By Kerry Craig

Maybe it was the full moon, or maybe the July 4th holiday. What ever it was, it was different.

You will notice that the front page would most likely fit the police-beat page in a major city. Assaults, robbery, burglary, kidnapping — wow.

For an old cop-shop reporter it was interesting. For Winters, rather out of the ordinary.

We just do not need things like these going on around here. It is much better to watch the tube and read in the city papers about these things happening somewhere else.

Well, Mr. President lambasted the terrorist countries Monday, and the national news stars lambasted the President.

It seems that every time he says something I agree with, the big stars of network news disagree with it—they tend to pick apart everything anybody says anymore.

It might be a good idea to let the viewers see some new, objective, faces on the nightly news.

I was not real sure how to take a statement about this column last week. A reader seemed very sure that I was the author or, if I wasn't, the other guy wrote the whole thing.

Well, I told you I liked the way Jim wrote.

Reunion scheduled for class of 1965

The graduating class of 1965 is having their 20 year reunion on July 19th and 20th. All class members and teachers are invited to attend any or all activities.

There will be a general visitation in the Country Club at 7 p.m. the 19th. On Saturday, the 20th, there will be a tour of the high school at 5 p.m. and a barbecue at the Country Club following the tour.

For further information, please call Elaine Amick, 214-867-5820; Marcy Aldridge, 817-627-6330; or Beth Bradley, 915-754-5207.

Classmates from other years, and anyone else interested, can also come and join us.

Rodeo Playday to be held Saturday

The Winters Rodeo Association will sponsor a playday at the Rodeo Arena north of town this Saturday, July 13. "We would like to invite everyone to come out and watch or participate in an evening of family fun," said a Rodeo Association spokesman.

Events range from Cow Chip Throw to Barrel Racing. Belt buckles and other prizes will be given at the last playday. Dates of the remaining playdays are July 27 and August 10 and 24.

For further information, contact Aletha at 754-3651 or Brenda at 754-5120.

Stamford man charged with Springer's Pharmacy robbery

A Stamford man is free on $50,000 bond after being charged with the armed robbery of Springer's Pharmacy in Winters on April 25.

Eugene Stanford, 31, was arrested in Stamford by Jones County authorities on the Runnels County aggravated robbery

Charges filed in truck theft

Charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle were filed Monday against 24-year old Joe Louis Rocha, also known as Joe Louis Villareal, of Whitney, in connection the theft of a pick up belonging to Lawrence Chapman of Winters.

Winters Police officer Richard Hawkins said that he was in the Wes-T-Go store early Monday when a man pumped about $18 worth of gas into a pick up. He said the man entered the store, went to the rest room, then walked back out to the vehicle and drove off without paying for the fuel.

Hawkins said that he pursued the man for about a mile when the pick up ran off the roadway and into the ditch. Officer Hawkins said that the subject then fled, on foot, across a fence and into a grassy pasture.

A short time later officers were advised that the pick up had been reported stolen.

The man was found hiding in the tall grass a few minutes later and taken into custody.

Officers said that it was confirmed later Monday that the man was wanted in Hillsboro for revocation of probation on a DWI charge.

Hawkins said that man gave his address as 114 North Melwood in Winters, which is a vacant lot.

While attempting to learn more about the subject officers found that he had been employed in an auto body shop and fired and also employed at a local plant where he had also been fired.

Rocha, or Villareal, is being held in the Runnels County Jail on the local charges and, following disposition of those charges, will be released to authorities in Hillsboro.

Band Boosters will meet Monday night

All members of the Blizzard Band Boosters are urged to attend a meeting at the Band Hall Monday, July 15 at 7 p.m. Plans are being made for the 1985-86 school year.

warrant. Stanford was picked out of a line-up here before being formally charged with the offense.

Runnels County Sheriff Bill Baird said that his office was contacted by the Jones County department in response to a state-wide crime information newsletter published by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Baird said his department was told, by the Jones County officers, that there was a suspect in that area that fit the general description of the robber and that the suspect was "good for that kind of stuff."

The next step was to obtain a picture of the suspect which was identified by the robbery victim and by two other persons who had seen the man.

A warrant was then issued for Stanford. Following his arrest he was placed in the line-up where he was positively identified.

Stanford was charged in connection with the Springer's robbery, in which an armed man demanded five containers of controlled drugs.

Officers in Taylor County said that the 31-year old man has been charged there in connection with the theft of a video camera valued at near $1,400. The Abilene theft involved the use of a worthless check. Bond on that charge was set at $3,500 by Justice of the Peace Sam Matta in Abilene.

One held in Jim Ned theft

Taylor County Sheriff's Captain Mike Smith said that the recent burglary of the Jim Ned School in Tuscola was cleared with the arrest of a man in Winters Monday.

Edgar Drake, 21, was charged with burglary in connection with the incident in which a microwave oven was taken, along with some foods.

Smith said that the microwave had been sold in Taylor County and later recovered. He said that the arrest may help clear a number of rural residential burglaries in South Taylor County.

Drake is being held in the Taylor County Jail in lieu of $4,000 bond on the charge.

In, the back way

Firemen spray water through a back window into the room where a Tuesday fire was thought to have started in a Ballinger home. The fire was believed to have been caused by an extension cord. The Santo family was home when the fire broke out and escaped without injury.

Fire guts Ballinger home

A large, wood frame home on Ballinger's west was gutted about mid-morning Tuesday. Fire officials theorize the fire may have been caused by a faulty electric extension cord.

Four units of the Ballinger Fire Department, including the rescue unit, responded to the call about 10:30 a.m. to the residence located across the street from the Dankworth

Packing Company.

Firemen arrived to find the home involved in flames.

There were a mother and several children at home at the time the fire broke out and all escaped without injury.

The house is owned by J.B. Dankworth and, according to fire officials, was occupied by a family by the name of Santo.

Ballinger firefighters were on the scene of the fire about three hours before finally tapping the blaze out.

Winters Elementaries to offer preschool for four-year-olds

The Winters Independent School District will offer a preschool program for four-year-olds this fall according to Superintendent T.D. Lancaster.

The classes will meet on a half-day basis, with one class meeting in the morning and one in the afternoon. Each session will last three hours, with the times yet to be established by the school board.

Transportation to and from school will NOT be provided.

Children must meet certain eligibility requirements to attend the classes:

1. They must be four (4) years of age on or before September 1.

2. They must speak limited English or be from a family with limited income, based on the guidelines for free and reduced price lunches recently established by the board.

The classes are free of charge.

Anyone interested in enrolling a child in the preschool should call Elementary Principal L.C. Hounsel at 754-4031 or 754-4037, as soon as possible.

One charged in Sunday theft, more suspected

A Winters woman is being held for revocation of probation after being arrested last week in connection with what was reported to have been an abduction and robbery.

Joann Fry Ortiz remains in the Runnels County Jail awaiting a hearing on the revocation of probation.

She was arrested after officers were told by Vernell Grant that he had been taken, at knife-point, to the Winters lake and robbed.

Sheriff Bill Baird said that apparently the victim was not forced to drive to the lake, but went there of his own volition.

Baird said that there are several other women who are suspects in the robbery incident but have not been arrested.

Officers said that a small amount of money was taken from Grant, apparently at knife-point, but that he was not abducted.

The investigation is continuing into the incident and it is expected that information concerning the incident will be presented to the next session of the grand jury.

County Commissioners OK computer purchase

The Runnels County Commissioners Court approved the purchase of a computer to be used, initially, in the office of the county auditor and county treasurer.

Only one bid was submitted to the commissioners for consideration, that from Apollo Data Services Corporation of Odessa.

Total price for the computer will be $32,000 and will include software and instruction for employees.

Bill Hicks, who represents the computer company, told the commissioners that the programs used by this computer were designed specifically for counties the size of Runnels County.

