names of king and queen lettered in gold. Lower photo shows wonderful chair being carried from the tomb under guard. All treasures show little effect of time.

LOCATING BOARD TECHNOLOGICAL COLLEGE STATES REQUIREMENTS

LETTER ISSUED BY BOARD NAMES ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENTS WHICH ALL CONTESTING TOWNS SHOULD MEET—CITIZENS SHOULD FAMILIARIZE SELVES.

The following letter sent out by the locating board of Texas Technological College at Austin, under date of March 1st, gives a statement of essential requirements which towns contesting for the location will have to meet in order to prove eligible for consideration. Every citizen of Brady and McCulloch county should read the letter carefully and familiarize himself with the requirements, and then give enthusiastic aid and support to the committee which has in charge the locating of Texas Technological college at Brady.

Desiring to co-operate to the fullest extent with all cities, towns and communities proposing to file applications for the location of the Texas Technological College, we are submitting this general statement relating to the law, as well as some of the policies which must govern the Locating Board in its procedure; hoping that the same may be of some service to you in determining the various questions which will naturally arise in the preparation of your data and information. No specific forms, or blanks, will be prescribed by the Locating Board; each applicant being left free to submit such facts and data, in any style of form or blank, as it may deem pertinent and germane to a full and comprehensive presentation of the natural advantages and inducements which it may have to offer. The law itself should be carefully read and all statutory requirements should be fully covered in your submissions.

General Location.
The Act creating the College provides that it shall be located north of the 29th parallel and west of the 98th meridian. We quote the following from Section 4 of the law:

"Said Locating Board shall make careful investigation of proposed sites for the said institution. Consideration shall be given to climatic conditions, supply of water, accessibility and such other matters as appropriately enter into the selection of the desirable location of an institution of this kind. It is further provided that the said locating board shall not be influenced to any degree in the determination of its selection of a location by offers and promises of bonuses and gifts, directly or indirectly to the State of Texas, as a consideration for the location of said college at any particular place, but a primary consideration which shall outweigh all others in the minds of the members of the locating board, shall be to locate this college where it can, in the future, render the greatest service to the State and to the section of the United States for which it is especially intended; but this is not to be interpreted to mean that the board of directors shall not have authority to accept gifts of land, money for students' loans, permanent improvements or any other objects of value when tendered for the purpose of more completely carrying out the purpose of this Act; said gifts to be made after said school is located and established and if a suitable location for said college is offered by any city or community. The lands bought shall be so located that the administration building will be within convenient distance to the residence section of the town where located, or the place where the students reside."

It will be observed that the Board shall give careful consideration to

ALDERMANIC RACE LOOKING UP—TWO MORE CANDIDATES' NAMES FILED FOR OFFICE

Interest in the race for city aldermen is warming up, and it now appears that two full tickets will be in the field by the time election day rolls around. Since last week, the names of two more candidates have been filed with City Secretary E. G. Gilder, that of T. T. Smith being filed last Saturday and the name of J. A. Maxwell being filed today. So far, the candidates for the offices are W. M. Bryson, A. B. Cox, W. M. Murphy, T. T. Smith and J. A. Maxwell. Three aldermen are to be elected April 3rd.

All interest so far seems to be centered in the city election, although on the following Saturday, April 7th, four trustees are to be elected for Brady Independent School district. Once the aldermanic contest is under way, it is safe to say that the trustee election will be given due and proper consideration.

INCREASED AUTO TAX TO BE USED AID TEXAS ROADS

The increased cost of automobile licenses under the bill passed Thursday by the Legislature will not be an unmitigated burden on the auto owner, E. C. Blesi, president of the Dallas Automobile Club, declared.

"While the new law will increase the cost of auto licenses, in some cases almost tripling the present tax, the funds will be used for the building and maintenance of roads and as soon as the bill becomes effective we should see a wonderful activity in road building and repairing throughout the State.

"Although the Dallas Automobile Club fought the passage of the original bill, we were in favor of it with the Williamson amendment attached," Mr. Blesi declared.

The Williamson amendment cut the schedule of taxes, as proposed in the original bill, approximately 50 per cent.

