Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

The good old boy in Austin, you remember Mark, really unloaded on Schoolboy Football last week. Apparently he doesn't like the tradition, the game, or the players.

One thing is for sure, he is not trying to win any votes since he had to pay up on a campaign promise with the special session and all those taxes and mandates on how to educate students. Maybe he plans on retiring from the top job in the state at the end of his term—if he is not planning on retiring, maybe he should.

The whole thing about football last week kind of reminded me of a school superintendent in Brownwood. It was several years ago that the super tried to oust Gordon Wood. That is something that just isn't done. The super was unceremoniously fired.

For the Governor of Texas to say such unsavory things about Texas Schoolboy Football is about the same difference, on a much larger scale.

Maybe there is a reason for his line of thinking and what has been said by the governor and Mr. Perot. Let's try and imagine what caused it all.

For the sake of trying to grasp such reasoning, let's imagine a high school, somewhere in Texas. There is a senior by the name of Ross and a freshman named Mark.

Now Ross was the type that always excelled in his studies and pressed his mentors for challenges. Although he was destined to become vastly wealthy in a technologically advanced field later on, Ross was, by no stretch of the imagination, an athlete. He was a whiz with a slide rule, but couldn't dribble a tennis ball. Maybe a success-oriented person with no appreciation of sports and athletics.

Mark, on the other hand, wanted to be active in athletic activities in his school. He, however, just could not make the team and developed a dislike for athletics.

He also greatly admired his upperclassman, especially Ross. There again our freshman encountered difficulties.

After both of these make-believe fellows finished their schooling, they maintained contact. One became a highly respected businessman whose affinity for book learning led him to demand the maximum of studies for those who would follow. The other became a politician.

The politician enlisted the aid of the businessman to advise him how to butter up the teachers to gain more votes.

Runnels County Sheriff's officers transferred two men to the Texas Department of Corrections in Huntsville last week.

Antonio Juarez was sentenced to 35 years in prison after entering a plea of guilty to a charge of murder in connection with the death of D.L. Luna of Ballinger.

Blizzards and Hawks fight to 13-13 tie

It was a brisk breezy night in Wall last Friday as the Blizzards came to town to battle the Wall Hawks; and a battle it was, ending in a 13-13 tie.

Winters Head Coach Danny Slaughter said that on offense, his team played much better; but his defense gave up too many big plays.

Winters actually controlled the ball much of the game, driving down the field behind the running of seniors Eric Belk, Alfred Yates, and Kelly Hood. Winters amassed 300 yards total offense with 13 first downs, compared to Wall's 217 yards and seven first downs.

Belk put in a good performance as he bulled his way through swarms of defenders several times, sometimes dragging them behind him for some distance.

He also punted the ball for an

First home game is Friday night

The Blizzards' first home game of the season will begin at 8 p.m. Friday when the Hamlin Pied Pipers come to town. It is a non-district game.

Winters Head Coach Dan Slaughter said that it will be a good ball game. He plans to use freshman quarterback Rene Garcia, moving Kelly Hood to wingback for the game. The Blizzards will be without the services of senior Ronnie Greer who will be out with a broken bone in his hand, suffered in last week's game. Greer will probably not see action for six weeks or more, Slaughter said.

Also, junior Robert Baker may miss several games due to an injury to his wrist in the Wall game. Both are good players, Slaughter commented.

Hamlin runs the option and is good at it, Slaughter said. Their quarterback Lawlis and fullback Woods are outstanding players. Hamlin is picked to win their district and are ranked in the top 10 in the state.

A spaghetti supper in the school cafeteria will precede the game. Further information on the supper is included elsewhere in this edition.

average of 50 yards per punt, with seemingly effortless ease.

Undoubtedly the high point of the game came in the last 46 seconds when the ball went over on downs to Winters, with the score Wall 13, Winters 7. Coach Slaughter sent in freshman quarterback Rene Garcia, who proceeded to complete passes as the clock ticked away. Finally he gave the ball to Yates who scored the tying touchdown as the clock ran out. Naturally, the crowd went wild. The extra point would have won the game, but the snap was high, and kicker Kelly Hood could not get the kick off.

Winters had kicked off at the beginning of the game, and Wall returned it from the 20 all the way for a touchdown. The kick was good, bringing the score to 7-0 Wall, with 11:47 left in the first quarter.

Winters began on the 18 and got five first downs en route to the goal line. Yates scored a touchdown on fourth down and three, and Hood kicked the extra point to tie the game at seven all with 5:59 left in the first quarter.

Not to be outdone, the Hawks took the ball from their 34 to the Winters 14 very quickly with fine runs up the west sideline. Quarterback Tim Cotton hit end Ward Dierschke in the end zone for their second TD. However, Dan Blakeney's kick was blocked by Blizzards Tony Blackshear; so the score stood at 13-7 Wall with 3:33 left in the first quarter.

Winters' next possession ended abruptly at the Wall 20 when Hawk Pat Alford intercepted Hood's pass. Then the Hawks' possession also ended suddenly when they fumbled the ball and Winters recovered. The Blizzards had good field position when the first quarter ended.

On fourth down, the Blizzards attempted a field goal, which was no good; so the ball went over on downs.

Wall was unable to make a first down; they punted, and Winters took over on their 49.

Hood handed off to Yates who ran all the way to the end zone, only to have the play called back due to a penalty. Belk punted, and Wall began on their 30.

Wall completed a pass at the 40, but their next long pass was broken up by Steve DeLaCruz. Next the Wall quarterback was sacked by Hood and Company, bringing up a fourth down and 17 situation. Wall punted.

Winters took over on the 37; Belk caught the toss, found rough going, but struggled another five yards with men hanging on. He got the first down; but on the next set of downs, Winters could not make any headway. The snap to Belk was high; he could not get the kick off; so Wall took over on the 32.

Wall fumbled and Winters recovered, but had to punt as the second quarter wound down. The first half ended with Wall still in front, 13-7.

Hood and Belk carried for first downs early in the second half, but Winters fumbled and Wall recovered.

Wall got one first down on a run by Curtis Schwartz, but a long pass was broken up by Winters' Nick Trevino and Steve DeLaCruz.

