THE HEART OF TEXAS BRADY WANTS TEXAS "TECH"

VISIT OF "TECH" LOCATING BOARD TO BRADY MADE MEMORABLE EVENT

CITIZENS JOIN IN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME OF DISTINGUISHED VISITORS—BOARD EXPRESSES APPRECIATION OF BUSINESS-LIKE PROGRAM.

Perhaps never was there a more enthusiastic gathering in Brady of the entire citizenship of this section than upon the occasion of the visit here Tuesday morning of the Technological College Locating Board. The visit here proved a most enjoyable one, not only for the citizenship, but, we believe we can safely say, for the visiting Board as well, whose members evinced some little surprise and much appreciation of the enthusiastic reception tendered them, and the business-like manner in which the entire morning's program was carried out. So closely was the schedule followed, that the visitors were privileged to enjoy a 30-minute rest period before going to the Tourist park for the mid-day lunch.

Brady was the first point visited by the full personnel of the "Tech" board. The members included Senator S. B. Cowell, Chairman of the State Board of Control and Chairman of the Locating Committee, Dr. William S. Sutton, Acting President University of Texas, Dr. F. M. Bralley, President College of Industrial Arts, Dr. W. B. Bizzell, President Agricultural and Mechanical College S. M. N. Marrs State Superintendent of Public Instruction W. R. Nabours, Secretary of Locating Board. The party traveled in special combination sleeper and diner coaches, provided by the Santa Fe, and meals were furnished enroute through courtesy of W. S. Keenan, general passenger agent, and J. G. Fitzhugh, safety superintendent, of the Santa Fe, both of whom accompanied the Board on their tour. Needless to say, this courtesy on the part of the Santa Fe officials was thoroughly appreciated. R. B. Cochran of Fort Worth, assistant vice-president and general manager of the Frisco, joined the party at Brownwood for the trip over the Frisco lines.

Daily press correspondents accompanying the party, and for whom the Santa Fe had also provided sleeper and diner service, included Silliman Evans, staff correspondent of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Ted Dealy, staff correspondent for the Dallas News, Frank Martin, special representative of the San Antonio Express and the Associated Press, and Bob Barker, special representative of the Amarillo Daily News.

The various events of the visit here have been so thoroughly covered by the reports of these various correspondents, and which are reproduced on Page Six of this issue, that we will not attempt a duplication of the events enumerated. Instead, we will briefly state some of the high lights of the visit here. At Mercury we boarded the train together with T. J. Beasley, and were most cordially greeted by the "Tech" board and the correspondents. The members of the Board were pleased with the copy of The Standard presented them; so much so, in fact, that each requested an extra copy to file away for future reference. All had something of complimentary nature to say of the edition.

At Rochelle, the Brady "Tech" committee joined the party. The delegation was headed by Dr. J. B. Granville, chairman, and included Mayor E. L. Jones, County Agent George E. Ehlinger, Judge F. M. Newman, W. D. Crothers, W. N. Ellis and F. W. Lazaller, who also were cordially received, and who went over the preliminaries with the Board.

Arriving at Brady, the blast from the electric siren, the honking of the auto horns and the presence of the great numbers of cars and throngs of people about the square, and the concert by the Brady Municipal band, had visible effect upon the Locating Board. Secretary Nabours had previously stated, in response to an expression that they had before them a long and arduous trip, that they were not going to make hard work out of the trip, but were going to pep into each meeting with the same vim and enthusiasm as that displayed by the local committees. Quite naturally, the enthusiasm displayed by Brady folks was certain to have an exhilarating effect upon the members of the Board.

Mr. Evans, who had not been in Brady for three years, was astonished beyond measure at the growth and improvement of the town, and was scarcely able to recognize it as the same place.

Believing in business before pleasure, and incidentally in pleasure combined with business, the delegations circled the square, then drove to the municipal water plant, where the Board saw the famous Brady well spouting pure artesian water 100 feet in the air, viewed the placid waters of the beautiful swimming hole, and inspected the complete and modern municipal power plant. Here they received their first taste of Brady's sparkling artesian water, served ice cold by a bevy of Brady's attractive young lasses. Accompanying the water was served the most delicious of angel food cake, for which Mrs. Howard Broad and Mrs. S. H. Jones deserve credit. The party was driven through the Tourist park, about the residential districts, the industrial section and incidentally about the various "Tech" sites, all overlooking the town of Brady, and from each of which the Brady well in action was plainly to be seen.

Upon the return to town, a conference was held in the law offices of Newman & McCollum, at which the board were briefly addressed and Brady's claims as the logical "Tech" location were concisely stated by Chairman Granville, supplemented by an address by Judge Newman. In response, Senator Cowell acknowledged the courtesies extended the board upon their visit to Brady, expressed gratification at the business-like manner in which Brady's claims had been presented, and advised that where a town offered more than one site, they were making no decision as to the site, but would call in the Board of Regents when time came to make such a decision. In other words, they were viewing each contesting town from four principal standpoints, viz: water, climate, soil and accessibility. Senator Cowell led in the asking of numerous questions about Brady, and the Board spent some time in examining the display of building material and mineral resources. The Newman & McCollum offices were attractively decorated with crepe streamers and pot plants by the ladies, and furnished a cool and attractive setting for the conference.

The final act was the serving at the Tourist park, of an elaborate

LITTLE BROWN JUGS O' WATER GIVEN BOARD

The Standard is not informed with whom the idea originated, but one of the cleverest and most unforgettable incidents of the visit of the "Tech" board to Brady was staged Tuesday night as the members of the Board were passing through Brady over the Frisco enroute to Brownwood. As the train rolled into the depot, a great concourse of citizens was there to greet it, and with the Brady band playing "How Dry I Am," six young ladies climbed aboard and presented each member of the Board with a thermos jug full of ice cold Brady artesian water. On each of the jugs was the name of the recipient and the words "Brady, Texas" electrically stenciled, and also a red ribbon bearing the name of the recipient, and the amended quotation from Coleridge's "Ancient Mariner," viz: "Water, Water Everywhere, Nor Any Drop to Drink"—LIKE BRADY WATER. Everyone of the Board members was present to receive the unexpected remembrance except Dr. Bralley, who had retired for the night. So splendid an impression did this little courtesy make upon the Board that the members assembled on the observation platform and gave fifteen cheers for Brady.

dinner of chicken, chevon and all other eatables by the ladies of the Baptist church, with compliments of the Brady Chamber of Commerce. Here the Board was met by the Menard delegates, with whom they left at 1:25 enroute to that place.

