City will open lake bids on October 28

"REFLECTIONS" "REFLECTIONS" "REFLECTIONS"

BY RICHARD C. THOMAS

One of these days...

Come down town early some morning, if you're brave, between 6:30 and 7. (Better park some place off Main St., though, if you value your life!) Along about that time most every morning is when things really get interesting.

The traffic lights at the intersection of Main and Dale Streets are not in operation at that hour, and it's everyone for himself. That's about the time many people who work at the local plants are going to work, too. Also, that's about the time it seems that every semi-truck and trailer in West Central Texas decides to come through Winters. What with all the other local traffic coming and going, Main Street Winters takes on the appearance of the Ft. Worth-Dallas freeway.

Speed limit? The word must have gotten out that at that time of day, there is no speed limit through Winters, because when the through traffic from the north or south on U. S. 83 hits town, there seems to be no lessening of speed from the 55 MPH highway limit. Take Monday morning of this week, for instance. I stood on the corner of Main and Dale and counted six big trucks coming from the north, bumper to bumper. The traffic lights on the corner still had not begun to operate, and those six trucks went through that intersection as if they were on an open highway. I know it is difficult, if not impossible, to stand still and judge the speed of a vehicle within a few MPH. But I do think that I have seen enough traffic to know when a vehicle is exceeding a posted speed limit. Those six trucks mentioned were not exceptions, either... passenger cars, vans, trucks... most every moving vehicle coming down or up that street at that time was moving right along.

I went back up to the corner a few minutes after 7 that morning, and stood and watched the traffic. By that time, the traffic lights were in operation. However, I counted several big trucks and several cars, mostly coming from the north, which actually ran the red light. I particularly noted that several times, as the green light changed to warning yellow, there were several trucks as far away as Parsonage one block away who paid no attention to the yellow, and by the time they hit the intersection, or sometimes by the time they were half a block away, the lights had turned to red. That would have been plenty of time for traffic on Dale to respond to the green on their street and pull out into the traffic. Luckily, most drivers who are on Dale at that time of day know of the situation, and are very cautious when they pull out onto Main.

Monday morning's observation was not exceptional... this situation is a daily one. If you don't believe it, come down town and do some observing on your own. It may open your eyes to a few things.

Now, I don't want to give the impression that I'm a sorehead, or a chronic complainer. But traffic safety—or the lack of it—is a pet subject of mine. And in this situation, early in the morning on Main Street, Winters, there is no semblance of traffic safety. A serious situation exists here, and...

... one of these days, we're going to witness the biggest pileup of trucks and/or cars on Main Street, Winters, than has ever been witnessed hereabouts. And we're liable to be picking up bodies... THINK IT OVER!

The City of Winters will begin Sept. 28 advertising a call for bids on construction of the new dam and water reservoir, and the pipeline from the new lake to the water treatment plant, with plans to open bids Oct. 28.

This action culminates several months of intense work on the part of city officials and engineers in an effort to bring to Winters a more adequate water supply.

Kenneth L. Choffell, PE, engineer representing Henningson, Durham & Richardson, Inc., of Texas, the firm employed by the city to plan the project, appeared before the council Monday night and presented prepared bid calls which will be published in several metropolitan newspapers in the state. Choffell said the final reviews on the project from federal and state agencies involved in approving the project should be ready by Sept. 22, and the bid calls will be published the first time Sept. 28.

Bids received by the city will be opened at 2 p. m., Tuesday, Oct. 28, according to plans. Shortly thereafter, according to officials, the city council will announce acceptance of the bid for the dam and reservoir construction, and also the bid for the pipeline, which will be a separate contract. Contracts will then be completed, and date for construction start will be announced, it was stated.

Land required for the dam and reservoir has been acquired, although there apparently will be some litigation between the city and some property owners, it was said. This will not prevent actual start of construction, however, officials said.

The call for bids will be for two separate contracts. Contract No. 1 will be for general construction, including riprapped embankment, principal spillway and intake structure, primary emergency spillway, secondary emergency spillway, raw water pump station and discharge line, transfer pump station and discharge line, raw water storage reservoir, access roads and fencing.

Contract No. 2 will be for construction of the pipeline from the new lake to the treatment plant, including about 5½ miles of 14-inch and 16-inch transmission mains.

Oct. 21 has been set as a date for a contractors' field visit, at which time all interested contractors will visit the sites.

Copies of plans and specifications will be available at the office of Henningson, Durham & Richardson, Inc., 300 San Jacinto Bldg., Austin. Normal procedures will be followed by interested contractors in obtaining copies of the plans, it was stated.

Construction of the dam and reservoir will take about 23 months, engineers said, from date of first dirt turning. Contract No. 2, for construction of approximately 5.5 miles of pipeline, must be completed within 350 days of notice to proceed. Because construction of the pipeline will not take as long as the reservoir and dam proper, pipeline contractors may not begin this part of the project until the lake construction is well underway, it was said.

This project will be financed in part by funds from the Farmers Home Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, in the form of loans and grants. Bidders must comply with all regulations concerning prohibition of discrimination in employment regarding race, creed, color, sex or national origin. Bidders also must comply with the Anti-Kickback Act and the Contract Working Hours Standard Act, it was stated.

City gets $3,553 from sales taxes

The City of Winters has received $3,552.73 from the State Comptroller's office, the September rebate of the one-cent sales tax.

The September payment brings the total received for 1980 to $74,022.29, a 13 percent increase over the same period in 1979.

The city sales tax is collected by merchants and businesses along with the state sales tax and is rebated each month by the comptroller to the cities where it is collected.

Receipts of other comparable cities in the area were:

Albany	$ 5,300
Anson	2,876
Ballinger	7,170
Coleman	17,555
Hamlin	4,288
Haskell	4,757
Stamford	8,222
Winters	3,553

Bloodmobile here next Thursday

A bloodmobile from the United Blood Services of San Angelo will be at the First United Methodist Church in Winters next Thursday, Sept. 25, from 1 to 7 p. m.

The program is being sponsored by the North Runnels Hospital Auxiliary.

There is a great need for blood at this time, it was said, and those qualified to give blood have been urgently requested to make donations while the bloodmobile is here.

