There are many problems we have to meet, new suggestions have to be weighed, will it do, will it work? I have a plan for raising revenue for two of the hardest we have taxes for, home and foreign missions. If I can get the farmers, preachers, and mission folks behind it, sure it will go. I have seen women work themselves almost sick trying to get mission collections many preachers have taken on new life by their help. We are living in a new age, things are done differently, quicker, better and easier.

I want to add a third item making three; one is for a real doctor to visit every school in the country once a month, examine all children furnish him a good office where he can treat those that are not able to pay. The saddest thing I ever heard was a little girl say "my mamma would be alive today if we had had money to have had her doctor in time." Many children over our country that have throat trouble, they have no money but they should not have to go through life handicapped. We should give them a chance. They will have a hard time at the best. All people that make a success, advertise—so must we. We need an up-to-date sewer at the capital of Dickens County. They could get two or three old farmers to dig the ditch, pay them in three year old script, raise their taxes to cover it—see? When it was completed build a high wall around the lavatory, put a door to it, give some good man a job as door keeper, charge an admission and give the whole works Spur, gave a nice present for a new name. Sample and King, a name for their filling station. Let us call it the "Great Aroma Factory of the South." But to make it more impressive, let us call it the "Aroma Boys and Their Factory."

We get our boys that play baseball foot ball and other games, suits to wear so we can distinguish them anywhere, and they have to have nine—we would only have to get five. Why did we not think and get them sooner, so they could have worn them as they play ball and electioneer for office? We can get the lumbermen to help us so we can put up bill-boards on all highways of our county. Our county papers will give us a cut rate on advertising space. I suggest we put it like this. Everybody ought to see the mountains of New Mexico, the Carlsbad Caverns—but you have not seen the West until you have visited the Aroma Boys and their factory at Dickens City, the court house and jail where we have to send our prisoners to another county for safe keeping. One third of the money goes on taxes, one-third on missions, one third to doctors for services to the poor.—M. L. Blakely.

Big Celebration at Silver Falls Lake on July 4 and 5

An appropriate entertaining program is being arranged for Silver Falls for July 4th and 5th, and thousands are expected to be there to enjoy the programs as well as

Sheriff Barber Jails Two Burglars This Week

Sheriff Barber this week placed Dick Fitzgerald in the Dickens jail, and Louis Blackwell in jail at Lubbock, both of whom are charged with burglary on four counts, one of which was burglarizing the Bryant-Link Company warehouse or wholesale department some time ago.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION AT ABILENE

Abilene, June 26, 1930. The mile-a-minute thrills of speeding race cars and zooming motorcycles, and the glamorous spectacle of a bathing girl pageant, will have prominent parts in the annual Independence Day program in Abilene.

On the five-eighths-mile Fair Park speedway will be 100 laps of automobile racing and five and ten-mile cycle dashes. The racing program is sponsored annually by the West Texas Fair association as a Fourth of July celebration. Purses for this year's card total $3,200, the speed cars drawing $2,500 of the sum.

The bathing revue will be staged at Lytle Beach beginning at 7 o'clock Friday night, July 4. Entrants from throughout West Texas are invited to compete. At the close of the pageant the skies will be streaked with varied colored fireworks—an elaborate display.

The track events will begin at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The speedway has been treated with a layer of calcium chloride. The program has been sanctioned by the American Automobile association and by the American Motorcycle association.

Two Municipal Light Plants Sold Out to West Texas Utilities

By a majority of nearly two to one, the citizens of Texline, Texas, voted to sell to the West Texas Utilities Company their municipally owned electric light and water plant. This is the third electric properties in the Panhandle recently purchased by the West Texas Utilities Company two of which, Texline and Stratford were municipally owned and Dumas, which was privately owned.

When the Texline properties are officially taken over, this company will be serving 116 cities, towns and communities in West Texas.

THREE WOMEN IN DICKENS AND FIVE IN KENT SEEK POLITICAL PREFERMENT

Dickens county has three women candidates, and Kent county has four. Mesdames Cobb, and Twaddell, and Miss Virginia Worswick are seeking offices in Dickens county, including the three offices of county treasurer, county school superintendent and district clerk. All four women of Kent county are seeking the county treasurer's office.

W. R. Johnson Announces for Representative

Representative W. R. Johnson, of Snyder, was in Spur last week campaigning for reelection to the office of Representative to the State Legislature from this the 118th district, and while here called in and had the Texas Spur to make his public announcement through its columns.

Dr. Johnson is now serving his first term in the Legislature, Dickens county being credited with giving him the nomination by a bi majority vote two years ago.

Since it is charged that Representative Johnson was absent on many occasions from the legislative halls during the several sessions, he states that he was absent no more than two or three times, except on occasions when he was serving on committees and therefore excused. Representative Johnson served on four important committees, giving the greater part of his time to committee work and not being on the floor of the house but seldom.

By reason of his experience and familiarity with legislative and committee work, Representative Johnson states that he is in a position and now much better fitted to render more valuable and beneficial service a second term than in the first, and he asks voters to give his candidacy for a second term to the Legislature a due and deserved consideration.

Thermometer Registered 110 in Spur Wednesday

Wednesday was the hottest day on record in Spur, the thermometer registering up to 110. Tuesday and Wednesday were also the two longest days as well as hottest of the year.

Roy Brim Hurt in Car Wreck Sunday Near Kalgary

Roy L. Brim suffered a broken ankle and other painful injuries Sunday when the car in which he was riding was overturned several times, caused by a blow-out of one of the tires, on the road near Kalgary. There were seven people in the car at the time, others receiving minor injuries.

Mr. Brim was brought to the Nichols Sanitarium where his wounds were dressed and treated. He has been employed with W. E. Ford on his farm and ranch at Kalgary.

Six People Drown in High Waters of This Western Country

At least six persons were drowned in swollen streams and another was missing after the sudden rise on Lake Creek, in Knox county, as a result of heavy rains over a large part of West Texas during the last two days of last week.

The bodies of Oscar Tidwell, his wife and their two children, Oscar Jr., 8, and Edna Bell, 17, were recovered late today from the waters of the creek, after the flood had carried away their home near Goree, Mrs. W. M. Gilliland, 80, Mrs. Tidwell's mother, still was missing and searchers continued their efforts tonight by lantern light.

Four members of the C. C. Palmer family, first reported missing after their home on Lake Creek near Munday was inundated, tonight were found safe at the home of a neighbor, where they had sought refuge. Lindsey Phillips, 15, of near Kirven, was drowned Saturday when his automobile ran off the road into Tehuacana Creek near Fairfield.