Dr. A. Hillman Rectal specialist of Brownwood will be at Queen Hotel, Brady, Tuesday, July 24, from 10 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. Don't fail to see him.

Step-Mother Dies.

H. Meers has the sympathy of all in the death of his step-mother, Mrs. D. C. Milam, who passed away at her home at Cedar Creek, Texas, on Saturday, the 14th. Thursday Mr. Meers received a wire from his brother, Ben, announcing that Mrs. Milam was very low, and he left at once to be at her bedside. Funeral services were held Sunday, and interment was made in High Grove cemetery. Mrs. Milam was known to many McCulloch county citizens, former residents of Bastrop county, and her passing will bring deep regret to all these old-time friends. Mrs. Milam was aged 62 years and six months. She was a true and faithful member of the Church of Christ, and her life was that of an exemplary Christian. Two children by a former marriage survive, viz: Ben Meers of Cedar Creek and Mrs. A. L. Pearson of Lytton Springs, Texas, both of whom were present at her bedside and at the funeral.

Market Changes Hands.

W. M. Behrens has sold the Behrens market to Tom L. Jordan, who takes charge Monday, and who will continue the business in the same stand on the North side. Mr. Behrens has conducted the business for the past two years, with splendid success, and Mr. Jordan, who is known by old and young over the entire McCulloch county territory, may be counted on to continue to make the business popular with patrons. Mr. Behrens has not yet decided upon his future, but will take up some other line of endeavor.

Feed Is Made, but Cotton Needs Rain—Hoppers Still Active.
 Lohn, Texas, July 16, 1923.
 Editor Brady Standard:
 We are needing rain now as the last rain fell so fast and hard, also lots of hail. It just packed the ground and did not do much good. While what little feed left in this part of the world is made, yet the little bit of cotton needs rain.
 I am sorry to say that the report in our paper of the farmers just about having the grasshoppers killed out. If our dear editor could see the fields laid waste by these pests I am sure he would think very different; as fast as the cotton stubs try to leaf out from the hail, they get it.

Hoppers Still Doing Damage—Twenty-Two Conversions at Meeting
 Fife, Texas, July 16, 1923
 Editor Brady Standard:
 Since the last writing the cotton has done its do. A great many are going to plant feed. Some of the cotton will make a little.
 The meeting has been a success. Up until Sunday they had twenty-two conversions, all of which were baptised at the Mitchell crossing about 4 o'clock the 15th. It is said each one received the Holy Ghost and spoke in tongues during the baptism or immediately after.
 Business at Fife is still running about normal for this month, as there were only about one-third of our community damaged by the hail, about $30,000.00 damage.
 Mr. Watkins, our Commissioner has started working our mail route for us. It will certainly be appreciated by the people here, as the work is needed very badly. The roads were in an awful condition. We hope the road hands will keep the trees grubbed out of his way and assist all they can. Mr. Watkins has made us a good commissioner so far and we believe he will continue the same.
 Business is looking good for the Fife Gin Co. now.

The Generous Sardine.
 From the Boston Transcript: Here is a circus story that set the Parisians into cachinnatory spasms.
 One summer afternoon a frog, a duck, a lamb and a skunk set out together for the circus. In due course they reached the village green where the circus tent gleamed white in the sun. The frog reached the doorkeeper first. As he had a greenback, of course he was passed right in. The duck had a bill, so he followed the frog. The lamb had four quarters, so he trailed in after the duck. But entrance was sternly refused the unlucky skunk, for he had only a scent with him, and that was bad.
 The skunk, cursing and growling in a low tone, turned away. Down the road a bit he met a sardine.
 "Hello what's the matter?" asked the sardine, noticing his disgruntled look. The skunk told him.
 "Well, old fellow, I just know how you must feel about it," said the sardine sympathetically, "for I belong, you know, to the smelt family myself."
 Then he laughed and slapped the disappointed skunk heartily on the back.
 "But you are all right now," he cried. "Come back and go in with me. I've got a box."

BE RID OF THAT ACHE.

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend? Ask your neighbor!
 Mrs. J. U. Silvers, Brady, says: "Since I had the flu it left my back in a weak state. I could hardly get around as the pains in the small of my back were so severe. I was so nervous the least noise irritated me. I had had spells of dizziness and everything turned black before me. Nights I couldn't get any rest and I was annoyed by the irregular action of my kidneys. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills so I bought some and I can't praise them highly enough for what they did for me. I was relieved of the backache and my kidneys were regulated."

Observation or Instinct?
 "Do you teach the children observation?" inquired the visiting president of the school board.
 "Oh, yes, sir," responded the pretty teacher.
 "Very well, then. I will test the class. Now, children, close your eyes tightly and listen." Then the gentleman made a peculiar clacking sound with his tongue, followed by a sharp clap produced by bringing his palms together. "Now, children, what did I do?" he asked.
 For some time there was no answer, but finally one little youngster piped out: "You kissed the teacher?"

"With a bucket and stick I've got the Boll weevil Licked."

That's all the equipment or machinery you need to apply Hill's Mixture. Just walk along the cotton row, touching the bud of each plant as you pass by; inside of a few hours, the weevils on the plant will eat the mixture, and drop off—DEAD!

A Most Effective Poison

I've got a poison that I am convinced the boll weevil SEEKS—not one that has to seek the weevil. Then, too, Hill's Mixture can be put on IN THE DAYTIME. No night-work. An inexperienced boy or girl can thoroughly cover 5 to 6 acres a day.

Best Protection—Minimum Cost!

My mixture is the result of thousands of dollars of investment, and years of hard labor and practical field and laboratory experiments on my Burke County farm. Hill's Mixture is a liquid poison, composed of calcium arsenate, molasses, water and secret ingredients which form a combination that we are convinced, from results obtained, attracts the boll weevil.

Scores of farmers who used it last year have written me unqualified letters of endorsement, and have already placed their orders for 1923. I will be glad to send you a book reproducing these letters, or my agent whose name appears below, will be glad to show them to you.

