Reagan-Bush win by landslide

By Kerry Craig

Voters in Runnels County, just as voters across the United States, went to the polls in record numbers to cast their vote in what has turned out to be one of the biggest landslide election wins in U.S. history.

By the time the polls closed in Texas, at 7:00 p.m., the national news networks were already projecting a decisive win for Ronald Reagan and George Bush. By 10 p.m. The networks were giving Reagan a total of over 450 electoral votes and Walter Mondale only three or four electoral votes.

Reagan's apparent win exceeded the overwhelming win over Jimmy Carter four years ago.

By the tenth hour, central time, all the networks were talking about the chances of Walter Mondale of winning one or two states, thus keeping Ronald Reagan from making a 50-state sweep of the election.

At 10:22 p.m. Walter Mondale was on national television conceding his defeat. He said, "A few minutes ago, I called President Reagan to congratulate him on his victory. He has won. We are all Americans, he is our President, we honor him tonight."

Mondale continued by saying, "Although I would have rather have won tonight, we rejoice in our Democracy, in freedom of wonderful people. We accept the verdict."

About the same time, the Associated Press reported that Phil Gramm was the apparent winner in the race for the U.S. Senate over Lloyd Doggett. The two were seeking the seat being vacated by Senator John Tower.

In Runnels County, in the two top elections, voters cast 2,968 votes for Reagan-Bush and 1,179 votes for Mondale-Ferraro.

For the U.S. Senate Phil Gramm received 2,653 votes, while Lloyd Doggett received 1,464 votes.

Winters Council rejects central communications

The Winters City Council flatly rejected, again, a proposal that would centralize emergency communications in Runnels County. The concept was presented to the council by Ballinger Police Chief Paul Boggess in their last meeting, and after two weeks consideration, the council turned thumbs-down. In his presentation, Boggess called for a central location to receive and dispatch calls to law enforcement agencies and other emergency services. The centralized communications facility would be funded by the cities of

Stolen vehicle recovered, three suspects arrested

Department of Public Safety Troopers in Mitchell County recovered an automobile reported stolen in Winters last week and took three suspects into custody on charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Bonds of $5,000 each were set for Jesse Solis, an illegal alien, Julian Ayala, also known as Manual Salazar, and Margarita Armendariz on the charges.

Winters Police officers said that the vehicle was stopped by the Highway Patrol Troopers for a routine violation and that officers checked the registration of the suspect vehicle through the crime computer and learned the car had been reported stolen in Winters and took the trio into custody.

The stolen vehicle belonged to Robert Castillo and was taken two weeks ago. Officers said the theft was not reported until several days after it was stolen.

Winters Police officer Richard Hawkins and Deputy Sheriff J.D. West returned the trio to Runnels County over the week end.

Ballinger man injured, Abilene man dies in Friday accident

A car-truck crash near Novice, on U.S. 84 in Coleman County, Friday claimed the life of an Abilene man and left a Ballinger man injured.

William Lee Hilliard, 35, of Ballinger was taken to Abilene's Humana Hospital with injuries suffered in the crash. Jerry Vernon Snell, 48, of Abilene was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident on U.S. 84 at the F.M. 702 intersection, just northeast of Novice.

Investigating Texas Highway Patrol Trooper James O'Shields said that the tank trailer-truck rig, driven by Hilliard, collided, broadside, with a station wagon driven by Snell. The auto was westbound and the truck was northbound.

The trooper said that the force of the collision caused the Snell vehicle to spin off the roadway and into the ditch. The tractor-trailer truck overturned on the highway and landed, part-

Three games slated for Thursday here

Blizzards play fantastic game

In a very exciting game here last Friday night, undoubtedly the best game of the year for the Blizzards, the Winters boys surprised Coleman with two touchdowns to lead 14-7 at the half, only to allow two TD's in the second half. Coleman won, 19-14.

Winters Coach Dan Slaughter commented, "It was probably our best ball game. For a bunch of patched-up people who lost three starters in the last week, our kids played a great game. I am very proud of them."

Injuries have plagued the Blizzards this fall, most recently in the form of a broken hand for Alfred Yates, who had been the leading rusher, and a slight concussion and a hurt neck for Rene Garcia, who did see some action as quarterback in the Coleman game.

Slaughter had high praise for Kevin Busher, Kelly Hood, and Steve DeLaCruz on defense; and on offense, Paul Trevino, Archie Austin, Busher, and Eric Belk, as well as the whole offensive line.

Steve DeLaCruz was Winters' leading rusher with 12 carries for 46 yards.

The first quarter was scoreless for both teams.

In the second quarter, Kelly Hood scored on a one yard run and kicked the extra point to give Winters the lead, 7-0, with 11:59 left in the second quarter.

Winters lost a fumble later in the quarter, and a face mask penalty on the Blizzards compounded the trouble, leading to the Bluecats first score on a five

Winters man is arrested after search warrant

A Winters man entered pleas of guilty to four charges of making alcohol available to a minor before County Judge Michael Murchison following his arrest last week as officers executed a search warrant at the man's mobile home in the 300 block of North Main.

Doug McWilliams, 21, was fined $500 on each of the charges for a total of $2,000, plus an additional $360 in court costs. Officers said that only two six-packs of beer were located at the residence when the warrant was served.

Winters Police officer Richard Hawkins said that the warrant was the result of an investigation that began when officers were called several weeks ago about several youngsters throwing eggs at houses in North Winters. He said that the juveniles were found to be in possession of alcoholic beverages.

