Council To Look At Water Rates

Winters' City Council Monday night took first action on a planned program to study the rates charged to water consumers, with a view toward an upward adjustment, probably within the next few weeks.

The City Secretary was instructed to assemble cost studies relative to the water department, for presentation to the council at the next regular meeting.

Need for an increase in the rates is at least twofold, council members said: The need to obtain more money to help finance the water search project; and purchase of materials and equipment for a partial upgrading of the distribution system.

The council instructed the Water Department to call for bids on new water meters, to be installed where needed. The orders will be for lots of 100 meters. It was pointed out at the meeting Monday that many of the water meters in the distribution system were inoperative; some do not register water being used; some register too high; and some register too low. The Water Department will begin a changeover of those meters which need to be replaced at once, and will inspect all other meters. It was felt that all meters more than three years old should be repaired or replaced. Much money is being lost by the city, it was said, because so many of the meters are inoperative.

Council members reminded Winters residents that when—and if—a new dam and reservoir is obtained, water rates must be high enough to help pay some of the costs. Also, it was pointed out, when the city applies for grants and/or loans to help finance the proposed lake project, federal and state agencies will be more willing to provide assistance if they know that the community is willing to do its part.

It will not be known until after a study is made how much or in what manner the water rates will be adjusted.

Water Permit Application

The Winters City Council has been notified that an application has been submitted to the Texas Department of Water Resources for an amendment to Winters' water permit, permitting the city to impound and use more water.

The application to the state agency was submitted Oct. 10 by Henningson, Durham & Richards, Inc., the engineering firm employed by the city, after approval of plans by the council two weeks ago. The application is for a proposed 8374 acre feet; the present permit allows impoundment of 2447 acre feet. Total surface of the proposed reservoir, plus the present reservoir, would be 643 acres. Drainage area is 65.5 square miles, on Elm Creek.

The council was informed that a hearing will be set in about 90 days, at which time the state agency will hear pleas for approval, or disapproval.

Once the permit is approved, the council said, applications will be made to state and/or federal agencies for grants and/or loans to finance the project.

Monday, Oct. 23 "Blood Giving Day"

Monday, Oct. 23, will be "Winters' Day To Save." Shirley Goetz, donor recruiter for the West Texas Blood Service at San Angelo, said this week.

The bloodmobile will be at the Winters First United Methodist Church Monday, from 1 to 6 p.m. Any 18-year-old must have signed minor donor permit cards which may be obtained at the high school principal's office.

"Winters' day to save" really means that patients' health or possibly their lives are solely dependent on the blood donations made in this community on this special day, Ms. Goetz said. "I don't believe many people realize the full meaning behind that statement, although it will be understood if you or a loved one is ever in need of blood and can't get it because someone just didn't take the time to donate to help keep blood available for the needs." The only way to meet this need, she said, is for individuals to take 30 minutes to give the "gift of life."

C-C Members Will Elect Seven New Directors

Postcard ballots were sent out to all members of the Winters Chamber of Commerce this week, for the annual election of directors. Seven directors will be elected for two-year terms, to fill vacancies and succeed directors whose terms expire.

Directors elected will take office Jan. 1.

Ten candidates are listed on the postcard ballot. Chamber members are asked to elect seven from the list. Candidates are:

Mrs. Dennis (Rhuennell) Poe, owner of the Fashion Shop; Mike Meyer, Winters Funeral Home; Gary Pinkerton, Winters Welding Works; Derryl Coats, manager of Super D; Mrs. Mike (Pam) Connor, KRUN Ballinger radio station; Manuel Vera, Boy Scout leader; Stanley Blackwell, vocational agriculture teacher; Arnold Thor-meyer, Winters Farm Equipment; Barry Sullivan, president of John's International; and Don Reese, Winters attorney.

FFA ROYALTY—Teresa Helm, center, was named FFA Sweetheart, and Kayleen McGuffin, left, and Tammy Gibbs, FFA Queens, at an election held by the Winters Chapter, Future Farmers of America, last week.

Blizzards vs. Coahoma

The Winters High School Blizzards will host the Coahoma Bulldogs in the third District 6-AA conference football game of the 1978 season, Friday, Oct. 20, on Blizzard Field. Kickoff time for the conference game will be 7:30.

The Blizzards, who have lost the first two conference games, will meet a team which has a perfect 5-0 record this year, and which promises to be the team to challenge for district honors.

Coahoma had three wins in pre-conference beating Wall 18-7, Crane 10-9, and Stanton 28-15. In District 6-AA play, the Bulldogs have beaten Merkel 10-6 and Wylie 14-13.

The Blizzards lost to Clyde 25-3, Coleman 53-0, won over Roscoe 14-7 in pre-conference, and then have lost to Stamford 35-7 and Merkel 33-0 in conference play.

Coach Les Fisher said the Blizzards have been "unable to get going offensively" this season, and had a "difficult time stopping stunting" in the Merkel game. Against Merkel, the Blizzards had a fairly good defensive game for about one-and-a-half quarters, but were unable to keep up the pace for the second half. They were up against a Badger team which was "ready to play" last Friday night, and which came on aggressively. The Badgers had a good pass rush, preventing the Blizzards from making headway in that area.

Coach Fisher said running back Robert Johnson was the biggest yard gainer in the game against Merkel, and he looks for him to provide some needed speed in the backfield.

Art Show In Bank Two Weeks

Winters area artists are being invited to display their paintings in an art show in the lobby of The Winters State Bank, from Tuesday, Oct. 24, to Nov. 2.

Artists are asked to bring the paintings to the bank by 4:30 p.m. Oct. 23, so the displays can be set up in time for the show.

Wingate Lions Ice Cream Supper 21st

Wingate Lions Club will sponsor a community ice cream supper Saturday, Oct. 21, at the Wingate Lions building. Serving will begin at 7 p.m. There will be no admission charge,

VFW Will Sponsor Essay Contest

Winters Post 9193, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the VFW Ladies Auxiliary, is again sponsoring the "Voice of Democracy" program, for sophomore, junior and senior students in Winters High School.