Ribbon cutting

Shown at the ribbon cutting of one of Winters' new businesses, Slip 'N' Stitch, last Friday, are (l-r) Arch Jobe, Louanne Allen, Benny Polston, Ann Rogers, Theresa Drummond, April Drummond, Kay Colburn, and Christen Colburn. The shop features beautifully decorated ceramics as well as greenware and supplies. Classes for children and adults are also available. The shop is located at 117 S. Main.

Abuse, neglect of children are problems in Runnels County

In 1984, Runnels County had 75 confirmed incidents of child abuse and neglect, according to statistics released in June by the Texas Department of Human Resources, Abilene. "Many more cases went unreported because people did not know how to report or who to report to," the DHR said. "In an attempt to increase public awareness in order to prevent child abuse and neglect, we are interested in providing information concerning this matter."

The Texas Department of Human Resources is mandated by law to investigate reports of suspected child abuse and neglect and to provide services to protect children from abuse, neglect, and exploitation.

Services are provided to any child in need of protection without regard to family income or citizenship. During 1984, the number of investigations rose 6.7 percent from 61,576. Over the last two calendar years, the number of child sexual abuse cases has increased 50 percent. DHR services include the following:

- Investigation of reports of suspected abuse, neglect, or exploitation of children
- Services to the child and family, including counseling and referral to community agencies, if warranted

- Court action, if necessary. Court action may include removing children from their homes, assignment of managing conservatorship, or placement with relatives or in foster care

- Provision of temporary emergency shelter for children removed from their homes for protection

- Assistance to parents, caretakers, or relatives to improve home conditions so the child may return home if possible

- Recruitment and development of foster homes

- Adoption services for children who are under the managing conservatorship of the department and whose family relationship has been legally terminated

- Programs for prevention of abuse and neglect.

The department maintains a toll-free 24-hour hotline, 1-800-252-5400, to receive reports of suspected child abuse and neglect. The identification of callers is confidential. Reports are investigated on a priority basis, depending upon the extent of apparent danger the child faces. Services are designed to remedy the situation. Services to the child and the family include counseling and referral to community agencies.

Court action is initiated if necessary. A court may order removal of children from their homes, assignment of managing conservatorship, and placement with relatives or in foster care. When rehabilitative services fail, attempts may be made to legally free children for adoption. The department develops and certifies foster and adoptive homes for children removed from their own homes.

Approximately 18,000 to 26,000 children in the 44 counties in Region 04 will be at risk and neglect in 1985. In fiscal year 1984, 4,222 abused or neglected children were identified in Region 04; and 2,547 reports of suspected abuse and neglect were investigated, with 2,247 being confirmed.

As of February 1985, the region had 55 children's protective services workers. An average of 311 children a month received foster care under the state-federal Aid to Families with Dependent Children program, while an additional 96 children received foster care paid entirely with state funds

The department provided adoption subsidies to 61 children in the region with special problems or handicaps enabling them to have permanent homes with families who otherwise could not afford their special needs.

Future articles in the series will deal with the reporting of child abuse, indicators of abuse/neglect, children and sexual assault, effects of sexual abuse, prevention of sexual abuse, and other topics.

Toxic substances

Since the Toxic Substances Control Act was passed seven years ago, the Environmental Protection Agency has regulated only four existing chemicals, reports the National Wildlife Federation. Presently, 60,000 chemicals are in commercial use and 1,000 new chemicals are proposed for manufacture every year. This finding was part of a recent U.S. General Accounting office report that concludes the federal government is doing a poor job of enforcing laws designed to protect the public from toxic chemicals.

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro congratulates Gov. Mark White on signing into law the new Farm and Ranch Program to provide low-cost loans to Texas farmers for working farms. Sponsors Sen. Bill Sarpaullis (D-Amarillo), center, and Rep. L.P. (Pete) Patterson (D-Brookston), right, designed the bill to encourage Texas farmers, with the program to be administered by the Texas General Land Office. Funding for the program, Proposition 10, will be voted on in this November's constitutional amendment election.

AARP commends Governor White Increasing food safety at home

The Texas State Legislative Committee of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) commended Governor White and the members of the Texas State Legislature for "their successful efforts during the 1985 session to enact and sign into law legislation that helps contain health care costs in Texas."

"The legislative session which ended May 24 produced an important package of legislation that will help cover some of the costs of charity, or indigent care provided by hospitals. Separate legislation will permit patients to have access to information allowing them to be more informed consumers when it comes to hospital care. By reducing insurance and hospital costs and offering consumers a choice this legislation will have an important impact in slowing the rate of increase in health care cost in our state," said Carroll Teague, Chairman of AARP's State Legislative Committee.

Citing the indigent health care legislation signed into law last week by Governor White, Mr. Teague pointed out that "each year our hospitals provide an estimated one billion dollars worth of charity care to persons who are uninsured or underinsured. Usually this one billion dollars is shifted on to patients who have insurance—causing insurance premiums and hospital charges to rise dramatically. The indigent care package of bills as passed by the legislature help solve this one billion dollar problem by setting aside 150 million dollars a year to pay for health care for the needy and to provide prenatal and maternal care for the poor as well."

"The legislature is also to be commended for including in H.B.

2091 and S.B. 692 sections that would require hospitals to report their charges for health care to services to the Texas Department of Health. This hospital charge information and the itemized hospital bill provisions of S.B. 806 will give patients the same information he or she has when purchasing any other service or item. If competition among hospitals is a solution to high hospital costs—and the best alternative to tougher regulation—patients need to have information on specific hospital charges for specific services," Mr. Teague said.

"Every other year the State Legislative Committee in Texas selects legislative priorities based on the needs of the state's residents and works with the legislature to promote passage of legislation beneficial to older person. This year the Texas State Legislative Committee was once again an active and responsible participant in the legislative process as it worked with legislators to develop and promote solutions to some of the health care issues that affect all Texans," Mr. Teague said.

FOOD CARE HINTS

Keeping your perishables happily resting on ice will keep the food poisoners away.

"We have a far greater chance of contracting a food-borne illness as a result of our own negligence than from unsafe food products," says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist. The recent tragic food poisoning incidents involving cheese and milk have left many consumers concerned about the safety of foods they buy at the grocery store, says Marilyn Haggard. But these incidents are very small in number when compared to the Food and Drug Administration's estimate of 69-275 million cases of food-borne illness per year, most of which occur at home, she says. "The bacteria that cause most food-borne illnesses occur naturally in raw foods, so it's up to the consumer to make sure these bacteria are destroyed through proper food handling and preparation," says the specialist.

To avoid the possibility of contracting food-borne illness from foods prepared at home, Extension Service nutritionists recommend the following: Be sure to wash your hands carefully before handling food and wash raw foods very well. Be especially careful to wash your cutting board and knives after each use, since cooked foods are often contaminated with raw foods that have been cut on the same board. Heat foods to at least 155 degrees F. before serving and keep cold foods well-refrigerated until serving time. Refrigerate or freeze leftovers immediately after a meal, and never allow foods to stand at room temperature for more than two hours.

Family violence laws will change

Texas courts may soon be able to offer greater protection to the victims of family violence under the provisions of HB 2160, which Governor White signed into law last week.

Sponsored by Rep. David Patronella and Sen. Craig Washington, the law amends the Family Code to ensure the confidentiality of family violence shelters and other safe places. Currently the courts may provide protection to the victims of family violence by issuing protective orders prohibiting the accused from visiting certain places, but these protective orders must specifically describe the locations they place off-limits.

Effective August 26, the courts will be permitted to issue these orders without including the address and telephone number of the protected person. The law further guarantees the confidentiality of shelters and safe places by providing that details of their location may be stricken from public record.

Of Our Husband and Daddy on Your Birthday.