Homecoming Queen

Darcy Stone, daughter of Bobbie Stone, was crowned WHS 1984 Homecoming Queen during halftime of the Coleman game last Friday night. Miss Stone was escorted by John McAdoo.

Coming Home Queen

Named Coming Home Queen for 1984 at Winters High School was Mrs. Ladelle (Maurine) Davis, who was escorted by her husband. She was crowned by Mrs. Nina Hale, last year's Coming Home Queen, during halftime of the Coleman game.

Poe's corner

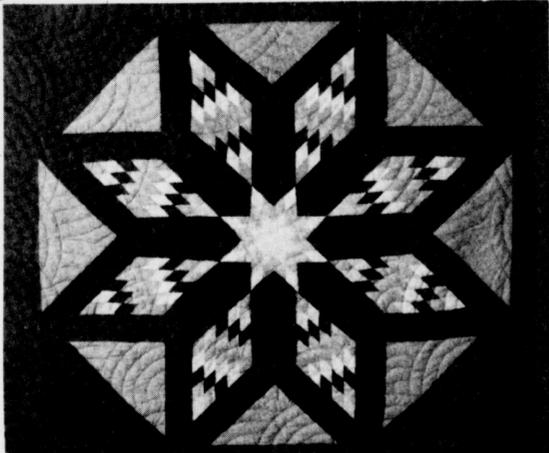

by Charlsie Poe

Quilting is usually considered as a dying art, a rural practice indulged in by aging women in a time of need. But there is ample evidence that quilting is alive and well in the city of Winters.

In fact, quilts and afghans will be the center of attention at the Z.I. Hale Museum on Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10, during the Arts and Crafts Festival.

Classes for quilts include applique, pieced and embroidery. There will also be baby quilts and baby afghans. First, second and third place ribbons will be given in each class and a "best-of-show" ribbon for most outstanding entry.

Quilts should be brought to the museum on Wednesday between the hours of 3 and 6 p.m. Judging will be on Thursday by out of town judges.

Open house will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. at the museum Friday and from 10 to 12 noon on Saturday. Several men are now involved in quilting and they do gorgeous work, says one of the founders.

Saturday. Several ladies have agreed to display their handiwork. Among them are Margie Wade and Mona Henson who says she has been quilting all her life and went to San Angelo for lessons on how to make "Monkey Wrench" and "Log Cabin" patterns. She will display these two quilts at the museum.

Opal Hunt of Bradshaw will enter her beautiful Lone Star quilt, made by friends and presented to her as a gift.

There will be many other fine examples of handiwork on exhibition.

There are many other indications in Texas that quilting is not dying. Thelma Hobbs of Austin, a quilting expert with her own shop, says "The Austin area quilting guild has 225 members who are active in 12 bees (groups which meet regularly), and I know there are a lot of church groups involved, too."

Mrs. Hobbs has about 12 persons in a beginners class, and 20 in an advanced one, and about 8 persons a night for workshops. The rebirth began about 1972, when quilting stores began opening, and many persons in their 30's and younger began to jump from needlepoint to quilting.

The National Quilting Association, founded in 1970, now boasts 4,000 members. A sign of the times is that quite a Quilting has many lures, not the least of which is the infinite variety of patterns and colors that can be employed in crafting a quilt. Texas quilters, for example, have created more than 50 state patterns that refer to a historical event or state symbol, such as Lone Star, Star of the Alamo, Texas Ranger and Yellow Rose.

Those of us who visited the museum in Santa Fe, New Mexico, noticed that a display of Plains Indian Morning Star quilts was being featured. The Indian women who live on reservations in Montana and the Dakotas have been quilting since the late 19th century when the craft of quilting was introduced to them by Early American settlers and missionaries. Talented and creative artists, the Plains Indian women transformed the concept of quilting into their own unique art form. Their playful use of color became the essence of their creativity.

Morning Star quilts radiate with vibrant color. Bold geometric patterns developed from their custom of hide painting, porcupine quilting and beadwork. Many quilts incorporate a star design, which is the symbol of the morning star, the beginning of a new day or new life. Often the hopes and dreams of the artist as well as the elements of nature inspire the creation of a quilt.

These quilts are an integral part of the cultural tradition of the Plains Indians. Used for many ceremonial purposes, they commemorate important occasions. They are given at birth, worn in death, and are used by families to honor special people and events in private and public celebrations such as the "Give Away". At a Give Away, families come together from different reservations to sing, dance and feast on traditional foods and to show in the important custom of giving gifts to thank friends and loved ones. Plains Indian Morning Star quilts from the Florence A. Pulford collection have been exhibited and collected internationally. They have been featured in leading national museums and galleries, in periodicals, newspapers, magazines and on public television.

Bring your quilts and afghans to the Z.I. Hale Museum Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10, and help make this the best show ever.

Card of Thanks

We would like to thank everybody for helping with the bonfire.

FmHA Accepting Emergency Loan Applications

Runnels County was declared eligible for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) disaster emergency loans on October 3, 1984. Generally, that means that farmers who have lost at least 30 per cent of their production due to the drought are eligible for FmHA loans. Proceeds from crop insurance and the PIK program are taken into account when determining eligibility. FmHA County Supervisor, Don M. Newhouse, is urging farmers who are interested in receiving an emergency loan to get their applications into FmHA as soon as possible. Newhouse said, "We hope farmers will get their application in early rather than waiting until near the deadline which is June 3, 1985. The longer they wait, the more chance there is for long delays in getting their checks. If the applications come in early we can avoid backlogs and speed up the process."

