I hope that all of our teachers are nearing a back-to-normal state following Monday's test to see if the teachers could read reading.

From what has been heard about the tests, they were an insult to the intelligence of a majority of the teachers.

A student of an elementary school teacher posed an interesting question to her teacher last Friday. She asked the teacher who would be teaching the class on Tuesday if the teacher didn't pass the test Monday.

Politically, the testing of the teachers just doesn't make sense. The test idea seems to have originated in the office of Governor Mark White.

The big, state-wide teacher organization provided a big bunch of support for Mark when he first ran for the office and the giving of that support is something that I would bet has been regretted ever since by that organization.

The thing that doesn't make sense is this: All the pressure and discomfort placed on the teachers across our state is a funny way for a big-time politician to express his appreciation for the support given him in the last election.

I'm not going to even try to guess who that teacher organization will support in the race this year for the top office in the state.

I might risk a prediction as to which candidate the teachers will not support.

Aside from insulting the teachers, our state has contradicted itself in a way. With all the emphasis placed on good grades and attendance the students were given a day off from school while the teachers took the infamous test.

The test was also an affront to the taxpayers of this state. With all the talk of how the economy is suffering in Texas, just think of the millions of dollars that were spent to have some educated somebody dream up such a quiz.

Then there was the cost of printing and administering the exam.

One teacher made the comment that in our state there was a need for another 30,000 teachers and that there were some thoughts from somewhere that indicated that the test would result in 10,000 teachers ending up without a job.

To me the whole idea just

Public meeting set for elusive Concho snake

A public meeting has been scheduled for Thursday, April 3, in the District Courtroom in the Runnels County Courthouse to discuss the Harter's Water Snake.

A spokesman in the Washington, D. C. office of Congressman Charles Stenholm said Tuesday that the meeting called to allow persons with information about the rare snake to present the information with regard to the possibility of the snake being added to the list of endangered species.

If the snake is added to the endangered list it could hamper the construction of the long-awaited Stacy Dam project.

The spokesman said that the meeting was called in response to action by the Fish and Wildlife Office in Albuquerque, New Mexico. That office is pushing to have the snake added to the list.

Stenholm's office urged anyone with any knowledge of the snake, which is thought to inhabit only the Concho River, to be present at the meeting and to provide information relating to the snake's population in the area.

The officials in the Fish and Wildlife office had planned to hold the meeting in San Angelo but, Congressman Stenholm said if such a meeting were held, it should be held in the area to be primarily affected by the con-

It's that time of year again

With the warm days and cool nights of this time of year, it is a time for the rattle snakes to be out and about. In several places around the area rattle snake round-ups are scheduled or have just completed.

This big rattler was captured last week by Ace Polk and Freddie Grohman and delivered, along with over 100 other snakes to the Sweetwater

Jaycees Rattle Snake Round-up.

By the way, the photographer did not really get that close to the critter. The close-up portrait was produced by the magic of the tele-photo-zoom lens.

The snake was over five feet long and was rather less than amused at having his picture taken.

From Shrimp to Sugar

The Young Farmer's tour of the Rio Grande Valley continued with a visit to the Laguna Madre Shrimp Farm Friday afternoon, located at Los Fresnos, where shrimp is raised commercially. This was our most unusual experience.

Jack Parker, owner and operator, said the farm was the only operation of its kind in the United States. "We raise salt water shrimp from March to the end of November each year. We will be putting water in the ponds in the next ten days. Salt water comes from the Gulf of Mexico and rain is not needed," he said.

Last year 250,000 pounds of shrimp was produced. The farm has been increased from 140 to 500 acres and there should be a crop of 500,000 shrimp this year. They are fed once a day on protein fish meal that costs 22 cents a pound. It takes 120 days from the time they are stocked in the ponds to produce a shrimp. Two crops a year are grown; in March and June.

The shrimp farm was established five years ago. A lot of stock came from Equador. The entire life style of the shrimp can be controlled. They are very sensitive to the light and one eye is removed from the female to make her more productive—she will lay twice as many eggs with only one eye. Shrimp have eyes that stand out on stems. After the female has laid her eggs she is tagged with all necessary information on her one remaining eye and placed in a dark room until she is to be used again for breeding purposes.

Processing is done at Port Isabel and the count is from 16 to 20 shrimp per pound. No preservatives are used and shrimp raised under controlled environment are fresher than

An early departure with luggage on Saturday morning gave us a chance to visit the sugarcane grinding mill at Santa Rosa, one of the most modern in the United States, on our way to the King Ranch.

