NUMBER 27

Wait a minute... By Kerry Craig

There will be a number of changes in the services offered by the city soon.

These changes have been mandated by the budget adopted last week by the council, which was considerably less than what they had first sought.

Our local law enforcement agency, about two years ago, began to purchase cars from the Department of Public Safety rather than buy new cars.

This move has saved money and has allowed each of the four officers to have a vehicle assigned to him. With each officer responsible for his patrol car, he is the only one to drive the car and this helps maintain the cars.

This year our department will be getting two of the cars from the DPS. The money to buy the cars comes from federal revenue sharing funds.

If, in getting the patrol cars at less than anticipated, the city could be able to replace the old emergency lighting equipment it would be a good step.

Another good move would be, if there is some money left, would be to enable the officers to get new uniforms.

These guys would look a lot more official in a real sharp uniform than in jeans and Tshirt.

Think about it. Wouldn't you like getting a speeding ticket from a well-dressed officer more than from some guy that looks like he just got off work?

What's with television programming? One station took He-Man off and another started Dallas in the time period that little kids watch cartoons during the day. I wouldn't want to trade He-Man for J.R. Would you? When we talked about the different feel in the air last week, about the leaves starting to turn there was no thought of Tuesday morning turning out like it did. Talk about pulling the covers. We all know that cold weather is going to be here soon but, I just wasn't ready for it this soon. It was not cold you say, well, compared to a couple of weeks ago it was downright chilly. Enough so that felt hats will soon be in style.

Winters joins Hendrick bandwagon

The Winters Blizzard "Player night game and the voting will of the Week" will again be featured this year by Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials of Winters.

The outstanding Blizzard will be chosen by votes cast each week at the business. Votes may be cast following each Friday end at noon Tuesday, the week following the game.

The player receiving the most votes will be featured on the "Blizzard Page" each week and will be recognized at each home game.

Winters I.S.D. announces tutorial schedules

School districts are required to offer tutorial services for students whose grade in a subject for a grade reporting period is lower than 70 on a scale of 100. Students may be required to attend these sessions 90 minutes per week in accordance with Chapter 75 or H.B. 72.

Tutorial sessions for the Winters Elementary School are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with grades K-3 attending from 2:45 - 3:15 p.m. and grades 4-6 from 3:30 - 4:00 p.m.

Students in the Winters Secondary School, grades 7-12, are to be provided tutorial services at 8:10 - 8:55 a.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week. Teachers will also be available at the same time period each morning on Monday, Thursday and Friday to assist students who are having difficulty, unless there is a scheduled activity. Instruction in the tutorial program shall be teacher directed instruction on specific class or homework assignment.

If your child is failing any course or courses, you are encouraged to see that he or she attends tutorials on a regular basis for additional help from his teacher.

The Winters Blizzards drop- on the road again. The Blue will . open district play in Eastland. ped to 1-2 on the season following a soggy defeat at the hands of the Pied Pipers of Hamlin Friday.

The Pipers are ranked second in the state in Class AA and some say they are underratated.

The game began in a moderate shower following a heavy shower. The rain fell off and on throughout the game.

The game started with a march by Hamlin to the endzone. That march was interrupted only one time by the Blizzards when quarterback Robert Baker uncorked a 34-yard pass to Sam Smith. The score climaxed a fumble recovery by Winters.

In exhibiting its state class, Hamlin's defense held the Blizzards to only 60 yards on offense.

This week the Blizzards are

Stenholm rallies for child victims

Surrounded by 500 children on the steps of the U.S. Capitol, Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-Stamford) called on his colleagues to support legislation requiring stricter laws against child pornography.

Stenholm is the primary Democratic sponsor of H.R. 3298, the Child Abuse Victims Rights Act of 1985. The bill, which was introduced last week. mandates harsher penalties for criminals who sexually exploit children. Included in the bill is a clause for a mandatory life sentence or death sentence in kidnapping offenses involving the murder of a minor.

At a Thursday rally for the bill in front of the capitol, Congressman Stenholm said, "We are hoping to provide much needed protection for the most vulnerable section of our society, our children. I am filled with repulsion when I see and read about the sex pornography rings (See Stenholm page 10)

The Blizzards went to the scoreboard twice in the fourth quarter of the game. The first score came on a 12-yard pass from Chris Rives to Tommy Selby.

