Maybe it is just that football season has started—or maybe it is that time of year.

The air has a different feel, the leaves have a different sound in the wind.

The leaves on my walnut tree have taken on a different color and have begun to fall.

Our temperatures seem to be cooling slightly.

Last Saturday a large V of ducks were seen headed in a southerly direction.

To compare this summer to last, we have not had quite as much hot, dry weather. We have had more rain and our reservoirs are holding much more water than last year at this time.

In some of us there seems to be a desire to dig out the down coats and prepare for the colder weather to follow.

Hats off to the Board at the hospital. There is a notice published this week for bids for a much needed piece of equipment for the emergency room and the intensive care section. It has been needed for quite some time.

There are some other changes underway at our local health care facility. These changes and additions are also much needed and will benefit the residents of this community.

We must say thanks for some recent assistance. The benefactor asked nothing, really, in return except maybe an honorable mention. Well, here it is:

Thanks Merv.

The local respiratory therapist took time out last Friday evening to wield a camera at the football game for us. All the pictures of the game are due to his efforts. Thanks.

Not to toot my horn, but I was away at school learning more about a lot of things that go bump in the body—a lot of words that are very difficult to pronounce.

A couple of those who completed the Emergency Medical Technician course recently have jumped off the deep end and have begun the long journey to become what our teacher calls "Paramedic Man."

Salvation Army drive starts Friday

The local unit of the Salvation Army will start their annual fund-raising drive beginning Friday, September 20.

There will be no kick-off for the drive this year. The unit will be mailing letters to all patrons of Winters and the Winters area including Wingate, Bradshaw, Norton and Crews.

The quota for this year's drive is $2,750. Nationally, the money is used for areas of disaster; locally, for clothing, food, medicine and eyeglasses. No one receives cash money and everyone is carefully screened. The local unit works very closely with the police department and churches in helping the needy.

The Winters Unit of the Salvation Army wishes to express their appreciation to all patrons for their past loyalty and would appreciate their help in this year's drive.

Anyone who would like to make a contribution who has not been contacted may send it to Ted Meyer, P.O. Box 395, Winters, Texas 79567.

Thursday Football Schedule Revised

The 8th grade will play Hamlin at Winters at 5 p.m. and the 7th grade will play Hamlin at Winters at 6:15 p.m.

This is a reversal of the previously published schedule. These are the correct times for the games.

Winters wallops Wall 13 - 8

The Winters Blizzards evened up their record for the season to 1-1 with a decisive win over the Wall Hawks.

"Our kids played with much better effort, they played with more enthusiasm, more hustle against Wall than they did against Ballinger. Of course we were playing a different ball club, Wall is not near the ball club Ballinger is either," said Coach Danny Slaughter in looking back on the win.

This week the Blizzards will face perhaps their toughest opponent as they travel to Hamlin to meet the Pied Pipers. Hamlin is ranked second in state in District AA.

The non-district Class AA clash between the Blizzards and the Wall Hawks ended with the Child injury charges filed after street fight in Bradshaw

Felony charges alleging injury to a child were filed in Abilene last week against Jeffrey Dale Leverett, 23, of route 1, Winters.

Leverett is accused of assaulting Jesse Frank Langston, 14, also of route 1, Winters on August 31.

The incident allegedly occurred during a disagreement between two families over burning off a vacant lot in Bradshaw.

That dispute involved several members of each family involved in a brawl in a street near the lot that was being burned off.

Winters firemen were called two times in as many days to extinguish a brush fire at that location.

The youth told Taylor County Sheriff's officers that he and his mother were fighting a grass fire on their property near Bradshaw when a man knocked his mother down.

The boy said that when he final score 13-8.

With less than a minute remaining in the first half of the game, Joe Cavazos powered in from the two-yard line for the score and Eric Belk booted the PAT.

The second trip into the endzone came on a 33-yard pass from Steve DeLaCruz to Sam Smith. The attempt for the point after failed and the score was 13-0.

With about six minutes left in the game Wall got on the score board when Randy Krupala completed an eight-yard pass to

A delicious barbeque dinner will be served by John Sayles Lodge -1408 at 6 p.m. This will be followed at 7 p.m. with an outdoor Master Mason degree conferred by Past Masters of Arlington Lodge.

Mike Alewine. A pass from Krupala to Kevin Kathmann added the extra points.

Coach Slaughter said, "We had people like, offensively, our line, I thought did an excellent job. We took the ball on two or three occasions and drove the length of the field—we probably should have scored more than we did but penalties hurt us twice."

"We got down there, the first time we had that good long drive, we got down on about the 10 or 15 and got a 15-yard penalty to kill that drive. We had driven the ball something like 70 yards and just taken it and going right at them. Which means the offensive line must be doing a good job for you."

Slaughter said, "The backs ran much tougher against Wall making some good tough yardage. Steve DeLaCruz ended up

Lions Club begins Campaign Drive

Winters has joined the bandwagon for the Hendrick League House, a 30-room lodging facility near Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

"The Lions Club has voted to sponsor the Winters drive and place $250 in the fund to begin the $2,500 campaign for a Winters Room in the Hendrick League House," announced Gary Turner of the First United Methodist Church.

Hendrick League House will house out-of-town families of critically ill patients at Hendrick Medical Center. The facility, due to break ground October 24, will have 30 family rooms, a large den-like area and laundry facilities. Phone lines will be integrated with the Hendrick system, so families and nursing staff can maintain immediate contact.

Approximately 40 percent of Hendrick Medical Center patients live outside Taylor County where Hendrick Medical Center is located. Approximately 20 patients a month are from Winters and Runnels County.

"We are delighted to see Winters begin work for the Winters Room. We hope they will soon be able to join our other rooms, Anson, Albany, Wingate and Abilene. A real need exists for patient families who live out-of-town to stay near their ill or injured loved ones. Hendrick League House will be ready when you need to be near," said Winston C. Beard, president of the Hendrick Medical Center Foundation.

Contributions for the Winters Room may be sent to the Lions Club—Hendrick League House Fund at the Winters State Bank. For more information, contact Lee Harrison, bank vice-president.

Winters Council okays 8 percent tax hike

The Winters City Council gave approval to an eight-percent increase in the effective tax rate in their meeting Monday evening.

Initially, the council had proposed increasing the tax rate by 25 percent. This was met with considerable opposition from Winters residents during a public hearing.

In reconsidering the tax proposal, the council voted to cut out the animal control services operated by the city and to reduce a planned five-percent pay raise for city employees to three percent.

The new tax rate will be $.6388 per $100 property valuation.

City administrator Scott Epperson said that further investigation revealed that the error made by the appraisal district accounted for three percent of the total tax value and $.03964 per $100 was needed to compensate for the error.

The city administrator said that other budget adjustments were made to change funding for some items in the budget from the general fund to revenue sharing.

The city will receive about $34,000 in federal revenue sharing funds this year, the same as last year. The federal funds will not be available after this year.

The total amount of budgeted expenditures in the general fund for the new fiscal year totals $597,267.

with 85 yards rushing on the night which gave him little over 5 yards average. Joe Cavazos had a better night running, he got some real tough yardage for us. On crucial situations, we would come up third and two, third and three, something like that, well we'd go to Joe behind that right side of the line behind

Eddie Trevino and Archie Austin and Eric Belk and they did a good job knocking those people back off the ball so we could get that tough yardage and Joe ran tough to get it."

Defensively, the coach said, "We had some kids that had good

Charges filed in Friday jewelry store break-in Charges of burglary were filed against a 28-year old Winters man in connection with the burglary of Bahlman's Jewelry early Friday morning.

Police officers took Jim David Fenwick into custody only minutes after the break-in was discovered, just before 8 a.m. Friday.