Marlene Wood ladies' golf champion

Marlene Wood won the Ladies Golf Championship at the Winters Country Club Saturday, with June Marks taking the runner-up honors.

Winner of the First Flight was Hattie Bell Bishop, who had tied with LaJuan Sprinkle, and then beat Sprinkle in sudden death overtime play.

Billie Alderman was winner in the Second Flight.

Jan Sims was Third Flight winner, with Cheryl Springer second.

"Speed bumps" will stay on Rogers St.

Winters City Council Monday night, in a split vote, decided to leave the speed-retarding "bumps" at one location on N. Rogers St. in place, following a request by a resident in the neighborhood that the city remove the retarders.

The "bumps" were installed more than a year ago in an effort to reduce traffic speeds on streets in the vicinity of the schools.

Roy Rice, who lives on N. Rogers St., several weeks ago had requested the council to remove the bumps from the street near his home, because drivers were driving across his yard in order to miss the bumps.

Some council members suggested that the Street Department install steel posts or barriers at the end of the bumps on the side of the street, to prevent drivers from leaving the street proper. They also suggested that the police department be instructed to patrol the area more frequently in an effort to prevent traffic from driving across private yards.

School board has no plans

The board of trustees of Winters Independent School District has not had time to evaluate the situation following defeat of the proposed school improvement program bond issue last week, Gene Wheat, president of the board said Monday. The board was in regular session last Tuesday evening, the day of the election, but the improvement program was not discussed, following canvass of the ballot.

The proposal had been for issuance of $3.9 million in school district bonds to make repairs to existing school facilities, and to add some new construction.

It had been indicated that some of the repairs must receive top priority in order for the school to meet state standards on accreditation, and to repair heating and cooling facilities in several of the buildings.

Wheat said the situation would be approached by the board, but would not hazard a guess as to what would be done.

Ex-Students plan homecoming

Winters Ex-Students Assn. is planning a homecoming celebration for all ex-students of the Winters schools, Friday, Oct. 3, Roy Young, president of the organization, announced this week.

Members of the association met in the Young home last week to make plans for the homecoming, which will be held on the day the Winters Blizzards meet Merkel on Blizzard Field.

Highlights of the celebration will be the selection of a Homecoming Queen, to be selected from candidates in Winters High School, and a Coming Home Queen, chosen by a special committee. The queens will be presented during halftime activities at the football game.

An after-game reception will be held in the school cafeteria, when special groups will be recognized. All former teachers attending will also be introduced. New officers will be presented at a brief business meeting.

The 50-year honor classes will be those of 1930 and 1931. The 25-year classes of 1955 and 1956 also will be presented.

Various committees have been appointed to assist with different phases of the homecoming activities. Registering ex-students will be Noleta Rice, Kay Colburn, Rhuennell Poe and Brenda Killough. Donna Donica, Doris Stoecker, Juanita Bredemeyer and Kat Young will be in charge of refreshments. Gary Pinkerton will be the announcer.

All former students of Winters schools and those living in other towns have been asked to notify other ex-students, Young said.

back throws well and accurately. Coach Les Fisher said the Blizzards will have to work on pass defense to stay up with Rotan. "We have a challenge" just to contain them, the coach said.

Blizzards host Rotan

After two unsuccessful outings, against Ballinger and Roscoe, the Blizzards enter the District 8-AA scrap this week, hosting a team which has been rated eleventh in classification in the state—the Rotan Yellowhammers.

This will be the first conference game in the new district alignment for the Blizzards.

Offensively, the Yellowhammers will be fielding 10 starting seniors, and possibly eleven, and this squad promises to give Winters some problems. Rotan downed Roscoe in their opener two weeks ago, 20-6, and then came back last Friday night to chase the Coleman Bluecats off the field, 42-8.

Rotan boasts one of the best tight ends in Class AA, David Thornton, 175-pound senior. Their quarterback, Byron Weathersbee, a 170-pound senior, runs sweeps exotically, and has the speed to get outside the defense. Cecil Turner and Kip Pease, running backs, have a knack of getting outside the defense for ground gainers.

The Yellowhammers are a much quicker and speedier squad than Roscoe fields, offensively and defensively. And the quarter-

More construction

Ground was turned and foundation trenches dug last week at the site on North Church and West Parsonage streets for a building which will house Ace Automotive, operated by Ace Polk. The structure will be of steel, and will be 50 by 75 feet, Polk said. Key Oil Co. occupied the site for many years, until the old filling station building was torn down a few years ago.

Texas Heritage Project
 Texas is in the limelight — with England wanting to know who shot J.R., and the movie "Texas", plus being in the Sun Belt and all the northerners moving our way — so, we had best polish our Texas style and show the world what we have.

What can we do and how do we begin?
 The Texas Heritage Project, a statewide educational and patriotic program, was launched recently during official ceremonies at the State Capitol. This program is designed to strengthen a spirit of pride in and renewed patriotism for all Texans.

This dynamic program is a cooperative endeavor of the Texas Historical Foundation, a nonprofit group formed to preserve, promote and protect the heritage of Texas, and the Texas Historical Commission, the state preservation agency. Funds were made possible by a grant from the Moody Foundation of Galveston.

The organizational meeting of the County Heritage Chairmen was held at Corpus Christi on April 24, preceding the State Preservation Convention — Rankin and Laura Pace and I attended this conference. I, along with volunteers from Texas' other counties, will be working for the Texas Heritage Project.

Governor William P. Clements, Jr. endorsed the Texas Heritage Project, "It is one of the finest programs to be started in Texas in many years. An emphasis on the rededication of Texas patriotism is what the people of Texas need to rekindle the unique spirit of Texas, I particularly commend the increased emphasis that is being placed on future observances of Texas' patriotic days."

To kick off this patriotic rededication, Governor Clements proclaimed the first week in September as Navy Week and called upon all Texans to celebrate the important role that the Navies of Texas played in achieving our freedom.

The comprehensive and promotional Texas pride project has five major goals and one of them is the revival of interest in such other Texas patriotic days as Confederate Heroes Day, Cinco de Mayo, Emancipation Day, Texas Pioneer's Day, Stephen F. Austin Day, Texas Independence and Flag Day and Battle of San Jacinto Day.

