Girl dies after March 17 wreck

A 7-year-old girl, comatose since a car wreck in Abilene March 17, died Saturday in New Kent, Va.

Autumn Archer, daughter of Jerry and Linda Archer, was transferred in late April to Cumberland, a special rehabilitation institute for critically ill children.

She was injured severely in an automobile accident at the intersection of South 10th and Grand Street when a car driven by her brother, Brad, 16, collided with a truck driven by Albert Geisendorff.

The young girl suffered a severe head injury and multiple fractures. She had been hospitalized at Hendrick Medical Center before being airlifted to Virginia.

A fund has been established in her name at American National Bank, 4400 Buffalo Gap Road, with proceeds going to the cost it took to move Autumn to the rehabilitation institute.

A garage sale was held, May 17 and 18 at 3166 S. 22nd to collect additional funds for the trip.

During the collision of the two vehicles, a street light was hit knocking down several wires.

The rear of the car was on the truckbed, with glass and debris from the wreck scattered into nearby yards.

A nearby resident who was the first to arrive at the accident said all he could see of the little girl in the back seat were her legs.

He said the brother was able to get out of the passenger side while two men pulled the girl from the car, which was surrounded by the hot wires.

Her brother suffered lacerations from the accident. Geisendorff was treated at the scene by paramedics.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete at Elliott-Hamil Funeral Home, 542 Hickory Street, Abilene.

GTE customers to pay increase in subscriber line charge June 1

Single line business and all residential telephone customers across the nation, including those served by General Telephone, will begin paying June 1, 1986 a monthly $2 subscriber line charge.

This $2 charge represents a $1 increase to the subscriber line charge and is the second phase of a federally mandated process that is intended to gradually eliminate the practice of charging customers more for long-distance service in order to keep residential rates artificially low. An initial $1 subscriber line charge became effective June 1, 1985.

Business customers with more than one line have been paying a $6 subscriber line charge since May 1984. This subscriber line charge will not change.

Under the Federal Communications Commission plan for implementation of subscriber line charges, the total revenues of the local telephone companies will not increase since the FCC in turn will reduce by an equivalent amount charges to long-distance carries for use of local facilities and equipment. It is the intent of the FCC that this decrease in long-distance carriers' expense will be passed through to consumers in the form of reduced interstate long-distance rates. AT&T has already announced plans to reduce its interstate rates.

General Telephone officials said the subscriber line charges are designed to shift from long-distance users to local customers, a larger portion of the actual costs of providing the line from their residence or business to the telephone switching equipment. It was pointed out that long-distance rates have been artificially high to pay a portion of these costs, thus keeping local rates artificially low.

Depending on the amount of interstate long-distance calling, the proposed reduced interstate rates could offset the $2 fee for many customers, especially high volume users.

The $2 subscriber line charge applies to all residential and single line business customers of all exchange telephone companies providing local exchange service.

Teofilio Sonny Santoya Jr. was granted continued probation with amended terms of the probation. His original offense was the unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Donnie Renne Patton was sentenced to a 10-year, pro-bated, sentence after pleading guilty to a third-degree felony charge of unlawfully carrying a weapon on licensed premises.

A Winters man, Rudy Santoya Torres, was sentenced to five years in prison after he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of possession of a controlled substance.

Practice balls will be furnished and in some cases some clubs. Ace phases of the game will be taught from the drive to the putt. There will be emphasis placed on the importance of etiquette, rules, and fair play.

Age groups accepted will be 6 years to 18 years of age, and also an adult group; from beginners of the game to those who are reasonably skilled.

It is important to note that not many of our young people have enough positive things to occupy their leisure time and we consider golf to be a rewarding experience which can be used throughout their lifetime.

Arrangements can be made for individual instruction at $10 per hour with advance notice.

Firm charges for Free Service

Responding to numerous inquiries, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said that a firm operating in the San Angelo area solicits people through direct mail. This firm is selling a service which is provided at no charge by every Social Security office.

