STRIKES MATCH TO SEE GAS GAUGE, BUS DRIVER NEARLY LOSES HIS CAR

"Gimme a match," said J. A. Embrey, driver of one of the San Angelo-San Antonio buses, at 6:45 Thursday morning as he was refueling his machine at the Highway Garage.

A by-stander complied and Embrey struck a flame to see how much gas he needed, as registered by the gauge on the rear tank. The fumes ignited and Embrey narrowly escaped serious burns. The fire consumed the top of the car, leaped almost to the height of a telephone pole and was rapidly eating away the upholstery of the bus when the firemen arrived and spent several tanks of chemicals on the blaze. The bus line's loss was about $100 and was not covered by insurance.

After a short delay, Embrey left on his run to Brady, minus a top and without any upholstery in his car. But this didn't deter a few passengers who had to reach various points south today. Embrey hereafter is going to use an electric searchlight and will be afraid to smoke around his bus for awhile.—San Angelo Standard.

Although the top and upholstery was burned off the car and the woodwork was badly charred, Jap Embrey drove back to Brady, carrying several passengers and baggage on his regular run last Thursday. The car was the big 7-passenger Reo belonging to J. K. Shelton and which has been making the San Angelo run for the past several months.

The Chinese are protesting against the impractical character of the education given the young Chinamen studying in America at the expense of the Boxer indemnity. They return to China with "nothing more than a store of book learning and a superficial knowledge of American life to show for their long sojourn at government charge in the United States." China needs men who are willing to work—not aspirants for government jobs.

Thanksgiving Proclamation by the President of the U. S.

"A proclamation: The American people from their earliest days, have observed the wise custom of acknowledging each year the bounty with which divine providence has favored them. In the beginning this acknowledgment was a voluntary return of thanks by the community for the fruitfulness of the harvest. Though our mode of life has greatly changed, their custom has always survived. It has made Thanksgiving Day not only one of the oldest but one of the most characteristic observances of our great country. On that day, in home and church, in family and in public gatherings, the whole nation has for generations paid the tribute due from the grateful hearts for the blessings bestowed.

To center our thoughts in this way upon the favor which we have been shown has been altogether wise and desirable. It has given opportunity justly to balance the good and the evil which we have experienced. In that we have never failed to find reasons for being grateful to God for a generous preponderance of the good. Even in the least propitious times, a broad contemplation of our whole position has never failed to disclose overwhelming reasons for thankfulness. Thus viewing our situation, we have found warrant for a more hopeful and confident attitude toward the future.

In this current year, we now approach the time which has been accepted by custom as most fitting for the calm survey of our estate and the return of thanks. We shall more keenly realize our good fortune, if we will, in deep sincerity, give to it due thought and more especially, if we will compare it with any other community in the world.

The year has brought to our people two tragic experiences which have deeply affected them. One is the death of our beloved President Harding, which has been mourned wherever there is a realization of the worth of high ideals, noble purpose and unselfish service carried even to the end of supreme sacrifice. His loss recalled the nation to a less capricious and more charitable attitude. It sobered the whole thought of the country. Latey came the unparalleled disaster to the friendly people of Japan. This called forth from the people of the United States a demonstration of deep and humane feeling. It was wrought into the substance of good works. It created new evidence of our international friendship which is a guarantee for world peace. It replenishes the charitable impulse of the country.

By experiences such as these men and nations are tested and refined. We have been blessed with much material prosperity. We shall be better able to appreciate it if we remember the privations others have suffered, and we shall be the more worthy of it if we use it for their relief. We will do well then, to give thanks for the good that has come to us, and show by our actions that we have become stronger, wiser, and truer by the chastenings which have been imposed upon us. We will thus prepare ourselves for the part we must have in a world which forever needs the full measure of service. We have been a most favored people. We ought to be a most blessed people. We ought to be a most thankful people.

"Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, do hereby, fix and designate Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, as Thanksgiving Day, and recommend its general observance throughout the land. It is urged that the people gather in their homes and their usual places of worship, give expression to their gratitude for the benefits and blessings that a gracious Providence has bestowed upon them and seek the guidance of Almighty God that they may deserve a continuance of His favors.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the United States.

