Land acquisition requires legal action

„REFLECTIONS“ „REFLECTIONS“ „REFLECTIONS“

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

No, Doll, that column on Page 2 is not about the Hill Country watering hole made famous by Ol' Waylon. It's about the early days of Winters and is written by a former resident.

Last fall, when we were told of the buildup of Soviet troops in Cuba, President Carter said, in effect, that such action on the part of the Soviets was "unacceptable." That was the first shoe to hit the floor . . . we were supposed to understand that some sort of protest or retaliation, diplomatic or otherwise, was being considered. But we've never heard the second shoe hit the floor.

Last week, President Carter set a deadline date on the Iranian hostage situation . . . the exact date was not noted. That was the first shoe to hit the floor . . . but don't strain your hearing faculties listening for the sound of the second shoe to hit the floor . . .

A couple of paragraphs by Columnist Roscoe Drummond this week caught my eye: He wrote that "More than 100 lives were lost in the recent capsizing of an oil rig in the North Sea. This compares grimly with the nuclear accident at Three Mile Island.

"Nobody got hurt at TMI but some are demanding that all atomic facilities be abandoned and no more built. (Teddy Kennedy is one of those making such demands. —Our note). The Norwegian government has created a commission of inquiry to establish what caused the North Sea calamity, but nobody is proposing that they stop drilling for oil."

Kennedy wants to convert the nuclear power plants to coal. On March 25, 1947, 111 lost their lives in a coal mine disaster at Centralia, Ill.; Dec. 21, 1951, at West Frankfort, Ill., 119 lost their lives in the mines. Every year, many lives are lost in the coal mines, but Kennedy hasn't recommended that all coal mining should cease.

Aircraft disasters? Are Teddy, and others of his persuasion, against travel by aircraft? Auto traffic deaths? No marches against the manufacturers of windmills. On and on and on . . . Politically - motivated inconsistencies.

There are a couple or four places around town which need primary or additional street and area lighting: The intersection of US 83 and FM 53; the entrance to North Runnels Hospital (very hard to find the right turn-off place); the intersection of US 83 and Novice Road; the school area; and several dark alleys. Perhaps the highway department could be persuaded to install better lighting at those intersections.

$$$

You tennis players who wanted courts: They're up there in the city park now, ready, and lighting will be installed before long.

VFW Aux to sponsor Lite-A-Bike

The Ladies Auxiliary of Winters Post 9193, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will sponsor a "Lite-A-Bike" program Saturday, April 19.

The program will be held at the Boy Scout Hut, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon.

Students who wish to have their bicycles lighted have been urged to bring the bikes to the Scout Hut Saturday morning.

Museum open house

Adrain Hale of Bradshaw, Estella Bredemeyer and Mrs. B. J. Colburn look over some of the first exhibits to be displayed at the Z. I. Hale Museum, during open house last week. Many items already have been brought in to the museum. There is much work to be done to remodel the building, formerly the ofices of the late Dr. Z. I. Hale, and several individuals and businesses have pledged funds to panel walls and do other work. The museum board continues to seek volunteer workers to do some of the painting and installation of paneling, and also contributions to pay for the needed remodeling.

Ballot recount on local option

Runnels County Commissioners Tuesday appointed a special three - member committee to make a recount of ballots in the Precinct 2 local option election held April 3, after presentation of a petition calling for such a recount.

In the process of canvassing the tally sheets of the election last week, commissioners found one discrepancy, it was reported, lowering the margin of the dry win to only eight votes; preliminary county had shown a nine-vote margin, against the proposition to allow sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption in Justice Precinct 2.

Thirty-five citizens of the precinct signed the petition for

New pastor named at Pentecostal

The Rev. Richard Moore has been named pastor of Winters' Pentecostal Church of God. The Rev. Mr. Moore assumed duties Easter Sunday.

The Rev. Moore is a former student of Southern Bible College, Houston, and has pastored churches in Austin and in Michigan.

He and his wife, Deborah, have two children, Stephanie and Joshua.

The Rev. Moore has invited the public to join the congregation in services at the church, 606 N. Cryer.

A revival meeting, to be held in the near future, is being planned, he said.

the recount, the County Clerk reported.

Commissioners appointed Billie Sue Helm, L. E. Jacob and Thelma Hoppe to the special recount board. The recount will be made at 9 a. m. April 18, and the commissioners will meet April 22 to receive a report from the committee.