In the 17 years the VFW has been sponsor of the Voice of Democracy program, more than 3 million high school students have participated. Contestants write and then tape record a three- to five-minute broadcast script expressing their views on "Why I Care About America."

The winner of the Winters contest will receive $25.00 and a chance to participate in the district contest for a $100 scholarship. The district winner will participate in the state contest where the winner will be given a five-day expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., plus an opportunity to compete for national scholarships totaling $22,500.

"One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the program is that by thinking, writing, and speaking up for their country, they gain a better appreciation of their obligation to maintain our nation's freedom heritage," said Mary Kurtz, chairperson for this year's program.

Students interested should contact Mrs. Nancy Michaelis, Winters High School teacher, or Mary Kurtz.

Reunion of Buddies "Dream Come True"

A reunion of old Army buddies at Buffalo Gap last weekend was a "dream come true" and culmination of a lot of work and planning for a Winters man.

Alvis Jobe of Winters planned and worked for many months—even years—and visited many of his buddies from World War II, and was responsible for getting them all together for a reunion.

The reunion of Company A, 35th Combat Army Engineers Battalion, was held at the Old Settlers Reunion Grounds at Buffalo Gap Saturday and Sunday.

Jobe traveled to 48 states to round up his Army buddies for the first reunion attended by 35 veterans, and 24 of them brought their wives or other members of their families.

Jobe's efforts were so successful that the reunion will be held next year on Friday and Saturday of the first week in October, somewhere in Kentucky.

A memorial service and brief business meeting was held at Buffalo Gap, and Jobe was elected secretary-treasurer of the group. He was also presented a contribution for the work he had done this year in bringing the group together.

BY CHARLSE POE

THE STAKED PLAINS

George Garrett has a book in his possession of which he is very proud and rightfully so. It is "A Guide to the South Plains of Texas" compiled by the Texas State Highway Department, Division No. 5, Lubbock, Texas. Since Mr. Garrett was the Division No. 5 Engineer at that time, and the editor, he is responsible for the contents of the booklet published in November of 1935, and especially prepared as a contribution to the State's program of advertising the Centennial Celebration in 1936.

In addition to detailed maps which show the location of Division No. 5, also the state and federal highways, there is a page which lists the counties, county seats, origin, population, area and origin of the names.

But the most interesting part of the book is the legends and stories that have been written by curious historians and members of the Texas Tech faculty.

Division No. 5 of the Texas Highway Department lies almost entirely in the section of the Great Plains Province known as the High Plains. That portion of the High Plains which lies south of the Canadian River has been in the past known as the Llano Estacado, or "Staked Plains". But in recent years it has come to be known as the South Plains, and the older name is scarcely ever used anymore.

The origin of the words "Staked Plains", as explained by Dr. Robert T. Hill, was enlightening to me as I had always wondered what the term meant.

The most prevalent error in the public mind, says Dr. Hill, is that the Staked Plains received the name because some travelers placed stakes of wood at intervals along the route, in order not to lose their way. Equally in error is another invented explanation that the tall stalks of the yuccas along the Western border resembled artificial stakes stuck in the ground.

Of course Estacado may mean "Staked" in a certain sense, but the particular kind of "Staked" that it meant was the stakes of a "STOCKADE", a structure in which the stakes, or poles, or trees were planted close together vertically in the ground, so that they stood compactly against one another, just as many dwellings and forts of pioneers were built, and just as the Mexicans still build houses along the desert railroads today.

Owing to the general custom in Texas of "staking" (picketing) horses to a stake and of sticking stakes in surveying, the word "stockade", or its translation, as generally used by French, English and Spanish pioneers in the 17th and 18th centuries, seems to have vanished from our vocabulary.

"But why call the Llano Estacado the Stockaded Plains? The answer would be simple to you if you first approached them from the northwest, or Pecos-Tucumcari country, as the early Spaniards did," said Dr. Hill.

"From this direction, the northwestern corner of the high plains looms up like the bastion of a huge fortification, which to the Spaniards undoubtedly resembled a stockade or estacado, and in my opinion," says Dr. Hill, "it was most probably the resemblance that gave the Plains their Spanish name."

The Llano Estacado ends to the northwest, in Quay County, New Mexico, in a great escarpment like the corner of a square table, which rises above and overlooks deeper valleys in which flow the Canadian River on the north and the Pecos on the west. This corner, bastionlike escarpment consists of a steep cornice or cap rock, which resembles a high wavy, stockade or fortification, and which surmounts a long slope leading down to wide, red, bed valleys. This steep cliff is unclimbable and impassable for many miles east and south of the corner and resembles a great fort.

It is from this resemblance that Dr. Hill thinks the word estacado or stockaded was applied. He bases his opinion on the definition of stockade that he found in a dictionary in the department of archives at the University of Texas, printed by the Royal Spanish Academy in 1732.

The word cap rock caught my attention for I remember coming up over the edge of the Caprock, in a model T

Ford, and viewing for the first time this great panorama of level plains, stretching as far as the eye could reach. We were lucky if we didn't have to get out and push the tin lizzie up the steep incline.

Today, you can travel a paved highway in a modern car and top the cap with hardly a visible sign of effort. If it is in the winter with the wind howling out of the north or in the spring-time after the rains have come and the prairies are covered with wild flowers and green grass, you have a feeling of awe and wonderment at such a change in the country; from the rough, rocky breaklands, to a plateau nearly as level as a table.

Next week: Origin of the cap rock.

Accent On Health

Texas Department of Health
Fratias L. Duff, M.D., Commissioner

It almost goes without saying that you have to find a disease before you can treat it.

When you're looking for a dangerous and occasionally fatal disease such as diabetes, the sooner you find it the better off the patient will be.

Diabetes does kill—it is directly responsible for the deaths of 1,645 Texans last year and ranked as the state's number nine killer, according to Dr. C. R. Allen Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Health's Chronic Disease Division.

"In addition," reports Dr. Allen, "it contributed to the deaths of many more people with the primary death cause of heart disease, pneumonia, arteriosclerosis and kidney disease."

