Ritz Management Expresses Their Appreciation

To the Boyd M. Williams Post of The American Legion, the Schools of the surrounding territory, and the public in General:

We take this means in expressing our appreciation for the wonderful success of the showing of "Forgotten Men" sponsored by the American Legion at this theatre on Thursday and Friday, May 17-18.

There were over 1,750 people who paid their admission to see these wonderful pictures, over a thousand of them being school students. We feel that the pictures will accomplish their purpose to a certain degree, in as much as they will cause us to think of the Forgotten Men who gave so freely during that awful struggle for our freedom that we enjoy today.

These Men must not be Forgotten, but held in the highest esteem and honored for their struggle to carry onward their fight for peace and happiness.

We feel deeply indebted to the members of this post of The American Legion, the school faculties, the student bodies, and the general public and hereby thank each and every one for their liberal patronage and help in making this the grand success it was. Hoping to serve you from time to time,

Yours very respectfully,
H. C. KYLE,
Manager Ritz Theatre

Mrs. Luola Grace, 30, wife of Joe W. Grace, died Saturday evening, May 12 at 7:40 o'clock in the Baylor Hospital at Dallas, where she had been a patient since the 11th of March. Mrs. Grace had been ill for about three years and her life had been despaired of a number of times, but since September last year until March her condition seemingly was much improved and it was hoped, and everything that human hands could do was done to effect a cure, but all in vain.

Besides her husband, Joe W. Grace and two sons, John Robert, seven and Joe Bill, four, her mother, Mrs. J. T. Baebel of Lingview, Texas and two brothers, R. H. Floyd, of Longview and Junius Floyd of Flatonia, survive.

Pall bearers were members of the Austin Bridge Company, of Dallas with whom Mr. Grace has been associated for years.

Joe Grace is an only son of the late Dr. J. H. and Mrs. Grace and the family has many friends here who join the Texas Spur in extending sympathy in their sorrow.

Error Made in Report of Theft of Saddle

In making a report the past week of a stolen saddle, the names were confused in some manner and the item read that Clayton Bridges was being held for the theft.

The facts of the case, were that it was Mr. Bridges' saddle which was stolen.

Mr. Bridges is a prominent citizen of the county whose character is above reproach and he did not take the erroneous report seriously at all and we appreciate his attitude very much.

Crow Springs Being Made into Playground

With funds furnished through the PWA, Crow Springs near Dickens is being made into a beauty spot and play ground. Forty-two years ago a ten acre plot of ground including the springs was dedicated as a public park and playground by Dr. Crow with the stipulation that the plot never be used for any other purpose than a park and it has become one of the best known places for picnics and outings in this entire section.

Among the many improvements that have been made recently, with Chas. Whitener as designer and engineer in charge, are stairways and guard rails leading down into the springs; rock and concrete tables and seats and barbecue pits large enough to properly cook fifty chickens, a good size pig or calf.

A graded highway has been made leading to the site of the springs with the proper water diversion channels and dams put in, and the place is now accessible to the general public.

Mr. Whitener states that a wading pool for children will be built in the near future and that it is planned to install an 18x36 inch bronze memorial to Dr. Crow.

Farm Debt Adjustment Work in Texas for a Voluntary Settlement

There is now for thousands of farmers who, burdened heavily with debt have constantly in fear of foreclosure and dispossession of their farm homes and life savings.

Governors of more than two thirds of the states have taken steps to further farm debt adjustment work. This work is directed at bringing about voluntary debt settlement, either by composition and scale-down of all indebtedness to a point where it can be handled as a new loan, or by an extension agreement that will permit worthy debtors to work out their financial difficulties.

At the request of Mr. Henry Morganthau, Jr., former Governor of the Farm Credit Administration the Governor of this State named a State Committee, who assisted him in selecting the County Committees to carry on this great work.

Although the Farm Credit Administration is advising with the Governor in this effort, it is not the work of the Federal Government. It is primarily a responsibility to be shouldered by leaders in each community at the request of their Governor.

The local committees are selected to represent both creditors and debtors, and every effort was made to choose members who will deal fairly with both groups. They will not help the farmer who has knowingly dealt unfairly with his creditors, or who has abandoned his property and has not provided for its proper care.