According to the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Code, personnel in the County Clerk's office said, if the difference in the number of those voting for and those voting

Silent reading program set at school

The term U.S.S.R. will have a new meaning for students in Winters Elementary and Junior High schools beginning Monday, April 21, according to George Beard, principal.

Grades Kindergarten through 8 will begin an Uninterrupted Sustained Silent Reading session as a part of the schools' participation in the Texas Right-To-Read program.

U.S.S.R. is based on a silent reading time shared by teachers, students and staff, Beard said. The reason for regularly scheduling U.S.S.R. is to provide time for reading practice or handling of books, he said, and it allows children to select their own books and explore their own preferences and interest.

Students in grades 4-8 will return to their classrooms from lunch at 12:40 each day, and the U.S.S.R. period will begin at 12:45 until 1 p. m. The regular classroom schedule will be resumed at 1 p. m., the principal said.

against is less than five percent, a petition with the signature of 25 registered voters in the precinct may be submitted to call for a recount.

Tickets went on sale Wednesday for the annual Blizzard Athletic Banquet, scheduled for Saturday, May 3.

The banquet is sponsored by the WHS Cheerleaders and the Winters Booster Club.

The banquet will be held at the school cafeteria, beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Correct date for Gospel meeting

The gospel meeting at the Winters Church of Christ will begin Sunday, April 20, and continue through Wednesday, April 23, instead of beginning April 13 as previously announced.

Dr. Tommy Shaver, a member of the faculty of Abilene Christian University, will speak during the series. Sunday services will be at 10:30 a. m. and 6 p. m. Weekday services will begin at 7:30 p. m., Bruce Black, minister of the church, said.

Dr. Shaver is also minister for the Westgate Church of Christ in Abilene.

The public has been invited to attend these services.

Following some months of unsuccessful negotiations with at least four of the five owners of land which would be needed for a proposed and planned dam and water supply reservoir for Winters and a big portion of North Runnels, the City of Winters has opted to go the condemnation route to obtain the needed land area.

The City several weeks ago petitioned the 119th Judicial District Court to appoint a special commission for condemnation proceedings, to determine a fair price for the property, and the court has made the appointments.

Three cases already have been filed with the commission, and a hearing date has been set. The City Council Monday night authorized the city's special attorney to file the fourth case with the commission.

May 14 has been set as the hearing date on the first three cases, and city officials Monday night were hoping the fourth case also could be heard on that date.

Tentative agreement already has been reached with one property owners, officials said.

District Judge C. F. Steib appointed A. L. Mitchell, Sam Faubion and Woodrow Hoffman to the special commission. This commission will hear the cases, and will determine as fair price for the affected land. If neither party agrees with the commission's decisions, the cases will be handed to the District Court for litigation on an individual basis, to be tried by the District Judge, or by a jury at the discretion of the parties concerned. Either party will have the right of appeal of the court's decision, it was explained.

City officials indicated that a tentative agreement has been reached with the owner of the largest tract of land affected, the Harris Davenport Estate. Although no final contracts have been signed with the Davenport Estate, it was indicated that the city expected contracts to be forthcoming.

The Davenport Estate tract is the largest of the five needed for the lake project being sought by the City of Winters, with 217.87 acres. The City has offered $91,011 for the tract, or $417.73 per acre. This price includes payment for damages to fences and replacement or payment for improvements on the land which would be affected.

Schools to close early on Friday

Classes in Winters Public Schools will be dismissed at 2:30 p. m. Friday, April 18, and again on Monday, April 28.

Early dismissal is necessary in order to allow teachers to attend in-service training sessions, as required for accreditation purposes.

Aggies to muster at Country Club

Former students of Texas A&M University will assemble at the Winters Country Club Monday, April 21, for the annual Texas Aggie Muster, Muster Chairman Woodrow Hoffman has announced.

Hoffman said the Muster activities will begin at 7:30 p. m. with a covered dish supper. He said the Muster is open to all former students and their families, parents of students, and friends of Texas A&M.

Texas A&M is in its "Second

The City had obtained Phil McCormick Appraisers of San Angelo to appraise all property concerned.

Cases already filed for hearing include:

— Diane Sims Davis, two tracts: 4.92 acres, $1,968.00, $400.00 per acre; and 42.11 acres, $16,844.00, $400 per acre.

