Pool Employees Receive $4,000

Pool Well Servicing Company recognized Crew Chiefs with outstanding safety performances at a special awards dinner meeting March 16 at Lowake Inn for Winters area personnel, their wives and guests. Safety awards to Crew Chiefs operating out of Winters totaled more than $4000.

Crew Chiefs O.C. Crawford, Jack G. Davis, Lester Tinney, and Edwin Tischler each received $1000 checks from Area Manager James Bomar. They are four of the 34 special 240-point winners in the company-wide 1977 safety program. They scored perfect records during the year under the program, with no reportable injuries and outstanding ratings from unannounced spot safety inspections of their rigs. In addition to the $1000 check, Lester Tinney received a $200 engraved wrist watch for having completed two consecutive years with a perfect safety record. He was one of only three men in the company to accomplish this record.

One other Winters Area Crew Chief earned an award. Jimmy Rogers received a two-year meritorious safety achievement award check for $90. He earned more than 165 points during

This is the second year of the Pool Well Servicing Safety and Accident Prevention Program by which Crew Chiefs might earn awards. The program is based on a point system, with points awarded for low accident experience, performance under periodic rig and crew inspections, and other related activities.

David Buhler, Pool Safety Representative from San Angelo, commended the award winners for the fine safety record set in the District during 1977 and urged them to continuous efforts. "Safety is our number one priority," he said, "and safety leadership begins on the rig floor. We count on our Crew Chiefs to protect men against themselves and to anticipate hazards at the rig site. Pool Well Servicing is fortunate to have an outstanding group of well trained, experienced Crew Chiefs, and we believe we may have the best safety record in the industry."

Also participating in the awards program was Gene W. Butts, Manager of the company's Central U. S. A. Operations, and J.W. Joiner, Central Mid-Continent Regional Manager, headquartered in San Angelo.

City Got $10,894 From Sales Taxes

The City of Winters received a check for $10,894.26 as the city's March share of the one percent sales tax.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said his office last week mailed checks totaling $69.2 million to 915 Texas cities. The March rebates are 17.4 percent larger than those for the same month last year and raise the year-to-date total to $101.5 million, up from $89.4 million for the first three months of 1977, for the state.

The one percent city sales tax is collected by retail merchants along with the state sales tax and is rebated to the cities monthly by the Comptroller's office.

A comparison of amounts received by area cities follows:

$667,657	Abilene	$667,657
	Anson	7,476
	Ballinger	20,449

Commissioners Approve Support of Stacy Dam

The Runnels County Commissioners Monday morning in special session approved a resolution of support for the proposed Stacy dam project on the Colorado River, following a meeting with representatives of Colorado River Municipal Water District, which is seeking State approval of the reservoir.

Owen Ivie, executive director of CRMWD, met with the Runnels County officials, and according to some commissioners, and Winters city officials who attended the meeting, explained the proposed project, and the effects it would have on the area.

Last week, county commissioners had declined to approve the resolution of support for the Stacy project, until had assurance of cooperation from CRMWD if and when districts in Runnels County applied for additional water permits and construction permits.

According to Commissioner David Carroll, who attended the Monday meeting, Ivie said he felt certain his district would support any application for any North Runnels water permit. See COMMISSIONERS Back Page

Trustees Offer Teacher Contracts

In a regular meeting last week, the board of trustees of Winters Independent School District approved offering of contracts to teachers for the 1978-79 school year. Contracts will be returned by the teachers within a few weeks.

Trustees also officially accepted, "with regret", the resignation of Bill Graves as superintendent of schools, and employed Tommy Lancaster as superintendent, effective May 1. Lancaster has been high school principal. The board has begun the process of employing a successor for Lancaster in the high school.

The school board also heard a report regarding the local textbook committee, and studied a list of residents for appointment to the Board of Equalization.

Extensive heating equipment repairs in the primary building were also discussed, and the board will study methods of making the necessary repairs.

THE WAY WE GASSED UP—There are very few of these old hand-operated gasoline pumps around, since the electric pump took over. This one is located in the old filling station building recently remodeled by Marvin Onken for his radiator shop. He said the pump would be removed soon, and probably become a decorative antique. In the old days, the marked gallon reservoir on top of the pump was filled from the buried storage tank by operating the handle on the right side of the pump housing. Number of gallons drawn off was visible in the glass bowl, instead of being displayed by a digital measuring indicator as in present day pumps. Also, "ONYX" gasoline is no longer available.