Dr. T. E. Standifer Died At Elk City Sunday, May 20th

Dr. T. E. Standifer, 71, veteran physician and surgeon of West Texas, and for many years owner and operator of the Standifer Sanitarium in Spur, died Sunday afternoon at 3:00 at Elk City where he had gone to visit with his brother, Dr. John Standifer.

Some two months ago Dr. Standifer suffered a severe attack of pneumonia from which he suffered a relapse and had gone to Elk City, Oklahoma, some days previous to his death to visit with his brother and to recuperate. And while at that place he was seized with an attack of gall stone trouble and underwent a major operation. He was apparently recovering from the operation until Sunday morning he had a sinking spell and death followed at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, May 20th.

Funeral services were held and interment made at Elk City. The entire family, Mary E. Standifer widow of the deceased; a son, Dr. Libburn E. Standifer, who was associated with his father in the Turkey hospital; and two daughters, Robbie and Dona Lita, were present.

Dr. Standifer came to Spur when the town was established in 1906 and in 1910 built the sanitarium which he operated until 1920. During their residence here the Standifer family made innumerable friends over this entire section and the Doctor established a reputation for performing feats of medical and surgical skill bordering on the miraculous, and numbers of local families have continued to go to him wherever he might be with their troubles and illnesses after he had moved away.

In 1920 Dr. Standifer sold his sanitarium to Dr. P. C. Nichols, the present surgeon-in-charge, and moved to Vernon, Texas, where he built a hospital. Later he moved to Lamesa where he operated a hospital for a time and some six years ago moved to Turkey to take charge of the Turkey hospital, a well-known institution which he superintended up until the time of his death.

A volume of "Texas Under Many Flags" by Clarence R. Wharton, has this to say about Dr. Standifer and his parents:

"Thomas Edward Standifer is a veteran physician of West Texas, owner of the Standifer Sanitarium at Lamesa. The Standifers have been identified with the medical and surgical profession for several generations in Texas. A son of Dr. Thomas E. Standifer is Dr. Libburn E. Standifer, also of Lamesa.

"Thomas Edward Standifer was born at Decatur, Wise County, Texas, August 21, 1863, son of Dr. Jesse M. and Caroline M. (Edwards) Standifer.

Most of the Schools of the County to Close Friday, June 1st.

Most of the schools of Dickens County are closing Friday, June 1. Possibly there has never been so much uniformity in their closing before. Every school in the county except one will have from an eight to a nine months term. Eight schools are running nine months, and some of the others eight and a half.

The almost ten thousand dollars of federal aid that our schools are getting coupled with State Aids and a good tax collection made possible these terms.

In many cases the schools were divided into a summer and a winter session thereby greatly increasing attendance. The lowest attendance in Dickens County this year was around seventy per cent. This was in two rather large districts that did not have transportation—Madge D. Twaddell.

Easton Blenden Gets Honorable Mention In Poster Contest

The following letter was received by Supt. Sam Z. Hall this week, officially notifying Easton Blenden, a 5th grade student in the Kelly Ward school of his winning honorable mention in the state fire prevention poster contest. The letter reads:

Dear Easton: Out of the large collection of posters sent in by the students of Texas Public Schools for the Eleventh Annual Fire Prevention Poster contest, your poster has been selected as one deserving honorable mention.

I am enclosing the Honorable Mention Ribbon with my congratulations.—Raymond S. Mauk, Fire Insurance Commissioner.

Easton is to be congratulated as well as his instructor, Mrs. Kelly.

Teacher Qualifications In Dickens County

Steps have been taken by the State Board of Education to raise the teaching profession. Dickens County is one county that can point with pride to the professional standing of its teachers. Much of the progressiveness and efficiency of the Dickens County schools can be traced to these well qualified teachers who have kept up by taking correspondence and extension courses, by reading professional books and magazines, and by the attendance upon educational associations of different types and by going to summer schools. I am told that even during this depression about half of the teachers have been attending summer school.

The Dickens County School Board went on record three years ago as favoring the employment of such teachers only as had, had two years of college work in addition to a graduation from a good high school. The county superintendent and 31 of the present Dickens County teachers have degrees. At least four more teachers will have degrees at the end of the summer school. Nine of the other teachers have three or more years toward a degree, and all of the other remaining Hemingway" by Eddie G. Cook teachers who will be in the schools next year, by the end of the summer school will have about two years or more of college credits.