The rest of the third quarter (See Blizzards page 14)

State tax seminars

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said today area residents with questions about changes in state tax laws can get answers during a special seminar to be held by comptroller representatives. The seminar will be held September 24, 1984 at 10:00 a.m. at the Chamber of Commerce office in Winters, Texas.

"The state sales tax rate is going up and a number of new items will be taxable for the first time beginning October 2," Bullock said. "We are holding seminars across Texas so that these changes won't come as a surprise to anybody."

Comptroller representatives will explain the changes and answer questions during the seminars. These meetings are open to the public.

Area residents who cannot attend a seminar should contact the Comptroller's Field Service office in San Angelo, Texas at 915-949-0575.

The office of U.S. Senator John Tower said Tuesday that the Farmers' Home Administration had given approval to a loan of $1.65 million to the City of Winters for expansion and upgrading of the water treatment plant.

The terms of the loan, according to Senator Tower's office, provided for a 40-year pay-back at 7.75 percent interest.

The City of Winters conducted a study of the plant several months ago to determine what was needed for the fresh water treatment facility to meet current and future demands.

The present plant has a design-capacity of some 700,000 gallons of treated water daily. Last summer, according to city officials, the plant was treating in excess of one million gallons per day.

Spokesmen for the City of Winters said late Tuesday that it was anticipated the city council would agree to seek bids for construction of the water plant expansion at their next meeting.

Grand Jury indicts six

The Runnels County Grand Jury returned five felony indictments against six persons last Wednesday.

Among the indictments returned, Bobby Ray Ornales, of Winters, was named in a three-count indictment alleging unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, aggravated assault, and aggravated robbery. The indictments stemmed from the theft of a truck belonging to the Haliburton Company. The vehicle was in the possession of Tommy Knowles when it was stolen and a shotgun belonging to Knowles was in the vehicle. The indictment also alleges the weapon was used to fire a shot at Haliburton employees as the pick up drove by.

A second person arrested and charged in connection with the same incident, Jimmy Lopez of Winters, remains in the Runnels County Jail.

An indictment alleging burglary of a motor vehicle named Harvey Sparks and Jesse Carroll of Winters. The indictment involved the theft of tools from a truck parked at Carl's Texaco in Winters. Harvey Sparks was sentenced to four years in prison after entering a plea of guilty to the charge. He was transferred to the state prison last week.

Earl Black, of Ballinger, was named in a two-count indictment alleging aggravated sexual assault and burglary of a habitation.

The charges that led to the indictment involved the alleged rape of a Ballinger woman.

Sonny J. Shurtleff was indicted on charges of forgery by passing and Oscar Lopez Martinez was indicted for felony driving while intoxicated.

Spaghetti Supper slated for Friday

The Winters Womens' Club will sponsor a Spaghetti Supper Friday night, September 21, before the Winters-Hamlin football game. The supper will be served in the school cafeteria from 5 to 7 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the club, at the Chamber of Commerce Office, and at the door. Tickets cost $3 for adults and $2 for children age 10 and under. Take-out plates are available.

Proceeds from the supper will be used by the club to support local service and civic projects.

"Everyone come and enjoy a delicious meal and visit with friends and neighbors," a spokeswoman said.

Resa Porter

WHS girl is merit scholar semi-finalist

Resa Porter, granddaughter of Reverend and Mrs. H.E. Carrell of Winters, has been named a semi-finalist in the 30th annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

Resa, a senior at Winters High School, was among more than one million students who entered the competition by taking the scholastic aptitude tests last year. About 15,000 students nationwide scored in the top half of one per cent of their states' high school graduating class. They were named semi-finalists.

To become finalists, the students must score well on the SAT examination this year, as well as be recommended by their high school principals, and have grades showing their high academic standing.

Resa is currently National Honor Society vice president and drum major for the second year. She won second place in state in persuasive speaking last year, and attended Girls' State workshop.

In her sophomore year, she served as student council officer and took regional honors in U.I.L. journalism competition. She was named to Who's Who Among American High School Students and was a finalist in the Abilene Music Teachers' Association Concerto Contest held last February. She also participated in the Honors Colloquium at the University of Texas, and competed at the state level in piano in Austin.

Resa has maintained the highest grade point average in her class for the past three years. She plans to attend the University of Texas, Austin, and major in music.

WHS Booster Club sets Picture Night

The Winters Athletic Booster Club has set their Picture Night for Friday at 7:30 p.m. Football players and cheerleaders and their parents will be introduced to the crowd before the game, and their pictures will be taken.

The Booster Club urges everyone to wear blue to the game to show support of the Blizzards.

The Booster Club meets every Monday at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Game films are shown, and a scouting report of the next opponent is given by the Winters coaching staff.

Poe's corner

by Charlsie Poe

We continue with the tour of rural schools in Runnels county as given in a slide presentation by Neuman Smith at the Z.I. Hale Museum open house on Sunday.

The first school was taught at Content in 1882. The schoolhouse was built with a lodge hall above it. Later, other communities consolidated with Content and there were eight teachers, one being a Vocational Agriculture teacher named Marvin Williams (there was only one other in the county). A teacherage was also built for the teachers. This school had the first school bus. It had no windows - it was just a bus. A teachers convention was held here in 1896.

Elm Creek school was at one time a one room house containing homemade desks and very little equipment. By 1920, the school had been enlarged and a two-room building containing modern fixtures, had been erected. Two teachers were employed.

In 1915, the rural schools of Truitt and Long Branch were combined and in the fall, the two buildings were moved to Harmony. Here they served as the school until 1918, when a modern building was erected, and the school continued under the name of Harmony.

Victory was born just after the close of the first World War in 1919, when the Antelope and Cross Roads schools were combined. The new three room school was completed December 1, 1919, not more than half a mile from the first school of Antelope, built in 1887. There was an enrollment of 125 pupils.

RUNNELS HOUSE.

Victory was taken into the Winters school district in 1939.

The Antelope building is now a tool house in Marvin Bedford's back yard and the Cross Roads building was used to build the barn on Emma Marks place. The Victory Home Demonstration Club occupied the teacherage until 1952, and it was later sold.

The first school was built at Baldwin by the people of the community in the fall of 1902. At that time it was part of the Winters district, but in the spring of 1906 was made a separate district. The old building became inadequate and in 1915 a two room structure was erected. In 1916 a third room was added. At one time, the enrollment was nearly one hundred pupils.