Kent County Farmers Plant Crops Three Different Times

The flood of rain and hail, and also the awful sand storm that visited this section last Thursday afternoon did great damage where ever it hit. Jeff Whatley lost over three hundred acres from blowout by the sand storm, though he got no rain or hail. Other farmers were hailed and rained out. Take it the country over the damage was just about as heavy as caused by any storm that has ever visited Kent County in years.—Chronicle.

Rain and Hail Fell in Sections of the Spur Country Wednesday

Wednesday morning local showers of rain accompanied with hail in some sections, fell within the Spur territory.

A good rain, amounting to from one-half inch to one and a half inches fell in the north part of the county, including Elton, Afton and other communities of the northern part of the county. At Elton a damaging hail accompanied the rain, ruining seventy five acres of cotton for Mr. Scott and possibly injuring other crops in that immediate territory.

The rain also included Kent and Stonehall counties, four inches being reported at Aspermont and at Anson in Jones county. A heavy rain also fell at Clairemont where hail also did much damage to the crops. A good rain is also reported at Jayton, the rainfall being lighter at Girard.

A very light shower fell in the immediate Spur territory Thursday evening, while the clouds indicated heavier rains in the nearby surrounding territory.

While a general rain over the country would be welcome, yet the local rains will be of inestimable value to the sections covered.

District Candidates Campaigning in Spur Last Week

Judge Kenneth Bain, Attorney Jeff D. Ayers, of Floydada, as well as Judge Brummett of Dickens county, candidates for district judge of the 110th district, were all in Spur one day the past week campaigning, as was also District Attorney A. J. Foley and Representative W. R. Johnson of Floydada and Snyder. They were each very pleasant callers at the Texas Spur office during the day. They are very pleasant gentlemen, and we wish it were possible that all of them could be elected to office—and we are confident the offices will be well filled with either of them as the favored one for the respective places sought.

A STRAW VOTE FAVORS "MA" FOR GOVERNOR

A straw vote taken at the recent Dickens County Democratic Executive Committee meeting indicates that "Ma" Ferguson will carry the county by a large plurality vote in the coming primary election.

There were nineteen votes polled at the meeting for governor, with the result that Ma was given twelve, Davidson three, Love three, and Mavfield one vote.

While the campaign for both state and county offices, to this date has been the quietest we have ever before experienced, yet it may be possible that all voters have already made up their minds and on election day go to the polls just as quietly and vote their own sentiments.

It is generally conceded that Ma Ferguson will be in the run-off—and it is further conceded that the Republicans have a chance of electing the first Republican Governor of Texas—especially if Ma and Love happen to get in the democratic run-off primary.

Miss Maude Clemmons Entertained With Music Recital

Friday evening of last week Miss Maude Clemmons entertained a few favored guests with a musical program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hogan, rendering a number of piano selections.

Miss Maude has been studying music under famous teachers the past year or two. She is a real artist in music.

All County and Precinct Candidates Get Names on the Ticket

All of the forty county and precinct candidates paid their assessments within the prescribed time, and all of their names will appear on the tickets, with the exception of W. A. Craddock, and G. W. Rash who withdrew from the race, and also T. J. Sanders who had announced for district judge and who withdrew favoring his brother, J. R. Sanders, who is running for county attorney.

A total of $897.50 was paid in to the Democratic Executive Committee by the county and precinct candidates, and about $10.00 by district candidates—state candidates not having paid a county assessment.

A total of ninety six names have been filed for a place on the ballots, including the forty county candidates, with thirteen for governor, six for lieutenant governor, and 31 other candidates for state offices.

Considering the financial depression, we consider it a remarkable coincidence that a full payment of candidates assessments was made at this time. However, the assessments were evidently not met without drawbacks at least on the part of some candidate whom we know had to worry and borrow, the most noteworthy instance of a candidate's resourcefulness, being that of J. M. Reese, candidate for constable, who rounded up help and picked five or six bushels of wild plums, selling them for ten dollars with which to pay his assessment.

FIRE DAMAGES THE SPUR TAILOR SHOP SATURDAY

Fire, caused from an explosion of cleaning liquid, did much damage to the Spur Tailor Shop and equipments Saturday about noon.

The fire department responded promptly to the alarm, saving the business from complete destruction. The shop has been closed throughout the week, awaiting the insurance adjustment, and possibly the arrival of necessary new machinery and equipments for the shop.

COWBOY REUNION AT STAMFORD IN PROGRESS

Stamford, June 26 1930. With arrangements completed for a group of 50 Comanche Indians from the government reservation in Oklahoma to put on a two hour show each evening during the Texas Cowboy reunion in this city, June 26, 27 and 28, a well balanced program has been provided for the thousands who will attend the affair.

During each afternoon, a western cowboy rodeo in which approximately 100 actual working ranch hands will compete for liberal cash prizes, will be staged, and after the Indian show in the evening, an old-fashioned ranch dance with real pioneer music will be held in the open air pavilion.

The opening feature will be a monster street parade. In the aggregation will be 50 Indians, the cowboy rodeo contestants, the pioneer cattlemen and other interesting divisions, along with about a dozen ranch chuck wagons. These wagons will be on display throughout the affair and ranch cooks will be with them.

Cotton Acreage is Estimated at 45 Million Acres

New York, June 23. (UP)—As a result of inquiries made in the South, the Fairchild bureau estimates the acreage planted to cotton at 45,000,000 acres, according to Herbert Cateron of the Fairchild reporting bureau at the seminar of that institution today.

Cateron stated that the federal farm board's program to cut the acreage to 40,000,000 acres was not adopted by the South because it was impractical.

TWO FRIENDS

I arose early in the morning
About my labor went.
From my heart I sang a song
Of happiness and content.
For in all this great America
There's none more blessed than I.
The mocking bird sang so merrily,
Not a cloud in the azure sky
I counted my blessings o'er and o'er.
Home, husband, children, dear.
A score of friends to love me
And bring me joy and cheer.
In an hour she came to see me
Joy hastened out the door:
She told me more unkind things
Than I'd ever heard before.
It seemed that there was not one
Friend in this whole world for me
My bark was floundering in the dark
On an angry sea.
She was gone and took away
My gladness and my song.
They did not return again that day
Though I searched the whole day long.
I arose in the early morning
There was so much to do;
For all the world was up side down
I never could get through.
The mocking bird tried his noblest
To tell me "be glad and gay."
But I couldn't think of a blessing
To cheer me on my way.
She came and my joy returned
Peace came into my heart.
Old man gloom went out the door
With her he had no part.
She told me more of the kindest things
Than I had ever heard before.
The sun and sky were bright again
And my friends were more than a score.
From my heart I blessed her
Because she came my way
For Jesus must have sent her
To drive the clouds away.
My bark came halting home
On a calm untroubled sea.
It's good to have a friend like her
To be a joy to me.