FOOTBALL RALLY WED'DAY NIGHT PRECEDES GAME

Next Thursday, Thanksgiving Day afternoon Brady High will stage the greatest game of the season on the local grounds, when the locals meet Santa Anna high for the honors of the season. The locals are in fine trim and have been getting in good practice work for the game. The occasion being a holiday, a big turnout is expected, and every Brady citizen should be on hand to cheer the home boys. Santa Anna won from the locals 6 to 0 in the first game played this season—but it is a far different team they will go up against Thursday, and the seasoned Brady players are going to give the visitors the game of their life.

In anticipation of getting the citizenship properly enthused over the game, a big football rally will be held on the public square Wednesday night and to which every citizen is invited. Pep squads will be organized, and everything done towards getting Brady citizens properly enthusiastic over the game.

Hi Defeats Scrubs, 19 to 0.

The Brady Hi regular team had a walk-away with the Brady scrubs on the local grounds in a practice game last Friday afternoon, the score being top heavy—19 to 0 in favor of the Hi boys. The occasion was greatly enjoyed, and was merely preliminary to putting the right degree of pep into the regulars for the Thanksgiving game.

I have the agency for all magazines published. On account of illness in my family, I am unable to see the people personally. Will appreciate all the subscriptions given me. Mrs. D. L. MAPLES, Phone 201, P. O. Box 266.

VALIDITY OF LEGISLATIVE ACT IMPOSING TAX ON GAS- LINE SALES UNDETERMINED

The validity of the legislative act imposing an occupation tax upon certain persons engaged in the business of selling gasoline, is as yet undetermined, according to information received by Hon. James Finlay, representative of this district, from Bruce W. Bryant, assistant attorney general, at Austin, under date of November 21st. Two suits were tried in the district court of Travis county, the trial being without jury, and the matter being taken under advisement by the court. The following is the letter received by Mr. Finlay from the assistant attorney-general:

"In reply to your letter of the 15th instant, beg to advise that the validity of the first and second Acts passed by the Legislature, imposing an Occupation Tax upon certain persons engaged in the business of selling gasoline, have been attacked by two suits filed in one of the District Courts of this County.

"The cases were tried some time ago before the Court, without a jury. The court has had the matter under advisement and I am informed will render an opinion within the next two or three days. In these suits the State Treasurer was enjoined from cashing the remittances made to him by all persons who had attempted to pay their tax under these laws.

"The Comptroller is now proceeding to cash remittances made to him, and to hold the same in a special fund until these cases have been disposed of. Should the State lose in these suits then all money received will be returned to those who paid or attempted to pay the tax. If the State wins, then proceedings will be instituted at once against all those who have not paid their tax, to collect the same.

"We have not undertaken to file any suits for the collection of the taxes which accrued under these two bills, and which have not been paid, until we could get an interpretation of these laws from the Courts."

FRISCO RAILROAD WINS DAMAGE SUIT BROUGHT UNDER "JIM CROW" LAW

St. Louis, Nov. 24.—The verdict in favor of the St. Louis, San Francisco railroad returned by a circuit court jury late yesterday in a $25,000 damage suit brought by James Roberts, local negro lawyer, was based on the "Jim Crow" law of Oklahoma, it was explained today by lawyers.

Roberts testified that on December 24, 1921, he was compelled to go from a day coach to a coach reserved for negroes as the train was entering Oklahoma from Missouri. The jury held, in effect, that although Roberts paid for the comforts of the day coach, the road was obliged to comply with the laws of the various states operated through, and therefore could not be held liable for any discomforts Roberts may have suffered as a result of the Oklahoma statute.