Approved by Georgia State Board of Entomology

Hill's Mixture is manufactured in the South's largest boll weevil poison plant. The calcium arsenate, molasses and other ingredients are accurately measured in the exact proportions, and thoroughly mixed by machines which distribute the poison evenly in the molasses. Every mix is chemically analyzed before shipping.
 Hill's Mixture is approved by the Georgia State Board of Entomology as a boll weevil poison.

STUDEBAKER'S SALES FOR FIRST HALF OF THE YEAR TOTAL 81,880 CARS

Word has just been received by Simpson & Company, St. Louis, Studebaker dealer, of the new record established by The Studebaker Corporation of America for the first six months of 1923, when a total of 81,880 Studebaker cars—all sizes—were sold.

All Studebaker plants continue at capacity operations and the present output of 15,000 cars per month is insufficient to meet the persistent demand for more Studebakers from every section of the country, which is as great—or greater—than at any time this year.

It is well known that right from the first of the year Studebaker has experienced a demand that has continuously been far in excess of production, although the plant capacity was substantially increased during the spring when a number of new factory units at South Bend and Detroit, on which construction was started late last year, were completed and equipped for production.

While Studebaker sales for the past six years have increased progressively each year, the newest record can be better appreciated by comparisons. The sale of 81,880 cars in the first six months of 1923 shows an increase of 36 per cent over the best previous six months' business in Studebaker history—that of 1922—when a total of 60,053 cars were sold.

Compared with sales for the entire year of 1918, the half-year record of 1923 shows an increase of 243 per cent. It is 108 per cent greater than sales for the full twelve months of 1919. It exceeds the sales of the full year 1920 by 59 per cent and is 23 per cent greater than the sales for the complete year of 1921.

HOW TECH BOARD IS PERFORMING DUTY—PROPER SALUTATIONS

Brady, Texas, July 17.—Lack of any bias or prejudice or preconceived notions about the location of the Texas Technological College on the part of any of the members of the legislative commission for its location, is apparent to those who are traveling with the commission on its marathon of real estate inspection and listening to town boosting.

Not only in the manner in which the commissioners look over the sites and take in the towns they have visited thus far, but in the smoking room and observation car conversations that have already developed is one impressed with the open-mindedness of the commission.

Undoubtedly there has been propaganda work carried on with the commissioners in favor of this, that, or the other applicant, but if any of it has found permanent lodgment in the minds of any of the commissioners it is not discernible in informal talk and confidential conversations. Commissioners are asking pointed questions of local committeemen and others in a position to know the region they are traversing and expect to traverse.

The commission is traveling with as much comfort as possible. W. S. Keenan, general passenger agent, and John Fitzhugh, safety superintendent of the Santa Fe lines, are in charge of the two business cars in which the commissioners and newspaper correspondents are traveling. Meals while en route are being served as a courtesy by Keenan and Fitzhugh. Dinner last night and breakfast this morning were taken on the train.

Last night some of the commissioners were guests of their friends in Brownwood, and the night was passed there.

The Brownwood Bulletin featured the stopover of the commission in its afternoon edition and a reception committee headed by Capt. Wright Armstrong of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, greeted the visitors. R. B. Cochran, assistant to the general manager of the Frisco, joined the party this morning for the trip over the Frisco lines.

Entertainment Barred.
Local committees all over the territory are anxious to know how best to entertain the commission. Of course all elaborate entertainment has been barred.

Secretary W. R. Nabours is the man who can speak for the commission in matters of this sort. All programs of entertainment ought immediately upon arrival of the commission to be briefly presented to him. Everything ought to be done for the comfort of the five men, as they are up against a strenuous schedule—more strenuous than the average schedule of a political candidate. They want sleep.

Senator S. B. Cowell, chairman of the commission, is in ill health but is gamely going through with the trip. His eyesight has been impaired; he sees with difficulty, and he frequently knocks off when a site is to be inspected, but he is active in asking questions.

Secretary Nabours is also secretary of the board of control of which Senator Cowell is chairman. He is his close personal friend and the Senator is relying very much upon him.

Proper Salutations Given.
Senator Cowell is usually addressed "senator" while "doctor" is the salutation most generally accorded the other members of the board. Ex-students of the University of Texas call Commissioner Sutton "dean," for he is known as dean in university circles. State Superintendent Marrs is frequently hailed as "professor." Former Agricultural and Mechanical College and College of Industrial Arts students recur to the familiar "prexy" for Bizzell and Bralley, but the general run of folks take the long shot and call them all doctor.

Sutton is the story teller of the crowd. He likes to tell them, and to listen to them. He is the most diminutive of the group. He is little better than five feet high.

At breakfast this morning one of the correspondents was kidding the dean that he had already made up his mind.

Sutton Tells Story.
"That reminds me," he said, "of a story that certainly expresses the feeling of the whole crowd. Two negroes, both pillars in their respective churches, were arguing over

BRALLEY SAYS "TECH" COLLEGE TO MEET REAL EDUCATIONAL AND ECONOMIC NEED

Denton, Texas, July 17.—Just before Dr. F. M. Bralley, president of the College of Industrial Arts, left Denton as a member of the locating board of the Texas Technological College to go with the other members of the board on the trip of inspection to thirty-seven towns of the State which are applicants for the college, he made the following statement concerning West Texas and education for the State:

"The territory of Texas north of parallel 29 and west of meridian 98 comprises 117 counties and parts of eighteen other counties, and in area is approximately 150,000 square miles, or about 57 per cent of the total area of Texas.

"West Texas as defined in the law providing for the establishment of the Texas Technological College is two and one-fourth times the combined area of the six New England States, and one and one-half times as large as New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware combined, and about the same size as the total area of the three States of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana.

"The population of West Texas, according to the 1920 census, is 1,325,000 people. That section of our State produces one-third of the cotton crop of Texas, or considerably more than 1,000,000 bales; two-thirds of the wheat crop of Texas, or more than 24,375,000 bushels; nine-tenths of the wool crop, or more than 10,500,000 pounds; nine-tenths of the mohari crop, or about 4,500,000 pounds, and is the great cattle-producing territory of the country, with more than 3,250,000 head of cattle. It has a varied soil, a wonderful climate and the most progressive, enterprising people of the Southwest.

"In view of the facts stated above it is my deliberate conviction that the Thirty-Eighth legislature acted in response to a real educational and economic need when it provided for the Texas Technological College.