ARE WE DRIFTING INTO SOCIALISM

There is considerable food for thought in the decision handed down last week by the Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to the proposed purchase of the G. T. & W. and Frisco came to an agreement as to the price to be paid for the road. The trade was duly made and was approved by the Texas railroad commission. It now lacked only the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission to make it effective. The matter was taken up before that body last week and that body plainly stated that it saw no reason to object to the purchase of the road by the Frisco. In fact it was thought to be a very desirable thing. But the commission did object to the price agreed upon. The Frisco had agreed to pay $2,300,000 for the road and the commission said that price was too large by $500,000. The parties are given 30 days in which to make a deal which will meet the approval of the commission.

We have here two parties desiring to make a trade. They have both agreed upon the price and both are satisfied with it. One of them has a railroad for which it has no use. The other needs the railroad and is willing and anxious to pay the price asked for it. But one of the Bureaus of our government says: "No! You do not know what a railroad is worth. A half million dollars must be taken off the purchase price before we will approve the sale."

There is no question as to the purchaser's being a competent judge of the value of a railroad. The Frisco Railroad company is one of the most successful in the country. Neither is there any question as to desirability of the road it seeks to buy. The Santa Fe would gladly give the purchase price, and even more for this property. It occupies a strategic point in railroad circles. It is the key road lying between the Plains country and Ft. Worth.

Here is a railroad that owns property which is worth a vast sum to other roads on account of its peculiar location. They are willing to pay the price asked, but the commission says nothing more than the physical value of the road can be paid for it.

Are affairs in Russia run on a more socialistic form than this—
Lovington (N. M. Leader).

A FRIENDLY SPIRIT

A friendly spirit among a community's leaders is essential to town progress. When men play together, and it is only when they work together that they record achievements that classify their city among the progressive communities of the country.

Anyone who would wish to see his town prosper and grow should first seek to find ways and means of creating a friendly cooperative spirit among its business leaders, and among all of its citizens in fact.

Suspicion, animosity, and factionalism never thrive in a friendly atmosphere. To remove these obstacles to community growth it, therefore, becomes necessary to find ways and means of bringing the community's citizens closer together.

W. W. Flournoy, who has been operating and managing a picture show business the past year at different points on the Plains, has recently moved back to Spur. Mrs. Flournoy has not yet arrived but is expected soon.

OVERDRAFT!

When haphazard, political or grafting methods prevail in a city, expenses outrun income and the result is a deficit. Chicago recently gave the country a brilliant example of what a city government ought not to do, and it took the combined efforts of thousands of patriotic citizens to extricate the city from the embarrassing situation of being unable to pay its employees—even its policemen.

Dallas now shows up with 300,000 on the wrong side of the ledger, according to the Dallas News. Officials refer to it as an "overdraft," euphemism should be discarded for the plainer and blunter term, debt.

Counties frequently find themselves in the same case, and to tide themselves over to another tax harvest, resort to borrowing from Peter to pay Paul, and even States have been guilty of the same practice. Loose methods and divided responsibility have cost taxpayers millions.

But the municipality always has resources from which to recoup its wastes and losses. The lands, goods and occupations of its people stand back of its debts. Taxes foot the bills eventually, except in those rare cases when some small city becomes bankrupt, through trying to ape big city ways with inadequate resources. This has happened in the Southwest and will happen again.

Overdrafts or debts, as you prefer to call them, when used for current expenses, seldom wreck municipalities, for the reasons mentioned. But they are bad business just the same. How much more so when they become the habitual practice of the individual, who has no escape by passing the cost to others! Farm and Rtch.

TAX FACTS

In a recent article, Merle Thorpe editor of Nations Business, brings out some interesting facts about taxation.

The tax collector according to Mr. Thorpe, takes from each of us a days labor out of each week. We earn around 80 billion dollars a year and the tax bill is 13 billions about one sixth.

Out of every 11 persons working, one is a public employe. A comparatively few years ago the ratio was one in 22. If the modern trend toward a bigger bureaucracy continues, probably one person in every five will soon be living off the rest of us.

Mr. Thorpe blasts the old supposition that taxes are paid by the corporations and the wealthy, and points out that every dollar taken in taxes from railroads or any other business, must be collected in turn, from the customers of that business.

Sixteen cents out of every American dollar goes to the government. That's a fact worth thinking about before enlarging governmental functions in any direction.

H. C. Allen, of Dry Lake, received a message Tuesday morning informing him of the death of his sister which occurred Tuesday morning at her home in Electra. Mrs. Bettie Millholland would have been seventy years of age had she lived until September. She had been in ill health for some time. Mr. Allen having been called to her bedside several months ago because of her critical condition at that time. We extend our sympathy to Mr. Allen in this bereavement. He left for Electra Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral which will be held Wednesday.

Three Hot Weather Salads

By JOSEPH BOGGIA, Chef
The Plaza Hotel, New York City

THE salad is always welcome in hot weather, frequently serving as the piece de resistance of the meal. It is doubly welcome if it is prepared with the thoughtful care which every really good cook delights in devoting to a dish that can be made so appealing to the most fastidious appetite.

In making the dressing, measure your ingredients accurately. Mix them thoroughly. Be sure that the completed mixture is cold and moist but with no excess liquid. Select crisp salad leaves, wash them in plenty of cold water, rinse them and dry them, allowing only a particle of moisture to remain in the crevices of the leaves. Be sure that the salad bowl and plates are thoroughly chilled.

Victorian Salad (Individual)—Peel and slice off the top of a tomato. Scoop out the inside. Mix with one chopped olive, one-half teaspoon chopped onion, two teaspoons chopped celery, one teaspoon chopped green pepper, one-fourth teaspoon sugar, and two teaspoons mayonnaise. Return the mixture to the tomato. Set in lettuce leaves. Top with mayonnaise and sprinkle with minced parsley.

