West Texas Utilities Company Celebrating Silver Anniversary

ABILENE, Dec. 8.—(Special) The West Texas Utilities Company, soon after declaring preferred stock dividends totaling over $109,000, announced it will observe its Silver Anniversary this week, choosing the Christmas season for the event.

This pioneer utility organization had its origin 25 years ago—1911—at Abilene. It has since expanded to include 160 communities in 49 counties, stretching across Central West Texas from Kimble County on the south to Dallam County in the Panhandle. General offices are in Abilene; District offices are located in McCamey, San Angelo, Ballinger, Cisco, Stamford, Quanah, Childress and Dalhart, as well as in Abilene.

It has provided Spur with electric power for many years.

Publication of an anniversary souvenir in the form of a newspaper magazine section is one of the main features planned by the company to celebrate the birthyear. Over 50,000 copies were sent out to customers and stockholders in the 45,000 square mile territory.

President Price Campbell announced that intensified efforts will be made during the forthcoming years to multiply the uses of electricity, and spread the benefits to more users, declaring that "the greater the benefits, the greater the consumption, and in turn the lower the steps in unit costs of electric service thereby all four interested parties profit (1) this "Land of Opportunity" West Texas territory, (2) the customers, (3) the employees, and (4) the stockholders."

He reminded the quarter million people served by the company that "average rates have been lowered 70 percent during the last 15 years—never raised." The recent dividend, he said, was declared in the face of government interference and increased taxes, amounting the last three years to 1.7 times—near twice as much for government tax expenditures as has been paid to all shareholders—owners of the company. This preferred stock dividend was made possible by unusual operating economies and intensive new business efforts of the organization. No earnings are yet possible for the common stockholders and none have been for five years.

While gross revenue remains 30 percent below 1929's peak figures due to rate reductions and sale of gas property, kilowatt-hour sales have reached a new all time peak during the last 12 months, he announced. Large increased industrial power usage together with some increased domestic service usage was credited with the hike. This dividend, equivalent to quarterly requirements of $1.50 a share, is the first full dividend basis since July, 1933, partly paid then from reserves, and the stock is now $9.50 per share in arrears. Seventy percent of preferred stockholders are West Texans.

Senator Connally To Speak Over WFAA

MARLIN, Texas, Dec. 8.—(Special) Senator Tom Connally will speak on "The Next Session of Congress", on Wednesday night, December 16, from 9:30 to 9:45 over Station WFAA at Dallas, according to announcement today. The Senator will discuss legislative matters which will receive the attention of Congress when it convenes on January 5th.

Senator Connally is expected at the next session to take the major part in enactment of legislation designed to take the profits out of war. The Texas Senator was chairman of a subcommittee which framed the bill in the Senate at the last session. It was favorably reported to the Senate but action was not had upon it before adjournment and Senator Connally has already announced his intention of pushing such a measure vigorously at this session.

More Funds For Democrats Needed

County Chairman Robt. Nickels of the Democratic Party was in town Tuesday and stated that State Chairman Roy Miller had urged him to make another drive for the Democratic Party campaign fund. The National Committee showed a half million deficit at the close of the recent campaign and Texas was assigned $50,000 to raise to help pay the party debts.

Dickens County was assessed $484.00 at the beginning of the campaign. $308.00 of this amount has been sent in to the state committee, leaving a balance of $175.25.

Mr. Nickels stated that every precinct committeemen in the county would be held responsible for $5.00 of this fund. He will conduct a campaign in the McAdoo community and take funds for the deficit. At Spur E. S. Crider, Dr. M. H. Brannen or Jephtha Craig will receive your donation and send it in to the committee.

Dickens County has been highly complimented by Chairman James A. Farley in the past for its work of raising funds and the party and the county leaders urge every loyal Democrat to give a little and Dickens County will go over the top again.

DID'JA EVER GET "Flutterbogey?"