Gene Virden.

You gave up all that hard work suffering and pain. This old world of sin. You are cradled so safely in the arms of Jesus Whom you loved so much. Safe at last from life's many harms. Beneath the ground your body lies. Your spirit has flown beyond the skies. But I miss you, your body and spirit too. Because your flesh I touched and knew. You loved me and your babies too. If I could talk to you on your birthday I know the words I say. I miss you and love you. It's lonesome here without you. But I know you're happy and don't have to suffer any more. I see you soon. Just inside the Eastern gate. For just remember. You are the only one I always love and miss you Honey.

FINANCIAL PLANNING FOR NEWLYWEDS

by Eben Dobson, Vice President, Financial Planning IDS Financial Services Inc. (formerly IDS/American Express)

Financial planning early in marriage is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. The sooner you start planning for your future, the sooner your financial goals can be realized.

Here are some of the variables you should consider before developing a plan:

- Your combined income. What is it now and what do you project it to be ten years from now. If you plan to have children, will one of you stay at home, reducing your total income?
- Your goals and when you hope to realize them. Are you planning to buy a house in the next five years, before the expenses and demands of children, or would you rather rent while you establish your careers? Would you like to travel, finish that degree first and have children later? Or would you like to have children soon?
- At what rate must your investments grow in order for you to realize your goals? Will a rate of return of six or seven percent (taking into account inflation) be enough, or will you need a higher rate of return?

- Are you willing to make high risk investments or will you stay awake all night worrying that you may have lost everything by morning? Will diversification make you more comfortable?
- Creating a financial plan need not be a burdensome task. A sound plan can point you in the right direction to meet your needs without drastically altering your lifestyle.

United Methodist Women met July 9

The United Methodist Women met in the church parlor on Tuesday morning, with Odessa Dobbins, presiding.

Mrs. Ora Mae Hill was program chairman for the program, "Ever Since Eve: Women in the Church." Others on the program were Jewel Mitchell, Odessa Dobbins, Pauline Mayhew, and Dorice Colburn. Discussions about the program were made by all of the members.

Those present were Odessa Dobbins, Jewel Mitchell, Margaret Anderson, Ora Mae Hill, Dorice Colburn, Pauline Mayhew, Willie Lois Nichols, Ionah Vinson, Ozie Stanley, and Margurite Mathis.

The benediction was the Lords Prayer.

Youths become AHA members

Shane Groves and Marci Linn Caffey, both of Winters, have been accepted as junior members of the American Hereford Association, according to announcements by H.H. Dickenson, Executive Vice President of the AHA.

By becoming junior members of the AHA, youngsters are able to take advantage of the many programs open to Hereford breeders in their efforts to further their own breeding programs. Shows, performance records information, and being a part of the many activities sponsored by the AHA's junior department are all benefits for the youthful members.

The American Hereford Association, headquartered in Kansas City, Missouri, is the world's largest beef breed registry organization. More than 18 million head have been entered in its herd book since the founding of AHA in 1881.

Dorcas Class meets

The Dorcas Class met July 8 at noon for their regular meeting and installation of officers.

The president, Verda Smith, called the meeting to order, and Velma Hart gave the thanks for the noon meal.

Susan Conner installed the officers using as her theme "The Way We Adorn Ourselves."

The new yearbooks were presented and the group sang the class song, "Love Lifted Me." Lillian Roberson voiced the prayer.

The group captains were installed first, followed by the song leader, pianist, reporter, treasurer and secretary. Mrs. Conner used component hands to illustrate these two. For the teacher, she used God's Word. For the president, she used a big hat as a symbol. Each member has a special adornment illustrated by these various symbols.

During the business session, the members decided not to meet in August. Yearbook changes were noted, and a love offering was taken. The benediction was given by Nadine Smith.

A special thanks was given to Pat Simpson for assembling the yearbooks.

A social hour was enjoyed by all.

Doing a woman's work is like walking down a railroad track: the end seems in sight but never is. —Marcelene Cox

IT'S A FACT!

Sweepstakes: Growing more popular as prizes get bigger.

When Rebecca Wright, the 27-year-old mother from suburban Detroit, was announced by Ed McMahon as American Family Publishers' $2 million grand prize winner this year during NBC's Tonight Show, the record-setting amount seemed almost too good to be true. But it was true, just as is American Family's newest sweepstakes, which offers a $10 million grand prize. This latest sweepstakes mailing has begun, and someone like Rebecca will be $10 million richer as a result. But as Rebecca points out, "You have to mail in your entry to win." Rebecca knows how important mailing in the entry is because someone else failed to do that in the $2 million sweepstakes and Rebecca's entry became the alternate winner. The $10 million grand prize is one of 110,000 prizes to be given away in the largest mail-in sweepstakes in U.S. history.

Turnrow Tidbits

General Situation
Crops are progressing very well these days. The cotton ranges in growth stage from two true leaves to first one-third grown square. Currently the pests in cotton are fleahoppers and bollworms.

The grain sorghum crop in our area is beautiful! It ranges in growth stage from booting to hard dough. The pests to be watching in sorghum this week are greenbugs, headworms, and stinkbugs.

Cotton fleahoppers
Fleahopper activity in cotton has increased during the past week. Several fields have reached the economic threshold and have been sprayed.

Fleahopper numbers range from 0 to 45 per 100 plant terminals. The economic threshold is about 20 to 25 per 100 plant terminals combined with square loss due to the fleas.

In the last Turnrow Tidbits, we discussed fleahoppers at length. Please review it and scout your fields if you have not done so. I would recommend that fields be scouted at least once per week and preferably twice a week during the first three weeks of squaring.

Bear in mind that 85% of the total bolls that eventually are harvested come from the squares set during the first three to four weeks of squaring. Also, we have good moisture conditions now so we better make what we can while we can!

Bollworms
Bollworm activity has increased over the last week in cotton and fields should be scouted carefully for small worms now.

As a general rule, we would prefer not to start spraying bollworms until after first bloom, if at all. However, bollworms can get into young cotton, eat the terminals out and create a "crazy cotton" effect that delays the plant and causes irregular growth all season long.

This week in cotton, bollworm numbers ranged from 0 to 28 per 100 terminals. Bollworm eggs ranged from 0 to 49 per 100 terminals.

If 20 to 25 small bollworms can be found in 100 plant terminals and beneficial insects are not numerous, I would recommend applying some type of control.

Several of you experienced some problems using the biological insecticides last year and were quite dissatisfied with the results. I hate to recommend using a harder chemical at this time; so I still would lean toward using the biologicals to preserve beneficials.

Some of you would rather use a pyrethroid insecticide for this or any bollworm application. I do not think that we could be contributing to a possible resistance development if we lean too heavily on any one type of chemical. Furthermore, late season it seems that the more pyrethroid and parathion applications we make, the more spider mite problems we create. If we start using pyrethroids this early, we may see mite problems develop earlier than usual.

Boll weevils
Boll weevil numbers in traps are low now. The boll weevil traps work very well when there is no squaring cotton around. Now that there are squares available, the weevils will go straight for the cotton field.

We are already finding some punctured squares in fields that have 1/3-grown squares in the Veribest area. Also, high numbers of weevils can still be found in traps near the river south of San Angelo.

This fact is very important because it indicates that there is enough weevil activity around to develop into weevil problems later in the year. So as you are planning your growing season and thinking in terms of expenses, consider the very real possibility of late season weevil problems.

Greenbugs
Greenbugs continue to plague grain sorghum in this area. If you have not scouted your sorghum, you should do so right away.

Headworms
Headworms are definitely getting worse so please look for them now while they are still controllable. Don't wait until they are the size of small snakes and have already eaten most of what they need to complete a life cycle.