Salad Succotant—Pare and slice thin one medium-size cucumber. Cover with cold, salted water, and let stand in refrigerator for one hour. Thin a small cream cheese with four tablespoons cream, and add one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon powdered sugar, one-fourth teaspoon paprika and two tablespoons lemon juice. Drain and thoroughly dry the cucumber. Mix the slices in with the dressing. Spread over lettuce leaves which have been arranged on the salad plates. Slice thin six hamquats or a green pepper and scatter over the salad.

Herbaceous Dressing—Serve with asparagus, tomato, or plain lettuce. Mix together one-half cup salad oil, five tablespoons vinegar, one-half teaspoon powdered sugar, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons pimentos, chopped fine, two tablespoons green peppers, chopped fine, one-half tablespoon finely chopped onion, and one-half tablespoon finely chopped parsley. Chill thoroughly in glass jar. Shake well just before serving.

BEATS ANYTHING I EVER HEARD OF, DECLARES RAYBORN

"There's No Doubt About It, Argotane is Best Medicine Going," Says Sweetwater Locomotive Engineer.

"When it comes to getting rid of bad stomach and liver trouble Argotane beats anything I ever heard of," said Esber F. Rayburr who lives at 7061-2 East Broadway, Sweetwater, Texas, and is well known locomotive engineer.

If there is anything that will make life miserable for a fellow," he continued, "it is a real bad case of stomach trouble. More than ten months ago my stomach went back on me and I have had a highly tough time of it ever since. I lost my appetite to start with, and could hardly eat enough to keep my strength up so I really dreaded the meal time to come around for what little I did eat would sour as soon as I ate and the gas would form and would cause awful pains in the pit of my stomach. I had occasional headaches which I think was from biliousness and was constipated most all the time.

"I heard much about Argotane and the good it seemed to be doing so many people so I decided to try it myself and see if it would do as much for me. Well sir, I honestly feel like a brand new man today and I have taken Argotane only a very short while. I am hungry all the time now, and eat three big meals a day and I never suffer from it one bit and I note from that, my stomach is in good condition. In fact I am feeling better in every way than I have felt in a long time. There is no doubt about it—Argotane is the best medicine going and I am glad to recommend it to everybody." Genuine Argotane may be bought in Spur at the Spur Drug Co.

Hints For Homemakers

THE next time you start out on a shopping tour put a few pieces of candy in your handbag. Sugar is one of the world's greatest energy foods, and it's simply marvelous how a couple of pieces of candy in the midst of a long afternoon in the shops will drive away that exhausted feeling, giving you plenty of energy to carry on.

* A Turkish towel placed in the bottom of the dishpan, or sink will greatly lessen the chances of breaking fragile glass or chinaware while it is being washed. The glass and china should not be placed in the dishpan until it has been filled with as much water, of the desired temperature, as you need.

After the First Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Fernan Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration, and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Rafaela races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the tortuous Amancaes road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden.

This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.

"Things I Ate Hurt Me"

"I HAD a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheiser, 7 River St., Piedmont, S. C. "So many things that I ate hurt me, I almost quit eating."

"I would burn in my chest. I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me."

"A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught?'"

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine. I soon regained my health and strength." Costs only 1 cent a dose.

The Idle Stomach—Our Most Serious Unemployment Problem

By E. V. McCollum, Ph.D., Sc.D.

Author of "The Newer Knowledge of Nutrition," "Food, Nutrition and Health," etc., Professor of Bio-Chemistry, School of Hygiene and Public Health, Johns Hopkins University.

LIVING as we do nowadays on a diet consisting largely of concentrated and highly refined foods, many persons too often overlook the absolute need for a certain quantity of "indigestibles"—food that keeps the digestive tract healthfully at work and provides the excess bulk so necessary to promote well being.

It is a recognized law of Nature that the digestive tract of any creature is adapted to suit the kind of diet to which the species long has been accustomed. And in order to obtain a clear picture of the importance of roughage in the human dietary, it might be well for us to review briefly the three types of creatures—including man—that compose the animal kingdom.

First, there is the species known as herbivora, who subsist entirely upon food of vegetable origin. These have stomachs of enormous capacity, and intestines which are large enough to contain the great residues of indigestible matter which result from a diet of coarse herbage. The lining membranes of the stomach and intestines of herbivorous animals, too, are highly resistant to mechanical injury and tolerate without damage the friction of the coarse residues as they pass along the digestive tract.

Flesh-Eating Animals

Next in the scale of animal species we find the carnivora, who restrict their food solely to the flesh of other animals. In this group we find that the digestive tract is of much smaller capacity, as a result, no doubt, of long adherence to food of exclusively animal origin. Meat, glandular organs and fat, we know, are highly concentrated foods; and even a small bulk suffices to provide ample nutrients for growth and the maintenance of weight, even when much of the food consumed is burned for the performance of work or the production of heat.

While the digestive tract in these flesh-eating animals functions satisfactorily without much indigestible material on which to work, it must be remembered that the carnivora, under natural conditions, take a great deal of exercise and that the residue from their food is quite smooth in texture. Even so, many of these animals—as the dog, cat, lion and tiger—eat much bone substance, which is changed by the strong acidity of the stomach to form insoluble and fairly bulky material of a mass favorable to the mechanical functioning of the intestine, and thus makes elimination possible at a rate which is consistent with health.

Coming now to man—the third type of species in the animal kingdom—we find that he is omnivorous. Except in the far North, where no vegetable food is available, human beings draw their nutriment from both plant and animal life. Nevertheless, man cannot eat very bulky vegetable food in any considerable quantity, because his digestive tract is of small capacity. Neither can he safely eat of the coarser vegetables, because the lining membranes of his stomach and intestines are too delicate to withstand the scraping of the coarser particles of indigestible matter without injury.

What Cooking Does

One way in which man has attempted, and with success, to eat safely the coarser root and leafy vegetables, is through softening and disintegrating the cellulose of those foods by cooking them. The cooking process not only decomposes some of their substances classed as cellulose, but makes the remainder of the food more digestible and thus averts the after distress of eating. When some of the smaller and fugitive tribes of American Indians were forced into localities in which game was scarce and food plants not abundant, they were compelled by circumstance to eat grass seed, acorns and other vegetable foods which are coarser than humans are accustomed to eat. They suffered greatly from indigestion, and doubtless injured their digestive tracts by taking cellulose which was too coarse and irritating. They had not less than a score of "grandmother" remedies for indigestion to attest these experiences.

Common knowledge tells us that indigestible things are dangerous if eaten freely; yet it is equally clear that our intestines do not function properly unless there is a certain amount of indigestible matter to distend them to the right degree, and to form a mass which is favorable to the muscular contractions of the intestine to move along with the peristaltic waves.