"Texas is big enough and rich enough to provide for the best educational system of the world. The common public schools would starve to death intellectually were it not for the idealism and the leadership furnished by the institutions of higher education. A complete, adequate system of education for Texas will provide elementary schools, high schools and collegiate institutions for all the youth of Texas who have the capacity and the ambition to profit by such training. Every child should have the opportunity of going to the top of the educational ladder—of taking the best training of which he is capable and for which he is willing to work.

"Service is the biggest word in the process of education and for that reason every dollar the State puts into education should be regarded as an investment that will yield big returns in service to the community and to the State and in making better citizens."

the respective good qualities of their pastors. 'Our pasture is the finest submanizah in town,' one said. 'He writes his summons out and he's got what the Lawd done tell him to say writ right out in front uv him and he shore reads it to us just like it wuz sacred writ.'

"'Huh, that ain't nothing at all,' countered the other. 'Our pasture ain't got no habits like that. He just gets up there on the rostopator and spoutulates distemporaneously, he does. I'd be afraid when your pasture writ out a summons that the devil he sees it and fixes up the congregation's mind agin the voice o' the Lawd, but when our pasture starts to preach, we doan know, he doan know, and the devil himself doan know what he's gwine to say.'

"That is our position exactly," Sutton said.

OPPORTUNITY TO HEAR NATIONALLY KNOWN AUTHORITY ON MERCHANDISING PROBLEMS

San Antonio, Texas—"Know Your Own Business," will be the keynote of the numerous talks and round-table discussions over which Fred P. Mann, President of the North Dakota Retail Dealers' Association will preside, during the Trade Season meetings in San Antonio, according to an announcement today by Mr. Wm. M. Ochse, Chairman of the Trade Extension Bureau of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce.

"Mr. Mann has met and successfully solved every problem that faces the small town merchandiser today, for he is still the small town merchant with a big city turn-over," said Mr. Ochse.

"How to Successfully Conduct a Wholesale and Retail Business," "Co-operation of Manufacturers, Wholesalers and Retailers," "The Advantages of a Chamber of Commerce in Your City," "The Advantage of a Good Accounting System and Modern Store Equipment," are subjects of some of the addresses that will be delivered by Mr. Mann during the San Antonio Business Building convention.

Mr. Mann's standing as an authority on merchandising can be visualized by the fact that "The Country Gentleman," "The Ladies Home Journal," and "The Saturday Evening Post," have each devoted a full page to his remarkable success and the methods which he has employed to build his business.

"Present reports from salesmen covering San Antonio's trade territory indicates that Trade Season will be well attended, as merchants are taking advantage of the reduction in railroad fares, the opportunity to hear Fred P. Mann, and to enjoy the elaborate program of entertainment planned by the Chamber of Commerce," according to Mr. Claude V. Birkhead, President of the San Antonio Chamber.

BRADY, TEXAS, July 20, 1923

HONEST INJUN.

The morning after brought no headache—IT'S THE BRADY WATER.

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

The Standard wishes it were possible to give full credit to each and everyone who contributed towards the great success that Brady's reception of the "Tech" Locating Board proved to be. However, of course, that is impossible—for it seemed as though every Brady citizen was heart and soul in the work, and everyone was doing his full part, whether great or small, in the making of the success of the occasion.

It would hardly be fair, though, not to mention in particular the work of Dr. J. B. Granville, chairman of the local "Tech" committee, whose wonderful, yes, masterful, leadership resulted in the program being carried out without the slightest hitch or interruption, and whose program brought about favorable comment upon the part of the visiting board because of the business-like manner in which every detail was carried out. Dr. Granville was ably assisted by all the various committeemen, in whose selection he showed rare tact and judgment, and whose splendid service reflected greatly to the credit of the chairman.

In the words of one Brady citizen, usually one can look back and see where a matter could have been improved upon, but the big "Tech" gathering in Brady Tuesday morning was one occasion that was carried out in perfect detail.

As before stated, we wish we could mention in particular the work of each one who contributed in any way to the achievements of the day, but "Duty, well performed, is its own reward."

THE STANDARD'S "TECH" SPECIAL

The Standard editor would, indeed, be ungrateful did he not acknowledge with deep appreciation the many kind words, compliments and commendation upon the "Tech" Special issued in honor of the visit here of the "Tech" Locating Board. The cordial reception given this work has more than repaid for the strenuous efforts required to put the edition over. Even the members of the Locating Board and the correspondents for the daily newspapers complimented the edition in most kindly fashion, Secretary Nabours declaring the reproductions of photographs of the Board members being the best they had yet seen, and in which statement other members of the Board concurred.

However, the editor cannot claim and inspiring co-workers. To Sam credit alone, for he had both able Hughes goes much credit for the edition. He it was who first suggested such a stunt in compliment to our visitors, and during the progress of the work he was constantly at our command. To Mr. Hughes goes credit for writing the salutations, practically all of the ad copy, and his service even included assisting in ad solicitation. Wm. D. Carrigill also was constantly at our beck and call, and no matter to whom we appealed, the service was at our command. And in passing, we wish to state that The Standard's force, Ed S. Clark as ad and pressman, and V. B. Breazeale as linotype operator, too, deserve full credit for the patient and painstaking service through long hours, and for the splendid typographical appearance of the paper.

As may readily be seen, no one man deserves credit for any such undertaking—rather it is the enthusiastic, co-operative effort of numbers which attains desired results.

EASILY EXPLAINED

In the story of the West Texas folk who were poisoned by eating fish that had eaten grasshoppers that had eaten poisoned cabbage leaves spread by farmers to combat the hopper pest, there is but one question that worries us: How come so many cabbage leaves in West Texas?—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Unquestionably they grew on the head of the guy who invented that yarn.

NOBODY'S THE LOSER

As the Texas Technological College locating board starts out on its tour of inspection of the various sites offered, there is one point upon which everybody concerned can agree. That is that West Texas' good is the good of every individual community in West Texas. West Texans are "good sports," too broad of vision to permit a personal loss to damage the common cause.

The big thing is that the college will be in West Texas, at a point accessible to all the territory. There is keen rivalry now, but it is chiefly a rivalry of desire for service, the rivalry of friends, each seeking to have the institution located close to his own fostering influences. But when the board's decision brings this rivalry to an end, it will be a case of all for the college, and the college for all.