Flutter . . . meaning to tremble with excitement or uncertainty and "bogey" coming from the ancient Natligip dialect meaning to see things in one's sleep.

This is not an unpleasant malady, but a new and different kind of thrill you'll get when you see a perfectly natural and beautiful girl reduced to one-sixth her normal size . . . a 12-inch Devil Doll . . . a killer.

Unbelievable? maybe so . . . but yet there you see her . . . amazing and thrilling you every moment when you see "The Devil Doll" coming soon to the Spur Theatre with Lionel Barrymore and Maureen O'Sullivan.

More next week . . . watch for it.

A. By the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers, under direction of Captain H. A. Montgomery, district engineer.

Q. What authority has control of this dam and of subsequent dams to be constructed?

A. The District has full control of the project, and as each unit of the series of dams is completed, it will be turned over to the District for administration.

THE SCOPE

Q. What is the scope of the Brazos project?

A. Here is a terse summary of the principal data on the Brazos and the project:

The Brazos River is an estimated 1,300 miles long, the longest river in the state and at flood times the most dangerous.

It drains a 44,600 square mile area, or 28,544,000 acres.

Twenty-seven percent of the state's population lives in the Brazos watershed.

There are 70 counties and parts of counties in the watershed.

The watershed contains 39 cities of more than 2,000 population each.

It comprises 28,544,000 acres, 3,000,000 of which are subject to overflow, and 9,483,809 of which are under cultivation.

The watershed is larger than any one of 15 states in the United States. It comprises one-sixth the area of Texas.

The 13 major dams in the project will impound enough water of maximum storage to cover 4,686,000 acres of land one foot deep.

The dams will make irrigation possible on 2,107,000 acres of land. The combined area of the lakes to be formed by the 13 dams total 120,000 acres at spillway level.

The 13 dams will be able to produce around 377,000,000 kilowatt hours of electric energy per year.

Questions And Answers Concerning the Brazos River Project—What It Is

THE PROJECT

Q. What is the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District?

A. It is a State Agency, embracing the entire Brazos River watershed, created by the 41st Legislature in 1929 to carry out a project to control flood waters on the Brazos River.

Q. What are the purposes of the Brazos Project?

A. Its purposes are four fold: (1) flood control, (2) water conservation for irrigation, industrial and municipal purposes, (3) soil conservation and reclamation, and (4) hydro-electric power production.

Q. How does the Brazos District propose to carry out these objectives?

A. By construction of a chain of 13 major dams on the Brazos and its principal tributaries, and by subsequent construction of a network of smaller dams on lesser streams which contribute to the flood load of the main streams.

Q. How will construction of these dams achieve the purposes of the project?

A. The dams will check the rush of water during flood periods, permitting the streams to carry a bankful load without flooding the fields, and at the same time will store up water in huge reservoirs for use during dry periods. The checking of flood water will greatly reduce soil losses from erosion, and permit bottomland farmers to plant crops on lands which otherwise might be wasted because of the overflow hazard. Hydro-electric power production is incidental to the main objectives of the project, being incorporated only for revenue producing purposes. Provision is made that no stored-up water will be used for hydro-electric power production when such water is needed for more useful purposes.

THE COST

Q. How much will it cost to control floods on the Brazos?

A. A minimum of $50,000,000.00.

Q. What provisions have been made for obtaining the necessary funds?

A. President Roosevelt, in the fall of 1935, approved a $30,022,000.00 Works Progress Administration appropriation for construction of the 13 principal dams, contingent upon the District's financing the purchase of land, operations and maintenance.

The State Legislature in 1934 voted to divert the ad valorem taxes, amounting to $309,000 a year, from 10 counties in the overflow section of the lower Brazos Valley for a period of 20 years. Against those taxes, the District has authorized the issuance of $3,600,000 in bonds. An additional $5,000,000 permanent improvement bond issue has been authorized against the sale of hydro-electric power from eight of the major dams.

