

23 YEARS AGO

Taken from the files of The Texas Spur, published 23 years ago this week. Oran McClure, editor and publisher.

Cullum Campbell, who has been in charge of Campbell & Campbell furniture business during the absence of W. S. Campbell, left last Monday for his home at Munday.

Amos Faver was in the city last week, from Dickens, in his little Hupmobile. Amos is now engaged in the insurance and real estate business at Dickens and Afton.

T. D. Huoprey and family returned last week from Rising Star where they spent about two weeks with Mrs. Humphrey's parents and other relatives.

Editor Morris of the Afton Herald, Jayton, Texas, was a business visitor in the city Monday and while here paid us a fraternal call.

Uncle Buck Harden made a business trip to Jayton Friday and incidentally to take in the two days picnic Friday and Saturday at that place.

R. E. Rogers, of the Croton country, was in Spur Tuesday buying household furniture preparatory to keeping house. He was married recently and he and wife will make their home in the Croton country. The friends of Mr. Rogers join The Texas Spur in congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and wish them a long, happy and prosperous life together.

Sebe Lambert was in Monday from his place in the Tap country. Sebe was complaining about unfavorable crop conditions, but at the same time he brought in a big load of fine roasting ears and through the year has been marketing truck and farm products of various kinds, all of which is prima facie evidence that Sebe is just kicking for the diversion of seeing the town fellows wear a long face.

R. L. Collier, of the north part of the county, was in the City Tuesday shaking hands with his friends here.

Dave Sparks, a prominent citizen of the Croton country, was in Spur Tuesday on business.

Name Sought For School District 22

The Board of Trustees of District 22 have decided to ask for suggestions for a name for the new school and district. Heretofore it has been known simply as District 22 and it has been decided that it should not carry the name of any of the districts or schools entering into the consolidation.

Anyone caring to do so may submit a name at the opening of the school, September 17. The proposed name should be written plainly on a slip of paper together with the name of the person making the suggestion and dropped into a box which will be provided for that purpose. No prize money is offered for the name chosen.

Prominent Couple Are Wed Saturday

Mr. Thomas Alfred (Buster) Parrish and Miss Dorothy Carson were married Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Carson, on North Willard street. Rev. F. I. Cairns, minister of the local Presbyterian church, performing the ceremony.

Mrs. Parrish was graduated from Spur High School with the class of 1932 and is one of the most charming and popular members of the younger social set of the city.

Mr. Parrish is a prominent young business man of the city and for the past two years has assisted his aunt, Mrs. Della Eaton, in the management of the Spur Inn, one of the best known hosteleries in Western Texas.

Only a few guests, intimate friends of the bride and groom, were present at the ceremony. They were Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lee and two small daughters, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Engleman and daughter, Gene, Miss

Small Grains Best Remedy Found For Fall Feed Shortage

The serious feed shortage which is threatening Texas can be at least partially averted, according to crop specialists at the A. & M. College, if farmers will plant small grains, such as wheat, oats, and barley, for winter pasture since good rains have been received.

Farmers in the Panhandle and in North Central Texas, who regularly grow these crops for grain, have a long time recognized their value as winter pasture crops. Recent experiments conducted by the Texas Experiment Station indicate that these grain crops and other grasses are well worth planting for pasture in regions where they will not make grain. At the Denton Station wheat clipped at regular intervals to stimulate grazing by livestock, has produced 17,000 pounds of green forage per acre, while at Angleton Station a mixture of oats and Italian rye grass has produced 11,000 pounds of green forage. This green feed is not only very nutritious and palatable, but high in protein and vitamin A.

Winter grain pastures may be grown in almost any region of the State where the soil is moist enough to germinate the seed. Because of the mild winters, growth continues almost without interruption so that winter grain pastures in Texas are much more productive than in the northern states.

Which grain to plant depends on the region. In the Panhandle and Plains wheat is the only suitable winter grain. Recent rains in some counties of this region have made it possible to start planting wheat immediately. In other counties it may be advisable to plant part of the acreage "in the dust" so that the grain may emerge and become available for pasture as soon as the rains occur.