Officers said that the suspect had sought treatment for a badly cut arm at North Runnels Hospital but left before he could be treated. The man was later treated for the laceration at Ballinger Memorial Hospital.

All of the merchandise, which was taken from a display window was recovered by officers who followed a trail of blood to locate the suspect.

Charges of burglary were filed Friday morning against Fenwick and bond for the man was set at $10,000 by Justice of the Peace Wilburn Davis.

Trail of blood

Officers found broken glass and a trail of blood at the scene of the Friday morning burglary at Bahlman Jewelry.

A small amount of merchandise was taken from the small display window which was shattered.

Officers took a 28 year old Winters man into custody at a residence at 621 north Rogers Street in connection with the break-in a short time after the burglary was discovered.

Z.I. Hale Museum News

A proud legacy has been presented to the Z.I. Hale Museum. It is the 1906 horse-drawn hearse that was used by Spill's Funeral Home until 1920, when it was replaced by a gray motorized carriage and stored in Ben Spill's garage.

In the 1950's, the horse-drawn vehicle was given to John Norman by John and Mildred Gardner to be used in city parades. It was erroneously stated in last week's paper that it was given by John Grohman.

At Mr. Norman's death, the historic hearse was passed on to the museum as requested by the Gardners.

With such a worthy contribution that so aptly portrays our heritage, it is only natural that the museum trustees and board members desire to provide adequate space for storage and care of the vehicle.

A drive to build a room onto the museum for this purpose has been accepted as the Sesquicentennial project and will soon be underway with M.R. Williams as chairman.

So quickly do times change with new methods and devices added until we soon forget how it was in the beginning.

The first funeral establishment in Winters was owned by Ed Stone. A white top hack was used as a hearse. In 1905 he sold to Albert Spill, who also owned a furniture store. Ben Spill joined his brother a year later, and the business became Spill Bros. and Co.

When Albert Spill first bought the store, people sometimes came in at 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning for a coffin, as caskets were then called. If the right size was not on hand, one had to be built. The coffin would then be taken home and the loved one buried as quickly as possible.

It was the custom to keep two or three coffins on a shelf in the back of the store. And as the need arose, the family would come in their wagon, take the coffin, go back and bury their own. That's the way the funeral business started.

Coffins were sold from the furniture store for many years and finally a storage building was erected behind the furniture store. The west side of the building was used for coffin storage and display and the east side had some chairs where a service could be held if the family wanted. Practically all funerals were held from a church or home at that time.

Albert Aiflerbach joined his uncles as a third member of the firm in 1919. When Albert Spill died in 1935, Mildred began working in her father's store. She recalled when Albert Aiflerbach's youngest son died in 1939, the services were held in her mother's home. In 1955, the funeral home was remodeled for

Rehab Round-Up Fund-raiser slated

Rule Number One for chairmen of the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children is to make a personal pledge to this annual West Texas Rehabilitation Center fund-raiser.

That pledge may be a cash donation or a few steers as was the case in 1960 when the late Conda Wylie offered his support toward the operational expenses of WTRC which treats 10,000 handicapped persons annually at facilities in Abilene and San Angelo.

Or the support may be a "gift from the heart" as was the case last week when San Angelo attorney Aubrey Stokes offered his own Quarterhorse, Rojo, for auction during the CRCC kickoff dinner at Mertzon.

With the rap of the auctioneer's gavel, Sanderson ranners Keith and Polly Mitchell became Rojo's new owner. And the West Texas Rehabilitation Center was the beneficiary of a $2,900 check.

The Mitchells, like the Stokeses, aren't newcomers when it comes to "giving to Rehab." The couple is a long-time WTRC supporter whether the fundraising needs be for facilities or equipment or just helping meet the yearly demands of the $4.7 million budget. Nephew David Mitchell and his wife, Shirley, serve as CRCC co-chairmen along with Herbert Brown in Terrell county. And those seven Mitchell grandchildren probably won't be too disappointed to learn a new horse will be coming their way.

Rojo, known officially as The Red Iron Bars, isn't your everyday horse. The four-year-old was sired by Iron Bird who held a Register of Merit in racing. Out of 14 starts, Iron Bird ran in the money nine times. The grand-sire, Rocket Wrangler, was an All-American winner.

While Stokes may harbor a few selfish feelings about sending Rojo to his new home in far West Texas, he's the first to admit a good horse needs to be ridden. Since heart bypass surgery nine months ago, he isn't as quick to climb in the saddle.

"Rojo was a gift from our son Ted. He's as gentle, as instinctive as they come, but he could slip and fall. Then I'd be in real trouble," Stokes says. "This is just one horse that doesn't have any bad habits. Rojo will make a fine addition to the Mitchell's ranching operations."

Wave and Aubrey Stokes knew the best thing was for them to find the stately sorrel a good home. And they did just that.

This year's Round-Up begins with a cattle sale September 30 at the Abilene Auction. Other scheduled sales include horse sale, October 5, Abilene Auction; sheep and goat sale, October 14, Junction Stock Yards; and special auctions October 9 in Coleman and Stephenville, October 17 in San Saba and November 4 in Brownwood.

Persons wanting to make a donation should contact CRCC chairmen in their area or call the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene at (915) 692-1633.

WTRC opened in 1953 in Abilene and in 1977 in San Angelo. Treatment and diagnostic services include physical, occupational and speech therapy, audiology, orthotics, psychology, education and social services, all without charge to patients other than for hearing aids and braces.

Reducing gaps in Medicare Coverage

"There are some steps that consumers can take to help reduce the gaps in their Medicare coverage," says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service consumer economics specialist. Start by choosing doctors and medical suppliers who accept assignment, says Bonnie L. Piernot. Assignment is the specified charge Medicare allows for a procedure. Those with serious illness requiring extended care can ask their doctor to consider moving them to a skilled nursing home when Medicare coverage for hospital cost expires.

"Patients can also ask the doctor to consider home health service visits when the hospital and skilled care coverage are used up, or if hospitalization is unnecessary," she says.

The two firms were separated in 1977 when the funeral home was sold to Ted Meyer, who runs it with his son, Mike. It became known as the Winters Funeral Home. The furniture store was sold to Nelan Bahlman and is still known as Spill Brothers Furniture.

Miss Rhonda Darnell Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheeler, and Mr. Robert Calvin Cook, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, Sr., of Ballinger, were married Saturday, September 7, 1985 at 3 p.m. in the Drasco Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by James Gehrels under an archway of greenery trimmed with white bows. Behind the archway were two standing ivy plants and brass candelabras decorated the piano and organ. Blue bows marked the pews.

DeOna Deaton provided the music for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress designed by Mori Lee of New York. Bishop sleeves, and Basque bodice featured satin embroidery on organza trimmed with silk venice and pearls. The full skirt flowed into a chapel train. Her fingertip length veil was fashioned of imported illusion lace with a Chantilly lace cap adorned with tiny seed pearls. She carried a Keepsake cascade bouquet designed with silk flowers consisting of navy and wedgewood blue roses touched with white roses, stephanotis and rhinestone sprays gathered with pearls, and variegated blue and white satin ribbons.

Lois New served as Miss Wheelers' Matron of Honor. Bridesmaid attendants were Tracy Barton, of Austin; Mona Lange, of Denver City; and Kandi Leasure of Somerville. They all wore formal floor-length gowns with a fitted bodice and capelet collar fashioned of lavender-blue taffeta. The gathered, full skirts were accented with white satin ribbon tie belts. Each attendant carried a colonial bouquet with variegated shades of blue and white roses with pearl sprays bound with white, light and dark blue satin ribbons. Each bouquet was specially designed by the brides' aunt, Barbara Wheeler of Abilene.