The Stone school was known to be in existence in 1888. It was first located on what is now known as the Doug Colburn place. It was later moved to the south side of the Harry Jonas farm. In 1920 when the "Rural View" was published, 37 pupils were listed. The Puckett school was built in 1906 on land given by Mr. and Mrs. Puckett from their farm on the Wingate road.

In 1925 the two districts were combined and called Independence. Five acres of land was bought from H.B. Poe for a school site. The Puckett school house and grounds were sold to the Valley Creek Primitive Baptist Church. A brick building was erected and Independence became a four teacher school. It was consolidated with Winters in 1950.

consolidated with Winters in 1950.

The first one-room schoolhouse at Wingate was built with an upstairs for lodge meetings and is still standing. The second school was two stories and was removed when it became "wobbly" as one student said. The modern red brick building was erected in front of the old one and where school through the elementary grades continues to be taught. Wingate boys were good baseball and basketball players and the girls had a basketball team that was the envy of schools for miles around.

A one room school built one mile west of Mazeland in 1904, and later a two story building in 1910 also served Welmeth until the school was consolidated with Winters in 1950. The building was then remodeled for a private residence.

At one time the Poe, Cochran and Crockett (better known as Mann) schools were all in one district, but later divided and the Poe school was erected in 1911 on two acres of ground donated by W.W. Poe. The school was disbanded in 1936 and the building moved to Winters in 1948 where it was us-

The north Norton school, built on the Proctor farm in 1901, did not become part of the Norton school until 1939. The school from Maverick, one of the oldest schools, came to Norton in 1937. In 1968, the Norton school burned and the high school students were sent to surrounding districts.

An elementary school was rebuilt, but soon closed and the building is now a community center.

Maverick's first school was begun in 1889 by one man. The county built a schoolhouse on Oak Creek in 1890. A five room building was completed in 1927 and school finally combined with Norton.

The Pearce school, first in the Valley View area, six miles west of Ballinger, was built in 1887. In 1909 a new building was erected one half mile southeast and called Valley Creek. In 1920, the Pearce and Valley Creek schools were combined and named Hagan. In 1942, it was moved near the highway and consolidated with Barnett, and in 1948 was moved to Ballinger.

Parramore and Goolsby schools were combined to make Dale, five miles east of Winters.

building had been replaced by a four room concrete school erected on a corner of the Middleton farm. School was held here until 1949, when all grades were transferred to Winters.

Drasco had its first school when J.G. Mayhen, who came to the area before 1900, built a two room house for his family and added another room to be used as a school for the children of the community. After two years a small schoolhouse was erected on land donated by Tom Puckett, who also drilled the first water well for the school. School opened in January of 1903. It seldom started until the cotton was gathered. At its peak, Drasco had a five room school which included a high school and two teacherages. It ed as an FFA building until the spring of 1969.

The small school of Dry Hollow was located in the northwestern part of the county, the Oak Creek Valley, where it was thinly populated.

Returning to the south, one sees the remains of a gin, a school foundation and the walls of a store standing in the ghost town of Marie. The first school was a long building facing north and south and had been moved from another location. In 1916, a new two teacher school was built; children attended there until the school was moved to Bronte in 1938.

Several small schools around Norton combined with the Norton High School when the building was finished in 1906.

The building was razed a week ago by Walter Adami.

Two small schools, Cochran located west of Winters, near the red top station, and Franklin south of Winters were taken into the Winters district in 1950. The Franklin building stands on the Mitchell Blackwood farm.

Hatchel has had three schools. The first, built by private subscription, was Bowman located one mile north of Hatchel. Children of the district were widely scattered and a second school, Centerpoint, was built on the east side of the district several years later. When the center of population shifted to Hatchel, the two schools were moved together and another room added. By

 HINTS

Mousse mania is combing the country. Mousse is a light, frothy foam that eliminates fly-away hair and takes styling options to the max.

It makes dramatic effects possible whether hair is permed, tinted, blow or finger dried, set with heated rollers or curling irons.

Layered styles tousled with mousse look sexy and chic. Short shapes look snappy. Even fine hair gets the extra body it needs, for as one New York stylist says, "What good is the cut if you can't hold the shape?"

1920 there were three teachers and a principal employed with 70 pupils. A cyclone destroyed the school in 1922. The next year, a native rock building with four rooms was built. At its peak, the Hatchel school had one hundred students. When it closed in the late 1940's the building was razed.

The county seat town of Runnels City had the first school. It was opened in 1880 and taught in an open box house made of logs. It grew so rapidly that a church building was used for the overflow. By the end of 1885 the town boasted of having a four teacher school with "near one hundred pupils," but the methods of teaching were far from our modern system upgraded schools. When the county seat was moved to Ballinger in 1888, the town of Runnels declined in population. In 1910 a two teacher school was built to accommodate the pupils and in 1920 was still in operation.

It was estimated that there have been 83 rural schools in the county. By 1920 when the Rural View Annual was published there were 53 rural schools. The number has decreased to two elementary schools, Wingate and Olfen, and three high schools, Winters, Miles and Ballinger.

The rural schools played an important role in the development of Runnels county.

FACTS & FIGURES
Did you know that:
• In one year (1981), 6,300 lives were saved by government workers in the U.S. Coast Guard. In that same year 168,000 endangered people were assisted to safety.
• 95% of America's children entering schools are protected against major disease through use of vaccines administered by public employees. As a result, polio and measles have been all but wiped out.
• In 1982, 92 law enforcement officers gave their lives in the line of duty and 55,775 suffered injury. This means that 17.5 officers out of every 100 sacrificed personally to protect the people of our nation.
• Since 1945, of America's 54 Nobel laureates in medicine and physiology, 37 were public employees or were financially supported by government.
• One-half of all U.S. medical doctors in practice today received training by government employees working for the Veterans Administration.