Throughout North Central Texas wheat, oats, and barley may be grown for winter pasture and the three crops are about equally productive except in years of hard freezes when wheat, which is more cold resistant than the other two, makes considerably more pasturage. A mixture of wheat and oats is especially well suited for pastures in this region.

No expensive equipment is needed to produce winter pasture crops. Drilling, of course is the best method of seeding and is universally followed in the grain producing regions. In other parts of the State where grain drills are not standard farm equipment, small acreages can be seeded broadcast by hand and larger acreages can be sown broadcast with an inexpensive end-gate seeder.

Some of the crop specialists at the College insist that every cotton field in the State should be planted to a winter cover crop to prevent soil erosion and to restore organic matter to the soil. Whether this practice, which is already common in the Southeastern states, will ever become general in Texas remains to be seen. There is, however, no doubt that the planting of large acreages of winter pasture throughout the state will do more, this year to overcome the present feed shortage than any other measure which might be taken.

Pat Williams Made Page in State Senate

The many friends of Pat Williams will be glad to learn that he is now Page in the State Senate during the Special Session of the Texas Legislature. He received the appointment through Senator Arthur P. Duggan. Pat's mother and his grandmother, Mrs. Dr. Grace moved to Austin in July. Pat and Frances Springer will be in the Austin public schools during the next year.

LaVada McClung and Mr. Buddy Wheeler.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple departed for a honeymoon trip to Lubbock and to Tenaha, the former home of Mr. Parrish.

They will return to Spur to make their home and Mr. Parrish will assume the management of the Inn.

Figures Show That Chevrolet is Leading In Auto Production

Final figures just compiled show Chevrolet again leading the entire automobile industry in sales of both cars and trucks during the month of June.

In spite of experts' predictions of a 12 percent slump in the automobile business in June, Chevrolet finished the month with 88,483 sales to its credit. This is a gain of 12.3 percent over May's total of 71,740 and it is the best month since May 1931, according to Mr. Caraway.

Mr. Caraway stated that Chevrolet's leadership and the increase in its production in sales is due to the ever increasing popularity of its production. Thousands of owners with many thousands of miles on their cars are every day testifying to the comfort and dependability of Chevrolet's "knee action" body by Fisher, and the splendid economy the car affords and the many other comfortable and convenient features, which make it a pleasure to own and drive this new Chevrolet.

Relief Commission Will Furnish Meat

Austin, Sept. 3.—Issuance of fresh meat cuts, begun three weeks ago in the metropolitan districts, was extended to all families on relief rolls in the state by order of C. Z. Clain, director of commodities distribution of the Texas Relief Commission.

The program will get under way 10 days after state officials have received reports of requirements of county administrators and "we hope" Crain said, "to reach every possible family on relief rolls in the State of Texas."

Whirlwind Rolls Barn Over Into 5th Street

A whirlwind of unusual proportions the past week turned a barn belonging to Homer Wilson, West Fifth street, over twice. Reports are that the barn was fairly well fastened to the ground and that the stakes were pulled out of the earth. Since whirlwinds turn both ways, this was evidently a left-handed one.

Miss Ruby Del Harvey, of Aspermont is here this week visiting her sister, Mrs. Odell Norris and Mr. Norris.

Fall Gardens Can Be Made to Give Variety To Table

Your family gets tired of turnip greens and mustard. Why not treat them to a variety of vegetables that will grow equally as well during the fall as mustard or turnips. Carrots, if planted in the fall will withstand cooler weather than turnips. They will also be available for use throughout the spring months and into the early summer. Danver's Half Long is a good variety to plant. Detroit Dark Red Beets will also stand as much cold weather as the turnips. Remember that the seed of beets are in a pod which we commonly think is one seed. On the contrary you will find that there are three or four seeds contained in each seed pod. When beets first come up and are competing with each other for supremacy we say they "go to top" when in reality all of the seed in the pod will have come up and they are too thick. Naturally no bulb is produced below the surface when the plants are this close together. When your beets have attained a height of 3 to 4 inches, thin them out to four inches apart in the row. Then it will not be a great while before you will have nice beets ready for table use.