The FmHA office is at 2203 Federal Building in Abilene. The telephone number is 915-672-1181. The office in Ballinger is located in the courthouse. The number is 915-365-2219.

Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will soon begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state by mail and/or by telephone for the purpose of obtaining final 1984 crop acreage, yield and production totals and livestock inventories. This information is compiled and published in order to give producers a helpful hint as to what and how much to produce in the coming year.

Record Changes

If you have any changes in address, sale, or lease of land, or change of operator, please notify this office so that farm records can be updated.

Eligibility

Eligibility for participation in all programs administered by ASCS is established under law without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, handicap, or national origin.

China's wild pandas, which weigh as much as 300 pounds, can eat 30 or more pounds of tasty bamboo shoots in a single day, says National Wildlife magazine. But whether there's enough bamboo to go around is a serious question as large forests of bamboo are dying in unison after completing their once-in-a-lifetime act of reproduction. With nowhere else to go, hundreds of China's remaining 1,000 wild pandas are threatened with starvation.

Stenholm learns from Europeans

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm is eager to start on the 1985 Farm Bill and is prepared to address the concerns of the American farmers vs. the European agricultural community. Stenholm, the keynote speaker at the international "Outlook 84" conference in London, said despite the differences in opinions from the people he met, he is confident about the bill.

"I've learned so much from the Europeans," Stenholm said, "and I think they have a better idea of what we want and expect from our farm bill." Calling the meeting an "invaluable lesson in trade policy and a generous teaching tool," the Stamford Democrat said he knows now the idea of converting the Europeans to a free-market system is not possible.

"They're going to maintain self-sufficiency and they're going to sell the surplus when they get it. We have to know that and consider it when the farm bill is drawn together," Stenholm cited the Europeans' limited land availability and their large populations as a basis for their protectionist policies.

"The Europeans are paying three and five per cent more for their food than the American consumer," he said. "They've had both world wars fought on their land and they remember when they couldn't grow enough to live on." As a result, the agricultural community is very organized and efficient.

"They have farmers on 150 acres clearing $18,000 a year," Stenholm continued. "We have farmers with 2,000 acres who can't do that."

Stenholm said the farmers and European Economic Community members were also aware of the budget deficit and the problems it is causing for the American farmer. "It is imperative we start for a budget recovery," he said. "They're our best customers, but they're also our fiercest competitors and they understand what the strong U.S. dollar is doing to us and to them."

The strength of the U.S. dollar allows Europeans to export with less competition since their export commodities are less expensive in relative currencies, Stenholm explained. "When I asked at these meetings what the Europeans thought about the U.S. setting our loan rate at a certain percentage of average market prices and simultaneously bringing down the value of the dollar, they shuddered at the thought."

Stenholm's meetings were held in London, Brussels, Rotterdam, Copenhagen, and Stockholm. He met with various EEC members, business leaders, government officials, and farmers at each stop.

Stenholm is a member of the House Agriculture Committee.

Young Farmers to meet November 12

The Winters Young Farmers will meet November 12 instead of November 5 due to a conflict with 4-H. The meeting will be at the Vocational Agriculture Building at 7 p.m.

Hudson White, Jr. will be in charge of program about the new commodity options.

8th grade team whips Coleman

The Winters Eighth Grade football team defeated the Coleman eighth graders there last Thursday night, 14-8.

7th graders blast Coleman 33-0

On a cold and windy night in Coleman last Thursday, the Winters Seventh Grade football team shut out the Bluekittens, scoring 33 points in the first three quarters to none for Coleman. The game was called at that point due to a district rule that if any team is 30 points ahead at the end of the third quarter, the game will end.

The Breezes scored one touchdown in the first quarter, one in the second, and three in the third.

Scoring for Winters was as follows:

-Lajinos Rangel ran for a 26 yard touchdown and the kick by Richard Lett was no good.

-Jeremy DeLaCruz went up the middle, breaking tackles, for a 10 yard score. Jimmy Ripley carried around right end for the two point conversion.

-Don Patton raced around right end behind excellent blocking and had a tremendous run of 79 yards for the third TD. Lett kicked the extra point.

-Eloy Rodriguez ran around left end for a 28 yard TD. The pass for extra points failed.

-Rodriguez again carried the ball around right end for a 29 yard TD.

Coach Selby listed as good players on offense Eloy Rodriguez, who carried the ball twice and averaged 29 yards a carry, and also scored both times; Don Patton, who had another game with over 100 yards rushing (his sixth); and Jeremy DeLaCruz who ran up the middle and dragged two or three tacklers with him to pick up a first down.

Selby said the entire first team defense, composed of Cowan, Patton, Ripley, Jiminez, Lett, Jacob, Lujano, DeLaCruz, Rangel, Rodriguez, Killough, and Trevino, did not allow a single first down or pass completion. Danny Trevino was constantly getting through the line and tackling the backs for losses. Richard Lett also had a fumble recovery which set up a Winters TD.

Also, the second team offense and defense did a good job, the coach commented. Greg Shifflett led the second team defense which completely shut down Coleman's first offensive unit.

The game clinched the district title for the seventh graders. One game remains, with Albany here this Thursday night; and the boys will try to keep their undefeated status and end the season with a 7-0-1 record.

"Please come out for the final home game and see these fine young stars of the future represent your fine town of Winters and their great school tradition," Selby concluded.

JV falls to Coleman

The Winters Junior Varsity lost to Coleman there last Thursday night by a score of 21-0.

Winters Coach Jimmy Randolph said that John Merrill played a super game at outside linebacker and caused two fumbles as well.