Serving as best man was Wendall Anderson of Ballinger. Groomsmen were Eric Gregorson, John Cook Jr., brother of the groom, both of Ballinger and Marvin Cook, brother of the groom, of Amarillo.

The reception was hosted by the brides' parents at the Drasco Baptist Church.

Guests were registered by LeAnn Fogle of Somerville.

The brides' table was covered with a pale blue tablecloth overlaid with white lace. The brides' bouquet, along with a gold and silver champagne fountain, provided the centerpiece. The wedding cake featured three tiers. The bottom layer was topped with a smaller layer and the top layer was divided by Roman arch pillars. Scallop and string work decorated the sides of the cake, trimmed with blue roses. Bells, fashioned in the brides' colors, adorned the top layer. Filagree bells and blue flowers accented the center of the separated layers.

Michelle Wheeler, sister of the bride, Dawn Green and Jill Traylor, both nieces of the groom, served the brides' table.

The grooms' table was covered in a navy tablecloth overlaid with white lace. The centerpiece was a tractor with blue flowers. A German chocolate cake, made by Elizabeth Ryan, sister of the groom, and coffee were served by Jackie Hurt and Shirley Cook, also sisters of the groom.

Did you know that:
• People catch colds most often in their early school years and again when their children go to school.
• "Normal 98.6° F." body temperature may not be normal for you or your child. While 98.6° F. is commonly considered normal temperature, you should let your doctor establish what is a normal temperature for every member of the family. A healthy person's temperature can vary considerably during the day.
• Many people report having difficulty reading and using conventional glass mercury thermometers.
• Temperature taking is now much easier with a new kind of digital thermometer from Norelco. With a lightweight, break-resistant plastic probe and separate sanitary probe covers, it is suitable for oral or rectal use and takes only about 60 seconds to lock in its reading in clear, easy-to-see numbers.
• Doctors recommend that people drink lots of fluids when they're sick.

Farm bill approved

The U.S. House Agriculture Committee approved this week an omnibus farm bill which will set some new directions for the nation's 50-year-old ag policy, said Congressman Charles Stenholm.

Congressman Stenholm, one of the key members of the Ag Committee, said, "We have put together a bill that preserves the rural electrification program, provides for effective supply management and prescribes budget responsibility. This is not a perfect bill, but it has many positive factors that our ailing farming economy needs."

The new farm bill also promotes soil and water conservation. This will be done through set-asides and conservation reserve measures. Using recent USDA projections, Congressman Stenholm said the conservation measures will shift 45 to 55 million acres of fragil land into less intensive use. In 1984, about 27 million acres were removed from production under the 1981 act.

"By setting-aside the least productive land we are hopeful that these provisions will result in effective supply management which is so vitally needed to bring the U.S. supply in line with demand, and this achieve and increase in the price of all farm products," he said.

The bill was reported out of committee within the budget set by the House this Spring, "in light of the growing deficit, I was extremely pleased that we stayed within our means and still produced a workable bill."

Along with preserving an income maintenance safety net for farmers, the new bill includes two sections introduced by Congressman Stenholm. His "Clear Title" and "Bases and Yields" bills were adopted. Another major difference introduced by the area's representative changes the time frame of all farm programs from the customary four-year period to a new five-year span.

Additionally, the bill provides that for five crop years, beginning in 1986, market prices for major crops—wheat, cotton, corn and rice—will be competitive due to two factors: 1) it allows for commodity price support loan rates which are closer to market conditions; 2) it includes several export expansion programs.

A closer look at the bill finds an extension of the current peanut stabilization program. Under the program, growers who supply the domestic food market can become eligible for price supports, if they keep supplies in line with consumer demand. "The peanut section of the bill will benefit both quota and non-quota holders in the 17th District," Congressman Stenholm said.

In the dairy portion of the bill, the provisions link future government dairy supports to changes in market demand and farm production costs. It also includes a farmer-funded surplus reduction program (stand-by diversion) for use when heavy surpluses are predicted.

The cotton section provides that the basic loan rate for each of the five years would be 85 percent of a market price average, with any year-to-year reductions limited to no more than 5 percent. Any target price payments caused by lowering cotton loan rates below the old 55 cent floor would not be subject to limitations on target payments to individual producers. Furthermore, target prices in 1986 and 1987 would be frozen at the 1985 levels of 81 cents a pound.

For producers of wheat and feed grains, the bill includes two alternative programs which could be enacted for the 1986 through 1990 crops. The first alternative would concern the basic loan rates for grain, which would be set annually by the Secretary of Agriculture between 74 and 85 percent of the average domestic market price for the crop during three of the past five years. However the loan rate could not be reduced by more than five percent. The secretary would then choose between two operating options: either recourse or non-recourse loans.

The second alternative would vary depending upon a referendum. If farmers agree to switch to this program, producers who complied with voluntary acreage controls could get price support loans at not less than $4.50 a bushel for wheat and $3.25 a bushel for corn. Marketing certificates would be needed to permit disposal of the grain for domestic use. Subsequently, there would be no target prices or income support payments in this provisions.

"Recognizing that our committee's bill is subject to amendments on the floor, represents our consensus on the strongest steps we can politically and budgetily take to help farmers make it through what is the worst economic crisis since the depression," Congressman Stenholm said. "With the resources we have included in this bill, we have the basic tools necessary to turn ag profits around."

Before the bill is adopted, it needs approval on the House floor and then Senate before going to conference to work out any differences in the versions.

Business meeting set

The Texas Historical Commission, the official state agency for historic preservation, will conduct its fall quarterly business meeting October 28 at historic Fort Concho in San Angelo.

THC members and staff will arrive in San Angelo on Sunday evening, October 27, to participate in a tour of Fort Concho and social hour hosted by the Tom Green County Historical Commission and other local preservation groups. The fort, built in 1867 to defend the frontier from raiding Indians and to help new settlers on their journey to unchartered regions of the west, includes barracks, a parade ground, chapel and school, and officer quarters. It is registered as a National Historic Landmark.

The 18-member commission, which will welcome three new members to the fall meeting, directs the activities of the agency in such areas as museum services, archeology, National Register nominations, and state historical marker designations.

Members of the THC are Harry A. Golemon, chairman, Houston; Gay Ratliff, vice-chairman, Austin; James S. Nabors, secretary, Lake Jackson; Lunelle A. Anderson, San Marcos; John M. Bennett,

Farm Aid concert planned in September

The company that started as catalog merchant to rural America will lend support to today's troubled farmers through television sponsorship of the Farm Aid concert September 22 at the University of Illinois at Champaign.

The live, 12-hour show features major country and popular music stars. Proceeds and pledges, expected to grow to $40 million, will go to help farmers in financial need across the nation.

"We recognize the worsening farm situation and its toll on individuals and families," said Theodore Weldon, Sears national catalog manager. "Many of our catalog customers live in rural communities, and we are happy to support this event in their behalf."

As one of six major sponsors, Sears will advertise in approximately 15 30-second commercials during the televised event. The show is being made available to 90 percent of the country's television viewers, and also will be simulcast on radio. Most concert proceeds would come from audience pledges.

More than 30 musicians and musical groups, representing a wide range of popular styles, have made commitments to Farm Aid. They include country/western greats Willie Nelson, Loretta Lynn, Merle Haggard and Waylon Jennings, and popular entertainers Randy Newman, Joni Mitchell, Carole King, Billy Joel and the Beach Boys.

Sears, celebrating its 100th anniversary next year, began as a watch sales company in 1886. Nine years later, the company issued its first general merchandise catalog, then 532 pages thick. All but a tiny percentage of Sears customers lived in rural areas.