Swiss Chard is another vegetable that you can add to the fall plantings. Cold weather will have little effect upon this new vegetable for your garden. When the leaves have made sufficient growth to be used as greens, be careful and separate the veins in the leaves from the tender portion between the veins. Some housewives complain that the Swiss Chard has a bitter taste. By removing the large, coarse veins from the leaves and using only the tender portion of the plant, you will find that Swiss Chard compares favorably with spinach.

In case you do not have any Pinto beans from the spring garden, plant a few rows of beans of this type and you will find that they will mature under ordinary conditions before frost. With the coming of cooler weather fresh pinto beans add an excellent variety to the vegetable diet. Bush Bountiful is a good quick maturing variety of stringless green bush beans to plant now.

Onion sets can be planted now. A few feet of Iceberg China Winter Rose radishes will add another tasteful variety to your diet. Shogoin is a new variety of turnips which will grow under hot weather conditions and which are reported to be lice proof.

Lets get busy on that fall garden.

W. B. Lee and daughter, Miss Ann Lee, Mrs. Joe Collier and Miss Mildred Collier, spent Sunday in Misses Mildred and Ann to attend Abilene making arrangements for A. C. C. this year and also visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Collier.

The new school is being gotten in readiness and will be ready to start work on the appointed date. There will be 11 teachers in the school for the current year, and an enrollment of approximately 450 are expected.

Notices of the routing and time of schedule departure and arrival have been posted at the various stores, postoffices, and other public places in the district.

It had previously been intended to open the school on Monday, Sept. 10, but due to a delay in receiving delivery on the school busses, the opening was postponed to the date listed above, September 17.

Grady Edgar Now Member of Marines

(Special to Texas Spur)

New Orleans, Sept. 4.—Grady Edgar was one of the accepted applicants who passed the final examinations held by the U. S. Marine Corps in this city today. He was immediately transferred to Parris Island, S. C. for the basic training of a Marine. It is not known what line of work this young man will enter on completion of his initial training. Many are selected for aviation, radio, music, clerical, mechanics and other schools. Others go aboard some battle ship or cruiser for duty afloat. Men serving on ships travel thousands of miles and will have many strange and thrilling experiences.

Applicants to fill vacancies in the Marines receive their preliminary physical examinations in their home localities and those selected receive their final examinations in New Orleans, La. Applicants must be graduated from high school, not less than 66 inches in height, of good moral character and in excellent physical condition.

Prior to entering the Marines Edgar lived with his father, Mr. Will Edgar, in Spur. He graduated from Spur High School in 1931.

To The Voters of 19th Congressional District

"This is to thank my good friends and neighbors of Lubbock and all counties of this district for their unwavering loyalty and support in my race for Congress.

"To the victor belongs the spoils, but I assure you the vanquished is equally happy in the knowledge that he fought a good fight and kept the faith and that he has so conducted his campaign as to have nothing to look back upon with regret.

"The people have made their choice. The Democratic Voice has spoken. Now let all of us cast aside our campaign prejudices and feelings and unite behind the young man who assumes the mantle of responsibility, to the end that he may achieve for the common good.

"I salute the first Congressman from the 19th District. I extend sincere congratulations and all good wishes, together with my warm personal friendship.

"To those who have worked and traveled and labored so faithfully and untiringly in my behalf, I express undying thanks and appreciation. You have been my friends; I assure you I am yours, now and forever.

"To those who opposed me, I have only the highest admiration for your sportsmanship and fairness. With few exceptions you have been a gallant and friendly bunch, and I have enjoyed the contest of 'trust and party' with you immensely. There are no scars to heal and no regrets to offer.

"I salute you all, and wish for our united people the hope of the future, which is the attainment of happiness and contentment as our goal of life."

Sincerely,
CLARK M. MULLICAN.

Transformed Vegetables

By Caroline B. King
Home Economics and Culinary Authority

HAVEN'T you often longed to discover some new twist to the tried old ways of cooking vegetables, to learn some delicious method which would transform them from the same old baked, boiled or fried things you have served day after day into something temptingly different? I have—many a time. For, good old reliable standbys as they are, vegetables can and often do become very monotonous.

My best results are obtained by adding a totally different and unusual flavor and quality to the vegetables, and to obtain this delightful change I often use Brazil nuts. Take salads for instance. Just the plainest lettuce salad is tremendously uplifted and improved by slicing Brazil nuts lengthwise over the crisp green leaves, then serving with a French dressing made with lemon or grapefruit juice in place of vinegar, with enough paprika to color it well. You will have a salad to entrance an epicure.

Grilled Tomatoes with Sliced Brazil Nuts (illustrated above): are a delicous. Halve ripe but firm tomatoes, dot with butter, salt, pepper, and paprika and place under the broiler or at the top of a very hot oven. When half cooked, sprinkle thickly with sliced Brazil nuts and return to the oven to crisp and brown. Bits of bacon may be added also, but the Brazil nuts furnish all the necessary protein and other food qualities.

Brazilian Salad is substantial, and just right for the main dish on a hot day. It calls for six potatoes boiled in their jackets, then cooled, peeled and chopped. Add a cooked beet of medium size, also chopped, 3 small pickled cucumbers and a stalk of celery, both shredded fine. Mix well, season with salt and pepper and paprika, a tiny grating of onion if liked, and mix with a boiled or mayonnaise dressing just to moisten well. Now turn in a cupful of Brazil nutmeats, sliced lengthwise in nice generous slices. Mound up nicely or mold and set away to chill several hours, then arrange on lettuce leaves and mask the entire surface with stiff mayonnaise, decorate with sliced Brazil nutmeats and hard cooked egg cut in eighths; Sprinkle with paprika and serve very cold.

lege, and was preparing for aeronautical engineering at the University of Texas when chosen to accompany Admiral Byrd to the South Pole regions. Tractor experience in West Texas wheat fields qualified Hill as a member of the expedition's winter party, tractor division, whose activities are reported every Wednesday night at 8 o'clock Central Time over the coast-to-coast Columbia network.

Helping Others Brings Pleasure

"It has always been a pleasure for me to assist anyone in any way possible and that is the thing I value most during this year's work as wardrobe demonstrator," says Mrs. Nellie Sue Durham of the Duck Creek home demonstration club. "I have assisted in making 18 cotton dresses, 6 woolen and silk dresses and 16 other garments besides my regular club work. Since our club was 100 per cent on foundation last year, I have not helped to fit any club members but have fitted two non-club members and re-fitted two others."

"I have gained much from the demonstration and if everyone realized the value of the work to the individual, all would strive to become wardrobe demonstrators. The work has helped me to plan and select clothes more suitable for the occasion for which they are to be worn. Again, I have had an opportunity to keep up with the latest styles, colors and designs. Mere observation has taught me much on this lines especially since having been associated with people like our home demonstration agent and the other wardrobe demonstrators in the county."

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Richey were here Saturday from their farm home in the Croton community, bringing in produce for which they found a ready sale on the Spur market.

McMeans Child Is Claimed By Death

On the evening of August 14, 1934, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McMeans Jr. and claimed the spirit of their darling little son. It is one of the inexplicable mysteries why God should take from us this little one. Since He moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, we must meekly submit to the will of "Him who doeth all things well" yet the parting is none the less sad.

At 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, August 15, Dr. Ewton, pastor of the First Baptist Church conducted the funeral service which was very solemn and impressive. Following the little body was laid in its last resting place in the Spur cemetery.

Whom the Gods love die young. It is always the sweetest roses that are gathered first and the buds are most beautiful, so this flower has gone to bloom in the Master's flower garden. On the sands of life sorrow treads heavily and leaves a print time cannot wash away.

But the path of sorrow and that path alone leads to the land where sorrow is unknown. No traveler ever reached that blessed abode who found not thorns and briars in the road. We are all travelers on this land of God's and our precious baby has gone on before us waiting and watching for our coming "Just over in the glory land."

We must not think of him as dead for there is no death for the one who is prepared.

"We call it death but it is the soul unfolding, breaking the fetters of earth's sin and strife. The exit through the valley and the shadow. The quiet evening ere the dawn of life."

—One who loved him.

Mr. and Mrs. David McAteer, of four miles south of Dickens, were shopping with Spur merchants and visiting with friends on the streets Saturday.