A two-yard pass from Rives to Lee Lujano added two points to the touchdown.

The Blizzard second Hatler carried the ball in from standout on the special teams."

Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children goes into full swing this week for Crippled Children went into full swing this week with trailers picking up cattle and horses in Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Oklahoma City, Catarina and San Antonio.

During the next two weeks cattle and horses will come from the large sprawling ranches to the livestock producer of less than 10 head.

The West Texas Rehabilitation Center, organized in 1953, receives part of its support from the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, now in its 26th year. Jim Alexander, general chairman of the Round-Up, stated this is not only a such needed program for WTRC but it has become a symbolic effort of livestock producers throughout the Southwest to let it be known they believe in the free enterprise system.

Alexander said that although proportionately cattle are bring-

'The Lions Club has voted to sponsor the Winters drive and place $250 in the fund to begin the $2,500 campaign for a Winters Room in the Hendrick League House," announced Gary Turner of the First United Methodist Church.

Hendrick League House will house out-of-town families of critically ill patients at Hendrick Medical Center. The facility, due to break ground October 24, will have 30 family rooms, a large den-like area and laundry facilities. Phone lines will be integrated with the Hendrick system, so families and nursing staff can maintain immediate contact.

Winters Breezes blow past Hamlin Pipers

Editor's note: article submitted by Coach Selby. *****

The Winters 8th Grade Breezes avenged the only blemish on their record last year. Last year Winters and Hamlin battled to a 22 to 22 tie. Our kids were ready to rectify that situation and did so by beating Hamlin, 13 to 0.

All in all, I wasn't very pleased with the effort of our team. Our execution on offense was far below our capabilities. We are capable of much better and we plan to make some changes and work extra hard during this upcoming week. Maybe it was due to the first game jitters or poor coaching that caused our problems. Regardless what the causes were, we are going to have to improve since our first District game comes up this week against Eastland.

On the whole, our offensive line did a good job opening holes for our backs to run through. These linemen were Gibo Lujano, Richard Lett, James Salazar, Dan Killough, Chris Perez, Mark Jacob, and Brandon Sellers. For the night, John Salazar rushed for about 100 vards and Jeremy DeLa Cruz accounted for another 40 yards.

The outcome of the game was decided by our defensive unit. The defense continually shut Hamlin's offense down and gave us the ball in good field position. (Our offense was inside the Hamlin 15 yard line four other times and failed to score.) Richard Lett did an outstanding job defensively collecting six solo tackles, eight assists, and he also caused a fumble and then recovered it himself. James Salazar made a great defensive play when he intercepted a pass deep in Hamlin territory. Other defensive standouts were Brady Cowan, Gibo Lujano, Chris Perez, and Richard Bryan.

Each week we will be selecting an outstanding offensive and defensive player of the week. The defensive player of the week goes to Richard Lett. The offensive player of the week is a tie between guard Gibo Lujano and center Chris Perez.

Maybe the mark of a good team is one that wins even though they don't play up to their abilities as a team. In any case, we are extremely pleased with the victory and hope to improve and have another undefeated season as we did last year.

The scoring for Winters: the 1st touchdown was on a nine yard run by Jeremy DeLa Cruz with Richard Lett kicking the extra point. The second touchdown came on a 12-yard run by Don Patton, and Lett's P.A.T. was no good.

Scoring by quarters was first, 0-0; second, 7-0; third, 13-0; and fourth, 13-0.

Our fan turnout was excellent and we wish to thank those who came out and supported our Junior High athletics. We really need your support and hope to see many more for our game against Eastland this Thursday.

THC releases new catalog

The physical evidence of Texas' colorful past is cataloged in a new publication from the Texas Historical Commission entitled A Catalog of Texas Properties in the National Register of Historic Places. The book describes more than 1,000 buildings, structures, objects, and archeological sites recognized for their historic significance.

For more than 15 years the THC has been nominating properties to the National Register and documenting their roles in national, state, and local heritage. The list began in 1969 with the best-known Texas landmarks, such as the State Capitol in Austin and the Bishop's Palace in Galveston.

