

Dr. Grace Died At Home Here Monday, May 16

Dr. J. H. Grace, 64, died at his residence here Monday, May 16, 1932 at 8 p. m. Death was a result of acute indigestion which affected his heart. Attending physicians stated that the doctor's failing health was a contributing factor in his death.

Dr. Grace was born in Ft. Gains, Ga. but moved with his family to Louisiana at an early age and was reared in that state. His father, W. W. Grace was a physician and under his tutelage he studied medicine later attending Simms Medical College at St. Louis, from which he was graduated; obtaining his medical degree. The family moved to Erath county in 1887.

On Christmas Eve, 1889, Dr. Grace was married to Miss Lillian Hellums at Hico where he was engaged in the practice of medicine. And to this union, four daughters and one son were born. And in 1911, following the opening of the new town of Spur, Dr. and Mrs. Grace moved here with their family and established their home.

Among his accomplishments, other than physician and surgeon, Dr. Grace was an ardent admirer of the arts. In his youth he assisted in the painting of the "Fall of the Alamo" which hangs in our State Capitol building at Austin and is famous locally for scenic paintings and the portrait of the beloved County Attorney, which hangs in the county capitol. He was also an accomplished musician and sketch artist.

He is survived by his widow and four children, Mrs. R. E. Dickson and Mrs. Pat Williams of Spur, and Miss Nina Grace and son, Joe W. Grace, of Dallas.

Dr. Grace

The entire community was saddened Monday evening when it was learned that Dr. Grace, pioneer physician and surgeon of this section had passed away at his home here at eight o'clock in the afternoon. Death resulted in an attack of acute indigestion suffered some days ago and from which he was unable to survive. Every effort and the kindest attention was given the Doctor by his friends and family, but to no avail, and the death angle carried from us one of our most learned and beloved friends.

In 1911, two years after the town opened, Dr. Grace moved here with his family and cast his lot with the people of Spur.

During the many years that he has practised in this community his acts of charity and deeds of kindness have been without number. No one knows of the bitter nights that Dr. Grace has attended patients who were not only near death but in dire circumstances and from whom he had no hopes of reward. He was one of the old school who in the practice of his profession made remuneration a secondary consideration and who would tide, flood, and the fear of personal injury, to aid a sole in distress. Many a tear has been shed in the loss of this aged doctor and when the final reckoning comes and the Great Judge tallies up our good deeds and our bad ones, and compares them, Dr. Grace will wear a crown.

We consider it an honor to have been numbered among the friends of this accomplished physician, artist, lecturer and friend of humanity; and until the end we will have only reverence for his memory.

Miller - Smith

On Saturday evening, May 7, Miss Louise Miller, of McAdoo, and Mr. Hugh Smith of Afton, were quietly pronounced husband and wife at the Baptist pastor's home, Spur, by Rev. E. G. Rogers. They were accompanied by their most intimate friends.

The newlyweds will make their home at Afton. Their many friends wish them much happiness and prosperity.

Marshal Formby and Tom Abraham, Editor and Business manager of Torador (Tech paper) were visiting with friends and relatives in Spur and McAdoo.

Methodist Revival To Continue Thru This Week

Interest in the revival has been increasing with each day. Large crowds are attending. People of all churches are attending and taking part in the services. Rev. Wells is stirring the hearts of the people with his power messages both in sermon and song. Each afternoon at 3:15 an object lesson is given the boys and girls. At the close of these services a balloon is sent up with some boy or girl's name fastened to it. Wednesday night Rev. Wells spoke specially to the young people.

Many people have already received great blessings and it looks like there may be a great sweeping revival before the week ends. Sunday is expected to be a big day of the meeting.

Come and enjoy the good singing and these great gospel messages.

Johnson Moving Gin to Plains

J. E. Johnson is this week tearing down one of his gins here for removal to Needmore, one of the new towns west of Lubbock.

The tearing down of this gin removes one of the landmarks of the city, since the old boiler room housed for many years the first light and power company in Spur. The business was run by Mr. Johnson in connection with his ginning business and furnished lights for the city from dark until twelve o'clock at night, when if one wished to keep later hours the lamp must be lit. And it might be said that the lamp was always kept in readiness. Later as the machinery became more efficient and the use of electricity more general, the policy was adopted of running on Thursday mornings for the benefit of the ones who were lucky enough to own an electric iron. Mr. Johnson sold the light business, however, before the then considered absurd policy of running all night long and all day, was adopted; and devoted his entire time to the ginning business, later adding an additional gin.

Only one of the gins is being removed and Mr. Johnson will maintain a business here as well as in the new location.

FUN IN A CHI- NESE LAUNDRY

The pupils of 7A, Spur Junior High School, will present at the East Ward auditorium at 8:15 p. m., May 24th, a two-act play, "Fun in a Chinese Laundry."