DISTRICT COURT CONVENES GRAND JURY EMPANELLED

District court was convened Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by Judge J. O. Woodward, and both grand and petit juries empaneled. In addressing the grand jury, Judge Woodward stressed investigating bootlegging, forgery, burglary and perjury. His Honor was especially emphatic in his declarations against the bootlegger, and while he was not advised as to the activities of the bootlegger in this county, he based his address upon the general activities throughout his district. He predicted that with rigid enforcement of the prohibition laws, it would only be a matter of a few years until it would be impossible to obtain a drink of bootleg liquor in the state. Judge Woodward also emphasized his position that all cases must be tried in the courts. In observing that there were some twenty-eight divorce cases on the docket, he stated that the lawyers were going to have to make mighty strong cases if they expected to secure divorces for their clients in his court. Judge Woodward complimented the officers and the citizenship of McCulloch county upon their record for law-enforcement and law-abiding, stating that he had been coming here since 1888, and spoke of his own personal knowledge.

The following were empaneled as grand jurors: John R. Winstead, Sr., foreman; E. B. Scarborough, Oscar Hollon, G. T. Ryan, L. W. Amerine, D. H. Newman, L. A. Doran, T. C. Ward, G. A. Spiller, J. V. Ewing, D. S. Humphrey, J. R. Brown.

Monday the petit jury was dismissed for the day, but re-convened this morning, the case of Teodoro Martinez vs. G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co., suit for damage, being taken up. The case is still on trial this afternoon. Non-jury cases so far disposed of include the following:

Tom Kennison vs. Fannie Kennison, divorce; granted.

Jim Brown vs. Mattie Brown, divorce; dismissed.

Carmen Barber vs. Harry M. Barber, divorce; granted.

Ethel Tucker vs. Melton Tucker, divorce; granted.

George Boyd vs. Alma Boyd, divorce; granted.

Tomorrow (Wednesday) the criminal docket will be taken up, among the cases on the criminal docket first to come up and the charges are the following:

State vs. Jim Spencer, transporting intoxicating liquor.

State vs. Arthur Nolen, (col.) manufacturing intoxicating liquor.

State vs. Jim Ramsey, manufacturing intoxicating liquor.

Next Monday the case of Otis Mitchell, charged with murder, will be called for trial. A special venire of 72 men has been ordered for this case.

BRADY, TEXAS, Nov. 27, 1923

THE HEART OF TEXAS.

From the number of articles we have recently read in daily papers from progressive towns and cities of the state who all claim to be the "Heart of Texas" we have formed an opinion that Texas is much larger than we supposed and that her heart embraces a great scope of territory.—Lueders Messenger.

The very fact that there are a large number of progressive and live wire cities and towns in the state, all of which desire to gain recognition as being located in the "Heart of Texas" suggests that all these cities and towns, and their surrounding communities, unite in the forming of a "Heart of Texas" Chamber of Commerce, the purpose of which shall be to promote the welfare and advancement of those cities, towns, communities or counties which shall comprise this Chamber. If the Panhandle-Plains country could land so great an institution as Texas "Tech" was destined to be merely through a united and co-operative effort, then think of the possible attainment and achievement of a united and co-operative body such as the "Heart of Texas" Chamber of Commerce could be made into. From the standpoint of possessing those natural advantages that go to make life and living ideal, no section can surpass the "Heart of Texas," and the world is waiting to be told about it.

IN MORTAL COMBAT.

"The Parson," Brownwood's pioneer prohibitionist, and whose accomplishments sadly discount those of the proverbial camel inasmuch as The Parson can go for a month without taking a drink (and then comes to Brady to indulge his thirst). The Parson, as we started out to say, has challenged The Standard editor to mortal combat just because we very innocently asserted some time back that he, the Parson, did his bathing in Brownwood and his drinking in Brady. The Parson chooses as weapons corn stalks, preferably last year's corn stalks—but The Standard editor will have none of that. Being the challenged party, he asserts and affirms his right to name the weapons in this duel of honor. He chooses out straws. We have strongly favored the straw as a weapon ever since we learned 'twas a straw that broke the camel's back.

Announcement is made in the Lometta Reporter that E. E. Bradbury has purchased an interest in that paper and is now actively associated with Elvin C. Lowe in its publication. Since taking over the Reporter some months ago, Mr. Lowe has installed

TWENTY TESTS OF A GOOD FARMER.