The Texas Heritage Project hopes by reviving an interest in such days that a wider appreciation and observance of Texas patriotic days will be encouraged within the local communities.

Another significant contribution of the Texas Heritage Project will be the compiling of business histories and biographical sketches of early Texans to be housed in the State Archives enabling all Texans access to research material. This will bring neglected periods of time back into focus and will serve to illustrate the vital role that our free enterprise system, Texas style, has served in the growth and development of the Southwest.

Cablevision brings improved news service

Frank Settle, General Manager of Texas Cablevision, announced that Cablevision will offer Cable News Network (CNN) as an addition to the basic cable service for Ballinger, Winters, and Miles cable subscribers beginning September 15. CNN, via satellite, will be broadcast live on cable channel 7 on a 24-hour basis.

Cable News Network will present continuous news and have the unprecedented capability to "go live" anywhere in the world as news develops anytime of the day or night. Among those reporting the news for CNN are former CBS news correspondent Daniel Shorr, former Secretary of the Treasury William Simon, political columnists Rowland Evans and Robert Novak among others. The news service will have varied offerings that includes general interest and information programming, talk shows, analyses, interviews, consumer reports, entertainment reviews, and health news, as well as on-the-spot 24-hour live news coverage.

Commentaries by national figures such as former Congressman Bella Abzug, Senator Barry Goldwater, and psychologist Dr. Joyce Brothers are to be scheduled on a regular basis. Legal experts will present views on developments in Supreme Court rulings and Federal laws. Celebrity interviews, film, music, and theatre reviews top the entertainment list of reports from national gossip columnists.

Sports fans will see forty-five minutes each night of detailed sports coverage including extensive taped highlights of professional and college games across the country plus regular reports on special sporting events around the world. Periodic health and medical features will be an integral part of the CNN daily service. Agricultural news for farmers and ranchers will include information and news stories plus weather reports and current agricultural prices.

Hour by hour coverage of the New York Stock Exchange in addition to consumer tips on credit, mortgage, and interest rates will round out the unique 24-hour news day from Cable News Network.

Settle explained that the addition of Cable News Network on channel 7 will cause changes in the current cable channel assignments. The programming information presently on channel 7 will be moved to another channel. In the near future, KTAB-TV Abilene, will be added to the cable programs in Ballinger and Winters.

Biographical sketches of honorees and business histories of firms will be placed in State Archives and in local libraries.

2. Texas Patriotism — New concepts of Texas patriotism and appreciation of the historical legacy of Texas by active celebrations of Texas holidays. Anthony Lange of Norton is chairman of this division.

3. Traveling Exhibits & Audio Visual Presentations will be conducted by Neuman Smith of local scenes and other exhibits for various groups. His address is Rt. 2, Ballinger.

4. Teaching Texas History — The object of this group is to assemble materials that will help teachers in presenting Texas' colorful and unique heritage, and to establish Texas History Resource Center. John Glenn Key and Mrs. Loyd Roberson will be ready to assist the teachers.

5. Historical Resources and Tourism — Develop a knowledge of your local history and what it has to offer. Publicize local historical attractions — with restricted travel it may well be an economic contribution to your community. Contact Mrs. J. Dexter Eoff of Ballinger, 700 8th St., for information on this subject.

With all of our Texan independence and ingenuity let us institute this program in such an effective way that it will benefit Texans and future Texans for many, many years to come.
 Long live Texas!

Loeffler names county chairmen

Congressman Tom Loeffler (R., 21st Cong. District), has announced the names of county chairmen in eleven more counties, making the Loeffler re-election campaign organized in all 32 counties of the 21st District.

In Runnels County, Elliot Kemp, a rancher, businessman and former county judge, will work in Ballinger for the Loeffler campaign.

In the Winters area, Raymond Walston, who is in the ranching and cattle business, will chair a steering committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Bauer, Brent Mikeska, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson White Jr., Wade W. White and Roy Young.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

Labor Day traditionally opens the last act of the campaign drama in Texas, and last week the players hit the stage running.

The top Democrats began traveling across the state for President Jimmy Carter...and Republican Gov. Bill Clements stumped around for Ronald Reagan and various candidates for the Legislature. In Corpus Cristi the Governor pepped up a fund-raiser for Ken Riley running against incumbent Democrat Bill Harrison which was later called the most successful fund-raiser in South Texas history by GOP officials.

United Democrats

Texas Democrats have been fussing and fighting since before the primary, but now vow they are unified solidly behind Carter and will work to see him re-elected.

That's probably a relief to Carter, who has said he needs Texas to win in seven weeks.

In a two-day blitz at Houston, the top leaders traveled in groups of twos and threes to all areas in the State. The group included Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, former Atty. Gen. John Hill, Comptroller Bob Bullock, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, Jim Hightower, State Rep. Paul Ragsdale, Mexican-American Democrats leader Marc Campos, and others. Armstrong said he never seen the party "this ready this early."

Meanwhile, the Texas Democratic Party announced it will not contest the placing of Independent candidate John Anderson on the ballot, saying a preliminary check indicated Anderson had enough valid signatures on his ballot petition.

Behold the Prosecution

Some public officials have more troubles than simple re-election bids as several are entering and leaving through the courtroom doors.

The most dramatic case remains, of course, the Brilab trial of House Speaker Bill Clayton, which was delayed because of the Jewish holiday Rosh Hashanah last week. Clayton's case was thought to have received a blow when a federal judge last week overturned a ruling giving immunity to a key witness for Clayton.

Bullock, Wayne Cleared

A Travis County grand jury returned a "no Bill" against former Deputy Comptroller Ralph Wayne alleged to have used state employees and equipment for his personal business.

District Atty. Ronald Earle said the investigation of Comptroller Bullock and his office is now closed. The probe was on-going for some three years. A relieved Bullock said he believed he was treated fairly by Earle and the jury.

Bike riding — it's on the increase

Bicycles have a place in our society, but as more Texans bicycle for exercise and to get to work and school, accidents are keeping pace with this increase.