Be sure to get out of the pickup and take your bucket to scout for headworms. Using a bucket will increase accuracy! Shake at least 50 heads from across the field and if you find an average of two or more worms per head, consider an insecticide application. If you find the worms while they are still small, your control measures will be more effective, you will lose less of your yield to worms, and your beneficials will have more time to re-establish.

Remember that bollworm moths generally lay eggs in blooming sorghum. If you'll begin shaking heads right after the field is bloomed out, you'll find the worms while they are still very small.

Final Tidbit
Plan ahead.

New land purchase program proposed.

Beginning next year, family farmers and ranchers may find it easier to acquire land or expand their holdings under the provisions of HB 196, which Governor White signed into law earlier this month.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Pete Patterson and Sen. Bill Sarpalius, establishes a low-interest loan program with rates fixed for up to 40 years for the purchase of farm and ranch land. It will be administered by the Veterans Land Board using procedures similar to those of the Veterans Land Program.

The Farm and Ranch Finance Program becomes effective September 1, 1986, if Texas voters approve a constitutional amendment this November authorizing the sale of general obligation bonds by the state to fund the program.

such parents ignore their children when they are sad or in pain and do not share their joys either. The child must look elsewhere for someone to depend on.

Selfishness or indifference and trying circumstances such as divorce, mental illness or forced separation can all lead to emotional abuse. A University of Minnesota study found that children who were psychologically neglected were often more seriously damaged than physically abused children.

Verbal assaults such as name calling, harsh tones and sarcastic put-downs are other forms of emotional abuse. The psychological "beatings" young people suffer from the most are those given by the people they may trust and depend on. Verbal abuse crushes their self-esteem and makes them feel humiliated, worthless or unlovable.

Psychologists find that people tend to live up to other people's expectations of them. So after being called "stupid," "lazy", or "rotten" long enough, a person may indeed begin to behave that way. Verbal abuse cuts across all social and economic groups, but is more common in upper-income families.

Extreme pressure is a subtle form of emotional abuse that many child development experts say is becoming a modern-day epidemic. Some parents seem to be more concerned about a child's intellectual prowess than his or her emotional well-being.

The pressure to grow up fast and achieve early in sports, academics and social interaction is stressed by middle class America.

The price we pay for this extreme pressure is an increase in stress-related illnesses and teenage suicides. If teens don't feel cared about, they can't care about anybody else—not even themselves. According to one leading psychologist, the final outcome is children who are

SAO PAULO BEEF

- 1 large carrot, finely chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1 medium white onion, finely chopped (about 1 cup)
- 2 tablespoons Wesson Oil*
- 2-1/2 pounds sirloin, coarsely ground
- 1 cup drained canned corn
- 1 cup dry red wine
- 1/4 cup Hunt's® Peeled Tomatoes, drained and chopped
- 1/4 cup Martha White® All-Purpose Flour
- 1/3 cup sliced black olives
- 2-1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 3 cups hot cooked rice

Saute carrot and onion in oil over medium heat 2 minutes. Add meat and saute mixture until brown. Add corn and wine. In separate bowl, blend chopped tomatoes and flour. Add to meat mixture. Simmer, stirring 5 minutes or until thickened. Stir in olives, salt and pepper. Serve over rice.

emotional misfits.

The long-term problems that may result from emotional abuse are criminal behavior, alcoholism, drug abuse, running away, fighting or self-destructive sexual activity. Whatever their symptoms, it's crucial to reach and treat the victims of emotional abuse, for their sake and the sake of society.

Victims of physical abuse may have bruises, scars and broken bones to show for it. But emotional abuse leaves no visible mark. The scars and bruises from this form of family violence lie deep within the mind.

Researchers believe that the incidence of emotional abuse or neglect may exceed the more than 800,000 cases of physical abuse reported each year. One step toward dealing with emotional abuse is to recognize it in the family.

Emotional deprivation or psychological neglect is one especially devastating form of emotional abuse. It occurs when parents withdraw and will not emotionally support their children. Cold and rejecting,

Huge Tractor Savings
with John Deere IRAs
(Inventory Reduction Advantages)

Right now you can buy anybody's tractor at a pretty good price. But John Deere offers you something better: John Deere IRAs. Inventory Reduction Advantages like:

- Our 40-85-hp utility tractors, 100-190-hp row-crop tractors and rugged 4WD tractors are value-priced like never before. John Deere factory-backed programs enable us to make very competitive deals, horsepower for horsepower, dollar for dollar.
- John Deere IRAs apply to all new tractors, not discontinued models. We're out to sell the best product we've ever built, at the best possible price.
- A variety of finance options are available* including waiver of interest charges until April 1, 1986. Or you may wish to take a discount worth up to thousands of dollars in lieu of finance waiver. The John Deere finance waiver may actually give you an effective A.P.R. lower than competition's "low-rate" financing. We can give you the details.

- Besides a great product, you'll get great support — the best in the business. Our factory-trained technicians provide prompt, competent service. John Deere's parts back-up is legendary with a communications network that can locate and ship a vital part fast!
- The best IRA of all is John Deere quality. Because our high quality is what will ultimately make the difference between a "cheap" deal and a great deal.

Find out what John Deere's IRAs can do for you today.

*Availability of John Deere financing subject to approval of credit. These offers may be withdrawn at any time.

Governor Mark White signs HB 2520

Governor Mark White signed into law HB 2520 authorizing the creation of a foreign trade zone for the General Motors Saturn facility should it locate anywhere in Texas.

Almost all new automotive production facilities are now located in foreign trade zones or subzones, since this designation permits businesses in such zones to import automotive parts with reduced federal taxes and customs duties.

"I want to thank HB 2520 sponsors Sen. Chet Edwards and Rep. Ashley Smith for their hard work to secure legislative approval of one of the major incentives Texas is offering to attract the Saturn facility," Governor White said. Texas' incentive package was forwarded to GM officials on May 10, but the details were not publicized at that time due to competition among states for Saturn.

"Our proposal is comprehensive and innovative. I do not believe that any other state in competition for Saturn has approached this challenge with our ideas or ingenuity," the Governor said. The following are key features of Texas' incentive package:

-A commitment of $50 million for job training over a three-year period. This includes Job Training Partnership Act funding and resources for vocational education, adult and continuing education, and technical training from Texas junior and community colleges, the Texas State Technical Institute, and four-year post-secondary institutions.

-A statewide employee search to meet Saturn's workforce needs.

-A state commitment to work with GM and local governments to make highway and road improvements needed for adequate access to the Saturn site.

-Substantial potential for private sector financing of the Saturn facility. A foreign-based financial company located in Texas is offering to structure an off-balance-sheet financing package at favorable terms.

Such a package would mitigate start-up costs for building the Saturn facility.

Governor White met with GM Chairman Roger Smith in January to outline the advantages of locating the Saturn complex in Texas.

"Other states are proposing elaborate packages that include such items as 30-year abatements of taxes on businesses. We do not need to offer such abatements, because Texas does not have a corporate or personal income tax," the Governor said.

"The 84 Texas cities competing for Saturn put together extremely attractive proposals that will be hard to turn down. If Saturn locates in Texas, all parts of the state will benefit," Governor White said.

Saturn will employ 6,000 workers, and related supplier companies are expected to employ an additional 14,000. Saturn operations are estimated to produce $3.4 billion annually, generating an additional $6.2 billion a year in business for related and support companies.

"The number of jobs created and the economic impact of Saturn are substantial. The application of advanced technology to manufacturing also makes Saturn an attractive project. I believe Texas' business climate, strong educational system, industrial and technological base, natural resources, and workforce compare favorably with any other state in the nation. Saturn belongs in Texas," Governor White said.

Protections under TDA Pesticide Rules

June 21 marks the first day of summer—and for many rural residents that means pesticide spraying season is in full swing. Drifting pesticides can ruin paint finish on cars, damage gardens and trees, but most of all they can injure people, pets and livestock.