Today's spring and fall Sears catalogs are about three times the size of that first book. The company publishes four major catalogs, the spring-summer, summer general, fall-winter and Christmas Wish Book editions. In addition more than 20 specialized catalogs are published, offering merchandise including farm equipment, baby goods, home health care items and specially sized apparel.

DON'T KISS $8,938 GOOD-BYE

That's how much you could lose just on resale value if you don't buy a John Deere

A year ago, we began updating you on tractor resale values. Here's the latest published data. Not surprisingly, John Deere looks even better... and better. Is that important to you? Yes.

Always consider resale value when you price a field tractor. Because the differences among brands may sometimes be bigger than ANY purchase incentive.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1985 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 6-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for almost 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 79 percent of its 1979 list price. The other averages 72 percent.

What's that mean in dollars? Add the John Deere gain on original price to the competitor's loss. The John Deere advantage is as much as $9,237!

Is this only true of one model? No. Four out of five 40 Series 90- to 180-hp tractors have average resale prices higher than their new price six years ago.

Is resale your only John Deere advantage? No. Don't forget the remarkable fuel efficiency of today's 50 Series John Deere tractors. And don't forget our unmatched reputation for high quality and reliability. See your John Deere dealer. He'll be happy to explain the big difference between a low-price tractor and a low-cost John Deere: 100-hp 4050, 120-hp 4250, 140-hp 4450, 165-hp 4650 or 190-hp 4850.

NOTE: Average resale prices taken from Spring 1985 Official Guide of The National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association. Percentages calculated from best currently available information on 1979 list prices.

VFW Post 9193 to sponsor program

"New Horizons for America's Youth" is the theme of the 39th annual Voice of Democracy scriptwriting program being sponsored locally by Winters Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9193 and the Ladies Auxiliary.

The Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program, open to 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students, offers local, district, and national recognition and awards with the top national award being a $14,000 scholarship. Commander Raul DeLaCruz and Auxiliary President Nell Colburn urges students interested in participating to contact Co-Chairpersons Bill Hall or Mary Kurtz, or Winters High School teachers Nancy Michaelis, David Evans or John Key.

Participating students are encouraged to tape their scripts using professional equipment available at cooperating radio stations. The recorded script must be at least three minutes and not over five minutes in length. It is recommended the script be transcribed on reel type magnetic tape at a speed of 7 1/2 inches per second.

Deadline for entries in the local competition is October 15, 1985.

There were among 250,000 young people from over 8,000 public, private and parochial schools participating in the national program.

Tapes will be judged for content, originality and delivery.

The winner from the State of Texas will receive a five day all-expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. next March, together with winners from the other 49 states. They will visit national monuments, see Congress in action and meet high government officials. National awards in addition to the $14,000 first place scholarship include $7,000, $4,500, $3,500, $2,500, and $1,000 scholarships for second through sixth place winners.

The program now in its 39th year, is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and its Ladies Auxiliary. The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed the Voice of Democracy Program on the Advisory List of National Contests and Activities for 1985-86.

"Participation in the Voice of Democracy Program gives students experience in writing and speaking," said Bill Hall. "It gives them a chance to reflect on our nation and its meaning for them."

Area town to participate in SBA program

Three cities in Texas and Oklahoma will participate in the second phase of a special small business economic development and technical assistance program.

The U. S. Small Business Administration (SBA), in announcing the cities, said that the program combines financial and technical assistance from SBA, the Department of Housing and Urban Development's Community Development Block Grant Program (CDBG) and the private sector.

Temple, and Abilene, Texas and Shawnee, Oklahoma, were three of 37 cities chosen to participate in the program.

Mayors from the three cities and SBA, HUD and local government officials, are expected to attend ceremonies September 23 at the Flagship Inn, Arlington, Texas, to explain the cities participation.

The first phase of the program began in April 1984; 15 communities participated.

"This program aims to help communities design or implement specific economic development projects," SBA Regional Administrator Reynaldo H. Lopez said.

"Throughout the Southwest there is a resurgence of economic development in deteriorating neighborhoods and downtowns. With the combined help of HUD and SBA, and assistance from the private sector, these communities now will design specific programs with targeted results," Lopez concluded.

Philip J. O'Jibway, District Director of Lubbock's SBA office, said, "Selection of cities for the second phase of the program were based on community desire to establish economic development programs and make small business assistance a local government priority."

"It is apparent that this program already has helped to bring about economic revitalization in several of the participating cities," O'Jibway said. He cited these examples:

Pascoagoula, Mississippi, adopted and expanded an urban renewal plan designed to develop key waterfront properties, including a marina and office space.

Dubuque, Iowa, is restoring an economically depressed retail section of the downtown area.

Louis Dela Cruz told us that he had grown sunflowers twice as tall as he is and with heads on them bigger around than his head. He brought this picture in and now we believe him.

Stenholm says pay for equal work

Congressman Charles Stenholm halted a recent court decision which overruled the enactment of a so-called "comparable worth" pay scale.

In a speech to Congress, the Stamford Democrat argued against comparable worth, which would require similar wages for dissimilar jobs. He opposed supporters of such legislation who had claimed that some jobs, because of their assumed "worth to society" should receive higher wages.

"I strongly believe that all Americans deserve equal pay for equal work," said Congressman Stenholm. "When a man and woman perform the same job, the compensation for that job should be based on the same factors. However we are confusing equal pay for equal worth with equal pay for different jobs, or comparable worth as we are calling it today.

The congressman agreed with a judge in Washington state who overturned a decision which supported the comparable worth theory. "The government cannot determine the worth of an individual's labor or its contribution to society. That should be determined by the current market, not by bureaucrats or by the courts," he said.

A resolution has been introduced which would have appointed a panel to study the feasibility of enforcing comparable worth in the federal wage scale. The study would cost between $1.5 million and $2 million. However, since the ruling and floor statements by Stenholm and others, a vote on the issue has been postponed.

Congressman Stenholm also sent out a "Dear Colleague" letter to other congressmen urging them to oppose the legislation. The letter was co-signed by Congressman Marvin Leath of Waco.

"The measure has lost its steam right now," Stenholm said. "But if it comes up again, we'll remain on top of it."

Scald burns can be reduced each year

Of the approximately 112,000 people admitted to U.S. hospital emergency rooms with scald burns each year, more than 2,600 of these caused by hot tap water.

Scald burns from hot tap water tend to be more severe than other scald burns, with about 25 percent of these patients requiring hospitalization, says the Texas Medical Association.

The problem is that many water heaters have been pre-set at the factory at dangerously high temperatures and remain that way in many households. This poses a particular hazard for children, the elderly, and the physically and mentally disabled.

Most electric water heaters now in operation have been pre-set at 150 degrees Fahrenheit, and most gas heaters at 140. A study has shown that serious burns of adult skin can result from 2 seconds of exposure to 150-degree water and from 5 seconds with 140-degree water.

In contrast, it takes 30 seconds of 130 degree water to produce a serious burn. This generally allows enough time for most people to react and withdraw before suffering a burn. At 120 degrees, 10 minutes of exposure would be required to seriously burn an adult.

Since no household needs require tap-water temperatures greater than 120 degrees, it is wise to adjust thermostats on residential hot-water heaters to that maximum.

The temperature can be measured with a candy thermometer in bathtubs and sinks.

STATE FAIR OF TEXAS IN OCTOBER

Something New for You

The State Fair of Texas is once again preparing for its annual run, complete with a Lone Star-sized array of entertainment, sports, livestock and creative events.

The 1985 State Fair opens at noon on Thursday, October 3, and runs through Sunday, October 20. It has a theme of "Something New for You."

In addition to its usual assortment of favorites, such as evening parades, an outdoor ice show, a three-ring circus, fireworks displays, fashion shows, Midway rides and exhibits, this year's State Fair boasts an impressive line-up of special events and new attractions.