The company obtains local birth records and then mails new parents an offer to get a Social Security number for their child for a $10 fee. This service can be obtained without charge at any Social Security office. In addition, the parent has to do everything for the company he or she would have to do if he or she contacted Social Security in the first place.

For a parent to obtain a Social Security number for a child, the parent needs evidence of the child's date of birth, citizenship, and identity. The parent also need evidence of his or her own identity.

The direct mail advertisement also indicates that new legislation may require that children be listed by Social Security number on the parents' tax return. There is no legislation, Upp said. In addition, Social Security does not provide counties with information about which children have Social Security numbers.

For more information, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

Butter and cheese to be distributed

Butter and cheese will be distributed on June 5 from 8 a.m. till 12 p.m. at the Multi-Purpose Center, 601 West Pierce Street.

Social Security sets June visit to Winters

John Willis, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his June visit to Winters. He will be at the Housing Project Office on Monday, June 30, between 9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

From log cabins to double action revolvers

Perhaps the Winters High School Juniors who were members of John G. Key's classes in American History learned more about their family history than they intended when they prepared assignments to be displayed at the Z. I. Hale Museum on Saturday and Sunday.

Boys and girls struggled with displays or collections and family memorabilia, or written reports on historic places; and in the process came up with some fascinating history as well as becoming acquainted with our local museum.

Libby Bedford said that her family got into the act and helped her. She was able to prepare three posters and a 41 page report on the Bedford family. One picture was of a log cabin built by T. J. Shaw, her great-grandfather, near Weatherford in 1856. It stayed in the Shaw family until 1976 when it was bought by the V. Kemp family and restored in 1981 to become a Texas Historical landmark. (Mr. Shaw's daughter married a Bedford).

The one room log cabin with sleeping loft has open side porches and rock fire places. It is open once a year for visitors. Deedra Blackshear, Jill Conner and Rebecca Moore prepared attractive posters with photographs that they made of family heirlooms.

Jill had a copy of a charcoal picture dating back to the late 19th Century. It was of Thomas Jefferson Davis; cousin to Jefferson Davis, who was president of the Confederacy. He was Jill's great-great-grandmother's cousin.

A wardrobe belonging to Juan H. Esquivel was displayed by Harvey Esquivel. It was obtained from the McBeth's in 1948, and was already 28 years old. It is in use today and has never been restored.

Those who entered the car display were Bud Hagle with a '59 Pontiac; Thomas Lugo, a restored '51 Ford; others were Bill Mesey and Scott Shifflett. Leslie Pruser showed an antique truck built by Gus Pruser, her great-grandfather. She also prepared posters and a report on the Pruser family.

Kevin Halfmann wrote a history of Wingate. Jim Lee prepared a story of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Tinkle with pictures.

Lucy Lugo displayed Im-

T. J. Shaw built this log house in South Parker County in 1856. Restored on original location in 1981 by the V. Kemp family, Weatherford, Texas.

migration papers of the Aquilar and Santillano families. Her grandmother, Theodora Santillano, had her alien registration receipt card. She entered this country in 1913 when she was six months old.

Lucy's great-grandfather and grandfather, Miguel Aquilar came in 1939. Her great-grandmother, Epifania Santillano, came in 1937, and all became U.S. citizens. There were postcards of the 1930's when her grandparents, Miguel Aquilar and Theodora Santillano were courting. Also pictures of grandparents and other family members.

Double Action Revolver

A family portrait of Theodor Michaelis and a Royal Irish Constabulary double-action revolver were presented by Robin Michaelis.

In 1867, P. Webby and Son manufactured the first of a series of a pattern of revolver which was to remain in production until the early years of the twentieth century. This revolver was adopted by the Royal Irish Constabulary when that force came into being in 1868, and the weapon immediately took the name from them.

In 1872, Grand Duke Alexis of Russia came to America, he was taken buffalo hunting and General George A. Custer helped to escort him. They became friends and before he left, Duke Alexis presented Custer a gift of several Irish Constabulary Revolvers. Custer and many of his leading officers were known to have carried these guns into the Battle of Little Big Horn.