The following table, as worked out by Mr. Blesi, shows the tax on the various model of cars that will be effective January 1, 1924, under the new law:

HONEST INJUN.

Wisdom is knowing what to do next; Skill is knowing how to do it; Virtue is doing it.

GIVE US THE SMALL TOWN WITH A HEART.

Twenty thousand persons stood in Broadway Monday and watched Harry Young plunge to his death while scaling the walls of a skyscraper. Thursday the funeral of this daredevil was held. Ten persons attended the services, most of them being relatives, and only two floral pieces were placed on the bier—and who knows but that they were provided by the bereaved widow?

The incident is not surprising. The throngs who crowded Broadway to watch "the human spider" take a chance with death, and lose, wanted to be amused. That they had no sympathy for the man who thrilled them is reflected in the fact that they forgot him the moment he tumbled to his death. They went merrily on their way after the tragedy, seeking other thrills or renewing their chase of the dollar. And it is thus in almost every so-called city—places that reach the stage where nobody is supposed to say "howdy" or notice anybody else on the sidewalk.

If the human spider had plunged to his death in any small town in the country and had been buried there, more than ten people would have attended the funeral regardless of whether they had ever heard of the victim or not. They would have sympathized with the bereaved wife and would have tried to do something to assuage her grief. And it is nice to live in such a town, where more than a spark of human kindness and sympathy is to be found.—Temple Telegram.

ON THE WRONG FOOT.

It makes a difference which foot the shoe is on, or whose ox is gored. Frequently the editor is rounded up for not publishing "all the news"; and we have been cited to cases which we overlooked, but did not overlook unintentionally.

Not so very long ago a subscriber called our attention to a certain case which would have made a good news-story for the paper who enjoys unsavory reading. We knew about it, for after more than twenty years experience, no one has a keener ear for news than an editor.

We have "overlooked" many such spicy stories during the years we have been in the newspaper game, and we intend to continue overlooking them. We realize that we have failed to appease the appetite of the reader for such news, but there is another side to the case.

We have saved many a torn and bleeding heart from unmerited misery and shame, for the sting of disgrace is felt more keenly by the innocent relatives than by the guilty party.

The subscribers who kick because the paper does not carry such news, would raise a howl if in time to come he should be involved in such cases.

and it often comes. No man or no man's family is immune. We have also yielded many times to the pleading of some unfortunate to suppress publicity which would have wrecked their alreadycrippled career, and as we look back, we have no regret for helping to keep covered some things which should never be uncovered, and when we hear a man complaining about the newspapers not carrying all the news, we just think "old man, wait until the shoe fits you."—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

CHILDREN WHO SHOULD BE IN SCHOOL.

Parents or guardians who are not complying with the compulsory education law are subject to a pretty severe penalty, and if there are any such parents or guardians in this county they had better get busy and get their children in school.

The compulsory law applies to children between the ages of eight and seventeen years below the seventh grade and who have not attended school at least 100 days during the present term. Cripples, defectives and children with feeble minds are exempt.—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

THE KNOCKER'S WAIL.

I believe nothing is right. I believe everything is wrong. I believe that I alone have the right idea.

The town is wrong, the editor is wrong, the teachers are wrong, and the preachers are wrong, and they are doing them in the wrong way anyhow. I believe I could fix them, if they would let me. If they don't let me I will get a lot of other fellows like myself and we will have a law passed to make others do things the way we want them done.

I do not believe the town ought to grow. It is too big now.

I believe in fighting every public improvement and in spoiling everybody's pleasure.

I am always to the front in opposing things and never yet have I advanced an idea or supported a movement that would make people happier or add to the pleasure of man, woman or child.

I am opposed to fun and I am happiest at funerals.

I believe in starting reforms that will take all the joy out of life. It is a sad world and I am glad of it.—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

HERE is romance that is alive with action and so real that no severe tax is placed upon the reader's credulity. Whether or not the incidents and human participants were taken from life, it is a certainty that such things have happened, and such people have figured in the history of the Southwest, particularly that portion forming the borderland of Mexico.