HEALTH AND SCIENCE BRIEFS
The National Institutes of Health cautions older Americans to take care to prevent injury to their more fragile skin by not using water that is too hot, by wearing gloves when cleaning, and by avoiding the use of harsh products.
• A skin-barrier cream is recommended for skin of all ages when using polishes, detergents or other products that may irritate the skin. A highly effective one, Kerodex, is made available by Ayerst Laboratories. The cream is smoothed onto hands and arms, if they are to be involved and acts like invisible gloves that do not interfere with finger dexterity.
• Indigestion is often accompanied by gastrointestinal gas. Check labels for a combination of an effective antacid with simethicone. Simethicone is a substance with a defoaming gas-dispersing action. Riopan Plus has this combination and recently also became available as a rollpack for convenience. Antacids are one more item most people have found it's best not to leave home without.

Horseman seminar set for October 9

The new Horse Center at Tarleton State University has been selected as the site for a Central Texas Horseman Seminar, October 9.

Planned by Tarleton State University and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the seminar is designed to provide current information to horse breeders and exhibitors, according to Ron Woolley, district Extension director.

A major emphasis of the program will be on conditioning all types of horses.

"Fitness of the Race Horse" will be discussed by Dr. Jerry Rhuedasil of Lewisville.

"Fitness and the Performance Horse" will be presented by Tom Ivors, Cincinnati, Ohio, a member of the Esprit Racing Team and widely known for his research and discussions of interval training.

"Horse Owners and the IRS" will be a tax related discussion given by Mrs. Margaret Parham, Erath County CPA and a graduate of Tarleton State University's Horse Program.

Following lunch, Ted Turner of Tioga, widely respected trainer and exhibitor of halter horses, will discuss and demonstrate "Selecting, Training, and Conditioning the Halter Horse." Turner has exhibited a number of national and world champions and handles both quarter horses and Appaloosas, Woolley said.

A highlight of the afternoon will be a barrel racing clinic featuring three prominent barrel racers and trainers from Stephenville. Sherry Elms, who was the 1983 runner-up of the GRA Barrel Race; Marion Gramith, trainer and exhibitor of champion quarter horses; and Karen Galemba, who trains and exhibits champion quarter horse barrel racers.

The trio will stress training the young horse, maintaining condition and attitude in the mature horse, and transporting the barrel racing horse.

Registration for the seminar will begin at 9:30 a.m. and includes a fee for the seminar and barbecue lunch.

Pre-registration information is available from Ron Woolley, Box 1177, Stephenville, Texas 76401, or call 817-968-4144.

The Tarleton State University Horse Center is a modern, indoor facility which can seat more than 500 guests, Woolley said.

Farm safety week declared

Agriculture is one of the most hazardous occupations in America in terms of serious injuries and fatalities associated with accidents. It is also one of the most valued and productive enterprises in America. Therefore, special emphasis must be focused on the prevention of farm accidents.

As physically separate, independent operating units without access to corporate safety guidelines, resources or training in accident prevention, each farm or ranch has special hazards related to topography and ground cover. No occupation has greater exposure to sophisticated machinery and its moving parts than agriculture and no other industry includes wives and children in its labor force.

Medical experts contend that agriculture is the occupation with the highest level of general stress in the United States. A farmer or rancher must not only manage his business, maintain a wide variety of hazardous equipment and provide labor, he must also contend with weather conditions, disease and pest conditions, and fluctuating economic conditions. Such stress may divert a farmer/rancher's attention from safety.

To encourage renewed emphasis on making Texas farms and ranches safer places to live and work, a week-long, statewide campaign to inform rural residents about farm and ranch accident prevention will be conducted by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University system, the Texas Farm Bureau, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers, and the Young Farmers of Texas.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of September 16-22, 1984, as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Texas, and urge all who live and work on Texas farms and ranches to learn and use accident prevention rules. I also urge persons, organizations, and suppliers to help reduce deaths and injuries resulting from farm and ranch accidents.

Ranchers become consumer oriented

Cattlemen who succeed in today's tough economic environment will be those who become more consumer and market-oriented and use the best management techniques to produce beef more competitively, a past president of the National Cattlemen's Association told participants at the Purebred Breeders Symposium at Texas A&M University last week. Profit opportunities, he said, still exist for ranchers willing and able to invest, work, innovate and meet today's changing consumer demands.

Constitution serves as well as protects

The Constitution of the United States protects as well as serves; it is proof that the United States of America can and will function under any circumstances. This is Constitution Week. The Daughters of the American Revolution ask that you study the American Constitution, understand its meaning and realize why the United States of America is the best nation in the world. Read your Constitution.

"One sweetly solemn thought Comes to me o'er and o'er; I am nearer home today Than I ever have been before."
Phoebe Cary

Ram performance test slated

A Ram Performance Test is scheduled to be conducted at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Sonora according to Dr. Maurice Shelton, San Angelo-based Professor and test coordinator. The delivery date for Ramboillet rams going on test is set for October 1-3.

The rams will be examined by a committee in the period between delivery and the first official weigh day which has not yet been set. A note will be made of any animals thought to be unsound and breeders will be given an opportunity, but will not be required, to remove these rams before the initial weigh day. "During this period, breeders may elect to remove animals based on their own initiative," said Shelton. "After this, the breeders are requested to leave the rams on test except for reasons of health as requested by station personnel."

The rams will be self-fed a commercially prepared and pelleted ration. Breeders will be responsible for the costs involved in the tests including any veterinary costs incurred. According to Shelton, the test is open to all breeds, and registration is not a requirement. However, the testing program is primarily designed for Finewool sheep. Only registered Rambouillet rams born after October 1, 1983, are eligible for the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders' Association Registry of Merit Program.

Breeders are asked to provide as much information as possible concerning their rams such as sire, birth date, age of ram and type of birth. Field day on sale of tested rams is scheduled for March 14, 1985.

For further information and entry forms, contact: Dr. Maurice Shelton, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, 7887 N. Hwy 87, San Angelo, Texas 76901.

Memo from Kay

By Kay Colburn

Mr. Lee Story, Sesquicentennial Program Officer for West Texas was in Winters September 4 for a program at the Chamber office. Mr. Story presented a slide program to thirteen representatives of local organizations to acquaint them with the Sesquicentennial programs taking place around Texas. Sanctioned cities are currently planning and working on projects to celebrate Texas' 150th birthday in 1986.