Also cited for their outstanding play were Robert Vera at running back, George Torres at defensive tackle, and Todd Grantham at defensive halfback.

"Our kids played extra hard and with great enthusiasm," Randolph stated. "They have done an outstanding job all year."

Crews

By Hilda Kurtz

This country started out with a Continental Congress that could barely raise its own salary and ended up with a Congress that raises its own salary nearly every time it meets.

The Halloween Party Saturday night in the Crews Gym was well attended. Everyone had a real good time. Paula and Ken Baker and Bernie and Rodney Faubion hosted the party.

Visitors out of the community were Charley, Rosa, and Leisa Baker, Coleman; Elwood and Becky Brown, Chauncy and Susan Manel and children, and Mrs. Van Zandt, San Angelo; Kathy, Brenda, and Brandon Phillips, Abilene; the Busenlehner family, Olfen; and Brenda Jacob, San Angelo.

We welcomed Noble Faubion home on Sunday after tests and surgery in Saint John's Hospital, San Angelo, where he stayed five days.

Lelon, Brent, and Doris Bryan were over to see the Doug Bryans during the week.

S.K. Alexander, San Angelo, was out to see Helen and Norval Alexander on Wednesday.

Mrs. Effie Dietz attended Grace Baptist, the Lord's Acre Methodist Festival, and the Lutheran German Fest and also shopped for sweets. She mentioned enjoying seeing so many old friends. Keith Colom came Wednesday on business and Reverend Gary Turner came by Thursday afternoon.

Nellon Hudson, Lamonia Poe, and Edith Tombs, Coleman, spent Tuesday afternoon with Alta Hale. On Saturday, Alta spent some time with Lemma Fuller, Loy and Edgar Whittley, and Helen and S.J. Brevard in Coleman.

During the week, guests in the Robert Hill home included Bob Hill, Auburn, Alabama; Gary Hill, Eastland; Mike and Von Hill, Sweetwater; and Ronald, Eugenia, Angie, Carroll, and Mark Strickland, Sweetwater.

Some who attended the Lutheran German Fest in the Winters Community Center from out here were the Walter Jacobs, Marvin Gerharts, Rodney Faubions, Herbert Jacob, the Fred Watkins, Walter Clendenens, John Sims, Welmer and Sally Mae Gerhart, and Mrs. Effie Dietz.

Helping Marion Wood celebrate his birthday Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Maloy Bryant and boys, Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Calcote and family, Winters; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hokit and family, Sonora; and Frances Minzey, Big Springs.

We wish you many more of these birthdays, Marion.

Lynn Faubion, Fort Worth, came during the time his dad Noble had his surgery. Harvey Mae spent three days while in San Angelo with the Mike Prater family. The Rodney Faubions also were in San Angelo with Noble during the week.

Progress in islet transplants offers hope for diabetes cure

A progress report on recent dramatic advances in the transplantation of islet cells, which may lead to a cure for diabetes, appears in the November/December issue of Diabetes Forecast, a national magazine for diabetic patients and their families. Diabetes Forecast is published bi-monthly by the American Diabetes Association.

"The American Diabetes Association believes that the new islet cell transplantation research achievements are important steps in the search to find the cure or cures for people who have Type I, insulin dependent diabetes, and possibly for those afflicted with Type II, non-insulin dependent form of the disease who may require insulin to control the metabolic disorder," said Karl E. Sussman, M.D., president of the national voluntary health organization, in a recent interview.

Diabetes is a disease in which the body does not produce or properly use insulin, which is needed to convert sugar and starches into the energy needed for daily life. It often leads to serious complications that involve nearly every tissue of the body. When high levels of sugar build up in the blood, blindness, heart disease, kidney failure, and nerve and blood vessel damage (leading to foot and leg amputations from gangrene) occur.

"You may be hearing the words 'cure' and 'diabetes' used in the same breath more and more, as research into transplants progresses," wrote Ralph Bonheim, author of the article and managing editor of the magazine. "There is an air of optimism in the diabetes community."

As people develop Type I, insulin dependent diabetes, the islet cells that manufacture insulin in the pancreas appear to be destroyed. Interest in transplantation began in earnest in the 1960's but focused on transplanting the whole pancreas or large portions of the organ. Although many improvements in this technique have been achieved—there are now about 100 people world-wide who have had successful pancreas transplants—the overall success rate remains low, and these patients are still dependent on risky drugs to suppress the rejection phenomenon common in many types of transplantation.

Parallel with research in pancreas transplantation, others focused on the islets of Langerhans, the clusters of cells that actually make insulin. These researchers sought to transplant islets alone in order to avoid problems created by the rest of the pancreas.

"Simple in theory," says Bonheim. "But actually getting islets out of a pancreas is a formidable task." Both the structure of the organ and its other contents, a mass of digestive enzymes, can interfere with the procedure.

He cites research in animals which has achieved major advances toward the goal, including techniques to automate islet separation using a combination of mechanical and chemical methods, and a method using special chemicals that destroy only non-islet cells.

However, islet purification methods that have worked well in animals often do not work well in humans. Rejection of the transplant is still a problem, but researchers have had good results pre-treating the transplant, i.e. the islet cells, in ways that reduce its chance of triggering rejection.

The next step will be human transplantation of purified islets. Several groups are preparing to conduct such human trials, although their first phase will be limited to patients receiving immunosuppressive drugs. If islets transplanted to these patients survive and control diabetes, research will move to the second phase: transplanting pre-treated islets in the hope of curing diabetes without triggering rejection.

Although researchers acknowledge that the unknown underlying cause of diabetes—whatever killed the person's islet cells in the first place—might eventually destroy the new cells, they hope that low doses of immunosuppressive drugs or other techniques could be used to keep diabetes at bay.

The islet sources are presently limited to organ donations from cadavers or donations from living relatives. However, some research teams are trying to grow "test tube islets" by cloning, in order to create an unlimited supply for transplantation.

The best advice for those with diabetes now comes from Josiah Brown, M.D., a transplant researcher at UCLA School of Medicine: "Take good care of yourself and keep your diabetes under good control so that when we're ready, you'll be in good health."

Opportunities for nurses in the AF

"Exciting and rewarding challenges await young men and women who qualify for Air Force nursing," said Technical Sergeant Stanley K. Baker. "The Air Force is looking for registered nurses to serve in hospitals around the world."

The initial three-year commitment begins with commissioning, usually as a second or first lieutenant, based on educational background. New nurses are sent to a two week orientation course where they learn about their role as Air Force officers and the Air Force mission, its structure, customs and traditions.

Following the orientation course, nurses are assigned to a hospital which may range from 25 to 1,000 beds.

The Air Force Nurse Corps offers clinical specialties in anesthesia and midwifery and has a special need for mental health and operating room nurses who qualify," said Tech Sgt. Baker.

Like all Air Force members, nurses enjoy a number of entitlements including a non-contributory retirement plan, 30 days of vacation with pay each year, worldwide travel opportunities, medical and dental care, low cost life insurance, and pay raises based on promotion, longevity and cost-of-living.

"Nurses can attend educational seminars and workshops conducted at military and civilian institutions," Tech Sgt. Baker said. "And nurses are encouraged to continue their formal education through local colleges and universities. The professional growth potential is hard to match."

To learn more about nursing opportunities in the Air Force and belonging to one of the finest health care teams in the world, contact Tech. Sgt. Baker at 2615 Ave. E East, Suite 121, Arlington, Texas or call 817-461-1946.

Mayor issues proclamation

Mayor Lee Colburn of Winters has issued a proclamation calling for all area citizens to observe Veteran's Day, November 11, 1984, in recognition of an appreciation for the sacrifices made by all veterans.

The text of the proclamation reads as follows:

WHEREAS, some 44-million brave Americans have defended our flag and country—and that more than 1-million of them gave their lives in battles around the world; and

WHEREAS, we've had to fight for our freedoms since the Revolutionary War 200 years ago—and we STILL stand guard today. We have honored our flag and country by defending both of them; and

Veteran's Day to be observed here

The members of the Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Post 9193, and its Ladies Auxiliary will join this nation's 28.3 million veterans and other Americans all across the country, in celebrating Veteran's Day, November 11, 1984.

November 11 became a holiday shortly after World War I, when, because the war ended on that day in 1918, it was designated "Armistice Day."

In 1954, Congress changed the name from Armistice Day to Veteran's Day in order to provide a day to honor all America's veterans.

country and an understanding of the principles upon which our nation was founded; and WHEREAS, Winters VFW Post 9193, a unit of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States—which is composed of over 2-million men who defended America in the Spanish-American War—in two World Wars, also in conflicts over in Korea and Vietnam, has asked the public to help them observe Veteran's Day, November 11, 1984.

NOW THEREFORE, I, W. Lee Colburn, Mayor of the City of Winters, Texas, do hereby request all area citizens to observe this day in recognition of an appreciation for the sacrifices made by all veterans.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Winters to be affixed this year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-four.

W. Lee Colburn, Mayor

The Winters Boy Scout Troop 249 will help the Winters VFW Post with their Buddy Poppy Sale Friday and Saturday.

Also, the VFW will sponsor a country-western dance Saturday night, November 10, at the Post Home with the New Gold Rush Band playing from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

The American flag will be flown in the Winters cemeteries Sunday, November 11, to honor all veterans who were killed in action or have died since. The VFW asks all area churches to observe the day in their Sunday services.

According to the VFW, the Buddy Poppy is a special symbol of compassion and service dedicated to war veterans, their widows and their orphans. Buying a Buddy Poppy is one way of saying, "Thank you," to those who were called by their country to defend its ideals, its freedoms, and its way of life.

Wars are unpopular, but they are fought and Americans are still fighting—fighting to regain their health, their strength, and some of their earning power.

It's not just the veterans of the last war, Vietnam, who need our help. Veterans of earlier wars still need our help. Men who gave their best deserve something in return.

Our nation has provided hospitalization when needed and disability compensation to those with impaired earning power. However, no governmental action, regardless of how well meaning, can provide the personal touch and the individual understanding that alleviates fears and eliminates despair.

The VFW and its Ladies Auxiliary have programs designed to help, but funds are needed to carry them on. While the VFW raises most of its money from its own members, the public is afforded the opportunity to help through the purchase of a small red artificial flower called the Buddy Poppy, whose name came from the poem "In Flanders Fields." The poem begins with the lines:

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row...

When you are asked to make a donation, please remember the VFW motto, "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living." Show each veteran you believe he is special and that you appreciate the fact that he placed his life on the line to protect our freedoms—and far too often, when he placed his life on the line—he lost it.

The zipper was invented by Judson, an American, in 1891.

Low fat cooking

A change in your cooking methods may help protect you and your family against heart disease, hypertension and other health problems, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten. "Lowering the percentage of fat in the diet appears to be one of the major keys to a more healthful lifestyle," she explains. The specialist recommends reducing butter, oil, margarine mayonnaise, lard and salad dressing. To adapt your favorite recipes, start by cutting fat by a third or a half. For example, in a casserole calling for six tablespoons of margarine, try three or four. "You should experiment," says Sweeten. "Cutting the fat in cakes can be difficult, but you should have success with casseroles and quick bread recipes."

"Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. Quench not the Spirit. Despise not prophesyings."

I Thessalonians 5: 16-20

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

For many years, I have had the privilege of discussing various issues through this column. Since Congress has recessed for the year and I am retiring soon, this will be my last "Capitol Update." I hope the readers of this column have gotten as much from reading it as I have from writing it.

Representing Texas in the Senate has been the highest honor and the most rewarding experience of my life. I owe an enormous debt of gratitude to the people of Texas who four times have elected me their Senator. To those who have given me their encouragement, support, dedication and friendship, I will never be able to adequately express my profound appreciation.

I also am indebted to my colleagues in the Senate who have entrusted me with positions of leadership. I have attempted to meet those responsibilities to the best of my ability. The confidence and trust they have placed in me have been a source of strength and satisfaction that few who enter public service come to know.

Representing the interest of Texas always has been a challenging task because of its diverse populace and industrial base. I always tried to keep in touch with my constituency through correspondence and trips to Texas. I have endeavored to serve the interests and to reflect the basic values of my fellow Texans.

As chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, I have been able to participate and aid in the rebuilding and modernizing of America's national defense capability. I believe we are stronger than we ever have been, and are able to respond to a variety of situations around the world. We are now in a better position to negotiate a more secure peace to last generations to come.

I also am proud of my legislative initiatives which have made housing more affordable to more people, particularly young couples and those in lower income levels. Adequate housing is a right for every citizen, and I have worked diligently toward helping people reach that goal. I also have taken consistently strong stands when dealing with energy, manufacturing and agricultural interests which are so important to the people of Texas.

My future plans include teaching political science at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. I was a college professor before entering the Senate in 1961, and look forward to returning to the classroom. Although I do not plan to seek elective office again, I will continue to remain in tune to what is happening in state and national politics.

In closing, I would like to thank my fellow Texans once again for their continued support in the past 23 years. I look forward to returning home to the best place in the world -- Texas.

MOTORCYCLIST

Safety First

Motorcycle safety is no accident. The Motorcycle Safety Foundation offers these simple tips for road riding that can improve your riding while making it safe and enjoyable.

1. Even a surface that is "normal" for other vehicles has bumps, debris and loose material that are obstacles for motorcycles.
2. Keep your head up and your eyes moving so you can anticipate hazards ahead of time.
3. Take the path of least resistance and go around (rather than over) an obstacle if you can.
4. Slow down before you reach an obstacle by either applying and releasing the brakes, or down-shifting.

5. Avoid depressing the clutch or brake while going over a rough or slippery surface; this should be done before reaching the hazard.

Also, for night riding remember to wear retro-reflective clothing, fit your cycle with reflectors, and make sure head, tail and brake lights are working properly.

Others in the program were Mrs. Robert Gerhart, Mrs. Erwin Ueckert, and Mrs. Herman Spill.

Pastor Al Flathmann led the Bible study. Mrs. Walter Gerhart read the devotions and led in prayer. Mrs. Walter Kraatz reported on the quilt made for the German Fest.

Council — Ballinger, 40 percent, Winters, 20 percent, and Runnels County 40 percent.

Following some discussion by the council, Ted Meyer said that he was opposed to the concept until the telephone company can be secure enough to give us rapid phone access to Ballinger. He said that the present time it is sometimes necessary to dial three or four times just to reach a number in Ballinger. Meyers also cited a lack of information about Winters by Ballinger officers as another problem.

Meyer said, "We have a good deal going, its working real good. We are big enough to have our own dispatch system and not rely on another town to dispatch for us."

June Hays told the council that she had been contacted by a number of citizens who were opposed to the concept.

Council member Randy Springer said that the idea would not be financially wise for the city. He said, "we're now getting service for $3,700 and the proposal would cost $12,000—we're just not financially able. They are not going to cut us off."

Rick Dry agreed with both Springer and Meyer citing financial problems and problems with the telephone service.

Dawson McGuffin told the council that he felt the idea was, basically, good. He said that the phone service could pose a problem. "When you need help, you need it now. Maybe in the future, but we cannot afford it now."

Just before the council took up the discussion of the communications proposal, Doyle Smith of General Telephone Company appeared before the council to discuss GTE's upgrading of the phone system in Winters.

Smith said that a complete new toll facility would be in operation here by the first week of March, 1985. The new toll facility will bring to Winters 1-plus dialing instead of the 112-plus service.

Smith said that the problems experienced here this week with long distance calls would be totally solved with the completion of the project.

The GTE spokesman also reported on the progress of the installation of fiber-optics to handle telephone calls to and from Winters. He said that it was felt that the fiber-optics were reliable and dependable, "that we have had good results were it is in use and we have just completed it in San Angelo."

The council gave approval to Randy Nolte to operate the North Runnels Emergency Service from his residence at 1102 North Concho without having to have a change in the zoning of the property.

The council instructed City Administrator Scott Epperson to make preparations for seeking bids for the purchase of fuel by the city. The council asked that the bids be ready for consideration by December 17.

Several other items were discussed by the council before an executive session was called to discuss contemplated litigation on the construction of the new wastewater treatment plant. City officials would not comment on item and would not specify just what might be the point of any possible litigation.

4-H award winners

Leon Groves, left, and son Shane Groves, right, were honored for Meritorious Service to 4-H and as Gold Star-Agriculture, respectively, at the Baylor County 4-H Achievement Banquet in Seymour, Texas, October 30. Leon is president of the Peoples National Bank, Winters.

Leon and Shane Groves receive honors

Leon and Shane Groves received special awards at the Baylor County 4-H Achievement Banquet in Seymour, Texas, on Tuesday, October 30.

Shane Groves, son of Leon and Jerry Groves, was selected for the 1984 Gold Star-Agriculture Award in Baylor County. He has been active in the 4-H program for seven years. Project areas in which he worked were stocker-feeder calves, soil judging, lambs, steers, and leadership. He has shown steers at the Wichita Falls Junior Beef Show, Fort Worth Livestock Show, and Houston Livestock Show.

In 1984 he was the champion senior showman in the steer division, had second in the senior project record book contest, and was recipient of the Roy L. McClung, Sr. Memorial Award as the high-point individual in the steer division of the Baylor County Junior Livestock Show. In addition, he had a first place medium wool lamb which also qualified for the premium sale in the Baylor County Show.

He was a member of the Baylor County 4-H Council. He has served as an officer in the various 4-H Clubs throughout his 4-H career. County achievement medals awarded to Shane previously were public speaking, conservation of natural resources, beef, citizenship, and achievement. He has served as a teen leader in many 4-H activities.

Farm economy in bad shape

Texas' farm economy has gone downhill steadily in the past few years, and farmers have found themselves in the worst economic squeeze since the Great Depression, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University system. The adjusted farm income for inflation nationwide in 1983 was the lowest since the bleak years of 1932-33. Net farm income in Texas this year will be only about half of what it was in 1979. This financial dilemma stems largely from depressed farm and livestock prices, steady increases in costs, adverse weather conditions and high real interest rates that increase costs and strengthen the dollar against foreign currencies.

Leon Groves, president of the Peoples National Bank in Winters, was presented a plaque for recognition of Meritorious Service to 4-H. Leon was a member of the Baylor County Program Building Committee, treasurer of the Baylor County Junior Livestock Show Committee, treasurer for the County 4-H Fund, and a beef project leader.

Leon has served as a member of the 4-H and Youth Committee for five years and as a beef project leader for 11 years. He was an active and willing worker in all phases of 4-H while in Baylor County. Through his position as vice-president of the Farmers National Bank of Seymour, he assisted all 4-H fund raising activities. Being personally involved as an agricultural producer, he worked with the adult educational activities in the Baylor County Extension Program.

"Shane and Leon are very deserving of these awards," said Lowell B. Cure, Baylor County Extension Agent—Agriculture. Jerry Groves accompanied her husband and son to the Baylor County 4-H Achievement Banquet in Seymour.

NASA Super Guppy

Mirrors for a massive one-of-a-kind space telescope were aboard the "Super Guppy" which landed October 31 at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene for a night lay-over on its way to the Lockheed Missile and Space Division in Sunnyvale, California, outside of San Jose.

The 30 foot by 14 foot, 9,000 pound telescope assembly was designed to be placed in unmanned orbit from a space shuttle in the fall of 1986. The fully assembled observatory will weigh 25,000 pounds. Designing and building the unique Hubble Space Telescope was the work of the Perkin-Elmer Corporation of Danbury, Conn. and it has been a seven year project for the builders. The $350 million telescope was shipped by truck from Danbury in a 40 foot long, climate-controlled package to Stewart International Airport where a team of workers from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) loaded it aboard NASA Super Guppy. The Super Guppy has been used by NASA since 1965 to transport some of its more delicate space equipment and rockets. The oversized transport plane is a converted Air Force YC-97 cargo aircraft with a 25 foot diameter mouth and an air range of over 300 miles. It was built to transport oversized space hardware too large to transport by train or truck and requires nine fueling stops on the cross-country flight. Keeping the giant mirrors free of dust was the biggest problem in transporting. The telescope mirrors are as delicate and sensitive as a human eye and must be handled as such. The mirrors are contained in two bags inside a specially built shipping container with nitrogen being circulated within the bags to keep it clean. A crew will operate a control system totally for the shipping arrangement 24 hours a day until it is turned over to Lockheed. The move from the company's sterilized labs to the climate-controlled transport box took five days. The greatest imperfection in the Hubble telescope's 8 foot diameter mirror was a one-millionth-of-an-inch discrepancy from a perfect circle, the equivalent of the Earth being 5 inches off a perfect sphere.

The Hubble Space Telescope should improve astronomical viewing by 300 times the existing capability of telescopes on Earth. It will enable scientists to look at light that originated 14 billion light years ago. NASA expects the star-gazing satellite to be used for up to 20 years.

In charge of the 12 man transportation and handling crew is R.I. Collinsworth of Huntsville, Alabama. Mr. Collinsworth was born in Winters and is a brother of Mrs. V.E. Colburn of Winters. He graduated from Texas Tech University in 1951 and has been with the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville for 21 years. He is Chief of Contracts, Maintenance Branch at the Space Center in Huntsville. The 12 man crew are handling specialists, trained in handling of delicate, fragile and exotic space hardware.

The Super Guppy and its NASA crews and subcontractors were at Stewart for a week in August to rehearse loading and transporting the telescope. Hydraulic jacks, hoists and flatbed trucks had to be tested to insure that they would be able to handle their delicate cargo.

The space agency has dedicated the telescope to Edwin P. Hubble, the American Astronomer of this century who is credited with discovering the existence of large-scale galaxies beyond the Milky Way.