All of the sugarcane in Texas, 40,000 acres, is grown in Hidalgo, Willacy and Cameron counties. The sugar mill at Santa Rosa is one of the most modern in the United States. It is owned by the Sugar Grower's Association and a farmer has to become a member before he can get his grain processed.

We were told that 30 to 37 acres of cane will make a million or more tons of cane. This in turn will make 80 to 120 thousand tons of sugar. The first year's production costs are about $600 an acre. Cane is grown from live cane, not seeds, the stalks are hand planted and covered. They must be irrigated, it takes about 40 to 50 inches of water a year, and the crop matures in 12 months.

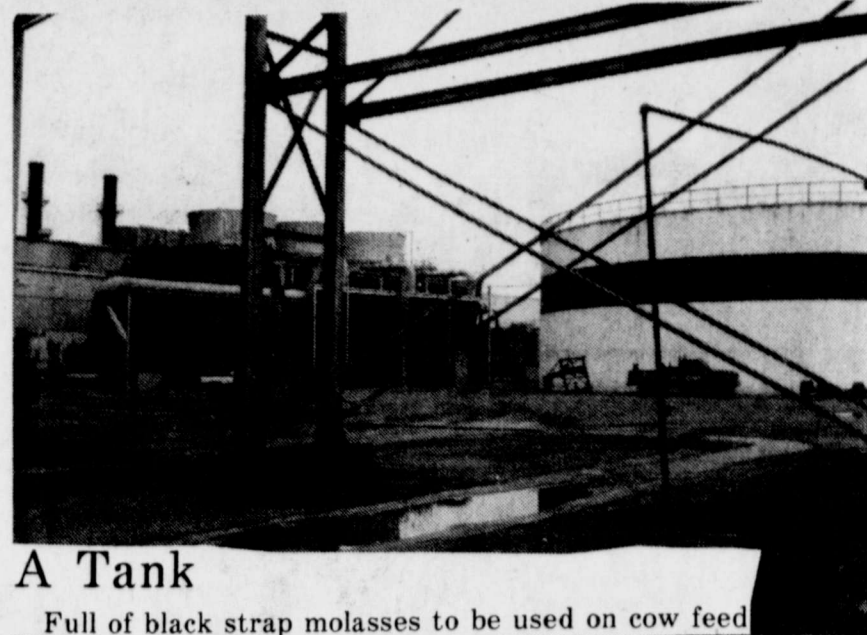

Cane comes back every year, but after six years it must be replanted. There are 16 varieties of cane but three main ones; early, middle and late maturing which is January. The winter cane is the sweetest. The leaves contain no sugar and they are burned in the field before harvesting. Twenty tons of sugarcane can be brought in a truck to be crushed and the sugar extracted. The raw sugar is placed in box cars and sent to Sugarland, near Houston, for refining, most of it is sold to Imperial.

The juice is heated and cleaned, then cooked in vacuum pans to make black strap molasses. It is kept in large tanks and sold to farmers to be used on cow feed.

The refinery has a total of 100 trucks and 145 drivers, 55 trucks and 60 trailers. There are four tractors, 30 German made harvesters and a tire shop

Mr., Mrs. Russell Sneed to celebrate 40th anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sneed invite you to share in the celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary to be held from 2 until 4 p.m., March 16, 1986, at the Winters Housing Authority Building, 300 North Grant.

The celebration will be hosted by their children Richard, Susan and Sharon.

Girl Scouts to join sister Scouts in Heart of Texas Council for 74th birthday

On March 12, Winters Girl Scouts will join their more than two thousand sisters Scouts in Heart of Texas Council and approximately three million Girl Scouts nationally in observance of the 74th birthday of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Girl Scout Week will be celebrated by the Girl Scouts of our community from March 9 to March 15.

Seventy-four years ago the first Girl Scouts learned to raise their chickens and spin wool. Today, their descendants may learn to change the washer on a faucet, rewire a lamp, style hair, develop photographs, clean and set a gap on a lawn-mower spark plug, or write a computer program.

In communities all over the country—and all over the world where Americans are stationed—almost three million girls and women are busy helping themselves even as they help those around them.

They are planting trees and shrubs to beautify and preserve the environment—theirs, as well as their neighbors. Everybody benefits, and the girls learn about the relationship between living things even as they master some practical skills.