1. Is your farm operated with the definite determination to make the land richer each year?
2. Is yours a rotating, diversifying, "live at home" farm, giving proper attention not only to diversified farm crops but also to live stock, poultry, and dairy products?
3. Are you using modern plows, cultivators, etc., which require cheap horse labor rather than too much highly expensive human labor in making crops?
4. Do you as far as possible have something to turn under for soil improvement before each crop planted?
5. Do you practice deep breaking followed by shallow and level cultivation?
6. On your farm, are you making proper use of legumes—cowpeas, soy beans, velvet beans, clovers, vetch, and alfalfa—both for enriching land and for cheap hay?
7. Is there a constant effort to have well shaped fields, free both of gullies and of ragged, uneven, sprouty corners?
8. Do you cut and shock your corn instead of practicing the old labor-wasting, corn-yield reducing, folly of fodder-pulling?
9. Are you doing your part in the great movement that promises a new era for farmers through business-like co-operation in buying and selling?
10. Have you joined the ranks of the progressive farmers who have houses are painted—both for reasons of beauty and as a preservative of expensive lumber?
11. Are you reading only reading newspapers, magazines, books and papers that deal especially with the great business of farming?
12. Is the farm house, as well as the farm itself, equipped with modern conveniences—a good range, fireless cooker, washing machine, running water, a modern lighting system, etc.?
13. Does your farm use none but well selected seed for the main crops planted?
14. Do you go ahead and do all your farm work when it ought to be done regardless of any old superstitions about the moon or the signs of the zodiac?
15. Do you ask for the help of your county demonstration agent in trying to get your farming on the most profitable and businesslike basis?
16. Are you giving your children the best education it is practicable to give them?
17. Are you trying to make your community a better place to live in and to encourage your neighbors in the adoption of progressive methods and ideas?
18. Are you giving your home a proper and beautiful setting of grass, trees, and shrubbery, and have you provided good, well-cared-for pastures for your cattle, hogs, and horses?
19. Do you feel real pride in the profession of farming, dignifying it by trying to make it a genuine art or science, honoring its leaders, and seeking to promote every movement that looks to its enrichment and improvement?
20. Do you have a sense of responsibility to God for the use you make of His soil, realizing that we are indeed "tenants of the Almighty," commissioned by Him "to dress and to keep" whatever part of His footstool is committed to us for a lifetime?—The Progressive Farmer.

OUR COUNTRY—ALWAYS

American form of government is recognized throughout the world as the most humanitarian, most stable and most effective of all forms.

No real cause for unrest or discontent exists. Industry is thriving at peak load and pay rolls are being steadily maintained. Labor and capital in America are nearly balanced.

Americans are not blind to the ills of European nations where famine and eternal strife are preventing the orderly conduct of affairs and where such conditions prevent a well balanced return to pre-war prosperity.

Americans will not brook the destructive forces from without to enslave our country with pins and needles propaganda designed to disrupt the nation and turn affairs over to an element which knows no law—either of man or God—and destroy the initiative of a hundred and ten millions of souls.

No socialistic or communistic doctrine can successfully endure in any nation and it has been recognized in America for more than a century of orderly administration.

There is no place here for the forces of destruction.—Waxahachie Enterprise.

HOW TO KNOW YOU ARE EDUCATED

When is one educated in the best sense of the word? A professor in the University of Chicago is said to have told his pupils that he would consider them truly educated when they could answer affirmatively these 14 questions:

1. Has your education given sympathy with all good causes and made you espouse them?
2. Has it made you public-spirited?
3. Has it made you a brother to the weak?
4. Have you learned how to make friends and keep them.
5. Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself?
6. Can you look an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye?
7. Do you see anything to love in a little child?
8. Will a lonely dog follow you in the street?
9. Can you be high-minded and happy in the meaner drudgeries of life?
10. Do you think washing dishes and hoeing corn just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?
11. Are you good for anything to yourself? Can you be happy alone?
12. Can you look out on the world and see anything except dollars and cents?
13. Can you look into the mud puddle by the wayside and see anything in the mud puddle but mud?
14. Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars? Can your soul claim relationship with the Creator?—The Progressive Farmer.