The State Board passes a ruling last June to the effect that no person can teach in a State Aid School who has not had at least two years of college work past a high school graduation. Later this degree was amended with the statement that an individual already employed in an aid school who would attend college in the summer could remain in said school or in another State Aid School even if he had not completed his two years in college work. Any new teacher or any old teacher who has not worked in a State Aid school since June, 1930 must have a minimum of two year's of college credits.

The above ruling applies to each school of Dickens County as all the schools are now qualified as Aid schools.

GIRLS MAKE RECORD IN CLUB WORK

The 4-H club girls of the county have made their bedroom reports this month. Of the 107 girls enrolled at the beginning of the school year 82 have continued in the work and are included in this report. Of the 82 girls, 73 made their beds correctly 25 times, 55 made pillow slips, and 57 provided adequate clothes closets. Those were the three county goals for the girls' bedroom work this year. That is 80 per cent reached one goal and 70 per cent reached all three.

Each club had a demonstrator who improved her room to the best of her ability making a complete room. These rooms are in the county contest and are being judged this week. Announcement of the county winners will be made next week. Aside from reaching the three county goals the bedroom cooperators, who are all the girls in the clubs except the demonstrators, have made many improvements as the following figures show. Of the 82 girls making a report 42 have improved the walls of their rooms with either paper, paint, or calamine. 34 painted, stained, or calcamined the woodwork. 35 stained, painted or oiled the floor. 24 rugs were added. 34 pieces of furniture were refinished with paint, varnish or wax. 311 sheets of bedroom linen, that is sheets, pillow slips, towels and scarfs were added. 23 new clothes closets were built and 34 others improved. 12 bookshelves, 13 reading tables, 6 dressing tables, 5 dressers, 7 chests of drawers, and 13 chairs were added; and 24 new mattresses made the beds comfortable.

The girls are happy over the improved rooms and will not be content to stop but will continue to improve their rooms as they can. The stories of the demonstrator which will be printed from time to time, show that the girls have enjoyed the work and feel that even though they may not win a place in the county contest they will not lose for they have their improved rooms.

Farm Debt---

greater test of true patriotism and good citizenship has ever been put Nation, and they should receive the up to these men by our State and support of every agency available in the task of restoring our farm and ranch homes to a profitable and going basis with the aid of the Governmental agencies at their command.

In the presence of this impartial local committee the debtor tells his problems, and the creditors list their claims, and all discuss in a private hearing what might be done. Frequently, merely getting the parties together is sufficient to bring about a settlement. Creditors, as a rule, would prefer to have their debtor retain possession of his farm, if reasonable settlement can be reached where he makes an equitable distribution to his creditors of the income he can pay his indebtedness.

If the farmer has made an honest effort to meet his debts, if he is a good manager and farmer, and if his inability to pay in full has been due largely to general conditions beyond his control, it is likely that this farmer would be a pretty good type to remain on his farm. Frequently such debtors will be able to pay more to their creditors than farmers who might replace them. It is also likely that if this farmer remains on his farm, although in debt, he would do a better job of farming as a titleholder than a tenant. This would be true especially if some arrangement were agreed to whereby he would have a chance to repay his debts in time. In most cases creditors will appreciate these conditions. If the debtor's case is not hopeless, foreclosure will be avoided in a large percentage of cases handled by the committee.

Whatever agreement is suggested, however, will come to nothing unless it is accepted voluntarily by the creditors. Although the local farm debt adjustment committee are appointed by the Governor of the State, the Committees cannot and will not compel acceptance of any proposal they put forward. Their usefulness lies in their capacity to propose a sane, workable plan of debt settlement, some plan that will appeal to the intelligent self-interest of both the debtor and his creditors, and which will at the same time avoid unnecessary foreclosure.

Our committees have been very successful in making hundreds of adjustments in this State and have stopped numbers of foreclosures. They are ready to assist any farmer in distress and to see that his creditor interest is justly protected.

Farmers wishing to take advantage of this service should contact the local county committee, and failing to make proper adjustments, the County Committee will then call upon the State committee if the occasion demands.

Your local committee is composed of the following members: H. A. C. Brummett, chairman; W. J. Collier, Byron Haney, F. C. Gipson, and George S. Link, members.

The Texas Farm Debt Conciliation Committee is composed of 12 members. R. J. Murray, chairman, and Hugh Weaver, State Supervisor. State office is located at Austin, Texas.