They are "adopting a grandparent"—sharing their lives and even their pets with older people, for whom they often fill a great void. In the process they gain understanding, love, and the joy of being needed.

They are exploring all kinds of careers—from acting to dancing to flying to computer technology to business management. They are also simply having fun—playing games, hiking, camping and much more.

In a sense, today's Girl Scouts are following the trail blazed by Juliette Gordon Low in 1912 when she started the Girl Scout movement in the United States, although Girl Scouting has constantly changed and evolved to meet changing needs and interests.

More than ever, Girl Scouting is for girls of all ages, especially since the inauguration of Daisy Girl Scouts for kindergarten age. The program grows with them as it helps them grow.

Whether teaching a skill or providing a service, Girl Scouting combines the excitement of learning with the joy of giving. Through various projects which address the contemporary issues facing young girls today, Girl Scouting offers an opportunity to meet the challenges of our modern society and to have fun doing it.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. It is open to all girls ages five through seventeen who subscribe to its ideals as stated in the Girl Scout Promise and Law.

Lutherans GIVE

Not because we have to. But because we choose to. We want to. Or we don't. Giving grows out of loving and loving comes from God. We know love because God first loved us. We have known love and so we love. We have known giving and so we give. Giving is response to God's love. Our giving makes things happen. Around the block and around the world mouths are fed, spirits are nurtured, wells are dug, bodies are healed, and lives are changed. All because we give. All because we love. All because God first loved us. The Lutheran Church welcomes you.

Unclaimed money fund to be published

Do you know an Elizabeth Taylor? How about Robert Taylor? Woodrow Seals? William Shoemaker? How about Walter Scott and Tom Sawyer? These are only a few of the famous names found in the 1986 edition of the Texas State Treasury's Unclaimed Money Fund, which will be published March 9 in 17 newspapers across Texas.

There are others. The 34-page list contains the names of 150,000 Texans who have "lost" or abandoned accounts reported to State Treasurer Ann Richards. The total amount of money represented by the list is $117 million.

While preparing the list for publication, State Treasury staff members noticed many famous names.

Among them are: former dictator Anastasio Somoza, TV evangelist Jimmy Swaggart, and writer Ann Beattie.

With almost 1,300 place names, the list is also a gazetteer to little known Texas towns. For example, you can live in Egypt, Troy, Sudan, Trinidad, Earth, Orient, Paradise, Eden, Elysian Fields, Utopia, or in Thrall.

Female names out number male names by a large margin. Male place names include Guy, Fred, Ivanhoe, Robert Lee and Anthony, but female names on the list are almost without number: Josephine, Loraine, Lorena, Marietta, Maud, Melissa, Myra, Paige, Penelope, Patricia, and Pearl are just a few.

One can look at Old Glory in Texas as well as a Sundown, Sunray and Sunset. Of course, one can also Wink but if you do, you might miss Arp. There is a Happy and a Moody. You can Ponder a Knot until the Frost comes. Or you can be a Novice or get a New Deal.

You can run a Marathon and be a Halfway there or maybe just Midway.

You can be Wellborn, a Star or simply a Rising Star.

Or you could be a Krum, a Weiner or a Turkey.

There's such a thing as dognip—a weed called Stinking Goose Foot that smells awful to humans but enticing to canines.

GSPA calls for new start on Farm Bill

The National Grain Sorghum Producers Association has requested that Congress re-write the 1985 farm program. After reviewing the provisions and implementation of the "Food Security Act of 1985", the National GSPA board of directors stated its view that the program will only accelerate the farm bankruptcy crisis. The board endorsed a resolution calling for Congress to consider the "Food and Fiber Security Program" which was ratified by the National GSPA membership and board in 1984.

The following statement was mailed to all members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives.

"Due to the excessive cost of administering and implementing the "Food Security Act of 1985", National GSPA feels the program is unfair to farmers and taxpayers. The program will lower income to American farmers without achieving the goal of making American commodities competitive on world markets. In addition, it will be a tremendous drain on American taxpayers. Action should be taken immediately to replace the "Food Security Act of 1985" with a program which will cost less and do more for farmers.

"To achieve this goal, we feel consideration of the National GSPA proposed "Food and Fiber Security Program" should be paramount. We feel strongly that, under our proposal, farmers' incomes would be raised. American farm commodities would again be competitive and federal program cost would be reduced by an estimated $42 billion."