The hardihood and courage of settlers and rangers, the cruelty of bandits and guerrillas; the craft, mysticism and guile of Yaqui and Papago Indians are elements in a wonderfully stirring tale. Added to these are the lure of gold and a tender love story, while pervading it all is the fascination of the ever mysterious desert.

Stearns' home in Northwest Brady, and in their flight they gathered a wonderful amount of honey and sweetness—in the form of twins, a girl and a boy. Needless to say, the proud and happy parents are being showered with congratulations and good wishes, and the fortunate new arrivals are the objects of much interest and friendly solicitude.

Sunday goes down as the day of the big blow. The wind blew a gale practically all the preceding night, and continued to blow practically all day Sunday, subsiding only late in the afternoon. The recent rains probably contributed to the lack of a general dust storm, although sufficient real estate was shifted to leave traces visible indoors and out following the storm. The most noticeable thing about town was the large quantity of newspapers which had been scattered about by the wind and which were plastered against trees, fences and everything that acted as an obstruction to their free passage. Monday dawned sunny and clear, although the wind still had a feel of ice and snow.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Westbrook will regret to learn that this estimable couple have planned to leave Brady after a residence here for the past many years. Mrs. Westbrook left last Wednesday for Houston, where they have planned to make their future home, and where their daughter, Mrs. H. O. Powers, and husband reside. Mrs. Powers has been spending the past year with her parents here on account of her health, but has returned to Houston and she and her husband will make their home with the Westbrooks. Mr. Westbrook expects to remain here some three or four weeks, finishing up various jobs of carpentering, before going to Houston to join his family. He states that he retains his resident property here and burns no bridges behind him. Brady friends join in wishing them every happiness and success in their new home, and will be glad to welcome them back to Brady whenever they choose to return here.

JOY IN SACRIFICE

East Indian Ruler's Tribute to Wonderful Woman.

European Lady Who Has Withdrawn
From the World to Comfort
Victims of Leprosy.

The rancee of Sarawak, writing from Kuching, Sarawak, to a London paper, says:

I was asked the other day what I considered to be one of the greatest deeds a woman had ever done. This is my answer: Far from the town, along a straight white road fringed by a brown mud ditch and rubber trees, there lives a little pale, unassuming woman; her only companion is a bent and aged Chinaman, who keeps house for her and looks after everything that she needs. The house itself, standing a few yards from the road, is nothing but a native hut made out of rushes and palm leaves, and built on wooden piles.

Passing by, and seeing the woman sewing in her garden, you might say: "What a strange choice this is—to cut oneself off so entirely from civilization." But that would be because, hidden among the trees below her, you had not seen the leper camp.

It is true that this little European lady has cut herself off from what is called the world, from the friends that she once knew, and the relations she once had.

But what has she taken to herself in place of them?

An encampment of human souls that no one else dares go near. A herd of beings more terrible than death.

She is not even of their race. They speak to her in every language from their decayed and crumbling mouths.

Each day she goes to them—nurses those that are most sick, encourages those that have talents, to make use of them.

It is she who occupies the time they spend in waiting to die.

She helps them to tend their gardens. One is a basket-maker, another carves in wood; and all the time her eyes are confronted by the ravages of disease. Things indescribable she sees, and yet her gaze remains pure and unaffected, even joyful, as if that great mission within herself uplifts her from it all.

When I went to visit her I expected to find her morbid, perhaps infinitely sad.

Instead, she talked eagerly and frankly of all that she was doing. "I am so deeply interested in my patients," she said, "that I am busy taking impressions of their thumbs. It is remarkable how the thumbs of a leper bend backwards, and are absolutely flattened at the tips."

She went on to describe how charming some of the lepers are. A few of them are boys of only twelve and thirteen years of age. One or two of them had run away from the camp and had died a horrible death in the jungle.

As I was leaving, she said with a slight smile. "You know the most popular person among us is the coffin maker." That was the only touch of—shall I say?—bitterness in the very greatest little woman that I know.

Franklin's Love for Books.

Benjamin Franklin had an overpowering desire—a desire which gripped him to the end of his life, and to which he gave himself over without stint. That was a desire for books. He read omnivorously. If you know what that means—and if you don't, look it up in the dictionary. He stole time from his work and play, and leisure, and persuaded his fellow apprentices to fetch books for him from their master's shops.