The Texas Department of Health puts a lot of emphasis on screening and followup services for diabetes, and during November local health departments and Public Health Regional offices will step up their activities. November is National Diabetes Month.

The Health Department is doing its share in diabetes detection and education. During the last fiscal year, local and regional health departments did approximately 60,000 blood glucose tests throughout the state. During the current state fiscal year, which began September 1, the Department hopes to do 75,000 blood glucose tests.

The past year we found more than 1,000 persons with undiagnosed diabetes, said Dr. Allen. "We feel that through this program we are reducing the mortality and morbidity associated with diabetes. If diabetes is discovered and controlled early in the course of the disease, it should help reduce the problems associated with diabetes," he said.

In recent months the Department has switched its testing procedure to using venous blood and the glucose oxidase laboratory method instead of the finger-stick blood and ferricyanide laboratory method.

The new procedure provides a more accurate system. "Screening—or case-finding—is very important because many of the quarter-million Texans with diabetes are undetected cases," said Dr. Allen.

Persons whose initial blood tests are high are asked to return to a State Health Department clinic for another test. The patient is asked to return two hours after eating a meal which has a specified amount of carbohydrates. This is called a two-hour post-prandial test. If the blood is found to be above a specified glucose level, individuals are referred to their own doctors as suspected diabetics.

"We're not actually diagnosing, but we do find suspected cases," said Dr. Allen.

The Health Department's involvement doesn't stop there.

Once a diabetic is seen by the physician of his or her own choice, the local or regional health office will followup with periodic blood tests done at whatever interval the physician suggests.

In addition to periodic blood sugar tests, departmental physicians, nutritionists and nurses counsel with the diabetics about diet and conduct patient education discussions about the disease and its effects on the body.

"It is essential that we help with information on diabetic complications, foot and skin care, urine sampling techniques, insulin dosage and other aspects of diabetic self care," said Dr. Allen.

"In general, our followup services are aimed at maintenance of control to avoid such complications as ketoacidosis and coma, blindness, kidney disease, neuropathy, infections and foot problems. One of the complications of diabetes is a decrease of blood circulation into the feet which can lead to gangrene and amputation," he said.

The Health Department's diabetes screening program is an on-going one at no cost to the clients in all of the Department's 68 participating local Health Departments and 10 Public Health Regions, as well as in several migrant health associations. The Department works with the North and South Texas Agglimates of the American Diabetes Association.

Checking blood sugar is a test that people come into a clinic and ask for. Sometimes we don't know about a health fair in advance, but when we get 200 to 300 samples from the same place on the same day, we know there has been a health fair," he said.

KRUEGER OF TEXAS

When unnecessary government regulations are stricken from the books, and businesses are allowed to operate in the free enterprise atmosphere in which they are intended, dramatic results occur.

Perhaps nowhere is this more apparent than in the airline industry, where decreased regulation has spurred more efficient transportation, competition has flourished, and what seems most improbable—profits have peaked while ticket prices have dropped.

Recent action by the House of Representatives, which last week approved a major airline deregulation bill, will further encourage airline fare competition by extending deregulation of the nation's airlines. In fact, carriers could lower their fare as much as 50 percent shortly after enactment of the bill.

Specifically, the legislation reduces the role of the Civil Aeronautics Board and allows airlines more freedom to cut rates and establish new routes—two processes which have been extremely difficult in the past. Although it is true that recent CAB officials have lately done much to deregulate the airline industry, and that we have enjoyed the lower fares which have resulted, legislation is necessary to guarantee that such benefits are not lost by any future change in CAB attitude.

In fact, the airline deregulation bill passed by the House calls for abolition of the CAB by 1983.

What this means in practical terms is that the airline industry will be allowed to operate in a freer atmosphere more conducive to increased competition. Normal economic incentives, which have been suppressed by federal regulation, will be restored. And airline prices and services, which today respond primarily to CAB rules, will instead be controlled by the preferences of the traveling public.

Another important development we will see is the enhancement of service to smaller towns and rural areas, and further extension of flights to places formerly unprofitable for airline service. Commuter airlines, one of the fastest growing parts of the airline industry, can also be expected to offer additional flights with the more open market conditions

Research Farm Tour Planned For Monday

A tour of the Custom Ag Service Research Farm at Loraine will be held Monday, Oct. 23, Allen Turner, Runnels County Extension Agent, has announced.

Neuman Smith of the Runnels County Field Crops Committee will conduct the tour, which will leave the Runnels courthouse at 8:30 a.m., and will begin the Loraine tour at 10:30 a.m. The tour will be completed by noon.

Anyone interested in agriculture is invited to make the tour, and additional information may be obtained from the county extension office.

Improve Apartment Fire Safety

Apartment dwellers can take steps to improve fire safety in their apartments, says a housing and home furnishings specialist.

First of all, make sure everyone living in the apartment knows what to do in the event of a fire in the apartment or building, Glenda Moore with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advises.

Then, follow these fire prevention guidelines:
—Use all matches and smoking materials with care.
—Don't smoke in bed.
—Never carry lighted matches or cigarettes into closets.

—Teach children to never play with matches.
—Don't abuse electrical wires and appliances.
—Repair and replace defective electric cords and appliances.

deregulation legislation allows.

One of the most important amendments to the deregulation bill approved by the House has direct bearing on Texas and eliminates discrimination in the law which hinders Texas air passengers' travel between interstate and intrastate airlines. The provision, which I authored, known as the "interlining amendment," facilitates handling of tickets and baggage and allows Texas travelers to select freely among inter and intrastate flights on the basis of price and flight time advantages.

A similar provision has already been in effect in California and Florida where joint handling of tickets and baggage among inter and intrastate lines has produced good results, and under the new Texas interlining amendment, inequities in Texas travel can now be remedied.

The entire House-passed deregulation package now proceeds to conference with the Senate, which, in my opinion, has approved an even more effective deregulation package.

Airline deregulation legislation represents the best of the American free enterprise system, which we have seen work best when left unhampered by excess government regulation. Of course, maintenance of high safety standards in the airline industry is always the most important consideration, and certain regulatory precautions will always be necessary in this area.