Through the years, more obscure-but no less important-properties have been listed. The John Nance Garner House in Uvalde and the Caddoan Mounds of East Texas are not as famous as the Alamo campsites of nomadic Indians to the opulent homes of cattle and oil barons, the Register documents a wide variety of cultural artifacts.

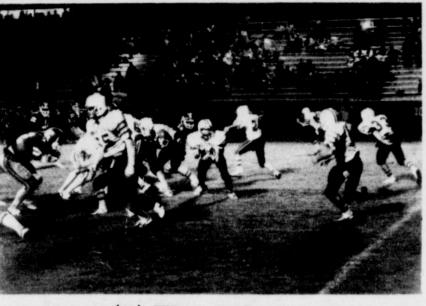

The new 250-page publication is the first updated catalog of National Register properties in Texas since 1980; hundreds of properties listed since then have been added. A 3,500-entry index helps readers locate properties and more than 200 illustrations provide examples of architectural styles, archeological artifacts, and boundary maps of historic districts.

A Catalog of Texas Properties in the National Register of Historic Places is available free from the THC, National Register Dept., P.O. Box 12276, Austin, TX 78711, 512/475-3094.

Social Security decides disability

Whether or not a person applying for Social Security disability benefits is disabled under the law is a decision made by the Disability Determination Services office in the State in which he or she lives. The decision is made by a team of trained people that includes a physician and a disability evaluation specialist.

In arriving at the decision, every reasonable effort is made to get medical evidence from the person's physician and from hospitals or other facilities where he or she may have been treated. The Government is authorized to pay a reasonable fee for any medical reports requested.

The physicians and facilities contacted for this purpose are asked for a summary of the person's medical history. This would include a diagnosis, the date of onset of the illness or injury, the degree to which it limits the person's activities, the results of any medical tests that may have been performed, and the treatment provided. The physician or facility is NOT asked to pass judgment on the extent of the individual's disability, if any.

If the medical information already available is not sufficient to permit an evaluation of the person's condition, a special examination or test may be required. Social Security will pay for such an examination or test, including certain travel expenses that may be associated with it.

It may take as long as 3 months to process a disability claim. Once a decision is reached, Social Security sends a written notice to the applicant advising him or her of the decision. If the claim is not approved, the notice will explain the basis for the decision.

General Situation

Recent rail showers have finally brought the moisture we've waited for for so long and hopefully a little relief from the heat! Although these showers are too late to help most of the cotton, they will offer a little hope as folks begin sowing grains for grazing.

Insect-wise we're about finished up. Insect activity in irrigated cotton fields continues but we've passed the time when spraying would pay in most situations.

A little cotton has been killed and stripped but most has a little ways to go. I expect that more dryland cotton will be killed by the end of the month, weather permitting.

usually a milder treatment than desiccation, although further plant development, including boll maturation, stops after the chemical is applied (ex: Def, Folex, Dropp).

Desiccants are chemicals that kill plant tissue and cause rapid loss of water from the foliage. Plants usually are killed so rapidly that defoliation cannot take place and leaves frequently remain attached to the plants. Desiccation of the entire plant is necessary in areas where cotton is stripper-harvested. In some instances, low application rates of desiccants may result in defoliation only, while high defoliant rates, together with high temperatures, can cause some plant desiccation. (ex: arsenic acid).

Growth regulators, a relatively new class of harvest-aid compounds, improve the maturity processes, such as boll opening, and aid in shedding late season squares and small bolls. These products should be applied when 50% of the cotton is open and the rest that will be ginable is in the mature boll stage. Early application of these products result in the shedding of immature bolls. "Prep" or "Ethrel" actually cause mature bolls to open more quickly than normal but they do not speed up the maturation process.

Don't "Jump The Gun" On Killing Cotton

Timely application of harvestaid chemicals such as desiccants and defoliants is very critical. The following information about timing applications is taken from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service publication L-2077, Cotton Harvest-aid Chemicals. Think it over...

The percentage of open bolls is the best guide for determining when to apply harvest-aid chemicals. A defoliant may be applied when 65% or more of the bolls are open. Delay application of desiccants until 75% or more of the bolls are open.