Theodor Michaelis born in Schlieben Providence, Sachsen, Germany, on July 24, 1825, came to Texas in 1837. In about 1879, he and a party went buffalo hunting. They ran into a small band of Sioux Indians, after a slight skirmish, Maximillian Michaelis, who was 15 at the time, was taking scalps as trophies when he noticed the gun in the breech cloth of one of the Indians. Could this have been one of the very guns used by Custer and his men in the Battle of Little Big Horn?

Other Exhibits

Joe Reyes displayed guns and family memorabilia; Dale Roberts had a collection of old radios; Michelle Wheeler wrote a history of the early Bradshaw School; Kyle Kraatz wrote the biography of his grandfather, Henry Pape, Sr.; Ricky Hobbs gave a history of the missile sight; and Dale Gray came up with a 1928 car license plate, a little worse for the wear.

A variety of working utensils such as an iron kettle and buffalo scales were in a collection by Shannon Rozman. She also displayed the latest styles for boys from an old Wright Bros. and Co. of Chicago. Two popular styles, "The Boyster" and The Flipper," were advertised as reduced in price from $15 to $8.45. Both were made with knee length knickers, one had two lower patch pockets, a two button belt and pleat extending from yoke to full length of coat.

Two boys, Monty Smith and Brad Kruse, resurrected two 1920 Rural View annuals. Brad also had a 1922 WHS diploma and a 1926 Winters Enterprise. While Monty came up with a picture of the Brandt Hotel at Rannels City and a bedpan of ancient vintage.

Rene Woffenden's collection contained a book on the family, guns, utensils, and baby clothing.

A flat iron, bayonet of World War I and a garden cultivator were collected by Jimmy Hernandez. And Rosie Rodriguez gathered up family mementoes, pictures and an old scale weight, used to weigh cotton. Donna Watson displayed the latest in straw hats called a "Boater" from the 1920's.

1865 newspaper announced reward

A newspaper called Comfort, printed April 20, 1865, offered a reward from the War Department for any information regarding three men who were thought to have a part in President Lincoln's assassination.

The reward was $50,000 concerning any of three men; John Wilkes Booth, John H. Surratt, or David C. Harold.

The newspaper was displayed by Andy DeBerry, and judging by the work and enthusiasm of the students, they could present another interesting historic exhibit next year.

Beware of slow moving vehicles

Motorists throughout Texas should be on the lookout for slow moving farm vehicles and equipment on highways and other public roads, particularly with spring farming operation in full swing, cautions a safety engineer with The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Motorists need to recognize such slow moving machinery and to be aware of tool bars and axles extending into the oncoming lane. Protuding steel beams are often difficult to see, particularly at dusk and dawn and other times of poor visibility. Tractor operators should use flashing lights, reflectors, flagging and the Slow Moving Vehicle emblem on the rear of the machine to alert motorists.

Eye Safety is no accident

Eye injuries are all too common. They happen every-where—at home, at work, at school, at sports. As a result, nearly one million Americans have to get along with impaired vision.

Most of these eye injuries could have been prevented. The Texas Medical Association says nine out of every 10 needn't have occurred.

Each year more than 5,000 eye injuries are caused by mishaps in the yard and garden. Pruning bushes, using lawnmowers, chopping wood, and using chain saws require precautions. Chemicals in pesticides, herbicides, and fertilizers can severely burn your eyes.

Read thoroughly all package labels and instruction sheets that go with gardening tools and chemicals. Keep others away when you're mowing the lawn.

VEGETABLE STIR-FRY WITH MACADAMIA NUTS

Stir-fry dishes made with beautifully colored vegetables cooked only until the texture is crisp-tender are both wonderful to look at and taste. Pictured above is a carrot and broccoli mixture with a tang of orange. But its special crunch and exquisite flavor comes from the addition of coarsely chopped macadamia nuts, that elegant snack from Hawaii. The ingredients are assembled ahead of time, then stir-fried a few minutes before serving.