Q. How much of the $30,022,000 has been made available?

A. $3,001,598 for construction of the first dam, the Possum Kingdom dam located in Palo Pinto county near Mineral Wells.

THE ADMINISTRATION

Q. By whom is the District controlled?

A. By a board of 21 directors composed of men living within the watershed, evenly distributed from Plainview on the northwest to Freeport on the southeast.

Q. How are the directors seated and for what length of term?

A. The directors are appointed by the governor, upon the recommendation of the State Board of

THE NEED

Q. Why is there need for flood control on the Brazos?

A. In the September, 1936, Brazos flood, property loss totaled $7,882,650. One life was lost. Crop damage alone amounted to $2,802,000. The loss for this year alone would have financed the construction of three of the proposed dams.

The 1936 flood damage figure did not include the intangible losses which frequently aggregate more than the tangible losses. Nor did the 1936 figure include the heavy losses from drought, which have amounted to staggering sums in recent years. Brazos flood damage from 1913 to 1929 amounted to $29,000,000. During that period 346 persons lost their lives.

The interchange of air currents between the humid warm gulf and the polar front coming down from the northern states brings about a great condensation of moisture, which causes the region within the Brazos watershed to be subject to the most intense rainstorms occurring in the United States. Climatological data show that during the last 45 years 33 great storms occurred in Texas. Twenty of those were of influence in the runoff of water in the Brazos watershed.

The Meaning Of Christmas

(By Mrs. P. H. Gates)

(Editor's Note—The following article was first printed in December, 1934 and is reprinted through the courtesy of the Merkel Mail and Mrs. P. H. Gates, author.)

Although Christmas is the celebration of the coming of a babe in a manger in the humble surroundings of a carpenter's shop thousands of years ago, it has a deeper meaning every year.

No wonder the angels from the celestial choir sang over Bethlehem fields that night the babe was born. It was no wonder they sang the message of the prophet, "On earth peace, good will toward men," for peace was what the babe symbolized, and that is what Christmas means today.

If we believe in the Christmas message, we shall look for God among the lowly, the despised of earth. We shall look for, and seek him in self forgetful service to the sinful, the heart-broken, the weak, the friendless, the homeless, the unemployed at this Yuletide season.

At the mention of Christmas deeper feelings of the heart begin to surge throughout one's being. In general, even the story is a romantic one of goodness and good will, humanity at its conventional worst of poverty and sin is made to blossom out with heavenly beauty and sacred joy as for the moment it plays the godlike part of the giver of gifts.

Such beautiful customs and legends about Christmas have been given us in song and story, it is hard to tell fact from fancy. How much that has been told leaves one "smiley 'round the mouth, and teary 'round the lashes," and how much mellowness it has brought! For instance, the story of the humble wood cutter, who had cut green branches for his hovel, but had nothing with which to beautify those branches for his children's joy. Then in the snow he found a little child shivering in his rags, hungry for want of food. The wood cutter brought the child to the warmth of his fire and gave him his own supper. By morning the child had disappeared, but there on the boughs was a web of light, just such a blaze of glory and silver as many happy fingers will be tracing from thousands of trees on Christmas Eve this year. The wood cutter received because he gave, not expecting any return.

With great ceremony in the olden days the Christmas log was chosen with care and laid in the fireplace, was lighted with a brand saved from last year's "log." Eating, drinking, singing, telling tales in the ruddy blaze were part of the Christmas celebration. All through the night that Yule log was kept burning and, if, overnight the flame went out, ill luck would surely be-

When Christmas comes, how natural to love even our enemies, cherish our friends, for we are happy, exuberantly happy. How natural for that mirth to bubble up from within. It makes the young, the old want to ring bells, blow a horn, shout, sing. The fountain of youth opens up, and flows backward to childhood home at Christmas time. Rows of stockings by the old fireplace—and such joy when first those stockings were beheld on Christmas morning—each stocking full, bulging with a dolly at the top in one, a horn in another, on down the line. Those stockings—how much happiness they held! No doubt then, there was a Santa Claus. A real live human with long white beard, a jolly, rotund little fellow, with sparkling eyes. Those were happy days and Christmas meant cheer, mirth, happiness.

But this is not all that Christmas means. It means to wrap up every secret worry, that canker of resentment, that black depression, that impatience, that malice or hatred which has been used, maybe for years, and, having wrapped them all up securely, place them at the feet of the Christ child and leave them there.

When the burdens are gone, free and happy again, all can join in the glad hallelujah chorus of the angels as they sing "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward All Men."

IT WAS DOWN ON OLD PITCHFORK

By Faye Powell

It was down on Old Pitchfork one day
Four children were at play
From the place that hung the old barrel swing
You could hear the laughter of children ring.

It was Bob and Opal Lee riding
It was Jimmie and I that caused the sliding
It was I that did the calling
Tell Bob that Opal Lee was falling.

Oh the chain broke, broke,
We all laughed until we could croak;
When they hit the ground, Bob was an old knight so brave
He was on his feet in a second,
His dear friend Opal Le to save.

That ended the Bronko Barrel swinging
That ended the merry singing
That also made the jog stopper cork
Down on the Old Pitchfork.

CLUB NEWS

WINNING DEMONSTRATOR GIVES REPORT

"I enrolled as home food supply demonstrator for the Soldier Mound home demonstration club this year for several reasons. First I was materially interested in canning and had a desire to have a complete pantry. Second, I was a new member in the club and thought I would get more out of my club work by taking an active part. Then, by being food demonstrator, I knew I would learn new and better methods of preserving food," said Mrs. Foster Jones, in the story of her work as she gave it over radio station KFYO Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Jones won first place in the county in home food supply work this year.

"Early in the year we had a program on menu planning when we made daily meal plans for a week. By following these, I have learned to serve well-balanced meals."

"My canning budget called for one hundred pints of leafy, green and yellow colored vegetables, eighty pints of corn, sixty pints of other vegetables, seventy five pints of tomatoes and tomato juice, one hundred twenty-five pints fruit and juices, ten pints hominy, one hundred number two cans of meat, fifty-two pints preserves, jam, jelly, and fifty-two pints pickles and relishes."

"We have canned six hundred thirty-seven pints of food; one hundred twenty-six pints of fruit and juices; one hundred pints of leafy, green and yellow colored vegetables; one hundred forty pints corn and other vegetables and sixteen pints hominy, thirty-three pints of tomatoes; thirty-six pints of preserves, jam and jelly; fifty-nine pints of pickles and relishes and one hundred twenty-five two pound cans of meats."

"When canning the meat, we took the scrap meat that we did not want to use for chili and canned it for the dog. We sold a quarter of the beef and bought canned tomatoes to fill out the budget."

"Heretofore, I have stored my canned products in pasteboard cartons in the cellar. When I wished to use some certain canned product I had to look through several boxes before finding it. This year we have built shelves according to the plan given by Miss Grace Neely, Extension Specialist in Food Preservation. On the top shelf I put jam, jelly, preserves, pickles, relishes as the heat will not cause them to spoil. Fruits and fruit juices including tomatoes were stored on the next shelves as they all contain natural acids that help to keep them. On the fourth shelf I stored leafy, green and yellow vegetables, and corn and other vegetables were placed on the next shelf. The canned meats are on the bottom shelf as this is the coolest place and to preserve the flavor meats should be stored in a cool place."

In our club work this year we have studied the preparation of mild flavored, strong flavored and raw vegetables. I have learned the mild flavored vegetables should be cooked in as small amount of water as possible and string flavored vegetables in a large amount of water. They should be cooked as quickly as possible. Our home demonstration agent gave us a time table for vegetable cookery that I have followed in cooking vegetables. A raw vegetable should be served daily, this may be served as salad. The dish I entered in the vegetable scoring demonstration scored 96.