Amanda meets club presidents

Presidents of three girls' organizations in Winters meet Amanda De La Cerda, recipient of funds collected from Winters citizens during "Trick or Treat for Amanda" on Halloween. From left are Deedra Blackshear, Total Teens; LaShea Guy, Sub Debs; Amanda De La Cerda and her mother Denise De La Cerda; and Laura Taylor, Goal Diggers.

Amanda and friends

Pictured above are the girls who went trick or treating on Halloween night for little Amanda De La Cerda, a cancer patient, who is held in this

Trick or Treat for Amanda successful

On Halloween, October 31, members of the Goal Diggers, Sub Debs, and the Total Teens met in the Charley Blackshear home, 607 North Rogers, at 5 p.m. to "Trick or Treat" for Amanda De La Cerda. Their collections totalled $526.50.

All girls present had been assigned an area to cover. They returned about 7:45 p.m.

Upon their return, the girls were served refreshments and were surprised by a visit from Amanda De La Cerda and her mother and brothers. The girls presented the money to Amanda for use in helping with expenses not covered by the fund at the Ballinger bank. Denise, Amanda's mother, thanked the girls and all who contributed to this "Trick or Treat" project. Amanda also thanked the girls with a beautiful smile.

Those present from the Total Teens were Robin Michaelis, Mandy Hancock, J'Lynn Russell, Deedra Blackshear, Leslie Pruser, Rebecca Moore, Shannon Rozmen, Shelly Owen, Ginny Jones, Cheryl Powers, Lucy Lugo, Michelle Wheeler, Beverly Halfmann, and sponsors Mary Jane Blackshear, Nancy Michaelis, and Janice Pruser.

Present from the Goal Diggers were Laura Taylor, Linn Taylor, Denise Smith, Elizabeth Bowden, Amy Tuggle, Libby Bedford, Gina Nesbit, Melissa Faubion, Michelle Baker, Marci Caffey, and sponsors Lisa Bedford, Kandy Sheppard, and Jesse Collom.

Sub Debs participating were Stephanie Springer, Michelle Polston, Sally Smith, Tammy Murray, Allison Allcorn, Michelle O'Neal, Melinda Sims, LaShea Guy, and sponsors Cheryl Grenweige and Renee Calcote.

The members and sponsors from all three organizations wish to thank everyone who contributed to this fund raiser for Amanda. They appreciate your yard run. The kick was good, tying the score at 7 all.

Hood took the kickoff and returned it 29 yards. Belk got a first down on the first play from scrimmage, a 12 yard gain. Robert Baker added seven, and Steve DeLaCruz dashed for the first down. Two more first downs were added by the running of Baker, Belk, and DeLaCruz, ending at the seven. Baker scored the touchdown, and Hood kicked for the extra point, giving Winters the lead, 14-7, with only 51 seconds left in the half.

Coleman's quarterback threw a bomb to one of his players on the eight yard line, but Steve DeLaCruz broke up the pass. The Bluecats were unable to score in the time remaining.

Winters kicked off in the second half. Coleman's first possession ended in a fumble recovered by Baker. Winters could not make a first down, punted, and the ball hit the high lines and had to be punted again.

A Bluecat quickly broke several tackles and would have scored had not John Peter DeLaCruz rolled him out of bounds. Next, Kevin Busher knocked a Bluecat for a huge loss, but Winters had offsidies, bringing up second down and seven. Coleman's Darrell Warrick ran to the Winters 32 where Kyle Kraatz stopped him.

With first and 10 at the Winters 15, Coleman tried a running play which John Peter DeLaCruz stopped at the line of scrimmage. However, a pass to David May on the next play was good for a TD with 3:51 left in the third quarter. The kick failed; so Winters still led, 14-13.

Winters' next possession ended with a pass interception by Coleman's Albert DeLaRosa. The Bluecats began on the Winters 42, and a face mask penalty on the Blizzards gave them good field position at the 22. Quarterback Edward Morales gave the ball to Warrick who ran it in for the touchdown. The pass for extra points was no good; but Coleman had taken the lead, 19-14, with 58 seconds left in the third quarter.

Darcy Stone named Homecoming Queen

During halftime activities of the Winters High School Homecoming Game, Darcy Stone was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1984.

Miss Stone is the daughter of Bobbie Stone. She was escorted by John McAdoo. The 1982 Homecoming Queen, Betty Graham, crowned the new queen.

Mrs. Ladelle (Maurine) Davis was crowned Coming Home Queen by last year's Coming Home Queen, Mrs. Nina Hale. Mrs. Davis was escorted by her husband.

Other homecoming queen nominees were Maggie Campos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Trinidad Campos, who was escorted by her grandfather, Margarito Sanchez, Sr; Amy Tuggle, daughter of Mike Tuggle, who was escorted by her father; and LaShea Guy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Guy, Jr., who was escorted by her father.

Dale Roberts returned the kickoff to the 25. Rene Garcia came in at quarterback and completed a pass to Manie Esquivel for a first down at the 32. The third quarter ended with Winters in control of the ball.

Faced with a fourth and seven situation, Winters elected to pass, but the pass failed and the ball went over on downs.

Coleman lost the ball suddenly when Hood intercepted it. Winters could not make a first down, and Belk punted.

Coleman began on their own 15. Penalties became the name of the game, with five called during Coleman's possession. At one point, Kyle Kraatz hit Warrick of Coleman for a 12 yard loss. On the Bluecats' punt, they received two penalties: illegal motion and interference, which gave Winters the ball at the 50 yard line.

Winters punted. Coleman made three first downs before time ran out.