This is a play of bright, sparkling fun, a series of side-splitting complications, and plenty of action.

The plot concerns the escapades of Cholly Choppin, the irresponsible cut-up who is hiding from the police in a Chinese laundry. He dons Chinese attire and while eluding his pursuers, assists in amusing the audience for over an hour.

Little Mary, the sunshine of the sunshine of the alley, Mrs. Finigan, an Irish wash-woman, and Fatty Tarbucket, who is always in trouble, contribute to the merriment of the entertainment. Admission will be 25c and 10c.

H. O. Wooten Grocery Moving

The drive-in corner of the building will be torn out and the new place will occupy a floor space 55 x 100 feet. Construction work is being done by Contractor Babe Berry.

The work is being rushed and the building will be ready for occupancy by the 10th of June.

A. P. Duggan is Candidate For State Senator

Arthur P. Duggan, of Littlefield and one of the most prominent citizens of West Texas, was in Spur Thursday and authorized us to place his name in our announcement column as a candidate for State Senator from this district.

Mr. Duggan stated that should he be elected Senator he would not attempt to make innumerable speeches nor pass a multitude of bills. He believes that we have too many already and that fewer and better laws would be one solution of our difficulties. He believes also that a reduction in taxes should be made in proportion to the reduction that the people have been forced to accept in their incomes.

He is strictly a West Texan having cast his fortunes with this section since the year of 1912 and one of his chief desires is to bring about an equalization of taxes that will give to West Texans just benefits in proportion to the amount it contributes to the state funds. Mr. Duggan presents the following facts and figures concerning the unequal distribution of school funds and asks the voters to allow him the privilege of protesting this as well as other unfair burdens placed upon the western part of the State:

"Taxation shall be equal and uniform"—Constitution of Texas. Is it?

Is West Texas getting a Square Deal?

You good citizens who are rightfully complaining about taxes these days, read the following facts and see if we do not need not only Tax Reduction, but a whole lot of Tax Equalization out here, in West Texas.

The Thirtieth Senatorial District is composed of twenty-four counties, viz: Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Kent, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Motley, Stonewall, Terry and Yoakum.

According to 1930 census there were 227,534 people in these counties, and 65,592 scholastics, or children within school age. A total of 55,530 poll tax receipts were issued for the year 1931. The average value of the land assessed for taxes, according to the last Comptroller's Report, is $6.70 per acre.

This district is out in West Texas where development is quite recent—within the past ten to fifteen years. The large majority of the farm homes are not paid for; many counties still need court houses, and paved roads are very scarce. The large part of the expenses of good roads and county improvements is yet to come. The home owners and farmers are still striving to pay for their homes and farms, which is quite

Dorothy Dean Dane Died Sunday, May 15th at Lubbock

Dorothy Dean Dane, 5 months old and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laudy Dane, died Sunday morning at Lubbock Sanitarium, where she had been taken for treatment.

Burial services were held here Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. W. B. Vaughn.

The entire community sympathizes with Mr. and Mrs. Dan in this the loss of their only child. Interment was made in Spur cemetery.

Mrs. Ollie Day Died Tuesday

Mrs. Ollie Day, of Espuela Sanitarium here at 2:00 p. m. Thursday afternoon of last week. Death is attributed to blood poisoning. Surviving her are her husband and parents who have been citizens of this county for many years.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Day's mother, Mrs. Emmert near Dickens, Friday afternoon, interment being made in Dickens cemetery.

different from the situation in the older settled parts of Texas where the majority of the homes have already been paid for, or should have been, and where necessary improvements have been made.

Due to their spirit of progressiveness, and desire to give their children the best possible educational advantages, the people of this Senatorial district—these 24 counties—taxed themselves, for local school purposes during the year ending August 31, 1929 (the last report from the department of education), the sum of $1,697,086.09. They received from the State for all school purposes, during that year, the sum of $1,055,974.77. The per cent of local Sixth district is composed of the counties of Anderson, Freestone, Henderson, Kaufman and Navarro. That district had 189,277 population, 54,580 scholastics and the average value of their lands for taxes was $13.46 per acre. Local school taxes assessed was only $591,248.07, and they received from the State for their schools $922,324.12. The per cent of local school tax to State aid is 64 per cent. They paid into the State the sum of $716,942.92, which lacked $205,381.20 of being as much as they received for their schools.

Now let us look at the figures for another Senatorial district, the Tenth, comprising the rich black land counties of Collin, Hunt, Rockwall and Rains. There were 109,968 people in this district, and 31,736 scholastics. Local school taxes assessed was only $369,638.37 while they took from the State Treasury, for their schools $555,542.74, the percentage being 66 per cent. These counties paid into the State Treasury in taxes $460,327.74, which was $95,215.00 less than they received for their schools. Note that the counties mentioned are not over in the piney woods part of Texas, but in the center of the Black Land Section.