"By being home food supply demonstrator I have learned new and better ways of preserving foods: meat, for instance, and pickles. I have also learned a great deal about food preparation that I did not know. I certainly consider the work worthwhile. My husband has helped me in every way possible, building the shelves in the cellar and helping with the canning. With out his help I could not have completed my work. We are both proud of our cellar full of canned food."

"Reports from six home food supply demonstrators and 84 cooperators were turned in in the six home food supply achievement programs last month."

INTEREST IN YARD WORK GROWING

"Interest in yard improvement work in Dickens County is growing even among those who are not enrolled in home demonstration club work. People are realizing that, as one of our yard demonstrators expressed it, 'Styles in yard decoration have changed in the last few years when it was quite the style to have borders of 'old maids', 'bachelor buttons', marigolds, phlox, and so forth on either side of the walk and triangle, circle, square and star shaped beds scattered where ever our fancy prompted us to dig one and set in every kind of flower or shrub we could get," said Mrs. J. R. McArthur, yard improvement demonstrator from Red Top home demonstration club and first place winner in the county, in the program Tuesday afternoon over radio station KFYO.

"In spite of the unusually dry summer just past the yards are

"ZIEGFELD" IS THE GREATEST SHOW EVER SCREENED

Myrna Loy and William Powell in "The Great Ziegfeld"

In "The Great Ziegfeld" which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and special mid-night preview Saturday night, Motion picture producers have picked up the torch where the late Florenz Ziegfeld laid it down and have succeeded in out-Ziegfelding the great Ziegfeld himself.

"The Great Ziegfeld" has everything that a great musical picture should have. It has, in the life of Ziegfeld, a most gripping and perfect dramatic story. In its musical numbers, never before produced on such a scale of grandeur, it has many of the most dazzling scenes ever seen in pictures.

In entertainment alone it rates just about 1000 percent. First, there are William Powell as Ziegfeld, Myrna Loy as Billie Burke and Luise Rainer as Anna Held.

Then there are Virginia Bruce as Ziegfeld's greatest glorified American Girl, Frank Morgan as his rival producer, Nat Pendleton as Sandow, Reginald Owen as Ziggy's manager, Fannie Brice as herself, Ray Bolger and his amazing dancing feet, Harriet Hctor, and hordes of the most beautiful girls ever to smile at you from the screen.

The story opens in Ziegfeld's youth in the dazzling Chicago World's Fair of 1893. It progresses as Ziegfeld himself progressed, making fortunes, to lose them and build other fortunes. But always in the foreground are the spectacular Ziegfeld productions and his amazingly beautiful show girls.

The dance numbers never before have been equalled. The direction of Robert Z. Leonard places him among the king of directors and the photography by Ollie Marsh and George Folsey is a pictorial masterpiece.

looking well, due, no doubt, to the fact that the soil was better prepared before the plants were set and thus giving the plants an opportunity to grow. Thirty lawns were sodded to Bermuda grass with the best and quickest results coming where the seed was sown early in the year."

"One hundred fifty-three nursery and two hundred thirty-four native shrubs are growing in foundation plantings. Four hundred twelve Chinese elm seedlings were set in groups of three or five to the sides and back of homes to form a background and frame for the home. Forty roses are living and fifty-eight plants were rooted from cuttings."

"Two years ago one of the goals in yard work was to lay flagstone walks. This year twenty-six more walks were laid using native rocks.

"Native flowering shrubs are being used in many of the plantings with one or more flowering nursery shrubs added to give brighter color. The use of native plants has helped us to see the beauty of the plants that have grown about us for years. The names of which we did not even know. The native red cedar, agarita, yucca, and artemesia or sage, though not sage brush, have been used extensively. While some have used wild currants, commonly called pole-cat or skunk brush, purple leaf plum, cactus and chemise." After giving the above county summary of the yard work Mrs. McArthur told the story of her own yard improvement work which has been printed recently.