However, aside from safety, the more regulation we can cut away, the more procedures we can simplify, the more red tape that can be eliminated, the better off we will be in terms of promoting the combination of competition, productivity and service on which our nation has grown and for which our country is known the world over.

Stop Lawn Weeds Now

Remember those unsightly weeds and grasses that emerged in your lawn last winter? Now is the time to take action to prevent a similar situation this year.

Winters weeds begin to germinate as the temperature drops in October or November. Weed seedlings emerge from November through January but remain small and often don't become obvious until January or February, points out Dr. Dave Weaver, weed specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. A number of herbicides will control winter weeds in St. Augustine and bermudagrass if applied before weed seeds begin to germinate. This means applying pre-emergence herbicides in early October.

Benefin (Balan), bensulide (Betasan, Pre-San) and DCPA (Dacthal) are all available in granular formulations and will give good weed control if properly applied, says Weaver. Granular materials are easier to apply than sprays because calibration is more simple.

Drop type applicators are better than spinner type distributors because of uniformity of coverage and ease of calibration.

All these herbicides are available mixed with fertilizer (weed and feed products), but these mixtures must be used with care, cautions the specialist. Areas that need fertilization, such as flower beds and gardens, could be damaged by the herbicide, depending on what is growing there or what will be planted later. Proper application rates are more important when applying a herbicide than when fertilizer only is applied.

Two other effective pre-emergence herbicides are atrazine and simazine, but these are labeled for use only in fertilizer mixtures. Never apply fertilizers containing atrazine or simazine near young trees or ornamentals or injury may occur, emphasizes Weaver.

Unless there is rain soon after herbicide application, the lawn should be watered thoroughly to carry the herbicide down into the soil to contact weed seeds.

Before buying and using a herbicide, check the label for the exact rate and specific weeds and grasses to be controlled as well as precautions for use, adds the specialist.

The first true skyscraper using a steel skeleton for support was the Home Insurance Company Building, built in Chicago in 1885.

Fats have "staying power" in the diet because they stay in the stomach longer and take longer to digest than proteins and carbohydrates, reports Marilyn Haggard, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe De La Cruz of Winters, he is a graduate of Winters High School, and studied commercial art at TSTI, Waco. He and his wife, the former Sherry Collins, are employed at Victor Cornelius Menus, Eastland.

AG NEWS

Proper fertilization is important, if you want a good healthy lawn. In our area, it is recommended that you fertilize lawns three times during the year. The first application should be a complete fertilizer (a 16-20-0 will suffice in Runnels Co.) applied in March or April. The second application should be made in June, when only nitrogen is applied and the third application is made in September or October, when a complete fertilizer is again recommended. At this time of the year, we attempt to put the grass in a good healthy growing condition, especially the root system, thus a complete fertilizer or a fertilizer with both Nitrogen (N) and Phosphorus (P2O5) are recommended. Remember, Nitrogen alone tends to promote top growth while the addition of phosphorus stimulates root development.

Numerous calls have been received on weeds in lawns and what can be done. If there are warm season species, then little can be done this late in the growing season and a person should gear up for control next Spring. Leaf scald is another common problem with the fringe areas of the leaves turning brown and dying. Most of this problem is caused from the extremely hot dry summer when the trees simply could not get sufficient water to the outer portions of these leaves. Little or no permanent damage will be caused, if these trees are well watered through the winter and fertilized next Spring.

Cool Weather Attracts House Insects
With cooler weather, insects begin seeking a warmer place, and homes are ideal locations, says Allen Turner, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The most common household invaders are earwigs, crickets, pillbugs, spiders, millipedes and cockroaches. These pest will damage fabrics, feed on food products and may also transmit disease-causing organisms within the home.

The first control step should start outside, advises Turner. Remove hiding places such as plant debris around the foundation and

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill spent the weekend in Andrews with the Gary Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hill of Fort Worth came for a visit on Thursday.

Randall Kurtz was home over the weekend from Houston, so I had Sunday dinner with him in the home of his parents the R. C. Kurtz and Darrell. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gerhart also were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hoppe and girls spent Saturday through Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ziller and daughter Anricka at Liberty Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bishop and sons were at Bangs Sunday to spend the day with her grandmother Mrs. Alice Duggins. Others who came were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Curry and Debbie of Norton, Mrs. Thomas Curry, Windy and Sandie of Ballinger. On returning home Mr. Bishops nephew Mr. and Mrs. Mike Broyles, Scott and Dwayne of Abilene came for a visit.

Mrs. Cecil Hambright of Winters spent Thursday afternoon with her mother Mrs. Corra Petrie. On Saturday Mrs. Petrie attended the Porcelain Art Club in San Angelo.

perform any needed maintenance on portals of entry to keep insects outside.

If the insects have been a problem in the past, treat the foundation 12 to 24 inches above the soil line with a recommended insecticide such as diazinon, malathion or carbaryl (Sevin). Also, apply the insecticide to the soil surface next to the foundation and around sidewalks, patios, driveways and storage areas. Be sure to read the label and follow directions closely when applying any type of insecticides.

If insects are already inside the home, it is usually best to hire a certified pest control operator rather than to take care of the problem yourself, Turner adds.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service in offering 31 Tax Practitioner Workshops across the state reports Allen E. Turner, County Extension Agent. The nearest workshop to our area will be held in San Angelo on the 14-15 of Dec. or in Abilene Nov. 30, Dec. 1.

These two day workshops are specifically designed for tax practitioners who work extensively with farmers and ranchers. Topics to be covered include Schedule C and F, Employment and Social Security Taxes, IRA and Keough Plans are among other topics. This year three advanced programs will be offered in Houston and San Antonio stressing tax preparation for small businesses also. For additional information, please contact the Runnels County Extension Office (365-2219) for a brochure explaining more about the program and registration information.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Consumer Food News

Budget buys at Texas grocery markets include turkey parts, several fresh vegetables and items "on special" along grocery market aisles, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

Also, more beef features are available, she says.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This week's price-quality trends are the following:

POULTRY—Turkey parts are the best value. Fryer chickens are a good value—with whole birds the better value. Medium-size eggs are the better egg buy.