"This year, the rules of the road are different. For the first time ever, Texans can find out when and what pesticides are being sprayed around them," explained Pam Mavrolas, Pesticide Project Coordinator for the Texas Center for Rural Studies. The Center is a non-profit educational group helping Texans to protect themselves and their property from pesticide damage. "The new rules may not stop pesticide drift, but they can let you know before crop dusters spray fields so that you can leave the area, cover your garden, or bring your children and pets inside," Mavrolas cautioned. Children are particularly vulnerable to pesticide poisoning, sometimes becoming ill from much smaller exposures than would ever affect an adult. To be on the safe side, children should not be outside when spraying is going on or while pesticides are in the air.

Mavrolas outlined the procedures necessary to follow in order to get information about aerial spraying. People living or working in buildings adjoining fields where pesticides are being sprayed may send a letter to the farm operator of that land requesting a day's notice of all aerial spraying. The letter should include: 1) your name and address; 2) home and business phone numbers and the hours you will be at each number; and 3) the date of the request. The farmer can choose from several ways to notify the requestor, so any person requesting notification should contact the farmer and find out how he/she will be told. Also, notification should be given in Spanish where appropriate. Mavrolas advised

Induction cooktops can save energy

Induction cooktops, which use a high frequency induction circuit just below the smooth glass cooktop surface, are now on the market. Because it heats the pan and the food in it, rather than the cooktop, and induction unit uses energy more efficiently than a conventional cooktop says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service consumer economics specialist Bonnie L. Piernot. "Since the induction coil reponds immediately to heat settings, there is also minimal heat-up or cool-down time when cooking," she says.

Fresh chicken may seem to be frozen

Some Texas consumers are expressing concern about buying poultry labeled as "fresh," only to discover at home that it seems partially frozen, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt. According to United States Department of Agriculture rules, a poultry product may be labeled fresh as long as it is not completely frozen, even though there may be a slight frozen crust on the surface, she says. Most poultry plants now pack poultry in ice and hold it at 28 degrees F., or chill the birds with nitrogen. The results of these quick-chilling processes is a slight crusting of ice crystals on the surface of the birds. "The surface feels frozen, but the inside is not, therefore the bird is still basically fresh," Hunt explains. Since it's not frozen, you can cook it using the same temperature and cooking time you use or unfrozen poultry, or you can freeze it for later use, she says.

Trout in acid rain

With a solution to acid rain still a long way off, biologists in upstate New York are trying to develop a heartier strain of trout that could survive in at least moderately acidic waters, reports National Wildlife magazine. The viable, though temporary strategy, would surely help trout fishing, which is a big business throughout upstate New York.

Memo from Kay

Saturday, July 5, the Slip N Stitch held a grand opening to introduce the new business to the people in the Winters area. A drawing was held for those who registered during the day and the name of JAMA FRY was drawn. She may come by the shop and claim her gift.

The July "FIRST FRIDAY" trades day was a busy one for local merchants. The next special day will be on Friday, August 2, and we look forward to the good bargains and surprises that will be offered by the participating businesses in Winters. We encourage every business in town to participate so that this special day, the "FIRST FRIDAY" of each month, can become even bigger and better to attract shoppers to Winters. We want to publicly thank those who have supported this Chamber project from the beginning.

A new city map and brochure is being planned and the cost of repairs to the Chamber trailer that is used as a float is being studied. A survey to be mailed to the membership is in the planning stage.

Little League playoffs will be in full swing in Winters and in surrounding communities this week. They will appreciate your support.

Sweet Potato Salad Santa Fe
3 tablespoons lime juice	2 pounds fresh California sweet potatoes (yam variety), peeled, quartered, and sliced 1/4-inch thick
2 cloves garlic, chopped finely	2 stalks celery, diced
1 tablespoon chopped, fresh oregano or 1 teaspoon dried oregano	1/2 red onion, diced
1/4 teaspoon salt	1 red bell pepper, diced
1/2 cup vegetable oil	1 can (4 ounces) diced green chiles

Combine lime juice, garlic, oregano, salt, and pepper. Beat in oil, reserve. Cook sweet potatoes in salted, boiling water until just crisp-tender, about 1 to 2 minutes. Drain sweet potatoes and toss with dressing. Cool to room temperature. Gently fold in celery, onion, bell pepper, and chiles.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Crime Of The Month July 1985

Sometime between Tuesday October 9 at 5 p.m. and Wednesday, October 10 at 7 a.m., three individuals burglarized the Muller's Automotive Parts store in Ballinger. The persons involved in this burglary entered and exited through the south and west doors of the building. An undetermined amount of change was taken from the cash register and a Cross pen and pencil set with the name Leroy Muller inscribed on them was taken. If you have any information concerning this burglary or if you saw any suspicious activity at this business on the night of the burglary, call Runnels County Crimestoppers. Your help may be worth up to $1000. Runnels County Crimestoppers pays cash rewards for information leading to the arrest and indictment of any criminal. You do not have to give your name.

VA Office answers veterans' questions

Q. I served in Vietnam in 1969. I think I may have some problems related to Agent Orange exposure. Does the VA have any programs that can assist me?

A. Veterans who served in Vietnam may be eligible for health care services for illnesses or disabilities that might be related to Agent Orange exposure. You should contact the nearest VA medical center or outpatient clinic to determine your eligibility. VA also has a continuing program for examining veterans who served in Vietnam and who are concerned about the possible health effects of Agent Orange. You may request an examination by contacting your nearest VA medical center or outpatient clinic.

Q. When the time comes to convert my Veterans Group Life Insurance to a private policy, how will I know which companies participate in the program?

A. The Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance will notify you before your insurance expires and will provide you with a list of participating companies. You should keep them informed of your current address.

Q. When I purchase a home using a VA loan guaranty, will my wife's income be considered?

A. If both husband and wife are obligated for the loan, the wife's income will be fully considered.

Crews

By Hilda Kurtz

Money still talks—but it has to catch its breath more often.

An early reminder about the Crews reunion, August 11, second Sunday at the Crews Gym. If you would like more information, call Carl Faubion, president, or Carolyn Kraatz, secretary-treasurer.

Doris and Marion Wood, and Frances Mincey attended the wedding of their great nephew, Monty Gothard and Miss Nina Condra, in Andrews Sunday. Last weekend they were in Temple with her sister, Jean Huffman.

Visitors

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Robert Simpson July 4, were Mr. and Mrs. Don Simpson, Robert and Marcie of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Larry Henricks, Heather, Ty and Liesl of Buckholts, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Musick and Stacy of Sterling City, Texas and Luke Dunlap of Winters.

Other visitors over the weekend were, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson, Melissa and Shay of Stephenville, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Simpson and Kimberley of Winters.

READ THE CLASSIFIEDS!

Burfod Goode has been moved to a hospital in Lubbock from the Levelland Hospital, doing fine.

Mrs. Alta Hale is making her home in the Leisure Lodge in Coleman since Wednesday, for the present time.

Bob Hill returned to his home in Auburn, Alabama Wednesday after several days here with his folks, the Robert Hills. Ronald Hill and Jimmy Driver from Sweetwater came on Monday.

Hopewell ladies had their Mission Study in the Fellowship Hall Monday.

Those enjoying July 4th supper at the Jerry Kraatz home and fireworks afterwards were: Ruth and Bradley Pape; Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion; Bernie, Rodney, Brian and Gene Faubion; Phillips; Norman boys; Mrs. John Conroy; Lark and Allan, Houston.

Mrs. John Conroy, Lark and Allan, Houston spent several days with Ruth and Bradley Pape helping remodel and paint their kitchen.

Hildegard and W. A. Asbury of San Angelo spent the 4th with me; we worked corn and peas for the freezer.