THE ORIGIN OF THANKSGIVING DAY

By Phebe K. Warner in Fort Worth Star-Telegram

It was Autumn time in the New World. The first harvest had been gathered in, and Governor Bradford of the Plymouth colony wanted the settlers to all get together for a feast and rejoice over their first crop and their first victory in a New World. For this reason he sent four men out to shoot wild fowl for that first Thanksgiving dinner. History does not tell us who those four hunters were or what they shot. Therefore we may not know just what the menu of that National dinner was. But it has been the general belief that those men brought back to their log cabins a dead flock of wild turkeys. At any rate the turkey has ever been the symbol of Thanksgiving.

That memorable dinner was held in the open air. No one seems to know the exact day but it is the belief of those who have made a study of the early history of our country that it took place on a day during the Indian Summer period and that it must have been some time between the last week in October and the last week in November. Had that little company of fearless citizens of a New World known what a great custom they were establishing they might have left some note of their day and dinner for posterity to imitate. But they did not. Thanksgiving is another National day that was born of suffering and great sacrifice and hardship. All those who set the example for us to follow never knew that they had created a National holiday that was to mean the ingathering of the families of their country for thousands of years.

The first Thanksgiving dinner was prepared and spread in the Autumn of 1621, 302 years ago. It took 250 years to establish it as a National day to be observed annually and universally. For many years after the first Thanksgiving the "Autumnal feast of ingathering," as it was termed, was merely an occasional festival, an unexpected prosperity or unhoped for aid in adversity moved the Pilgrims or the Puritans to a special act of praise. It was not until the Revolutionary War that the feast became in any sense National. "After 1784 it became an annual event in New England but it was only occasionally observed elsewhere. The first Thanksgiving proclamation from a President of the United States was issued by George Washington in 1795. But the custom did not become a National annual custom until the dark days of the Civil War."

It seems that the people of the earth have ever marked their periods in history by the milestones of war. It seems that the human family must find itself in the midst of some great tragedy before it realizes it has anything to be grateful for. It seems that it is in the midst of gloom and sorrow and great losses that we discover our blessings. It was not until 1863 that the President of the United States issued another Thanksgiving proclamation and from that year until the present year a Thanksgiving proclamation has been issued every year by the different Presidents of our country, setting aside the last Thursday in November as a day of feasting, of thanks and of prayer.
What a beautiful custom has been created for us of this generation. Do you suppose the people of this day in their mad rush through life would stop to create such a custom if some one had not kept the thought before the American people for the past 300 years? What a homegoing day it is for us all and how we do miss it when the old home is gone and there is no place to go back to on Thanksgiving Day. But it has been a mission anyway and helps to keep the love and the influences of those homes fresh in our lives and it spurs us on to build the same memories into the lives of our own children.
Think how many happy memories are stored away in our lives that never would have been there but for the custom of our homecoming on Thanksgiving. A lot of us never would take time to go home and enjoy the family feast together were it not for the special sentiments that belong to that day and to no other day of the year. Those of you who can, don't miss it this Thanksgiving feast and this annual love feast with the home folks. You will not always be where you can go, and THEY will not always be here to welcome you.
And along with the many other things for which we are grateful this year let us not forget those who created the day away back there 302 years ago. Think of the joys and the blessings we owe to them. And while we are thinking, it might be well to remember it is now our turn and our chance to help create a holiday for all the generations of the future to enjoy. A holiday that will some day be observed around the world and bring all hearts and all minds together on the same day and for the same purpose—a Worldwide Peace.

A SUGGESTION FOR CHRISTMAS.

Haven't you often found it pretty hard to choose Christmas gifts for your men friends and relatives? Neckties, collars, socks are usable of course, but once in a while it's better to give something that will bring long-continued pleasure and enjoyment.

What could you get inexpensively that would be more appreciated than a famous book which can be read with interest over and over again? Or a magazine which prints just what men like to read and which will bring pleasant reminders of the giver throughout the whole year?

