General Election Tuesday

Although there are more than 40 candidates for many offices, state, district and local—plus eight constitutional amendment propositions—on the ballot for the General Election next Tuesday, Nov. 7, the contests gathering the most interest in the Winters and Runnels County area will be the race for Runnels County Judge, and the 21st District Congressional race.

State races drawing good local interest are the contest for U.S. Senate, the governor's race, the lieutenant governor contest, and the attorney general's race.

The County Judge race is the only strictly local contest in this election; all other local candidates face no opposition.

In the County Judge race, Bill B. Stultz of Ballinger is the Democratic nominee, while Woodrow Hoffman, also of Ballinger, is the Republican nominee. Stultz beat out incumbent Judge John Purifoy in the Democratic primary in the spring. Hoffman has had no opposition on the GOP ticket.

Of high local interest is the race for the 21st

Congressional District seat being vacated by Bob Krueger, who is challenging U.S. Senator John Tower. Nelson Wolff won the Democratic nomination for the 21st District, and will face Tom Loeffler, the Republican candidate.

The race for the U.S. Senate also is drawing quite a bit of local attention, because Cong. Bob Krueger (D.), who has been the U.S. Representative for the 21st District, has a substantial following in this area. He is expected to carry this part of the state in his race against Sen. John Tower, Republican.

Other local or county offices to be filled, in which there is no opposition, include District Clerk (Myrt Jobe); County Clerk (Frankie Berryman); County Treasurer (Otis Jacob); County Surveyor (Felix Itz); Justice of the Peace, Prec. 2 (J. C. Hodnett); Constable, Prec. 2 (Van Whittenburg); County Commissioner Prec. 2 (David Carroll).

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. A complete list of voting boxes for the county is published elsewhere in this issue.

Blizzards To Anson

Two of the three "snake-bitten" teams of District 6-AA will square off Friday night, as the Winters Blizzards travel to Anson to take on the Tigers in the fifth district game of the regulation season.

Both teams have identical season records—1-6—but Anson's single win has come in district play. Winters' single win was over Roscoe in pre-district play.

(The other hapless 6-AA team is Ballinger, also with a 1-6 season).

Indications are that the Blizzards will be at full strength Friday night, and will be up for this game with Anson. In a season made longer by overwhelming losses, the Blizzards are ripe for an upset, and the encounter this week with Anson may be the time. The Blizzards haven't let down—they're just inexperienced and light—and a spark or a circumstance could just get them on the scoreboard for a counter this week.

Anson has had a hapless season—until their upset win over Merkel a couple of weeks ago. Then last week they werelobbered by league-leader Coahoma, 35-6.

Benefit Play Day Planned For Nov. 4

Winters Rodeo Assn. will sponsor an open Play Day for anyone 19 years of age and under, Nov. 4, beginning at 2 p. m., in the association's arena northeast of town, to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Entry fee for each event will be $1. There will be four mixed-age groups. Ribbons will be given to the top six entrants in each event, and a trophy belt buckle will be given to the high point overall individual.

Events will include barrel racing, flag racing, boot race, pole bending and goat roping.

Proceeds from admissions will go to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

S. S. Rep Sets

November Visits

Garland Gregg, representative of the San Angelo Social Security office, has scheduled his November visits to Winters for Monday, Nov. 13 and Nov. 27, from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. He will be in the office of the Winters Housing Authority.

Work On Teen Center Goes On

A great amount of work has been done, but much more will be necessary, to prepare the building selected as Winters' new entertainment center for teenagers. The building to be used is on West Dale St., and formerly housed the McMillan self serve laundry.

The group of adults sponsoring the movement to organize the center met last week, and officially named the center "Winters Teen Town." The building is being leased, and liability insurance has been obtained, they said.

Several persons worked long hours last weekend to clean the building, and to get it ready to install furniture and other equipment needed.

It was not known this week when the center would be finished and ready for use, but those working said they hoped to have the building renovated and ready within a few weeks. They said a lot more work will be needed to get the job done—and a lot more workers—and invited all interested persons to join them.

The group extended special thanks to individuals and firms for their assistance in getting the building cleaned up and ready for painting, etc., including Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Co., for use of a forklift and trailer to remove trash and junk; Clifford Huffman, donation of $5; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pruser, donation of an old house to be torn down for the lumber to be used in remodeling; and the Winters Volunteer Firemen for hosing down the concrete floor.

A Challenge To Youth of Winters

The young people of Winters have been handed a challenge . . . to help themselves . . . according to the group now working with the young people on the teen center.

According to the group of parents and other interested parties, the Winters Youth Council of 1972-73, which was sponsored by Central Texas Opportunities, Inc., will donate $210.80 to Winters Teen Town, with the stipulation that the youths raise a matching sum.

These funds were left on deposit at the bank when the group disbanded a few years ago, and are under the care of Mrs. Mary Kurtz.

All young people who are interested in seeing the teen center become a reality are urged to get together and see how quickly they can raise the money to match the offered donation, the adult group said.

Tour of Homes Scheduled For Sunday

A Tour of Homes, sponsored by the Diversity Club, will be held Sunday, Nov. 5, from 2 to 5 p.m. The tour will include new homes and one older home which has been remodeled.

Homes to be visited include those of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Dry, and possibly another, it was announced by the sponsors. The J. P. Dry home will not be included in the tour, as was announced previously.

Those wishing to make the tour may obtain tickets from any member of the Diversity Club, or at any of the homes to be visited. Homes may be visited in any order.

The Floyd home, 108 Penny Lane, was built in 1975. Visitors will see a beautifully decorated home, filled with many treasures from all parts of the world. Assisting Mrs. Floyd with hostess duties will be Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. George Garrett, Mrs. Charles Hudson, Mrs. Bud Eoff, Mrs. Ethel Mae Sawyer and Mrs. Joe Arnold.