FRESH VEGETABLES—Better-than-usual buys are cabbage and potatoes.

More plentiful items with more attractive prices are eggplant, broccoli, cauliflower, cooking greens and turnips. Also consider carrots, dry yellow onions, green peppers and squash.

FRESH FRUITS—Red grapes have lower prices. Also consider bananas, cantaloupe and pears, along with apples.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES—Look for special prices on processed tomatoes and tomato products, such as juices, sauces and stewed tomatoes. Other features include pastas, pork and beans, tuna fish and peanut butter.

FROZEN FOODS—Specials include meat pies, fruit and pumpkin pies, bread dough, orange and grapefruit juices and French fries.

BEEF—Features include chuck roasts and steaks, shoulder roasts, round steaks, ground beef and liver—along with ground beef with protein.

PORK—Prices are fairly stable. Consider Boston butts, smoked and fresh picnics, semi-boneless hams, loin roasts and steaks.

Runnels Countians Receive $605,295 Per Month From S. S.

Social security benefits were being paid to residents of Runnels County at the rate of $605,295 a month effective June, 1978, Franklin H. Upp, social security manager in San Angelo, has announced.

Social security benefits can be paid to retired persons age 62 and over, to workers who become severely disabled before age 65, and to survivors of deceased workers.

Monthly social security checks are also paid to certain dependants of a worker who has retired, become disabled, or died.

Of the 3,189 social security beneficiaries living in Runnels County, 1,648 are retired workers and 157 are disabled workers. Another 478 persons are receiving benefits as the wives or husbands of retired or disabled workers. Widows, widowers, and dependent parents of deceased workers number 548.

In Runnels County, 93 people under age 65 and 2,306 people age 65 and older are receiving monthly social security benefits. Of total beneficiaries, 1,151 are men, 1,680 are women, and 358 are children.

Guide For Manure Application

Manure can be an important source of nitrogen for cropland, but the key question is how much to apply to obtain desired amounts of nitrogen for optimum crop growth.

According to Dr. John M. Sweeten, an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a "universal" guide for manure application rates is now available for convenient reference at any county Extension office in Texas. The guide was developed by Dr. A. C. Mathers and Dr. Don Goss, soil scientists at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland, Tex., and co-workers at other USDA laboratories.

The guide was based on Mathers' discovery that the time-release rate, or decay constant, of available nitrogen is slower for manure than for high-nitrogen manure.

"For example, cattle manure contains less nitrogen and has a slower nitrogen release rate than poultry manure," points out Sweeten. "Therefore, it takes more cattle manure than poultry manure to obtain the same amount of available nitrogen."

But cattle manure will leave more nitrogen in the soil for next year's crop than will be the case with poultry manure. Thus, substantially less manure may be needed in succeeding years to supply the same amount of nitrogen for plant growth.

"The guide also compensates for nitrogen that is lost from the soil due to volatilization of ammonia and denitrification," says the agricultural engineer. Denitrification is the process by which nitrogen is reduced to lower compounds with escape of nitrogen gas.

Sweeten, a specialist in animal waste management, gives an example from the guide for applying manure by tons per acre. For surface spreading of feedlot manure containing 2 percent nitrogen (dry matter basis), the proper application rate for 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre for the first year would be 9.3 tons of dry manure per acre. In the second year, 7.7 tons per acre would be required to obtain the same amount of available nitrogen in the soil. By the fifth year, only 5.9 tons of dry manure per acre would need to be applied.

Sweeten urges farmers to consider the guide when trying to improve the growth potential of cropland. Other factors such as salt content and cost of application should also be considered.

"Research conducted by the USDA and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has been sufficient to tell us that farmers in the Panhandle and South Plains should apply 10 tons of feedlot manure per acre per year, or nearly 7 tons on a dry matter basis. But adequate research is not available for other types of animal manures and for other regions," says Sweeten. "Therefore, farmers should use the USDA guide to manure application."

Energy Saving Tips on Electric Heating.

Check your thermostat setting. Recommended temperature setting for winter heating is 68°. Remember, the lower you set the thermostat in the winter the lower your energy cost.

Have your heating system checked now! Proper servicing before the heating season begins is good preventive maintenance.

Keep filters clean. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions, if it's disposable, replace when dirty.

Have your home properly insulated! Adequate home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use... can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.

Use the warmth of the sunshine! On sunny days open the drapes. The sun shining through the glass will supply additional heat at no cost.

Remember, Reddy Supplies the Energy. only you can use it wisely!

District 6-AA members are half through the 1978 season, and each has two conference games behind them.

Three of the teams are tied for the leadership thus far, but this status could change with this week's schedule of games—but it isn't likely. Forecasters look for all three—Coahoma, Stamford and Colorado City—to take their games this week.

This week, Coahoma visits Winters; Stamford goes to Ballinger; and Colorado City will host Wylie; Merkel goes to Anson.

Merkel 33

The Winters Blizzards traveled to Merkel Friday night in their second district game and met defeat at the hands of the Badgers 33-0.

Both teams played tough defense in the first quarter and there was no score.

In the second quarter Merkel scored twice. Once on a 54 yard run and again on a 24 yard pass.

The third quarter saw one score on a short run and in the final quarter, the Badgers scored twice on short runs.

Chuck Evans rushed for 19 yards in eleven carries and David Esquivel gained 37 yards in 14 rushes. Robert Johnson had 5 carries for 39 yards and John Musick made 15 yards on three attempts.

Alcoholism-- Facts, Fallacies

How much do you know about the facts and fallacies of alcoholism? asks Carla Shearer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Here's a simple "true" and "false" test of common alcoholism facts and fallacies.

- QUESTIONS
- (1) Most alcoholics are "skid row bums."
  - (2) You have to drink more than a pint a day to be considered an alcoholic.
  - (3) As long as you stick to beer, you won't become an alcoholic.
  - (4) Alcohol is a depressant.