Cotton with rank growth should have at least 80% open. bolls before desiccating. Mature, unopen bolls are firm, cannot be dented by pressure exerted between the thumb and forefinger and cannot be cut easily with a sharp knift. At this stage, fiber and seed development is essentially complete, and only, minimal reduction in lint yield and quality will be caused by chemical treatment. On the other hand, harvest-aid application made too early can have the following adverse effect: Reduced lint yield, reduced micronaire value, lower seed grade, lower seed quality for planting purpose, reduced fiber strength.

The maturity of cotton fiber and seed cannot be hastened through the use of harvest-aid chemicals. Only time and favorable weather matures cotton. However, harvest-aid chemicals may promote more rapid opening of mature bolls and prepare the crop for earlier harvesting.

Weevils: To Kill Or Not To Kill Every fall we discuss adding insecticide to the defoliant (desiccant) for late season weevil control. I believe this is an inexpensive means of reducing our overwintering population.

It also is a timely practice because the last weevils to leave the field and enter overwintering habitat in the fall, are the last ones to come out the following spring. They are the individuals that are therefore most likely to be around when squaring cotton is available in the spring.

Many fields have had very few weevils this season and still don't have many. But other field have established populations and in these fields I think it would be a good idea to add GuthionR or methyl parathionR to the desiccant for weevil control.

Folks always wonder what good it does to apply insecticide with the desiccant if their neighbors do not do so. The weevils killed in each field would be the ones, if left living, that would enter overwintering habitat nearest that field. They would survive the winters there and by right close to the field to reinfest it the following spring. So the weevils killed in each field in the fall will actually reduce the over-wintering population that is closest to and would most likely effect that field the following spring. Therefore, I do think it is still an effective practice if single fields are treated but it would be MORE effective on a larger scale. Tidbits To The Ladies Small Boy: "Dad where are the Alps?" Father, absorbed in the evening paper: "Ask you mother. She's the one that puts everything away." The new couple in our neighborhood were entertaining at their first cookout, and the husband was obviously nervous. While the wife scurried cheerfully from kitchen to yard, he tended the fire and peppered her with questions about everything from beverages to utensils. My admiration for her ability to cope peaked when a small dark cloud spattered a few raindrops. "Joan, Joan!" the husband called in panic. "it's starting to rain!" Back came her reassuring answer: "I'll take care of it in a few minutes dear."

Banquet scheduled Texas Farmers Union, district 8 director Pete Ballew announced in mid-September that Joe Rankin of Ralls, president of Texas Farmers Union, is scheduled to address area family farmers at the Texas Farmers Union district 8 banquet in Stanton, Saturday, September 28.

1985 farm legislation is expected to be the topic.

Rankin, in early September, headed an intense three day lobbying effort in Washington D.C. where TFU members paid personal visits to members of the Texas Congressional delegation stressing the organization's goals for the 1985 Farm Bill. Other keynote speakers who have confirmed their participation in the meeting are Robert Girard, vice-president of Texas Farmers Union, and special guest Robert J. Mullins, Director of Legislative Services in the Washington, D.C. office of Na-

Benefits of Terraces

The benefits of terraces for moisture conservation and improved water distribution has long been recognized here with about 90 percent of the cultivated land protected with standard level, or level, parallel terraces. With today's high cost of farm equipment, fuel and labor, farmers are looking for ways to cut their operating expenses. The improved farmability of level, parallel terraces over standard level terraces can save plowing time in the field.

The Runnels County Sheep Committee is sponsoring a "Sheep Reproduction" program on Tuesday, October 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Ballinger Vocational Agricultural Building, according to Allen Turner, County Extension Agent.

All county and surrounding county producers are urged to attend this informative program.

Extend the life of your water heater

Texans living in hard water areas can prevent a buildup of sediment and scale in their hot water heaters either by installing a water softener or by draining enough water out of the heater each six months or so to remove sediment. "People who live in areas with extremely hard water and high sulfur content may find it advisable to drain the water heater as often as every other month," says Dr. Susan Quiring, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. Removing scale and sediment regularly can extend the lift of a hot water heater, she adds.