And the efforts that each of these towns spent in the endeavor to win the favor of the locating board is far from lost. Each took stock of its resources, collected the figures in illuminating briefs, and thus presented itself to the world. As a venture in community advertising it has high merits. Besides, there is always a cultural value to one's own soul in counting one's blessings.—Star-Telegram.

FIRE WIPES OUT OLD TIME BUSINESS LAND MARKS

Fire discovered at about 1:00 a.m. Wednesday morning, practically completely destroyed the three wooden business houses on the east side of the square, almost the sole surviving reminders of pioneer days, in the business section of Brady. The fire was first discovered by a negro, whose shouting attracted the attention of Nightwatchman L. W. Darley. Apparently the fire started in the rear of the Brady cafe, operated by G. A. Draper, or in the corner of the Shropshire Drug store adjoining, and was getting under good headway when Darley first arrived on the scene, the inflammable nature of the buildings and their contents causing the flames to spread with great rapidity.

Three lines of hose were played on the raging furnace by the fire boys, their effective work not only saving the adjoining buildings almost unscathed, but stopping the flames before they could consume the fronts of the drug store and the confectionery buildings, which remain standing.

The loss includes: W. S. Shropshire, building and contents; Loss $6,000, no insurance. Brady Cafe, G. A. Draper, proprietor; loss $2,500, $1,500 insurance. E. B. Newman Confectionery; loss $6,500, $4,000 insurance.

The buildings occupied by the latter two concerns were owned by Dr. R. L. Craddock of Fort Worth, and their destruction represents a loss of approximately $2,500, with some insurance.

The Gibbons building, adjoining the burned area on the south, and the new R. Wilensky building, adjoining on the north, both suffered slight damage. The fire burned out the window frames and casings on the second floor in the Gibbons building, and caught afire some of the goods stored there by the Trigg Drug Co. Prompt action by Mr. Trigg and others with hand extinguishers, and the further facts that the sheet iron roofs confined the flames to an appreciable extent, and also the absence of wind, served to prevent a more disastrous conflagration.

The O. D. Mann & Sons building across the alley stood the intense heat splendidly, the steel window and door frames, and the fire-resisting wire glass, keeping the flames effectively out of the building, although the glass was cracked and broken by the intense heat.

Of the destroyed buildings, the confectionery boasted of a front door which originally formed the portal to McCulloch county's first court house, and whose massive lock was an object of great curiosity.

The loss falls particularly heavy on Mr. Shropshire, inasmuch as it wipes out the accumulation of a life-time of hard work. Mr. Shropshire states he is unable either to re-enter business or to rebuild. Neither of the other two firms have made definite plans, but are awaiting upon the settlement of their insurance claims before deciding upon their future activities.

Celebrate Birthdays Jointly.

One of the season's most enjoyable events for the little folks was the birthday party given on Friday, July 6th, from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock, jointly by little Misses Merle Sellers and Dorothy Myrick. Little Miss Sellers celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary, while little Miss Myrick observed the passing of her fifth milestone in life. The party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Sellers. Patriotic decorations were used on the lawn and porch. Two birthday cakes, each with candles corresponding to the birthdays of the hostess it represented, formed the center attraction of the table, which was decorated in pink and white, and with daisies lending grace and beauty to the scene.

A lemonade stand on the lawn proved popular with the little folks, while readings, music and children's games helped to pass the hours swiftly. At the conclusion of the afternoon, cream cones and cakes were served the twenty little guests, who, with the two charming little hostesses, formed the party.

Many gifts were left by the departing little folks, together with congratulations and good wishes for little Misses Sellers and Myrick.

TOEPPERWEIN SHOOT WONDERFUL EXHIBIT

The shooting exhibition staged in Brady last Monday by Ad Toepperwein, famous crack shot, and representative of the Winchester Arms Co., was not only one of the most interesting events held here, but one of the most marvelous as well. Mr. Toepperwein, who had been traveling all over the North and East, was made to feel that he was once more back among home folks, by the numerous friendly greetings of old-time friends, acquaintances, or gun enthusiasts who had heard of him, and who had looked forward with pleasure both to meeting him and to see him in his remarkable exhibits.

The exhibition was staged at the Tourist park, and was witnessed by a large attendance from all over the county and this section, all of whom were highly pleased with the entire performance. At 2:30 the local gun club held their shoot. At 4:00 o'clock Mr. Toepperwein gave his exhibition. Some of the most remarkable feats of skill were the tossing of five eggs up into the air all at one time, Mr. Toepperwein breaking everyone while they were still in the air. Again, he stationed himself about 20 feet from a gun lying on the ground, threw an egg in the air, ran, turned a somersault, grabbed up the gun and broke the egg before it touched the ground. Then he laid two 20-gauge shot-guns on the ground, threw two eggs in the air, picked up one gun and broke one egg, then picked up the other gun and broke the other egg still in the air. Tossing marbles and iron washers in the air, he made a perfect score with a 32-20 rifle. His most remarkable stunt with pistols was the shooting in front and behind himself at the same time, his sight behind being aided by the use of a mirror, and hitting both targets.

Mr. Toepperwein's numerous stunts kept everyone thrilled, and elicited much praise. It has been some twelve years since this famous marksman has been in Brady, and when he got off the train he had to ask the bus driver what town this was before he could be sure it was the same old place. He spoke in most complimentary fashion of Brady and Brady citizens, stating that every appearance indicated that the town was full of live wires and pep, and that it was certain to continue its present remarkable growth and development.

Following the exhibition shooting, a squad including Mr. Toepperwein, indulged in trap shooting, with the following scores made out of 25 birds:

- E. L. Ogden 11

Much enthusiasm has been created by the visit of this famous marksman, and organization of a gun club with thirty members, 25 of whom have already been signed up, is now well under way. The club expects to indulge in weekly shoots, and all sportsmen will find a congenial bunch included in its membership.

We Want to Talk to Every Prospect Who Plans to Pay More Than $500 for a Car

We want to tell you something about the Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car. Want you to examine it—and to drive it.

Stop in and let us prove what a vast difference there is between the Light-Six and other cars at about the same price—or between the Light-Six and cars of other makes costing several hundred dollars more.

To be able to buy a Six, practically free from vibration, for less than $1,000 is an opportunity not duplicated anywhere in the world. Elimination of vibration adds immeasurably to the life of the motor. It is one of the reasons for the universal high resale value of the Light-Six.