Lot of good farmers might be saved

A farm debt restructuring plan announced Thursday (March 6) by Farm Bureau could help save thousands of farmers and ranchers from bankruptcy or liquidation, according to S.M. True, president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

The Plainview farmer said the two-tier restructuring program approved by the American Farm Bureau Federation board of directors in Chicago March 4 essentially would allow a farmer's debt to be paid back over a longer period of time.

"This could save a lot of good farmers who otherwise might lose everything they have, and it would enable some troubled banks to salvage money that would otherwise be lost," said True, who is a member of the AFBF board.

The AFBF will seek support of its program with private and government lending institutions, True said.

"We will seek regulatory and legislative changes necessary to allow commercial banks to institute such a program and the regulatory changes necessary from the Farm Credit Administration and operational changes within all entities of the Farm Credit System to institute such a program," he said.

True said the Texas Farm Bureau has already begun contacting private and Farm Credit System lending institutions in Texas to see if the plan can be expedited.

Summer camping programs abound for Texas 4-H'ers this year.

The Texas 4-H Center, located on Lake Brownwood in the heart of central Texas, offers a unique camping experience for youth 9-19, says Dana Craddock, county Extension Agent-H.E. with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University.

For 9 to 11 year olds, four-day camps are scheduled for July 6-9 and July 9-12.

Youth aged 12 to 14 can attend camps July 13-16 and July 16-19.

These camps offer fun and adventure and include swimming, sailing, canoeing, shooting sports, crafts, outdoor cookery, high adventure, recreation and parties.

For youth aged 14 to 19, a weeklong special interest camp is offered June 23-28 to provide in-depth training in a selected area, including computers, shooting sports, food and fitness, canoeing and sailing, clothing, tennis, photography or water skiing. This training is combined with the fun and excitement of camp life, and evenings provide "whole camp" activities.

Campers of all ages learn to adjust to camp environment, share responsibilities and appreciate natural surroundings while enjoying the fun of activities designed especially for them Miss Craddock points out.

Experience resource teachers and qualified college-aged counselors conduct activities. County Extension agents and volunteer adult leaders supervise campers at all times.

For applications or additional information, contact the county Extension office, says the agent.

Free shade trees for spring planting

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving ten free shade trees to people who join the nonprofit Foundation during March, 1986.

A Sugar Maple, Weeping Willow, Red Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, Silver Maple, Tuliptree, European Mountainash, and Red Maple tree will be given as part of the Foundation's campaign to encourage tree planting.

These trees were selected because they provide flowers, berries and nuts, in addition to shade and beauty, according to John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director.

The Foundation will give the ten free trees to members contributing $10 during March. The six-to-twelve inch trees will be shipped this spring between March 1 and May 31 when conditions are right for planting. They will be sent with enclosed planting instructions, and are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free by the Foundation.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to TEN SHADE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, Nebraska, by March 31, 1986.

Runnels County rumors

1986 Farm Program

1.) Wheat and feed grain program participants will receive 2 1/2% of their base as a paid land diversion in PIK.

2.) Wheat producers have the option to reduce their harvested acres by 10% of the farm base and receive an additional diversion payment on this acreage. The farm does not have to have wheat planted to be eligible for this. Diversion payments will be in PIK.

3.) Producers who plant at least 50% of their permitted acreage but less than 92%, will be eligible to draw deficiency payments on up to 92% of the permitted acreage if they devote the remainder of the permitted to a non-program crop AND provide the required set-aside.

4.) Total bases on the farm will be limited to the amount of available cropland on the farm. It is the producers option as to which base or bases to reduce.

5.) Crop Acreage Bases (SAB) will be established for each farm.

-A.) The most recent procedure calls for wheat and feed grain bases to be a straight 5 year average of the 1981 through 1985 planted and considered planted acreages.

-B.) Cotton bases will be the smaller of (1) the 1981 through 1985 planted and considered planted acreages, excluding "zero" years, or (2) the average of the 1984 and 1985 planted and considered planted acreages with no adjustments made for "zero" year.

6.) The 1986 program yields will be an average of the 1981 through 1985 effective (or payment) yields, excluding the high and the low yields, to result in a 3 year average. Yield will be assigned for years with missing yields.