Between the extremes of having in the intestine too much and too coarse cellulose on the one hand, and too little indigestible bulky matter on the other, lies the happy medium which is favorable both to comfort and health. There are many kinds of cellulose in different vegetable products. It forms the framework and fibers of plants, the walls of vegetable cells and the coverings of seeds. In most of its forms, cellulose is insoluble in boiling water; and it is not acted upon by any of the digestive juices, though certain kinds of bacteria are capable of fermenting and digesting the cellulose of certain plants.

Bran is probably the form of cellulose which has been most discussed in connection with the improvement of intestinal hygiene through facilitating elimination. There is good reason for believing, however, that when bran is eaten exclusively for promoting intestinal hygiene, it generally is eaten too freely. If properly softened through cooking, and taken in amounts no greater than are afforded by eating the whole cereal as a breakfast food, it is undoubtedly an excellent source of cellulose.

What has been said of wheat bran and its benefits is even more particularly true of the cellulose of the rice kernel. Rice is the principal cereal grain in the dietary of more than half the human race. Those who have been brought up on a diet constantly containing rice like it better than any other cereal. We have, in America, long been accustomed to eating small amounts of rice occasionally, but we generally never have eaten it as freely as we have either wheat or corn.

Cellulose of Rice Softest

The cellulose of the corn kernel is considerably more difficult to digest and more irritating than the cellulose of either wheat or rice. Of the three, the cellulose of rice is the softest and smoothest; and for regulating the elimination of children, or of adults with delicate digestive systems, it is almost ideal as a source of bulky matter.

A few faddists doubtless eat too much of cellulose-rich foods, particularly green leafy vegetables. While we never should become extremists about any feature of the diet, it is a fact that the modern food regimen often is lacking in bulky cellulose, and this matter of an idle stomach and digestive tract is one of the most serious unemployment problems that confronts the human race today.

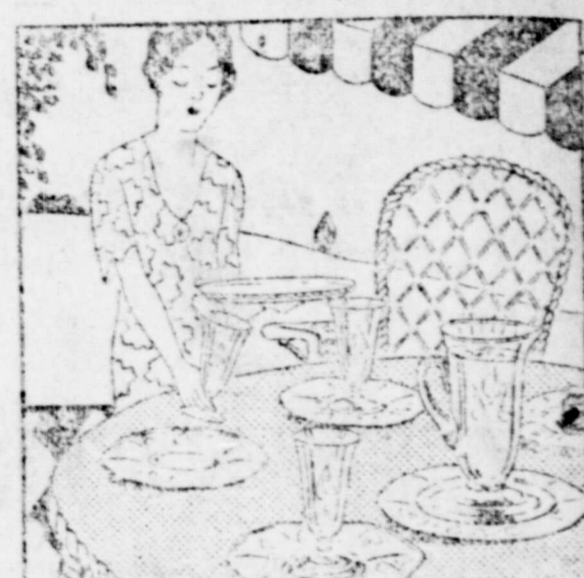

Mrs. Cecil Scott, of the Duck Creek community, underwent an operation at the Nichols Sanitarium on June 19th. The operation was successful in every respect, and the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Scott will be glad to know that she is reported doing nicely and recovering very satisfactorily to Dr. Nichols and the Sanitarium nurses.

O. A. Lambert called in Thursday and had the Texas Spur mailed to him at Lubbock to which place he and wife recently moved. Mr. Lambert recently resigned his place as manager of the Pitchfork Ranch and is now associated with Mr. Baze in the land, cattle and investment business at Lubbock.

Mrs. J. W. Jennings, who is now living at New Hobbs, New Mexico, was in Spur this week visiting with friends. Mrs. Jennings went from here to Electra to visit with her daughter and family of that section of country.

Hints For Homemakers

THE new glassware in pastel shades of topaz, rose, green, amber or mauve, is lovely for serving iced beverages on the porch or in the garden. The pitcher, glasses, plates, and dishes for cakes, sandwiches, candy and lemon, may all be had in the same shade, either etched or plain.

Children who protest against eating carrots may develop a liking for this important vegetable if it is prepared as follows: Scraper new carrots, cut in pieces about one-fourth inch square, boil in salted water until tender, drain, place in pan, and brown lightly in butter with sugar sprinkled over them to make a glaze.

New Dishes to Relieve The Monotony of Meals

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company.

SOMETIMES we hesitate to try a new dish because we are afraid it will not appeal to the rest of the family, and we go on cooking the old standbys until our meals fall into a rut. This is foolish, because there are many hundreds of excellent recipes for dishes so good that very few people could help liking them. And by using a wide variety of recipes we not only relieve the monotony of our meals for those who must eat them, but also help keep up our own interest in cooking the regular three meals a day.

These recipes are all so good that you will want to use one of them every day until you have tried the entire list. I am sure:

Stuffed Ham Roll:—1 slice ham about 1/2 inch thick, 1 cup bread crumbs, a few grains of pepper, 1/2 teaspoon Prepared Mustard, 1 medium size can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce. Soak ham in water if salty. Make a dressing of crumbs, with enough liquid to moisten. Cover slice of ham with dressing, roll up like a jelly roll, and tie firmly. Put in roasting pan or casserole, cover with Cream of Tomato Soup, and surround with 1 cup par-boiled carrots. Cook until carrots and meat are tender.

Round steak, cut thick, 1/2 cup flour, 2 tablespoons fat, a few slices of onion, salt and pepper, 1/2 green pepper chopped fine, 2 cups boiling water, or 1 1/2 cups water and 1/2 cup Tomato Ketchup. Mix the salt and pepper with the flour and pound into the meat. Brown the meat in a skillet, then add the onion, green pepper, boiling water and tomato. Cover closely and simmer slowly until done. This may be cooked in a casserole in the oven, or in a skillet on the stove.

Baked Cottage Ham:—1 cottage ham, 1 dozen whole cloves, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon Pure Vinegar, 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard, bread crumbs and a few tablespoons water. Soak ham over night in water. Pour this water off, and cover the ham with cold water. Bring to boiling point slowly, and simmer until ham is tender. Allow to cool in the liquid in which it has boiled. Then remove excess fat and any tough skin, and stick cloves in one side. Make a syrup of sugar, mustard, vinegar, and a small amount of water and pour over the ham. Cover one side with bread crumbs and bake until delicately brown, basting occasionally with the syrup.