Among statewide events planned for 1986 is a wagon train sponsored by the Texas Wagon Train Association which will travel 2,800 miles around Texas starting January 1 and ending in Ft. Worth July 3, 1986. This special Wagon Train will be in San Angelo March 17, 1986, the same day that the special Texas Independence Express Train, which will also be traveling around Texas, will be there. This will be the closest stop to Winters and it will be unique in that the two attractions will be there the same day.

Also, the state of South Australia will be celebrating its 150th birthday in 1986 and the Texas Sesquicentennial committee will be pairing cities and schools with ones in Australia for sanctioned cities who are interested in an exchange program.

Mr. Story pointed out that tourism was the second leading industry in Texas bringing $13.4 billion to our state in 1983. This is expected to climb to $20 billion by 1986. The Sesquicentennial committee will be publishing a book of planned events that will be taking place throughout the state and copies will be sent to overseas tour agencies and tourist bureaus around the United States so that trips can be planned to Texas during 1986.

In order to become a sanctioned city and thus be included in state publications and able to use the official logo, etc. there are a few qualifications to be met.

So that Winters can meet these qualifications, the steering committee is calling a meeting for Tuesday afternoon, September 25, at 4:15 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office. A representative from each organization in town (clubs, churches, scout groups, school groups, etc.) will be there. If your organization has not been contacted before that time, please call the Chamber office, 754-5210 and plan to send someone from your group to this meeting.

Even though it may seem early to plan for 1986, there are things to do now so that the projects decided upon can be successfully carried through and benefit the town for years to come. It is hoped that many citizens of all ages can become involved with this year long celebration.

Of interest to some will be an Oral History workshop to be held October 20 at the Ft. Concho Museum in San Angelo. If you are interested in obtaining more information about this workshop, contact Charlsie Poe or Edna England.

NEWS OF BEAUTY

SKIN MORE SENSITIVE THAN YOUR FEELINGS

Most people associate the word "sensitive" with feelings. When it comes to your skin, however, the word "sensitive" assumes a new meaning. According to Dr. Peter Hebborn, Vice-President of Research & Development for Owen Laboratories, manufacturers of Allercreme Hypoallergenic Cosmetics, many women, at sometime in their lives, experience a cosmetic sensitivity, but fail to recognize the problem.

Does your skin feel itchy? You could be sensitive to the soap you are using. Does the moisturizing lotion you use cause a stinging sensation after you've applied it? You may be experiencing a sensitization reaction to that particular treatment product.

"These reactions are not uncommon" explains Dr. Hebborn. "In fact, several different ingredients in cosmetic formulations have been proven to cause reactions in different people. Most common of these sensitizing ingredients are fragrances and frequently lanolin. Use of a product, such as Allercreme's Special Formula Dry Skin Lotion, can help eliminate these types of reactions, because the product does not contain either lanolin or fragrance. It's gentle and soothes and comforts dry skin without creating irritation."

The Women's Missionary Union of the Blackwell First Baptist Church met at the church Friday morning at 10 with 10 attendees.

Mrs. Billy Burl Holland presided for the "Week of Prayer" Program.

The opening prayer was voiced by Mrs. Willie Burwick. The scripture and calendar of prayer were read by Eula Nabors. Reverend Henry Rhynes, pastor of the church, voiced the prayer for the missionaries.

The song "God's World Today" was sung by Mrs. Holland and Jo Ann Rhynes.

Mrs. Gordon Montgomery presided for the program, which was entitled, "Chosen to be His Witness." She gave the first part herself, and was then assisted by Mmes. Charlie Strickland, Minnie Kinard, Thelma Conradt, and Olin Corley.

The group was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Holland.

The group enjoyed a covered dish luncheon at noon. Those attending were Mmes. Holland, Burwick, Nabors, Montgomery, Strickland, Kinard, Conradt, Corley, and Reverend and Mrs. Henry Rhynes.

Mrs. Thelma Smith was transferred from San Angelo to the Bronte Nursing Home last Wednesday a week ago. She is so proud to be that much closer to her home in Blackwell, and she hopes to be able to come on to her home sometime soon.

New technology for Cystic Fibrosis screening

Cystic fibrosis is the leading genetic killer of American children. A simple new testing device can help detect cystic fibrosis in its earliest stages, resulting in longer, healthier lives for youngsters who suffer from the disease.

Early detection — vital to treatment — is often delayed because the signs of cystic fibrosis may be mistaken for common childhood complaints such as asthma, bronchitis, allergies, pneumonia and chronic diarrhea.

A high concentration of salt in sweat is one of the key signs of cystic fibrosis. Researchers at Medtronic, the Minneapolis-based pioneer in heart pacemaker development, have designed a simple, inexpensive sweat-testing device that can be used for screening in a doctor's office.

"Sweat testing has been used routinely for about 25 years to detect cystic fibrosis," said Gary Lattin, a company senior project engineer. "But the traditional method of sweat testing requires highly trained laboratory personnel and special equipment not commonly found in a doctor's office."

In traditional sweat tests, the child is hooked up to electrodes via wires connected to a stationary power source. "Being tied to this equipment can be quite intimidating to a child," Lattin said. "Children don't like to be tied to anything."

The engineer began his research in 1979. Lattin was investigating iontophoresis — pushing a drug through intact skin with an electric current. He found during his investigations that iontophoresis is used to produce sweat in the detection eight minutes to cause sweating. Then a salt-sensitive patch is applied for half an hour to collect and measure the amount of salt in the child's sweat.

During this time, "The child is free to move around or sit in his parent's lap," Lattin said. "This is much less intimidating."

Using the CF Indicator Sweat Test requires little technical training, and technological enhancements have reduced the potential for human error.

Immediate results and low cost are added advantages of the device. By noting the color change of the salt-sensitive patch, a doctor can tell immediately whether the level of chloride is indicative of cystic fibrosis. Traditional test results may not be available for 24 hours. In addition, the test usually costs less than traditional sweat tests.

The Medtronic CF Indicator Sweat Test has earned three awards for excellence: one of the Ten Outstanding Engineering Achievements of Professional Engineers; the Seven Wonders of Engineering Award of 1983, from the Minnesota Society of Professional Engineers; and the I-R 100 Award of 1984, from Research & Development magazine.

"What doctors like about the test is that it's fast, reliable and easy to use," said Cindy Werner, marketing manager for the device.