Many people are injured because the bicycles they ride don't fit them properly, they don't know how to bicycle properly, or they are careless, according to the Texas Department of Health.

"More than 460,000 people in the country are seriously injured each year in bicycle-related accidents," said Harold R. Ray, director of the Department's Product Safety Division. "In addition, more than a thousand die yearly in bicycle-related accidents," said Ray.

In Texas last year, 69 persons were killed and another 2,603 were reported hurt in bicycle accidents, according to the Department of Public Safety. In addition, 350 motorcyclists were killed and 9,432 injured, many for the same reasons involving bicycle accidents. Of the motorcyclists killed, only 100 were wearing safety helmets and 250 weren't.

Ray said there are five major accident patterns associated with bicycles. These are loss of control, mechanical and structural problems, entanglement, foot slippage from the pedal, and collision with a car or another bicycle.

Ray offers several safety tips.

"If your bike has sharp edges, file these down and then cover them with a heavy, protective tape. Since even a hairline crack can cause metal to break under a sudden jolt, look for improperly welded joints or fractures that can weaken a frame."

Chain guards are so important that there are federal regulations requiring them on bicycles having single front and rear sprockets. "Shoe laces and loose clothing can catch between the chain and sprocket and cause a serious accident," Ray warned.

The bicycle should be visible from every angle at night. It should have a front reflector, rear reflector, and pedal and spoke reflectors. Other good ideas include using a headlight and taillight, and sewing reflectorized tape on your clothes.

When buying a bicycle, check for two types of clearances. There should be at least three and a half inches of clearance between the pedal and front fender or tire. This is important to prevent a toe from getting caught between the frame and the front wheel or impeding turning.

In addition, pedals should not touch the ground when the bike is tilted at least 25 degrees on a turn. This is to prevent the pedal from striking the ground and causing a spill.

"You should always road test a bike before buying it," Ray warned. "Be sure the brakes give you quick, smooth, easy stops. If the bike has handbrakes, be sure the levers move easily. If the handbrakes have extensions, be sure they brake the bike before the levers touch the handlebars."

Ray cautions against buying a bicycle that cannot be adjusted to fit one that the rider "will grow into" later. This is extremely important for youngsters in avoiding accidents, he said. "The rider should be able to straddle the bike with both feet flat on the ground, leaving no less than one inch between the rider's crotch and the frame's top tube," he said.

When riding your bicycle, stay alert to the traffic around you. Ride slowly enough to avoid the unexpected, such as car

Sundown safety

Farm work is often continued into the night, especially at this time of year as the days grow shorter. To avoid sundown safety problems:

Have good farm vehicle lighting... keep it clean and replace burned out bulbs... keep SMV emblems clean, bright and visible... Keep tail lights working and reflectors clean... Use your flashing amber lights on the highway... Keep cab windows clean... At night, watch for obstructions and other hazards in the field... Drive with special care in rainy, snowy or foggy weather.

doors suddenly opening, cars backing out of driveways, or children running out in front of you. Ride near the curb in the same direction as traffic, and observe all traffic laws and signals.

"Intersections can cause problems for bike riders," Ray said. "Walk — don't ride — your bicycle through busy intersections and left turn corners. In fact, it's better to find alternative routes than to ride through busy intersections with high-speed traffic."

Bicycle maintenance is important. Replace all missing, damaged, or worn parts such as chain links, screws and bolts, handlebar grips, seats, brake pads, and cables on handbrakes. Wheels that are "wobbly" may need to be aligned or the spokes may need to be adjusted or replaced.

Tires are safer if properly inflated as recommended by the manufacturer. The recommended tire pressure can be located on the wall of the tire. Since tires are used for braking, they should have good tread.

Reports from Washington

A "Lame Duck" Session — Not In The Public's Interest

Congress has before it in the remaining weeks before adjournment legislation of immense importance to the country.

It is legislation which should be considered now — not sometime after the general election on November 4, when it might be more politically expedient to do so. Postponing major decisions on major pieces of legislation is not in the best interest of representative government. The American voting public should understand the serious implications.

Yet to be taken up for final consideration by the House and Senate are several appropriations bills, and legislation pertaining to oil and coal development, to health research and manpower training, as well as legislation directed at this country's overall intelligence operations. The final decision on next year's Federal budget is also pending action.

Congress clearly will consider and dispense with some of these in the next few weeks. But just as clearly, the majority leadership intends to hold back action on other bills, and take them up after Americans go to the polls on November 4. This means that these bills will be voted on by persons no longer representing their constituencies because they will have been defeated in the election.

To date, 39 Members will not be returning to the House of Representatives for the 97th Congress, convening next January. They have retired, they are seeking other elective office, or they suffered defeats in earlier primaries.

It is conceivable, then, that as many as 20% of those participating in the so-called "lame duck" session will be voting their own preferences, not necessarily those of their former constituencies. Accountability, and what may be in the best interest of the country, will be sacrificed for political advantage.

There may well be circumstances that require post-election legislative sessions — in a national emergency, for example.

Cotton tour scheduled

The Extension Service Committee will sponsor a tour of Result Demonstrations of Cotton on Monday, September 22, according to David Workman, Crops Committee Chairman, and the Runnels County Extension Office.

The tour will include stops on the David Workman farm near Hatchel, Dwayne Lange farm north of Norton, Neuman Smith place northwest of Ballinger, Daniel Redman farm near Miles. A stop will also be made at the Bennie Wilde farm east of Bethel, where a cotton insect research project has been underway.

The tour will organize at the County Courthouse at 8:30 a.m. All producers are encouraged to attend.

But that is not the case today.

Much of the legislation the majority leadership wants considered after November 4 involves big spending programs, to which the public has already voiced its strong objections.

For example, the Foreign Aid Appropriations bill was reported out of Committee on July 29. But it has not — and most likely will not — be scheduled for floor consideration before Congress adjourns for the election. This bill would commit $8.6 billion of taxpayer money to foreign aid at a time when the American public is seriously questioning the level of expenditure in practically every category of the Federal budget.