The James Brown home, located on Highway 53 across from the North Runnels Hospital, is the newest of the places to be visited, and is beautifully landscaped. The house is quite large and attracts the attention of everyone entering the city on Hwy. 53. Hostesses here will be Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Marvin Dozier, Mrs. Pauline Johnson, Mrs. Z. I. Hale, Mrs. Clarence Ledbetter, Mrs. Wayne

Roberts and Mrs. Joyce Krause.

The Hal Dry home, 201 South Frisco, is the older home to be toured. It was built in 1922 by Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Dixon. When Mr. and Mrs. Dry purchased the property, they added a swimming pool in the back yard, and carpeted the patio, which makes an ideal outdoor living area. The house has recently been completely remodeled and bricked. They installed thermal windows and many features to conserve energy. Hostesses will be Mrs. Dry, Mrs. C. R. Kendrick, Mrs. Fred Young, Mrs. Ava Crawford, Mrs. Verda Smith and Mrs. Weldon Middleton.

Plan Now To Attend Homecoming

All ex-students of Winters High School are being urged to make plans now to take part in the homecoming celebration set for Friday, Nov. 10, Lanny Bahlman, president of the Ex-Students Assn., said.

Homecoming will be held on the day the Winters Blizzards meet the Bearcats on Blizzard Field.

Highlight of the celebration will be selection of a Homecoming Queen and a Coming Home Queen.

Special anniversary classes will be recognized during an after-game reception in the school cafeteria.

Children's Reading Hour Sponsored By Local Club

The Junior Culture Club will sponsor a reading hour for children of the Winters community, ages 4-8, beginning Saturday, Nov. 4, from 3 to 4 p. m., in the Winters Public Library.

This program will be held the first Saturday of each month through the school year. Following reading and creative activities, the children will be served refreshments by club members.

Members of the club have been redecorating and painting the children's corner of the library during October.

Kathryn Bredemeyer To State FB Contests

Kathryn Bredemeyer of Winters will represent 17 counties at the Texas Farm Bureau Queen contest Nov. 27 at the Convention Center Theater in Dallas.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bredemeyer of Winters, Miss Bredemeyer will compete with nine other district winners for the state crown. She is the reigning Runnels County and District 7 Farm Bureau Queen.

Selection of the 1978 queen is one of the activities scheduled for the Texas Farm Bureau's 45th annual state convention. The state winner will receive an expense paid trip to Washington, D. C., and Williamsburg, Va., in April, 1979. Texas Farm Bureau will then pay expenses for the State Queen to attend the TFB Citizenship Seminar in July.

Miss Bredemeyer is a 17-year-old senior at Winters High School.

She is a member of the National Honor Society, president of the Future Homemakers of America, Who's Who Among American high school students, Lions Club Sweetheart, Outstanding Young Homemaker of Winters, attended the Farm Bureau Youth Seminar in 1977, and has been the Farm Bureau talent find winner and runner-up of District 7.

KATHRYN BREDEMEYER

Other activities include playing the piano, collecting recipes, writing letters, reading and working with livestock. She currently is librarian at the Winters Public Library.

The 5-7, brown hair and blue-eyed Miss Bredemeyer plans to attend Tarleton State University and major in home economics and perhaps become a home demonstration agent.

FACE-LIFTING—This building, which has housed many businesses down through the years, is being renovated for the teen center. Among possibly others, businesses in this building on West Dale St. have included a grocery store, a helpy-selvy laundry, a TV and radio business, and a worm farm.

A DEAN MARTIN ROAST

A roast, Dean Martin style, was conducted at the Senior Citizens Nursing Home Tuesday for the four residents having birthdays in October. They are Minnie Minzenmayer, Myrtle Wilbanks, Nettie Hamilton and Fred Williams.

Mrs. Minnie Minzenmayer, who has been in the home since January, is now 102 and the first to be roasted.

It seems that Minnie liked to go driving when she was young. She and her sister stopped at a livery stable and asked for a gentle horse to drive. The liveryman brought out one saying, "This horse is perfectly gentle as long as you don't let the rein get under his tail."

When they returned the liveryman wanted to know how they got along. "Just fine," said Minnie, "there were a couple of showers while we were out, but we took turns holding the umbrella over the horse."

In all probability Mrs. Minzenmayer had her own horse to drive as she lived on the farm for many years.

Minnie Ernst was born Oct. 2, 1876 in Whittenberg, Germany and came to the United States with her parents and four brothers, Carl, Willie, Fritz and Louis, in 1881, when she was six years old. They landed at Galveston after a three-week voyage, some of it in a storm that almost sank the ship.

The family first settled in Fayette County and later moved to Pflugerville where a sister, Mary, and brother, Adolph, were born. Here the children attended school. Minnie rode sidesaddle to school, church and parties.

Minnie met her future husband at Pflugerville and when the Ernst family moved to Runnels County in 1896, her fiance followed. She and William Minzenmayer were married in 1898 at Winters and lived on a farm north of town. Later they moved west where her son, Bill, now lives. They moved into Winters in 1928 and Mr. Minzenmayer died ten years later. Minnie maintained her home until 1964. Later living with two of her daughters, Mrs. H. F. Bredemeyer and Mrs. Hans Gottschalk, who attended the birthday party, also a granddaughter, Mrs. Johnny Wilson.

Myrtle Brannon was born Oct. 1, 1895 in Mills County and came to Runnels in 1919, after her marriage to M. C. Wilbanks. They farmed near Drasco and moved to Winters two years later.

Myrtle has had some health problems. She went to her doctor for a checkup and he said, "I've examined you thoroughly, and I can't find the cause of your illness. It might be due to drinking, however."

And Myrtle replied, "Oh, that's all right, Doc. I'll come back sometime when you are sober."