In brief, the 24 counties comprising the 13th Senatorial District, with 65,592 scholastics, taxed themselves for local school purposes the sum of $1,697,086.09, while 9 counties, old established counties too, with a combined scholastic population of 86,376 (20,784 more than in the Thirteenth district) were willing to assess local school taxes amounting to $960,886.44.

Notwithstanding the above the said nine counties drew from the State Treasury for the year, for their schools, nearly Half a Million Dollars, $421,892.09 to be exact, more than the 24 counties out in West Texas.

Anything equal and uniform and fair about that? Is West Texas getting a square deal?

The above figures are not bad at all compared with some real Eastern counties, Nacodoches for instance, and a number of others.

Facts compiled by the Tax Survey Committee in 1926 showed that there are ninety-nine counties in Texas drawing approximately $3,000,000,000 annually for their schools more than they pay into the State Treasury in taxes.

Texas would be about three million dollars better off every year if those 99 counties every-

W. M. Malone Announces For Justice of Peace

W. M. (Walter) Malone has this week authorized The Texas Spur to announce his candidacy for the office of Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 3 which includes the voting boxes of Spur, Espuela, Dry Lake, Highway, Red Mud, Duck Creek and Red Hill; subject to the Democratic primaries, July 23.

Mr. Malone needs no introduction to the voters of this precinct. He has been a citizen of Spur for the past 8 years or more and is highly respected and well liked by all who know him.

During his residence here Mr. Malone has been closely associated with all departments of justice and in all such capacities has merited the confidence of the public. There is no question as to his qualifications and he states that should he be elected the public would be assured of a fair and impartial administration from his department. He requests the careful consideration of the voters at the polls.

ing to Oklahoma or some other state. Again, where is the equality or uniformity in our taxation?

"The thing can not go on and on. Some county comparisons are interesting. We will discuss counties as nearly equal as they can be. There is Lamb and Polk, with areas of 1122 and 1217 square miles respectively, and average valuations of $8.05 and $7.88 per acre. The respective facts relating to Polk and Lamb counties are as follows:

Population 17,565 and 17,452; scholastics 5,343 and 5,240; local school taxes $59,595 for Polk and $203,443.61 for Lamb; respective percentages of tax to State Aid 67 per cent for Polk and 366 per cent for Lamb. Polk County drew school taxes to State Aid was 160 per cent.

During the same year these 24 counties paid into the State Treasury in Taxes the sum of $1,296,834.42 or $240,859.65 more than they received for their schools.

Let us compare that with some other Senatorial districts. The for its schools $88,875.02, while Lamb got $55,487.64, or $33,387.38 less. Lamb county paid in $10,063.77 more than it received, while Polk county drew out for schools alone $17,906.90 more than it paid in. Are the children in Polk county worth more to Texas than the children in Lamb county?

Here is one other comparison, Lubbock and Kaufman, areas of 368 and 834 square miles respectively. Population 39,104 and 40,905; scholastics 10,628 and 11,394; local school taxes $233,758.06 and $121,387.99; per cent 125 per cent and 80 per cent; received for schools $169,006.28 and $192,838.51. Lubbock paid into the State Treasury $17,945.06 more than it received, while Kaufman drew out $41,626.83 more than it paid in.

The further one goes the worse it gets.

"Like the brook this will go on forever until the people of this section get up on their hind legs and demand their rights; demand proper redistricting of the State in Representative and Senatorial and Congressional districts, so that this section may have representation to which the law entitles it. It should pass a law titles it. It should demand the passage of a law making state aid to a county in proportion to the local school tax the county is willing to assess; and it should elect men to office who know the needs of West Texas and will fight for them."

BUDGET THE CANNING

"Can by budget instead of by guess" is the advice of Miss Lola Blair gives to Texans at the opening of what may prove to be the greatest canning season the state has ever known. As food specialists in the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, she has general charge of the 4-H pantry work of more than 25,000 farm women and girls who are acting as demonstrators and cooperators in the drive to a healthful farm-grown living in 318 counties where home demonstration agents are employed.

"Canning is not new, but canning by a planned budget to meet the needs of an adequate diet for the whole family for six unproductive months was carried out in few homes until the 4-H pantry demonstration was organized," Miss Blair says. "Budgets help to avoid these spring bilious spells and general run down conditions so common at the end of winter. A planned food supply makes canned tomatoes last long as corn, for instance, and avoids the necessity of having to spend money for food that might just as well have been put on pantry shelves in the first place."