But the most important bill the majority leadership wants sidestep consideration of is the Second Concurrent Budget Resolution. This resolution sets binding limits on the amount of money Congress can spend for the next fiscal year. By law, final action on spending limits must be complete by September 15 of this year.

Unfortunately, this bill has not been acted upon, and if the majority leadership has its way, delaying tactics of one kind or another will prevent final consideration before election day.

Their rationale is simple. Despite months of boasting that they planned to present to the public the first balanced Federal budget in a dozen years, the majority leadership does not want to face voters to defend what the majority finally produced.

It will not be a budget in balance at all. In fact, estimates are that, depending on how severe the current recession becomes, the total deficit for next year could reach $60 billion.

Putting off votes on the final budget resolution until after the election not only subverts the intent of the budget process, but it means politics has taken precedence over the public good.

Coleman Fiesta de la Paloma opens Sept. 27 at Rodeo Grounds

If you are looking forward to a fun-filled family outing, why not attend Coleman County's third annual "Fiesta de la Paloma" (Dove Festival). Last season's version was a real crowd pleaser so the event this year will be a two-day affair Saturday and Sunday, September 27-28 at the Rodeo Grounds in Coleman.

The "Dove Cook-off" is one of the main attractions of the Fiesta as awards will be given to best dove dishes and most unique cooksite of the contestants entered. Cash prizes of $300, $200, and $100 will be awarded to the contestants with the three top dishes.

Added attractions this year are a five-day carnival and Frenchie Burk matinee and dance. The carnival, featuring 20 rides for kids and adults, will begin Wednesday, Sept. 24 and conclude Sunday, Sept.

28. Frenchie Burk, nationally renowned fiddler, will give a matinee at 5 p.m. Saturday at the rodeo arena immediately preceding the county-wide "Almost Anything Goes" competition. Burk and his band then will play at a dance that evening at 9 p.m. at the dance pavilion on the rodeo grounds.

Saturday's activity list includes a giant Flea Market, Horse Show, Fun Run with courses of 1, 3 and 5 miles, beauty pageant to select Miss Fiesta de la Paloma, dove cook-off, home foods exhibit, trap shoot, muzzle loaders demonstration, archery demonstration, helicopter and jeep rides, pinata breaking and events mentioned above.

On Sunday, a luncheon will be held at noon to open the activities with a style show to follow at 12:30. An old time fiddler's contest will begin at 12 noon under the big top tent with many area musicians competing for cash prizes of $60, $40, $30, and $20. Musicians will be required to register at 11:30 a.m. prior to the competition.

Fiesta Days Invitational Bull Riding will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Rodeo Arena. Top cowboys from across the country will compete for the giant $6,000 purse.

Food and drink concessions and area musicians will be featured throughout the Fiesta. Gate admission has been dropped this year in favor of costs of admission to the Frenchie Burk dance, Burk matinee and Anything Goes Contest (combined), the style show and luncheon on Sunday and Bull Riding.

If you have any questions concerning the Fiesta, or would like to enter the dove cook-off, contact the Chamber of Commerce office, 516 Commercial Ave., Coleman, Texas 76834, (915) 625-2329.

A lot of good 'ole country work has gone into this festival so the Coleman Chamber of Commerce is sending out a cordial invitation to everyone to spend the last weekend in September with them and enjoy the third annual "Fiesta de la Paloma."

Microwave class Sept. 23 in Ballinger

County Extension Agent, advises that she will have a microwave cooking program on Sept. 23 at the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall in Ballinger. The afternoon program will be at 2:30 p.m. and the evening program at 7:30 p.m.

All of the merchants in Ballinger who handle microwaves will provide a microwave for the program. At this time, the points to consider when purchasing one will be presented; thereby one can see the difference in the different brands and determine what you need to know regarding these appliances.

The food prepared will be served to those present and information and recipes that have been compiled will be given to those present.

This is open to the public and everyone is encouraged to attend one of the programs.

Ruth Circle met Tuesday morning

The Ruth Circle of the First United Methodist Church Women met Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Gladys Wilson with 12 members present. Mrs. Paul Gerhardt presided, and Mrs. H. C. Carroll led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Ralph Arnold and Mrs. M. L. Dobbins presented the program on Middle East Mosaic.

Others attending were Mes. Gattis Neely, J. D. Vinson, Elmo Mayhew, Lee Colburn, W. T. Stanley, T. C. Stanley and Marguerite Mathis.

A bill to provide for tightly-restricted electronic surveillance — wiretapping — in felony narcotics cases will be a fundamental part of the complete law enforcement package that I will submit to the Legislature next January.

I respect and fully support the right of individual privacy, and the legislation I will offer will protect that basic right of law-abiding citizens.

An effective wiretap law is essential to the success of state and law enforcement officers, however, in detecting, apprehending and prosecuting the criminals who mastermind and finance the narcotics traffic.

Texas, with 644 miles of coastline and 1200 miles of border with Mexico, is a major trans-shipment state in the drug traffic. Drug use in the United States generates $50 billion to $60 billion a year, and drug operations in Texas alone constitute a $3 billion annual business.

Two thirds of the heroin which comes into the United States moves through Texas. Drugs generate a major amount of other crime, and take a terrible toll in human lives. We are long overdue in providing our law enforcement officers with tools to stop this traffic.

The U.S. Supreme Court has upheld constitutionality of the federal wiretap law which was passed by Congress 12 years ago. Twenty-four states and the District of Columbia have adopted wiretap legislation since 1968, and none have repealed them.

I propose a state law patterned after the federal act but with even more stringent limitations. Under my proposal, wiretaps would be permitted only in felony narcotics cases. These safeguards against invasion of privacy would be written into the act:

—The Texas Department of Public Safety alone could install, operate and monitor wiretaps.

—Only nine judges in Texas — one in each of the nine administrative judicial districts named by the presiding judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals — could authorize the taps on finding they are necessary to get information in cases where there is probably cause to suspect felony narcotics involvement.

—Just 30 days of surveillance would be permitted by initial court orders, with additional 30-day extensions possible after judges review progress reports on the taps.

—Those whose communications were interrupted would have to be notified within 90 days after surveillance is terminated. Notifications also would be required where a wiretap is denied.