THE TOWN OF TRUITT, TEXAS

Truitt Billups is one member of the First Baptist Church whose ancestry goes away back. It begins with his grandfather, the Rev. W. S. Maddox, who served as moderator when the church was organized on March 22, 1890.

The first we hear of Bro. Maddox was when he became pastor of the Walthall Baptist Church in 1884, after the death of the first pastor, the Rev. Thomas W. Cotten. He led the congregation to its new location in Ballinger, and in 1886, the First Baptist Church came into existence. A newspaper article written on the observance of Ballinger's 64th birthday read:

"The Rev. W. S. Maddox, a Baptist minister, thought that 150 acres of land in the sandy south Ballinger area was priced too high at $4 per acre when he moved here in 1884.

"Resultingly, Maddox settled in the Hatchel community where he obtained two sections for $1.25 per acre.

"Maddox sold his Hatchel land in 1889, receiving $10 an acre."

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our deepest appreciation to the Winters Community for the support given at the Salad Luncheon, March 15. Also our sincere thanks to those who contributed salads. We are anticipating using the funds to supply needs of the hospital.

The Rev. Maddox continued living in the area for in addition to helping organize the Winters Baptist Church he served as its pastor in 1905.

Someone found a copy of the minutes of the 20th annual session of the Content Baptist Association and we hear of Bro. Maddox again. Among the officers listed was W. S. Maddox, moderator, of Lawn.

The Content Baptist Association was composed of Coleman, Runnels, Coke and Concho counties and was organized in 1888. At the meeting in the Lawn Baptist Church, Sept. 3-6, 1908, the following business was transacted:

"... Motion carried to organize a Runnels County Association and to meet at Winters on Tuesday after the first Sunday in October for the purpose of organizing a Runnels County Association. L. S. Smith, pastor of the Winters church, tendered his resignation as corresponding secretary-treasurer. W. S. Maddox resigned as moderator because he intends going into the new association."

When these events took place, Truitt Billups was only six years old but he already had a claim to fame for he had a town named after him.

J. T. Billups, Truitt's father, was a merchant in a thriving little community about ten miles east of Winters, just off Highway 1770. Desiring to establish a post office, the town council met to name the town. Several names were discussed and one of the men said, "Your baby son has a pretty name, let's call it Truitt," and they all agreed.

The one street ran north and south and the Billups General store run by John Golden. These were the stores that had the sugar barrel, the cracker barrel, the cured meat hanging from the rafters, the bolts of cloth and a good sized sack of candy for a nickel.

The post office was acquired March 21, 1904, with Mr. Golden appointed as postmaster. He installed the post office in his store. There were several other postmasters before the office was closed in 1912.

John Brown delivered the mail from Winters to Truitt in a buggy. His father was justice of the peace. Billups' store burned in 1908 while he was recuperating from a heart attack. Gad Ash later put in another general store.

Doctors Ash and Pool had their offices in a drugstore owned by E. T. Branham. Dr. C. A. Watson came in 1909, but moved to Crews two years later. Leslie David installed a telephone system in 1904, with his office in the Billups store. The Widow Bishop operated the telephone exchange. There was also a hardware store and blacksmith shop on the east side of the street. Arthur Truitt citizens had great dreams for the future when a railroad nearby was planned, but plans were altered and Truitt was doomed when the railroad was laid through Winters instead. All the buildings were moved away and all that remains is a lonely cemetery.

Truitt Billups lives on his ranch near the site of what was once his namesake town. He is now retired but has been active in public service as his Grandfather Maddox. He served on the county school board for 30 years and chairman the last two terms.

Church offices that Truitt has held include teaching a Men's Bible Class for some 17 years and serving as an associate teacher for a number of years. He was ordained as a deacon in 1927, and was a church board member for many years and was on the board that started the Baptist encampment at Brownwood. He was also the first president of the Associational Brotherhood.