"A family of five should put up 120 cans of leafy, 100 cans of starch, and 80 cans of other vegetables; 125 cans of tomatoes, 150 cans of fruit; 52 cans of preserves, jams and jellies; 52 cans of pickles and relishes; and 50 cans of meat to supplement the supply of fresh foods through the year. This is based on the proportions of different kinds of food a person needs for nourishment and health."

"This budget may be varied to accommodate all conditions. For instance, half the fruit supply may be obtained from garden fruits such as tomatoes, rhubarb, and melons; and where there is no orchard at all, the entire fruit needs may be gotten from these garden fruits and from wild berries and plums. The growing season of some of the more needed garden varieties may be prolonged by successive plantings, by irrigation, and by fall gardens."

MY IMPROVED BEDROOM

(Mrs. J. H. Boothe, Steel Hill) Bedrooms should be comfortable, practical, as well as beautiful; a haven of retreat for persons and personality; an inducement to long tranquil slumber. They should express the personality of the owners for this is the one room in the house where the individual touch is paramount. With these thoughts in mind I went about planning my bedroom.

Z. T. Westerman Died at Home of Son Here May 18th.

Z. T. Westerman, 84 years of age, died at the home of his son, Bob Westerman, 513 north Miller, Wednesday morning about nine o'clock.

"Uncle Zach" as he was familiarly known by those who knew him intimately, had been in failing health the past two years and for several months had been confined to his bed. He was, however, uncomplaining and patient, knowing that his time must soon come.

Z. T. Westerman was a native Texan, was born in Collin county April 9th, 1848, was married to Miss Susan Ann Leggett, Feb. 17, 1878 in Hamilton county. They she later moved to Brown and Callahan counties where their families were reared. Four children, one son and three daughters were born to this union; the oldest daughter preceding him to death. They are: Mrs. George Moore, who was here and with her father in his last illness; him intimately, had been in failing health moved to Brown and est daughter preceding him to her father in his last illness, Bob Westerman of Spur and Mrs. Jim Fossett of Ranger.

The deceased leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

The remains were carried overland to Cross Plain and interment made beside the remains of his companion Thursday afternoon. Rev. C. C. Armstrong, Pastor of the Methodist Church of that place conducted the services.

The Texas Spur joins the many friends of Bob and the other surviving member of the family in extending our heartfelt sympathy.

DICKENS & KENT GET GOOD RAINS

Dickens county, which has been receiving bountiful rain during the past week or so was visited, in the eastern portion, Sunday night by a torrential rain which varied from three to four inches in less than 30 minutes.

In other portions of the county on this night as well as on Saturday night, good rains are reported which, although they delay the planting season will contribute materially to the "bottom season" and go to insure good seasons for Dickens county this year.

Wheat harvests will be the largest in history and, barring insect damage, the county as a whole will harvest the largest crops in its history. (Now is the time for some enterprising business man to put an elevator in Spur.)

There was not anything to be done to the walls as they had a good coat of flat paint of French Gray. The floors were stained a dark oak and were in good condition. I had plenty of closet and storage space. The furniture was painted a flat ivory. I decided my one big task was to refinish the furniture for I had never liked it. I scraped and sandedpapered the dresser, bedstead, and tables and stained them walnut. That brought out the grain of the wood and really made them beautiful pieces of furniture. I had a small table made from an old washtand I bought, already cut, the material for a small bookstand which I put together and stained with the walnut varnish to match the other furniture. I purchased rose marquette curtains for the windows and used a rose bedspread on the bed. I rebung the pictures and had enough vases for flowers except two bud vases for the dresser which are of rose glass. I bought two rose rugs for the floor. The total expense was $10.42.

It took some hard work but my little room lives again and is much more liveable now than in its former condition, thanks to our home demonstration agent's interest and encouragement to farm women.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Day are visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Day this week.

CRYSTALS

"We want to let you know how much Crazy Crystals have done for us. My husband has been sick for one year and a half with rheumatism, and his father for six months with the same. I was the only one able to work. I was beginning with pains in my knees, then we heard over the radio about Crazy Crystals, so we got one box. They helped me a lot. I feel better than I have for a long time. My husband feels better than he did when he took baths and medicine. His father is 70 years old, but feels better than he has for three or four winters. We are going to get another box tomorrow."

The Devil's Goliaths
Still Challenge
God's Davids

(By Will Cunningham)

Goliath of Gath, type of devil, defying armies of God (namely Israel).

"I want us to study for a moment the actual conditions which Israel was confronted, and had to deal with. Oh how often in this Christian warfare we are confronted with complicated problems and handicaps too big for us, and only God himself can help us over them.