Snakebit VS. Insect Stings and Spider Bites

Mention a poisonous snake or just snake for than matter, and most people want to grab a club and rearrange its anatomical parts. Most snakes are highly beneficial since they consume rats, mice, rabbits, etc., but this does not seem to make any difference, most people still want snakes DEAD.

The fear of snakes runs deep in humans; however, the fear of insects should be appreciated as well. During the period of 1968-1983, 35 people died from poisonous snake bites while 79 people died of insect stings or spider bits. The Texas Department of Health also reports that during this same period 124 people were killed by lightening; 8,598 people drowned; and 60,233 people were killed in automobile accidents.

I'm not sure what all this means, but if you stop your car on a river crossing during a

That's how much you could lose just on resale value if you don't buy a John Deere

A year ago, we began updating you on tractor resale values. Here's the latest published data. Not surprisingly, John Deere looks even better ... and better. Is that important to you? Yes.

Always consider resale value when you price a field tractor. Because the differences among brands may sometimes be bigger than ANY purchase incentive.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1985 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 6-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for almost 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 79 percent of its 1979 list price. The other averages 72 percent.

What's that mean in dollars? Add the John Deere gain on original price to the competitor's loss. The John Deere advantage is as much as $9,237

Is this only true of one model? No. Four out of five 40 Series 90- to 180-hp tractors have average resale prices higher than their new price six years ago.

Hwy. 53 West

Is resale your only John Deere advantage? No. Don't forget the remarkable fuel efficiency of today's 50 Series John Deere tractors. And don't forget our unmatched reputation for high quality and high reliability. See your John Deere dealer. He'll be happy to explain the big difference between a low-price tractor and a low-cost John Deere: 100-hp 4050, 120-hp 4250, 140-hp 4450, 165-hp 4650 or 190-hp 4850. Hard water can result in high bills

Most people know that hard water requires use of more detergent or soap to get clothes and dishes clean. But few people are aware that hard water can also result in wasted energy and higher water heating bills, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist Dr. Susan Quiring. Research conducted at New Mexico State University has shown that both gas and electric water heaters use more Btus than those operated on softened water. The gas heaters operated on hard water in the study used 29.57 percent more Btus than those operated on softened water, reports the specialist. Likewise, the electric heaters operated on hard water used 21.68 percent more Btus.

cheaply. Opponents of this plan feel that the state needs more money for water projects, but not this much. They feel the conservation and environmentalprotection requirements are weak and that more research needs to be done. Proposition 2 would authorize the Legislature to approve the issuance of up to $200 million of general-obligation bonds for agricultural water-conservation projects. Both legislative approval and sale of the bonds would have to occur within four years of the effective date of this constitutional amendment.

Supporters feel this would allow the Legislature to set up a sound agricultural waterconservation program that will preserve land and water resources for future generations. The bond money could be used to expand a pilot program to help farmers maintain irrigated agriculture until research develops more waterefficient crop varieties and identifies new water supplies. The use of bonds means the program can be paid for without increasing anybody's taxes; and the state will not issue the bonds at all unless the Legislature is convinced by a 2/3 majority that state-backed financing is needed.

Opponents feel the amendment does not go far enough in conserving water in agriculture and that much more money is needed. They feel that aid under the pilot program is in the form of loans, and that farmers are reluctant to add to their debt and that since aid would go to individual farmers, it could well be unconstitutional.

As you can tell from this brief explanation of Propositions 1 and 2, the water proposals are very detailed and were drafted in an attempt to plan reasonably for the state's future water use and availability. While they are not perfect and not without flaws, it is at least a start. I feel we should pass them, get them in place, then try to make them better.

Be Ready for Cold Weather This Year with an Electric Heat Pump.

Don't wait for cold weather to set in again to start shopping for a new heating system. Start shopping today, and start with an electric heat pump.

The electric heat pump is the most efficient system for heating and cooling your home. One of the main reasons it is so efficient is because it MOVES heat rather than producing it.

There's heat in the air all the time . . . even in the winter! The electric heat pump pulls heat from the outside air in the winter and pumps it into your home. In the summer, it reverses the process and pulls the heat OUT of your home, so you get even comfort year round.

You'll not only save money in home energy bills with an electric heat pump, but WTU WILL PAY YOU A CASH BONUS FOR INSTALLING ENERGY EFFICIENT EQUIPMENT that meets the E.S.P. requirements in your home.