MACADAMIA-BROCCOLI STIR-FRY

- 1 bunch fresh broccoli (1 lb.)
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup water, divided
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup carrots, sliced diagonally
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1/2 cup chopped macadamia nuts

Cut broccoli tops into florets and stems into 2-inch strips 1/4-inch wide. In a large skillet heat oil until hot. Add broccoli florets and stems; stir-fry until lightly cooked, about 1 minute. Combine orange juice, 1/4 cup of the water, sugar, ginger and salt. Add to skillet. Cook and stir until broccoli is almost tender, about 1 minute. Add carrots; cook and stir until tender, about 1 minute. Mix cornstarch and remaining 1/4 cup water. Stir into skillet. Cook and stir until sauce thickens, about 30 seconds. Stir in macadamia nuts. YIELD: about 5-1/2 cups.

Hints For Homeowners

WHAT IS AIRLESS SPRAY PAINTING?

In conventional spray painting, air is used to atomize the paint into the surface. The pressurized air used in this process is supplied by an air compressor.

Because air is required to atomize the paint, a great deal of the paint follows the air stream out of the spray tip and reaches areas other than the surface being painted. This is known as overspray and requires a great deal of preparation, or masking, around surfaces to be painted.

Airless spray painting equipment pressurizes the paint or other liquid to be applied and forces it through the tip to cause atomization. Pressure is created by an electric motor which causes the rapid movement of a piston. Paint is atomized at the tip and propelled to the surface being painted.

Since there is only paint being propelled, any particles falling short of the surface simply fall to the ground. The result is a cleaner, faster method of painting which can be accomplished with a self-contained hand held unit, known as a Wagner® Power Painter® with reduced effort.

Sudduth awarded Life Membership

Slack Elementary in Lufkin has presented the Texas Life Member award to Mrs. Mary Ann Sudduth for her years of volunteer services. This is one of the highest and most distinguished honors bestowed upon any PTA member in the state of Texas. Mrs. Sudduth's awards included a certificate and a gold leaf-shaped lapel pin.

Mrs. Sudduth has been involved with the school since 1978. She has served as a PTA officer in various capacities and has unselfishly given of her time and effort as a volunteer, helping out wherever needed at Slack. She is presently a school Office Aide, Head Room Mother and Coordinator of the PASS (Parents Assisting Slack School) Program, where she volunteers to work with remedial students in the Resource Class.

Mrs. Sudduth is also the mother of five children, all of who have attended Slack for a combined total of 24 years. Her children are Michael, a student at Lufkin Intermediate; Teresa, Stephen and Robert attending Brandon Elementary and Deborah, a second-grader at Slack. The Sudduth children are "A" students enrolled in accelerated classes at their schools. Mrs. Sudduth has worked with her children's teachers at one time or another and is appreciated for the encouragement she has given to her children, and others, as well.

Slack PTA applauds Mrs. Sudduth for her contribution and will greatly miss her support, as this will be the last year her children attend the school.

Mary Ann is married to Jerry Sudduth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sudduth of Winters. They and their children reside at 113 Mary Ann in Lufkin and are members of St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Mrs. Sudduth is the former Mary Ann Gonzales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio L. Gonzales of Giddings, Texas. She is a 1968 graduate of Giddings High School.

Homeowners with VA or FHA mortgages

Dr. Jane Berry, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX), says that homeowners with assumable VA or FHA mortgages can be victimized by their ability to sell their homes through a simple rather than a formal assumption. She explains that in a formal assumption, the person buying the property assumes responsibility for any nonpayment of the loan. For a simple assumption, however, the original mortgage holder remains responsible for any default which might occur on the loan. Simple assumption of FHA and VA loans can be accomplished between buyer and seller with HUD, VA or the mortgage company's approval. "Not all out to defraud homeowners," she remarks, "but it is up to the homeowner to determine whether the prospective buyer is legitimate and intends to meet the mortgage commitment." The housing specialist advises making every effort to check out the credit record of a prospective buyer. If you have any doubts, she recommends sticking to a formal assumption, where liability for any future default would rest with the new buyer.