Pat and Earl Cooper spent Saturday with Ray, Cherry and Amanda Cooper in Abilene and with the Richard Chambliss family in Hawley Saturday night.

Micha and Lindsey Aldon and Nelda Thomason from Dallas visited in the Noble Faubion home during the week.

The Jerry Kraatz family attended the school class reunion in the Winters School cafeteria Saturday afternoon, then went to Lowake Inn for supper and afterwards to the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Burton for fellowship hour.

The Jim Pelletiers, Derek, Kyle and Lavern, from Ft. Worth, are vacationing in Winters with her folks, Bro. Jim Shipman and Jackie.

Those enjoying the fireworks with the Nod Crowleys on the 4th were: Jessie McGallian; Karen, Wesley, John and Stephanie McGallian; Viola Foster; Louise Osborne; Nila and Therin Osborne.

During the week with Mrs. Effie Dietz were Herbert, Gary, Bart and Mary Beth Jacob, Clarence and Mildred Hambricht. Mrs. Dietz visited Allen and Fanny Rosenbaum from Abilene in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murry Edwards by the Winters Lake. Mrs. Dietz also visited Mrs. Inez Hambricht in Ballinger Saturday morning.

The Wesley McGallian family, Mrs. Viola Foster and Louise Osborne had Sunday dinner with the Therin Osbornes. Brian Faubion spent Saturday night.

Louis, Dana, Nickie and Scott Dietz, Wichita, Kansas, returned home Sunday after several days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Dietz.

Judy and Ernst Cooke, Winters, Jimmy and Coy Chapman, San Angelo, ate supper Thursday night with Selma and Hazel Dietz.

The Johnnie Densons from San Angelo spent Wednesday and Thursday with the Wilbert Alcorns. Raymond Alcorn of San Saba came later.

Guests with the Doug Bryans during the week were Francis, Dewitt, Brent, Bryan, and Kendra, also Shauna and Jason Nitsch.

Ann and Amber Fuller visited her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John May, in the Ranger Park Nursing Home Tuesday. Fairy Alcorn came by to see Amber on Sunday.

On Wednesday afternoon Carolyn Kraatz and Harvey Mae Faubion carried Brian, Gene, Melinda, Chad, Lark and Allan Conroy to the Ballinger pool to swim and afterwards to see Jet-tie Faubion.

The Herbert Jacobs, Mark and Mary; Walter Jacob; the Mike Kozelsky family; Louise Michalewicz, Sharron and Bryce Busenlehner; and Brenda Jacob carried lunch to the Ballinger Park and had a picnic.

Lynda Travis and Shane Ford from Rising Star spent Saturday and Sunday with Georgia and Connie Gibbs.

"Many more Happy Birthdays, Georgia."

The Walter Jacobs and the Erwin Schrarers and the Felix Books had a game of 88 in the Schrarer home Monday night.

A shower will be given for Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Pape in the Fellowship Hall at the Hopewell Baptist Church, 8 p.m. Friday. All family and friends of the couple are invited to come.

Let me become serious, to the extent I can, at least for the purpose of this week's column, and bring you some news I consider to be startling and of serious interest.

House Bill 72, widely known as the education reform package provides, among other things, that high school students in the eleventh and twelfth grades must pass an exit exam to demonstrate sufficient academic skills to justify the granting of a diploma.

The first sample test results are in and the most appropriate adjective that comes to my mind to describe those results is abysmal.

The first sample results indicate that only 51% of those students taking the exam would be able to pass the test if the passing score were set at 70 percent. Only 35% of the Hispanics and 23% of the blacks would pass the test based on the field testing. Since 70 is, and has been, considered a passing grade, that figure was used. The State Board of Education is currently considering reducing the necessary grade for passing from a 70 down to some lower figure as yet undetermined.

In my mind, the significance of this sample exit level test and its results is that it, for the first time, gives absolute, irrefutable proof that a vast number of our students are exiting high school with virtually no academic abilities.

A politician is never supposed to publicly change his mind on an issue; however, this is the best evidence I have seen that we may have some serious problems in the teaching profession, with extra-curricular activities and, primarily, with classroom discipline. I have long realized these problems were present in one form or another but to learn that only one-half of graduating seniors are able to pass a reasonably simple academic skills test is, to say the least, shocking.

Maybe we all need to rethink our attitude on the education issue. I certainly know I am going to do some soul-searching prior to the coming session.

Any comments you have on this subject would be appreciated.

Winters Rodeo Queens crowned

At the Friday night performance of the 6th Annual Winters Rodeo, the Queens were crowned.

Miss Rodeo Queen is Marci Caffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bub Caffey.

Jr. Miss Rodeo Queen is Tabatha Grohman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Grohman.

Born July 12, 1912, in Content, he married Earline Clayton December 6, 1933, in Ballinger. He farmed in Runnels County until 1979 when he moved to Lawn. He was a member of the Lawn Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Carlene Martindale and Sonya Willis; a brother, Major Willis; a sister-in-law, Lee Willis; two sisters, Fay Mansell, all of Lawn, and Edith Edwards of McKinney; two grandchildren; and two great-granddaughters.

Pallbearers were, Kenneth Bean, C. L. Reid, Gerald Willis, James Richard, Glen Wright and Jerry Don Willis.

Hopper problems

Severe grasshopper infestations in 17 western states have prompted emergency spraying of crops and rangelands with insecticides. Up to 50 grasshoppers per square yard have been reported in some areas.

Experts predict that one-third of the farmers in the area will be forced out of business due to crop damage from grasshoppers.

The insects feed primarily on range and grasslands but at this level of infestation "nothing green is safe," remarks APHIS official Chuck Bare.

"We must treat the grasshoppers before they become egg-laying adults and that can be a relatively short period of time, comments APHIS spokesman Nielson.

To date, approximately 25 million U.S. government dollars are committed or already spent to control grasshoppers in 13 of the 17 infested states, according to Bare.

A sizeable portion of the monies spent in privately funded efforts and federal co-op programs have gone for the purchase of insecticides such as SEVIN brand XLR PLUS and SEVIN brand 4-OIL carbaryl insecticides, respectively.

Bare pointed out the carbaryl formulation used by the federal government performs well in areas of heavy vegetation and that the residual activity of the product is helping assure grasshopper kill during the prolonged egg hatch experienced in some areas this year. SEVIN brand carbaryl insecticide is also registered on 125 different crops.

Outbreaks in the Canadian provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta, and Manitoba have also been treated with SEVIN brand carbaryl insecticide.

Lloyd Harris, provincial entomologist for Saskatchewan, predicts that in his province alone Canadians will treat 7 to 12 million acres of crop and rangeland this year. Approximately six million acres were treated during the last severe grasshopper outbreak which occurred in 1961.

In order to quickly treat threatened acres, U.S. companies such as Union Carbide Agricultural Products Company, Inc. cooperated with Canadian businesses to airlift pest control products to Canada to supply immediate needs.

Ron Campbell, Union Carbide Agricultural Products (Canada), Ltd.'s, product manager for SEVIN brand carbaryl, said his Canadian-based company worked with Canadian government officials to obtain an emergency permit to allow the use of SEVIN brand XLR carbaryl insecticide, for grasshopper control programs in Saskatchewan, the area most heavily infested.

"Grasshoppers know no state boundaries and I'm pleased American and Canadian industry have been able to work together with cooperation from both governments to fight this major pest outbreak," Campbell continued.

Provincial entomologist Harris says he and his cohorts fully anticipate an outbreak of grasshoppers in Canada next year. "The severe drought and lack of spray control measures last year prompted this year's outbreak and there have just been too many grasshoppers to treat this season to catch them all before they laid eggs. Therefore, the likelihood that they'll be back next year is good," Harris concluded.