— I. W. and Bobby Rogers, 7.01 acres, $4,404.00, $628.25 per acre; — Richard Schwartz, .19 acre, $500.00, $2,631.57.

Authorized Monday night for filing:

— Walter Adami, 181.51 acres, $75,164.00, $414.10 per acre.

City officials reemphasized that offers include payment for damages, etc., in individual cases.

Cases involving the Davis, Rogers and Schwartz properties already have been filed for the May 14 hearing, and city officials said they hoped to have the Adami case filed in time for hearing on the same date.

The city already has been assured of the money — long-term, low - interest loans, and grants from Federal agencies — and engineers have been for many months working on plans for the project, which are almost completed. It has been indicated that work on the project can go ahead, even while the acquisition of the land is being litigated, and city spokesmen expressed hope that all planning could be completed within a few months, and dirt could be turned early next year — or even before, if all goes well.

This project has been in the planning stage for several years, but momentum has increased within the last year, it was stated. The dam and reservoir would replace the present lake five miles east of Winters, and afford Winters and North Runnels residents of an adequate water supply for many years to come. Without the new water supply, it has been pointed out, the entire area would be faced with a serious water shortage within a very short time. The planned dam would be below the present dam, and would afford a much larger storage capacity. The upper lake portion also would serve as a natural settling basin, it was explained.

Hospital Auxiliary luncheon

The North Runnels Hospital Auxiliary spring salad luncheon will be held Thursday, April 17, in the Church of Christ Fellowship Hall.

Serving will be from 11:30 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Tickets are available from any Auxiliary member or at the door for $3.

Those wishing to donate a salad to the luncheon are asked to contact Sandy Griffin at 754-5171.

Century of Greatness," Hoffman said. During the last 100 years, A&M has grown from a small land grant college to one of the leading research and educational universities in the nation. Hoffman said the Muster goes back to almost its beginning in 1876, and they have been held annually since. This year more than 350 Musters will be held around the world.

The Muster tradition is how Aggies pay their respects to those Aggies who are absent, because of death, since the last Muster.

Lookin' back. . .

BY ERMA EASON BEAL

(Ed. Note: Erma Eason Beal, now living in California, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eason, who published The Enterprise in the 1900s and early '20s. In the following article, she relates some of her early experiences in Winters and around the newspaper office.)

World War I

My memories of the war are personal and from a little girls view and are recorded by history elsewhere more importantly.

What we were asked to do we did without grumbling, believing we were contributing. Naively, we trusted the politicians, "Hoovered" for Hoover, conserving on sugar and flour, substituting white Karo syrup for sugar, using graham flour and corn meal for white flour, which were many times better but because we had been asked to do it, gave a self-sacrificing aspect to our effort. Corn meal pancakes are good, graham biscuits are better, but when the war ended we went back immediately to white flour. Women who had never knitted before learned to knit sweaters, socks, mufflers in a dull gray yarn. The socks were sometimes hard-ribbed, impossible to wear in comfort, some sweaters and even mufflers were outrageous. But women wearing Red Cross armbands and caps felt patriotic. Many bandages were rolled from torn sheets. When the soldiers returned home and said they had never seen any of those items it was assumed the enemy got them or they went down in sinking ships. I had sent my first knitted effort along with the rest.

We were at school when the whistles blew on Nov. 11. A day of rejoicing as we'd never known.

I especially remember the frightening noise that night when celebrants shot off anvils with dynamite and guns. Why this was a means of celebrating the end of a shooting war escaped me then as it does now. I watched at a distance in horror as those blasts went off on Main and Dale Streets.

Soon after the war a veteran was shot and killed on Main St. celebrating Nov. 11. Another spoil of a useless war — we walked over the place on the board walk where he bled on our way to school with awesome fear.

Death was not hidden or brushed aside, but accepted and mourned openly.

When there was a death my dad printed announcements, edged in black that were distributed to the places of business. Sometimes I had this privilege and felt most important and grave.

The Tribune

Lester Chambers arrived by Abilene and Southern in Winters in 1912. He alighted from the train, strolled down the street carrying a gold-headed cane, making a questionable impression. Soon it was learned he was a Republican and against prohibition, neither of which was popular in our town.

He published three issues of The Tribune, the third of which carried some derogatory remarks about my dad. He was locking up a form when this item came to his attention. He jerked off his eye shade, bolted out the door past Mother. He found Mr. Chambers, settled their differences and Chambers left town on the next train leaving no forwarding address.