But such things can only thrive when we dare deal with it in our own human strength. So long as we look at them from a natural view point, a thing we are prone to do. These great armies were encamped on a hill opposite one another. While the valley of Elah lying between the two hills was to be the battle ground. Over on the hill opposite the Israel army, with the Philistine army, stood a superman, a great giant, Goliath of Gath, whose height was six cubits and a span, or nine feet and nine inches. I am sure you will readily agree with me that Goliath was a super man (devil), thence our need of a super Saviour.

I am sure we would recognize a man with such height of nine feet and nine inches among us today as a super-man. How vicious in appearance and reality he must have been!

Let us visualize for a moment the actual scene. Let us look from the Israel side. Yonder he stands. Oh how frightful, how abrupt. On each of his hands there are six fingers and on each foot, six toes. A staff in his hand like a weavers beam and his spear head weighing 600 shekels, about 10 pounds. He wore a large helmet of brass on his head, and he was armored with a coat of mail weighing 5,000 shekels, or about 83 pounds (a flexible fabric of interlocked metal rings, for defensive armour, a coat like). He had greatness of brass upon his legs and a target of brass between his shoulders. And in addition to this there was a man that went before him carrying a shield for the sole purpose to ward off enemy's blows.

Small wonder Israel trembled in her boots.

Oh Hallelujah to Jesus I am glad that He is within us, even though in the minority, is greater than he that is without and in the majority in the world. And that our weapons which praise his name are not carnal but mighty, thought God, to the pulling down of strongholds.

Listen to the challenge of this superman as it comes in its nerve-wrecking, deafening roar, from the lips of Goliath. Down, down with the hill it descends into and through Eliah's valley, and with the rapidity of lightning, ascends Israel's hill. Oh how unwelcome the challenge must have been. "I defy the army of Israel this day to send me a man out to fight." Goliath is the aggressor against the peaceful camp of Israel. A type of devil hurling, in all his fury, himself against the Church of living God.

A challenge. Who will venture forth? Where are you Davids? Oh God give us Davids in these days when enemies are comin in like a flood, making rapid inroads into our very midst.

But when Israel stands frightened until shes most beside herself there suddenly appeared in Israel's camp a stripling of a lad from Bethlehem, young David. (Christ came out of Bethlehem, of whom David is a beautiful type). And immediately began to shout for Israel as they were going to battle. David was a booster. I greatly dislike grumblers and knockers. God wants us to boost, shout, be a bit enthusiastic for the right. In award a big push and no pull.

While young David conversed with his three brothers who were fighting for God's army, and at the battle front you'll find me he heard the challenge. Davids of today, do you hear? I believe when David heard the challenge from that old Philistine defying God's army, it just simply rubbed the wrong way, and young David inquired to know who he was. He also was appraised of the riches awaiting the man who could defeat Goliath (devil). Davids of today, the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords will richly reward us when the battle is over (and every prayer we pray and every sermon we preach is just another link in the chain with which he'll be bound. I want several links in that chain, don't you?) Behold I come quickly and my reward is with me to give every man according as his work shall be. Cheer up. Be courageous. Press along. The trails of the road will seem as nothing when we get to the end of the way. So David to meeting Goliath, and at the same time to assure Saul that he could not use his armour (we must use our own armour if we are to fight effectively for King Jesus) he chose five smooth stones out of the brook and a sling. I want us to notice he got his stones out of the brook (water). Now water is a type of spirit as well as oil is a type of spirit. Christ said, "If any man thirst let him come and drink and that believeth on as scripture saith, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living waters." This he spoke of spirit for Holy Ghost was not yet given.

Now I would briefly invite your attention to the slang the dispatcher of stone (God gave us a greater sling in preaching the word.) Now the stones were deadly but not without the sling. Here is typical of spiritual power. Oh God, give us power from on high, superman power, dynamic power in pulpit and pew that will blast and blow up tatanic strongholds.

I think I am not speaking amiss, but rather plausibly when I say the stones is a type of his word, for the word of God is quick and powerful, and sharper than a two edged sword piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit of the joints and marrow and a discerner of thoughts and intents of heart.

Now the spirit must use the word if it is to bring bountiful fruit, or be effective.

We see from Ephesians, sixth chapter 17th verse, that the word is as a sword in the hand of spirit, and is to be used by the spirit and at his discretion, just as a sword is passive or pliant in a military officer's hand. Now the officer is one thing and the spirit another. They are co-workers, and oh how this sinful world needs both.

So there is David, God's messenger. The sling spiritual power.

We asked the McCarthy's

"What's the best reason for having a telephone?" we inquired.

Said Mr. McCarthy: "You never know when you'll get a business call at home. And during the day, it's a fine thing to know the Missis can call you, if thing's go wrong."