Literally and figuratively topping the list of new items at the 1985 Fair will be the "Texas Star," currently under construction and expected to be the tallest ferris wheel in North America. At 212 feet it will be the same height as a 20-story building. More than 15,000 red, white and blue light bulbs will be attached to the framework of the ferris wheel and will be used to present a spectacular computerized light show.

The Great American High Dive Team will give several performances each day at a specially-built diving platform and pool near the Grand Avenue gate, and "Starship 3," a helicopter acrobatics act will perform daily over the Lagoon.

The national touring company of the Broadway hit musical "42nd Street" will perform October 1-20 in the Music Hall at Fair Park. Dolores Gray and Barry Nelson will star in this song and dance-filled show based on the extravagant movie musicals of the Depression era.

The annual State Fair Rodeo, set for October 18-20 with two shows daily, will attract top competitors from the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association tour, and the Cotton Bowl World Class Championship Wrestling on Sunday, October 6, will pit the Von Erichs against a variety of opponents.

Football games in the Cotton Bowl during the Fair will include the Texas-Oklahoma classic on Saturday, October 12, the Grambling versus Prairie View game on Saturday, October 5, and a Dallas Independent School District triple-header on Friday, October 18.

The Rodeo, "42nd Street," the wrestling competition and the football games require separate tickets. Football tickets must be arranged through the schools involved, while tickets to the other three events are sold by Rainbow Ticketmaster. For Rainbow Ticketmaster information, call (214) 787-2000 or (Dallas-Fort Worth metro) 787-1500. When purchased in advance, tickets for these events include admission to the Fair.

Other attractions, except Midway rides, are free upon admission to the Fair. Admission is $4 for adults, $1 for children aged 5 to 11, and free for children under five each day and for senior citizens each Tuesday.

Additional activities include outdoor concerts by George Strait, the Judds, Little Joe y La Familia and an assortment of other performers. The Annual Parade of Champions, an all-day competition to determine the best high school bands in Texas, will be held on Saturday, October 19.

The Fair's Creative Arts Department expects record participation in its wide range of food and hobby contests, including two new food contests. They are "One Potato, Two Potatoes," which uses potatoes in entrees, side dishes or desserts, and "Stuff Yourself," which concentrates on beef, pork or poultry dressings.

Livestock events will be featured daily, with competition categories ranging from various breeds of cattle and horses to goats, rabbits, sheep, swine, pigeons, donkeys, mules and sheep dogs.

Several of the museums located on the grounds of the Fair will have special exhibits. They include "The Robot Exhibit: History, Fantasy and Reality" and "Haley's Comet: The Long-Haired Visitor" at The Science Place; "A Centennial History of the Dallas Morning News" at the Hall of State, and "East Africa: Its Land, People and Wildlife" at the Museum of Natural History.

Exhibit buildings at the Fair offer thousands of square feet of educational and commercial displays. An exhibit by Armour in the Food Pavilion of the Tower Building will feature Daniel and the Dixie Diggers, an animated band, and the Automobile Show will give Fairgoers their first looks at the 1986 models.

One new convenience for persons attending the Fair this year will be DART bus service from several Park and Ride facilities around Dallas County. Buses will follow regular schedules and charge $4 for a round trip. Information on DART bus schedules is available at 979-1111. Parking on the Fair grounds is $3 for those who prefer to drive.

The gates of the Fair grounds will open at 7 a.m. and close at midnight each day. Buildings are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and most museums are open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Chicken founder speaks

Lonnie "Bo" Pilgrim of Pittsburg, Texas, founder of Pilgrim's Pride chicken, will be one of the featured speakers at the Texas Animal Health Conference October 13-14 at the College Station Hilton and Conference Center. Pilgrim will discuss what it takes to succeed in the animal agricultural industry today. Planned by the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, the conference is aimed at briefing veterinarians as well as livestock producers on various animal health issues. Special sessions on swine, cattle and horse health will highlight the conference.

The Winters 4-H Club will meet on Monday, September 23 at 7 p.m. This meeting will be held in the Winters Ag Building. Anyone interested in joining 4-H should try to attend this meeting or contact Gwen Andrae for more details. If anyone has any questions about the 4-H program, they may contact the County Extension office, third floor of the courthouse in Ballinger—or call 365-2219 or 365-5042—or see Allen Turner, County Extension Agent-Ag; Curtis Thompson, County Extension Agent-Ag; or Dana Craddock, County Extension Agent-H.E.

4-H is a youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service which focuses on the needs, interest and concerns of young people. It's aim is to help youth gain a positive self-concept, rational social behavior, knowledge, and problem-solving capabilities. Boys and girls between the ages of 9, or third grade, and 19 from all ethnic, racial, cultural and economic groups, regardless of geographic location, may participate.

Through planned individual projects, meetings, camps, group activities and participation in local, county, regional, state and national events, members develop new skills, learn cooperation, develop leadership abilities, improve their citizenship and have fun.

Make after-school snacks nutritious

When hungry kids rush home from school, they'll head straight for the chips, soft drinks and sugared treats unless some nutritious snacks are ready. "The key to getting youngsters to snack wisely is having the right snacks on hand," says Marilyn Haggard, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. Parents can teach their children about nutrition and get ideas and recipes for nutritious snacks and treats from "Be a Super Snacker: Snackman Tells You How," an Extension publication especially for children. The Snackman publication is number B-1416, and a companion piece on snacking for adults is number B-1415. Both are available from your county Extension office.

Back to School: Planning for Vacations

Back to school used to mean buying new clothes and books, making new friends and adjusting to a new routine. To this list you may now add "and making spring and summer vacation plans."

"Students are planning their spring and summer vacations earlier each year," said Henry C. Kahn, president of the American Institute for Foreign Study (AIFS), a Greenwich, Connecticut organization which has provided educational travel programs for over 350,000 students and teachers since 1964. "They used to book our spring programs in January and our summer programs in April. Now they are booking six to eight months in advance."

To encourage this early booking trend, AIFS has guaranteed the fees listed in their 1986 Educational Travel Programs catalog to travelers who pay in full by December 15 (for spring programs) or by March 1 (for summer programs).

AIFS' new Educational Travel Programs brochure details over 70 itineraries ranging from 8 to 42 days in the winter, spring and summer. While these programs have been created for students, many adults have taken advantage of these low cost, educational programs.

Campus Programs combine three or four weeks in a university town with an exciting one or two week travel or cruise program. There are classes in the morning (language study, art history, literature, etc.) taught by qualified university or school instructors. Excursions and activities are organized in the afternoons. New campus programs in 1986 include: "Siena: The Heart of Italy," "Summer in the French Alps" and "En Famille En Touraine," a program where the students live with carefully selected French families in Tours.

Traveling Programs are 14-35 day educational tours, many with courses taught by a team of British instructors. These programs feature numerous field trips which enable students to learn at the source. New in 1986 are "Britain, Norway, Sweden and Denmark" (which includes a North Sea cruise), "People, Fauna & Flora of Kenya," "Behind the Curtain" (East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Western Europe) and the "Orient Express."

Mini Programs are 8 to 10 day travel programs held during the winter, spring and summer. New programs in 1986 include visits to Spain and Portugal, Madrid and Rome, East and West Germany, Greece, and many other exciting destinations.

For additional details and a free copy of the AIFS Educational Travel Programs brochure write: AIFS, Dept. PR.5, 102 Greenwich Avenue, Greenwich, Connecticut 06830 or call (203) 869-9090.

Talpa

By Maggie Ruth Stokes

We just had a shower of rain Friday night but several miles south of Talpa, on the old Knox Campbell Ranch, it rained from 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches.

Last week at the Abilene Fair, Zane Cassaday won fourth place on his heavy-weight medium wool sheep, and Kim Jeffreys, Ronnie Jeffreys daughter, won fifth place on a heavy-weight southdown sheep.

Kenneth and Jo McWilliams and Edith Toombs of Coleman attended the funeral of their brother-in-law, Ray Dudley in Alpine on Tuesday.

Roger and Karen Bains of Rankin visited Newt and Marie Bains on Saturday afternoon.

Gordon Brookshier and Robbie Jones of Sonora went to Madisonville on Saturday after some colts of Gordon's. Brooke Jones spent Saturday night and Sunday with Louise Brookshier.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Priddy of Winters visited with Mike and Debbie Priddy and children Sunday afternoon.

Over $1 million in scholarships to be awarded in April

DeVry Inc. will offer 75 full-tuition scholarships at a total value of $1.1 million to 1986 high school graduates throughout the United States.

According to DeVry Inc. President Phillip A. Clement, each scholarship provides between $14,700 and $15,750 for application fees and tuition, and may be used toward a Bachelor of Science degree program in either Electronics Engineering Technology or Computer Information Systems. The scholarship can be applied for at any of the nine DeVry Institutes in the United States.

Finalists will be determined on the basis of SAT, ACT or WPCT scores and will be announced in April of 1986. Scholarship recipients will be chosen on the basis of those scores, high school academic achievement, extracurricular activities and an essay. Announcement of winners will be made shortly thereafter.

Applications are available at the Admissions Office at each DeVry Institute and must be returned before March 21, 1986.

Mr. Clement said scholarship recipients will receive a plaque to commemorate the honor, and a similar plaque will be presented to the students' high school for permanent display.

The number of scholarships granted to each DeVry Institute will be determined by the number of applications received by that school. Each campus will have the opportunity to award at least one scholarship to an outstanding student from the area. All 1986 high school graduates are eligible, with the exception of the immediate families of DeVry Inc. and Bell & Howell employees.

For further information, students should contact their high school guidance counselor, or write to the Office of Admissions at their local DeVry Institute. Campuses are located in Atlanta (Decatur), Chicago and Lombard (IL), Columbus, Dallas (Irving), Kansas City (MO), Los Angeles, (City of Industry), Phoenix, and Woodbridge (NJ). DeVry Inc. is one of the largest proprietary, postsecondary networks in North America devoted to technical education.

Medicare is not complete coverage

Medicare does not cover all medical expenses, reminds Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service consumer economics specialist Bonnie L. Piernot. She explains there are three different kinds of gaps in Medicare which must be paid by consumers or their insurance coverage. They are the deductibles and co-insurance payments; the difference between Medicare's approved amount and the actual amount charged; and the items not covered at all by Medicare such as prescription drugs, private duty nurses and care in a custodial-care nursing home.

Bertie Stone visited Mr. and Mrs. Bobbie Horne and children at Valera on Sunday afternoon.

I visited Sarah Bomar, Linda Childress, Major and Nell Mulanax and Vesta Cox in Ranger Park Home in Santa Anna Friday afternoon and on Tuesday I visited Johnny Thompson in a Ballinger nursing home.

Amos and Mary Turner of Grand Prairie are visiting in their home in Talpa for a few days.

Eva Evans visited her children in Sweetwater from Wednesday until Saturday. Chris Moore of San Angelo visited with Everett Evans a few days this week.

Fred Andrews of Abilene spent a while Sunday afternoon with Everett and Eva Evans.

Jack McQueen of Lubbock, former Talpa man, died Thursday night. Ila Fay Pettiet attended the funeral.

Apology is only egotism wrong side out. Nine times out of ten, the first thing a man's companion knows of his shortcoming is from his apology. It is might presumptuous on your part to suppose you small failures of so much consequence that you must talk about them.

VA changing reporting procedures

Approximately 1.5 million Veterans Administration pensioners and recipients of parent's Dependency and Indemnity Compensation will receive notices with their September checks informing them of changes in VA's income reporting procedures.

VA Administrator Harry N. Walters said the notice explains the new Eligibility Verification Report which replaces the old Annual Income Questionnaire.

Walters pointed out the new system does not relieve pension recipients of their responsibility for reporting income changes when they occur.

In implementing recommendations made by a task force last year, VA will now cycle income reports throughout the year and will decentralize processing to regional offices throughout the country. The agency will also replace punch cards with full page forms since more than income information is requested.

The first eligibility verification reports will be mailed on October 1, 1985, to those receiving protected pension and Dependency and Indemnity Compensation benefits and to Improved Pension recipients who have a foreign mailing address.

Beginning December 1, 1985, and running through September 1, 1986, the income report forms will be mailed to the remaining pensioners nationwide at a rate of approximately 70,000 each month.

Waco VA Regional Office Director Stephen Lemons indicated that approximately 109,000 will be released in Texas during the twelve-month period beginning October 1985.

Completion of the questionnaire is required by law and failure to return it by the date shown on the form may result in interruption of benefits.

Help in completing the new forms is available from the VA Regional Office in Waco or from any of the major veterans' service organizations. Assistance is also available by calling the VA toll-free number listed in local telephone directories or by calling 1-800-792-3271.

Ministers of Rural areas help with farm crisis

The role of rural ministers is more important today than ever before because so many rural residents are struggling from financial hardships.

Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, told some 100 ministers attending the 40th Annual Town and Country Church Conference at Texas A&M University that they can help farmers and ranchers suffering through the current financial crisis that is gripping the agricultural industry.

"A lot of farmers have lost the only way of life they know due to the current economic crunch," Carpenter said. "They are independent and proud and are having a difficult time coping with their situation. This is where you can play an important part."

Carpenter also told the ministers that they can be a solice to those surviving these financial hard times. "Those who survive financially will have to make adjustments as well," he said. "You can help in this transition period, just as our county agents and agricultural and home economics specialists can help people adjust and cope with changing conditions."

"With jointly shared interests and concerns, we can overcome the problems besetting people," Carpenter added. "Let us remember that we are all joining together to assist people—we are a partnership to help people grow."

"The Extension Service and ministers have much in common," added Carpenter. "We are educators with a common goal—to make society better."

Carpenter spoke at a luncheon honoring the 1985 Texas Rural Minister of the Year, the Rev. Lloyd Tatlock of Jacksboro.

Retirement age to increase in 2000

Under the original Social Security Act, the age at which a person could retire with full benefits was set at 65. Since then, many people have come to regard 65 as the retirement age. The fact is, however, that a 65-year-old man or woman in the 1980's is a very different person from the 65-year-old of the 1940's, not only in terms of life expectancy but in relation to their attitudes, activities, and self-perception. The rocking chair is no longer an accurate symbol of their interests.

Under the 1983 Social Security Amendments, beginning with the year 2000, the age at which a person will be able to retire with full benefits will increase to 65 years 2 months. The retirement age will then continue to increase by two months each year until it reaches 67 in 2027 and after. A worker will still be able to receive reduced benefits at 62, as now, but the rate will be lower than it is at present.

Today, people who retire at 62 receive 80 percent of the benefit that would be payable to them at 65. Under the new law, people retiring at 62 will receive 70 percent of the benefit that would be payable at 67.

Another provision of the 1983 Amendments calls for a study of the effects of the change in retirement age for people who are engaged in physically demanding work or who, because of reasons of health, may not enjoy increased longevity. A report and recommendations are due by January 1, 1986.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
GENERAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 5, 1985

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Sections 1 and 2 of House Joint Resolution 6 propose a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development bonds.

The additional bonds to be issued will be dedicated for deposit in the Texas Water Development Fund, with $190 million of those bond proceeds to be used for water supply loans and facilities acquisition and with $400 million of those bond proceeds to be used for state participation in the acquisition and development of facilities for storage, transmission, transportation, and treatment of water and wastewater. Of the remaining bonds authorized, $190 million will be dedicated for use in water quality enhancement projects, and $200 million will be dedicated exclusively for flood control projects.

The amendment would also allow the legislature to provide for the creation, administration, and implementation of a bond insurance program to which the state pledges up to $250 million of its general credit to insure payment of the principal of and interest on bonds or other obligations issued by political subdivisions of the state for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, recharge, chloride control or desalinization. Unless authorized to continue by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the Legislature, the bond insurance program will expire on the sixth anniversary of the date on which this section becomes a part of the constitution. Bond insurance issued before expiration of the program will not be affected by such expiration.

The amendment would authorize the legislature to create and appropriate money to special funds in the state treasury to make grants, loans, and other financial assistance available to governmental entities for certain enumerated water planning purposes. Also, the legislature would be permitted to extend the benefits of constitutionally approved water projects to nonprofit water supply corporations.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds, to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation, and desalinization, to authorize a bond insurance program, and to clarify the purposes for which Texas Water Development Bonds may be issued."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Section 3 of House Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas Water Development Board to issue and sell Texas agricultural water conservation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million, if authorized to do so by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the legislature. The Texas agricultural water conservation bonds would be general obligations of the State of Texas, and would be paid from the first money coming into the state treasury in each fiscal year. The amendment would allow Texas agricultural water conservation bonds to be issued and sold only for four years after the date on which this Act becomes a part of the constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to authorize a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property if such relocation or replacement is done in conjunction with or immediately following the relocation or replacement of water mains serving the property. Any legislative enactment permitting the expenditure of funds for such purposes would authorize the city or town to fix a lien on the property, with the owners' consent, for the cost of relocating or replacing the water laterals, and would provide that such cost shall be assessed against the property, with repayment by the property owner to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years at the rate of interest set by law. Such liens could not be enforced until after five years from the date the liens were affixed.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to enact laws permitting a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the use of the proceeds from the sale of permanent school fund land to acquire other land for the permanent school fund. Currently, the constitution requires that proceeds from the sale of such land be invested in certain bonds and other securities.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing proceeds from the sale of land dedicated to the permanent school fund to be used to acquire other land for that fund."

the services the district must provide, by setting requirements a resident must meet in order to qualify for services, and by determining any other relevant provisions necessary for providing health care to residents.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of Chambers County to divide Chambers County into not less than two and not more than six justice precincts. Under the current constitution, the Veterans' Land Board is authorized by Article III, Section 49-b-1 to issue and sell not more than $800 million in bonds, $500 million of which may be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. This amendment would increase that authorization to permit the issuance and sale of up to $1.3 billion in bonds, $1 billion of which would be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. In addition, the amendment would remove the current definition of "veteran" from the constitution and permit the legislature to redefine "veteran" as the changing times and circumstances require.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing $500 million in additional bonding authority for the veterans' housing assistance program and changing the definition of those veterans eligible to participate in the veterans' land program and the veterans' housing program by authorizing the legislature by law to define an eligible veteran for the purposes of those programs."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 72 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature either to enact a statute or to attach a rider to the General Appropriations Act to require prior approval of the expenditure or emergency transfer of any funds appropriated by the legislature to state governmental agencies.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which would be deposited in a fund to be known as the farm and ranch finance program fund. The fund would be administered by the Veterans' Land Board and would be used to make loans and provide other financial assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land. The amount of bonds outstanding at any one time would be limited to $500 million. The principal and interest that becomes due on such bonds in each fiscal year would be paid from amounts remaining in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, with the balance due to be appropriated from treasury revenues in the fiscal year when such amounts become due.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 16 proposes a constitutional amendment that would define indictments and informations as instruments charging a person with the commission of an offense, and would delete certain technical requirements as to the form of writs and processes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant the Texas Supreme Court and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from federal appellate courts. In addition, the two courts would promulgate rules of procedure relating to the review of those questions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment granting the Supreme Court of Texas and the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that would create a board with responsibility for the reapportionment of judicial districts, subject to legislative approval. The amendment would provide for the continued power of the legislature to provide for judicial reapportionment and would provide that reapportionment will be the responsibility of the Legislative Redistricting Board if the Judicial Districts Board fails to make a timely reapportionment. The amendment would provide for the creation of judicial districts smaller than a county in counties where the creation of such districts has been approved by the voters at a general election. The amendment would provide for more than one judge for a judicial district. The amendment would rename supreme judicial districts as courts of appeals districts. The amendment would provide that the jurisdiction and terms of court of district and county courts may be as provided by law. The amendment would provide for the jurisdiction of justice courts, which may have additional jurisdiction as provided by law. The amendment would provide for rules of judicial administration and civil procedure to be promulgated by the Supreme Court, and would provide that the legislature may delegate additional rule making power to the Supreme Court or to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The amendment would provide that courts and judges in existence at the time of its adoption remain in existence until otherwise provided by law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the reapportionment of the judicial districts of the state by the Judicial Districts Board or by the Legislative Redistricting Board, and providing for the administration and jurisdiction of constitutional courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 27 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of County Treasurer in Andrews County and transfer the powers and duties of that office to the County Auditor. The amendment would also abolish the office of County Treasurer in El Paso County if, at the statewide election at which this amendment is submitted to the voters, a majority of the voters who vote in El Paso County favor the amendment. - (2) the abolition of the office of county surveyor in Collin, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Henderson, and Randall Counties."

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us.

We are going to be in the process, over the next few weeks, of analyzing the constitutional amendments you will be asked to consider in the November general election. To perhaps lay a predicate for that series of articles, allow me to take a few moments of your time to review the amendment process in our State.

Fortunately or unfortunately, depending on your prospective, our State Constitution is drafted so as to be a very pervasive document. Most of our state and county institutions are constitutionally created and any change thereto must be a change in the constitution. An immediate example is the fact that our U.S. Constitution has been amended 26 times in just less than 200 years. On the other hand our State Constitution has been amended 269 times since 1879.

This means that voters have to pass on many, many major issues for them to become law (such as the pari-mutuel wagering issue that would require a constitutional amendment); but, it also causes voters to have to consider many, many issues with little or no statewide interest (I am sure you are waiting with bated breath to learn whether or not the office of county treasurer of Andrews County will be abolished).

Our state system is not the best but it is certainly not the worst either. The most frightening aspect of the constitutional amendment process is the fact that it is taken lightly by the general electorate. I am amazed at how many people simply do not vote on the constitutional amendments because they think they are too complicated. In my opinion the absolute saving grace of our system is that it gives the electorate a direct hand in legislating change. I know of no other procedure whereby voters can make their feeling so immediately felt.

I am going to do my best to make my analysis of the amendments as readable as possible, but, after exhausting any meager writing talent I may have, it is still going to be pretty dry work.

Bear with me, and let us attempt to cast an informed vote on the constitutional amendments submitted to us on November 5 of this year.

(Too late for last week)

Last week we discussed the plight of the individual wrongfully accused of child sexual abuse and the trauma resulting. Let me give you a few insights into the other side of that issue, to the extent I am able, from the standpoint of the abused child.

Only recently have we learned, to a reasonable degree, the extent of child sexual abuse. Statistics indicate as high as one-third of the children of this State have, at one time or another at one point in their childhood, been abused either sexually or physically.

The difficulty with sexual abuse is it seldom ever leaves physical indications of its happening and we often cannot detect the emotional damages. In fact, I am told that most often the emotional damage does not really manifest itself until adolescence or young adulthood. Often the impact of what is happening to the child is not even clear to the child until he or she reaches adulthood.