7.) Producers can late-file acreage reports for 1981 through 1985 if the failed to do so at the appropriate time. They must provide documentation to back up their report. The charge is $20.00 per crop per farm per year. The county committee will decide on the validity of each report.

8.) Advance payments must be requested by the end of sign-up (April 11). Wheat and feed grain producers will receive a 40% advanced deficiency payment, based on an estimated deficiency of $1.83 per bushel for wheat and 98 cents per bushel for milo. 75% of this amount (30% of the total) will be in cash, while 25% (10% of the total) will be in PIK. If a producer accepts the cash advance, he must also accept the PIK. The PIK will be available from May 1 through September 30.

9.) Cotton producers can request a 30% advance (7.8 cents of a projected 26 cents), which will be all cash.

10.) To be eligible for program benefits, producers must be enrolled and in compliance with program provisions.

Conservation Reserve Program
1.) Sign-up will be March 3 through March 14, 1986 for the 1986 program. Sign-up will be held this summer for 1987 program.

2.) To be eligible, cropland must have been planted or considered plants, 2 out of 5 years between 1981 through 1985.

3.) Land must be in capability class VI, VII, or VIII or eroding at 3 times the tolerance level if in capability class II-V.

4.) ASCS will cost share 50% of the cost to establish a permanent cover on the land.

5.) Contracts are for 10 years and cover must be maintained for the life of the contract.

6.) Producers wishing to participate will make bids for the amount of annual rent they will accept. Bids will be dollars and cents.

7.) The bids will be ranked and the lowest bids in our pool will be accepted. The pool that includes Runnels County stretches from Val Verde County to Lipscomb County and includes the Rolling Plains.

8.) The payment limit is $50,000 per year per person which is separate from the payment limit for the regular farm program.

9.) Haying and grazing will not be permitted.

Cotton Production

If you have yet to turn in your cotton production cards, please do so before you forget.

Cotton Deficiency

The 1985 cotton deficiency payment rate is 23.7 cents. These checks were mailed a couple of weeks ago. Get in touch with us if you anticipated one, but have yet to receive it.

Eligibility

Eligibility to participate in all programs administered by ASCS is established under law without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, handicap or national origin.

Texas Farmers Union oppose cuts

Texas farmers will have to tighten their belts another notch if Reagan's proposed 18 percent cut in the Agriculture Department's budget is approved in his national budget proposal for 1987.

"The administration is going to try to pay for their defense increase by taking funds from agriculture programs that are already at the bottom of the priority barrel," Joe Rankin, president of Texas Farmers Union said recently.

The budget calls for the 1986 food and farm program, estimated at $4.1 billion to be reduced in fiscal year 1987 to $4.6 billion.

The budget trimming includes commodity price and income supports, farm lending, crop insurance and agriculture extension funding.

"While many rural Texans are struggling to stay above water, the budget proposes to eliminate federal involvement in rural areas by cutting most of the rural development programs," Rankin said. "The Extension Service, which provides education in agriculture, home economics, and community development, could lose about 60 employees in Texas alone.

"The national deficit needs to be dealt with, but not to the point of pushing thousands of small farmers off their land," Rankin said.

A heavy dew is actually the portent of good weather. On cloudless nights the earth loses its heat more rapidly, and a heavier dew results.

NORTHROP KING GRAIN SORGHUMS

NK BRAND 2244 & NK 2244 SCREEN TREATED
This widely adapted medium maturing grain hybrid is hard to beat. The compact uniform plants show above average standability, excellent threshability and a high yield capacity. The large semi-open heads have hetero-yellow grain and are 38 to 46 inches tall. The plants have shown an above average level of resistance to downy mildew and Biotype C greenbugs.

NK BRAND 2030 & NK 2030 SCREEN TREATED
This hybrid is extremely uniform, well adapted to non-irrigated conditions and has demonstrated high yield capacity. Good greenbug resistance and drought tolerance make this a good hybrid for areas with 12 to 18 inches moisture and 130-150 day growing seasons.

NK BRAND 2018
The semi-open heads of this medium early maturing hybrid are well exerted on strong standing plants. 2018 is a short, uniform, drought tolerant hybrid. It has very good greenbug resistance and standability. In test, yields have been high for a hybrid of this maturity. The semi-open heads dry down quickly and thresh easily.

NK 180
Star of the early maturity class is NK 180 grain sorghum. Drought resistance and quick maturity are the big reasons for its stellar performance. NK 180 comes through with big yields of brown-seeded grain from compact heads. Head mold resistance keeps the grain clean for harvest. Excellent standability makes the grain easy to cut.