Beefsteak Pie:—Steak or roast beef cut into 1 inch cubes, 1 onion, 1/4 cup Tomato Ketchup, 1 teaspoon Beefsteak Sauce, a small amount of flour and water, salt and pepper, and 4 medium size potatoes. Cover cubes of steak with boiling water, add onion, Tomato Ketchup, and Beefsteak Sauce. Cook slowly for thirty minutes. Remove onion, thicken gravy with a small amount of flour and water, and add salt and pepper to taste. Add potatoes, which have been cut into 1/4 inch slices and parboiled in boiling salted water for eight minutes. Put into a buttered baking dish, cool slightly, and cover with baking powder biscuit dough or pie crust. Bake in a hot oven for twenty minutes and serve with Tomato Ketchup.

Fish Fillets with Tomato and Olive Sauce:—6 individual fish fillets, 1/3 cup crushed Rice Flakes, 4 tablespoons butter or Pure Spanish Olive Oil, and 1 beaten egg. Dip fillets in beaten egg, then in crushed Rice Flakes. Sauté in fat until tender and a golden brown. Serve with:

Tomato Sauce:—2 tablespoons butter, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 small can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 small bottle Spanish Olives (chopped), and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Melt butter, and add finely chopped onion. Cook until onions are tender, then add flour, and stir until smooth. Add Tomato Soup, chopped Olives, and salt, stirring until well blended and hot.

His sister, Miss Eva Ray Fallis, returned home with Mr. Fallis and will attend Spur High School the next session. Mr. Fallis said that in Ellis county, as well as other sections of the Eastern part of the state, he saw fine crops of oats and corn, but that cotton crops are very spotted, that section having had too much rain, crops also suffering loss from hail storms. The Spur country is very evidently in as fine shape with respect to crops as any part of the country.

DR. CALDWELL'S THREE RULES

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not habit forming.

The Doctor never did approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headache, and to break up fevers and colds. Get a bottle today, at any drugstore and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open. For a free trial bottle, just write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois.

JAKE PARALYSIS INVESTIGATION

"Jake" paralysis, which has been in vogue in many parts of country for some time is undergoing intensive investigation by governmental officials.

The many cases of this disease have at least made drinkers all over the country cautious and thus tended to hinder liquor traffic temporarily. After making a trip to Mississippi and Louisiana U. S. Prohibition Commissioner Doran, declared the concoction consisted of creosote, carbolic acid, alcohol and the ginger flavoring and that some impurity in the creosote was believed to be causing the malady.

J. M. Calvert was among the number trading in Spur the past week.

LIMBER NECK DISEASE NOW LAID TO USE OF "JAKE"

Oklahoma City, June 8.—Prevalence of a form of face and neck paralysis believed to be caused by drinking poison liquor is alarming. Oklahoma City physicians, according to city Health Director Miles.

Miles said the condition is known as "swellhead" or "limberneck" and that it is caused by drinking poison liquor. He said the victim's face becomes swollen and that the neck becomes uncontrollable from partial paralysis.

Attorney W. D. Wilson has been out of the city several days this week, either on professional business or fishing with professional friends in the mountain streams of New Mexico and Colorado.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1929-30 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1929, by Howle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 29

"Never lead away from a king" is a fair rule, generally speaking, but sometimes the rule must be broken. As an example, take the following hands:

Hand No. 1

Hearts—K, 10
Clubs—K, 7, 6
Diamonds—K, 8, 4, 3
Spades—K, 7, 6, 2

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt, bid three hearts and all passed, what is A's proper opening lead?

In this hand, A has four suits, each of which contains a king, so in this hand, at least, the rule "never lead from a king" must be broken. The question then arises, which of the four suits should A lead? That fact should be determined by the bid of three hearts. If Z has a sound three-heart bid, the chances are that he doesn't hold spades. If he had strength in spades, he should have bid one heart so that if overbid by his partner in spades, he would be in a position to help that bid. For these very good reasons, the proper lead with the foregoing hand is the deuce of spades.

Hand No. 2

Hearts—A, Q, 6, 2
Clubs—K, 9, 4
Diamonds—K, 7, 5, 3
Spades—7, 6

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt, bid one spade and all passed, what is A's proper opening lead?

In this hand, each of the four suits presents good reasons for not leading it. Unfortunately, one suit must be opened, so that one which promises less chance of loss than the others should be selected.

A should not lead hearts for, if he does, it will probably cost him a trick. The trump lead would place his partner in the position of having his trump led through up to the strong hand, and so probably cause the latter to lose a trick. Those two suits, therefore, should not be led as tricks would unquestionably be lost by so doing.

The problem is then reduced as to which suit, clubs or diamonds, each containing a king, should be opened. When forced to choose the lead between two suits, each containing a king, choose the shorter suit, in this case clubs. The reason for this choice is that a player with only three cards of a suit stands a smaller chance of having the second or third round of his suit trumped than if he had four cards of the suit, and, therefore, a better chance to make his king. In this hand, A's proper opening lead is the four of clubs.

The following "end plays" were given in the preceding article. The solutions that are given should only be read after an attempt has first been made to solve by the reader.

Answer to Problem No. 23

Clubs are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win all of the tricks against any defense?

Solution: Trick one: Z should lead the five of clubs. A's discard is immaterial. Y should discard the five of diamonds, but what can B discard? If he discards a heart, Y's hearts are both good. If he discards the king of diamonds, Y's ten of diamonds is good. If he discards the king of spades, Z's ten of spades is good. Therefore, no matter what card B discards at the first trick, Y Z must win the remaining three tricks. This problem is the simplest kind of end play in which the solution depends entirely on forcing of discards.

Answer to Problem No. 24

Diamonds are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win three of the four tricks against any defense?

Solution: Trick one: Z should lead the ten of clubs and trump in Y's hand with the five of diamonds. Trick two: Y should now lead the eight of spades. B can do one of two things (a) trump with the queen or (b) the nine of diamonds. (a) If B should trump with the queen of diamonds, Z should discard the jack of hearts and must then lead the nine of diamonds with the ace. (b) If B should trump with the nine of diamonds, Z should overtrump with the jack of diamonds and then make the ace. In either way, therefore, Y Z must win three of the four tricks. If Z should overtrump the queen of diamonds at trick two (a), Y Z would only win two tricks. Z would be forced to lead the jack of hearts, B would trump with the nine of diamonds and lead the king, thus winning two tricks. Also note that the lead of the jack of hearts at trick one is a false solution. B would trump and make at least one more trick with the king queen of diamonds. Also note that if Y doesn't trump the club at trick one, A B will win two tricks, as Z will be left in the lead and must lead a heart or a diamond, thus giving opponents two tricks.