Soon after we got telephones there were also two phone companies. One, the Bell System, the other, the Boll Weevil. Needless to say secrets were never told over the phone as the "Hello" girls listened in. It was necessary for business houses to have two phones.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the City of Winters, Runnels County, Texas, desires to improve its appearance through the elimination of overgrown and trash-filled lots, sub-standard structures, abandoned vehicles, and other unsightly items in residential, business, and industrial districts, and

WHEREAS, the City of Winters desires to eliminate health, fire and safety hazards resulting from rubbish and refuse accumulations in the city limits, and

WHEREAS, Saturday, April 26, 1980, is being celebrated nationally as "Keep America Beautiful Day," and has been proclaimed by the Governor as "Keep America Beautiful Day" in Texas, NOW THEREFORE, I, W. Lee Colburn, Mayor of Winters, Runnels County, Texas, proclaim the week of April 20-26, 1980, "CLEAN SWEEP WEEK" in the City of Winters.

Witness my hand this 24th day of March, 1980.

ATTEST:

BUFORD BALDWIN
 Secretary, City of Winters

There was great jubilation when we got a light plant, operated by Albert Roberts. The lights came on about dusk and the plant shut the power off at dawn. For sometimes I rode my bicycle and turned the street lights on and off. I stood up on the bicycle seat to reach the rosette switch. There were seven street lights in all. It was a great help to The Winters Enterprise when Dad could run the presses with electricity instead of gasoline motors.

Teacher shortage

Teachers are in short supply in Texas, says the director of placement in the University of Texas College of Education.

Dr. William Bennie attributes the shortage to a number of factors: the "job scare" in education several years ago when an oversupply of teachers caused students to go into other fields; the declining enrollment in education because of continuing low pay for teachers, and the movement into Texas of more families.

He says the calls his office is receiving now is not for next year's staff but for more teaching personnel immediately.

The first "salary" was an allowance given to Roman soldiers to buy salt.

It's really pangamic acid, and there is no proof it's a safe additive or diet supplement—or that it cures heart disease, diabetes, glaucoma or many other things promoters say it does, warns Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas A&M University System.

YOU CAN STILL LOOK GOOD WHEN YOU'RE FEELING BAD

No one looks good with a cold. In the best of all possible worlds, you'd stay home for a week with a bracing pot of tea and a Gothic novel till you were fully recovered.

Since you probably can't afford the luxury of a week's rest, you're on the job or in the carpool or both, armed with tissues and cold tablets. And you tend to look as bad as you feel.

Clever application of the right cosmetics can help mask the telltale signs, says Hilary Farnell of Merle Norman Cosmetics who offers the following helpful hints:

- To conceal redness around the nose, use a mint green color toner.
- Apply plenty of moisturizer both day and night around nose to alleviate chapping.
- A beige tone foundation (rather than peach or pink) will also subdue redness.
- Keep cheek color away from nose and eye areas to draw attention away.
- Use a moisturizing clear lip gloss to condition chapped lips.
- Don't draw attention to your eyes. If they're red and watery, avoid eye liner and copper and burgundy shades of eye shadow.
- Before going to bed, apply a generous amount of an emollient to dry, flaky areas around lips and nose.
- "Looking better can make you feel better," says Farnell. "And when your cold has finally run its course, if you've been generous with your application of moisturizing cosmetics, your skin will not show the after effects."

State FFA president spoke at banquet

Tommy Lancaster, Superintendent of Winters Independent School District, and Bill Cathey, a member of the school faculty and coaching staff, were named Honorary Members of the Winters Chapter, Future Farmers of America, during the chapter's fiftieth anniversary parent-son banquet last Thursday night.

David Alders of Nacogdoches, State FFA president, was principal speaker at the banquet. Terry Gerhart, a state vice president of FFA, a member of the Winters FFA chapter, and now a student at Angelo State University, read a history of the Winters chapter, which holds the No. 1 charter in the state. He related that the chapter was chartered April 10, 1930, and that B. A. Patterson was the vo-ag teacher when the chapter was chartered.

Wayne Kraatz, president of the Winters FFA chapter, gave the welcome address, and Bill Bredemeyer introduced guests. Jay West introduced the special speaker.