Truitt married Leona Lewis in 1924. They have two daughters, Jean Nichols of Crystal Lake, Ill., and Jackie Wagner who died in 1971. The son, Lynn and wife, Dianne, live on the ranch nearby. There are seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Lynn and his family attend the First Baptist Church. Their children are William Brett, Val Scott, James Kent and Lynda Sue.

Levi Lee Circle Meeting Tuesday

The Levi Lee Circle met in the home of Margurite Mathis Tuesday. A hymn was sung, and Mrs. August McWilliams led the opening prayer.

Mrs. M. L. Dobbins presented the last two chapters from the study on Women in the Bible. All members took part on the program. Questions and discussions concluded the study.

Members present were Mmes. Walter Lange, McWilliams, M. E. Leeman, Roy Crawford, Thad Traylor, Ralph Arnold, F. R. Anderson, Frank Mitchell, and M. L. Dobbins.

Nichols operated a store and gin in 1906. The gin was later bought by Pruitt and then closed in 1910. Alexander had the last general store which closed in 1916.

School was taught in a one-room building, but with two teachers. In 1915 it was consolidated with the Long Branch School, six miles to the south, and the combined school became Harmony with three teachers.

Church services were held at the schoolhouse. Elmer Burke was the Baptist minister. There was a missionary society and Mother Billups was the president. Often in the summer, services were held under a brush arbor, near a little creek that ran south of town. There were eleven dwellings in Truitt.

Ballinger was less than 30 miles away but few people ever made the trip because there were 18 gates to open between Crews and Ballinger.

When purchasing a pressure canner, be sure it has a safety feature that allows steam to escape if pressure goes above 15 pounds or the maximum pressure for which the canner is manufactured. Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advises.

Hardware Disease Can Be Prevented

Hardware disease is caused by the presence of some foreign object, usually wire or nails, in the cow's stomach. This occurs because of the cow's eating habits and also because of the type stomach it has.

Cattle eat grass and hay without very much chewing the first time it is swallowed. Therefore a small piece of wire or any metal object may go down as easily as a stiff piece of grass or hay. Later, when the feed is brought up for chewing the cud, this heavy object does not come up. Instead it is moved into the second stomach where it settles to the bottom and stays there.

The location of this second stomach, called the reticulum, is between the diaphragm and the very large, first stomach called the rumen. Due to this location the object is often forced to move forward by the constant movements of the large, first stomach behind it. When enough force is produced and the object is sharp, it will begin to penetrate the stomach wall.

Hardware disease is more likely to occur in cows around calving time. This is because of the extra pressure placed on the stomach by the unborn calf and especially by the straining that occurs at delivery.

Soon after the object penetrates the stomach wall there will be enough infection in the area to cause even more pain for the cow. One of the first signs seen in hardware disease is lowered milk production, if the cow is milking at the time, and loss of normal appetite. These signs are often missed by the owner, especially in beef cattle on pasture and dry dairy cows not being fed daily. Shortly after the first signs appear, other evidence of pain can be observed—a slightly arched back, reluctance to move, and a stiff appearance, especially in front legs. Breathing and heart rate are usually increased, but not a great deal.

Dairy cows and thin beef type cows will usually show a "tucked" appearance. Some cows with pain of hardware disease will grunt when forced to walk, but most will only grunt when pressure is applied under the body just behind the breast bone or sternum. Many times this expiratory grunt can only be heard with the aid of a stethoscope held over the windpipe or trachea. Other aids to diagnose the presence of hardware used by veterinarians are blood test for evidence of infection, metal detectors, and even surgery, when it is a very valuable animal.

alternatives. The first—sell for slaughter immediately. Second—have surgery done to remove the object, or, in very valuable animals, just to make sure that hardware disease is the problem. Third—the animal may be treated with antibiotics, feed withheld about two days, and then fed very little for ten days. Many cases will improve and no more attacks occur. If an animal does have a second attack, then immediate slaughter is probably the best way to handle it. To prevent this condition, make sure all farm workers are aware of the danger of hardware disease and are very careful about allowing cattle access to items likely to be swallowed. Properly dispose of baling wire. Avoid dropping nails and staples during repair or construction of barns and fences. Some owners, especially dairymen, use magnets in the stomach to attract all metal and prevent its movement. Some objects which have been removed by surgery include many types wire, nails, tacks, staples, bolts, screws, glass, bone and tin.