For more information on the electric heat pump or the Energy Savings Plan, call your local WTU office or any factory-trained electric heat pump dealer today.

Neva R. Lewis, of 407 S. Rogers, was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in Education during summer commencement ceremonies in August.

Baylor University officials awarded degrees to 542 students, according to Madelyn Jones, university registrar. Degrees awarded included 406 bachelor's degrees, 130 master's degrees and six doctorates.

Baylor officials also presented one of the university's most prestigious awards, the Alumnus Honoris Causa award, to John F. Baugh, chairman of the board of Sysco Corp. in Houston. The honor makes Baugh an honorary alumnus of the university.

Geoffrey Connor receives honor

Geoffrey S. Connor of Winters and Austin was an Honorable Mention for Ellsworth C. Dent Man of the Year. The award was announced at Sigma Tau Gamma's National Conclave held at Western Hills Resort, Oklahoma. He is the first member from Southwest Texas State University to be honored at the national level.

Geoffrey pledged the fraternity in the spring, 1983, and was Outstanding Delta Class Pledge. He served as chairman of public relations and then as Chapter President. He was the local Gaillardian favorite in 1984 and Leader of the Year in 1985.

Geoffrey is now a first-year student in the University of Texas Law School and heads the Delta Epsilon Chapter's alumni association. He is the son of Michael Connor and Pamela Avey-Underwood, both of Winters.

Neva Lewis receives Another tie for soccer team!

The Rainbows, under 10 girls, soccer team played a good game Saturday, losing 13-0, to The Unicorns of Abilene. It was hard on our girls because they didn't have any substitutes. Although The Unicorns kept sending in fresh players, our little Rainbows stayed in there fighting. A great big hand for our goalie, Sandee Curry!. The three players of the week were Starla Overman, Monica Harris and Lee Ann Scott. The Rainbows play the Tigerettes of Tye next Saturday at 4 p.m. on field seven. The Rainbow coaches are Sue Kirby, Dorothy Parks, and manager Pam Harper.

The Grimlins, under 10 boys, team fought hard against The Fantastiks Saturday. Although losing 2-0, they kept kicking. The Fantastiks kept the ball on their end most of the time, our guards kept them discouraged from our end of the field. The three players of the week were Michael Luna, Timmy Sherry, and Timothy Meyer. The Grimlins play The Outlaws next Saturday at 11:30 on field six. The Grimlin coaches are Ray Guevara, Charley Powers, and manager Amy Gray.