Max Tomlin, one of the vo-ag teachers and FFA advisor, presented special awards, and Wayne Kraatz presented Green Hand and Chapter Farmer awards. Jay West introduced the FFA Sweetheart and Queens, Penny Springer, Sweetheart, and Mona Cooper and Siles Fisher, Queens.

Charles Alcorn, vo-ag teacher and FFA advisor, was unable to be present for the banquet because of the illness of his wife, who is in a San Angelo hospital.

Local FFA chapter officers are Wayne Kraatz, president; Rusty Allen, vice president; Bill Bredemeyer, secretary; Brent Lancaster, treasurer; David Brewer, reporter; Jay West, sentinel; and Andy Smith, chaplain.

Misuse of herbicides carries stiff penalties

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown is urging ranchers using hormone-type herbicides in regulated areas of Runnels County to observe all rules on spraying.

Commissioner Brown stressed the importance of following the guidelines in order to protect non-target broadleaf plants that might be "adversely affected" by the herbicides. Brown said misuse of herbicides is subject to penalties of up to $2000 for each offense.

Brown said spraying herbicides when wind speeds exceed ten miles per hour is prohibited and in violation of the law. In addition, the spraying of high-volatile formulations is illegal when there are susceptible crops within a four mile radius of every point from the land to be sprayed.

When spraying herbicides from aircraft, outlet pressure cannot exceed 30 pounds per square inch. When spraying from ground equipment, outlet pressure must be kept below 40 pounds per square inch, Brown said. In addition, thickening agents can be added to the spray solution to reduce the number of driftable droplets.

Another guideline that should be followed is to spray the herbicides when the temperature is less than 90°F with a higher relative humidity. "These are only a few of the requirements that must be observed when spraying hormone-type herbicides in regulated areas," Brown said. Incidentally, Brown advised individuals to follow the guidelines when spraying all pesticides, regardless of the area.

For additional information or a list of all spraying guidelines, Brown suggested individuals write the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin, or the TDA District Office in Odessa and request a copy of the booklet, "Texas Herbicide Regulations."

Poe's Corner

The Red Bud Rosebush

(The following story was taken from his memoirs given to me by W. R. (Richard) Puckett several years ago at a Drasco Homecoming. He had written it for his children.)

Just after the turn of the century when the Scarlett-Turner Cattle and Horse Ranch in the western part of Runnels County was being planted and sold to farmers, the Will E. Puckett family bought 120 acres of land one mile south and two miles west of what later developed as Wilmeth, seven miles west and three miles north of Winters, between Valley and Oak Creeks.

Like all newly improved farms, a small orchard and shrubs were planted about the premises and in the yards. And when Mr. Carr, the nursery salesman, came by in his horse and buggy in 1907, the Pucketts bought a "Red Bud Rosebush" and planted it just inside the red picket fence, near the front gate. It was by the dirt walk lined with scrap boards, and perhaps never pruned and only watered occasionally, but it grew.

Richard first noticed the bush in Aug. of 1914. It was about 6 ft. tall and though not an attractive plant, it being a monthly rose, always seemed to have at least one bud on it from early spring until frost; sometimes it would have a great number of them.

In the summer of 1914, Richard (Will E.'s nephew) left his father's (S. Houston Puckett) home near Killen and came to Wilmeth to work for Tom Puckett an older brother of W. E. and S. H. During the school year that followed, Richard became interested in a neighbor girl, Ida B. Ensor.

The Ensors and Pucketts had grown up as young people themselves in Williamson and Bell Counties, and had moved west together. Tom Puckett and Bob Ensor lived on adjoining farms and when Bob's wife died the Pucketts helped care for Ida B., eight years old, and her younger sisters and brothers.

During the two years of school at Mazeland, Richard wanted to talk to Ida B. about his feelings for her but could never find the right place and time until the close of school party at the W. E. Pucketts.

In 1928 the store was traded for a 400 acre farm at Big Spring and the rosebush was carried to the new location. Another son and daughter were born, Samuel Ensor, 1929, and Bonnie Annelie, 1934.

After moving to several different houses in Big Spring the family moved to Floydoda in 1952. The bush thrived well in the good soil here and had to be pruned several times. In 1960 when a move was made to Pecos there was fear that the rosebush would not survive in the alkali soil. It was broken apart and an extra root planted.