Newly Approved Vaccine Provides Protection

A newly approved pneumonia vaccine provides protection against pneumococcal pneumonia—which accounts for a majority of the deaths from all forms of pneumonia, says Carla Shearer, a health education specialist.

The vaccine—recently approved by the Food and Drug Administration—has proven effective for at least 80 percent of those who received it, the specialist continues.

Ms. Shearer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Immunization efforts with the vaccine will probably focus on older adults and persons with serious chronic diseases—those most susceptible to pneumonia, she explains.

The vaccine itself cannot cause pneumonia—the bacteria in the preparation have been “killed,” the specialist points out.

However, reactions such as soreness and redness at the injection site may occur but should not last longer than two days, she adds.

Will Celebrate 96th Birthday On Thursday

Mrs. Cecil Inez Smith will celebrate her 96th birthday Thursday, March 23.

She was born in 1882 near Sherman in Grayson County, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. McElroy.

Mrs. Smith lives with her only daughter, Mrs. Vashti Waddell, in Winters.

SONG AND DANCE MAN—Griff Brown of Winters, during a recent visit to a night spot in Las Vegas, was called to the stage by the star of the show, Tony Orlando, who persuaded him to join him in a song and dance routine. Griff sang and danced with Orlando, and later Orlando held a champagne party for Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

"People Don't Get Excited About Roadside Litter"

A new kind of pollution is striking West Texas with a vengeance. Like most others, this form of pollution is man-made, but unlike some others it is totally within the control of the individual, and has no valid reason for existence. "Why not call it what it is?" says State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) District Maintenance Engineer J. R. (Bobby) Evans of San Angelo. "For some reason, people do not get excited when we speak of litter on the roadsides, and yet what could be more truly pollution than these tons of waste we pick up each year. "This means that every man, woman and child in District 7 is taxed each year because of motorists who toss their trash out of windows, farmers and ranchers who allow feed sacks to blow out of pickups or trucks, householders who toss whole sacks of garbage on the roadside, tourists who use roadside parks then leave their picnic remains to blow away, and even some who change their oil in the right of way and leave oil soaked earth, oil cans and dirty filter behind them." "The highway right of way is Texas' front yard to every out-of-state visitor," Evans continued, "and very few of us would dump the same kind of material in our own front yards that is regularly dumped along our roadways."

The laws of Texas prescribe specific penalties for littering the highways, and the area Department of Public Safety has joined the DHT's battle to bring litter pollution under control. Lt. Oscar Armstrong of the San Angelo DPS office said that "our forces will stop, ticket, and seek convictions on all litterers of the State highways that we are able to apprehend." Littering convictions may bring fines of $15 to $400.

The magnitude of the problem may be better understood if the public realizes there are 2800 miles of State maintained highways in Dist. 7. The only method of cleaning these rights of way is to walk them out and with pitch forks and dump trucks pick up each individual bit of litter.

The usual method requires a truck and driver, and two pick up men walking alongside. An identical crew works the other side of the highway, for a total of six men and two trucks in each litter clean up operation.

The man hours that are expended in walking out a 20 mile stretch of highway mount up rapidly. Some of the clean up crews say that the problem has grown so much that the cleaned area needs cleaning again the following day. Sometime it is difficult to tell where the clean up operation stopped the previous afternoon.

A number of the DHT maintenance sections may have 12 field men to maintain several hundred miles of highways. If only

AUSTIN—Students who are preparing to enroll or already enrolled in some colleges, universities and vocational schools will now be able to obtain information from those institutions about financial aid available to them, costs of attending, academic programs offered, and the success of students in various academic programs.

The regulations have been issued by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Office of Education. The new rules and regulations affect post-secondary schools which receive money under the Basic Grant Program, Guaranteed Student Loan Program, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant Program, College Work-Study Program and the National Direct Student Loan Program.

According to the lawyers in our State and County Affairs Division who represent the Texas College and University System Coordinating Board, the new H.E.W. rules require that the schools affected give the students who request it:

-A description of all student financial aid programs available to students who enroll at that institution. These are to include federal programs and the institutions own programs.

-A description of the procedures and forms for applying for such aid, the eligibility requirements, the criteria for selecting recipients from the group of eligible applicants, and the criteria for determining the amount of the student's loan.