His first literary adventure was into Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," and it was followed by every other book he could lay hold of. Of course his field was limited. In those ancient days little was published in Boston other than sermons, essays, political pamphlets and learned treatises. But Franklin didn't care whether they were interesting or not. What he was concerned with was matter for reading. He wanted to learn the language. He desired to write it and speak it more effectively than any man of his time, and he certainly attained a rank with the finest of them.

Notable Pictures.

A remarkable collection of pictures, which will be more highly prized as years go by, is the series of American aeronautical photographs which ex-Major Ernest Jones, army air service, has gathered during his 15 years in this work. They cover the development of aeronautics, particularly aviation, from 1863 to 1917. The 1,800 photographs visualize the successive steps made by the Wright brothers, Curtiss, Thomas, Wittman and other pioneers in this country. Some of these are the only pictures in existence of certain machines and events. "It is probable," says United States Air Service, "that this is the most complete collection of air photographs in America."—Exchange.

Dehydrating Foods.

Preservation of foods in the home by dehydration has been made possible, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, by the production of an ovenlike arrangement manufactured by a New York company. In operating, a number of trays containing the food to be dehydrated, are placed in the apparatus, while underneath these is pan, or humidifier, having a certain amount of water in it, and which has been previously heated to the proper temperature.

We wish to express our appreciation of your faith in our firm, and your loyal patronage since we took the laundry over last September. Despite this handicap, we continued to give the very best service possible, making improvements steadily and adding new machinery, until now we are pleased to announce that we are in position to give climatic conditions, water supply and accessibility.

Climatic Conditions.

Climatic conditions will, of course, include full information relating to the prevailing climate, such as annual rainfall, expressed in averages for each month during the past three or five years, if records are available; thermometer readings—extremes and averages—snowfall; length of growing season; duration of winter period; sunshine; cloudy periods and such other information as may be peculiar to the climate in your locality.

Water Supply.

At least four important considerations must enter into a satisfactory water supply, namely: quality; quantity; permanency; and cost of making it available. Whether the source is a running stream a surface lake, a deep or shallow well, are considerations which must, in the last analysis enter very largely into the final determination of this question.

Accessibility.

The determination of this question would necessarily take into consideration all transportation facilities available to the applicant city, town or community and should, with some degree of propriety take into account the geographical location with respect to the sections of the State proposed to be served by the college; density of population immediately surrounding and its ratio to the entire area within the statutory limits of the district.

The phrase in the law "And such other matters as appropriately enter into the desirable location of an institution of this kind" might cover a wide range and we believe that any advantages which your community offers towards the proper development of the student, either physically, intellectually, socially or morally, and which would contribute in any way towards carrying out the purposes for which the college is founded should be included in your brief.

The law specifically provides that this Board shall not be influenced directly, or indirectly, by offers and promises of gifts and it will, of course, be our purpose to adhere strictly to this provision. The law also directs that the primary consideration which shall outweigh all others in the minds of the members of the Locating Board shall be to locate the College where it can, in the future, render the greatest service to the State and the section of the U. S. for which it is specifically maintained. The Locating Board will undertake, as directed, to make this the paramount consideration. It will, therefore, be eminently proper to submit any data or information tending to establish this fact with reference to your offering.

You will note that the law provides that the lands bought shall be located so that the administration building may be erected within convenient distance to the residence section of the town or place where the college is located. This Board would not be justified in construing the word "convenient" in mathematical units, as local conditions would undoubtedly make the distance it might represent a relative term, depending upon the established means of transportation and other related conditions. It is plainly evident, however that it was the intention of the Legislature to have this College located near enough to a city or town to permit the students in daily attendance to reside in the residence section without inconvenience.

For your information and convenience we quote Section 5 of the law which is practically self-explanatory:

Sec. 5. "The said locating board shall have authority to select approximately two thousand (2000) acres of land for the site of said college and agree with the owner or owners thereof upon the price to be paid therefor, which said agreement shall be reduced to writing and by the said locating board, signed and delivered to the board of directors herein provided for, who shall thereupon have full authority to contract for the purchase of said land for said purpose, and, upon the approval of the title thereto by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, to pay for said land and any improvements thereon in any sum not to exceed one hundred and fifty thousand ($150,000.00) dollars."