The Touring Car body is all-steel—even to its framework. Seat cushions—of genuine leather—are ten inches deep and are placed at the most restful angle.

The one-piece windshield is handsome and practical because it gives unobstructed view of the road ahead and is rain-proof. The quick-action cowl ventilator and the parking lights are but indications of the quality and completeness of the appointments.

No other make of car ever built, by anyone, at any price, represents so great a dollar-for-dollar value as the Light-Six Touring Car. The savings resulting from large volume, complete manufacture and the fact that Studebaker's overhead is shared by three distinct models make possible its low price and high value.

The Light-Six upholds Studebaker's 71-year reputation for honest value.

THE HEART OF TEXAS BRADY WANTS TEXAS "TECH"

BRADY SHOWS NATURAL RESOURCES AND INDUSTRIAL FACILITIES—NEWS

TED DEALY, STAFF CORRESPONDENT, STRESSES BRADY'S "MILLION-GALLON-A-MINUTE" WATER WELL AND MANY ADVANTAGES, IN DALLAS NEWS

Brady, McCulloch Co., Texas, July 17.—An inexhaustible supply of pure artesian water, a climate unexcelled in the State, and agricultural country admirably suited to diversification and the claim that Brady is the geographical center of Texas were among the principal reasons urged by speakers here Tuesday as to why the new million-dollar Texas Technological College should be located in this city. The locating board arrived here at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning and left at 1:30 p. m. for Menard.

Brady Declares Holiday

In honor of the visitors Brady declared a half-holiday and practically every man, woman and child in town turned out to assist in welcoming the board and making their short stay here one of royal entertainment.

Tuesday was the first time that the locating committee has visited any prospective site with its full quota. At Boerne, the first town visited, Secretary W. R. Nabours of the locating board was absent while at Lampasas Monday Senator S. B. Cowell, chairman of the committee, was unable to be present on account of a slight illness. Senator Cowell, however, joined the party late Monday afternoon and will be on the job all the rest of the journey.

The locating board party now consists of twelve persons, the five members of the committee proper, the secretary, four newspaper men and two railroad men.

The two railroad men are W. S. Keeran, general passenger agent of the Santa Fe Railroad, and John G. Fitzhugh, safety superintendent. They will accompany the travelers as far as San Angelo, where the party leaves the Santa Fe lines.

Brady Party Boards Train.

Monday night was spent in Brownwood by the committee and early Tuesday morning the trip to Brady was begun. At Mercury, a few miles down the line toward Brady, Tom J. Beasley, former member of the Legislature from McCulloch County, and H. F. Schwenker, editor of the Brady Standard, boarded the train, while at Rochelle, a few miles farther along, the entire reception committee of Brady, headed by Dr. J. B. Granville, joined the travelers and rode the rest of the way in.

Editor Schwenker climbed on the train with an armful of copies of a special edition of the Brady Standard, published in honor of the visit of the board. It consisted of twelve pages of descriptive matter concerning Brady and McCulloch County, with numerous photographs. On the front page were pictures of every member of the board with biographical sketches underneath.

Arriving at Brady, the locating board was herded into a waiting fleet of cars and driven up to the public square, where they found a most enthusiastic reception awaiting them. Literally hundreds of automobiles, packed and jammed with the people of this city and county, were parked all around the outside edge of the square to applaud and cheer the visitors as they were driven by in review. At the same time the Brady Municipal Band extended a musical welcome to the board from the grassy lawn in the center of the square. This concert was continued throughout the morning.

Inspect Sites for College.

From the city proper, the college arbiters were driven out to Brady's "million-gallon-a-minute" artesian well and served with light refreshments. The well had been turned loose for the occasion and belched its watery contents high into the air as the visitors stood about its rim. Members of the board were informed that this well alone is capable of supplying a town of 20,000 people.

Following a short inspection of the pumping plant, the travelers were then guided back to the waiting cars and taken for a tour of the four sites that Brady is offering for the new college.

At 11:30 a. m. the locating board and a committee of local business men held a joint business meeting in the law offices of Newman & McCollum and here Judge F. M. Newman, speaking in behalf of Brady, presented the advantages this city has to offer as the prospective site of the newly created college.

The women of Brady had previously decorated the offices with innumerable posies of home-grown flowers, while behind the speaker's chair, on a table, was an exhibit of the native stones and minerals of McCulloch County.

In extolling Brady's excellencies, Judge Newman said in part: "Brady is the geographical heart of Texas. By steel rails and by highways it is also one of the most accessible points in the State. It is served by both the Frisco and Santa Fe Railways and is the center of a system of highways radiating out in every direction.

Tells of Brady's Advantages.

"We claim that we have the finest water to be found anywhere. We also boast of a climate that is unexcelled in Texas. With an altitude of 1,750 feet the torrid days and nights known to so many other Texas towns are not found here. The summer average of temperature in the last ten years has been 80 degrees, the average in winter 50 degrees.

"We have ample rainfall, twenty-six inches, and most of it in the crop-growing season. From a health standpoint we also claim pre-eminence. Malaria is unknown here, while typhoid and tuberculosis are extremely rare.

"From an industrial standpoint, Brady is also well suited for the technological college. We have here two cotton oil mills, a mattress factory, a flour mill, a bottling works, two planing mills, four sheetiron and metals works, one broom factory and an ice factory. The Brady Compress Company has one of the most complete plants in West Texas, with a capacity of 1,200 bales daily.

"When it comes to agriculture, we are just as well adapted to serve such an institution as the new college will be. The land in this county is about 75 per cent tillable and admirably suited for diversification. Butter, eggs poultry, wool, mohair, fur and pecans are all marketed here in large quantities."

Board Goes to Menard.

After the business meeting the members of the board and others in the party were served with a barbecue luncheon at the new tourist park.

At 1:30 p. m. the board departed for Menard, in charge of a delegation of Menard citizens, who drove over to Brady to escort the visitors to their town.

After inspecting Menard the locating committee boarded the Santa Fe special cars and returned to Brownwood for the night.

The Santa Fe cars ran over the Frisco tracks Tuesday between Menard and Brownwood, and while on this strip of the road the members of the locating board were joined by R. B. Cochran of Fort Worth, assistant to the vice president and general manager of the Frisco road.