4-H's have busy week in San Angelo

The week of March 4-8 was a busy time for many Runnels County 4-H members. The San Angelo Livestock Show was being held in San Angelo and twenty 4-H'ers exhibited their entries for competition.

The market lamb show is always tough and this year, Kevin Eschberger, of Miles, placed 5th in the heavy weight fine wool class and Paul Patton, of Ballinger placed 8th in the heavy weight in the fine wools cross Class. Other lamb exhibitors were Kristy Hays, Clint Warren, Adam Warren, Raenese Turner, Tiffany Hoffmann, Steven Rutledge, Jennifer Cape and Melody Cape, all from Ballinger, Jenifer Schwertner, Kyle Eschberger, Amanda McCown and Kenra McCown, from Miles, also participated. Norton area exhibitors were Deron Robinson, Barbara Belk and H. A. Belk.

In the cattle show, Marci Caffey, from Winters, placed 10th in the light heavyweight steer class. John Dankworth, of Ballinger, placed 8th with his 14 month old class in the Simmental breeding heifer show.

Summer Berry, of Ballinger, also exhibited her market barrow entry as did Jenifer Schwertner, of Miles.

This is the final show for the year for these 4-H'ers that have worked very hard with their livestock projects.

Fifteen Runnels County 4-H members recently exhibited their livestock projects in the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo in Houston, on February 26-28.

In the market Steer show, Summer Berry, of Ballinger, placed 6th in the middleweight Hereford class and Brandon Halfmann, of Olfen, placed 10th in the lightweight Simmental class. Also exhibiting steers were Amanda Hoelscher, from Rowena, and Scott Shifflett, of Winters.

The market lamb show had eleven Runnels County 4-H in competition. Paul Patton, of Ballinger, placed 2nd in the Texas Land Board reduces interest rates

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro announced a reduction in the interest rate charged to Texas Veterans for home loans made through the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program.

"Today's action by the Texas Veterans Land Board lowers the interest rate on Texas VHAP loans from 9.97 percent to 9.5 percent. The new rate will be in effect for all loans made beginning Monday, March 10," Mauro said Thursday.

Mauro said the drop in rates was made possible by the record-setting interest rate the Texas Veterans Land Board received in a December bond sale when CitiCorp Investment Bank of New York purchased $250 million in tax-exempt bonds to provide continued funding for the popular home loan program.

Mauro also noted that the rate reduction was also achieved by continued belt-tightening within the agency and additional streamlining of the loan closing process.

"The Texas Veterans Land Board will continue to search for new ways to pass additional savings on to Texas Veterans by insisting on cost-efficient, businesslike management of both the Texas Veterans Land lightweight Southdown class against stiff competition. Other 4-H'ers exhibiting their lambs were Clint Warren, Adam Warren, Jennifer Bickel and Brian Bickel, all of Ballinger. Also, Deron Robinson and Connie Robinson, from Norton, Kendra McCown, Amanda McCown, Kevin Eschberger and Kyle Eschberger, all from Miles.

Deron Robinson also exhibited an entry in the market barrow show.

Program and the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program," Mauro said.

The Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program provides a $20,000 long-term, low-interest loan to eligible Texas Veterans to apply toward the purchase of a home. More than 27,000 Texas Veterans have participated in the program since its beginning in 1983 by combining a Texas VHAP loan with a conventional private sector loan, and FHA, or a federal VA loan.

Mauro stressed that the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program "continues to offer the best deal in Texas for Veterans searching for affordable housing" because unlike a federal VA loan or conventional financing, there are no points charged on the $20,000 Texas VHAP loan.

"In today's environment, if you combine a federal VA loan with a $20,000 Texas VHAP loan, you can save $400 at closing on a $76,000 home purchase. Not charging points on our money is a distinct advantage that every Veteran should be aware of," Mauro said.

Both the land and the home loan programs are funded by the sale of general obligation bonds that are repaid from fees charged to those using the program, at no cost to the taxpayer.

Most Wanted

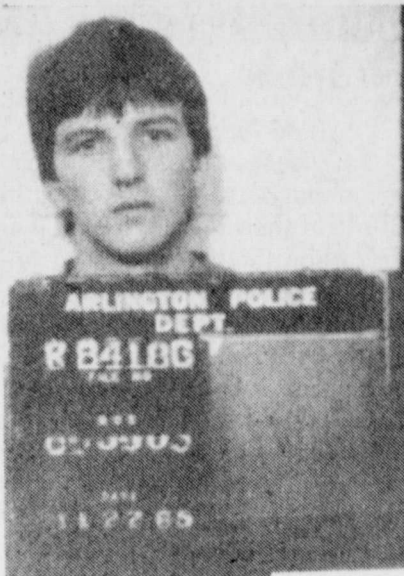

For years the City of Arlington has been known for its excellent tourist attractions such as Six Flags, Wet 'N Wild and as the home of the Texas Rangers baseball team.

One of the fastest-growing communities in Texas, Arlington has owed much of its success to its prime location between Dallas and Fort Worth.

But now Arlington has had to share the crime increase that has plagued its larger neighbors in the past year.

Investigators point out that much of the crime problem in Arlington is the work of transient criminals.

They offer Mark Lane Winters as the type of transient individual they have been investigating.

Winters, a 19-year-old San Antonio native, had been working as a floor installer for a Fort Worth business back in November, 1985.

During the short time he was working in the Metroplex, Winters was accused of committing at least two armed robberies to Arlington businesses.

On November 18, a white male robbed the Days Inn in Arlington. It was one of three motel robberies in the Arlington area within a short period of time.

Then on November 25, the Shoe Box Store in Arlington's Six Flags was robbed.

Police reports indicate a lone white male entered the store around 4:55 p.m. and walked up to a clerk. The man showed her the butt of a pistol that was tucked in his pants and ordered the employee to give him some money.

As the clerk was complying with the gunman's demand, a second employee approached and asked what was happening.

The robber said, "Back off lady, I've got a gun."

He escaped with about $250 in cash. Arlington Police detectives connected Winters to the Shoe Box robbery during the course of their investigation into the Days Inn crime.

Winters was positively identified in a photo lineup by both the motel clerks and the employees at the Shoe Box.

Warrants have been issued for his arrest, charging him with two counts of Aggravated Robbery. However, it appears Winters has continued his transient existence.

This week Winters has been added to the Texas Most Wanted list. A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered by the Governor's Office for information leading to the capture of Mark Lane Winters.

Winters is described as a white male, 5-8, 116 pounds, with brown hair and hazel eyes.

Anyone with information about his possible location is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers Program. In all cases, callers do not have to reveal their identities.

Texas Most Wanted is a cooperative program between the Department of Public Safety and Texas Crime Stoppers.

The 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team is seeking former members

The 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team Association is actively seeking former members of the Regiment who served any time during World War II, Korea, Vietnam or the present. Members of any of the battalions and attached units, either when the Regiment was a glider infantry regiment, a parachute infantry regiment are invited to participate in Association membership and activities. This is the only airborne infantry regiment whose qualified members are authorized to wear glider wings, parachute wings or helicopter assault wings. The Association publishes a quarterly newsletter called, "The Rakkasan," and holds annual reunions in different parts of the country. If you are not already a member, you will undoubtedly wish to affiliate with the Association and contact comrades that you haven't seen for perhaps as many as 42 years. For further information, please contact Dr. Donald A. Parks, Director of Recruitment, P.O. Box 1406, Carefree, Arizona 85377, or call 602-488-4264.

As the 187th ARCT Association grows and expands, the history of the Regiment becomes more important than ever. Your input as a former or present member of the Regiment is invaluable in sustaining the heritage of the Regiment and the honor of those that made the supreme sacrifice. The Regiment formed in 1942 as a glider infantry regiment, later to become a parachute infantry regiment, and fought in World War II in the Pacific. As an airborne regimental combat team, the 187th fought in Korea, and as part of the 101st Airborne Division, elements of the Regiment fought in Vietnam. The Regiment also participated in the campaigns in Santo Domingo and Beirut. Presently two battalions are stationed in Panama, and three battalions are stationed in Fort Campbell, Kentucky, as part of the 101st Airborne Division, one of which is presently on rotation duty as part of the Peace Keeping Force in the Sinai Peninsula. In total, five Rakkasan battalions strong.

It is interesting to note that the 187th Rakkasans have been deployed in battle utilizing every vertical means of envelopment, namely the glider, parachute, helicopter, air landing, air mobile, air assault as well as amphibious landing craft. Therefore, the 187th Airborne Regiment has entered combat in each mode of airborne warfare and has pioneered the tactics that govern these modes. The 187th is also the highest decorated airborne regiment in U. S. Military history boasting five Medals of Honor, and continues to earn and honor the title of Rakkasans.

Bemus Glenn Jackson, Owner/Instructor of Loye Leonard's Training School, has filed his candidacy for Lieutenant Governor. Jackson was the first Republican Mayor in Fort Bend County since Reconstruction, serving in that capacity for Missouri City, a suburb of Houston, from April, 1973 to February, 1975. During his tenure, Jackson was Vice President of the Harris County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association. He subsequently served as a Councilman of Missouri City from February, 1975 to April, 1976.

Jackson established the Loye Leonard Training School in San Antonio over seven years ago. The facility offers state exam preparation courses in the fields of real estate, insurance and securities. Since opening, the school has achieved a better than 95% passing rate for its students. The company recently expanded into Austin, opening an office there earlier this month.

Commenting on his candidacy, Jackson explains his philosophy: "I hope to accomplish several things by entering this election. First, and foremost, I want to give the people of Texas a choice at the polls. Because I am a working man, like most Texans, a vote for me is like a vote for themselves. It's a simple matter of one man, one promise, and one purpose. As I see it, our State officials are 'hired' by the people

Peanuts look stable

The best thing that could happen to peanut growers this year would be a major decline in the value of the U.S. dollar, says an economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. The demand for peanuts has been stable in recent months, and a 20 percent reduction in the dollar's value would be a major breakthrough in boosting peanut exports. Peanut demand and prices have remained under pressure due to abundant world supplies of oilseed crops. The 1985 Texas peanut crop was a good one, with yields about 14 percent above average due to timely rains.

What is the Green Thumb Program?

In 1985, Green Thumb marked 20 years of service to older Americans and their communities. Green Thumb operates under a grant agreement with the Employment and Training Administration of the United States Department of Labor, with federal funds appropriated under Title V of the Older Americans Act (Senior Community Service Employment Program) and contributions from local and state agencies. Proclamation Older Texans are among our most important resources. Today, older men and women are valued members of our work force and we are committed to giving them every opportunity to lead full and productive lives.

Older workers possess unique skill, capabilities, and talents, all gained through years of experience, hard work, and dedication.

For more than two decades, the Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb Program has provided training and employment opportunities for our older rural Texans and, in coordination with the Job Training and Partnership Act Programs, even greater number of seniors will enter the job market.

I urge all citizens to support both public and private efforts to provide and maintain the dignity of our older workers by utilizing their abilities in gainful employment.

Sonny Hall

Hall to manage new Super Duper

Long-time grocery-man Sonny Hall has been named to manage the new Super Duper store now under construction in Winters.

The announcement was made this week by Super Duper officials and Hall who said the new facility may be open for business in April.

Hall has extensive experience in the grocery and market business. He owned Sonny's in Winters which later became Super D.

Hall returned to Winters about two years ago after owning and operating a supermarket in Brownwood for several years.

The new Super Duper store in Winters will offer Winters shoppers a complete line of staple goods, groceries, produce and meats at prices competitive with the stores in the larger cities.

Wait — doesn't make sense. It may be a bureaucratic politician though.

I just noticed that our neighbors down south have begun putting the pressure on their city officials to start using their city ordinances to control the number of dogs running free in that city. Good move!

I hope that that city can get something done, simply.

Talking about the doggone problems, or should I say dog-not-gone problems, there is a document available for signatures that formally demands our city do something about our problem.

The petition is available at the Circle S.

I don't mean to continually fault our city council and its executive officer. For the most part, they are responsive to the needs of our community.

The animal control thing is, however, an area in which there has been very little, if any, response—so far.

Well, it looks like Spring is springing.

thunderstorms, hot temperatures, wind and dust—lots of it.

Late Tuesday one could see a lot of country just by looking out the window.

By now you-know-who thinks he missed any mention. Not so.

I found a gift about mid-afternoon Tuesday, all wrapped in foil and in the fridge.

It seems that good-old-Gary wanted to leave a reminder that the steak was still to come.

In that foil was a large chunk of steak. It was so large that the folks at the Post Office said that in order for it to require a stamp for one ounce I would need to include some baked potato and salad.

In other words their postage scale wouldn't weigh the beef. There was not enough of it.

So, Turner, where's the beef?