It will be observed that the site offered must contain approximately 2,000 acres of land and must not exceed in price the sum of $150,000.00. Applicants must be prepared to enter into a written contract of sale with this Board, and in position to deliver a fee simple title about the legality of which there must be no question. The quality of the land offered, its location with respect to railroad facilities, whether within or outside the corporate limits of the town or city, are questions upon which the Board does not care to lay down arbitrary regulations. While good high-grade tillable land and convenient railroad accommodation are always desirable, ideals cannot be, with proper consistency, demanded, but of course the nearest approach thereto is bound to be preferable.

SELVIDGE STEAM LAUNDRY IMPROVEMENTS ENABLE THE HIGHEST CLASS OF SERVICE

Patrons of the Selvidge Steam laundry have recently had occasion to note the high class of work now being turned out by the local plant, and much commendation for J. C. Selvidge, Jr., the enterprising and hustling proprietor, has been heard. As a matter of fact, Mr. Selvidge is due unstinted praise for the reconstruction of the plant into one of the best in this section of Texas, and for the good results obtained Mr. Selvidge is free to give credit to patrons who have stood steadfastly by him through all his difficulties.

When Mr. Selvidge came here from Corpus Christi on September 9th, he found the plant in bad shape; he was forced to use well water of inconceivable hardness, and which tested 92 grains hardness to the gallon, and which deposited lime in his boilers so fast that they had to be cleaned almost after every firing in order to keep them operating. Every conceivable difficulty of operation confronted him.

Undaunted, and with 15-years' experience in the laundry business to back his judgment, Mr. Selvidge set in on the double task of continuing operation and service and at the same time to improve the plant. Today he is happy to announce that he has reconstructed the plant through-out. He has secured city water—the best water in West Texas—which, with the use of highest grade soap and washing compounds, enables laundry of snowy whiteness, without injury to the most delicate fabrics. He has installed the most modern machinery for shirt and collar work, and with the use of a newly-discovered starch turns out work that ranks A1. And Mr. Selvidge says that with continued patronage, he is going to give Brady the best laundry plant in West Texas.

In this issue he announces special prices on rough dry and flat laundry work, and calls attention to the superior quality of his work. The Selvidge Steam laundry is a Brady institution, and Mr. Selvidge is proving himself deserving of the hearty co-operation and support of the citizenship.

Cow, Sow and Hen Train

Farmers and others interested in dairying, hog raising and poultry raising are cordially invited to attend a demonstration at the Santa Fe Passenger Station to be given by the Texas State Agricultural College in co-operation with the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company.

BRADY, FRIDAY, March 16, AT 11:50 A. M.

The College has a message for the farmers of this locality, and is sending its leading representatives to deliver it. The College also is furnishing three cars of dairy cattle, hogs and poultry for demonstration and exhibition purposes.

The Speakers

From the Agricultural College:
C. M. Evans, Dairy Husbandman.
A. L. Ward, Swine Husbandman.
E. O. Edson, Poultry Husbandman.
T. O. Walton, Director, Extension Service.

From the Santa Fe:
J. D. Tinsley, Agricultural Agent, in Charge of Train.
J. F. Jarrell, Editor of The Earth.
J. G. Fitzhugh, Assistant Editor of The Earth.
The train will be here on time and the meeting will start promptly, lasting an hour and a half. A lecture car will be provided, so that there will be no discomfort, even in inclement weather.

Women Specially Invited

A special invitation is extended to farm women to attend the demonstration, as the speakers will have something in particular to say to them.

Members of Boys and Girls Clubs also are invited, as a program has been prepared which will be of interest and value to them. John Eagan, A. L. Smith and T. B. Wood, district agents of the college extension service, will be in charge.

A survey of Texas industrial conditions shows that during the depression of the last year or two, the milk cow, the brood sow, and the hen saved many a family from financial disaster, and the speakers who will be here at the time indicated above will tell a detailed story about it.