Non-smokers to get Insurance discount

Persons accepted for individual health and life coverage from Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas Inc. will now get a discount on rates if they are non-smokers.

John D. Melton, president of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas Inc., announced that non-smoking applicants for the company's TotalCare coverage will get a 10 percent discount. To be eligible for the discount, applicants must certify that they have not smoked or used any tobacco products in the past 12 months.

The lower rates will apply to new subscribers as well as those already enrolled. Dependents of applicants, including children, also will be eligible for discounted rates. Letters will be mailed to current subscribers offering them an opportunity to certify their non-smoking status.

TotalCare is a comprehensive non-group health and life insurance policy for individuals under age 65 and their families. It is offered to those not enrolled in group health insurance programs.

"There is now enough solid scientific research to prove that people who don't smoke are healthier," Melton said. "Our company is heeding this evidence and adjusting the way we rate individual coverage."

"If you have individuals-non-smokers- who are at less of a risk than others," Melton said, "it makes good sense to charge them less for their insurance."

Scientific evidence over the past 20 years has demonstrated a strong link between smoking and a host of diseases, including

Folk artists wanted

Texas Folklife Resources is seeking the help of local community members in contacting contemporary Texas folk artists.

The survey is currently being conducted in the Abilene area by TFR staff members Kay Turner and Pat Jasper. They are eager to meet folk artists who practice traditional arts—those arts learned informally at home or within a community or occupation which are passed down from generation to generation.

In this area, they are especially looking for those who have skills related to ranching, such as horsehair and rawhide braiding and saddlery; home arts such as quilting, cutwork, rug making, weaving, furniture making, and basketry; ethnic arts such as Mexican papercutting and Southeast Asian weaving; representational arts such as woodcarving, whittling, and figural ceramics; yard arts such as making whirligigs; and other traditional arts such as toy and musical-instrument making.

Anyone knowing artists skilled in these or other traditional arts should contact TFR by July 20 at the Abilene Cultural Affairs Council, P.O. Box 2281, Abilene, Texas 79604, phone 915-677-7241.

The public is also invited to attend a slide lecture, "Lone Star Legacy: Texas Folk Artists and Their Art," to be given on Wednesday, July 16 at 7 p.m. in the Duffy Auditorium in the Richardson Library, Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

cornary heart disease, chronic bronchitis and emphysema, lung cancer, and other cancers (oral, larynx, esophagus, urinary-bladder). Smoking also contributes to other chronic illness, including conditions classified as peptic ulcer and sinusitis.

Grasshopper infestation could be repeated

The worst grasshopper infestation in 30 years could very well repeat itself next year in the western United States according to American and Canadian government officials.

"A mild winter and a warm spring followed by hot and dry conditions have prompted the widespread grasshopper hatch in 17 states," according to Chuck Bare, staff officer of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) headquartered outside Washington, D.C. "Outbreaks in some southwestern states were eliminated as a result of a cold snap in May but the balance of the western states experienced weather ideal for grasshopper development."

Over 30 species of grasshoppers have reached economic thresholds in Idaho and surrounding states. The U.S. government considers an infestation of eight grasshoppers per square yard economically significant. Yet, in some areas grasshopper counts have exceeded 30 to 50 insects per square yard reports Don Nielson, public information officer for APHIS.

"Some grain farmers have been losing up to 30 feet of crops per day on field perimeters as the grasshoppers migrate in search of food," Nielson explained. "A 300 acre alfalfa field in Oregon was completely consumed in a two day period during the second week of June. County agents in some Oregon coun-

Cub Scouts go to Day Camp

The Cub Scouts of Winters, Pack 249, are enjoying Cub Scout Day Camp this week at Camp Tonkawa in the hills above Abilene. From Winters, 17 Cubs, two Den Chiefs, five adults and five children are taking part.

Thus far, the Webelos Den has won awards for Most Spirit and Best Chant. The Hobi Tribe, as they are called at camp, has been awarded Best Song, Cleanest Camp Site, and Best Dances Awards.

Activities at the camp include B.B. gun safety, archery, crafts, Indian dances, swimming, and skills each day along with special programs.

The theme for camp this year is Indians; so the boys are learning many facts about them.

Everyone is invited to bring supper and come to camp at 6 p.m. on Family Night, Thursday, July 11, and see what the boys have learned.

Participants in the Day Camp include Russell Parramore, Ben Jac Barker, Jamey West, Josh Awalt, Justin Hooper, Josh Bahlman, Spence Marks, Lance Brown, Aaron Bradley, Chris Dry, Heath Watkins, Steven Witte, Chane Reagan, Jim Calcote, J.G. Heidenheimer, Odus Merrifield, and Darrel Spinks.

Den Chiefs are C.J. Young and J'Dan Miller.

Other participants include Sarabeth Heidenheimer, Brenda Watkins, Roanna Spinks, Janice Merrifield, Elaine Miller, Joni Spinks, Heather Watkins, Wayne and Kerri Heidenheimer, and Sam Merrifield.

The Cub Scouts of Pack 249 wish to say a big thanks to the parents for taking them to Day Camp and to our Den Chiefs D.L., and workers at camp.

The winners

LaTricia Palmer recently showed her horse "Black Dolly" in the Nolan County 4-H Horse Show. Her winnings there qualified her to go on to district competition in the All-American Arena in San Angelo, where she won Grade Mare Class and Pole Bending, second in stakes, and third in barrels. These awards won her the Champion Timed Horseman award of District 7 (pictured here), qualifying her for the state contest to be held in Abilene, July 22-27. She will compete in all four events. The Nolan County team took third in the district with only three youths on the team.

Boy Scouts camp at Fredericksburg

On June 21-23, the Winters Boy Scouts camped at Lady Bird Johnson Park in Fredericksburg.

While there, they toured the LBJ Ranch, the Admiral Nimitz Museum, and the World War II in the Pacific Museum.

"The boys had to put up with two inches of rain," said Mike Bennett, Assistant Scoutmaster. "It seems that while some cities are paying large amounts of money for rain, all our Boy Scouts have to do is go camping."

Farm Bureau queen, talent contest set

The Runnels County Farm Bureau Junior and Senior Queen Contests will be held in the Runnels County Farm Bureau Office in Ballinger on Sunday, July 14, at 3 p.m.

The reigning senior queen, Brenda Niehues, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Niehues, will turn over her crown to one of four contestants: Marci Caffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Caffey; Ginger Lang, daughter of Barbara Jones; Gayle Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lange; and Tracy Traweek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Traweek.

The reigning junior queen, Jill Connor, daughter of Michael Participating in this campout were the following boys: Bill Barnes, senior patrol leader; Jason Young, assistant senior patrol leader; Otto Cortez, patrol leader; C.J. Young, patrol leader; Russell Moore, Jeremy Epperson, John Austin, Raul Rodriguez, Johnny Rodriguez, Billy Holland, Billy Witte, Jr., and J'Dan Miller.

Adults participating included Billy Witte, Sr., troop committee chairman, and Mike Bennett.

The boys enjoyed the campout. Except for a food shortage brought on by forgetting to get some food out of an ice box at the Scout Hut, it was very successful.

Connor and Pam Connor, will be succeeded by one of three contestants: Amy Eggemeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Eggemeyer; Valerie Lang, daughter of Barbara Jones; and Jeane Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Lange.

The annual Talent Find will also be held.

Steve Cochran of Aspermont, an area Farm Bureau fieldman, will be master of ceremonies.

Members of the Farm Bureau, as well as the general public, are welcome to attend the contest Sunday, according to Allen Belk, president of the Runnels County Farm Bureau.

Students attend Citizenship Seminar

More than 400 high school juniors and seniors participated in the 23rd Annual Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar, June 17-21, on the campus of Angelo State University in San Angelo.