On Wednesday morning the formal inspection of Brownwood as a possible site for the college will take

"Water, Water Everywhere, Nor Any Drop to Drink"

—Like Brady Water

BRADY'S GOOD WATER STRESSED TO TECH BOARD

BY SILLIMAN EVANS, Staff Correspondent—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

BRADY, Tex., July 18.—Members of the Texas Technological College locating commission will not soon forget that Brady water is good water. Throughout the morning yesterday, wherever they were in Brady, they saw the 100-foot spray of water in the air, and they sampled the water several times during their stay here. Last night when they were returning to Brownwood from Menard they got another impression of Brady and Brady's water.

As the train carrying the private cars of the commission came into the station, the Brady municipal band began playing "Eliza Jane," Brady's officially adopted municipal air. After the train had stopped while several hundred people on the platform cheered, five young women entered the private cars and presented each commissioner with a one-gallon thermos bucket filled with iced Brady water. Around each of the thermos buckets was a ribbon on which was printed the name of the commissioner and the slogan: "Water, water everywhere, nor any drop to drink—like Brady water."

The girls told the commissioners of the fine impression they made in Brady and of the high regard the citizens of Brady have for them.

TECH BOARD SEES JUG O' WATER AS NOVEL COURTESY

Frank Martin, special correspondent for the Fort Worth Record, terms Brady's gift to each member of the "Tech" College Locating Board of a thermos jug full of Brady artesian water, the most novel courtesy of the trip, and in his write-up of Brownwood's reception of the Board, he includes the following very complimentary article on the Brady stunt:

On the trip from Menard last night the members of the locating party received the most novel courtesy of the trip. As the train stopped at Brady a hand placed on the outside platform and six girls gave each a new two-gallon thermos jug filled with water from the Brady artesian well.

On each jug was tied a red ribbon bearing the name of the recipient and the following inscription: "Water, water everywhere, but never a drop to drink, like Brady water." It formed an unforgettable impression of Brady water for the members of the board.

As the train moved out of the station the board members assembled on the back platform and gave fifteen raps for Brady water.

There was a big scramble at Brownwood this morning to get the jugs safely packed with their water content and shipped to the respective homes of those receiving them.

BRADY WELCOMES TECH COMMISSION —S. A. EXPRESS

Brady, Texas, July 17.—Citizens of Brady and McCulloch County declared a half-holiday, and entered into a lively spirit for the entertainment of the Texas Technological Locating Board, on their arrival here Tuesday. They even extended their welcome beyond the confines of this immediate territory. The leading citizens joined the incoming train at Mercury Tuesday morning to announce the approach of Brady, and a committee of five, composing the group that is charged with presenting Brady's claims for the location of the new school, joined the locating party at Rochelle and immediately began a business discussion with the locators on the merits of this town. As the inspectors, riding in cars with Brady men, rode toward the Square from the train, a siren opened up and continued its blasts of noisy welcome until the line of cars approached the Square. A band played on the courthouse lawn, and horns of automobiles which lined the outside of the surrounding road honked their welcome as the visitors were driven twice around the Square.

City Well Visited. A drive was made to the city well, the pride of this vicinity, which was discovered in oil drilling operations less than two years ago. It was turned loose and shot a four-inch stream about 30 feet high, while the locating board looked on. The water comes from a 2,100-foot depth and is said to be fed from a 700-foot water sand capable of producing 1,000 gallons a minute of the purest artesian water.

After the visit to the well, the party was taken for an inspection of place. In the afternoon the board will motor over to Coleman for an inspection. The night will then be spent in Coleman, and on Thursday morning the travelers are due to inspect Ballinger.

TECH LOCATING BODY AT BRADY —FT. W. RECORD

Brady, Texas, July 17.—A noisy welcome was given the Texas Technological locating board on its arrival here this morning. However, it did not in any way detract from the main object of the Brady citizens which was to impress the board with their belief that Brady is the best place for the location of the new college.

Their welcome was hearty but brief and was preceded and followed by very carefully arranged and excellently executed business plans to convince the board of the opportunities offered here for the building of a great school of technology.

Two citizens of Brady joined the locating board at Mercury, 20 miles from Brady and the official citizens committee charged with the duty of presenting Brady's claims for the school and consisting of five members joined at Rochelle, just ten miles from Brady. They let the board members in on their chief claims of advantages on the remaining the proposed sites for the college offered by the town. All four propositions offered are partly included in the corporate limits. The land is gently rolling, black mesquite, being good for general farming and growing a native mesquite grass, which is said will support a cow all the year round on a 10-acre tract. The sites border on the residential section, and rise gradually 50 feet from the level of the townsite, which is 1,700 feet.

Near Center of State.

Brady claims the geographical center to be only 20 miles northeast from here, and next to its rich land and abundant fine water, is laying most stress upon that fact. It also recommends its undeveloped mineral resources as a promise of great industries here in the future. Marble, pottery clay, ochre, coal, salt and potash are the principal resources.

"TECH" LOCATING BOARD GIVEN BIG OVATION AT BRADY—STAR-TELEGRAM

SILLIMAN EVANS, STAFF CORRESPONDENT, GIVES COMPREHENSIVE REPORT ON BRADY'S RECEPTION —ADVANTAGES ARE ENUMERATED.

Brady, July 17.—A rousing reception was accorded the Texas Technological College locating commission upon arrival in Brady early this morning. Committeemen representing Brady had boarded the Frisco train carrying commissioners at Rochelle, and after reaching Brady the visitors were taken in automobiles around the public square. While the Brady municipal band, a prize winner at the San Angelo convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, played lively music, the commissioners were whisked around the Triangular Plaza in the heart of the business district.

Automobiles flanked the curbs and led by the municipal siren there was a concourse of automobile horns and cheers. All of the commission was here, Senator Cowell having returned to the party at Lampasas. Brady declared a half holiday in honor of the guests. The morning was spent in trips through the business and residence districts of the city, and an inspection of the five sites tendered for the Texas Technological College.

Location Stressed.

Emphasis was laid on the central location of Brady. Commissioners were told that they were within 21 miles of the geographical center of Texas. Proof of this centrality was offered to the commissioners in the form of a letter from J. H. Walker, chief clerk of the general land office at Austin.