—Information obtained from an illegal wiretap would not be admissible in court.

—Illegal wiretapping would be punishable by two to 10 years imprisonment and fines up to $5,000. Civil damages could be recovered in event of illegal taps.

I am convinced that this legislation would give law officers an important new weapon which could be used after other investigative techniques have been tried unsuccessfully.

drive like a life depends on it....
it does !!!!!!!!

There is plenty of support for such a measure. Polls indicate more than two-thirds of Texans favor this added enforcement tool to combat the drug traffic. Eighty-one per cent of Republican primary voters this year endorsed it. My proposal also has backing of the Texas District and County Attorneys Association, Texas Chiefs of Police Association, Texas Association of Police Attorneys, Organized Crime Prevention Council, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Ross Perot's War on Drugs Committee, and the Mayors' Advisory Committee of Texas Municipal League. Some of our outstanding newspapers also have endorsed a Texas wiretap bill.

I cannot argue that wiretapping will solve the drug problem. But without it, our efforts to detect and prosecute the top financiers and traffickers of narcotics will continue to be hampered. It's time for Texans to start using all the tools we have available to combat a growing menace to our society.

Oil and gas seminar for landowners

There will be an Oil and Gas Leasing Seminar for landowners in the Runnels County area on Thursday, October 9, at 7:00 p.m. in the Ballinger High School Cafeteria.

Program participants include U.S. Rep. Tom Loeffler speaking on legislative matters as they relate to the oil and gas industry. Mr. Glen Michel, of Abilene, the Executive Secretary for The West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association, will appear on the program as a representative of the industry. Mr. Mark McLaughlin, a San Angelo Attorney, will present information on the legal aspects and implications involved when leasing land for mineral exploration. Mr. Herb Rowland, an Abilene veteran Landman for the firm of Young and Rowland, will speak in the capacity of a Landman.

This program was planned by the Runnels County Extension Program Building Committee and was developed to assist area landowners in having a better understanding of what is involved in oil and gas leases. Most problems and misunderstandings associated with exploration of minerals can be avoided at the time a lease is made, if both parties have a good clear understanding of what the lease entails.

The monies derived from minerals is vitally important to the Runnels County area. Not only does it contribute to individuals, but to the tax structure and economic base of the county. Many jobs and related industries depend solely on the Oil & Gas Industry and it is imperative to maintain this industry, and at the same time, protect our land and resources.

There will be a $2.00 per person registration fee to help defray expenses of the use of the building.

Kinney County screwworm find ends pest-free days

Eight worms M. M. Nelson of Rafter L Cattle Co. at Brackettville took from wounds in the heads of two sheep have been identified as this year's second positive screwworm collection in the United States.

Dr. James E. Novy, director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture

(USDA) Screwworm Laboratory, says the sample was collected in Kinney County, 22 miles north-east of Brackettville, Aug. 20. The only other known screwworm infestation in U.S. animals this year was identified April 15 in worms taken from lambs in Coleman County, Texas.

The Kinney County sample, collected Aug. 20, arrived at the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) operated Screwworm Lab and was identified Aug. 27. Entomologist Bob Richard and a team of fly trappers immediately drove to Kinney County to begin efforts to learn how many fertile, or wild, screwworm flies may be in the area, and to monitor effectiveness of screwworm fighting efforts.

Dr. A. A. Belcher of the Texas Animal Commission and several livestock inspectors immediately joined the effort to find and suppress the Kinney County screwworm population.

APHIS veterinary epidemiologist Dr. Steve Smith had been working in the Del Rio area and immediately began studying the year's second screwworm find. At the Mission Lab Novy said preparations were made to disperse Screwworm Adult Suppression System (SWASS) pellets in the area of the case from aircraft August 28. First aerial release of sterile screwworm flies in the area was also set for August 28.

Adult female screwworm flies deposit their eggs on the edges of open wounds in warm blooded animals. As eggs hatch the tiny larvae (screw-worms) enter the wound to feed on living flesh.

Since 1962 millions of screwworm flies have been reared each week on an artificial medium at the Screwworm Lab, rendered sexually sterile by exposure to radiation, and then released among wild populations. Eggs resulting from a sterile to fertile mating will not hatch, ending the screwworm's life cycle.

Since 1976 the U.S. effort has been matched by a joint Mexico-U.S. Program to eradicate the parasite from all the south-western U.S. and most of Mexico. Successes this year had pushed the most northerly known edge of the wild screwworm population 200 and more miles south of the international border — until identification of this sample from Kinney County.

For some time no sterile screwworm flies had been distributed in the U.S. All flies produced at the Mission insectary had been released in Mexico.

With screwworms again known to be in the U.S., Novy urges pet owners and stockmen to carefully watch animals for signs of screwworm infestation. He asks that samples of any worms found in wounds be sent to the Screwworm Lab for identification by specialists.

This is especially important now since almost the entire area at risk has received rain, says Novy. "This has greatly improved the habitat for screwworms."

Baird man killed in accident near Bradshaw Monday

The Texas Department of Public Safety identified a young man killed early Monday in a one-vehicle accident between Bradshaw and Ovalo on US 83 as Guadalupe Mejia, 21, of Baird.

According to reports, Trooper Wendell Rehm said that Mejia, an illegal alien, was dead at the scene when investigating DPS Trooper Deryck Pockock of the Abilene DPS arrived.

The accident occurred between 5 and 7 a. m., five miles south of Ovalo in Taylor County.

The Winters unit of the Runnels County Emergency Service was called to the scene of the accident, along with the rescue unit of the Winters Volunteer Department. Firemen had to use the recently-acquired "jaws of life" rescue equipment to remove the body from the vehicle.

Mother of local man died Sunday

Mrs. R. L. Carey, 78, of Cross Plains, died at 8:30 p. m. Sunday at Central Nursing Home in Abilene after a long illness.

She was the mother of Robert L. Carey Jr., of Winters. Services were at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Higginbotham Funeral Home in Cross Plains, with the Rev. H. S. Earp, pastor of Baker Heights Assembly of God Church in Abilene, and the Rev. Ruby McCowen, pastor of Pioneer Revival Center in Cross Plains, officiating.