(5) At least one-half of fatal highway accidents involve drinking.

(6) Giving a person who is drunk some black coffee will sober him up.

ANSWERS

(1) FALSE. Only about three to five percent of the more than 9,000,000 alcoholic Americans are "skid row bums."

About 70 percent of the alcoholics are married, employed, "regular" people.

(2) FALSE. Evidence has shown that a specific amount of alcohol can't be set in determining if a person is an alcoholic.

Rather than how much a person drinks, what seems more important is when, how and why the person drinks.

(3) FALSE. One beer or one glass of wine is about equal to the average highball. Beer, just like hard liquor, contains the necessary ingredient of alcohol that is needed to become an alcoholic.

(4) TRUE. Although often considered a stimulant, it actually works as a depressant on the central nervous system.

(5) TRUE. To sober up simply takes time. To get alcohol out of the system, the liver needs time to metabolize the alcohol.

Everyone has his own "cure" for a hangover—actually the only one that works is preventive medicine. If you don't drink too much, you won't get a hangover.

The cone-shaped towers of the temple of the Shwe Dagon Pagoda in Burma are completely covered with gold.

Prolong 'Cutlery's' Life

Cutlery's "last stand" may be due to improper care.

Knives in good condition are more efficient, and they are safer, advises Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She offers these guidelines for knife care:

—Store knives individually so blades do not contact other blades or other hard surfaces.

A small block of wood fitted with slots for the blades is quite satisfactory.

—Use a cutting board for chopping and slicing.

—Do not use knives to cut string or wire—or as a screw driver or lever.

—Do not allow knives to soak in water.

—Do not subject knives to heat.

—Do not clean any knife in a dishwasher, unless the label says dishwasher safe.

How To Sharpen

To sharpen a knife on a sharpening steel, hold the steel horizontally—in the left hand, slightly slanted away from you. Hold the knife by the handle in the right hand.

Rest the blade edge—at the heel of the blade—lightly near the far end of the steel. The knife blade should be resting at an angle of about 20 degrees.

Then draw the blade toward you, letting the blade edge—from blade heel to point—move across the steel. Use only light pressure. Three or four strokes are enough.

Repeat this operation on the other side of the steel with the other side of the blade edge.

Clean the knife before and after sharpening.

Four Basic Knives

Four knives will meet most cutting needs. They include a paring knife, utility knife, 8-inch narrow slicer and an 8-inch cook's knife.

Famous psychiatrists have offered a wide variety of explanations for why people have adorned their bodies with gold jewelry since almost the dawn of time. Theories include sexual enhancement, social or tribal

Tetanus Immunization

Tetanus need a "booster" in tetanus immunization.

Texans need a "booster" in tetanus immunization. For the last several years, reports reflect a drop in the incidence of tetanus nationwide, reports a health education specialist.

However, Texas reports don't echo this drop, says Carla Shearer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In 1975, 102 cases of tetanus were reported in the United States; 16 of those were in Texas. The reports for 1976 and 1977 show a nationwide decrease to 75 and 77 cases respectively.

However, for these same years, Texas reported 12 and 16 cases respectively.

Tetanus Disease

Tetanus, also known as lockjaw, can be fatal. It is caused by spores of bacteria which can enter the body through a wound, the specialist explains.

Because the tetanus germ cannot grow in the presence of air, deep puncture wounds or cuts are favorite growing environments for the germs.

There is no natural immunity to the tetanus toxin, therefore, immunization against this disease is needed regardless of age, she points out.

immunization is recommended every 10 years for the general population.

However, persons constantly exposed to the possibility of getting tetanus may need more frequent boosters. Or, an accident may necessitate immediate tetanus immunization, Ms. Shearer suggests.

Children are usually protected against tetanus because they receive the immunization along with immunization for diphtheria and pertussis.

However, adults are often unprotected because they don't recognize tetanus as one immunization also needed by adults, the specialist says.

There is no natural immunity to the tetanus toxin, therefore, immunization against this disease is needed regardless of age, she points out.

Bountiful Baked Beans Belong . . . 'Nuff Said

A potful of beans will go a long way, economically, nutritionally and tastefully. And what's a better time than fall for the ever ready hearty fare provided by seasoned-to-taste cooked dry beans?

No matter where you live—or what the occasion is—you can't go wrong with beans on the menu. Prepare them for immediate serving or have them ready to heat in the refrigerator. Or, serve them cold. And, have you ever tried a pork-and-bean sandwich?

Beans are popular fare in every part of America. Can you imagine a Texas barbecue without beans? Or, a campout in the Rockies? Or, a country-style supper in Kansas or Oklahoma? Beans belong, no matter where.

If you're traveling in New England, you may be struck by the simply worded announcement "Saturday Nite Supper" on restaurant bills of fare or for community get-togethers. That's enough said. Bound up in the traditions of the area, the homely pork 'n beans combination is as truly New England as crepe suzettes are truly France.

In pioneer days of the Puritan settlers, the baked beans and pork, seasoned with molasses or brown sugar, were cooked in long and leisurely fashion all day Saturday. They were ready for serving at night and also for Sunday dinner, in observance of religious restrictions forbidding cooking on the Sabbath.

Many families, today, have their own cherished recipes for Boston Baked Beans passed down through the generations. Generally, the recipes call for cooking all day. Special ingredients used vary from a touch of ginger to graham cracker crumbs and an assortment of sweeteners. The type of pork used also varies. The most common is tender salt pork, but many New Englanders also use flavorful ham, bacon, or other spicy pork products.

The beans used also depend on the recipe, but leading contender for a favorite variety in New England is the pea bean, with kidney, yellow-eyed, and many other kinds also popular. Seasoning also may vary widely. In Vermont, maple syrup is a traditional touch. New Hampshire bean pots may be flavored with molasses.

But you don't have to be in New England to enjoy the goodness of beans. Travelers in Canada may recall the French variation "cassoulet," which combines white beans, garlic and spices, with goose fat, pork and bits of goose meat.

In Mexico, we have the frijoles, a pork and beans dish cooked at simmering temperature all day. A South American dish called Black

Seafood--'A Taste Of The Tropics'

For that "taste of the tropics," try fresh fish coated with coconut and crumbs, garnished with fresh fruit.

This all says "tropics" in a cool, delightful way, says Annette Reddell, seafood consumer education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Beans Brazilian includes sausage, bacon and other pork with the beans. Then, they'll add onion, garlic, chili pepper and olive oil. This delicious treat is served over rice.

Because beans are so adaptable to any occasion and because they are such excellent hosts to such a variety of seasonings, you can adopt—or adapt—any of the many baked beans recipes in your cook book, as your own.

This is an especially good year to enjoy the abundance, the variety and the economy of dried beans, suggests the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). Beans are so plentiful this month that USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service has issued a special Food Alert, to call attention to their abundance.

The crop is 18 percent larger than a year ago, reports USDA. Also, large carry-over stocks are on hand. So bean producers are not happy about the prices they receive for their bean crop. Many have to sell at less than actual costs of production.

But it means a bonanza of bountiful beans for the consumer—a bargain in nutrition—whether you go the New England, Canadian, Mexican or typically Southwestern route of preparing and serving them. Tell your family to be ready for a "Saturday Nite Supper." Enough Said.

Boston Baked Beans
2 c. navy beans
1/4-1/2 pound salt pork
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. mustard
1 T. molasses
1 T. sugar

Pick over and wash beans. Soak over night. Drain. Cover with cold water, bring to boiling point. Cook slowly till skins wrinkle when struck by draft of air. Drain. Fill bean pot half full, lay in pork, rind of which has been scalded and scored. Put remaining beans into pot, pour over them mustard, salt, and molasses and sugar, dissolved in hot water. Add enough more hot water to cover beans. Put cover on bean pot, bake 8 or more hours in slow over (275°). Replace water as needed. Draw pork to surface during last hour of baking. Remove cover to brown beans and pork. Makes 6 servings, 2 c. each.

This tropical recipe for Crispy Coconut Fried Fillets calls for fish fillets.

Use a favorite Gulf finfish and enjoy a treat that is high in protein and low in saturated fats and calories, she suggests.

The fillets are dipped in an egg mixture, then coated evenly with fine corn flake crumbs and coconut.

Frying takes only about five cool minutes per side—fish cooks quickly.

It's ready when it flakes easily when tested with a fork, the specialist points out.

A lemon butter sauce tops the coconut fillets. Grapes, melon slices and other fresh fruits make an appropriate and nutritious garnish.

Because foods served in the tropics are fresh and uncooked, prepare a pretty platter of sliced tomatoes, cucumbers and the like—in- stead of cooked vegetables.

The need for a salad is then eliminated and only hot rolls are needed.

If dessert is desired, sherbet is an appropriate finale, Ms. Reddell suggests.

Crispy Coconut Fried Fillets
2 pounds fillets
1/2 cup fine corn flake crumbs
1/4 cup finely chopped flaked coconut
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
Oil for frying
Lemon Butter Sauce (re- cipe follows)

Fresh fruits for garnishing (orange wedges, melon chunks, or grapes)

Leather Fashion Need Special Care

Leather's "fashion look" for fall will take special care, a clothing specialist advises. Smooth leather and suede with its textured look need different care techniques, according to Nancy Brown with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

However, both will last longer if given the proper care, she adds.

Smooth Leather
Garments made of smooth leather do not require much care.

Let smooth-leather garments dry naturally. Wash off spots with warm water and soap. Then wipe dry with a clean damp cloth.

Suede
Suede requires more care. These garments need frequent brushing. Use a dry bristle brush or a rubber sponge to prevent dirt from settling in the nap.

Art gum eraser or emery board can remove stains usually.

If suede becomes wet, allow it to dry away from heat—and rub it with a terry cloth towel to bring up the nap.

Storing Leather
Hang all leather garments on padded hangers to prevent misshapen shoulders or marks left by wire hangers.

'Erasing' Wrinkles
To get rid of wrinkles, hang the garment in a damp place, such as a steamy bathroom, overnight. If wrinkles remain, press the garment with a "dry iron" technique.

Set the iron on a rayon setting and use heavy wrapping paper as a press cloth. Press on the top side with quick light strokes.

Professional Cleaning
Leather garments need professional cleaning treatment. Don't try to save money and clean leather garments yourself. Let a professional do this job.

CONGRATULATIONS!
To Alderman Real Estate for being chosen Business of the Month. Best Wishes from Pete's Mowing and Yard Care Service. 33-ltc.

Nursing Home

Very few of us have the opportunity of living to observe our 100th birthday. On Oct. 2, Mrs. Minnie Minzenmeyer was 102 years old. This is an unusual milestone in the life of anyone. She was born in Germany and came to this country when she was about five years old.

Others celebrating their birthday in October are Myrtle Wilbanks, Oct. 1; Nettie Hamilton, Oct. 20; and Fred Williams, Oct. 30. The birthday party is planned for Tuesday, Oct. 24, at 3 o'clock. Friends and relatives are invited to join us in this happy hour.

We wish to express our sympathy to the entire family of Mattie Cooke who was a resident in our home.

Mattie touched the lives of many young people and we miss her very much.

Three new residents have come to make this their home. They are A. L. Crockett, B. G. Goats and Mrs. Maye Bille Shelton. We hope their stay with us will be a pleasant one.

Statistics indicate only two percent of all wives contribute 75 percent or more to the family income.

In most cases, employed wives contribute 20 to 40 percent of the family income, reports Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Most good farmers don't wait until planting time to buy Pioneer-brand seed... not anymore. The best farmers seem to think that having the seed with the greatest potential is too important to leave to chance. So ordering next year's seed as soon as they've seen this year's results is becoming a habit... practically a tradition. Why? Because, when you compare Pioneer performance to brands that are always available and compare the advantages of ordering early to the disadvantages, you've got to pick up the phone and call a Pioneer dealer.

Sam Faubion Elected To SWCD Board

Sam Faubion of Talpa was re-elected to the board of directors of Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District recently, to represent Zone 5 of the district.

There are five individuals serving on the district's board of directors, responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law. There are 198 soil and water conservation districts in Texas. The districts are legal subdivisions of state government organized by local agricultural landowners, with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. However, the districts do not have powers of taxation or eminent domain, and all conservation programs managed by the districts are of a voluntary nature on the part of the landowner or operator.

Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District was organized Aug. 10, 1949.

Shot Clinic For Children Friday, 20th

An immunization clinic for school age and pre-school age children will be held in the school nurse's office Friday, Oct. 20, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Children will receive immunization for DPT, polio, mumps, measles and rubella. There will be no charge.

Runnels FU Convention On Monday

Runnels County Farmers Union will hold the annual county convention and policy formation session, Monday, Oct. 23, in the meeting room of the Winters Housing Authority. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Delegates to the state convention will be selected.

Jon Thomas of the State Farmers Union office will assist in outlining county policy resolutions to be submitted to the state policy committee.

All members have been encouraged to attend.

Commissioners Name Child Welfare Board

Runnels County Commissioners at the last regular meeting named members to the Runnels County Child Welfare Board. Eight persons were named to the board, for three, two and one year terms, and a permanent member was named.

For three-year term: Mrs. John Bedford, Winters, chairperson; Linda Stubblefield, Ballinger; Pam Connor, Winters, secretary.

Two-year term: Mrs. H. H. Wagner, Rowena; Bonnie Hood, Winters; Shirley Hill, Wingate.

One-year term: Elliott Kemp, Ballinger.

The permanent member, who will be treasurer, is J. B. McGuire, Ballinger.

Drive On To Raise Teen Center Funds

The group of parents working to organize and operate a teen center in Winters planned to meet Tuesday night of this week, to elect officers, and lease a building to be used for recreation for teenagers in the community.

The group also has begun a campaign to raise funds to renovate and decorate a building, and for incidental expenses. First donor in the drive was the Wingate Lions Club, which donated $100 to the project.

A special account has been established at The Winters State Bank, with Ted Meyer as chairman of the committee.

Those wishing to contribute to the teenage center fund may make deposits direct to the account at the bank, or leave contributions with Ted Meyer.

The organizing group plans to have group meetings on Tuesday nights. They have been meeting at the school cafeteria.

The group explained that a teen center is badly needed in Winters, for high school students. They also said plans are to have the center open on special nights for junior high school students, once the building is made ready.

Cool Weather Brings Home Invaders

If you feel your yard was the scene of the national bug conference this summer, fall and winter might not give much relief. Cooler weather means those insects will begin seeking a warmer place. And that "resort" will more than likely be your home, says Dale C. Brandenberger, County Extension Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Most common among these household invaders are earwigs, crickets, pillbugs, spiders, millipedes, and certain cockroaches. In addition to their annoying presence, many of these pests will damage fabrics, feed on food products, and some are also capable of transmitting disease-causing organisms from place to place within the home.

Your first line of defense for controlling these invaders should be outside. Remove hiding places such as plant debris around the foundation, particularly around flower beds. Check doors, windows and other portals of entry for loose screening and poorly fitting joints. Performing the needed maintenance will not only keep insects out of the home, but will also provide better cooling and heating, emphasizes Dale C. Brandenberger.

Next, if insects have been a problem in the past, use a recommended insecticide as diazinon, malathion or Sevin (carbaryl) to treat 12-24 inches above the soil line on the foundation, as well as the soil surface next to the foundation. Also, apply the insecticide around the sidewalks, patios, driveways, and storage areas.

If your first line of defense fails, your second is to control pests already in the home. Commercial pest control operator can be called in or you can do it yourself by using aerosol household insecticide sprays which can be purchased at the food store. In most all cases, it would be better to hire a certified pest control operator than to try taking care of the problem yourself!

However, before using any type of insecticide, be sure to read the label, and follow directions closely. The use of any insecticide should be based on the presence of an insect problem. Absolutely do not treat where a problem does not exist, or has not existed in prior years.

But . . . if they do exist, shut down the conference before it becomes "resort time", noted Brandenberger.

A good protective coating for galvanized window screens is a mixture of two parts boiling linseed oil and one part turpentine.

Apply the mixture with a pad made by tacking a piece of carpeting to a wood block, says Glenda Moore, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Policy Outlined For Publication of Wedding Stories, Pics

Because of limited space and the costs involved, the following policy is in effect regarding publication of wedding stories and pictures in The Enterprise. This policy will also govern publication of articles on anniversaries and other similar events.

—Wedding information, along with pictures, must be received no later than Friday of the week prior to the week of publication. In most instances, this information and pictures are available prior to the wedding date. It is our desire to publish the story and pictures in the issue immediately following the event.

—Simple details only, and no pictures, will be published in the second issue following the event. No wedding or anniversary story will be published in the third issue following the event.

—Only the main facts of the events will be published, and no pictures will be printed, for weddings or anniversary celebrations which take place out of town, except for immediate former residents, such as students, whose parents still reside in the area. Pictures of nieces, nephews, grandchildren, and other relatives, who have never lived in the area will not be published. Only short notices of the events will be published, and then no later than the second issue following the event.

—We solicit pictures of local weddings and anniversary celebrations, and will hold the original pictures for only one week following date of publication. We cannot return pictures by mail unless a stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies the picture.

—For weddings, we will publish only one picture. If an engagement picture is published, there will be no wedding picture published.

Home Gardening--$14 Billion 'Industry'

Today's home gardens are a far cry from "quite contrary Mary's"—to the tune of $14 billion in 1977.

Their produce value last year represents a $4 billion increase over those of 1976, according to Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Also, the 1977 per capita consumption of home-processed fruits and vegetables was 11 percent of all processed fruits and vegetables, she reports.

About 60 percent of garden households in 1977 said they froze some of their homegrown fruits and vegetables, while only 12 percent said they froze none.

About 17 million garden households—half of those surveyed, said they canned some of their fruits and vegetables. Those that canned no produce totaled 17 percent.