When the rosebush moved again with the family from Matador to Slpur in 1965, the main bush was planted at the South bedroom window and the extra root on the North. It has as many buds as the original plant.

On Feb. 23, 1969, the bush was transplanted again to Plainview, where Mr. and Mrs. Puckett now reside.

The Red Bud Rosebush has been transplanted 13 times in the years of its existence and continues to be a perfect silent partner in life - The symbol of love and fidelity.

When Ida B. came into the yard that evening she noticed one red bud on the bush, and Richard saw it too. They raced for it. Richard beat her to the bush but compromised by sticking the rose in her straight black hair that he so admired. As they leaned against the picket fence they spoke of their mutual affection, but agreed they needed to continue school studies.

Richard attended Brantley-Draughan Business School in Fort Worth until Feb. 1917, and returned to work for W. C. McCarver, County Clerk, until May 1918, when he was inducted into service as deputy in World War I.

Ida B. went to Mary-Hardin Baylor at Belton and was still in school when Richard entered the service.

The war ended Nov. 11, 1918 and Richard was discharged five days later. He came back to his father's farm near Drasco and farmed during the year 1919. He worked for Mr. McCarver again in 1920. McCarver did not seek re-election and Richard ran for the County Clerk's office. He was defeated by a crippled man, Wink Faubus.

From the time of the episode at the picket fence, when either Richard or Ida B. were near the rosebush, they picked a bud and put it in her hair or his lapel, or enclosed it in a letter. The rose developed into a symbol of fidelity for each other.

Ida B. finished her school work at Baylor and Richard rented the Tom Puckett farm at Wilmeth. The couple decided to marry at Belton following the graduation exercises. The bride's sister and her date were supposed to take them to the Methodist parsonage, but they failed to show up. So the participants walked and were married anyway by Rev. W. D. Riley and his wife the only witness - the date was Aug. 19, 1920.

When the W. E. Pucketts moved to a new home in 1921, the newlyweds asked if they might have the rosebush. It was transplanted to a spot just outside their south window.

Their first son, Ulan Dale, was born at this home and in 1923 they moved to the O. D. Dillingham farm one mile west of the Drasco school. The rosebush was also moved to its usual position beside the window. In late 1924, Richard and his brother, Bonnie, bought the Drasco Store and moved to their own home, carrying the rosebush with them.

Many men these days are putting off until warmer weather a lot of jobs around the house that they'll have to postpone next summer until it gets cooler.

The Saturday night supper at Crews (April 12) was called off due to the weather, and now will be the first Saturday in May.

Correction—Mrs. Beatrice Hartly who was buried in Odessa on Monday was the sister to Mrs. Robert Kraatz and not Jerry Kraatz.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Osborne attended the birthday supper Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McGallion in Winters, honoring Wesley. Others there were Mrs. Sue Campbell and Glen, and Mr. and Mrs. Don McGallion.

Having dinner Sunday with the Connie Gibbs were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Ford, Shane, Scotty, and Sherri, and Mr. Hoaree Gibbs, all of Rising Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper returned Saturday from seeing her brother Lanny Lacy who is in an Arlington hospital recovering from surgery. They spent Friday night with the Richard Chambliss family in Hawley on their way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hambricht, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baldwin were out the first of the week with Mrs. Effie Dietz for supper and 42. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Collom of Friendswood also visited Mrs. Effie. On Thursday Mrs. Dietz became ill and Mrs. Theron Osborne and Brian Faubion went down to be with her. On Friday Mrs. Mildred Hambricht took her to the doctor, where the report was a virus. She is feeling better at this time.

Mrs. Inez Hambricht of Ballinger and her daughter, Mrs. Mike Dyes of San Angelo were recent visitors in the Burley Campbell home.

To allow free dumping on April 26

Winters City Council has approved a recommendation that the city's refuse landfill facility be open to the public without charge Saturday, April 26, in a joint effort with the Chamber of Commerce to promote a cleanup campaign. Normally, the landfill facility is closed, and a charge is made to persons wishing to haul trash and refuse to the area.

According to Chamber of Commerce officers and city officials, no organized cleanup campaign has been planned for this spring, because of the load of work connected with planning for the town's 90th Birthday Celebration in late May. Instead, the chamber and the city are encouraging residents to make individual efforts to clean up the community.

The week of April 20-26 has been designated as "Clean Sweep Week" in Winters, and will be culminated by "Keep America Beautiful Day," April 26.