Swine diseases and preventive practices

A recent statewide survey of pork producers by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Pork Producers Association and Board provides a good profit of economically important swine disease problems and preventive practices. Producers listed the most important diseases as baby pig scours (53.4 percent of the respondents), gilt or sow milking problems (17.1 percent) and post-weaning scours (14.4 percent). Roundworms were considered an internal parasite problem sufficient enough to routinely treat by 89 percent of both large and small operators, notes and Extension Service swine specialist.

Cost of convenience cooking

When you buy frozen dinners and entrees, you're paying for the time you gain by using convenience foods. A recent U.S. Department of Agriculture study showed that the frozen entrees and dinners tested cost twice to 2½ times as much as making the same dinner at home, says Dr. Alice Hunt, a

Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutrition specialist. She says the study also shows that if you paid yourself a clerical wage of $7 an hour, or an "average" wage of $7.87 an hour for cooking, the home-prepared dinners and entrees would still cost only about two-thirds as much as their frozen counterparts.

Memo from Kay

Congratulations to all the graduating Seniors of Winters High School, we are proud of you and wish for you much success in the years ahead. This is your hometown and where ever some of you may go away from home, college, military service, etc. — we hope that you will be proud to say that you are from Winters, Texas!

A recently organized Woman's Committee, with Mary Beth Drake serving as chairman, is putting together a packet of small gifts and local information to be given as 'Welcome to Winters' gifts to new residents of our community. We appreciate their time and efforts.

The Chamber of Commerce along with all the citizens of Winters wish to thank the staff of the 'Glacier'; the school yearbook, and to all the Winters High School students for the recognition given to the Community of Winters at the Awards Day Program, Friday morning. They gave the honor of the 1985-86 yearbook dedication to the Community of Winters. The full dedication can be read elsewhere in this paper.

We hope that this mutual appreciation and cooperation will continue to flourish and thrive. We all need each other. Don't forget the Winters Fire Department Fish Fry Saturday, 4:40 to 9 p.m. in the Community Center.

Delaying cow culling costs $$$

Giving "Ole Bossy" one more chance to have a calf is like tossing money out the window, says a beef cattle specialist with The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System. A recent demonstration in Calhoun County showed just how much money can be lost with this poor herd management practice. According to the study, holding an open cow over a 19-month period caused a loss of $116.02 per cow. Even if the cows had conceived the day after they were found to be open, at least a 15-month maintenance cost would have been incurred — nine months for gestation and six months to weaning. That would have resulted in a loss of $17.70 per cow. Selling an open cow immediately after palpation will gross $320 to $420 depending on her weight and price per pound.

Time to treat for cattle grubs

Cattle grubs are internal parasites and their damage is largely unseen, yet they cause greater economic losses to the U.S. beef cattle industry than any other insect pest.

While grubs are usually found on the backs of infested animals during the winters months, that's not the time for control measures since the pests have already done their damage.

Grubs are the larvae or worm stage of heel flies, and adult heel flies are active over most of the state from March through May, says Allen Turner, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University.

The time to control grubs is during the period of May through August when grubs are small and before infested animals suffer stress, weight loss and decreased feed efficiency, Turner points out.

Heel flies cannot sting, have no functional mouth parts and cause no pain to cattle. Yet, they frighten animals, making them difficult to manage.

Heel flies lay their eggs on an animal's hairs in the lower leg region, glued in position. Tiny larvae hatch in a few days, crawl down to the base of the hair and burrow into the animal's skin, explains the Agent.

Then they begin a migratory course through the animal's body, congregating in the throat after a few months, and after six to eight months, appear in the grub stage in the animal's back.

If a producer has a history of grubs in his cattle herd, Mr.

Safe Boating Week proclaimed June 1-7

Governor Mark White has proclaimed June 1-7 as Texas Safe Boating Week, just in time to help kick off summer vacation for millions of Texans. Texans Safe Boating Week coincides with National Safe Boating Week sponsored by the U.S. Coast Guard. This year's national theme, "Be Smart — Take a Boating Course", is aimed at promoting education about proper boating procedures, equipment and water safety.