Burial was in Cross Plains Cemetery.

Born Jan. 30, 1902, in Hill County, she lived in the Pioneer Community area 63 years and had lived in Jones County before that. She was a housewife. She was a member of the Gospel Mission Church in Cross Plains.

She married Robert L. Carey Sr., Dec. 22, 1917, at Nugent.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. S. V. Wade of Merkel and Mrs. Andrew Walker and Mrs. Carey Jr., of Winters; four sisters, Mrs. Jack Sherrill of De Leon, Mrs. Bud Shennault of Clyde, and Mrs. Annie Reves and Mrs. Jewel Reves, both of Tyler; two brothers, Era Wade of Clyde and J. L. Wade of Abilene; 13 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

Nearly 3 of 4 veterans with military service during the Vietnam conflict have applied for benefits under the current GI Bill.

Winter pastures vital this year

Winter pastures have always been important to cattlemen, but this is one year when they could really give a lift to beleaguered producers.

"Due to the season-long drouth, most producers must try to develop winter pastures to ease feed bills," contends Don Dorsett, a forage specialist with the Texas A&M University System.

Keys to successful winter pastures include good seedbed preparation, early planting and a good fertility program, says Dorsett.

He advises planting adapted varieties of wheat, oats, rye or ryegrass in September so that livestock will have grazing in both fall and winter.

"Early planting is essential if pastures are to provide grazing before Christmas," says Dorsett. "Winter pastures make their best growth during optimum temperatures and plenty of sunlight in the fall months. Once cold weather hits, winter pastures make only limited growth."

As far as fertility is concerned, the specialist recommends at least 70 to 80 pounds of actual nitrogen and 40 to 50 pounds of actual phosphorus per acre at planting and a top-dressing of 50 pounds of actual nitrogen in late February. He points out that adequately fertilizing winter pastures can be money well spent. "An acre of winter pasture can produce three tons of high protein, highly digestible forage

Naomi Circle met Tuesday morning

Naomi Circle of the UMW met with Ethel Bridwell Tuesday morning with 12 ladies present. The chairman, Alene Mapes, led the opening prayer.

The program, Sojourn in Mosaic, was presented by Ethel Bridwell, Willie Lois Nichols and Alene Mapes.

REAL ESTATE

FUTURE SHOCK!!!

Who ever would have thought that this country's economy would be bouncing off the ropes with an inflation rate of between 15 and 20%? Yet, today, that's exactly what we are doing. What's even worse is hearing economic pundits saying that we should shoot for a "pretty normal" rate of only 10%. Don't be fooled — even a 10% inflation rate is high.

What would happen to housing prices with a 10% yearly cost-of-living increase? A home that cost $60,000 now would increase to $155,624 in ten years. In 20 years it would cost $403,650. In 30 years it would sell for $1,046,964 (over a million dollars).

Whatever your age, you must find a way to create an income in addition to your pay check. Although there is no perfect investment, real estate may be the nearest thing to it. It can be an income producer, a shelter from high taxes, and an ideal protection from the ravages of inflation. Real estate values historically increase faster than general inflation prices and maintain a higher value than most assets in depression. The ideal hedge.

Historical Facts About Fighting Fires

The world's largest fire departments are in New York, London and Tokyo. Each has more than 10,000 employees.

In early Rome, fire alarms were sounded by fire sentinels who blew large, trumpet-like horns called buccinas.

According to A-T-O Inc.'s American LaFrance division, the world's largest manufacturer of fire apparatus, horse-drawn steam pumps didn't replace hand pumps in America until the mid-1800s.

A turbine-powered American LaFrance pumper, built in 1960 for the San Francisco Fire Department, featured a 325 brake-horsepower Boeing engine.

Get 'knee-deep' in carpet care

Get "knee-deep" in carpet care, a home economist urges homeowners.

Many savings are the reward of learning how to clean your own carpet — significantly longer carpet life and aesthetic "face-saving" too, says Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Dr. Berry is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Carpets need shampooing, she stresses.

Shampoo rugs every year or two to get rid of heavy dirt and grime. Vacuum or sweep the rug, of course, before shampooing.

Furniture should pose no problem, as you can do half the rug one day and half the next.

Before shampooing, though, check to see if the rug fades. Simply "test" a spot using the shampoo. Use clear warm water to rinse the suds by rubbing the spot with a clean damp sponge.

Be sure the test spot is a place usually not seen — such as a spot under a piece of furniture or in a closet.

Rinse the sponge and rub the patch again. Do this several times to make sure all dirt and detergent are out — but don't use too much water.

Let the spot dry. If the color looks the same, but cleaner, after it's dry, go ahead and shampoo the rest of the rug.

Any fiber with fast color should withstand shampooing. Some twists and weaves are more difficult to shampoo since rubbing and agitation of the pile may affect appearance, and, again, that's the reason for testing a spot: to answer all of those kinds of questions.

For the job you'll need the vacuum cleaner, a special rug shampoo or a light-duty synthetic detergent and a mixing bowl.

For the mechanical method, you'll need a shampoo applicator or an electric polisher-scrubber with a rug-cleaning accessory.

For the hand method, you'll need a soft brush, spatula, sponges and cloths.

Thoroughly vacuum the rug.

Either use the special rug shampoo or whip one-fourth cup light-duty de-

Ahead-of-time sandwiches

If you hate to make sandwiches and pack lunches every morning, take heart.

Here are a few suggestions for making sandwiches ahead of time from Dr. Cass Ryan-Crowe, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Most sandwich fillings will freeze, when properly packaged.

The old standby of peanut butter is an excellent choice for the freezer.

Also cheese, sliced meat and fish are good choices for sandwiches you prepare ahead of time.

In addition, when you have leftover meat such as roast, and everyone in the family is tired of it, slice it and make a few sandwiches out of it.

For freezing, be sure to wrap the sandwiches in a moisture-proof material.

Labeling and dating are also recommended if you plan to make a large supply.

Sandwiches can be safely stored for three to four weeks in the freezer.

They defrost overnight in the refrigerator or in approximately three hours at room temperature.