IN MEMORY OF BUFORD RAY BROMLEY

Dearest Ray, you have left us,
Lonely are our hearts today,
Death has of you bereft us
Taken you so far away.

You have crossed the cold dark river
Angels hold you by the hand,
You are safe from storm forever,
Safe within the Promised Land.

How we miss your buoyant footsteps,
Miss each kind and loving word,
No more in this lonely household,
Will your tender voice be heard.

How we miss the nightly music
Of your violin and guitar,
Sweetest echoes of your singing
Seem to reach us from afar.

Taken in your early manhood,
When your heart was pure and light,
Though times our hearts grow weary,
All with you is ever bright.

How we longed to hold you with us
Sought to cool your fevered brow,
Tried to ease the pain you suffered,
But, dear Ray, you're resting now.

Resting as no one could rest you
But the One who called you home;
Waiting for your loved ones yonder
With your sister, near the Throne.

Loved ones left sad and lonely,
Look beyond this vale of tears,
To the mansion bright and lovely
Where our dear one never fears.

Sorrow's dart will never pierce you,
Disappointments never come,
You will never taste life's wormwood,
In your bright celestial home.

We love you, yes ye love you,
But Jesus loves you more,
To yonder shining shore,
And He has sweetly called you.

You prepared to take the journey,
Asked your friends with you to go,
With a sigh you said so firmly,
"Well, I'm ready (now) to go!"
The Golden Gates were opened,
A gentle voice said "Come"
You calmly entered Home,
And with farewells unspoken,
—MOTHER

Dr. Standifer---

"Dr. Jesse M. Standifer was a very historical figure in North Texas. He was born in Georgia, studied medicine, and entered the regular army service, rising to the rank of captain. He was with the army during the Mexican War, and shortly after the war was captain and surgeon in the troops that established the military post of Ft. Worth in what was then the frontier of North and West Texas. On going there he filed on a section of land around the military post. One of his close friends was Captain Daggett, who was the most conspicuous citizen in the founding of the Town of Fort Worth. When Captain Standifer was ordered to move to a military post farther west he asked Captain Daggett to come along with him, but the latter preferred to stay, expressing his belief that some day a great city would rise at that location. Captain Standifer told him that only 8 men would be left to guard the coast and that all of them might be killed by the Indians. However, Captain Daggett decided to stay and Captain Standifer gave him his section of land as a gift, and it is on this section of land that the courthouse of Fort Worth was built and much of the city besides.

"Captain Jesse M. Standifer continued in the army service until 1855, when he retired on account of a wound given him in an Indian fight. He was wounded in the shoulder and being the only doctor available he had to depend upon one of his soldiers to treat his wound, and it never healed properly. After that he could raise his right arm only a little way. Nevertheless, he rendered service as a surgeon in the Confederate army during the Civil War. After leaving the service he located in Wise County and was one of the pioneers of Decatur, where he died in 1878."

A SIX COSTS LESS TO RUN

... and the CHEVROLET OVERHEAD VALVE SIX

is the most economical car in the world

Engineering facts prove it. Experience in building nearly ten million cars confirms it. And the record of over 3,000,000 Chevrolet Six owners removes any shadow of doubt about it: The only way to get real economy in a low-priced car is to insist on SIX cylinders and OVERHEAD valves.

SIX cylinders—no more!—because extra cylinders mean extra cost for gas, oil, upkeep and parts. OVERHEAD valves—nothing else!—for the same good reason that airplanes use them. And speedboats. And racing cars. They get the MOST power out of the LEAST gas. That's why overhead valves are the choice of leaders—and champions.

Look for Better Flavor With Electric Cooking

You wouldn't believe that Electric Cooking could make so much difference in flavor! Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices—with the addition of practically no water. And in the electric oven the heat rapidly sears, roasts, and prevents excessive shrinkage. Baked foods are deliciously and uniformly browned. Grilled steak has the flavor of charcoal broiling!

Electric Cooking retains so much more of the nourishing elements of the food that you can actually buy less meat or vegetables and still have just as much to put upon the table!

Electric ranges cook food with a speed and economy which compare favorably with any other kind of fuel! Let us demonstrate our new ranges. Of course, there is no obligation—and attractive terms can be arranged.