Boaters both in Texas and nationwide have apparently been taking such previous safety reminders to heart. Boating fatalities have been steadily decreasing over the past few years, according to the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department and the U.S. Coast Guard.

With more than 600,000 registered boat owners, Texas ranks as the third largest boating state in the country. Texas also ranks second in the number of miles of inland waterways across the state.

"Boating is one of the most popular forms of family outdoor recreation, and we want to make sure it is enjoyable for everyone," said Buddy Rodgers, president of the Boating Trades Association of Texas (BTAT). "Taking a boating course is a great way to learn what safety equipment is required and how to use it properly. Parents and their children can learn the rules of water safety together and make sure that everyone more thoroughly enjoys Texas' vast water resources."

In the ceremony at the State Capitol, Governor White joined with representatives of boating industry, service and safety organizations to make the proclamation. Groups represented were BTAT, Texas Safety Association of Texas, Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, Texas Safety Association, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, U.S. Power Squadron and the American Red Cross. Information regarding boating courses and safety requirements are available from these groups and other sources.

The Boating Trades Association of Texas is a statewide organization of retailers, manufacturers, distributors and others involved in the marine industry. BTAT strongly supports educational programs which enhance the pleasures and safety of recreational boating.

Public hearing to be held by WCTCOG

A public hearing to receive comments on the 1987 Texas State health plan (SHP) will be held on Tuesday, June 3, 1986 at the West Central Texas Council of Governments, 1025 East North 10th Street, Abilene beginning at 2 p.m. In announcing the hearing, Brad Helbert, Executive Director of the West Central Texas Council State-wide health Coordinating Council (SHCC) and the Texas written comments and to answer questions relative to the plan or the plan development process.

The State health Plan identifies major statewide health-related concerns, recommends strategies to resolve these concerns and analyzes the need for various types of health facilities and services. The goal of the plan is to assure equitable access to needed health care services — at affordable prices — for all residents of the state. The plan is developed under the guidance of the SHCC, a 21 member group of health care providers and consumers appointed by the governor to develop health planning policies for the state. The council has identified 14 major health issues and proposed strategies to address these concerns at the state level. The West Central Texas Council of Governments, along with Texas' other regional councils participated in the plan development process and identified health issues of particular concern to this region.

Implementing the plan is guided by the SHCC and the TDH, with the ultimate responsibility residing with managers of the various health-related public agencies and individual providers of health care services in the private sector.

Dedication of the 1985-86 'Glacier'

It is often said, and it is nearly always true, that the school is the heartbeat of any small town. Every community activity is planned around, integrated with, responsive to, and often dependent upon the school's scheduled activities. The fame and pride of every town, large or small, is determined by the spirit and success of its school system. This special relationship does not happen by chance.

Those town and schools that do not share their success and pride with each other are as obvious as dried fruit on a vine. Those that do share continually enrich each other.

It is obvious to even the most casual observer that the community of Winters takes great pride and interest in all school activities. The people of Winters continually dig deep in their pockets to invest in yet another student activity. This has always been true. It has continued with little or nothing ever being said about it. Because of this, it may appear to be taken for granted by the students. Nothing is farther from the truth.

No one is more aware of the support given than we students, who season after season, year after year work the town with ad sales, membership drives, pledge drives, car washes, bake sales, and cookies, candies, turkeys, oranges, grapefruit, and other special sale items. We borrow furniture, clothes, cars, pictures, artificial grass turf, water tanks, wrecked cars, tables, carpets, canopies, and even coffins. Once we even borrowed a whole building for a whole year. We use window space for our posters and paint the windows during football season. We start this material and economic pillage in August and continue through May. We are seldom if ever refused, but we often forget to say, "thank you."