Here is an economical combination for you which just "fills the bill":

an interesting monthly magazine, and your choice of one of these famous books:

Blazed Trail Stewart Ewd. White
 The Trimmed Lamp O. Henry
 Lord Jim Joseph Conrad
 Return of Sherlock Holmes C. Doyle
 Haunted Bookshop Chris. Morley
 Magnificent Ambersons B. Tarkington
 Ivanhoe Sir Walter Scott
 Alice's Adv. in Wonderland C. Carroll.

separately they would cost $3.40, but the combination price is only $2.60. The books are full size, richly bound in English red leather, beautifully printed. They make a splendid addition to any one's library.

Then there is a treat in store for the men to whom you give The Open Road, a treat that will come 12 times a year. Prepared especially for young men, the magazine has won its way into the hearts of men of all ages. Stirring stories of life in the deep woods, on western plains and in the business world of great cities fill its pages, and there's many a good laugh in every number. Also there are up-to-the-minute articles on business opportunities, athletics, exploration and adventure in far countries and on the personal problems of life.

President Coolidge says, "The Open Road is clean, animated, and of genuine inspiration for courageous living."

Let this special combination at $2.60 help take care of your Christmas list this year. Send your orders to The Brady Standard office. They will be forwarded to the publishers at once.

A Real Scarecrow.

The American tourist had been boasting again in the village inn. "Talking of scarecrows," he said, "Why, my father once put one up, and it frightened the crows so much that not one entered the field again for over a year."

He looked triumphantly around his audience. Surely, that had settled these country bumpkins! "That's nothing," retorted one farmer. "A neighbor o' mine once put a scarecrow into his potato patch, and it terrified the birds so much that one rascal of a crow, who had stolen some potatoes, came next day and put them back."—Montana Farmer.

These chilly mornings should remind you to keep your coal bins filled. Phone us your order. While we can supply your needs. MACY & Co.

THANKSGIVING DAY

The United States of America has the honorable distinction of being able to trace its origin and settlement to men and women distinguished above all their time both for heroism and piety, the opposite, yet consistent and allied virtues of self reliance and reliance upon a Higher Power. Our country is also distinguished above all the nations of the earth in setting apart a day of Thanksgiving, to return thanks for all the national and individual benefits that have come upon us as a country and as a people.

Thanksgiving day in its origin and long persistence through our national life, is based upon the doctrine laid down by the Apostle James, "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow or turning." Such was the belief of the Pilgrims who in the autumn of 1621, on the bleak New England coast, gathered their first meager harvest in the New World. In the simplest and hardest necessities of life, with religious and political freedom, with the virgin forests of Plymouth colony as their temples, they counted themselves happy, and felt that they were near to the Shrine of Heaven itself, and out of the gratitude of their heart for the blessings of life and liberty, set apart a day of thanksgiving to God whom they acknowledged as the author of all their benefits. Their example was followed by the Massachusetts Bay colony in 1630, by Connecticut in 1639, by the Dutch in New Netherland in 1644. It was observed with more or less regularity during the revolutionary war and the early days of the republic; and became a fixed institution throughout the country in 1858, and promises to abide as an annually recurring festival of praise and thanksgiving throughout our national existence.

Many nations of antiquity, all of which have long since crumbled into dust, have in their pride and vanity, sought to derive their origin from a divine power; but on sure historical grounds it can be said that, if more than human wisdom and power ever guided the destiny of any nation such guidance has been the part and lot of this republic from its humble beginning in a few huts on the Atlantic seaboard to the highest commonwealth and the most perfect government that ever existed on earth, itself a monument of wisdom, liberty and strength upon which the nations of the world may look in perpetual admiration and hope.

Isaac Walton has said: "God has two dwellings, one in Heaven and the other in a thankful heart." It is true that praise and thanksgiving can never be separated in any just consideration of the relation of the human to the divine.

The sentiment of the Psalmist is: "Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him and bless his name."

The proclamation of the president and of the governor with each returning season of the harvest time should be no formal matter either in our national or individual life; nor should anyone consider himself worthy of the blessings of citizenship in this republic with all its attendant benefits and opportunities of life and prosperity and happiness, who cannot at least once in the year, turn to the author of life and of every good with a sincere and open expression of gratitude to the giver of every good and perfect gift.