-A statement of rights and responsibilities of students receiving financial aid under the federal loan programs. This information includes the criteria for continued eligibility for each loan program, the means by which payment of loans will be made to students and the frequency of such payment, and the terms of any loan received by a student as part of his financial aid.

-The cost of attending the institution, including tuition and fees, books and supplies, room and board, and transportation costs for students living on-campus, off-campus, or at home, and any additional cost of the program in which the student is enrolled or expresses a specific interest.

-The refund policy of the school of unearned tuition and fees or other refundable portion of the cost paid to that school.

-Information about the academic program of the institution, including current degree programs and other educational and training programs; about the instructional, laboratory and physical facilities which relate to the academic program; and about the faculty and other instructors.

-Data regarding student retention which takes into account the enrollment pattern of that institution, including the description of the types of students that were included and excluded in compiling the retention information. Student retention refers to numbers of students able to complete a certain course and numbers of students that were retained in a certain course as a result of failure.

If you have a question about financial aid disclosure at a school you attend or plan to attend, contact your regional H.E.W. office. For assistance with a consumer problem call our Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock, Houston, El Paso or McAllen. one six man clean up operation is going on, then half of the total maintenance force is removed from their other duties. Therefore, hidden costs in efficiency, and projects delayed must also be charged up to litter pollution.

A number of new signs are going up about the District to warn of littering penalties and urge citizens to cooperate in helping to stop this destruction of roadside beauty and useless drain upon the pocketbook of every taxpayer.

Not all the news concerning litter "pollution" is bad. The Boy Scouts in Eden have been of tremendous help on highways there. They go out in squads and gather the litter into garbage bags, leaving them at pick up points for DHT trucks. The recent increase in deposits on soft drink bottles, and the current value of aluminum cans has brought a noticeable decrease in the presence of these items on the roadway. Various groups and individuals are gathering these items for fund raising purposes, however this has no effect on the many other kinds of litter pollution.

What To Do With Those New Puppies

It usually takes a mother dog approximately nine weeks to have a litter of pups. In general, smaller breeds take less time to have their litters than the larger breeds.

On the day that she has the puppies, she may not eat her food. Some dogs remain to themselves by hiding under the bed or in the closet. Others may make a nest. Be sure the mother has a clean, warm environment. Her rectal temperature usually becomes subnormal prior to delivery (that is, it may drop from the normal of 101°F to 98°F-99°F).

The puppies usually appear in a sack filled with fluid that the mother breaks. The mother also chews apart the umbilical cord. She will lick the pups which cleans, dries and stimulates the body to start breathing.

If she doesn't clean the pup, take a dry bath towel and vigorously rub the puppy. Sometimes placing the puppy in a downward position helps remove the fluid that may have accumulated in the mouth and nose. If there is visible fluid over the nostrils, clean this off with the towel.

Puppies must have an adequate intake of nutrients and a warm environment. Puppies need to nurse every one to two hours. The first milk produced by the mother contains colostrum which is high in antibodies that help the newborn resist infection. Without proper nourishment, the pup could get a low sugar level in the blood stream and might die, if not treated promptly. If the mother neglects the pup and it is unable to nurse, the puppy's body temperature will fall since a newborn puppy cannot control its body temperature. Feeling the cold skin, the mother may cull the pup. Without warmth and nourishment, the pup can die within a matter of hours.

It is best to take the mother and her puppies to be examined by a veterinarian the day after delivery. Your veterinarian will check the puppies for birth defects and their general health. The mother will be checked to see that she is healthy and able to nurse her litter.

The mother needs to be kept clean especially around the nipples and the rectal area to help prevent transmission of disease to the pups. Also, it would be wise to examine the breasts daily to make sure that they are not red or painful. This may be a sign of infection in the glands which would need medical attention.

At approximately three days of age, the tails on certain breeds are docked along with removing the dewclaws. The dewclaws are the "thumb like" nail that is on the inside of the leg just up from the paw. This surgical procedure in the young is relatively painless and the blood loss is minimal.

From two to twenty-one days, the puppies are usually kept at home allowing the mother to do most of the work. One usually notices that the eyes and ear will be opening around the 14th day.