Because you buy candy and cookies you don't need or want; because you buy candles, do-dads, and trinkets; because you join, pledge, and donate; because you sponsor, support, and attend; because you care enough to ask how we did; because you celebrate when we win; because you are hurt when we lose; because you are proud when we are proud; because you are ashamed when we are ashamed; because you are our parents and our grandparents, our aunts and uncles, our brothers and sisters, our neighbors and friends, our pastors and employers; because we need you more than you need us; because we are proud to be Blizzards from Winters; most of all because we love you, we dedicate this 1985-86 Glacier to the Community of Winters.

Stephen Byrne, Chamber of Commerce President, and Kay Colburn Chamber of Commerce Secretary, gave all the teachers of the Winters Independent School District coffee cups in appreciation of their work. Sesquicentennial lapel pins were given to all the seniors.

Fish for your heart

Fish has long been hailed as "brain food," but now it is also being lauded as food to help protect your heart. Most kinds of fish are low in cholesterol, fat and calories as well as some oils that may help to prevent heart attacks, says Annette Reddell Hegen, a seafood consumer education specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. These special polyunsaturated oils, different from those of vegetable origin, are called omega-3 fatty acids. All fish and shellfish contain them, she says, but oilier, fattier fish are the richest sources of the fatty acids. Marine fish have more of the omega-3 fatty acids than freshwater fish, she adds.

Reagan signs Firearm Owners Protection Act into law on May 19

President Ronald Reagan today signed into law the Firearm Owners Protection Act, which reforms much of the 1968 Gun Control Act.

The product of seven years of work by Sen. James McClure (R-Idaho) and Rep. Harold Volkmer (D-Mo.), the Protection Act was adopted May 6 by a voice vote in the Senate and was approved 292-130 by the House on April 10. (Last July, the Senate passed similar legislation by a 79-15 vote.)

"The signing into law of this bill ensures that every law-abiding gun owner, collector and sportsman in this country will be secure and uninhibited in the pursuit of his or her lawful firearm activities," said J. Warren Cassidy, acting executive vice president of the National Rifle Association.

Among other provisions, the bill will: allow the interstate transportation of firearms THROUGH states provided that the guns are unloaded and inaccessible; allow the interstate sales of rifles and shotguns between licensed dealers and law-abiding citizens meeting the requirements of both their state of residence and the state of purchase; and mandate a five-year prison sentence for violent federal felonies, including drug trafficking offenses, committed with a gun. The law will take effect in mid-November.

WTRC to benefit from tournament

The Second Annual Men's/Women's Softball Tournament to benefit West Texas Rehabilitation Center is slated for June 6-8 at the Bell Street baseball complex in San Angelo.

Sponsored by Three Rivers Umpire Association, the tournament will feature more than $4,500 in awards and the Sunday afternoon finals will be telecast live on San Angelo's KIDY-TV.

Entry fee for the men's 3-2 slow pitch tourney is $60 through May 28 and $70 for late entries, which will be accepted through June 3. The women's tourney, which is 2-2 slow pitch, has a $65 advance entry fee and $75 late fee.

In both tournaments, 12 teams will receive trophies, as will each player on the top six teams. Satin jackets, bat bags, carrying bags, T-shirts, and water coolers also will be awarded. Plaques will be given for the Most Valuable Player and Golden Glove winners.

"I expect about 100 teams in this tournament," said Three Rivers Umpire Assn. spokesman Howard Nance, "because we ran a good tournament last year, we've gotten some outstanding awards to present this year and we've had tremendous support from Town & Country Food Stores, Coors of San Angelo, (4-D Distributing Co.), and Wendy's, all of which are co-sponsoring the tournament. In addition, KIDY-TV is going to do a live telecast of our finals, which will generate additional enthusiasm among participating teams."

Nance said he hopes men's and women's teams from a broad area of West Texas will enter the tournament. "The more teams, the better the tournament—and the more we can give to West Texas Rehab Center to help treat handicapped children and adults," he said.

Interested teams could contact Howard Nance, 1641 Mission, San Angelo, Texas 76905 (phone: 915-653-5696 after 5 p.m.), or Bill Gould, 3609 Old Post Court, San Angelo, Texas 76904 (phone: 915-653-3311 days or 915-944-3088 evenings).