"It allows physicians to accurately screen symptomatic patients for the possibility of cystic fibrosis."

Early detection and treatment of cystic fibrosis can mean longer, healthier lives for children.

of cystic fibrosis and, as a result, the CF Indicator Sweat Test, was developed.

"I believe we at Medtronic have made a unique contribution to sweat test methods used for detecting cystic fibrosis," Lattin added.

The CF Indicator Sweat Test is a battery-operated device smaller than a pocket-sized radio which is strapped to the child's arm for

The most efficient, the most economical heating and cooling system for your home.

THE Electric heat pump.

It's part of "the plan" — the Energy Saving Plan

Here's how it works:

For Winter Heating

- 1 Heat is absorbed by refrigerant in the outside coils
- 2 The compressor pressurizes the refrigerant and sends it to the inside coils
- 3 The heat from the inside coil is circulated through the house by the fan
- 4 The refrigerant flows outside and the cycle is repeated

THE ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP: It can save you money on your home energy bills. And when it's used along with other WTU-recommended energy conservation measures according to the ENERGY SAVING PLAN, you can save even more. WTU will pay YOU money when you install an electric heat pump to meet the E.S.P. requirements that add to your home's comfort and energy efficiency. That's where the ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP comes in — it's part of "the plan" because it's the most efficient system for heating and cooling. During the winter it removes heat from the outside air and pumps it into your home. In the summer it reverses the process and becomes an air conditioner, so you get even comfort year-round. CALL YOUR LOCAL WTU OFFICE OR A FACTORY-TRAINED ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP DEALER TODAY TO FIND OUT MORE ABOUT SAVING ENERGY AND MONEY ON YOUR HOME ELECTRIC BILLS.

To Qualify, Your Home must be served by WTU and meet our Energy Efficiency Requirements.

Winters 4-H Club schedules meeting

The Winters 4-H Club will meet on Monday, September 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the Winters Ag Building.

The program will be given by Frances Bredemeyer on rock collecting. She will show some slides about this different type of hobby.

All parents are encouraged to attend this meeting. Runnels County 4-H Yearbooks will be distributed to each member. These books contain some very useful information.

Each member will also need to fill out another 4-H enrollment form to help in updating the membership and mailing lists.

Librarian

Looking at home among the books is Winters Librarian Marguerite Mathis. She works to serve the public in finding an adventure in reading, not a difficult task with new books arriving weekly.

Adventures abound in Winters Library

By Patsy Roach
The Winters Public Library, located on Main Street, is a self-sustaining treasure house of adventures for readers. We visited the library recently and discussed its operation and holdings with Marguerite Mathis, librarian. We also spoke with Marthiel Russell, chairman of the Library Committee.

The library is run by Miss Mathis, a retired school teacher with 32 years teaching experience primarily on the junior high level. Miss Mathis has lived in the area most of her life. She is a Ballinger High School graduate who taught in the Panhandle and at Norton before teaching here. She lived at Crews for many years.

The library is open Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons from 1 to 5 p.m. and on Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The library committee has as its officers Mrs. Russell and Ouida Nichols, treasurer. The following civic organizations support the library: Lions Club, Junior Culture Club, and the Literary and Service Club. The City of Winters and Runnels County also contribute funds; theirs and the clubs' donations are used to pay bills, buy supplies, and maintain the building, which is owned by the library itself. Miss Mathis' salary is paid entirely by the Senior Texans Employment Program (STEP), funded by the Texas Farmers Union. She is allowed to work only 20 hours per week - thus the limited hours of operation. The committee's main functions are to pay the bills and to order books, Mrs. Russell said.

Ladies' clubs arrange the window displays. Also, the Junior Culture Club has ordered new blinds for the front windows.

Most of the books are bought with money from memorials made to the library, Mrs. Russell stated. They are bought at various times during the year, and are primarily chosen by the Library Committee. Also, many local residents have donated books. All the reference books were donated, Miss Mathis said.

Books are classified according to the Dewey Decimal System. The library has about 10,000 volumes. Categories include fiction, biography, history, government, reference, westerns, mysteries, science fiction, cooking, home improvement, sewing, how-to books, and children's books for all ages, including preschool.

The Abilene Extension service provides about 30 books a month, and the library may keep them a year. Many of them are children's books and large print books. Fifty of the large print books are loaned to the Senior Citizens' Activity Center where they stay for about six months. Book of the Month and Double-day send books every month.

The library sponsors the State Summer Reading Program for the children of the community, with good participation, Mrs. Russell said. The Junior Culture Club has sponsored a story hour for children aged three to nine.

The Cub Scout group has used the library for a project and are learning to use the reference materials the library has to offer.

Like most libraries, the local one does have a problem with overdue books. A fine of five cents per day the library is open is charged.

The library is currently needing new memberships and renewals, Mrs. Russell stated. A family membership costs only $3.50 a year.

Recent memorials include the following:

In memory of Mrs. John (Viola) Curry from the Winters Classroom Teachers and Winters Elementary Faculty and Staff

In memory of Mrs. Willis Yates by the Winters Classroom Teachers.

Listed below are some recent acquisitions of the library:

- Toxic Waste—Clean Up or Cover Up by Malcolm Weiss
- The Aquitaine Progression by Robert Ludlum
- King George VI by Denis Judd
- William the Conqueror by John Wingate
- Lone Star by T.R. Fehrenbach
- Trail Bikes by David Jeffries

Scouts enjoy Bike-A-Thon prize list announced

Different groups of Winters Boy Scouts visited Austin and Fort McKavett recently.

One group of Boy Scouts visited the Heard Ranch near Fort McKavett for a weekend camp. They toured Fort McKavett and worked on hiking, camping, and cooking skill awards. They also enjoyed fishing and swimming.

Those attending included John Austin, Johnny Rodriguez, Brandon Boles, Billy Witte, Chris Briley, Chris Brannon, Freddie Brannon, and adults Randy Nolte and Joe Young.

A Lone Scout, Ross Cashmere from Junction, joined the Winters Scouts at camp.

Another group of Scouts went to Austin this past weekend. They visited the State Capitol, the Lyndon B. Johnson Library, and the Republican Party Headquarters for Reagan and Bush. They enjoyed swimming at Barton Springs.