Here are some special suggestions:

Vegetables lose crispness in the freezer, so avoid using them as a sandwich filling. If a slice of lettuce is desired, add it to the sandwich on the day it is defrosted for use.

Cooked eggs become rubbery or undesirable upon freezing.

Sandwich fillings that contain a lot of mayonnaise or salad dressing may cause the bread to become soggy.

Next time you are preparing sandwiches for all the members of your family, carpet is loose laid, drying time can be lessened by directing the air underneath the carpet.

When the rug is thoroughly dry, vacuum to remove any residue and suspended soil.

Put brown paper down if you must walk on rug before it dries.

WE BUY NATURAL GAS THE WAY YOU BUY GROCERIES.

Lone Star shops for the best values. Just as one brand of green beans might be a better value even though it costs a penny or two more, gas that costs the least could prove to be the most expensive.

We have to consider a number of factors. How much gas can we expect from a new field? How close is it to our existing pipelines? How much processing will the new gas need? Is the BTU content high or low?

As a result of this careful shopping, Lone Star's weighted average cost of gas in 1979 was $1.76 per MCF (1,000 cubic feet) of gas — lowest of any major intrastate gas company in Texas.

This savings is passed on to you because your monthly bill is based on our average cost of gas.

Blizzards drop game to Roscoe

Touchdown..!

Most of the Winters Blizzards and Billups of the Blizzards went over the Roscoe Plowboys congregated at the marker for six points. Try for extra goal line last Friday night as Scott points failed. —Photo by Tony Osborn

On their first trip out of town this season, and for the second time in 1980, the Winters Blizzards fell victims to a stronger team Friday night, losing to the Roscoe Plowboys 21-6 on the Roscoe field.

Although the Blizzards as a group received better grades from the coaches in the Roscoe game than they received for the Ballinger game, they failed to hold the Plowboys, who were not forced to punt during the entire first half. Roscoe controlled the ball for the best part of the half, and the Blizzards stayed on the defense most of the time, running only 13 plays during the half. Roscoe chalked up 11 first downs during the half.

To begin the scoring, Zhan Aljoe of the Plowboys went over from the seven with 5:08 left in the first period, and were successful in the PAT attempt. With 3:45 left in the half, Aljoe again went over from four yards out for the second TD, and then the Plowboys ran over for the extra two points, to go to halftime 15-0 over the Blizzards.

In the third quarter, with 3:20 left, Scott Billups went over from a yard out, but the points after try was unsuccessful.

James Hernandez of the Plowboys grabbed a 9-yard pass with 6:14 left in the third for the final TD of the evening, but Roscoe was not successful with a running bid for points after.

In the Roscoe affair, Toby Gerhart chalked up 15 yards; Robert Johnson 57 yards on the ground. Scott Billups hit Jimmy Hall for 17 through the air; Ricky Torres for 9, and Scott Hall for 8.

Almost...

A pass—Billups to Scott Hall—during the Blizzards-Plowboy game at Roscoe Friday night was on the mark, and almost intercepted by a Plowboy. The ball bounced out of his hands immediately after the camera shutter was snapped.

Winters' defense was hampered by personnel injuries, which required position changes. Coach Les Fisher said, and they made some mistakes they haven't been making. Andy Smith, a linebacker, received a chest bruise in the second half, and played none of the fourth period. Defensive end Tony Garcia received a sprained ankle in the second quarter, and Toby Gerhart, a linebacker, was shifted to defensive end. Lack of depth is taking its toll.

However, the defensive unit was graded higher than they were in the opener two weeks ago.

In the second half, the Blizzards offense moved the ball a bit better than they did in the first, with one sustained 40-yard drive. But then, after kicking off to Roscoe, the Blizzards failed to take advantage of a Plowboy fumble they recovered inside the Roscoe 30.

Recent rains bring 'skeeters by millions

Recent rains have begun to bring a mosquito problem to many Texas communities.

Standing water from these showers makes an excellent breeding place for mosquitoes, noted County Extension Agent Dale C. Brandenberger.

Mosquitoes can lay eggs wherever standing water is available for a week or longer. "Old tires, tin cans, birdbaths, roadside ditches, rain gutters, temporary water containers and swampy places all can hold enough water to provide breeding sites for mosquitoes," the county agent warned.

If mosquitoes are a problem, the county agent advised, the first thing to do is eliminate their breeding sites.

Empty out old tires and place them where they cannot collect additional water. Flatten and discard tin cans. Change the water in birdbaths every week. Clean out rain gutters, remove water containers and see that rain barrels and water storage tubs are tightly covered. Drain standing water from ditches and swampy areas.

"If there is standing water that serves as a breeding site but cannot be drained or eliminated, treatment with a larvicide will be necessary," he said.

One of the most effective larvicides is No. 2 diesel oil with a biodegradable spreader, applied at the rate of 6 ounces per 100 square feet of surface.

Abate, malathion or Dursban applied to standing water at rates indicated on their labels also are effective larvicides, the county agent said. But he warned that labels should be read carefully to determine the hazards these insecticides pose to persons applying them.

Control of adult mosquitoes offers the most immediate relief. Inside the home, aerosol bombs containing pyrethrin offer quick knockdown of adult mosquitoes, the Extension agent said.

The killing effect of pyrethrin is very short-lived, so frequent application will be necessary to control adult mosquitoes inside the house. The "pest strip" offers effective indoor control for long periods. "One pest strip for each average size room is necessary to control mosquitoes," the agent said.

"Persons who are active where mosquitoes are a problem should use repellents," the agent advised. "These repellents will protect you from biting mosquitoes for from one to three hours, depending upon your type of activity."

Adult mosquitoes around the home can best be controlled by space or residual treatments of insecticides such as malathion, Dibrom, methoxychlor, or Dursban, he suggested. Space treatments, generally fogs, have very little residual activity and require repeating at frequent intervals. Space treatment should be done during the cool hours of the night or early morning and when wind velocity is less than five miles an hour.

Residual treatment, which is applied as mists or sprays, to the resting sites of adult mosquitoes gives longer-lasting control than space treatments, the county agent noted. These should be applied to vegetation, eaves of roofs, under porches and similar shaded areas.