Answer to Problem No. 25

Diamonds—K, Q, 8
Spades—Q, 10, 9

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z win all of the tricks against any defense?

Solution: Trick one: Z should lead the ten of diamonds, forcing Y in the lead. Trick two: Y should now lead the ten of hearts. B can safely discard the queen of diamonds, Z the seven of clubs and A the ten of clubs. Trick three: Y should now lead the nine of hearts. What can B discard? He cannot discard the king of diamonds or Z's nine of diamonds will be good; therefore he is forced to discard the nine of spades. Z should then discard the nine of diamonds; but what can A discard? He cannot discard the jack of clubs or Z's nine of clubs will be good; therefore he must discard the five of spades.

This forcing of both opponents to discard to their disadvantage is the so-called "double squeeze" and a favorite play by the experts. Note carefully that at trick four, Y should lead the ten of spades which Z should win with the king. Trick five: Z should lead the deuce of spades and Y should play the ace.

At trick six, Y's six of spades wins the trick because at trick three both A and B were forced to discard spades to protect their other suits. This end play is as fine an example of the "double squeeze" as can be found because it is simple and forces the discards of both opponents on the same trick. Study it carefully.

A "journeyman printer" called on us one day the past week. A printer can be depended on to give a correct view of the country and the prevailing conditions—and a "journeyman" especially is in position to give a correct report. This printer states that a "depression" is in evidence everywhere, and that this section is apparently in as good shape as the best.

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food so neutralizes acids. And the best all known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, less alkali neutralizes instantly many times as much harmful acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when you learn the efficiency of this. Get a small bottle to try.

Get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians prescribe for 50 years in correct excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—drugstore.

Sheriff Bob Goodall, of county, was in Spur Wednesday this week. Bob is a candidate reelection as sheriff, and in speaking of the campaign stated that to date it had been one of the quietest campaigns ever before experienced in Kent county. It has been very little political anywhere up to this date, but since all candidates have paid assessments and the election is one month off we may expect hear more politics talked. In county there are four candidates for the field for sheriff, including Goodall, Sam McCombs, Jeff Wiley and C. W. Fincher.

Konjola Worked Wonders in My Stubborn Case"
Fort Worth Man Relieved of Severe Attack of Rheumatism, and Eagerly Praises New Medicine.

MR. GOE CONNELLY
"For over a year I suffered with muscular rheumatism, said Mr. Geo. B. Connelly 504 Belknap Street, Ft. Worth. "My entire body was a mass of aches and pains. Finally I was forced to give up my work and was confined to bed. The pains were so severe that I had to be moved very carefully and was helpless and bed-ridden for three months. My nerves were completely gone and I felt at times that I could not bear my suffering another day."
"I sent away for my first treatment of Konjola and was amazed at the results. Within three weeks I was able to get up and around without assistance. Gradually the pain soreness left me and I began to feel my old self again. My nerves settled, constipation was completely banished, and I do not remember when I have felt as well as I do now. Konjola certainly worked wonders in my case."

Though Konjola works quickly, and many sufferers are greatly benefited in a week, a complete treatment of from six to eight bottles is usually recommended for thorough results. Sanders Pharmacy, and by all the Konjola is sold in Spur, Texas at best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Start Every Day Right
By Awakening Appetite

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company.

OCCASIONALLY we hear someone say, "My breakfast this year around is always the same." Certainly this does not sound very appetizing, and most of us would dread breakfast-time if we knew we must eat exactly the same sort of meal day after day. Of course we all know how easy it is to drift into the habit of serving familiar dishes over and over again when we are busy and do not plan our meals ahead of time. And since only certain foods seem suited for breakfast, we sometimes feel it is even harder to vary the menu for that meal than for any other. However, there are many delicious fruits, cereals, hot dishes and breads that can be used to make this important first meal of the day much more interesting. During the spring and summer there is a wide variety of fresh fruit that will be very welcome for breakfast, and the following menus will help provide a number of nourishing, well-balanced meals to start the day right.

 - Surprise Muffins:— 4 tablespoons butter, 1/4 to 1/2 cup Pure

Apple Butter, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 2 cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 3 teaspoons baking powder. Cream butter, add sugar, then egg, and beat well. Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add to first mixture, alternating with milk. Put spoonfuls of batter in a greased muffin pan. On each place a teaspoon of Apple Butter, and cover with a spoonful of batter. Bake in oven 400 degrees F. for 20-25 minutes. This makes 10 large muffins.

Rice Flake Waffles:—Use 1/4 cups flour, 2/3 cup Rice Flakes, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon melted butter, and 1 egg. Mix and sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Beat egg yolk thoroughly, add milk, then add to dry ingredients, and beat thoroughly. Add melted butter and beat in stiffly beaten egg white. Add Rice Flakes, and bake in a hot waffle iron.

Breakfast Betty:—Heat Rice Flakes in the oven. Have ready hot applesauce, mashed prunes or apricots, or any other thick fruit sauce. Place a layer of Rice Flakes in a serving dish, then a layer of cooked fruit, until there are three layers of Rice Flakes and two of fruit. Serve warm with cream or fruit juice.

Spanish Omelet:—Fry 1 chopped green pepper and 1 tablespoon chopped onion for five minutes. Add 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1/4 cup chopped Olives, 3 tablespoons Chili Sauce, 2 or 4 dashes sage seasoned with salt and pepper. Cook until eggs are done, stirring occasionally.

Creole Beef on Toasted Muffins:—1/2 lb. sliced dried beef, 2 cups milk, 3 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour and 1/4 cup Chili Sauce. Sauté beef in 1 tablespoon butter. Melt two tablespoons butter, stir in flour. Add milk gradually and stir constantly until thickened. Then add dried beef and Chili Sauce. Serve on toast points or toasted muffins. This serves six.

Fluffy Omelet and Rice Flakes:—For six people use 6 eggs, 8 tablespoons hot water, 3 cups Rice Flakes, and 1 teaspoon salt. Add hot water to the beaten egg yolks, then salt. Fold this mixture into the stiffly beaten egg whites, and then, add the Rice Flakes. Turn into a frying pan, and cook over a slow fire until light brown underneath, and then place in an oven until top is dry. Fold over and serve at once.

TRUST NO BULL, ADVISES HOPPER

Handle Animal Firmly and Keep Him Subdued.