Those attending the overnight camp were Billy Holland, J'Dan Miller, Raul Rodriguez, Russell Stewart, Russell Moore, C.J. Young, Jason Young, Robert Vara, Otto Cortez, Billy Barnes, Steven Patterson, and adults Mike Bennett, Henry Martinez, and Carl Young.

The Scouts wish to thank Super D for the discount on groceries, and Minnie Hale and family and Helen Ruth Smith for their gifts of iron cookware, which is greatly appreciated.

DECA elects officers

Laura Taylor was elected president of the Winters High School DECA Club Monday, September 17. Other officers include Suzanne Spill, vice president; Dale Gray, secretary-treasurer; and Junior Garcia, reporter.

This year the club hopes to raise funds to save the Statue of Liberty. They will sell candy as a fund-raiser starting in November.

Talpa

By Maggie Ruth Stokes

We are awfully dry. We hated to see a dry norther come in. Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Majors, Joshua, brought their daughter Melinda to the church services this week.

Mrs. Francis Davis and her son Buddy Davis are moving back to Talpa this week. Buddy plans to open a garage in the Grafton Brookshier building.

Marty Loflin hurt his ankle in practice this week and was unable to play in the football game Friday night.

Talpa Centennial High School football boys won over Lueders-Avoca 39-0 Friday night. The boys played very good. We have 17 boys out for football, and you can see they are getting some good coaching.

Matt and Willie Williams of Little Rock, Arkansas visited in our home Wednesday afternoon.

Don and Ralphene Davis, Alan of San Angelo, Brad of Midland, Danny and Mona Reynolds, and Marshall of Spur went to a father and son roping at Memphis on Sunday. Ralphene visited her father's grave while there.

Butch and Elissa Moser, Kent and Kandra of San Angelo came on Saturday and had lunch with the Don Davis family.

Donna Diekehut and boys of San Angelo and Ralphene Davis went to Brownwood on Wednesday to visit Mrs. Neal Davis and Mrs. Effie Duncan.

Harold and Loretta Graham of Eden have a new son, Landon James, born this week. L.J. Monroe is the grandfather.

Eva Evans went to Wiley last Thursday to visit her former daughter-in-law Patricia Kaiser, Tiffany Kaiser, and Atlee Rainey. Eva's two grandsons, Aaron and Aric Rainey, are in college at the University of Texas.

Fred Andrews of Abilene has been out at Everett and Eva Evans' hunting doves several times lately.

Merl and Don Smith went on a trip to the Grand Canyon. They were gone from the third until the eighth of September. Don went on the mule ride to the bottom of the canyon; he really enjoyed the scenery to the bottom. He spent one night down there. They said the country looked good after you left Texas.

Floyd Broyles of Granbury came by on Thursday to visit Merl and Don Smith.

Pat Cassaday and Hazel Mae Bragg went with the group from the National Bank to the World's Fair in New Orleans. There were 41 in the group that went. They spent two days in Lafayette visiting points of interest, the tabasco factory in New Iberia and many plantation homes. They spent one day at the fair and a day touring the city of New Orleans. Everyone really had a good time. Charlene Griffith, the mother of Kay Lynn Evans, was the tour director.

Steve Evans, Benton and Zane Cassaday went to the trap shooting at Miles Sunday afternoon.

Whole house fan controls cost

Before the advent of air conditioning, the whole-house fan was the primary form of central cooling. However, during the era of plentiful, inexpensive energy, the widespread use of air conditioning reduced the popularity of the whole-house fan. With rising energy prices, people are once again turning to the whole-house fan as an inexpensive method of central cooling, at least for part of the cooling season.

The month of September signals a transition for warm to mild weather. The use of a whole-house fan can lower cooling costs and replace air conditioning during periods when milder temperatures prevail.

The whole-house fan is mounted in the attic and pulls outside air through the windows and exhausts it through the attic. It is most effective in the autumn and spring and during summer evenings and milder days. The whole-house fan can

Car dealers offer new child safety seats at cost

The Texas Automobile Dealers Association, in conjunction with Car Passenger Safety Month, will sponsor a statewide sale of child safety seats and a series of demonstrations stressing the need for seat belts.

Many Texas franchised new car dealers will be selling at cost the Century 100 convertible child safety seat, which will protect infants and children up to 43 pounds. The seats often retail for as much as $45 to $60, but they will be available October 15-20 at participating dealerships for $33.50 plus tax. Those wishing to buy a seat need only go to a participating dealership in their area and pick one up.

"Thousands of lives could be saved each year in Texas if people would only take a moment to buckle themselves up and to put their children in a safety seat or in a seat belt," TADA President Gene Fondren said, explaining the reason for the education program.

"Texas' love affair with the car can, but need not be, a dangerous one, he said, adding that auto accidents are the leading killer andcrippler of children under 4 years old. Adults are not immune, Fondren said, because thousands of people are killed or injured each year on Texas highways and streets.

Eighty percent of all auto deaths or serious injuries results from accidents where the car was traveling less than 40 mph and 75 per cent are within 25 miles of home.

"It is estimated that seat belts will save almost 200 lives this year but we could prevent 1,100 deaths and 28,800 serious injuries annually if everyone would buckle up. That translates into $458 million that could be saved in medical costs, lost work time and the financial burden on the state."

"So it makes sense to wear seat belts and to make sure your provide comfort when the outside temperature is as high as 82 degrees F, as long as the humidity is below 75 percent.

In order for the whole-house fan to function effectively, windows must be opened where the air is to enter, and the attic must have adequate outlets to exhaust the air. A breeze is created that improves indoor comfort by increasing air motion and carrying off heat gained from solar buildup.

The whole-house fan uses far less energy than conventional air conditioning; therefore, you can save substantially on your cooling bill each time you use the whole-house fan in place of your air conditioning system. A three-ton air conditioning unit typically uses 4,500 watts per hour, whereas a 42 inch whole-house fan uses only 500 watts per hour or one ninth the amount of energy. At current energy prices, running a whole-house fan for an entire month will likely cost around $25.00 or less.

For more information about the whole-house fan, or for answers to questions about efficient residential energy use strategies, consumers may call the Texas Tune-Up hotline 1-800-643-SAVE.

children are safe," Fondren continued. "It saves money. It saves lives. It prevents injury. It saves the emotional pain inflicted on the loved ones of those killed or injured in an auto accident."