Even though the pups have been kept in a clean environment, it would be good to have your veterinarian check a stool sample for intestinal worms when the pups are 18 to 20 days old. The puppies can be infected with worms from the mother through the transfer of the baby worms through the uterus and milk. Some worms can cause a loss of blood, so the pup becomes very anemic and may even die.

Between three to four weeks of age, the pup's diet may be supplemented with a little baby cereal. Some puppies will eat strained baby foods. When the pups are four to five weeks of age, many will start nibbling puppy food. At this stage, they usually are still nursing but the baby teeth are starting to come in and the mother may be gradually weaning her litter.

When weaning, try not to take all the pups from the mother in one day. If you gradually wean the pups

O'Connor's Column

"Take care of yourself" is becoming serious advice, cautions Mrs. Juanita O'Connor, County Extension Agent, who says the present U.S. medical-care system is not able to serve all who need it.

"Experts are encouraging each person to assume more responsibility for his own health and that of his community, because present medical-care demands cannot be met," she says.

Each person makes choices that influence health—both physical and emotional—and some of the most important choices involve the individual's lifestyle, she says.

Lifestyle is often linked to the diseases which now are taking the greatest toll in lives and suffering, the agent explains.

We may decide our own link to those diseases by how we eat, drink, smoke, and exercise—and how we handle stress, anger and other emotions, she says.

Some choices an individual can make to ensure health start with five "take care of yourself" guidelines, may of which focus on lifestyle, Mrs. O'Connor advises.

She recommends the following:

- Establish sound health habits, such as balanced nutrition, regular exercise and careful dental hygiene.
- Recognize early warning signs and symptoms of disease and take action to prevent extreme consequences of the disease.
- When necessary, use the health-care system efficiently by carefully selecting qualified physicians, by seeking diagnosis early and by following through on recommended treatment.

Phone Co. Gains Stations During 1977, Up 66.5%

The four exchanges of General Telephone Company of the Southwest that serve Runnels County gained 66.5 percent more telephones and 105.2 percent more main stations during 1977 than those gained in 1976. This exceeded the company's record growth of 25.7 percent telephones and 33.7 percent main stations during the same period, according to Mike Sydiskis, San Angelo division manager.

"Ballinger, Rowena, Miles and Winters gained 403 new telephones, of which 197 were main stations. Main stations can be equated to customers," Sydiskis said. "Individually the exchanges gained telephones and main stations as listed: Ballinger 166 (59); Rowena 32 (16); Miles 88 (55) and Winters 117 (67)," Sydiskis added.

"Ballinger ended the year with a total of 3,140 telephones and 2,053 main stations; Rowena had 398 and 317; Miles 715 and 509; and Winters finished with 1,972 and 1,293," Sydiskis concluded.

General Telephone Company of the Southwest recorded the best year ever in 1977 with 105,967 new

Blood Donors Needed To Meet Local Quotas

Forty hospitals—including North Runnels Hospital in Winters—in 25 counties make up the service area of West Texas Blood Service of San Angelo. Patients in these hospitals require approximately 1200 units of blood or blood components every month, the blood service organization reports.

"If each community in our service area would donate their fair share there would be no problem in meeting these requirements," the service center said. In figuring Winters' blood usage, the draw should run about 200 units a year, the blood service said.

Persons living in the Winters area are encouraged to visit the bloodmobile Wednesday, April 5, from 1 to 6 p. m., at the First United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Anyone 17 years old wanting to donate blood must have a signed minor donor permit card which may be picked up at the high school office. Any person desiring information in setting up a scheduled visit by the bloodmobile or desiring additional information may call Ray Perkins or Shirley Goetz insan Angelo, 653-1308.

"We feel sure that if the facts are known by the people, many more persons from this area would donate," says Ray Perkins, director of donor development for West Texas Blood Service. "I feel confident that the citizens of Winters want to be self-sufficient in providing the blood used by their neighbors. What better way can we demonstrate our concern for our fellowmen than by giving the gift of life?"

Mayor Homer Hodge said Monday night that the City of Winters had not received a request from CRMWD for a resolution of support of Stacy, but that it is expected the request would be forthcoming. It is understood a hearing on the Stacy project will be held within the next few days in Austin, and CRMWD is seeking support from all areas which might be affected by the project.