Surprisingly or not, far and away the majority of cases of sexual abuse involve parents or close family members. By my estimate, probably only one in twenty cases of sexual abuse is reported.

The Legislature has passed more stringent legislation dealing with child sexual abuse and child pornography. A couple of examples are the creation of a penalty for the possession of child pornography and allowing the testimony of a child to be videotaped.

The videotaping of a child's testimony has long been a controversial issue because we want to protect the child from the trauma of having to take the witness stand in open court and have to tell what its father, uncle, etc. did, and at the same time, we must protect the defendant's constitutional right to confront and cross-exam a witness against him.

I am strongly in favor of the videotaping aspect because there is no doubt the child can be scarred for life by having to be a witness against a close member of the child's family.

In the final analysis, sexual abuse of children is an illness and, until we realize the problem cannot be solved simply by jailing the offender, I doubt we are going to make much headway. In my opinion, the most promising solution now appears to be reversible chemical castration for male offenders. Many have responded to my suggestion along this line that constitutes a cruel and unusual punishment but I disagree. I think it would be much more humane both to the offender and the general public than placing the offender in a long term penal environment with the high degree of expectancy that a large percentage of offenders will repeat the crime whenever they are released.

Fruit growers to meet

A shortcourse for beginning fruit growers plus discussions focusing on peaches, blueberries, Asian pears and grapes will highlight the 1985 Texas Fruit Growers Conference September 30 through October 2 at the College Station Hilton and Conference Center. Particular emphasis will be on pruning peach trees and thinning peaches for top quality production, says a horticulturist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. Other talks will deal with weed control, girdling of peach tree limbs to increase fruit size, alternatives for marketing Texas fruit, and using computers in small farming operations.

D.P.S. has new Regional Commander

The West Texas Region of the Texas Department of Public Safety has a new Regional Commander. Major Dudley M. Thomas assumed command of the 49 County West Texas area September 1, 1985. Major Thomas will be stationed at the Regional Office in Midland.

Major Thomas transferred from Austin where he was Highway Patrol Captain. Thomas replaces Major Ira Dees, who has retired after 28 years with the Department.

As Regional Commander, Thomas oversees the Drivers License Service, Vehicle Inspection Service, Highway Patrol Service, License and Weight Service, Communications Service and the Safety Education Service. Thomas will have about 400 personnel under his command.

Major Thomas joined the Department of Public Safety December 7, 1960 as a Patrolman Trainee. He graduated from the Homer Garrison, Jr. Law Enforcement Academy on March 24, 1961 and was assigned to the Drivers License Service as Patrolman and stationed in Houston. Thomas took military leave in October 1961 and served two years in the U.S. Army. He was released from the Army in October 1963 and reinstated with the D.P.S. November 1, 1963, as a Drivers License Patrolman in Houston. He transferred to the Highway Patrol in March 1965 and served in Mineola and Mount Vernon. He was promoted to Highway Patrol Sergeant April 1, 1969, and stationed in Cuero. Thomas was promoted to Highway Patrol Lieutenant April 15, 1973, and stationed in Austin. He was promoted to Captain in August 1976, and stayed in Austin until his promotion to Major September 1, 1985.

Thomas and his wife, Brenda, have a son, Jay 23, who works in the H.E.B. Grocery Chain in Austin and a daughter, Terry 19, who is still at home.

Thomas graduated from Mount Pleasant High School and attended East Texas State University and received a B.S. degree from Southwest Texas State University. He attended Northwestern University Traffic Institute for one year.

Thomas said, "Moving to Midland from Austin will take some getting used to, but my wife and I are looking forward to getting involved in our new community. Meeting new people is one of the good things about working for the D.P.S."

San Angelo took third place among the 53 brisket teams entered.

The men's beer drinking contest winner was Bob Hill of Miles with Gaylon Schniers of Miles taking second place.

The woman's beer drinking winner was Sherry Owen of San Angelo and Pat Vogt of San Angelo took second place.

ball games. I know that line backers Rene Garcia and Joe Cavazos played a lot better. Archie Austin kept his defensive line plays up he did a good job in there. Robert Baker did a good job at safety and we had some kids that were making some good plays for us when we needed to have them."

"Robert Baker did a much better job playing quarterback than he did against Ballinger, he completed three out of four passes for 75 yards, which was excellent. All in all we were five of ten in our passing department which was a whole lot better than the week before when we were four of 19."

The coach said that most of the success could be attributed to the attitude that the kids went into the game with, they went in there to win the game.

In looking toward Friday, Hamlin is rated the second rated team in class AA in the state. Slaughter said, "they deserve the rankings from what we have seen of them. They have played two ball games and won then by 35 points or better against one good ball club and the other one, I think, is a decent ball club. They played Baird the first week and beat them 42-7 and played Clyde last week and beat them 38-0 and our scouts said that Hamlin's first played only about two or three minutes of the second half. They have got a good ball club - they have got a lot of speed which we are going to have to contain. They have got the kind of backs that, if you give them a lot of running room they are tough to tackle in the open field."

Hamlin is a good ball club and will be a good test for us to see how we can compare with somebody in that class. Our kids are coming off a good win, which we needed. But this week against Hamlin we're coming up against a good ball club in our classification and its going to give us a chance to see how we shape up against somebody that probably will be in the playoffs - its going to be a real challenge."

The Blizzards are in good shape injury-wise with only one starter out for the season. Manie Esquivel suffered serious foot injuries in a motorcycle accident and will be out for the rest of the season.

Wallace plans to run for office again

State Supreme Court Justice James P. "Jim" Wallace announced that he will be a candidate for reelection to the State Supreme Court.

Justice Wallace was elected to the State's highest civil court in 1980. Prior to that, Justice Wallace served on the First Court of Appeals, as a District Judge, and as a State Senator. He will complete his first six-year term on the Supreme Court in December, 1986.

Judge Wallace released the names of over 1,400 attorneys and political leaders who have already agreed to support his reelection effort and who are serving on this state-wide steering committee.

Commenting on the large size of his steering committee, Justice Wallace stated, "While I am extremely pleased that so many individuals are solidly behind me, I am most proud of the fact that my support is balanced across such a wide-spread spectrum of the Bar." Judge Wallace cited as the reason for such a broad base of support his philosophy towards holding office on the State's highest court. "My only goal has been the administration of fair and impartial justice for all Texans."

Judge Wallace expressed gratitude to the many individuals that have indicated early support of his reelection. "I am honored that such a large number of attorneys, many of whom know me only by my work on the court, are committed to my reelection." Judge Wallace added that he was continuing to receive additional pledges of support from all areas of the bar and the political community.

Wallace, who is 58, is also well known in jogging circles, and

Wearden honored

Charles J. Wearden with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) was honored with the presentation of a 15 Year Certificate of Service and Lapel Emblem at a safety meeting held recently in the Ballinger Maintenance Office.

The presentation made by Maintenance Construction Superintendent J. B. Arrott of San Angelo, was accompanied by a letter of congratulations from District Engineer D. R. Watson. Mr. Watson thanked Charles for his years of service and the hope for his continued service to be pleasant and productive.

still runs five to eight miles every morning. He has won several 10K runs around the state. "I have incorporated my running into my campaigns in the past," said Justice Wallace, "and plan to do so again this time." Judge Wallace is organizing a number of "fun runs" around the state as an alternative to the more traditional cocktail party circuit.

Even though the primary election is eight months away, Judge Wallace announced that he was beginning an intense campaign. "After facing a primary, run-off, and general election contest in 1980, I know what a big state this is, and how hard to statewide campaign can be. I plan to take nothing for granted."