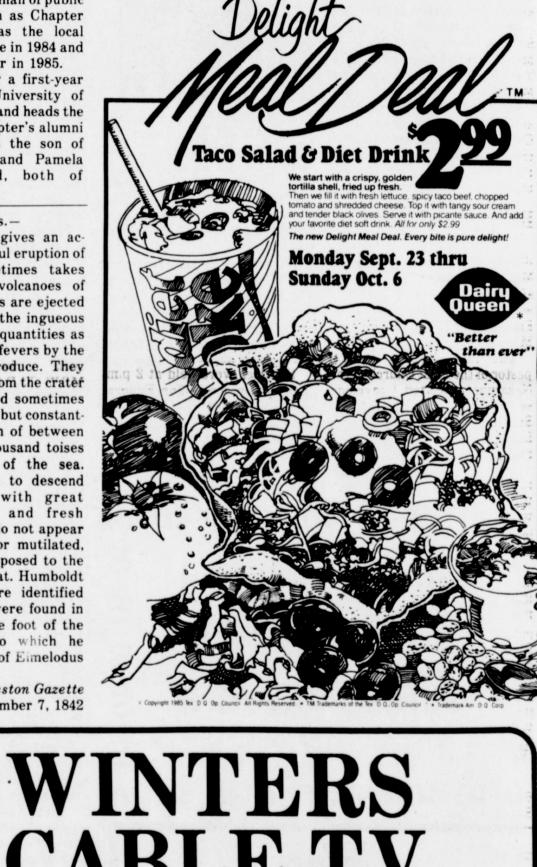

The Scorpions, under 12 boys, tied 1-1. The Scorpions doing some great passing and keeping the ball in their control at all times. Not letting the Jim Ned Indians have the ball until the last few seconds when they made their goal. Making the goal for The Scorpions was Josh Awalt. We have never seen a team get so aggressive on their first year together. Watch out Dallas, The Scorpions plan on going to State! The three players for the week were Chadd Springer, Richard Ochoa, and John Wayne. The Scorpions game next week is with The Wildcats, when they sting their scream down to a purr at 9:50 on field six. The Scorpions coaches are Joy Curry, Ronnie Curry, and manager Elizabeth Monse. Abilene at Lee Complex off of the Winters Freeway on North 10th.

The people of Runnels County need to come out and back these kids and this new sport of the County. These kids have a lot of get-up and go and lots of team spirit and would appreciate all the backing and fans they can get.

The inpatient phase of the program begins with the medical evaluation and carefully monitored withdrawal from the drug and/or alcohol in a safe, comfortable environment. After detoxification, the patient begins the rehabilitation phase which lasts four to five weeks. This phase consists of an intensive schedule of lecture sessions, structured and unstructured groups, and individual counseling sessions. In addition, patients attend four to six Alcholics Anonymous meeting per week, Darby said.

The approach CareUnit takes is that addiction is a disease, much like diabeties, and that, with treatment and continued recovery, the patient will learn white collar executives; men and women, and from all races and backgrounds. Referrals for the unit have come from family physicians, clergymen, industry, and business, families and friends, attorneys, and schools, Center is located. Approximately 20 patients a month are from Winters and Runnels County.

"We are delighted to see Winters begin work for the Winters Room. We hope they will soon be able to join our other rooms, Anson, Albany, Wingate and Abilene. A real need exists for patient families who live out-of-town to stay near their ill or injured loved ones. Hendrick League House will be ready when you need to be near," said Winston C. Beard, president of the Hendrick Medical Center Foundation.

Contributions for the Winters Room may be sent to the Lions Club-Hendrick League House Fund at the Winters State Bank. For more information, contact Lee Harrison, bank vice president.

Governor Duval, whose son, among others, was murdered at Goliad, has determined to avenge him by raising two thousand troops in Kentucky, and, with them, joining the Texas forces by the first of October. He states that he is making $10,000 per annum by his profession, but says that neither that nor any domestic ties shall deter him from this one engrossing object. for their labor," was the rallying cry this week of Texas Farmers Union members joining over 350 farmers, ranchers, workers, rural business people and bankers nationwide in a National Farmers Union all-out lobbying effort on Capitol Hill.

'Once again the voice of the American farmer was heard," said Joe Rankin, president of Texas Farmers Union and leader of the Texas delegation. "Farmers want a farm bill they can live with. Our attempt-and I believe it was successful was to make the needs of rural America clear before the final version of the 1985 Farm Bill is drafted.

Referring to a tentative version of the Farm Bill released by both the Senate and House Agriculture Committees prior to summer recess, Rankin said, "The small family farm owners will not survive a "free market" philosophy. There are those in the Reagan Administration who claim this type of farm program will halt the solvency crisis besieging rural America. This could not be further from the truth.

"The simple fact is that this philosophy would cause a drastic tumble in prices for farm goods, creating a world price war that farmers-without the financial backing of our governmentwould surely lose. Small farm operations would be forced out and big corporate style operations would take over.

"We are not independent. Every major exporting nation subsidizes their farmers in some way or another. American agriculture is in a state of emergency. It's time Congress woke up to this fact."

Robert Girard, vice-president of Texas Farmers Union and a election bids in 1986 the House and Senate are giving careful consideration to farm policy decisions." The group made up of Texas

Farmers Union members from Nueces, Haskell, Wilson, Hopkins, Bastrop, Crosby, McLennan, Hansford, Hopkins and Liberty counties concentrated on five points Farmers Union believes vital to perserving the family farm system:

-Non-recourse loan rates and/or target prices which will provide a return equal to at least the cost of production including debt retirement, management costs and return on investment.

-Mandatory supply management programs adopted through producer referendum for all basic commodities.

-Realistic limitations on payments and loans to target those benefits to the family farms.