Said Mrs. McCarthy: "Well, I'll admit I enjoy 'visiting' on the telephone. And it does save a world of trips to the grocery, the drug store, the cleaners and the like. What if we should need the doctor, or the police, or the fire department?"

Perhaps you do not have a telephone at home. If not, we really believe you're missing something. If you're interested, call the business office.

I love my state, its laws, its institutions, colleges, universities, its flag and its traditions. This is why I have the highest hopes and fondest desires to see West Texas take her position equal in rank with the other districts of the state. This can be done more effectively by electing a candidate who has a clear insight into the political situation of the people.

Municipal law is a rule of action prescribed by the supreme power of the state commanding that which is right and prohibiting that which is wrong.

Permit me to appeal to the fairness of your minds, the generosity of your hearts and the sympathy of your natures, and ask you, does the law always command that which is right? And does it prohibit that which is wrong? If not, reforms are imperative.

Reforms are symbolic of political peace, happiness and prosperity. This is why they are always written by persons who have as pure and fervent motives as ever swelled or stirred the heart of a fellow comrade. They are more or less beautiful in theory, excellent in practice and of a permanent duration if once put in motion.

The Tire That Taught THRIFT to Millions

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, sinewy unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD

Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

WORN TIRES MAKES DRIVING UNSAFE

"One car out of every five on the road today is running on smooth, worn tires, unsafe for present day driving conditions, according to Mrs. O. Moore Hall, of the Sunshine Service Station of this city.

"Motorists are content to go along with unsafe tire equipment only because they do not realize the danger of injury to their families and themselves that they are risking. We find it very difficult to make car owners understand just how fast they really do travel. Most car owners do not have any conception of what speed means in distance covered. Few know that at 60 miles an hour a car travels 88 feet per second, and any car can come to grief in 88 feet, with oncoming traffic, curbs or ditches. Failure of any tire and particularly a front tire means trouble."

"In other words the driver fails to realize that every car has three steering wheels, one in his hands and two on the road, these being the two front tires. Failure of any one invites danger. That's why it's foolish to take chances with thin, worn tires."

"Many motorists risk trouble to literally 'run the treads' off of their tires, getting the last few cents worth of mileage out of them. This is false economy of the worst kind. The saving is insignificant when compared with the danger and possible expense they invite."

"It is hard to understand why motorists take chances when Firestone tire prices are the lowest in history. While prices have been materially reduced values have actually increased. For example, in today's Firestone Tires the motorists gets Gum-Dipped Cords, Two Extra Gum Dipped Cord Plies under the tread and a Safe, slow wearing non-skid tread at less cost than ever before."

HOMESPUN SENSE

Pithy Quotations from Public Addresses of

MELVIN A. TRAYLOR

President, First National Bank, Chicago

"It is time some leadership and some party called our attention to the fact there is no magic cure for the ills and evils of human folly. We trod the primrose path of extravagance, of thoughtless and almost criminal neglect of every sound principle of human conduct, from the individual to the government, and the individual was aided, encouraged, and abetted on that path by the government and those responsible for its administration."

"One of the biggest things was a watered state of mind in which we all thought we were richer than we were, and were living beyond our means."

"In my opinion, no great division of human society has ever been lied to, and lied about, as much in the same period of time as has the American farmer."

"This then is my hope for our future—that we may be rich without forgetting to be righteous; that we may be powerful without being offensively proud; that we may be nationally minded without being narrow-minded; and, finally, that we may live in a world of fact without surrendering our faith."

"I would urge consideration of the complete abolishment of so-called floor trading, which, as I am informed, has about it most of the characteristics of plain crap shooting, and few, if any, more redeeming features than that delightful Ethiopian pastime."

"It is bad enough when the intelligent and wealthy speculate and lose, but when scrubwomen, day laborers, small home owners, wives and youths speculate and lose, simply because they can go to a broker's office and get credit for small sums, the practice ceases to be defensible on any ground."

"Out of the stress and difficulty of the situation I believe gradually we shall return to simpler thinking" and simpler living. For it seems to me that we want above everything to abandon the struggle to live up with the Joneses, and to rediscover the true purpose of life, which is the joy to be found in the simple virtues of industry, thrift and sane living. I believe in our people, in our country, and in the God who directs our destinies; and I welcome the future with confidence and unshaken faith."

"We have not failed because of ignorance of economic theories, but because of our utter disregard and defiance of all economic laws. Ambition, stupidity, and greed have dictated policies, and trouble has been the result."

"All through history . . . the nations that have been agriculturists and have included in their agricultural and domestic pursuits the breeding and raising of livestock; have been the nations that have endured the longest and performed the greatest work for mankind."

"Open the door of an agricultural school and you close the door of a poorhouse."

"Relief from owing too much money does not lie in borrowing more."

"Knowledge is one thing, but courage of leadership is another."

"Falseness and error make the headlines, while truth and fact are lost in the maze of half-point type."

"We cannot trade the hungry, the unfed, the feeble voice of the sick, the empty basket of the unemployed, against the maintenance of party preference or individual advantage or personal achievement."

"I believe I am a better farmer by a long shot than I am a banker."

"We must either all thrive together or all suffer disaster."

"Firestone dealers are presenting these facts to car owners in a special mailing of Firestone dealer cooperative catalogues to 20 million car owners. This is the largest mailing of its kind in history. The catalogue shows important construction features and the new low price levels. Any car owner who has not received a copy may secure one at Sunshine Service Station.

Chicago Banker Recommends New Rules for Stock Exchanges

Melvin A. Traylor of Chicago Calls Floor Trading "Crap Shooting"

Proposes Three Remedies

Speaking before the International Chamber of Commerce at Washington, Melvin A. Traylor, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, said in part:

As far as I can recall, this country has not had a major depression in three decades that did not follow a collapse of values on the stock exchange. I do not claim that these collapses—presupposing, of course, periods of speculative activity—were wholly responsible for such depressions, but I do say that such collapses have been the immediate and most obvious precipitating causes. Since public opinion is so directly responsive to price fluctuations, especially on our security exchanges, may I urge upon those responsible for management policies further unprejudiced investigation of changes which may be made in the public interest.

Melvin Traylor

May I also suggest three specific subjects for such an inquiry? First, and most important of all, because, I believe, it exerts a more dangerous influence than any other one thing in American financial life, I would urge consideration of the abolishment of the so-called "daily settlement" with its consequent "daily call money rate." Without the power in the Federal Reserve Board to regulate to a reasonable extent the flow of credit and the rate to be charged for it, business stability is impossible; and I am equally certain that with a call money market daily making the rate for funds, it is impossible for any banking agency to influence the flow of money more than nominally, and in no sense at all to regulate the rate in speculative periods.

Suggests Thorough Inquiry

Therefore, in the interest of a sound banking structure and stable business activity, I believe the exchanges of the country would make direct contribution of great importance should they adopt some type of periodic settlement which would eliminate the daily call rate and make possible some measure of regulation of the flow and rate of credit by banking authority. In the second place, I would urge consideration of the complete abolishment of so-called floor trading, which, as I am informed, has about it most of the characteristics of plain crap shooting, and few, if any, more redeeming features than that delightful Ethiopian pastime.

This much I know, and every man knows, that when the total capitalization of a corporation is traded in once a week or over a period of a year from five to thirty times, the sales are not made for the account of one who owns and wants to sell, nor are the purchases made for those who desire to buy and actually receive the securities.

If I am wrong in believing that the present system should be changed, then a large percentage of the people are wrong, for almost all believe the same thing. Obviously, if their opinion is unfavorable, it shakes their confidence in the integrity of the whole procedure.

Finally, I would urge consideration by all exchanges of the adoption of rules which would prohibit their members accepting trades of any other basis than for cash if the amount involved is less than $10,000, and I should personally prefer to see the amount fixed at $50,000. I suggest the smaller figure because it is the par value of a hundred shares of $100 par stock.

Protect Small Investor

This suggestion is not intended to bar the small investor from the market. Other avenues of credit are open to him if he desires to invest beyond his cash funds. My thought is that this country cannot afford again the wreck and ruin of people of small means, which followed the last crash.

It is bad enough when the well-informed and wealthy speculate and lose, but when scrubworkers, day laborers, small home owners, wives, and youths speculate and lose simply because they can go to a broker's office and get credit for small sums, the practice ceases to be defensible on any ground. (If it be objected that the adoption of these suggestions would greatly curtail the volume of trading, and affect vested interests of those owning stock exchange memberships, let me say that the welfare of 120 million people should not be sacrificed to the vested interests of any group, however large or small.)

If such an unprejudiced inquiry indicates that these or other reforms will strengthen exchange organizations and make them more useful members of our economic structure—then surely they should be made.

Cotton Acreage Reduced in Texas

Dallas, May 20.—An unquestionable reduction in acreage devoted to cotton in Texas is shown by the first 1932 crop report compiled by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance Company. The report would indicate that 38 Texas counties this year will reduce cotton acreage 20 per cent or more. About 50 per cent of the real cotton-growing counties of the state indicate a 10 per cent to 20 per cent decrease, and practically all of the greater cotton-growing counties indicate a decrease of cotton acreage up to 10 per cent. 37 counties, some of them producing very little cotton, apparently will make little or no charge in the percentage of their acreage this year.

The reports for April, almost without exception, show the season averaging two weeks late. Reports earlier in the month of April indicate the need of rain, but these were changed to favorable conditions the latter part of the month, rains having been general over the State during that period.

Business conditions, generally, are reported as being on the upgrade, although still far from normal. East Texas was, of course, badly hit by the freeze earlier in the year, but other crops are reported as in excellent condition in that section of the State.

The most optimistic note comes from the Rio Grande Valley Counties, Hidalgo and Cameron. Farmers in these two irrigated sections were only slightly hurt by the freeze, and as a result of the complete losses of crops elsewhere, received a high cash return for their products—notably cabbage, beets, carrots and snap beans. Many farmers in that section of the State report net profits for the single one of three seasons possible in that section of the State equal to the entire cost of their land.

Mrs. Cornelius, who lives with her son east of the city was in Saturday and had us place her name on the mailing list. She stated that she always did appreciate a good newspaper—and of course we felt flattered and denied the charge.

I. A. Foster was in Saturday and wanted to know why in he hadn't been getting the paper. Well, we jacked the boys up and we sincerely hope he gets it next issue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hutto are the proud parents of a 10 pound baby girl born Wednesday, March 4th. Mr. and Mrs. Hutto have eight boys and this young lady was given a most cheerful welcome—and I'll bet she makes the boys step round and round.

T. E. Rucker was in Tuesday of this week and if Mr. Ruckers many friends don't stop insisting Mr. Rucker is going to run for justice of the peace from this precinct—and our guess is that he will make a mighty good race.

Mrs. J. M. Harralson has been guest this week of her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Fox, of this city.

Cities of Refuge

In Numbers the thirty-fifth chapter we have the story of the six Cities of Refuge. These cities were appointed by the Lord, through Moses, and for the purpose of protecting that one who might kill, without malice aforethought, from the avenger of blood. God has ever been man's refuge in time of trouble, and during the age of dispensation in which we now live, God was not unmindful of the fact that we need to be protected from the wiles of Satan, hence, he has given to us that true City of Refuge, the Church that Christ purchased with his own blood.

There are few points of interest to be noticed in making a comparison of these cities of Refuge and the True City; namely: They were built on high, strategic points so that they could be easily reached. The Church that Christ purchased for us is, without doubt, head and shoulders above any other institution known to man, and is the only one that will take us to that eternal city.

These Cities had plain and marked highways leading to them. There is no mystery attached to one becoming a child of God, a member of his Church, regardless of the many wild stories told with reference to being converted, the Lord's way is plain (Isa. 35:8) (Jno. 1:25).

These Cities were for protection only to the innocent one. There is no place in the Church of the Lord Jesus Christ for any one who is not willing to relinquish every worldly connection.

These Cities afforded protection to the individual so long as he remained inside of the City. The Lord has promised us salvation upon condition of a faithful, continuous service until death shall call us away from this world, and that by so serving him, we shall have an entrance into that eternal city whose builder and maker is God.

The above is an outline of the message delivered by Brother Randolph, at the Church of Christ last Sunday morning. Again a cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend the services at the Church of Christ: Bible study, 10:00 a. m. Preaching, 11:00 a. m. Communion 11:45 a. m. Young people's class, 7 p. m. Night Service, 8:00 p. m. —Reporter.

My Dynin' Pal

You've hearn 'em say a cowboys life is always gay and fee; That's the picture they paint of us. But it ain't the life we see. I'll tell you all, about a pal I had, Who rode the range with me. And then about the thing that happened And took my pal from me.

We'd rode the range for many a moon, This pal of mine and me; Neither caring for life nor death Nor how soon the time would be, That one or the other would meet the end That so many cowboys see. But here's the words that my pal spoke as he entered Eternity.

"Lisen, boys, can't you hear— The lowin' of the herds? Can't you hear the coyotes howl— The singin' of the birds? That—did you hear it— Did you understand them words? 'Twas Cookie yellin' 'Come and get it' Above the bellowin' of the herds.

The herd's a driftin'—hear em go? Boys, they're breakin' ranks; We should a bedded 'em closer, boys. To the old river's banks. What, Pete—what did you say? It's me that's driftin'—me that's goin' away?

Yes, Boys, I reckon I know: I'm dynin'.

Near old Red River's banks. Them's the words my buddy spoke. A-lookin' up at me, His eyes a-dimmin' while he talked. With his head layin on my knee— We'd drawn our pay an' started to town, Jest a good-time to see, My pal an' me, with the rest of the boys, Was racin' along right free.

My pal's hoss was a mean, wild bronc— An' he was jest a boy— The unruly bronc it 'broke-into', An' my pal jest bucked into an old 'dog town'— We raced toward the boy; But down they went in an old 'dog hole'— My pal, a broken—dyin' boy. —The Maverick.