Some one has well and truly said: "Gratitude to God should be as habitual as the reception of mercies is constant; as ardent as the number of them is great, as devout as the riches of divine grace and goodness is incomprehensible."—The Coleman Times.

Then He Came Out.

The Florida beach and blue sea looked inviting to the tourist, but before venturing out to swim he thought he would make sure.

"You're certain there are no alligators here?" he inquired of the guide.

"Nossuh," replied the latter, grinning broadly. "Ain' no 'gators hyah." Reassured, the tourist started boldly out. As the water lapped about his chest he called back: "What makes you so sure there aren't any alligators?"

"Day's got too much sense," belloyed the guide. "De sharks done skeered dem all away."

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA & DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved — Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity,—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no gripping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

LYRIC THEATRE

Brady's Popular Amusement Place--The Home of Good Pictures

JULIUS LEVY, Proprietor and Manager

Presents the Following Program for This Week and Next:

Wednesday, Nov. 28th. JACK HOXIE —In— "THE FORBIDDEN TRAIL" 5—Reel Western Drama One of the qualities most imperative in western dramas is suspense. "The Forbidden Trail," is perhaps the really outstanding element. From the first foot of film to the grand final one has little time to take one's hands from their close grasp of the theatre seat, which is recommending that which lovers of western dramas long to see. This is a picture you cannot afford to miss. It contains thrills and sensations galore. Also HIRED AND FIRED 2—Reel Comedy.	Thursday, Nov. 29th. ENID BENNETT —In— "YOUR FRIEND AND MINE" 6—REEL DRAMA "Your Friend and Mine," tells of a neglected wife, her husband too busy with his business interests. A bogus artist, is in love with his wife, sharing the husband's utmost confidence, a playwright, sensing danger contrives to bring about a situation which will reveal the artist's real intentions and draw the mask from the husband's eyes. The conflict of these personalities brings about action that is at all times brisk and dramatic. A photoplay based on the famous novel by Willard Mack. Also FOX NEWS CURRENT EVENTS	Friday, Nov. 30th. EARLE WILLIAMS —In— "BRING HIM IN" The story deals with the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police and shows the star as the hunted man. The beautiful scenery around lake Tahoe in northern California furnishes the atmosphere that makes the story stand out sharp and vivid. The story is one of mystery, love and adventure and sustains the interest until the end. Also. TAKING ORDERS 2—Reel Comedy.	Saturday, Dec. 1st. HERBERT RAWLINSO —In— "RAILROADED" 5—REEL DRAMA The story of a man victimized by his father's stern regard for the law. Herbert Rawlinson is presented with an unusual sympathetic role in this story with some novel twist. The settings are charming reproductions of English country places. This is a feature in which the picture excels as both the interiors and exteriors are decidedly pleasing. An interesting picture, don't miss it. Also FIGHTING BLOOD 2—Reel Boxing Match	Monday, Dec. 3rd. CHARLES (BUCK) JONES —In— "BIG DAN" 7—REEL DRAMA The story of a leader of men who was followed by women. The story of a fictitious Hercules who was safe until Dan Cupid donned the gloves. It proves that boxing gloves, with brawny hands inside are helpless before ladies' gloves with white delicate hands inside. What can be done when a worthless wife stands in the way of the realization of a perfect love. A solution remarkable in its perspicuity and yet comparative simplicity is offered in "Big Dan." Also THE CYCLIST 2—Reel Comedy.	Tuesday, Dec. 4th. HELENA CHADWICK —In— "THE SIN FLOOD" 7—REEL DRAMA A picture that thrills with the genuine drama of life. A drama that strips the mask from human nature. A picture that lays bare hypocrisy, jealousy and selfishness. A story that proves out the glowing hope of mankind—love for one's fellow man. A great message for all who have eyes to see. The story of this picture is so unusual, so startling, that we will not spoil you the pleasure by disclosing its nature; suffice to say that it contains a noble message to all mankind and is thrilling in every foot of action.