-Continuation of the farmerowned reserve.

-Effective soil and water conservation programs.

Lobbying efforts of the group were rewarded in part late Tuesday, September 10, when the House Agriculture Committee approved a farm bill that included several provisions advocated by Farmers Union.

"It's still far from adequate," said Rankin, "but hopefully we now have something to work with.

Stenholm and individuals who exploit these helpless kids, and I feel more repulsion when these criminals seemingly escape without the punishment befitting this crime. This bill is designed to give our law enforcement officers the tools they need to more effectively combat such hideous acts.' Along with the deathsentence section, the bill also imposes mandatory minimum sentences of not less than five years and up to 25 years for second offenders of child pornography statutes. The legislation would also create a national clearing house of information on cases involving child sexual abuse. The joint classification system, using FBI and National Crime Information Center reports, would help cross reference similar cases and repeat offenders. Stenholm will carry the legislation on the Democratic side of the aisle. He co-sponsored the bill with Congressman Jack Kemp (R-New York).

lamp now standard in new cars

You're going to see more and more cars on the highway this fall sporting an additional safety feature - an eye-level rear brake light that will reduce the danger of rear-end collisions.

Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Hanford Dole, who has made safety her number one priority, said, "We expect to cut the number of rear-end collisions significantly, eliminate some 40,000 injuries and save annually an estimated $434 million in property damages once all vehicles on the road are equipped with the third lamp."

Cars manufactured after September 1, 1985, will be required to have the new rear stop lamp, which will supplement the two lower brake lights. The regulation requires the third stop lamp to be mounted on the centerline of a vehicle, between the trunk and the top of the roof, either inside or outside the rear window.

The additional lamp is the result of a new passenger car equipment regulation issued by the U.S. Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The new rule follows federal research on vehicle rear lighting systems in an effort to reduce one of the most costly and common types of traffic accident. In 1984 alone, there were an estimated 3.8 million collisions in which a passenger car was struck from behind.

DOT sponsored on-the-road field studies using taxi cab fleets and nationwide telephone company cars in the research. Vehicles in the study equipped with the additional, eye-level stop lamp had 53 percent fewer braking-related rear-end accidents than vehicles without the added light.

Owners of older vehicles may equip their cars with this additional safety equipment by purchasing it from an auto supply store or from auto dealerships. DOT cautions "do-it-yourself" installers to follow carefully the manufacturer's instructions. Proper installation will ensure that no technical complications arise when the new lamp is used. "The sooner all vehicles are equipped with the eye-level stop lamp, the sooner all of us will benefit from this additional safety protection," Secretary Dole said.

Eye-level auto stop Security to be tightened in U.S.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Saturday that the number of Texans with access to classified military information will be cut by 17,000 this month, as part of a nationwide effort to tighten security. But the Senator said the cuts need to go much deeper.

Bentsen is a member of the Select Committee on Intelligence, which is examining security clearance and document classification procedures in the wake of the Walker spy case.

"Arthur and John Walker, two retired Navy men, had had clearances for top secret information for a great many years and were never reinvestigated during tha time," Bentsen said.

The Walker brothers were arrested in May, and Arthur Walker already has been convicted, on espionage charges related to the sale of military secrets to the Soviets. The U.S. Department of Defense, which administers more than 90 percent of our current security clearances, is reducing the number of people with security clearances in reaction to the Walker case.

"By October 1, the Defense Department is going to cut by 10 percent those persons who have access to top secret or other types of classified material. We have far too many. We have 4.5 million people in this country who have access to secret information," Bentsen said.

First

"In Texas there are 170,000 people who have some form of security clearance, which will be reduced by 17,000 at the end of this month as part of the nationwide cutback. Most of these are employees of the many defense contractors in Texas, while others are soldiers."

"But we need to cut back much more. It's very difficult, if not impossible to reinvestigate so many people over a period of years to be sure they have not become risks from a security standpoint."

"So I'm going to work on legislation to re ' ice, not just by 10 percent but by half, those people with access to things that are important to the nation and that we don't want divulged." Bentsen said.

'We have to make sure that our secrets stay secret. To do that I am convinced we have to cut down both on the amount of classified information and number of people with access to it," Senator Bentsen said.