Attending the seminar from Runnels County were Heath Belk, Ballinger and Laura Wright from Miles.

The purpose of the seminar is to give students a better understanding of the various forms of government and their responsibilities as citizens, according to James Gipe, coordinator of the seminar for Texas Farm Bureau. Students are sponsored through county Farm Bureaus.

The first evening's activities consisted of Dr. L. D. Vincent, President of Angelo State delivering the Welcoming Address and a general orientation session.

During the seminar, TFB President S.M. True, Jr. and TFB Executive Director Warren Newberry responded to questions from the students and discussed Farm Bureau and its future.

The students heard inspiring and motivational talks about patriotism and free enterprise from eight individuals. The speakers and their topics were: Glen Kimber, Executive Vice President, Institute for Constitutional Studies, Washington,

D.C., "The Making of America";

Dr. Joseph Ioffe, a Russian immigrant, "Understanding the Soviet Union"; Dr. Sam Zakhem, Vice President for Economic Affairs, Rocky Mountain Orthodontics, Denver, Colorado, "Understanding the Middle East"; Dr. Calvin Kent, Director, Baylor University's Center for Private Enterprise, Waco, Texas, "Free Enterprise and You"; Elvin Caraway, Legislative Aide, Congressman Larry Combest, Washington, D.C., "The Challenge for Young Leadership"; Senator Cynthia Taylor Krier, San Antonio, Texas, "Opportunities of a Democratic Society"; Dr. Thomas Cunningham, a family life specialist, Stillwater, Oklahoma, "Citizenship and Self-Esteem" and "Citizenship and the Family"; and Jack Jackson, Chairman of the Board LDI, Inc., Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, "The Price of Free Enterprise".

NEWS OF BOOKS

Overnight Success Now 18 Years Old!

Known for its whimsical, easy-to-remember rhymes and fanciful full color pictures, it was one of the first books to help parents teach children to be careful around people they don't know.

"Never Talk to Strangers" published 18 years ago is the first in a series that helps parents communicate with their children and it is still going strong. The rhymes and the pictures get the important message "Don't talk to strangers!" across in terms children can understand and in a non-threatening way.

Another book in the Learn About Living Series from Golden Books is called, "You Can Say, NO". As children become more independent and start going places without adults, they need to know how to deal with potentially dangerous situations. This new book presents short, frank stories about children who did the right thing when approached by an adult who became "too friendly."

In whimsical rhymes and fanciful color pictures, the message to youngsters is clear: "Don't talk to strangers."

Parents have been using the book not only to teach their children how to protect themselves, but to open discussions in a calm way about situations harmful to children.

Each of the bestselling books contains a special note inside which suggests helpful guidelines for parents.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO IMPLEMENT RATES

General Telephone Company of the Southwest in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas gives notice of its intent to implement new exchange access rates for the provision of shared tenant and tenant resale services.

These proposed rates are applicable to customers of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, excluding hotel/motel customers, who provide local exchange telephone service of General Telephone Company of the Southwest to their tenants or patrons on a resale or shared use basis. This resale or sharing arrangement is normally provided utilizing a customer-provided PABX or other similar stored control switch capable of common control processing or other features commonly associated with a PABX "Smart" switch.

These proposed rates are designed to recover costs on a usage basis for local exchange telephone service access and are identical to General Telephone's "Optional Measured Service" rates. The monthly access rate will be $28.95 per trunk line and the usage rates are as follows:

Over	Up To and Including	Band	Set Up	Full Rate Period Each Minute
0	7 miles	A	$ 025	$ 015
7	14 miles	B	035	021
14	21 miles	C	050	030
21	28 miles	D	070	042
28		E	090	054

As this is a new service offering, we are unable to determine the number of customers who may be affected. Currently, there are no known prospective customers. Until any customer utilizes this new offering, there will be no effect on the revenues of the telephone company, and in any event, the telephone company does not expect revenues to be affected by more than 2 1/2 percent. These proposed rates, where applicable, will provide tariffed local exchange access to customers who then will provide shared or resale services to tenants.

These proposed rates have been suspended by the Public Utility Commission of Texas and will become effective as proposed or modified by order of the Commission on a date to be determined by the commission.

The proposed rate schedule is on file with the Commission for public inspection and is also available at any business office of General Telephone Company of the Southwest. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumers Affairs Division at (512)458-0223 or (512)458-0227, or (512)458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Truth in Taxation Seminar to be held

Representatives of the State Property Tax Board will visit 13 Texas cities July 15-August 1 to explain truth-in-taxation procedures and the new property tax laws passed by the 69th Legislature.

One of those seminars is scheduled for 9 a.m. to noon Thursday, July 18 at Taylor County Court House, Jury Assembly Room, 3rd Floor, 300 Oak.

Many taxing units will begin the process of adopting a property tax rate in late July and August. The truth-in-taxation statutes of the Texas Property Tax Code require taxing units to inform their taxpayers through public notices of proposed increases in the tax rate. Taxpayers then have an opportunity to express their opinions concerning the proposed increase at public hearings and can later petition for an election to roll back the tax increase.

The truth-in-taxation laws also spell out the method of calculating the tax rate, to ensure that tax increases result only from the deliberate action of a taxing unit's governing body and NOT from an increase in property values.

In addition to truth in taxation, the seminars will also discuss the 27 new property tax laws passed by the 69th Legislature.

The seminars are aimed at local tax officials but are open to the general public. There is no registration or fee required to attend.

Play the Game Safely

Sports and games are a favorite summer recreation for rural folks of all ages. Here are tips to keep them safe.

- Buy good sporting equipment and keep it in top condition; know how to use it properly.
- Establish and follow rules; youngsters too!
- Allow room for ball games and running activities; remove obstacles.
- Let children play games only within their abilities; no rough-housing.
- Establish boundaries for games such as hide-and-seek; make dangerous areas off limits.
- Take periodic breaks on hot days; drink nonalcoholic fluids; watch for signs of heat exhaustion; protect from strong sun.

It's report card time

It's report card time for the Texas Most Wanted program.

Beginning January 19, a total of 26 persons have been featured as Texas Most Wanted fugitives. Five have been arrested, according to Greg MacAleese of the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council, and law enforcement officials are continuing to process hundreds of tips called in by citizens throughout the state.

Texas Most Wanted is co-sponsored by Texas Crime Stoppers and the Department of Public Safety and is designed to develop information on the possible whereabouts of fugitives wanted for major crimes within the state.

Governor Mark White said, "I have always felt that in order to effectively combat crime in Texas we must have the full cooperation and participation of law enforcement, the public and the media.

"Crime Stoppers and the Texas Most Wanted program are proof that when everybody pitches in and does their part we can make a difference and do something about crime.

"I am encouraged by the success of the Texas Most Wanted program and look forward to its continued successful operation," he said.

"We have been very pleased with the support Texas Most Wanted has received," MacAleese said. "The media coverage has been excellent. More than 600 newspapers and television stations have publicized the program and the public has responded very well. Crime Stoppers programs throughout the state have received hundreds of calls on possible sightings of these fugitives.

Here is a list of the Texas Most Wanted fugitives, their description, the charges they are wanted for and their current disposition.

1. Edward Harold Bell, white male, 45, 5-11, 220 pounds, brown hair, hazel eyes; wanted out of Pasadena for four counts of Indecency with a Child and one count of Murder. Remains at large.

Parolees may have to repay counties

The Board of Pardons and Paroles may soon require persons placed on parole to repay the county where they were tried for any fines, fees, or other costs imposed by the courts, including the costs of county-paid public counsel.

The change in current law, which does not authorize the parole board to make defendants repay counties for the expense of their own prosecution, takes effect on September 1 as a result of the passage of SB 59. Sponsored by Rep. Bill Blackwood and Sen. Ted Lyon, the bill was signed by Governor White last week.