Becoming senile is not inevitable

Age and senility are not synonymous. "Becoming senile is not inevitable and should not be accepted as a normal part of aging," said J. Thomas Hutton, M.D., Ph.D., associate professor of neurology at the Texas Tech University.

The leading cause of senility is a pathological condition known as Alzheimer's Disease. This disease, which has no known cause or cure, destroys a person's ability to care for himself and even to recognize his own family. "It takes away from a person the opportunity to live his life to its fullest," said Hutton.

Alzheimer's affects some two million people over age 65. As the median age of the U.S. population increases, more and more people are likely to develop the disease. Statistics show that in 1978 the population of the U.S. over age 65 was 22 million or 11 per cent. By the year 2030, it is estimated that about 55 million persons will be over 65.

To draw attention to the research being conducted on Alzheimer's Disease and to focus public awareness on the disease, Hutton has coordinated the Norman Rockwell Conference on Alzheimer's Disease October 18-20 at Texas Tech.

The conference is named for Rockwell because of the positive way he portrayed aging in his paintings, and because he may have suffered some form of mental decline in his last years.

Downy mildew

Downy mildew is just one of several diseases that seem to change almost as quickly as new sources of resistance are found. This fungal disease in grain sorghum can seriously reduce yield levels. Although the possibility of diseases and insects changing can't be eliminated, risks can be reduced. Increased emphasis on building an even broader genetic base into the hybrids and varieties they develop is one way breeders at Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., say risks are being reduced. Good crop rotation programs also help reduce the risks, they say.

Walter De Maria, a Californian conceptual artist, once had an exhibition in a German art gallery consisting of three rooms filled with dirt.

Winters Mayor W. Lee Colburn has issued a proclamation declaring September 17-23 as Constitution Week in Winters in conjunction with the national observance of the week.

The text of his proclamation reads as follows:

WHEREAS, September 17, 1984, marks the one hundred ninety-seventh anniversary of the drafting of the Constitution of the United States of America by the Constitutional Convention; and

Wait —

Both let some of their personal feelings get in the way — one had no love for sports and the other was bitter because he could never be an athlete.

Now all of the above, stirred carefully and half-baked, could, by a stretch of the imagination, lead to an effort to suppress a Texas tradition.

Now remember, all this is just a made-up story. Any similarity to anyone is purely coincidental.

The recent special session of the legislature enacted a number of measures that will result in a tax to be levied on a number of things that, until now, had not been taxed. One of those things is newspapers. After the first of October, we will be forced to increase the price of newspapers, both on the newsstand and by subscription. The increase will be minimal. Thanks Mr. White.

VFW-Pac endorses Gramm for Senate

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Political Action Committee has endorsed Congressman Phil Gramm in his race for the U.S. Senate, calling him, "a proven friend of American Veterans and a champion of a strong, free America."

Former VFW National Commander Ted Connell, a member of the VFW-PAC Board of Directors, from Killeen, praised Gramm for his work on the Budget Committee and on the Veterans Committee "in assuring the nation kept faith with those who defended the Country in time of war."

"Phil Gramm understands veterans' programs. He went to college on the GI bill. His mother draws a widow's pension and his father died in a Veteran's Hospital. He, more than any other member in Congress, has seen that Veterans have been treated fairly during years of tough budget decisions," Connell said.

Connell noted that in the race for the U.S. Senate, there was a clear cut choice on issues that were important to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. "Phil Gramm believes in a strong defense. Lloyd Doggett opposes every major element of our effort to strengthen national defense. Phil Gramm and the VFW supported the President's decision to send troops into Grenada to liberate our medical students and put all the dictators in the world on notice that American citizens are to be respected. Lloyd Doggett called that action unnecessary aggression and gunboat diplomacy."

Gramm said "I am grateful to have the endorsement of the VFW-PAC and I pledge to continue as I have in the past to support a strong defense and to assure that the nation remembers those who have served in time of war and who have sacrificed to preserve our freedom."

Liquor store burglarized

Runnels County Sheriff's officers are investigating the Monday night burglary of Jack King's One-Stop Liquor Store on Highway 67, West of Rowena.

Chief Deputy Odell Denton said that the burglars entered the store by breaking out a service window and climbing inside. Taken in the burglary was eight cases of liquor and two bottles of liquor. The total value of the items taken was said to be $820.

The investigator said that the thieves exited the store by the front door. He said that no cash was taken in the break in.

Denton said that a similar burglary occurred at the same store on April 29, when about $1,450 worth of liquor was taken along with an amount of cash.

The deputy said that the two burglaries were very similar.

Turkey Shoot set

A Turkey Shoot has been scheduled for Saturday, October 6 at the International Handgun Metallic Silhouette Association grounds, three and one-half miles east of Wingate, operated by Jerry Powers.

The meet will last from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and will include four events. Entry fees of $3 per event will be charged, with trap shooting costing $4.

Frozen turkeys and canned hams will be given as prizes. The prizes are being sponsored by Piggly Wiggly manager Johnny Summers and meat market manager Clyde Butler.

A concession stand will offer sandwiches and cold drinks, with proceeds to benefit the First Baptist Church Acteens.

Blizzards — was taken up by a defensive battle ending in punts by both teams.

Penalties marred the fourth quarter. Wall's Dierschke intercepted a pass and was running down the field with it, when one of his teammates clipped a Blizzard. The ball was brought back, and Wall was penalized again for their coach being out on the field. That penalty evidently fired them up, because running back Adam Nunez took the ball and sped for a first down on first and long.

The Blizzard defense tightened up, and Wall had to punt. Winters began on their 35 and lost a fumble.

Wall was soon faced with fourth down and 12, and their pass was way overthrown. Winters took over with 2:35 left in the game, but lost the ball on an interception.

Wall again lost the ball on downs, leaving Winters with 46 seconds to make their second TD. The locals got two penalties en route to the goal line, but still managed to score, as discussed above. The game ended in a 13-13 tie.

The Daughters of the American Revolution remind our citizens that we must be vigilant to protect these freedoms. Lost rights may never be regained. Let us celebrate this Constitution Week by resolving to be better informed, more alert citizens. Read your Constitution." National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution
