Commissioners accept EMS bid

Runnels County will be out of the ambulance business, effective November 1, following action in the regular Tuesday meeting of the Runnels County Commissioners' Court.

The successful bidder for the emergency medical service for North Runnels County was Randy Nolte, of Winters. The Tuesday meeting was the second in which the commissioners considered bids for the service.

Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

Well, they've finally done it. After all these years, some of those folks that graduated from high school at the same time have decided that we all should get together.

Now, first off, I'm not sure that I really enjoy being reminded that, much to the amazement of my mentors, I graduated twenty and one-half years ago. Besides all that, these people that make up the Class of '64 will look so much older than I.

There will, undoubtedly, be many stories re-told from the "good old days". Some will involve activities that everyone tried to attend. Others will involve activities that most tried to avoid.

Well at least I don't have to order up a new toupee or have my existing one painted a different, more original color. I'll bet there will be someone with a bumper sticker that says, "Bald is Beautiful!". One can take solace in the old adage that says, "Some folks' hair turns gray while others' just turns loose."

With a new set of mail-order molars, I will be there when the Class of '64 re-convenes in Coleman.

Now talking about school days might remind some of us about skipping classes. It was fun until we were caught and were induced into taking a trip to the wood-shed. Now that got some attention. Things must be different anymore.

On the front page of that paper from the big city up north of us was a story about some of the bribes to be offered in hopes of getting kids to go to school. Stereos, radios, candy, toys, and cash awards. Also mentioned were televisions, food, bicycles, and much more. Boy, back in '64 we would be rewarded with a pine paddle or a belt if we didn't go to school.

There is a reason, the school officials proclaim. This month the schools will be monitored by the state to see just how many students attend school to establish what they call "ADA", or average daily attendance. This is what the state bases, in part, the amount of money the school gets.

Now all this probably makes some sense, but I must have missed something, somewhere. Maybe I missed out on the concept while on a field trip to the wood-shed to meet with the "board of education."

Did you notice what happened to Sunday night television this past week end? Mike Hammer was pre-empted by the debate between the Presidential contenders. Then on Monday, both sides were talking about how good they looked the night before and proclaiming victory.

Now keeping up with current events and affairs is one thing, but to be subjected to campaign commercials of program length in the middle of a good shoot-up is something else. The icing on the cake—the debates. Even those running for the number two spot are going to debate each another. Shucks, I would rather watch a good western with my favorite movie star in it.

Enough said about debates. Next thing I know, that intrepid, armchair, reporter down the road will be challenging you-know-who to a debate.

Now wait a minute...

dy Nolte, of Winters. The Tuesday meeting was the second in which the commissioners considered bids for the service.

In the first meeting, in late September, the commissioners accepted a bid submitted by Bob McDaniel for emergency medical service for Ballinger and South Runnels County. Two bids, one submitted by Nolte and one by Brownwood Medevac owner Ed Freeman, for service in Winters and North Runnels County were rejected as being too high.

Freeman elected to not re-bid the service and Nolte revised his bid slightly and re-submitted it.

The commissioners reviewed Nolte's new bid and a bid submitted by Joy Barnett of Brownwood before accepting Nolte's bid.

The bid submitted by the Winters man called for a county subsidy of $4,750. Ms. Barnett's bid was slightly lower at $4,300 monthly.

After lengthy discussion, the commissioners accepted Nolte's bid. Commissioner Gilbert Smith, who made the motion to accept the higher bid, said that he felt that Nolte's skills, along with his being a resident of and familiar with the area, made his bid more acceptable. Smith's motion was seconded by Commissioner J.D. Wilson, who said that Nolte's skills and credentials would be of benefit to the residents of Winters and North Runnels County.

The court voted 3-1 to accept the higher bid. Commissioners

Smith, Wilson, and Marvin Salling voted to accept the bid, while Precinct One Commissioner Robert Virden voted against the bid. Virden said he felt the bid calling for less county subsidy should be accepted.

Nolte told the commissioners that he would be ready to begin

Blizzards fall to Baird

The Baird Bears clawed and ran their way to a 31-0 victory over the Winters Blizzards in Baird last Friday night. Winters'

Coach Dan Slaughter said that his defense looked good in the first half, and that the offense moved the ball well in the first half, too, but that "mistakes killed us."

Alfred Yates played a good game, Slaughter said, with 108 yards rushing.

Winters suffered one interception and lost one fumble. Baird had no turnovers. Winters punted five times for an average of 42 yards. Baird punted six times for a 42 yard average.

The Blizzards were penalized six times for 51 yards, while Baird received five penalties for 65 yards.

Winters had nine first downs to Baird's 13. Quarterback Rene Garcia completed six of 17 passes for 66 yards. Baird quarterback Mark Harris completed two of 13 passes for 51 yards.

Rushing yardage for Winters was 115; for Baird it was 253.

The first quarter was a series of punts, ending with no points on the scoreboard.

Baird launched an offensive in the second quarter and got one first down on a long run. Then a Blizzard seemed to intercept a pass, but the referees ruled it a trap. Tony Blackshear stopped a

Winters to play Ranger here

The Winters Blizzards will play Ranger here Friday night at 7:30 p.m. for the next-to-last home game of the year.

Ranger won two non-district games and has lost three games.

Winters Head Coach Dan Slaughter said that the game should be a good match-up, since Ranger is in a situation similar to Winters. He cited backs Billy Bradshaw and Breck Daniels as good players for Ranger. The Bulldogs ran six different defenses last week, he commented.

Paramedics

The operators of the two emergency medical ambulance services in Runnels County were recognized by the Commissioners Court Tuesday morning. Bob McDaniel (left) operates the EMS service in Ballinger and South Runnels County, and Randy Nolte (right) will assume the service in Winters and North Runnels County on November 1.

Felony drug, assault charges filed

Felony charges of aggravated assault and possession of a controlled substance were filed against a Grandbury man as the result of a Sunday evening shooting incident that left a Ballinger man wounded.

Armando Torres Cardona, 26, was freed on bond Monday after being arrested in connection with the incident.

Sheriff's Deputy Barry Hilliard said that Ben Ray Halfmann, of Ballinger was treated at North Runnels Hospital for a gunshot wound to the left ankle. Hilliard said the shooting was apparently the result of a disagreement over a pool game at The Badlands, near Ballinger.

The deputy said that Halfmann left the establishment on a motorcycle and was thought to have been chased by a subject in a pick up. The shot was fired from a .380 automatic pistol when the pick up pulled alongside the motorcycle on U.S. 83, north of Ballinger.

Hilliard told The Enterprise that witnesses at the night club gave officers a description of the pick up and told officers that the vehicle and its driver could be found at a residence in Ballinger.

Deputy Hilliard said that approximately five to six pounds of a substance, thought to be marijuana, was found in the vehicle the suspect had been occupying.

He said that the gun, believed used in the shooting, had not been located by late Monday.

Fund-raising for special ed unit set

The Parent Support Group for Special Education is sponsoring a fund-raiser for the self-contained special education unit located on the Winters High School campus. Winters Blizzard pennants will be sold for donations at home games, or persons wishing to donate to the fund may make checks payable to "Winters APCLD" and take them to the Winters State Bank, where the account is located.

Donations will be used to finish furnishing the house used for the class and to purchase items needed by the students.

Senior class officers

Heading the Winters High School senior class this year are (l-r) Michael Lee, vice president; Kelly Hood, president; and John Mesey, secretary-treasurer.

Historic Buffalo Gap tour

Members of the Runnels County Historical Commission combined business with pleasure when they traveled to beautiful Buffalo Gap for sightseeing and a dinner at their regular bi-monthly meeting in late September. The small community is located 14 miles south of Abilene.

The Knight-Sayles cabin was erected about 1875 near Lake Abilene. It is the oldest building in the county. Mr. Knight built the cabin and raised a large family in it. He later sold it to Sayles, and it was moved in from the Sayles ranch, just above Lake Abilene.

Also, the first courthouse and jail are a chief attraction which contains many Indian artifacts and history of the area. The two story building houses the old courthouse and jail. It was built with gun ports due to the Indian threats. Civil War cannonballs were placed between the large stones for stability. Alton O'Neal, Jr. said the cannonballs were to keep the prisoners from digging out. It stands in excellent condition as a museum of the old west.

First on the agenda was a tour of the Buffalo Gap Historic Village which has nine original buildings in the complex (except for the wagon barn). Most buildings are over one hundred years old. These include a log cabin which is the oldest structure in the area.

The Bradshaw office has been moved to the grounds. Jo Olive Hancock, who was reared in Bradshaw, was delighted to find her family box in the post office. She was able to open it, but alas! she had no mail.

Entrance to the historic village was through an early day country store where many antiques and souvenirs could be found. It was here that tickets were purchased for the rest of the tour.

Climax of the evening was a fresh catfish dinner at the Deuschlander Garten. The group was served in a private dining room, and a short business meeting preceded the meal. Final meeting of the year will be a cookout at the Nancy Parker cabin.

Those attending were Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Boelsche, Mr. and Mrs. Neuman Smith, Mrs. J. Dexter Eoff and Mrs. J.W. Barr, all from Ballinger; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lee and Anthony Lange from Norton; Jo Olive Hancock, Mary Margaret Leathers, Lillian Roberson, Charlsie Poe, John Hancock and Alton O'Neal, Jr.

Also to be found on the grounds is a train station, a typical old doctor's office, a dentist office, a cabinet mill and blacksmith shop. Dr. Boelsche remarked that one would be lucky not to be electrocuted by the old X-Ray machine displayed in the dentist office.

Understanding Your Insurance

Update II — What It May Mean To You

If you're a policy owner who has not borrowed heavily on your policy and do not intend to do so, a new insurance program can now bring you significantly higher dividends.

If a policyholder elects the program, called Update II, two things will occur: the guaranteed loan interest rate will become eight percent (this means no change in loan interest rate for those contracts already on eight percent) and direct recognition of policy loans. In general, the smaller your loan balance, the greater the improvement you will see in your dividend.

Your insurance agent may soon tell you about a quick way to increase your dividends.

If you have an outstanding loan and accept Update II, you can expect your dividend to go up as your loan balance comes down. To the extent you repay your loan, you will also restore the amount payable on death.

Update II is available to policy-holders with Phoenix Mutual, a company that keeps updating its policies in order to continually provide the lowest costs for its policy-holders. It's a company that was rated A+ by A.M. Best Company, an independent industry analyst.

Coleman PCA serves agriplex
The Coleman Production Credit Association, located on 8th Street in Ballinger, is a cooperative designed to lend money to farmers and ranchers for the production of agricultural products. Cooperatives are being saluted during October, which has been designated as Cooperative Month nationwide. Supervised by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D.C., the Production Credit Associations were started in 1933. The Coleman PCA serves six counties: Runnels, Coleman, Callahan, Taylor, Brown, and Concho. Their offices are in Ballinger, Coleman, Abilene, and Brownwood. L.D. Holstead, vice president of the association and manager of the Ballinger office, said that the PCA makes short and intermediate operating loans to agriculture producers. They do not make long-term land loans; that type of loan is handled by the Federal Land Bank. Fire Prevention week observed October 7-13, 1984 is Fire Prevention week in Runnels County across the nation, with the theme "Join the fire prevention team! Learn not to burn". According to Allen Belk, President of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, fire can be friend or foe, depending on the situation. Unfortunately, unfriendly situations arise all too often, costing lives and devastating property. Prevention is your best defense, but to minimize loss, you must be prepared if fire starts. To avoid or reduce fire loss, Belk recom-

Co-Ops - people and business

CO-OPS: What they are and do
Some 60 million people in this country use cooperatives — about 50,000 of them. That's a lot of people and a lot of businesses. And they do many billions of dollars worth of business each year. As one example, the farmer-owned marketing and supply cooperatives did almost $50 billion worth of business at the latest count — in 1981. What is a Cooperative?
A cooperative is a business owned by its users. These users — called members — elect a board of directors from their ranks. The directors hire a manager who in turn hires the employees needed and sees that the business is properly run on a day-to-day basis. The directors, however, retain overall responsibility and authority for operating the cooperative business. Many of our state and national leaders gained experience and stature through their cooperative work — and carried this over into public affairs and other activities. In a cooperative the money left after operating costs are paid belong to the members. Members receive a portion or all of it back at the end of the year as patronage refunds based on the amount of business they have done with the cooperative. Many times they re-invest this money in the cooperative to help finance expansion, needed buildings and equipment, or other expenses to keep the business operating effectively. Cooperatives operate under law, regulations and rules just as other businesses do. They are incorporated as businesses; they pay taxes to their local and state governments just as other businesses do. One thing about cooperatives is different: the law limits the dividends that can be paid on stock in cooperatives to eight percent. This is to keep control in the hands of member users and out of the hands of those who might want to use the business merely as an investment or speculation. What does a cooperative do?
For Members:
Cooperatives do many things for people. They can be places to buy, places to sell, places to get a needed service. continuing in this teamwork through our programs to provide assistance for fireman training and our educational programs.

Members use them to market farm products and fertilizer.... get groceries, and other consumer goods.... provide themselves with health, insurance, housing, and other consumer-type services.... obtain credit in the large amounts needed for operating farms and cooperatives through the Farm Credit System.... get consumer-type credit through credit unions.... provide themselves with electricity and telephone services in the rural area. The purpose of the cooperative is to make money for members, reduce costs for products they buy, and provide better services and quality goods to them. For the community:
Cooperatives not only put money in members' pockets, they also add to the community's financial base. They provide jobs to local people who in turn buy goods and services and pay taxes; they pay for telephone, transportation, and other services a business needs; they use hometown banks and stores; they pay all the local taxes other businesses do to keep schools, roads and like community needs going; they return money to members that in turn is spent in the community. Cooperatives are truly.... "Building A Better America". Controlled breeding boosts herd
Controlled breeding allows a cattleman to pull a lot of loose ends together so as to increase overall herd production, says a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University

Young Farmers go on fishing trip

The Winters Young Farmer Chapter went on a fishing trip to Lake Amistad, courtesy of Velsicol Chemical, manufacturer of Banvel, on October 5, 6, and 7. They stayed at Rough Canyon Inn right on the lake, where they cooked most of their meals. Saturday evening the men had a fish fry with the fish they caught that day. Members who went on the trip were Gary Jacob, Dale Duggan, Bob Prewitt, Randall Conner, Scotty Belew, Robert Holder, R.Q. Marks, Freddie Bredemeyer, Dennis Poe, Perry Poe, Arnold Thormeyer, Glenn Hoppe, Sr., Glenn Hoppe, Jr., David Smith, Brian Webb, Michael Deike, George Mostad, Gary Schwartz, Bobby Rogers, Fred Watkins, and Larry Mauldin. A chapter spokesman reported, "George Mostad caught the most fish; Larry Mauldin caught the biggest fish, weighing in at six pounds; Robert Holder caught the smallest fish, weighing in at two ounces; and Scotty Belew got the most nibbles." System. Controlled breeding makes overall calf management much easier. It makes for more uniform weaning and working of calves—vaccination, dehorning and castrating—which reduces labor costs. It also eliminates the problem of exposing immature heifers to bulls. And a uniform group of calves often brings a premium price at the marketplace. "A place for everything and everything in its place." Isabella Mary Becton

By Patsy Roach

We interviewed three Winters High School students Monday, asking the question, "If you won $100,000, what would you do with the money?"

The students chosen were Paul Trevino and Yvonne Burson, both seniors, and Tammy Greer, a sophomore.

Trevino is the son of Paul and Rachel Trevino. He is a captain of the football team, has played football for four years, and has played basketball and run track. He was president of his class his sophomore year.

Miss Burson is the daughter of Wyman and Betty Burson. She plays the drums in the Winters Blizzard Band. During her junior year, she participated in the Mock Trial contest; she has served on the annual staff for two years and was on the Gale staff. She is senior band representative.

Miss Greer is the daughter of Stan and Linda Greer. She has been an FFA Sweetheart candidate for two years, plays basketball, was vice president of the Greenhand Chapter FFA, and sentinel of the chapter conducting team. She was a class favorite last year.

Trevino stated, "I would buy a house out in the country for my mom and dad and granny to stay at, a couple of horses for dad, and then I'd buy myself a new pickup."

Miss Burson said, "I would buy my grandmother a decent car, invest in stocks, buy about $3,000.00 worth of drums, go to a music institute, and move to L.A."

Miss Greer commented, "If I were to win $100,000, I would invest some of it, put some back for college, buy a new car, and buy my parents a new home."

Junior High team blasts Baird Bears

The Winters Eighth Grade football team defeated the Baird Bears here last Thursday evening, 18-0.

The first quarter was scoreless. In the second quarter, Winters quarterback Reyna ran a quarterback sneak for a score from the one yard line after being set up by a 20 yard run by Reyna with some fine blocking by the offensive line.

Winters' second score came on a 6 yard run by Reyna in the third quarter. Cortez scored the final TD on an 80 yard run through a big hole opened by the offensive line.

Winters Coach Mack Lingo listed several good defensive plays for Winters. Selby intercepted a pass in the second quarter. Barnett recovered a fumble in the third quarter, and Horton intercepted a pass. Also, the defensive line tackled the Baird punter on the Baird one foot line.

"The whole team improved over their last two games," Coach Lingo stated.

Both the 7th and 8th grade teams and the junior varsity will play in Ranger this Thursday night beginning at 5 p.m.

BUDGET Stretching IDEAS

Homeowners who are considering adding a room, enclosing a patio, or refinishing a garage workshop, now have a better alternative for heating and cooling that room. It's an efficient, easy-to-install heat pump, which has already been proven in the tough commercial market. A heat pump is a device that takes heat from one area and delivers it to another, at a higher temperature.

Between 1950 and 1960, the population of Abilene increased 44,798, from 45,570 to 90,368.

Artifacts shown at Z.I.Hale Museum

Twenty-six people attended the open house at the Z.I. Hale Museum Sunday to see the artifacts that have been donated to the museum by the owners of the Fort Chadbourne Ranch. These artifacts were found by Dewey Chestnut and Dub Davis, with the permission of the owners, who arranged and explained the display to visitors. These souvenirs from the fort approximately 30 miles from Winters, established in 1852 and abandoned in 1867, were displayed in an attractive fourshelved case given to the museum by Wes Hays. The first shelf contained a knife, fork and spoon, Jews harp, part of a lock; and brass and iron buckles, some used on uniforms and some on equipment. Assorted square nails and spikes used in old buildings graced the second shelf along with metal Indian arrowheads; part of a door hinge; a brass disk with company initial placed on valise behind saddle; brass, pewter, and iron buttons used on uniforms. One U.S. button dates back to 1820, but most of them were made by Scoville of Massachusetts who started business in 1832.

The third shelf contains a large assortment of all types of shells, bullets, musket and miniballs used at the fort. The last shelf contained horse and mule shoes and spikes, an ax head, a bean can and French sardine can. Many of these items were found in the area. This was an Indian-infested wilderness and most of the supplies came from England and France.

This project was accomplished with a metal detector and has been completed. Many items are on loan at Fort Concho. Winters is fortunate to have received this unusual arrangement for the museum.

The Coleman Foremans were in Big Spring and picked up their glass, then went on to Lamesa and visited with the Bill Cozart family.

Mrs. Alta Hale's sister Thora Irwin of Yellowstone, Mrs. Horace Stokes, and Hazel Dietz played bridge Monday night in Alta's home. Mrs. Irwin was on her way to San Antonio to spend the winter with her son Roland Kerby and family.

Brother Jim and Jackie Shipman enjoyed Sunday dinner with Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion after church services.

Mr. and Mrs. G.C. Walters, Fort Worth, spent several days with Doris and Marion Wood. Pat and Malory Bryant and sons, Albany, and the Larry Calcote family came Saturday night.

Margie and Walter Jacob attended the wedding of Chris Kielsing and Roy Book in Sacred Heart Cathedral in San Angelo Friday.

Mike Kozelsky and family, Winters, spent Sunday and had dinner with the Jacobs.

The Danny Phillips family, Abilene, spent Saturday with the Rodney Faubions.

Paula and Ken Baker hosted a birthday party for daughter Dee Benae on her first birthday Saturday night in the Crews Gym with about 35 attending. Games and red velvet cake and punch were enjoyed.

Many more happy birthdays, Dee Benae.

Love makes the world go 'round, but it never solved the problem of how to make ends meet.

There was a good attendance at the supper Saturday night. While there we also had a good shower, probably 1/2 inch.

President Rodney Faubion called a brief business meeting. Secretary Jewel Denny read the minutes. Treasurer Bernie Faubion reported on the treasury, and the president welcomed the three visitors: Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. McWilliams, and Billie Bishop of Winters.

Therin and Nila Osborne and I hosted this supper. A Halloween party was planned for the next meeting. More about this party later.

As a reporter for the community, I was presented a pretty floral arrangement from the group— which was a pleasant surprise. Thanks group— if it weren't for you, I couldn't do the news.

We wish to thank Mrs. Effie Dietz for the nice donation for use on the gym.

Mrs. Alta Hale and three ladies from Coleman spent Tuesday through Friday in Brownwood attending the Arts and Crafts Workshop. On Saturday night she played bridge in the home of Helen Barnes in Coleman.

Mrs. Robert Hill's sister Jamie Ball, Junction, and Mrs. Ethel Rampy, Ballinger, visited on Tuesday.

Happy Birthday to Mrs. Effie Dietz on her 81st birthday, October 1.

Rain gauges out here Saturday night showed a trace to 8/10. Keith Collum was out Monday with Mrs. Effie Dietz on business. Clarence Hambricht also came on Monday.

Mrs. Hazel Mae Bragg attended the Grounds Reunion in the Glen Cove Community Center with 35 attending. Only one aunt came; the rest were cousins. A cousin Frances Workhizer, Lakeland, Florida, spent four days with Hazel Mae and Russell after the reunion. Attendees came from Dallas, Beaumont, Talpa, Wichita Falls, and San Angelo.

Pat and Earl Cooper's Sunday dinner guests were Brenda, Richard, Dodie, and Gina Chamblis, Hawley; Ray, Sherri, and Amanda Cooper, Abilene; and Grace and Corbert Cooper, Winters.

Psychology

Vigorous exercise can be as good for your mental health as it is for your physical well being, psychologists agree. Whether you jog, play tennis, bike, swim or ski, you're getting rid of tensions and may well find that you have a new outlook on many of your problems. After exercising it's a good idea to replenish body fluids with a refreshing drink of iced tea—a delicious inducement to complete your daily exercise regimen!

Blizzards —

Bear behind the line of scrimmage, and the ball went over on downs.

Winters racked up three first downs on runs by Hood and a pass to Nick Trevino, but a lost fumble ended that drive.

Following another exchange of punts, Baird took over on the Winters 49. A fifty-yard run scored Baird's first touchdown, and the kick was good. Baird led, 7-0, with 2:34 left in the first half of play.

Winters kicked off in the second half. Jody Turnbow scored a touchdown on a run; the pass for extra points failed. Baird led 13-0.

Late in the third quarter, Baird lined up to punt, but elected to pass to Turnbow who ran with the ball. The Bears were penalized for clipping, and Winters' Steve DeLaCruz was injured on the play and was taken to the hospital. Following the official time-out, Baird did punt, and Winters was in possession of the ball when the third quarter ended.

Alfred Yates caught a 37 yard pass for a fine gain early in the fourth quarter. However, Winters failed to make a fourth down and one conversion; so the ball went over on downs.

Baird drove down to the four, but the Blizzards went into a goal-line stand; so Baird kicked a field goal to increase their lead to 16-0 with 6:48 left in the game.

Dale Roberts returned the kick from the 20 to the 35. Winters got a first down before having to punt, and then fumbled while attempting to punt. Baird recovered.

Baird's Doug Tuerk scored a TD, and the kick was good, giving the Bears 23 points.

Baird's last score came on a run by Dub Scott, with extra point added by Te Howard. Baird led 31-0 with 14 seconds left in the game.

Winters began on their own 31. Yates made a great run down to the Baird 41 with five seconds left on the clock, but time ran out before the Blizzards could score.

Pumpjack repairs ARE taxable now

According to an official in State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office, repairs to pumpjacks ARE now taxable. During a meeting in Winters several weeks ago, it was stated that such repairs were not taxable since pumpjacks were thought to be real property.

However, further investigation revealed that wellheads, pumpjacks, separators, and "Christmas trees", all oil field equipment, are considered tangible personal property and thus repairs to them are taxable under new regulations instituted by the Texas Legislature.

Labor is not taxable on the following: oil and gas casing, conductor pipe, tubing, flow lines, and stock tanks. The labor on these items is considered improvement to realty.

operations on November 1, and that he would like to purchase the ambulances from the county.

In an exclusive interview with The Enterprise, Nolte said that he would base the ambulance service at his newly purchased residence at 1102 North Concho. The service will operate under the name of North Runnels Emergency Medical Service. Nolte says that his service will provide a professional, quality emergency service with experienced, qualified personnel. The service will provide Basic Life Support Service.

Employees of the service will be required to maintain and improve their skills through inservice education. Nolte said, "I will provide an ambulance service which will inspire the trust and renew the confidence of the people of North Runnels County toward their emergency care. I know the people and their needs and I have the capability and experience to meet those needs."

"I will provide a service the county will be proud to support, the people will have faith in, and the hospital can trust for accurate patient assessment and care," Nolte concluded.

Nolte is certified as an Emergency Medical Technician/Paramedic, Advanced Cardiac Life Support, Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) Instructor, and Respiratory Therapy Technician. He currently is employed in the Respiratory Department at North Runnels Hospital. He previously served in a similar capacity at Ballinger Memorial Hospital.

Preliminary plans call for the new emergency service to operate with three full-time employees, a Paramedic and two Emergency Medical Technicians. Properly certified, part-time employees will be utilized on an as-needed basis.

Nolte said that a new telephone number for emergency ambulance will become effective on November 1, and that the number and other important information will be made available prior to that date.

PRO BRAND WHEAT 812 $10.50/50# bag

Northrup King's PRO Brand Wheat 812 is a short, stiff-strawed variety that produces excellent grain yields and exceptional winter pasture grazing. Ideal for most of Texas and Southern Oklahoma, 812 has superior plant vigor that promotes rapid regrowth. Growers have reported 812 to have been the best grazing wheat they had ever planted. Early-maturing 812 has a significantly wider leaf than most competitive varieties. Plus it has resistance to most currently known leaf and stem rusts and soil borne mosaic virus. The early maturity of 812 makes it a good variety for doublecropping ahead of soybeans or sorghum.

PCNB Terra-Coat® LT-2* seed treatment has been applied to 812 wheat seed at 2 oz./bu. This fungicide is designed to control common smut or bunt plus damping off by Rhizoctonia. (*Registered trademark of Olin Corporation.)