Carolyn Nelson lives across the hall from Mrs. Wilbanks and she heard Myrtle say that she had a new lease on life but she couldn't afford the payments.

Although Nettie Miller Hamilton was a tiny baby when she was born Oct. 20, 1899, in Bell County and weighs only about 70 pounds today, she doesn't like small eggs and complained to her grocer.

"They're straight from the farm, Madam," he said.

"That's the trouble with these farmers," she persisted. "They're so anxious to get their eggs sold that they take them off the nest too soon."

An unexpected visitor attended the party. Minnie Pearl came all the way from Grinder's Switch to bring her greetings and tell everyone about her feller Hezzie. She was impersonated by Lillian Cooper.

Gladys Roberts had gone to town last week and said she heard Billie Whitlow ask a clerk in a store if she could try on that dress in the window.

"Well," said the clerk doubtfully, "Don't you think it would be better to use the dressing room?"

Fred Williams was born Oct. 30, 1895, in Hill County and came to Runnels with his parents in 1899. They arrived in a covered wagon caravan and settled on a farm near Norton.

Mae Belle Shelton knew Williams and said that after

25 years of work Fred approached his boss and asked for a raise in salary. "I'm sorry," said the boss, "Business is bad just now. I can't afford to give you any more money."

"But I'm doing the work of three men," protested the unhappy Fred.

"The work of three men!" exclaimed the boss. "Tell me who the other two men are, and I'll fire them."

A few more comments were made and then the birthday honorees had their turn.

Betty Brown rooms with Rachel Seldon and says she has to keep a close watch on her for Rachel is a little forgetful and usually late. Rachel came in late the other night, looked up, saw the new moon, and made a wish over her shoulder, "I wish you health, wealth, and happiness—and everything I might think of later," she told Betty.

After hearing Betty Brown say she admired anyone who sings at his work, Alma Hughes commented, "She must really love a mosquito."

Elmer Hilliard knew that Carl Smith had been in the service but wondered why he was going through a box of old war records. When he inquired, Carl said, "I'm trying to find out who General Delivery was."

Irene Wood was explaining parallel parking to someone having difficulty. "There's nothing to it," she insisted. "You back up until you run into the car behind, then go forward until you hit the car in front."

Fred Williams remarked that everyone knows Bill Andrae enjoys his plants and flowers. Bill told him that he used to talk to his plants, then he found out fertilizer worked better.

Nettie Hamilton knows that Granny Waldrop loves candy and seeing she wasn't eating any asked her why. "It costs too much," said Granny. "All you can buy with a penny in a candy store today is a piece of the sales tax."

Myrtle Wilbanks heard Georgia Moore say that sex was not allowed to be mentioned in her home. She thought sex was spelled like the number six until she was almost grown.

Following the roast, group singing was led by Darlene Sims. Chocolate and coconut birthday cakes were provided by LuDell Gentry and Onita Williams and served with punch to members of the home and visitors.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation to everyone for the cards, visits and gifts while I was in the hospital and to Dr. Rives and the hospital staff. May God bless each of you. —Mrs. Walter Kruse 35-1tp.

Exercise —But Take Precautions

Exercise—but take some precautions before beginning any program.

Recently people have become interested in a variety of exercises including jogging, racquet ball, tennis, swimming, and many more, to promote physical fitness, points out Carla Shearer, a health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Everyone needs exercise on a regular basis; however, they should exercise some precautions when entering into any program, the specialist advises.

Ms. Shearer suggests consideration of the following before beginning an exercise program:

1) Don't try to do too much too soon.

It's advisable to get a medical check-up before starting a program of vigorous physical activity.

For those over 35, it's wise to include a cardiogram in the pre-exercise exam.

2) Don't push yourself too far.

Stop exercising immediately if you experience extreme fatigue, tightness or pain in the chest, abnormal shortness of breath, lightheadedness or nausea.

In these cases, check with a doctor again about the exercise that you are doing.

Although exercise is recommended on a daily basis, when suffering from a cold or fatigue, discontinue vigorous exercising.

3) Let the body warm up before strenuous exercise.

This period of gradual warm-up minimizes muscle and joint problems. Five to 10 minutes is usually sufficient to loosen joints, stretch muscles and speed up circulation.

4) After exercising, allow the body time to cool down slowly.

During vigorous activity, blood goes to the arms and legs. Muscle movement helps the blood return to the heart.

If the muscular activity is abruptly stopped after vigorous exercise, the return of blood will slow down. By gradually lessening the strenuousness of the activity, the body can return to its normal condition.

5) The key to physical fitness is regular daily exercise—not just on weekends.

"Now-and-then" exercise will not help to build and maintain physical fitness.

In fact, some experts believe if you can't exercise regularly, you may be better off not to exercise at all.

If it is impossible to do daily exercising, exercise at least three to four days a week—alternating rest days and exercise days.

But, exercising only once a week will usually only provide you with sore muscles.

Prepare For Widowhood —A Job For Both Spouses

Preparing for widowhood is a job for both spouses, says a family resource management specialist.

Start by "minding your own business"—seriously and completely, advises Lillian Chenoweth.

Mrs. Chenoweth is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Minding your own business" means understanding every aspect of family finances or money matters, she explains.

It is extremely important for both husband and wife to understand the family money situation, she adds.

For women, it is especially important, since three of every four women outlive their husbands by an average of eight years.

Almost 13 percent of the nation's population is widows, who are an average age of 56—and the life-expectancy gap between men and women is steadily widening, Mrs. Chenoweth says.

Questions To Answer

Time spent in answering the following questions may be the best investment a couple can make:

- What assets are available? In whose name are they listed? These include savings, investments, salary, pensions, insurance and social security.

- When, where and how can any benefits in the spouse's name be obtained?

- Where are financial records and documents kept?
- What are the expenses to plan for in daily living, in case of widowhood?