Any effort to make a pet of a bull is bound to be followed by trouble, says Prof. H. A. Hopper of the New York State College of Agriculture. Confidence in bulls is always misplaced; not one is safe.

According to Professor Hopper the young bull should be firmly handled from calfhood and should be taught to recognize man as his master. He should be halter broken and when about one year old a strong ring should be inserted in his nose. By keeping him in a well-built stall and using only strong, properly fitted ties he can be prevented from learning his tremendous strength. All bulls more than a year old should be regarded with suspicion and taught to know their place.

The horns of a bull may be removed at an early age or late if desired. With the young call the use of caustic potash before the horns have started growing is the most humane method to follow. Some stockmen prefer to delay the removal until the bull has reached maturity, when the ordeal of removal and the loss of the horns will tend to "take the conceit out of him." While the dehorned bull is still dangerous, much would be gained if all bulls were dehorned early in life.

With proper arrangements of stall and yard, a dehorned bull handled by a staff attached to a ring in his nose should cause no trouble. However, much will depend on his early training and the courage of his caretaker. Those who wish to know more about the feeding and care of the dairy bull may obtain a free bulletin on the subject by writing to the publications office in Roberts hall, College of Agriculture, Ithaca, New York, and asking for E-614.

Spring Freshening Cows Have Little Advantage

Although spring freshening cows have the advantage of starting their milking year under ideal feed conditions provided by an abundance of luxuriant, nutritious pasture, the cheapest and best of all feeds, such a favorable environment is, short lived. A few weeks later the heat of summer is upon them. Good pasture is less abundant. Pressing work in the field does not permit the farmer to give his cows the attention they require. Flies add to the discomfort of the cows, their milkers and the calves. As a result, cows go down in production and stay down. No methods of feeding have yet been found which will bring them back to good production after they have once been permitted to go down. Furthermore, butterfat prices are generally lower in spring and summer than at any other time of the year.

Before Breeding, Heifers Should Be Carefully Fed

Up to the time that heifers are bred dairy animals should not be overfed. It is well to keep them in good growing condition, but too much fat is to be avoided. Excessive fattening at this time is apt to stunt growth by rushing maturity and producing a "pony" type of animal. After the heifer is bred, however, feeding can be much more liberal. There are then extra demands on the heifer and it is desirable that she have a good store of nutrients against the first lactation period. If these heifers are on really good pasture they are not suffering, although a little grain now will prove profitable later. Fall freshening heifers that are on poor pasture should be fed well, green feed if possible and certainly grain—three to five pounds per head daily.

Underfeeding Wipes Out Profits in Dairy Herd

Underfeeding, or feeding of an incomplete ration, keeps down or wipes out profits in many a dairy herd. One reader goes so far as to say that dairy cows are now better bred than fed; that starved purebreds are no better than starved scrubs. There is still room for improvement along both lines.

The point is, every dairy cow should be fed a complete ration, and as much of it as she will turn into profit. It is the wrong way to feed as little as the cow will get along on and still show a profit or just break even.

Cow testing records prove that liberal feeding is not an expense, but an investment.

Ration for Winter

A feeding program suited to either the man with three to five cows or the specialized dairyman is suggested by E. C. Elting of the Missouri Agricultural college. Because corn is our cheapest feed, he recommends that ground corn or corn and colmeal form the basis of most rations. Some bulk and variety is desirable and may be furnished by wheat bran, ground oats or both. Bran is also rich in minerals, especially lime. It is advisable to feed some protein concentrate.

A CALAMITY CRY ALL

DOWN THE AGES

In a recent sermon a New Jersey Pastor made a statement that sounded quite familiar, as follows:

"There is lawlessness everywhere. Children no longer obey their parents. It is evident that the end of age is at hand."

Then the pastor told his congregation that the words were not original in him, not even an utterance of the present day. They were translated from an inscription on a brick found in the ruins of ancient Assyria dating centuries before the time of patriarch Abraham.

Records which have been preserved during all periods of recorded history give evidence of similar conditions existing in world. Sometimes an improvement is noted; again lawlessness and violence becomes prevalent more than ever.

While present day conditions are bad enough they seem to be on a whole, better than they have been in the past. There is more thought given to the relieving of the suffering to the betterment of individual conditions, to mutual helpfulness and matters to benefit humanity than in former times.

Although the world war gave civilization a severe set back in some respects, we must remember that war has marked the history of every generation of mankind. The same is true of lawlessness, oppression and every other manifestation of immorality.

These will always exist in greater or less degree, so long as good and evil struggle for mastery in the hearts of men.

MRS. BUSBY HONORED WITH A SHOWER WEDNESDAY

Mesdames P. C. Nichols, F. G. Rodgers, E. J. Cowan, Tom Dickey and Jas. B. Reed were joint hostesses at the Nichols home Wednesday, honoring Mrs. J. H. Busby with a stork shower, from 9:30 to 12:00 o'clock. The home was decorated with flowers in profusion for the occasion. Mrs. Minnie Lewis, as a fortune teller, brought in a big suite case filled with many dainty gifts. Punth and cake was served to the number of guests.

MRS. DAVE WILSON HOSTESS

TO THE AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY THURSDAY

Mrs. Dave Wilson was a most pleasant hostess Thursday, June 19, to members of the American Legion Auxiliary at her home in the city. Among the membership present and enjoying the occasion were Mesdames J. R. Sanders, Parmenter, Robert Reynolds, Cargile, Sherrill, Hall, McGee, Fred Hall, Wilson.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held at the American Legion Hall, and all members are especially urged to attend this meeting.

TO VOTERS AND FRIENDS OF PRECINCT NUMBER THREE

As to my drawing out of the race for weigher, I do not have any ill feeling toward any one. I didn't think the "grapes" were hanging just right, so I thought I'd better get out. Hoping all will be elected, I am your friend.—G. W. Rash.

MARRIED.

Miss Idell Cooper and E. P. Woody of Girard, were married at Frederick, Oklahoma, June 1st, and are now at home to their friends in Girard. Mr. Woody is postmaster at Girard, and a young man of high character and many friends, while his bride is a young lady of charm and accomplishments and loved by her many friends.

Lee Dalton, of Palo Pinto, is in Spur visiting with his daughter, Mrs. John Hooper and family. Lee Dalton was one of the first independent, individual ranchers of this country, having established a ranch on Salt Fork in Kent county in 1879, selling out later to the Spur Ranch interests.

Trade at Home—Don Brewster, off Red Hill, was in Spur Saturday.