During the excursions through the business district the commissioners inspected the new Hotel Brady now under course of construction. It is to be three stories in height, of brick fireproof material, and all of the furnishings and equipment are to be steel. It will be the first hotel in Texas to be so outfitted.

When the commission visited the municipal water and power plant they saw the Brady artesian wells spouting water nearly 100 feet in the air.

Young women served cake with ice water, and the commissioners sampled the water for themselves. Brady is resting its case with the commission by furnishing each one with a special edition of the Brady Standard, edited by Harry F. Schwenker. The special edition is splendidly typographically and is printed on a fine grade of paper. The first page is filled with the photographs and biographical data of the commissioners while the inside of the paper carries news articles regarding Brady's availability for the school. These articles feature the livestock and agricultural industry.

The Brady band played while the commissioners were the guests of an open air barbecue in the Brady free der of the trip here this morning from Brownwood. When the inspecting party riding in automobiles with Brady men turned from the station yard toward the square a siren opened up and continued its blasts of noisy welcome until the line of cars approached the square. This, it was learned, was official call for a full half holiday proclaimed by Mayor E. L. Jones, for Brady and McCulloch county.

The great number of automobiles filled with people and lining the outside of the street surrounding the square attested the fact that it was being observed.

After the inspection of sites the locators returned to the city and went into business session with the local committee. This continued until lunch was served in the local tourist park.

A number of Menard citizens attended this lunch as guests of Brady and after lunch took the locating board and newspapermen to Menard. The board returned to Brownwood tonight and will inspect that site tomorrow morning.

Judge T. J. Beasley, for many years a member of the appropriations committee of the House of Representatives, got on the train at Mercury, his home. Dr. J. B. Granville headed the Brady committee.

3,500 Population.

Brady, with a population of 3,500 people, is supported by the agricultural products of McCulloch County, which are cotton, oats, barley, rye and all of the grain sorghums. The cattle raising industry is a large one. The land about Brady is both valley and rolling land, and the percentage of tillable land is more than 60 per cent. Practically all of the grass is curly mesquite, and the timber is mesquite and liveoak with pecans along the creeks and rivers.

That Brady is an important center is attested by the fact that there are four wholesale produce houses, two cold storage plants, furnishing an excellent market for butter, eggs, poultry, wool mohair, furs and pecans. One produce house alone shipped 16 carloads of dressed turkeys, 45 carloads of poultry and 12 carloads of eggs. Through the efforts of the Brady Chamber of Commerce it is hoped that the $750,000 annually brought to the farmers of the vicinity by poultry and products will be increased to $5,000,000 annually.

The water supply is splendid, one well having a known water supply of 1,000 gallons per minute, producing this from 650 feet of water sand and is 2,112 feet deep. All municipal modern improvements have been installed.

The town is accessible to all portions of Texas, and is "in the heart of Texas." It is located on both the Frisco and Santa Fe Railroads, and is the junction of four great highways, two of which are officially designated as major highways, and are included in the 7 per cent highway system of Texas.

Direct Market Connections.

They give direct connection with the market centers of the United States and as well as points on the Pacific and Gulf coast, and the Mexican border. Automobiles connect with San Angelo, Ballinger, Coleman, Brownwood, Mason, Fredericksburg and San Antonio. By automobile Fort Worth is eight hours, San Antonio six hours and San Angelo four hours distant.

Automobile bus lines connect Brady with all neighboring points, and Brady is the hub of their operations. There is double bus service to Brownwood, Ballinger, Coleman and San Angelo.

The average annual precipitation is 26 inches, and is favorably distributed. The snowfall of the county is light and never has been recorded before November or after March.

Owing to its topography and geographical location, McCulloch County offers a wide range of agricultural diversification.

In common with other portions of the country with similar altitude, Brady and McCulloch County are free from such scourges as typhoid, malaria and other affections of the nature and although the climate is such as to be very beneficial to sufferers from tuberculosis, Brady is as free from this disease as any city of like size in the State of Texas.

D. R. HARDISON FORMER PASTOR HERE, DIED SUN.

News of the death of Rev. D. R. Hardison at Columbia, Tenn., last Sunday afternoon, was contained in a message received by S. A. Benham Sunday afternoon from Marion Hardison, son of the deceased, and occasioned universal regret and sadness. Rev. Hardison for quite a number of years was pastor of the local Christian church, being not only one of the most popular ministers throughout this section, but being a progressive citizen and a leader in civic development. Co-incident with his pastorate, Rev. Hardison served several years as secretary of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, during which period he performed an invaluable service in boosting Brady and the McCulloch section.

The Hardisons removed from Brady something like ten years ago, and for the past six or eight years had been located at Colorado, Texas, where he was likewise popular with the citizens of town and the entire surrounding country. Rev. Hardison was quite well advanced in years, being upward of 70 years of age. Of recent times his health was not the best and at the time of his death, he was on a vacation trip, and was visiting among the scenes of his youth in Tennessee.

The following report upon his death and burial is reprinted from the state newspapers:

Colorado, Texas, July 17.—The body of the Rev. D. R. Hardison, pastor of the First Christian Church, who died suddenly near Columbia, Tenn., Sunday afternoon, left there Tuesday en route to Colorado, accompanied by an honor guard of six Knights Templar from Columbia.

The escort will be met in Fort Worth Wednesday afternoon by six Knights Templar from Colorado and Snyder, who will accompany the body from Fort Worth to Colorado.

The body will arrive here at 11:40 p. m. Wednesday and will be taken to the church of which he was pastor to lie in state until 10 o'clock Thursday morning, when funeral services will be held. Dr. T. J. McKisick of Sweetwater, former president of Midland College, will conduct the services. Burial will be in the I. O. O. F. Cemetery, near Colorado.

Telegrams are being received from prominent churchmen over West Texas extending sympathy to the family. A large number of personal friends of Dr. Hardison from other towns and cities of West Texas will attend the funeral. Stores and offices in Colorado will be closed during the services Thursday morning.

Death of Wm. H. Fletcher.

William H. Fletcher, aged 74 years, passed away Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. J. Hill on the S. L. Hurd place in the East Sweden community. Mr. Fletcher had been paralyzed for quite a while. He had been making his home among his several children and at the time of his fatal illness, was visiting here in the home of his daughter. Funeral services were held Wednesday, being conducted by the Rev. J. J. Ray, Christian minister at Rochelle, where interment was made.