- Does the status of any asset change upon a spouse's death, illness, unemployment or divorce?

Some sources may begin, end or continue at different points in time.

Consumer Food News

Best buys at Texas grocery markets this week include fryer chickens, eggs, potatoes and onions, Gwendolyn Clyatt reports.

Also, "feature" items in several departments make budget buys, she says.

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This week's price-quality trends are the following:

POULTRY—Fryers are a leading feature in some markets with whole birds the best value. Eggs are a good value, but prices will trend upward, most likely, as the holiday season nears.

FRESH VEGETABLES—Low prices appear on onions and potatoes. Other economical buys are cabbage, winter squash, carrots, sweet potatoes and rutabagas.

Broccoli supplies are increasing.

FRESH FRUITS—Cranberries are nine percent more plentiful than last year's crop. Buy fresh cranberries that are plump and dry, firm and bright. Choose smaller dark red berries for best keeping quality. Present prices for cranberries are moderate.

For economy, buy extras now and freeze for later. Put the original package into a plastic freezer bag, seal and store in the freezer.

Red grapes have reasonable prices. Apples are plentiful, especially "by-the-bag" in small to medium sizes for lunch boxes or snacks. Apple prices are moderate.

Texas grapefruit is available, but prices will remain high until it is plentiful.

Bananas and Bartlett pears are other choices, but prices are moderate.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES—Features include processed fruits and vegetables, peanut butter, tuna fish, sugar and flour.

LAMB—More lamb will probably be available. Features may be shoulder cuts and leg of lamb, although the wholesale markets are steady.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: Since beef specials follow no pattern, consumers

If a fireplace is a must, select a high efficiency type with a tight burner, advises Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

For winter, close off the attic from the home.

Be sure to seal cracks around any attic doors, pounce stairways or air duct passages, for example, advises Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

To keep warmest this winter, choose garments that are thick but not heavy, or select those that can be worn loosely in layers that trap insulating air next to the body, advises Becky Culp, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

may have to choose a retail market based on which offers budget prices on their favorite cuts.

Social Security Administration Clarifies Reporting Requirements

With the change to Annual Reporting of Wages, the Social Security Administration would like to clarify the employer's reporting requirements. Employers will still be required to file quarterly tax reports with the Internal Revenue Service. The quarterly 941 form will not contain the usual Copy A employee listings, but instead will only show the total taxable wages, tax withheld, and the deposit schedule. An employer will not furnish the Federal Government (either Internal Revenue Service or Social Security Administration) with a detailed employee wage listing until January, 1979, when they submit W-2 Forms to the Social Security Administration. The Social Security Administration will process the W-2's for FICA tax information for Social Security and income tax information for the Internal Revenue Service.

The Annual Reporting Law does not cover state and local governments covered by Social Security. Nor does it cover household employees. All state and local governments covered by Social Security will still be required to report quarterly their employees' wages in detail to their state Social Security Administrator on Form OAR S-3. Household employees will still have their wages reported to Internal Revenue Service in detail quarterly on a Form 942.

For more information, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608. Residents of Ballinger, Big Lake, Brady, Junction, Mason, Ozona, Sonora, and Winters may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058".

Tom Loeffler is our best choice for Congress!

★★★ Texan Heritage ★★★

Tom Loeffler is a fourth-generation Texan, born and raised in the Texas Hill Country. He has the solid values and uncompromising character of this land and its people. A former Mason High School football star, Tom went to the University of Texas on a full four-year football scholarship, then earned his law degree there. Today, he is a working rancher in addition to his law practice.

★★★ Washington Know-How ★★★

Tom Loeffler was chosen to serve as Chief Legislative Counsel for Senator John Tower, then was appointed Deputy for Congressional Liaison for the Federal Energy Administration, and finally, served as Special Assistant for Legislative Affairs for President Gerald Ford. He has the experience, the day to day knowledge of how our government runs and is run, to be an effective representative right from the start.

★★★ Freedom To Fight For Us ★★★

Tom's wealthy Democratic opponent would be a "freshman" congressman, if elected—dependent on the liberal Democratic leadership of the House. He would be powerless to do other than add one more vote in favor of national liberal policies, as orchestrated by Speaker of the House Tip O'Neill of Boston.

Tom Loeffler has the knowledge and experience in legislative affairs to be free to pursue the best interests of the people of the 21st District.

★ The Choice Of Knowledgeable Leaders ★

Tom Loeffler has gained the respect and support of the working man, farmers and ranchers, small businessmen and homemakers. He also has the endorsement and active campaign support of such knowledgeable and respected leaders as former President Gerald Ford, former California Governor Ronald Reagan and former Texas Governor John Connally.

Work for, vote for, support the choice of Ronald Reagan, John Connally and Gerald Ford

What would you do? While driving on a lightly traveled road, you see a car swerve into the ditch, roll twice and smash into a telephone pole. You're five miles from the nearest town. And you've never had any kind of first aid training. How could you help that wreck victim survive until an Emergency Medical Services ambulance arrived?

John Murphy, Division of Emergency Medical Services (EMS), Texas Department of Health, says there are quite a few things untrained persons can do to help a victim survive those first critical minutes after an accident.

"The first thing you've got to remember," Murphy says, "is to park at least 60 feet beyond the wrecked vehicle. You need to be that far away so that an ambulance or other emergency vehicle can get as close as possible to the wreck. Don't park directly behind the wreck. That would block the view of oncoming motorists."

"Once your car is in the right place, remember your own safety as you approach the wreck," said Murphy. "If any power lines are near or touching the car, stay away. Yell at any conscious victims in the car to stay put. There is no safe way to get out of a car with an electric current running through or around it. All you can do in a situation like that is to wait for help from the telephone or power company. They're the only ones who can safely handle those live wires."

"If there's no threat of electrocution, do what you can to help," Murphy advised. "But your first thought should be: Do not move the victim. Rushing in and pulling an injured person to a 'safer' place has crippled more persons than has any other error." What usually happens, he explained, is that the movement aggravates a spinal cord injury.

There are two exceptions to the "don't move the victim" rule, Murphy says. If the victim is in danger of further injury, move him as gently and as quickly as possible to a safe place. Examples: fire, rising water. Neither of these is common. If an automobile doesn't catch fire at impact, it probably won't, even if there's gasoline all around—unless someone helps it. Turn off the car's ignition, and don't let anyone with a cigarette get near you.

The other exception is when the victim is not breathing. That doesn't mean he's dead—not yet. Once you are at the victim's side, the first thing to do is to be sure he is breathing. Look for chest movement; listen; if these don't show anything, feel for breath by placing your cheek or your ear very near the victim's mouth and nose. If you neither see, hear, nor feel a breath, you've got to move the injured person.

This can be done gently and in the following way: open the victim's mouth and remove any obstructions; then tilt the head back. That's often all that is necessary to start the breath flowing again. If that doesn't work, and if you don't know how to administer cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), hope for help quick. You don't have much time left. Without oxygen, brain damage begins in four to six minutes and death comes quickly.

Once you're sure the victim is breathing, do what you can to control any serious bleeding.

"That doesn't mean to apply a tourniquet," Murphy says. "That could do more harm than good except in the case of a severed limb. Control the bleeding by applying direct pressure with your hand to the site of the bleeding. Use a handkerchief, a cloth, your shirt, any kind of padding you want, but use your hand. And apply pressure directly to the wound."

Murphy says there's one other basic you should remember: talk to the victim. If he is conscious, pain and fear are likely to be so intense that he may enter a state of shock that will be more deadly than the injuries. Your voice can help overcome fear. Comfort the victim. Assure him that help is on the way. If possible, hold the victim's hand.

Control your own emotions.

None of this will be easy for a person without any training. Murphy says it's a terrible strain even for the emergency medical technicians and other ambulance personnel who are trained to handle such emergencies. But if you can remember just the following five points, you'll have a chance of keeping a person alive long enough for that trained help to arrive. These points are: my safety; no movement; breathing; bleeding; and talk.

And you need not worry about legal liability. Texas' Good Samaritan Law protects all who administer emergency first aid, unless they are willfully and wantonly negligent, says Murphy.

Range Fertilization Attracts Deer

High quality nutrition is important to the maintenance of healthy populations of white-tailed deer.

Deer managers and wildlife biologists—including hunters—should carefully monitor the quality and quantity of usable forage available to whitetails in accordance with population densities, says Dr. Milo Shult, area wildlife specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"In order to monitor the value of vegetation available to deer, the manager should first ask, 'what do they eat?'. Food habit studies throughout Texas show that deer do best on and depend on a wide variety of plants. No single plant can be singled out as the best. Therefore, looking for plant diversity is the first step," Shult emphasizes.

These studies also indicate that deer rely primarily on seasonal browse and forbs at mealtime. "Browse is simply the twig tips, leaves and seeds or most production of woody plants. Forbs are the broad-leaved plants frequently called weeds. These high quality forbs can be important throughout the year and are especially important in spring and summer when body requirements are high for growing antler and nursing fawns. Fortunately, in most areas of the state, this is when forbs are most abundant," says the specialist.

If deer are doing poorly and preferred plants are overused or absent, steps should be taken to remedy the situation. The most obvious are to reduce competition through an increased harvest of deer in the hunting season and to adjust livestock numbers. "These are probably the best tools available to the deer manager," says Shult.

Increasing the available food supply also helps. This can be done by planting food plots. For example, patches are planted for deer and livestock to provide high quality forage in the cool winter months.

"Plantings can be a problem, however," points out the specialist. "Land preparation and seed necessary to establish the plantings cost money and are not appropriate for all range sites. The entire investment can be lost without adequate and timely rainfall."

Research in Texas and other states has shown that applications of commercial fertilizer on rangelands may increase both quantity and quality of forage. Based on this research, two result demonstrations were established by county Extension agents in Llano and Gillespie counties.

Results to date show that higher rates of combination nitrogen-phosphorous applications do increase forage production. The highest rate on the Llano County demonstration is 180 pounds of actual nitrogen and 90 pounds of actual phosphorous. On the Gillespie County demonstration, the highest actual rate is 120-90-0. These combinations seem to give greater diversity coupled with production than either element alone, Shult notes.

Livestock are attracted to these plots for grazing, and deer droppings also indicate a heavy attraction for the plots. Unlike plantings, the plots provide some response whenever it rains, even if those rains occur after the fertilizer is applied.

"Small plots of one or two acres in size scattered around a ranch can be evaluated on their ability to attract deer," points out Shult. "While results similar to the Llano and Gillespie County demonstrations may be predicted on similar soils, other soil types may not be as productive."

The fertilizer food plot-attractant concept will not substitute for a well-rounded deer management program, emphasizes Shult. It is but a single technique which will not show increased animal performance without the proper matching of animal numbers to the habitat.

"The plots will be ineffective for wildlife without some livestock deferralment," points out the specialist. "Livestock grazing is an important tool to keep fertilized areas from becoming covered with grass at the expense of forbs. However, continued grazing by livestock without deferralment will not provide much in the way of food for deer."

When buying vegetables, check the characteristic signs of freshness such as bright, lively color and crispness, advises a consumer marketing information specialist.

Vegetables are usually at their best quality and price at the peak of the season, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

For a person to achieve success in weight control, he must be highly motivated to succeed—the motivation to succeed is of prime importance in changing eating habits.

Hypnosis has even been useful for helping this type of person make permanent eating habit changes, reports Mark K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Grass Tetany Can Kill Cattle

Cattle in some parts of Texas may find lush forage to their liking this time of the year, but the grass could be a "death trap."

The problem afflicting cattle, especially cows in late pregnancy or early lactation, is known as grass tetany or grass staggers, points out Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Grass tetany is caused by a deficiency of magnesium in the animal's diet," explains Dorsett. The problem is most prevalent in early spring and late fall when forage is often lush but is low in magnesium. Dry grasses can also be a factor once cold weather hits.

"Grass tetany is most often a problem when cows are on a strict grass diet. It is particularly prevalent in pregnant cows or those with young calves that have a high energy requirement which cannot be met with grass alone," notes Dorsett.

To prevent grass tetany, the specialist suggests supplementing cattle, especially cows, with a grain or other high energy, magnesium containing feed and establishing legumes in grass pastures. Legumes contain adequate amounts of magnesium to meet animal requirements.

When should a cattleman suspect grass tetany in his herd?

"The physical symptoms are broad and include a depressed appetite, nervousness, stiff movements, twitching of the muscles, extreme excitement, grating of teeth, convulsions, coma and finally death of the animal," explains Dorsett. "From the onset of the symptoms until coma usually takes less than 10 hours, and few animals survive once coma is reached."

Although physical symptoms of grass tetany appear suddenly, the condition actually occurs over a period of several weeks, notes the specialist. Livestock can store magnesium in their bones, and during short periods of deficiency in feed, they have the ability to use this magnesium. However, when the stored supply is exhausted, the physical symptoms appear, first in older animals.

AROUND THE 6AA FOOTBALL LOOP

It's Coahoma and Colorado City even-up, with 4-0 in district, after last Friday night's games, and it probably will stay even with this week's games.

Coahoma slapped Anson 35-6 last Friday, as expected, while Colorado City 3-pointed Stamford 3-0, to put a digit in the lost column for Stamford, now 3-1.

Wylie and Merkel each have 2-2 records, as Wylie zapped Winters 46-0 in a homecoming event at Wylie, and Merkel took a 15-8 win over the Ballinger Bearcats.

Coahoma now has a perfect season record, 7-0, with C-City and Stamford 6-1. Wylie is 4-3 for the season, Merkel 3-4, and Winters, Ballinger and Anson have 1-6.

Coahoma takes on Ballinger this week, and an upset is not expected . . . but all things are possible. And C-City hosts Merkel, and the same thing is expected.

Stamford is expected to take Wylie at home this week, and it'll be a tossup between Winters and Anson, at Anson Friday night. The edge goes to the Blizzards . . . they're ripe for a win!

Winters 0, Wylie 46

The Winters Blizzards fell to a fast Wylie team Friday night at Wylie's homecoming. The final score was 46-0 Wylie.

The Bulldog's scored on their first possession aided by two interference calls against the Blizzards which put them on Winters' one yard line with a first down. The point after attempt was good giving Wylie the 7-0 lead. In the second quarter Wylie recovered a Winters fumble and turned it into another seven points. The Bulldogs made it 21-0 on a 24 yard run for their third touchdown of the game. The last score of the half came on a fumble recovery at the Winters 30. The score at the half was 27-0.

In the third quarter a long run by Wylie and stopped by Chuck Evans set up the next score. With 8:03 left in the third quarter the score was 34-0.

An intercepted pass in the fourth quarter set up a Wylie score to make the score 40-0. The last score of the game came on a three yard run by the Bulldogs closing the game 46-0.

Blizzard JV Whips Wylie 40-14

The Winters Blizzard junior varsity beat Wylie Thursday night 40-14.

In the first quarter, the first score of the game was set up by a Wylie fumble on their 30 yard line. The Blizzards recovered and Toby Gerhart scored on the option with 6:20 left in the quarter. The extra point was unsuccessful. With 5:06 left in the quarter Mark Whitlow scored after the Blizzards recovered another Wylie fumble. The third score of the quarter came on a 35 yard pass from Gerhart to Ray Luera. The score at the end of the quarter was 18-0 Winters.

Ricky Torres intercepted a pass in the second quarter and ran it to Wylie's 47 yard line. The Blizzards ran two plays down to the 26. On the last play of the half the Blizzards ran the ball to the seven yard line as time ran out in the half.

In the third quarter Roger Cortez scored from the 30 yard line. John Esquivel scored on a four yard run later in the quarter. Neither extra point attempt was good. On Wylie's next possession, Gerhart intercepted a Wylie pass and returned it to the Wylie 20 yard line. The Blizzards advanced the ball to the two yard line but fumbled and Wylie recovered. The Bulldogs were unable to move the ball and punted to the Blizzards, who took over on Wylie's 25. Nine plays later Angel Ruiz scored on a one yard run. The play was set up by a 20 yard run by Alfonso Compos. The extra point came on a pass from Brett Lancaster to Jerry Don Vinson.

Late in the fourth quarter Wylie scored twice. The final score was 40-14.

Outstanding players were the offensive line who made it possible to move the ball so well.

This week the seventh and eighth graders play at Anson and the junior varsity will play Anson here. These will be the final games of the year for these teams.

Shopping Hints

Plan ahead to make the shopping trip less tiring and more pleasant.

Shop with a friend or family member—pushing a grocery cart places great strain on the hands.

In addition, select a grocery store with carry-out service, the specialist continues.

Then, insure that someone will be at home to carry in the grocery bags.

Buy groceries in large amounts for a period of several weeks so frequent trips to the store are not necessary.

Shop with a list at a familiar store to avoid unnecessary hunting for various food items, Mrs. Sweeten recommends.

Convenient Sizes, Packaging
Buy small cartons of milk—they're easier to lift and pour. Use both hands to carry or pour from any heavy container.

Select convenience foods in flip-top boxes. These boxes open easily by putting the box on the table and pushing the lid open with the entire hand and arm.

Candidates For Runnels County Judge

Woodrow Hoffman

REPUBLICAN

Woodrow W. Hoffman of Ballinger, is married to the former Cora Winkler. They have three children, Mary Martha Hoffman McWhorter of Houston, Carol Ann Hoffman Hollaway of Galveston, and Walter Charles Hoffman.

Hoffman is a 1949 graduate of Texas A&M University and joined the U.S. Soil Conservation Service shortly after graduation. He was stationed at Fredericksburg. He was transferred to Johnson City in 1950, and served as a Range Conservationist until July 1951 when he was promoted to District Conservationist and transferred to Runnels County. He opened the Runnels County SCS Field Office to provide technical assistance to farmers and ranchers of the newly created Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District. Until his transfer and promotion in 1972 he supervised from 5 to 8 employees and trained some 65. He had 21 years of administrative experience in Runnels County and four years in the Valley, and retired after 25 years with the SCS.

He is a veteran of World War II, and served in the China-Burma-India Theater.

Bill B. Stultz

DEMOCRAT

Bill B. Stultz retired from Lone Star Gas Co. in 1973 after working for the company more than 31 years, much of that time in administrative capacity. When he retired, he was district foreman for measurements, transmission division, with eight employees. His territory included 12 counties.

He has a son, Rex, and three daughters, Bobbie, Millie and Beth.

He is a former member of the board of trustees of Ballinger Independent School District, and served as board president. He is past president, vice president and secretary-treasurer of the Ballinger Rotary Club. He has served as Sunday School Superintendent of the First Presbyterian Church in Ballinger. He also has been Corporation Court Judge for the City of Ballinger.

Stockmen Are Urged To Look For Screwworms

County livestock owners are urged to be on the look out for screwworm infestations in livestock. Runnels County has had two confirmed cases of screwworms in the past couple of weeks. One case was South of Ballinger and another Southeast of Ballinger. Producers are cautioned against doing any surgical practices on livestock until after frost and to protect new born calves and lambs.

The navel of a newborn calf is a favorite site for a screwworm fly to lay her eggs. Sterile fly drops are being made in the county and this will help to control the spread of the problem. In the meantime, check livestock regularly, treat new born animals, treat any cut or wound. Spraying livestock is another preventative practice that can help control screwworms. In addition to controlling screwworms, you can also control lice, which cause irritation to animals.

Predators are again giving problems in Runnels County. Sheep producers are cautioned to keep close tabs on their new born lambs. Mr. Willis Reber, our County Trapper, has taken several offenders in the past few weeks. If you have any trouble, call the County Extension Agents Office or contact Mr. Reber.

VOTE YES

TAX RELIEF FOR TEXANS!

If the Tax Relief Amendment is approved by voters November 7, the Texas Constitution will be amended immediately to incorporate some provisions with other provisions to be put into effect by the Legislature.

Provisions of the amendment include:

- *1. Homestead exemption from school taxes of $5,000.
2. Exemption for elderly and disabled from school taxes up to $10,000.
3. Exemption on household goods and personal effects.
4. Limiting the value of agricultural land (including forest land) to productive value, rather than speculative value.
- *5. Notice to property owner of re-evaluation of his property, including effect on his taxes.
- *6. Public notice and hearing on any proposed tax increase.
- *7. Prohibiting statewide appraisal of property for tax purposes.
- *8. Prohibiting increased state spending above estimated growth of economy, except in emergencies.

* Effective immediately.

(IMPORTANT: The Legislature has appropriated $450 million to reimburse school districts for all or part of revenue lost due to homestead and agricultural use reduction.)

REMEMBER, A "NO" VOTE ON THIS AMENDMENT WILL TELL LEGISLATORS THAT TEXANS ARE NOT CONCERNED ABOUT SPENDING AND TAXATION.

Krueger's Campaign Claims Claims Victory In Recent Polls

Bob Krueger's campaign has claimed victory in the "battle of the polls," which has drawn significant attention in the Krueger-John Tower Senate race.

"The Texas Monthly poll released Saturday confirms every poll we have taken, discredits John Tower's polls—which we always knew were inaccurate—and gives Texans an independent interpretation of just how Texans feel about the Senate race, said Krueger Campaign Manager Garry Mauro.

Krueger's recent polls, conducted by the Austin firm of Henson Hopkins and Shipley, have shown the race exceptionally close, with Krueger edging ahead in the two most recent polls taken by Krueger pollsters.

The Texas Monthly poll, conducted in connection with several newspapers and administered and designed by an independent polling firm, shows Krueger even farther out front than his own polls, 42.7 to 38.9 over Tower.

"Unlike perhaps some political campaigns, we commissioned our polls to tell us precisely how the people of Texas feel, so we would know not only where our candidacy stood, but so we would know how the people of Texas feel about the important issues confronting Texas and the nation," Mauro said.

"We have always left the practice of commissioning polls to attract media attention or to drum up 'get on the bandwagon' support to others," Mauro said.

"And it is obvious that the integrity of our polling operation has been confirmed by the Monthly poll."

Most newspapers pick Hill over Clements

"John Hill may be the best candidate for governor in decades. Judging from his record, he should win easily over his Republican opponent, whose chief qualification is money. Unlike his opponent, Hill is not given to outrageous promises, intemperate personal attack or underhanded tactics. He will work hard for the best interests of the state and its people."

— Austin American Statesman

"The more Mr. Clements has explained his blunt viewpoints — even those views we could agree with — the more he has raised doubt as to how effective a bulldozer could be in Texas government. Conversely, John Hill has grown in our evaluation as a man who not only is the best state attorney general in recent history, but also is a man with the intelligence, savvy and ability to serve Texas well as governor."

— Abilene Reporter-News

"We believe Hill will bring vitality and leadership to state government. Hill is not an advocate of big government. Nor is he a free spender. He has pledged that no new taxes will be levied if he is elected. His anti-inflation program is the kind of fiscal conservatism Texans can accept gleefully."

— Corpus Christi Caller

O'Connor's Column

Leather Fashions Need Special Care

Leather's "Fashion Look" for fall will take special care, Mrs. O'Connor stated. Smooth leather and suede with its textured look need different care techniques; however, both will last longer, if given the proper care, she adds.

Smooth Leather—Garments made of smooth leather do not require much care. Let smooth-leather garments dry naturally. Wash off spots with warm water and soap. Then wipe dry with a clean damp cloth.

Suede—Suede requires more care. These garments need frequent brushing. Use a dry bristle brush or a rubber sponge to prevent dirt from settling in the nap. Art gum eraser or emery board can remove stains usually. If suede becomes wet, allow it to dry away from heat—and rub it with a terry cloth towel to bring up the nap.

Storing leather—Hang all leather garments on padded hangers to prevent misshapen shoulders or marks left by wire hangers.

Erasing Wrinkles—To get rid of wrinkles, hang the garment in a damp place, such as a steamy bathroom, overnight. If wrinkles remain, press the garment with a "dry iron" technique. Set the iron on a rayon setting and use heavy wrap-

Plans Going Forward For Arts, Crafts Bazaar

Plans are going forward for the annual Arts & Crafts Bazaar, to be held in the Community Center this year, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 10-11. The bazaar will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. each day. The Community Center will be open Thursday afternoon after 5 p. m. so exhibitors may set up booths and prepare for the showing. A committee of the Chamber of Commerce will serve chili and stew for lunch each day of the bazaar.

Wallace Murray Corp. Reports Record Income For the Quarter

Wallace Murray Corporation has reported record third quarter income from continuing operations of $7,286,000, up 15 percent over the $6,327,000 earned in the like period of 1977. Income from continuing operations of $20,333,000 for the nine months was also a record and an improvement of 27 percent over the $16,060,000 earned in the first nine months of 1977. Fully diluted earnings per share from continuing operations for the third quarter were $1.22 compared with $1.07 in the same period last year. For the nine months, they were $3.41 versus $2.71 in the like period last year. For the three months, sales from continuing operations were $125,936,000 compared to $114,759,000 achieved in the same period last year. For the nine-month period, sales were $381,754,000 compared with $331,998,000 in the first nine months of 1977.

According to Charles V. Myers, president and chief executive officer, the greatest improvements in third quarter earnings were in U.S. and foreign engine components and in the industrial gear and cutting tools operations. With the exception of Metalbestos Systems which had a prolonged strike at one of its two plants, heating and ventilating operations also had a significant earnings improvement. The strike at the Logan, Ohio plant of Metalbestos started on July 1st and was settled on October 22nd, impacting that division for the full third quarter.

The plumbing divisions also continued strong, Mr. Myers reported. "Housing starts continued at a high rate during the quarter and should provide strong markets for the plumbing and heating and ventilating segments of our business through the remainder of the year. In addition, we see continued strength in the fourth quarter in industrial gears and cutting tools, and in engine components as the automotive and diesel engine markets continue strong," he said.

During the third quarter, plans were announced for a major capital expansion of the Company's Ohio Gear plant in Liberty, South Carolina. The Schwitzer Division also announced an expansion of its plant in Leeds, England to provide space for turbocharger manufacturing in addition to its present service and rebuilding facilities. Also, Eljer's new fiberglass plant in Newburgh, New York became operational.

During 1978, conversions of the $1.70 cumulative convertible preference stock and the 6 1/2% convertible subordinated debentures resulted in the issuance of 2,126,555 additional shares of common stock. These newly issued shares are included in the calculation of primary earnings per share for the 1978 periods only, thus distorting the comparison with the 1977 periods. Fully diluted earnings per share present comparable data as they reflect the Company's current capitalization for all periods.

Some people once believed that the first farmer to feed his cattle on New Year's Eve would have healthy animals all year long.

Voting Precincts For Nov. 7 Election

Recycle Leaves, Don't Burn

Rather than burning leaves or hauling them to the dump this fall, why not use them for a compost pile? The resulting compost will provide a good source of organic matter for potted plants, for topdressing the lawn, and for building up the soil in flower beds, shrub borders and vegetable gardens, points out Allen Turner, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A simple method of composting leaves and other vegetable matter is to alternate four-to-six-inch layers of vegetable matter such as leaves or grass with two-to-four-inches of good garden soil. If available, add manure to the soil layer. Make the compost pile four-to-six feet wide and any desired length depending on material and space available.

Sprinkle a commercial fertilizer on each layer of vegetable matter to hasten decomposition. Use about one-half pound, or one cupful, of any good commercial fertilizer with a 1-1-1 ratio per 10 square feet.

The top layer of the compost pile should be soil and the surface of the pile should be dish-shaped, forming a basin to hold water. Water each layer or organic matter thoroughly before adding the soil layer. This is especially true when composting leaves as they can be extremely slow to decompose if too dry. Water the pile thoroughly when completed and add additional water as needed to keep the material moist but not soggy.

Turn or mix the compost with a garden fork or shovel every three or four months.

Common Sense for Congress

Nelson Wolff proposes:

- ★ A $104 billion tax cut over three years (two-thirds for individuals; one-third to stimulate investment in the private sector)
- ★ A $53 billion savings in the federal budget by cutting waste, inefficiency and fraud
- ★ A balanced budget by 1982 and a constitutional amendment requiring Congress to balance the budget by 1982

Nelson Wolff, as Vice-Chairman of the Texas Senate Finance Committee, helped write the first "no new taxes" budget in over 25 years.
